The ruler went out and presently returned in a bent, white-haired old man who ducked a rough bow at the lady and pulled an imaginary cap.

"Do you wish to see Miss Dale?" asked Mrs. Wetherell.

"I should like to see the young mistress," said the old Marsden, bobbing his head at Leola.

"That is Miss Dale," said Mrs. Wetherell.

"Begin your pardon for intruding," said the old man, turning to Leola and fingering his cap nervously, but live heeded as you've a kind heart and when this trouble fell upon me I thought I had best come to you as I pay my rent to. I'd a come to see you, if he'd been alive, had he been."

"Well," said Mrs. Wetherell.

"Leola simply sat motionless as a statue."

"What name?" said the old Marsden.

"What name?" said the old Marsden, who was a-ringing with the name.

Why, my lord, I do mean this Cyril Kingsley.

"Why, Kingsley?" exclaimed Lord Beaumont, springing to his feet.

Phillip Dyce drew nearer the table, with sorrowful curiosity upon his face.

"Leola sat pale and calm."

"Ave, Cyril Kingsley!" echoed the old man, fiercely. "I did think he was too much the gentleman to work me or mine harm, but I was wrong. For look you here, my lord, to the letter as my poor foolish girl have sent me!"

"Letter! Let me see it," said Lord Beaumont, stretching out his hand.

Old Marsden thrust his sinking hand in his pocket, and produced a folded sheet of paper, which he handed to Lord Beaumont with a groan.

Lord Beaumont took the letter and looked at it, turned it over once or twice suspiciously, then he read it through and stood with drooping head in silence.

Phillip Dyce was the first to speak. "It is as I feared, Beaumont?" he said.

Lord Beaumont turned upon him fiercely, but could not utter a word.

"Then, to the surprise of all, Leola looked up and spoke."

Ladies Who Fight Elections.

Woman's Power in Gaining Votes.

A tiny paragraph tucked away amidst the election news recently announced the fact that Lady Seton-Karr had gone to Berwickshire to open the campaign on behalf of her husband, who was not well enough to travel. It calls attention to the important influence that ladies have on elections, for, in spite of what the energetic men who wield whips and throw stones have to say, the enthusiastic and clever feminine electioneer has as much power in politics as if she already possessed the vote.

There are thousands of women belonging to the Primrose League and the Women's Liberal Federation who do unrecognized work in winning elections; while there are now certain ladies who as wives or sisters of candidates have actually been the chief means of returning their husbands to Parliament. Everybody has heard of the famous Westminister election of 1784, when the efforts of Georgina, Duchess of Devonshire, who gave that famous kiss and worked so hard for Fox that she completely overshadowed that gentleman.

The election was also famous for the pitched battles that occurred between the supporters of Fox and his opponents, Sir C. Wray and Admiral Hood. The other party tried to over- come the influence of the Duchess by bringing up Lady Salisbury, but she was regarded merely as an imitator.

Noted Lady Politicians.

Mrs. Cornwallis-West, when Lady Randolph Churchill, was a noted lady politician, and worked hard both for her husband in his campaigns and for Mr. Burdett-Coutts at Westminster. When canvassing for the latter in 1885, she said to a doubtful voter: "I hope you will vote for the constitutional cause and support the Queen and Conservative party." "Well," replied the man, "if I could get what the Duchess of Devonshire once gave for a vote, I think I could promise."

"Thank you very much," said Lady Randolph demurely; "I will tell Lady Burdett-Coutts!"

Lady Seton-Karr is not the first candidate's wife to open a campaign on his behalf. Lieut.-Colonel Setcey, Under-Secretary for the Colonies, was returned to Parliament for the Isle of Wight when away serving in the South African War. His friends ran the election for him, and his wife was indefatigable in making speeches and canvassing on behalf of her husband, and had no little hand in the overwhelming majority by which he was returned.

Of course, the most famous modern woman's election was that in the Eye division of Suffolk in 1906. It almost resolved itself into a duel between Lady Mary Hamilton, at that time engaged to the Marquis of Graham, the Conservative candidate, and Mrs. H. Pearson, the newly-made wife of the Liberal.

At Derby Lady Churchill made speeches concerning the treatment of the Chinese labourers in South Africa, while other political ladies are those belonging to the Earl of Carlisle's family. This family is divided against itself. The Earl and his heir, Lord Morpeth, are Conservatives, while another brother, the Countess, and his sisters are Liberals. At a by-election at Horsham some two years ago, the piquant spectacle was witnessed of Lord Morpeth speaking for the Unionist candidate, while his sisters, the Ladies Dorothy and Aurea Howard, were doing their best to bring about the return of his opponent. They and their mother are energetic politicians, and helped to win an election for their brother, the Hon. Geoffrey Howard at Eekdale.

Mrs. Snowden, the wife of the Labour member for Blackburn, is another hard worker who speaks at labour meetings; while Mrs. Bertram Falle, the wife of the candidate for Portsmouth who recently withdrew in favour of Lord Beresford, is making herself very popular in the dockyard town.

Perhaps the youngest lady worker on record is the charming little daughter of Mr. Arthur Ponsbury, who succeeded the late Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman as member for Stirling Boroughs. When he stood for Taupton in 1906, she attended a meeting and held up a large card on which was inscribed "Vote for Father." In other elections diminutive children of both sexes have been led round the copthastency in donkey carts or panniers bearing cards with same legend, but they have not attended meetings.

His Majesty's Broken Rule.

