Gas, it may be said, vitiates the atpurify it. Its purifying power is greater than its vitiating power. Electricity does not vitiate, nor does it purify. Hear what three eminent men have said:-

Much evidence has lately been adduced to show that gas is more useful than the electric light in promoting efficient ventilation of air. It is for this, amongst other reasons, that gas is be-ing frequently substituted for the elec-tric light. The latest example is, perhaps, the Society of Medical Officers of Health, which has recently installed gas on its premises, after experience with the electric light.—Dr. Jamieson

B. Hurry. He would merely add that no mem-ber who had experience of their meet-ing room under the old conditions could deny the improvement that had taken place since gas had been sub-stituted for the electric light and the new system of heating and ventilation had been installed.—Dr. Reginald Dud-field, before the Society of Medical Of-another's throats has cooled down to peaceful relations with one another. Even the tension between Britain and Germany has been relieved, as well t might, after the tell-tale revelations which showed that much of the hostility between Britain, France and Germany had been stimulated by the agents of armour plate and gun factories, who were interested in obtaining orders for their firms. In England at the present time, there is a movement in the Liberal Party which is gaining force every day and which is directed to give a pause to the wild race of warship building and This Dates to turn the stream of natural wealth from this exhausting proceeding and to turn it to such social services as will alleviate the social struggles and help to solve many of the econo mic problems which are at the botom of the great unrest of the day.

Reply to Mr. Walter Baggs.

Replying to your letter in the Telegram Friday last, I consider it very cowardly. I challenged you to race mouth, Mass., 1620. The "Mayflower" as a fisherman against a fisherman, under ordinary fishing conditions us- and on November 11th they dropped

You bought a 71/2 H.P. Ferro en- Bay, and on this date stepped ashore gine, I bought a 6 H.P. "FRASER," I upon a huge boulder of Rock-"the installed my engine myself without Pilgrims' Rock"-and named the first any help in a 29 ft. boat 7 feet 6' wide, drawing 3 feet of water; you presume also installed your own engine but in a boat not much over half the size of mine, only being 20 ft. long and 6 feet wide, drawing feet of water, and yet when I chal lenge you with my small "FRASER" n a large boat you are afraid to race me with your big Ferro in a small boat, your reason no doubt being that you know that I can "trim" you I have done so several times the pas summer, and you also know there are eight times as many FRASERS at the Battery as Ferros, although both were introduced about the same time. 156 barrels CARROTS. BEET Why do you suppose the fishermer after seeing how both engines worked bought eight FRASERS to one Ferro It must be that they consider the FRASER the best engine, and this is why I offered you the challenge, and now repeat it to race my small FRASER in my large boat agains your big Ferro in your small boat, o qual terms without a handicap.

To put your engine in my boat after would go over a certain course, and then you go over the same would b foolish and not fair to either and would decide nothing, as both wind and tide conditions would be differ ent on each trip. Now come out and race as a fisherman against a fisher nan just as you had your engine in stalled and I mine, both using kero ene as fuel, "or beat it."

PORTSMOUTH, To-day. A fire involving damage, variously stimated at two million dollars, devasted the famous dockyard on Saturday night and resulted in the loss of two lives and the destruction of the century old Semaphore Tower which in pre-telegraph days was a great signalling station between the flect and the Admiralty. An examination of the ruins disclosed the fact that two of the three signalmen, who were burned to death. The third managed to make his escape through the smoke and flames on an adjoinon the loft sailhouse. All the fire fighting appartus of the dockyard tore and burning the building which trol and had then reached within eight feet of these thanks. The flames were finally extinguished about 3 o'clock on Sunday morning. The huge wood Semaphore structure surrounding the raging house was a blazing beacon the efforts of the men were di:ected to mass. Parties were sent to the dockyard from all the warships in the Harbor. The battle cruiser Queen Mary, which had burning brands failing on it, was towed out of the danger zone. Obituary.

MR. F. BURNHAM.

