THE CONSTITUTION AND ORDER

Of the London Ecclesia of Immersed Believers of the Things of the Kingdom of God, and the Name of Jesus the Christ, According to the Scriptures; Organized on its Subscription for True Fellowship in the Gospel of the Grace of God.

We, the undersigned members of the Body of the Christ forming this Ecclesia, do hereby subscribe our names to this roll of the Ecclesia, in token that we have been immersed as believers in and confessors of the Truth as it is in Jesus, as summarised under the following heads of particulars:

I. The one baptism is immersion in water into the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, upon a Scriptural belief of the things of the kingdom of God, and the name of the Lord Jesus the Christ.

II. The Name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit is the doctrinal name of the Lord Jesus the Christ, and involves the following essential truths:

The 1. In relation to the Father. Father is the one Supreme, Indivisible, and Self-existent God, of spirit, nature and enbstance, dwelling in light unapproachable in the heaven of heavens, who only hath immortality whom no man hath seen or can see. The Father is alone the source of being and the Fountain of Life for all existencies, by whom are all things, and for whom are all things in providence and in grace, whose wisdom is infinite, whose understanding is unsearchable, and whose ways are past finding out, and whose revealed names are—Al Shadai, the strength of mighty ones, C. V., God Almighty, Ieue Aleim, he shall be thy mighty ones, C. V., Lord God, our Father in heaven, merciful and gracious, long-suffering and abundant in goodness and truth.

2. In relation to the Son. The Son is a creation of the Father, by operation of Holy Spirit on the substance of the Virgin Mary, of the house and lineage of David, and therefore made out of a woman and made under the law, a mortal man, to establish and fulfill the covenants of promise made to Adam, Abraham and David for the redemption from the power of sin and death of those who were under the law, and whose faith in the promises had been imputed to them for righteousness. and of all others not under the law of works, who are the called of God to his kingdom and glory, and who shall obtain the Sonship, according to the law of the Spirit of the life in the Christ Jesus, through sauctification the Spirit and belief of the truth. The Bon became the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world, when, being found as a man, holy, harmless, undefiled, and separate from sinners, he was called as the prophet like unto Moses, to be the minister of the circumcision, for the truth of God to confirm the promises made unto the fathers, by immersion and anointing of Holy Spirit, and power without measure, to speak the words and to do the works of the Father, in the proclamation of the glad tidings of the Gospel of the kingdom of God, and of himself as its Messiah; and having finished the work the Father had given him to do, he was cut off for the transgression of Jehovah's people, to make a reconciliation for iniquity, to bring in an everlasting righteousness, to seal up the vision and prophecy, to be anointed the Most Holy, to be exalted both Lord and Christ, as the seed of the woman and of Abraham, and the Son of God and of David, chastened with the stripes due to the children of Adam, he was raised up a Prince and a Saviour to sit on David' throne, and to rule the kingdom of Isra in its latter day manifestation; and to be the resurrection and the life of Jehovah's sople, who shall be redeemed unto God his blood in the day of his appearing ad kingdom. The Son now awaits at the ight hand of the Majosty in the heavens, the time of the reinstitution of all things according to the Scriptures, when he will return to judge the quick and the dead believers, to give them their recompenses of rewards; to build up the throne and kingdom of his father David; to gather into one nation under himself and his holy ones the scattered and peeled tribes of Jacob; to break in pieces and subdue all the kingdome of the (Roman) Habitable; to cause to be possessed the uttermost parts of the earth, and to inherit with his joint heirs the kingdom, and the power, and the glory. and all the blessings of the Father's covenant of peace.

3. In relation to the Holy Spirit:

(a) The Holy Spirit is the effluence of the substance of the Divine Nature, operating according to the fiat of the will of the Deity.

(b) As free Spirit in essence: it pervades all space and fills immensity, so that in God we live and move, and have our being.

(c) As free Spirit materialised: it is the creative principle and the sustaining energy of all existencies as well as the agent of their destruction.

