RECORD OF THE GOVERNMENT

—TEMPERANCE PROGRESS—

ONE OF REAL ACHIEVEMENT

What Sir James Whitney and His Supporters Have Done for the Temperance Cause in Few Years as Compared With Liberal Record.

With all the noise the Rowellites, hungry for office, are making in their Abolish the Bar propaganda, it is interesting to note what the Liberal party, during its long term of office, actually did to appease the temperance sentiment of the province. The public as a rule, has a short memory, but it would have to be short indeed to forget the lack of progress in liquor license matters under the Mowat, Hardy and Ross regimes. It is a fact and the record is staring the Liberal party in the face to-day that not only little legislation to restrain the liquor traffic was passed, but what legislation there was put on the statute books was ineffective and there was little or no enforcement.

To illustrate this, the mention of a few things only is necessary. Under Liberal auspices, 5000 Justices of the Peace could issue orders for whiskey and sell Medical certificates for liquor could be used as often as desired. Little children were allowed to stand behind the bar from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. and any little child could purchase liquor with a written order. Was this not a degrading state of affairs to be allowed to exist under the Rowell party of Ontario?

It has been said that the present Government and the liquor interests are in alliance. The statement is a calumny of the grossest nature. Mowat passed Local Option law in 1890; up to 1905 Local Option had carried an even vote in only 26 municipalities; of these, 4 are asked or refused by Council, leaving 42, and of these 42, twenty-two since repealed, leaving at the present time only 20 municipalities in which local option is now in force; were carried under even vote in 1904, 2,814 licenses granted. In 1905 less than 1,600; 1913, 1,214 less.

Of Ontario's 835 municipalities 514 are under local option, or no license; only 321 are now under license system.

Under which party has local option made the most progress or which party are allies of the liquor interests? The Dominion Alliance was unwise to enter into a political partnership with the Provincial Liberal party, or any other party.

The Leaders of the Alliance may have thought it would advance the movement for Prohibition. If so, they were neither prudent or far-sighted. Nor were they fair to the Whitney Government, which has honestly endeavored to make local option effective and to enforce the law in districts under license.

Here are some of the accomplishments of the Whitney Government in the cause of temperance. Not only that, but the enforcement has been made such under Whitney auspices so that the measures passed are legislation in act as well as in name. Read these:

1. Licensed bar-tenders, made them personally liable for infractions of the law.
2. Increased license duties.
3. Doubled penalties for infractions of the Act.
4. Prohibited canvassing for liquor in local option municipalities.

Will Celebrate Hydro's Victory

A Hydro-Electric banquet for one night in Old Home Week was the announcement this morning of President Geo. A. Ward. Brantford was one of the few places where Hydro has been secured and where it was turned on without any fireworks. Brantford was also one of the places where corporate interests put up their most vigorous fight against Hydro, and for these reasons it is thought that a demonstration would be both fitting and proper. In the Hydro zone Brantford is looked upon as being the most prodigally-lighted municipality in the entire belt.

BISHOP FALLON SPEAKS OUT FOR REAL LIBERTY

His Remarks at a Catholic Banquet in City of Winnipeg.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] WINNIPEG, April 17.—Speaking last night at the All Western Catholic banquet, Bishop Fallon of London, said in part:

"The Catholic laity as a body, have duties outside their religious duty, important duties of citizenship; the state has obligations that can be fulfilled by him and by him alone.

"It is late in the day for us to be taught the lesson of loyalty by anybody (cheers and applause.) It is an inopportune moment when the army of Sir Edward Carson is drilling to drive the Empire to irretrievable ruin. I think that is enough for loyalty. In Catholic teaching, the relative position of church and state is clear. There is no possible escape from the position that in a Catholic country such concord cannot be other than official. The highest form that it could reach would be that in every question where spiritual interests are concerned, the state would defer. I am not preaching now, I am just talking common sense. The church and state must go together, forcing men to be good is an interference with their liberty. There is at present the a grave decline of personal liberty in the mania to regulate everything by a statute.

"Intemperance is a curse. They would therefore prohibit it by law. Making men good by legislation is an interference with their liberty and dangerous in its ultimate consequences. Catholic laity needs to stand for the freedom of the middle ages, for the freedom of individuals against the tyranny of the majority.

"In the exercise of my own personal liberty, in my own city, I gave expression to my sentiments. I said I hoped the day would come when this noble empire would be united and I was called an imperialist. A section of the Ancient Order of Hibernians read me out of the Catholic Church and another section of the Canadian people, some French-Canadians, read me into the Orange Order.

"They did not understand. I hold that there is no nation on earth in which the Catholic church is so free as under the British flag. I am an imperialist mainly, solely, and almost exclusively because I am a humble devoted loving son of Holy Mother Church.

"The Catholic Church expects of her laity, especially her children placed in high offices, her Fitzpatricks her Lauriers, her Murphys, her Doberlys, her Berniers, her Turgeons, their reverence for their consciences as their king and glory in redressing wrongs and in public carry unspotted the Lily of a blameless life."

Ball Players Are Arriving

The ball players have started to arrive in the city. Last night Ernest Halback, third baseman and Harvey Rice, catcher arrived in the city this morning took up their residence at the Y.M.C.A.

Both had from Meriden, Conn. Both lugs with husky shoulders and an air of business about them. Halback last year was with Baltimore in the Twin State League, while Rice caught on one of the Tri-State League teams. Both hail from Meriden, Conn. Both boys got into gym, togs and had a workout on the "Y" floor this afternoon.

Mr. A. L. Baird was in Toronto yesterday on business.

TWO YOUNG WOMEN WHO WERE MADE WIDOWS BY EXECUTION OF GUNMEN

MRS. LOUISE ROSENBERG AND MRS. HARRY HOROWITZ

In the above illustration is a snapshot of the two young women who were the wives of "Lefty Louie" Rosenberg and Harry Horowitz, two of the four gunmen executed for the murder of Herman Rosenthal. The picture was taken as the comely young women were leaving the Supreme Court in New York City after a hearing on the argument for a stay of execution. Also pictured is William E. Burwell, a new witness, who testified in behalf of the gunmen in their last appeal.

Attempt on Life of Mayor Mitchel Failed

[By Special Wire to The Courier] NEW YORK, April 17.—A shot was fired at Mayor Michael just outside the city hall this afternoon. The bullet went wide, but struck Corporation Counsel Polk, who accompanied him, in the jaw.

Mr. Polk was seriously injured. Nearly all of his teeth were knocked out. The bullet narrowly missed Arthur Woods, the new police commissioner. The mayor, Mr. Polk and Mr. Woods were entering an automobile.

An old man, whose name was at first not ascertained, did the shooting. He edged his way through the crowd and was apparently attempting to assassinate the police commissioner. The would-be assassin was almost instantly seized by a policeman and was taken to police station in the basement of the city hall. He was

GOLF CLUB MEETS PAVE PARK AVE.

Directors Dispose of Various Important Matters at Meeting.

The first meeting of the Directors of the Brantford Golf and Country Club was held last evening when a number of important matters were disposed of and arrangements generally made for a most successful season.

The Ladies' committee was voted an increased grant for the teas and furnishings of the club house which will include a number of new verandah chairs. The grounds committee were also instructed to spare no expense to put the course in good shape for the season. An extra man will be employed for the first two or three months. Another portable mower will be purchased and also a new green's mower. When the vexed question of the arbitration is settled the course will be re-arranged. In the meantime the old course will be played.

The opening tea will be held on Saturday, May 9th, when the first monthly cup will be played for, the committee voting four cups and four candlesticks for competition amongst the men and women during the season. The opening match will be with London at London on May 25th.

The Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia will be the guests of the Golf Club on the afternoon of May 9th. The club house will be suitably decorated for the occasion and the Ladies' committee will be the hostesses at an afternoon tea. The event is being eagerly anticipated.

HUERTA PARLEYS AGAIN AND CAUSES SOME MORE TROUBLE

He is Dictating to United States as to How Salute is to be Fired—Almost Certain That President Wilson Will Reject Suggestion.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] WASHINGTON, April 17.—Huerta's has parleyed again. He demands that his salute to the United States flag shall be returned gun for gun. This President Wilson is practically certain not to accept.

This latest hitch at the eleventh hour when officials here expected the situation was as good as closed up, was disclosed in despatches from Charge O'Shaughnessy. President Wilson discussed it with the cabinet Administration officials said private-ly Huerta's counter proposals would not be accepted.

The development confirmed the fears of those officials who expected Huerta would equivocate again. Any intention of recalling ships of the fleet now bound to Tampico was abandoned, and those close to the administration expected to see President Wilson's demand for an unequalled apology backed up.

The text of Charge O'Shaughnessy's dispatch was not made public but it became known that Huerta's last proposal was that as his guns fired their salute to the stars and stripes, as an apology for continued affronts to the United States particularly the recent arrest of bluejackets at Tampico, that the guns of the American fleet should reply to the Mexican's salute gun for gun.

Officials here were ready to acknowledge Huerta's salute of twenty-one guns after it had been finished with a return salute, such as is prescribed in naval custom and precedent. That would merely be acknowledging an amenable honorable, they say. But to return Huerta's salute gun for gun, they pointed out would make the apology valueless.

Officials describe Huerta's latest move as an act to preserve his own dignity before the Mexicans of that part of the country under his control.

While President Wilson and the cabinet will decide what shall be done the opinion was expressed freely in officials circles that nothing but a complete apology and such a salute as the United States demands would be accepted now.

While Secretary Bryan when he took the latest despatches before the president said the situation was "encouraging but not finished," and White House officials said no details remaining in dispute did not effect "the heart of matter," it developed that Huerta's counter proposition for a simultaneous salute was regarded as another play for time, which probably would not be contemplated.

All the latest despatches were laid before the cabinet. Practically all the members of the official family were said to be agreed that there should be no further temporizing.

Plural Voting In Great Britain

[By Special Wire to The Courier] MONTREAL, April 17.—Premier Asquith told the House of Commons yesterday, says a London cable to the Daily Mail, that the Government hoped to pass the bill for the abolition of plural voting before dissolution, but this cannot be done until 1915. This declaration has, however, failed to disturb the conviction of the Unionists, adds the correspondent, that an election must come this summer, and they are preparing for that eventuality. It is probable that the third reading of the Irish Home Rule Bill will be taken on either May 11 or 18, and the suggestion is made that in order to facilitate its passage one of the stages in the Commons shall be eliminated.

ARE RUSHING IT

New Post Office Building Will be Completed by November.

It begins to look as if Second and Sons will finish Brantford's new public building within contract time, that is, by November. If so it will be a record with regard to any large government undertaking.

There are now seventy men employed in connection with the structure and work has been started on the ceilings of the lower floor. The plumbing and steam heating pipes are practically all installed and very little now remains to be done in these respects except with regard to the fixtures. The contractor for the marble to be placed around the pillars in the public rotunda is here securing necessary data in connection with that portion of the work.

The portion of the tower on which the stonemasons are now working will include the clock. On top of this there will be twenty-five feet of open stone work, and on top of that again a dome of 15 feet or 40 feet in all above the clock portion.

WEDDING NOT POSTPONED.

NEW YORK, April 17.—No arrangements for a postponement of the wedding of Vincent Astor and Miss Helen Dinsmore Huntington set for April 30, have been made, notwithstanding Mr. Astor's illness. This announcement was made at the Huntington's country home to-day in contradiction of reports that the ceremony had been indefinitely postponed. A postponement may yet be found expedient however. Mr. Astor spent a comfortable night and was pronounced "about the same to-day."

Porter Shaw of Montreal, in the C. P. R. Company's employ at Orillia, was drowned in the Severn River by a canoe upsetting.

SOCIETY WOMEN OF OTTAWA ARE GREAT SMOKERS

Majority of Them Use Cigarettes, Says President of Children's Aid.

OTTAWA, April 17.—That a majority of society women of Ottawa are smoking cigarettes and that the practice is steadily increasing among young girls was the statement made by W. L. Scott, president of the Ottawa Children's Aid Society to-day before the Commons committee, which is investigating the cigarette evil. H. B. Murphy (North Perth) raised the question by stating that the W. C. T. U. of Stratford had communicated with him on the subject of women smoking cigarettes.

"Have you that in Ottawa?" asked Mr. Murphy.

"Unquestionably; and to a very large extent," replied Mr. Scott.

