King George VI Addresses British Parliament on the War and its Consequences

SEA POWER ENABLED ALLIES TO WIN WAR

Precedent Discarded By King in Going to Westminster to Deliver Address—Duty is to Create Better Britain.

London, Nov. 19.—Another precedent went the way of other precedents today when King George, accompanied by Queen Mary and the Prince of Wales, went to the palace at Westminster to receive and reply to the loyal address passed by the houses of parliament yesterday.

Arriving at Westminster, the King, the Queen and the Prince of Wales went immediately to the gallery of the house of lords, where the commoners and the lords, the latter with the officials of the houses in their robes of office, awaited them.

The King was in morning dress. The lord chancellor and the speaker of the house of commons presented the addresses.

King George in expressing his thanks to the house of lords and the house of commons, said he was glad to receive the tributes of parliament and the representatives of India and the dominions beyond the seas.

The King said he was grateful for the spontaneous and enthusiastic expressions of loyalty and affection which had received in the metropolis and from all parts of the British Isles, as well as from every part of the empire.

Without that work Britain might have starved during the past year. The men of America who have so much contributed to our victory could not have found their way hither.

These new soldiers, drawn from the civil population, have displayed a valor equal to that of their ancestors. Short as was their training, they have imitated and rivaled the prowess of the small but ever-famous force which in the heroic days of the war from Mons to the Marne fought its magnificent retreat against vastly superior numbers.

Not less prompt was the response, and not less admirable the devotion to the common cause of those splendid troops which eagerly listened to the words of the king, and who remembered how the princes of India rallied to the cause, and with what ardor the soldiers sustained in many theaters of the war, and under conditions most diverting and exacting, the martial traditions of the "ace."

As to the future, the King said the duty was to create a better Britain.

FIRE FIVE SHOTS KILLING POLICEMAN
Plainclothesman Williams, While Attempting to Arrest Alleged Thief at King and Bathurst, Falls Victim of Desperate Gunman.

Acting Detective Frank Williams, attached to No. 3 police station, was shot and killed by Frank McCullough of Brooklyn, N.Y., in the Cross Livery Stable at 87 West King street, about half-past six last night.

Acting Detective Williams was interviewed by a World reporter, last night, stating: "I was standing on the southwest curb, peering my papers, when I saw this man running, and I ran after him, and he was crying stop him. I was so excited I ran out towards the man, and before I could do anything, he evidently thinking that I was trying to stop him, tried to dodge me, and in so doing bumped right into me, with the result that he fell flat on his face."

McCullough was taken to detective headquarters, and being searched the police found all five chambers of his gun empty. He absolutely refused to divulge the identity of his companion, nor would he state whether he had any reason for shooting. He claims to come from Brooklyn, and further than that he would give no information as to himself. His companion, at a late hour last night, was still at large, but the police state that they have discovered a clue which they hope will lead to his arrest in a short time.

Acting Detective Williams was about 23 years of age, and had been a member of the Toronto police force for over four years, residing at 220 Dovercourt road. He came originally from Clinton, Ont., where his father is a retired farmer. Most of his work on the force has been in the plain clothes department, and he was known and liked by his fellow employees. His body was removed to the city morgue, where an inquest will be opened tonight.

Woman Has Been Arrested. Gladys Mylton, who gives her address as Palmerston avenue, was arrested late last night by headquarters detectives, in connection with receiving stolen goods, in the form of fur rugs from McCullough.

SCORES FOLLOWERS WHO JOINED CABINET
Laurier at Banquet in London Reaffirms His Stand on Conscription Issue and Announces a National Convention.

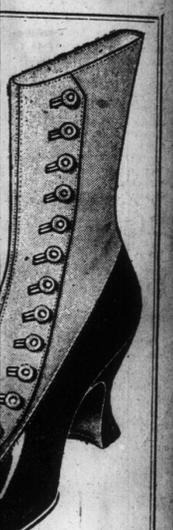

London, Ont., Nov. 19.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier closed a notable speech to the Liberals of western Ontario here tonight by announcing that he intended at an early date to call a national convention to enunciate the views and principles of the Liberal party.

The occasion was a banquet tendered to him upon the eve of his 77th birthday by the delegates from the parliamentary ridings west of Toronto, who today formed a Liberal organization for western Ontario. Major Eric Reid, a returned soldier of distinction, presided, and except for a few remarks by J. C. Elliott, M.L.A., Sir Wilfrid was the sole orator of the evening.

It had been anticipated that the Liberal chieftain would hold out the olive branch to his followers who had parted company with him on the conscription issue a year ago, but instead, he was at some pains to restate and defend the position he took on the conscription issue and to reaffirm his stand on it.

