GET READY FOR THE CENSUS MAN

Census Taking for Whole Dominion Begun June 1st.—Total Population to Be Definitely Stated in October.—The Questions You Must Be Prepared to Answer

Ottawa, June 1.—Canada's decennial census taking which began today will take practically three months to complete. The tabulating and analysis of the population figures of the extensive information asked for in trade, industry, etc., will keep the Census Bureau busy for that length of time. The total population will not be definitely known until October, though an approximate figure may be given out a month or earlier. Returns will begin to come in from cities in about a fortnight's time, but the enumerators have three weeks time allowed to complete their work, and the Commissioners are allowed another month in which to forward their returns to Ottawa.

The questions to be asked in every household, and which must be answered are as follows:—

1. Dwelling house.
2. Family, household or institution.
3. Name of each person in family, household or institution.
4. Place of habitation, township or parish, city or village. Range or concession and lot or cadastral number in township, or parish. Street and house number if in city, town or village, or other description.

Guides' Association Pass Resolutions

Annapolis Royal, June 2.—At the annual spring meeting of the Annapolis branch of the Nova Scotia Guides' Association, held at South Milford, the following resolutions were passed:

"Resolved: that this branch of the N. S. G. A. express its cordial appreciation of the stand taken by Mr. E. H. Armstrong, M. P. F. in regard to the restocking of our waters with game-fish, and the taking over of our inland fisheries by the Province."

"Resolved: that inasmuch as the trout-fishing in western Nova Scotia is deteriorating, owing to increased fishing and insufficient restocking a separate fish-hatchery for western Nova Scotia should be established at the earliest possible moment, for the propagation of brook-trout."

SIR FREDERICK BORDEN ILL.
Minister of Militia Has Been Forced to Cancel All His Engagements

London, June 1.—Sir Frederick Borden, the Canadian Minister of Militia and Defence, is not feeling well and has cancelled all his engagements. He left London yesterday for the country to enjoy a short rest. He had a fainting attack one day last week and since then he has been slightly indisposed. He did not attend the King's levee on May 29th.

H. & S. W. Train Derailed

Running on schedule time and at a speed of twenty-eight or thirty miles an hour, Saturday morning's express from Halifax to Yarmouth over the Halifax & Southwestern, jumped the track at Summerville Beach, between Hunt's Point and Port Medway stations, with the result that a carload of salmon for Boston, the tender, baggage and express car, postal car and the forward trucks of one of the passenger coaches went over a dump at that place—a depth of perhaps five feet. No person was injured.

The train was in charge of Conductor Grimm and Driver Probert was in the cab. The piece of road where the accident occurred is perfectly level, the sleepers are new and everything was as it should be. A passenger who observed the wreck said that the car of fish which was next to the engine, went on the dump first and fortunately held up the baggage and express car which followed it. In the latter car were the baggage master, express messenger and the telegraph line repairer, all three being thrown out the car door when the derailment occurred. It was thought for a few moments that these men were injured but they miraculously escaped without a scratch. The telegraph man immediately cut the wire and attaching his instruments thereto communicated to Bridgewater what had occurred. A wrecking train was sent out from that place and after a delay of four hours the passengers, about one hundred, were transferred to the train from Yarmouth and arrived here at 8.40, the S. S. Prince Arthur being held for the Boston passengers, of whom there were about fifty. The carload of fresh fish was also brought along and placed on the steamer which sailed about 9.30 scores of people about the wreck were offering their opinions as to how the accident occurred but it is more than doubtful if the official investigation which will be held will glean any information. As stated, the track is straight on that particular piece of road, the sleepers are new and there was no spreading of rails by heat or cold. Conductor Grimm was seen by the Times on Sunday morning but beyond stating that his train was delayed on Saturday for three or four hours he had nothing to communicate.—Yarmouth Times.

Periodical Medical Examination Advisable

Discussing the question of medical examination by insurance companies brings up the question of voluntary submission to medical tests. Not long since a well-known man, apparently in the best of health, died very suddenly. It was found on post mortem examination that certain processes had been going on within him, apparently unsuspected, that had they been detected in time, could have been corrected. This set many of his friends thinking, with the result that several of them now have themselves examined every six months. Their idea is that if anything starts to go wrong in one six months period it will probably not get so far advanced that it may not be corrected in the next one. It is when things are going wrong unknown to the patient that they are in the stage where they may be successfully averted. After it has become obvious to the patient himself that everything is not just right, it may be difficult to correct the trouble. There is food for reflection in this for every man. Possibly the insurance business might be used as a means of accomplishing this. The insurance law might be revised so as to require every company to examine its policyholders at periodic intervals and make such examination a condition of doing business and of making policies. We doubt if this would involve any cost; for while it might make additional fees for examination, it would prolong the lives of risks and thus extend the average income period to a length which would probably more than compensate the companies for the outlay involved.—The Maritime Merchant.

Is Soiling Profitable?

One Farmer Nearly Doubles the Usual Milk Production of His Herd by Feeding Peas and Oats Which he Sowed Last Year as a Soiling Crop.

Is soiling profitable? is a question very often asked. This question was well answered recently in one of the exchanges. The answer is as follows: "If this question were asked of the dairymen of any community, at least nine out of ten would reply in the affirmative. Yet soiling is not practised to any considerable extent, even upon the average dairy farm. True, many dairymen have substituted silage for soiling crops and in this way have solved the question admirably, but others feed hay and grain to their cows during the summer season when the pasture is short, knowing that the results will not be as satisfactory as would soiling them with suitable green feed. But the farm is such a busy place in the summer season, and there are so many things which need attention that any farmer hates to think of adding to his 'chores' by the cutting and feeding of green feed to even the dairy cows, to say nothing of the other farm animals. Still there is no doubt in the writer's mind that it would pay to follow this practice on a limited scale, at least, with the other live stock on the average farm. It is a common thing to see a number of hogs, or worse yet, of rather small pigs, confined in a small yard in which there is not a green thing to eat. This is certainly an unprofitable practice. Obviously they might better be in a good pasture, where they would be able to do better for themselves for the time involved to cut up some green feed. If no more than a few, and fed at least one each day by way of adding the elements of succulence and vitality they might better be in a calves upon the average farm are often almost as badly ill treated. They will do best if confined in a cool stable during the hot day and turned out in a good pasture at night, but lacking the pasture very good results will be secured from soiling them, and this, too, will pay better wages than the same time would if used in any other way. Then there is a driving horse, or the breachy horse, that is never turned out to grass, and probably seldom gets even a bran mash to promote health and digestion. A little green feed occasionally will accomplish wonders for him, and it will certainly pay to provide it. A little area devoted to the growing of soiling crops near the barns for these and like purposes will be well employed by any farmer, but if it has not been provided a little trouble rather than actual time will provide the green feed from the fields. Just try it on one or two animals if you don't think it will pay."

A glance over the 1910 report of the dairy division is a convincing proof of the value of a soiling crop. Five farmers of Queen's county, Prince Edward Island, in the dairy herd competition turned in their results in the usual way. The herds although small were about equal in merit as far as the individual cows were concerned, but one herd of the five produced almost double the quantity of milk from June 1st to August 31st of last year. An accompanying note from the representative in the district stated that the owner of the herd which showed the greatest milk production, sowed one acre of peas and oats, mixed last spring, and fed it during the dry time in the summer season. His five cows averaged 5,065 pounds of milk each, while the cows of the other herds averaged as follows: 2,242; 2,506; 2,831 and 3,537 pounds respectively. The owner of the higher producing herd is James O'Connor of Clinton. Needless to say the growing of soiling crops will be general in his district.

