BREACH OF PROMISE CASE. — Miss Elizabeth Dredge brought a suit on Wednesday last, in the Court of Queen's Bench, London, against Mr. Clinton Winans, a citizen of the United States, to recover $50,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage; but the case was compromised by Winans' payment to the plaintiff of $7,500. (dw)

FIRE IN NASSAGAWAYA. — A fire took place on the farm of Mr. Henry Atkinson, Lot 27, 2nd Con., Nassagawaya, near Eden Mills, on Wednesday afternoon, by which his barn and all the out-buildings and contents were destroyed. (dw)

The fire broke out about half-past 3 in the afternoon in the barn, and as there was no person about the place but Mr. Atkinson and his wife all day, there is no doubt but that the fire was the work of an incendiary. (dw)

As soon as the fire was observed the neighbors ran to assist all they could, but the hay, straw and grain in the barn was consumed, also a horse, which was valuable as well as the implements, which were in a driving house, along with the house, were saved. (dw)

The turnips, which were in the root-house under the barn, are badly damaged. The wind was at the time blowing partly from the dwelling house, else it would have burned as well. (dw)

Mr. Atkinson had his barn and stock insured in the Waterloo Mutual, but he did not hear to what amount. As all his feed for the winter is burned, Mr. Atkinson will have much difficulty in keeping his stock alive. (dw)

Judging from the way Mr. Setton's barn in Erasmus was set on fire, and also the fact that this fire in Nassagawaya was the work of an incendiary, we are led to believe that some scoundrels are about, who, for some reason which it would be hard to divine, are setting fire to valuable property throughout the county. (dw)

OBITUARY. — To-day is our melancholy duty to record the death of one of Guelph's oldest residents in the person of Robert Cooper, Esq., at the good old age of 76. (dw)

The late Mr. Cooper was a native of Norfolkshire, England, was bred a miller by trade, and emigrated with his wife and family to Canada in 1832, and after a year's residence in Hamilton, settled on the lot well known in Guelph Township (west end) as "Cooper's Farm," a tract of land that did him credit both in its selection and cultivation. (dw)

After some years, he turned his attention to milling pursuits in Guelph, Waterloo, at Fisher's mills, and at St. Catharines. About thirteen or fourteen years ago he sold out his farm to the late Mr. Marsh, whose widow and family still reside thereon. (dw)

Mr. Cooper and family then removed to the Town of Guelph, where they have since resided. Mr. Cooper was a member of the Township Council of Guelph for two years. (dw)

In private life, Mr. Cooper was a most estimable character, searching out and relieving with a ready hand every known case of distress and poverty in our midst, and many will be the lamentations of the poor over the loss of so generous a benefactor. (dw)

Mr. Cooper has been called on to suffer, both personally and otherwise, a great deal of affliction, and it will be remembered that about ten or twelve years ago when out shooting a sport he was accidentally shot in the eye by his son, and from the effects of which his sight never recovered. (dw)

Mr. Cooper was a well-known figure in town, and he was himself remarkable for a certain odd quaintness in his remarks, which gave a piquancy to his conversation which his friends and acquaintances greatly relished. (dw)

As we stated some days ago Mr. Cooper has been invalided for the last three months, and lately his growing infirmities were greatly aggravated by a severe attack of diarrhea which gradually wasted his already greatly emaciated frame, until on Wednesday night, shortly after seven o'clock, he peacefully passed away in the presence of his sorrowing relatives, leaving behind him a widow not much his junior in years, four daughters, and four sons, one of whom is in New Zealand and another in Australia. (dw)

POLICE COURT. Before T. W. Saunders, Esq., P. M. Thursday, Dec. 5th. Robert Embley was charged by Chief Constable Kelly, with removing earth from Melville Street without permission, Dismissed. (dw)

John Davidson was brought up on a charge of being drunk. Being his first offence, he "passed." Catharine Ogilvie, for being drunk, was fined $2 and costs, or 20 days in gaol. (dw)

Funeral of Horace Greeley.