That conscription was unnecessary, Sir Wilfrid argued, he did not prove by the action of the government. The Military Service Act was passed in August, and in the following December the government announced that it would not apply to a large proportion of the people, to wit, the farmers class. On the eve of the election they promised to be conscripted. "They broke the promise,"

This was the result of the finding of the general court-martial, before which Capt. Roy was tried. There were four charges against him, in connection with irregularities in the medical service of the Second Depot Battalion, which included charges connected with the use of money for improper purposes in order to defeat the Military Service Act by reducing categorization to such an extent as to free him from military service, and other alleged offences connected with the work of the Second Depot Battalion. It was stated that Captain Roy had been found guilty on two of these charges, while on two other charges it had been decided that court-martial had no jurisdiction.

GERMANY TO PUBLISH ABDICATION DECREE

Paris, Nov. 19.—In order to end the discussion as to whether William Hohenzollern has really abdicated as German emperor, it is understood the German Government intends to publish his decree of abdication. This consists of an attempt to justify the war on the ground of Germany's isolation. The abdication decree, according to the correspondent at Zurich of L'Informatio, concludes with these words: "To avoid difficulties and to put an end to the mourning and suffering of my people, I renounce the throne, and leave my faithful subjects free to choose a government which seems to them most compatible with honor and to their interest."

PASTORAL ON PEACE BY CANADIAN CARDINAL

Quebec, Nov. 19.—A pastoral letter from Cardinal Begin was read yesterday in all the Roman Catholic churches, on the signature of the cardinal. In part the letter says: "At last peace is given to the world, after more than four years of war. And this peace is such as our wishes and prayers and invocations requested from heaven; it is glorious and benefactor. Benefactor, for it stops the awful carnage that held the nations in anguish and overturned the whole social order; glorious, since it is the fruit of the decisive victory which crowns the heroism of the allied troops and avenges thru their work, right ignored and justice outraged." The cardinal then invites the worshippers to thank God Almighty, the prince of armies, who heard our supplications.

FOR PUNISHMENT OF HUNS.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—A resolution demanding that an immediate cable be sent to Premier Sir Robert Borden calling upon him to demand at the peace conference that every Hun criminal, from the Kaiser down, be tried before a court of the allied nations and given such punishment as the atrocities they had committed and encouraged deserved, was adopted by the Canadian Club here yesterday.

DOROTHY DIX'S TALKS

POLITENESS IN THE HOME CIRCLE

By DOROTHY DIX, The World's Highest Paid Woman Writer.

The little four-year-old accidentally spilled some of his cocoa on the nice, clean, white tablecloth. His mother reproved him for being piggy and sloppy and sent him from the table.

The little fellow was crushed with mortification, and as he climbed down from his high chair he turned to his mother and sobbed out:

"Why don't you treat me polite, like I was company, and say that it doesn't make any difference?"

"And we grown-ups looked at each other aghast, and someone murmured, 'Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings,' for the child's hand had pulled aside the curtain and shown us the skeleton in the closet of practically every household."

It's lack of politeness. It's lack of ordinary, common civility. It is the lack of the elementary consideration that we show to the most casual strangers. That is the real thing that is the matter with domesticity. That is what makes marriage a failure. That is why we say there is no place like home, and thank God for it. That is why husbands and wives strain on the bond that ties them together, and why brothers and sisters scatter to the four winds of the earth, and the sons and daughters who have to stay at home with their parents regard themselves, and are popularly regarded, as martyrs.

For it is only too sadly true that there is nobody on earth who treats you with the same degree of brutality that your own family does. There is nobody else who is so rude to you, or who shows so little regard for your sensibilities. Your worst enemy would not think of offering you the insults that are freely tendered to you by those who really love you.

No peculiarity of human nature is so inexplicable as this. Why our nearest and dearest should daily stab us in the heart with speches, leaving wounds that never heal; why the hands that we trust should bare our weakness to the public, and point out our defects, nobody knows.

It is merely true that there seems to be a general impression that in the family circle is the only place in the world where people can dispense with the ordinary decencies of life in dealing with each other, and in which every season is an open season for casting reproaches upon the household to go hunting for one of the other's little faults and peculiarities.

And yet, heaven knows, there is no other place where we all so desire to shine as on our own hearstone, and there are no other eyes in which we so yearn to loom heroic. Probably man ever gets such a knockout blow as when he first discovers that his wife does not look up to him as an oracle, but regards him as a poor, weak creature, with wobbly judgment. Nor does any woman's vanity ever survive ascertaining that her husband thinks of her as a fat, homely, middle-aged woman, whom he calls "mother," and not as a living picture.

Of course, the members of a family naturally get each other's number with a pitiless accuracy, but why should they not conceal their fatal knowledge from each other as they would from strangers? Why hand out for home consumption the frank and brutal criticism they would not dream of offering to a mere acquaintance?