"And are many of these women mothers of families?" asked Mr. Murphy.

"Yes; very frequently," answered Mr. Scott.

"And it is women of what you would call the very best class who have adopted it and among whom it is spreading at a very alarming rate?" It has come here within the last six or seven years. The practice is common on the Continent, of course, and among what would be called the best class of Englishwomen, and it has now come here."

Began Among Fashionable

Mr. Murphy asked if the W. C. T. U. of Ottawa had ever taken any steps in an effort to stop the practice. Mr. Scott said it was a matter of fashion and began among the fashionable or exclusive set, was probably not in any way accessible to the members of the W. C. T. U.

"It is a comparatively new thing," Mr. Scott said, "but I would say that if not a majority, a very large number of society women in Ottawa are smoking cigarettes. Unquestionably young society girls of the best class smoke. I don't know whether it affects their health or not."

"Do the women of what you call the middle or lower class smoke?" asked Mr. Murphy.

"I don't think so," replied Mr. Scott.

"Will they ever become so foolish?" asked Mr. Murphy.

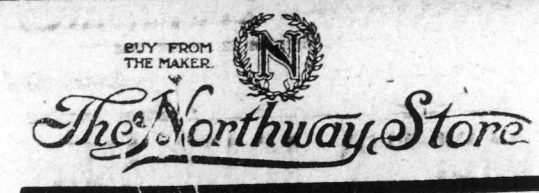

"I don't think so," replied Mr. Scott.

"I have seen a great deal of cigarette smoking among women, but only among what we call the higher class."

"It will be well if it will stay there, too," commented Mr. Broder, chairman of the committee. The discussion on this point then dropped.

WESLEY BANQUET

Enjoyable Affair Held in the Church School Room Last Evening.

There was a pleasant social function held in the Wesley Methodist Church last night. The Rev. Mr. A. I. Snider pronounced the blessing and the whole company sang a verse of "Be present at our table Lord," the benedictory hymn.

Afterwards the company sat down to an excellent repast, which was partaken from tastefully decorated tables and to the accompaniment of charming airs from a Gratonolo.

To the members of the 3-M Class, XI Class and Bound to Win class are due the credit of the highly interesting efforts represented in the cakes, pies and other good things on the menu card.

Supper over, the chairman addressed the gathering in some happy and well chosen words.

Ladies and gentlemen, I want to thank you for the invitation that you have extended to me. I come from God's country, Terrace Hill (laughter) we look down on you people down here, and sometimes talk of our descent as to the lower regions.

Doubtless there will be a harvest from such an event as this, and if any of you young people here, ever wish to get married, just come to me, and I'll drop a quarter and do it for $1.75. The gust of laughter which succeeded this rally stopped any further remarks and the Rev. gentleman restored order by calling on Miss Corke, "Sunshine and Butterflies" which received an encore to which the artist replied with "Somewhere a voice is calling". Both were sweetly rendered and worthy of the keen appreciation evidenced by the audience. A charming recitation "Ojestobah" by Miss L. Chambers was feebly interpreted by the Indian girls' passion, and tragic romance.

Mr. Harold, powerfully gave his voice its full play in "Asleep in the deep" and his rendering was exceptionally good, of this favorite of many years of music lovers.

SOCIETY WOMEN

Children's Aid Society of Ottawa, and president of the Ontario Union of Children's Aid Societies, gave evidence also. Mr Scott said that police court experience in Ottawa had shown that practically all extreme cases of juvenile delinquency were cigarette fiends. Almost every boy sent to the industrial school was a smoker of cigarettes.

The present Ontario law, said Mr Scott, was not properly enforced in Ottawa. The police claimed that there was difficulty in securing a conviction, magistrates not being disposed to accept the word of a child as opposed to that of the adult against whom the charge was laid.

There was also a serious lack of machinery for enforcing the law. Mr. Scott said that he was in favor of the Ottawa city by-law being amended so as to provide for recalling the license to sell in case of a conviction of sale to minors.

H. B. Morphy of North Perth, thought that a license fee of $100 would limit the sale of cigarettes to regular tobaccoists who could be properly watched. There were too many corner stores selling cigarettes he thought.

Judge Choquet of Montreal, said out of 3000 delinquent children who had come before him, 95 per cent used cigarettes and 98 per cent attended the movies. He confirmed Mr Scott's statements about cigarette smoking in society.

WHITE WOLF'S LOSSES.

PEKING, April 17.—"White Wolf" the notorious brigand, lost two thousand of his followers, killed or wounded in yesterday's battle with the regular troops at Li Chau-Hsien, according to the official report. The crushing defeat of the brigands occurred after they had captured and looted the town of San Yuan-Hsien.

A Squadron Drills.

There was a fair turnout last night at the Armouries, of 'A' squadron of the 25th, Brant Dragons. Drills will be held every Thursday night until the regiment goes to camp, June 1st. Uniforms will be issued shortly to the men and a good season is anticipated.

J. M. YOUNG & CO'Y.

Trinity Glee Club Concert

Last night at the Trinity Ladies' Guild Social, the members of the lately formed Glee Club gave a delightful concert. The Rev. Mr. Latimer, occupied the chair and sang in his best voice. Supper was an enjoyable hour, and the merry participants seemed highly pleased with the menu which had been tastefully provided.

The artists of the evening were as follows: Mrs. Soules, Miss Kerr, Miss Ratcliffe, Miss Moore, Miss Lewis, Miss Ormandie, Miss Holder, Miss Tucker; Messrs. Jesse, Hotston, Cooper, Laydell Bradley, Blackburn, Preston.

Many songs, duets and instrumental turns were given, the most outstanding were those of Mrs. Soule and Mr. Jesse—who sing in splendid unison and can blend happily in difficult parts, the hall mark of the true artists.

A reading by Miss Tucker was much appreciated and the trio, Messrs Hotston, Jesse and Ladell, in "Temperance Glee" were an acquisition of strong merit in singing powers.

Miss Ormandie gave an instrumental selection which was also greatly appreciated. The Club Quartet, consisting of Miss Kerr, Mrs. Soule, Mr. Laydell and Mr. Jesse are an able group of harmonists, who sing splendidly.

The hours flew past and at 11 o'clock the party broke up when the choir rendered the nocturnal hymn, "Good Night."

Bazaar Was a Decided Success

A very successful bazaar and concert was given yesterday afternoon and last night in Trinity Church under the auspices of the Ladies Guild of that church.

The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion with bunting, flowers, colored paper, etc., which made the Sunday school room look extremely neat.

The bazaar opened at 3 p.m., during which time there was a steady rush of buyers who purchased immense bargains at the different booths.

Again at 7 o'clock the booths opened, and from then until 10 o'clock a splendid business was conducted. During the evening a splendid program was rendered by the members of the Glee Club, both collectively and singly. Among those who took part were Miss Tucker, Mrs Soules,

Junior Hospital Aid Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the J.H.A. was held on Wednesday afternoon in the Trust Club Room of the Y.W.C.A., when thirteen members were present.

Owing to Miss Ann Harold going abroad in the near future, Miss Nora Tomlinson was appointed acting treasurer during Miss Harold's absence.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and adopted. The visiting committee reported remembering the children in the hospital with "chickens" for Easter, and four tuck-downs were made by the committee during the month.

Mrs. Feldcamp and Miss Messecar were appointed visitors for the ensuing month.

The captain of the "Reds" reported the dropping of all "campaign" work for April in favor of other societies and their work.

The captain of the "Blues" reported plans made for a dance on May 1st in the Conservatory of Music, when Musgrave will supply the music.

Letter of thanks was sent to Mr. Philip Secord for the erecting of an addition to the platform in the Empire Theatre, the evening of Miss Sternberg's recital.

SPRING IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

A Tonic Medicine is a Necessity at This Season.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an all year round tonic, blood-builder and nerve-restorer. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the winter months. There is no other season when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these pills helps to make new, rich, red blood.

In the spring one feels weak and tired—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength in the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develop the appetite, tone the stomach and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions and boils—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills speedily clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anæmia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia, erysipelas and many other troubles are most persistent because of poor weak blood, and it is at this time when all nature takes on new life that the blood most seriously needs attention. Some people dose themselves with purgatives at this season, but these only further weaken themselves. A purgative merely gallops through the system, emptying the bowels, but it does not cure anything. On the other hand Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood which reaches every nerve and organ in the body, bringing new strength, new health and vigor to weak, easily tired men, women and children. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this spring—they will not disappoint you.

Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MR. COCKSHUTT'S SPEECH.

Without doubt Courier readers have followed with keen attention the speech recently made in the Dominion House by Mr. W. F. Cockshutt M. P., and the final instalment of which appears in this issue. It can be safely classed as the best of many years of successful efforts. It was virile, and convincing throughout and each Liberal who interrupted him promptly had the tables turned.

Mr. Cockshutt's exposition of the value of protection was complete and unanswerable and in the matter of free wheat and in many other directions he touched upon the differing views of the two political parties in a masterly manner. The people of this riding have good reason to feel proud of their representative, both with regard to the manner in which he looks after their just interests and also with reference to his ability to take a prominent part in the Common's debates.

MASSEY-HARRIS COMPANY AND J. G. TURRIFF, M.P.

Mr. Turriff is one of the Liberals from the West in the Dominion House. He is the gentleman to whom Mr. W. F. Cockshutt, M.P., made reply during the budget debate, and howled over so completely that he had to explain that he didn't mean what he said when he said it.

During an oration of two hours Turriff made a bitter attack upon the Massey-Harris Company, and the Toronto papers of to-day contain an open letter to him from the firm which constitutes another deserved trouncing. The epistle is dignified in tone, which makes it all the more effective and convincing. The firm says:

"For years we have allowed misrepresentations from politically interested sources to go unchallenged, feeling that the good sense of the Canadian people would appraise such statements at their true value, and not desiring to be drawn into a controversy that we felt was beneath the dignity of our company. In the present instance you have, on the responsibility of your position as a member of the House of Commons, spread untruthful statements broadcast, and we have decided, much as we regret the necessity, to answer shortly some of the glaring misrepresentations made by you."

The document then goes on to show:

1—Turriff's statement that when the Massey and Harris firms combined the stock did not represent fifty cents on the dollar in cash, although made to do so, is "absolutely untrue." That, in fact, there would be no object in watering the stock, for there was no attempt to unload on the public, and the latter had never been offered any shares. "The capital is represented by ordinary shares only, and is and has been represented dollar for dollar by actual assets."

2—"That it is also 'absolutely untrue' that at the time of the merger repairs 'worth $14 a ton for scrap iron' were put in at the 'retail list price, representing thousands of dollars a ton.' In this regard the company state: 'These parts were taken over by the new company at their actual cost, as was all the other stock-in-trade of the original companies.'"

3—"You indicate in your speech that favors were granted our company by the Liberal party when in power. We have neither desired, asked for nor have we received favors from any party in power. All we desire is to receive equitable treatment by comparison with other manufacturing industries, and, having regard at the same time to the best interests of the country as a whole."

4—"The statement that the Massey-Harris company last year got drawbacks on raw material to the extent of $165,000 was evidently intended by Turriff to injure the company by conveying the inference that such sum was secured in connection with Canadian sales. The company on this point says:

"As a member of Parliament, you could easily have informed yourself that, roundly, 90 per cent. of the drawback paid us for the year 1913 was to refund duties paid by us on materials entering into machines which were exported to foreign countries."

5—"That Turriff's assertion that Senator Jones as president last year received in salary and dividends the sum of $186,000 is 'entirely misleading and incorrect.'"

6—"That Turriff's assertion that the company by 'excessive prices,' took

$3,000,000 out of the pockets of Canadian farmers, and with that sum 'built a plant in the State of New York,' is likewise absolutely untrue. On this head the letter says:

"First of all, of the total profits made by the Massey-Harris company, the larger part are made by the sale of their goods in foreign countries, and not in Canada; secondly, that more than half the purchase price of this American factory was secured in cash capital and not supplied from the earnings of the company; thirdly, that the above factory was purchased primarily for the manufacture of implements for foreign countries, to assist our Canadian factories, and for the further reason that we could make the goods there more cheaply than we could make them in Canada. Further, we say most emphatically that the Massey-Harris company has not made any of its profits by charging excessive prices to the farmers of Canada, who buy their implements cheaper than the farmers of any grain-growing country in the world, except the United States."