The question of union with the Dominion was discussed in the Bahama House of Representatives at its session of March. The most intense interest was manifested, the attendance of citizens being so great as to crowd the utmost space available for them.

Town Council Meeting

A meeting of the Town Council of the Town of Bridgetown was held in the Council Chamber on Monday evening the 5th day of June, 1911, at 8 o'clock with Mayor Harlow in the chair and councillors present as follows:—A. L. Anderson, E. A. Craig, W. H. Burns, S. F. Pratt, A. B. MacKenzie and C. B. Tupper.

Ordered that the following bills be paid:—

A. D. Brown, Registrar of births and deaths for months of May and February, 1911, $3.00; Firemen for attending meetings by resolution of the 13th of January, 1911 as per account of the secretary $12.00; E. L. Fisher, on poor account, .75; Beeler and Peters, lumber and bolts for crusher, $30.17; Alden G. William Manthorne, work on crushing, at $2.00 per day, $16.10; Norman Dargie, work on crusher, $4.50; Milford Clark, work on crusher, $1.64; Elias Durling, mason work and trucking $2.75; Avar L. Beeler, moving crusher from Clementsport and putting up same, $46.75.

Resolved that the account of Noel Freeman for material for crusher be referred back to Mr. Freeman for correction.

The Committee on finance reported verbally that they had interviewed the manager of the Royal Bank as to the account rendered by them at the last meeting for printing town cheques which was referred to them for report but they were unable to obtain any satisfaction, that they also interviewed the manager of the Royal Bank whether they would allow the Town interest on current account when they had a cash balance to their credit, but no terms were offered by the Bank. They also reported that they had interviewed the manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia as to the Town account, and asked him upon what terms they would take the account and they offered to furnish printed check books for the Town free of charge, and that they would allow the Town interest at the rate of three per cent. on the daily balance to their credit of $1000 or over that amount on current account.

It was thereupon moved that where as the terms offered by the Bank of Nova Scotia for the Town account were more favorable to the Town than the account transferred from the Royal to the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Moved in amendment that the account be left with the Royal for the present and no change made until the manager of the Royal Bank returned from his vacation, when the Committee would again interview him in the matter.

Upon the amendment being put three voted for and three against and the amendment was declared carried by the casting vote of the Mayor.

Resolved that the Superintendent of water works be authorized and he is hereby authorized to purchase the necessary material and to make a suitable box or covering with a lock to protect the gate at the lake and to prevent persons from tampering with the same.

Resolved that the water committee be authorized and they are hereby authorized to have the two reservoirs fenced with suitable wire fencing to protect them from cattle trespassing thereon and that they call for tenders for the same at once.

An application was made to the Council by Messrs. M. W. Graves & Co., for fire protection at their factory. Resolved that the water committee be authorized and they are hereby authorized to lay a four-inch pipe and connect same with the main on Granville street and to carry the same to a point on the Bay road near enough to the factory, and place a hydrant there. Mr. Herbert Hicks appeared before the Council and asked to have his premises connected with the town water service at Carleton's Corner, and he agreed to pay for a tap in his house and barn. After some discussion it was resolved that the request of Mr. Hicks be granted and that the water committee look into the matter. Minutes read and approved and the Council adjourned.

SPRINGHILL MINES STRIKE SETTLED

Nearly Two Years in Progress.—Fifteen Hundred Men Idle or Removed to Other Places.—United Mine Workers Association Declined to Further Finance Scheme

The strike at Springhill mines came to a happy termination on Saturday afternoon when the settlement arrived at, after numerous conferences between a committee of the U. M. W., W. E. Thompson, Commissioner of the Provincial Police and Premier Murray, was unanimously adopted at a mass meeting of the striking miners.

The strike has been in progress since August 1909, and was one of the longest on record. About 1,500 men have been idle or left for other places. For several weeks past the negotiations have been in progress. Premier Murray used his good offices to bring about a settlement, and had frequent conferences with representatives of the men and Commissioner Thompson. The latter brought a committee of the U. M. W. to Halifax to meet the Premier. The result was that an agreement was reached which the men have now voted to accept.

TERMS OF SETTLEMENT.

The terms of agreement are as follows:—

1.—All the men will be taken back to work at Springhill as soon as places can be found for them. It is confidently believed that the majority of the men can be provided with work within forty-five days, and every reasonable effort will be made on the part of the Company to accomplish this sooner.

2.—That the award of the Longley Board in regard to the docking system will go into effect on June 1st next, but this can be mutually adjusted after trial if considered desirable.

The Longley award is to the effect that "when a box of coal contains 50 lbs. of stone and not exceeding 75 lbs. a fine of 500 lbs. of coal be imposed, when it contains 75 lbs. not exceeding 100 lbs. a fine of 1000 lbs. of coal be imposed. When a box contains 100 lbs. or more of stone the box would be docked.

3.—There will be no reduction in the wages of the day hands in and around the mines in the rate paid prior to the 10 August, 1909, and any advances in the schedule dated 26th January, 1911, shall remain in force.

TEN PER CENT REDUCTION

4.—That the reduction of fifteen per cent. announced by Mr. J. R. Cowans and authorized on January 20th, 1911 by the Dominion Coal Company in the rate paid coal producers immediately prior to the 10th August, 1909 be reduced to 10 per cent, and in any part of the mine where owing to conditions of the working place, a cutter is unable to earn his average wage, fair consideration may be allowed from time to time to meet conditions as they arise.

5.—Coal cutters shall not be required to carry timber or other material necessary to work at the working place, such material to be supplied at the most convenient place near the working face of the boards or pillars by the Company, except in special cases or cases of emergency. NO RECOGNITION OF U. M. W.

6.—Every man will be accorded his right to present any just grievance to his immediate superior with a right of appeal ultimately to the President and at any stage for that purpose he may be accompanied by one or two of his fellow workmen from the section in which the alleged grievance exists.

The U. M. W. first organized in this Province at Springhill. They demanded recognition, that is, that the Manager should meet their committees and arrange all questions in dispute with the committee of the local lodge. This was really the crux of the dispute.

THE LONGLEY AWARD.

A Conciliation Board of which Mr. Justice Longley was chairman, sat and adjudicated upon four points at issue:

1. Recognition.
2. A docking system.
3. A schedule of rates.
4. Increases in wages.

The men struck when the Board refused to give recognition. The Springhill Company kept its pumps in operation from August, 1909, till March 1910, when it began to import labor and mine coal. This was expensive labor in many cases was not familiar with the mines at Springhill, and the workmen were continuously leaving. However for the last eight months the Company raised from 410 to six hundred tons a day out of one pit. The second pit remained idle.

BOUGHT BY DOMINION COAL CO.

The Dominion Coal Company bought the stock of the Cumberland Company in December of last year. The men drifted back in small groups and the U. M. W. was re-organized.

The Cumberland Company had been losing a great deal of money and shortly after the men went out they posted a notice saying that coal cutters could only return to work at a reduction of fifteen per cent. of the old rates. In February last a new schedule was framed for mechanics which contained substantial increases. John Moffatt and his committee had several conferences with the Dominion Coal Company's Executive with the view to having the reduction of 10 per cent. That is the reduction which was finally agreed to.

