FUGITIVE BANDIT BELIEVED TO BE HIDING IN LONDON; INFORMATION GIVEN POLICE

Number of Citizens Claim To Have Seen "Pat" the Desperado Since Melbourne Outrage — Murrell Brothers, Murphy and Water Guilty of Stealing Auto On February 23 — Remanded for Sentence.

"Pat," the fugitive bandit, wanted in connection with the killing of Russell Campbell at Melbourne on Monday, is said to have been in London. The report current is that after his escape from the two men who had him cornered with a rifle on the Lakeside farm on the third concession of Carleton Place, the gunman headed for a swamp and then came to London. The theory is that he is hiding until nightfall, and then under cover of darkness reached the city. A number of citizens who claim to have seen the elusive "Pat" in company with the Murrell brothers on occasion of the Melbourne outrage, and might at the present moment be in the city. "Just at present we are just as far away from getting him as ever were," said Inspector of Detectives Thomas H. Nickle this morning. London police wired all Ontario and border points to be on the watch for the desperado, and in all parts of the province search is still being continued for the man.

Remanded for Sentence.

HAD BOAT AND CAR

J. F. Mowat, Accountant For License Commission, Gives Evidence.

Toronto, April 13.—Interesting evidence concerning expenses incurred by Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin while enforcing the O. T. A. in the border cities, was forthcoming when J. F. Mowat, accountant to the board of license commissioners, testified before the committee on public accounts this morning. H. H. Dewar, K. C., drew his attention to an item of $1,474 for traveling expenses for Mr. Spracklin. Mr. Mowat admitted that a Paige car had been purchased for Mr. Spracklin's use. Prior to that, it is said, he had charged $1.50 and $2 an hour for the use of his own Ford. He had also hired taxicabs at $1.50 an hour. Spracklin had been paid amounts covering these charges on presentation of his own vouchers. In addition, a boat had been hired for Mr. Spracklin at a cost of $3,500. Answering Mr. Dewar as to Mr. Spracklin's authority to engage extra constables, Mr. Mowat said, "Mr. Spracklin had authority to employ any help he needed."

BUILDING FIGURES FOR MONTH ALREADY BEAT APRIL OF LAST YEAR

Permits for Construction of Large Number of Houses Indicate That Special Efforts Are Being Made This Spring To Relieve Housing Shortage.

Although less than half the month has elapsed, building figures have passed the total reached by the end of April last year. Building Inspector A. M. Piper regards this as a remarkable feat particularly as no exceptionally large buildings have been erected. Moderate-sized houses account for most of the boom.

The inspector is confident that the city has entered on an era of substantial development so far as homes are concerned and at the present rate of building there will soon be hope of coping with the housing shortage. The falling off during the war years will of course not be offset for some time, but the outlook is decidedly good.

MISS BIRDIE REEVE A REGULAR WONDER ON THE TYPEWRITER

Youthful Prodigy Claims Continent-Wide Supremacy.

HAS FINE PRESS AGENT

Her Sister Rose, 10 Years of Age, Is Proud of Sister Birdie.

Few people realize that there is a youthful prodigy in London in the person of Miss Birdie Reeve, public stenographer at the Tecumseh House, who came to the city a few weeks ago with her father and equally clever younger sister, Miss Rose. Birdie is 14 years of age, yet she claims continent-wide supremacy in stenography, typewriting, penmanship, mastery of words, development of memory, and fluency of mind. The system which she uses is known as the "Universal" and is the invention of her father, Thomas L. Reeve, who comes here from the United States. This simple system, she claims, gives greater speed and more even copy, resembling a printed page. She declares that the use of the little finger and third finger retards speed because they are weaker than the first two fingers, and that for this same reason they do not put in alphabetical order, but rather in groups according to their ending. For example the "ology's" are all together, as are the "ations," etc.

Miss Birdie Reeve is an interesting personality, as is her 10-year-old sister, Miss Rose. Rose, who is also proficient in the "Universal" system, and acts as her press agent.

Miss Reeve's system is a demonstration of the system in the high school, and has attracted the interest of Col. Walter Brown of the Western University.

TRANSPLANTS BONES FROM MOTHER INTO LEGS OF INFANT

Newark, N. J., April 13.—Splinters from the shin bone of a mother were transplanted yesterday into the legs of an infant born without the fibula in the lower legs, by surgeons of the Newark Memorial Hospital. The operation, which was declared a probable success, was one of the most delicate in the series of clinics held in connection with the annual session of the State College of Surgeons. It took two hours.

A generation ago, doctors who attended the clinic said, such an operation was unheard of, and the child would probably have had to go through life without the use of the legs. The child operated on yesterday will most likely have the full use of its limbs, it was said.

ACTION IS DEMANDED

Railway Commission Expert Calls for Careful Survey of Situation.

Ottawa, April 13.—(Canadian Press.)—While provincial fuel controllers, especially in Ontario, pleaded with the United States fuel administration for an adequate supply of coal for domestic and industrial uses in Canada, Nova Scotia operators were shipping to European countries, particularly Holland and Denmark, according to evidence heard this morning by the parliamentary fuel committee. Bituminous coal, however, was shipped from Pennsylvania to England and Quebec. J. Cook, chief of the mining and metallurgical and chemical division, railway commission, the chief witness, told the committee that a possible repetition of a fuel famine in Canada similar to that which preceded the appointment of a fuel controller three years ago, demands that some definite, constructive action be taken to insure continuity of fuel supply for commercial and domestic uses in this country. Mr. Cook recommended that a survey be made of the entire coal situation in the Dominion with the view to co-ordinating data from all fields as well as the requirements of all provinces.

TRIPLE ALLIANCE STRIKE INVOLVING 4,000,000 MEN CALLED FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

Decision of Millions of British Workmen To Cease Activities Is Made After Failure of Striking Miners, Owners and Government To Reach a Settlement in Dispute — The Miners Force Issue With Railwaymen and Transport Workers When Latter Incline Towards Further Postponement of Direct Action.

HAS HOPES OF SETTLEMENT.
London, April 13.—Speaking of the triple alliance strike announcement, Mr. Lloyd George stated in the Commons that the situation thus created was "of great and increasing gravity," but he still hoped that wiser councils might prevail. Meanwhile, added the premier, the Government was taking all possible steps to meet the emergency.

Mr. Lloyd George said the Government deeply deplored the decision of the triple alliance. He emphatically doubted, he continued, whether a discussion of the question in the House today would advance the object all had in mind.

This last statement was greeted with cheers, and both John R. Clines, chairman of the Parliamentary Labor party, and Former Premier Asquith concurred in the opinion that debate would be unwise.

Mr. Clines added that between now and Friday other counsels might prevail. The debate, thereupon, was deferred.

London, April 13.—Great Britain's triple alliance of labor will call its members from their posts at 10 o'clock Friday night, it was announced here this morning at 11 o'clock. This decision follows the inability of the National Miners' Federation to reach an agreement with the mine owners and the Government for the settlement of the miners' strike, which began April 1.

The triple alliance is made up of the National Miners' Federation, having a membership of 800,000; the National Union of Railwaymen, with 300,000 members, and the National Federation of Transport Workers, which numbers as its members a large number of unions, which have a membership of close to 300,000. It has been estimated that if the alliance should call a strike there would be nearly 4,000,000 persons idle in Great Britain as a result.

Decision Is Unanimous.
The decision to strike was reached unanimously by the transport workers and railwaymen, J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the railwaymen's union, said after this morning's meeting. "The walkout," he declared, "will take place at 10 o'clock Friday night. Many other unions have sent applications to join the strike and these are being considered."

Reaffirmation by the triple alliance of its pledge to support the miners, night keep the industrial sky still dark. The postponement of the triple alliance sympathetic strike yesterday created an acute situation within the Labor camp. It was widely expected that some show of feeling over this seeming indication of weakness, made a peremptory demand upon their partners in the alliance this morning that they "lay their cards on the table" and declare finally whether they intend to strike and if so, when.

Argument of Miners.
The miners, it is learned, threw in the faces of the triple alliance leaders an argument contained in the manifesto issued by those very leaders last week, charging the Government and the owners with conspiracy to break up the trade union movement. The manifesto pointed out that the desertion of the railwaymen and the transport workers at this juncture would bring the triple alliance to a standstill. It was one of the contentions voiced, it is said.

VANCOUVER MAN IS MURDERED

Shot Last Night While Walking in Central Part of City.

Vancouver, B. C., April 12.—W. F. Salisbury, prominent shipping man of Vancouver, was shot and instantly killed by an unknown man while walking on Georgia street in the heart of the city last night. His assailant escaped.

Mr. Salisbury is about forty-five and unmarried. He is a native of Vancouver, and well known here. While shooting took place within a block of the principal shopping district, darkness favored the escape of the murderer. When the owner of a garage nearby, attracted by the report of the pistol, reached the spot, Salisbury was dead and his assailant had departed.

URGES GOVERNMENT TO NEGOTIATE DIRECT WITH TRIPLE ALLIANCE

London, April 13.—It is now feared that other labor organizations may become involved in the controversy between the government and the triple alliance. The Daily Mail declared today that the executive committee of the electrical trades union resolved last night to support the triple alliance. Electricians' strike would paralyze street car traffic and public lighting companies.

All London newspapers today dwell upon the situation.

HARDING DECLINES TO GRANT PARDONS UNTIL U. S. PEACE DECLARED

The delegation also called on President Harding, who declared he would take no action looking to general amnesty for prisoners convicted under the war time laws until a state of peace had been declared.

USE LORD ROBERTS PUBLIC SCHOOL YARD FOR PLAYGROUNDS

Board of Education Grants Request of the Recreation Commission.

Use of the Lord Roberts Public School yard as a playground during the summer months was suggested to No. 2 committee of the board of education Tuesday by the playground commission. The use of the swimming pool in the school was also asked, guarantee being given that it would be under proper supervision. The request was granted. The Y. W. C. A. also was granted the use of the swimming pool one night in each week.

Third-Floor Classroom. Committee Chairman Hayman and Architect L. E. Carrothers were empowered to look into the possibility of using the third story of the Simcoe Street School for class rooms, and the basement for an assembly and drill hall. Trustee Mr. Hunt reported that he believed this quite feasible. The school is crowded at present, and additional rooms obtained in this manner would greatly help the situation. Inspector V. K. Greer said that while he would be opposed to building three-story schools, he would be in favor of a temporary arrangement of this kind. Secretary Tanner reported progress on a report of plumbing done in the city schools last year, but was not able to give a complete statement, owing to the difficulty of getting all the details from the minute of the board.

On motion of Trustee David Eggert it was decided to have instruction regarding the operation of heating equipment in the schools printed and framed. These cards, which will be hung in each boiler room, will contain instructions as to what should be done in various emergencies. Mr. Eggert declared that under some circumstances a low pressure boiler was as dangerous as a high pressure one, and he thought every precaution should be taken to prevent accidents. On his suggestion all school janitors will be called to a conference before beginning of the school term, and a short course on the proper handling of heating equipment will be given by an expert.

