CHATHAM WILL SECURE MORE PAYING INDUSTRIES

Citizens Should Throw Out Keystone Proposition In Order that Assistance May Be Given to Worthy and Desirable Concerns—Oil Refinery is the Latest One Suggested

There is every indication that before many weeks have passed the City Council may have before them a proposition from a large and representative combination of oil-producers from the East Tilbury field regarding the erection of an immense oil-refinery in Chatham.

The oil-men concerned in the development of the field have recognized the many facilities which this city offers them in the way of easy and rapid transportation by the railroads and the river and, in view of its close proximity to East Tilbury they are working to mutually join hands and erect a refinery here. The idea, when first mooted, was to build the refinery on the oil-field or in Tilbury, but it is understood that after more mature consideration the prospective site is in the city.

An informal meeting, at which the majority of the operators are expected to be present, will be held at the beginning of next week and an application to the Council for a loan or bonus will most likely follow.

The petitions for franchises presented at the last meeting of the Council were the heralds of a host of public benefits which should rightly come from the development of the fine oil and gas fields at Tilbury East and, if the Council take hold of the chances in a business-like manner, there is little or no reason why these benefits should not become established facts. The city fathers have before them at the present time three propositions of interest to the whole city, if not the whole county. The Keystone sugar factory is the least important of the trio on account of its instability and general cloudiness yet it has, so far, attracted the most attention. It has been thrown down in no half-hearted manner by the city on its first trial and there is small reason to believe that it will be successful at the second attempt. This being the case it is plainly up to the Council to use their energies towards the securing of industries which will be of benefit to this city.

That the aldermen will avail themselves of the magnificent opportunity now presented to them, it is for every citizen to hope. By disposing of the Keystone proposition at once they will be able to follow its withdrawal with a big effort to successfully land beneficial industries such as the oil refinery will be. As far as the solidity of the latter proposition goes it may be said that on the first attempt $125,000 has been subscribed, and there is enough following to swell the amount to three or four times as much. There is one feature about it that must be considered by the Council upon its first appearance, and that is the alternative site at Tilbury. One of the leading oil-men remarked last evening that providing the refinery proposition was turned down in Chatham, they would locate at Tilbury whether that town offered them any inducement or not. Chatham is, of course, the better location, but if the refinery is to come here the citizens must show in some way that they desire it and that they will encourage its promoters to bring it here. This is only right in view of the many inducements which have been given to other concerns of less importance. The refinery would be a great benefit to the city, the oil-men have promised that they will meet them fairly in their natural gas proposition, which is at present under consideration, they will almost certainly return the compliment by bringing their refinery here under circumstances that will amply reward the city for any little concession or generosity that may be extended to them.

It is plainly up to the city fathers to show some more of that business ability that has characterized many of the dealings up to the present. A very neatly made dress, the work of Addie Blonde, a nine-year-old pupil of the Junior Third, was, perhaps, the best of a very large number of cleverly executed needle-work articles, all of which showed exceptional ability on the part of the children. Altogether the whole display of the scholars' work was extremely interesting and particularly gratifying to the many parents who inspected the school yesterday to examine the work done by their own and other children.

The Ursuline Sisters who have charge of the school under the direction of Mother Gertrude, have always adopted the wise policy of favoring the children's studies with interesting and entertaining work and in this direction they have shown great ingenuity. Lessons illustrated by blackboard drawings, interesting daily tasks allotted to the children and a host of clever devices for sustaining the pupils' interest in their work are used, the result being close attention to their studies and, what is perhaps a great deal more important, love of their school, which is, after all, the chief spirit to engender in the successful training of the school child.

EXHIBITION OF PUPILS' WORK

An Artistic Display Provided By Pupils Of The Separate School

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND

The annual exhibit of scholars' work at the St. Joseph's Separate school was opened Wednesday to the public and concluded yesterday with the distribution of prizes won by the pupils during the past year. The school hall and the upper classrooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion, the exhibits being artistically arranged on the walls.

The lower hall was taken up by the exhibition of work done by the Senior Fourth, Junior Fourth, Intermediate and Primary classes, which consisted of special outline and color-maps, illustrated compositions and essays, oil and water-color paintings, fancy road-work, pretty sewing-cards worked in various designs, penmanship displays, illustrated weather charts and calendars, and a host of other novel and useful articles made by the children in school hours. The artistic element in this exhibit was very strong, the framed paintings, and the illustrations in the composition papers, being especially fine. Mention must be made of some very fine sea-scapes, flower studies, and river scenes, painted by Thomas Burns and Pearl Brady. Although these two children are only 13 and 14 years of age respectively, they show wonderful talent and their work is worthy of the highest praise.

Every article in this exhibit told of careful tuition and industrious attention on the part of the pupils and the general expression of opinion among the many parents and visitors who inspected it yesterday was one of commendation for the capable staff of teachers who have charge of the school, and the apt pupils who, under their able instruction, have been able to supply such a splendid collection of novelties and useful articles.