The agreement and the schedule dated Jan. 26th, 1911, which was presented to the men by Attorney General Maclean at Springhill in January last, giving increases to outside hands and day laborers, were fully discussed at Saturday's mass meeting. Messrs Irwin, Lutz, International officers addressed the men. The former are reported in a Springhill despatch as saying that the funds of the United Mine Workers Association were not in a flourishing condition, and with troubles anticipated in other regions it would be impossible to further finance the Springhill strike.—Free Lance.

It is now proposed to annex the Bahamas to Canada, but we need not grow alarmed over the prospective member's mileage allowance.

The Hurt Family

From Miss Hastings, of Crosskill, Ontario, of the Wellesley Institute, comes an extremely interesting paper with the above title:

Along the path of a useful life, Will heart's-ease ever bloom; The busy mind has no time to think Of sorrow, or care, or gloom; And anxious thoughts may be swept away. As we busily wield a broom.— The Hurt Family has many branches.

Do you belong to the Hurt Family? Now, don't be in a hurry to answer, but just look back into your life and think the question over, remembering that "The Hurt Family has many branches." If you do find yourself even a distant connection of one branch it would be a good plan to sever that connection promptly. There is:

The Sensitive Branch, the members of which pride themselves on being more sensitive than their neighbors. Therefore, they are very easily hurt by the chills and slights of a cold, hard world, and they nurse their wrongs and consider themselves very badly treated. In the case of another thick-skinned person it would not matter, but I am so sensitive that more consideration should be shown me. You never find a member of this branch of the family taking trouble to help a neighbor. You never find her visiting the sick; she is much too sensitive. "How that Jones woman can go every week to the hospital and take flowers and things to the patients," she cannot understand. "I am so sensitive it would make me ill to see anyone suffer."

Then comes the Self-conscious Branch, whose members are always thinking of themselves, and suspect the world of doing likewise, and not doing it kindly. If two people say something at the other end of the room and laugh, this member of the Hurt Family is badly hurt indeed. She knows well enough they were laughing at her. If you pass her in the street without noticing her, she thinks you meant to cut her, and worries herself over what she has done to cause such a slight. A little reflection would surely convince her that no reasonable being would "cut" another in the street without some grave and known offence.

Of all branches of the Hurt Family the Self-conscious is the most unhappy, though those who think and suspect and ever see the worst side of life run in this line. Often one thinks of the quaint little couple: "Two men look through the same bars; one sees the mud and one sees the stars." Then one meets a confirmed evil-thinker. She will bring evil out of such trifles as a nice-minded woman would never dream of regarding with suspicion. There is a branch of the Hurt Family blessed—or shall we say cursed—by the possession of a long memory for wrongs, I can forgive but I cannot forget, say its members. Have they ever tried to forget? As far as one can see they are trying hard to remember every trifling detail of the hurts administered to them. Letters are kept, and taken out now and then to be read in order to recall all the old ill-feelings. Days are remembered and spoken of. Ah! it was just such a day as this six years ago—and we have the whole story over again. "We all of us, try to forgive, and forget. When similar treatment we crave, And think we are virtuous paragons Yet we cannot forget we forgive." It is foolish to remember trifles, but it is not worse to remember real wrongs because of them. More lives have been spoiled in this way than perhaps in any other. The hurt feeling has been encouraged, every detail of the wrong kept in mind, and there is no real forgiveness, as there is no forgetting. A woman may be judged by the sort of thing she will remember or forget. There is so much that is good to remember, so much to thank God for every day of our lives. Then why not let the bad things drop right out? "Remember all that time has brought, The starry hope on high, The strength attained, the courage gained, The love that cannot die." Cultivate a short memory for wrongs, if you would break away from the Hurt Family. Forget family feuds, forget silly chaff, forget all littlenesses, and then with a free mind take whatsoever things are pure and lovely and of good report, and think on these things. Be always ready to make allowances for others. Wrong may be done, wrong is sure to be done, and we are sure to suffer it now and then; but we can always refuse to receive it, not by angry words, but with the soft answer, and above all, with a mind so full of what is good and lovely that wrong feelings can find no lodging there. Then no member of the Hurt Family can call us cousin.

Raising Strawberries

Plants Should be Grown in Narrow Rows for the Production of Good Quality Berries. Best to Cultivate the Ground Once Each Week Until Fall.

The strawberry is one of our most luscious fruits. When we take into consideration all its good qualities, and then add to them that it is our earliest fruit, that it comes when we have grown tired of the winter stuff and when we are fully ready for some fresh fruit, we hail the strawberry with the greatest delight and profit.

While fairly good berries have been grown in the past by what is known as the matted-row system, I do not believe that this is the way to grow quality strawberries. The commercial grower has too often sacrificed quality for quantity. The commercial grower is encouraged by the generality of buyers, who very seldom taste the berries when buying going entirely by the eye; if the berries look nice they never think of tasting them. I am glad to believe that there is a growing number of the best buyers now asking for quality, and the best quality in the strawberry.

For quality berries grow the plants in narrow rows. The best strawberries grow on the edges of the row, and the more edges you have in your patch the more fine berries you will get. Narrow rows yield finer berries, and give a better return than wide, matted rows. Plant the rows three feet apart, and the plants, sixteen or twenty inches in the row. Begin to cultivate at once, and cultivate once a week till the fall.

In some sections the plants require covering in the fall. This covering can be raked into the pathways in the spring and used as a mulch, and thus keep the berries clean. In the fall give a dressing of unacidulated wood ashes before the covering is put on, and after the growth has ceased.

To obtain the best berries you should have a variety with a good strong healthy plant. Some of the varieties that produce the best berries are subject to rust in certain seasons. This can be prevented by spraying with lime and sulphur just before the blossoms open, and again just after the fruit is set.

—The deeper that scientists delve into the secrets of the universe the more they realize how little they can ever know of the profound mysteries that surround them. More powerful telescopes and more powerful microscopes may be evolved, but the probability is that instead of solving the riddle of existence they will merely show that the problem is one that is as far beyond human solution as the infinite is beyond the finite.

THE CURSE OF THE NATION IS CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" Alone Cures This Disease

A famous scientist states that Constipation, or non-action of the bowels, causes more deaths than all other diseases combined. Constipation inflames the Kidneys, ruins digestion, is the foundation of Rheumatism, poisons the blood, causes Headaches, Neuralgia, Nervousness and Insomnia.

Constipation is caused by a weak or sluggish liver. Bile, the only purgative of the body, is secreted by the liver, which in turn should pour out into the intestines sufficient bile to move the bowels. Unless the liver is active, there cannot be enough bile to move the bowels regularly, and Constipation is the result.

"Fruit-a-tives", the famous fruit medicine, will always cure Constipation because it acts directly on the liver—relieves the congestion—increases the quantity of bile—and strengthens the bowel muscles. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

HIS LEGACY OF LOVE

About a year ago last Christmas I was working in a little town in South Dakota. Some time previously I had assured a man of the neighborhood for $2,000 under great pressure. His wife protested vigorously at the time, saying she needed a sewing machine more than insurance. Sitting in the hotel office one day, the news came to me that some one had been killed on the railway. On enquiry I discovered the unfortunate victim to be the man whom I had assured. Immediately I secured the necessary proofs of death and sent them to the Head office, requesting that draft for policy be posted to me without delay. Less than a week after the funeral I went to the home of the widow bearing draft for $2,000. She met me at the door with her baby in her arms. All about her were signs of deprivation, almost want.

I did not reveal the purport of my visit at once and the woman talked tremulously about her late husband. "I found these in his overcoat pocket," she said softly. She handed me a small rubber doll and a little package of nuts and candy.