All the above points are certainly brought home in a very convincing manner. It is too bad that an attack should have been made by Turriff, under protection of the immunity rules of the House, upon a concern of which Canadians have every reason to feel proud, and which means so much to Brantford and other communities, the surrounding agriculturists, the storekeepers, and a large number of other interests.

A BIG JOB.

Mr. Harry Wilson, an Australian by birth, has arrived in Toronto with his family, after losing $90,000 in Mexico, which he had invested in oil fields. He was glad to abandon everything in order to reach the nearest British possession. He says that Americans remaining in that country are now all passing as Canadians, because there is so much bitter personal feeling against the United States. If the Americans attempt to put down Mexico they will have the time of their lives, says Mr. Wilson, referring to the latest move of the United States Government. "They could land troops at Tampico and take it without half a dozen shots being fired—that would be the easiest thing in the world. But what can they do then? They have got to go to Mexico and take it. They might be able to get there, but it would be like when the English got to Pretoria—they would find they had just started. It would take about ten years to bring the Mexicans to terms. They would have to do like the English did at Transvaal. They would need a system of block houses along every mile of railway. They would build that Huerta and Villa would combine forces, for much as they hate each other, they hate an American worse. The Americans in the country have wanted their country to interfere for a long time."

The success of General Villa (pronounced Vee-ya) against Huerta (pronounced Werta) has lain in his ability to get men. Villa tells his men that he cannot pay them money, but they will be allowed to keep everything they can by looting. On the other hand, Huerta promises money to his men when he can get it, but as he is the present Government he cannot allow plundering. The men under Villa, therefore, are better provided for. The piece-de-resistance in the way of looting ground is the churches. They contain the most valuables, and absolutely nothing is safe.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The salute which Huerta has promised to pay to the Stars and Stripes should prove salutary. Badger is in the name of the Rear Admiral in charge of the U. S. fleet demonstration off Mexico. This brings to mind the fact that the President of that country seems to be badgered whichever way he turns.

Owing to the dangerous nature of Ottawa city water, the civil servants at the capital are supplied with spring or distilled water. This has cost from January, 1912, to March, 1914, the sum of $4,523. There is enough public money spent on the capital already without incurring such an item as the above because the people there do not know enough to perform a plain civic and public health duty.

Mr. Armstrong, Conservative M.P. for North York, when speaking in the House yesterday, said he thought the Senate should not have the power of veto, and that there ought to be some change in the constitution regarding that body. To this Sir Wilfrid Laurier exclaimed: "Hear! Hear!" Now that he realizes he cannot much longer use the Upper Chamber as his tool, because of the diminishing grit majority, the "White Plumed" Knight is evidently anxious for reform. The incident is eminently characteristic of the man.

Tarzan of The Apes

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Copyright, 1912, by the Frank A. Munsey Company.

D'Arnot spoke to him in French, but the man only shook his head—sadly, it seemed to the Frenchman.

Then D'Arnot tried English, but still the man shook his head. Italian, Spanish and German brought similar discouragement.

After examining D'Arnot's wounds the man left the shelter and disappeared. In half an hour he was back with fruit and a hollow, gourdlike vegetable filled with water.

D'Arnot drank and ate a little. Suddenly the man hastened from the shelter, only to return a few minutes later with several pieces of bark and—wonder of wonders—a lead pencil.

Squatting beside D'Arnot, he wrote for a minute on the smooth inner surface of the bark; then he handed it to the Frenchman. D'Arnot read:

I am Tarzan of the apes. Who are you? Can you read this language? D'Arnot eagerly seized the pencil, then he stopped. This strange man wrote English. Evidently he was an Englishman.

"Yes," said D'Arnot, "I read English. I speak it also. Now we may talk. First let me thank you for all that you have done for me."

The man only shook his head and pointed to the pencil and the bark. "Mon Dieu!" cried D'Arnot. "If you are English, why is it then that you cannot speak English?"

And then in a flash it came to him—the man was a mute, possibly a deaf mute.

So D'Arnot wrote a message on the bark in English:

I am Paul d'Arnot, lieutenant in the army of France. I thank you for what you have done for me. You have saved my life, and all that I have is yours. May I ask how it is that one who writes English does not speak it?

Tarzan's reply filled D'Arnot with still greater wonder:

I speak only the language of my tribe, the great apes who were Kerchak's, and a little of the languages of Tantor, the elephant, and Numa, the lion, and of the other folks of the jungle I understand. With a human being I have never spoken except once with Jane Porter by sign. This is the first time I have spoken with another of my kind through written words.

D'Arnot was mystified. It seemed incredible that there lived upon the earth a full grown man who had never spoken with a fellow man and still more preposterous that such a one could read and write.

He looked again at Tarzan's message—"except once with Jane Porter." That was the American girl who had been carried into the jungle by a gorilla.

A sudden light commenced to dawn on D'Arnot. This, then, was the "gorilla." He seized the pencil and wrote:

Where is Jane Porter? And Tarzan replied below:

Back with her people in the cabin of Tarzan of the apes.

D'Arnot wrote:

She is not dead, then? Where was she? What happened to her?

Tarzan answered:

She is not dead. She was taken by Terkoz to his wife. Tarzan of the apes took her away from Terkoz and killed him before he could harm her.

None in all the jungle may face Tarzan of the apes in battle and live. I am Tarzan of the apes, mighty fighter.

D'Arnot wrote:

I am glad she is safe. It pains me to write. I will rest awhile.

And then Tarzan:

Yes, rest. When you are well I shall take you back to your people.

For many days D'Arnot lay upon his bed of soft furs. The second day a fever had come, and D'Arnot thought that it meant infection and he knew that he would die.

He called Tarzan and indicated by signs that he would write, and when Tarzan had fetched the bark and pencil D'Arnot wrote:

Can you go to my people and lead them here? I will write a message that you may take to them, and they will follow you. If they follow you here wounded and alone they would kill you.

D'Arnot turned on his side and closed his eyes. He did not wish to die, but he felt that he was going, for the fever was mounting higher and higher. That night he lost consciousness.

Birthdays of Note

FRIDAY, APRIL SEVENTEENTH

JOHN MACCORN, F.R.S.C., assistant director and naturalist of the Geological Survey of Canada, who was born eighty-two years ago today in County Down, Ireland may well be regarded as one of Canada's grand old men of science. He emigrated to this country when only eighteen and became a farmer. There he developed a fondness for botany and took up the study of the science eventually becoming a professor in Albert College, Belleville. A government job followed in 1879 and he was with Sir Sandford Fleming's party which crossed the continent soon after. He was made botanist of the Geological Survey in 1882 and received his present appointment five years later. He has written several books and conducted numerous investigations on behalf of the Government.

WORDS. It isn't what you say, my friend, that makes the gray world brighter; fine words are furnished without end by any skillful writer; and gifted orators will rise, and boost the silver lining, and fill the space beneath the skies with language that is shining. We all can utter Noble Things, and sweet uplifting phrases, and think we've earned a crown and wings because we talk like blazes. The meanest tightwad in the town can hand words to the sinner, but would he help the man who's down, to get a good square dinner? The helpful word is good as wheat; if backed by helpful action; but if you hone for grub to eat, words are poor satisfaction. The sunny smile is worth its weight in gold if wisely flaunted, but smiling will not pay the freight, if wiener-wurst is wanted. I'd rather dry a widow's tears (if she is young and winsome) than fill with platitudes her ears and stand around and grin some. I'd rather give an orphan pie than hand him helpful stories concerning mansions in the sky and all the future glories. Oh, let us not depend on talk, to fill this world with laughter, but

GOLF COURSE IS VALUED AT SUM OF $15,000

Evidence Taken Before the Arbitrators at Court House.

Remarkable fluctuations in the estimates as to the value of the Brantford City Golf and Country Club grounds occur in the statements of two real estate men of the city, who have given evidence before the board of arbitration now sitting at the Court House and dealing with the question of damage done to the grounds by the advent of the L. E. & N. track now in course of construction. Mr. J. S. Dowling placed a value of $14,000 on the property as the home of a golf club, and estimated depreciation of $85,000, owing to the spoiling of the best holes of the course by the laying of the track, and the right of way. Its present value he placed at $20,000.

Against this the statements of Mr. S. P. Pitcher, for many years a local real estate man, contrast greatly. He places the total value of the links at $15,000, with a depreciation of $1,700.

He was of the opinion that better links could be formed by a slight addition to the links than they were before with the ground taken up by the railway. The seven acres occupied by the railway he valued at five or six hundred dollars.

When the court resumed yesterday afternoon, Mr. Pitcher gave his testimony. He valued the complete links at $15,000, this price included the whole of the seventy-five acres. The land, as it stood, would not command more on the open market. Last year the course had been assessed at $8,000. The club house he valued at $3,700, and the sheds at $400. If the railroad interfered with the pleasant location of the property, he thought it could be removed to a more suitable spot. The land cut through by the track occupied about seven acres of the grounds, and as these seven acres were on low lying ground, he placed their value at between five and six hundred dollars. The land was too far out of the city of Brantford to be of any great value; he estimated that there were about 5000 or 6000 subdivisions, before this property was reached. There was also the Van-Westrum property, the Muir property, the Woodvatt property and the Stratford estate all nearer and more available to the city. It would be at least twenty-five years before it would be used for building purposes. There was a demand for land for market gardening purposes, but not at any price above 110 dollars per acre.

There was a track of hilly land comprising about twenty-five acres, which he valued at $70 per acre, and about seven acres worth about $115 per acre and the rest was average. The real estate market was, during the present quiet, and it had been very quiet during 1912.

Answering Mr. Henderson, he said he had valued the land as ordinary property for farming purposes. He had estimated the value as golf links. He thought the 265 feet which separated the clubhouse from the track was enough for ordinary residential purposes. It would not depreciate the value of the house to be at such a distance. The smoke would not, in his opinion, affect the house at the distance, and here he reminded his cross-examiner that he was not a smoke expert. His opinion was given because it was asked. It was not expert. He admitted that the track was situated below the level of the house, but he thought the smoke would go over the top of the clubhouse. The average price realized at the present time for real estate within four miles of the city was between 110 and 115 dollars per acre.

Judge Snider and Messrs. Woodvatt and Watts, the arbitrators, together with the lawyers and others interested, will visit the golf course to-morrow afternoon and thoroughly inspect the course and the railway route running through it. It is thought that it will be some weeks before the arbitrators bring down their report, assessing the damages to the property occasioned by the Lake Erie and Northern railway running through it.

POPE'S NAME HEADED KING'S

At Winnipeg Banquet and Compromise Had to be Arranged.

WINNIPEG, April 17.—Considerable discussion took place in religious State and civic circles here yesterday when it became known that on the toast list of the big Catholic banquet dated for last night the Pope was placed at the head, with his Majesty, the King, second. Because of this Sir D. C. Cameron, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, and several other prominent men refused to attend. The compromise agreed upon by the Banquet Committee on receipt of numerous protests was that the National Anthem, "God Save the King" should be sung at the opening of the banquet to the Pope to follow and the toast to the King entirely omitted.

This programme was duly carried out, and on answering the toast to the Pope, his Grace Archbishop Lang evinced that he would "render tribute to Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God, the things that are God's." Hon. C. J. Doherty Minister of Justice, was to have attended, but his message of regret stated that "under ordinary circumstances he would have been most happy to attend."

The alleged affront to his Majesty in placing the Royal toast second on the list was first brought to the Mayor's attention by A. J. Taylor, president of the Sons of England Society in Winnipeg and his Honor notified the Banquet Committee that he could not officially attend. Sir D. C. Cameron also notified the committee to the same effect. Interviewed, Sir Douglas said: "I am not going to the banquet. My reason is obvious. I have nothing to say."

Sir Rodmond Roblin was also invited to attend, but was unable to do so, owing to a prior engagement. Hon. Joseph Bernier, Provincial Secretary, was thereupon announced as representing the Provincial Government, and to respond to the toast, "Our Province." Interviewed prior to the banquet, Mr. Bernier said: "I see no reason why the toast list should be changed. The Pope has never asked Catholics to be disloyal to the King. This agitation about positions of honor is a poor example of British fair play."

LOVING TRIBUTE TO JOHN HASKETT

Funeral Took Place Today From Late Residence, 18 Chatham Street.

