CHEERY'S TROUBLES
Were of the Heart—Human Skill was almost proved when Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart fell to the ground and in a few Minutes after one Dose He Found Great Relief, and Five Bottles Made a Bad Heart a Good One.
Wm. Cherry, of Owen Sound, Ont., writes: "For the past two years I have been greatly troubled with weakness of the heart and fainting spells. I tried several remedies, and consulted best physicians without any apparent relief. I noticed testimonials of great cures made by Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. I procured a bottle, and the first dose gave me great relief. The first bottle did wonders for me. After using five bottles there are none of the symptoms remaining whatever. I think it is a great boon to mankind."—Sold by E. Lee Street.

A BIG DEFICIT.
In preparing his tariff measure Mr. Fielding will have to provide for a huge deficit for the current fiscal year. According to the figures published in the last Canada Gazette the revenue for the eight months of the fiscal year ended 28th February was $23,071,548 and expenditure $22,282,843, showing a surplus of $808,705 while in the corresponding period last year the revenue was $23,871,102 and expenditure $21,377,572 showing a surplus of $2,493,530, so that while the revenue has decreased $1,844,497 the expenditure has increased $884,037. But bad as this showing is it does not fairly represent the effect which the Government's lack of policy on the tariff question has had in paralyzing trade and causing an unprecedented falling off in the revenue. To understand this properly it is necessary to divide the eight months into two periods, one from the opening of the fiscal year on 1st July, when the Conservative Government was practically out of office, to the 30th September when transactions which had been entered into while it was thought the Conservative party would remain in power; and the other covering the five months during which Mr. Laurier's Tariff Commission has been fishing for a policy. For the first three months the revenue was $8,846,208, as compared with $8,610,504, for the same three months in 1896, showing an increase of $235,044; and the expenditure was $4,992,351, as compared with $5,337,037, in 1896, a decrease of $374,776, showing a betterment of $1,110,390 in the three months. Now see what followed. On 5th October, Parliament was prorogued without any announcement being made on the tariff, and on the 14th of the same month the expenditure, under an 'economical' Grit Government took an immense leap upward. The revenue for the five months was only $14,235,340, as compared with $15,290,698 last year, a decrease of $1,055,358, while the expenditure was $16,840,348, the same period rose from $16,840,348 in 1896, to $17,760,249 in 1897, an increase for the five months of $1,760,249. To put it in another way, during the first three months of the fiscal year the revenue increased $235,044, and the expenditure decreased $374,776, while for the last five months the revenue has decreased $1,055,358, and the expenditure has increased $1,760,249. In other words, the revenue is decreasing at the rate of $800,000 a month, and the expenditure increasing at the rate of $375,000 a month, and if these rates continue for the next four months, they are likely to grow worse instead of better. Mr. Fielding will have to raise $2,000,000 more out of thin air to meet the end of the fiscal year is reached, and to this must be added the $6,000,000 or $5,500,000 to cover interest on Savings Bank deposits and other items of expenditure which are only charged once a year, so that the deficit cannot well be less for the year than $7,000,000 or $8,000,000. To this must be added the expenditure on capital account, about $4,000,000 to $4,500,000, and it will be seen that the net result of the first financial year of the 'Economic' Grit Government will be an addition to the Public Debt, of about $13,000,000.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
Came to the Rescue and Delivery of Manifold Suffering Forever the Deadly Assaults of Life's Most Insidious Foe.
Men are dropping from the ranks everywhere. Out down in the flower of youth or the fruits of manhood by that ruthless destroyer—Bright's Disease of the Kidneys.
Only a few days ago Sir Hercules Robinson, the doughty governor of Cape Colony was forced to resign that post because of encroaching Bright's Disease.
Hardly had his successor been appointed when the illness brought tidings of the death of William P. St. John, a New York banker, and remembered by every man as the treasurer of the National Democratic party during the latest national campaign, Bright's Disease carried him off.
It has killed many better men than most of us. So has Diabetes, its twin brother. There is one cure (and only one) that never fails in cases of Diabetes and Bright's Disease. Let these testimonials bear witness:
Mr. Fred Cartwright, Palmerton, Ont., says: "After many years suffering with Bright's Disease, I am a new man, cured by using three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills."
Mr. F. Y. Groulx, Ottawa, Ont., says: "Dodd's Kidney Pills have been a god-send to me as they have cured me of Bright's Disease of the Kidneys."
S. G. Moore, King St., London, Ont., says: "I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills in my life, disappearing of recovery from Bright's Disease."
Mr. Chas. T. Byr, Garryowen P. O., Ont., says: "For the past three years I have suffered of Diabetes, but noticing the testimonials published in the National Kidney Pills which have perfectly cured me."
DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS are for sale by druggists everywhere, and by the Dodd's Medicine Co., Toronto, Ont. Price 50 cents a box.