GREAT PAGEANT. New York, Dec. 4. Promptly at 11 o'clock the funeral procession started from Mr. Sinclair's house in 45th street. (dw)

Many affecting scenes took place there during the morning. Mr. Greeley's daughters were inconsolable in their grief. The corpse was borne by ten men, next came chief mourners, then the Tribune Association, next the Herald club, then followed in succession the military and civil officers of the United States, located in the adjoining cities, the State officers of this and other States, now in this city, the Mayor and members of the Common Council, the Mayors and members of the Common Councils of Brooklyn, Jersey City, Long Island City, Newark, Paterson, Elizabeth, representatives from Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities. (dw)

Then came the Judges from all the courts and a line of citizens of immense length. At 11.30 the procession entered the church. The solemnity of the scene was of a most impressive character. The stillness was such that it seemed as though the people scarcely breathed. (dw)

The pulpit was heavily draped in crape, and long lines of crape were suspended from every pillar and every abutment of the beautiful Gothic interior. The folds of crape suspended from the centre of the roof to the pillars formed beautiful festoons, in admirable keeping with the style of the architecture. (dw)

The floral offerings in the church were exquisite in design and appropriateness. The principal offering among them were the following: "I know that my Redeemer liveth," red on white ground and green body. At the rear of the pulpit was a sheaf of wheat from Chappaqua in the form of a crown and suspended over the head of a pen and an axe. (dw)

Around the pulpit were numerous offerings of flowers and wreaths. In front was a beautiful design in flowers, with the words in the centre "It is done," on a white ground in purple letters and green border. On a tablet to the left of the pulpit was a floral wreath bearing the letters "H.G." (dw)

There were in flowers a plough from the Tribune office, and a quill from the German-Greeley Club; a basket of flowers, with a crown and cross, from the Lincoln Club; and floral offerings from the Lotus, Areadian and other Clubs. (dw)

Present among those who slowly wound their way up the centre aisle were Thurlow Weed, Hon. Wm. Everts, Erasmus Brooks, Gen. Cochrane, Hon. James Brooks, &c. Also present were the President, Postmaster-General Creswell, Gen. Dix, Ex-Governor Morgan, General Sheridan, Governor Randolph, of New Jersey, and a committee of twenty from the Union League Club, headed by Mr. Hopkins. (dw)

The funeral services were listened to in impressive silence, Dr. Chapin's rendering of scriptural passages being very touching. Miss Clara Loomis Kellogg next sang, very pathetically, "I know that my Redeemer liveth;" after which Rev. Henry Ward Beecher delivered a brief funeral oration. (dw)

The procession now proceeded en route from Chapin's Church to Greenwood Cemetery. It was one of the most imposing funerals ever witnessed in point of numbers and representative persons and bodies ever witnessed in this city. (dw)

A large number of stores and public buildings are draped in mourning; flags everywhere are at half-mast; even the shipping in the harbor and at anchor are draped in mourning. At Greenwood an enormous concourse had gathered, standing about the entrance gates, fringing the winding roads, and concentrated about the open grave so that the mourners, when the cortege arrived, had the greatest difficulty in following the hearse. (dw)

The hearse reached Elora, but was told that he need not do so as Mr. Tiffin had caused it to be ordered and charged to the Railway Company. (dw)

PRESENTATION. — A number of the young folks of this village desiring to evince their appreciation of the labors of the Rev. Mr. Reynolds in behalf of their spiritual and temporal welfare, made a collection among their friends with the view of presenting him with a small sum of money. (dw)

The amount collected was only $25; but the effort made is worthy of notice as indicating the kindly feeling, good disposition and desire in the promoters of the object to do what is right in regard to their minister, and as speaking well for Mr. Reynolds himself, who has only been here a short time and has thus far obtained the affections of the youth of his flock. (dw)

The collectors having done what they could formed themselves into a party which called a surprise party and took the rev. gentleman by surprise, and presented, along with the offering, the following address: — (dw)

To the Rev. Mr. Reynolds. DEAR SIR. — Allow us in behalf of your many friends and well-wishers in the Village of Harrison to present you with this purse, the contents of which we only wish were tenfold, as a slight token of the high esteem and appreciation which we have for you, and which we have already evinced for our temporal and spiritual welfare, your indefatigable efforts to inculcate by precept and example a lively faith in the truth and grace of a living, loving, holy Saviour; and to instruct us in the fear, nurture and adoration of the Lord will not go unrewarded by a gift which shall be of more value than all the honors that man can bestow upon you. (dw)

Your prayer for yourself and your amiable partner is, that heaven's choicest blessing may attend you during your earthly pilgrimage; that you may prosper and be in health of body and mind to labour long among us. (dw)

We remain, Dear Sir, Yours in the bonds of Christian love, THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF HARRISON. (dw)

To which Mr. Reynolds responded in kind consideration, you have already evinced for our temporal and spiritual welfare, your indefatigable efforts to inculcate by precept and example a lively faith in the truth and grace of a living, loving, holy Saviour; and to instruct us in the fear, nurture and adoration of the Lord will not go unrewarded by a gift which shall be of more value than all the honors that man can bestow upon you. W. G. and B. Railway and the Trade of Guelph.