In the upper hall the work of the Senior Third, Junior Second and Junior Third classes was shown. It was, in many details, similar to the lower exhibition, its distinguishing feature being an excellent display of embroidery and needle-work, which won much praise from the visitors. A very neatly made dress, the work of Addie Blonde, a nine-year-old pupil of the Junior Third, was, perhaps, the best of a very large number of cleverly executed needle-work articles, all of which showed exceptional ability on the part of the children. GET BUSY.

Our esteemed contemporary says editorially in its last issue: "This is hot weather, and there are other and more interesting things to attend to than political matters, so that the News must be excused for again referring to Mr. McColl and Mr. Clements, relative to something it overlooked."

If there are more interesting things to attend to than political matters why does not the News get busy and tell its readers where it stands on the beet sugar by-law. Seventy-five thousand dollars is a lot of money to loan any company, and it should be a good thing or bad thing for the city. As the question has been before the ratepayers for some weeks the News should by this time be able to say where it stands on the question.

This is, no doubt, another of the things it has "overlooked." It seems very peculiar that when the Banner overlooks anything it is generally something in which everyone else is interested. Now that its attention has been called to the Keystone sugar by-law it will no doubt state its position thereon and satisfy its readers who have, so far, been scanning its columns in vain attempts to find some reference to it.

There is another thing which we might remind the Banner that it has now been "overlooking" for some time. In spite of the earnest solicitations of the electors, it has not yet given any account of how A. B. McColl, M. P. P., has been spending the people's time at Toronto nor have they pointed to a single thing he has done since he was elected. Probably the most important thing should come first, so let us hear the Banner's stand on the sugar by-law if it has one, and is not ashamed of it.

COL. MATHESON CONFIDENT.

New Local Loan Should Be Easily Floated—Already Large Subscribers Are in Sight.

Toronto, June 28.—Provincial Treasurer Matheson is of the opinion that indications are of the best for the floating of the new provincial loan of $3,000,000 to cover the expense of constructing the Temiskaming Railway lines to a point 94 miles beyond New Liskeard, and also to make up for the expenses of the road since last July, when the money borrowed on treasury bills was exhausted.

"It is necessary to put the loan on the market now in order not to interfere with the provincial finances," he remarked. Col. Matheson explained that the loan, which is being extensively advertised throughout the province, and also in Montreal, is being made payable for 20 or 30 years, so as not to fall due at the same time as the English loan, negotiated for a 40 years' term.

"We have already received offers for large amounts of the bond issue," he said, in drawing attention to the interest created. Col. Matheson thought that the fact that money invested in the bonds would be free of succession duties would make them attractive. He remarked further that one investor had already promised to take $200,000, and another $100,000 of the bonds. The fact that they were selling at par, should help the English loan, he considered. The security was the best in the country.

Col. Matheson pointed out the bearing the new arrangement that high court of justice funds were hereafter to be invested in Government securities would have upon the new loan. He said, in drawing attention to the interest created. Col. Matheson thought that the fact that money invested in the bonds would be free of succession duties would make them attractive. He remarked further that one investor had already promised to take $200,000, and another $100,000 of the bonds. The fact that they were selling at par, should help the English loan, he considered. THAW GOADED TO KILL.

Architect White Made Derogatory Remarks About His Wife.

New York, June 28.—That Harry K. Thaw, the slayer of Stanford White, is perfectly sane was the report made yesterday by the alienists retained by the district attorney's office to examine into the prisoner's mental condition. This report was made after the physicians had spent an hour with Thaw.

The American yesterday says: "That Harry Kendall Thaw was goaded into slaying Stanford White, the architect clubman and chorus connoisseur, by repeated insults visited by the latter upon Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, the bride of 18 months, developed as compelling evidence amid a mass of conflicting stories."

"Never has it been more firmly established that the wages of sin is death. Not once, but twice, thrice, twenty times, according to reliable statements, Stanford White boozed off his former relations with Miss Nesbitt, and handled her name about as the sport of gossip."

"According to a close personal friend of the Thaw family—one of the few persons whom Harry Thaw consented to see and converse with yesterday—absolutely no expense will be spared in saving him from the penitentiary or worse. This spokesman for the family went so far as to say that millions of dollars, if necessary, would be forthcoming in his defence."

DECORATIVE FADS FOR THE SUMMER COTTAGE.

How to Select Porch Awnings—Bath Towels Used For Furniture Coverings—Special Stationery For the Out of Town Residence.

If you are going away to your own or to a rented cottage this summer, there are hundreds of decorative accessories which will make it bright and gay, and none of them need be expensive. But there's a deal of art and a lot of good taste to be employed both in choice and arrangement if the result is to be a success.

People are now very sensibly living so much out of doors that the cottage piazza is almost universally fitted up as a living room. The ideal screen is a vine, but many persons object to the light and attracting bugs and insects. Canvas awnings and reed screens are most in use for this purpose and indeed are much smarter, though less beautiful, than the vines. Combinations in colors never were so varied as in this season's canvas awnings. The new awnings are shown in brown with narrow red stripes, in green with broad brown ones, in red and black and in green and yellow. Whether they harmonize or not, these combinations are being sold in preference to last year's styles.