"He bought these—" she said, for baby's Christmas." Then she broke down in a torrent of tears.

"Your husband sends you this for your Christmas," I said handing over the draft. I then explained that it was her insurance money. She thanked me. I said that I was not entitled to thanks. She thanked the company, and I insisted that the company were not entitled to thanks. "Thank your husband," I said to her, "for this is his legacy of love to you and to his child."

Later, seated in my hotel enjoying my pipe I mused, "This sort of thing is one of the few that make it worth while to peddle life assurance."

Very serious forest fires are raging in the vicinity of Clyde River and Churchover, Shelburne County.

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

ARE you going to build that new horseblock, sidewalk or dairy house of cement? Then insist on your dealer supplying you with the "CANADA" Cement. Not only will this ensure your getting a pure, uniform and strictly high-grade cement, that will guarantee the lifelong permanency of the thing you build, but it will also entitle you to enter our Prize Contest. And in this contest you stand a good chance of winning a prize that will perhaps more than pay you for the cost of the work. Every farmer in Canada who uses "CANADA" Cement is eligible to compete. Four prizes will be awarded in each Province and these prizes will be divided as follows:

PRIZE "A"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use during 1911 the greatest number of barrels of "CANADA" Cement.

PRIZE "B"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who uses "CANADA" Cement on his farm in 1911 for the greatest number of purposes.

PRIZE "C"—$50.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with the photograph showing the best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement.

PRIZE "D"—$25.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who submits the best and most complete description, of how any particular piece of work shown by photograph sent in, was done.

Notice how we have purposely planned and imposed certain necessary conditions in order to give large and small users of cement an equal opportunity. As an illustration of this in prizes "C" and "D," the quantity of cement used has no bearing whatever on the result. The farmer who sends us the best photograph of as small a thing as a watering trough or a gate post, has as much chance for prize "C" as a man who sends a photograph of a house—and the same applies to prize "D."

Don't hold back from entering because you think you don't know anything about concrete work. It's very simple. Besides, we have a 160-page book that we will send you free on request, which tells you all about concrete and how to make and use it. In this book you'll find complete instructions for the making of almost everything you can think of in the way of farm utilities, floors, vats, troughs, stairs, posts, etc.

This free book—entitled "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete"—will not only inform you—it will also greatly interest you. So send for it anyway, whether you intend to try for one of the prizes or not.

The Ruinous Influence of the Day Exerted by Obscene Pictures and Books.

Toronto, May 26—"That there is need of every effort being put forth for the circulation of wholesome literature, is very evident from recent revelations. Reading's Mayor Protects Children

Burlesque House Closed by Order of the City Authorities.

Reading, Pa., May 26—Mayor William Rick today notified C. G. Keeney, manager of the Grand Opera house, one of the leading theatres here, that the place will have to be closed because of the character of shows conducted there the past week.

"I have protested against the exhibitions given at the Opera house for the safety of the boys and girls of this city. Improper shows have a decidedly bad tendency, and the results are constantly being seen in the juvenile courts and police circles. Such shows at the same time are usually made attractive to the young indiscreet element, and the houses are generally packed to the doors."

"This procedure will be a sufficient notice to all amusement houses generally that the children of our homes who get into these places innocently will be protected so long as I am at the head of the city government."

Nothing More Utterly Damning To the Youthful Mind Than Flood of Immoral Literature.

The harvest of today is from the sowing of yesterday. What that sowing is which produces the crop of immoral tendencies in the schools of Canada was set forth by Principal Wallis with commendable clearness, moderation, and power.

These words are used with the most serious deliberation. The country has been "flooded." The literature is "vile" and "polluting." The influence can be nothing less than "damning."

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

Cost Of School Books

Statements have been issued respecting the cost of school books, ignoring entirely the changes that have been made by the Council of Public Instruction this spring. They have published in the Conservative press false statements showing figures as prices of school books which are not in vogue today. It is well that full attention should be drawn to this showing the deception that is being practised upon the electors. The following is a sample of the statements made:—

"In Nova Scotia parents have to pay fifteen cents for each part of the Common School arithmetic, which is published at Halifax. In New Brunswick it can be bought for ten cents. The explanation is this: the Hazen (Conservative) Government itself buys the books wholesale, cuts out the middlemen's profits, and sells the books direct to parents and scholars for ten cents."

The facts are these. The arithmetic is sold in Nova Scotia for 12 cents each part, retail, and 8 cents each part, wholesale. This is 1 1/2 cents less than the New Brunswick Government charges for the same arithmetic. The Conservative Government in New Brunswick buys the books wholesale; it does not sell the book direct to parents and scholars but distributes them to commission vendors throughout the Province, to whom that Government gives an additional ten per cent. The middlemen in New Brunswick are Government employees. In Nova Scotia the Liberal Government has stipulated that this same arithmetic can be bought wholesale by trustees and others for 9 cents in dozen lots and 8 cents in copy lots and sold at that figure to the parents and scholars.

The statement is further made that "the price of an arithmetic in Nova Scotia for the three parts is forty-five cents; whereas the price in Ontario is only fifteen cents." This is not a fair or true statement of the case. The price of the Arithmetic (three parts) is thirty-six cents retail; 28 cents wholesale. Many children do not go through the three parts of the arithmetic, and consequently do not have to buy all of them. In Ontario the six years' work of arithmetic is bound under one cover, but children usually wear out two or three books in that time, so increasing the cost. In Nova Scotia a child is only required to carry to school his part which will last for two years. Then he gets a new book for his new work. The cost at the end of the common school course will be less in Nova Scotia than in Ontario.

One reason for the division of the arithmetic into parts in Nova Scotia is that different members of the same family can each have their own arithmetic, whereas in Ontario if there are three children attending school from the same family they will probably each require an arithmetic, which will have to be renewed every two or three years; a more expensive plan for the parent than in Nova Scotia. The same will apply to the readers. In Ontario the child carries about with him twice as much reading as is required for the year.

The statement is also made "The price of a Grammar in Nova Scotia is thirty cents in Ontario it is 10 cents" The present price of Lessons in English in Nova Scotia is twenty-one cents retail, 17 cents wholesale; this book includes all the grammar and composition required in the common schools; in Ontario the composition is separately prescribed and costs fifteen cents additional. In Nova Scotia the child thus gets the grammar and composition for twenty-one cents; in Ontario a grammar and composition for twenty-five cents.

Again the statement is made by the Tory candidates and press that "the price of Health Readers is fifty cents and in Ontario is only twenty cents." The facts are that the Health Reader in Nova Scotia has been divided into two parts. The first part costs 15 cents retail and 12 cents wholesale. The second part costs 25 cents retail and 20 cents wholesale; 32 cents therefore and not 50 cents. The Health Readers are prescribed as the result of an agreement made by the Legislature with the Temperance people of Nova Scotia. Scholars who do not reach the advanced grades do not require to secure the second part and are getting a Health Reader five cents cheaper than is supplied in Ontario. The Council of Public Instruction in Nova Scotia has prescribed for over a year the Ontario Health Reader, which can be used instead of the Nova Scotia Health Readers if desired.

Another statement made: "The price of a Spelling Book in Nova Scotia is twenty-five cents; the price in Ontario is only ten cents." These statements are false. There is no spelling book prescribed for Nova Scotia now, and even when prescribed was never compulsory as in Ontario. The price in Ontario is not 10 cents but 15 cents and the book was disapproved of by the teachers in the Ontario Association, who also disapproved of the Ontario system of having two years' reading under one cover.