A hard and fast rule of King Edward when playing bridge is never to play with any young lady who has not attained the age of twenty-one. His Majesty has only been known to break this rule once, and that was a short time ago while staying at the country house of some very old friends.

On that occasion the daughter of his host was chosen as his partner. She had known the King since babyhood, but he said to her very kindly: "You are not yet twenty-one. On principle I never play with little girls under that age."

As it happened, the "little girl," in anticipation of being allowed to play with so illustrious a partner, had been practising for months, and so earnestly and tearfully did she plead that his Majesty was at last forced to give way. But he was emphatic on the point that he broke this rule "only just this once."

A Pink Tea Swindle.

It was a prohibition country. As soon as the train pulled up, a seedy little man with a covered basket on his arm hurried to the open window of the smoker and exhibited a quart bottle filled with rich, dark liquid.

"Want to buy some nice cold tea?" he asked, with just the suspicion of a wink.

Two thirsty-looking gentlemen brightened visibly, and each paid a dollar for a bottle.

"Wait until you get out the station before you take a drink," the little man cautioned them. "I don't want to get in trouble."

He found three other customers before the train pulled out. In each case repeating his warning.

"You seem to be doing a pretty good business," remarked a man who had watched it all. "But I don't see why you'd run any more risk of getting in trouble if they took a drink before the train started?"

"Ye don't, hey? Well, what then, bottles had in 'em, pardner, was real cold tea."—Everybody's Magazine.

Lord Rosebery and the Budget.

Lord Rosebery writes to the Times saying: "What does the Opposition propose to do if it accedes to power? I can find no pledge in Mr. Balfour's manifesto that his party will undertake the reform of the House of Lords. And yet, unless such a pledge be given, thoroughly and unmistakably, we may see a Conservative Government come into office and repeat once more the fatal error of letting the opportunity pass. Have we not, then, a right to ask for definite declarations of policy on this question from both sides?"

The Daily Telegraph has published two articles advocating the reform of the House of Lords.

"In dealing with such a problem," says the Telegraph, "as that of the reform of the House of Lords two things must be postulated, at the outset:—(1) That the House of Lords is not an ideal Second Chamber;—(2) That no effective reform of the House of Lords can be carried out by any but the Unionist Party, or without the consent of the majority of the House of Lords."

Deadly Consumption Starts from Catarrh.

Thousands Think Catarrh is Cold, Neglect it and Die.

Last year forty per cent of all deaths were from consumption. These people all had catarrh in the first place, but neglected it.

"Can't you realize the awful, horrible mistake of not curing catarrh now?"

To thoroughly root out all taints of Catarrh, nothing can act so beneficially as "Catarrhoxone," which is acknowledged by all doctors to be a specific for all forms of Catarrh: Asthma, Bronchitis, throat, nose and chest ailments.

The reason why Catarrhoxone cures, when other treatments fail are very simple. In the first place Catarrhoxone reaches the true source of the disease. Very few, if any, of the ordinary cures can do this. Catarrhoxone is carried along with the air you breathe through the mouth, throat and bronchial tubes. Its antiseptic vapor at once kills any germs that may be lurking in these air passages. It matters how remote these germs may be they can't possibly escape Catarrhoxone; it goes everywhere the air you breathe goes, and no air cell or air passage can escape its healing influence. The strong point about Catarrhoxone is its ability to go direct to the spot where the Catarrh germ is working. Every breath through the inhaler means instant death to the microbes, and gives the sufferer relief from the gnawing, destructive action of these parasites. It must be remembered, also, that Catarrhoxone is a marvelous healer. It soothes the inflamed membranes, patches up the little sore spots, and removes the sensitive, tender feeling from the nose and throat. Of course the discharge of mucus stops at once. Catarrhoxone prevents this entirely.

Another nasty symptom that quick-appears is the dropping of vile discharge from the throat into the stomach. Catarrhoxone clears out the nostrils so that you don't have to breathe into the stomach. Catarrhoxone clears out the nostrils so that you don't have to breathe through the mouth. Hawking and spitting stop because the discharge is cleared up. The blinding headache that is caused by nothing else than catarrh is also lifted from your burden, and life begins to look happy once more.

Complete treatment, including beautifully polished hard rubber inhaler and extra supply of liquid, costs $1.00, and is guaranteed to cure or your money back. Smaller sizes 25c. and 50c., at all druggists, or by mail from The Catarrhoxone Company, Kingston, Ont.

The Swing of the Political Pendulum.

All the world's agog to know how the political pendulum will swing at home this time. In 1906 the Conservatives sustained the greatest defeat experienced by any party. Out of 670 seats they only obtained 158. The majority against them was 354, counting Liberals, Laborites and Nationalists as banded against them. The nearest approach to ties occurred in 1847 and 1852. In 1847 the Liberals obtained a majority of two, and in 1852 the Conservatives got a majority of eight. It is highly improbable that the Liberal combination will retain their enormous majority. That cannot be expected unless the feeling in favour of the Budget and against the Lords is universal and intense. The territorial, commercial and social influence of the peers and their friends is immense and difficult to estimate. The progress of Tariff Reform is also difficult to estimate, as is the disaffection with army and navy administration. One is inclined to wonder whether or not T. P. O'Connor may not be right. His partisanship is neither with the Liberals nor the Tories. He is the chairman of the Nationalist party, and thus dissociated officially from both of the great political parties. He has stated that neither party will have a clear majority, and that the Nationalists will hold the balance of power. Even his forecasts may not be impartial. His wish may be father to the thought. We append a list of the majorities since the great Reform agitation: 1832—Liberal 306 1835—Liberal 108 1837—Liberal 40 1841—Conservative 79 1847—Liberal 2 1852—Conservative 8 1857—Liberal 92 1859—Liberal 40 1865—Liberal 60 1868—Liberal 100 1874—Conservative 52 1880—Liberal 176 1885—Liberal 170 1886—Unionist 118 1892—Liberal 40 1895—Unionist 152 1900—Unionist 134 1906—Liberal 356

Had to Adjourn.

