Commissioner's Court. —Two barrels of oil adrift from schr. "Ella Mand" were seized by the Customs authorities in the possession of Gilbert Wheaton, Midgie, on Saturday. An examination will be held this morning.

—A big marsh suit is in progress before Commissioner Cahill, and it promises to be a big suit. It has lasted eight days already. The minutes of evidence occupy over 200 folios already, with a good outlook of taking up several hundred folios additional. The case is Silas Estabrooks vs. Commissioners of Sewers. The point at issue is the power of Commissioners to authorize certain work, which plaintiff claims is a trespass. There is a large array of legal talent employed, numerous witnesses, and a court full of spectators. The case comes on to-day.

Shediac and Cape Tormentine. The promoters of the projected railway from Shediac via Bristol and Shemogue to Cape Tormentine are working energetically and appear to be much in earnest. A large sum of money has been collected, and the project is being actively pursued. The proposed road would open up a fine tract of country and be of considerable benefit to the people along the shore, but it is not probable that the line would have anything but local traffic, as it could not compete with the Point du Chene route. The Post is in favor of all local enterprises calculated to open up and develop the resources of the country; but in the present depressed state of the Provincial finances there seems but little prospect of a subsidy being granted to the projected railway.

County Council. The following are the Councilors elected for the Westmorland Municipal Council:—

Moncton.—Messrs. Mills and Lutz. Shediac.—Messrs. Smith and Gallant. Woodford.—Messrs. Lutz and Lutz. Dorchester.—Messrs. Palmer and Taylor. Sackville.—Messrs. Ogden and Lovell.

—Matters remain in statu quo as regards the woollen mill. There is not much done towards rebuilding and rumors are very uncertain. The shop, formerly run in connection with the factory, has been closed. Mr. Lusby's is now the only mercantile establishment in the place.

Pugwash. —A number of ducks, geese and partridge have lately fallen victims to sportsmen's guns.

—The weather continues fine; not much change in temperature reported day after day on the bulletin.

—Old Mr. Wm. Moody, of Gulf Shore, is still quite well and hearty, retaining his mental faculties, eyesight and hearing in his 104th year. Potatoes all gathered in—an unprecedented good crop. Farmers are preparing the land for spring operations, but find it too dry for plowing sward land.

—Some improvements are going on. The store formerly occupied by Mr. John Seaman, grocer, has been moved eight feet up harbor and a stone foundation put under it. The new front is being put in. Mr. Seaman now occupies the shop up to the post office, where Dr. McIntosh had his drug store.

—One schooner is in port loading hay for Cape Breton, and one expected to arrive on Tuesday. The mode by which all the goods were formerly brought from Halifax into the town commenced—considerably less expensive for heavy goods by vessel than by railroad, especially when truckage fifteen miles has to be paid.

ROCKPORT MAIL.—A petition has been signed at Rockport to have the time of the new mail for that place from Sackville. We agree fully with the object of the petition. It would prove a greater accommodation to the people of Rockport and no disadvantage to Sackville.

—The Canadian Pacific Railway will have the arrival here of the Halifax and St. John trains and return the same day, would involve little travelling, for which there is no occasion, whatever. We apprehend the proposed arrangement will be of great benefit to the authorities without a proper acquaintance with the wants of the locality.

KNAPP VS. KNAPP.—On application to the Supreme Court on the part of Mrs. W. J. Knapp, the judgment of E. B. Knapp vs. A. W. D. Knapp for $10,000 was set aside a few days ago.

—It is rumored that a gentleman, once prominently connected with the lobster packing business, has left home suddenly and without any formal leave-taking. A number of persons interested in his welfare are looking anxiously for his return.

Bristol. —The surveyors of the proposed railway from Shediac to Cape Tormentine are within a few miles of here.

—One night last week a bear came forth from his forest home and treated himself to a sheep from Mr. Woodford's flock. Not having completely devoured the carcass at the first attempt, he returned on the next two consecutive nights without feeling lead, or even hearing the gun.

—On Tuesday morning, a prominent one of the social events took place at the residence of Mr. Lewis Avar, when his daughter, Fannie, was married to Mr. John Carter, of Bathurst. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. T. Teed. The bride was the recipient of many nice presents, notable among which may be mentioned a handsome gold watch chain to correspond. Your correspondent most heartily congratulates.

One boy engaged to pay the other two 60 or 65 cents per bottle for the rum they could get, and when bought, it was taken to the boy's father who at the trial stated that about seven dollars was his share.

—A story of the parties connected with the affair from the justice to the criminal may yet be written.