When a striped awning is purchased the buyer knows that the colors will lose from exposure some of their brightness, and the best thing to do is to select the shade that fades least and then take every precaution to preserve it. It has always been a disputed point as to whether during a rainstorm the awning should be rolled up or left to take its share of the water undisturbed. Experts declare that if let down the rain washes through and runs off, taking the dirt with it, while if it is pulled up the water settles in little pools and when dry dirty spots are apt to appear here and there. In case of a windstorm it is best to raise the awning.

UP TO DATE NOTE PAPER.

ing to keep the cloth from flapping and straining. Immediately after the storm it should be lowered so that the material may quickly dry. A wonderfully pretty effect is obtained if the piazza rail is bordered with boxes filled with gay flowers protected by a bright colored awning.

Oddest of all summer furnishings is the bath towel which is used as house decorations. These towels are displayed as pillow coverings, the fringe being left on or cut off and the toweling scalloped and buttonholed about the edges. Several large towels may be put together with fancy stitches and made into bed spreads and bureau covers. One enterprising woman has covered her upholstered furniture with brown Turkish towels held in position by tape strings.

To be quite up to date the country home must have its special stationery. White is the correct color, and at the top of the note sheets in the right hand corner is engraved the name of the house. In the left hand corner appears a tiny train of cars between which and a picture of a telephone are telegraph poles and wires. On a line with the railroad train in small letters is the name of the postoffice. Near the wires appears the name of the place where the tiny telephone is its call number. This is a most sensible fad, as it serves as a guide to out of town friends.

Don't Be a Clinging Vine.

However the old time man may have liked the clinging woman, the dependent and incapable woman, who appeals to him at every turn for advice and counsel and assistance, there is not one man in a hundred in the world today who is not made weary and sick unto death by long association with a woman of that type.

Independence does not mean recklessness nor willfulness. Self reliance does not mean deafness to counsel, and executive ability does not mean that a woman should plan a career outside her home.

Not any of these things please the lords of creation, but they like a woman who can carry her portion of the world's worries and cares and responsibilities and carry them with ease and grace and with no air of having performed miracles.

A Diplomat Indeed.

Housewife—Now what do you want? Peddler—I have here a soap for removing stains from paint, carpets, furniture and—but, really, I don't think you need it, for there isn't a stain on your point of hall carpet, and if your furniture within is as spick and span, which no doubt it is, as everything appears here, I have come to the wrong house. Good mor—

Housewife (pleasantly)—Never mind. You may let me have half a dozen cakes. I dare say they will come in handy some day.

Was Too Much "Funny Business" to Suit Him

A well known Kentuckian tells of a marriage ceremony that a justice of the peace in the Blue Grass State was hurriedly called upon one day to perform.

It appears that the bridegroom, a big mountaineer, very roughly dressed, had brought his prospective bride with him to the office of the clerk of the court, thinking to secure his license and have the ceremony performed at one visit. When his license had been duly granted the mountaineer asked if there was a justice of the peace then in the courthouse who could tie the knot. Upon being advised by the clerk that he himself was a justice of the peace and that he was willing to join the two lovers, the bridegroom said:

"Waal, then, we're ready. Go ahead!"

"But you'll have to secure two witnesses," smilingly observed the clerk and justice, "before I can proceed."

At this the mountaineer demurred, saying that he did not care for witnesses. Nevertheless he was convinced in a moment that this formality was an indispensable one, and accordingly the necessary witnesses were procured and the ceremony began. When the couple had promised to love, obey, etc., together with the rest of the service, the justice of the peace quite innocently observed that the bridegroom should "kiss the bride."

Thereupon the mountaineer exhibited fresh impatience at the exactions of the official. "Look here," he exclaimed, angrily, "it seems to be that you're draggin' in a lot of funny business in this wedding. Why, I kissed her before we came in!"—Success.

When Peace Took Wings.

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Smith had been talking over the back fence in the sweetest tones imaginable. Finally the conversation turned to spring hats.

"And what do you think of my new hat?" asked Mrs. Jones as she rested the saucer of custard on the fence.

"It is very pretty," hesitated Mrs. Smith, "but—but—"

"Well," interrupted Mrs. Jones, "but what?"

"Why—I think the shade of one of the feathers altogether too light and—"

"Never mind further criticism. You are envious. You are jealous because your husband didn't buy you an expensive hat. Why, I wouldn't wear your old coal scupper for a cat fight. Take your custard and never speak to me again as long as you live."

And to a chorus of slamming doors they disappeared.—Minneapolis Journal.

"Such reasoning," said General F. D. Grant in a military argument, "reminds me of the reasoning of old Corporal Sandhurst."

"Corporal Sandhurst was one day drilling a batch of raw recruits."

"Why is it," he said to a bright looking chap, "that the blade of your saber is curved instead of straight?"

"The blade is curved," the recruit answered, "in order to give more force to the blow."

"Nonsense," said the corporal. "The blade is curved so as to fit the scabbard. If it was straight, how would you get it into the curved scabbard, you idiot?"—Chicago Chronicle.

