MYSTERY IS SOLVED

J. B. Kelly of This City
Finds that Mrs. Crow Died
In Detroit

Only One Surviving Relative of Woman Wanted
in Toronto

A few days ago an item appeared in The Planet referring to a letter which was written by Mayor Coatsworth, of Toronto, asking as to the whereabouts of a Mrs. Crow, who was wanted in Toronto by persons who had something of advantage to communicate to her. The information has since been received by Mayor Stone, and has been forwarded to Mayor Coatsworth.

Mr. J. B. Kelly, who lives on Queen street, saw the reference to Mrs. Crow in the newspaper, and knowing that Mrs. Crow once lived here, but had since gone to Detroit, he investigated the case, found out all of the particulars and supplied Mayor Stone with the information desired. In an interview with The Planet this morning, Mr. Kelly said:

"There were two sisters, Mrs. Crow and Mrs. Ganley, who were Misses Forhan before they were married. I knew them well, for when they first came to Chatham many years ago they started up in a dress-making establishment in my store on Queen street, in fact in the very place where our millinery is now located. They remained here until about twelve or fourteen years ago, when they moved to Detroit. Mrs. Crow died in Detroit about ten years ago and Mrs. Ganley died about two years ago in the same city. Mrs. Ganley's daughter, Dolly, is now living in Detroit at 280 Fifteenth street. I went to the house, but she was not in at the time. She is a dress-maker in Detroit. The two, Mrs. Ganley and Mrs. Crow, had one brother, John Forhan, who lived in Chatham about eight years ago.

"This is the history of the case as far as I can make it. The history from Toronto is made by some one in England, and I suppose there is money behind it. In that case, the daughter of Mrs. Ganley, being the only surviving relative would be entitled to it."

SOCIAL EVENING.

A most successful social evening was given last evening in the First Presbyterian Church, under the direction of the Young People's Society. There was a large attendance and a splendid program was given, which consisted of a piano solo by Miss Daniela Foreman, a violin solo by Ray Peck, and vocal solos by Misses Beatrice Smith and Daisy Carter. Miss Norma Smith, of the Model School, daughter of Inspector Smith, gave a recitation and Miss Madge Farquharson also gave a reading.

"WHAT'S THE SCORE?"

Aldermen Austin and Westman spent yesterday in Detroit on Industrial business for the city. The genial chairmen of the Finance and Industrial civic committees have, as a result of so much exposure to baseball enthusiasm, become infected with scoreboarditis in its most virulent form. They didn't get to see the game yesterday, but they heard the noise and the cheering and the enthusiasm caught and stuck. Neither of the usually grave and businesslike city fathers had much time to talk about anything else but ball this morning.

"I tell you the Tigers cannot win now," remarked Ald. Austin. "From what I can make out the Cubs play a game that should make them feel like a back concession team. It was simply awful the way people over there have gone crazy over ball. Imagine paying from $5 to $25 for a seat at the game, and then waiting in line from eleven o'clock in the morning in order to get in."

TRAIN WAS DELAYED

The engine attached to the G. T. R. train which leaves Windsor at 7.35, ran out of water when the train got as far as Jeannette's Creek last night. For a full hour and a half the train hands had to carry water to the engine in pails to keep the engine boiler from cracking with the heat.

The conductor telegraphed to Windsor for a new engine, which was late in arriving. The train was delayed for nearly two hours, through someone's neglect to fill the engine boiler with water before leaving Windsor.

The fellow who kicks himself goes back on his best friend.

A GOOD SAMARITAN

Mine Host John Pleasence Favored With Unexpected
Guest

Housed An Indigent Family
During the Night

Mine Host John Pleasence of Hotel Rankin proved himself a friend in need last night, when the stark paid an unexpected visit to a room in which he had lodged an indigent and poverty-stricken guest. No doubt the Rooseveltian bird looks down on the genial and whole-souled proprietor of the Rankin to-day, and smiles its deep gratitude to him.

The story is a long one, but to put it in a few words, a woman who gave her name as Mrs. Newton, of Nixon, Ont., accompanied by two small children, called at the Rankin about 11.30 last night. She was in destitute circumstances, and her children were hungry, tired and travel-stained. She explained that her husband had cruelly deserted her seven months ago, and she had learned that he is now in Tupperville. She was on her way to find him when she ran out of money, and she and her children were so tired they could travel no further. The heart of the big hotel-keeper was touched by her sad tale of want and misery, and after feeding the family he had them shown to a room for the night.

There were three in the family when they went up to their room last night. This morning Mine Host Pleasence says there were four. In the early morning a new guest arrived in the shape of a bright, healthy, crowing baby boy. The case is one of the most pitiful known in this city for some time. The poor mother is without home or money, and now has three helpless little children on her hands. The authorities at Tupperville have been notified, and are on the lookout for the husband.

IT WAS LAID OVER

Case against Minnie Fraelick will Come up Later—A Serious Charge

Miss Minnie Fraelick and Owen Palmer, both of Tupperville, appeared in the County Police Court this morning, charged with being inmates of a disorderly house. They were brought into the city by Constables McGregor and Peters. The girl is a daughter of Anson Fraelick, of Tupperville, and is a sister of Miss Annie Fraelick, who is well known to many people here. Another girl, a sister of Minnie Fraelick, who is under age, was also brought to the court. It is quite probable that she will be taken in charge by the Children's Aid Society, as the Executive Officer, W. A. Gunton, was present in the court room to look after her. The case was allowed to lay over until such time as the father of the girls will be able to appear in court.

SMOKED AT FIRE

"I saw something in last night's Planet about a fireman smoking his pipe at Wonderland fire the other day," remarked Fire Chief Pritchard this morning. "I was not aware of this till I saw the item in your paper, but afterwards I found it (to be true, the fireman in question admitting that he smoked at the fire. His excuse was that his wife will not allow him to smoke at home, and he took advantage of the opportunity while at the fire. There is an unwritten rule around this department that no member shall smoke while fire fighting, and we enforce it as best we can."

"The wife of the fireman in question has promised to allow him to smoke at home, so that it will not be necessary for him to wait for a call to a fire to get a draw at his pipe."

THEY CARRIED EXPLOSIVES.

Men Arrested at Niagara Falls Plead Guilty to Charge.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 12.—Robert Pasquel and Thomas Harding, who were arrested here while carrying loaded revolvers, nitro-glycerine and soap, were arraigned before County Judge Wells at Welland on Thursday and pleaded guilty to the charges against them, Pasquel to that of carrying weapons for a purpose dangerous to the public peace, and Harding to carrying explosives. Both were remanded till Oct. 21 for sentence.

As these offences may incur the penalty of long terms in the penitentiary, it is probable the police will drop the effort to connect the prisoners with the Chippewa Bank robbery. The third man of the gang, who escaped by holding up Detective Greenwood with a revolver, has not been caught or his identity learned.

THE CITY'S GAS SUPPLY

Mr. D. A. Coste Says he was Taken too Literally By The Planet

Operators Have Implicit Confidence in Field and Results Warrant It

D. A. Coste, of the Volcanic Oil and Gas Company, called at The Planet Office, to-day, and, in the course of an interview, said that the article appearing in last night's edition with reference to the future of the natural gas in this section had apparently created a great deal of uneasiness. He said that he has since been kept busy answering questions with reference to the longevity of the gas, and, while he could not question the accuracy of part of the interview as reproduced as far as there being now in the field sufficient gas for Windsor, he said that he was taken too literally, and, in consequence, many in the community are apparently alarmed that there will be a shortage of gas.

If the users of natural gas will just consider for a moment that Mr. Coste, and those associated with him in the Tilbury gas fields have already invested over $100,000, and that before completing the work in Tilbury they will have spent at least $150,000; that the installation of the purification system in the city of Chatham cost $10,000 they can readily see that if anyone is taking any chances the Volcanic Company themselves are doing so, and unless less they had unbounded faith in the field they would not be warranted in making any such gigantic expenditures.

With a six inch main, which is nearly completed, they will be in a position to furnish 10,000,000 feet of natural gas to Chatham per day, without affecting the pressure in the field, and it will be some time before Chatham will reach a point where the citizens on the coasted days will require more than 3,000,000 feet of gas. To-day Chatham is using a million feet of gas, and yesterday the line pressure in the field was 200 pounds, with 140 pounds pressure at the city limits, with only three wells opened. The remaining wells, with a flow of about 12 million feet, will be connected with the main line within the next week or ten days. The citizens of Chatham will, therefore, understand that there is no occasion for alarm.

LICENSE NOT REVOKED

The Crown Attorney requests a correction of the report about Michael O'Mara in yesterday's Planet, to this effect: This is the third time a third offence conviction has been secured in the county. In both of the former cases the licenses were cancelled at once. In O'Mara's case, under the new law, the license cannot be taken away until action is taken by the commissioners under a report from the inspector.

THE CARNIVAL

The carnival at the Tecumseh Roller Rink, last evening, was very largely patronized and there were some very costly and interesting costumes worn. It is estimated that after the dancery, dress parade, there were over three hundred skaters on the floor, and all enjoyed themselves immensely. The prizes were won by the following:

Best dressed lady—Miss Arnold.
Best dressed gentleman—R. Tippling.
First prize for comic lady's costume—Miss Hazel Bedford.
Second prize for comic lady's costume—Miss Verlyn Lamont.
First prize for gent's comic costume—S. French.
Second prize for gent's comic costume—F. Liddy.

EDICT TO UNITED STATES.

Premier Bond Breaks Away From the "Modus Vivendi."

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 12.—All the plans of owners of American fishing vessels, of which a large fleet is on its way to Newfoundland and to secure the herring, have been thrown to the winds as a result of a cablegram received from Premier Bond yesterday saying that Newfoundland fishermen on American vessels within or outside the three-mile limit will not be permitted.

This edict takes the American fishing question back where it was by the act of 1906. It makes all herring brought into the United States dutiable and places a tremendous hardship on the American fish industry.

Copy Our Act.

London, Oct. 12.—(O. A. P.)—"If public opinion cannot find the means of making itself obeyed on the question of a railway strike," says a writer in Review of Reviews, "it is high time we adopted legislation like the Canadian Conciliation and new Labor Act."

FIELD DAY OF SPORTS WAS AN UNIQUE SUCCESS

Oldershaw is Champion of the Day With Peck a Close Second—Every Event Was Pulled off In Fine Style—Large Crowds Attend

It was a very enthusiastic crowd of boys and girls, resplendent in the colors of their particular forms, that gathered on Tecumseh Park yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the Chatham Collegiate Institute Field Day of Sports. Mingled with the pupils of the C. C. I. were a goodly number of interested spectators and friends, who applauded with cheerful vigor the winners of the various events. It was the unanimous opinion of all that, notwithstanding the capricious character of the weather, all numbers were run off with admirable speed and smoothness, a tribute to the skill, energy and executive ability of Master of Ceremonies F. W. Edward, Clerk of the Field T. W. Kidd, Scorers E. J. Wethey and M. H. Ayers, the judges of the day, and to the splendid deportment and order of the pupils themselves.

Each event was enthusiastically and keenly contested, but the interest of the day centred in the race for the Senior and Junior Championships respectively. For the Senior honors, the first position was long in doubt. At times it seemed that Peck was the winner, but then again Oldershaw forged to the front. The result, however, proved their equality, for each scored a grand total of nineteen points. Mention might be made particularly of Oldershaw, who won for himself gold on opinions on all sides, not only for the skill he displayed in all the events he contested, and for the promise he gives for athletic events of the future, but for the sportsmanlike manner in which he accepted success or defeat. Peck has all the marks of a first-class athlete, and had he finished in the 220 yard race, would probably have scored highest.

In the Junior Championship, the rivals for first place were Egan and Merritt, the former of whom succeeded in securing the coveted honor by seventeen points to his rival's fifteen.

The committee in charge of the games appreciate very much the generous support of the public, and particularly feel indebted to the gentlemen who so kindly acted as judges of the various events, and whose efficiency in no small way contributed to the success of the day.

Starred events did not count for championship honors. First, second and third place counted for three, two and one points respectively. Competitors were allowed to hold only the first two prize badges won in the championship list, but were given special place badges to show their standing in the events. The names following the dash are those of the winners of the first and second badges, this being in some cases the reverse.

THE CHAMPIONSHIPS.
Junior Championship—
W. Egan won the Junior Championship, having 17 points.
F. Merritt was a good second, his score being 15 points.
Senior Championship—
G. Oldershaw, 19 points.
W. Peck, 19 points.

BRIGHT LOT OF BOYS

Wednesday evening, Court Pride of Kent, Branch No. 9, Juvenile Federation of Ancient Foresters, held their regular monthly meeting in the Workmen's Hall, at which some 25 members were present. In the absence of the Chief Ranger, Bro. Geo. Clements, Bro. James Dyer, Past Chief Ranger of Court Hope, the adult court, presided.

Considerable business of interest to the Branch was transacted. Two members were passed through the Forester's portals in good shape by the staff officers. There are now some 40 members of this Order, and their ages range from 10 to 17 years. They have a neat bank account to their credit in a chartered bank of this city.

It was moved, seconded and carried unanimously that the boys have an "at home" for the members and their friends on the second Wednesday of November. A short program will be given, with games to follow, to conclude with the serving of light refreshments. The adult members of Courts Hope and Unity are expected to give the boys a hand in arranging for their doings. The entertainment will be given gratis to the boys, the adult members and the boy friends of the Branch.

The following are the officers of this Branch:—
C. F. Geo. Clements/
Sub-C. F. Lorne Putnam.
S. W. Ivan Pritchard.
J. W. Jas. Straw.
S. B. Reg. Link.
J. E. Geo. Tewksbury.
Treas.—Benj. Longley.
Sec'y.—Edwin Cape.

A Life Sentence.
Said Mr. Joacker, who was reading the paper, "Another poor wretch has been given a life sentence at hard labor."