It is sad, but true, that the greatest need in the world is for politeness in the home circle. (Copyright, 1918, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

STREET CARS ARE READY FOR BLOOR VIADUCT

There will be no delay in commencing street car service over the Bloor street viaduct when the work has been completed according to the statement of Fred Hubbs, assistant manager Toronto Railway Company. Yesterday he said that just as soon as the rails are finished and the electricity switched into the trolley wires, the company was ready to provide a street car service.

If the work is completed by the end of next week, and it was stated yesterday that this is a possibility, the company will be ready with its cars.

DRIVER EXONERATED FOR DEATH OF WILLIAM GEE

"Accidental death. Driver exonerated from all blame." Such was the gist of the verdict of the coroner's jury inquiring into the circumstances surrounding the death of William G. Gee, 33 Mount Royal avenue, on the morning of Nov. 13. Gee was on a bicycle, and, commencing to descend a hill, he was struck by a car belonging to Marchmont Bros. In so doing, the bicycle apparently slipped and he fell under the horse's feet. The heavily laden wagon passed over his body. He was dazed by the accident, and his horse when he tried to haul up his horse when he saw the man fall, but owing to the fact that it was going downhill and the load was heavy he was unable to do so until the left wheel had passed over the man's body.

Crown Attorney Green examined the driver, who kept up his story, and the driver for Eaton's and the driver of the wagon. Coroner J. W. Russell spoke to the jury, who brought in the verdict as above.

The driver of the wagon, Waseil Jurischook, an Austrian, said he tried to haul up his horse when he saw the man fall, but owing to the fact that it was going downhill and the load was heavy he was unable to do so until the left wheel had passed over the man's body.

Crown Attorney Green examined the driver, who kept up his story, and the driver for Eaton's and the driver of the wagon. Coroner J. W. Russell spoke to the jury, who brought in the verdict as above.

MARY PICKFORD FINE IN "JOHANNA ENLISTS"

Mary Pickford is most charming in her picture at the Allen this week, "Johanna Enlists." Johanna has been seen in a more delightful comedy, and last night the audience was kept in laughter most of the time. Always dainty, sweet and beloved by all motion picture fans, Miss Pickford finds in this story an unlimited opportunity to display her interesting talents.

The story is about Mary's adventures in an American camp, is located on her father's farm. There is a break from the old routine to which she had been accustomed. Interesting incidents arise from time to time, and at last Mary marries the captain.

"Boy Scouts to the Rescue" is an interesting drama of adventures, and the moment they arrive in Canada they are very good. An instrumental quartet is a feature.

Leaside Fliers Do Looping Above Beaches District

Altho flying by Royal Air Force cadets has been cancelled in Toronto owing to the signing of the armistice, some breath-catching stunts in the way of aerial feats were witnessed by the residents of the Beaches yesterday afternoon. Two officers of the R.A.F., probably out for a spin in their planes to keep up their skills, few from the Leaside aviation camp and went thru fancy manoeuvres above Kew Gardens. They looped, the loop and gave exhibitions of steep banking while only a few hundred feet above the park.

Secours National is Busier Than Ever; Novel Gift Shop

Always active, the Secours National have taken on a new lease of life in keeping with the fine premises into which they have just moved at 14 West King street. The armistice does not by any means indicate that the war work of women is over. There are more thousands to be clothed and fed now than ever, and the "Secours" are working like the proverbial bees in the interests of the refugees now looking for their homes in France.

By the light of six great windows in the workshop on the upper floor, Mrs. Williams Beadmore, artistic chairwoman of the organization, points out the beauty of the workmanship on the piled-up garments of blankets and sweaters, and to the unfortunates of the desolated regions.

A novel venture is the gift shop which will open in the next few days. This is next door to the quarters of the Secours National. Useful gifts are requested, and will be sold for the benefit of the work of the society.

ARMISTICE DOES NOT REMOVE OBLIGATION

Patriotic Association Members Must Keep Up Subscriptions Until Soldiers' Discharge.

If faith has to be kept with the wives and children of Canada's soldiers, members of the Toronto and York County Patriotic Association and subscribers to the 50,000 Club will be required to pay the balance of their subscriptions. According to the executive council, the obligation of the association towards the soldiers' dependents continues until the date of the soldiers' discharge, and is not affected by the armistice.

The work of the association must necessarily continue well on into the year 1919. Further, it is pointed out that during the war many of the wives and children of Canadian soldiers had gone to England, during which time they were not entitled to allowances. They are now returning in large numbers, and the moment they arrive in Canada they become entitled to be placed and retained on the fund, pending their bread-winner's return and discharge.

In consequence from now on the demand on the fund will be greater than at any other time since the commencement of the war, in order that some means of return may be paid to those who have placed the people of Canada under an undying debt of gratitude.