Curious Methods That Were Adopted in Sickness and Death.

A method much in vogue in Scotland at one time of ascertaining whether a sickness would prove fatal was to dig two holes in the ground, one called the quick grave, the other the dead hole. The sufferer was then placed between the two, and the hole toward which he turned indicated what would be the outcome of his malady. Sometimes a piece of rock was broken over the head of a person whose last agonies were painful alike to himself and to those who witnessed them. It was believed that the heart of the sick man would thus be broken and his release hastened. Windows and doors are always thrown wide open in order that the departing spirit may have free egress from the house and escape from the evil ones that hover around eager to intrude his soul.

During the interval between death and burial hens and cats were kept carefully shut up. A person meeting these animals at such a juncture was doomed to blindness in the future. Moreover, unless a stream divided the two houses, farmers frequently refrained from yoking their oxen or horses before the body was "laid under the turf."

Many women preserved, with the greatest reverence, their bridal attire to cover them in the coffin. Bread and water were placed in the chamber of death, for during the night prior to the burial the spirit of the departed one came to partake of them. Stillborn children and little ones who had not been blessed by the minister were buried before sunrise. In this way their admission to the land of promise was assured. Not to observe the practice was to destine the souls of these babies to wander homeless and disconsolate.

The fate of the suicide is lamentable. His body cannot rest in the kirkyard, for it would taint the souls of those who lie therein. Frequently he was buried in a lone dike which separated two lairds' estates, and passersby were expected to cast a pebble at the rude stone which marked the place.

Woman Dead—Two Men Flee—Warrants Issued Charging Laundryman and Druggist With Serious Crime.

Orangeville, June 29.—On the serious charge of attempting to procure child abortion, leading to the death of a woman, warrants have been issued for the arrest of Walter Jackson, of the firm of Jackson & Wells, Orangeville, and Arthur Douglas, druggist. Both men have disappeared.

Miss Elizabeth Wells, aged 30, who was junior partner in the firm of the Jackson & Wells Laundry Co., is the dead woman. She was taken violently ill at the office Friday last. She was removed to her home and Dr. Carson called. He found her suffering from a severe attack of dysentery, superinduced by powerful tablets she had taken, so it is stated, at the instance of Jackson. She died at 3 p.m. on Saturday.

Miss Wells is said to have told the facts to the physician, and then lapsed into unconsciousness, expiring two hours later at 3 p.m.

She was buried at 3 o'clock on Saturday without a burial permit having been taken out.

Coroner Henry, learning of the circumstances, ordered the body exhumed, and a post mortem examination was held.

From what can be learned, it appears that on Friday night, two weeks ago, an operation was performed on deceased to procure an abortion. The place where the operation took place was upstairs in the West End laundry building next to the post office, and the name of A. C. Douglas, a local druggist, is connected with this phase of the case.

The inquest will continue to-day.

BURGESS--FRASER

A very pretty home wedding was celebrated at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Fraser, at Wallaceburg, yesterday evening at five o'clock, the contracting parties being Miss Helen Rose Fraser, their eldest daughter, and Mr. Herbert W. Burgess, manager of the Wallaceburg Brass Works. The bridesmaids were her sister, Miss Jean, and the sister of the groom, Miss Marion Burgess. The groom was assisted by Mr. A. K. Fraser. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Chas. Fraser, rector of St. George's, Detroit, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Newall, rector of St. James, Wallaceburg.

The bride's gown was of white tulle trimmed with point lace and she carried a bouquet of white bridal roses.

The guests from a distance were: Miss C. A. Fraser, Rev. Chas. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fraser and the Messrs. Fraser, Mrs. F. Kennedy, Mr. Wilfred Kennedy and Miss Maud Fraser, of Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Fraser and daughter, of Houston, Texas; Mr. Donald H. Ross, of Quebec, Ia.; Mrs. C. H. Ross, of Chatham, and Mr. R. C. Fraser, of International Falls, Minn.

The popularity of the bride and groom was evidenced by the many handsome presents received. After partaking of a luncheon the bridal party left for eastern cities.

The disgusting discharges from the nose and throat, and the foul catarrhal breath, are quickly dispensed with by using Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. Such aching, antiseptic agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Wild Indigo, etc., have been incorporated into a snow white cream making a catarrhal balm unequalled. Sold by C. H. Gunn & Co.

AFTER THE CZAR

Sedition in the Army—Further Details of Revolt of Imperial Guards—Change May Be Near.

St. Petersburg, June 29.—The campaign which the opposition elements in Parliament are waging to compel Emperor Nicholas to dismiss the Goremynkin Cabinet and accept the principle of a responsible Ministry promises soon to be crowned with success. When the Prokejsky Regiment, "His Majesty's Own," pronounced its solidarity with Parliament and its agrarian program, in the big camp of the Guard Regiments at Tsarsko-Selo, less than a dozen miles from Peterhof, the Emperor's eyes were opened.

