FINANCE DEPARTMENT,

OTTAWA, 23rd November, 1894.

Hon. G. E. FOSTER,
Minister of Finance, Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith the Public Accounts of the Dominion of Canada for the fiscal year ended 30th June, 1894. The accounts and comparative statements are made up in the same form as in previous years and no change has been made in their order.

The receipts from ordinary sources have failed to meet the ordinary expenditure by $1,210,332.45.

Following the system that has been adopted for many years past, I give hereunder the total expenditure on Capital Account and the heads under which it was incurred.

Railways and Canals :

Canadian Pacific Railway	$ 146,539 87

	$1,229,885 10

In the cash transactions of the Savings Banks the withdrawals, $11,175,606.16, exceeded the deposits, $10,924,742.18, by $250,863.98; there was added, however, to the various accounts accrued interest to the extent of $1,437,220.20.

On the 30th June, the total balance at the credit of the depositors was $43,036,012.32, or an increase of $1,186,356.22 over the balance held at the same time last year.

The amount of Dominion notes in circulation on the 30th June, was $20,061,719.45. In this connection it is well to draw attention to the legislation passed at the last session of Parliament with reference to the limit of the issue of these notes. The limit previous to that legislation had been twenty millions of dollars. The Act of last session (57-58 Victoria, chapter 21) gives authority for issue to an amount not exceeding twenty-five millions. One of the resolutions adopted by the House of Commons on which the legislation was founded was as follows:—"The Minister of Finance and Receiver General shall not issue Dominion notes beyond the limit of twenty millions of dollars without having gold available for their redemption to an equal amount of the additional issue." By some oversight this condition does not appear in the Act, but not only has its spirit been observed, but its absolute letter has been strictly adhered to by the department.

Public Accounts.

During the past fiscal year the British Columbia Loan—the last of the Government loans issued prior to confederation and payable in London—was redeemed, and has disappeared from the balance sheet. I may also say that on the 17th August last the last half-yearly payment on account of the Canadian Pacific Railway guarantee was paid and the Canadian Pacific Railway Funded Debt thus disappears also from the balance sheet.

Sums aggregating $2,131,360.81 were invested in the course of the year on account of the Sinking Fund of the various loans. On the 30th June, the amount of these funds in our hands was $32,356,776.65. The amount of debt of various kinds redeemed was $1,874,628.30. To provide for this redemption, for the excess of withdrawals over deposits from the Savings Banks, for the capital expenditure on account of the various public works, for the payment of the several railway subsidies and for the excess of expenditure over receipts on account of Consolidated Fund, sales of stock to the amount of $6,196,597.41 were effected and a temporary loan was negotiated in London for £200,000 sterling.

The operations of the year resulted in an increase of $4,501,989.87 in the net debt, which on the 30th June stood in our books at $246,183,029.48. The increase is accounted for as follows:—

Expended on Public Works, Capital.....	$ 102,058 94
do Railways and Canals Capital.....	3,612,913 20
do Dominion Lands do	149,146 58
do Railway Subsidies.....	1,229,885 10
Charges of management of loans.....	330,353 60
Excess of expenditure over receipts Consolidated Fund.	1,210,332 45
	$6,634,689 87
Less Sinking Fund Investments.....	$2,131,360 81
Consolidated Fund Transfers.....	190 14
Refund of expenses in connection with North-west Rebellion.....	1,149 05
	2,132,700 00
	$4,501,989 87

The net rate of interest paid on the gross debt averaged for the year $3.31 per cent against $3.26 per cent in 1892-3. The net rate of interest paid on the debt was $2.91 per cent against $2.88 per cent the previous year.

Silver and copper coinage to the face value of $164,529.35 was coined and imported, and profits thereon amounting to $83,466.76 appear in the receipts from casual sources. The coinage was procured in the usual way through the office of the High Commissioner and the orders were in all respects satisfactorily executed.