A most iniquitous and extravagant statement is made by Tory papers—"The price of a copy book in Nova Scotia is 7 cents in Ontario it is only two cents." The price of the ordinary copy book in Nova Scotia was four cents but is now 3 cents, retail, and 2 cents wholesale. For some years an optional copy was permitted but was not compulsory, costing 7 cents. This has not been for a year on the list of prescribed books. The Conservative statement about the copy books is absolutely false.

Another statement is made that the Geography prescribed for High School Grades cost $1.25. A reference to the April Journal of Education will show that it costs 90 cents retail and 72 cents in dozen lots.

Another statement made is that "a set of School Readers has been costing $2.20" Notice the equivocation "has been costing." The present cost of a complete set of school readers for all the eight grades, is $1.75, bought in dozen lots, as they should be by school trustees, as provided for by law, these will cost to the scholars $1.40, and in gross lots, $1.30. This is the price for eight books. In Ontario so unsatisfactory was the Primer that the Government was compelled to substitute a new Primer for the one placed on the curriculum. In that Province, the second, third and fourth books prescribed each contain, under one cover, two years' readings. The result is that a pupil has in the second year of each term a dilapidated book for his use, if he does not require a new one. The teachers in Ontario who know these facts, have strongly protested against this form of reader and have asked that they be changed so as to conform with the method adopted in Nova Scotia. The following is a resolution passed on this subject at the meeting of the Educational Association of Ontario, held in March, 1910:

"That the Second, Third and Fourth books of the new series of Ontario Readers should each be divided into two parts, and the selections in each part be suitably graded. The fact is that by the time a child has got through school in Ontario HE HAS PAID AS HIGH AS IF NOT A HIGHER PRICE FOR HIS SET OF READERS, THAN HE HAS IN NOVA SCOTIA AND HAS NOT RECEIVED AS GOOD VALUE.

The Nova Scotia Readers are prescribed for a certain length of time and the contract, cannot be broken without large compensation. The Advisory Board of Education looked into this matter fully and said that the contract made by the Government was the best that could have been made at that time, both as regards price and length of contract. The report further says that the Nova Scotia series contain matter distinctly better adapted to our schools than was found in any other series examined.

It is thus clearly shown that the Tory candidates and the Tory press are guilty of making gross mis-statements and mis-representations on the local book question. It is well for electors to be on their guard against them. Don't be deceived by the production of their little bundle of books advertising the T. Eaton Co. Adv.

Mr. E. P. Morse, Principal of the High School at Londonderry, N. S., has been re-engaged for the ensuing year at a liberal increase in salary. Mr. Morse will spend the mid-summer holidays with his family at Weymouth, N. S.

The long drought was broken on Wednesday night of last week by rain which fell copiously during the night and the following day and was welcomed by the parched and thirsty earth. More showers are needed to develop garden growth.

The marriage is announced to take place on Wednesday morning next at half-past nine of Miss Aimes McNiece Fay, daughter of Frederick R. Fay, Esq., to Mr. R. Jules Lafamme, son of the late Hon. Rodolphe Lafamme of Montreal, ceremony at the home of the bride.

Coronation Day Celebration at Annapolis Royal

The largest celebration held on these lines for years will take place at Annapolis Royal on June 22nd. Cadets from all parts of the County and Militia will be there. Two big Base Ball games, Athletic Events, comic Foot Ball match, Military drills. A play in the evening by the Halifax Dramatic Club are only a part of the many attractions. Special trains to Kentville leave Annapolis at 10.30. Special rates.—Adv.

Base Ball

The Bridgetown boys having leased the grounds back of the Tennis Court for the use of a base ball diamond, find the grounds in very bad shape, a condition which will have to be remedied before they are able to play.

In order to do this it will require the expenditure of at least $25.00 towards which the boys hope the citizens will liberally contribute. Two members of the team are now making the rounds with a paper on which Mayor Harlow headed the list with a five-spot. The boys will no doubt make good of which they gave promise last year, and even better team-work this season is looked for.—Com.

Calgary Sends a Successful Call To Dartmouth Teacher

The call of the west has been answered by another son of Nova Scotia, in the person of Clifford W. Fairn, director of Manual Training at Dartmouth. Mr. Fairn has sent in his resignation to accept a very flattering offer from Calgary. He leaves in the fall to take up his duties in the western city.

This is another instance of the position seeking the man, not the man the position. Mr. Fairn has been recognized as one of the leaders in his chosen profession in the maritime provinces and those familiar with his qualifications will not wonder that the call was extended to him. The west is generally willing to pay well for what it really wants and in this case the monetary inducements are such as would, if offered to Nova Scotia teachers in their own province set teachers tumbling over one another to secure the position.

LEAVES END OF AUGUST FOR THE WEST.

Mr. Fairn's resignation takes effect the end of the present school year. His duties in the west commence the last of August.

Mr. Fairn is a graduate of the MacDonald School of Manual Training for teachers for Nova Scotia. For a while he was a teacher at the Truro Manual Training school. Then he accepted the position of Superintendent of Manual Training at St. John's, Nfld., having the honor of organizing the first Manual Training school in the Ancient Colony. After three or four years at St. John's, Mr. Fairn was persuaded, on account of his health and for personal reasons of other nature, to take the direction of the Dartmouth Manual Training school in succession to its organizer, H. V. HeWitt. For four years he has filled that position with marked satisfaction to all concerned, and Manual Training is recognized by Dartmouth citizens as one of the most valuable features of the up-to-date school system possessed by that town.

AN ARCHITECT OF REPUTE.

Mr. Fairn has found time, outside of school hours, to engage in architectural work to a considerable extent. He has designed quite a number of houses locally and also a number of schools and at least one church, since his advent in Dartmouth. The new Victoria school, recently completed in Dartmouth was designed by him, and the erection of the building was done under his direction. The building in every respect, furnishing a copy to be followed. Mr. Fairn was also selected to draw the plans for the proposed D. B. C. A. hall, the erection of which, however, was not proceeded with. He was a practical workman as well as a teacher. The interior woodwork of the White House at Washington at the time it was renovated ten years ago, was done under his direction.

Mr. Fairn will be in good company T. B. Kidner, former provincial supervisor of Manual Training for Nova Scotia, leaves about the same time for Calgary to organize technical education in that city, having been appointed director of technical education there.

A NEW METHOD OF BREAD MAKING.

All sensible people allow that good bread is essential to a clean healthy stomach. I have eaten no yeast or soda bread for forty years. This is one reason why my stomach is in a good healthy condition at seventy. Recently I have discovered how I can make the best of unleavened bread with flour and water only. I have always thought milk and eggs were necessary in order to have light bread or else yeast or soda. The latter being poisons are sure to result in stomach trouble. I offer my receipt gratis with one condition. Write me and enclose stamp for reply.

AVIATOR FLIES FROM PARIS TO MADRID.

Pierre Vedrine Completes the Cross Country Cross Mountain Flight in Lion of Spanish Capital.

Madrid, May 26—Pierre Vedrine, the French aviator, completed today the cross country, cross mountain flight in the Petit Parisienne race from Paris to Madrid, and tonight is the lion of the Spanish capital. On the lapel of his coat hangs the cross of the order of Alfonso XII, which is reserved for persons who have distinguished themselves in the arts and sciences. It was pinned there by the hand of the Spanish monarch who, at an audience granted Vedrine today also warmly shook his hand and congratulated him for his intrepid bravery and afterwards engaged him in conversation for an hour. Vedrine completed the last stage of the race a flight of a hundred and forty miles from Burgos to the aviation field at Getafe. In two hours and forty-five minutes. The honors and emoluments of the great international flight all belong to him, for Garros is still within the fastness of the Pyrenees mountains near Andoain.

