Platt wrote to her, and upon which she has sued him for $25,000 breach of promise. She telegraphed friends here that she had filed the suit in New York, Miss Wood left this city in company with a lawyer and had everything prepared, in case Senator Platt refused to acknowledge her claims. It is said here that Senator Platt's sons have exerted their influence to get Miss Wood to New York at this time. They are violently opposed to known of the acquaintance of Senator | Platt and Miss Wood for some time, Birth and Marriage Rates Advance-Death Rate Lower.

Toronto, Oct. 16.-The vital statistics for 1902, as compiled by the provincial board of health, show that while marriages and births have been making substantial increases in Ontario, the death roll has decreased. The births last year were 47,796, as compared with 46.061 in 1901; an increase of 1,735. Marriages numbered 18,072, an increase of 37 over 1901. There were 27,864 of 1.744. Considering the rate per 1,000 of the population, the births were 21.7 in 1902 and 21.1 in 1901; marriages were 8.2 in 1902 and 8.2 in 1901. Deaths were 12.6 in 1902 and 13.6 in 1901.

In the cities there were 10.641 births. 5.879 marriages and 7.571 deaths, against 10,047, 5,468 and 8,097 respectively in 1901 Per 1,000 of the population these figures

Jury's Unique Verdict - Thanksgiving Day Tragedy at Bowmanville, Ont.

Chicago, Oct. 16 .- A dispatch from Lawrenceville, Ill., says: In the Lawrence circuit court here, a jury trying the case of the State against George Ryan, charged with assault to commit murder, could not reach a verdict after being out 36 hours, when one of them suggested flipping nickel fives, heads to convict, tails to acquit. The second trial showed four heads and eight tails, resulting in acquittal. The court accepted the verdiet, but fld not know how it was reached until yesterday. The state will get a new trial, and the jurors may be indicted.

This meant a betterment in the postal accounts of over one million dollars, in addition to a million dollars esti-mated to have been saved the people by the reduction in postal rates.

In view of the satisfactory state of the finances, Sir William announced an increase in pay to postmasters in the country districts. The advance will be the raising of the minimum fee from $10 to $25, and in the case of accounting postmasters, there will be an increase of 10 per cent in salary and in These increases, together with those previously announced, will make a large inroad on the revenues, but he still expected to avoid a deficit. Sir William presented a convincing array of figures showing increases in postal facilities, business and revenue, and his statement was heard with great satisfaction by the entire House.

1896 was 242,619. In 1903 the number was 336,012, an increase of 93,393, or 38 per cent. The number of accounts in the postoffice savings banks in 1896 was 126,442. In 1903 the number was 167.023, an increase of 40,581, or 32 per cent.

The amount of money deposited in the postoffice savings bank in 1896 was $28,-932,929. In 1903 the amount was $44,255,326, an increase of $15,322,397, or 52 per cent. For many years prior to 1896, continued

Sir William, the revenue of the Postoffice Department failed to meet the expenditure by a very large sum, and for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1896, there was a deficit of $781,142.

In 1898 and 1899 there was a very material reduction in the revenue of the postoffice because of the reduction of the letter rates. On Christmas Day, 1898, the rate to the United Kingdom was reduced from 5 to 2 cents an ounce. On Jan. 1, Ottawa, Oct. 16. - The first surplus 1899, the rates to points in Canada and on the entire postal service of Canada the United States were reduced from 3 was the Thanksgiving announcement to 2 cents. It is estimated that this has of Sir Wm. Mulock, the man who does resulted in a saving of $1,000,000 to the things. The Postmaster-General was Canadian people. The balancing of the able to tell the House that, even al- accounts for the fiscal year ending June lowing for the deficit of over 30, 1902, showed that, excluding the deficit $100,000 on the Yukon service, the pos- on the Yukon service, which was not in existence in 1896, there was a surplus of $5.109. For the last fiscal year, if the Yukon deficit be excluded, there is a surplus of $395,361. (Cheers.) But even if the deficit of the Yukon service is included, there was a surplus of revenue over expenditure last year of $292,702. (Loud cheers.)

Sir William said he had been asked what it was proposed to do with this surplus. He replied that he believed in a country like Canada the postoffice should not be regarded as a money-making service. If it could take care of itself he thought the people would be satisfied. With this principle in view he had laid before Parliament recommendations for increases to those in the service. Many postmaster serving only ten, a dozen or a score of people have received only a nominal sum. This practice did not Originate with the present nor with the preceding Administration. It was the result of the exigencles of the country with its sparse population. The question was how it could be bettered. At present postmasters, where the revenue is perhaps $10 or $20 for the yearly operations of the office, received a minimum fee of $10, going up to $12 or $15. Sir William said that he now proposed that from the 1st of last July such postmasters should receive a minimum fee of $25. (Cheers.) Mr. Johnston (Cardwell), Mr. La Riviere and Mr. Hughes (Kings) congratulated the Postmaster-General on his determination to grant a well-deserved Sir William Mulock.