DISCARDED IN CITY CONSTRUCTION WORK

Decision of No. 2 Committee On Request of Builders' Exchange.

CITY ENGINEER OPPOSED

Claims Old System Was Cheaper For the Average Job.

Departure from the "day-labor" policy in regard to city construction work to the extent that contractors should be allowed to tender on all city jobs was recommended by No. 2 committee of the city council last night. A request that this be done was made by a deputation from the Builders' Exchange. E. Hayman, one of the members of this deputation, presented a comparison of figures on several contracts done by "day labor" here with several contract jobs in surrounding cities. He claimed that in many instances the contract prices showed a considerable saving. He felt it would be fair if local contractors were permitted to tender on each job in competition with the city works department.

Day Labor Cheaper. City Engineer Brazier contended that the comparisons were not based on jobs of exactly the same kind. He maintained that the day labor system was cheaper on the whole, although an occasional contract might be lower. Aid. W. A. Wilford stated that a contractor could do work far cheaper than the city under the day labor system. Many of the city workmen "lean on their shovels," he asserted. City Engineer Brazier replied that this might be true of some of the men employed temporarily to relieve the employment situation, but that the regular workmen did not do so. He said that local contractors sometimes felt that they were passed over in regard to city contracts, and the impression might go abroad that the contracting business was an illegal one. He made inquiries regarding the building of the new paving plant. The city engineer stated that advertisements for tenders on this had been widely circulated. Two were received from local firms and three from outside companies. The contract was given to a Toronto firm as a cost plus basis. Mr. Hayman contended that local firms would have been willing to undertake it on that basis. The engineer replied that they had been at liberty to do so, but had not made the offer.

Employ Local Men. Aid. Ashton said if the contractors objected to outside firms doing work here they should make it a point not to employ outside laborers. W. G. Webster, a third member of the deputation, replied that quite to the contrary, London workmen were often taken on outside jobs.

Ald. Childs moved that tenders be called on all new work, but that the engineer complete those sections of the sidewalk and curb and gutter program already approved by the council. As a general paving policy, it was decided to pave main thoroughfares, and such smaller streets as were in the charge of the city works department at various times of the year. Local improvement work by petition. Instead of a one-third vote of the council was favored.

Purchase Right-of-Way. A recommendation was made to purchase the right-of-way of the former London and Lake Erie Railway Company between McKenzie avenue and Chester street. It will be used in the development of a storm-sewer system in that section of the city. Consultation will be held with the provincial works department and the county of Middlesex in regard to the widening of the Whitcliffe road. The city wants a wider roadway than has been suggested by the county, and all that is needed is curb and gutter and a storm sewer.

The matter of paving Nelson street from Adelaide street to Drenay avenue was laid over until the next meeting. Miss McGinnis appeared before the committee to oppose the work. Residents of Edward street asked that a curb and gutter and sewer be laid there. The committee was willing to lay the former, but thought it would not be possible to lay the sewer this year.

Have Fences Removed. City Engineer Brazier was instructed to take action to have fences removed from what is claimed to be city property on the east side of the city. The construction of a sidewalk. J. M. McVoy appeared before the committee to state that residents of Queen's avenue were willing to buy the property of A. L. Oatman on that street to prevent its being used for an undertaking establishment and to pay $1,000 in addition, to reimburse Mr. Oatman for the cost of having plans drawn and other expenses. It was on condition that the city would prohibit the opening of other places of that nature in the locality. The committee agreed to this.

STRYCHNINE MAY HAVE HASTENED DEATH OF LATE DANIEL HASTINGS

Jury Returns Indefinite Verdict After Two Hours Deliberation.

STRATFORD, April 12.—"We, your jury, empanelled to investigate the causes of the death of Daniel Hastings, find the said Daniel Hastings died on the 21st day of March, 1921, at his home, on the first concession of the township of Logan, and that his death may have been hastened by strychnine poison, some of which was found in the viscera."

After two hours' deliberation the foregoing verdict was returned by the coroner's jury in the Hastings case at Stratford today. Crown Attorney McPherson refused to comment on the possible effect the verdict would have on the charge of murder against Mrs. Hastings, who claims she gave her husband poison.

Remain Ends Friday. Mrs. Hastings' remand expires on Friday, but it is thought probable tonight that she may be brought before the magistrate tomorrow. It is believed that she will be examined as to her mental condition. While a full analysis of the contents of the abdomen had not been received from Toronto in Crown Attorney G. J. McPherson submitted a letter from Attorney-General Raney, which stated that 1-14 of a grain of strychnine was found in the viscera. It was pointed out during the inquest that the strength of one tablet is 1-16 of a grain. Mrs. Hastings alleged she gave her husband, therefore, 1-16 of a grain. The coroner's jury found no evidence of poison in the remainder of the body. In answer to a question, Dr. Hall stated that 1-14 of strychnine would not produce spasms or cause death if it remained in the abdomen and was not absorbed into the system.

BIRD NOTES

(Contributed by Meliwalrh Orni-thological Club. Although no new arrivals were recorded on Tuesday morning, yet the trip was not without pleasure or interest. Twenty-seven species of birds were seen, and the crisp morning air provided an appetite for breakfast, if nothing else. The Purple Finch, whose presence was reported in January, was again seen this afternoon at Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The bird is a handsome bird, not exactly purple, but looking more like a brownish sparrow to which family he belongs, dipped in strawberly juice. It is one of our finest songsters, too, rivaling the Fox Sparrow, and a concert given by the male members of the little flock was sometimes seen at this time of the year is certainly a treat. J. R. According to a report received tonight from farmers residing near the scene of the robbery, the man, a resident of Detroit, had spent Sunday night at J. Campbell-McInnes, the distinguished baritone of Toronto, and George Reeves, pianist, who are to appear as assisting artists at the Cronyn Memorial Chorus concert in the Auditorium. Rev. Quintin Warner will play some "cello solo, and the choir, under the direction of Mr. Gilmore, will sing a very fine program of English songs and part songs.

FINDS SIX PORKERS GRUNTING IN CITY

Inspector Richard Sanders Gives Report.

MAKES 164 VISITS

Restaurants, Barber Shops, Hotels, Groceries Under Watchful Eyes.

Because of an agitation started by the London Board of Health against the alleged habit of meat dealers leaving manure-covered hogs hanging on the sides of their shops, Inspector Richard Sanders, sanitary inspector of the city, has been making 164 visits to the city, to see that the law is being obeyed. He claimed that now the hogs as a rule are much cleaner.

During the past month Mr. Sanders visited 25 butcher shops. In four of them he found decayed meat hanging in the refrigerators, but the majority were in fairly good condition. Out of 20 barber shops visited, only one was found to be insanitary. Sanders said that the sanitary inspector of the city, to see that the law is being obeyed, he has been making 164 visits to the city, to see that the law is being obeyed.

While carrying on their "spring cleaning," some of the confectionery and bakeries visited were not as careful about covering pails containing manure as Mr. Sanders stated. When he spoke to the proprietors about the matter, however, they immediately rectified the trouble.

In three different yards the inspector found a total of six pigs, all within the city limits. In one stable he found three cows and in another five calves. A total of 25 yards were inspected.

Among other things, Mr. Sanders visited 10 grocery stores, fruit and fish stores, 8 hotel kitchens, and the different dumps of the city. In all he made 164 visits during the month.

Farmers in the neighboring districts have now resumed seeding in consequence of the more favorable weather of the Ontario Department of Agriculture reports that farmers in the Strathroy district were busy seeding on Tuesday, and that with the continuance of the fine weather seeding will become general in a day or two. The soil is in very good condition for the process, and the prospects for an early finish are altogether bright.

DETROIT BARRISTER TO ADDRESS C. OF C. MEMBERS' COUNCIL

Henry Ledyard Will Speak on Obligations of Citizenship Thursday Evening.

The members' council of the London Chapter of the Order of the Sons of the American Revolution met on Thursday evening at 6:30, when an address will be delivered by Henry Ledyard, a prominent barrister of Detroit, on the subject of "The Obligations of Citizenship."

Mr. Ledyard's address will be "The Obligations of Citizenship," and in view of the recent formation within the local Council of Women of a "Citizenship Committee," it has been decided to extend a special invitation to the speaker to be present.

The commissioner of the Border Cities Chamber of Commerce, has expressed the following opinion regarding the speaker: "Quite frankly, I think you will be very fortunate in inducing Mr. Ledyard, who is an exceedingly busy man, to go to London. He is a very able man and a speaker who always has a message to give to the people."

There will also be an excellent musical program provided which will include solos by Mrs. Edward Wyatt of the First Methodist Church Choir and Harry Carson of St. Paul's Cathedral.

Mr. Ledyard's father was for many years president of the Michigan Central Railroad Company. He has twice spoken in the Border Cities Chamber of Commerce, and the members consider him one of the best speakers they have heard.

WILL HOLD SOCIAL EVENING.—A social evening, to be held by the members of St. Peter's Altar Society in St. Peter's Parish Hall on Thursday night, April 14, will be given by W. H. Hewlett next week. Plans were also made for a picnic to take place at Springbank on June 8th.

ROOSEVELT HIGHWAY.—A meeting of the Theodore Roosevelt Highway Association committee was held in Toronto on Tuesday, when there were present as delegates from London, Ald. Harley and Gordon Philip, representing the Chamber of Commerce, and Ben Brink, representing the London Motor Club. There were also delegates present from Woodstock, Hamilton, Chatham and St. Catharines. Among the subjects discussed in connection with the highway was the matter of marking it at the various points, but this and other details were fully referred to the Provincial Highway Association with the view of eliciting greater support in regard to the project.

STOLEN CAR.—The Chevrolet car, No. 62295, stolen from in front of the home of Mrs. R. Forsythe, 572 Richmond street, a week ago, has now been discovered. The car had the front fender badly bent, and a nobby-tread tire on one of the back wheels. The serial number of the car is 26174.

APPOINTMENT OF JUSTICE LAWRENCE IS A SURPRISE.

London, April 13.—The appointment of Mr. Justice Lawrence as lord chief justice of England to succeed Lord Reading, appointed viceroy of India, comes as a complete surprise. The post has been vacant an unusually long time. Gordon Hewart, the attorney-general, was known to be honorably anxious to secure the appointment, and moreover, by virtue of his present office, had a recognized right to the position for which, also, he is admirably fitted by general ability. Premier Lloyd George, however, has usually been anxious to keep him in the cabinet because of his debating ability and the professional skill he has displayed in handling post-war problems.

LIBERALS WILL AGAIN ATTEMPT TO BLOCK BILL

Opposition to Spring Amendment to Supply Motion.

Ottawa, April 13.—Canadian Press.

When the House was moved into supply this afternoon, there is a probability that the Liberals will spring an amendment to the intention of blocking consideration of the shipbuilding vote which was responsible for the 33-hour sitting of the House. In the ordinary way, the House would be moved into supply, the shipbuilding vote and the interim supply resolution called and formal closure moved. Discussion on the shipbuilding vote and interim supply would then proceed until 2 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the debate collapsed for lack of speakers in the meantime.