STIFF COURT-MARTIAL SENTENCE.

Sentence of 15 years' imprisonment on Pte. James Allen Carter, 1st Battalion, 2nd Central Ontario Regiment, for refusing to don khaki, was announced yesterday. The sentence has been reduced to ten years' imprisonment by the governor-general-in-council.

Text: WEAR RUBBERS THIS WINTER and Save Your Shoes. REPEATED soakings take all "life" out of leather shoes. Leather, that has been worn unprotected through rain and snow, soon becomes stiff and hard. The shoes wear quickly—often crack—soon get out of shape. Rubbers prevent all this. They keep the boots dry—prevent you from slipping on icy sidewalks—and guard you against catching colds. Wear rubbers this winter—see that the children do so—and save your shoes and protect your health. There's a style and shape for every shoe—for men, women and children—in these six brands of rubbers, sold by leading shoe stores: "Jacques Cartier", "Merchants", "Maple Leaf", "Granby", "Dominion", "Daisy". Ask for these brands—they are the best to buy.

Canada Has the Money—So Has Toronto.

The lesson of our war financing is that Canada can get all the money she wants from her own people. So can the Province of Ontario. So can the City of Toronto.

If Ontario and Toronto wished to clean up the power and railway and real muddle the money could be got in a week by offering the necessary bonds to our own people. Toronto could clear up the street railway situation in two days as far as the money is concerned by asking her own citizens for it, especially on bonds covering the franchise and equipment.

Registered Mail Business.

Christmas always raises a stiff problem at the post office, and since the reduction of the business in this department assumes proportions at the close of the year with which the present accommodations are quite unfitted to cope.

The government should take steps to facilitate the transaction of this Christmas registered mail, and two suggestions have been made. Large mail bags for registered mail are imperatively required. There should be no delay about furnishing them, if they can be secured. They are far more necessary than new locks, which were supplied some time ago.

The accommodation required for the department could be provided in some of the stores in Victoria street belonging to the government. The whole block from Adelaide to Lombard and Church to Victoria is understood to be in the government possession. It is poor management to hamper the transaction of registered mail business when a remedy lies so near at hand.

British Casualties.

Something of the colossal nature of the great war is conveyed by the statistics of the British casualty lists. The total casualties are 2,049,391. Of these 142,634 were officers, and 2,907,357 rank and file. There were 37,326 officers killed, and 620,829 men a total of 658,665, or about the population of Montreal.

This great sacrifice is an index to the devotion that Britain and her ideals inspired in her valorous sons. By far the greater part of this was voluntary sacrifice, and it must do much to remove any tendency towards pessimism or to realize that the people of Britain, irrespective of class or education, gave themselves willingly in the world-old cause of liberty, justice and truth. Tyranny fell in every blow, and they who conquered grudging not their lives so that the era of tyranny were swept away. They have not died in vain.

Rumors of German Treachery.

Rumors of a possible revivification of German strength and attacks on the entente forces cannot be circulated in good faith. There is no possible foundation for them. The German Government, to give the devils their due, are doing their best to comply with the terms of the armistice. No hitch has been reported so far, and we shall probably hear of the surrender of the German fleet today. Most of the German troops are now across the Rhine, and they have abandoned their arms and munitions as they retired.

The idea that the Kaiser will return to Germany does not impress one. He is a hunted man, and his life is not safe from the private revenge of those who have suffered from him. He may elect to surrender himself to Britain or France and take his chance of a trial. William Hohenzollern, shorn of his imperial dignity, is just an ordinary man, and will act like any other individual trying to save his skin. As a political factor he does not count, for he has not the brains to attract a following, and the "divine right" business never deceived anyone but himself.

Germany's domestic problems are quite sufficient to keep her busy for some years to come. Her colossal debt has a calming influence, for the people owe it to themselves, and if they are not peaceable and well-organized citizens they will lose it all. The Germans themselves as well as other nations are now afraid of Bolshevism, and there is no doubt some ground for alarm from this source. The principle behind Bolshevism is that if the goose that lays the golden eggs does not lay them for the Bolsheviki there will be no golden eggs laid. It is the exclusive pretensions of the Bolsheviki that make them dis-

How He Lost It
BY REGINALD WYNN, M.C.

In a shady part of the hospital grounds a group of wounded warriors were seated under a wide-spreading elm. They were all suffering from more or less serious wounds, and rendered incapable of taking further part in the great struggle, derived a certain amount of pleasure from recounting the adventures of their past.

"The conversation had turned on trench mortar bombs and the means which were adopted to evade these deadly missiles when the opposing trenches were in close proximity.

"To my mind the soundest stunt was to post sentries to spot the devil coming over, who shouted bomb right, left or centre, as the case might be with regard to the bomb's flight.