Amid scenes impressive in their solemnity, all that was mortal of the late John Haskett was laid to rest in Mount Hope cemetery this afternoon. Simple and inspiring were the services conducted by the Rev. C. E. Jenkins of St. Jude's Church, assisted by the Rev. T. E. Holling, at the late residence, 18 Chatham street. The Independent Order of Oddfellows also held services at the late home and at the graveside, which were listened to by many relatives and a large circle of friends. Among those attending the funeral were many out-of-town visitors, including the deceased's mother and sisters of Toronto, brother Tom of Elmira, N.Y., Mr. Roller of Buffalo, Mr. Cook of Tonawanda, Mr. Pettit of Watford and Mr. Bennett of Melville, Saskatchewan. The family mourners were his sorrowing wife, mother, daughter Marjorie and son Jack. Among the public bodies represented were the Liberal Association, Trades and Labor Council, Cigar-makers' Union and the Independent Order of Foresters.

Telegrams of condolence have poured in from all quarters, including New York, Toronto, Buffalo, Milwaukee, Hamilton and Wisconsin.

The flowers, which have been offered in abundance, include sprays, lyres, pillows and wreaths. The complete list is as follows:

The following beautiful floral tributes were received by the family, consisting of wreaths, crosses and many other beautiful designs: Mr. M. Hazelton and family, Waterous office staff, Mrs. A. Kingdon and family, Toronto; Mr and Mrs F. C. Schuler, Mr and Mrs R. C. Burns, Mr Reg. Cahill, Mr and Mrs J. C. Mitchell; wreaths, Mr. Roller, Buffalo; Mr D. J. ### AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Miss Waghorne Was Struck and Slightly Injured by Motor Car Last Night.

What might have been a serious auto accident, occurred last night at the corner of King and Dalhousie St. when Mrs. Waghorne, an elderly lady was knocked over by a car driven by a young man named Blanchard. The lady became confused on seeing the car approaching, and stood still in front of the machine. Young Blanchard had the car almost to a standstill when he hit her, with the result that no serious injury was done. She was removed to her home by the young man and medical aid was summoned. No bones were broken.

PREMIER ROBLIN

Speaks Out at Neepawa in Regard to Temperance Matters.

NEEPAWA, Man., April 17.—The Conservatives of Beautiful Plains constituency yesterday nominated Hon. J. G. Howden to be again their candidate for the legislature. In the evening Premier Roblin addressed a banquet in Mr. Howden's honor, dealing at length with the temperance issue in the province. He declared that the so-called temperance plank in the Liberal platform was a reactionary one, that Manitoba Liberals, while in office, were not friends of the temperance movement that the Opposition had suggested no forward lines of material policy for the province and that he honestly believed no government in Canada could show a record more commendable, more progressive along temperance lines, than his. He claimed his government had of its own volition placed under absolute prohibition over 180,000 square miles of the newer territory of the province, and stated that the municipalities under local option had increased over 200 percent during the life of his government.

Eight lives were lost in the wreck of a schooner off the New Jersey coast. "White Wolf" and his bandit band were severely beaten by Chinese regular troops.

Boyhood

Their Youth

PERHAPS you have already decided that you are "going to be" when you grow up and come a man. Or maybe you are hesitating between—let us say—the exciting, dangerous life of a motive engineer or the driver of a fire-engine. At all events you probably all of your boyhood days have been busy and excitedly about things you will do when your schooling is over and you are out in the world making your own living. Somewhere you will find the later—a boy rarely follows his hood ambition. So many things open as you grow older and your change. But that fact need not discourage you. Almost every man finally settles upon a certain ambition and is just as happy in it as he was eager and excited over his boyhood one. Here are some of the boyish ambitions of a prominent man and you can see yourself how different they were the ones they held to in later life. Of course, nearly every boy some time thinks and dreams himself as President of the United States. But after a while he finds that up as too improbable of a dream. There can be but one President at the same time, know, and there are so many eager for the office. And yet he is a boy who never wanted to be president—yet now is! Certainly, your Wilson.

When President Wilson was ten years of age his one great ambition was to be a naval cadet at least, the captain of a great ship. He was living in Columbus, C., at the time and had never seen the sea. Still, he became an "Admiral" without any trouble at all. How? Why, he simply signed himself at the head of a mighty fleet busy in running down desperate, blood-thirsty band of rates in the South Pacific. He was hung around with them to arms every day and sent in reports of his deeds to the "Department." He wrote, day by day in diary form, of his adventures. At least, the captain of a great ship. PREMIER ROBLIN

Out at Neepawa in regard to Temperance Matters.

NEEPAWA, Man., April 17.—Theives of Beautiful Plains yesterday nominated J. Howden to be again their evening Premier Roblin at banquet in Mr. Howden's saloon at length with the issue in the province, that the so-called temperance one, that Manitoba while in office, were not of the temperance movement.

Opposition had suggested lines of material policy province and that he honestly no government in Canada a record more commendable progressive along temperance than his. He claimed his own volition under absolute prohibition 1000 square miles of the territory of the province, and that the municipalities under which had increased over 200 during the life of his government. Lives were lost in their wicked honorer off the New Jersey troops.

FOR THE YOUNG PEOPLE

Boyhood Stories of BIG MEN

Their Youthful Ambitions

PERHAPS you have already decided what you are going to be when you grow up and become a man. Or maybe you are hesitating between—let us say—the exciting, dangerous life of a locomotive engineer or the driver of a fire-engine. At all events you and nearly all of your boy companions talk often and excitedly about the things you will do when your schooling is over and you are out in the world making your own living.

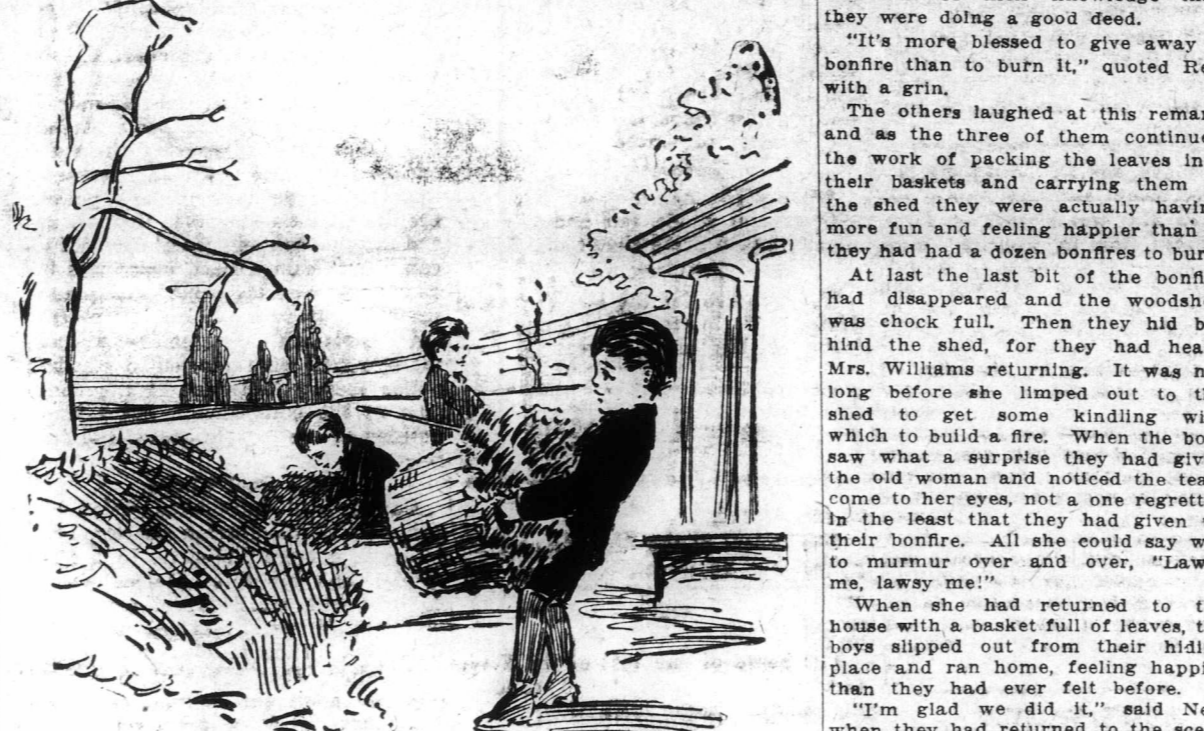

Somewhat as you will discover later—a boy rarely follows his boyhood ambition. So many things happen to you as you grow older and your ideas change. But that fact need not discourage you. Almost every young man finally settles upon a certain ambition and is just as happy in realizing it as he was eager and exhilarated over his boyhood one. Here are set forth the boyhood ambitions of several prominent men and you can see how different they were from the ones they held in their later life.

Of course, nearly every boy, at some time, thinks and dreams of himself as President of the United States. But after a while he passes that up as too improbable of attainment. There can be but one man President at the same time, and you are not one of the many men eager for the office. And yet here is a boy who never wanted to be President—yet now is! Certainly, Woodrow Wilson.

When President Wilson was fourteen years of age his one great ambition was to be a naval cadet or, at least, the captain of a great vessel. He was living in Columbia, S. C., at the time and had never even seen the sea. Still, he became an "admiral" without any trouble whatever. How? Why, he simply imagined himself as the head of a mighty fleet busy in running down a desperate, blood-thirsty band of pirates in the South Pacific.

THE BOYS' BONFIRE

IT is fun to go hunting in autumn. Much fun to go hunting, too. But much more fun to go hunting, so they had no trouble in the way of scattering leaves. Enthusiastic as they were, they found it a bigger job than they had expected, but they stuck to it, each conscientious enough to rake the yard clean while they were about it. Red finished his yard first and then helped Enthusiastic as they were, they found it a bigger job than they had expected. carry leaves from the other two yards. Having had a rest and a bite of dinner at noon, they resumed work and by three o'clock their task was finished. The bonfire was made, and such a pile it was! When heaped up, it was bigger than any haystack they had ever seen.

"It is so large," said Ned, "I am almost afraid to set fire to it." "It will make a whopper of a fire, all right," agreed Ted, "but there are no trees near and very few wagons or buggies pass along this street." "The boys were leaning against the huge stack of leaves, raking when they saw old Mrs. Williams hobbling past on her way downtown to do some shopping. She stopped and gazed at the pile.

"That's a terrible big pile o' leaves, children," she remarked. "Yes, ma'am," replied Ned. "What are you going to do with them?" "Have a bonfire tonight." "Lawsy me! It's a shame to burn all them leaves. Wish I had 'em in my woodshed. They'd make mighty good kindlin'." Well, boys, I must be getting along to town. Hope you have a good bonfire.

When she was out of sight, Ned stood up and faced his companions. "Why not let her have them?" he said. "The boys looked at each other in disappointment. "An' spoil our bonfire?" said Ted. "Yes, but they would help to keep her warm this winter." "This would have made the biggest bonfire ever burned in this town," said Ned. "Yes, but it will make her a hundred fires and save her wood," replied Ted.

MOST TOO REAL

WE was playin' horses jus' the other day. An' I was the driver, as we're used to say; Johnny here was harnesses as a horse you know. An' he cut up balky—didn't want to go.

An' he kept a-backin' an' a-prancin' round. Wouldn't let me drive him, but a way I found. For while he was ravin' I picked up a stick An' to stop his antics, I give him a lick.

Not a hard one, mind you—jus' a little crack; My, the way he hollowed, I thought I'd broke his back; He was all for quitted, said it wasn't fair, As if they don't whip horses when they pitch an' rare.

SLEEPY-TIME TALES FOR THE LITTLEST ONES

French Children At Play

DOROTHY had played so hard that afternoon that even her little blue eyes showed how tired she was. And her yellow curls were all tangled and matted from being tossed about by the autumn wind. Her frock, clean that morning, was all rumpled and stained.

"You are becoming a regular Tomboy," you are getting yourself all mussed up. Why don't you play without romping and getting yourself all mussed up? Why don't you—oh, why don't you play the way little French children do! Come now, get into bed and let me tuck the covers around you and I'll tell you about the little boys and girls in sunny France. There—now we're all ready for our Sleepy-time story, aren't we?"

"The French children are always polite. On bright, sunny afternoons their nannies or their Mamas take them to play in the broad Champs Elysees where they roll their hoops or spin their tops very happily, but also very politely. If a little French boy or girl sees a strange child and wishes to play with him he steps up to him and in his very polite tone asks him to play.

escorted back home when school is over—even if he is fifteen years old! Now wouldn't the big boys in your school look funny being brought there every morning by a nurse!