Should, however, the Liberal Opposition move an amendment to the supply motion, the subject raised would, it is argued, have priority and would have to be disposed of before the House actually resolves into committee of supply and consideration of the shipbuilding vote and the interim supply resolution is resumed. That, at any rate, is the idea behind the suggested amendment to the supply motion. If the amendment is moved, today's proceedings in the House will not be lacking in interest.

Robert Roberts and William Poyle Charged With Robbery.

LONDON DRUGGIST

Identifies Men Who Held Him Up On March 26.

Robert Roberts and William Poyle, two local men, were charged with the robbery of a London druggist, Mr. H. Line, and a man named Smith, on the night of Saturday, March 26.

Morley Adams was at the corner of Colborne and Dundas streets at 10:10 o'clock that night, an hour previous to the robbery. He had just left William H. Line and a man named Smith, two strangers, who had approached him, friends, strongly resembled Roberts and Poyle, he stated.

Line declared that the man, who strongly resembled Roberts, defamed "two bits" (25 cents). He was refused but continued his demand. "I said him, 'two bits,' and he walked away, mumbling, 'two bits,' and he did not say anything," he stated.

Thomas M. Sumner, druggist, at 315 1/2 Dundas street, said that after closing the store that night he started home, and he heard a man named Smith, later received a blow behind the ear.

"One man held a revolver in front of my face, and the other man rushed up with him, and then rushed into the middle of the road. The first man did not say anything, but kept hitting me with the revolver, until he had severely cut me. A cut on my head required three stitches. I picked up the other man, and ran. I picked up the watchman came with him, and they ran right past him, and went west on the street. Mr. McKillop asked Mr. Sumner who the men were.

"The prisoner in the box. They're the men who put the gun in my face," answered George Burgess, C. P. R. watchman at Waterloo street, said that when the robbers rushed past him each had a revolver in his hand. He identified Roberts and Poyle as the men who passed him.

Harold Penwarden, who knew the two men, said that he saw them on the night of the robbery. They were going west, and he saw them on the night of the robbery. They were going west, and he saw them on the night of the robbery.

SPECIAL CLASSES FOR DR. TAMLIN DESIGNS

ASSIST DIFFERENT TYPES OF CHILDREN

Inspector V. K. Greer Outlines Course of Training.

Establishment of auxiliary classes here for gifted and sub-normal children will be commenced this year, Inspector V. K. Greer stated today. It is probable that only a limited class along this line will be made now, but it is likely that it will be developed considerably as the year progresses.

Under this plan children who show special talents are given special training during the year, and others who are below normal also are given special attention, with the object of giving them an equal training with more gifted children.

Other cities have found the plan to be most beneficial, Mr. Greer said. Several places smaller than London have adopted it successfully.

Dr. S. B. Sinclair, inspector for the province of auxiliary classes, will be in the city next Wednesday. He will give a lecture on this topic at the Normal School on Wednesday evening, and will illustrate with lantern slides. Teachers, trustees and any persons interested in the classes will be invited to attend.

THIRTY-THREE HOUR SESSION OF COMMONS ENDED AT MIDNIGHT

Government Worried About Securing Money For Public Services.

WANT $71,499,703

Liberals Refuse To Grant
Such An Amount En
Bloc.

OTTAWA, April 12.—(By Canadian Press).—The House of Commons adjourned at midnight after a continuous session (with the exception of the dinner recess) since 3 o'clock on Monday afternoon. The long session ended in notice of closure, both on an interim supply resolution and on the vote of $8,330,000 to complete the Government's ship-building program. The House meets again at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, when the supply resolution and the shipbuilding vote will lead the way. Under the closure rule a speaker may speak but once and for not more than 20 minutes. At 2 o'clock on Thursday morning the debate automatically ended, and the vote is taken.

Clearing of the decks for closure began this afternoon. The shipbuilding vote was still under discussion, and the prime minister stepped into the struggle. Bluntly declaring that he thought it time the "performance" should cease, Mr. Meighen moved that further consideration of the item be postponed. It was an obvious first step in the direction of closure. Other items in the marine estimates were called but passed. In their case, there was no need for postponement.

Change Battle Front.
Then the Government re-introduced its interim supply resolution, and the ground of battle changed.
The resolution is for $71,499,703, and covers one-sixth of the total estimates tabled in the House. When first introduced last week Liberals strenuously opposed it, and the resolution was withdrawn. Tonight they were belligerent as ever. Liberals, declared Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition, had no desire to hold up necessary supply and the payment of salaries. The Opposition was willing to meet the Government in conference to determine what in the public interest should be passed, but would not vote $70,000,000 en bloc. The Government argued that it was only following the practice of previous governments.
"There must be interim supply," exclaimed the prime minister, "for there will be paralysis of the public service."

NEW LORD CHIEF JUSTICE.
LONDON, April 12.—Sir Alfred Tristram Lawrence, judge of the high court of justice since 1904, has been appointed lord chief justice in succession to the Earl of Reading, who is now viceroy of India.

Blocks Criticism of the Estimates By Using Closure

Autocratic Rule of Meighen Used To Stifle Free Discussion of $546,000,000 Expenditures Which Must Come Out of the Pockets of the People—Efforts of the Liberals Cause Fear in Government Circles.

Ottawa, April 12.—The author of the closure and the gag in the House of Commons has decided to use them for his own purposes. Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, who originally as solicitor general, first imposed restrictions upon free speech in Parliament, has, as premier of Canada, decided to utilize these restrictions to block criticism of estimates totalling $546,000,000, and to prevent the representatives of the people from reviewing adequately expenditures which must be met by public taxation. Taxation without representation is the watchword of the new National and Conservative party and of its leader, Mr. Meighen.

Canada Stands To Lose.
For a period of eighteen hours, Liberal members of the Opposition, assisted by two members of the Progressives, strove to draw from Hon. C. C. Balfour, elementary minister of marine, the expenditure of $50,000,000 on the Canadian Mercantile Marine, so that they might be in a position to vote against it. The government's estimate for the purpose of the program already proven too imprudent, wasteful, extravagant and useless. It was demonstrated by Liberals that on the ships already built Canada stood to lose on capital account alone the sum of $25,000,000 and on interest charges a million and a half a year. They pointed out that the statement of the minister of marine as to the operation of the vessels now in the commission was full of lamentable mistakes and omissions, and they demanded full and correct information.

Minister Is Obdurate.
The minister assumed an obdurate attitude, and, as a consequence, a large number of the members of the Opposition succeeded throughout the long night and until 3 o'clock in the afternoon in holding up the item. There were: Duff of Lunenburg, Sinclair of Guysboro, Rinfret of St. James, Casgrain of Charlevoix, Chisholm of Inverness, Cahill of Pontiac, Copp of Westmorland, and on the Progressive side, Clark of Red Deer and Maharg of Maple Creek. This little band of public-spirited men fought the Government until the dawning of the day, when reinforcements took their places and carried on the fight. At no time did the minister show himself competent to give information upon a scheme which he himself initiated, and all times he evinced a stubborn determination that the item should go through without information.

Government on Defensive.
Three o'clock arrived with the fight still in progress and with the Government on the defensive. Then the author of closure arose, and his servile followers cheered loudly. The premier quibbled about the "unanimous consent" of Parliament having been given to a scheme which at the time of its initiation was a war measure and advanced the somewhat daring argument that what Parliament stood for during the war, when shipping was depleted and when freight carriers were needed at any cost, Parliament should still stand for after peace had been declared, when world shipping had increased beyond pre-war tonnage, when cargoes were falling off, and when vessels could be constructed outside of Canada at half the price for which the Government has and is still contracting for them. He raved of "solemn pledges" and of "promises entered into" and of "contracts signed and sealed." And he declared that such must be carried out and implemented, whatever the consequences.

quence to the Canadian people are. Overlaid the Meighen.

But in his zeal he went just a little too far. Turning to the Progressive group he referred to the opposition of Clark of Red Deer and Maharg of Maple Creek. "It might be well," he said, sarcastically, "to recall that these men (Hon. T. A. Crerar) was a member of the Government until the last contract was signed. The Crerar rose to his feet with fight in his eyes. "I desire to inform the right honorable gentleman," he said distinctly, "that I resigned from the Government in June of 1919, and—"

The premier hastily broke in: "My honorable friend is right," he declared hesitatingly. "I beg his pardon." There was a storm of applause from the Opposition benches. But Mr. Crerar went on: "I desire further to state that while I resigned in June of 1919, the last contract for these ships was signed in March of 1920. (More cheering.) My right honorable friend made a very definite statement. The disproof of that statement simply shows that neither he nor the minister of marine know anything about their own business. I would advise my honorable friend to be more careful in future about his facts before he makes a declaration of this kind in the House."

The premier was quite obviously in a very bad temper. He endeavored to turn the point by declaring that because Mr. Crerar had been a minister when the scheme was originated he was responsible for it in common with other members of the late cabinet. Mr. Crerar rose again in time of war, he said, "is not a reason why I should favor its continuation in time of peace."

Mr. Meighen finally declared that there was no need of further talk on the item, and he thereupon moved the first stage of closure, namely, that further consideration of the item should be postponed. Closure on an eight-million-dollar estimate, concerning which no adequate information had been given, will go into effect tomorrow, and it is whispered tonight that the same tactics will be followed on the bill of interim supply.

Taxation without representation is the watchword of the Meighen Government.
Quebec Has Complaint.
H. E. Lavigne (Quebec County) voiced a complaint against a discrimination which he claimed had been leveled at his province and particularly the city of Quebec. In reply to a question the minister of marine said he knew of no shipyards for steel construction in Quebec. The nearest were at Lunenburg and there government ships had been constructed. Shipyards in Quebec City were for wooden hulls and the minister thought had wooden ships been built instead of steel, the closure of the Opposition at this time would have been even more bitter than it was.

Mr. Hon. Arthur Meighen, prime minister, stated that the House had been considering the item for upward of 8 hours. The item had been considered on a previous day for seven and a half hours and certain members of the Opposition seemed to have formed the opinion that they could block the vote, but for what purpose he could not conceive.

The history of the item, briefly, was that during the war, and indeed near the end of the war, the Government undertook to build a program towards which it was urged by the House and by pressing requests from the entire Dominion, that a Canadian Government merchant marine was established. That was the spring of 1918. In the spring of 1919, and after the armistice had been signed, the policy was continued and the House unanimously granted another thirty millions of this. The shipbuilding policy on that occasion again received the endorsement of Parliament and this was six months or more after the armistice had been signed.

Following this mandate from Parliament, the Government let certain contracts for ships. The last contract was let in December, 1919, more than a year and a half ago.
Provided Much Work.
Towards the end of 1919, the unemployment situation in Canada, while not as great as in other countries, became very serious. In December, 1919, and during the earlier months of 1920, there was very considerable distress and a Government was importuned, to relieve this distress. The plea for Government aid was made especially strong because a large percentage of the sufferers through unemployment were returned soldiers. This factor was of considerable magnitude when considering the lettings of the contracts for the last two or three vessels. Government efforts to secure a low price caused some delay and the final order in council authorizing the ships in question, was not passed until March, 1920. Since that date no contract had been let.