Said Mrs. Joacker, who was embroidering blue roses: "Probably he deserves it. What is he guilty of?"
"Fraud and no visible means of support. He obtained clothes and a fine turnout with no money and nothing collected. He seems to be larger and stronger than most of that class, yet it is plain that he has never done a tap of work, though he has managed to live well so far. But the poor fellow takes his sentence hard and cries piteously, protesting his innocence. The wretch! He must have dealt with perfect fools!"
"No, his victim is our own friend, Jack Smith."
"That clever lawyer! Do need to be all about it?"
"Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, a twelve pound boy."—Bohemian.

DISTRICT

BLENHEIM

Blenheim, Oct. 11.—Mr. J. St. John, of Detroit, who called on Blenheim friends over Sunday, has returned to his home in the city.

Mrs. Haldane, of Strathroy, visited her parents, the Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Holmes, in Blenheim, last week.

Mr. T. McCullum, of Ingersoll, who formerly lived in Blenheim, is renewing old acquaintances in town.

Mrs. A. McColl, of Blenheim, paid a visit to friends at New Glasgow for a few days last week.

Miss Lulu Smith, of Englishes, visited her parents, the Misses Wright, of Blenheim, over Sunday.

Mr. George Burrell, of Blenheim, was a Guide visitor one day last week.

Mr. L. H. Johnson, of Blenheim, has accepted the position of travelling for a large implement firm. He expects to commence his work about November 1. His family will continue to reside in Blenheim.

Quite a lot of grain has passed through the hands of the Blenheim buyers this week, owing to the good prices which are being paid.

Mr. Fred. Southwell, of Toronto, is the guest at present of his sister, Mrs. E. H. Spackman, Blenheim.

Dr. Story, who is the M. C. R. surgeon, was called to Fargo last Friday by a bad accident.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dickenson, of Battle Creek, Mich., Mrs. A. Blakely and daughter, of Thessville, and guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Blakely last Sunday.

The sudden death of Mr. Lewis Rowe, which occurred last Monday, when he and his wife were driving into Blenheim, is a very sad affair, and the family have the sympathy of the whole community.

Mr. W. H. McGregor was thrown from his rig one day last week, and although not seriously injured, was badly shaken up. His horse took fright at an engine while standing near the Blenheim Junction.

The Fair, which was held at Blenheim yesterday, notwithstanding the fact that the weather was threatening all day, was a great success, large crowds being present both from the surrounding country and the adjacent towns. The town band deserves great credit for the important part it took in making the day a success. The concert in the evening was excellent, and the Opera House was taxed to its utmost limit to accommodate the crowd.

TILBURY

Tilbury, Oct. 11.—Miss Hattie Kelly, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Hugh Johnston, the past three months, left last night for Calgary.

Mrs. Alex. Cassidy, of Detroit, is visiting friends here.

J. A. Tremblay left this week on a business trip to Cobalt.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. W. Bano left on Tuesday on a two months' visit to St. John, N. B., and other points in the Maritime Provinces.

Miss Ethel Burnie, of Chatham, is the guest of Mrs. Wallace.

The Old Southland Sextette, colored, will give a concert here on Oct. 30, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church.

Mrs. McColl, Sr., is spending the week in London.

There was a good crowd present at the opening of the roller rink on Wednesday evening, when excellent music was furnished by the 24th Regiment Band of Chatham.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Smith are away on the annual excursion of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association to Winnipeg.

Jerry Vipond is visiting his brother in Hamilton, who is ill.

The marriage of Robert Sloan, of Buffalo, eldest son of James Sloan, of this place, and Miss Alice Carey, of Buffalo, has just been announced.

Mr. and Mrs. James Clark, of Tilbury, East, intend leaving soon to reside in London.

Clifford, Laird and McLaughlin will open a billiard hall in the new Cox Block, adjoining the Balmoral Hotel.

Mrs. Beal is expected home this week from an extended visit with relatives in Elgin County.

Miss Mabel Eldred, of Leamington, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Wilkinson.

The sum of $125 has been subscribed in aid of the new band.

HAIL MULAI HAFID.

Has Been Proclaimed Sultan in the South of Morocco.

Tangier, Oct. 11.—The power of Mulai Hafid, who has been proclaimed Sultan in the south, has been greatly strengthened in the northern part of Morocco by the declaration that he has more legal and moral right to the throne than has Abdel Aziz, the Sultan of record. This, coupled with the approach of Mulai Hafid's army upon Fez, argues a speedy capitulation of the northern capital.

FOUR WERE KILLED.

Devastation on New Bridge Fell With Terrible Consequences.

Cleveland, Oct. 11.—Four men were killed and several others seriously hurt, two probably fatally, by the falling of a derrick, when a new bridge is being constructed over the Cuyahoga river for the Erie Railroad yesterday.

The dead are: F. L. Diehl, a trainmaster of Conneaut, O.; John Yates, a foreman of this city, and two other men whose names were not learned.

The things which we like most to do are the things least likely to come our way.

FIFTEEN YEARS OF ECZEMA

Affected Hands, Arms and Legs—Endured Terrible Itching and Was Unable to Sleep—Would Tear the Bandages to Scratch the Skin—In less than One Week

CURED BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I had eczema nearly fifteen years. The affected parts were my hands, arms and legs. They were the worst in the winter time and were always itchy, and I could not keep from scratching them. I had to keep both hands bandaged all the time, and at night I would have to scratch through the bandages as the itching was so severe, and at times I would have to tear everything off my hands to scratch the skin. I could not rest or sleep. I had several physicians treat me but they could not give me a permanent cure, nor even could they stop the itching. After using the Cuticura Soap, one box Cuticura Ointment and two bottles Cuticura Remedies, when all was over, six days the itching had ceased, and now the sores have disappeared, and I never felt better in my life than I do now. Edward Worell, Band 30th, U. S. Infantry, Fort Crook, Nebraska."

The most torturing and disgusting humors, eczemas, rashes, itching, irritations, and inflammations of the skin, scalp, and blood, with loss of hair of infants, children, and adults, are instantly relieved and speedily cured by the Cuticura Remedies, which do all this.

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children, and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Remedies. ### ESSEX DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

Criminal Proceedings to Be Taken Against M. C. Railway.

Windsor, Oct. 11.—Crown Attorney Rodd has been instructed to proceed against the Michigan Central Railway for criminal negligence over the disastrous dynamite explosion at Essex on Aug. 10 last, in which brakemen Conlin and McNary were killed, and also about ten others injured. The coroner's jury held the company grossly negligent, and after this verdict was returned preparations were made to issue writs for damages, but the company signified a willingness to settle claims. For the past two weeks a representative of the company has been in Essex, and has adjusted practically all claims. The criminal charge will come up next week at the Assizes, although the writs have not yet been actually issued.

RAILWAY MEN RESPONSIBLE.

Jury Find That They Caused Fatal Accident at Barrie.

Barrie, Oct. 11.—The coroner's jury on the death of Robert Blackburn, killed in the G. T. R. yards here on Sept. 30, last night returned a verdict to the effect that the accident was caused by a violation of the rules by Engineer Henry J. Morris starting his train before the required 10 minutes, and not having it under full control, also by Conductor John Ferrell not protecting his train either by a flagman or fuses. The coroner's jury also found that the company had no choice but would be compelled to prosecute.

BRIDGES SWEEP AWAY

Rushing Flood Carries Away Everything in Its Path.

Inundation Worse Than Anything Since 1846—Peasants Fleeing in Terror—Train Derailed—Several Lives Lost in Collapse of Mill Building—Loire Valley One Vast Lake—The River Rhone Raging.

Paris, Oct. 11.—At Avignon the River Rhone has risen twenty feet, and the waters continue to rise at the rate of an inch an hour. The rushing flood has carried away everything in its path. At St. Hualier a train has been derailed, and at Baix 250 yards of the track was swept out. At Privas, department of the Ardèche, the Rhone has overflowed its banks, and at some places is a mile wide. A number of bridges have been swept away. At Ponsassin a house and a silk mill situated near the river bank collapsed, killing five persons. Reports received from St. Etienne say that the valley of the Loire is one vast lake. The flood is the worst since 1846. Many villages have been hastily abandoned by their inhabitants.

CANADA MUST CHOOSE.

Encourage Either British or Oriental Immigrants, Says Kipling.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 11.—Radyard Kipling, in an address to the Canadian Club Monday, took up the problem of immigration, and promised that on his return he would embody his views on Canada in some form.

He made a contrast of the happy condition of Canadian people with that of those in India, and pointed out the difference between Oriental and continental European immigration, and that of British origin.

The immigrants first named regarded law as a monster. They were born in fear and reared in the panic necessary to the race.

"It is not necessary," continued Mr. Kipling, "to evolve an elaborate scheme of education to instruct the immigrant from Great Britain how to talk the English language or to teach his children the rudiments of citizenship. He knows that he may have to learn much and to unlearn much, but at least he will have the same powers and possibilities as your own people, and he will follow the same path as your fathers did along lines that you know well. He seeks only room to develop his powers and his capabilities, and this room, I conceive, is offered in your vast Dominion."

"It is possible that in your strength you may think that this is not an urgent question, but the time is coming when you will have to choose between the desired reinforcements of your own stock and blood, and the influx of races to whom you and strangers, whose speech you do not understand, and from whose instincts and traditions you are separated by thousands of years—that is your choice. For myself I think the time for making that choice is on you now."

CHAPPELLE AT DIZZY HEIGHT.

Steeplejack Establishes Record For the Calling.

New York, Oct. 11.—A new record for steeplejacking was made yesterday, when Ernest Chappelle climbed the flagstaff of the Singer building tower and clamped a gilded globe to the top, 703 feet above the ground. Thousands of persons watched the daring man as he made the perilous ascent.

Working at the dizzy height, Chappelle pasted gold leaf on the globe until the watching crowds below could see it glistening in the bright sunlight.

Devoted Life to Patient.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 11.—A jury yesterday rendered a verdict against the estate of Mrs. Harriet G. McKiever in favor of Dr. L. C. H. Ziegler for $100,000. Mrs. McKiever was the widow of James H. McKiever, a well-known theatrical manager of this city, and for many years the owner and manager of McKiever's Theatre.

She died several years ago in California, and Dr. Ziegler claimed $100,000 from the estate by virtue of a contract which he said he had with Mrs. McKiever to give her his exclusive attention during the remainder of her life. She, according to the claim advanced by Dr. Ziegler, was to leave him that amount in her will.

After her death the physician brought suit to recover the sum, and the jury awarded him the full amount of his claim.

Mysterious Murder at Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—What looks like another case of mysterious murder was brought to light yesterday when the body of a man was found in the river about 6 o'clock with nothing on but a pair of boots and socks. There was a tremendous knife wound in the abdomen between the hip and ribs, and a number of other cuts about the body, but absolutely nothing that could serve as a means of identification.

The body had apparently been in the river about nine days, and had evidently come to the surface. An autopsy will be held to-day.

Killed at Steel Mill.

Hamilton, Oct. 11.—Frank O'Brien, 18 years of age, an employee of the Hamilton Steel & Iron Co., was run over and killed by one of the company's yard engines about two o'clock yesterday morning. Elio Mark, an Italian workman, who was injured by the breaking of a pole which he was holding between a G. T. R. shunting engine and a car, died of his injuries yesterday.

Will Blame the Wife.

Counsel Outlines Defence in Hamilton Murder Trial.

Hamilton, Oct. 11.—The crown closed its case in the Sunfield murder trial yesterday afternoon, and the defence will commence this morning. It is expected that the case will be given to the jury Friday afternoon, as the defence will be rather brief. The prisoner will go into the box on his own behalf Friday morning, and there some of whom will be called as to the prisoner's character.

When the crown finished its case last evening at 6 o'clock, J. L. Counsell, the prisoner's lawyer, outlined the defence to the jury. According to his statement Mrs. Radzyk, the murdered man's wife, will be blamed for the crime. He announced that he would seek to show that Mrs. Radzyk liked the prisoner and did not like her husband, and that she only had a motive of getting rid of her husband. He said he would also seek to show that Mrs. Radzyk, on the day of the shooting, begged Sunfield to take her to Chicago, and became enraged when he refused.

The only new evidence given was that of William Walsh, son of Sgt. Walsh, who knew Radzyk well. He swore that when he heard of the shooting he went into the house and found Radzyk lying on the floor. He said he put this question to Radzyk, "What's the matter, Andy; have you been cut?" and he swore that Radzyk's answer to that was, "No! Sunfield, he shot me. No use sending for the doctor, me dying."

Testimony Unshaken.

The cross-examination of Mrs. Radzyk was finished yesterday morning by Mr. Counsell, who failed to shake her story. She said that Sunfield shot her husband, but she did not see the shooting, but said that she heard Sunfield shot her husband after shooting her. She denied that she had ever made an agreement to go away with Sunfield, or tried to poison her husband or to get him to drink himself to death. She also denied that she had seen Mrs. Radzyk and Sunfield standing under a tree together the day of the tragedy. After she had passed the witness stand, she shot, and Mrs. Radzyk came running out saying that Sunfield had shot her. He went into the house and found Radzyk lying in a pool of his own blood. In answer to a question, Radzyk told the witness that the man who shot him was a stranger. John Harris, a boarder at the Radzyk household, said Radzyk had ordered all the boarders out of the house, and that Sunfield had threatened to shoot them. J. G. Appleton and Watchman Brandow also gave evidence.

VERY OBLIGING.

He Answered All Questions and Even Offered Further Information.

A small, quiet looking man, smoking a large cigar, sat by the side of a medium sized automobile that was drawn out of the road as a large touring car came along, driven by a man with an interrogatory aspect.

The man in the touring car slowed up and leaned over. "How long you been here?" "About two hours."

"Can't you find out what the matter is?"

"No."

"Trouble with spark plug?"

"Think not."

"How are your batteries?"

"O K."

"Haven't got a short circuit, have you?"

"Oh, no."

"Got any gasoline in your tank?"

"Plenty."

"Would you mind telling me, sir, just what's the matter with that machine of yours?"