(d) As Holy Spirit organized: it is the life power of the incorruptible Sons of God or Elokim, who cannot die nor sin, nor suffer, because being born of Spirit, they possess by derivation, the attributes of the Eternal Uncreate, essential life and goodness and truth and knowledge and power, within the range of their individualities.

Word: It is the expression of the mind of God for the display of His glory in the creation of the Adminic earth and its constituents, and in the redemption of the Adminic race from the curse of His violated law, manifested through His Elohim, and prophets, and the cording to the Scriptures, and enduing them with the powers of the Spirit for signs and wonders and divers miracles, to attest the authority of their commissions. Since the completion of the record of His Spirit revelations concerning the things of the lingdom of God, and the Name of Jesus the Christ, "the word of the truth" remains the sole depositary of the Holy Spirit power for hope of life to such as observe His commandments to do them, that they may be delivered from the bondage of corruption, and brought into the glorious liberty of the Sons of God.

III. The things concerning the Kingdom of God which involve these essential truths.

1. In relation to the Nature and Fall of Man.

(a.) Man's nature is mortal and corruptible, thus-God created the man Adam a living soul of flesh and blood, to be a progenitor of a race of like living souls, capable of death and corruption, and placed him in the garden of Eden in a state of probation and freewill, and responsible to a law which inflicted the penalty of death for disobedience to its injunctions, but by a loving obedience to which he might have attained to a spiritlife without the suffering of death, when he had run his earthly course or term of probation. And God gave dominion over the earth and its inferior creations to him. and his offspring in their successive generations.

(b.) Man transgressed and fell from his first estate, thus: The man Adam transgressed the law of his natural existence by yielding to the temptation of the woman, who was beguiled by the serpent, the most subtle of the beasts of the field, and in so doing he became unclean, and brought upon himself and his posterity the curse of a broken law, and lost the hope of eternal life, as well as the dominion with which he had been invested by his Creator and friend. So that according to the Scriptures the Adam sinned when he was drawn away of his own lust and enticed, and lust when it had conceived brought forth sin, and sin when it was finished brought forth death, for "The wages of sin is death," and so death passed upon all men in the Adam, because in him all have sinned and come short of the glory of God.

2. In relation to the promises of Godfor man's redemption from the law of sin and death.

This was embraced and defined further in the [b.] Abrahamic promises and covenant, which veiled to Abraham the same hope of immortality in "willing" to him and his seed the everlasting possession of the land of Canaan, and in him and his seed all the nations of the earth should be blessed. Hence Abraham, with Isane and Jacob, the fathers of the nation of Israel, to whom the like promises were made, is the holder of the promises on behalf of all who should attain to the righteousness which is by faith of them. These promises and covenant were particularised in the personification of the seed as a King, and the settlement of the land as a Kingdom under him for a "hidden period" in the

(c.) Davidic Covenant of Promisewhich assured to David the Lord's annointed king of His Kingdom derrael under the Mossic evenant of the land of promise, the same hope of immortality in the promise of the Lord to make him a house, and to set up his seed after him, proceeding out of his bowels, and to establish his throne and his kingdom for ever, and that the Lord himself would be the father of this seed, and he should be His Son and he would cause him to suffer for iniquity the chastening of the stripes due to the children of Adam, but "His mercy should not depart from him, and in him, David's house and kingdom should be established forever before David, his throne should be established forever," and which covenaut was all the salvation and all the desire of David, and of all Israelites of like precious faith who waited for the consolation of Israel, and because also, this was the national hope of deliverance from the hand of all their enemies in the day when the Lord should perform the truth unto Jacob, and the mercy to Abraham, which he had sworn unto the fathers from the days of old. So that according to the Scriptures, eternal life, or glory, honor and incorruptibility, is the gracious gift of God through the faith of His exceeding great and precious promises covenanted to (Adam) Abraham and David, which seal to Abraham and his seed the everlasting inheritance and to David and his seed the everlasting regality of the land of Canaan, in the day when the throne and kingdom of David shall be established there for the Olahm, or hidden period. And this Hope is the One Hope of the Gospel throughout all generations, and must be all the salvation and all the desire of those who shall be counted as the seed in that day.