To complete this work, authorized by the vote last year that an additional vote would be required this year. On the vote of $8,330,000 now before the House, more than $4,500,000 was needed for work begun last year and the balance for work which was being continued into this year.

"They are willing to enter into solemn agreements on behalf of Canada, but they are entirely opposed to the country carrying them out. One honorable gentleman opposite was saying the other day he hung his head in shame because Canada was not meeting its obligations, but he wanted the Government to be hung between heaven and earth when it comes to fulfilling its obligations to the people of this country," said the speaker amid loud cheers from his supporters.

This item carried after a little further discussion. The House rose at 6 o'clock to resume at 8 after having passed over a dozen additional items in the marine department estimates. The largest was $2,000,000 for a new ice-breaker for the St. Lawrence, $800,000 for maintenance of lighthouses, and $250,000 for light-keepers' salaries and allowances.

SEEDING GENERAL IN WESTERN PROVINCES

WINNIPEG, April 11.—(By Canadian Press).—Western farmers in many districts will be at work on the land by the end of this week, and in ten days to two weeks seeding will be general save for sections, where local conditions have caused exceptional delay. Fine weather is general in the three provinces, and the ground is drying rapidly. There seems to be general agreement of reports received today that conditions are satisfactory, and that the 1921 crop should get away to a good start.

HYDRO POWER COMMISSION BUYS A FLEET OF CANADIAN-MADE RUGGLES TRUCKS

Hydro Decides to Purchase
Fleet of Canadian Trucks.

[Special to The Mail and Empire].
London, Ont., April 8.—A practical move to encourage Canadian industry and relieve unemployment and exchange difficulties that is most favorably regarded by London businessmen, is revealed in the announcement that the Hydro-Electric Power Commission has decided to purchase a fleet of Canadian-made motor trucks for use on the Queenston-Chippewa power canal. The experts of the H. E. P. C., before making the purchase, subjected the Canadian-made trucks available to direct comparison with United States machines, and determined that the trucks produced by Canadian workmen are equal to the best available from the United States. The contract for a large fleet of trucks was awarded to the Ruggles Company of this city. It is understood that the H. E. P. C. is purchasing all possible Chippewa equipment from Canadian companies.

Hydro Buys London-Made Trucks.

[Special Dispatch to The Globe].
London, Ont., April 8.—The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, after making exhaustive investigations, has purchased a fleet of motor trucks from the Ruggles Company, of this city. Wherever it is possible the H. E. P. C. is buying Canadian-made goods, but not until it is proven, as was the case with the Ruggles purchase, that Canadian manufactured articles are as good as the best of the American offerings.

Why Did the Hydro Power Commission Buy Ruggles Trucks?

The answer is to be found in the fact that Mr. Frank W. Ruggles and his associates in the Ruggles organization have built and sold more than 70,000 motor trucks during the past eight years.

IS CONSERVATION TO END?

Not much has been heard of the purpose of the Meighen Government, announced in the speech from the throne at the opening of the session, of abolishing the commission of conservation. The plea that is given for the wiping out of this body is that its work is largely duplicated in existing departments of government.

The record of Canadian governments in general does not show any very ardent enthusiasm for conservation on the part of regular officials. In federal affairs the administration of regular departments has left a trail of destruction of natural resources from Atlantic to Pacific, and our provinces have a like record. The Canadian Commission of Conservation was established with the distinct idea of preserving for the future that which greed and rapacity would wipe out in the present generation.

As a matter of fact, despite the plea for "economy" now being voiced, the conservation commission has cost the country but a small amount, since by far the greater part of its work was performed voluntarily and without pay by a score or more of the foremost businessmen and scientists of the Dominion. All the work of the commission has been constructive. Its activities have included the seeking out of new resources, the prevention of forest destruction by fire, the preservation from extinction of our native wild birds and animals, the increasing of the productiveness of Canadian agriculture, the better housing of our people, the improvement of their health, and many other valuable efforts. To say that these are now being looked after by government departments at Ottawa may be true in some cases, as far as theory goes, but not in practice, unless there has been a wonderful reformation in the public service in the last three or four years.

It might be well to inquire what are the influences that have been at work seeking the abolition of this commission, which, for some years, has acted as steward of the public wealth of the country. The United States had a commission of the same type some years ago, but its work was fought from the start by lumber interests who wanted no conservation of timber, by land jobbers, who wanted to grab the public domain, and by all other sinister interests, whose aim was present gain, but who cared nothing for the future. Are we now the victims of a similar plot by like interests in Canada who are aiming to defeat the whole idea of conservation by having everything left to the bureaucrats at Ottawa. It will be a sad day for conservation when the ordinary official at the capital has the matter in hand. The Opposition will do well to investigate fully all the circumstances surrounding this change of policy. There is something about it that does not look right.

A MANLY APOLOGY.

Few people, and notably people of prominence, care to frankly admit a mistake when they have made one. Making an apology, especially a public apology, is so difficult that it is not often done. In this connection it is refreshing to note the step taken by Lieut.-Col. William Hendrie of Hamilton, who introduced Charles A. Windle at a meeting held recently under the auspices of the Liberty League. Col. Hendrie frankly states that he was unaware of the type of man he was sponsor for at the meeting, and that he did not know of Windle's venomous attacks on Britain. This simply cannot be overlooked, he says, and he expresses deep regret not only to the people of Hamilton generally, but to his friends on the platform at the meeting, for introducing him. It takes courage to admit a mistake of this kind, and it is to Col. Hendrie's credit that he made the apology so promptly, while the question is still arousing such intense interest, and before the vote has been taken. As far as Windle is concerned, the less said about him the better. He is unfortunately a type far too common in the United States. He is the antithesis of the real American, and does not for an instant represent their opinions. The mere fact that he is opposed to any cause shows better than anything else could that it is far removed from the ideals for which men of the Windle type stand. Such men when they espouse a cause usually end by turning the people against it, and there is little doubt that Windle's reckless and absolutely unjustified remarks have won many votes for prohibition.

GETTING TOGETHER.

The bringing together of the city and the country was a matter which occupied the attention of a joint meeting of businessmen and agriculturists in London recently. The opinion was unanimously expressed that the object in view was a most desirable one, but pending an answer to certain set questions, which were being sent out to the farmers, no definite opinion was expressed as to the best means of bringing about the consummation so fervently wished for.

Undoubtedly, the viewpoint of the average farmer has very much changed within the last decade or two, and the younger sons of the farm and the hired help are no longer alone in their desire to come into closer touch with things urban, for we know that the farmer himself, with all the additional facilities provided by motor transportation, turns his face citywards much more frequently than did his predecessors of a generation ago.

It was both interesting and refreshing to hear some of those tillers of the soil, in giving their opinion regarding the matter under discussion, tracing their pedigree back to the first pioneer settlers in this district, and in some cases, adding the striking fact that they were still living in the house in which they had been born. In one case the narrator of these facts added a brief account of an experience which he had in his early youth. He had from time to time to drive into London with the produce of the farm, and on these occasions it was no uncommon thing for the boys on the streets to jeer at his rustic appearance and to call him a "hayseed."

"It is this idea of being a 'hayseed' that has become firmly planted in the minds of certain of the farmers," said this speaker, "and which prevents them from taking their proper place in the affairs of the nation."

It also renders them diffident in associating themselves with their brethren in the cities. True, the U. F. O. movement has done much to dispel the popular notion that the farmer cannot see beyond the boundary of his line fences, but undoubtedly he is still looked upon as something altogether apart from the alert and consequential businessman of the city.

It is high time that this erroneous notion was dispelled, and it is up to the farmer himself to assist to a large extent in dispelling it. By more frequent association with the men of the city and by acquainting himself with the city man's viewpoint on the many questions that are common to town and country alike, the farmer would soon get away from the obscurity which he has inherited from his pioneer forebears, and take his place as a man of the world in the best sense of the term.

One highly practical method of bringing the country closer to the city would be the construction of better roads. If the roads were brought up to the necessary state of perfection, the means of transportation would be immensely improved, and in this manner the urban and rural elements in the population would be brought together in a manner which present circumstances render next to impossible.

DIPLOMATISTS PUZZLED.

A survey of the foreign press reveals very divergent views as to the best way to secure peace and prosperity in Central and Eastern Europe. Economic considerations having been introduced into the question of Upper Silesia's future, the French and Polish pleas for the handing over of the whole industrial area to France are vigorously opposed in all the other lands as involving the ruin of mines and industry which are necessary to the whole world, including France and Poland themselves. It is, however, asserted that no scheme will be satisfactory unless it is based on peaceful agreement and co-operation between Poland and Germany. The French budget shows ample reason for France's desperate anxiety to obtain some immediate economic alleviation, but there is difference of opinion as to how this is to be obtained. The London solution for Austria's financial and industrial collapse is welcomed in official quarters in Austria. By the opposition it is regarded as a scheme by which Entente capitalism hopes to obtain control of Austria's industries. The German Communist rising seems to have been an act of protest against the militarism of the other side.

OTHERS' VIEWS

"MODERN" WAGES.

The more the railways spend and the more they earn, the less they are allowed to keep and the more they are compelled to spend in "modern wages." When the railways spend $50,000,000 for machinery for feeding locomotive fires with less labor, or $272,000,000 in modernizing locomotives to save coal costs and prevent the burning out of the fireboxes, do those who provide the most profit by it? Not at all. The firemen want their wages raised because the engines are heavier, and they want their hours shortened although their labors are eased. When they cannot induce the management to take that view they go to the Legislatures and secure the passage of laws compelling the hiring of unnecessary men, shortening the trains for which the more powerful engines were provided, and so on without end.

HELPFULNESS AS A HOBBY.

[New York Herald.]
"If there is somewhere in the world," he said, "a human touch that awakens disappointment into hope, that is the finest hobby in the world." The saying is one of the finest sayings—humane, upward looking, inspiring, in the best spirit of broad religion and the mellowest attitude of natural sympathy. To reach out the helping hand is a possibility that comes again and again to every man. To me it is a hobby. Help is so easy, so beautiful, that it need only be suggested to become popular. And if the reason for the existence of a hobby is to give pleasure to the one who practices it, what other is there that will yield a richer return than this?

A GRAND YOUNG WOMAN.

[Springfield Republican.]
It might not be the best choice of words to call Sarah Bernhardt the grand old woman of France. But she is 76 years old and a great-grandmother, has only one leg and is about to fly from Paris to London to take the part of a 25-year-old love-stricken youth in her new play. Sarah is a wonder.

ALWAYS SEEMS TO BE SOME.

[Hamilton Herald.]
There never was a time in the history of Canada, when there was such a dearth of first-class men in our public life—Montreal Herald.
In every generation the same thing has been said. In 1803, for instance, even the high faith of Wordsworth in his country was shaken, and in a moment of despondency he wrote:
"If and nothing great;
Nothing is left which I can venerate;
So that almost a doubt within me springs
Of Providence, such emptiness at length
Seems at the heart of all things."