In answer the man pointed to a large red farmhouse in the distance.

"See that house out there?" he asked. "Yes, sir."

"Well, sir, there isn't anything the matter with that machine, but since noon my wife has been in that house kissing her sister's first baby goodby. When she gets through, if you are not over 1,000 miles away and will leave your address, I will telegraph or cable you the glad news at my own expense."

SHOPPING IN GREENLAND.

East Coast Natives Make Trips Lasting Four Years.

When the Greenlanders of the east coast go shopping, it is no light matter of a day or a week. The snow but holder of the far north, on finding that his supplies are running low, packs up his belongings and walks off, with his wife and family. He keeps on walking, summer and winter, for it takes him anywhere from one to two full years to reach a settlement where there are shops. Whole colonies sometimes join in these pilgrimages to their northern dwelling places, camping by the way as weather and inclination permit. One might suppose that such protracted journeys would be followed by long stays at the place of business. Not so. The Eskimo spends little more time over the shopping for what he has come so far than does a woman bargain hunter at the periodical drapery sales with us. Sometimes two hours finish the transactions, and the purchaser will start on his long return journey northward. The fine bear and fox skins which he has brought with him are bartered for second-hand clothes, tobacco, old iron and many articles not only valuable, but actually injurious to the buyer. A life which can afford a four years' shopping trip now and again does not strike one as over-tremendous. London Scraps.

Queerest Town in England.

The most curious town in England is Northwich. There is not a straight street nor, in fact, a straight house in the place. Every part of it has the appearance of an earthquake. Northwich is the center of the salt industry in Cheshire, England. On nearly all sides of the town are big salt works, with their engines pumping hundreds of thousands of gallons of brine every hour. At a depth of some 200 or 300 feet are immense subterranean lakes of brine, and as the contents of these are pumped and pumped away the upper crust of earth is correspondingly weakened, and the result is an occasional "pulling" effect on the nearest buildings, and they are drawn all ways and give the town an extremely dissipated appearance.

The Gender of the Moon.

In English, French, Italian, Latin and Greek the moon is feminine, but in all the Teutonic tongues the moon is masculine. Which of the twin is its true gender? We go back to the Sanskrit for an answer. Professor Max Muller highly says ("On the Religion of India"), "It is no longer denied that for throwing light some of the darkest problems that have to be solved by the student of language nothing is so useful as a critical study of Sanskrit." Here the word for the moon is mas, which is masculine. Mark how even what Hamlet calls "words, words, words," lend their weight and value to the adjustment of this great argument. The very moon is masculine and, like Wordsworth's child, is "father of the man."—Moon Lore.

Important.

Clara—Well, aunt, have your photographs come from Mr. Facello? Miss Maydeval (angrily)—Yes, and they went back too, with a note expressing my opinion of his impudence. Clara—Gracious! What was it? Miss Maydeval—Why, on the back of every picture were these words: "The original of this is carefully preserved."—London Chronicle.

Diplomacy.

Towne—Of course the scheme is a good one, but do you think your wife will approve of it? Browne—Yes, if by careful hinting I can get her to formulate it herself and make her believe it's her own.

Gravitation.

Examiner—What do you know about the power of the earth's attraction? Candidate—It is the strongest at about 2 o'clock in the morning.

TOWNSHIP COUNCIL

RALEIGH COUNCIL.

The above council met on Sept. 30, 1907, with all members present.

From J. G. Kerr re county equalizations and advising that a committee be appointed to go over the matter with him.

From A. Baird, C. E., that Merlin and Chinick drain reports would be ready next week.

From John Irving that the Fuce drain across lots 22 and 23 is in need of repair.

From the F. M. Railway Company, that the Four Rod drain needs deepening north of the tracks.

From M. A. Drew submitting collector's bond duly executed.

From G. G. Martin that action would be entered against the township if the council did not proceed with construction of the 3rd concession bridge.

From A. Baird, C. E., submitting his report, with plans and estimates of the 3rd concession bridge, the estimated cost of the bridge being $9,850.

Also his awards on the Rice, McFadden and Chinick ditches.

The report of A. Baird, C. E., for the proposed construction of the Murdoch drain was read and considered and interested parties heard.

C. F. Weir, representing the F. M. Railway, stated that the company would put in a pipe culvert in the drain without delay.

The committee appointed to examine the River Road at Prairie Sidling reported on same and recommended that some action be taken at once to repair the road either by a dredge or otherwise.

Mr. Doey reported that he had, in company with Messrs. Flater, Clark and Morgan, examined the bridge over the Howard drain on the Town Line and found the same completed satisfactorily, and that the engineer had accepted it.

Mr. Gilhula reported that he had the 18th and 19th Side Road drain along the south half of lot 18, concession 13, repaired under section 74, for $67, commission fees $3.50.

Messrs. Wellwood and Broadbent addressed the council and asked for a grant towards the Raleigh Agricultural Society.

Moved by Gilhula and Shreve, that the Raleigh Agricultural Society be given a grant of $50.—Carried.

Moved by Doey and Wellwood, that the Reeve and Mr. Gilhula be a committee to meet the solicitor re county equalization.

Moved by Shreve and Gilhula, that the matter of repairing the Fuce drain be referred to J. W. Shackleton, C. E., to examine and report.

Moved by Wellwood and Doey, that the complaint of the P. M. Railway re Four Rod Road drain be referred to Mr. Gilhula with power.

Moved by Wellwood and Doey, that the commissioner of division No. 4 let and superintend the township's part of the Chinick drain.

Moved by Wellwood and Gilhula, that the engineer's report for the construction of the steel and concrete bridge over the R. P. drain at the 3rd concession road be adopted, and Wm. J. Shreve be appointed commissioner to let and superintend the work, he to be paid for such service the sum of $50.

Moved by Gilhula and Doey, that the engineer's report for the construction of the Murdoch drain be adopted and the Court of Revision be held on the 4th day of November, and the Clerk prepare a by-law for the same.

The by-law for the construction of the Murdoch drain was provisionally adopted and S. S. Gilhula appointed commissioner at $15.

Moved by Gilhula and Wellwood, that the matter of the River Road at lot 4 be referred to J. W. Shackleton, C. E., to examine and report with an assessment on the lands and roads liable therefor.

Moved by Gilhula and Doey, that Dr. Young's account, $18.75, for attendance on Noah Rouse, Sr., be paid at $10.

Moved by Gilhula and Wellwood, that Warner Jenner be paid $2 for cutting sweet clover in front of lot 21, concession 12, and charge same to the lot.

Moved by Shreve and Doey, that the matter of the ditching done by Alex. McKay on the 11th concession road, which he claimed was sold to him by the commissioner of last year for 90 cents per rod, be referred to the commissioner of division No. 4 with power.

The council adjourned and met as Court of Revision on the Goulet drain.

Moved by Wellwood and Shreve, that the following changes be made in the assessment for the repair of the Goulet drain, viz., that all lots be assessed equally except the west half 151 and the east half 163 and those lots be assessed pro rata in accordance with the last revised assessment on the drain.—Carried.

A. E. ROBINSON, Clerk.

YOU MAY BE SICK TO-NIGHT.

Without a moment's warning pain springs upon us. At the outset it is instantly cured by Nerviline. Surprising what fifteen drops of this marvelous medicine will do. Its external action is no less certain than its wonderful effect when taken internally. Of course Nerviline is powerful or it couldn't be so penetrating. But not irritating or caustic. There are other pain remedies, but when you use Nerviline you see the difference. That difference is this—others relieve, but Nerviline does cure sprains, strains, swellings, sarache, toothache, neuralgia, lumbago; in fact, all muscular pains. Large bottles 25c. at all dealers.

Quick Coffee.

A way to make quick coffee always possible is to have it on hand ready for heating. It takes six hours to make it in this way in the first place, but it remains fresh and full of flavor till the last is used. Use the usual recipe for drip coffee, one tablespoonful of fine coffee for each cup of water. Put all the coffee in at once and measure the water, which must be cold. Pour the water on half a cupful at a time and let it percolate through. When ready bottle and cork tightly. Heat, but do not boil, as it is needed.—New York Post.

Thousand Dollars For Eye.

Windsor, Oct. 11.—The Grand Trunk has settled the damage claim of Albert McCreery, a former engineer, who brought suit for partial loss of the sight of one eye, caused by a water gauge bursting. After the accident McCreery lost his job. The company has allowed him $1,000 and costs of medical attendance.

Gourlay Pianos

And the One Charm that Perfects the Home Circle

Well-to-do homes need the joys that go with art to make culture a blessing and happiness complete. Art in the home requires no other inspiration than a piano that attracts the members of the family to itself both by its intrinsic beauty and the lovely music it yields.

Gourlay Pianos

Are the chief exponent of high-grade piano building in Canada. Extraordinarily beautiful in design and finish, and without a peer in full, rich, melodious tone, they are the most "companionable" pianos possible, perfecting with the purest music happy home-life.

Besides, if they are a little high-priced, they are worth the price, because the Gourlay Pianos are the

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

It is hoped that the Board of Trade meeting, which will be held in the City Council Chambers on Monday evening next, will be a large and thoroughly representative one. Every man in the city should be interested in and should form a part of this worthy organization, and he should show his interest by attending the meetings and contributing his opinion towards the discussions, and lending encouragement to others through his presence.

It is indeed fortunate that the council of the Board has been able to secure the services of Hon. Adam Beck to address the meeting on the question of power. Mr. Beck is a capable orator and is thoroughly informed upon every phase of the matter with which he will deal. Power is one of the foremost questions of the day, and no man can afford to miss the message which Mr. Beck will bring to Chatham on Monday night.

TOM GROVES' LETTERS.

Readers of The Planet are, in today's issue, again treated to an interesting letter from Tom Groves, who has just returned from a trip to England. To those who know Mr. Groves' style of writing, and especially those who are interested in matters concerning the Old Land, this letter will be more than welcome as a article of great interest.

During the time Mr. Groves' was away from Chatham, he provided for The Planet—with no little inconvenience to himself—a series of letters which were published exclusively in this Great Home Journal. The Planet was deeply grateful for this, as no doubt was every one of its readers, and the excellence of the articles from the pen of this popular Chatham gentleman, is worthy of more than passing comment. Mr. Groves' particular style of writing is distinctly his own. As he says himself, they were letters from a rough rider, and in this case, The Planet would be pleased to become acquainted with more rough riders who are as courteous and obliging as Mr. Groves, in the matter of contributions. He writes about what he sees, and he tells about it in his own language, and probably this is why his letters appeal to so many people in a manner that is at the same time entertaining and instructive.

AFTER THE CANADA COMPANY.

The Ridgeway Dominion says: "At the last session of the Legislature the Municipal Assessment Act was amended so that the Canada Co. must pay municipal taxes on the full value of the mineral rights retained by the company in lands in this province. The question of whether the Canada Company acted legally and in accordance with its charter in reserving such rights in its deeds to purchasers was also taken up, and the Government, through Attorney-General Foy, promised to make full inquiries into the matter, and, if deemed advisable after becoming seized of all the evidence obtainable, make a test case in the courts at the expense of the Province. Mr. Thos. Scullard, of Chatham, was asked to act in the matter, and that gentleman publicly advertised, asking farmers with the 'reserve right' clause in their deeds to come forward and give him all the information possible. It seems that action has commenced and that ere long this vexed question will be settled.

"This is a question in which there is and should be no 'politics.' The farmers certainly have a serious grievance and it has been the duty of their representatives in the Legislature to call the attention of the Government to it. It is a positive fact that every member of the Legislature sympathizes with the farmers' view, and the Premier and the Attorney-General both made it plain that the Government's sympathies likewise are with the farmers.

"It is equally true that the legal members of the Legislature have their doubts as to the outcome. Some few years ago a private corporation asked its solicitors, a leading law firm of this province, to look into this question, which they did. Their report was not encouraging, still, as Mr. Foy says, it is the duty of the Government to try again, and see if some loophole of escape can-

At the new sawmill, which opened here this morning, will be found, not only Messrs. Northwood, but White-wood, Blackwood, Buttonwood, and all other kinds of wood except Captain Woods.

The brass band, which was organized a few years ago amid a "great flourish of trumpets," having come to a timely end, we are glad to understand that it is about to be reorganized under favorable auspices.

On Saturday last as Robert McCubbin, Esq., accompanied by some female members of his family in a Central buggy, was passing the Central school, some boys who were in a large immediate locality, let up a large kite, which, coming down suddenly, frightened Mr. McCubbin's horse, a young and spirited animal. Fortunately only the shafts of the buggy got broken, but Mr. McCubbin and those with him in the vehicle narrowly escaped injuries which might have terminated fatally.

The marriage of S. R. Barfoot, postmaster, to Miss Lizzie Moorish, of the Post Office book store, took place on the 18th inst.

The first load of barley offered on the Chatham market this season was disposed of to-day by Mr. John Dolman, of the Township of Zone, to Mr. James Lamont, at the good price of $1.93 per 100 pounds.

Mr. Andrew Gray, of the Scotch Settlement, Township of Chatham, met with a serious accident this morning as he was about starting for town. He hitched his horse into the buggy at the barn, and as he stepped into the buggy the horse started suddenly, before Mr. Gray could get proper control of the reins, and went down the lane towards the house at a furious rate. At the foot of the lane the buggy came in contact with a pile of logs, with great throwing Mr. Gray out with great violence. He was taken up in his sensible, and bleeding at the mouth, nose and ears. Dr. Siwehright was called. The horse cleared the gate of the lane at a bound, with buggy attached, and neither have yet been heard of.

Canada-German Treaty.

London, Oct. 11.—(O. A. P.)—The Magazine of Commerce says the commercial treaty between Canada and Germany will be followed by a direct line of steamers from Germany to the St. Lawrence. Berlin reports state Germany is to be accorded by Canada most-favored-nation treatment. "Whether the suggested German steamship line ever becomes an accomplished fact," says The Magazine, "depends largely upon the possible development and ultimate terms of settlement of the Atlantic rate war."