It transpired yesterday that all three battalions of the Prokejsky Regiment joined in the resolutions, but when they were surrounded by grenadiers, lancers, sharpshooters and a brigade of artillery, two of the battalions weakened. The other, however, faced the music, was disarmed and Wednesday night, with six officers, was sent under escort to Medvid, Province of Novgorod, where the Japanese prisoners were confined, to undergo trial by court-martial.

The court is about to return to Tsarsko-Selo, owing to the discovery that there are revolutionaries among the palace servants at Peterhof.

Late last night it was reported that serious disorders had broken out in the garrison of Osowiek, one of the great fortresses defending the Polish frontier against German invasion.

Emperor Nicholas is quoted as saying yesterday that he had been so affected by the disloyalty of the Prokejsky Regiment, which he had so often honored by wearing its uniform, that he had been unable to sleep for two nights.

FOR THE COMPLEXION.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

The joke of the vicar of Withcombe, Devon, at the Easter vestry as to his laggard churchwarden being not a "pillar" but a "butter" of the church because he supported it outside reminds one, says a correspondent, of another joke of the same kind delivered from a London pulpit by the Rev. John McNeill. John was minister of the "Beech" church, Regent square, at the time and in his own homely way was driving his points home with striking effect. He suddenly paused, after exhorting his congregation to be workers, and then, with a twinkle in his eye, said, "You know, I always think of church members being divided into two classes—pillars and caterpillars."—London Chronicle.

SIR JAMES WATSON'S OPINION.
He says that the commonest of all disorders, and one from which few escape is catarrh. Sir James firmly believes in local treatment, which is best supplied by "Catharhizone." No case of catarrh can exist where Catharhizone is used; it is a miracle worker, relieves almost instantly and cures after other remedies fail. Other treatments can't reach the diseased parts like Catharhizone because it goes to the source of the trouble along with the air you breathe. Catharhizone is free from cocaine. It leaves no bad after-effects. It is simply nature's own cure. Accept no substitute for Catharhizone which alone can cure catarrh.

Will Give Canada Preference.
Montreal, June 28.—Information reached Montreal yesterday that the customs union of British South Africa is about to grant Canada substantial preference in its tariff. The bill is now before the South African Parliament and will shortly become law.

Cochrane Entertained.
Port Arthur, June 28.—Hon. Frank Cochrane was entertained here yesterday by citizens of the town. He visited the municipal power plant, and was banqueted last night.

HOW TO GET CONSUMPTION.
Ninety per cent of the "lungers" contract consumption by allowing power of resistance to fall so low that a favorite condition for the development of the bacilli is provided. In a healthy system consumption can't take root. But where there is weakness and debility, there is tuberculosis. For developing strength and building up the weak, nothing equals Ferronze. It makes the blood nutritious and the nerves enduring. The way it converts food into nutriment, the appetite it gives is surprising. Just what the man verging on consumption needs—that's Ferronze. If tired and weak don't put off. Fifty cents buys a box of fifty tablets—all dealers.

When Making Fast the Flag Halyards
"Many a slender flagpole has been ruined," said a rigger. "By drawing the halyards down too snugly when making them fast after hauling down the flag. If this is done in dry weather and it comes on wet, the shrinking of the halyards thus drawn taut to the pole, will be enough to bend the pole, and if it should be left in that position long enough the pole would be permanently bent." Flag halyards when no flag is flying should be made fast with a little slack.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten-fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

HOW TO STOP REBATING

Mr. Hoover of Sovereign Life Gives Commission a Recipe.

Royal Insurance Commission Ends a Month's Work in Toronto—Goes to London to Inquire Into the Northern Life and the London Life—Commission Compliments Last Witness on His Straightforward Answers.

Toronto, June 28.—The Royal Insurance Commission closed a month's stand in Toronto yesterday and opens today in London, when the Northern Life and the London Life will be looked into.

The examination of Mr. Hoover and the Sovereign Life was concluded. Mr. Hoover admitted that the company's returns to the commission showed that it had paid $12,325 on its stock, while he really had paid only $2,500. According to the act each subscriber must pay at least ten per cent of his stock in cash. This company took subscription notes for stock. Hoover gave his note for the balance of his ten per cent. No record of this note appeared in the company's books.

What "In Cash" Means.
Mr. Allen, the company's bookkeeper, told the commission that he did not understand what "in cash" meant, but he would have made a correct return. In regard to Hoover's note, it was kept in the office cash book and was paid off by Hoover some time last year.

Mr. Hoover swore that he took no commissions for holding either stock or insurance. The organization expenses were about $40,000. He held a stock policy for $5,000, the premium being $390 and the loading only $17.00.

Mr. Hoover said that the Sovereign Life did not give rebates, and although no agents had been discharged, they were liable so removal if they gave rebates.

Mr. Hoover stated that the investments of the Sovereign Life were authorized. There was no juggling on Dec. 31.

Mr. E. Geary, Ontario counsel, asked the witness his opinion of rebating. Mr. Hoover said that the companies were to blame and the agents were used as the scapegoats.

"You could stop rebating in 24 hours and I will give you the formula," he said. "First the company $1,000 for the first offence, cancel its license for the second and imprison the agent and void the policy."

Mr. Kent complimented the witness on his straightforward answers before he left the box.