A Man Who Spins Tops

TOPS are great toys, aren't they? But when a certain age he is inclined to lose interest in them and, maybe, consider them a bit too much of a juvenile amusement. But what would you think of a man who spins tops? Moreover, he is a Congressman—Stanley E. Bowdler, Representative from Ohio.

Tops are his hobby. He has in his home any number of them—and very unusual ones they are, too. What is more, he spins them and takes keen delight in doing so. Many of them are mechanical marvels, and he is now building a huge microscope and experimenting with it.

Local News

Orders Issued. The orders of the 25th Brant Dragoons will be issued to-day by the commanding officers.

Board Meets. The board of directors of the Y.W.C.A. will meet to-day and conduct the business of the institution.

Building Permit Issued. A building permit was issued this morning to Robert Cooke, 168 Eagle Avenue for a brick bungalow to cost $1,000.

Is at Toronto. Mr. Ward H. Johnson, of the Courier Printing Company, is in Toronto to-day in attendance at the Printers' Cost Conference.

Stars to Practice. The Eagle Place Stars will practice at Tutela Park to-morrow afternoon and every player turning out will be given a chance to make the team.

Building Permits Issued. Building permits were issued to-day to T. H. Millman, Sheridan street, for a brick bungalow to cost $1,000. Charles Churchill, No. on street, brick bungalow, to cost $1,400.

Looking for Horses. Axl. Dr. Hopkins, chairman of the Fire and Light Committee and Fire Chief Ten Eyck of Hamilton, motored to the city this morning to look at some horses for the fire department.

Again Lands Contract. The Brantford firm, Messrs. Seccord and Sons, Limited, have just been advised of securing another big contract. They will erect a new government building at Newmarket at a cost of $30,000.

Building Permits Issued. Building permits were issued yesterday to Wm. E. Sutch, Northumberland street for a brick cottage to cost $1,200; National Coal Co., Marlboro street for a frame shed covered with iron to cost $400; H. W. Britton, Queen street for a new store front at a cost of $90.

Contract to be Signed. The contract for the new paragon hose, which the city has purchased from the Gutta-Percha Mfg. Co., of Toronto, has been forwarded to the city to be signed and sealed. The contract calls for 1000 feet of hose at $1.10 per foot with couplings attached.

Honor for Dr. Bell. Recently there has been formed in the United States a Society of the American College of Surgeons on the same basis as the well known Royal College of Surgeons in Great Britain. A certain number of charter members were allotted to Canada and Dr. B. C. Bell of this city has received notice that he is one of them. This is a high honor as selection is on the basis of merit. Many friends will heartily congratulate the Doctor. He goes to Philadelphia on June 22nd to receive his new honor.

Breaking Lights. A number of young fellows have lately been breaking electric light globes along the River Road. They are possessed of guns, and they ruthlessly make the globes targets for practice. The result is that the road adjoining the Waterous property has been badly lighted lately. A reward of $25 has been offered, and the offenders are warned as to the result of their conduct. The minimum fine is $25 for this offence.

Not Heard Of It. At C. P. R. headquarters at London it was stated that nothing was known of the story that the C. P. R. had practically completed arrangements for the running of fast passenger trains No. 12 and 18, over the Michigan Central Railway, between Waterford and Chicago, after June 1. "We know nothing of the proposed changes," was the statement of officials. "The new time table is not out yet, and the word would come here from Toronto."

PRETENTIOUS LIST AT POLICE COURT—THEFT CHARGES

Foreigners Fined for Coal Theft—Stratford House Robbery Cleared Up

Two Hungarians, Frank Murajka and Mike Talaknez, were put to some inconvenience to no purpose this morning at the police court. They had been up before the court on an assault charge on Wednesday, and their case disposed of, and this morning they were again charged with the same offence, thus causing them to unnecessarily lose time and money at the city emporium. The police brought the case against them first, and then Joseph and Mary Liss laid a complaint against them, which was in connection with the same assault, and when the case was called this morning the complainants did not appear, and the two men were allowed to go, the police feeling indignant at the conduct of the complainant, but saying nothing of the trouble caused the defendants.

More Coal Thefts.

Coal is still extensively stolen by members of the foreign quarter, and to-day two more offenders, John Oschpika and his wife Helen, were charged with stealing coal from the premises of the Brantford Carriage Company. They pleaded not guilty, and claimed that any coal they had obtained had been bought, and not just picked up from the street.

John Simpson, giving evidence, said he had often seen the woman taking coal, and he had warned her and made her put the coal back. On the occasion which was the subject of the charge, witness said he had placed eight large pieces of coal in the yard beside two rails which had been looted from their sockets. After watching for some time he saw both defendants come and take away seen pieces after removing the rails. He had no doubt about the identity of the people. Oschpika protested that he never stole any coal and had often thrashed his wife for taking coal which did not belong to her. Magistrate Livingston decided that as the wife was supposed to be acting under her husband's instructions, she would be discharged and the husband fined $10 and costs.

Lumber Stolen.

The same parties were arraigned on a charge of stealing lumber from the yard of Schultz Bros. on or about April 7th, to the value of $10.

They pleaded, not guilty. P. C. Cara said he had found some hundreds of feet of lumber at the house of defendants at No. 50 McMuray Street. One plank had been positively identified by Charles Smith, foreman of the works. Mr. Thouson, secretary-treasurer of Schultz Bros. said there was a good deal of wood missing from their yard. He knew that a piece of wood identified, could not have been got, as prisoner had said, at the Pratt and Letchworth's premises, as they never used that description of wood there.

Prisoner said he had been given permission by a foreman of Pratt and Letchworths to take the wood. That was where he had obtained it.

In order to test his statement, the case was adjourned until Monday.

Purposeless $300 Theft.

Two men, Fred Avery, aged 52, and John James aged 42 both walked the straight and narrow path until they came across the closed residence of the family some time during the winter months. Then they committed a purposeless theft. They took from the house over $300 worth of draperies and ladies' clothes, which were not of one iota of use to them and furthermore they had not tried to sell any of the stolen goods. At the court they could give no reason for their action and the magistrate remarked that it was a crazy thing to do. They had both perfectly clean records up till this charge and both were penitent. The bench said that if they had been young men he could have allowed them to go on suspended sentence, but the law made no provision for men of their age. He, however, would take the responsibility upon his own shoulders and allow them to go on suspended sentence. He then proceeded to administer some sound advice which if acted upon will assuredly make both men model citizens. He was not sure what action would be taken by the deportation authorities in the case of Avery who has not been long in the land.

The costs of the court amounted to $25 and when this was paid defendants went their way.

Sir Francois Langelier, Lieutenant Governor of Quebec, speaking at Morrin College, warmly defended the Boy Scouts organization, resenting statements made by La Verite.

FELL FIFTY FEET AND IS STILL ALIVE

Stratford Young Man Had Most Remarkable Escape from Death.

STRATFORD, April 17—Glen Smart, a son of R. H. Smart, manager of the Royal Bank, fell 50 feet from the Grand Trunk Railway bridge on John street to the pavement below, and escaped with only a badly bruised neck and a dislocated shoulder, injuries severe enough to keep him within doors only a few days. In the excitement of a lively talk with friends on the bridge, the lad forgot how close he was to its edge. Turning round, he stumbled and fell over the edge. His unconscionable form was picked up by his comrades and carried to his home. Despite the effects of the hastily-summoned doctor, he did not regain his senses for some hours.

FOOTBALLERS WILL RAISE $1000 FOR THE SANITARIUM

Season Opens Tomorrow But First of the Series For the Hospital Will be Played April 25.

The nine teams comprising the Brantford and Paris football league have promised to give $1,000 towards the building of the Tubercular Hospital and to this end there is a Tuberculosis cup which will be competed for after the league style during the season. The first games in the cup take place on the second Saturday of season, and five fast games are anticipated as great rivalry exists between the teams. Last season the League was successful in raising $100 towards the funds and it is worthy of note that the players devote their time to such a good cause. All proceeds of the cup games goes to the Hospital funds when expenses are paid.

The league, which voluntarily performs this self imposed task is composed of nine teams, namely, Cockshuts United, Dufferin Rifle, Holmedale Tigers, Paris, P.S.A., Sons of England, Scots United, Tutela, and the Wanderers.

By many Cockshuts are regarded as one of the strongest organizations and there is no denying the fact that they have a really clever team. The runners-up of last year, are, as their name suggests Holmedale Tigers a tough lot to beat. Every team, however, has its fans and these are going to win the trophy. Scots United formed of men who come from a home of football, are a likely lot, and should be noted. The Wanderers have a good name but as yet there has been no chance to judge their calibre. One of the best features of the opening campaign is that owing to enthusiasm the teams are financially strong. Some first-class referees are on the bucks and no slack watched game will be seen. Taken all through things are looking very good for a good big contribution to the funds of the hospital. The donor of the trophy, John Hill of Colborne street, is very optimistic and if all fans were fired with his good example there is no doubt that the games will go with a swing in all directions. It is up to the fans and fanettes to do their share of the work. Let them not neglect it.

The season's schedule opens tomorrow.

Tutela Club Line-Up.
On Saturday Tutela Football club open the season in a League game with the S.O.E. This game should be a good one and the followers of the soccer game, will no doubt be out in good numbers to give the game a good start off for 1914. Owing to both teams' colors being alike, Tutela will play in colored shirts. Mr. Clark will referee the game; kick off 5.30 sharp. Tutela will line up as follows: Goal, H. Stanley; backs N. McLeod and W. Bowden; halfbacks, F. Andrews, E. Roberts, P. McLeod; forwards, E. Hamilton, J. Hingley, C. Gore, C. Pointer, E. Fisher.

P.S.A. Line-Up.
The P.S.A. Football Club picked the following team to play the Wanderers on Saturday: Goal, G. Giles; backs, A. Hilsley, W. Cartwright; half backs, F. Westcott, F. Leman, P. Richards; forwards, J. Jekerson, W. Sweeney, W. Smith, J. Bury, F. Knowles; reserves, L. Howell, T. Blackburn, J. Price. All players are required at 5 o'clock Saturday.

Scots Line-Up.
The Scots will line-up as follows:

Magill, goal; backs, Cook and Morroy (capt.); half backs, Williams, Forgie, Scott; forwards, Marshall, Lian, Taylor, Richardson, Morrison; reserves, Harrington, Vipond.

S. O. E. Line Up
S. O. E. Football Club held a good practice match and had a good turn out and pick the team to play the Tutela boys on Saturday opening of the league. All players are requested to be on the grounds at 5.15 Dressing room on the grounds. Kick off at 5.30. Line up: Goal, Wm. Short; right back, L. Tyler; left back, Wm. Johnson; right half, Wm. Mitchell; centre half, Frank Hart; left half, Jimmy Mathias; outside right forwards, W. Budd and R. C'Dougl; centre forward, Wm. Blower; inside right, J. Smith and A. Johnson. Reserves: George Davies, B. B. Wright, R. J. Darch.

Dufferin Team.
The following will represent the Dufferin Rifles in their league game against the Scots United at Agricultural Park. Kick off at 5.30 sharp: Goal Tigwell; backs, Harbour, Alexander; half backs, Williamson, Holland, Biggs; forwards, Ccale or Keightley, Humphries, Drake, Mercer; reserves, Palmer, Claidge, Evans, Street, Players and reserves are requested to report at the Armories at 4.30 p.m.

Tigers Line-Up.
Holmedale Tigers play Paris at Paris on Saturday and will line-up in the following order: Scanlon, Lock, Hoyle (Capt.), Hart, Owen, Ellison, Baker, W. Lewis, Solman, Coburn, Thomas, Reserves Lord, Moorcroft, Midgley, Archer. All players are requested to leave on 4 o'clock car.

CONNAUGHT WILL WATCH RED SOX

Governor General Will be Taken to Baseball Game.

The Duke of Connaught, accompanied by Mayor Spence and other civic dignitaries, will pay a visit to the ball game between Brantford and Hamilton, Saturday, May 9, when His Royal Highness visits this city for a couple of hours. It will be the first visit of the Governor-General to a ball game since he came to Canada. Of course the party will only have a short time at its disposal to watch the pastime. The arrangements were completed yesterday at a meeting of the reception committee.