GOT TEN YEARS.
JOE HANDLEY SENTENCED TO DORCHESTER.
Joe Handley, who was found guilty of a manslaughter on Edgar Keenan, was sentenced by Mr. Justice Ritchie this morning and made something of a stir as he was being removed back to jail.
In sentencing the prisoner his lordship remarked that under the circumstances he could not impose a term of twenty years but he would not give him the full penalty; he would sentence him to ten years in the penitentiary.—Halifax Chronicle.

GREATEST IN THE WORLD.
LORAN E. ADAMS, Deep Brook, N. S., says: "I have taken Norway Pine Syrup with grand results. I had a very bad cold, and it would not get me any relief, but after taking one bottle of Norway Pine Syrup I was entirely cured. It is the greatest cough medicine in the world."
THE CANADIAN WEST.
WINNIPEG, Man., March 30.—The Manitoba legislature was prorogued this afternoon, the session having been an extremely short one. One of the last acts of the legislature was to adopt a memorial to the Queen, congratulating her Majesty on her jubilee, and also a Premier Greenway, who is not in good health, has decided to postpone his trip to Ottawa, and has gone to take a rest at his country home. About the first week in May he will proceed to Ottawa, and will be accompanied by Col. McMillan, the provincial treasurer.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.
OTTAWA, March 29.—Amid rousing liberal cheers, quite from Bonaventure, was introduced by Messrs. Laurier and Talbot, and took his seat.
Mr. Casey introduced his bill to secure the safety of railway employees and passengers, the object of which he explained is to provide for the compulsory use of air brakes, and of certain attachments to box cars. Another feature of the measure provides for compensation to railway employees injured in the performance of their duty through fault of their own.
Mr. Maclean introduced a bill to promote the safety of railway employees, the object of which is to provide for the adoption of the automatic air brake. He said the different railway organizations in the country approved of the principle of the measure.
Mr. Cowan introduced his bill respecting the employment of aliens in the Dominion. It provides that no alien shall enter Canada to work under contract; nor shall any person be employed in Canada who resides in a foreign country.
Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick introduced a bill to repeal the Franchise act and make Family Ties may be Broken in the Grand Rush for Gold, but What's Wealth Without Health—Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder is a Wonderful Cure for Never Fails to Relieve in Ten Minutes.

Fred Lawrie, of Trail Creek, B. C., writes: "I have used two bottles of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, and have been wonderfully helped. I can recommend it very highly to all sufferers from Catarrh." And here is another:—Mr. B. L. Egan, Easton Pa., says: "When I read that Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder would relieve Catarrh in 10 minutes I must say I was far from being convinced of the fact. I decided to try it. I purchased a bottle. A single puff of the powder through the blowers afforded instantaneous relief."—Sold by E. Lee Street.

that the blockade of the ports of Crete by the ships of the powers shall be continued. The Admirals commanding the European warships in Crete waters propose to blockade the J. Egeu Gulf as well and the continental powers will adhere to this proposal if England also does.
ATHENS, March 31.—The Cretean insurgents who have arrived here have made an appeal to the heads of the European state, praying in the name of humanity that the blockade of the Crete ports by the warships of the powers be admitted to the island, thus permitting the famished thousands of helpless men, women and children in Crete. The Red Cross Society has made an international appeal for aid for the inhabitants of the island. The armed insurgents are able to obtain provisions by going to the coast for supplies, but the people living inland are destitute.

THE SITUATION IN CRETE.
ATHENS, March 31.—It is understood here that Great Britain does not desire to enter Canada to work under contract; nor shall any person be employed in Canada who resides in a foreign country.
Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick introduced a bill to repeal the Franchise act and make provision in lieu thereof. He said the bill in substance the scope of the bill. In addition, the bill provided that the provincial franchise voters list and polling subdivisions should be substituted for the present Dominion franchise.