IV. The things concerning the name of Jesus the Christ, which involve these estantial truths regarding—

1. The mystery of the name in its doctrinal characteristics.

2. The mystery of the name in its sacrificial personality.

3. The mystery of the name in its

1. The mystery of the name in its

(a) The name of Jesus the Christ is the saving name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, or the Father in the Son by Holy Spirit, reconciling the world (of Israel) unto himself not imputing men's trespasses unto them.

(b) Such saving name is the only name under heaven given unto men whereby they must be saved.

(c.) The putting on this saving name in obedience to the commandment, through the washing of water by the Word, constitutes the one baptism, without which no man can obtain the salvation which is in the Christ Jesus with aioinan glory.

2. The mystery of the name in its sacrificial personality:

[a.] That Jesus the Christ was the conbediment of the covenants of promise, when he was sent into the world in the glory of the only begotten of the Father full of grace and truth. At the beginning of his mission to declare the righteensness of God for sine that were past, unto all believed into him as a minister of the circumciation for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made to the fathers.

[b.] That all the testimonies of Modes and the prophets concerning the Christ, far as they have had fulfillment in facts, unite in the person of the anointed man Jesus, and are summed up in these particolars, vis.;

That He is the seed of the woman, and the bruiser of the serpent's head—the Seed also of the Abrahamic covenant of promise, in whom and in Abraham, all the families of the earth are to be blessed. The Son of God, and Son of David, of the Davidio covenant of promise, to whom the throne and kingdom of David was promised in covenant by Jehovah, for an age-lasting inheritance—born of a Virgin of the house ad lineage of David, and concentring in himself the Davidic and Aaronic lines of Abrahamic descent, so that he takes the diadem and crown as a king and priest of hereditary right, as well as by right of the word of the oath—anointed by Spirit of the Living God to preach the Gospel of the kingdom of God to the poor, and to bring life and immortality to light through that Gospel-cut off, though not for himself, but his soul made an offering for the sins of Jehovah's people, as the Lamb of God without blemish and without spot, lain by representation from the foundation of the world-dying for the offences . and rising again for the justification of the people, and thereby bringing into force for the heirs of salvation, God's testament of good things to come contained in the covcoants of promise.

[c.] That he rose from the dead in his seek and blood nature, and entered into the holy place with his own blood, having escaped the corruption which was in the world through lust, and was accepted of God in that he feared, and was perfected by a spirit-birth in the fulness of the God-bed and thus became a partaker of the Divine Nature, that he might come a second time without [aimatos—Griesbach] blood unto salvation when the times of the Gentiles shall be fulfilled, to all them that look for him according to the Scriptures.

3. The mystery of the Name in its piritual and regal exaltation.

[a.] That Jesus the Christ, once cruciled through weakness, now lives by the over of God, a Son of God in power by init of holiness through a resurrection
the dead, and hath ascended up on and led captivity captive, and re-oeived gifts for men, even for rebellious ones also, that the Lord God might dwell amongst them.

[b.] That as the Father hath life in Himself, so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself, that he might give eternal life to as many as the Father hath given him; which eternal life is realised alone by eating the flesh and drinking the blood of the Son of the Man [David]; or, in other words, by believing with the heart and the understanding also, the good message of peace he brought to Israel through himself as the Messenger of the Covenants, of its inheritance unto it, and the way and the truth and the life.

[c.] That the Lord Jesus the Christ, being accepted of God as a living sacrifice for sin by passing into the Divine Nature with his own blood, condemned sin in the flesh, abolished the law of ordinances which prevailed unto death, and catablished the law of the spirit of the life in himself as the Anointed High Priest over the household of God, ever living to make intercession according to the mind of the spirit for those who are washed, and justified, and sanctified, in the Name of the Lord Jesus, and by the spirit of our God. and who by Him come boldly to the throne of grace, and find mercy and grace to help them in every time of need.

