"A murderous looking thing," he said in a low voice. "To whom does it belong; does anyone know?"

There was a silence for a moment or two, then a voice-it came from a hobbledehoy young labourer- said,

"It be like Ralph Farringdon's, the gamekeeper."

The earl's stern glance rested on him for a second, then went to Burchett's face and rested there enquir-

heavy brows came down

"Take care what you say!" he said so sternly that those near him drew back with instinctive awe of the great earl. "Why should Ralph Farringdon's knife be here?"

"Buried with the corpse: it was found, so Burchett and Goldie said, on top of the body," murmured the inapector.

The earl scowled at the interrup-

"What connection can there be be tween this murder and the young fellow? It is possible that they neve met, never saw each other!"

Talbot, standing near his elbow nodded concurringly.

"Just so." he said, in a low voice "They probably never set eyes o: each other. Why should the young be suspected?"

"No one hinted at suspicion!" broke in the earl, sharply.

"I am sorry to say, my lord," he said, respectfully but firmly, "that once, and on two occasions at least man trespassing, and, in accordance with his duty, ordered him out of the and I'm told he threatened Farringdon or Farringdon threatened him-"

The earl's face, grey and set, grey

"This is no place for such a discussion," he said, sternly. "Take the body to the church mortuary and then come up to the Court, inspector. Burchett, you will come with him."

Talbot offered his arm and the ear took it, and was conducted to the carriage. As he got in he signed to Whet-

Recently, however, I have turned the matter over in my mind and come to the conclusion that there is no reason why anyone should think my opinion has anything to do with the policy of the paper, and hence my reason for any editor, no matter how differently he feels, to object to this expression of my humble opinion.

So here goes with my answer-With all my heart I believe in woman suffrage, not only as a thing that ought to be but also as a thing that soon will be.

Now some people say that they want woman suffrage because they know that women will improve conditions. I do not. I hope they will, and I feel sure they will not make conditions worse. But I don't see that a probable improvement needs to be proven. When, in the history of the world, any class of men have tried to get the vote, it has not said that it would govern the country better. It has simply claimed that it had an inalienable RIGHT to share in the government and has protested against taxation without representation. And that's just what the women of to-day re fighting against

MRS. J. IMHOF, of 321 S. Bentalon Street, Ealtimore, Md., says: "I wrote you about nine months ago, telling you of my condition. I have a fine baby girl—she weighed nine pounds when born. She is my third child and the strongest of them all. My suffering was only for two hours. I took several bottles of 'Favorito-Prescription' and one of Dr. Pierce's Smart-Weed. I never had a well day before I took your medicines. I was surprised how well I felt—could eat—was always hungry, and never had a sick stomach. The nurse who was with the said the medicine was wonderful because I got along so nicely after having had so much trouble before. She intends to recommend it to all her suffering patients. Everybody is astonished at me because I only weighed 102 pounds before and now I weigh 135. I have had several ladies come to me and ask about Dr. Pierce's medicine. I am willing to recommend it to all who suffer and want help, If any want information I will be glad to give it."

> CAMP DOUGLAS, Wis., Sept. 2 .-'our persons were killed in the vreck of a passenger train-No. 10on the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railroad, which plunged into the Lemonweir River near Camp Douglas, to-day, owing to the washing away of a bridge. Twenty-six persons were injured, six of them serously.

> Every car including the sleepers ith passengers still in their berths, vere hurled into the stream, whose vaters, augumented by the cloud ourst of last night, had made it a tor ent. Panic stricken occupants of the leening cars struggled through brokn windows to escape. The smoking ear was carried down stream, but all ts occupants escaped.

> The train had passed safely over was flagged at a tunnel because washout further on had made the rack impassible, and was ordered back to Camp Douglas so that the passengers might breakfast. Meanwhile the Lemonweir, flooded by a loud burst several miles up the valley, had torn away the bridge, and. unwarned, the engineer could not stop his train to save it from plunging into the river. Relief trains, bearing doctors and nurses were sent out from several nearby towns. Many of the injured are women and children, and railroad men regard it as wonderful that so few lives were lost considering the crowd on the train.

Egyptian Liniment Cured Him

Though the hospital physicians could not agree on the cause of his trouble, Mr. Robert Graham, of Elgin, Ont., found Douglas' Egyptian Liniment the proper cure. He writes:

"For four months I suffered untold proper cure. He writes:

"For four months I suffered untold agony from my arm, which I was obliged to carry in a sling. Could get no rest scarcely, day or night. I went to General Hospital, Kingston, but had to return home with my arm in the same condition. Doctors could not agree as to the cause of my trouble. A friend gave me a bottle of Egyptian Liniment. At first I refused to use it, as I was completely disheartened, however, he prevailed upon me to give my arm one application. I did and immediately after I began to feel the effect. I followed the directions and after using the contents of one bottle, my arm was entirely cured. I have had no return of the pain since. Egyptian Liniment has certainly been a boon to me."

There we not many aliments of man or beast where liniment will do any good, that Douglas' Egyption Liniment will not do the most good.

Special Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Sept. 11. Four hundred men attached to the two battleships of the Russian Black Sea fleet have been arrested at Sebastopol, according to an Odessa despatch to the Standard. Capt. Shubin, one of those taken in custody, attempted suicide. Some petty officers are also among the prisoners. The arrests continue in connection with the recent mutinies on the warships. The private quarters of the officers ashore are being searched.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Sept. 11. King Alfonso and Queen Victoria open an Anti-Tuberculosis Congress here, delegates coming from many countries. A Porto Rican delegate created a scene by demanding a national recognition and declared he would not participate in the Convention until the same honor was shown his country as the other countries. The Committee had some difficulty in making the patriot realize that they were unable to recognize Porto Rico an independent country.

