"Love in the Wilds"

—OR—
The Romance of a South African Trading Station.

CHAPTER XIX.
ON THE TRAIL OF THE ANTELOPE

Laurence ate in silence, Cecil occasionally lifting his dark eyes, with a half-questioning, half-dreamy gaze, to the handsome, tanned face of his companion.

When dinner was finished Laurence washed the plates—it was not all romance—and put them away; then, lighting his pipe at the embers of the dying fire, sung himself at full length upon the bed of flowers outside the hut.

Cecil dragged the log of wood to the door and, sitting so he could lean back against the hut, watched the wreaths of smoke curling from the fragrant pipe.

A few feet from them the horses were cropping the sweet grass in the shade of the trees.

"Laury," said Cecil, suddenly, "you should always smoke. You look happier with a pipe in your mouth. Why, I wonder?"

Laurence turned and laid his head upon his elbow.

"You are a queer boy, Cecil," he said, with a grave smile. "Why do you watch my face so closely?"

Cecil looked on the ground.

"I don't watch your face Laury," he said. "At least—well, I can't help seeing it if it's right before me, you know. Besides, a cat may look at a king; and you're not a king, you know."

The cattle-runner nodded.

"No," he said. "But I am as free—as yet," he added, suddenly, and with a fringe shadow darkening his brow.

The youth noticed the addendum, but had learned enough of Laury's nature to know that if he wanted to know anything respecting his affairs the way not to learn was to ask point-blank.

So, though he longed to ask him what he meant, he beat round the bush like a woman.

"You seem to value your liberty at a very high price, Laury," he said, putting his hands behind his head and swinging back so that he might fix his eyes upon the thoughtful face in a comfortable attitude.

Laurence nodded.

"Ay," he said, curtly; "at a higher price than you can guess, lad. I lost more than gold for this life of liberty and solitude."

And he swept his hand, with a quiet grace, toward the prairie.

Cecil's brows knit.

"One would think you had been a slave to hear you talk," he said. "a slave, like Trottie and Mat, and the rest of them at the station."

Laurence frowned.

"Ah, Cecil," he said, with a solemn sadness; "I was near being worse than those poor creatures. They were slaves against their will; I was almost consenting to slavery, and worse."

Cecil looked puzzled.

"And you ran away?" he asked.

"Poor Laury!"

"Ay, poor Laury, indeed!" he replied, rising as he spoke, with a strange laugh. "Run away and left the dearest old home man ever had, ever knew; left kith and kin and all one's friends for freedom, Cecil, my boy—for freedom!"

The youth watched him as he shook himself like a huge dog and called to his horse.

"And yet," he said, not moving from his indolent, easy position, "you are nearly losing it again!"

Laurence turned sharply.

"Who says that?" he asked.

"You did—yourself," retorted Cecil, softly. "You said, 'I am as free as a king—as yet.'"

"Did I?" said Laurence, curtly.

"Yes," said Cecil. "What did you mean, Laury? Do tell me."

Laurence paused in what he was doing to the horses and turned to Cecil, resting his arm on the black's neck and speaking almost to himself as he fixed his eyes on the boy's handsome face.

"Cecil, boy, you are inquisitive. A month ago, lad, and I should have given you a sharp answer; but—but—well, Cecil, I can not tell the why or wherefore, but my heart has softened to you—to you only, mind—and I feel as I would rather not feel, for Laurence Harman can hope for no friendship with man or boy while his heart is as heavy as it is. Lad, tell me by what sorcery you have made me like you?"

He broke off with a sudden smile, that was like a flash of sunshine across his face notwithstanding its half-regretful sadness.

Cecil rose and walked to his horse, standing with his face turned away.

"I don't know," he replied, with a hesitating softness "except it is I like you, Laury. You have been kind to me, you know."

Laurence shook his head.

"It isn't that, boy," he said. "I can not discover the secret spell that links me in my heart; but when I am lying in the hut yonder, solitary and silent, and the wolves are howling across the watch-fire, I think of you and wish I had you with me. Cecil, they say, down in the village where I was born, that if kin meets kin unawares the heart will find its own. I am thinking"—and he smiled with a kindly mockery—"I'm thinking we must be kith and kin, or my heart is playing the old dame's proverb false."

Cecil turned his pale face—it had grown pale and moved with strong emotion.

"We are not kith and kin," he said, brokenly. "We are but friends, Laury."

"Ay, that is it," said Laurence, with a sigh, and rousing himself he went and fastened the hut door. "That is it, Cecil, we are friends," and he held out his hand.

It was a strange, remarkable thing for Wild Laury to do, and the youth seemed almost too surprised to grasp it. However, with a slight blush, he took the big, brown hand and tried to squeeze it in his little palm.

Laurence smiled.

"It is long since this hand of mine has pressed another," he said, grimly, and added: "And never such a little one as yours, lad."

Then they rode on, and Laurence, settling himself into his saddle, fell into a deep gloom, his face relaxing into its old sullen and reserve.

MRS. MAY COULD NOT WORK

Made Well and Strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbia, Pa.—"I was very weak and run down and had dragging-down pains and pains in my back. I could not get around to do my work and had to sit down and rest often during the day. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the papers and read the testimonials, so I thought I would try it. Now ever was in my life, and can recommend it to any woman who suffers as I did."

—Mrs. ELIZABETH MAY, R.F.D. No. 1, Columbia, Pa.

The reason Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and the letters which we are constantly publishing from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of this famous root and herb medicine.

dergrowth to it—a matter of hard work and no little time.

However, water he must have, for he feared that Cecil would faint again.

Cecil leaned his head against the tree and closed his eyes. The faintness had gone, but he felt nervous and giddy.

His bright, rosy looks had been, as Laurence had self-accusingly said, deceptive. He was not so strong as he looked, and the excitement of the antelope-chase, added to the long ride, had overcome him.

Still as he sat thus, half dreaming, his brain was going over Laurence's confession word for word.

"We are friends—we should be kith and kin" brought a soft, sweet pleasure to Cecil, a pleasure that sent the color back to the face again and set his heart beating.

"We are friends—poor Laury!" murmured Cecil, and added, with a naive sigh that would have puzzled Laurence had he heard it and seen the accompanying look, "poor Cecil!"

Laurence was gone longer than Cecil had expected him to be, and, feeling better, he was anxious for his return.

The sudden faintness had gone, and he was about to raise his voice to cry out when a sudden rustling in the bushes behind him struck him dumb and brought him sharp round.

What he saw there turned his heart to stone and his face to the color of marble: two great, blazing eyes were fixed on his with a blood-thirsty ferocity.

For a second—that seemed an age—Cecil stood glued to the spot, staring at the fearful spots of fire.

Then, as the heart seemed to beat again, he opened his lips and, uttering one piercing cry, turned and fled.

The next moment the animal sprang from the bushes with an answering growl, and would have been upon the lad's back; but at that instant Laurence sprang from the brush at the side and received the brute full upon his chest.

Man and beast went down like lead, and then ensued a struggle for life.

Laurence had drawn his bow knife as the shriek had pierced his ear.

The panther, however, had got his arm down and was clawing at his bare breast.

With the blood streaming from his forehead, which the brute had scraped, and half blinding him, Laurence fought madly to get the arm released, and at last managed to swing the long, shining blade and drive it up to the hilt in the throat of the animal.

With one last growl it shook its spotted head and fell ever dead!

Laurence crawled to his feet, wiped the blood from his face, and called faintly for Cecil.

No answer came, and, struck to the heart with the chill of a fearful dread that the panther had perhaps attacked the youth before he sprang forward, and calling and shouting, he beat the bush like a madman.

Then he heard a frightened moan, and, springing to the spot whence it proceeded, saw the girlish figure of the youth crouching at the foot of a tree.

Laurence knelt down and called his my name, still wiping the blood from his face; but the lad seemed half senseless with fright.

Turkish Nationalists Become Aggressive.

Bulgarians Lending Officers--Conflict With British Expected--Bolsheviks and Poles in Deadly Combat--Village in New Brunswick, Town in Nova Scotia Destroyed by Fire -- Huge Serpent Crushes Girl to Death.

CLASH BETWEEN BRITISH AND TURKS IMMINENT.

LONDON, May 29. Disquieting news on the Turkish situation has been received in London according to the Daily Mail, which believes a clash between British troops and Mustafa Kemal's Nationalist forces is imminent. The latter, the newspaper says, are masters of the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles and the Sea of Marmora, except for a few places which are held by the British.

THE TURKISH SITUATION.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 29. (By A.P.)—The Nationalists have subdued virtually all the territory surrounding Imdid, on the eastern side of the Sea of Marmora. They are at the very edge of the town which is being held by the British. The Turkish cruiser Sultan Yamuz, formerly the German cruiser Goeben, has left Imdid for Constantinople. Suleman Sherif Pasha, lately commander-in-chief of anti-Nationalist forces, is reported to have deserted and gone to Angora, the headquarters of the Nationalist movement with a large sum of money. Col. Tayer, Turkish commander at Adrianople, has issued an order from Adrianople saying the Bulgarians are supplying the Turks with badly needed officers in Thrace and that for each Turk killed he will slay ten Greeks.