Sporting Comment

How about organizing the City Baseball League for the coming season. All the other leagues have organized and it is time now for the baseball league to get busy.

Even though the Eagle Place Stars are contemplating entering a team in the semi-pro. circuit, there is enough first class material in the city to pick up four or five good teams.

The Maple Leafs will in all probability commence training on Saturday. The Echo Place Silk Sox have material for a good fast team and the Duffs will no doubt be in the running again this year.

Although nothing has been done as yet the Y. M. C. A. should organize a team and a good fast team league could be formed. No doubt there are other teams in the city who could get material fast enough to make any of these teams go and now is the time to organize.

Little Ottawa doesn't seem to take Brantford seriously this year. Every team but Brantford has a team that will be pennant chasers according to the Ottawa papers. Never mind we won't blow but the Senators may get a severe jolt this year.

The Red Sox will be able to get to bed early at the 'Y'. The noise is supposed to cease there at 10.30 p.m.—but.

Nothing has been heard of Toronto Canadian Leaguers lately. Eddie Holly will spring a surprise on the other magnates when the season opens.

London Basketball Teams Were Beaten

Large Crowd at the Y. M. C. A. Last Night—Slemm and Wood Played Clever Game.

Before a large crowd of spectators the two local Y.M.C.A. basketball teams last night walloped two teams from London in the local gymnasium. The locals clearly outclassed the visitors in both games winning the junior game by the score of 54 to 22 and the senior game 70 to 34.

In the first game Slemm and Wood on the forward line of the locals showed the London boys some stunts in basketball that they never knew before. Their playing was of the higher order, the individual points being evenly divided. Slemm scored 25 points while Ken Wood followed close with 21 points to his credit. McDonald at centre played a stellar game and was responsible for eight points. Deagle and Waddington on the defence played excellent games and held their checks well in hand at all times.

For the visitors Pelton on the defence did good work as did also Grant and Buckborough defence and centre respectively.

The teams: London (22): Pelton (10), and Grant (5); defence: Buckborough (5) centre; Henderson and Burridge (2).

Brantford (54): Slemm (25) and Wood (21), forwards; McDonald (8) centre; Deagle and Waddington, defence.

The second game was an even worse defeat for the visitors than the first, the locals playing all round the

Quimet is Lionized in the British Isles

LONDON, April 16.—Mr. Francis Ouimet is being lionized in England and it would be quite safe to say that no golfer in this country has made himself so popular with lovers of the ancient game as the young American. With women he has made an exceptionally big hit, and it is said that one or two of his feminine admirers already have lost their hearts to the youthful hero. Photographs by the thousand are selling, and his play is being depicted on the cinematograph. Should the young American achieve his ambition of winning the British amateur championship his victory would be enormously popular, and he is certain to start one of the hottest favorites who ever have competed for the important event. As showing what an attraction the Woodland Club player has become, it is worth while mentioning that it took him and his companion, Mr. Lockwood, the whole of Sunday and Monday to answer correspondence. This consisted chiefly of invitations to play over practically every golf course in the British Isles, and requests from women for his autograph.

Trouble of Red Sox Player Not Yet Over

Nearer, April 14, '14.
 Mr. Nelson, B. E. C.:
 Dear Sir,—I caught the midnight freight out of Stopover alright, but when the brakie spied me he put over one bowl, then one strike and here I am stranded in this jerkwater town. While waiting for something to turn up I am passing in the time reading an old Brantford Courier I found here is some of the dope it contains. Rube Deaneau was noticed pricing hay on the market Saturday. The players should be thankful he was not looking at some of the bull beef they sell there. The manager of the Red Sox has so many applicants for the position of trainer he told them all that the first man who could go to Victoria Park and work the stiffness out of Joe Brandt's arm, would get the job. Shag ought to forbid his players crossing the Ottawa river into Hull. It might be dangerous if Eddy's match factory should run short of wood, there is no telling what might happen. A few blocks would help a lot. Buck Johnson wants to call the W.

O. B. B. L. the Incubator League; he figures they will hatch out a lot of live ones for the Canadian League. The London team is over in Ohio, and it will be a wonder if the Children's Aid Society does not have the owners arrested for allowing them to stray so far away from home. It is a good thing there is wire screen around the grand stand in Agricultural Park, as with these slit skirts in vogue, there will be no danger of the little calves getting in and eating the grass off the diamond. Rube Deaneau and his whole staff will surely take good care of Mary's pretty little calf when it peeps out for air. If Rube signs up Judge Hardy, will he keep him on the bench? Hamilton signs up a dentist as a manager on account of his pull. But Brantford is satisfied to take a ball player for theirs because he has the push.

 Where are those stars of yesterday whose pictures appeared in the papers? They're back on the farm, away from all harm. In the home they're cutting up capers. But where are the has-beens of yesterday? Those vets who 'twas said were all in. They're back with the team in the calcium gleam. All trying a pennant to win. Poor old grandma. Once a year, and about this time she cashes in. It's the old gag, and will be worked by many an office boy when the Canadian League opens. Personal to the faithful wife: Might just as well get used to it now. He'll be home late to dinner every evening.

NOT ONE GIANT READY TO JUMP

Murray Suggests That Federals Buy the Whole Team.

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—"It is not so," declared Manager McEwain of the Giants when asked yesterday if the reports were true that three of his players had told President Gilmore of the Federal League while he was in Baltimore, that they would jump to the Federals if he would make them a satisfactory offer. When a story from Chicago naming Catcher McLean, Third Baseman Stock and Outfielder Murray as the three would-be jumpers was shown to McGraw he replied: "That's moonshine. Gilmore is talking through his hat and is making wild statements for advertising purposes." John B. Foster, Secretary of the Giants, was more eloquent. He said: "Every member of the New York club has signed a two or three year contract and few of the contracts expire this year. I have talked with nearly all of the players, and do not think there is anything to the rumor. I don't believe there is a player on the New York team who would break his contract and further I do not think there is a member who wants to. No one has a complaint on his salary that I know of, and besides the salary the players can always count on from $1,500 to $3,000 extra on each season through a world's series or a city championship series. I think you will find the whole thing a joke." Murray suggested sending a wire to President Gilmore accepting any terms as a whole.

CHAMPION RITCHIE HAS HARD FIGHT TONIGHT

Lightweight Tittle-Holder Will Meet Tommy Murphy in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—That Willie Ritchie is one of the greatest light weights the world has ever seen, and that he ranks with any of the old-time champions is the opinion of Geo. Green, who will be recalled as the original "Young Corbett" Ritchie is Green, who is a boxing instructor at the Olympic Club, saw Ritchie in action for the first time when he appeared before the club members and boxed six rounds with his sparring partners. "Ritchie is just as good as Joe Gans" said Green, "and I think he would be capable of holding his own with the old master when the latter was in his prime. In fact, in one important respect Ritchie is the better man. Gans was inclined to be lazy, and it was his rule to compel the other fellow to do the bulk of new work. If his opponent did not fight there was little action. "Ritchie, on the other hand is aggressive at all times. If his opponent refuses to lead he takes a hand at it himself. In my opinion Ritchie is absolutely certain to defeat Tommy Murphy when they meet Friday evening. With their preliminary training practically completed, both Ritchie and Murphy took things easy yesterday. Neither donned the boxing gloves, and their road and gymnasium work was far from strenuous. To-morrow they will take just enough exercise to keep their muscles limbered up."

TIGERS UNABLE TO STOP THE BROWNS

Recruit Makes Debut But Has One Bad Session in the Fourth.

DETROIT, April 17.—Three Detroit pitchers were unable to stop St. Louis yesterday, and the Browns won 8 to 5. James who pitched his first complete game of major league ball, was also hit hard, but only in the 4th, when they scored two runs, were the Tigers able to bunch their drives. BENZ AGAIN. CHICAGO, April 17.—Joe Benz's clever pitching, with lunched hits by his team mates, enabled the Chicago Americans to shut out Cleveland yesterday 1 to 0, and win their third straight game from the visitors. The game was a pitcher's battle between Benz and Blanding, with the former showing the better form and doing his best work in the pinches. Weaver was presented with a large silver bat and ball by some of his friends.

Celtic are on top in the Scottish League and are practically certain to pull off the double this year.

NOT ONE GIANT READY TO JUMP

Murray Suggests That Federals Buy the Whole Team.

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—"It is not so," declared Manager McEwain of the Giants when asked yesterday if the reports were true that three of his players had told President Gilmore of the Federal League while he was in Baltimore, that they would jump to the Federals if he would make them a satisfactory offer. When a story from Chicago naming Catcher McLean, Third Baseman Stock and Outfielder Murray as the three would-be jumpers was shown to McGraw he replied: "That's moonshine. Gilmore is talking through his hat and is making wild statements for advertising purposes." John B. Foster, Secretary of the Giants, was more eloquent. He said: "Every member of the New York club has signed a two or three year contract and few of the contracts expire this year. I have talked with nearly all of the players, and do not think there is anything to the rumor. I don't believe there is a player on the New York team who would break his contract and further I do not think there is a member who wants to. ### Canadian League News Notes

London Ahead of Other Clubs.

With the London club already in the thick of spring training and playing exhibition games daily down in Ohio and West Virginia, the Cockneys should have the jump on the other clubs of the Canadian League. Doc Reising has had his men in active training now for a week and by the time the season opens, they will have had a full month's practice. The Senators are called upon to meet Reising's aggregation in London in their second series, so that Manager Shughnessy will have a fine old battle ahead of him before he lands home for the first series at Lansdowne park starting one month from to-day with Eddie Holly's Torontos.

The Senators are billed to open at St. Thomas, where Midge Craven is banking on a dandy staff that has always shown up well in early season games. It was big Bill Baker of the Saints, who hurled two no hit games in the first weeks of the season last year. This season Craven has Wilkinson to start off with and in addition to Ray Clements and Harry Howick, will be a hard club to keep out of the first division for the inaugural month at least. Just what St. Thomas hitting and defence strength is like, little is known. They have a gem in Merlin Kopp as an all around man and no doubt the fastest base runner on the league. Last year they went through the tail end of the season with a busted infield. If this is plugged up, keep your eye on the Saints. Heinie Smith at Erie, Carly Blount at Peterboro, and Eddie Holly at Toronto, are doing less articulating than than any of the leaders, but they are all gathering hefty teams together.

The strength of the Leafs is problematical and little will be known of their actual class till they shape up to the footlights. One thing is certain, Hamilton and Brantford will be one hundred per cent, better outfits than last year. Hamilton may be a "dark horse" at that—Ottawa Free Press.

Ort at St. Thomas Camp.

George Ort, former manager of the Saints, and now first baseman of the Toronto Canadian League team, is working daily in St. Thomas. He claims to be in better shape than he was last year and looks for a record season.

Bill Bradshaw, the ex-Berlin pitcher has been ordered to report to the Toronto Canadian League team in Toronto on April 20.

Toronto Wants Killilea.

Marty Killilea, who went from the Hamilton club to sign with the Toronto Canadian League team, has received word from Secretary Farrell of the National association that he had been awarded to the Grand Rapids club. Killilea claims he was a free agent when he wrote the Central League club for terms, and declares he never received an acceptance or a contract. He would have made a valuable addition to "Knotty" Lee's team. President McCaffery is taking the case up with the object of disputing the Grand Rapids claim. Meanwhile the player has been sent home.

Pitcher Kirley, who has been with the Toronto Leafs down south, left for home last night. He declares he has been in the Canadian League long enough and will not report at Toronto on Monday.

President Kerwin of the Canadian league club, wants Trout, and he will be allowed to stop over at Philadelphia, to go to his home, reporting at Toronto on Monday. Schneider is playing a grand game at first for the Leafs and is going to star in the Canadian league.

Yates Gets Oriole Recruits.

Catcher Lidgate, now with the Baltimore International League club, will probably come here. At least this is the expectation of Manager Yates. Lidgate is a rattling good backstop and can hit, but Dunn of the Orioles, feels that he will greatly benefit by one year's more seasoning. Yates is also counting on the arrival to-day of one of Dunn's two recruit shortstops, who was promised when he visited Baltimore a few weeks ago. Both lads working out at that position look good, and the local manager does not know which will be sent on.

Remodelling Britania Park.

The house-in-a-day built at Britania park during Centennial week will be no more. Work on the destruction of the building that did a lot to advertise Hamilton, commenced to-day. The shifting of the stands was also started to-day. The work at the ball yard is progressing favorably, and it will not be long before the square is able to get down to work there.