Last night the members of the Longshoremen's Union had intended to hold a card tournament in their rooms at the basement of the Star Hall. So great, however, was the crush of men that it was impossible to hold it, and the President announced that it would take place in rehearsals, as it were, on Thursday and Friday nights next. The rooms appear to be too small for such a crowd of men.

Now Cured of Rheumatism

Cost him $100.00 for medicines which failed.—Cured by DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS. Mr. James Clark, Maidstone, Sask., writes: "I suffered for four years with rheumatism in my shoulders and could not lift my arms above the head. I tried nearly all the advertised remedies but none of them gave me relief. It cost me at least $100.00 for medicines before I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. "With the use of this medicine, I soon found relief. I followed up this treatment for six months and was then quite free from rheumatism. While using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I also used Dr. Chase's Backache Plaster when so stiff that I could scarcely bend. They always found the weak spot and gave relief while the internal treatment was bringing about a thorough cure." The success of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has been phenomenal. One pill a day, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Recipes will be sent free on request. Minard's Linctum Cures Garglet in Cows.

Blizzard Blocks Train

Traffic on the railway line is less or less impeded the past two days because of the blizzard which is west from Island's Falls. The press which left to sea at 6 p.m. Tuesday was held up all yesterday at George's, and had not arrived at six Basques up to midnight. In place on the line the snow is from 4 feet deep. The two fine steam engines which the R.N. Co. has in possession are it is believed well fitted to keep the road open. They are really powerful. This blow is effectively clearing the line, and the hope to have all the trains run on time by this afternoon.

Blizzard Blocks Traffic

Traffic on the railway line is more or less impeded the past two days by reason of the blizzard which is raging west from Bishop's Falls. The express which left here at 6 p.m. Thursday was held up all yesterday at Port aux Basques up to midnight. In places on the line the snow is from 6 to 8 feet deep. The two fine rotary snow plows which the Reid Nfld. Co. now possess are it is believed well qualified to keep the road open. The snow one built at their shops being especially powerful. This plow is effectively clearing the line, and the Company hope to have all the trains running on time by this afternoon.

WILL JAPAN ANNEX COREA?

Special to Evening Telegram. TOKIO, Jan. 14. The possible annexation of Korea to Japan continues to excite wide interest and discussion. It may be stated upon the most reliable authority, however, that the Government of Japan has no immediate intention of taking steps looking to the annexation of Korea.

Opening Port Arthur.

Special to Evening Telegram. TOKIO, Jan. 14. The decision of the Government of Japan to open the port of Port Arthur as a free commercial port of entry has been under consideration for a long time, and its official announcement has been made on the subject. It is learned from reliable sources that the plan will be consummated in a very short time.

With An Iron Hand.

Special to Evening Telegram. MADRID, Jan. 14. King Alfonso, sitting as the President of the Cabinet, ruled with an iron hand in an endeavour to straighten out the troubles threatened by revolutionists printed in a military newspaper which had for its purpose engineering bad blood between the army and the Government over the distribution of honors among the soldiers in Morocco.

Placentia Notes.

On Monday, at the Sacred Heart Church, Mr. M. Carroll and Miss J. Carroll were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony being performed by Rev. Monsignor Reardon. After the wedding the couple drove to the groom's residence, where supper was served, after which dancing was kept up until the wee hours of morning.

The following passengers arrived by Monday's train.—Miss C. Fitzgibbon, P. Summers, W. Greene, T. McGrath, W. J. Ellis and Chas. Sinnott. A pretty wedding took place Tuesday morning at the residence of Mr. E. Sinnott, Custom's Officer. His daughter, Katie, being married to Mr. Summers. The bride was attended by Miss C. Fitzgibbon, while the groom was ably supported by Mr. T. McGrath. After the knot was tied, the parties present were served a champagne dinner, and needless to say he was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Mr. and Mrs. S. were the recipients of many and costly presents from all parts of the island, which shows the great esteem this young couple were held in. Mr. and Mrs. Summers afterwards joined the train for St. John's, their future home. We wish them many happy years of wedded life.

Miss C. Fitzgibbon and P. McGrath also went out by the same train. Two other weddings took place the same day. Mr. E. Greene and Miss M. Keefe, being married. The bride was assisted by Miss P. Connors, while W. Greene supported the groom. After the wedding the couple drove to the bride's home amidst the roar of guns. Mr. V. Wyse and Miss E. Mooney were also united in the bonds of matrimony. After the wedding they proceeded to the bride's residence, where a sumptuous supper was partaken of, after which all departed for their homes thoroughly satisfied. We wish both many happy years of wedded life.

Wednesday's train took Mr. W. J. Ellis for the city, he had been here visiting friends.

Our esteemed Pastor, Rev. Mons. Reardon, has been confined to his home the past few weeks, suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism, we hope it will not be long before he will be around among us again.