There is one medicine that every family should be provided with and especially during the summer months; viz, Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed. It costs but a quarter. Can you afford to be without it? For sale by all dealers.

CANADA AND THE BAHAMAS.

Generally it is the unexpected that happens; and many one on January 1st of this year had prophesied that within a few weeks the citizens of Nassau would be indulging in animated discussion of the question of the incorporation of the Bahamas with the Dominion of Canada, the idea would have been scouted and the predictor's powers of foresight loudly derided. Yet such has been the case, and owing to the vigor and energy displayed recently by two or three of those Canadian visitors whom we are always glad to welcome to our city in bringing the subject into public notice, the topic of union with Canada has been very widely and generally debated. Members of the legislature and business men have been interviewed at length by the promoters of the scheme, two public meetings have been held, and finally on Monday night a resolution passed the House of Assembly inviting the Dominion government to make enquiries as to the feasibility of arriving at some arrangement for the admission of this Colony into the Dominion with the status of a province. Admittedly of an unauthorized nature and carried on by private individuals, with no official credentials from Canada or the Canadian government, the campaign has been actively conducted, with the result, it must be confessed that many persons have been induced to regard the idea of union with favor and have committed themselves at least as far as approving the initiation of official negotiations.—Nassau Guardian

The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has made it a favorite everywhere. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.

A DOCTOR'S HINT.

Here is a suggestion for the person who does not sleep well in the hot weather. It was sent in by a doctor reader.

"Most people have a notion that if they take a bath in the morning it must be cold, and many people who do not have any too much vitality shrink from that. Now a quick warm bath followed by a cold dash on the face and shoulders is very refreshing, especially if the sleep has not been so good as usual. In fact it almost takes the place of a night's sleep."

I am the more ready to pass on this suggestion in that I have already tried it two or three mornings when for one reason or another I awoke from my night's sleep unrefreshed, and have found it supplied me with the feeling of freshness and vigor that I lacked.—Exchange.

Making Calls in China

A Visit to a Lady of High Degree and One to a Farmer's Wife

"We could have walked from our house to that of the Wei's in five minutes," writes an English woman visiting in China to the 'Lady.' "but etiquette ordained that we should drive. So we ordered a blue-hooded, springless mule cart, the only conveyance obtainable in that northern city and crawled in on all fours under cover of the hood while the servant sat on the shafts and the driver walked behind us using his voice instead of the reins.

"We had dressed in gala clothes for the occasion.

"Your white is very pretty," said my hostess in a doubtful tone, "but—"

"But what?" I asked anxiously.

"But the Chinese do so dislike white. You see it is a sign of mourning. No, don't trouble to change. That pink scarf will make it all right and pink is one of their favorite colors."

"The gatekeeper at the Wei mansion hearing the sound of cartwheels flung open the big gate and we were conducted round a big sharp corner and across some paved courtyards into an inner court, where the mistress of the establishment, surrounded by a group of hand maids and relatives, came forward to meet us.

"Her face thickly coated with a wash of rice flour paste, and rouge dabbed on here and there in what we should call the wrong places, gave her face the wooden look of a Dutch doll and her wooden walk on the poor lily feet three inches long kept up the resemblance.

"We were ushered with many polite speeches into the guest hall, a bare, uninteresting room with walls that had once been whitewashed and a latticed window with paper panes that had once been white. The chief furniture consisted of a table placed squarely against the centre wall with a ponderous chair at either end.

"The Tai Tai sat out after off, looking more wooden than ever with her shrunken legs, like a couple of large ineptins encased in purple trousers. Had it not been for the relatives and hand maids conversation would have flagged considerably. She came from the south and was still unaccustomed to northern mandarin.

"Fortunately among the relatives a vivacious, good looking girl with a merry laugh kept the ball rolling. The mere she talked, however, the more silent did the Tai Tai become, and our suspicions were aroused.

"Meanwhile the tea was brought in and a dainty cup covered with an inverted saucer was placed beside each guest. According to etiquette, we ignored its existence until the Tai Tai requested us to taste of it, whereupon, carefully raising our cups in both hands, we made a point of offering them to her. Declining the honor, she repeated her request that we should ourselves partake of the tea, and formalities thus concluded, we gave a sizzling sip to show appreciation.

"We were careful to hold the cup in both hands and not to remove the lid or inverted saucer, but merely to tilt it slightly to one side. Sponge cakes dipped in oil and savory pastries stuffed with dates were piled up on the table beside us, the attendants handling them with fingers which made no pretence of being clean.

"The Tai Tai was becoming more wooden than ever, when by a fortunate chance my companion, who spoke the language fluently and was well versed in Chinese etiquette, made the discovery that the merry faced conversational girl was an 'Ih Tai Tai' in other words the secondary wife. Realizing the difficulties of the situation, she was careful henceforth to address her conversation very pointedly to the real Tai Tai, and thereby probably warded off a family quarrel after our departure.

Luckily for people like myself, whose knowledge of the language is distinctly limited, there are various topics to be discussed with a "new guest," which need but a slender vocabulary.

"Which is your honorable Kingdom?" they ask.

"My inferior Kingdom is England."

"And your honorable age?" they inquire.

"At which, if one desires to answer indefinitely, one replies twenty-odd or thirty—oh as the case may be.

"They soon discover if one is unmarried, and thus affords some surprise, for spinners of a certain age are hardly ever met with in China. An explanation that in England we please ourselves as to whether we marry or not only increases the bewilderment. You seek to divert their attention by inquiring how many commanding gentlemen they have, (meaning sons) if they reply that they have one or more young puppies (meaning

WOMEN WHO MAKE HOUSEWORK TWICE AS HARD AS IT SHOULD BE.

That most women make housework just about twice as hard as it should be is the theory of the man-who-thinks.

He came into the kitchen the other day and found his wife standing by the stove popping corn, and with that as a text he gave us a five minute lecture on why women are poor housewives and men would be better ones.

"You women never know how to save yourselves. Tell me one good reason why you couldn't sit down and pop that corn. No, of course you can't. More work to get a chair than it's worth? Now if that isn't a typical woman's reason. That's just the difference between a man's and a woman's way of doing. A woman is never willing to make a little initial preparation, use her brains a little for the sake of saving herself in the end, and a man is.

"Every woman must know that standing on her feet too much is like lying to cause kidney trouble and a dozen other things, and yet they will stand up when they might just as well sit down.

"What could you do sitting down that you don't? Well, iron, for one thing. You couldn't get a good purchase? Nonsense. You let me fix the chair and the board just right and you'll get just as good a purchase as you could by standing up till your legs ached and bending over till your back ached.

"And what about toasting bread, and beating cake and a dozen other things that I've noticed, but that I can't think up just now?

"And then there's another thing. You know just how much it tires you to stoop over and yet look at the things you keep on the floor or down low, that might be where you could easily reach them. There's the bread jar and the cookie jar and the dust pan and broom and the sugar bucket and the molasses jug and a dozen other things that you are using all the time and ought to have where you can reach them easily.

"Of course some things have to go in less convenient places, but why don't you take care to put the things you don't often use there, and have the things you're using all the time handy. There's those two drawers in the pantry for instance. I've noticed that in the top drawer you keep your towels and aprons and go to it perhaps once a day, and in the second drawer you keep your string and paper and little things like that and open it a dozen times a day. Now what's the sense in that?

