SOCIETY HOUSEKEEPING

SOCIETY

The president and executive committee of the 12th International Geological Congress are giving a dinner tonight in the armories at 5.15 o'clock.

The wedding of H. R. H. Prince Arthur of Connaught to the Duchess of Fife on Oct. 15, necessitates an early return of the court to London, and will also prevent Queen Mary from paying her customary autumn visit to her venerable aunt, the Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg-Strelitz at Neu-Strelitz, Germany.

The princess royal and her daughters will spend most of August at their house in Portman square, London, where the preparation of the Duchess of Fife's trousseau will occupy a good deal of their time. Irish and English lace are being made in large quantities for the royal bride. The house linen for her new home will be hand-embroidered in County Down where the spinners are already engaged on the princess royal's orders.

The most important exhibition of Canadian handicrafts in the Dominion is shown by the Women's Art Association at the galleries in Jarvis street. The president of the association, Mrs. Dignam, has invited the visiting geologists and their wives to the exhibit of Canadian homespun and handicrafts especially arranged for them this morning at 11 o'clock.

Lord Manners and the Hon. Angela Manners have arrived in Montreal from England.

Sir Charles and Lady Fitzpatrick gave a dinner on Saturday evening in honor of Lady Sybil Grey, who put in the week with them at Pointe-au-Pic.

One of the most important early autumn weddings, will be that of Miss Hazel Allan to Mr. F. W. Heubach, Winnipeg, which will take place on Sept. 15. The ceremony will be followed by a large reception at the town residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew A. Allan, Stanley street, Montreal.

Mrs. George Reeves has returned from England.

Aunt Sally's Advice to Beauty Seekers

K. U. F. says: "My skin becomes so cracked every summer and this so attracts dirt that I have in a few weeks this keeping my face clean looking. Can you suggest anything?" The method mentioned in reply to Eloise will overcome this condition. Dr. X. A. writes: "How can I get rid of crow's feet and wrinkles about the mouth corners?" Use a wash lotion of one-half pint which is powdered and dissolved in one-half pint of water. This softens the skin, tending to disperse wrinkles, and its tonic effect is more than temporary.

NEW YORK MAY HAVE "SAMLOG"

Norway's Solution of Saloon Problem Likely to Be Copied.

ALBANY, N.Y., Aug. 12.—The legislature may give New York City a chance to try the plan under which the liquor business of the cities in Norway is being conducted. Over there the saloons are under the control of a corporation known as the "samlog." Every place in Norway that wants a samlog can have one. Application for permission to operate it must be submitted to the voters at a general election, and the result is binding for six years.

CARRIED AWAY THE CONTENTS OF HOUSE

Quartet Thought to Be From Port Huron Commit Outrage on Canadian Side.

SARNIA, Aug. 12.—(Special).—The home of Mrs. George, a squaw living on the Sarnia reserve, was ransacked and robbed to-day by four white men. Detective Action of the provincial police, was notified of the occurrence and was soon on the scene. The culprits had, however, made their escape in a gasoline launch. Last evening four young fellows stopped at the house, which is on the river bank and asked for lodgings. Although they were under the influence of liquor they were taken in and given a supper and by this morning they borrowed the horse and a rig and drove to town for goods, painting the squaw a dollar for the outfit. When they returned they loaded into the launch and were about to depart when the woman asked for her money. Instead of paying up they went up to the house and carried away everything that they could while the woman looked on. It is thought that the quartette are from Port Huron. The authorities on both sides are now looking for the offenders.

BANQUET AT ARMORIES TONIGHT IN HONOR OF THE GEOLOGISTS

Elaborate Preparations Have Been Made to Entertain Distinguished Visitors—Hon. Louis Coderre Will Represent Dominion Government—Numerous Trips Were Made Yesterday.

Canada's appreciation of the visit paid to the Dominion and Toronto by the geologists who chose the Queen City as the meeting place for their 12th international congress, will take the form of a farewell banquet tonight.

Yesterday was excursion day, and therefore a day of pleasure for most of the foreign geologists. For the Canadian geologists, however, it was a day of business, not pleasure. About 600 guests are expected to attend the banquet in the armories tonight.