Bellefonte Man Has a Miraculous Escape in Buffalo.
Buffalo, June 28.—Grisotto Legault, 24 years old, who said he lived at Bellefonte, Ont., was discharged yesterday from the Emergency Hospital, Buffalo, where he had been a patient since Sunday night. He had a miraculous escape from death. He was struck by a Pennsylvania passenger train at Buffalo and North Division streets, hurled several feet, and was able to get up a few moments afterward, complaining of only a scalp wound.

OHIO SHIP CANAL.

Washington, D. C., June 28.—The Senate and House conferees yesterday reached an agreement on the Lake Erie and Ohio ship canal bill. With few changes the bill remains as it passed the Senate.

PORTABLE VILLAGES.

Turcomans Move Their Houses From Place to Place.
The Turcomans, who live on the eastern shore of the Caspian sea, carry their villages about with them when they travel. As a tribe sets out on a journey every man packs his wooden house upon a camel, which the animal can easily carry, and when a spot is reached where he and his friends intend to remain for any great length of time the camels are unloaded and a village started which it takes about an hour or so to build.

It is to be remembered that the houses are real houses and not tents and that the settlement is not a camp, but a village. The traveling house of the Turcoman is a marvel of skill and ingenuity and is really much lighter, more portable and can be packed into a much smaller compass than any of the so-called portable houses that are manufactured and sold in some parts of our country.

The frame is made of strong, light wood laths about an inch broad by three-quarters of an inch thick, crossing each other when set up in position at right angles about a foot apart and fastened at each crossing by the thongs of rawhide so as to be movable, and the whole framework may be opened or shut in the same manner as those for children that consist of a squad of wooden soldiers and will expand or close at will so as to form open close columns.

One part or more made in this way and all inclosing a circle fifteen or twenty feet across form the skeleton of the walls and are firmly secured in place by bands of ropes made of hair or wool fastened round the end of each rod. From the upper ends of these rods similar rods bent near the wall and into something less than a right angle are so disposed that the longer portion slope to the center and, being tied with rope, form the roof.

Over this is thrown a covering of black felt, having in the center a large hole which answers both for a window and a chimney. Large pieces of the same coarse black felt are wrapped round the walls, and outside these, to keep all tight, is bound another frame of split reeds or canes or of some very light, tough wood bound closely together with strong cords.

Bleeding Piles Cured

—after Years of Suffering.

Miracle-days may be past—but the day of saving people from suffering is ever present. What is more distressing than itching, bleeding piles? Some say the only cure is the knife. We say, operations are unnecessary. Read this letter:

"For years I had Piles, which produced and kind freely. The itching pain was sometimes almost unbearable. Often I suffered so severely it was next to impossible to remain on duty. It was a hardship to walk. I tried many remedies, but with poor success. This winter, in New York—at the Beach Shore—I suffered greatly—was almost compelled to remain in my room. I tried several remedies—without relief. On my return home, Mrs. Ointment was advised. I used it in only a short time, all the irritation and pain ceased. I can now walk with ease and attend my duties as a member of the Fire Department. I strongly recommend Mrs. Ointment to anyone suffering from this annoying complaint."

EARTH SHOCKS IN WALES.

Houses Rocked and Occupants Were Thrown to the Ground.

Cardiff, Wales, June 28.—Violent earth shocks were experienced throughout South Wales at 9.45 yesterday morning.

Houses rocked and many of the cheaper ones were damaged. Hundreds of chimneys fell, pictures were shaken from walls, occupants of dwellings were thrown to the ground and people fled from their homes shrieking in panic with visions of the San Francisco disaster before them.

Through there were many narrow escapes from falling chimneys and ceilings there were no casualties so far as known.

Shocks were also felt at Bristol, Ilfracombe and elsewhere. They were accompanied by loud rumblings.

THE LORD'S DAY BILL

Debate From Opening of the House Till Midnight.

Committee Has Not Finished Work on Bill Yet—No Exemption to the Brewers and the Seventh Day Adventists—Shooting on Sunday and Sale of Foreign Newspapers on Sunday Stopped—Telephone Amendment.

Ottawa, June 28.—It is a long time since the House of Commons evinced such intense and steadfast interest in a subject as was shown yesterday in the third day's debate on the Lord's Day Bill.

From the opening in the morning until midnight there was almost a full House, with eager faces, close attention and anxiety to take part, which shows how closely the measure touches every part of Canada. Party lines were practically wiped out, and Provincial lines were not regarded, so that it was difficult to classify the opposing forces. The desire to speak was so great that sometimes half a dozen members would rise at once.

Speeches Brief But Earnest.

The speeches were, however, all brief and earnest, and there must have been nearly a hundred of them during the day. The principal focus of discussion was on the clause granting exemption from punishment to brewers and others who observed Saturday and desired to work on Sunday. This was fought over all afternoon and evening, and eventually struck out, after a series of amendments had been proposed and rejected. On this clause the Cabinet shared the general condition of the House, in being divided against itself.

Telephone Amendment Defeated.