In glancing through the columns of your paper, we see that Rev. Dr. O'Reilly was presented with a beautiful address and purse at Sydney, by the people of that place. We are very glad of this and offer our congratulations to him, because the Rev. Dr. belongs to this town, and it pleases us to hear of the esteem he is held in by the Sydney people.

Capt. Bonia, R.J., arrived by train Thursday on business. A special train arrived here Thursday night bringing two hundred men to work in the Sydney mines. They left by the Coban Friday morning.

The Home is now running in the Argyle's place, while the latter is on dock getting painted and cleaned.

Horse's Leg Swelled.

Animal Was Too Sore and Lame to Work—Quickly Cured by Nerviline.

"I have had a long experience in treating horses, and I can safely say that I know of no liniment for strains, sprains, and swelling that is so useful around the stable as Nerviline." Thus writes Mr. Joshua E. Murchison, from his home, Crofts Hill, P. O. I had a fine young mare that wrenched her right fore leg, and from the shoulder down she was stiff, sore and swollen. I applied Nerviline and it worked like a charm; in fact that mare was in shape to work a day after I used Nerviline.

"We have used Nerviline on our farm for twenty-five years and never found it wanting. For man or beast it is a wonderful liniment." We have received nearly five thousand letters recommending Nerviline as a general household liniment, as an all-round cure for aches and pains. One million bottles used each year. Try it yourself. Large 25c. bottles of Nerviline, five for $1.00. All dealers or The Catarthozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

A New York Infamy.

The White Slave Traffic Charges Substantiated. New York, Dec. 31.—The charges made and vigorously denied during the recent municipal campaign of white slave traffic in this city, were in some part substantiated to-day by Joseph C. Gravour, a probation officer. In the Court of Special Sessions, Gravour declared on the witness stand that an investigation he had made showed that a centralized group of men had taken possession of 200 flats, between the middle of the city, and Harlem, for immoral purposes. New York servants were enticed, and if the inducement to live the life suggested was not sufficient, a bogus marriage was performed.

The probation officer recently received high commendation for his work of investigation in a letter to the Justices of Special Sessions from Congressman Wm. S. Bennett, who is chairman of the Congressional Immigration Commission, which made a report on the white slave traffic, and Gravour was instrumental in preparing the evidence in the case of Samuel Rogoff, who was to-day sentenced to eleven months in prison and a fine of $500, the maximum penalty for such crimes.

British Lessons to Germany.

A party of Germans interested in refrigeration processes, recently visited Liverpool to study the methods adopted in that city. The party consisted of editors of technical journals, engineers, architects, cold storage builders and merchants. Their intention is to visit several towns in England in which refrigeration plants on a large scale is in use.

"Only Six Weeks to Live"

"Nothing can stop it," added Dr. Saleeby: "Nature's laws work even when we don't think about them, and vaguely feel that they will be suspended in our case! At the moment Germany is producing two babies to every one born in England, and what is more, she looks after them better when she has them; their birth rate is higher than ours, their infantile mortality is less than ours. This is the serious problem. You may start the North Sea full of Dreadnoughts, but it will not be able to resist the pressure of a vigorous, healthy, well nourished population upon a weak and degenerating one."

Overdue Liner Arrives

Boston, Jan. 9.—The long overdue steamer Foreric, with a valuable cargo from Calcutta and Colombo, arrived here to-day with a tale of severe weather conditions. Capt. Gardner stated that two days ago while far north of Boston, where he had been blown by the gales, and with his coal bunkers almost depleted, he started to head for Halifax, N.S., to secure fuel. The wind changed from southwest to northwest, however, and he again laid his course for Boston. The Foreric was thus nearly a month crossing the Atlantic, making one stop at the Azores. The heavy seas which boarded the vessel broke several cabins in doors, twisted deck rails, and caused other damage on the decks.

Constipation, Billiousness, Indigestion, Rheumatism.

My doctor told me I had only six weeks to live—but that nothing human could help me, but to-day I am hearty and well, because I took a long treatment with Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they saved my life.

Continuing her declaration Mrs. Jamieson says, I had from childhood been a sufferer from billiousness and liver complaint. I suffered excessively from wind and could not eat my food without feeling ill afterwards. Sometimes I was so bad I couldn't stand up straight for the pain. The wind settled in my stomach, chest and sides, and always caused blinding headaches. At times I seemed one mass of aches and pains—I became rheumatic because my blood was so poor. The benefit I received from the first box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills encouraged me and I continued their use, three to five pills a week, for several months and was brought to the most perfect condition of health.

If you suffer from constipation, flatulency, indigestion, palpitation, anaemia, headaches, nervousness, sleeplessness, depression, general debility, loss of appetite, liver and kidney troubles, acute and chronic dyspepsia, or any form of stomach or digestive weakness, you may look with certain hope for a complete cure by the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Safe, mild and sure to cure. Price 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00 at all dealers or The Catarthozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

Whittier's Pot of Butter

On one occasion, Mr. Whittier was inquiring where he could get some fresh made butter. The next morning he received a pot of the very best butter that Pond Hills could produce. The sender, Friend Ruth Challis, was rewarded by one of those spontaneous poems with which he was wont to "burden" his friends.

The original copy of the poem hangs upon the wall of the home of Ruth Challis' grand-daughter, who treasures the note given in payment for her grand-mother's pot of butter, as not redeemable in silver or gold:

"Words butter no parsnips," the old adage says, And to fill up the trencher is better than praise; So trust me, dear friend, that while eating thy butter, The thanks that I feel are more than I utter.