On decorations alone—decorations in this sense including orchestra, etc.—$1500 has been spent on the armories. To the man in the street this sum may seem extravagant, but it is not so if you think of the advertising that Canada has got through the congress. The government, however, has not forgotten that it is in debt to the congress and tonight it will make a payment on the debt.

Coderre to Speak. Hon. Louis Coderre, bilingualist, and possibly trilingualist, has been entrusted to represent the Dominion Government, while Hon. W. H. Hearst, minister of lands, forests and mines, will represent Ontario. The banquet will be almost strictly a geological affair, and all the invited guests are geological friends. The list of speakers is not yet complete, but it is already so large that a time limit of three minutes has been adopted. It is expected that 100 women will be present, most of whom are wives of the visiting geologists.

Forty-Nine Per Cent. of Those at Sing Sing Are Italians.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—What prison schools are doing for men and women who have been placed behind bars for offences against society is told in a bulletin issued by the Federal Bureau of Education. In this bulletin, A. C. Hill of the New York State Education Department is quoted as follows: "The look-alike has been discarded; contract labor has largely ceased; the parole system has been inaugurated. Schools in prisons are the expression of the highest conception yet formed of the proper way to deal with men and women segregated from society for violating its laws. They are an outgrowth of the belief that the door of hope must never be closed to any human being, and of the conviction that the reformation of even the most degraded and vicious is still possible. They stand for opportunity."

The bulletin gives statistics gathered from fifty-five prisons for adults in the United States and Canada. It shows that there are forty-four schools in many prisons, eleven of them open twelve months in the year.

"It has been found," the bulletin continues, "that prison bars and stripes, foul food and poor dress are not deterrent in their effect. Such things have proven largely failing. The prison schools indicate a popular notion that intelligence has its own inhibitory influence upon impulses of crime, and that mental capacity, rightly directed, is a powerful incentive to reform."

Prison schools of New York were organized in their present form in 1905 and 1906. Last March there were 338 men in the school at Sing Sing, representing twenty nationalities, and twelve subdivisions. Of the total number, 49 per cent.

THE VOICE IN THE WILDERNESS.
 The unintentionally comic editor of The Telegram had two more double columns last night. The Telegram is like a voice crying in the wilderness where the five other prophets are silent when they ought to be screeching like howling derelives in its own inimitable fashion. But the voice that cried in the wilderness uttered truth and not error, and herein The Telegram falls of inspiration.
 But if The Telegram is a prophet, false or otherwise, it insists that the valuations are priests, and wonders why all the mummery and mystery about their proceedings. Of course the trouble here is that they have not handed out confidential interviews to The Telegram of how they are getting along. They are not handing out interviews to anybody, but the rest of us can contain ourselves in patience till they get good and ready, while The Telegram is fairly hopping because Mr. Arnold and Mr. Hoss and Mr. Moyes do not tell it all they know, besides a number of things they don't know.

The Telegram makes up for this lack of confidence on the part of these gentlemen by the exercise of its own wonderful imagination, stirred by the sultry atmosphere, and stimulated by the reflection that "it was not like this in the days of old, the days of yore."
 Perhaps the most extraordinary feat The Telegram has yet accomplished is the valuation of the eight years' unexpired franchise at $2,000,000. It arrives at this by calculating on the basis of the disputed estimate of the value of the Detroit system. The net earnings of the street railway system last year were $1,448,458, and they are increasing annually. Eight times that amount is more than $2,000,000, but The Telegram is not strong at figures. It still counts on its fingers. These restricted mathematical abilities do not meet respect for the results set forth in "the region of speculation, when we are unable to accept the view that eight times one-and-a-half make three in the region of concrete facts."
 It might be just as well for The Telegram to wait and hear what the experts have to say. But if not, we are quite prepared to be amused still further during the interval by The Telegram's repeated and self-complacent "exposures" of the "offer" or the agreement, or the experts' report, or whatever it is that is causing pressure on The Telegram's cerebellum.