TOOKE COLLARS

A feature with our fold collar is plenty of space for the tie under the fold. When the collar is buttoned, the tie works back and forth easily. This is important, as the appearance of the tie depends upon its being easily adjusted.

In most collars, once the tie is placed under the fold, it's almost impossible to move it. The man who has never worn a

As Mr. W. McKenzie Ross, accompanied by Mrs. Ross and child, and his brother-in-law, Mr. Wilson, of Morphet, was towards his residence near Indian Creek, his buggy was run over by another vehicle in which were a number of young Chathamites who had been on a trip to the lake or Blenheim. Mr. Ross' buggy was badly smashed, but very fortunately none of its occupants were seriously injured.

We have just been informed that on Tuesday last, while a log was being drawn into Mr. Stoddart's saw-mill, at Rond Eau, the large belt broke, and, to use a common phrase, "the engine ran away," in consequence of the "governors" flying off, and one man, the engineer, we believe, was struck on his head and thigh by a piece of iron and so injured that he survived but a few hours.

We regret to learn that, on Tuesday last, as a son of Mr. Walker, who resides on the Gravel Road near Blenheim, was engaged in putting a log on his wagon, one of the skids broke and let down the log, which struck young Walker and broke his leg.

On Tuesday last a brakeman had his arm caught between two cars at the Chatham station, while he was in the act of coupling them together. Dr. Askin was sent for to attend to the injuries, which were of rather a serious nature. His name is Farrell and at one time was a telegraph reporter.

THE QUARTET.

"O, be ye still," the alto sighed, "O, be ye still," then she repeated. The tenor listened, open-eyed, And sang in accents slightly heated. "O, be ye still!" Then both together Raised up their voices with goodly will, Bass and soprano slipped their tether And all combined: "Oh, be ye still!"

An instant's pause save for the sound Of chords upon the grand piano. Then, with a voice that gave a bound: "O, be ye still!" shrieked the soprano, "O, be ye still!" roared forth the basso. In tones that sent your blood a-chill: Again the quartette sang en masse: "O, be ye still; O, be ye STILL!"

The tenor then made the request: "O, be ye still," in measure soaring; And deep from out the basso's chest "O, be ye STILL!" again came roaring. "O, be—O, be," the fair soprano, "O, be—O, be!"—until Once more they drowned the loud piano.

With one impressive "Be ye STILL—L—L!"

"Oh, be ye still," the alto wailed.

APPEAL TO LAURIER.

Western Press Men Discuss C. P. R. Telegraph Rates.

Regina, Oct. 11.—A meeting of the publishers of Western Canada was held here, Wednesday night. J. G. Turritt said that public had no idea of the relations existing between the C. P. R. Telegraph Co. and the press until the recent exposure in the newspapers.

If the C. P. R. Telegraph Co. did not settle this matter satisfactorily, he had no doubt but that Parliament, irrespective of party, would unite to put an end to the existing intolerable state of affairs, and that he would use all his influence to that end. It was decided to send the following telegram to Premier Laurier:—

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Ottawa.—We, the undersigned publishers of western dailies of the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, call your attention to the fact that the C. P. R. Telegraph Co. have arbitrarily advanced telegraph rates over 100 per cent. in some instances over 200 per cent. The company furthermore is charging discriminatory rates and has imposed on certain papers commercial rates on press messages. We would respectfully ask if there is no machinery of Government that can deal promptly with those conditions, which constitute grave menace to freedom of press."

CLEVER BALANCING.

How an Apparently Impossible Feat May Be Performed.

If you were told that you can balance a cup one-quarter full of coffee on the point of a knife, you would hardly believe it. Provided you are not particularly nervous, however, you should not find it such a difficult feat. You might try it—that is, if your mother doesn't object on the ground that you are likely to break half a dozen cups in practice.

Insert a cork in the handle of a cup tightly. Stick two of the prongs of a four pronged fork into the cork in the position shown in the picture. This arrangement lowers the center of gravity of the whole, and if you have a steady hand you may now place the cup on the point of the knife. —Philadelphia North American.

A Trusting Monkey.

Poor little monkeys! They get hungry and tired and sleepy just like children. Here is a story of one that lives in Buffalo. He belonged to an organ grinder who stopped in front of a veranda where a kind hearted gentleman was. When he came up and held out his little cap for a bit of money the gentleman, who is very fond of animals, gave him a red checked apple. The monkey jumped upon his lap and ate the apple, and between the bites he fixed his bright eyes on the face of his new friend. He must have made up his mind that he would trust him, for as he finished the apple he laid his head against the gentleman's arm and fell asleep. The kind friend of animals paid the organ grinder to play a long time, so that the tired little monkey could have his nap. When he awoke his master pulled the chain, and he followed the organ grinder, much happier and happier for the kindness shown to him.

Pillow Climbing.

In the middle of the floor some distance apart place sofa cushions, lamps, bric-a-brac, etc. From among the company choose a very smart young man who has never "hoaxed" and ask him to walk over the course between the articles, so as to fix in his mind the situation and distances of the various things. He is then blindfolded and directed to thread his way among them so as not to touch one. Very gingerly he will take his steps and wind about over the floor, and when triumphant over his success, the handicapper is taken from his grog he is greatly surprised to see that not an article is touched. It is great fun to see him moving cautiously and taking here and there to avoid impediments that do not exist.

Origin of Sunday.

Sunday, as the word implies, is Sun day—the day of the sun. Men worshiped the sun for a long time before they began to worship God, and Sunday was the day on which the source of light and heat received their adoration. On this day Christ's resurrection is supposed to have taken place; hence the Sunday became the worship day of the Christians.

Riddles.

Why is a tallow chandler always miserable? Because all his works are wicked and always brought to light. The river a man would name if he suddenly remembered he was in debt Ohio.

On Friday Afternoon.

He failed in plain arithmetic; In grammar, too, his head was thick; Geography was quite a blank, And low in spelling was his rank.

But well he learned a piece to say at school on Friday-speaking day, 'Twas all about the pilgrim band Who in America did land.

And this he did know, real for he had practiced evenings after tea, And never, never, Kate and Snap Had heard it off without mishap.

Yet in those Friday afternoons, In coffee break and speakeasy shoon, He practiced upon the platform here, Enough it was to turn some head.

The alphabet he could have said Both ways and standing on his head; By six and nine he had multiplied And bounded France on every side!

Described a verb and proper noun; Had spelled the other scholars down; But of that place—ah, how absurd! He did not know a single word!

MURDER AS A FINE ART

BRITISH CARPENTER FIGURES
AMONG GREAT CRIMINALS.

Hanged for Killing Two Persons—Victims Drank Potion Prepared for Another Man—Murderer Had Made
Study of Drugs—Possessed Cabinet of Deadly Poisons—Was Specialist in Crime.

There was hanged recently at Wandsworth Prison a man who, considering all the circumstances of the case, deserves a place on the dishonorable roll of the world's great poisoners.

Richard Brinkley was only a working carpenter, with no education to speak of and few opportunities of studying or experimenting with deadly drugs, yet he had succeeded, despite these and many other disadvantages, in developing poisoning to a fine art.

He was tried for the murder of two persons by placing prussic acid in the stout which they drank. The beverage was not intended for the unfortunate victims who drank it, but for another man, whose testimony
went a long way to obtain Brinkley's conviction.

Since the trial it has developed that fourteen years ago an inquest was held upon a girl who, the jury found, had committed suicide, the evidence showing that she did so it was with arsenic taken by her from a box in Brinkley's room. In this box were found prussic acid, arsenic, strychnine
and chloroform, for which Brinkley accounted by the story that he was engaged in chemical research in connection with photography and electrical engineering. The acquisition of such a deadly amamentarium by a muscle-bound individual affords
a striking commentary upon the working of the English laws regulating the sale of poisons.

Brinkley was evidently a man who had obtained some knowledge of poisons, and it seems probable that he had studied them with the deliberate intention of using them criminally,
for after he had denied this in cross-examination a piece of paper which had been found in his possession was put into his hand by counsel. It contained the following note: "Nitrates of silver with ordinary water will turn
the water milky, but if put into distilled water the water undergoes no change."

It was suggested by the prosecution
that this information was intended to be used in order to administer poison to an unsuspecting victim. Brin-kley's explanation was that a specialist had supplied him with it as a test
for distilled water, as he (Brinkley)
always drank distilled water at home,
and wished to be able to ascertain whether the druggist was really providing him with this somewhat unusual beverage for a working carpenter.

DAVID CHRISTIE MURRAY DEAD.

Well Known British Novelist Passes Away In London.
David Christie Murray, the novelist and playwright, died recently in London.

The late David Christie Murray was born in 1847, and was educated privately. He commenced his journalistic career on The Birmingham Morning News, and entered the London field in 1872.

He served on the staff of The World and The Daily News, and was a special correspondent for The Times in the Russo-Turkish war. He was an extensive traveler. In 1894-5 he visited the principal cities of Canada and the United States on a lecturing tour.
He was the author of a number of novels and some plays.

Avoiding Temptation.
Ocell was much impressed by the Sunday school teacher's plea for missions and decided to save his pennies for the heathen. He made a great effort and failed once or twice. Then he prayed. "O Lord," he begged,
"please help me save my money and don't let Jim, the peasant man, come down this street."

INTERNATIONAL S. S. LESSON FOR TO-MORROW.

Israel Enters the Land of Promise—Joshua 3, 5-17. Read Joshua 2-4.
Golden Text—And He led them forth by the right way that they might go to a city of habitation.—
Ps. 107, 7.

What were the difficulties, discouragements and hindrances to the entrance of Israel into this holy land
given them by God as their home,
and to cleanse it of its idolatry and exterminate its wretched, impenitent inhabitants?

Here are some—
Moses' death at a most critical time.

A strange land to enter.
Trained and blood-thirsty tribes of fighting men to contest every inch of the ground.

The enemy having every advantage, being garrisoned in their own territory.

A swollen, impassable river cutting off Israel's line of march.

Now what were the encouragements to Israel?

God has never failed them or left them in the past 40 years, so full of His goodness toward them, and He was with them, and He will show them even greater wonders on the morrow.

V. 5—Joshua—note his commands
—said unto the people, "sanctify yourselves," no time to be lost, there can be no conquest without consecration.

2nd. To the priests; take the Ark of the covenant and pass over before the people; when ye are come to the brink of the waters of Jordan ye shall stand still in Jordan;

as soon as the soles of the feet of the priests that bear the Ark of Jehovah—the Lord of all the earth—
shall rest in the waters of Jordan,
the waters of Jordan shall be cut off from the waters that come down from above, and they shall stand in one heap.

These commands were promptly
obeyed to the letter by the priests, who trusted solely in the word of God; for God had filled them with faith and the Holy Spirit following their consecration and sanctification the night before, and the exact results which Joshua foretold followed.

V. 7—Surely God was magnifying Joshua in the sight of all Israel, and all the Canaanites also. Mark how Jehovah can lead and use a godly man who trusts His almighty arm alone. Joshua took God at His word and the priests and people took God's word through Joshua, and it all came to pass just as God had promised, and every human impossibility was overcome. We learn that when men obediently sanctify themselves, and God controls and leads, nothing can defeat them.

Read God's promises to overcom-ers in Revelations, chapters 2 and 3.

Princess a Consumptive.

London, Oct. 11.—Despatches from Copenhagen report that the Princess Alexandrine, wife of Crown Prince Christian of Denmark, has been pronounced a consumptive, and has been ordered to a southern climate. The princess is a daughter of the late Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, and is only 28 years of age. She is a sister of Cecilia, Crown Princess of Germany.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless. Even to the most delicate woman a child. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition.
A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure tripe refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own,
being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings,
heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue,
poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery"
is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or bladder. It is a most efficient remedy
if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal Passages, it is well
while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages twice or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchitis, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membrane. "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

He Didn't Throw It.
"Miss Pechis," said Mr. Timmid at the other end of the sofa, "if I were to throw you a kiss I wonder what you'd say."

"Well," replied Miss Pechis, "I'd say you were the laziest man I ever saw."
—Philadelphia Press.

A Distinction.
"Tell me," said Miss Witherup, "Mr.
Newman remarked to you that I didn't show my age, didn't he?"

"Not exactly. He said you were careful to conceal it," replied Miss Frank.—Exchange.

It is estimated that there are 70,000-800 Europeans who wear wooden shoes. Basswood is ordinarily employed for sabots, but willow is the best material.

Stanfield's Underwear
fits perfectly because each garment is made to fit an individual type of figure.

After it is finished and goes to the laundry for its final washing, each garment is tested on models ranging from 22 to 50 inch bust measurement. Thus the size is determined accurately. And the size as marked is exact, and stays so, because Stanfield's Underwear can't shrink nor stretch.

Your dealer will likely have all sizes and weights. If not, he can get them for you.

TO ECONOMIZE SPACE

Devices Resorted to In Order to Obtain Room.

HOW-TO FURNISH FLAT HALLS

A Long, Low Chest on Wheels Which May Be Rolled Under the Bed Will Be Appreciated—Place For Family Portraits.

Lack of closet space is apt to be the greatest discomfort met by dwellers in flats and apartments, and many are the devices resorted to in order to obtain the necessary storage room for articles in everyday use. Like the ar-

A LONG, LOW CHEST.

my man, the woman who lives in a flat learns to economize space to a remarkable degree, and of late the upholsterers and furniture dealers have been coming to her aid with all sorts of contrivances, combining several necessities with a very good looking exterior.

The housewife will at once appreciate the advantages of a long, low chest on wheels which may be rolled under the bed or moved about from room to room at will. Such a chest comes both in bamboo or cedar and is suitable in the summer cottage as well as in the town house or apartment, where every cubic space counts. On a heavy cedar chest particularly these funny little wheels are most convenient. Such a chest is somewhat deeper and considerably longer than the ordinary bureau drawer, and the convenience of its size and shape is obvious.