Many were under the impression that the business of Guelph would be ruined by the opening of the W. G. and B. Railway beyond this point, and that the traffic of the Guelph station would sink to a minimum from the same cause. We are glad to be able to say that the facts are quite the reverse. We are informed that the traffic at this station for the past few months has averaged thirty per cent. increase as compared with the same period last year; and as each new section of the line was opened, the trade of the town was extended and increased. The trains are now running through to the lake at Southampton, and the branch to Kincardine is also well advanced, and will be opened for traffic early in the spring.

A Refreshment Room is in course of erection at this station, and trains are to be timed so as to enable travellers to take their meals in comfort. This is now very necessary, as the line from Harrisburg to Southampton (130 miles) is as long as the main line of many railways, and there is no proper refreshment room this side of Hamilton. During navigation, the Lake Superior boats will start from Southampton, making the W. G. and Bruce Railway part of a through route.

"Defiling the Sacred Fountain of Justice."

The Hamilton Times of Wednesday contains an article with the above caption, on the appointment of Chief Justice Morris as Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba, which exposes the inconsistency and hypocrisy of the Mail and all the other Tory organs, and applies the lash without stint and without mercy. It is little more than a month since the Hon. Mr. Mowat resigned his position on the bench to accept the office of Premier of Ontario. We all remember what a howl was raised by the Mail and the lesser Tory lights over that appointment. John A. Macdonald's organ in Toronto characterized it as an outrage on the purity of the Bench, as tending to "defile the sacred fountain of justice" as a step on Mr. Mowat's part which was degrading to himself and without even the excuse of a precedent, and as an innovation immoral in itself and tending to corrupt man of all others whose lives and actions should be pure and above reproach. We well remember how day after day we were treated to long and wearisome homilies on this same subject, and how much cheap indignation was evoked at such sinful tampering with the Bench, and how much feigned sympathy was expressed at what these organs were pleased to call Mr. Mowat's degradation and downfall. Now, Chief Justice Morris is taken from the Bench, and receives a political appointment to a political office, and not a single protest is made. Nay, on the contrary, the Mail and all its followers heartily approve of this appointment—though only a month ago they were loud in their condemnation of one of a precisely similar character in the Ontario Government.

The Times has taken the trouble to go through the files of the Mail, and copies several extracts from articles in which the conduct of Mr. Mowat is severely condemned for the step which he took in leaving the Bench for the more stormy arena of politics. Making use of these in a most skillful fashion, it exposes the inconsistency of the Tory organ in most trenchant style, and condemns it with its own words. Here is one of these extracts which exactly suits Lieut. Governor Morris's case, as the Mail thought it suited that of Mr. Mowat:

"It has been generally understood that a Judge once appointed has left the political arena forever. We now see politicians, at an imminent political crisis, hesitatingly approaching a Judge and tempting him by the allurements of office and power. The precedent is destructive of judicial impartiality, and cannot be justified by any valid argument drawn from British or Canadian practice. What confidence can there be in his (a Judge's) interpretation when he is known to be only sitting temporarily on the Bench, and awaiting something better from his political friends, simply on the ground of his political preferences and sympathies?"

We are curious to see what the Mail will say in its own defence. It must either withdraw its accusation against Mr. Mowat, or place Lieut.-Governor Morris in the same category with him as a now degraded Judge; or having once approved of the latter's appointment and condemned that of the former, it lays itself open to the charge, proved from its own columns, of gross hypocrisy, stone-blind partisanship, and shameful inconsistency. It must take either horn of the dilemma, and stand charged with an unreasoning defence of every act of the Dominion Government, and an equally unreasoning condemnation of everything done in connection with the Ontario Administration.

One effect of the horse disease in Wheeling, Pa., is the abandonment of the stable by rats. As soon as a horse commences to cough, the rodents make for the open air.

An interesting document has been found in the archives of the British Museum, by Mr. George Smith, an official of the institution. The document is part of the Assyrian records and contains an account of the deluge of the world, similar to that contained in the Book of Genesis.

Mr. John Bright, in declining an invitation to attend the civic banquet held at Birmingham on the 9th inst., wrote as follows: "I am still obliged to shun public dinners, and meetings, and speeches, and must therefore ask your committee to excuse my absence."