"If men did housework I can tell you there would be a good deal more system to it and a good deal less time and energy wasted in the long run.

"You are welcome to try right here any time you want, dear," suggested the man-who-thinks' wife, sweetly.

"Any time you are ready to do my work in the office," retorted the man-who-thinks promptly.

Of course we sniffed at that and assured him that he wouldn't be quite so ready to theorize if he weren't so sure that he wouldn't have to put his theories into practice. It wouldn't have been safe for his masculine vanity for us to do otherwise.

But just the same—very much between ourselves, sisters—all—don't you think there is a germ of suggestion in his curtain lecture?

Are we all as systematic and self-saving in our arrangements and our methods as we might be?

For those of us who haven't finished our housecleaning yet, would it be such a bad idea to look at the rest of our rearranging through the eye-glass of the man-who-thinks' criticism?—Ruth Cameron.

THE HOME MEDICINE CHEST.

Every family should count among its home furnishings a little emergency cabinet. This may be an elaborate affair built in the bathroom or it may be just a tin bread box with a light cover and handles by which it may be carried about conveniently from one room to another.

Such a box may be purchased for twenty-five or fifty cents, according to the size. In it should be kept together for immediate use everything that is likely to be needed in an emergency, when there is no time to be spent sending to the corner drug store, or running here and there trying to dig out forgotten bottles and ointments.

When Johnny upsets the hot coffee on his hand or Mary experiments disastrously with the sharp edge of the bread knife, or Willie falls from the rear end of the ice-wagon, the little cabinet will have its work to do and its value as a ready and waiting physician is demonstrated.

The cabinet can hold cold and croup remedies as well as bandages and lotions for accidents. When the baby awakens in the middle of the night barking with croup, and the doctor five miles away, it is valuable to know what to do and how to do it. At times like that it is well for a mother to keep her wits about her, to make the quickest possible use of the materials at hand, postponing her tears until a more convenient moment.

The helpless mother will be greatly surprised to find how many times cool clear thoughts and steady touch will win the day. Much depends upon what is done before the arrival of the physician. Possibly by the time he arrives he is not needed. With the right kind of a mother that is often the case. He will have only praise for the one who has endeavored to prepare the way for his services.

To return to the emergency cabinet: It should include, ready for use, a two-ounce bottle of arnica, a two-ounce bottle of witch-hazel, a two-ounce bottle of alcohol, a two-ounce box of powdered boracic acid, one bottle of iodiform gauze, one package of adhesive strip one inch wide, one roll of absorbent cotton, a small package of wooden splints, one paper of small-sized safety pins, and several rolls of bandages.

The bandages may be purchased already prepared. Their cost is trifling. But if economy is necessary, bandages may be made from old soft sheeting.

In addition to the above have several old soft towels, nicely laundered stand higher in public estimation than any others, and their ever-increasing sales prove their merit. Physicians prescribe them. 25c. a box.

and carefully rolled in tissue paper. A pair of scissors will be convenient and if possible a pair should always be in the cabinet.

On the arnica bottle write: For bruises and sprains. On the witch-hazel: "For cleansing," and on the boracic acid, "General antiseptic."

No doubt you will add to this list as circumstances may suggest, but as it is, it is practical and will cost but a trifle. If you have these ready aids at hand, you can close the door of your little cabinet feeling that you are safe and secure, and that, no matter what unexpected accident happens, you will not have to waste time and energy searching for necessities at a moment that is full of anxiety.—Denver Commercial Advertiser.

PURE MILK THE FOOD FOR BABIES.

(New York Times.)

Prepared food for infants and the men who make and advertise it both came in for criticism at the hands of Dr. Charles G. Kerley, who told an audience at the Child's Welfare Exhibit in the Seventy-first Regiment Armory recently that the mother who used the prepared foods according to directions would be sure in the end to have a starved and unhealthy child.

"Many babies," said Dr. Kerley, "have undergone a slow form of starvation while eating daily from prepared foods the labels of which showed pictures of rosy-cheeked, crowing infants said to be the food's especial products. Often the starvation could not be detected by the mother because the child would continue to appear fat and plump. But the sad fact has been that it was over-fed on sugars and received a serious deficiency of fats and bone and muscle building material.

"Sometimes the prepared foods have advertised that they were to be used in conjunction with milk. In that case the plump, healthy babies of the labels might have been genuine, but it was a cruel injustice to the cow that made them so not to give her the credit. The only deception of the food company in such cases is that it has furnished the easily obtained hydrocarbons at eighty cents and one dollar a pound, while the mother could easily have procured them in other forms at from ten to twenty cents a pound.

Dr. Kerley insisted that long practice in infant wards of hospitals in this city had convinced him that there was no substitute for milk as food for babies, and that any attempt to use the substitutes now offered would be sure, if continued for any length of time, to result disastrously. It was for that reason, he said, that medical men are combining in a fight to make milk purer.

He told of an experiment conducted by Dr. Falk under the auspices of the Board of Health, in which he tried pure milk on east side children in a neighborhood where the death rate was high in the late summer months. He took fifty children under eight months of age in a section where twelve out of each fifty had died in the preceding three months. These children were fed on milk of certified purity, and at the end of the three months' test all of the fifty were alive.

"When you read in the newspapers," said Dr. Kerley, "that from 3,500 to 4,500 children die every summer in New York City from intestinal disorders it simply means that they have swallowed vast quantities of deadly germs in their milk, and that these germs have caused their death."

Dr. Lafayette D. Mendel, of Yale University, attacked the practice of mothers of putting children in short stockings with ankles exposed. He said it often caused much harm.

An incident of the evening's entertainment was that five children, whose mothers became too interested in the Child's Welfare Exhibit to attend to their homes in the custody of militiamen.

To avoid trouble in sorting stockings after they come out of the wash, sew tapes to the top of each tie and the pairs together when they are put into the clothes basket. Keep them tied together when washed and darned and you will have no trouble in seeing "which is which" when it comes to putting them away.

I have for a long time used old muslin nightgowns as covers for my best dresses when they hang in the closet. They are easier to get off and on than bags, and cover the gown quite as well. Hang the dress first on a coat or skirt hanger and then cover it with the nightgown, buttoning the latter to keep it from falling.

"Finally your attempts to finish your tea having been frustrated by the attendant, who fills the cup up again before it has a chance of getting empty, leave-taking is commenced. "My next visit was of a very different character. We spent the afternoon with a respectable farmer's family. The farmer's wife welcomed us warmly and regaled us on tea and boiled eggs—a dish of twenty or thirty boiled eggs, to be eaten without bread or salt or any accessory whatever except the tea.

"The farmhouse was built of mud, with walls two feet thick, and the windows were almost non-existent. The place looked poverty-stricken, but the farmer's wife spoke of recent prosperity. Crops had done well and she and her husband had been able to purchase that which they had been wanting for some years past.

"She took us to see the newly-bought treasures. We peered in through the door and the good woman's face beamed with pride and pleasure. There they were, straight in front of us, made of polished wood, black as ebony, two magnificent—coffins."

SOME GOOD YARNS.

Reminiscences of Admiral Montagu Concerning Royalty.

Admiral the Hon. Victor Montagu, C.B., tells, in his reminiscences just published, some good stories of sport at home and abroad. A sailor of the old school—he served in the Crimean War and helped to blockade Sebastopol—he has been famous in the social world as one of the most distinguished and enthusiastic members of the Royal Yacht Squadron. Admiral Montagu has had the friendship of several kings, and among the best of his friends was King Edward, the present King, and the German Emperor. His genial anecdotes about them have more than literary interest. It was at Cowes that he won on closest terms of friendship with these monarchs, though King Edward had been friends with him since boyhood.