We are all familiar with the pretty bamboo chests which are decorative as well as useful and make very nice window seats piled up with cushions.

Where there is a bay window a seat
can be built around it for very little expense and may have lids, so that it also serves as a chest, or have shelves
beneath, hidden by denim or silk cushions to match the draperies.

Even the little bamboo taboret will serve as a workbox when its interior
is divided into small compartments.

Blight & Fielder started this morning on the concrete work on Jahnke street.

About four or five days more will complete the work of Messrs. Blight & Fielder on the construction of the Chatham, Wallaceburg & Lake Erie Railway to Lake Erie.

Wilber, son of John Harbison, fell from a wagon yesterday and broke his left arm at the elbow. He was brought to town and the fracture was reduced and he is progressing favorably.

Two will probates were granted by County Court Clerk James Holmes on Saturday morning. One was in reference to the estate of the late Ralph Storey. The probate was granted to T. G. Storey and S. H. Storey. The other probate was in connection with the estate of the late A. H. White. It was granted to Annie E. White and Oliver W. White.

Contractor Blight says that in four or five days all civil work will be completed. The Board of Works chairman has positively stated to him that it is the last work to be done for the year 1907. In view of the fact that there are so many bad sidewalks which need re-laying, it is unfortunate that more cannot be done this fall to keep the men, who need it, in work as long as possible. Why cannot Colborne street be done now, which work has been petitioned for for over a year?

Sent To Prison

Kenora, Ont., Oct. 12.—The jury in the Wrighton case returned a verdict of guilty, with a strong recommendation to mercy. They were out three hours and a half. Judge Chaplin sentenced George Wrighton, engineer, to three months.

The case was similar to the Hespeler case with the same arguments advanced by the defence. It arose out of the collision of the second section of express No. 96, going east, and express No. 97, at Butler, in which 13 people were killed, 11 Chinamen and their guard, O'Connor, on No. 96, and a Jap on No. 97.

The evidence showed that two orders had been given Engineer Wrighton at Raleigh, one annulling the other. He did not grasp the annulment and the accident occurred.

Counsel for the defence endeavored to show that both orders might have been the same. They also argued that the engine he was driving was old and troublesome, taking up most of his time looking after the defects.

As Kenora is a strong railway town the case has created a great deal of interest, and some engineers declare that if they are to be held liable to imprisonment for accidents, besides running the risks of their daily occupation, they will quit the service.

There is great sympathy for Wrighton, who has always been regarded as a careful engineer.

SOCIETY

Mrs. E. W. Arnold, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Weir, for the past month, returned to her home in Battle Creek, Mich., this morning.

Miss Queenie Taylor was the guest of honor at a linen slower given at the home of Miss Lily Thomson, Stanley avenue, Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. McGarrin wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Olive Wood, to Mr. William J. Whitmarsh, of Orillia. The marriage will take place the last of the month.

Mrs. Knapp, Grand avenue, entertained at afternoon tea Thursday, in honor of her sister, Mrs. (Capt.) Mackenzie, Vancouver City, and friend, Mrs. Arnold, of Michigan.

Mrs. Donovan, of Morpeth, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Williams, William Street.

Mrs. Kingsmill gave a thimble party yesterday afternoon to a large number of guests. A very pleasant time was spent.

Mrs. Parker, the recently appointed soprano soloist and leader of the Park Street Methodist choir, received on Saturday last. The event was attended by a very large number of Chatham's Society, who all welcome such a talented and charming young lady to the Maple City.

Miss Edith Dolson gave a tea and musicale on Monday afternoon. A large number of Chatham's talented singers were present, and contributed towards the success of the evening.

Mrs. A. F. Falls gave a thimble party yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Downie, of Morpeth.

Mrs. Jessie Andrews entertained a number of her young friends last evening.

Mrs. S. C. Walker entertained about 35 of the musical people of the city last evening in honor of her niece, Miss Annie Reid, of London. The drawing-rooms and tea-rooms were tastefully decorated in yellow and green. Mrs. Walker was assisted by the Misses Cornhill, English, Tyhurst, and Messames Westlake and Mrs. Morgan. Miss McKellar assisted Mrs. Walker and Miss Reid in receiving.

ELOPERS MARRIED IN MONTREAL

Broker Says Millionaire's Daughter Was Already His Wife.

New York, Oct. 12.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance, more than a week ago, of Helen Maloney, daughter of Martin Maloney, the Philadelphia millionaire, was given a highly sensational turn yesterday.

At the time of Miss Maloney's disappearance, Samuel Clarkson, a young Englishman who had paid her marked attention, also dropped out of sight and it was reported, and generally believed, that the couple had eloped and been married.

Thursday night came the news from Montreal that the missing pair had been married by a Catholic priest in that city and then had returned to New York and sailed for Europe.

Following directly upon the heels of the Montreal announcement comes the publication here of an unqualified statement from Arthur Herbert Osborn, a young broker of this city, that Miss Maloney is his wife. According to Osborn's statement, he and Miss Maloney were married on Dec. 23, 1905, and the marriage never has been annulled. Osborn declares that records in the notary's office at Mamaroneck, which show that Herbert Osborn had married Helen Maloney on that date, will prove his statement. He said that assumed names were used because at the time both he and Miss Maloney desired to keep the marriage a secret.

The fact that the marriage had taken place did become known, however, according to Osborn, and he declares that among those who learned of it was young Clarkson. He says that not only did Clarkson know of the marriage, but that only a short time ago he sought to have it annulled, having gone so far as to consult New York lawyers on the subject.

Osborn was a student in Princeton when the marriage with Miss Maloney took place.

Jail for Gin Thief.

Stratford, Oct. 12.—Robert James, an Englishman in the employ of the G. T. E. freight department, was sentenced to three months in the Central Prison yesterday for stealing a bottle of gin out of bond in the freight shed.

Cassie Chadwick's Funeral.

Columbus, Oct. 12.—Emil Hoover, son of Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, has made arrangements to have the body of his mother taken to Woodstock, Ont., for burial.

Local Option Defeated.

Neepawa, Man., Oct. 12.—Local option was defeated by 31 here yesterday after a bitter fight.

Brutal Murder

Sydney, N. S., Oct. 12.—Further details were received here yesterday from Baie de Islands, Newfoundland, of the supposed Canadian from Ontario who is believed to have met his death by foul means while on a recent fishing excursion in the wilds of the ancient colony.

The body was found by a man named Nott at Gill Marsh, Bonne Bay. It had been decapitated and the hands were missing, all members having been removed by some sharp instrument.

The unfortunate man must have been about 5 feet 6 inches in height. He was rather stoutly built and dressed well.

His clothes had been made in Toronto, the buttons bearing the name of J. H. Ames of that city. Other than this there is absolutely no clue of identification, everything of a tell-tale nature having been removed from the pockets.

A number of fishing parties from Ontario cities are known to have explored lately the region in the vicinity of Gill Marsh, and it is thought that the unknown man met his death at the hands of his comrades.

Strength of mind rests in sobriety, for this keeps the reason unclouded by passion.

GROWING SUCCESS WITH MILLINERY

We're doing the Hat business better each season and winning a reputation for quality and style that is almost as good as a copyright. Whatever advantage comes of buying the materials and manufacturing for ourselves we possess, and the element of exclusive style that goes into each hat is strongly in evidence here. No store in Canada is better equipped to do the hat business as it should be done, with every element of risk eliminated in advance and every bit of extravagance taken out of the prices.

The Millinery Department this season is one of the big features of the store, and those who make comparisons will find these values absolutely without equal in this market.

THE GREAT SUCCESS IN Dress Goods and Silks

The continuous increase in our Dress Goods business reflects in a measure the character of the stock, the superb elegance of the new fabrics and the widely different range of styles. No single assortment in Chatham measures up to this in distinctive quality and supremely good value.

SPECIAL SHOWING OF DRESS GOODS At 75c. Per Yard

This week we are making a special display of all the styles and qualities and shades we show in this big stock at this popular price. You will find values here equal in every way to ordinary 85c. and $1.00 qualities.

We want to show you in a special way how many kind and excellent qualities you can choose from at 75c. yard.

SILKS

Quality is the keynote of Silks as well as Dress Goods, and we are proud of the extra showing, both in variety and value, that we are making this season. You can be sure of what you are getting if you buy here and equally sure of getting something out of the ordinary.

ABOUT OLIVE OIL

As no doubt you know, there's a great difference in Olive Oil.

One grade may be just as much Olive Oil as another, but there is a great difference in the quality.

The first quality of Olive Oil comes from the first pressing of the olives. After that comes a second and a third, and sometimes even a fourth.

You will readily understand that the cheaper grades, while they are Olive Oil, are not the best off.

We import the finest grade of Olive Oil, the first pressing, and guarantee the quality.

A Death Sentence

Hamilton, Oct. 12.-Guilty, with a strong recommendation to the mercy of the court, was the verdict of the jury in the case of Jacob Sunfield, who murdered Andrew Rodzyk on July 12 last.

Sunfield was sentenced to be hanged on Nov. 29. He took his sentence quietly, though he displayed considerable nervousness.

In reply to a question of the court as to whether he had anything to say as to why sentence should not be passed, Sunfield said in a firm voice: "I say I am not guilty, and I'm sorry to die."

The jury went out at 6.18 o'clock last evening, and returned at 9.48 and asked to have the evidence of Hunt, the teamster, who saw a man shoot at Mrs. Rodzyk, read, and they also asked to see when she was shot.

Rodzyk was when she was shot. The jury returned with a verdict of guilty, with a recommendation to mercy.

Asked by Chief Justice Falconbridge as to the reason for the recommendation to mercy, the foreman replied that they thought the prisoner had been drinking and did not realize fully what he was doing.

Chief Justice Falconbridge was deeply affected that he could hardly finish the sentence. He said:

"It is not my situation by saying anything to the prisoner about the enormity of the crime. I take it that if he does not already realize the enormity of the crime, I am entirely satisfied with the verdict of the jury. They had seen fit to make a recommendation to mercy, but it is not in my power to do anything with that."

"Drunkness is no excuse for crime. I recommend the prisoner not to build on the recommendation of the jury, but to prepare his mind for the sentence."

The sentence was passed, J. L. Connell asked the judge to reserve a case on two points. First, he contended that the evidence, because Rodzyk did not think he was dying when he made it, Second, he contended that the evidence of the witnesses as to the quarrel between Rodzyk and Sunfield was not admissible.

The judge refused to reserve a case, holding that the evidence was very clear. In his address to the jury, Mr. Connell went after William Walsh, who said his evidence was unbelievable.

Mr. Blackstock complimented Mr. Connell on his zeal and ingenuity, but said that any decent man would have rather gone to his death than tell the story Sunfield had told in the box.

The judge also complimented Mr. Connell on his zeal and ingenuity, but said that any decent man would have rather gone to his death than tell the story Sunfield had told in the box.

Take Sunfield went into the box yesterday morning and testified that his own defence. He declared that he did not kill Rodzyk. He said he was very intimate with Mr. Rodzyk, who said she loved him better than anyone else. He said that on the day of the shooting he went into the house after he had refused a shot. He with her, and he heard a shot. He wound up his story with: "This is the truth, gentlemen of the jury, I help me Christ; it's true, and if it isn't, I hope to drop where I stand."

He would not swear that Mrs. Rodzyk did the shooting.

Prince Albert Bye-Election. Prince Albert bye-election to elect a member in place of Hon. J. H. Lamont is waxing hot, and there have been several joint meetings between Mayor Bradshaw and Mr. Turgeon, the Liberal candidate.

take hold of it makes all the difference in the world to you. It can make or mar the man. You cannot afford grumbling service or botched work in your life's record. You cannot afford to form a habit of half doing things or
of doing them in the spirit of a drudge,

Her Character."If you want to know whether a girl is slovenly or not look at her heels," said the wise woman to the young man who was contemplating matrimony. "Her gown may be pretty, her hat becoming, her neckwear trim and neat and her gloves well fitting, but if her heels are run over look out for her. Her trimness in other respects simply denotes that she is neat spasmodically, that she will make an effort to keep things tidied and in order only when she is urged to or because she has some special provocation. But by nature she is slack. The man that marries a girl with perpetually run over heels will find her coming to the breakfast table as soon as the honeymoon is over in a tumbled kimono and with her hair in curl papers. She never will be a good housekeeper.""On the other hand, I've seen girls who maybe did not have such a trim appearance, whose hair was apt to be a little flying, but whose heels rested firmly on the ground, and never did I discover they were in the slovenly class. Maybe they were not careful enough of outward appearances, but they kept their buttons sewed on, rips repaired, spots sponged off and their rooms in immaculate order."—Ex-

Envy.