FIERCE FIGHTING ON POLISH FRONT.

WARSAW, May 29. Russian Bolshevik reinforcements are being brought up everywhere in the offensive against the Poles, which is increasing in violence along the Northern sectors of the front, says the official statement issued at headquarters here to-day. Fierce combats are raging from the Drina River on the North to the Pripet River on the South, a distance of approximately 200 miles, and the Soviet armies are launching attack after attack. Prisoners captured by the Poles on the Berestna River, the statement says, include four hundred Cossacks cut off from the rest of the Bolshevik armies in the drive.

BOLSHEVIK OFFICIAL.

LONDON, May 29. Furious fighting is in progress on the left bank of the Dnieper River, where the Bolsheviks are attempting to dislodge the Poles from their fortified positions, according to an official statement sent out by the Soviet Government at Moscow on Friday. The Poles are offering stubborn resistance, the statement says, first one side and then the other is holding first line positions. In Tarashtcha region, sixty miles south of Kiev, our troops overcoming the enemy's resistance, captured Tarashtcha, with a number of villages some twenty-seven miles distant from Tarashtcha, the statement adds.

WILL RESUME TRADE RELATIONS IF—

PARIS, May 29. Resumption of trade relations between Great Britain and Soviet Russia is favored by members of the British Ministry, provided guarantees of payment are given, says a London despatch to the Petit Parisien, reporting yesterday's conference between Premier Lloyd George and the members of his Cabinet yesterday. It is said the Cabinet approved of the projects which Mr. Lloyd George proposes to discuss with Gregory Krassin, Bolshevik Minister for Trade and Commerce, who is now in London.

NEW BRUNSWICK VILLAGE WIPED OUT.

ST. JOHN, N.B., May 29. The little village of St. Quentin, in Restigouche County, N.B., on the line of the C.N.R., about forty miles from St. Leonard's, was almost entirely wiped out Saturday, as a result of forest fires which have been raging on crown lands in Restigouche during the last ten days. St. Quentin was a thriving village of about two thousand people and was a centre for the lumber and pulp operations. The fire, which resulted in monetary loss variously estimated from $750,000 to a $1,000,000, first started in the mill yard of J. E. Michaud, catching from burning embers carried by the winds from the forest blaze. Before it had spent its course sixty-five dwellings, three mills, two hotels, the C. N. R. Station, Provincial Bank and many business places were wiped out. About one thousand or half the population, were rendered homeless and saved none of their personal property except what they had on their backs. Relief trains were sent out from St. Leonard's and Capbellton Saturday to convey the homeless to a large centre where they could be cared for. Fortunately no lives were lost or serious accidents reported from the affair. Besides destruction to homes and business places, much manufactured lumber, thousands of cords of pulp wood and thousands of railroad ties at nearby sidings awaiting shipment were burned. Seven carloads of lumber on the track were consumed. The forest fires in this section are thought to be under control, but should they again be fanned into activity, it is feared many other settlements along the twenty miles front where the forest fires have been in swing, will suffer a fate similar to that of St. Quentin.

BIG FIRE AT LONDONDERRY, N.S.

HALIFAX, May 29. The town of Londonderry Mines, 13 miles from Truro, was partially destroyed by fire to-day. Four churches, schoolhouse, hall and about twenty dwellings were burned. The fire started by a spark from one of the houses. The fire swept the main street of the town consuming in a short time the Anglican, Presbyterian and Roman Catholic Churches and Globe House, St. Bridget's Hall, school building and houses. It crossed the narrow river that runs through the village and destroyed the Baptist Church there and several dwellings. In all forty-seven buildings were burned and forty families are homeless. The loss is estimated at three hundred thousand with small insurance.

D'ANNUNZIO AGAIN ACTIVE.

PARIS, May 29. The troops of D'Annunzio which were reported yesterday as having occupied the village of Cavallaja and threatening to seize Cussak, in the Fiume region, are continuing to advance from Fiume, according to information received by the foreign office from Belgrade this morning. The despatch says the Jugo Slavs are preparing military measures to resist D'Annunzio.

TEARING UP RAILWAY LINES NOW

LIMERICK, Ireland, May 29. Ralls have been torn up at Kilmallock, Charlesville and other places, seriously interrupting the train services between Limerick and points on the great southwestern railway lines. South of Limerick Junction railway traffic has been completely disorganized.

HITTING FRENCH.

LONDONDERRY, Ireland, May 29. By nineteen votes to sixteen the corporation yesterday decided to remove from the roll of the city's freemen the name of Viscount French, Lord Lieut. of Ireland. The Unionists challenged the legality of the proposal.

TO SIGN PEACE TREATY.

BUDAPEST, May 29. Count Paul Taley, minister of foreign affairs, will leave Budapest tomorrow for Paris to sign the Peace Treaty.

FRENCH BELIEVE STRAIN TOWN.

LONDON, May 29. A French column fought its way into Aintab, Syria, and after heavy fighting succeeded in relieving the town, it was officially announced to-day. The Turks suffered heavy casualties.

PREMIERS WILL MEET AGAIN.

LONDON, May 30. Gregory Krassin, Russian Soviet Minister of Trade and Commerce, will likely have a conference with Premiers of Great Britain, France and Italy, according to the Star to-day. France and Italy, the newspaper says, have intimated that they would like to be consulted before Premier Lloyd George confers with Krassin, and it is probable Premiers Millerand and Nitti will be invited to come to London to hear what proposals Krassin brings.

NO GOOD FOR ARMENIA.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 30. The seven day armistice between Republics of Georgia and Anebarbajan was broken four days after it had gone into effect, according to a message from Tiflis. The entire situation in the Caucasus has become so "Oriental" complex that even the sharpest of western minds here seem unable to comprehend it. Foreign observers in Georgia and Armenia, however, offer no hope that good for Armenia is coming out of it.

DIDN'T DISCUSS IRELAND.

ROME, May 30. Arthur J. Balfour did not in any way allude to the Irish question during his recent private audience with Pope Benedict as some reports had declared, according to a semi-official Vatican communication which says, "It was marked by the greatest cordiality but was not of a political character. Besides England has diplomatic representatives to the Holy See and is using this channel which is the normal one in dealing with all questions in which the Holy See may be interested."

A GRUESOME TRAGEDY.

GENEVA, May 30. Applause from a large audience resounded in a little theatre at Serbruck, near here, on Thursday, while a gigantic Python slowly crushed its trainer to death. The trainer, a Hungarian girl, whose name was Ciro, realized her position and shrieked for help as the coils of the serpent closed about her, but the audience believed her cries were part of the entertainment and cheered loudly. Fraulien, Ciro's manager rushed on the stage and shot the snake but not until the young woman was beyond help. It was not until after the performance was over that the people was apprised of the fact that they had witnessed a gruesome tragedy.

BULGARS FIRE ON GREEKS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 30. Greek troops advancing on Dedeagatch, on the Aegean, are reported to have been fired upon yesterday by Bulgarian artillery near Akchilar. A few shots only were exchanged, reports indicated. The Greeks have not yet entered Turkish Thrace and it is not expected here they will do so until a decision has been reached as to whether the Turks will sign the Peace Treaty. The French have floated a French flag over all the railway stations in Bulgarian and Turkish Thrace and have announced that they will continue to operate the railways.

GAS EXPLOSION, ONE BURNED.

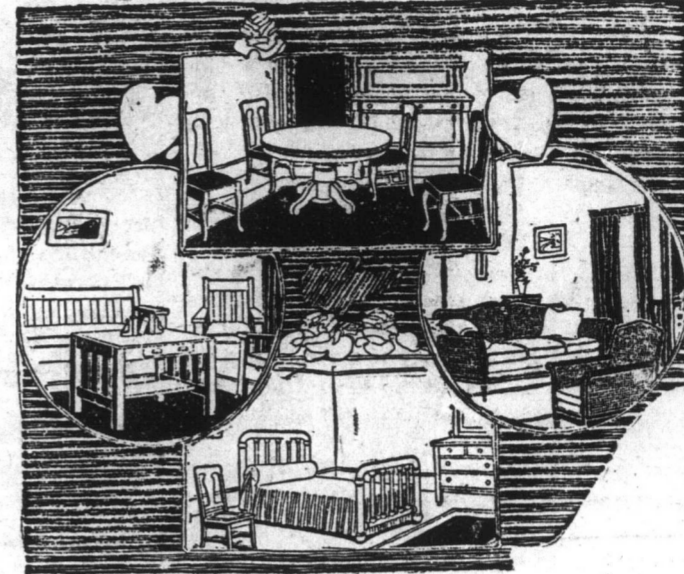

PORTLAND, Maine, May 30. One man was burned and buildings on the water front were shaken by an explosion on the gasoline launch North, of the United States Engineering Corps. The explosion was believed to have been caused by an accumulation of gas under deck.

the small River Lud running through this town which is attributed to a cloudburst in the woods nearby on Saturday night. The water spread so rapidly that houses lying in the low parts of the town were immediately engulfed in the rush which carried away bridges, fences, trees and other obstacles.