He tells an amusing story of how he was commanded to dine with Queen Victoria at Osborne, one evening at 8.30, and immediately afterwards received a huge envelope with a massive seal from the Hohenzollern, commanding him to dine with the Kaiser at the same hour. He goes on:

Reader, put yourself into my flannels and jersey for a moment—fired, covered with salt water, a humble creature, a mere nobody, embarrassed with double honours and not having the slightest idea which command I was to obey on such a momentous occasion!

He signalled frantically to the royal yacht for the Prince of Wales' advice in this dilemma, but the Prince (afterwards King Edward) did not return to each until 7.30. What made the dilemma worse was that one costume was needed for dinner with the German Emperor and another for the Queen. When the prince answered the signals his advice was to obey Queen Victoria first, and proceed afterwards to the Kaiser. The Admiral rushed into tight and long stockings, and drove madly to Osborne.

After dinner the Queen excused him, and he resumed his journey in a fly. My next difficulty was to find a place in which to change from tight into full naval uniform. I decided to do this in the cab, and implored the driver to go slowly downhill. As everybody knows there is little difficulty in pulling off one's clothes and putting others on in a cab, even in total darkness, but there comes a moment when one has to stand up to complete one's toilet, and to stand up in a low fly is no easy task.

"Driver, pull up a moment," I said, "and open the top of the cab." "It's pouring with rain, sir," was the answer. "Never mind that," I said. "You get on top, too, and hold your coat over me." This arrangement answered beautifully, and in due course I arrived at the landing, and went off in a steam launch to make my obeisance to his Imperial Majesty. The Emperor received me in his usual cordial manner, and after a good laugh at my description of all my adventures, "Well, anyhow," he said, "I have never been asked to dine with two Sovereigns the same day! Do you want another dinner?"

Admiral Montagu tells several stories of King Edward's delightful kind-ness of heart. The admiral suffers from deafness, and was troubled at the thought of this when the King invited him to dine with the Czar of Russia on the Victoria and Albert.

"After dinner on board the King espied me and beckoned me to approach, when he said: 'Victor, I am going to present you.' So I merely remarked: 'Oh, sir, this is a great honor, but I fail to see how I shall be able to hear what the Emperor says.' He smiled and said: 'You are not the first deaf individual the Emperor has addressed. I will tell him all about you. Do your best.' It so happened that I got on particularly well, though once or twice I was in difficulties. The King, however, who was close by, noticing this, in the kindest possible manner came to my rescue, repeated the subject to me, or answered the Emperor for me."

A Rosebery Romance.

To those who love romance and the romantic, an unusual episode in the life of one Lord Rosebery's ancestors will appeal. It occurred in the eighteenth century, when the then Lord Dalmeny was a young man. He fell in love with a very pretty girl, says "The Gentlewoman" and eventually a secret marriage was contracted. The pair spent their honeymoon on the continent, and the bride, becoming seriously ill, confessed that she was the wife of the rector of Thorpe, from whom she had run away. Dying shortly afterwards, her husband had her body embalmed with a view to bringing it to England for burial. However, the Customs House officials opened the case in which the grim burden was packed, and it was only by a far more serious tragedy that the truth was made known. The body was eventually buried at Thorpe in the presence of both "husbands."

Soldier and Sculptor.

It is said of Captain Adrian Jones, who has designed the four-horse chariot, weighing upwards of thirty tons, which is to be erected near Hyde Park Corner, London, as a memorial to "Peace," that he is probably the only living sculptor who understands a horse from tail-tip to nostril. As a boy he loved and studied horses, and would have liked to become an artist, but his father had other plans, and he entered the army. He saw much active service, and was then advised to become a sculptor, having devoted most of his spare time when in the army to painting and sculpture.

Beresford's Bon Mot.

Lord Furness was the victim of an amusing bon mot when he was contesting York against Lord Charles Beresford. To the aid of Lord Charles came his two brothers, and the trio were cordially chaffed on the number of Beresfords in the field. But "Charlie" was ready with his apt retort: "Yes," said he, here we are—Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, come to save you from the fiery Furnesses."

To own a Gourlay Piano is to be proud of your piano. If you are a musician, the sympathetic bond between you will be strong indeed, for a Gourlay piano responds to every mood of the player. There is a crispness and delicacy of tone for the daintiest improvisation and a richness and volume for the most exciting bravura passages.

If you are not a player, but a lover of music, the pleasure of your friends' enthusiasm will more than repay you for the amount of your investment, to say nothing of the extra years of service over an ordinary piano. Write for Catalogue and prices.

VOTE FOR THE OPPOSITION CANDIDATES.

N. H. PHINNEY.

A. L. DAVIDSEN.

The opposition candidates oppose the Murray government not because it is a Liberal government, but because during its twenty-nine years of office it has got out of touch with the people and legislates in the interests of the selfish few as against the interests of the many.

BETTER ROADS. They oppose the government's policy of taking the road money from the county councilors, who practically expended it free of charge and placing it in the hands of an army of officials whose exorbitant charges must be paid before any money can reach the roads.

At the last session of the legislature Mr. Hall, opposition member for Queens, sought to restore these rights of the people by an act which while PROTECTING OWNERS FROM FIRE OR OTHER DAMAGES vested the right to fish on the wild lands absolutely in the people. This was no question of the power of the legislature to pass such a law, but every supporter of the government opposed the bill and it was killed.

Mr. Daniels induced a delegation of lumbermen from this county to go to Halifax to oppose the bill in committee. Premier Murray in discussing the measure at page 262 of the debates said "I can see a measure of popularity in saying that every man should have equal fishing rights. It may mean a few votes here and there. But surely we have not reached the stage when we shall violate the fundamental principles of British Justice simply to gain popularity."

The opposition candidates while holding that the trespasser on cultivated lands should be punished and the forests should be protected from fires, believe that the people should not be deprived upon a technicality of rights enjoyed by them from the earliest times and that these privileges should be restored to them by legislation.

REDUCTION IN COURT AND PROBATE FEES. While the people when called upon to serve in the courts as witnesses, or jurors are most inadequately paid, other court fees are of a most excessive character, particularly oppressive are the costs now charged in the probate courts. The opposition stand for an increase in jurors' and witnesses' fees, relieving widows and orphans from the present exactions of the probate courts and a general reduction in all court costs.

GOVERNMENT LOANS TO FARMERS. The opposition favor the adoption of the New Zealand plan of the government borrowing money at low rates and through an independent commission reloaning it to the farmers at cost on mortgages security. This would encourage our young men to settle in Nova Scotia and tend to stop the deplorable exodus.

HONEST AND PROGRESSIVE GOVERNMENT. Every province in the Dominion with the exception of Nova Scotia has made the experiment of a new provincial government with the result that in all cases irregularities have been discovered and corrected, progressive legislation has been enacted and industrial development wonderfully accelerated. The Opposition candidates believe that Nova Scotia can only keep pace with the other provinces by following their example and disposing of its old worn out administration and replacing it by an honest and progressive government.

"Long holding of office has brought about its inevitable consequences: corruption and jobbery in every branch of the public service."—Hon. G. H. Murray.

It is time for a change!

This is what Premier Murray says about it on page 251 of the debates for 1911. "Now it may be unpopular to own private fishing rights. No man will go further to condemn