Sir Charles Tupper said the opposition felt very strongly on this question. Many objections could be raised to the bill. The government could not expect such a measure as this to pass the house without full and elaborate discussion. He did not mean to say the present franchise act could not be improved, and he thought especially so in regard to expense. Doubtless the house could devise means to mitigate the complaint. He questioned, however, the propriety of passing this bill at this moment. In England it was usual after a change in the ministry to appeal to the electors and it was evident the government had no such intention, what then was the necessity for pressing this measure now. The government would have to indicate its position by bringing down a bill and letting it stand over until a future session. It was extremely important that the prime minister should visit England in connection with the jubilee festival; that was an additional reason why a contentious measure of this kind should not be pressed now. The great measure which the country was looking forward to was the tariff, and he urged that a bill of this kind should not be interposed. Personally he held the view that manhood suffrage might with safety be adopted as a basis of Dominion franchise. If this bill were passed it would be a general agreement might be reached in regard to the franchise that would be acceptable to the whole country.
Hon. Mr. Laurier said the government was convinced they could do nothing more delight by public opinion, than the introduction of this bill. For ten years the liberals have been asking for the repeal of the franchise act. If the opposition felt strongly in favor of the present act, they honored it more in the breach than in the observance. The government was pledged to the country to carry the measure and intended to carry out their pledge. Last session Sir Charles Tupper said the liberals would be out in six months; now, however, he had changed his mind. (Ministerial cheers.) There would be no necessity to go to the country immediately after the passage of this bill, as the people had passed on this question and on many others on June 23rd last. (Liberal cheers.)
Hon. Mr. Foster pointed out that the tariff was the chief measure of the session and the people were anxious to know what that tariff was to be. Nothing was to be gained by the passing of the franchise act this month. The great cry throughout the country was what are you going to do with our business.

the government ought to relieve the public.
Hon. Mr. Blair told Mr. Maclean that the government had under consideration the question of the negotiations with the C. P. R. for the abrogation or modification of clauses 14 and 20 of the company's contract. The first provides for free land grants for railway branches, stations, etc., and the latter that no interference shall take place as regards railway rates until the company is earning ten per cent. on its capital stock.
Hon. Mr. Foster read from a recent newspaper dispatch from Kingston that the cotton mill there was about to commence running full time. The report was current in Kingston that the company had got a tip from the government, and there would be no interference with the coming schedule. He hoped the minister of finance would be able to assure the house that nothing unconstitutional in the details of the tariff bill had occurred as to give an intimation to the cotton manufacturers.
Hon. Mr. Fielding said the hon. gentleman's hopes were exceedingly interesting. The present government would do nothing that was unconstitutional.
Hon. Mr. Foster asked if the reports were true.
Hon. Mr. Fielding replied he had no desire to be held responsible for newspaper statements.
Sir Richard Cartwright continued the debate on the address. He devoted most of his speech to the Manitoba school question, maintaining that the liberals had fulfilled all their promises. Referring to the tariff, he said he would not discuss the details at present. It is, he said, the earnest desire and wish of the electors of the government as far as lies in our power, to do justice to all classes—consumers, producers and manufacturers alike. We hope to be able to produce a tariff at an early day, and it will show at least that the government has made an honest attempt to discharge its duty towards the people who have placed it in power.
The debate was concluded by Messrs. Davin, Monk and Casgrain.
Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick moved an adjournment of the debate. The house adjourned at 11.10.
OTTAWA, March 30.—In the house today Hon. Mr. Melock introduced a bill to amend the Superannuation act. He said it dealt with the superannuation of officials who have contributed for ten years or more to the superannuation fund. In the event of such officials dying in the service they get nothing. If superannuated they would receive an annuity for the rest of their lives. The percentage deducted from the salaries to be funded and interest allowed on it. When an officer retires or resigns that money is his, but while in the service he will have no claim upon it. Should he die in the service it will pass to his heirs. Officers hereafter appointed will not come under this fund. Those who have contributed less than ten years will have five per cent. interest on their contributions, and the sum will be carried to their credit. The reason for the difference between those who had not served ten years and those who had was because the latter could retire at any time with the gratuity.
Sir Charles Tupper said the bill departed from the principle underlying the superannuation system, and would look to the Manitoba legislature and to where officers who were either suffering from ill health or were inefficient through old age were kept on because dismissal would reduce their families to destitution.
Hon. Mr. Montague said the optional classes would throw a great burden on the fund.
Hon. Mr. Fielding, on the orders of the day being called, said the statement in the Ottawa Citizen that he had given away private tips regarding the coming tariff was absolutely false and without the shadow of foundation.
Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick then rose to continue the debate on the address. He plunged into a discussion of the school question, incidentally referring to Mr. Foster's attack upon him for non-fulfillment of his ante-election pledge to his bishop. He had one remark to make, and that was when the inside history of the school agitation was written it would be seen who were the secret foes and false friends of the Manitoba minority. (Liberal cheers.) He referred to the mandament of last June, and expressed himself as not opposed to the interference of the Roman Catholic clergy in elections, but he did object to their interference in party politics. The two parties should have been allowed to fight out the issue, without clerical interference. Despite the pledges given by himself and friends, there had been most active interference against the liberal candidates.
The phrase amounted to a contract between two parties, but neither party seemingly had lived up to it. His (Fitzpatrick's) case was the most aggravated of the lot. He meant to stand by his pledge, no matter what the consequence might be. Having given his pledge to his bishops, from that day to this he had not been called upon for an explanation as to whether he had fulfilled its conditions, but the pledge had been delivered