"I wish I were strong and healthy,
and magnificent as that man over
there," sighed the delicate, thin man,
"but, then, it isn't worth while to envy
people, to envy anybody, in this old world. I had a friend once who was taller than he and finer and more magnificent, a man of splendid physique.
You'd think, to look at him, that he would have lived forever, but he is dead now. Died of some slight trouble of indigestion that a delicate man might have lived through, and this is all I have left to remind me of him,
this ring with this handsome intaglio.
It is almost priceless to me and, in fact, almost priceless of itself. Intaglios are very rare these days. This is exceedingly rare. Some time I will send you a letter and seal it with the ring, so you can have the intaglio also to remind you that it isn't worth while to envy anybody in this old world."Bismarck as a Drinker.When Bismarck was in London in 1843 he was invited to visit the famous brewery of Barclay & Perkins, and his hosts, having heard of his reputation
as a beer drinker of great prowess,
presented to him an enormous tankard
of old ale, in the confident expectation that he would be obliged to admit himself vanquished by it. "I seized the tankard," Bismarck told Sir Charles Dilke, who recounted the story, "and I thought of my country and drank to Prussia and tilted it till it was empty. Then I thanked my entertainers—courteously, I hope—and succeeded in making my way as far as London bridge. There I sat down in one of the stone recesses, and for hours the great bridge went round and round me."The Great American Boss.The average American is blasé almost before the English girl is ready to leave her school, says a writer. The English girl never leaves her governess and home, before she is eighteen, while at the same age the American girl has seen much of the world. Yet the American girl retains her vivacity and her interest in everything, and it is that one quality, I think, above all others that wins for her the admiration of the Englishwoman. The American woman never looks to her husband as master, while the Englishwoman is taught to do so from her birth.—Tit-Bits.Makes One Feel Worse.It is a fact that one can feel how bad he really feels without feeling worse. The way to feel good is to not talk too much about your ills.
Think how well you are, how well you have done and feel good about it, and if there is anything the matter with you think it won't last long and that it is not worth thinking about.—Ex-

Editor Planet.—A subscriber to The Planet, recently, after complimenting me on my letters, stated that he would consider it a favor if I would give further information about the old Tower of Dover. Unfortunately, I have not the Dover letter referring to the old Roman Lighthouse. However, in looking over the history of Dover, I find the following:The Roman Pharos or Lighthouse
—The Pharos dates from the governorship of Aulus Plautius, A. D.
43 and 47, if not earlier, and beacon fires were lit on it, and on the north face, marked 1259. The old church, tower and nave were undoubtedly erected as a Roman fort,
about the middle of the third century, and connected with the Pharos at each of the three storeys. This work was converted into a Christian church in the fourth century by the Romans, and is the oldest consecrat-ed building in the British Isles. In Norman times in the year 1224, the space under the tower was vaulted
and the north and south transept arches and present entrance door inserted.Mr. Editor, allow me on behalf of my humble self to thank you for

I had no idea, in my rough way of

said to the British people that it was such a good thing for the country that when the Liberal Government came into power, that they accepted the policy of the Conservatives on the Free Trade question and the school question. Sir Wilfrid Laurier walked into the late Premier's office, and found a coat that had been left by the late Sir John A. Macdonald. He tried it on and it fitted him so well that he was waiting if yet, and taking great care that it didn't wear out. We can grow everything out of doors here except oranges and bananas. Our merchants are keen in business and competition is their life of trade. I was not trying to boom Canada because I live here. The prosperity of the country speaks out to the people of the British Isles and tells them that this is a splendid place to invest their money.The people there are amazed when you tell them that Canada has more territory than the United States of America, that we have a railway
from the Atlantic to the Pacific, running under one company, and that the Province of Ontario could box
up the United Kingdom—England,
Ireland and Scotland, and the Irish Sea thrown in. What we want and what we ask for is that the United Kingdom should send us her best sons and her best daughters to join us and build up a country that in time will be second to none.I have been asked to write my experiences on an Atlantic liner. In the distant future I will oblige, but for the next few months I am tied up. I mailed over fifty postal cards to my cousins and my nearest friends, all depicting scenes in Chatham. My correspondence is going to be heavy, and you know, Mr. Editor, when it comes to letter writing in black and white it is going to be a study. The reaction takes place and you think over the places of interest and the good times that you have had, and all depicting scenes in Chatham. The Old Country looked better to me after an absence of twenty-six years. I was twenty-three years of age when I left England. The past has wrought great changes, and the towns that I knew then have doubled in population. Many have joined the Great Majority. Father, mother and brother have passed away in our family. Young men among whom I knew the most of them have left the old city of Ripon, but I was pleased to meet some of my old school-mates, and above all, a reunion with my brother and sisters.I promise to make the trip again in five years if things are then coming my way. I have crossed the Atlantic five times, and I live in hopes of doing the same thing over again.As we jog along the road in life
we pass a load of discontented mortals who have gone to fast forgetting their health on the modern race
for wealth, until completely beaten
they break down at last, but others
slow and sure, their journey can endure, although the road be rugged with its dunes and hills, we ought to bear in mind that life we always find, that it is not the miles we travel, but the pace that kills.Yours truly,

THE PLANET JUNIOR

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1907.

RIDDLES

BY PLANET JUNIORS

What is round at each end and high in the middle?

Oh, dear!

Little Dot was drawing a picture with pen and ink on her paper. It turned out to be a cat without a tail.

Where is the tail? I asked the mother. She said: "A moment and then I'll show you."

Why, I give it up; what's the answer?

Why, it's in the ink bottle yet.

SHE KNEW

Washington public school teacher was quizzing pupils on the value of silence when one pupil asked a question. The teacher said: "I know."

THE JUNIOR

Owing to unforeseen circumstances it has been impossible for us to publish The Planet Junior since the summer vacation. However, it will appear regularly each week from this date, and we hope, very soon, to be as popular as formerly.

We hope you will all do your share to make it interesting. All juniors are invited to contribute.

We want to hear of your sports, matches, school work and pleasures at home; of any children who are ill or who have met with accidents. Everything that interests you will be of interest to other children, so try to tell us how you can contribute to The Planet Junior.

To the children in town we would say, that we hope next week to find a good budget of news in the school boxes.

Let us all try to make The Planet Junior the biggest and brightest Junior paper published in Canada.

THE ENGINEER WAS LEFT.

BY PLANET JUNIORS

In the State of Washington a railway bridge had been destroyed by fire, and it was necessary to repair it.

The engineer and his staff were ordered in haste to the place. Two days later came the superintendent of the division. Alighting from his private car, he encountered the old master bridge builder, and the words "The engineer was left" were on his lips.

"I don't know," replied the bridge builder, "whether the engineer was left or not. I am not sure."

"Get the bridge in up and the trains in motion," over it.

LONG LIFE'S PATHWAY

SNARES AND PITFALLS IN THE WORLD'S CAMPING GROUND.

PRECAUTIONS ARE NECESSARY

Dangers of the Journey—Get Mentally Equipped—Prepare For Temptation—Seek Divine Strength and Guidance—Resist Sinful Companions—Beware of Moral Contamination—Keep End In View.

Edmond according to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1907, by Frederick Dyer, Toronto, at the Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 6.—In this sermon the preacher preaches life as a journey and the world as a great temporary camping ground and shows what preparations and precautions are necessary to avoid its snares and pitfalls. The text is Luke ii, 44, "I went a day's journey."

In olden times man could live with less dependence than now on his fellow men. Yet there were certain necessities it was imperative for him to take along when he went a long journey. So essential were these necessities that no man in the east ever broke away from civilization until he had first made sure that he had them all along, for when the home cities and the journey had commenced there was no way of producing these necessities. Thus in Palestine, when a caravan or a party of travelers were about to journey from one region into another region and go through a wilderness of rocks and trees infested by wild beasts and brigands, they would always start their first day's journey about 4 or 5 o'clock in the evening. Then they would journey five or eight miles and pitch camp. Then they would overhaul their baggage and make sure that their spears and their bows and arrows and swords and hunting weapons were at hand and in good order. Then they would count noses and find out whether all the members of the families were present. Then if anything was missing they would look for it, and if it was not found they would go back to the woods for a summer vacation in this country does well to practise the same custom. Always start your first day's journey in the morning. Almost without exception, if you may be, you will find that some essential upon which the happiness of your summer's trip is more or less dependent has been left behind.

Now, when Joseph and Mary, after the feast of the Passover at Jerusalem, had turned north for their home city of Nazareth, they followed the freedom of the east. They started in the evening. After they had pitched camp with the other members of the traveling party, they began to overhaul their goods to see if they had forgotten anything. They were going through a wild region, not infested by robbers and wild beasts, but by their unfriendly neighbors, the Samaritans. As the night had almost fallen, Mary, motherlike, became anxious. She went from tent to tent and from campfire to campfire. Everywhere she kept asking the question, "Have you seen Jesus? Have you seen my boy? Did he not leave the Jerusalem walls with us? I can't find my Jesus anywhere." "Well, Mary," said an old Hebrew, "never mind. It is only a few miles back. We have only traveled our first day's journey. We will wait for you a day and you go back and you will find him. Nearly always somebody is left behind. That is the reason we always start our first day's journey in the evening hour."

As one who has camped a good deal in life and spent many months in the open, this text has taken a firm hold upon my mind and heart. Life always seems to me to be a camping journey. When we plunge into the woods we break away from the old homestead. There we have to be surrounded by new faces and depend upon the strength of our own hands for our success or failure. Now some people start forth on this journey of life in a haphazard way. They do not seem to care what they have in camp or what they have left behind. They start off on their journey of life early in the morning, and when they pitch camp at night they are so far away from the home city that they cannot go back and procure what they lack. Others start their journey of life in the evening. Then if anything is lost they return for the necessary supply. So may it be with us. As some of us are just pitching camp a few miles away from the old homesteads, I want you to take an inventory and find out what essentials you lack and go back and procure them.

I want you, in the first place, for this journey of life to overhaul your mental equipment. I am not asking you whether you have a mind. There is not a man or a woman here who has not gray matter enough to make a success in life if that brain is used aright. But what I am asking you is this: Have you a developed and educated brain? Have you a brain capable of accomplishing results? Have you a brain that has been taught and trained so as to enable you to excel in some department of the world's work? We cannot all be lawyers and physicians, but every man before he sets out on his journey in active life should have found out what is his specialty and should have been trained to excel in it. It may be only to make a table or construct a watch, but he should be able to do that better than other people. If he is a lapidary he should be able to distinguish the precious stone from the common pebble and should know how to cut and polish it. If you find when you make your first halt that you have not this capacity to do some one work better than others, I would advise you to go back and acquire this power, this trained brain, before you proceed further. Remember you are pitching camp as did Joseph and Mary after your first day's journey. In camp every one must be willing to do his part, and more than his part, or else friction will surely come. Some one must chop the wood and cook and wash the dishes. Some one must carry the water and unload the pack mules or the wagon. Some one must take the long weary journey to find grain and pasture for horses. All these tasks are not easy to perform when your muscles are tired and you have the blood jumping and jabbing and throbbing in your inflamed feet. But some one has to do these tasks. If you are not willing to do them some one else must. And yet sometimes you will have a man on a camping trip who is too lazy and selfish to do anything or to learn to do anything. He magnifies his own troubles and disparages your labors until he becomes a perfect pest and makes himself miserable and irritates every one around him. That is the journey of life. Some men are willing to do their share of work and a great deal more than their share of work. If they are mentally incompetent, then they bravely and conscientiously say: "I will repair my mental deficiencies. I will learn to do my duty. When I am ignorant I will manfully shoulder the burden God has given me to carry. Is that your life, O man? Is that your life, O woman? What you mentally lack are you by God's help and by hard labor willing to develop?"

I was mightily impressed with this fact some time ago when traveling among the famous redwood forests of northern California. We had been climbing one of those lofty hills when night overtook us. We slept near a watering trough by the roadside. The tall trees grew taller. The silence of the woods became more still. The presence of God was perceptible as it is to none but those who have been communing with him in the silent places of nature. The next morning a fine, tall, handsome man stopped in camp. He was on his way back to his lumber claim. He asked me to accompany him and take a short cut through the woods to the road ahead, and I went. While we walked along he told me the struggles of his life. He was left fatherless at eight years of age. At nine he was working for his living. He succeeded. Oh, no! About his lack of education. Though a grown man of nearly thirty years of age, he intended the next winter to go back to Europe and enter the public school as if he had been a little boy. Do you suppose you could keep down a man like that? Never! He worked, and he worked hard, but as he worked he said, "The educational deficiencies of my youth I must and will rectify." I admired that man's courage and humility. I thought then what a good thing it would be for some of us if we took the same course.

But a man in the journey of life needs to be more than mentally equipped. He must also be physically and morally protected. As many dangers confronted the Oriental traveler, so when a young man breaks loose from his home surroundings there are many temptations before him. The only way to successfully meet and overcome those temptations is to prepare for them before we start. You would not have thought much of the old "forty-niners" who attempted to cross the western prairie without first well testing his shooting irons. He may not have cared how the exterior of his gun looked, but he was very careful about the inner side of his rifle. He always saw to it that no rust was there and there was no indentation of his barrels. Whether those guns shot straight or no was to decide his life or death. The fierce savages, the ugly grizzlies, the hungry panthers and the half-starved pack of wolves all demanded that he should be well protected. He therefore took care that his gun was in good order and that he had plenty of ammunition.

Then in olden times the travelers never depended upon their guns alone. They looked for success to their companions' guns as well. Thus in the far east as well as in our own country you rarely found men traveling long distances alone. When the old "forty-niners" traveled through the west they met at some outskirt town and made up a train. Then when they were passing through the regions infested by hostile savages they traveled as an army. The sentinels kept watch at night. The horses were securely guarded lest they might be stampeded in some midnight raid. When the camp was attacked the wagons were used as fortresses and the riflemen deployed. If you and I go camping a few miles from home where we encounter only the gentle sheep and cattle of some friendly rancher, it does not make much difference where we sleep. We open our camp cot at any position. But when we are in the woods far away from the nearest railroad station, when we lie away to the lair of the bear and the treacherous wildcat, then we hug close to the campfire and have the magazines of our guns well filled with cartridges for there is danger lurking on every hand. Now, in this journey of life we must meet our moral and spiritual dangers. In our first halting place away from home do we find ourselves prepared to resist these dangers? If not, then had we not better go back where we can supply our spiritual deficiencies?

Study the life of your father and mother. How did your father meet the awful troubles and trials and temptations which came to him? When he told you some years ago of some of his struggles and how he had been unjustly treated and how sin in its most enticing form came to him you said: "Father, I don't see how you withstood those troubles and temptations. Why, father, if that temptation had come to me I surely would have fallen." So you would if you had the divine strength which was given to him. When you think of your father now, you cannot remember one moment when he did not impress you with the fact that he had a supernatural strength given to him with which to meet the temptations of life. My brother, you have the same temptations to meet as he had. Do you not crave the same divine strength with which to fight those moral and spiritual dangers? If your dear father was to rise from his grave, would he not be speaking to you as I am doing now? It is not too late to go back to Jerusalem and at the altar of Calvary supply your spiritual deficiencies. Remember, you are still at your first spiritual camping place. It is not too late to take Christ along with you on your journey of life.