CONFERENCE POSTPONED.

ROME, May 29. England and France have agreed upon the request of Premier Nitti to postpone the Allied-German conference at Spa from June 21, to July 15, according to the Tribuna. This will allow the Italian Premier to participate in Parliamentary work here for almost a month longer than otherwise have been possible. For the same reason, the newspaper says, the Financial Convention at Brussels will also be postponed.

A King of Italy as a Zouave Corporal.

The Franco-Italian alliance is not a thing of yesterday, for in 1859 the two nations were allied against Austria, who then held Lombardy and Venetia, and at Palestro, on May 30, the Piedmontese and the 3rd Zouaves fought side by side. So gallantly did the latter behave, that Victor Emmanuel (first King of Italy), wrote to compliment Colonel de Chabron on the bravery of his regiment. This message was communicated to the men, and some of the men, and some of the bearded veterans of Algeria and the Crimea organized an informal meeting, at which Victor Emmanuel was voted the rank of "Honorary Corporal" of the regiment. A deputation of non-coms. was nominated to offer His Majesty his "stripes"—it was thirsty weather, they thought, and a King could not do less than perform the usual act of recognition to his comrades on such an occasion. The officers of the regiment found out what was going on, and some endeavoured to subdue their subordinates' enthusiasm, but Victor Emmanuel, a bluff, hearty soldier, was immensely pleased and touched by this evidently sincere compliment, and repelled by placing the Sardinian Medal of Military Valour on the colours of the regiment, and presenting the mess with his portrait, which is still among the regimental treasures. This anecdote was much quoted in France, while Italy was hesitating to join the Allies in the present war. When she had decided to do so, the Colonel of a French Zouave regiment wrote to the present King of Italy, saying that the regiment would be proud to bestow upon him the rank held by his illustrious ancestor in the last war in which French and Italians fought side by side.

WARSHIPS FOR IRELAND.
LONDON, May 30.
The National News says "The position in Ireland, we understand, is so grave that a number of warships are now being fitted out in sheerness for despatch to Irish ports. The situation is more serious than would appear from published telegrams, and startling developments are expected in a few days. In the present temper of the Sinn Feiners it is not unlikely they will make a last effort against the forces of law and order."

PREPARING MILITARY COUP.
BERLIN, May 30.
A newspaper of Frankfort-on-Oder learns that the military party there is organizing an anti-Republican Coup for June 5 or 6, when it is intended to prevent the elections. The action has been carefully prepared, according to the paper, and will be carried out under the leadership of four Generals. Twenty three hundred officers, in the uniform of private soldiers, have been fully equipped as the Frankfort assault detachment. The capture of Berlin will be conducted from Pomerania, with Greifswald as the base of operations. It is hoped to prevent a repetition of the general strike by arresting the most important Labor leaders. Hanover will be the center for the Coup in Central Germany.

The waiter looked intently out of the window, pretending he hadn't heard. The diner had already complained of his chops and his potatoes and his napkin, and Alphonse had had about enough of him.
"Waiter!"
Reluctantly Alphonse moved over. "Just look at the color of this water, waiter," growled the diner. "It's not fit to drink!"
Critically the waiter raised the glass to the light and examined it. Then, triumphantly, he put it down again. "No, sir; you're deceiving yourself, sir," he said kindly. "That water's perfectly all right, sir. It's the glass what's dirty!"

The Wind She Blew.

(From The Orillia Packet.)
President Wilson's effusion about how the naval war should have been won recalls a recent opinion we know of. On a train lately coming from Chicago an Orillian was somewhat fretted by a sharp-voiced American, who was holding forth in loud tones on the topic of "We won the war." "It didn't take us long, when we got into it, to finish the job." "Their boasted Lloyd George could not even draw up the terms of peace, when we had won the day for them, and had to send for our President to help him out," and so on, with tiresome iteration. But nobody contradicted, or offered any comment, until the Canadian border was reached. By that time a fierce storm was raging. "Oh, dear!" exclaimed the American, "one of those awful Canadian blizzards. Does the wind always blow in this country?"
"Yes, sir," blandly answered the Canadian. "In this country the people keep quiet and let the wind do all the blowing."

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

THE WOMAN WHO DOESN'T UNDERSTAND

The man who thinks he could do the work of the house and look after three or four children without finding it at all a difficult task is a very common type.

The converse type is not quite so common, but it does exist, and most of us have met some examples thereof. I refer to the woman who thinks that she could do much better than her husband if she were in his place.

We will say that her husband has worked up to an office position that pays him in two thousand a year. In two thousand a year in these days does not go very far with three children, and she feels perfectly sure that if her husband would only try a little harder he could make more money.

She thinks she could make more money.

If she were in his place, she thinks, she would be able to find a way. When she was a stenographer before she married, she had her salary raised every year, just think where she is now if she had kept on. She doesn't take into consideration the fact that she married just when she reached the top salary that her husband gave to stenographers and that she raises beyond that would have had to be fought for just as her husband has to fight for his advances.

She doesn't take into account that her husband has not the freedom to ask himself he would have had if he had not given three hostages to fortune. She does not have any real idea of the tremendous competition there is for positions bringing in more than two thousand in the world of men and business.

What Man Gave Her a False Idea of Values.

Here is another case. I heard a man speak rather contemptuously of the ability of a man who was making about three thousand a year in an architect's office. In intimate conversation that meant considerable ability to get so far. "Why," he said, "you know I have quite a plan for planning houses and when I look my plans for our house to the architect he was sure I could make five thousand a year easily."

Now the man who handed out what was probably a skillful piece of flattery to his client has given that woman a false idea of values for life.

She could make four thousand without any training, she thinks, and doubtless with a little training she could make eight or ten, therefore a man who cannot make that much must be stupid.

I do not mean to infer that this woman may not have the ability, but success would mean long, slow training and a toilsome beginning for her, just as it does for men. And I feel sure she would have quite a different idea of what three thousand a year means before she made it, than she has now.

Just as men seldom realize the monotony and endless drudgery involved in housework, so women seldom realize the intensity of the economic struggle. I suppose it will always be so unless they take to swapping jobs in earnest.

Hawker's Under-carriage May Go in Museum.

The undercarriage—an axle and wheels—of the Sopwith aeroplane which, flown by Harry G. Hawker, pilot, and Lieut.-Com. MacKenzie Grieve, R.N., navigator, was the first to attempt the non-stop Trans-Atlantic flight, is now in the possession of Messrs. Baine Johnston & Co. The undercarriage, which was released from the Sopwith Biplane when he was out past the Blockhouse, to lessen the weight of the machine, drifted down the coast and was picked up by a fisherman and Baine Johnston & Co.'s agent at Presque purchased it from him. It is probable that the present holders will put it in the Newfoundland Museum, where, with the tractor of the Vickers-Vimy Biplane, the successful machine, it will prove, in years to come, a very valuable souvenir of the great Trans-Atlantic Flight.

THE LESSON.

I saw him switching railroad cars, the chief, in raiment spick and span, returning, after years of ease, unto the place where he began, waving his hand to start or stop, walking on top of moving loads, being a switchman for the time to break the tie-up of the roads.

A month ago behind his desk he sat and ordered men about, his was the guiding hand and his the mind which settled every doubt, and those who did his bidding then remembered not or never knew that that which he commanded them, time was he also used to do.

I saw him switching railroad cars, the chief in raiment, spick and span, here is a lesson then, thought I, that should be good for every man—when all these differences heal, and each returns unto his place, workmen and chief should closer be and meet each other face to face.

This strike shall not have been in vain, if only men shall understand that he who is the chief can do those things which he must now command, and knowing how to toil and all the cares which those who work must face, he who is chief must stand at times back in the other fellow's place.

Back to Palestine.

The decision of the San Remo conference to restore Palestine to the Jews, under the protection of Britain brings to pass an event for which not only the Jews, but also practically all evangelical Christians have been hoping and patiently waiting. There may have been differences of opinion as to how this great event was to come about, but those who believed the prophetic Scriptures of the Old and the New Testaments were unanimous in the belief that in some way the Jews would be gathered from the four corners of the earth and that their ancient national home would be re-established. We are living in one of the most wonderful periods of the world's history. Great events of far-reaching significance to millions of people are transpiring before our eyes and greater things are to come. As Rabbi Herman Abramowitz said, in his address to four thousand Jews in Massey Hall, Toronto, on May 9th:

"The Jew of history is standing on the eve of great events, and when I look forward to the future of Palestine I can say 'I hear the tramp of coming millions.' Methinks I see again Jerusalem, the city set upon a hill, becoming what it once was the joy of the whole earth. Standing on this land who knows that we may not again lift the world as we did before, and the Jewish people become a blessing not to themselves alone, but to the whole world."

The restoration of the Jews to their own land should help to re-establish confidence in the prophetic Scriptures. The very existence and history of the Jewish race should put all Agnostics and Atheists to confusion. How much more the fulfilment of a definite promise for which Jews and Christians alike have waited for thousands of years. The San Remo decision will stir the whole earth. The great demonstration of the 35,000 Jews in Toronto, and similar demonstrations all over the world will be the occasion of a wave of sentiment that will pass over the earth and do it good. In spite of all that so-called practical people may say, sentiment is one of the most vital and far-reaching factors in the affairs of humanity.