With respect to the outstanding accounts between the Dominion, the late province of Canada and the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, I am pleased to be able to report substantial progress towards their settlement. The arbitrators for the settlement of the differences in the accounts have had several meetings, and two decisions of importance have been rendered by them, the effect of which is to allow simple interest on the accounts at the rate of 5 per cent per annum. They further decided that the deductions of interest for excess of debt should be made from the 1st January, 1868, down to and including 1st January, 1873, upon the balances as actually ascertained at each period of deduction. From this latter portion of the award an appeal has been taken by the Dominion to the Supreme Court. This appeal has been argued and stands for judgment. In all other points the awards made are final. At their last meeting held during the present month, the arbitrators took up certain claims against the provinces made on behalf of the Indians. I understand the province of Quebec has made up their statement from the Ontario Crown Lands Department of the revenues derived from the Common School Lands, and it is to be hoped that an early settlement of this matter will be arrived at so that the moneys held by the Dominion on account of this Fund may be distributed between the provinces in accordance with the legislation of last session. When this and the Indian claims are disposed of the remaining points of difference are comparatively unimportant. Keeping in mind the period of time that has elapsed since confederation—upwards of twenty-seven years—and the fact that there is no one now in office who has special knowledge of the circumstances connected with the details of the numerous transactions of that important epoch, it is highly desirable that all parties concerned should press forward to final settlement these outstanding accounts.

Although not forming part of the operations of the financial year under review, I have thought it well to append hereto a statement showing the number and amount of the tenders for the Canada 3 per cent loan of £2,250,000, placed upon the London market in October last. The number of tenderers was 566, total amount of tenders £11,294,222, highest and lowest prices £99 12s. 6d. and £95; tenders accepted 48·84 per cent at £97 8s. 6d. above that figure in full; average price, £97 9s. 2d. per cent. Both in point of the number of tenderers, in point of the amounts tendered and in point of the value received, this loan surpasses any previous issue placed by the Dominion on the London market.

The total cost of management of the department including the salary of the Minister of Finance was $67,523.62, or a reduction of $1,766.49 on that of last year. The details of the expenditure are as follows:—

Minister's salary.....	$	7,000	00
Salaries of staff.....		50,492	50
Expenditure through Charges of Management.....		4,733	25
Contingencies.....		5,297	87
	$	67,523	62

It again gives me pleasure to put on record my appreciation of the zealous and effective assistance and support I have received from the members of the staff in conducting the business of the department.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. M. COURTNEY,

Deputy Minister of Finance.

Unpaid Dividends.

FINANCE DEPT., OTTAWA, June 15, 1895.

HON. G. E. FOSTER,
Minister of Finance,
Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith the fourth annual returns of the chartered banks of Canada required by section 88 of the Bank Act, showing the dividends remaining unpaid for more than five years and also the amounts or balances in respect to which no transactions have taken place or upon which no interest has been paid during the five years prior to 31st December, 1894.

I have again to note a reduction in the size of the volume, the present containing nearly fifty pages less matter than the return of the previous year.

The total amount of unpaid dividends reported is $6,406.76, and of unclaimed balances, $425,301.73, or an aggregate of $431,708.49. The corresponding figures in the previous year's return were, unpaid dividends, $5,603.71; unclaimed balances, $469,451.91; or an aggregate of $474,955.62. The net reduction on the aggregate amount of last year is therefore $43,247.13, and that too notwithstanding the accretions of another year. I append the usual comparative table by banks, and owing to the returns becoming more uniform and systematic in character, I have attempted an analysis of the whole book to ascertain the number and amount of accounts of $5 and less; of sums in excess of that amount; of estates of persons deceased; of insolvent estates; of accounts of a date anterior to 1870; of sums held in trust; of sums held by secretaries, treasurers, &c.; of deposit receipts; of amounts belonging to religious, charitable or kindred institutions; and of sums that do not really come within the category of unclaimed balances. This analysis is also appended and has been prepared on the basis of the information contained in the returns.

From this statement it appears that 10,504 accounts have been reported of which 6,487 represent $11,318.68, or an average of nearly $1.75 each, and 4,017 represent $420,389.81, or an average of $104.65. That is to say, that over three-fifths of the return is taken up with accounts that average $1.75 each. Taking into account the comparatively recent organization of the majority of the Canadian banks, indeed all of them, it is not to be expected that the returns should reveal many amounts of long standing. With the exception of the Bank of Montreal and the Bank of British North America, both institutions of considerable age, comparatively little is shown outstanding prior to 1870. Omitting the holdings of these two banks (906 accounts of the value of $24,125.48,) there are only in all in the other banks 369 accounts of the value of $8,236.14, and of this one bank, the Montreal City and District Savings Bank is responsible for 110 accounts, value $4,415.64. Beyond all doubt this class of account can be properly and appropriately termed "unclaimed" since after the lapse of a quarter of a century and over, it is probable that the original owners have gone over to the majority, or the existence of the balance standing on their names quite forgotten or unknown. At this point it might be well to point out that the term "unclaimed" can hardly apply to a considerable number of the items in the book, for there is evidence from the notes in the returns that many of the accounts represent sums left with the respective banks either for convenience to keep the account open or simply for safe keeping.