And yet that was the day of Pitt and Fox and Canning, of Nelson and Arthur Wellesley, not to mention Wilberforce and Granville Sharpe and many other public men of noble mind and character.

COST OF PLAYING WITH SHIPS.

[Los Angeles Times.]
The Japanese budget calls for more than a billion and a half of yen. This is nearly a billion dollars in our money and shows that Uncle Sam is not the only one who is spending all he makes. Thirty-six per cent of the amount raised by the budget will be spent in enlarging and maintaining the Japanese navy. The Japanese hardly expect to keep pace with the enormous naval expenditure and sea-going program of the United States, but they are doing the best they can. Whenever we order a new dreadnought they stock up with a cruiser. The navy expenditure is far and away the greatest item in the cost of government in Japan as it is now in our own country. It takes an awful lot of money to play with ships.

GETTING EVEN.

[Elia A. Fanning in New York Times.]
Now doth the wily man
Cunningly indorse Women for political office.
Chortling in his sleeve,
Wagging his head at his clubmates,
Smoking derisively as he murmurs:
"Ha, ha! Long hath she made our existence one of nagging,
Accusing us bitterly of smoking to ruin
the best curtains.
Of tracking in mud on the new Bagdad rug (Which our own hard-earned shekels had paid for).
Or gormandizing in the matter of Welsh rabbit.
Or wasteful squandering of coin on the horses.
Of fondness for the kitty at green-covered tables where lodgemates foregather.
All these, and then some!
But wait!
In dark-purple revenge have we indorsed her candidacy.
Picturing how she will set her new hat on straight, in complacence,
Observing that through merit alone should all office be gained!
She will go to bed, a reputable, obscure, sterling citizen of integrity.
To wake, finding that the opposition papers have sifted her past,
Sketching her as a grafter, time-server, proven guilty of seditious utterances, of sabotage, wobbling, quitting; one whose ancestors were hanged for sheep-stealing, who has been in the market in maple fudge, a caucus-stuffer, an understudy of Xantippe, a
Benedict Arnold in sport skirt!
Wait!

MADE TO EAT 'EM.

[Manchester Guardian.]
A recent discussion in the high court on the nutritive value of old food, reminds a writer in the Observer of a Spanish proverb who had an ill-fitting pair of boots cut into little bits and sent to the shoemaker to swallow. The story of outraged royalty seems often to find its way into this direction. When Bernard the Great, Duke of Saxony, learned that he was criticized in some pamphlets, he had the author arrested, and after putting him to death he selected from his works one of his objectionable works between his teeth, made him swallow it. Again, in 1668, Philippus Andrea Oldenburger, a well-known German jurist, published a description in Latin of his travels through Germany. This offended his liege lord, and Oldenburger was first soundly flogged and then ordered to eat a copy of his book. It was a hard task, but even so, he found the task beyond his powers, and after swallowing two pages, pleaded successfully for a remission of the sentence.

CAN YOU ANSWER?

[The Outlook.]
Years ago the compiler of "Beckwith's Almanac" lived in New Haven. The white tall hat which he wore made him a conspicuous figure, and his portrait in this white hat adorned the "almanac's" front cover. It is from this publication that a reader has selected the following rhyme under the question "Can you answer?"
Where can a man buy a cap for his knee?
Or a key to the lock of his hair?
Can his eyes be called an academy?
Because there are pupils there?
In the crow's foot the pillow for?
What gems are found?
Who travels the bridge of his nose?
Can he use when shingling the roof of his house?
The nails on the end of his toes?
Can the crook of his elbow be sent to jail?
If so, what did he do?
How does he sharpen his shoulder blade?
I'll be hanged if I know, do you?
Can he sit in the shade of the palm of his hand?
Or beat on the drum of his ear?
Does the calf of his leg eat the corn on his toes?
If so, why not grow corn on the ear?

THE PRESIDENT'S CALLERS.

[Manchester Guardian.]
Next to the distribution of his enormous patronage, President Harding will probably be most worried by his horde of daily visitors. An American president is supposed to be accessible at all reasonable times to all citizens of the United States, and among the callers are occasionally to be found assassins, and frequently more or less demented people. Colonel John Hay, the post-biographer of Lincoln, used to relate that President Hayes, when about to retire one day from his "working-room," sent for his "messenger" and asked whether any more persons were waiting to see him. "Only two," was the reply, "and one of them is crazy." "Well, send in the same one," said the president. A tall, grave-looking man entered, and solemnly introduced himself as the "Emperor of the World." Whereupon Hayes rang the bell, and, pointing to his august visitor, said to the messenger: "If this is your idea of sanity, send in the maniac."

IN A DOG'S EYES.

[J. C. M. Duncan, Montreal.]
From what hidden fountains drawn,
Magical of dusk and dawn,
Springs the lovely light that lies,
Little friend, in your brown eyes?
Light o' love and light o' dreams,
And dewy trembling beams
Of a troubled twilight shine
In your eyes, dear friend of mine.
Do you note me when I pass,
As a spectre in a glass?
Or a shadow that the light
Casts upon the walls of night?
Nay, I think that you can see
To the very heart of me;
Closer than myself I view,
Friend, do I appear to you.
Comrade of a thousand ways,
Through the nights and through the days,
Though the moon is veiled tonight,
I shall hardly miss her light.
Little comrade, let us on,
Though the dusk delays the dawn,
Though the sunshine there be none,
I shall scarcely miss the sun.

IN THE CRADLE OF THE DEEP.

[Boston Herald.]
The poet was not thinking of babies when he wrote the song, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," yet it is literally true that a good many children are cradled and rocked for the first time at sea. And in these days of spacious steamships and numerous passengers, very fortunate are the little ones that are born far from the land. A

Are you rushing on to disaster?

TRAIN, marine, street car—in fact, all disasters are on the decrease, largely due to educational propaganda preventing carelessness. The toll of human life through ill health and disease is also on the decrease. People of the 20th century are realising more and more the necessity of keeping themselves fit and well, for without health they can never attain their ambitions.

There are still some, however, who ignore a vital factor in preserving their health and strength. They ignore medical scientists who tell us the necessity of repairing the ravishes on the heart and nerve centres. These are the people who fail to wake up one morning; the people who drop dead in the street, in the car or train, and just at a critical time when they are specially needed by friends and dependents.

ARE YOU IN THESE RANKS, inviting disaster? Do you ever feel that your work is proving a slight strain upon you? Would you be able to fill a bigger position to-morrow, make the rapid, clever decisions which bring success? Would your employer choose YOU? You can rest assured he won't if you're not in robust health. He can't take chances with ailing people. But you can obtain the health that will MAKE him choose you by restoring the heart and nerve centres, the vital organs of the entire system. Thousands of people have accomplished this by the use of Milburn's Heart & Nerve Pills.

One simple step. Go to your nearest druggist. He sells and recommends Milburn's Heart & Nerve Pills, and will be pleased to hand you a box; or send 50c. and they will be mailed direct by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ontario.

birth at sea is an event that interests all on board the ship, and the passengers vie with one another to celebrate the arrival of the new passenger by making a monetary presentation that fully expresses their good wishes. This being known, does anyone plan the birth of a child on board a vessel at sea? The question is answered by a correspondent of the London Daily Mail who has recently crossed the Atlantic twice and been asked each time to contribute to a fund for a baby born on board. He inquired of the ship's doctor, who told him that sea voyages are "very popular with expectant mothers," especially emigrants from the European continent, many of whom realize that they can avoid an expensive time, and get money enough to give baby a good start in life. A Cunard Line official is reported as saying that collections on board for "the baby" have been very successful of late—as, for instance, the collection of £450 for one infant, and the gift of a motor car in addition to money for another.

FOR LOVE OF BETTY

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

[BY MAY CHRISTIE.]

LX.—The Will.

Trevor was a young man of action, and in a twinkling of time he was seated at the window, pen and ink and paper before him, and writing busily. "If anything happens to me, she'll be rich—and I hope, happy!" He went on writing.

Curious how strong and well he felt now he actually came to think of this little act of thoughtfulness, of generosity, had cheered him up wonderfully.

The pain this morning had surely been indignation? How much better for Betty and himself to share this money—together? Still, he would do the thing properly. He rose, thrusting his boyish head out into the now darkening passage and calling for his landlady.

"Come in, sir!" Mrs. MacTurk breathed heavily in her hasty scuttle to the summons.

Her large, round eyes opened to an alarming extent as she heard the summons of the said summons—the witnessing of a will.

"But you aren't going to die, sir?" she expostulated. "I only meant, you looked a little bit seedy, that was all!" Trevor smiled.

"It's time I made a will, anyhow," he answered. "Could you get a friend to act as second witness?"

"My sister's with me—she's a nurse in the hospital near here—she'll sign with pleasure, sir!" Mrs. MacTurk was all a-flutter.

The romance of the occasion appeared to Trevor a little sentimental. So he was going to leave his money to a lady—all of it, too! Yes, she had felt sure there was a woman in the case.

"I'm sure I hope she's worthy of you, Mr. Trevor!" she remarked at the conclusion of the little ceremony.

"I'll take it to a lawyer's tomorrow and see if it's all in order," he answered vaguely, not heeding her observation.

In a corner of the room stood an old-fashioned cabinet, with two drawers at the top.

Trevor took a long, deep breath. Betty, deserving or undeserving of his forethought, was amply provided for. "The worst can happen to me now," he said. "And it would be a good thing for her, if it did."

There was a sudden sharp knock at the front door of the house.

Trevor's heart stood momentarily still, then leaped and bounded. A quick and curious premonition swept over the ground.

Tomorrow—"Growing Sensible."

him—Betty had written and her letter was even now arriving.

With throbbing pulses he heard his landlady go to the door and open it, discarding pleasantly with the postman. Confound the woman! Was she never going to bring the letter to him? He knew—knew for a certainty that the epistle was for him.

"Here you are, sir." The envelope was thrust into his hand.

He shut the parlor door quickly, hurrying to the window, so that he might get the last rays of fading light.

His heart sank into his boots. The envelope was typewritten.

He stooped. The postmark was that of Betty's village. What could it mean? Betty was ill, and someone had written to tell him? Betty had met with an accident? Betty was—dead? He hadn't the courage to tear the letter open.

The whole of his future life depended on this letter!

A sudden ray of hope illuminated his face. Hadn't he seen a typewriter tucked away in a corner of the Red Cottage? Hadn't Betty said something about it belonging to her aunt?

The letter, then, was from her aunt? That pointed to the worst! Betty herself was unable to write to him.

He wrenched the letter out of its envelope, his eye hunted desperately for the signature. . . . there it was—"Betty Gordon."

Waves of happy relief swept over him. Betty hadn't had written! There was silence in the parlor, then—a deep, unbroken silence.