During the hour devoted to private bills last evening the Bell Telephone Co.'s bill to increase the capital stock of the company was under discussion. Mr. W. P. Maclean moved an amendment providing that the bill be referred back to Committee of the Whole, with instructions that they have power to amend the same by adding the words, "said stock as issued shall be offered for sale by auction, and any shares not sold for want of bidders may be sold by the company at private sale, not for less than the market value." The amendment was lost by 24 to 96, and the bill was given a third reading. Those voting for the amendment were: Messrs. Maclean, Laver, Sproule, Cochrane, Lancaster, Wright (Muskoka), Ganong, Blain, Morin, Broder, Gunn, Jackson (Elgin), Reid (Greenville), Roche (Marquette), Lalor, Daniel, Armstrong, McIntyre, Chisholm, (Huron), Barr, Walsh, Staples, Brabazon and Wilson.

The House adjourned at 12.10 a.m.

A FRIGHTENED ACTRESS.

When Malibran Ran For Her Life From Her Father.

Malibran was an exceptional woman as well as a great singer, and she had an interesting and spontaneous temperament. The daughter of Garcia, she had a harsh and difficult master in her own father.

When she was sixteen he one day came to her room and without any kind of preparation said to her, "You will make your first appearance with me on Saturday in 'Otello'."

It gave her exactly six days for preparation. The child, terrified nearly into speechlessness, stammered that she could not possibly do it—what she asked was impossible. But Garcia could take no contradiction. All he answered was: "You'll make your first appearance on Saturday, and be perfect. If not, in the last scene, when I am supposed to plunge my dagger into your breast, I'll do so in real earnest."

The frightened girl had to make the best of it. Her success was absolute, but one little piece of realism in her acting at the end was a delicious though entirely unconscious piece of retaliation upon her father for a rather brutal method. Her Desdemona had been exquisite; she had made her what she was herself, a child, innocent and submissive and adoring.

But in the last act, when Otello strode toward her with uplifted dagger, she Malibran, truly frightened out of her wits, ran away from him and made for windows and doors, frantically trying to escape. When her father at last caught hold of her, so real had the whole thing become that, seizing the hand with which he was supposed to murder her, she bit it till it bled.

Garcia gave a cry of pain, which the audience took for a cry of rage, and she

SERIOUS OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the Case of Mrs. Fannie D. Fox.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., will give you her advice if you will write her about yourself. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty years has been advising sick women free of charge.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine. Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly that I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation. Soon after I read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After trying five bottles as directed the tumor is entirely gone. I have been examined by a physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my periods around once more, and I am entirely well."—Fannie D. TONS OF DYNAMITE EXPLODE.

Two Men in a Sailboat Were Burned and Injured.

Amherstburg, June 28.—About twenty tons of dynamite exploded yesterday afternoon on Dynamite Island. The force on the mainland in this section was most terrific, breaking many plate-glass windows in the stores and windows in many residences.

Harry Rogers and Theodore Perry, Detroit, were in a sailboat a few hours from Dynamite Island, at the time. Their boat was completely demolished and the men nearly drowned, but were strong enough to hang on to some floating wreckage until a steam launch reached them. They are burned about the face and arms. Perry's teeth were forced through his lower lip.

QUAINT PRESENTS.

Odd Wedding Gifts That Have Been Received by Celebrities.

Celebrities are often the recipients of quaint presents. For instance, on the marriage of Queen Victoria the farmers of East and West Pennard, Somersetshire, wishing to show their loyalty, manufactured from the milk of 750 cows an immense cheese nine feet in circumference. The gift was graciously accepted and was stored at Buckingham palace, where it would undoubtedly have found its way to the royal table had not its donors wished to exhibit it as an advertisement.

Their request was granted, but after it had been exhibited it her majesty signified that owing to the altered conditions she could not accept it as a gift.

An equally homely gift was made to the late King Charles of Wurtemberg on the morning of his marriage to Princess Olga of Russia. A peasant woman sent him a pair of trousers of her own design, with a note expressing the hope that they might be found a better cut and fit than those which she had last had the honor of seeing his majesty wear.

The Italian singer, Signor Mario, inspired a hopeless passion in the hearts of so many women that at the time of his wedding some of this affection found expression in various strange gifts. One was in the shape of a cushion stuffed with tresses from the heads of many of his hopeless admirers. Another was from a lady in Munich who had had one of her teeth set in a scarfpin surrounded with pearls and emeralds. In an accompanying note she expressed the hope that by sometimes wearing the gift he might be reminded of his unknown worshiper.

Tilbury, June 23.—A pretty June wedding was solemnized yesterday at high noon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Powell, when their daughter, Miss Winnifred, was united in marriage to Dr. G. K. Mills, of this place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Ball, of the Methodist church, in the presence of about fifty of the relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride entered the parlor on the arm of her father to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. Chas. Powell, of Durand, Mich. She was attired in white Brussels net over white silk, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The bride's sister, Miss Ruth Powell, was bridesmaid, her dress being of white Brussels net over blue silk. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was attended by Dr. Neil Smith, of Chatham. Guests were present from Leamington, Essex, Merion, Wheatley, Kingsville, and Pueblo, Cal. Immediately after the ceremony a sumptuous repast was served, after which the happy couple left for Toronto and Buffalo. On their return they will take up their residence on Carlyle avenue, where they will be at home to their friends after July 18th.