Norm Darlington, Red Fisher's rival for the backstopping job, is only a little fellow, but stockily built and he possesses loads of "pep." His first appearance in uniform yesterday tended to even up the brigade. He shapes up like a great pecker, too.

If the attendance of the railbirds at the practices is any criterion, Manager Yates will play to capacity crowds this summer. Of course, much depends on whether the cub is a winner or a second-division aggregation.

(St. Thomas Times)

From reports in the papers of little London, it appears that the Cockneys have the best manager, the best training staff, the best catchers, the best infield and the best outfield in the world, bar none. There's nothing to the Canadian League this year but London. Before the season is three days old the championship will be settled and the Cockneys will be arranging to play off the world's championship series with Connie Mack's Athletics. Wow, but there's a rude awakening coming to the Cockney fans.

Because Rube Deneau said a few things about the management of the Cockneys, the sport writers of Cockneyville are pouring vitriol on the Rube's head. It is well to remember, though, that the Rube is the only man who ever succeeded in putting in a whole season as manager of the London team in the Canadian League.

Manages Yates' 1914 pennant chaser are not coming into Hamilton as fast as expected. However, the remainder of the squad are expected to-day. Meanwhile, Yates has had Wein, Broadbert, Dolan and McLeod working out at the cricket field.

Conny Murphy has written Manager Yates of Hamilton, asking for his release. Conny has a job in another league, he says, if he can get away from Hamilton. The new pilot has cranted it.

The London players have learned that training in the spring is not all pleasure and there are few who are not complaining more or less of aches and pains. (Reising hustles the players from early morning till it is time for the evening meal. The ball games in the afternoon generally wind up with a run from the ball park to the college gymnasium, a distance of nearly two miles for their baths and rub-down.

The Canadian League umpires will go into training next week. With three weeks' work at a college for the blind, the porch-climbing staff should be in good shape for the opening.

Speaking of Boobs

(London Advertiser)

There's the fool who rocks the boatlet.

And the boob who bumps the bumps.

But the gink who gets my gauntlet.

Yells at the ball game. "Kill the Umps."

Now that the reserve clause has been declared invalid, let's all jump and see who cares.

How's your peanut appetite? The Canadian League will open in less than a month. A number of fans have already commenced training.

While we do not flatter ourselves that we are an expert doper, we predict the Browns will do as well in the coming world's series as they did in 1913.

Joe Tinker has clipped the wings of Amos Byrd, a pitcher, thus again proving the truth of the old saw, "There's nothing in a name."

Said Battling Ban to Fighting Jim. "Your chances, sir, are mighty slim."

Said Fighting Jim to Battling Ban. "We'll leave that to the well known fan."

A kind hearted gent washed the windows of our office yesterday. "Nother sign of spring."

When asked if it is true his salary is $15,000, President Gilmore said: "I don't know anything about it. Sufficient to say I'm satisfied." This being true, we should become agitated.

Ottawa's Percentage

Frank Shughnessy, of whom we read so much in summer, fall and winter in pursuit of his various athletic vocations, has departed for points farther south where he will gather up two or three capable performers to round out his Canadian League champions who start training at Chatham. From what can be gleaned around the circuit, Manager Shughnessy cannot hope to finish higher than eight place, as seven other clubs already claim the pennant. Fortunately for Ottawa there are no restrictions placed on claimants to the pennant in Spring. In fact winning the flag at this period of the year is just as essential as the Easter bonnet. This is the Capital city's third season in organized baseball and to date we have a percentage of 1,000 in the Pennant League. It's asking a lot for No. 3, but the same chances are presented this season as last and there is nothing in the rule book that prevents a team winning twenty pennants in a row if it is able to accomplish it. Ottawa goes to bat on May 7, the opening day with a fine nucleus, to which by that time it is expected even greater strength will be added. The addition of one more pitcher and a good shortstop, appears all that is required to meet all comers. Old favorites will be back, others will be missing, while some new figures will be trotted out. There is no doubt the League will be fifty per cent, faster than last year and the Senators have not been delinquent in realizing that fact. One glance at the rosters of the respective clubs around the league, shows 10 per cent, of last year's players have been flagged to make room for faster men. It looks a big year for the Canadian with Eric and Toronto replacing two small towns and higher classification sought after—Free Press.

The golfer who does not include a niblick in his bag shows as much confidence as Rube Waddell when he called in his outfield with the hâs's full, and fanned the next three men.

The following item clipped from the Hamilton Spectator voices the opinion of the Hamilton fans with regard to our popular President T. J. Nelson:

Pulling for Nelson

It is doubtful if there is a better liked magnate in the Canadian League than Tom Nelson. The Brantford owner is one of those affable chaps who has friends all over the circuit, and they are all pulling for him to head a winning team this year. Nelson stuck to his guns last year in spite of all kinds of misfortune, and was easily the most cheerful magnate in the league at the end of the season. He is banking everything on Rube Deneau this year and the fans are behind him in grand style. It is likely that all opening day records will be shattered when the Brantford and Hamilton fans mingle on May 7.

Boys! See the shoe we are offering to-morrow at 248, 1914 last, regular $3.50, also many other bargains for the swell dresser, while our first sale lasts, only a few days more. The Roberts and Van-Lane Shoe Co.

DODGING THE DUTY.

Some Boston men who bought a spring supplying a Canada's table water, found themselves in a fix when a tariff of 25 cents a gallon was imposed on the importation of spring water into the states. They wrote to a New York lawyer, and asked him how they could get round the law.

The lawyer thought hard. Then he winked.

"Freeze your water," he said. "Import it in cakes and bottle it on this side of the border. There ain't any duty on ice."

The scheme worked and is still working. This particular spring water is drunk all over the states to-day and on every gallon of it the firm is saved 25 cents.

SAGE TEA PUTS LIFE AND COLOR IN HAIR

Don't Stay Gray! Sage Tea and Sulphur Darke's Hair so Naturally that Noody Can Tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days. Agent, Geo. Bowles.

Active Business Requires Adequate Telephone Service.

The essentials of adequate telephone service for a busy establishment are:

1. An open door for outgoing telephone calls.
2. An open door for incoming telephone calls.
3. Facilities for immediate intercommunication between offices and departments.

Private Branch Exchange telephone service meets these requirements. Outgoing and incoming messages can be handled simultaneously. Interior intercommunication can be carried on independently.

Private Branch Exchange telephone service is recognized as the only suitable service for active organizations, and it costs even less than the simpler form of telephone service.

Let us send our representative to explain in detail and to quote rates.

CAINSVILLE

(From our own correspondent.)
Very interesting Easter services were conducted in the Methodist church on Sunday. Rev. Wm. Cook had charge in the morning and preached a very eloquent sermon from the text found in I. Cor. XV. 18:20. The music consisted of an anthem "The Lord is risen indeed" and a chorus, "What Did He Do?" by the choir. In the evening Rev. C. R. Morrow delivered a splendid sermon, basing his remarks on the words found in Acts II, 24. The choir rendered an anthem, "He is not here, but is risen" and a diet "He did not die in vain" was well given by the "ayers" brothers. Next Sunday evening the pulpit will be occupied by Rev. Mr. Fiddis of Burford.

The Epworth League service on Monday night was one of special interest. The program which was arranged by Miss Annie Graham was purely Easter and very much appreciated by all who were privileged to hear it. It consisted of responsive readings, songs by Marion McCann, Hazel Waldron of Brantford, and Pearl Ay. Readings by Misses Maggie MacCall, Addie Norrie, Gladys Woltz and Annie Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wilson spent Good Friday at the home of Mr. Will Summerhays, Richmond.

Mrs. Turvey, with her daughters, Vera and Olive, visited relatives at Woodstock during the holidays.

Mrs. Jerome of Hamilton, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. Wilson, on Monday.

Mr. Frank Wright and family of Hatchley have moved to the farm lately purchased by them from Mr. Will Bottue, Blossom Avenue.

Canadian Machine Telephone Co., Ltd. H. E. ROSE, Manager "Service First"

Count Ferdinand Zeppelin, designer of the airships that bear his name, is expected to come to America next year with one of his famous balloons. Accordingly, Arnold Kuckman, commissioner of aeronautics at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, has sent a cable despatch to the well known aeronaut asking him to accept the office of president. Count Zeppelin, it was said at the office of the exposition, had not been in this country since he fought for it as a soldier in the Union army in the civil war. The noted aeronaut is now seventy-six years old.

erial that effective competition was out of the question.

The Guide adds: "There is reason to hope, however, that the western farmer soon will be independent of the American binder twine trust. The investigation by the Grain Growers' Association and the British manufacturers resulted in an attempt now being made to introduce machinery using flax straw instead of the present material. If this experiment is successful it will mean the establishment of a new industry in the western Canadian provinces, a big saving for the farmer and, besides, let him out of the twine trust's clutches." So far so good! But while struggling to free the farmer from one American combine, the Guide advocates a fiscal policy which would enable two or three score United States trusts to drive competing Canadian industries out of business and then advance the prices of many necessities of life at their own will over the Dominion.

Hon. gentlemen opposite put binder twine on the free list, and killed fifteen factories which mostly employed farmers' capital. There is about one factory left; the price of twine has been higher since those factories were killed than ever before, and, according to the Grain Growers' Guide, a monopoly exists. My panacea would be to put on the duty again, and let the Ontario and other factories as far west as Brandon get back into business. Hon. gentlemen opposite killed binder twine; in the same way they killed barbed wire, and in the same way they propose now to take the industries piecemeal, and kill them one by one. Wherever a head shows up, hit it; if a head is thrust above water, down with it. That is the policy of my hon. friends opposite. If a thing is doing any good, kill it; if it is going to die, let it. In 1878 there were thirty different makes of mowers and reapers made in the province of Ontario; to-day there are three. They have been brought down from thirty to three by the fierce competition at home, which has more than cut the price in two in that time. Yet my hon. friend is not satisfied. I understand that the hon. member for Humboldt (Mr. Neely) is a medical man; if his pills are as valuable and efficient as the implements of Canada, he is a good deal better physician than I took him for. It is easy to denounce a business that has had a success; it is easy to attack, but it is hard to build up. I would advise my hon. friend to bring down a policy of construction rather than of reduction or degradation, as he said, referring to the railway. Let him begin to build up and to mold a policy that is for the whole of Canada. Has he ever heard any of us in the East taking exception whatever to the building of railways; to the construction of

Only the other day the right hon. leader of the Opposition became eloquent in rehearsing a speech which he made in 1903 in which he said: "May Heaven grant that we are not too late in building this great transcontinental railway up by Hudson Bay so that our American cousins cannot get at it, far remote from the boundary, to carry our products over our own territory, every inch, to the eastern seaboard." And yet it was but a short time ago that hon. gentlemen opposite proposed a policy that would have meant the death of the Dominion of Canada, absolute death. Policy for the moment, you say. Policy for the moment is not good enough; we want a policy that is going to live, a policy that is going to get the confidence of the people so that they will invest their money in our enterprise. You can't have railways for to-day, and, before they are quite finished, say: It is good policy to divert all this traffic to the south. What are these railways for? For what have these hundreds of millions of dollars we have squandered on these railways been spent if not to carry the products of the western farmer down over our own ports to our own ports, St. John, Halifax, Quebec and Montreal? That is the policy we presumed hon. gentlemen were going to support; but in a moment of weakness they have gone away to other things and would divert this traffic and send it south of the line and leave these railways to trundle along with empty cars. How in the name of all that is practical could you hope that freight rates would be reduced on roads that cost an enormous amount but from which most of the traffic was afterwards to be diverted to foreign countries? The whole thing is too silly, it is not worthy of the serious attention of commercial men or men who want to build up the Dominion of Canada.