It is with profound regret we record t'e demise of Mr. Fred Burnhim, which took place at his late residence 17, Military Road, about 6 o'clock yesterday' evening. He had been suffering from diabetes during recent years and on Thursday last was taken seriously ill, and though his condition showed a slight improvement on Friday, the change yesterday morning showed that the end of his illness was fast approaching. A physician was hastily summoned, and Rev. Fr. Sheehan was also called, who administered the last rites of the Church, of which he was an exemplary member. The decessed was born at Port de Grave, and was in his sixty-first year. He was first employed by the late Philip Hutchings, whose service he entered as a draper when quite young, and with whom he worked twelve years, continuing in the business when it came under the nanagement of Hon. Geo. Knowling. For the past twenty years he had been buyer for the firm, and was highly esteemed by his employer, who was one of the last he recognized before breathing his last. He was quiet and unassuming, possessed all the characteristics of a true gentleman, and was held in highest esteem in social as well as business circles. He leaves a widow, nee Miss Daley. of this city, four daughters. Mrs. Thes. Harris, Mrs. (Dr.) Gill, Miss Kitty and one daughter in the Ursuline Convent, Belgium, and one son, Ralph, to all of whom the Telegram extends sincerest sympathy

Died At Boston.

Mr. George Johnstone, foreman with Mr. C. Lester, received a cablegram Saturday afternoon informing him of the death of his mother a Boston, U.S.A., which sad event occurred on Friday night. The deceased lady was formerly Miss Moores, had resided for many years in this city. The latter was the father of the present efficient and painstaking Head Constable Pect. After Mr. Torr in the year 1856, Inspector . Timothey Mitchell took charge of the police. Mitchell was a Clever Man.

He was the father of the late Thomas Mitchell and grandfather of the mesent Dr. Mitchell. He was born in Balinsloe, County Galway, Ireland. He dietd in 1871. He was tnirty years a resident of St. John's and at the time of his death he left a wife nd seven children. A tall monument, not many yards on the right hand suie after you enter Belvidere Cemetery marks his last resting place. Inspector Mitchell went through some stirring times and did yeoman service. He was very keen on dectection of crime. inspector Mitchell was largely interested in farming pursuits. At one time he owned Destructive Fire. House Razed to the Ground.

Fire destroyed the house, with ail its contents, owned and occupied by Isaac Scevior, Southside Road, on Saturday night. How the fire orginated is unknown, as everything was apparently all right when Mr. and Mrs. Scevior left the house about 7 p.m. to go shopping. At about 7.15 p.m. the blaze was first noticed by a man named King, who proceeded to the scene to find the house practically consumed. The whole place was enveloped in flames. A telephone message that had been sent in the meantime brought the Central and Western Companies to the scene but the building was razed when they arrived and nothing could be done except save the adjacent buildings from the danger of chance sparks from the buring debris. The house was a newly built one, the owner having only come there some twelve months previous. Nothing was saved, but we learn that the building and furniture were partly covered by insurance. Mrs. Scevior lost over sixty dollars in cash which was in the house at the time the fire started.

Shopping for other people is bad enough even when it is only buying the simplest things. It isn't that you aren't willing to spend the time and energy, but complications are so sure to develop. "Would you mind getting a spool of brown silk when you're down town?" says your neighbour. They have it at J's." It sounds perfectly simple, but of course J's is out of that particular shade. You try at two other places with no better results debate at length whether to take the next lighter or the next darker shade, and finally decide on the latter. You carry it home in fear and trembling and know at once by the expression on your neighbour's face and the flat tones of her voice as she assures you that it will do nicely and that she is much obliged, that it won't do at all and that she really thinks you might have shown better judgment.

But if buying a spool of silk to of this necessity would be to deny the please one person is hard, there is spirit of Christmas, so perhaps no word in the English language shouldn't have written this. THE EASTERN TRUST COMPANY.

The business of the The Eastern Trust Company is to administer Trusts. In this work it specializes, and it does no other. But no kind of trust is foreign to its scope or beyond its power to administer efficiently.

The Eastern Trust Company never speculates. It invests. It depends for its prosperity upon the efficiency of its management of its clients' business and upon the security of its investments.

The Eastern Trust Company executes the office of executor or administer with unexampled efficiency, and its usefulness in this field is becoming rapidly more availed of.

For instance:—In St. John, New Brunswick, where it has quite lately established a branch, the estate of James Ready, of Fairville, which has been sworn to under $651,300.00, is being administered by The Eastern Trust Company as one of the joint executors of Mr. Ready's will.

Ready's will.

In Halifax, Nova Scotia, again, The Eastern Trust Company has just been chosen to administer the estate of Captain William Fleming, which is valued at more than half a million dollars.

The Company now administers many estates which is value amount to several millions of dollars. Particulars will appear in amount of dollars. Particulars will appear in later advertisements.

The Eastern Trust Company can execute this function of executor or administrator as efficiently in Newfoundland as it can in Nova Scotia, Quebec, or New Brunswick.