[d.] That the Christ's blood cleanses from all sin, the believers of the truth as it is in Jesus, thus, firstly, Of the past sins of their Adamic state in the washing of regeneration and renewing of the holy spirit; secondly, Of the daily transgressions of their regenerate state as children and servants of the true God, through the warring of fiesh against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh. And thirdly, in their ultimate deliverance from the bondage of corruption in the day of the manifestation of the Sons of God.

[e.] That Jesus the Christ as the Lord the Spirit awaits at the right hand of the Majesty of the Heavens, the time when his enemies shall be made his footstool, and during this interval God commands every one to whom the Word of his Salvation is sent, to believe and be immersed for repentance and remission of sins, for He hath appointed a day in which he will rule the world in righteousness by that man whom He hath ordefined, of which He linth given assurance to all in that he hath raised him from the dead.

[f.] That our Lord Jesus the Christ, in the day of his appearing and kingdom, will judge the quick and the dead responsible to the Word of the truth, and reward every man according to his work in the truth, to those who have sought for glory and honor and incorruptibility, eternal life, but to those who have been contentious and not obeyed the truth, indignation and wrath, tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that hath done evil, and will afterwards with his perfected Saints set up the throne and kingdom of his futher David, by gathering into One Nation under His sceptre of righteousness the twelve tribes of Jacob dwelling among the Gentiles, as the little stone, and cause it to grow into a great mountain filling the whole earth by grinding to powder the nations of the [Roman] Habitable, and subduing all the other nations, and taking the dominion under the whole Heaven, to the intent that the kingdoms of this world may become the kingdoms of the Lord and of His Christ who shall reign over them unto the ages of the ages, the one King over all the earth and his Name One, and in Abraham and his seed, the personal and mystical Christ, all the families of the earth shall be blessed, and the angelic announcement at the Saviour's birth verified in fact "glory to God in the highest, on earth peace and good will amongst men.

That the great mystery of godliness. God manifest in the flesh, justified of spirit, seen of messengers, believed on inthe world, taken up into glory, will, in the day of the Christ, receive itsfull developement in the salvation of the nations who shall walk in the light of the new Jerusalem, when the glory (or truth) of the Lord shall cover the earth, as the waters cover the seas, and all the types and shadows of the law shall be antityped in the things of the now covenant, which shall then be in force with Israel, and the nations for the scaling of the great harvest of the earth unto the final consummation when death, the last enemy, shall be destroyed, and the millennial reign of the Christ shall cease, and the Son himself shall be subject unto him who put all things under him, that the Delty may be all things in all.

V. Everlasting life, or nionian life, (as it is more properly rendered) is the gracious gift of God, through our Lord Jesus the Christ, the clothing upon of the living roul or mortal body, of life, of a justified believer with the quickening spirit or house which is from heaven, or the swallowing up of his death-nature in the life of the Divine Nature, so that this corruptible puts on incorruption, and this mirtal puts on immortality by an impartation of spiritlife-energy into every fibre of its organism in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, during the sounding of the last trumpet; and according to his type the Lord Jesus Anointed, the saint then becomes a son of God in power by spirit of boliness, through a resurrection from among the dead, and cannot sin because he is born of God, and lives, and moves, and has his being in the essential goodness, and peace and blessedness of the Divine Existence; hence the physical and moral impossibility of an immortal agency of ovil exercising the attributes of the Uncreate Spirit, Omniscience, Omnipotence and Omnipresence, emmating from the Supreme Good to antagonise his purposes, and defeat the counsels of his will concerning the redemption of the Adamic race for the glory of his name.