NATURAL RESOURCES AND INDUSTRIES.
 Last year Mr. Harcourt, the secretary of state for the colonies, made a new departure by reviewing the progress of the crown colonies along the lines of finance, medicine and railways. This year he excluded these subjects and gave a picture of their development in the production and export of raw material. His review did not include the great self-governing overseas states of the empire, nor did it include India or Egypt, neither of which come within the control of his department. But even with that considerable exclusion, rather because of it, the wonderful extent and productivity of the British dependencies has never been brought more strikingly before the British people.
 Perhaps the most interesting and informative portion of his speech was that dealing with mineral oil. As The World noticed the other day, the introduction of oil fuel marks another important stage in the development of maritime transportation. This has caused close investigation into the possibilities of oil production within the empire, and their slow development. Mr. Harcourt said, had been cause of great anxiety both to the colonial office and the admiralty. There are undoubtedly large natural oil resources under government control and it is satisfactory to find that the need of their conservation has been fully realized.
 So far as government concessions are concerned, two objects have been specially kept in view by the colonial office. One is the exclusion, as far as possible, of the great combines which have attempted to gain a stranglehold on production and to inflate prices, and the other is to reserve to the admiralty full power to assume possession of the product, even at the risk of setting a lessened price for the operating concession. In this Mr. Harcourt indicated a policy which might well be followed by the dominions when dealing with their even vaster natural resources.
 Other objects kept in view in the grant of concessions required that the

HAMILTON'S CHIEF DISTINCTION

It Was the Blending of Loyalist and Britisher at the Head of the Lake a Century Ago—The Old Trail.

(By an Old Boy.)
 The following account of Hamilton and its centennial, of the influence that the Head of the Lake is yet to wield in the Dominion, is from the pen of one of the centennial visitors here today:
 Hamilton's Wonderful Situation. I have seen many parts of Canada; village and country, town and city, prairie and mountain, lake and river, but I have yet to know the section so beautified of Nature and so blessed of Providence as this panoramic and glorious garden of sunshine, this city of enterprise, nestled between the mountains and the blue waters of Lake Ontario; the tableland above of farm and wooded grove, of homes and villages; the plain below and the recesses into the escarpment, the most productive of gardens, the fairest and sweetest land of fruit and vines and flowers in all our part of the continent.
 And when I speak thus, I take in all that bow at the Head of the Lake whereof Hamilton is the centre and whose vibrant strings are fixed to the ends of the bow at the mouth of the Niagara and at Toronto across the blue and sparkling waves of Ontario. It was a delectable hunting ground of the Indian or unrecorded days; it is a paradise in our time, and may it long be so.
 The Fathers of Hamilton. But if I speak thus of the country, what shall I say of our Fathers who first settled out and settled in this Land of Promise? This that we are blended of two noble streams of life and settlement that converged here. Before the American Revolution a few Dutch who had heard of the fatness of the land across the Niagara River. All these people endured many privations to get to the Niagara, and still more in working their way round to the Head of the Lake. The trail was amid swamps and as close to the shore line as inlet, marsh and creek would allow; thru what is now the old Village of St. David's, in front of St. Catharines, across the Jordan, and then close by the lake at Beamsville, Grimsby and Winona of today, and on to Stony Creek. It was a tangle and a trail; it was of many a privation; but it was a trail of hope and reward at the end. Some days they crossed the river in scores and scores, and day after day in summer, even in winter. With their little stock of necessities, with an occasional horse or cow, a bag of seed, they dropped off here and there, some to settle on the south side of the lake, some in Ontario, some near Grimsby, some at the Head of the Lake, some further on. Wherever their settlement at least one Pennsylvania Dutch family dropped out of the march and took up land, and to this day you can find a line of their descendants from Niagara to the upper reaches of the Grand River. Others went up the Mountain, others on to York. Toronto, Yonge street, Ancaster, Long Point, were many a day in the one circuit of the Episcopal Methodist preachers that came into Canada from York State and on horseback ministered to the people. These settlers were new to the Head of the Lake, but they were Americans, were of the soil. They were pioneers, farmers, born to the secure for Mexico, a really responsible government, but even at that it is no less worthy of approval.