But there is another fact we must settle before we start upon the journey of life, and that is our destination. It is of vital importance for a man to know in what direction he is to travel before he leaves the home city. After we have been traveling on day after day it is almost impossible for us to turn back and start out with another party of emigrants. It is a foolish move for some of us to start the journey of life when we do not know or care to what destination we are heading. O man, are you traveling toward heaven? Are you journeying toward the east?

But there is still another warning which I want you to heed well in your journey of life—that is the moral and the spiritual character of the men and the women with whom you are bound to be brought in daily association. This warning is no joke in reference to those with whom we go forth into the woods upon some summer vacation. If you do not heed well the kind of people with whom you go camping in the summer your whole spiritual life may be wrecked. No man, I care not how strong he may be, is strong enough to resist the pernicious influence of sinful companions. There is an old saying that if you put one decayed apple in a barrel filled with red apples which have just been gathered from the orchard that rotten apple in time will contaminate all the other apples in the barrel. Therefore if you put one good apple among a dish of decayed apples it will not be long before that good apple will become decayed. And yet some people profess to believe that a good man can be placed side by side with a lot of morally diseased men and be as good, if not better, than when he began to associate with his evil companions. That belief is against all the laws of common sense.

But there is one fact above all others which our text teaches—that is, when we start out on our journey of life we should take all our dear ones along. A man may have an admirable longing for the woods. His overtaxed brain and nerves may be calling to him day by day: "Rest, rest! I must have rest!" He may be in great glee as he packs away his camping outfit and puts his trout flies carefully away in his pocketbook and straps his gun cases. He may feel his blood coursing through his veins with renewed strength as he leaves civilization behind and climbs the mountain untrodden save by the woodsman with his axes. But when night begins to fall and time for going to sleep in his camping bag comes around or when Sunday comes when he does not fish or hunt or travel the one thought which is uppermost in his mind and heart is this: "I wonder how the folks are getting along at home. I wonder if the babies are well? I wonder if I will ever see them again? Oh, I wish they were all here!" Friend, have you ever been on a camping trip when you have been weeks and weeks away from home? Have you ever had this unutterable longing come over you which some people call old-fashioned homesickness? Then, if you so miss your dear ones when you are away from home for a few weeks, how do you suppose you would feel if you were never to meet them again? Could we ever be happy on earth or in heaven unless we knew that our dear ones were safe with us and safe with God? And yet, alas, how many of us do not seem to care whether our husbands and wives and brothers and sisters and children are safe with Christ! Dare we, can we longer continue our journey toward the city of the New Jerusalem unless we go back and persuade our loved ones to surrender their hearts to Jesus Christ and come along?

But many of us are to be counted among those who have just started upon the wrong road of sin. We are not far from the Jerusalem walls. We are at the first stopping place. We have now plenty of time to look around and see if we are in evil company and take an account of our deficiencies. Will you not go back to the parties of your past life? Will you not rectify your mistakes and evil tendencies? Will you not start your spiritual and temporal journey anew? You have not gone over the precipice of sin. You are only nearing the brink where you may look into the gaping depths of an eternal death. This hour is a critical time in your life. You are not only deciding your destiny for time, but you are deciding what goal you will reach for eternity. Christ to-day is pleading with you to come back to the higher and nobler life. Your dear ones are also pleading with you. It is not too late. You are only camping at the first halting place, not far from the city of Jerusalem. But they, supposing him to have been in the company, went a day's journey, and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance.

Relic of Charles Peace.
A pistol, believed to have been used in the murder of Police Constable Cook in 1876 (to which Charles Peace confessed when awaiting execution for another crime in 1879) has just been found.

At the time of the murder, for which William Habron was tried and sentenced to death, a rigorous search was made for the weapon, several clay pits and ditches being pumped dry, but without success. Recently building operations have been in progress at the spot, and on Thursday in draining a ditch covered with rust and choked with clay. It is a single barreled weapon apparently fired with a percussion cap, and has a fairly heavy stock. It has plainly been of some service and of little value, all the metal work having evidently been originally silver-plated.

A "Hecla" Furnace

will always keep your home warm and comfortable, and provide in addition a system of ventilation that will always keep the air fresh and pure and free from gas, smoke or dust.

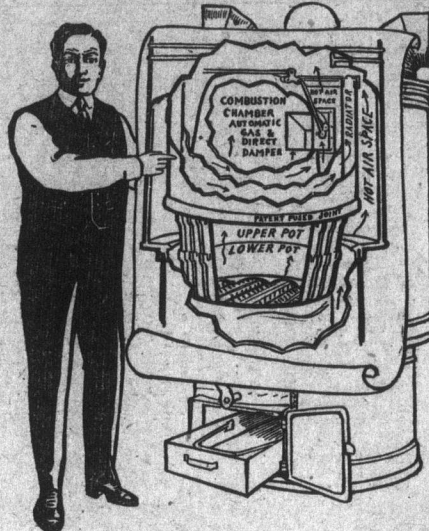

Hecla Fused Joints guarantee this purity of atmosphere, because they are made by fusing the iron and steel of the Hecla together at a white heat in such a way as to make a joint that is absolutely tight for all time. In all other furnaces, this joint is made with bolts and cement, and the difference in the ratio of expansion between iron and steel soon strains the bolts and loosens the cement, leaving openings for the escape of gas and dust. Fused Joints are everlasting.

Sectional Fire Pots.

I make Hecla Fire Pots in sections to prevent cracking in the centre where most fire pots give way. I provide for expansion and contraction in such a way that there is no strain on Hecla Fire Pots. The flanges, cast on Hecla Fire Pots, add 50% to the heating surface.

Triangular Grate Bars

keep the fire clean with less trouble than any other grate bars made; one turn of the crank clears out the ashes, removes clinkers and leaves a bright, clean fire.

If you are building a House

or installing a heating system, you should know why the Hecla is the most sanitary, the most efficient and most economical furnace made. See our nearest agent or write the Clare Furnace Builder for the latest catalogue and a free estimate.

FLORENCE.

Miss Maisto McCreary is taking a couple of weeks' holidays.

Miss Nellie Unsworth returned last week from Detroit, where she has been spending a week with her sisters, Mrs. Cragg.

A large number of our townspeople took in the Old Boys' Re-union at Thomsen's last week. They report a big gathering and a splendid time.

Mrs. (Rev.) Graham, of Sarnia, and Mrs. Gage, of Iona Station, were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gordon during last week.

A Peters has purchased the D. E. McDonald residence and moved into it.

Harvest Thanksgiving services were held in St. Matthew's Church on the 29th prox. Rev. Mr. Thomas, of Wardsville, occupied the pulpit both morning and evening, giving eloquent and inspiring discourses. The choir, ably assisted by Miss Rheintgen, of Detroit, Miss Turtle and Miss M. Trotter, gave some inspiring music. The thank offering was quite liberal.

R. Campbell, who has been preaching in the west during the summer months, occupied the Presbyterian pulpit here Sunday. He is returning to college.

The Baptist congregation purpose holding their anniversary services on Oct. 13th. The service will be conducted in the morning by the Presbyterian minister, and the evening service by the Methodist pastor, the Rev. P. Myers.

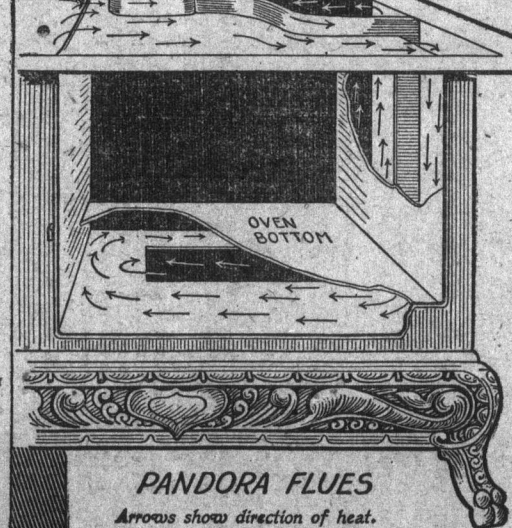

The Presbyterian congregation met last Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. T. Webster in a social and farewell evening for their minister, Mr. J. F. Clugston, who has been here during the past six months. After a very enjoyable evening spent in games and music, Mr. Clugston was presented with a handsome umbrella as a slight token of the high esteem and affection felt for him by the congregation. He has returned to Toronto to resume his studies at Knox College.

Miss Mary Corbett has gone to the Maple City for an extended visit to her cousin, Mrs. S. Keiver. The concert, held Friday evening, Oct. 4th, in the Orange Hall, proved a great treat and a very enjoyable evening's entertainment. Ted Parker, of Toronto, came singer and harmonist, was present and at his best. The large audience was enthusiastic over his selections. The Florence Orchestra and Mr. Charlie Ellison also appeared on the program with several bright and spirited numbers.

Miss Unsworth and Miss M. Trotter were able accompanists during the evening. The death of Miss Susana McCreary took place on Saturday last, after a lingering illness, at the age of 77 years. The funeral service was preached on Tuesday by Rev. T. L. Armstrong, interment taking place in St. Matthew's Cemetery. Our Florence Fair, held last Thursday and Friday, 3rd and 4th inst., was a decided success in every way. The day being bright, an unusually large crowd was present. The exhibits were splendid in every class. There was a fine showing of fruits, grains and vegetables, better than any for a number of years; the ladies' department was well filled and showed some fine needle work. All the stock was up to its usual high standard. The Croton Band has in attendance

PANDORA RANGE

PANDORA FLUES

Arrows show direction of heat.

The Pandora Flue System is an Immense Improvement

While we don't desire to say that the usual flue construction is not good, for it is considered good, still we do say that the Pandora flue system is an immense improvement.

In the ordinary range the flues conduct the smoke and heat by the shortest route to the chimney (as shown by illustration in lower corner). The heat does not pass directly under all pot holes, nor around all surfaces of the oven.

In the Pandora (illustrated in upper left hand corner) when the draft is set for baking, the heat, by means of a curved flange, is made to pass under and heat every pot hole except the back inner one, before it is drawn down the outer half of the back end flue and under the oven—a dividing flange under oven bottom prevents the heat from short cutting, and forces it to travel, first under the outer half of oven, then under the inner half.

The result is that the heat is spread uniformly over the oven. And every loaf of a whole batch of bread will be done equally well on all sides.

From under the oven bottom the heat travels up the inner half of back end flue, and passes under the back inner pot hole before disappearing up the chimney.

Thus it will be seen that all the heat circulates around the oven twice and under every pot hole before it goes up the chimney—that the draft for baking is also the best for cooking.

And, as the heat is made to perform a double duty by this improved system, the fuel bill is greatly reduced.

The most economical as well as the most improved range on the market to-day bears the name Pandora. It's a name worth remembering when buying a range.

If your local dealer does not sell the Pandora, write direct to us for free booklet.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Unchanged—Cattle Steady,
Hogs Lower at Buffalo.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—London cables are firmer at 10c to 12 1/2c per lb., dressed.
Weight, refrigerator beef is quoted at 9 1/2c to 10c per lb.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—Receipts of live stock since Tuesday were large,
in fact the largest of the year. The cattle market was quiet, 2,009 hogs, 5,002
sheep and lambs, 270 calves and 1 horse.

A. McIntosh bought 1 load of exporters, picked out of several loads,
from Maybrook, Wilson & Hall, weighing 1200 lbs. each, at $4.75-1.2 per cwt.,
and this was the only lot we heard of.
Export bulls sold from $2.25 to $4.10
and one of prime quality at $4.75.

George Rowntree, who bought 60 carloads of fat cattle Wednesday and Thursday for the Harris Abattoir Co., being the heaviest purchaser, gave the following quotations: For 4 carloads of prime cattle, 1100 to 1300 lbs. each,
$4.70 to $4.90; for loads of good cattle,
$4.50 to $4.70; for loads of fair cattle,
$4.30 to $4.50; for loads of poor cattle,
$4.10 to $4.30; for loads of very poor cattle,
$3.90 to $4.10; for loads of common to fair cows,
$2.40 to $3; canners, $1 to $2 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.
H. & W. Murphy report a large run of stockers and feeders this week. Prices for stockers and light feeders declined from 10c to 25c per cwt., while extra heavy feeders held their own at 35c and prime, Messrs. Murphy, who bought about 200 cattle, report: Best 1050 to 1100 lb. feeders, at $3.25 to $3.50; best 100 to 900 lb. feeders, $2.40 to $2.50;
cattle, $2.50 to $3.50; good cows,
$2.25 to $2.80; common to fair cows,
$2.40 to $3; canners, $1 to $2 per cwt.

Milk Cows.
There would be fully 100 milkers and springers on sale, few of which could be classed as good to choice quality,
the bulk being of common to medium.
Trade was a little better for the choice cows than one week ago, but that is not saying much for them; and the common, light cows were as usual hard to sell. The best cow on the market was bought from the driver at $5 and the Montreal dealer paid $56 for her.
The average price of the best cows would not be more than $45 each, if that much. Common light cows are not wanted, but sold from $25 to $35
each.

Veal Calves.
There was a liberal supply of what are called veal calves. Of all the bad lots we have seen during the last 11 years, we never saw a worse lot as regards quality. The bulk of them were coarse and heavy, some of them with horns two inches long, their bones being the largest portion of them, showing that they had been fed on a little sour milk and grass. There was a limited number of fair quality,
with a very few that could be classed as good. Prices were quite flat from $1.50 to $2.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.
The run of sheep and lambs was the largest of the season. There were some of good quality, but vastly more of common to medium class. Export ewes sold at $3.25 to $4.40 per cwt.;
culls and rams at $1 to $2.50; lambs at $4.50 to $5.50 per cwt.

Hogs.
Deliveries the largest for some time.
Mr. Harris got 2,100 Wednesday and Thursday at unchanged quotations.
Selects $4.12-1.2, light fats at $3.87-1.2
per cwt.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.
EAST BUFFALO, Oct. 10.—Cattle—Receipts 125 head; fairly active and steady;
prices unchanged.

