ives than taking part myself, but when the debate touches on my own departthe depate touches on my own department and its policy, I feel called upon to explain my position and that of the Government. No person on the floors of the House can understand fully the position of the lumber and hemlock bark interests in the County of Kent, without taking into consideration the working of the Labor and Free Grant Acts and their connection with the subject now before the House, and I think that when this is explained you will agree that the Government were acting in the very best interests of the Province in the course they The amount of hemlock lands disposed of, as referred to by the resolution, was 4,800 acres, and was not done by me alone but was carefully considered in Council, and the conclusion adopted was to put these lands up for public competition which any member must recognize at once as the only equitable manner to proceed. The great fault in the County of Kent as regards the Labor Act is the system of transfers and disputes as to old claims for improvements. The settlers would send to the Crown Land Office and have these transfers filed, creating trouble and confusion in the books of the office, so that it was almost impossible to keep a true record of the lots and the settlers on them. They would also sell the right of cutting the logs on these lots for from $5 to $8 to some lumber operator, and keep on changing around, until it developed into a regular system of fraud on the Government. Inder this Labor Act no particular system of settlement was devised, there was no

Let me read you what the ment, it could only be to strip the lands of the bark. Acting then, sir, on his advice and feeling assured that his knowledge and long experience of our Forests and Province was as sincere as the hon.
mover of the resolution, the Government decided on the policy they pursued Let me read you from a report by Mr. J A. McCallum, in reference to this ques-tion and the result of the settlement of these lands by these settlers. The second sentence says:—"Numbers of persons are taking lands under the Free Grant and Labor Acts, and when they get from two to four acres on the lot un-der crop, and a house 16x20 feet built thereon, at a cost probably not exceeding fifty dollars, they obtain license to cu and remove lumber from off the lot. One instance on the Kouchibouguac last win-ter—the settler had removed 188 M, and I have known where 450 M, was taken off a 100 acre lot, and not half the timber fit for logs." * * * * * * * * * * * * * Sixth sentence. The Licenses on those

Rivers are reduced in area year after year as lots are located to applicants. The danger to the whole forests from the fires of settlers clearing the land is very great, and it is not improbable that a fire originating in this way will sweep the whole of these timber lands and destroy them totally, thereby rendering the mills plained that the Government were not offering the same inducements to our people to settle, as were offered to strangers. The immediate curtailment strangers. The immediate curtailment of which no information has against the sales of these lands. This MACK'S MAGNETIO MEDICINE 60.

his lands. And now, Mr. Speaker, did I not from this very admission have good reason for taking the particular pains I did with reference to the application from that mas in the Free Grants Act, when it was necessary for at least 10 settlers to locate in some one block before it would be surveyed and the lots located. Under the Labor Act they simply stated in their application that they were over 18 years of age, possessed of no other property in the Province, and would clear a certain amount of land each year. The settler could then locate into the green woods was not able to attend to the matter at the time. It has been said by an honorable to accommittee was refused last session to inquire into the sale of lands in Kent County. That statement is not correct. I demanded a charge should be made against me and I would not be applied for, for settlement, were it not for the timber growing upon the Province, and would clear a certain amount of land each year. The settler county, but still he thinks we should go on allowing settlers to select lots where dition, spending while so doing several millions of dollars in the country.

"From the nature of the lumber business it can often draw its supply of logs from an immense distance, sending men into the virgin forest, they cut down all the trees that are worth anything, so that when the poor settler comes along, he finds nothing to compensate him for his labor in clearing the land till be can raise his crops, whereas in our case from the very first stroke of his axe he has commenced to earn money and thereby to obtain the necessaries of life for himself and family."

be buint over, and whatever timber there may be on them thus destroyed, in which case they would be very difficult to settle. The sooner therefore they are occupied the bettler and mercaver the less danger there will be of their being burnt. * * * All of which is most respectfully submitted by Yours faithfully,

J. & J. MILLER & Co.'.

Now, Mr. Speaker, what was the proposition of the Messrs. Miller & Co.? That they would commence at once the selecting of the lands; that they would have the same surveyed at their own exhause of the revenue as well as to the general interests of the Province.

"Sth. The undersigned would further submit that, as the quality of the land in the truct above mentioned is not desirable for settlement, the said tracts should be reserved as being more valuable for timber-producing lands than for settlement, especially without destroying these lands, which, if withheld from settlers, would yield a continuous crop of lumber, to the manifest advantage of the revenue as well as to the general thereses.