Hon. Mr. Fielding replied he had no desire to be held responsible for newspaper statements.
Sir Richard Cartwright continued the debate on the address. He devoted most of his speech to the Manitoba school question, maintaining that the liberals had fulfilled all their promises. Referring to the tariff, he said he would not discuss the details at present. It is, he said, the earnest desire and wish of the electors of the government as far as lies in our power, to do justice to all classes—consumers, producers and manufacturers alike. We hope to be able to produce a tariff at an early day, and it will show at least that the government has made an honest attempt to discharge its duty towards the people who have placed it in power.
The debate was concluded by Messrs. Davin, Monk and Casgrain.
Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick moved an adjournment of the debate. The house adjourned at 11.10.
OTTAWA, March 30.—In the house today Hon. Mr. Melock introduced a bill to amend the Superannuation act. He said it dealt with the superannuation of officials who have contributed for ten years or more to the superannuation fund. In the event of such officials dying in the service they get nothing. If superannuated they would receive an annuity for the rest of their lives. The percentage deducted from the salaries to be funded and interest allowed on it. When an officer retires or resigns that money is his, but while in the service he will have no claim upon it. Should he die in the service it will pass to his heirs. Officers hereafter appointed will not come under this fund. Those who have contributed less than ten years will have five per cent. interest on their contributions, and the sum will be carried to their credit. The reason for the difference between those who had not served ten years and those who had was because the latter could retire at any time with the gratuity.
Sir Charles Tupper said the bill departed from the principle underlying the superannuation system, and would look to the Manitoba legislature and to where officers who were either suffering from ill health or were inefficient through old age were kept on because dismissal would reduce their families to destitution.
Hon. Mr. Montague said the optional classes would throw a great burden on the fund.
Hon. Mr. Fielding, on the orders of the day being called, said the statement in the Ottawa Citizen that he had given away private tips regarding the coming tariff was absolutely false and without the shadow of foundation.
Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick then rose to continue the debate on the address. He plunged into a discussion of the school question, incidentally referring to Mr. Foster's attack upon him for non-fulfillment of his ante-election pledge to his bishop. He had one remark to make, and that was when the inside history of the school agitation was written it would be seen who were the secret foes and false friends of the Manitoba minority. (Liberal cheers.) He referred to the mandament of last June, and expressed himself as not opposed to the interference of the Roman Catholic clergy in elections, but he did object to their interference in party politics. The two parties should have been allowed to fight out the issue, without clerical interference. Despite the pledges given by himself and friends, there had been most active interference against the liberal candidates.
The phrase amounted to a contract between two parties, but neither party seemingly had lived up to it. His (Fitzpatrick's) case was the most aggravated of the lot. He meant to stand by his pledge, no matter what the consequence might be. Having given his pledge to his bishops, from that day to this he had not been called upon for an explanation as to whether he had fulfilled its conditions, but the pledge had been delivered

Hon. Mr. Blair told Mr. Maclean that the government had under consideration the question of the negotiations with the C. P. R. for the abrogation or modification of clauses 14 and 20 of the company's contract. The first provides for free land grants for railway branches, stations, etc., and the latter that no interference shall take place as regards railway rates until the company is earning ten per cent. on its capital stock.
Hon. Mr. Foster read from a recent newspaper dispatch from Kingston that the cotton mill there was about to commence running full time. The report was current in Kingston that the company had got a tip from the government, and there would be no interference with the coming schedule. He hoped the minister of finance would be able to assure the house that nothing unconstitutional in the details of the tariff bill had occurred as to give an intimation to the cotton manufacturers.
Hon. Mr. Fielding said the hon. gentleman's hopes were exceedingly interesting. The present government would do nothing that was unconstitutional.
Hon. Mr. Foster asked if the reports were true.
Hon. Mr. Fielding replied he had no desire to be held responsible for newspaper statements.