Hogs—Receipts, 3000 head; fairly active and 5c to 10c higher; heavy, $7 to $7.25;
mixed, $7.25 to $7.40; porkers, $7.25 to $7.50;
pigs, $5.50 to $5.60; roughs, $5.50 to $5.80;
calves, $5.50 to $7.15.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4000 head;
slow; sheep, steady; lambs, $5 to $7.50.

New York Live Stock.
NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Beef—Receipts, 2147; no trading; feeling weak;
shipments to-day, 450 quarters of beef to Liverpool.

Veals—Receipts, 231. Veals, steady to a fraction lower; traction lower in light supply common to prime veals, $5 to $5.50 per cwt.; culls, at $4; yearlings and grassers, $3.50 to $4.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 6212; sheep,
steady; lambs, slow and 25c lower; sheep,
steady at $3.50 to $5 per cwt.; culls, at $2;
lambs at $3.50 to $7.50; culls, at $4 to $5.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 1708; none on sale; feeling nominally firm.

Chicago Live Stock.
CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Cattle—Receipts,
estimated at 1000; market steady; steers,
$5.25 to $7.30; cows, $3.50 to $5; heifers, $3
to $5.75; bulls, $2.50 to $5; calves, $3 to $5.50;
pigs, $5.50 to $7.50; roughs, $5.50 to $5.80;
calves, $5.50 to $7.15.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4000 head;
slow; sheep, steady; lambs, $5 to $7.50.

New York Cattle Markets.
KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 10.—Cattle moved to-day at the Frontenac board and 13 1/2c was paid for 125 boxes. There arrived 56 boxes white sold at 12 1/2c;
147 boxes colored at 12c. The registrations were: White 125, colored 448.

C. P. R. ARBITRATION.
Men Get 14 Per Cent. More Pay—Double Time Sundays.

Toronto, Oct. 11.—The award of the board of arbitrators on the telegraph
operators and agents and C. P. R.
Railway, was given out last night,
and is in favor of the men.

Wages have been increased 14 per cent., double time granted for running regular trains on Sunday, and although train dispatchers wanted
the hours reduced from eight to six
this was not allowed—this difficulty was overcome by a scheme to reduce the size of the circuit of operation.

These are the main features of the award. The only thing remaining is for the men and the company to get together in a division and settle the wages at each station.

Extra Duties.
The clause requiring men to work
at washrooms, wrecks, etc., was discussed at length, and it was decided that telegraphers needed in this way
should be indemnified weather be provided with shelter and paid their necessary expenses for the time they were away from home.

The men wanted to be exempt from attending switches, etc., but the award decides that the company shall have the right to call on them
for such a purpose. In certain cases, however, the men are to be paid extra.

The award allows a man who thinks that he is overworked to lay
a complaint which is to be immediately investigated, and if he needs assistance or relief he will get it.
The men wanted overtime for all Sunday work, and the board made Sundays come under extra time,
according to the telegraphers' duties,
but the telegraphers will be paid extra for Sunday work.

The men asked for 10 hours instead of 12 hours and 8 instead of 10, which was granted.

Telegraphers shall not be required
to do clerical work that will interfere with the proper despatching of trains.
The men wanted train despatchers' hours
reduced to 6, but the board reduced the hours to 8, the area that a man has to take care of rather than reduce the hours.

If a telegrapher considers himself
overtaxed his complaint must be carefully considered, and if well
founded, relief would be granted.
The question of holidays remains as it was, three weeks for train depatchers, and two weeks for telegraphers, if they have been four years
or more in the company's service.

Remuneration was increased 1 per cent. all around, on the basis of the present minimum wages, which run from $45 to $50 per month. This means an annual increase, roughly speaking of $175,000 to $200,000 per annum.

The new schedule of wages becomes effective Oct. 1.

Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets.
—Medical science by accident discovered the potency of the pineapple as a panacea for stomach troubles. The immense percentage of vegetable acids contained in the fruit makes it an almost indispensable remedy in cases of dyspepsia and indigestion.
One tablet after each meal will cure
most chronic cases. 50 in a box, 35 cents.

New Postoffices in Canada.
Ottawa, Oct. 11.—Thirty-four new postoffices have been opened in Canada this month. Ten of these are in British Columbia, six in Quebec,
five in Ontario, five in Saskatchewan,
three in Manitoba, three in Alberta,
and two in Nova Scotia. Twelve were closed.

Affiliated Conservatory of Music, goes to Canada next September.

TENACIOUS FORM OF SYSTEMAT-IC CATARRH.
Not an easy thing to cure, and a remedy that makes good deserves
the credit. Catarrhozoon cured Chas.
H. Webb, of Woodstock, Ont. B. A.
writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with systematic catarrh. It was a very tenacious form of the disease and nothing helped. I used Catarrhozoon and got relief. To build up my system
I used Ferrozoon. They cured me."
Four cases may be chronic, but Cat-arrhozoon will drive out catarrh and keep it out. Two sizes, 25c and $1.00, at all dealers, sold under guarantee of satisfaction.

Many people talk about religion
most earnestly when they really do
the very least toward practicing it.

himself.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

NEEDED A DIAGRAM.

Little Teddy Trux.
Kind, but rather slow,
Thought he'd like to marry.
But he didn't know
How to go about it—
Didn't have a plan
Or directions printed—
Lots of men like that.

Saw a dozen charmers,
Sweet and full of fun;
Didn't want a dozen,
Only wanted one.
When he got one cornered
Couldn't make the play
For the fateful moment
Let her get away.

Some pronounced him hopeless;
Others were inclined
To take pity on him.
You have seen that kind.
Flattered him a little,
Tried to help his hand.
But their best, they couldn't Make him understand.

So he kept on living
In a single state,
Hoping ever hoping.
He would meet his mate.
You have seen men like him.
If they had a plan
And some one to push them
They could get a bride.

Spared Them the Agony.
One warm Sunday a few weeks ago
the shade of John Smith had an afternoon off, and there being no ball game
he thought he would drop around to the Jamestown exposition to see how the thing conformed to his general ideas on the subject.

The guide, delighted to have so distinguished a guest, showed him about the grounds and finally took him into a restaurant. Shades do not eat, but John found it interesting to look over the bill. "H'm," he said to himself after figuring a minute. "It is a good thing none of the early settlers are about. With these prices they couldn't afford to look in at the window."

An Unprotected
Industry.
"There ought to be a tariff on bridges over this country."
"What would be the sense in that?"
"Our eligible young men shouldn't be asked to compete with the rampant counts of Europe."

Exit Vacation.
The days are hot; the sun is fierce;
It rays the thickest canvas piece;
It drives the early dew away,
And now the dog star has his day.
When August comes around,
The air is close; the nights are still;
You see a great big hotel bill
Still clinging with aspiring eye,
You view the same and sadly sigh
When August comes around.

The girl you loved through all July
Grows cold when comes another night.
You pack your grip; to town you hie
And to vacation say goodbye
When August comes around.

Trifle Lacking.
"She would be positively handsome but for one thing."
"What's that?"
"Well, she isn't good looking."

Sensitive.
"How do you like an ocean voyage?"
"Too strenuous for me. I am not a born sailor. Just riding on the water wagon makes me seasick."

PERT PARAGRAPHS.
It is foolish to save money for your funeral expenses, for while you will probably be present you won't feel that it is any of your funeral.

A woman is wise to keep a good supply
on hand to use when her husband gets out of temper.

Some people are respectable in spite of all they can do.

Automobiles may be expensive, but it is ballooning that comes high.

Queer people are the sort that are most unlike us.

People who implore the boys to remain on the farm don't know anything about bugging taters.

His breach of promise suit is one that a young man would rather not have pressed.

We feel if we could get the world to practice all we preach there would be no need of further reform.

Unless you want to engage in immediate activities, don't criticize a woman's husband.

High Standards.

The high standard of workmanship demanded by the makers of the New Seamless Williams Piano have attracted to them the very best of skilled labor.
Every workman in their large factory
at Oshawa is an artist in his particular line, and the pride of all take in the product of their united labor. "The New Williams" is one of its best guarantees of excellence.

Run-Off at Cataract.
Orangeville, Oct. 11.—The derailing
of an engine on the passenger train for Teeswater, which left Toronto early last evening, near Cataract station, about 15 miles from here, on the Credit Valley branch of the C. P. R., resulted in the line being blocked for several hours. No one was injured.
The accident was due to an open switch.

Mission to Japan.
London, Oct. 11.—(C. A. P.)—The Morning Leader expresses satisfaction
at the mission to Tokyo, and says:
"Premier Laurier can generally be trusted to combine statesmanship with order with the gracefulness of courtesy, and he certainly is wise in seeking a permanent solution," and it adds that Lemieux is an ideal choice.

THE WATCHTOWER OF WOMEN.
Modesty is woman's watchtower.
Whispering threatens her delicate sense of modesty, frightens her. For this reason many a woman permits diseases of the delicate womanly organs to become aggravated because she cannot bring herself to submit to the ordeal of unpleasant questionings, offensive examinations, and obnoxious local treatments, which sensible physicians find necessary.
Doubtless thousands of the women who have taken advantage of Dr.
Pierce's offer of free consultation
by letter, have been led to do so by the escape thus offered from a sensitive woman may write to Dr.

as strictly private and sacredly confidential, and all answers being sent in plain envelopes with no ad-

them. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been long hailed as a "God-send to women." It makes weak women strong and sick women well. "Favorite Prescription" is

Fire in Mid-Ocean.
New York, Oct. 11.—The Austrian steamer Gudula, which arrived yesterday from Trieste with 703 passengers, had a narrow escape from destruction

storm on Oct. 3.

The crew fought the flames all day

Struggle With a Panther.
Wild excitement was caused in the Coloquial section of Calcutta on a recent Saturday morning, by the appearance of a panther, which mauled
four men before it was shot by a superintendent of police. The beast was discovered by the wife of a babu in an office in Phears lane, and she alarmed her husband. He went to see if his wife's report was true, and was promptly knocked over by the animal as it tried to escape. The alarm spread and a crowd soon collected, but in the meantime the brute had taken cover, and could not be found. Suddenly it rushed into the street. A coolie was standing in its way, and he struck at it with an iron
rod. The panther struck him on the shoulder and knocked him into the gutter,
breaking his knee. The crowd fed,

Elegance & Quality in DRESS FABRICS At Satisfactory Prices

It would be hard to duplicate a Dress Goods Stock where rich, fashionable shades in high qualities and low prices are so harmoniously blended as they are in this stock at the present moment. This store is not large, but the dress goods stock is the most complete you'll find. Before buying your dress look for the small store with a large window in which is always displayed high class and correct dress fabrics or silks. You can judge the quality of the goods kept by a store by their show window, but you cannot see their complete stock in a show window. This store receives many lines of handsome dress fabrics that never get a showing in the window. If you see something in the window you like, perhaps you'll find something you like better inside. Come in and see the dress goods displayed by this store. No need to buy because you look.

DELIVERY OF BREAD

Citizen Has a Few Suggestions for Board of Health

It is Claimed That Present Conditions Are Unsanitary

"I was very much interested a few days ago," said a citizen this morning, "when I saw in The Planet an article criticizing the way in which meat is delivered in Chatham. I think there is cause for severe criticism in this respect. Some people say that we should not be too 'pernickety' in matters of this kind, and when many subjects like this are touched upon there are always many who are ready with the accusation that the man who finds fault is a crank, and a sort of a grouchy individual. In my opinion this is the wrong way to look at it. I do not make a habit of being a kicker and grumbler, but I am just a little particular about the food that I eat, and if others were, the world would be less typhoid fever and other diseases. 'It is a common thing to see a butcher's wagon, or a farmer's wagon going down the street with all kinds of raw meat in it, either uncovered altogether, or else wrapped in some old bags or soiled cloth, which in my opinion is infinitely worse. This is the meat which goes to the butcher shops and is represented as the first class article. In my opinion it is criminal to carry on such practice. 'Along this line there is another thing that the newspapers should take up, and that is the way that bread is delivered throughout the city. 'How many people have noticed a bread wagon on the street with the loaves of bread exposed to all of the dust and filth which it is possible to scare up from the dusty or muddy roads? For myself, I have noticed it several times. In some cases there is positively no effort made to keep the bread covered. Then you will find a man driving the rig with soiled hands, and often dirty clothes. He takes the bread to the door and hands it out with his hands which are often not of the cleanest as a result of driving, etc. If you carry the thing one step further, and let that same man, in the same condition, serve you your bread at the table, how many people would you find eating bread? You might as well let him serve it at the table, for the bread would not be any more unsanitary than it is under present conditions, but you won't find many people who realize that. 'I have no fault to find with the bread dealers, as long as they find a market for their bread as it is now, you can hardly blame them for neglecting to be more careful in the delivering, unless they are forced to do so. I do think, though, that they really should exercise a little more concern for the public health than they do at present. I think that it is the result of thoughtlessness probably in many cases, but if they refuse to comply with the health laws after the matter has once been brought to their attention, then the health authorities should do something in the way of providing a little persuasion."

HE DESTROYED IT

W. A. Gunton Pays No Attention To Anonymous Letters—He is Still Working Actively

W. A. Gunton, Executive Officer of the Children's Aid Society, stated to The Planet yesterday, that he had received an anonymous letter from some person in the city. For a number of years this gentleman has been in the habit of paying positively no attention to such notes. When he receives a letter he first looks for the signature, and when none is attached he promptly tears up the letter without reading it, so that the person who wrote the letter yesterday is the only one who knows what it contained.

Mr. Gunton assures the public that any information handed to him in connection with his work of the Children's Aid Society will be held by him as confidential, so that persons writing to him need not be afraid to sign their names.

In the course of his work in connection with the Society, Mr. Gunton visited the Public Schools yesterday, to ascertain information concerning the truants. It is his intention to keep his eyes open for all such, and this will be another department of his work which will be thoroughly pushed.