VI. Everlasting [or aionian] punishment or excision, is the refusal of the gift of God to an enlightened transgressor, and the infliction on him as a living soul, or mortal body of life, of the many or few stripes, in execution of his sentence of condemnation, until the appointed hour of his final doom arrives to utterly period in his own corruption; and this consummation is the second death, or everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and the glory of His power when he comes to be glorified in his saints, and to be admired of all them that believe in that day.

VII. The Scriptures reveal that the adversary, commonly called Satan and the Devil, which is continually tempting man to transgress both the law of his own nature and the law of God, is Sin in the fieth, ruling and reigning over the mortal body to make it obedient to the lusts thereof; this sin power is not conformed to the law led, neither indeed can be, so that if we after the flesh we shall die, but if we, gh the spirit, do mortify the deeds the body, we shall live, for the law of spirit of the life in the Christ Jesus Il make us free from the law of sin and h; and to this end the Christ was manithat he might destroy the works of devil, by destroying that which has the wer of death, even the devil or sin in the for the sting or power of death is and the strength of sin is the law, and Christ was made by his perfect obese to it, the end of the law for rightanto every one that believeth, in in crucified through weakness that he t live by the power of God, the aur of eternal salvation to all who obey m, and make their refuge in the shadow his saving name.

Lastly. The inspiration of the Bible is colute as regards the Canonical Scripres from Moses to Revelations, and it is refore the sure word of prophecy to hich we do well to take heed since it me not at any time of man's own presse, but holy men of God spake it as were moved by Holy Spirit, and the pretation thereof is certain as the itself declares for the understanding the hidden mystery of the letterinterpreting of its spiritual things by spiritual words, or the extraction of obvious sense of collated Scriptures, d by this rule, the essential truths of great salvation as above stated have determined, and the falsity and conation of the following contrary dogof popular theology conclusively detrated, viz:

That there is a Triune God of dispersonalities equal in essence, etcr-, majesty and glory, called the Father, and Holy Ghost.

That the Christ is God, and had an more independent of the Father before the Wirgin Mary, and came out of an unclean woman, perfect and perfect man, and died as man's inter to appease the Father's wrath.

4. That God fushioned man after his own image, and breathed into his nostrils an immortal soul, a spark of his own Divinity, created an independent organism capable of eternal happiness and of eternal

5. That the Serpent was an incarnation of an immortal intelligence of essential wickedness possessing the attributes of Deity in respect of Omniscience, Omnipotence and Omnipresence, who, in the temptation and fall of Adam and Eve, triumphed, and has ruled ever since over his posterity to the almost entire frustration of God's plan of redemption, notwithstanding the efforts of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, to save the human race from a living death in everlasting fire.

6. That the blood of Jesus Christ cleanses the sin of the whole world, so that infants, idiots, and unbelievers, obtain eternal salvation under the covenanted and uncovenated mercies of God.

7. That the heaven for the immortal spirits of the redeemed of Adam's race is in the place of the Divine manifestation and where the angels dwell.

8. That they ascend there at the moment of the body's death, and attain at that crises to the perfection of their spiritual nature.

9. That they will descend again to be raised up from the dead in their resurrection bodies of incorruptible nature and substance and to be again judged whether they are worthy of eternal life, and then re-ascend with immortal souls and incorruptible bodies conjoined, to their previous place of blessedness to abide there forever.

10. That the hell for the immortal souls of the wicked is a place of burning flams prepared for the Immortal Devil and his angels, and to which they go at fleath, and then return to be raised up in incorreptible bodies to be judged whether they are worthy of punishment, and then re-united with immortal souls and incorruptible bodies consigned to the place of terment to endure an ever-living death forever.

11. That Christ comes at the last day to raise the whole of the generations of the human race for judgment, and to apportion to them heaven or hell as their final destiny, and to dissolve the earth, and its constituents with fervent heat.

12. That some are saved by confessing that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, and praying to God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost, to forgive them their sios, and to cleanse, them from all unrightcousness; while others who have died without being able to discern between good and evil are saved without confession at all, by virtue of the shed blood of the Saviour of the world.