"The organization of the Jewish homeland will only mean the adding of another star to that flag on which the sun never sets," was another statement that evoked great applause at the large meeting. Some folks may not be pleased with this, but it is only natural that Jews all over the world should rejoice to see their native land passing under the protection of the Union Jack. When Jews were persecuted and murdered in other countries they sought refuge and protection in the British Empire. The British flag is probably the only flag in the world that is not stained with Jewish blood. If they have learned the British principles of liberty and justice and take these back with them to Palestine the Jewish race may yet be also a blessing to the whole earth. The new Jewish nation will be watched closely and the next great event on the prophetic programme will be awaited with interest. Even common sense should lead us to believe that God must have some great mission for the Jews or He would not have preserved the race as He did.—The Sentinel.

For sale by all Druggists and first-class Grocers.

I'm wearing my old raiment, the duds of bygone years, and so I make no payment to clothing profiteers. I've pawned my old tin Lizzie, that up costly gas, and now on foot I'm busy—you've doubtless seen me pass. In spite of advertising that profiteers receive, the prices keep on rising, and make the victims grope. In spite of threats of trouble that in the prints appear, the sharpers try to double the profits of last year. If we depend on statesmen to make the robbers bleed, or on official skatesmen, ours is a broken reed. We'll see the robbers flying, defeated, o'er the plain, if we will cut out buying the needless things and vain. So long as we are spending like drunken men and daff, there cannot be an ending to carnivals of graft. The graft's beyond all pardon, it's worse than a disease; but I have got a garden that's full of beans and peas. I'm buying dark brown liver, instead of sirloins fine; and so I shed no river of tears from eyes of mine.

The King's Birthday.

On Thursday, of this week, the whole British Empire will celebrate the fifty-fifth anniversary of the birthday of our most gracious Sovereign, King George V., and in the commemoration of the day of His Majesty's nativity, the hundreds of millions of loving subjects, living under the shelter and protection of the Imperial throne, will unite in doing honor to him into whose hands the sceptre of authority has been committed. All peoples and all tongues over whom the Union Jack flies, will be at one in congratulating their King and Emperor upon his natal day, and more especially now that peace has been proclaimed as well as signed, and the strain of war is no longer a burden upon the Empire. Last year at this time the Peace Treaty had not received the signatures of the plenipotentiaries, and the natal day of the King was, in consequence observed very quietly. But this year free expression can be given to our rejoicing and our loyalty because of our freedom from the incubus of war. The lead in such rejoicings is usually taken by the Governors of the Dominions, and in this connection His Excellency the Governor of Newfoundland is doing his utmost to make the day one of unusual interest to old and young alike, and he desires that on Thursday, the event for which the day is set apart by public proclamation will be observed in a practical and fitting manner. His Majesty has expressed a wish that no unnecessary expense be incurred in celebrating his birthday. Simple ceremonies, displays of school children, the significance of the occasion, together with the expressions of devotion of loyal hearts and sentiments in keeping with the love we bear toward our Sovereign, and the duty we owe the Empire, these will be found to be adequate and ample and our participation in them will prove that our patriotism is not of a shallow, ostentatious nature, but deep and abiding.

In honoring and celebrating with fitting and becoming festivities the birthday of our King, we do honor to that Empire of which we are a part. Far flung, its ramifications extend over the whole globe and it is a proud boast—a true one—that the sun never sets on Britain's possessions; never goes down on the flag. Always, somewhere the orb of day sheds his rays on the triple-crossed banner of the Empire. "The British Commonwealth of Nations" is no imaginary title or poetic fiction. It is a fact. It exists. Its flag is the symbol of Liberty and Representative Government, "by the people, for the people and of the people." And the Sovereign head of the British Commonwealth of Nations, stands as the hereditary representative of that which is noblest and best in this vast gathering together of races and creeds under one sceptre, unified by a common devotion to the ideals for which Britain stands, and of which she was the progenitrix. The history of the British race amongst other peoples, may have been said to commence with the landing of William the Conqueror on English soil, in 1066, and his subsequent victory over King Harold at the Battle of Hastings. From that time onward the individuality of England became enlarged, because instead of the Norman Conquerors imposing their manners, customs and language on the English, they became absorbed by a national process, and afterwards became more English than the English themselves. They left their trace on the Britons, but no more. For six hundred years by gradual steps and feats of arms Britain won a place of renown amidst the nations of Europe. From the 17th century onwards, she became the chief maritime nation, and won the places now occupied in both hemispheres. She adventured far and her pioneers suffered great privation and hardship. But they succeeded. And now no longer is Britain as in Shakespeare's day "a little rocky island set like a jewel in the sea," but an Empire or a Commonwealth of Nations such as never was before. And on Thursday we celebrate the birthday of him who by the Grace of God and the consent of his people rules justly, righteously and equitably over the myriads of men and women who hail him as Rex-Imperator.

"Hail! to the Crown by freedom shaped to gird
An English Sovereign's brow! And to the throne
Whereon he sits. Whose deep foundations lie
In veneration and the people's love.
Whose steps are equity, whose seal is law."
"In our halls is hung Armour of the invincible knights of old."
We must be free or die, who spake the tongue
That Shakespeare spake: the faith and morals hold
Which Milton held. In everything we are sprung
Of earth's first blood, have titles manifold."

Fire in Garage.

Yesterday afternoon a slight fire occurred in the garage owned by Mr. J. Bagge, junction of LeMerchant Road and Prince of Wales Street. An alarm brought the Central and West End Companies to the scene but their services were not required as the owner of the place quenched the blaze with a few buckets of water.

Woman Suffrage.

We ask established equality of voting rights as between men and women on the statute; that if a woman fulfil the same qualifications laid down by law for men, she shall have the same rights to the Parliamentary vote, and to include women in the forthcoming Franchise Bill, so that they may come upon the Register in time to take their proper place in the next General Election, and may no longer be branded as outlaws in their own land.
Pictures are sometimes painted of the awful state of things that would follow Woman Suffrage. Whatever that state might be, it could not be worse than what we are undergoing at present. Men have had a pretty free hand in Europe for three hundred years. Look at it now! Our handiwork is but a sorry argument for refusing a place in politics to women. If domestic economy, the historic sphere of women, was in the same plight as political economy, we men would insist on our sex being cooks and housekeepers. Any experienced social worker will readily admit that in almost every department of social work there is room and need for women.

Forest Fire in Keough's Valley.

The forest fire which was raging on Saturday near Keough's Valley, Keough Road, was put out after a hard fight. Sergeant Savage with a constable went to the scene early in the day and seeing the danger assembled the residents and started to beat out the fire. In the meantime Hon. Dr. Campbell, with Inspector General Hutchings arrived on the scene with a number of buckets and axes. Fanned by a good westerly breeze it looked for a while like as if the whole neighborhood would be wiped out. Many of the residents began packing their belongings prepared to flee. However, a lull in the wind, and fortunate fire breaks enabled those assembled to put out what might have been a serious affair for the eastern section of the suburbs.

S. O. E. Attend Divine Service.

Yesterday the Sons of England Benefit Society, under the auspices of Lodge Dudley, No. 227, held a parade and attended Divine Service at the Queen's Road Congregational Church. Rev. Dr. Pedley gave an inspiring address on "Freedom." After return to the hall, votes of thanks were passed to the officiating clergyman, choir and officials of the church. The service was heartily enjoyed by all present, the singing being of an exceptionally high order, with Bro. R. W. Spry presiding at the organ, hymns and chants being appropriate to the occasion. The sermon by Dr. Pedley was most inspiring, the text being from the 10th Chapter of the Gospel according to St. John, 44th verse, "Loose him and let him go." The service was brought to a close by the singing of "God bless our native land" and the National Anthem.

Missing Child Not Found.

The police who went to Portugal Cove on Saturday to search for the missing child Miller, were unsuccessful in finding any trace of the body. A number of trained setter dogs were used, and though every conceivable place that a 2 1/2 year-old child could wander to was scoured nothing resulted. Many rumors were spread during Sunday that the child had been killed by a motor car or had been kidnapped, but as far as can be learned these rumors are groundless. Some 200 people, resident of the district, turned out Sunday but the result of their efforts was futile.

It was announced that a private member had donated a bronze Memorial Tablet, to contain the names of the 230 odd old St. Bon's boys who had fallen in the Great War, which would be placed in the Hall. The Memorial will cost $300.

Does Another Fire Threaten St. John's?

Startling Statement Made by an Authority Now in Town.