"The sergeant upon whose breast among other ribbons was the 1914 star. "Yes, they were all killed when they came over singly, but in that bit of line south of La Yentle they had a nasty habit of grouping several mortars together and sending over two or three bombs at the same time.

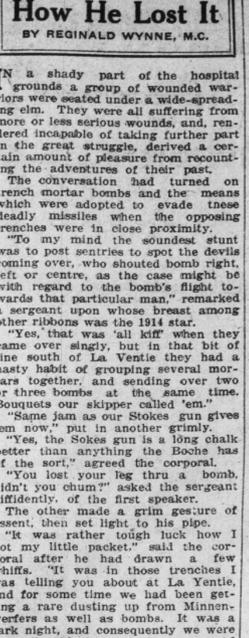

"Bouquets our skipper called 'em." "Same jam as our Stokes gun gives 'em now," put in another soldier. "Yes, the Stokes gun is a long chalk better than anything the Boche has of the sort," agreed the corporal.

"You lost your leg thru a bomb, didn't you chum?" asked the sergeant diffidently of the first speaker. "The other fellow at grim gestures of assent, then set light to his pipe. "It was rather tough luck how I got my little packet," said the corporal after he had drawn a few whiffs. "It was in those trenches I was telling you about at La Yentle, and for some time we had been getting a rare snuffing from their trench mortars as well as bombs.

"It was a dark night, and consequently we were generally able to trace the passage of the bombs thru the air by the trail of light made by the fuse. For a long time we were lucky, the some little distance away, a couple of bombs had made into the trench without being seen. The Boche had our range to a nicety, and what did come over fell plump into the trench. I was the only one who had from the same village as myself, and we were keeping a bright lookout, and at the same time as close to the parapet as possible, who we yanked back the time. Suddenly there was a whistling sound, followed by a flopping thud just behind us in the trench.

"The corporal, who was getting excited as he related the incident, rose, and balancing himself on his crutch, began tracing the course of the trench with his walking stick. "Here was the bay with a traverse at each end, and here," he dug his stick into the ground, "was the younger and myself on the first step. Plonk! and the bomb fell here just behind us. A 'Veroy' light lit up the floor of the trench, and I pulled myself together and yelled 'Scout, lad!' He dashed to one trench and I appeared round it, while I made for the other trench. I'd got a move on. Then a yell came from the next bay of 'Bomb right!'"

WHAT WILL HE DO ABOUT IT?

IDA AND THE POLICE COMMISSION

BY IDA L. WEBSTER.

Monday a delegation from the Great War Veterans waited on the city council with a petition in which they asked that something be done with the police commission, as they considered that the men who were holding down seats in that bunch were anything but competent to carry out the job.

"In the head of that word comes the press that his majesty the chief of police had a private interview with the lieutenant-governor, and it was supposed that he was consulting Sir John Hendrie as to the advisability of recognizing the police union. Of course this is merely a supposition because there is a possibility that that gentleman was to his state of health.

"Next in line, the commissioners hold a meeting at which they decide that, owing to the faithful service rendered by Mr. Archibald, who, you will remember, adorned the force for so many years, they will pension him at the rate of $150 a month, or $1800 a year. But, they did not amount of business, and I was about any of them, or all of them, resigning. Surely, after men have been holding down positions for thirty and forty years they must know that it is time for them to step out and give some younger man a chance. They don't know this, providing they are then equal to handling the position, but when they have been proven time and time again to be anything but competent, it is only too glad that they would be only too glad to say farewell, and put in a claim for their pensions.

"But, so with the men on the police commission (we will now exclude his worship, because he is merely a policeman in office, and for it. Take the chief for instance, he has never had the pleasure of pounding the pavements in his life, in fact there is no policeman in the force who knows how. He is not the sort of a man who inspires admiration in the breasts of his subordinates, nor is he the type who makes people quake with fear. He is simply one of the extremely old school, who are now either extinct, or used for cartooning purposes.

"Had he been the right man in the right place, when he heard that the union was being formed, instead of trumping up all sorts of excuses to keep the men on duty, he would have allowed them to go about their business in an open and above-board manner. He would also have been man enough to listen to Constable Ellis when he wanted and pleaded for a chance to straighten out his difficulty. We are now giving Col. Grasset the benefit of the doubt, but it is necessary to remember that he made some mistake or other.