LONDON, Sept. 10. The six-power group has requested explanations of the report that negotiations have been entered into by China for a fifty million loan in London, says the Pekin correspondent of the Times. The explanation given by the Chinese Government is that the negotiations were begun by the late Finance Minister, who continued them independently. It is reported that the negotiations are nearly completed.

Special Evening Telegram

LONDON, Sept. 10. The agreement for a loan of $50,000,000 at five per cent. for forty years, was signed on August 30th by the Chinese Minister and a representative of Lloyd's Bank. The loan is secured upon unpledged revenue, chiefly, the salt duty is to be free of control and supervision, which proved the obstacle to the loan by the sixnation group. The salt duty is to be controlled by the British Inspector-General of Customs in case of default. Americans are said to have arranged the agreement. It is contended in some quarters that the Chinese Minister was without power to sign the in locating Tyrus. He will enerally be found at the top of the atting averages or hugging the leaders without any shame whatever.

A few days ago Tyrus was set upon y three total strangers and entirely flank exposed, while his left was drawn up in a threatening attitude nearby. But did Tyrus call for reinorcements? He did not. Throwing himself rapidly in the form of a hol ow square, he fired with both fists with so much success that he utterly shattered the enemy's esprit de corps loosened several expensive teeth. Ty us was not injured in any vital spot except his feelings.

Tyrus is a member of an ancient Roman family, and when enraged speaks the dead languages with great fluency, hurling long, obsolete words at the umpire in a strange tongue. He has a mauve complexion and a fine square piano phsique, which he throws from base to base like a hum an humming bird.

Tyrus usually goes on the field surounded by eight innocent bystanders with machine-turned legs, some of whom show almost human intelligence. This makes an effective combination, as they are not called upon o furnish anything except scenery.

Tyrus is a hearty eater, and sub sists mainly upon Texas leaguers, line drives and shoestring catches. He also eats up wild pitches with the utnost avidity. Whenever Tyrus comes to bat with the bases full, the opposing pitcher shuts his eyes and trusts to a kind and merciful providence.

Tyrus Cobb is a credit to the animal kingdom and the greatest little base hitter in either hemisphere. Without him Detroit would have about as much show as a one-armed man in a round dance.

With the Trouble Taken Out.

Gas is really nothing more than coal, only with gas you have the coal less the dirt, ashes and smoke. These have been taken out by the Gas Company. The weight, too, has been taken out, for when you use gas you don't have to carry it up from the cellar in buckets, straining your back in the attempt. All of the drudgery has been removed. The Gas Company has taken everything out of the coal but the heat—and that's the one thing you want. This they deliver to you right to the burner of your range, You only have to turn a tap and strike a match in order to have it.

If your mind is half made up to buy a GAS RANGE, remove the remaining doubt by thinking of last summer and the many days when your kitchen was like a burning furnace. The gas range never overheats the kitchen. Phone the Gas Company, or call at heir showrooms and get full particu-

Serious Fire At Placentia.

ecial Evening Telegram,
PLACENTIA, Sept. 11. What was nearly resulting in the lestruction of the town by fire occurred to-day. A fire broke out in the warehouse connected with the business place of Magistrate O'Rielly at noon. Five casks of kero oil were in the store, together with other goods, carriages and sleighs. A store adjoining full of hay also caught, and both were burned to the ground. These stores were situated in the heart of the town, and only by the vigilance of the bucket brigade and the local voluntary firemen was the town saved. CORRESPONDENT.

Serious Case of Blood Poisoning.

Mr. Tricomp, purser of the Black Diamond steamer Morwenna, who was suffering from a blood-poisoned hand is now recovering as the member is greatly improved. Some time ago Mr. Tricomp cut his finger accidentally and before the wound was healed up a piece of indelible pencil that the purser was using touched it with the result that blood poisoning set in. seriously affecting the man's system. Mr. Tricomp cites another instance of blood-poisoning caused by an indelible pencil in Sydney, where a man while speaking over the telephone unconsciously let the point of the pencil touch one of his eyes. Blood poison developed and the eve had to be removed to save the man's life.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Two cows owned by Mr. John Brunlees broke out of their pasture ground on Saturday evening, and although Mr. Brunlees has searched the surrounding country, no trace of them has been found since.

At the Agricultural Society's month-ly meeting last night it was unani-mously decided that the Executive of the Society take charge of the man-agement of the Exhibition this fall, and they will be assisted by several members of the body. Our crops are not so bad as those of many other places, and it is thought that a good showing will be made at the Exhibition, which will be held about the end of October.

Messrs. B. Badcock and F. Chafe, of the staff of the Anglo Office, Heart's Content, spent Sunday last in town visiting friends, and left in the evening for the Cable City. They were accompanied as far as Carbonear by Miss Chafe and her guest, Miss Rabbits.

Mr. Hector Martin returned from St. John's last week after a month's treatment at the General Hospital. The operation performed on Mr. Martin was a successful one, and he is fast recovering his customary health and strength. Mr. Martin requests us to convey to Drs. Cowpertwaite called again last night. We were asked not to mention this, but the temptation was more than we could resist. CORRESPONDENT. Hr. Grace, Sept. 10, '12.