That the city of St. John's is threatened with another conflagration like that of '92 is the startling statement made by an eminent authority now in the city. This gentleman, who wishes to remain unknown in the matter, has been in the city for a few days, and stated his conviction to a Telegram reporter this morning.
"The town is like tinder wood," he said gravely, "and if a fire of any size should break out, I fear for the result. The dry weather of the last week has brought about this condition," he continued, "and with each additional day of drought the danger grows."
Referring to the Fire Companies, which he admitted to be in a fine state of efficiency, he said that they would be little more than useless in an emergency of the kind that he had in mind.
"The one thing advisable," he said, "would be to make a 'break', by which I mean cut down houses and clear a space. If this break were wide enough it is just possible that the progress of the conflagration would be checked, but even then the fact of flankers flying and setting afire other houses would have to be faced."
The concluding words of this authority, who comes from a city whose fire protection is the best in the world, are very important:
"For the sake of the city," said he "every citizen should, in the days to follow, exercise the most scrupulous care. Even a lighted match thrown on the street, igniting some rubbish, could set the place in a blaze, and, well—the town is built of wood, you know!"

Ordination Service.

The Ordination Service held yesterday by the Lord Bishop of Newfoundland in the Cathedral was largely attended by a devout congregation. The following priests occupied seats in the chancel: Rev. Canons Jeeves, Bolt, Field, Smart, Rev. J. T. Hiscock, W. J. Lockyer, Dr. N. S. Facey, and J. Brington, the latter being chaplain. The Rev. John Howard Marks, L. Th. of Durham University was ordained priest and Mr. Ralph Fowlow, a graduate of King's College, Windsor, N.S., was admitted to the Diaconate. The pulpit was occupied by the Rev. N. S. Facey, LL.D., and principal of Queen's College, who delivered an impressive discourse on the vision and call of Isaiah "Here am I send me" VI. Chapter, 8 Verse. The music and singing of the choir was all that could be desired and reflected credit upon those who had charge of the musical arrangements. The service began at eleven o'clock and terminated at one twenty. The ordination was followed by a Choral Eucharist.

Vaticanal Appointment.

VERY REV. J. V. DONNELLY HONORED.
The announcement has been made from Rome that His Holiness the Pope has raised to the rank of Domestic Prelate the Very Rev. J. V. Donnelly, P.P., Conception Harbor. The conferring of this honor comes with singular appropriateness for, during the year, Father Donnelly will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. During the ad limina visit of His Lordship, Bishop March, to Rome during the Spring, Father Donnelly administered the affairs of the St. Grace Diocese. His many friends wish that the Rev. Pastor may long enjoy the deserving honor conferred on him.

Presentation.

Last evening, in the C. of E. Cathedral Vestry, immediately after Evensong, the senior members of the choir presented Mr. A. Stafford, the retiring organist and choirmaster, with a handsome set of gold cuff links engraved with his initials. The presentation was made by Mr. S. Will Cornick who, in a very able manner, expressed the regret of the members of the choir at Mr. Stafford's retirement. Mr. Stafford, in replying, thanked the choir for their gift and spoke of the good fellowship and loyalty shown to him during his three years of office and hoped that his successor, Mr. F. J. King, would receive the same loyal support as he had.

Forty-One Years in the Public Service—the Evening Telegram.

Doings at Trinity.

The daily doings at Trinity are not—at this time of year—of sufficient importance or variety in themselves to entitle them to publication. There are, however, so many of our people living at St. John's and other places, and they are still so deeply interested in everything that goes on in Trinity, and so much pleased when they can read of it in the local press, that one is tempted to publish those doings more frequently than otherwise one would feel disposed to do.

Empire Day was observed this year in a few ways beyond the usual. The teachers and children of the three day schools assembled at St. Paul's School grounds at 10 o'clock and after being addressed by the clergy, marched with flags and cheers around the town, and then dispersed to enjoy the finest day of the season, in various ways. There were several picnic and trout parties, and some of the shops closed during the afternoon. In the evening a children's concert-entertainment was held in the Parish Hall. This was given by the pupils of Mrs. Forster's music class, together with a few of their young friends. Mrs. Forster gave generously and unselfishly of her time and talents towards the training of the children and she received in return for it, the unanimous thanks and the assurance of pleasure and enjoyment from an audience that filled the hall, plus $38 for a public object. It was in every respect one of the best entertainments that have been given to the public within the last few years.

Two of the oldest buildings in town, after several recent years of disuse, have been sold, and are now being taken down and cway, and the sound material is to be used in the erection of other buildings. One of those old buildings was that known to the people of the last century as "Spence's house on the Nudick." It was a large old-fashioned building, which for many years was the only hotel in Trinity. During the life time of old Mrs. Spence, and for years after, under the management of Miss Joanna Spence, it provided the travelling public with everything that had to do with the best comforts of home life. Rev. Benjamin Smith and Mrs. Smith—of sacred memory—had rooms there for years, and the Judges and other members of the annual Northern Circuit Court, regarded it as theirs by right and privilege during their stay in Trinity. The frame and other material of its construction—as sound as it was when first placed there—are of such generous proportions as we shall never see again. It will be used for more prosaic service and a pile of broken rubbish is all that is left to remind us of departed glory. Sic transit.

A long, low building down by the water side, not far from the Hotel site, was removed years ago. At the time of its removal it was the only building left of a group of stores that were used as a business premises over a hundred years ago. Its timbers now form parts of several buildings elsewhere, and if they would talk they could tell of plots that were hatched in its upper room, by men who in those days held human life pretty cheap. One of those plots fortunately was nipped in the bud, and instead of ending in a tragedy, it resulted in the disappearance of the plotters from Trinity, and thus ridding the place of a number of men who were no credit to it, or to any cause they professed to represent. Some ten years ago in a fishing parish of Nova Scotia, I met three men who surprised me by telling me that they had heard their grandfathers talk about a place called Trinity, in Newfoundland; and as they talked, my thoughts went back to that upper room in that store by the water side, and to the averted tragedy that I had often heard my grandfather tell about. They were, however, respectable citizens of a respected community, and in no way responsible for their grandfathers' doings, so "I held my tongue and spake nothing," realizing once again that the world is a small one after all.

The other old building now being removed is the store on the east side of the South West Arm. It was known as "Britt's Store," and long years ago it formed a part of an active business centre. It is referred to several times in William Kelson's letters to headquarters in Poole, and although there is nothing to indicate for certain the date of its erection, it is understood that it was repaired one hundred years ago. The length and width of the boards in this building, with their chip-lapped edges, together with the careful mortising and dove-tailing of the frame are revelations to us in these days of scant material and happy-go-lucky joinings. There is enough material in the building to rebuild two of its size now-a-days, and it will be used for this purpose by Mr. Christian, who has bought it.

Mr. Buggen of Petley, spent the week end at Trinity in his official capacity as School Inspector.

Rev. Canon Lockyer spent Trinity Sunday in St. John's and took part in the Ordination Service at the Cathedral on that day, at which Rev. John Marks was ordained to the priesthood, and Mr. Ralph Fowlow of Trinity East, was ordained a deacon.

Some fine hauls of fish have been secured by the trap men at Trouty and Dunfield.

Mr. Edwin Grant has returned from a business trip to New York. He is now getting ready for his summer's work at Blanc Sablon.

The public wharf being out of commission, the "Prospero" anchored in the Harbor, and will have to do the same probably all the summer. This will mean an unusual inconvenience to the travelling and business public.

We were pleased to see Capt. John Field again in charge of the "Prospero." The public have every confidence in him in his responsible position.

The many friends of Mrs. Jenkins of Garland Hotel, will be sorry to hear of her continued illness.

At the request of the Secretary at St. John's, the women of Trinity were asked to show their interest in Women's Suffrage. At present, however, no interest can be awakened in the subject, on the part of our women.

Capt. John Randall of Port Rexton, is seriously ill.

Ryan Bros.' schooner the "Tipperary" is on dock at Harbor Grace. From thence she will go to Sydney for a load of coal for Trinity.

Flour and Sugar Stored at Halifax.

In those days of high prices and scarcity of foodstuffs it may be interesting to note that stored in the sheds at the South End Terminals is sufficient flour and sugar to meet the needs of the populace of Halifax for many months. The exact quantity is not known, but it has been estimated that there are over 1/4 a million bags of flour, and several hundred thousand bags of sugar.

The sugar is in Shed 24, and the quantity is daily increasing. Whether this is for export or not is unknown, one side of the shed is stacked high with bags. It is understood that the bags are brought around from the Woodside Refinery by rail. Shed number 23, situated east of number 24, is empty.

The flour is in sheds 25 and 28. In the former the space is practically all used, leaving only room for gangs to work. Many large stacks are in shed 28, and a large shipment was sent forward by the Furness Liner Sachem. The steamer Chatham is due here to load a cargo of flour and it is believed will take her cargo from these sheds. —Morning Chronicle.

American Government After Sugar Profiteers.

Boston, May 25.—The Federal Government to-day took action against sugar refiners here for alleged profiteering and hoarding. The Reverse Sugar Refinery and Henry E. Worcester, its Vice-President, were charged with exacting excessive prices and withholding sugar from the market, and the American Sugar Refining Company and W. K. Green, its General Manager, were charged with selling sugar at excessive prices. The complaints asserted that the companies had made millions of dollars by hoarding and regulating the price.

Women's Missionary Society.