"However, as the whole world knows, neither the chief of police nor his two lieutenants are men of any of those things. They merely took the reins in their own hands, and dared the whole force to do anything other than what they had laid down for them to do. A man who is employed as a policeman in Toronto is not entitled to his own opinion even on his own outspoken requests. He is treated with all the class distinction which can be thought up, and all because the chief of the department happens to be an old man who has an idea that he is very much better than the men with whom he works, and who are doing business as well known and so universally deplored that there is no use enlarging upon them. Judge Winchester being quite the best of a very poor assortment. And yet knowing all of this, and also knowing that citizens' money is being paid out in large salaries to these persons who are not capable of earning them and that there is no way known to mortal man for getting these men to resign, and the city council keeps absolutely mum, and steadfastly refuses to be drawn into anything which might possibly favor what should be done—"

PROHIBITION LAW MUST BE VALIDATED

Question as to How Far It is Valid After War Measures Act Expires.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Validating legislation will be submitted next session it is expected, in regard to prohibition. The order-in-council on which Dominion action was taken, found its authority in the War Measures Act. The order itself remains in force during wartime and for a period of twelve months afterwards. The War Measures Act, however, expires on the proclamation of peace in The Canada Gazette.

"However, as the whole world knows, neither the chief of police nor his two lieutenants are men of any of those things. They merely took the reins in their own hands, and dared the whole force to do anything other than what they had laid down for them to do. A man who is employed as a policeman in Toronto is not entitled to his own opinion even on his own outspoken requests. He is treated with all the class distinction which can be thought up, and all because the chief of the department happens to be an old man who has an idea that he is very much better than the men with whom he works, and who are doing business as well known and so universally deplored that there is no use enlarging upon them. Judge Winchester being quite the best of a very poor assortment. And yet knowing all of this, and also knowing that citizens' money is being paid out in large salaries to these persons who are not capable of earning them and that there is no way known to mortal man for getting these men to resign, and the city council keeps absolutely mum, and steadfastly refuses to be drawn into anything which might possibly favor what should be done—"

A Line of Cheer Each Day of the Year

By John Kendrick Bangs.

THE BETTER WAY.
If grieving killed our grief,
And brought a sweet relief,
From we releasing,
I'd say, from dawn to dawn,
Grieve on, and on, and on,
With tears unceasing.
Yet better cure for woe—
I've tried it, and I know—
Is joyous thinking,
And so when things that smart
Strike deep in my heart,
With cheer unshrinking,
I think joy all the day,
And smile my tears away.

"This Typewriting Gets On My Nerves. I Wonder Why"

"I ALWAYS used to like running the machine, and took a pleasure in turning out good, neat letters.

"But I must say I cannot feel that way lately. Hitting the keys seems to jar my whole nervous system, and the noise of the machine annoys me.

"I wonder if I am getting nervous. There must certainly be something wrong with me, for I am so tired in the mornings and do not seem to have the energy to transcribe the bunch of letters which I get every day.

"Of course, I have been working harder than usual to make up for those who have been away sick. Then I have been helping more at home while mother was sick. I suppose it all helps to tire one out and exhaust the nerves.

"But what was that I was reading about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food building up the nerves? Perhaps that is what I need. There was something about worry and anxiety breaking down the nervous sys-

ASQUITH OPPOSES GENERAL ELECTION

British Soldiers in Field Will Be Unable to Vote.

NO DIVERGENCE IN AIMS

Country Wants to Return to Old Atmosphere of Freedom.

London, Nov. 19.—Herbert H. Asquith, ex-premier, in delivering an election speech at Caxton Hall, Westminster, said that when the whole future international development of the world was in the crucible it was both a blunder and a calamity that the country should be plunged into the tumult of a general election.

He said his case against holding an election was greatly strengthened by the fact that the men most entitled to express an opinion on the reconstruction of affairs—the soldiers in the field—would be unable to vote.

He said that he was prepared to give fullest support to any government which grappled with the problems of reconstruction on progressive lines, but he added:

"When the lion and the lamb lie down together, it sometimes is found that the lion has not lost its taste for live mutton."

Asquith contended that the country was as much agreed on peace aims as it had previously been in accord on war aims, and that the international council chamber would act with the indispensable mandate of a united people.

DENTALS IN HUNT FOR MULOCK CUP

Soundly Trounced Arts Yesterday—Now After the Soldiers.

The Dentals are very much in the hunt for the Mulock Cup. The Dents came to life yesterday and handed University College a 14 to 0 beating. This leaves Dents with a record of one win and one loss. They will meet O. T. group leaders, next week, and if the future teeth artists can turn in a win it will tie up the group, but dentists will give the soldiers the group.

The Dents showed a nice team yesterday, and the backs made the victory sure by out-hitting their opponents. Pearman and McClaughlin were very strong at outside wing, and their tackling was deadly, in addition to putting off some pretty runs.

Arts were the heavier team, but were not nearly as well in team play, and their half-backs were outplayed by the Dental trio. The first quarter netted Dents two points. In the second quarter Dents made a try, but that was not converted. The final score was 14 to 0.