GOOD BUSINESS CONDITIONS.
 So far as legitimate business is concerned, the leading countries of the world were never in better shape. That is sufficiently indicated by the remarkable increases in the volume of international trade exchange. The British figures for the year, which are reflected in those of other nations, show continuing expansion. Nor are there any present indications that the tide of industrial prosperity has reached its height. Speculation is undoubtedly unpopular, and those that live on and thru it are retrenching everywhere. That is a sign of the times; and it will be all the better if the public has learned that the wiser course is to gain by honest endeavor instead of by reckless gambling.
 In all countries there is a demand for far-reaching reforms that will more equitably distribute the rewards of labor. And the countries that have advanced farthest in that direction appear today to rest on the soundest basis. President Wilson's advocacy of the new freedom, by which he means that everyone shall have equality of opportunity, only applied to conditions on this continent what the advanced British states of Australasia had already put into practice. What America is struggling to do by the intervention of regulative commissions they have achieved by the more direct method of public ownership and operation. Commission regulation in its later forms are indistinguishable.
 The Telegram asserts that the street railway purchase scheme, which it calls the Mackenzie offer, is dead. But The Telegram is certainly shivering with terror of its ghost.

MARRIAGE LICENSE TOUTS
 Sir James Whitney, or whoever presides over the destinies of the votaries of Hymen in Queen's Park, should see to it that Cupid is not embarrassed by the cupidry of marriage license touters. In fact the canvassing activities of marriage touters should be entirely prohibited. It is intolerable that any person, matrimonially inclined, should be pestered with the importunities of those who wish to collect a dollar or two out of his necessity. The new regulations requiring the advertising of marriages, place strangers at the mercy of license harpies, and they should be compelled to restrict their officiousness to those who call upon them at their offices or residences.

THE WATERWORKS SERVICE
 Chief Thompson's report on the fire situation indicates a lack of water pressure, as probably the most serious matter in connection with the recent fires. This must be attended to, not only in deference to the requirements of the fire underwriters, but also for the safety and satisfaction of the citizens as a whole. The engineer's department is carrying out the recommendations of the hydro-electric engineer, with regard to a steam reserve, and everything is evidently being done that the situation demands.

PRESIDENT WILSON AND MEXICO.
 When President Wilson objects to recognize Huerta, as president of the Mexican Republic because he owes his place to assassination he is no more than following an entirely opposite precedent. King Peter of Serbia was in precisely the same case, and on that account was refused acknowledgment by the late King Edward and only with reluctance obtained it from other European governments. This may have been due on his and their part to the feeling that there is a divinity which hedges round a king, but it was equally an acknowledgment that recognition is due not merely to success but to the means by which it has been gained.
 President Wilson, as The World takes it, is applying to the Mexican situation the doctrine of the higher morality. In his case his attitude is not influenced by personal affiliations or hereditary prejudices. As the constitutional head of a self-governing people and deeply imbued, as he is with the principles which alone make a genuine republic possible, it is evidently his object to accompany proclamation of reprehensible methods with assurance that the right of Mexico to independence will not be challenged. The president may fall in his effort to

The Philosopher of Folly

A NATURE STUDY.
 Before the dawn of history a cave-man watched a busy bee and thought, "Why does the Fly-th-that-flings thus fool around these colored things whose balmy odors please my nose?" It was some reason, I suppose; and as the bee pursued its way across the mead with flowers gay, the man's mind on knowledge bent, tagged after where-so'er it went. At last it reached a hollow tree, and straight inside flew Mr. Bee. The cave-man, first of all the race an insect's wanderings to trace was full of wonderment to know what made the bee act thus and so, and when he judged the big fly slept, close to the opening he crept and peered within the hole. "There's some good cause for all this fuss; I am resolved that I must see the bottom of this mystery." He busy hive—my goodness! he was so close when it opened its jaws and disgorged a drop of honey, which he lapped up with a sip, and speeding on re-vengeful wings, he filled his jacket full of stings. RHEUMATISM KEPT HIM IN BED

Suffered Tortures Until "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Him

"McMILLAN'S CORNER, Ont. Sept. 30th, 1910.

"Your remedy, 'Fruit-a-tives' is a perfect panacea for Rheumatism. For years I suffered distressing pain from Sciatica or Sciatic Rheumatism, being laid up several times a year for days at a time. I went to different doctors who told me there was no use doing anything—it would pass away. They gave me various plasters and other remedies that did no good. Plasters took no effect on me—except to blister the skin and make me feel worse. I took many advertised remedies without benefit. But fortunately, about two years ago I got 'Fruit-a-tives' and they cured me.

"Since then I take 'Fruit-a-tives' occasionally and keep free of pain. I am satisfied 'Fruit-a-tives' cured me of Rheumatism, and they will cure anyone who takes them as directed. If you have a letter would be of value to you, publish it. JOHN E. McDONALD."