Kind Providence grant thee a life without hills; May the cows never dry up that feed on Pond Hills; May the cream never fail in thy cellar so cold, Nor thy hand lose its cunning to change it to gold.

Thrice welcome to him who, unblest with a wife, Sits and binges alone with the ripped seams of life, Is the womanly kindness which pities his fate, And sews on his buttons or fills up his plate.

Irresistible Germany.

Dr. Saleeby, in an address reported in the "Christian Commonwealth," said that he feared the Germans on the following grounds: "History shows that nothing has ever been able to resist the pressure of population; no frontiers, nor armies, nor fleets, no treaties. Nothing but an artificial frontier separates France from Germany, and while the German population is advancing rapidly, the French population is stationary, and the latter country could support a good many more people than it does; consequently," said Dr. Saleeby, "the youngest member of my audience will live to see the day when France becomes Germanized."

The Battle of Healthy Babies.

"Nature's laws work even when we don't think about them, and vaguely feel that they will be suspended in our case! At the moment Germany is producing two babies to every one born in England, and what is more, she looks after them better when she has them; their birth rate is higher than ours, their infantile mortality is less than ours. This is the serious problem. You may start the North Sea full of Dreadnoughts, but it will not be able to resist the pressure of a vigorous, healthy, well nourished population upon a weak and degenerating one."

Convince YOURSELF

That Union Blend Tea is worth the Price.

The secret of greater flavor and body of Union Blend Tea—the choice Rose aroma—lies in the fact that there is not a single full-grown tea leaf in it. I use nothing but the tender, young sprouts, hill-grown in Ceylon and India. This ensures quality. In my thirty years I have gathered together a staff of expert blenders who devote their entire time to make Union Blend Tea the one perfect Tea. That's why I stake my reputation on its delicious and refreshing flavor. It's as different from ordinary tea as—well, there's no comparison, really. You can prove this right in your own tea cup.

The Fight of the Age!

WHO WILL WIN?

Asquith Against the Lords, or Balfour for Tariff Reform?

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, Jan. 14.
To-night witnessed the close of the parliamentary election campaign. It has been fought on an issue entirely novel to the people of these times, an issue that has not been raised before for three hundred years, and it has been fought with intensity of conviction, energy and bitterness unparalleled in Great Britain in the present generation. Even the Gladstone Home Rule campaign, which came near destroying the Liberal party, failed to arouse the political factions to anything like their present state. The conflict which will open the ballot boxes to-morrow for the first general election since 1906 is a death struggle between the two great political parties in the state, the aristocrats and the democrats. On the opposing side is ranged every possible influence in support of the classes. Ample proof that the struggle is concentrated in the demand by the House of Commons for a limitation of the powers of the peers may be found in the fact that all attempts to make Home Rule, and the danger of the dissolution of the union, a factor in the election have proved unavailing. The British elector, so far as at present can be judged, declines to greatly concern himself with Home Rule and its alleged dangers. The Weekly Spectator, a free trade organ, representative of moderate men of both parties, makes a last despairing appeal to-night to the Unionist free traders to vote against the Government and risk the return of the Protectionist party rather than endanger the integrity of the Kingdom, which, it says, is in far greater peril than ever owing to the apathy the country displays towards the Irish question. Lord Cecil, one of their leaders, announces his adherence to this course because of the injection into the election of many issues other than fiscal issues. As a final appeal to their constituents, Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain issued a joint manifesto to the country to-night. It says Tariff Reform will not increase the cost of living of the working classes, but it will enable us to reduce the present taxation on articles of the working class. Mr. Balfour also issued a brief manifesto under his own signature, saying, "This is an election whose far-reaching importance no man can measure. The results may lie for good or evil must affect the employment of our people." When Parliament was dissolved last Monday the composition of the House was as follows: Unionists, 137; Liberals, 365; Labor, 53; Nationalists, 81; Socialists, 1; Unionists, 168; total, 500. Ministerial majority, 332. There were two Irish vacancies at the time of dissolution.

What Will Lancashire Do?

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, Jan. 14.
Three to nothing in favor of the Unionists is the talk at the end of the first day of the elections. Joseph Chamberlain for Birmingham was the first man entitled by this voting to fix the letters M.P. to his name, though because of falling health he never will be able to take his seat in the House. The other two successful ones were John Walter Hills for Durham City and Hon. Walter Guinness for Bury St. Edmunds. The nominations for Oxford University were Lord Hugh Cecil and Sir Wm. Benson, who will be returned without opposition. These have been postponed until to-morrow. The Tories are inclined to regard the fact that Chamberlain was the first member chosen for the new House of Commons as a good omen, but no significant deductions are to be made from today's results, as all the seats were from Unionist strongholds in which the Radicals decided not to fritter away their strength in contests. The first real test of strength will come to-morrow when a dozen London constituencies and such industrial centers as Manchester, Birmingham, Bolton and Wolverhampton will vote. The result of to-morrow's balloting should afford a fairly clear index to the feeling of the nation. Should Lancashire, heretofore regarded as an impregnable free trade fortress, give a notable measure of support to Tariff Reform, the candidates of the present party on protection will be entitled to regard victory as within their grasp. The Unionist agents claim that they will gain fourteen seats in Lancashire, but the Liberals scout the idea of their opponents being able to make any inroads on the square which has always stood solid for Free Trade. London, which at the last elections gave herself over to Liberalism, is admitted to be much more evenly divided in the present instance.