The Sixth Annual Convention of the Newfoundland Branch of the Woman's Missionary Society, will be held at Cochrane Centennial Church, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday of this week. The "Opening Session" on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, will be followed by the "Anniversary Service" at 8 o'clock, at which Rev. Dr. Bond will preside. Rev. Dr. Jones, Rector of St. Thomas's, will speak on "Christian Imperialism," and Miss Curtis will give a selection entitled "The Sign of the Cross." As our talented elocutionist is leaving Newfoundland shortly, this will be the last opportunity of hearing her. A large gathering of both men and women is hoped for at this session. The "Quiet Half Hour" on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock will be in charge of Rev. Dr. Pedley of the Congregational Church. A large number of delegates from the various districts will be present. Bright and helpful programmes have been arranged. Every W.M.S. worker is expected to be in her place. Every Methodist woman, not already a member, is cordially invited to come and hear what has been done by the Society during the past year. All sessions are open to the public. Missionary workers from other denominations will be especially welcome. Teas will be served both evenings to delegates and workers. For further particulars see programmes and daily papers.

"Economy" Dance To-Night.

The Warrant and N.C.O.'s of the Church Lads Brigade Cadets have finalized arrangements for their "Overalls and Patch Clothes Dance," which takes place in their Armoury this, Monday, evening at 9 p.m. The committee in charge have made every possible arrangement for the convenience of dancers and they are anticipating a large attendance. The programme will be as usual very satisfactory, while the music will be supplied by the C.L.B. Band, under the personal supervision of Bandmaster, Capt. A. Morris. It will be, no doubt, a novel and interesting sight to see the young lovers of dancing parading around in their "Overalls," "Patch Clothes," "Gingham and Cotton Dresses" and if every patron will enter into the "sport" and leave their Stiff Collars and Dress Suits and Evening Dresses at home, it will be a very enjoyable affair.

A squad of volunteers from the C.C.C., under Capt. Leo Murphy, Capt. Chas. McGrath and Lieut. T. Christpher, and a detachment of Boy Scouts, under Asst. Scoutmaster R. Furlong, conducted a systematic search at Portugal Cove yesterday afternoon in search of the missing child, Miller. A large truck was placed at their disposal by Mr. P. A.

Prunty, Manager of Standard Oil Ltd., and by this means some 50 uniformed lads were taken to the scene. Leaving Mr. Miller's house at 4 in the afternoon they instituted a very thorough search of every inch of ground. At 8 p.m. return was made to the city, no success having attended their efforts, although it was rumored in the city last night that they had been successful in finding the body.

SMALLPOX OUTBREAK — Dr. Brehm of the Health Dept., received word Saturday that an outbreak of smallpox had occurred at Little Heart's Ease. The number of cases was not given. Dr. Barlow of Trinity, is attending the patients.

Agricultural Road Petition.

The following petition for an Agricultural Road has been presented to the House of Assembly by the residents of St. Bride's, in the district of Placentia and St. Mary's. No better means of encouraging agriculture in the section referred to, could be offered than the granting of the prayer of this petition, and it is to be hoped that the Minister of Public Works will see his way clear, financially, to make an allocation sufficient to carry out the construction of this much needed highway.

PETITION.
TO THE HON. HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY OF NEWFOUNDLAND.
The prayer of undersigned petitioners of St. Bride's, in the Electoral District of Placentia and St. Mary's, humbly sheweth,
(1) That if your Hon. House would allocate a sum of money sufficient to build a good road from South East Arm of Placentia to St. Bride's, you would be conferring a lasting benefit on a large number of people.
(2) The building of this road would bring in touch with the market, one of the best agricultural sections in the country, also opening up thousands of acres of the very best fertile land, which is now lying dormant, owing to an utter lack of any means of transportation.

(3) The construction of this road would not be very difficult, as the country through which it would traverse is a perfectly level one and the distance only about nineteen miles, and as in duty found your petitioners will ever pray.

Will Speak on Education.

Doctors Engelhardt and Hart, of Columbia University, New York, will speak on "Modern Developments in Education" at a public meeting in the Methodist College Hall this evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting has been called by the Interdenominational Committee on Education, and all are cordially invited to attend.

No Dress Suits, Please.

Dear Sir,—May I through the medium of your paper, offer a few suggestions to the Committee in connection with the "Overall and Patch Clothes Dance" this evening.

(1) That all Dancers wear "overall" "patch clothes," "ginghams and cottons."
(2) That not because I'm Mr. So and so or Miss Somebody, I can dance in my dress suit or evening dress.
(3) That the Committee use their authority and see that all dancers are in "regulation uniform."
Finally I want to congratulate the C.L.B. W. and N.C.O.'s on arranging a dance of this sort. Thanking you in anticipation I remain, Yours very sincerely,
"FOX TROT."

Produce and Provisions.

(From Saturday's Trade Review.)

THE CODFISHERY.—The Summer codfishery may be said to have begun this week. At Bonne Bay traps had from five to thirty quintals, on Tuesday and Wednesday. At Petty Hr. one to three quintals were caught with jiggers and Thursday news came in from Cape St. Mary's that the fishery had begun well there and Red Island and Placentia Bay boats had taken 10 to 30 qtls. At Outer Cove, Pouch Cove, and Flat Rock and Dunfield there is a good sign.

CODFISH.—The shipments to foreign markets this week were the lowest of any weeks since New Year. There are two vessels loading for Oporto, one for Brazil and one for the West Indies. The Hazel Trahey too 2,683 qtls. for Barbados. The stocks at Oporto are over 50,000 qtls., but the consumption for the week is high, viz., 11,400. There are eight Nfld. vessels waiting outside to discharge fish cargoes at Oporto. The price has fallen to 52 shillings at Oporto and 50 shillings at Lisbon. In St. John's very little is doing. The normal price is $10.50 for No. 1, but on being culled it averages about $8.00.

COD LIVER OIL.—The shipment from St. John's this week amounted to about 3000 gallons to the United States. The demand is slowing down and buyers of large lots for medicinal use are awaiting developments arising out of the Norwegian catch. We quote the following from last issue of the "Drug Trades Weekly."

Cod Liver Oil.—The oil is in a weak position here. The price of Nfld. oil has been cut to $80.00 a barrel by dealers. Norwegian is still commanding $85.00, but the steadily increasing supplies keep its position easy.

COD OIL.—During the week just ended, 11,537 gallons of Common Cod oil were shipped to Boston. The price has gained ground again, owing to the scarcity in both the United States and England. The St. John's price is $310 this week for large lots. The following from last week's issue of the New York "Drug Trades Weekly" throws light on the situation.

Cod Oil.—The increasing scarcity of Nfld. cod oil has forced the price up rapidly, and sales were made during the week as high as $1.25 per gallon, with a tendency to even higher levels. In some quarters the belief is expressed that stocks are not sufficient to supply both American and English buyers until the new catch has been brought in. English interests are especially active in Nfld. and have had much to do with the present shortage. Domestic cod oil is very firmly held around $1.10 per gallon, but is expected to advance on the strength of the Nfld. situation.

HERRING.—Split Herring are gone down to $4 in the local market and they must be sound and well packed to bring this price. Sales of big lots were made yesterday at $3.50, but they were not No. 1. The local exporters are not buying and what trade is going is in the hands of two or three Brokers. It is said that there are some 12,000 barrels to come out of Notre Dame Bay. Scotch Pack are not spoken of.

LOBSTERS.—Packers are doing well since the Labrador Fishery opened on the South and West Coasts. The probable price for new pack will be $30 per case of 48 one lb. flats. F. E. I. packers, we hear, are holding their catch for $40 in New York. Banking financiers there who are setting their faces against luxuries which lobsters are at this price—will not advance for these prices. Our Nfld. packers should not ask a price that will kill the market. Some West Coast buyers, who paid $37 and $38 last Summer, had to sell at $34 and lost heavily.

CANNED SALMON.—We endorse what the Telegram printed this week about booming the canned salmon industry. Our esteemed contemporary, however, was not aware that 2,000 cases of cans for salmon were sent to Labrador last Summer. The salmon were not plentiful and not all these cans were used, but the investors paid expenses and were encouraged to go in on a large scale this season. There will also be three machines at St. Anthony, each capable of putting up 120 cans a day. There will be three others between Conche and Cape Bauld, besides the two on Labrador.

PORK.—Nothing new to report in Pork. Nobody buying and local trade was never so dull. It is thought the arrival of the northern schooners will stir up a demand the coming week. No change in recent quotations, and the strengthening of the exchange rates daily is having a stiffening on any new quotations received from the Packing Centres. There are ample supplies held here for fishery requirements, although Ham Butt is rather scarce.

BEEF.—There appears to be an over supply of Beef in the local market, owing to large stocks held that were shipped this Spring on consignment. Quotations on Boneless for July shipments show advances of from 50 cents to $1.00 over our lowest quotations received some weeks ago. There is very little moving owing to the poor fishery outlook. There is no change in local prices, viz., Flank, $35.00, Packet, $31.00, Family, $35.00, Boneless, 29 and Regular Plate, $27.00.
MOLASSES.—The market is unchanged. The quotations for Fancy remains at $1.90 per gallon in the puncheon and $1.75 for Choice, tierces 3c/ and barrels 5c. more per gallon. The Douglas Parks arrived here Tuesday from Barbados with a cargo of molasses, which brings the total since New Year up to 3,300 puncheons, as compared with 3,900 for a corresponding date last year, so that to date St. John's is 600 puncheons short.