"Dear Mr. Trevor," he was reading slowly. "Your letter from Maine reached me safely, though I confess I was somewhat surprised at its tone. You must really understand that those ridiculous expressions of love only amuse me—and do not impress me in the least. I am a rather sentimental man, with you—but I'm afraid that absence doesn't really make the heart grow fonder. On the contrary!"

Something fluttered from the envelope to the floor. Stopping, Trevor picked it up. His face was very white, and a sound as of a roaring torrent was in his ears.

He stared incredulously at the little scrap of paper which he had inclosed. "Heavens, was it possible? Betty—in Charlie Davon's arms!"

Trevor's castle of romance—his hopes and happiness—had toppled to the ground.

Do as millions have done—make this ten-day test. See how film removal beautifies the teeth. Learn how it makes safer teeth. Brush your teeth in the modern way and watch all the good effects.

Film makes teeth dingy

That viscous film you feel is the teeth's chief enemy. Most tooth troubles are now traced to it. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Old brushing methods did not effectively combat it. So very few people have escaped discoloration and decay.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Dental science has now found two effective ways to fight film. They are combined in a new-day tooth paste—Pepsodent—made to meet modern requirements.

THORNDALE Y.P. CLUB.

The Young People's Club of the Thorndale Methodist Church recently entertained the congregation. A special feature of the program was a debate on "Resolved, That the Benefits of the War Are Greater Than the Miseries," the affirmative side being supported by Miss Wilma Harding and George Hobbs, and the negative by Miss Olive Bilyea and Harold Wheaton. The judges were Rev. W. Osborne, Mrs. J. K. Fitzsimons and Mrs. Samuel Duffin, the decision going in favor of the negative side.

The musical program consisted of a duet by Misses Maria Hueston and Edith McCutcheon, and instrumental selections by Miss Clara Harding.

An informal tea will be held at the home of Mrs. (Dr.) Morrison on Tuesday afternoon from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. in aid of the Young Ladies' Guild, St. George's Church.

Up and onward! Live in the present with glad thoughts of the past and hopes for the future. So shall you do the work that is yours to do well and bravely.

Wants Pattern. Dear Miss Grey—I enjoy your page very much. I noticed where someone had a Dutch romper pattern they would lend. May I have it? Also may I have some flower seeds—any kind you have? Am inclosing 60 cents for children's hospital fund.

Ans.—Oh, someone supply this pattern for Dutch Sal? Many thanks for hospital gift.

Dear Cynthia Grey—Have read your column for some time, and now would like a little help. Where could one buy geranium seeds or slips, as I would like a few house plants?

Could any reader of your page supply me with a pretty pattern to stamp on the front of a kimono waist and sleeves of georgettes, to be worked with silk thread. I guess someone would have it. I want, and I would return it when finished. Also could I get the famous stocking-foot pattern?

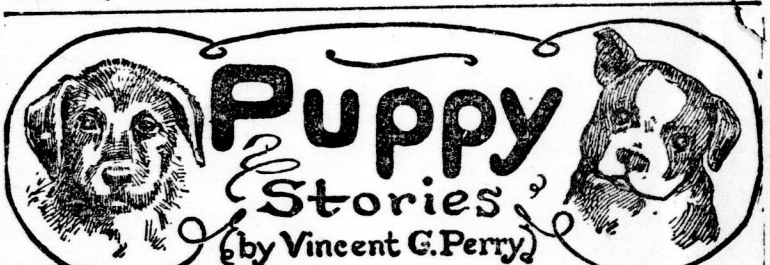

Ans.—It is against the rules to print business addresses in this column. Am mailing pattern.

Honest! Florence—Will you kindly send in your name and address, as it has been asked for?

An Appeal for the Twins. Dear Miss Grey—I wrote you from Port Huron some time ago, but have not seen my letter in print. Of course, I do not know how long it usually takes for a letter to be printed. In my last letter I wrote in behalf of one in need, asking if any of your readers had baby clothes they could spare. They are very greatly needed, as there are twins nearly three weeks old. The mother is a very refined little woman who has been accustomed to the best, but who, through misfortune, has come to need help, as so many others. I do hope your paper can help her. I have not told her I am asking, as I do not wish to disappoint her if there is no response. I will inclose a stamped envelope, if you will let me know if my letter has been in print. I feel I must help her in some way. You have helped so many others, I feel you can help her.

THE LITTLE LAME DOG.

Part Fourteen. With a cheery heart Limpy set off on his journey. What little lame dog wouldn't feel cheery if he felt sure he would return some day without a lame leg—and that was just what Limpy did feel sure of. Whether he was going or where his journey would lead he did not know—no more did he care, for he was just trusting to luck to set him on the right journey.

After a long day's journey, and a very tiresome one, too, for Limpy had soon found it was hard work traveling on three legs, he came to a halt for the night. How hungry he was! He had not had a bite to eat since he left home. Just as luck would have it he spied a juicy bit of meat—ever young, tender, and delicious.

So small a bit, though. Limpy was about to eat it up when he heard a step at his side.

Please give me part of your meat. I'm very hungry," said a voice. Limpy stood up. There, standing before him was a shaggy dog, thin and weak looking. Now, as we have said before, Limpy was very hungry, and and hope some time I can be of help to myself, but as he saw how hungry looking the other dog was his heart melted.

"Well, I'm hungry, too, but I can't see you hungry," said Limpy. "You need the meat more than I do. Take all of it!"

Before the words were out of his mouth the stray dog gobbled down the meat.

Limp looked after it sorrowfully. What a start he got then. All the thinness left the skinny dog and it stood before him sleek and fat.

"I'm 'Ting the tramp dog," laughed the other dog. "I wasn't really hungry, for I know where all the bones and good things are buried. I was sent by the wise old owl and was told to travel here in disguise to see if you were a good-natured dog, and now that I know you are I am permitted to stay and help you along the journey. I will find the meals for us both."

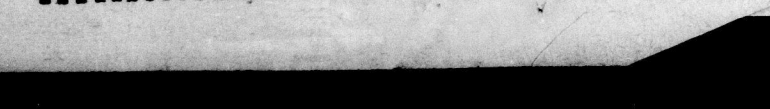

So Limpy had his first companion. To Be Continued.

16 Major League Clubs Away On Big Season's Campaign

This Year's Outlook One of Brightest Ever Faced by Majors—Injection of Usual Amount of New Blood Adds Its Quota of Speculation.

TODAY'S GAMES.
National.
Brooklyn at Boston.
New York at Philadelphia.
Pittsburgh at Cincinnati.
St. Louis at Chicago.
American.
Chicago at Detroit.
Cleveland at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at New York.
Boston at Washington.

Sixteen teams of the National and American Baseball Leagues today begin their annual campaign for the right to participate in the world's series championship with its attendant award of gold and acclaim of fandom. Weather favorable to the pastime is predicted for the opening contests. With the various teams strengthened at weak points and the shifting of players to new scenes of activity, officials and close followers of the sport are confident that close and exciting struggles will feature the season in each league.

Cleveland and Brooklyn were the pennant winners last season, but of the two Cleveland is looked upon as having a chance to repeat. The Giants, as usual, are called sure winners in the National. Pirates are also much stronger, and Marquette, secured from the Braves, has plugged the hole which existed in the infield last season. The National race should see New York, Pittsburgh and St. Louis fighting it out with Brooklyn. Also sure of a first-division berth, Cleveland, St. Louis, Detroit and the Yankees appear best in the American.

Many New Managers.
There are other new managers whose work will also add to the interest in the present season. John J. McGraw is back with his "old love," the Chicago Cubs; Bill Donovan is going to try what no one else has been able to do for the Philadelphia Phillies; Mitchell will handle the Boston Braves. Half of the clubs in the American League will be in new hands. Like Ty Cobb, who is leaving the Tigers to manage the Detroit Tigers, and Harry Frazar, who is leaving the Yankees to manage the New York Yankees, and Lee Fohl, who is leaving the Cleveland Indians to manage the Cleveland Indians, and many others.

The Giants found in Goldie Rapp, former St. Paul third baseman, an infielder who promises to fill a hole through which the Yankees slipped last year. Manager McGraw was also fortunate in picking up in the 1920 season. The team will likely open the season with this line-up: First base, Rapp; second base, Rapp; shortstop, Rapp; left field, Rapp; center field, Rapp; right field, Rapp; pitcher, Rapp. The Cincinnati Reds are much weaker than they were last year, and Brooklyn seems no better than last year, when the Robins slipped in on a fluke.

Gibson's Team.
Rabbit Maranville will put new life and strength in the Pittsburgh Pirates, still down in the race last year. The line-up: Gibson, first base; Cuthbert, second base; Maranville, shortstop; Barnhart, third base; Bigby, left field; Carey, center field; Whitting, right field; Schmidt, Lee, Skiff, Wilson, catchers; Adams, Cooper, Hamilton, Ponder, Carlson, Yellowhorse, Zinn, Eberhardt, Glanzer, Morrison, pitchers.

The Cincinnati Reds are much weaker than they were last year, and Brooklyn seems no better than last year, when the Robins slipped in on a fluke. The Cleveland pitching staff this year will have the same "Big Four"—Coveleskie, hero of last year's world series; Bagby, Caldwell and Malla, the team's sensational left-hander. This quartet may be added to the "Big Five" as reports from the south indicate that George Uhler, the big right-hander, is already showing mid-season form.

The Indians' catching staff, headed by Steve O'Neill, is said to be as strong as any in the league. Joe Evans and Joe Wood, outfielders, and George Burns at first base, must be considered regulars. The Yankees' catching staff, headed by Babe Ruth, is also strong. The Yankees' pitching staff, headed by Walter Johnson, is also strong. The Yankees' outfielders, headed by Ray Schalk, are also strong.

Thistles Meet Co-Eds For Y. W. C. A. Basketball Title

Game Billed For Tonight At Western "U" Gym.

The Ladies' City Basketball League receives its quietest tonight, when the Thistles, winners of the industrial section of the Y. W. C. A. League for the Western University Cup, play the Western University girls. The game will be played at the Western University gymnasium on Oxford street, and will be handled by Jack Lightfoot. The Western University girls have been improving as the season advanced, and are playing an excellent brand of ball, while the Thistles, it will be remembered, were barely nosed out by the Shamrocks for the championship of the other city league. Both teams will go on the floor at full strength, and a hot argument should ensue. The line-up:
Thistles:
J. Walker, Forward; L. Milne, H. Baker, Forward; L. Milne, H. Baker, Forward; L. Milne, H. Baker, Forward.

MFRS. BALL TOSSERS HOLDING MEETING TOMORROW NIGHT

Expect To Arrange Complete Circuit and Draft a Schedule.

The second meeting of the Manufacturers' Baseball League will be held Thursday night at Brisco's store at 8 o'clock, and at the end of this conference the east-end ball circuit should be well under way. At the first meeting last week six teams were certain entries. Any team wishing to make entry this year is requested to send their delegates to the Thursday night meeting, as the executive committee will get the schedule started on its way in draft form at least, and also wish to ascertain as soon as possible the exact make-up of the league.