The plan sent in by Thos. Davis for a house at Rocky Lane was held over as there was not room enough for two tenements. He will have to provide more rooms.
The yearly report of the Sanitary Supervisor was submitted. It showed that 30,504 loads of refuse were taken from the streets, gullies, etc., when clearing up during the year. He recommended several changes for the better cleaning of the city. The report will be carefully considered.
After dealing with a number of smaller items and passing the pay rolls, the meeting closed at 10 o'clock.

Chimnies on Fire.

In the high wind and intense frost of last night several chimnies on the higher levels "flared" up and sparks went in all directions. People residing there were fearful of an outbreak of fire, but happily nothing of the kind occurred. Early this morning the chimnies in the Star Hall sent out a lot of sparks which fell on nearby houses. The police were notified and kept watch until the danger was over.

"Monte Christo."

"Monte Christo," Dumas wonderful drama of love, treachery and revenge will be presented by the Robinson-Allworth Co. at the People's Theatre on Monday evening. Full of strong and stirring scenes that grip the heart strings, of tender sentiments and stern revenge, this play has earned a place in the affections of theatre-goers of all lands and tongues. The story is about the humble sailor, Edmund Dantes, who on his wedding day is torn from his intended bride and imprisoned for eighteen years in the Chateau d'If on false evidence of his three supposed friends. His sensational escape from prison, his securing of a marvellous fortune and his return as the Count of Monte Christo to wreak his vengeance upon his enemies forms a drama of compelling interest and one that affords great opportunity for the actor and for stage effects of an unusual kind. W. D. Stedman will enact the title role, which is admirably suited to his heroic figure and musical voice. Miss Morton will be the beautiful Mercedes from whose arms Dantes is torn and from whose hand he is forced into marriage with one of the traitors after she is tricked into believing Dantes dead. Miss Margaret Lee and Mr. Jess Sydney as Carconte and Caderouse, and Messrs. Eden, Horton and Magnus have excellent roles. Miss Allworth will be Mademoiselle Danglars, and the entire company and several extra players will be required for the production. "Thelma" will be presented for the last time to-night.

RED, ITCHY SKIN BLOTCHES.

It is impossible not to feel repulsion at the sight of any skin disfigurement. Blotches not only irritate, but destroy good looks faster than even lavish dressing can overcome. Moreover, there's a lot of sense in the belief that a diseased skin is a dirty skin, and sufferers should keep this in mind, and use a sure remedy at once. When Dr. Hamilton's Ointment is applied, the blotches disappear. Invariably every pimply, rash and blemish is soothed away. To keep the skin smooth and soft, to remove undue redness, to take away lumps, there is nothing so efficient as Dr. Hamilton's Ointment. Sold in 50c. boxes at all dealers.

Constable's Heavy Loss

Just when the fire alarm rang out last night, Constable Henry Humber was pacing his beat at the Head of Springdale Street. As he ran along to respond to the call in the frost and high wind, he pulled out his gold watch, valued at $40, and put it back as he imagined in his pocket. Instead it must have dropped down between his tunic and belt and he lost it. Attached to the watch was a chain, a souvenir which he brought from Rome a few years ago, after making a voyage there. This he would not lose for any money. Humber is only a poor man but a good efficient policeman, and if the honest finder will leave the watch at the Telegram office or police station his action will not be forgotten in a hurry.

A Juvenile "At Home."

After St. Bon's Ladies' Association will hold their annual dance which will be a great attraction, in the British Hall, on Wednesday night next, the children, as they were last year, will be given a great time from 3 to 7 p.m., and it is expected there will be a record attendance. Tea, cake, etc., will be served; the children will have plenty of fun, games, etc. Those over 14 years of age will hold a sociable after 7 p.m. The C. C. C. band will be in attendance at the dance, and this not alone assures excellent music but will be a prominent factor in contributing to the success of the affair.

Here and There.

A JUST COMPLAINT.—The men of the Customs night boat complain that the light is frequently out on the King's Wharf. This is an ugly thing as the men are in danger of going overboard when it is extra dark. The matter should be rectified.
EVANGELICAL CHURCH.—To-morrow at the Evangelical Church, Hutchings Street, holiness meeting at 10.30 a.m.; undenominational praise service at 3 p.m. At 7 p.m. Rev. Thos. Lake will preach from St. John 3:7. "Ye must be born again." An invitation is extended to all.
SALVATION ARMY.—At No. 1 Salvation Army Citadel, New Gower St., they are still experiencing great times and every night conversions are taking place. Last Tuesday night a number were enrolled as soldiers. To-morrow, Sunday, will be a great day. The services will be conducted by Adjutant and Mrs. Bristow. At night Mrs. Bristow will be the chief speaker.

The Navy and Preserved Codfish.