SUGAR.—The "Sable I" arrived this week from North Sydney with a large shipment. There are now ample supplies for local demand at reasonable prices, viz., 22 cents a pound wholesale and 23 cents retail. Sugar to arrive, however, is quoted from 28 to 35 cents wholesale. Later arrivals will have to be sold at correspondingly higher prices. 22 and 23 cent sugar was bought last fall and only recently these contracts are being completed. Brown sugar is now retailing at 20 cents per lb.

FLOUR.—The wheat situation in Canada and the States is very strong this week, due mainly to the demand for export to Europe. The Wheat Board made an advance of 35 cents per bushel in consequence. The outlook for the growing crops is very good, due to cool weather and ample moisture, but as against this the acreage sown is considerably short of last year. The U. S. Government's latest report showed that the Winter crop was 79 per cent, as compared with 100 last year on May 8th. The abandoned acreage this year is said to be 4,805,000 acres for Winter sowing, and for both harvests 34,165,000 acres. The St. John's price is today $17 to $18.00 per barrel.

POTATOES.—Imported potatoes are still selling at $14.00 per sack of 180 lbs., or $7.00 a small sack of 90 lbs., and are going out freely at this price owing to seeding necessities. Yesterday's cabled information from Charlottetown, P. E. I., is to the effect that potatoes are now unobtainable there in large quantities such as importers here usually order at one time. Those who had large lots ordered to come here by next steamer down the gulf are receiving only a small portion of their purchase. The scarcity will prevail till next crop is ready.

The Jutland Sea Fight.

The battle of Jutland was "The Day" that all patriotic Germans had been looking forward to for years, and though an unfinished action, it was the greatest naval battle of the late war. It was on May 31, 1916, that the entire German high seas fleet left port and steamed up the west coast of Denmark, but it was quickly sighted by British scouts, and the main British fleet came out to meet it. The battle cruiser squadron, under the command of Admiral Sir David Beatty, was nearer the scene of action than the main battle fleet under Sir John Jellicoe, and of course came into action before the main battle fleet could arrive. The action opened about 3.30 in the afternoon and for two hours the Germans fought very well indeed, and scored some notable hits, the "Queen Mary" and the "Indefatigable" being sunk. Admiral Beatty ran parallel to the Germans and toward their main fleet, which he engaged with great daring. By 5 o'clock the Germans were more or less obscured by darkness and mist, while the British offered a much clearer target to the enemy. Towards 6 p.m. the main British fleet arrived, but was only able to see the enemy at intervals. Nevertheless it engaged them as well as possible up to midnight. During the night Jellicoe manoeuvred to get between the German fleet and its base, and Beatty tried to get between it and the coast of Jutland. But, aided by the darkness, the Germans succeeded in getting away. The destroyers of both fleets tore about like mad things all through the night and fought any enemy ships they came across. The following morning the German ships were nowhere to be seen, and there was nothing for the British fleet to do but return to its base. The losses on each side were about equal. In a sense it was a drawn battle, indecisive and unfinished. But two things may be noted. First, after the British main fleet arrived, the Germans' only idea was to run away, while the British strained every effort to bring them to action. Second, they never dared to come out and fight again, and ended by an ignominious surrender without striking a blow. The Press Bureau published our losses at first, so that it appeared a British defeat, and not till a week after did we learn it was much more of a victory. If the Germans ever have a great battle fleet again, and want another "Day," our Navy will always be delighted to oblige.

Garden Competition, '20.

Dear Girls and Boys.—The fine weather has perhaps reminded you that the season for gardening has returned. We hope that last year's competitors will all try again and that many others will enter. This year the conditions are somewhat altered. Any varieties of flowers or vegetables may be grown, but the flowers must in every case be raised from seed and all work in connection with the growth must be done by the children themselves (young children may have the ground dug up for them.)

Three points of advice are (a) choose the simple varieties of flowers and vegetables such as: alyssum, candy-tuft nasturtium, marigold, sunflowers, Iceland poppy, cornflowers, eschscholtzia, etc., and such vegetables as lettuce, radish, cabbage (from plants) but, dwarf peas, etc. (b) A small garden which can be kept well weeded and cultivated will give the most satisfactory results. Children will do well not to attempt too much. (c) In dry weather do not allow the earth around the plants to become hard and "caked."

RULES.

- (1) Competitors must reside within the city limits and be under 16 years old.
- (2) Names and addresses of intending competitors must be sent not later than June 15th to A. M. A. P. O. Box 476.

Gardens will be inspected early in September. For flower gardens three prizes are offered:—1st $3.00; 2nd, $2.00; 3rd, $1.00.

And for vegetable gardens three similar prizes are offered.

Two special prizes of $2.00 each are offered for (a) the best window-box (b) the most successful attempt to cover an unsightly fence with creeping plants.

Who will be the happy winners? Throughout the summer, if any difficulties occur on which you would like advice, send us a post card and we shall be glad to help you as far as possible.

We shall await the result of your efforts with much interest and we wish you every success. You will do well to cut out this letter and keep it for reference.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Our Conception Bay British Society Band contemplate having an excursion to Bell Island about June 23rd, and it is to be hoped that such will be the case, as this band has had many excursions which were thoroughly enjoyed by those who took advantage of same in the past. Should the band hold the excursion, we wish them every success.

A big fire was in progress during the early part of this week near Glover Road, to the northwest of this town, and was making rapid headway during the time, assisted, as it was, by high westerly and northwesterly winds. A considerable space of ground was devastated by the flames, and the smoke therefrom hung over the town in clouds. Owing to the able intervention of our policemen and some of our citizens, perhaps a great loss was prevented, and the fire put out. No doubt the cause of the fire was carelessness on the part of some parties who did not see to it that the remains of their camp fire were thoroughly stamped out before they moved on.

Like the crafters, the dogs must go! After June 1st, the owner of a dog or one who is known to have a piece of flesh and bone resembling that animal in his possession, will have to cough up fifty bucks.

The work of fencing the former Handley-Page Aviation ground has been going on during the past week, and is now finished, or practically so. The huge strip of ground now assumes a far different aspect than it did some two years ago with its stone walls and fences.

Residing Magistrate W. A. Oke, who has been confined to his home for some few days past suffering with an attack of lagrippe, is now very much better, and will be about again in a short while, his many friends will learn with pleasure.

The smell of the tar and the bark, the sight of the nets spread along the shore and on the fences, the fact that many fishermen can be seen busy with the netting needle repairing their torn nets, and the tap-tap of the motor boats, all betoken preparations for the coming summer's fishery, which all hope will be a large one.

Mr. George Stewart's motor boat, the E. L. Stewart, arrived Wednesday from Bell Island with a little coal, sent in to friends by men working on the island. Ditto Thursday.

Rather than pay a Bolshevik $12.00 for a barrel of potatoes, many people here would rather let their ground go to weeds. Time for the Government to wake up and put their power into execution and let people—British subjects—enjoy the fair play of that race. No doubt our men of authority the men who were elected by the people, are not aware of the seriousness of the potato famine—and it is not to their credit to be ignorant of same. If the people are to economize, then give them the chance to do so. Wake up! Intervene! and get the thanks of the people and not the scowl.

The Minerva sailed out of this port Thursday morning for the Banks, at about 11.30, but when she came to the inner part of the "bar" she grounded. A French steam trawler, which is in port, got her off at a little after 2 o'clock, and towed the ship back to port, where she was overhauled. No damage having been done she sailed again an hour later. It is safe to say that it is with regret that the Frenchmen leave us. During their stay here every man jack of them put in a good time, visiting the different schools, and giving the children some valuable points on the pronunciation of French, and their efforts were not fruitless. In the streets they always had a crowd of children around them, telling them the French word for this thing and that. During the week, Mr. Moore, of the Methodist Superior School, made a presentation to their interpreter, of a token of the good will of the children and the town generally, which was accepted by him with many thanks, and good wishes. The town bid the au revoir and bon chance.

Mrs. George Adams, of Water St. East, was taken Wednesday night with a stroke of paralysis. This has been Mrs. Adams' fourth stroke, and doubts are entertained as to her recovery.

Miss Ida McRae arrived from Montreal the early part of this week, where she had been spending the winter.

Messrs. Thomas and Henry Davis, of Water Street East, went out in the harbor on Thursday evening in their boat, and by hook and line caught quite a few fish, and of no small size. They went out at 7 o'clock and returned a little after nine, and had a wheelbarrow full. This looks encouraging, and points to a good fishing season for our shore fishermen. Most of our veteran salts are inclined to the opinion that fish will be plentiful, at least in Conception Bay, this year. One thing is certain, and that is, we heartily hope so. Numerous are the rock-cods caught by the boys on the wharf "down yonder," and of large size. Whether or not this is a good sign your correspondent is not in a position to say. There is also a sign of caplin in the bay, the earliest for many years.