The most fruitful source of unclaimed sums is doubtless the death of the owner. The examination of the returns show 370 cases (value $24,453.52) of accounts marked "estate of" or "deceased," but as it is quite possible that the fact of a depositor's death may never be brought officially or otherwise to the notice of a bank it is to be presumed that the number and amount of this class of item above given represent but a small proportion of those that properly come within that category. Judging from the instances in which local or personal knowledge comes to our assistance the information rendered by the banks cannot be regarded as at all complete.

Another class of item, closely allied to the foregoing is that of estates of insolvents and moneys held by assignees. The number of instances of this kind in the book is 111, value $6,321.29. This may be a complete statement or nearly so, seeing that the funds of insolvents usually find their way into the pockets of the creditors or of some other persons intimately connected with the estate. Both the number and amount given seem insignificant.

The fact that considerable sums contained in the returns do not come within the category of unclaimed balances has been previously alluded to. This is fully borne out by the particular information given by some of the banks in several instances to the effect that the customer "knows of this" or "is well known" or "is living and well known" or "this amount has been claimed." The total of the accounts so rated is 26 of the value of $13,622.10. A species of account of an allied character is that termed "special deposit." While some of the amounts so noted are of long standing, yet the largest proportion is of such recent date as to lead one to infer that the deposits although unpaid can hardly be regarded as unclaimed. There are in all 53 accounts termed "deposit receipts," amounting to $35,293.34. It may be that the terms of the Act governing this class of item is not fully understood or borne in mind by the banks in making their returns.

Numerous instances occur all through the book of sums held in trust, 484 in all, value $11,442.28, of which nearly three-fifths is reported by one bank alone. In this classification is not included sums really held in trust, but held in the names of secretaries, treasurers, agents and the like, mostly society and club funds. These latter number 36 of the value of $721.85.

The above gives some idea of the extent and amounts of the different classes of items of which the book is composed. A survey of the names of the individual holders of unclaimed accounts is not uninteresting. They are not confined to any class or condition. Apart from the ordinary private accounts one finds the names of well-known business firms to say nothing of banks and bankers. The senate, the bench, the bar, the church, the lodge, are all represented. In this connection, it is interesting to note that in the return of one of the banks for the year 1893, the nature of the employment of the depositors was given in a large number of instances. A glance at it reveals the fact that comparatively large amounts are held unclaimed at the credit of persons who rank in what are regarded as the humbler walks of life, such as labourers, servants, dressmakers, cooks, coachmen, and the like. Some of these accounts are very old, going back as far as 1852, 1857, and 1860. No definite information is given or can be known of course without inquiries being made in each individual case, but from the nature of the employment given, there can be little doubt that in a majority of the cases, perhaps in all, burdens have had to be borne by friends, relatives or others that could have been lightened had these moneys found their way into the hands of those to whom they rightfully and legitimately belonged. For it is to be presumed from the time that has elapsed since the last transactions in the accounts that the depositors are, in most cases at any rate, deceased. When it is considered how valuable even a small sum can be to those in poor or straitened circumstances, the withholding of sums of this class from the rightful owners cannot be regarded as anything but pitiable.

Reference has been made above to insolvent estates. Some of the items so denominated may include or represent moneys belonging to incorporated companies that have been wound up. If so sec. 94 of chap. 129, Revised Statutes, would be applicable. It provides that all dividends deposited in a bank and remaining unclaimed at the time of the final winding up of the business of the company, shall be left for three years in the bank, where they are deposited subject to the claim of the person entitled thereto, and, if still unclaimed, shall then be paid over by such bank with interest accrued thereon to the Minister of Finance and Receiver General, and if afterwards duly claimed shall be paid over to the person entitled thereto.

It may be well to draw attention to the frequent occurrence in the book of the names of public corporations and companies that have sums at their credit. No information is given as to whether these companies have ever failed or been wound up, but from the dates of deposit one is led to infer that most of them have ceased to be active corporations.

