SEVENTY YEARS OLD.

Anniversary of the consecration of St. George's Church.

The seventieth anniversary of the consecration of St. George's church, Carleton, was referred to at Sunday evng's service. The rector, Rev. W. H. Scamson, chose as his text Deut. xxxii. 7: "Remember the days of old."

At present he intended briefly to refer to the history of the church. In future he intended to write a much fuller history of the edifice, and to the end requested assistance such as could be given.

The diamond anniversary of it could be celebrated in 1821, so that the record was a bill for blasting rock and preparing the foundation. This was done in 1820. Trinity was the church older than St. George's.

He believed that service of the Church of England was established earlier in Carleton than in the city proper. One Benjamin Snow was in 1788 appointed schoolmaster and catechist for Carleton by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel.

The next was Timothy Fitcher Westmore, who was the professional father of the whole teaching staff of Carleton. After one Button, Rev. Richard Clarke's name appeared. His first recorded baptism was of children of Wm. and Annie Young.

In 1828 he also baptised two more servants (colored) of Colonel Ludlow. Next was Rev. Mr. Bisset, upon whose death service was conducted by Rev. Mathew Byles, to a relative of whom the church was indebted for a grant of land in 1811.

In 1822 Rev. Frederick Coster was appointed missionary to Grand Lake, but was allowed to exchange with Rev. Mr. Wood, having exclusive jurisdiction at Carleton. He became and continued for 43 years first rector, Coster being succeeded by St. George's as a parish in 1825.

St. George's was the first church warden. It appeared from the minutes that the congregation of St. George's had some 100 members in their first year. In this year the church was dedicated by Bishop Inglis, and with one exception has ever since been open for the service of God.

On Aug. 15, 1826, Mr. Bentley offered a site for a graveyard, the present one, and then refused as being too far away, and the people decided to use that surrounding the church.

THE LEAD INDUSTRY.

The Canada Paint Company to Commence Operations Near the Falls. Every city or town has some industry that is, as it were, effervescent, sometimes working in good shape and then like turbulent waters relaxing in a morose and perhaps being altogether subsided.

The slight of the operation have been principally in the vicinity of the falls, although attempts to mine it have been made at Lily lake and back of Fort Howe. The best of the most extended operations have been at the shaft sunk near Murray's mill.

The Canada Paint company have on present a granite shaft, the principal surface water, but in a very few days the new operators will have machinery that is daily expected from Montreal put in place and then in operation.

REV. DR. MACRAE'S FARWELL.

The Pastor of St. Stephen's Presbyterian Church Preaches His Last St. John Sermon.

The New Principal of North College Says Farwell to His Congregation.

Rev. Dr. Macrae preached his last sermon as minister of St. Stephen's church to a large congregation in that edifice Sunday evening. He took for his text: II. Cor. xiii, 11th to 14th verse: "Finally brethren farwell, etc."

So, in disconnected sentences, this letter of the great apostle, like most letters, hastens to its close. So is it ordinarily with every life, with, too, those segments of life by which the careers of most men are bounded and divided.

The preacher then commented at considerable length upon the paragraph taken as his text, referring at intervals to the circumstances in which he and the congregation were met. He concluded as follows: It is the gift of the Holy Spirit secured in the covenant of redemption by the death of Christ that applies to us the benefits of his mediation.