There was no scoring in the third quarter, but the Dents forced two scrums in the closing period, and Pearman fell on a loose ball for a try that was not converted. The final score was 14 to 0.

The Dents lined up as follows—Flying wing, Stapels; halves, McGowan, Tielch, Poliner; quarters, Roberts; scrum-half, Lohr; forwards, Collins; inside, Graham, McClaughlin; outside, Norton; outside, Pearman, McClaughlin.

Hamilton Herald: "Dug" Munro, the star half-back of U.T.S. who won the inter-city rugby championship from Hamilton Collegiate, is all that the Toronto sport writers have claimed of him. His performance here on Saturday last was a treat to the fair-sized crowd, and it certainly was not his fault that the Hamilton kids managed to squeeze out a 13-9 victory. He can boot and run and use his head like a veteran, and there are very few rough spots to be worn off before he enters the ranks of the seniors. It was hinted by some of the Hamilton lads a week ago that he wasn't quite up to par in the college line, but this assertion was doing the lad an injustice. He was given a rough voyage by the Collegiate on the H.A.A. field, and took this bumps without a whimper. He will do nicely.

An Ottawa despatch says: Golden memories of the old Ottawa College and Rough Rider football teams kept floating back at Plouffe Park Saturday when New Edinburghs and St. Brigids fought it out for the city league championship. Carl Billy and Frank Boucher, all sons of Tom Boucher, one of the greatest line men the capital ever produced, played for New Edinburghs, and George Boucher coached the winning team. Bobby Boucher was also available, but was considered below the age limit.

In addition, "Hee" Lafleur, son of Ovide Lafleur, played on the back division for St. Brigids, while Frank Clancy, son of Thomas F. Clancy, celebrated his thirtieth birthday. He was a fine manager and coach, and was also in uniform with St. Brigids.

Ottawa's football future seems assured, as there were four city league teams in action Saturday, and each was replete with coming stars.

Geo. Goulding's Central Y. team practices tonight at the gym, when all players are requested to turn out.

Central v. Excelsiors, Ready for the Final

The City Rugby League met last night at the Central Y.M.C.A. and decided to play the 13-15 division merely juniors, as many of the boys had grown over-weight owing to recent removal of the food restrictions.

McCurry was pronounced ineligible, but qualified to root for Excelsiors on the sidelines Saturday against Munro of Central. These teams will play the senior final at Scarborough Beach, with Willie Hewitt and Lennie Smith as officials. The "Beaches" protest against Central's Hebrev Let and Beaches, who worked early in the season without yardsticks, must play their game over again.

WATCHFUL WAITING.

President McCaffrey returned yesterday from a baseball trip to Peoria, Chicago and Detroit.

"After looking over the western situation I think Toronto is in a good spot for the New International League," said Mr. McCaffrey.

A special meeting of the National Association of minor leagues will be held at the call of the chairman in January at Chicago, when the case of Larry Lohr will be taken up. The meeting will discuss the national commission to reopen the case and to have the meeting on the case of Tuesday, Lalonde, Schultz and Kelly, who were declared free agents as usual this season." Mr. McCaffrey said.

"Toronto stands always in the big line as franchises in either of the big leagues should be put on the market. Everybody in baseball connects Toronto to be of major league caliber."

SIX-MAN GAME FOR STANLEY CUP

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 19.—With the adoption of new rules by the National Hockey Association, uniform rules are now in sight for future world series. President Frank Patrick of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association, stated today. Hereafter the champions of the rival leagues of the east and west have played the series under both Pacific Coast and National Hockey Association rules, introducing both six and seven-man hockey.

According to the coast promoter, he is thoroughly in accord with the move made by the eastern body, and states that, in respect of whether the coast plays six or seven-man hockey, and there is no doubt that the seven-man game is here to stay, the future world series will be played under one set of rules and the Pacific Coast Association will accept those local rules of the eastern men, at their recent meeting, and that the champion teams in future will battle under the six-man style of play.

"I am thoroughly satisfied with the changes made by the National League," President Patrick, who has accepted our non-offside-in-centre-ice rule, certainly a vast improvement in the old one, and will have a tendency to keep the games clean. So far as uniform rules are concerned, we are agreeable to play the world series games under the new N.H.A. rules, and will play six-man hockey.

Pacific Coast promoters are scheduled to get together next week to discuss the matter of formulating plans for the coming season. With the lifting of the ban, the skating season will then get under way. As forecasted, Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle clubs are already in line.

President Frank Patrick of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association, stated today. Hereafter the champions of the rival leagues of the east and west have played the series under both Pacific Coast and National Hockey Association rules, introducing both six and seven-man hockey.

According to the coast promoter, he is thoroughly in accord with the move made by the eastern body, and states that, in respect of whether the coast plays six or seven-man hockey, and there is no doubt that the seven-man game is here to stay, the future world series will be played under one set of rules and the Pacific Coast Association will accept those local rules of the eastern men, at their recent meeting, and that the champion teams in future will battle under the six-man style of play.