We have received from the Prime Minister, Sir Edward Morris, a copy of correspondence between himself, the Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, and the Admiralty, in relation to the adoption by the Navy of our preserved codfish as an article of diet.
We are unable to afford space for the whole correspondence, but we purpose to give the gist of it.
Recently an important discovery has been made and patented by some people in Newfoundland, by which codfish is put up fresh in hermetically sealed cans by a boiling process free from any chemical preparation. After a five years' test this fish has been found, when the cans were opened, to be perfectly fresh, most palatable, and most appetizing.
When the Premier went to London last summer, he took with him a few cases of this fish, given to him by the Hon. John Harvey, and put by Sir Lake of Portuane.
Sir Edward Morris wrote to Sir Francis Hopwood, C. M. G., Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, asking him to put in motion the machinery by which the cases might be handed over to those in charge of Army and Navy supplies, in order that they might be distributed to the mess of the officers and petty officers in the Army and Navy, for a test of the value of the fish as a food. He also stated that it could be supplied at a price below anything equivalent to it as a food.
Sir Francis Hopwood took the necessary steps.
In a letter to the Secretary of the Colony, Earl Crewe, Sir Francis states:—
"He has represented that his only desire in this consideration should be given by the Admiralty for the introduction of the fish as an article of diet for the Navy, if it can be shown conclusively and satisfactorily by proper chemical analysis and every other known method that it is a good food, conforming to all health laws and regulations, and cheaper than other foods. He urges that it would be of the greatest benefit to Newfoundland if these facts, being proved, it could be adopted as an article of diet for the Navy."
In reply to Sir Edward Morris Sir Francis asked him to be good enough to have the cases sent to the Quarter-Master-General at the War Office, and the Director of Victualling at the Admiralty.

The Admiralty received a case, and had the fish issued to the ship's Company of H. M. S. "Dreadnought," with a view of ascertaining whether the adoption of this preparation was likely to be appreciated as an article of diet in H. M. Navy.
The Permanent Secretary to the Admiralty, Sir C. Inigo Thomas, K.C.B., in a letter to Sir Francis Hopwood states:—
"The Chief Petty Officers' and Petty Officers' Mess speak well of it and as these Messes have better facilities for preparing it in an appetizing form, it is possible that it might be utilized to some extent by them if procurable in the canteen."
The Admiralty suggested that the firms who pack the fish and who wish to offer it for sale in the fleet should place themselves in communication with the principal firms on the Admiralty list of Canteen Contractors, a copy of which is given.

Another Fire Alarm.
At 10.24 to-day an alarm of fire was turned in from box 31, bringing the Western and Central firemen to Miss Muir's millinery establishment on Water Street West. A stove pipe coming up through a defective flange in the workroom at the rear of the establishment caused the blaze. Some of the woodwork of the ceiling was damaged, but very little loss was sustained by Miss Muir, who happened to be out on business at the time. A few pails of water thrown on the blaze quickly quenched it. The apparatus of the firemen was not used.

This is the Wonderful New Flour

that has made such a sensation throughout Western Canada.
Made of highest grade Saskatchewan wheat, in the newest, best-equipped,
largest mill on the prairies.

Made with the determination to give users better flour-value, greater certainty of baking-success, fuller satisfaction with the final result, whether with biscuits, cake or bread.

Housewives throughout all the West admit that Robin Hood Flour gives all this.
Therefore, Madam, it is the flour for you.

This flour cannot be described in an advertisement. We use this paper merely to give the introduction—to say:

"Let us make you acquainted with Robin Hood Flour."

It is the guaranteed flour. If you are not satisfied with it after two fair trials, ask your grocer for your money back. He will give it to you.

Add more water than usual when using Robin Hood Flour. Made of such hard, dry wheat, it absorbs more moisture—producing a larger, whiter loaf.

you have to find out for yourself. That there is a difference every woman who now uses Robin Hood admits.

A Fire Alarm.

A few minutes after 8 o'clock last night an alarm of fire was turned in from box 221 and the East and Central firemen with their apparatus were soon on the scene. The alarm was caused by soot in Mr. Frank Martin's chimney on Rennie's Mill Road blazing up. I. G. Sullivan who was on the scene with his men ordered them back to their stations as he saw no danger to the residence.
Const. Benson was left to look after the place in case of any further outbreak. It was a wild night and when the alarm sounded many people ran to the scene at the risk of breaking their limbs on the ice-covered streets with a gale of N.N.W.
wind blowing. Mr. Sullivan was on the qui vive, and all the men in the fire stations were on the alert for the safeguarding of the city from a dangerous outbreak.

Catholic Cadet Corps.

The monthly inspection of the C.C.C. Battalion took place at the Armoury last night. About 250 members of the Brigade were present. Lieut-
Col. Greene and Chaplain Rev. A.
Fyne were in attendance and were well pleased with the fine appearance of the boys. The band of the Corps played appropriate music as the battalion paraded around the Armoury and were put through the usual evolutions by Adj. Kent. Lieut-Col.
Greene at the conclusion addressed the lads and complimented them for the excellent manner in which they had acquitted themselves. Hon. Jno.
Harris and Rev. Fr. Fyne also addressed the boys. Lieut-Col. Greene announced that as the House of Assembly would open on the 26th he hoped that the battalion would muster in large numbers to attend the function, which will be the first in which Governor Williams will take part.

Board of Trade.

Yesterday afternoon a Council meeting was held at the Board of Trade Rooms to make preparations for the annual meeting that takes place on Monday afternoon next at 4 o'clock.
The question of giving the rooms to the city teachers to hold a series of lectures was discussed. It was decided to let them have the rooms when required.

Fell in Hold.

Just about midnight last night as the crew of the Bonaventure were putting on the hatches a young man named Cave, one of the seamen, belonging to Bay Roberts, fell into the forward hold. He, with others were engaged in putting on the hatch, and portable electric lights were placed near so that the men had adequate illumination for their work. The man was picked up by comrades and Capt. Cross person was quickly called and found he suffered from dangerous cuts and bruises on the face. The head was badly hurt and he was seen to be suffering from concussion of the brain.
After the doctor paid the best possible attention to him the ambulance was called and the injured man was taken to the hospital.