"Indeed, this letter is of value to you and to the thousands of sufferers from Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago and Neuralgia. It points the way to a certain cure. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. Write for it from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

SPEDDY ELECTION IN EAST YORK

Date Has Been Set For September Eighth With Nominations a Week Earlier.

Alex McCowan, M.L.A. of East York, has resigned from the legislature and the seat thus vacant will be thrown open for a by-election in September.

Altho Mr. McCowan has not yet been appointed as returning officer, the consensus of opinion in the city holds that the announcement of this date will be forthcoming within a few days.

The nomination meeting for the contest was announced yesterday at the parliament building and the high schools idea were approved.

An appeal for state aid of Catholic schools was voted in the resolutions, and the Mar. School, which has books and literature in public libraries. Eugenia or sex hygiene and the idea of centralization of educational agencies were discouraged.

PLANS ARE NOW COMPLETED FOR TORONTO'S NEW ART BUILDING

Many Pictures of Canadian Historical Interest Are on View at the Old Grange—Majority of Visitors Who Have Viewed Paintings Are From Abroad.

When the plans now in progress are completed and accepted for the building which is to contain the treasures of the Art Museum of Toronto, another edifice of considerable importance and with many historical associations will be added to the list already on the roll of Toronto's places of interest. Of course, money will be needed, but this will doubtless be forthcoming.

At present the old Grange, which contains the nucleus of the many articles of vertu which will later be housed in the contemplated building, is now at its best, the ivy that covers it and the velvet lawn that fronts it speaking eloquently of many days of culture and cultivation.

It is to the Art Museum and not to the city that the old property belongs, the an idea to the contrary prevalent in many quarters. Away back 90 years ago the first of the Toronto Boulders built the house. On the wall of the drawing room today hangs a life-size painting of William Henry Boulton, son of D'Arcy of the same name. This one-time master of the Grange wears knee breeches and buckled shoes, with the fancy stock and vest of those times, and the face, head and pose are all those of a man at ease with himself and the world, together with a certain something which marks him as a leader of the times.

This was carried out when he was twice mayor of Toronto, the first time in '45. On the second occasion he resigned to become member of the legislature. When the widow of this gentleman some 40 years later married Goldwin Smith, two somewhat noted names became associated, and the house was really Mrs. Smith who will tell that the old home should be devoted to the uses of an art museum. Goldwin Smith fell willingly into her view, he himself having many family relics of his own to help swell the collection.

Everything in the shape of pictures, statuary, rugs and the rest are very much as they were in the time of their first owners. Goldwin Smith was evidently an admirer of that iron man, Oliver Cromwell, for keeping the old Roundhead company are 12 others, from Bunyan, Lord Fairfax and other contemporary characters. All painted in England from originals, some at a great cost of time and money.

Family Pictures. The only family pictures, with the exception of an ivory of his mother, are two pictures in pastel of the aunt of Goldwin Smith, Lady Dunkinfield, her husband, Lord Dunkinfield. Mention of this ancestor is of somewhat romantic interest as the lady, then Miss Crauford, is said to have been the belle of the famous ball which took place the night before Waterloo. Two finely decorated old chests, one about six feet 12 inches high, which Goldwin Smith said was at least 300 years in his family, are also here.

Among things of Canadian historical value are a chair, the one used by William Henry Boulton when he filled the office of chief magistrate to Toronto, and two glass tumblers that belonged to Governor Simcoe. The chair is an

SCORED CONDITIONS IN MINING CAMP

Federated Catholic Societies Protest Against Actions of Mine Superintendents.

BISHOP HAD TO LEAVE Because He Protested Against Actions of Mining Companies at Lead, S. D.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 12.—(Can. Press.)—Socialism, immoral dances, anti-Catholic press reports and the actions of critics and the Lead, S.D., were scored today in the adoption of resolutions during the afternoon session of the American Federation of Catholic Societies.

Delegates representing the 3,000,000 Catholic members of the various societies voted unanimously to re-appoint Mrs. Joseph A. Heise, of Pleasanton, Calif., mother of Wm. Randolph Hearst, as chief officer of the organization, and to re-appoint to the position of secretary, J. J. J. Guer of Lead, superintendent, emphatically protesting against the conditions in Lead, which the federation claims, impede the work of religion, and which have caused the resignation of Bishop Busch to the see of his diocese.