"I am thoroughly satisfied with the changes made by the National League," President Patrick, who has accepted our non-offside-in-centre-ice rule, certainly a vast improvement in the old one, and will have a tendency to keep the games clean. So far as uniform rules are concerned, we are agreeable to play the world series games under the new N.H.A. rules, and will play six-man hockey.

Pacific Coast promoters are scheduled to get together next week to discuss the matter of formulating plans for the coming season. With the lifting of the ban, the skating season will then get under way. As forecasted, Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle clubs are already in line.

The Linfield Rovers F. C. will hold a special meeting in their clubroom, Danforth Club, on Thursday evening, November 21, at 8 o'clock sharp. All Linfield Rovers' players and members please be on hand, as business is important. LITTLE BIG FOUR TO RESUME OPERATIONS

An agreement has been reached among the Little Big Four football teams, whereupon the season will be resumed on Saturday. Several exhibitions have already taken place, and these will count as regular league fixtures.

St. Andrews, who are generally regarded as the most formidable team in the series, have the edge to date, and the latter team on Wednesday by their Canada College, and Wednesday by their own team to nil. They will again meet the Bears on the round ball count. In St. Andrews' fourteen men, however, Harry Griffith's aggregation may upset the dose.

St. Andrews expect to enter Rideau College in St. Catharines, or Trinity College in Toronto, on Saturday, in case they meet the former and defend the latter. They would have a strange hold on the championship. However, Harry Griffith's aggregation may upset the dose.

UPTURN IN CORN AFTER DECLINE

Preparations Under Way to Send Huge Food Shipments to Austria.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Definite announcement of preparations under way to send huge shipments of foodstuffs to Austria helps to bring about a sharp upturn today in the corn market. The decline had undergone a material decline. The close was strong, 1 1/2c to 2c net higher with December $1.30 1/2, and January $1.32 1/2 to $1.33 1/2. Oats gained 1/4c to 1/2c in provision; the outcome was unchanged to 2c lower.

At first the bears had a decided advantage in the corn market, owing largely to a prevalent opinion that the 13c advance witnessed during the last week was more than sufficient as long as export buying remained merely prospective. Considering the disposition was also manifested to doubt whether the food shortage in Germany had not been somewhat overdrawn. Later, however, gossip became current that recent liberalizing of flour on government account was part of a comprehensive plan for feeding Europe. Then the market made a swift ascent.

LIVE STOCK MARKET

With deliveries of about 650 cattle on the exchange yesterday, for the most part, very inferior quality, there was a good strong demand for good butchers and good feeders at prices holding steady with Monday's advance. Some 1,000 head of calves were offered, but the quality was not so good as that of the cattle. There were no outstanding features on the exchange yesterday.

Market Note.

On the exchange yesterday, general regret was expressed at the long-continued illness of ex-Ald. John Dunn and a former active member of the exchange and prominent live stock man. It is gratifying, however, to hear that Mr. Dunn is now convalescing and good hopes are entertained for his speedy recovery and complete restoration to health.

REPRESENTATIVE SALES.

Some of Dunn & Levack's sales yesterday were: Butcher cattle—12, 847 lbs., at $10.55; 14, 910 lbs., at $10.50; 6, 766 lbs., at $8.25; 25, 801 lbs., at $7.51; 1, 620 lbs., at $8; 13, 800 lbs., at $8.40.

TRADE TOPICS

A fair amount of business continues in all lines. Retailers are holding orders in expectation of prices declining, but wholesalers believe that it will be a long time before pre-war figures are reached. The shortage in many lines must be remedied before prices decline.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Liverpool, Nov. 19.—Beef—Extra India mess, 370s. Pork—Prime mess, western, 320s. Bacon—Cumberland cut, 26 to 30 lbs., 152s; clear bellies, 14 to 16 lbs., 160s; long clear middles, light, 23 to 24 lbs., 160s; long clear middle, heavy, 25 to 40 lbs., 155s; short clear backs, 15 to 20 lbs., 137s; shoulders, square, 11 to 15 lbs., 128s.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

Winnipeg, Nov. 19.—There was very little demand for oats, barley and flax on the market today. Oats closed 1 1/4c higher for December, and 1 1/2c higher for barley closed 3/4c higher for December and 3/4c higher for May.

EAST BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.

East Buffalo, Nov. 19.—Cattle—Receipts, 600; steady. Calves—Receipts, 100; 50c lower; $7 to $10. Hogs—Receipts, 11,600; slow and unchanged. Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 2,400; strong; lambs, $9 to $15.50; yearlings, $7 to $12.50; others unchanged.