Training Heifers.

It is an easy matter to train a heifer to stand quietly to be milked, but it is easier to train them to jump, with you and learn an extradi the teats. This is the great source never ordained. of trouble A cow naturally wishes to be rid of her milk. She stands quietly until some careless milker has given a squeeze that hurts, when she kicks and runs. By allowing such a course a few times, the habit will be confirmed. The best way to manage, if you have no stable, is to have a well fenced yard, and teach your heifers to stand for milking in that; or, next best, to tie them, using them very quietly. No man or boy is fit to handle animals unless he can control them, and control himself. Neither is it right to chastise the ignorant. -Ex.

Comfort from Newspapers.

Many years ago, in one of the severe winters when there was much hardship among the poor, a city paper suggested that old newspapers. spread over the bed, would form an excellent substitute for blankets and coverlets. This brought upon the journal a great deal of harmless ridicule from other papers, but it brought comfort to many a poor family. In the matter of bed-clothing, especially, we are apt to associate warmth with weight, and do not consider that there is no warmth in the coverings themselves, but that they merely prevent the heat of the body from passing off. Whatever is a poor conductor of heat will make a warm covering. Paper itself is a poor conductor, but still poorer are the thin layers of air that are confined when two or three newspapers are laid upon one another. A few newspapers laid over the bed will keep one much warmer than some of the heavy, close-woven blankets and comfortable rest in a thinly clad bed, and if we cannot afford to give a destitute family a blanket or a comforter, we may show them how to increase the usefulness of their thin coverings by stitching a few layers of newspapers between them. It may be well to remiad those who grow window-plants, that by removing the away from the window. and arranging a cover of newspapers over them, they may be preserved over them, they may be preserved from harm in severely cold nights.

O N and after Monday, the 21st November, the trains will run daily (Sundays ex-With the plants as with ourselves, it is not so much that cold comes in, as that the heat goes off, and often Express for Quebec, a slight protection will prevent the escape of heat .- Ex.

Temperance in Winnipeg.

A newspaper correspondent writing from Winnipeg says:—People down your way have heard much of our fortunate ones, and the fortunes they have made; I purpose to tell you a little of the men who have been wrecked in pocket, health and mind, in this busy centre, through whiskey. Half a dozen corpses have been sent to Ontario within as many weeks, of promising men who came up here, lost their heads, and died in the horrors. Death came to some in the cells; one swas frozen to death; another was recaed by a friend, taken to his home and nursed, but the succour came too St. John, Mar. 11. 21 & 22 South Wharf. late. Another died in the hospital on Thursday last. The latter in an illfated moment, went upon a spree, and challenged the attacks of two formid able foes, Winnipeg whiskey and Winnipeg winter. Sick and prostrate from overindulgence, he seems to have wandered into a cold warehouse, where he lay helpless and alone. The frost soon did its work upon his weakened body, and when he was found human skill availed but little. The men who have thus come to an untimely end had met with bad luck in their speculating ventures, or had j. R. CAMERON, For two signed. had their heads turned with success and took to strong drink. As a local paper says, the stranger who comes here for the purpose of sliding down hill will find the slope well greased for his purpose. Dissipation kills quicker here than down east. The very atmosphere is a strong stimulant that acts powerfully upon nerve strained to their utmost tension by our exciting methods of doing business Add alcoholic fuel to this fire and the human frame melts in it.

Death of the Poet Longfellou Boston, March 25 .- Henry Wads worth Longfellow, the poet, died at his residence in Cambridge this p. m., aged 75 years, of peritonitis. For some time, Longfellow has been troubled with indigestion, but not until Saturday last was he taken seriously ill. He had suffered also from nervous affection and his powers of recupe ation being reduced thereby, he fel an easy victim to the disease. Longfellow was born in Portland, Me., February 27, 1807. After preliminary studies, he was sent to Bow doin College where he graduated in 1825. He entered upon the professorship of Modern Languages and Literature in Harvard College, which position he held seventeen years. Many of his best poems were published during this time. He visited Europe several times, being received with distinguished honors. Longfellow was twice married, the second to a daughter of the Hon. Nathan Appleton of this city, who is now deceased. The funeral of the dead poet will probably occur on Monday and will be private.

London, March 25, a. m.—The Times says: "The news of Longfellow's death will be received with deep regret wherever the English language is spoken. The death of no literary Englishman could excite more genuine sorrow than that of the much loved author of Evangeline.' He will be no more since ely lamented in America than in this country."