In his speech yesterday, Bishop Busch said the miners were not allowed the benefits of Sunday rest, that when he protested to Mrs. Hearst and other mining holders, he was subjected to insults and threats, and he was forced to move from the seat of his diocese. As a result of this speech the social legislation of the committee on resolutions favored, making a protest and the convention favored the move.

The growth of the Catholic educational system and the high schools idea were approved.

An appeal for state aid of Catholic schools was voted in the resolutions, and the Mar. School, which has books and literature in public libraries. Eugenia or sex hygiene and the idea of centralization of educational agencies were discouraged.

GOES INSANE WHILE IN OPERATING ROOM

Physician, Suddenly Insane, Slashes Patient With Knife and Kills Him.

(Special to The Toronto World). CINCINNATI, Ohio, Aug. 12.—A terrifying story was told in probate court today by the wife of Dr. William E. Dabney, aged 41, a Marietta, Ohio, physician and surgeon, before he was committed to Longview Hospital for the insane. Mrs. Dabney said the first signs of mental trouble were exhibited by her husband several months ago while he was performing a surgical operation in a Marietta hospital. With-out a moment's warning he slashed right and left with his operating knife and slashed the hospital bed and took him in charge. The patient, she said, was the victim of his sudden madness. She said that he took her husband to Ontario, Canada, hoping it would restore his reason. But he did not get much better and arrested two members of his family of being unfriendly toward him. The wife then brought him to court.

STOPPED HIM FROM WALKING IN HIS SLEEP. Dear Sir—It is a month since I got one of your Belts. I can say I felt like a new man from the first day I wore it. WATER EVENTS FOR LABOR DAY.
The sports committee of the Canadian National Association are arranging a big program of water events for Labor Day afternoon. Besides the usual water polo races, in which there will likely be entries from the eastern crews, and perhaps a crew from Gravenhurst or Orillia, the committee hope to bring together some of the best single-shell men of America. The single-shell men of the Eastern Rowing Club, who have jumped into the limelight in the past two or three weeks, will be invited to meet again with the opponents that they defeated at the Canadian Henley and at the big regatta in the eastern states. W. Dible, Lepper and Finley of the Dons and Butler, the Argonaut representative, the complainant being a benign old Hebrew with flowing beard and snow white hair. He declared that at the time he was taking a drink on his way home on his wagon two or three boys commenced stoning him. He and the man got off and caught a couple of them, one of whom appeared in court, but the lad stoutly denied any knowledge of the stonings. The case has been remanded till the 19th in order to get more particulars.

GRADUATES WITH DAUGHTER.
SPRINGFIELD—Prof. J. Turner Horner, president of Horner Institute, Purdy, Mo., and his daughter, Miss Eva May, have been graduated together from Dryden College, each with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The forty-five year old and for many years engaged in educational work, Prof. Horner had never held a diploma.

LEGLESS, HE CLIMBS A TREE.
JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind.—George V. Stoner, county auditor, who is lame and who uses large shoes strapped on his two stumps extending only to the knees, was out with John Schiele, county treasurer, hunting squirrels, when a bull showed a disposition to charge. Stoner knew he had no chance in a foot race, so he hugged a tree and "shinned" up with all his might. When Spot came up, he dove off the bull, Stoner was sitting on the first bough, twelve feet above his companion's head.

PUR TAR ON MAN'S FACE.
LEAVENWORTH, Kan.—Henderson Hasty, a resident of Easton was found by unidentified men, lying beside the road in an intoxicated condition. They carried him to a barn, stripped him of his clothes, painted his face with tar and threw him into the hay to sober up.

JEW BAITERS APPEAR BEFORE JUDGE STARR

Another case of Jew baiting by young irresponsibles was aired in the juvenile court yesterday before Commissioner Starr, the complainant being a benign old Hebrew with flowing beard and snow white hair. He declared that at the time he was taking a drink on his way home on his wagon two or three boys commenced stoning him. He and the man got off and caught a couple of them, one of whom appeared in court, but the lad stoutly denied any knowledge of the stonings. The case has been remanded till the 19th in order to get more particulars.