The changes in the rules have pleased many of the circuit's loyal followers, and they look to the addition of more outside players as a big factor in producing faster baseball on the "Park" for this summer. Many of the teams already certain have a good line on their material for the coming season, and they promise some surprises in the way of ball tossers.

Mrs. A. A. A. to Meet Tonight

Industrial Firms Urged To Send Delegates To Meeting.

The Manufacturers' Amateur Athletic Association has decided upon holding its track and field contest on Saturday, June 18, and is asking for the co-operation of every industry in the city. The contest will be held at the city stadium, and will be a splendid opportunity for the city to show its sportsmanship. ## MARYLAND COMMISS ORDERS BEDWELL BE ACCEPTED AT PIMLICO Track Management Are Taking Stand With N. Y. Jockey Club.

BALTIMORE, April 12.—The Maryland Racing Commission today ordered the Maryland Jockey Club, which operates the Pimlico race track, to accept Guy Bedwell as the authorized agent in this state of Commander J. K. L. Ross, noted Canadian turfman. Bedwell has been registered at Bowie, and his registration has been lodged with the racing commission. The Pimlico management, however, refused to recognize Bedwell's signature to the Ross entries for the approaching spring meeting at the track standing with the Jockey Club (New York), which also refuses to recognize Bedwell as Ross' agent.

Maple Leafs Hold Off Selak Five

Took Two Out of Three Last Night, Which Gives Commanding Lead.

The Maple Leafs staved the Selak team off in the City League by taking two out of three games from the McCullum Cup holders, and thereby getting a death grip on the top rung. The cup holders sent the Leafs into a 1,049 total to win the first game. The Leafs got such fright in that one that they went to 1,034 in the second. Selak came strong in the last, however, with 87, and it was enough to take the "Park" for this summer.

SARNIA CASTS IN LOT WITH PT. HURON ON M.-O. PROPOSITION

Committee Will Start Campaign For Funds Immediately—Enthusiastic Meeting.

SARNIA, April 12.—Sarnia will have a finger in the Port Huron berth in the M.-O. it was decided tonight at a meeting of local baseball fans, addressed by President George Maines and H. Watkins, Sarnia enthusiast. A committee was named to institute a campaign for funds which will go towards the purchase of the "Battle Creek" franchise and the expenses incidental to placing the berth on a sound business basis. The first box of the franchise, and those at the meeting were optimistic of the support that might be expected for professional ball from Sarnia, which has always been one of the best amateur ball towns in the province. George Dawson was one of the speakers who advocated the Sarnia interest in the Port Huron venture, and his arguments carried conviction with them.

The committee named is composed of the following: W. Cook, James Beady, W. Saurwein, George P. France, Fred Hohlitzel.

Buzz Welcomes Old Krazy Krew Back To Fold As They Struggle in Singly

Calbert May Be Back Soon—Lambert, Closer To Ground Than Carmen, Is New Hurler Find—One Rookie Just Stays Night and Day.

DELAWARE, O., April 12.—The veterans are rolling in, and Buzz is all smiles as he greets them and hands out the togs. He says he feels like he was really managing the champs again. George Washington Stutz, fresh from Philadelphia, blew in late today, and had a grin from ear to ear at the prospect of being credited as an arrival. The veterans are rolling in, and Buzz is all smiles as he greets them and hands out the togs. He says he feels like he was really managing the champs again.

Two new aspirants worked out to day with the regulars. They were Lambert, a wee small hurler, who gives prospects of being creditable asset to the aggregation, and Dietrick, who was given a chance to train upon the recommendation of Billy Doyle. He has been in Chicago, but will be released early tomorrow, Wetzel said this evening. He is a poor specimen to be given a berth as second baseman on the league champion squad, and his stay in the Delaware camp is already limited to a day and a single night.

St. Thomas Desires Entry in Junior Soccer League

Entry List To Be Left Open Until April 30—More Local Teams Wanted.

The Junior City Soccer League met again last night and instead of closing the entry list, decided to leave it open until April 30. No new local teams turned up, but St. Thomas is seeking an entrance to the league and will be accommodated if they raise at least two teams down there. There is also a possibility of several more teams being added to the circuit by local organizations.

INTER-CLUB BALL FOR PORT STANLEY

League Will Hold Games At Lake Every Saturday Afternoon.

At a meeting of the representatives of the Port Stanley and Port Huron clubs, held in the Manhattan Club-rooms last evening, the Interclub Baseball League was reorganized for the coming season. The decision was made to stage their games at Port Stanley each Saturday afternoon. Herbert Smith of the A. O. was elected president. Harry Asplund of the Port Huron was the choice for treasurer, and David Stewart of Port Huron was selected as secretary. The three teams have equal representation on the executive committee.

Among the various rules adopted was one which will protect the players from being injured. A man who is injured by three consecutive games may demand his release from the manager of the team, and in the event it is not granted he may appeal to the executive of the league for action.

BIG LEAGUE TEAMS READY FOR OPENING

Many Recruits in Line-Up of Different Teams.

The baseball season is on south of the border. Sixteen major league teams, fortified with recruits to strengthen their weak points, cross bats today in the opening of the 1921 National and American pennant fights.

The usual festivities, brass band, parade and flowers inclusive, will precede the calling of play in all these cities. The local mayor will be the choice of the Athletics' manager for the hurling duty, with Perkins catching. In Boston, Southworth, Nicholson and Barbare, accessions to the Braves from the Pittsburgh club, in exchange for the doughty little shortstop Maranville, and several other players of recent status, appeared for the first time. Fred Mitchell left the team as manager, superseding George Stallings. Oeschger for the Braves and Cadore for Brooklyn were down as the probable pitching opponents. The weather is clear and warm.

New White Sox Team.
In Detroit an almost entirely new White Sox line-up will face the Tigers. Exclusive of the battery, Eddie Collins will be the only veteran in the outfit, the other White Sox stars of past years having been dismissed because of the 1919 world series scandal. The other new men in the team are manager, exception of Harry Hooper, formerly of the Red Sox, are minor leaguers or college baseball graduates.

Earl Sheely, first baseman and slugger of the Coast League, has the clean-up place in the batting order. Hubert ("Dutch") Leonard probably will face the Sox batters, most of whom are left-handed, while Dick Kerr, remnant of the world series trio of Sox pitchers in 1919, will pitch for Chicago. The game marks Ty Cobb's managerial debut.

At St. Louis a weather forecast of showers and cooler weather threatened to put a damper on the game. Stanley Coveleskie, the Indians' star moundman, will likely oppose Shocker. In Chicago, Grover Cleveland Alexander was the pitching choice for the Cubs with O'Farrell behind the plate as the veteran Killifer has a sprained throwing hand. The St. Louis battery has not been announced this morning.

Dispatches from Washington indicate that interest in the probable batteries was almost completely swamped by the excitement over the fact that President Harding was to toss out the first ball. General Pershing was scheduled to lead the parade of players to the flag pole.

At Cincinnati it was expected that the opposing batteries would be Adams and Schmidt for Pittsburgh and Laque and Wingo for the Reds.

REACH SEMI-FINALS IN NATIONAL TROPHY

Boston, Mass., April 11.—In a flurry of boxing gloves, wielded from several sections of the United States and Canada, through hours of milling that lasted from early evening to midnight, the national amateur boxing championships were advanced to the semi-final round tonight.

Eight classes were up for decision, ranging from flyweight to heavyweight, with few of last year's championship contenders returning to the national competition.

In the 108-pound class Al Pettigill of New Orleans defeated R. J. McKenney of Toronto in three rounds.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Emma J. Helm, pretty and golden haired, and not quito 13, was compelled to take the witness stand for the second time in the Queen's County Supreme Court before Justice Norman S. Dike yesterday to give testimony in an action for separation from her husband, Frederick H. Helm. The girl, who was married at 16, when she became an orphan, testified that of her mother gave testimony in the same action three months ago, and Justice Leander B. Faber on January 19, 1920, when she said he struck her a bucket. She testified that when she was married she weighed 145 pounds and that when she was taken from her mother she weighed 125 pounds. She said she now weighs 120 pounds.

is granted her prayer for separation. Her 12-year-old daughter, Dorothy, born June 18, 1920. Recently the husband, through Attorney John P. Lamerdin, petitioned for the setting aside of the divorce and the annulment of the marriage. The attorney who formerly represented him had failed to put in a defence, and had let the action go by default. This notice was granted and for that reason a retrial was started yesterday.

For yesterday's trial many witnesses were summoned on both sides. When the case was called on by the court, the following witnesses appeared:

The plaintiff was just concluding his testimony and had undergone a severe cross-examination when the witness called to ending the hearing. She had told of the cruelties which she declared had been practiced upon her by the family of her husband, whom she had married in 1902. Her husband

DETROIT CENTRE OF TRAFFIC IN EUROPEAN GIRLS

Victims Are Sold For $1,500, American Woman Tells Authorities.

HELD IN HAREMS

Sisters and Daughters Are Sold To Wealthy Residents of Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., April 12.—The selling of young girls imported from the war-torn countries abroad is being carried on in Detroit by a ring of white-slavers, according to information given Inspector John Short of the United States immigration service today by Mrs. Violet Kalajian, 602 Tennyson avenue, Highland Park.

More than 20 girls between ages of 14 and 20 are now on their way to this city from Armenia, Palestine and Turkey, to be sold to the highest bidder, Mrs. Kalajian declared. In making the revelation, she claimed to represent Armenian women of this city who are fighting against the traffic.

Immigration authorities have started an investigation of the charges. If it is found that wives of any alien are admitted to the United States by false statements they will be deported. The Girls' Friendly Society also has started an inquiry. Officials of the organization said that they have frequently heard reports of such a traffic. "But could not believe it."

In addition to the girls brought here from Europe, many daughters and sisters of local aliens are being sold. Not all of the girls are legally married, but many are forcibly held in harems, maintained by wealthy aliens, Mrs. Kalajian asserted.

Girls residing in the war-stricken countries are sold through their photographs and are sent to the white-slavers, select a photograph and order that the girl be brought to Detroit. Upon ordering a girl, the prospective purchaser pays a deposit of between $200 and $300, the woman said. This money is sent to members of the ring in Europe, and part of it pays the expense of transporting the girl to this country.

Before leaving their homelands prospective brides are cautioned how to pass immigration inspectors at Ellis Island. They are given the name of some alien in one of the large cities, and instructed to pose as the wife, daughter, or sister of that person. A few as they leave Ellis Island they are taken in charge by a member of the ring and brought to Detroit.

According to Mrs. Kalajian, the average price paid for girls imported from the Near East is $1,500. If the girl is young, and particularly good looking, the price may be higher. "Most of the girls have seen so much poverty, and have known so much want, they are glad for any chance to come to America, which most easterners here is like heaven," said Mrs. Kalajian. "Then when they get here many of them want to back out of the bargain, but they are forced to go with the man who buys them."