WATSON-MCCORVIE

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. Archie McCorvie, 10th concession, Harwich, on June 28th, at four o'clock, when his sister Isabelle, was united in marriage to Mr. Neil Watson, of Mull.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hugh Cowan, pastor of Bethel Presbyterian Church, in the presence of a few intimate friends.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome Gerard Heintzman piano, and to Miss Barbara McKee, who played the wedding march, a gold bracelet.

The presents were many and costly, showing the esteem in which the bride and groom are held.

The happy couple left on the 9:15 train from Chatham for a trip up the lakes.

Mrs. Watson will be at home at Mull to her friends after Sept. 1st.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

A very enjoyable and successful ice cream social was given on the lawn of the Holy Trinity Rectory last evening by the young ladies of the Altar Guild. There was a good attendance and everyone was delighted with the evening's entertainment.

A program of music was given, consisting of solos by Mrs. Cooper, Miss Jackson and Wilfred Smith, a duet by Miss Dogge and Will Rutledge, and selections by the male quartet, composed of Messrs. Smith, Angus, Smith and Wilson.

And so Did J. G. Kerr Esq. for a Few Minutes on King Street West—An Amusing Incident

Even clever barristers are not immune from the dangers which occasionally beset the unwary bicyclist. The law may be elastic and wax-like when they wish to make it so, but when one of the disciples of Blackstone is given sufficient impetus and hurried into space, he finds that he must at least submit to the laws of gravitation, and that asphalt pavement is a very inflexible thing, which bumps and bruises. In proof of this, an incident, or rather accident, which occurred on King street west Monday, is recorded.

A certain well known and able legal light, Mr. J. G. Kerr—to wit, on the said Monday, was greatly rushed with the pressure of legal work. All morning he did not have a moment to spare. Writes, documents and interviews, filled his hours with toil, and the future with visions of happy returns. At noon on the aforementioned day, the aforementioned lawyer did take his means of locomotion commonly known as a bicycle, and make haste for his domicile on King street west. And whereas the said lawyer's appetite was whetted to the extreme point, through incessant work, he put extra ginger into the pedals, to reach the sooner the green peas and lamb that awaited him. He had an appointment to meet a client within half an hour.

And he it known that when the said lawyer bicyclist was nearing his domicile at a speed which all and sundry eye-witnesses claim was meteoric, a feline creature, commonly known as cat, closely pursued by two dogs, attempted to cross his path. The lawyer attempted to stop, and wheel, but was unable to, till he hit the cat. At this point lawyer and bicycle parted company. The lawyer says that he was thrown twenty feet in the air, and A. C. Treadwell, who was an eye-witness, says that he slid fifteen feet after he struck the pavement.

Fortunately he escaped any serious injury, with the exception of a few painful bruises. Shaking-plasters and ointments have since been therapeutically affixed by a physician, and the lawyer is now around again very little the worse for the accident.

THE ODOR WAS STRONG

A good crowd of people went out to Wallaceburg Wednesday evening on the electric car. When the party was nearing the town of Wallaceburg, they noticed a nauseating odor permeating the atmosphere, which was by no means conducive to either comfort or health. It was discovered that the odor came from the beet sugar factory.

One man on the car stood the smell just as long as he reasonably could, and then his patience gave way. He walked through the car calling out:

"Say, you Chathamites, do you see what you are going to vote upon soon? You are going to vote on a proposition to bring just that kind of a factory to Chatham. Do you want this kind of an odor floating around Chatham? It is bad enough to have it as near as Wallaceburg."

Everyone on the car were decidedly of the same opinion. It was stated that if all the electors could take a trip to the Burg, the by-law would not get a single vote.

A DEAD ISSUE

"I do not for one see what use there is in attempting to pass the beet sugar by-law, in the face of such violent opposition," was the remark made by ex-Mayor George W. Cowan yesterday morning. "As far as I can make out from general observation, there appears to be a big majority who are strongly adverse to the proposition."

Mr. Cowan did not state as to whether he was in favor or opposed to the sugar proposition, but it is apparent that he is not in the least biased either way, and his judgment in such matters goes unquestioned. Mr. Cowan knows which way the wind is blowing. He believes that the factory promoters should certainly enlighten the people as to the name of the trust company with whom they intend to do business.

JONES-PATTERSON

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the home of Andrew Patterson, Charteris street, Wednesday afternoon, when his daughter, Miss Mary Margaret Patterson, was united to Mr. Albert E. Jones, assistant manager of McKee & Trotter's works.

The Rev. F. E. Malott officiated, and only one immediate relative of the contracting parties were present. There were many presents from the numerous friends and acquaintances of the bride and bridegroom, who are well known and very popular in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones left for Toronto after the ceremony to take a wedding trip on the St. Lawrence to Ottawa. On their return they will reside in Chatham.