MY FREE OFFER TO MY MEN AND YOUNG MEN READERS.
My free offer is as follows:—There are in existence today numerous creditable books relating to the much-discussed sex science, and they range in price from $2 to $5, while my offer, as given below, is a free one.
I publish a little private compendium of 12 pages, pocket size, containing 8000 words and 20 half-tone photo reproductions thoroughly covers the subject of sex, but only in its relation to manhood or vital manly strength, its legitimate uses, its wasteful abuses, its loss and the causes thereof, its possible recuperation and its permanent preservation. These are the vital phases of the sex subject which I find to be of the most interest to all men, young or elderly, single or married, and I have therefore put into this little self-help book the very best that I can offer relating to that subject, and I give it to you absolutely free, and information which my 20 years' practical experience and private advice taught me men most seek, and through which they can get the most real benefit in respect to their own vigor and vital health. This reader, is the book, and my offer is to send it by mail, absolutely and entirely free of charge, in a perfectly plain sealed envelope to any man or young man anywhere who writes for it (see coupon below), and there is not a particle of obligation of any kind whatsoever involved in making this gift offer. One in a million of these books have been thus sent to men all over the world.
The reason why I can offer this illustrated sex book free is that in one part it contains a description of a little mechanical vibrator of my own invention, which, as all our readers who have used some outside aid in the restoration of their manly vigor, know that as a matter for each person to decide for himself. The book is complete and entirely independent of anything it says with respect to the vibrator.

BULLISH TONE AT MONTREAL

C. P. R. and Brazilian Were Crown Features - Prominent Lower.

MONTREAL, Aug. 12.—Local stocks made some response to the bullish demonstration in the New York market today, and advanced, ranging from good-sized fractions up to three points were shown by a number of leading issues. No great activity accompanied the advance, and the chief feature remained, as on other days, when outside conditions were favorable, the scarcity of offerings rather than any pronounced buying demand.

C. P. R. was the only issue in which transactions ran into four figures, and four trading and arbitrage dealings accounted in usual for a good deal of the activity in that issue.

C. R. rose to 221 1/2, and retained a net gain of one point; Brazilian was up 1/2 to 9 1/2, and Montreal Power 2 to 20 1/2, Richeleux rose 2 to 20 1/2, but reacted a small fraction before the close.

CATTLE TRADE ABOUT STEADY

Hogs, Sheep and Calves Were Steady and Lambs Firmer.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Yards yesterday were 190 carloads, comprising 3745 cattle, 240 hogs, 1002 sheep and lambs, 556 calves and 30 horses. There were many good and choice cattle, but more of the common and medium classes.

The cattle trade was about steady at last week's prices. Considering the large number of cattle on sale there was a fair trade, but at the close of the market there were fully 500 cattle, the bulk of which were medium and inferior.

Hogs, sheep and calves were about the same prices as were quoted at last Thursday's prices, but lambs sold at 25c per cwt. higher.

WILLIAM REDMOND, Member of Parliament for Clonsilla east, raised the question of the government's decision not to participate in the Panama-Pacific Exposition during the session of the house of commons today.

Francis Dyke Acland, parliamentary secretary to the foreign office, replying to Mr. Redmond, stated in substance Sir Edward Grey's statement in the chamber last Tuesday, in which the present circumstances of the exhibition were not justifiable in asking the country to incur the heavy expenditure required for participation in the exposition.

Mr. Redmond said the declaration of the government to exhibit at San Francisco had caused great dissatisfaction among all the English-speaking peoples.

BRAZILIAN IN LONDON

Three specialists will be featured in the live stock department of the Canadian National Exhibition this year. One firm will show a model barn in another firm will show the model fittings and another firm will fill the barn with model cattle.

The Union Stock Yards in Chicago will show a exhibit of well-fed and poorly-fed cattle for the purpose of giving an object lesson in feeding. Were the Canadian National Exhibition to be held this year at the standard to which it has attained and it had to be built and equipped as the world's fair is, the cost would be $20,000,000 or over. The land alone on which the exhibition is held would cost $10,000,000. At present the treasurer of the exhibition handles well over $1,000,000 a year.

NISBET WILL. By the will of the late Bertrand Richard Nisbet, died for probate yesterday, the widow inherits the whole estate valued at $23,282.82. Mr. Nisbet was a partner in the wholesale dry goods firm of Nisbet & Auld.