I ask my hon. friends to think over a policy, now that Easter is coming. Easter is at hand, they will have time to spar for wind. Let me advise them to devise a policy. Do not get one that is just for the moment, but get one that you are going to stay by, not only for this session, but for next session. Go to the people and if you can devise a policy that is better than ours we may adopt it; but let it be a policy for more than a moment, because a moment is not long enough to test a policy. My hon. friends opposite have had a good many trade policies in their time that have not lasted very long, and I suppose that unless Heaven gives them more wisdom than they have had in the past we are going to have a repetition of that course. But I do beseech of them as patriotic citizens—and we know they are that—to devise a policy in the Easter holidays and then to stick to it. They are going to do, if they will tell him that they have got something better than he has, as a man of shrewdness and brains, will probably adopt it next time! But I doubt if they will be able to find any flaw in the programme laid down or show how it can be improved upon. I think the junior member for Halifax was well advised in not moving or putting on Hansard those two or three resolutions which he was supposed to have up his sleeve yesterday, but which never came down. I do not think they had been sufficiently thought over, and I hope that the Easter holidays, with the attendant religious services which it is to be hoped my hon. friends will attend, will put them in a better frame of mind to bring down a policy that will command the respect of the people of Canada.

people of Canada from one end of the country to the other, feel that we should do at least a little towards bearing the great burden of our overseas mother. I regret that we have not been able to grapple with that question this session. With the overflowing treasuries of the past few years we could easily have sent that amount where it will be sent in the near future. As a humble Canadian who occasionally goes to the mother country, I feel almost ashamed to step on the wharf at Liverpool while we are doing all the talking and none of the acting—while we are making promises of loyalty, promises of support, and giving everything in the way of encouragement by word but in deeds not a cent. I say I regret that, but I cannot see that the government are responsible for this condition. They probably felt that the Senate would again throw out the measure and, therefore, it was not proposed. I hope that in the near future—I say this in all sincerity—the people of Canada will unite in contributing either men, money or ships, or in some other way help the mother country who has for years been staggering, and is still staggering under an almost more than human load of taxation. We as men are well up. We have a good many of this world's goods and could well afford to pay our share in relieving Britain of this weary load, and I hope that we shall not long continue to occupy our present position. For my part I could wish that $15,000,000 or $20,000,000 of our surplus this year had been put in the estimates in order that we might catch up a little on the payments long over due. I know Mr. Speaker, you wish to call it 5 o'clock and as I have about concluded my remarks I will not weary the House any further.

On motion of Mr. Carroll the debate was adjourned.

people of Canada from one end of the country to the other, feel that we should do at least a little towards bearing the great burden of our overseas mother. I regret that we have not been able to grapple with that question this session. With the overflowing treasuries of the past few years we could easily have sent that amount where it will be sent in the near future. As a humble Canadian who occasionally goes to the mother country, I feel almost ashamed to step on the wharf at Liverpool while we are doing all the talking and none of the acting—while we are making promises of loyalty, promises of support, and giving everything in the way of encouragement by word but in deeds not a cent. I say I regret that, but I cannot see that the government are responsible for this condition. They probably felt that the Senate would again throw out the measure and, therefore, it was not proposed. I hope that in the near future—I say this in all sincerity—the people of Canada will unite in contributing either men, money or ships, or in some other way help the mother country who has for years been staggering, and is still staggering under an almost more than human load of taxation. ### SOME DOUBT OF SCHEPP'S BRIBE

District Attorney Hears Witness Against Becker Received $10,000.

So much information of a doubtful nature has been brought to the attention of District Attorney Whitman lately at the case of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, soon to be placed on trial again as the moving spirit in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, that the public prosecutor scrutinizes every scrap of it with the utmost diligence and sincerity.

Mr. Whitman received word yesterday that Sam Schepps had been paid $10,000 to disappear from the horizon of the new trial so that he would not have to testify against the police officer.

This is interesting news because it is bound to excite public curiosity as to the financial well from whence the handsome bribe was brought to the surface.

But when it is truthfully related that Lieutenant John Becker of the detective branch of the West Thirtieth St. station some months ago pawned a diamond ring he had worn for many a year in order to help pay the legal expenses of his kinsman, there seems to be good reason to take the story of Schepps's opulence with a large grain of salt.

Said to Be in South America. The announcement that Jack Rose's lobbyist, on whom the prosecution depended at the first trial to corroborate Rose, Vallen and Bridgie Weber, had left town, was published a few weeks ago. At that time little credence was placed in the report by District Attorney Whitman and his chief aide in preparing the Becker case for retrial. Assistant District Attorney Groehl. Both treated the story told by Bernard Sandler, counsel for Schepps, as more or less of a joke. Since then, however, secret investigation by the District Attorney has heard that Schepps was paid to leave the country and is now in South America with no desire to return.

While Mr. Whitman is unable to confirm the assertion it has been stated to him that certain officials connected or at one time with the Police Department raised the money to pay the bribe. The names of the persons alleged to be involved have been supplied the District Attorney. According to the information that has come to Mr. Whitman the collectors of and donations to the reported "hush fund" fear Becker's knowledge of their activities when the "system" was waxing rampant on graft tolls.

An Unnecessary Expense. But if $10,000 was turned over to Schepps by those interested in preventing his reappearance on the stand at the second Becker trial the money was practically thrown away. District Attorney Whitman does not intend to call Schepps as a witness.

A new witness has been found to replace the elusive Sammy in the prosecution's scheme of evidence for the next trial. In the interests of justice and to avoid injuring the State's case, it is deemed advisable at present to withhold the name of the new witness and the alleged circumstances to which he will testify.

When Mr. Sandler, counsel for Schepps, was communicated with he said that he had not heard from his client for many weeks and had been told Schepps was in South America. Regarding the report that Sam had been supplied with $10,000 Sandler remarked: "Well, the last time I saw him, just before he disappeared he seemed to be very 'flush,' but offered no explanation as to the source of his wealth."

That an alleged effort was made to bribe Morris Luban, another witness against Becker, with $10,000 was told March 2. The story was revived with additional details.

GIRL KILLED IN WILD AUTO RIDE

Two Men Companions Are Hurt When Car Turns Turtle.

LONG ISLAND, April 17.—One young woman and her companion, two college men seriously injured was the toll of a wild joy ride on Long Island early yesterday.

The fatal accident came at the Long Island Railroad crossing on the Queens Road, near Woodside. The heavy touring car plunged from a temporary wooden bridge and down an embankment, where it turned turtle. The girl was instantly killed, her skull being fractured, while the two men were taken to St. John's Hospital, Long Island City. Where one of them is not expected to survive.

The dead girl was Miss Betty Mack, a pretty 19-year-old cloak model. She lived with Mrs. Clara White at 212 West Ninety-ninth street.

Otto Schneider, owner of the car and a brother of Mrs. Joe Ridder, daughter-in-law of Herman Ridder, is so badly injured that he is expected to die. His spine was hurt and his head badly crushed.

His companion was Charles Richter of 46 Fort Washington avenue. Richter is a graduate of Columbia University. Schneider was graduated last year from Stevens Institute in Hoboken. Schneider lived at the home of the Psi Sigma Kapa fraternity at 550 West 114th street, of which Richter was also a member.

It was said that there was another young woman in the car at the time of the accident. She was said to be Mrs. May Lyons, who is believed to live at Broadway and 157th street. Coroner Vogel went to the hospital in the afternoon and found Richter able to talk. Richter denied that Mrs. Lyons was in the car at the time.

SICK, SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS

"Pape's Diapiesin" Makes Upset Stomachs Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach; which portion of the food did the damage: do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head aches and aches; belch gases and acids; eructate indigestible food; breath foul, tongue coated; just take a little Diapiesin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women to-day know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful; it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

Carries War Into Africa Against Gas

TORONTO, Ont., April 16.—J. E. Titchmarsh, of Hagersville, who has declared war on the Tilbury natural gas is carrying hostilities into Africa.

When his motion for an injunction against J. H. Hager, trading as the Regal Natural Gas Co., and the Village of Hagersville, came up at Osgoode Hall this morning, he not only sought to restrain the company from supplying Hagersville with gas from Tilbury wells, but also from any source whatever.

As Titchmarsh desired to examine officers of the company and representatives of the municipality, he asked for a week's enlargement to get it.

Titchmarsh now asks that the company be prevented from collecting any charge for gas and meter rents. He thinks that it should be derided the right to supply Hagersville with gas whether it comes from Tilbury wells or from Wapole. He argues that the by-law, under which the company holds its franchise, is ultra vires.

Titchmarsh's opinion of the Tilbury gas delivered in Hagersville is not flattering. Its odor is not pleasing, and its effect on silver and brass is bad. Even health suffers, according to Titchmarsh.

"KISSING PASTOR" DENIES CHARGES

However, Another Woman Declares That Preacher Insulted Her.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The Rev. Jacob E. Price, pastor of the Washington Heights Methodist Episcopal Church, who is being tried before the Ecclesiastical Court of the Methodist Conference on charges of improper conduct with women members of his flock, took the stand in his own behalf and denied all allegations against him.

Prior to this the court was thrown into a turmoil of excitement by the appearance of the reserves from the W. Seventeenth street station who were called to prevent Jane East, an I. W. W. agitator, from entering the trial. After "battling" their way through a crowd of several hundred, the police were successful.

Testimony is Sufficient. The Rev. Dr. Frank I. Belcher, who is defending Dr. Price, announced that Dr. Price's story would likely be ample and sufficient to result in his entire vindication.

Mrs. Dohl was one of the first witnesses, and as she emerged from the trial room she told the waiting newspaper men that she had testified that she had not only been insulted by Dr. Price and subjected to great indignities by him, but that an attempt had also been made to intimidate her. Mrs. Dohl declared that a man and a woman, both members of Dr. Price's congregation, had called on her and told her that if she testified against him she might expect to spend her remaining years in weeping and sorrow.

Mrs. Dohl refused to tell the names of the man and woman, but quoted them as saying: "If you never weep in your life before, you will after you say anything against Dr. Price." Other witnesses were William F. Bruce, whose evidence was not admitted, the court ruling that it was hearsay, and Hedley C. Black, an inspector for a fire insurance company, and who was formerly a Sunday school teacher in Dr. Price's church.

Witness Weeps on Stand. Mrs. Lillian Miller of 189 Claremont avenue was also a witness and swore that the charges she had made and which were read to her were all true. As they were being read she cried and blushed deeply in turn.

Replying to the formal statement of the Rev. Ralph Kelles Keeler, assistant editor of the Sunday school publication of the Methodist Church, who was appointed by the Methodist Conference last night to explain to the public the procedure in the trial of Dr. Jacob E. Price, Claude B. Dore, attorney for the complainants, declared this morning that Mr. Keeler disregarded the facts.

The Rev. Mr. Keeler said that the trial yesterday brought forth no testimony such as the stories given, in advance by the aggrieved members of the little band attacking him seem to promise.

"That statement," said Mr. Dore, "is absolutely false. The testimony of Mrs. Leger, Mrs. Dore and myself, who testified of facts known to us of our personal knowledge, supported all the allegations made as far as we were concerned. And these facts certainly show that the pastor has indulged in the disgracefully unministerial conduct of which he is charged."

Man Who Tried chel Just a Hob Against Other Is Questioned.

(By Special Wire to The Cour)

NEW YORK, April 18.—The arraignment to-day on a charge of assault with intent to kill of Michael Mahoney, to whose erring aim a man who tried to shoot him was marked the first move in the prosecution outlined by District Attorney man for the quick trial of the man who was assassinated. On Monday Mr. Mahoney will present the case to the jury and an immediate indictment is expected to be returned, making possible to bring Mahoney before Supreme Court Justice for trial early date.

Mahoney faces a possible sentence of twenty years, but should he be adjudged insane he will be committed to an asylum for the insane.

Frank L. Polk, corporation counsel who was struck in the jaw by the let intended for the mayor spent a restless night and suffered much. The bullet was removed early night and the patient is expected to recover rapidly.

Governor of New York study of aged man, District Attorney Mahoney expressed the opinion that Mahoney was of the "bitter sodden-type of hobo." This sentiment forecasted the probable course of the district attorney; that he not oppose action to have the prisoner adjudged insane.

The temporary assassin by Mahoney caused Police Commissioner Woods to-day to assign a secret vice squad of eight men under the command of a police captain to Mayor Mitchell. The commission has ordered that the mayor be guarded night and day and members of the squad will watch his home, accompany him to and from his home at the city and go with him on about the city and out of town.

Mayor Mitchell, after seeing Mr. Polk was made as comfortable as possible at the New York hospital turned to his office and finished day as customary. Last night he dined at the New York Press Club, where he told the members of that organization that he expected some such happening as that of Mahoney, but that it seem unfair that anyone else should have to take the consequences, a hazard that properly belongs to the mayor.

The mayor went on to say that he did not believe the attack on him due to the concerted action of agitators. He believed confident he said, that "we have not come that point in this city or in this