London, Dec. 4.—Five hundred of the stokers employed by the London Gas Company, who are now on strike, have been summoned to appear before the Police Court under the Masters' and Servants' Act. The summonses of several of the strikers charge them with conspiracy. The companies show no disposition to concede the demand of the strikers, and the latter announce that they are not to resume work until their companions are taken back. Meanwhile the absence of gas is severely felt throughout London. Last night the city was in a state of partial darkness, and several of the theatres were compelled to suspend their performances. Two thousand of the striking stokers assembled to-day in Trafalgar Square, and, after listening to addresses, formed in marching order and paraded.

London, Dec. 4, 6 p. m.—Large portions of the city are in darkness to-night, the gas having been extinguished in many sections. The inhabitants are filled with consternation and dread, and the irritation against the striking stokers is very great.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Senator Sumner was seized with a rather sharp attack of his complaint of heart disease last night. His friends have warmly urged his cessation from all his senatorial duties, but he was in his seat to-day.

The Foster Brother;

The Orphan of the Wreck.
CHAPTER XXVIII.
THE DEATH OF WALLY.

"Yes, Wally, I am George," he cried; "I am the boy whose life you saved. My dear friend and preserver—my poor devoted Wally, you have been a long and a heavy sufferer. Your life has been shrouded for all these years, and you could neither receive my thanks nor my love. Thank heaven you have come back again. The cloud has gone, the light of reason has returned, and though the child you cherished has grown away from childhood, I am your Georgey still."

"I know, I know it," murmured Wally, as he sank more heavily still into George's arms; "you are so like your father."

"My father!" repeated George. "Oh, tell me more about my parents; I have never known who they were. You and I were the only survivors of the wreck, and as you could not tell to whom I belonged, there was no one to own me. Had I not been adopted by kind and generous friends I must have been reared a parish pauper."

"What!" cried Wally; "you—you, the heir to the estate?"

"But how could I get my inheritance when my parents were unknown? You have said that it was not even known that my parents were married."

"But—Garrett knew—he—the manager of the plantation. Why did he not tell?"

"Because he is the most unmitigated scoundrel on the face of the earth!" burst out Harry, when the doctor's warning hand was laid on him; but the youth's excitement was too great to be subdued even by this restraint.

"Oh, Manby," he exclaimed, "I see it all—as clear as day—the infamous fraud—the devilish plot—the whole crime is revealed. Don't you see it?"

"Yes, Harry, I do," returned the doctor, drawing him to the window. "And the more need that we do not by imprudence lose the chance of obtaining full proof of it. The man's life is going, I tell you, and a moment will hurry the end."

"I will remember," said penitent Harry. "But, oh, Manby, my soul is on fire. Proofs—yes, we must have proofs—not to satisfy ourselves, but to establish their guilt."

"Hush, he speaks again."

"What did that gentleman mean?" asked Wally, trying to rouse from his lethargy. "I never liked Garrett, but what has he done?"

"A very great wrong to me, Wally, I fear," returned George. "Some months after the wreck he arrived from Jamaica with a woman and child, which he said were the widow and son Mr. George Morrar."

"He—what—Nathan Garret did this?" exclaimed Wally, gaining strength from the angry excitement into which this information threw him. "Who—who did he say the woman and child were?"

"The widow and son of George Morrar."

"A lie—a lie," shrieked Wally. "Mrs. Morrar and his child were in the ship. She perished, and you—Georgey are the heir of Ardgowan."

"Then who could the woman be whom Garrett brought?" said the doctor.

"What was she like?" responded Wally.

"I can tell you that," said Harry. "A tall olive complexioned woman, with coal-black hair, and a temper as fierce and vengeful as the devil himself."

"It is Bangoon," said Wally.

"And who is she?"

"His mistress."

"Horrible," ejaculated the doctor.

"Damnable," groaned Harry.

"His mistress and their bastard child," added Wally. "Did they get the estate?"

"Yes," answered George, "they got it."

"For a time," said Harry, through his set teeth. "But in two years the child died, and the cousin of George Morrar succeeded, knowing well all the time of the fraud which had been committed."

"Harry, Harry!" said George with a deprecating look.

"It is true, George; and were he ten times my father I should denounce him. We have the key now to all their conduct."

"Ha!" cried the doctor, "Garrett's object in coming here to see Wally is also made manifest."

Arthur Correspondence.