> Mr. Oscar Hammerstein, of New York, ibrettist, musical composer, theaterowner, theatrical manager, inventor, and at one time editor of the Tobacco Journal, spent Thanksgiving Day in London, and was registered at the Teumseh House, where an Advertiser representative found him last evening. When accosted by the reporter, Mr. Hammerstein exclaimed:

"Well, well, I never thought I should run into a reporter here. But when once a man becomes famous, he is branded for life like a convict. However, get to work with your pump, and is featureless. It has been ruined by the introduction of interpolated songs, let me see what you know about getting news." The reporter "got to work," and soon hours, and these songs more than anyfound out what brought Mr. Hammerstein to London. Mr. Hammerstein is the man who invented the famous cigarmaking machine, just now per-fected, and the patent for which is worth millions. It does away practi-cally with high-grade hand-work, and t was in connection with the introduction of this machine into London cigar factories that the inventor came here. In all, Mr. Hammerstein has invented 86 contrivances, all of which have been found a success for the purposes for which they were intended. He began life as a cigarmaker over 30 years ago, and it was his knowledge of the business that enabled him to devise the wonderful machine for the making of cigars. From the position of a cigar-maker, Mr. Hammerstein quickly raised himself up to the highest pinnacle in

But into each we've put a higher standard of materials, more expert tailoring, more thought and care and attention than the price indicates. They've had the advantage of our "High-Grade" system, the advantage of our superior making organization and the full strength of our facilities. The first thing you look at is the effect; the patterns offered are all exclusive. The fit is the next feature-and you have never worn a Suit or Top Coat that fits equal to these. They are perfection, and nothing short of it.

... SPECIAL VALUES ARE OFFERED IN...

Men's Suits and Top Coats

$10, $12.50 and $15.

The variety at each price is immense, embracing an assortment capable of supplying the demand of every personal taste and every individual requirement. You can "walk right into" a Suit and a Top Coat here that would mean a long-drawn-out delay at a tailor's, and an outlay of double the cost, with nothing to be gained in satisfaction.

You'll feel well dressed and you'll be well dressed, because you'll be wearing Clothes that embody the artistic and the commercial attributes of complete satisfaction. We guarantee as the makers as well as the retailers.

Some Extraordinary Attractions for the Boys!

We don't want you to be persuaded by the special prices that we shall quote for tomorrow half as much as by the values offered in connection with them. It is the value that makes the price remarkably low. There isn't a Suit in either of the three lots gathered but was made for much higher selling. They are ours at these prices only by reason of circumstances that control the market, but they are yours immediately they become ours. It's as much our duty to study economy of price as it is to study wealth of quality. We promise you the best possible for the least possible, and every energy and every opportunity is improved that looks to your advantage.

The line of School Suits at $3.95 stands as an unrivaled favorite with boys and parents alike. Everything within the possibility of the price and much beyond in the way of fabric is represented. GIRL BURNED TO DEATH

Terrible Fate of Daughter of Mr. Geo Speck, East Nissouri.

The little daughter of Mr. George Speck, ninth concession of East Nissouri, met with a terrible death on Tuesday evening. The child, a little tot of about 4 years, was playing around a fire which had been started in the yard to heat water in which to scald hogs that had been slaughtered, when her clothes became ignited and in a moment she was enveloped in flames. With rare presence of mind, the unfortunate little girl ran to the house, but the door was shut. She beat frantically on the door, however, until the mother answered the summons, but the child was so badly burned that she fell dead before asistance could be rendered her. Mr. and Mrs. Speck are prostrated with grief. The funeral will take place Saturday

The Hunt Club home is a popular resort of itself, with its magnificent grounds and house. In their autumn beauty the trees were a delight to look upon, the undulating ground to the south and west being also a place of grandeur. It is little wonder that these days the golf links are well patronized. More than anything else, perhaps. the sociability of the club is a feature, and as on Saturday afternoon last. Thanksgiving Day saw a great number of ladies and gentlemen in attendance. Of these, 50 or more sat down to the hunt breakfast at half-past one in the afternoon, and a most delectable luncheon it was. At its conclusion.Col. Denison proposed the health of the master. Mayor Beck. In doing so, he referred to the self-sacrifice of the master for the hunt, in the effort to bring it to the front, and said that not only from the riders, but from all the members, he deserved all the praise. In response to the toast, which wa heartily drunk, Mayor Beek thanked the company, and said that anything he had done was done for the love of it, and because he liked to see good sport. The London Hunt Club had brought the name of London, before the horsemen of the United States, as the best place to get riding horses, and he illustrated by saying that the prize-winners at the New York, Philadelphia and Boston shows of hunt teams had been bred in London Shortly after 3 o'clock the hounds were let loose, and following them were a number of the members of the club and others. The gay red habits could be seen until the horsemen vanished into the woods. The horses were all in good shape, and the turnout was a splendid one. Those who followed were the master. Mayor Beck, and the whips, Messrs. William Wilson and S. Owen, and among others the following: Col. Denison and Dr. Peters, Toronto Major Bumbrey, of England; Messrs. J. I. A. Hunt, W. T. Strong, Palmer Smith, James McNee, Bert Greene, Bert Mills, Dr. Hogg, Dr. Piper, Cel. A. M. Smith and Lieut, John Garvey. An opposition that was continually crying down everything was not a good opposition, and it was pity that both sides could not be brought up to a state wherein the good of the other would be recognized. The party caucus Mr. Clark characterized as one of the most regretful influences of the day. The caucus met and said who should be the party candidate instead of allowing the free electors to make their choice of who should be chosen to represent In the caucus, the only man who had a chance was the man who shoes; next, they are comfortable shoes, and then comes the clever ness of the designers in combining with utmost quality and comfort smartness and style.