Comes Proof of Another Wonderful Cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mark Southern Tells How They Bled
Him From a Bed of Sickness, Cured His Kidney Disease and Made Him a Well Man.

Skipton, Duck Lake, Sask., Jan. 14, (Special).—After thirteen years suffering from Kidney Disease brought on by an accident, Mark Southern, of Heslaker Farm near here, is a well man, and he is not slow to state that he owes his cure to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"It began with pains in my back," Mr. Southern says, "and across my loins, and of late years I became very weak and for days I had to keep to my bed. I had all kinds of advice and tried a great many medicines, but all to no purpose.

"Reading an advertisement induced
me to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial, and I wrote for six boxes." After taking the first box I began to feel relief, and after using five boxes I felt quite well again. I am now able to get about my work and feel no effects whatever from the old complaint."

Dodd's Kidney Pills clean all Kidney Diseases and all diseases resulting from disordered Kidneys right out of the system. That's how they cure Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Rheumatism and Backache,
They do it by putting the Kidneys in good working order and they always do it.

Newfoundland's Destiny.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 8.—Dr. Fortin,

Newfoundland, delivered a lecture
here in which he made the declaration that the "ultimate destiny of that island is to be part of federated Can-misrepresentation must be wiped out."

The Evening Chit-Chat.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

Did it ever occur to you that good work is a duty you owe to yourself far more than you owe it
to your employer?

Did you ever realize that whenever you do
a piece of slip-
shod work you
hurt yourself far more than the man you do it for?

For you do, you know.
If you are like most people, you have, probably, some day, when you were tired or a bit off form, said to yourself or more likely subconsciously thought to yourself—

"I guess I won't do my work as usual to-day. I do pretty good work generally, and I don't think it will make any difference if I occasionally
do a little that isn't quite so good.
I'll 'get by' all right."

Yes, if you have any kind of a record to fall back upon, you probably will "get by."

But you'll suffer for it just the same.
For every time you do a piece of work and don't do it just as well as you possibly can, you weaken your ability to do it well the next time.

If the right work eludes me and,
instead of insisting upon finding it before I go on with my work, I permit myself to be satisfied with a second-best word, I think I lose just so much of my ability to select the right word

the next time.
And this is not true simply of artistic work, either, but of all work,
humble or great.

Every time the girl behind the counter does not try her very best to impress upon the customer the desirability of the wares, and bring her to the buying point, I think that sales girl loses a little bit of her ability to deal with the next customer.
Every time anyone fails to deal with any problem that comes up to him in business, or dispatch any piece of work with all the skill he possesses, I thoroughly believe that he loses a certain degree of that skill—an infinites-imally small degree each time, I admit, but accumulating tremendously
in the course of time.

Skill and ability of all kinds are like the muscles of our bodies. They grow by being used to their full extent. Disuse atrophies them. To keep them at their best, they must be com-stantly employed to their full value.
"We gain the strength of the temptation we resist," someone has said.

I think we do, and in the same way,
I think, we gain the power of the obstacle we overcome or the task we do to the best of our ability, and lose the power of the obstacle we give way before or the task we do only half as well as we could have done it.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters.
You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so?
The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr.
Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription."
Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address:
World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

Fads and Fashions.

Smart indeed are the crocheted or knitted buttons made of the same worsted as one's sweater and worn upon the garment. They come in a variety of shapes and sizes.

The newest revival in sleeves is the kimono cut in one with the waist,
but it is by no means so full and wide as formerly, and at first glance does not suggest its origin.

A novel millinery ornament of gauze and satin ribbon is made of three pieces of ribbon, about two inches in width, sewn together at one end
and plaited in a loose braid.

The sharp-pointed waist is seen
now and then in ultra-fashionable costumes, but it is still too radical to be exploited freely. Whether it is to come back to its own remains to be seen.

Among the new scarfs are those of soft, white silk, quite elaborately beaded. The scarf proper has a design very elaborate, wrought out in gold beads, while the border is in silver.

The touch of vivid color on the front of the waist is one of the latest points of fashion. Vivid green on gray, bright pink on tan, and orange on white, are some of the principal contrasts.

The suede glove is the thing of the hour. It is worn for street in its heavy texture and wide stitching, and in the evening in the pale gold tones

that are very becoming to the arm and hands.

As becoming an evening scarf as can be had is made of a length of mousseline de soie, bordered all around with marabout of the same tone, and, if an especially stylish affair, finished with marabout tails.

While the long, broad stole of fur is the most seen, the small, all-pieces with heads and claws are still in excellent style, and many fashionable women will not give them up for the more cumbersome furs.

One of the newest scarfs to appear is of white Brussels net, nearly a yard wide and the usual two and a half yards long, bordered elaborately in the eclectical pattern of the gold bugles, gold spangles and gold beads.

A smart tailored blouse is made of batiste, with two inch bands of the daintiest hand tucks. There is a standing collar and turnback cuffs of baby Irish lace and ruffles of batiste, edged with lace at the side where the waist closes.

In some of the new and elaborate toilettes the belt is of different shade from the gown. An example is a sapphire blue dinner gown with crystal embroidery on the waist, and with a touch of very faded old rose at the girdle.

An extremely fashionable threepiece sleeve is made with a seam running from shoulder to wrist on the upper sleeves. This upper sleeve is also tucked, the tucks extending from the side seams and then curving up to the centre seam, where they form points.