13. That the Gospel is simply the good news of this salvation. 14. That the word of the truth of the Gospel of the Kingdom of God, in the Name of Jesus the Christ of that Kingdom, is not necessary to be preached for hope of salvation, because the Abrahamic and Davidic covenants of promise teaching that David's throne and kingdom is to be established under a heavenly constitution, and the nation of Israel again restored to its own land, that the blessing of Abraham may come upon all nations, and that incident to this restoration and the events consequent on it, are the resurrection and the judgment of the dead in the Christ, do not mean what they say, but have a spiritual significance to Zion above where Christ sits at the right hand of God and, reigns there on David's throne over the true Israel of God of which the Jews were only a type and shadow.

15. That the knowledge of the glory: of the Lord shall cover the earth as the waters the seas, through the instrumentality of the orthodox ministry as ambassadors for Christ, beseeching men in his stead to be reconciled to God by believing on the Gospel and on the Jesus they present as the way and the truth and the life, and that Christ is with them always even to the end of the world; and when the king doms of the world shall become the kingdoms of the Lord and of His Christ, then w shall the judgment set and the books be opened and the dead, small and great, stand before God and be judged according to their works, exclusive and inclusive of the testimony of Jesus, and that this is the great day of the wrath of the Lamb, and the year of the Redeemed, and the day of Vengeance of our God.

And we solemnly declare by this our act of subscription, to keep the faith and the patience of the saints of the Most High God according to the measure of His grace vouchsafed to us, by pureness, by knowledge, by long-suffering, by a faith unfeigned, by the Word of God, by the Armor of Righteousness on the right hand and on the left, that we may be found worthy of the vocation wherewith we are called at the appearing and kingdom of the Lord's Christ, our glorious Head and exalted Redeemer. Amen and Amen!

ANASTASIS; or THE FALL OF THE ROMAN PONTIFICATE, THE RESURRECTION OF THE DEAD, AND THE JUDGMENT OF THE WORLD—by John Thomas, M. D. To be had of Jas. Donaldson, Jefferson Avenue, Detroit; or Jno. Coombe, Toronto.

PREFACE

This treatise on RESURRECTION and JUDGMENT owes its existence to the urgent request of friends in Detroit, who heard the substance of it orally delivered there at a private meeting. The exposition on that occasion was deemed highly satisfactory; and they determined that I should not rest until they obtained it in the present form. I was the less disposed to refuse compliance when I considered the importance of the subject, the little information possessed upon it, the mearness of its development, and the "signs of the times" indicative thereof. In the present state of the public mind, it is a subject very difficult to present in such a form, that he who runsinay read it intelligibly. My aim has been to set it forth with all possible simplicity, that the reader might be instructed; his faith, if he have any, enlarged and strengthened; and his conduct purified by the conviction so sublime and terrible a wonder cannot fail to produce in a wall balanced and judicious mind.

But some may be prompted to inquire, "Is it necessary to understand all the details of Resurrection and Judgment in order to possess the faith which justifies?" In reply, I would say, if it were necessary, there would scarcely be found, in this generation, a corporal's guard of justified believers. I apprehend that, if a person heartily believe in "the resurrection of the just and the unjust," and that both these classes will appear in the presence of the Righteous Judge "to give account of themselves to him," their understanding so far is sound upon these two first principle—but if, on the contrary, he deny the resurrection of "the unjust," or "saints of the Sardiness—but if, on the contrary, he deny the resurrection of "the unjust," or "saints of the Sardiness type," and repudiates the citation of the righteous to judgment, saying that there is no othe judgment for them than what they are subjected to in the present state; and that they will not sudgment for them than what they are subjected to in the present state; and that they will not called upon to give account; I can only say for myself, that I had rather never have been less than to appear in the Divine Presence with such a tradition. It would not be difficult to out against such a case of constructive treason to the truth. But this is neither my purpose the light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the heart."