It was not without a strain at the heart strings that the death of Mrs. Sarah Murray came to us and to many of those who help to make up our community. The end came as she had wished swiftly and surely, altogether unexpected, her intelligence clear, her thoughts as ever unclouded only for those to whom she had devoted a life, and faithful life service.

The death is mourned by Mr. Richard Davidson a former resident of this town, who died at Winnipeg, on Monday, March 29th.

not only as regards their independence and constitutional liberty, but as regards the liberty of political parties as well, to some of whom the church or the pope desire that Catholic interests should bind themselves. The church holds herself on a higher plane, and looks only to the common good, to the reign of truth, justice and peace.

Hon. Mr. Tarte said if it suited the opposition to fight the school question he did not object. They had been fairly beaten in June last, and the liberals were prepared to repeat the dose at any time. (Government cheers.)

Mr. Casgrain asked if the hon. gentleman meant to accuse any of the bishops who went to Rome of branding Mr. Laurier as a head Catholic and a Free Mason.

"Yes," said Mr. Tarte, "the hon. gentleman who is at the head of affairs to-day (Mr. Laurier) was denounced to the papal authorities as a head Catholic and a Free Mason."

Then Mr. Tarte went on to say that the bishops upon their return issued a circular stating that the pope had assured them no delegate would be sent. But a delegate had been sent, said Mr. Tarte.

"My sons," he said, "publish a paper, the Cultivator, in which I am the principal editor. That paper, without any explanation being asked, was placed under the ban. That means in the diocese of Chicoutimi there is not a Roman Catholic who goes to confession but the first question he is asked is, if he is a subscriber to my son's paper. I feel I can be a good Roman Catholic and a good British citizen at the same time. I know that if the pope, who is one of the broadest minded men of his age, know the impression that was being produced he would put a stop to it. And we were not mistaken."

Mr. Tarte read the pledge which the bishop of Rimouski asked Mr. Guite of Bonaventure to sign, and praised him for not signing. He added: "We therefore went to Rome for liberty. The allies of the hon. gentleman opposite went to Rome against liberty." as to the charge that the minority had not been consulted, Mr. Tarte declared that he had four interviews with Mr. Langevin himself. But his grace would have nothing but separate schools, and that was out of the question. The holy see was not opposed to public schools, for in Ontario the public schools were attended by fifty thousand Roman Catholic pupils, yet in those schools religious teaching was restricted to one hour a week.

In his naive way Mr. Tarte dealt with the tariff. "Of course," said he "our friends opposite thought the government was going to make a fool of itself. But the government is not going to do it. I never saw among a body of such safe men as the members of this government. The country will be all right."

A FARMER'S WIFE. Tells a Story of Years of Pain and Suffering. Doctors Utterly Failed to Help Her and Morphine was Continually Resorted to—Became So Weak She Could Scarcely Perform Household Duties.

From the Beaver, Napames, Mr. and Mrs. Bobb, Stone have been residents of the township of Ernestown, about ten miles east of Napames, for a period of about three years, and at that time have gained the esteem of all their neighbors. For six years previous to this time they had lived in Glenwood Springs, Colorado, and it was during their residence there that Mrs. Stone was attacked with an illness that made her life miserable for years. To a reporter who recently interviewed her she told the following story: "During the early part of our residence in Colorado, my illness first came on. At the outset every day or three weeks I would be attacked with a pain in my stomach. Later on it greatly increased in severity, and at times was so bad that I would scream aloud with the pain. A doctor was called in, but the only benefit I ever derived from his treatment was through as a result of which the pain would gradually pass away. The medicine which was given me, however, had not the slightest effect, and the doctor appeared to be greatly perplexed, and thereafter continually resorted to injections of morphine whenever the attacks came on. These attacks continued at intervals until our return to Canada, when they increased in frequency and intensity. The result was that I grew very weak, and my whole system appeared to be giving out. My complexion turned a yellowish hue, and I had little or no appetite. Latterly I would be attacked with fainting spells, preceded by attacks of dizziness. I became utterly unable to stand fatigue, and could with the greatest difficulty perform my household duties. A doctor was called in who treated me for some time without benefiting me any. Then he gave me what I now know to be Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after I had used two boxes I felt somewhat better. I then purchased the pills myself and continued the treatment. I found that the pain was gradually decreasing. I could get rest and sleep at night, which hitherto had been almost impossible. I continued using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for several months and the result is that they have effected a complete cure, and I had no more of the best of health. I can assure you it is a great relief to be free from the trouble that made my life so miserable.