At present there are more than 200 girls on route to this city from Armenia, Turkey and other countries in the East. Many of them are mere children. Although Armenian women of this city have been endeavoring to check this hideous traffic, we have been overwhelmed by the vast majority of men. Now we are asking the officials to aid us."

There is a large colony of Armenians, Syrians, Egyptians and Assyrians in Highland Park, and according to Mrs. Kalajian almost every unmarried man has sent to Europe for a wife.

MINISTER OF LABOR TO ADMINISTER PRINTING BUREAU

OTTAWA, April 12.—The Government has decided to place the printing bureau under the jurisdiction of the minister of labor. Ever since Confederation the printing bureau has been under the department of the secretary of state. It was felt, however, that as this department was concerned chiefly with the employment of labor and the letting of contracts for public printing, etc., it was more suitable for the department of labor, and from now on it will be administered by Hon. Gideon Robertson, minister of labor.

STOPPED HIS TRAIN SAVED TWO LIVES FROM BURNING HOUSE

Transcontinental Railway
Engineer and His Fireman
Rescue Child and Woman.

COCHRANE, April 12.—Noticing a farm house on fire and a child's face at the window, Engineer John Nelson, hauling a train from Cochrane to O'Brien, on the Transcontinental Railway, stopped his engine, and after whistling for the brakeman to protect his train in the rear, started across the fields with his fireman to the rescue.

Arriving there the child jumped from an upstairs window into the arms of the fireman. The youngster indicated as plainly as possible in his broken French that his mother was inside the burning house. The men made a scaffolding of fence rails and with much difficulty got the woman out safely. She had been ill in bed.

PROPORTIONAL VOTING IN MUNICIPALITIES LAID OVER FOR YEAR

TORONTO, April 12.—There was quite an animated discussion in the municipal committee today in regard to the bill of H. P. Hill of Ottawa respecting proportional representation in municipal elections. The measure was introduced by Hon. Thomas Crawford, but further consideration of the measure was deferred for a year, carried by a vote of 12 to 10. Messrs. Hill and K. K. Homuth were the main supporters of the bill. Hill pointed out that the system could only come into force after a favorable vote on a plebiscite. The opposition to the bill was largely on the ground that there should be delay to enable further study of the question and to educate public opinion.

TO RELIEVE CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises, will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible over or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them, and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home, and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce Parmit (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 3 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmit is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.—Advt.

REPUBLIC WILL HAVE NO PART IN THE LEAGUE

Harding Declares in First Message To Congress On Tuesday.

ATTENDED IN PERSON

Claims Decision Is No Betrayal of Will of the People.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 12.—Final rejection of the Versailles League of Nations by the United States Government was proclaimed to the world today by President Harding in a solemn pronouncement of the foreign policies of his new administration. Speaking briefly before the new Congress assembled to write a program of political and economic reconstruction, the president declared acceptance of the league would be nothing short of a betrayal of the mandate of the November elections. Instead, he asked for a congressional declaration of peace and for ratification of those portions of the Versailles treaty which protect specifically United States rights and interests in the war settlement.

"In the existing League of Nations, world governing with its super-powers to the detriment of the smaller nations," he said, "it is only fair to say to the world in general and to our associates in war in particular that the league covenant can have no sanction by us."

The declaration was answered by a tremendous demonstration, in which Republican senators and Republican representatives led, while most of their Democratic colleagues sat silent and smiling. After weighing the words of the chief executive the senatorial group of treaty irrecusable tonight were claiming a complete victory, predicting that even the portions of the treaty endorsed by Mr. Harding would never receive Senate approval.

In his recommendations for domestic legislation the president gave greatest attention to tariff and tax revision and to the railway situation, though he endorsed a list of lesser measures, which congressional leaders declared might prolong the special session until the snow flies. He also took occasion in his address of nearly an hour to declare his faith in a maintained merchant marine, and in the principle of armament reduction without asking for legislation on either subject.

No Specific Plans.
An emergency tariff to correct serious disorders in United States industry was placed at the head of the president's requests, and within an hour after he finished speaking the House of Representatives voted to accept the committee agreed to report tomorrow the emergency measure passed at the last session and vetoed by President Wilson. For the permanent tariff bill that is to be framed later, Mr. Harding made no specific suggestion, except that it follow the principle of protection.

Similarly, the president refrained from detailed recommendations on taxation, contenting himself with a general discussion of the situation with an appeal for representatives to organize a separate government department of public welfare, but made no recommendation whether a cabinet official should be placed at its head.

BODY OF CHILD IS FOUND NEAR SARNIA

Discovered in Ditch On the Murphy Sideroad—Inquest
To Be Held.

SARNIA, April 12.—The body of a male child was discovered lying on a roadside ditch under some short shrubbery on the Murphy sideroad, north of Clark's sideroad late this afternoon by two boys, James Noble, and another boy named Gibb. The body was well developed, it was said.

Inspector Alex. Crosbie of this city was notified and accompanied by Corporal Dr. Logie, investigated. After the investigation an inquest was ordered, and it will be held in Clark's school house. The following jury has been empaneled: William Guthrie, John Parr, William J. McNeil, Walter Gallie, Isaac Gallie, John Harris, T. Noble and James Collier.

UNEMPLOYED VETERANS NUMBER OVER 30,000 SAYS G. W. V. A. SECRETARY

More Than 800 Active Branches and Membership 250,000, Is Claim.

OTTAWA, April 12.—Four years ago today the Great War Veterans' Association was born in Winnipeg. A few veterans who had been returned invalided from overseas gathered together and held the first meeting of the organization, which today numbers a quarter of a million members. This makes the G. W. V. A. numerically one of the strongest organizations in Canada. The first president was Col. W. P. Purney, "the Soldiers' Friend," who last year handed over the honor to R. E. Maxwell. There are now more than 800 active branches spread over the Dominion. Among the honorary members are numbered the Prince of Wales, Earl Haig and General Arthur Currie. Mr. McNeil, secretary of the organization, outlined the work accomplished by the association during the last four years this morning.

The number of cases where soldiers have been assisted during that time, either financially or in an advisory manner, now amounts up to hundreds of thousands. There is one unfortunate phase of the situation in regard to the returned soldiers and sailors in Canada, however, which Mr. McNeil says the Canadian public must sooner or later face in a logical manner, and that is unemployment. Out of the returned soldiers and sailors with whom the association can get in touch there are about 30,000 men out of work.

JAMES HALLIDAY DIES SUDDENLY.
CALGARY, April 12.—James Halliday, formerly member of Parliament, for North Bruce, dropped dead here Monday evening at his Calgary residence. He was born in Perth, Ontario, and for 40 years was a resident of Bruce County. He came to Calgary in 1910 to be near his family, as he has two sons and one daughter residing in Alberta.

LONDON CITY BILL APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

Dr. Stevenson Alone in Opposition To L. and P. S. Clause.

OPPOSES GAS BILL

McCrae's Bill Is Given Second Reading by Bills Committee.

TORONTO, April 12.—London's affairs occupied the attention of the Ontario Legislature today—very briefly—when second reading was given Charles McCrae's City Gas Bill, and at some length when Dr. Stevenson made a futile effort to compel the city council of London to secure the assent of the ratepayers before issuing debentures to the extent of $257,000, with which to purchase equipment for the London and Port Stanley Railway.

Intimating that he would have something further to say when the gas bill, admitting a charge of $1.25 per 1,000 cubic feet of gas, reached committee, Dr. Stevenson pointed out that the proposed measure was of very great importance to the citizens of London. The amount of money that had been collected on service charges, he said, "is not small item. It amounts to $60,000, probably 2 mills on the dollar. I think some redress should be made. I wish the House would consider the return of that money, particularly."

Alone in Opposition.
Although Dr. Stevenson fought hard against the clause in the London bill permitting the borrowing of $257,000, and P. S. equipment without the consent of the ratepayers, he stood practically alone in opposition to it. When the clause was finally declared carried by the chairman of the committee of the whole, the member for London demanded a vote on it, but as he had not the necessary five members in opposition could not divide the House.

R. L. Bracklin, Liberal member for West Kent, declared that the railway was in a position where they could greatly increase traffic provided they had the facilities. The management of the railway, he said, and not the voters of the city of London, should say whether the additional equipment was needed. He, with K. K. Homuth, South Waterloo, pointed out that the clause had been passed by committee after careful consideration.

Citizens Must Pay.
"It is the citizens of London who have got to put their hands in their pockets," said Dr. Stevenson, "and they have said at the polls that they would not do so. It is not up to any member of this House to say to them that they must do it."

The balance of the city of London bill passed committee without opposition. Dr. Stevenson has two amendments to present on the gas bill, one to make the provisions of the bill operative until the company has repaid its service charges, thrown out by the railway board, and a second, to have the company set aside for possible refund 25 cents instead of 10 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of the new charge.

SAILING IS CANCELLED.
LONDON, April 11.—The Cunard Steamship Company has cancelled the sailing of the steamship Berengaria, formerly the Imperator, from Southampton, which was scheduled for April 15.

IMPRESSIVE SCENES AT FUNERAL RITES OF SYDNEY FISHER

Noted Canadian Statesman
Act As Pallbearers—Service Was Simple.

MONTREAL, April 12.—Simple and impressive were the funeral rites of the Hon. Sydney Fisher, which took place this afternoon, attended by a large and representative gathering of some of Canada's most distinguished citizens, who had gathered to pay their last respects.

Christ Church Cathedral was crowded with mourners eager to take a last opportunity of showing their love and gratitude, and a long line of personal friends gathered half an hour before the service had begun to take a last look at the deceased as he lay in the casket at the foot of the chancel steps. At 2 p.m. the body was borne to the front door by the pallbearers, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Senator Bostock, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Hon. Rodolph Lemieux, Senator Arthur Boyer, Hon. W. P. Viles and A. R. MacMaster, M. P., and the service, which was marked by extreme simplicity, commenced with a prayer by the Rev. Dr. Symonds, who conducted the service.

Rev. Dr. Readford, principal of the Diocesan college, who was a boyhood friend of Hon. Sydney Fisher, paid a short tribute to his memory. The only music was the selections on the organ, rendered by the cathedral organist, Arthur Egan, preceding the service and during the responses.

At the conclusion of the service "To Rest in the Lord" was rendered, as the casket was carried to the waiting hearse. It was thence escorted by a number of mourners to the crematory in Mount Royal Cemetery, where the cremation services were being held. Simonds before being placed in position for the cremation.

NO CHANGE IN DATE OF MUNICIPAL POLLS

Dr. H. A. Stevenson With-draws His Bill—Would Disenfranchise Seamen

TORONTO, April 12.—Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M.L.A., today withdrew from the municipal committee of the Legislature his bill providing that municipalities may hold their nominations and elections in November and December. Capt. R. D. Simpson, representing shipmasters, mates and pilots, protested against the measure, intimating that it would disenfranchise most of such men, as they do not get home much before Christmas. Dr. Stevenson said that newspapermen, railwaymen and commercial travelers were asking for the bill, but he would not be a party to the disenfranchisement of any man, and accordingly withdrew it.