The congregation of the Presbyterian Church of this village held a tea-meeting in the new school house on Tuesday evening, 26th, to welcome their new pastor, the Rev. Mr. McDonald, who was introduced during the day. The Rev. Mr. Dickie, of Berlin, preached and the Rev. Mr. Smellie, of Fergus, addressed the new minister. The services were well attended during the day, and the tea-meeting was crowded in the evening. Mr. Smellie occupied the chair with his usual ability and good nature. The entertainment consisted of speeches, vocal and instrumental music, and several ministers from other denominations were present and added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. The tea, which was served in the lower flat of the school house, reflected great credit on the ladies who got it up. It was a perfect success and a handsome profit was realized from the proceeds.

Winter seems to have fairly set in here with every appearance of being a hard one. The harvest was better around here this year than it has been for a few years past; but it will take several harvests like this year's to set the farmers fairly on their legs again.

Mr. Anthony Buschlen is retiring from the blacksmithing business at the close of the year, having sold out his business to Mr. James Mitchell, of Glenallan, who takes possession on the 1st of January next.

Our new registry office is nearly completed. It is a substantial structure as well as somewhat ornamental.

Arthur Village, although not making the great stir that some of the surrounding villages are in regard to the new county and county town, nevertheless has put in her plea along with the rest, and confidently awaits her fate. That her claims for the appendages belonging to a county town are strong, no person who witnessed the last assizes in Guelph could deny.

The Narrow Gauge Railway has had the effect of localizing a market here to a certain extent, considerable grains having been brought here this fall and shipped to Toronto, also a large quantity of hay. 17 to 18 cents a pound, cash, for fresh butter is offered at the stations, as well as cash for other farm produce, and any amount of cordwood taken. Four passenger trains are run daily, and the company seem to have all the work they can do.

Arthur, Dec. 2, 1872.

BREAKFAST—EPPE'S COCOA—GRATEFUL and COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Eppe has prepared his breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labeled "James Eppe & Co., Homeopathic Chemists, London." Also, make use of Eppe's Milky Cocoa (Cocoa and Condensed Milk).

Exhaustion and degeneration follow the excessive use of the senses, without due intervals of rest for repair. In order to maintain the wasted energy, the force expended, whether of body or mind, must be restored. When the expenditure of brain matter and other nervous elements is continued by overwork, the early extinction of life itself may be looked for as the result of such degeneration. The ingredients composing Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, are such as will constitute healthy blood, re-establish sound nerves and sense, and will consequently not only prevent this exhaustion, but in most cases restore such as is lost.

SAVE YOUR DOCTOR'S BILLS—When Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry will cure coughs, colds, bleeding at the lungs, and arrest the fell destroyer, Consumption, it does more than most physicians can do. The use of a single bottle, costing one dollar, will satisfy the incredulous that they need look no further for the required aid.

IF YOU HAVE BEEN AN INVALID FOR YEARS with some Chronic Ailing Disease of the Lungs, Heart, Liver, or Kidneys, you need not flatter yourself that medicine is going to cure you immediately. Repair goes on slowly, and time is necessary to build up a broken down constitution. Do not take every nostrum you read about, nor follow the advice of every friend who has a specific to offer you. Procure a remedy scientifically prepared, that is the result of experience, that has a large amount of evidence of sensible people in favor of its reliability, and persevere in its use until the whole system undergoes a radical improvement, and health is restored. DR. WHEELER'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF PROPRYATES AND CALSARY'S Chemical Food and Nutritive Food, will meet your most sanguine expectations, as it combines everything necessary to perfect digestion, Nutrition, and the Formation of Healthy Blood, and to vitalize all the organs and tissues of the body. Sold at $1.00 per bottle.

POSITIVELY A FACT.
Mustard's Catarrh Specific

Mustard's Vegetable Pills should also be used in connection with the Specific for Sick Headache and Catarrh; and those who are afflicted with Rheumatism should try Mustard's King of Oils.

FIRST PRIZE

THE OSBORN is warranted for three years, will do every variety of sewing, and the fact that it has carried off the highest awards at the Provincial, Central, Western, and other leading Exhibitions, which no other Machine in Canada has yet done, attests its superiority over all competitors.

SEWING MACHINE!

Give "THE OSBORN" a trial before purchasing any other; you are certain to be pleased with its work.

Beware of cheap, flashy machines claiming to have received first prizes. At no leading show this season have they been awarded any. Competent judges have declared them unworthy, both as regards principle of construction, material employed, and work performed.

Machines given against easy terms of payment.

AGENTS and others in want of employment during the winter will do well to give us a call. Chances to make money unprecedented.

It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.