Looking at the book as a whole one cannot but be struck with the number of trifling and insignificant accounts that encumber its pages and that can be of little or no practical use to the public. There is not money enough involved to repay the time, trouble and postage that would be required in most cases to prove the claim to the satisfaction of the authorities of the banks concerned. On the other hand it seems strange that such large amounts as are found in the pages of the book should remain so long undrawn or unclaimed. The circumstances in these cases must be unusual and very exceptional.

Before closing this report it might be well to review the position of the general question of unclaimed moneys, and the method of procedure adopted with reference thereto in other countries. In England there is, of course, no general law or regulation relating to the publication of the lists of funds unclaimed in the hands of banks or public companies, and no estimate can accordingly be made of the sums so held. The subject however is being constantly discussed in the public prints and has on more than one occasion been brought to the notice of Parliament. From a return to the House of Commons made by the English Government, the following are the sources from which these moneys in the hands of the government arise:—

1. Estates reverting to the Crown, on account of which the Crown's nominee received since 1876, £1,177,996.
2. Funds in Chancery. The proportion in want of owners is not stated, but the liability of the Consolidated Fund in respect of accounts undealt with for 15 years or upwards is £2,327,822.
3. Funds in Chancery (Ireland). The funds in court on 30th September, 1893, were £5,890,553.

4. Army Prize Money, amounting to £102,089.

5. Soldiers' Unclaimed Balances, amounting to £119,608. These balances are published in the London Gazette.

6. Naval Prize Money, amounting to £212,979, of which the greater part has been transferred to Consolidated Fund.

7. Unclaimed Dividends. The total amount of unclaimed government stock and dividends is over £5,000,000. These funds are transferred to the commissioner for the reduction of the national debt, and notice of such transfer is given in the newspapers, as well as notice of any re-transfers, should a claimant make and sustain a claim for the same. These advertisements are of frequent occurrence in the "Agony Column" of the Times, and some of them refer to very remote periods.

In Scotland there is no general law requiring the publication of dormant deposits, although one savings bank actually does so. There has been an agitation on the part of the Merchants' Associations and Chambers of Commerce, looking towards general action of this kind on the part of all the Scotch banks.

In France, the sums in the Caisses d'Epargnes prescribe every 30 years, and one year before prescription a list of such sums is published with the owners' names. The prescribed amounts are given half to the state and half to the "Sociétés de Secours Mutuels." The French joint stock banks make no public announcement of unclaimed funds. The disposition of the moneys would be settled when liquidation of the bank took place, if ever.

In Germany, in the case of the Imperial Bank, unclaimed sums are handed over to the court, or to such office as has been appointed by the state for this function. The subsequent fate of unclaimed money or articles is settled according to the laws prevailing in the different states.

In Italy it would appear that there is a prescription of 30 years, and such prescription would go to benefit the patrimony of the bank.

The National Bank Act of the United States makes no provision for the publication of unclaimed deposits. They are treated as other assets of the bank, and belong to the shareholders. With regard to savings banks in the United States, an Act has been in operation for 20 years, providing for the publication once in five years of the names and amounts, &c., of the parties interested. The requirements do not apply to persons known to be living, or to accounts of less than $25.

If Canada was the first to place on the statute-book a law requiring the publication of unclaimed bank deposits, to South Australia belongs the credit of passing a measure dealing with the subject of unclaimed funds in general. The companies coming under the purview of the Act include every company registered or carrying on business in South Australia having for its object the acquisition of gain. All banks and life assurance companies or associations, except the Savings Bank of South Australia, conducting business in South Australia, are included within the scope of the Act. A register of unclaimed moneys exceeding £5 on an account which has not been operated on for six years is to be kept on 1st January in each year by every company at its head office, and is open to inspection by any person on payment of a fee of two shillings. A copy of such register must be published annually in the Government Gazette. All unclaimed moneys not paid by the company to the owner of such within two years after the publication of the notice in the Gazette are to be paid over by the company to the Savings Bank of South Australia to the credit of the treasurer of South Australia, for the use of the public revenue. The company will be allowed to deduct all expenses of publication. The treasurer may pay those whom he considers to be lawful claimants. On the 26th July, 1894, the treasurer mentioned that £10,157 had been received from the banks under this Unclaimed Moneys Act.

In Canada, the propriety of the publicity demanded by the Act has been demonstrated by the reductions on the sums so published. A large amount, of course, can never be restored to the original owners, and it is a matter for discussion what the ultimate disposal of such sums should be. I would recommend the practice inaugurated by South Australia.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. M. COURTNEY,

Deputy Minister of Finance.