Mr. Alexander Squires had quite a few barrels of "spuds" from the city Thursday last, for seeding purposes, and had them carted from the station the same evening.

To Lower the High Cost of Living.

Considering the high cost of coal and expenses of spring house cleaning, the Star Laundry, 10 Pleasant Street, has decided to give special rates for washing Quilts, Blankets, Bed Covers, etc., to help out the housewife. This offer will be open for a short time only, as our summer trade will soon be starting, and we hope to have a full share of the laundry trade of the city seeing that all our help is local and all money spent is a benefit to our own country. Obituary.

There passed peacefully away, at Chamberlains, at 4.20, on the morning of May 25th, at the tender age of 18 years, 10 months, Ethel, darling and beloved daughter of M. and Mrs. Robert Squires. Though ailing for the past 18 months, she bore her sickness bravely and did not complain, being bright and cheerful to the end. Putting her trust in God and waiting patiently for the Angel of Death to bear her gently away to her everlasting home to be forever in the presence of him who doeth all things well. Being gentle and kind, she was loved by all who knew her and the sympathy of the whole community go out to the sorrowing and bereaved parents and relatives, who are left to mourn their sad loss. She leaves to mourn her father, mother, three brothers, six sisters, Mrs. Ernest Fowler, Mrs. William Butler, living at St. John's, Mrs. Charles Eason, of Manuels, and three at home, to all of whom the Telegram extends its sincere sympathy.

Darling Ethel thou hast left us,
Left this world of sin and woe;
Thou art gone to be with Jesus
Where all blessed angels go.

Where all blessed angels go,
And we reach that home so fair;
Though on earth no more we see you
Darling we will meet you there,
—inserted by her Father and Mother.

FLEMING WILL MEET KILBANE.

Toronto, May 19.—Frankie Fleming's decision to box Johnny Kilbane for the world's featherweight crown at the Grand Army carnival has proved welcome to the promoters and public alike. Of all those who aspire to win the title held during the past years by Kilbane none has a greater claim for recognition than the Canadian champion. Fleming has been waiting for a long time to get the title in the ring, and it behooves him to make the best of this golden opportunity.

When Benny Leonard's quest of the lightweight championship nearly came to an abrupt end several years ago in New York when he was engaged into a match with the Canadian, Fleming not only gave him a decisive beating, but also succeeded in knocking him out, a feat which no other boxer has since accomplished. Fleming has shown that when occasion demands it he can hit, and hit hard.

The directors of the Grand Army carnival, realizing that Fleming was almost as much of an attraction as a boxer, refused to take "no" for an answer, and after much negotiation secured his signature to the articles. He will get $4,000 for his win, loss or draw.

The match eclipses in importance the championship bout between Wallace and Wilde, but is no guarantee that it will prove as interesting. Both are titular affairs, and Queen City fans are fortunate that they will be able to see such sterling boxers in action.

One of the directors of the carnival for New York, where he will make an offer to middleweight Wilson to defend his title here.

PAPIN'S POOR SHOWING.

New York, May 20.—The poor showing by Georges Papin, the lightweight champion of France, who was stopped in six rounds the other night by Tedler is already causing folks to ask questions about Georges Carpentier. Papin is supposed to be the best man among the European lightweights, just as Carpentier is the best among the heavyweights.

Francois Descamps probably thought that he did a smart thing in bringing Papin over here. If he knew Papin did not hope to beat a boy like Tedler, however, then, while he got the purse of perhaps $4,000 for him, he may have done a foolish thing. For it may force Carpentier to fight Bill Brennan or some one else to prove his right to a match for the championship of the world with Dempsey.

CARPENTIER GETS $3,000,000 SALARY FROM THE MOVIES.

New York, May 21.—Georges Carpentier has signed a three-year moving picture contract calling for a total salary of $3,000,000 and should he win the world's title his salary is to be doubled. It was announced here today by R. S. Cole of the Robertson-Cole moving picture production company. Carpentier just completed his first movie, "The Wonder Man," for the Robertson-Cole Company.

Carpentier was offered the movie contract more than a week ago, it is reported.

came known, and did not sign it until to-day at Rochester. The contract may mean that Carpentier will put off for months his planned return to Europe. Through his movie connections he will be able to earn more than he could by returning to Europe for boxing dates and it is believed that he will stay in America until he meets Jack Dempsey.

WILDE CONTINUES TO EAT THEM UP.

Philadelphia, May 17.—Jimmy Wilde, British flyweight champion, knocked out Battling Murray, of Philadelphia, in the second round of a scheduled eight-round bout here to-night.

Two minutes and thirteen seconds of the round had elapsed when Wilde with a wicked right chop to the jaw, sent Murray to the floor. No count was needed, as Murray was clean out.

Just before the knockout blow was delivered Wilde sent the Philadelphia fighter for a count of eight with a left hook to the chin. He staggered to his feet and the British champion put over the finishing blow.

For a moment in the first round Murray looked like a possible winner. Ten seconds after the bell rang he staggered the champion with a left hook. Wilde appeared worried as Murray aggressively followed up the blow, but before the end of the round the British fighter rallied and finished strong.

LEONARD TO BOX CALLAHAN.

Boston, May 18.—Frankie Callahan's long chase after Benny Leonard has finally been successful. The lightweight champion has finally consented to a match with this hard-punching contender, which will be held at Portland, Ore., on June 21. It will be a 10-round no decision battle.

Twice before Leonard gained the crown, Callahan was credited with popular verdicts over him. Since taking the title away from Freddie Welch, Leonard has cautiously avoided Callahan. He has been hounded so much for this match that he has finally consented to it. Benny Murphy announced its completion to-day.

The match will be held at a time when the Shriners' Convention will be on in that city. A purse of $30,000 has been offered for the match, of which Leonard has been guaranteed $20,000 and Callahan $10,000.

WILDE IN DEMAND.

Boston, May 17.—Two clubs in the West are trying hard to sign up Jimmy Wilde, the flyweight champion, and Jack Sharkey, of this city for a bout on any date which is acceptable to Wilde. These clubs are the National A. C. of Milwaukee, conducted by Frank Milkern, and that of Al Day of Detroit, who intends to stage open air boxing shows at the Detroit Baseball Club's grounds this summer. Both promoters have guaranteed Sharkey $10,000 for his end, which his manager has accepted. Wilde has been telegraphed by the promoters asking for his consent to the match.

BECKETT AFTER JACK DEMPSEY.

New York, May 17.—The victory Joe Beckett, England's heavyweight champion, scored over Bombardier Wells, has gone to his head to such an extent that he now wants to fight Jack Dempsey. Beckett is going to have two more fights in England and then he is coming to America. While here he intends to seek matches with both Dempsey and Georges Carpentier. A Carpentier-Beckett match would be a rather interesting affair and it may be arranged, for Carpentier knows how he stands with Mr. Beckett. As for Beckett meeting Dempsey, that is just one of the Englishman's little jokes.

Rings for Platonic Pals?

Those Who Don't Intend to Marry. A new engagement ring is wanted—for men and women pals. That married and engaged couples should wear a ring as a sign of the bond between them has always been a custom, but no provision has been made for couples whose interest in each is simply friendly.

During the War scores of real friendships sprang up between those who worked and played together, and a great many of these have lasted. So why shouldn't men and women pals have a ring too—a special emblem, something like a wedding-ring, to show that, although great friends, they are not engaged. This would have a lot of misunderstanding in these days when men and girls go everywhere together with a freedom hitherto unheard of.

For instance, if a man is seen about with a girl pal, there is always a someone to say that if they're not already engaged, they are certainly going to be. This is awkward for both, and especially so for the girl, since a mistaken idea that she cares for someone else may very easily cause a man who is in love with her to keep silent.

The new engagement ring would be very useful in preventing mistakes of this kind. It should be as simple as possible, for a man cannot as a rule afford to give a girl friend a very expensive present; the girl he loves is another matter. An effective design

"I Took Enough Medicine to Fill a Dory," He Says

Bonavista Bay Man Says Nothing Did Him Any Good Until He Got Tanlac.

Still another wonderful endorsement of Tanlac that will be read with interest throughout Newfoundland, was recently given by John F. Hynes, of St. Brendan's, Bonavista Bay. "Jack," as he is familiarly known by his friends, served three years overseas with the "Royal" Newfoundland Regiment, and since his discharge and remarkable recovery of health, has returned to his former work as a miner. In telling of his experience with Tanlac, Mr. Hynes said: "After three years of 'bully beef' and life in the trenches overseas, my stomach got into such bad shape that I had to be sent to the hospital. I couldn't eat a thing without it causing me awful gnawing pains in the pit of my stomach, and I would bloat up with gas until I was fit to burst. My food seemed to do me no good for I lost weight right along until I was nothing but a 'bag of bones.' The military people did their best for me and sent me from one hospital to another until I had been in about a dozen, and I must have taken enough medicine to fill a dory, but somehow or other I got no better and began to think my case was hopeless.

"Then last year while in Halifax, I heard so many people talking about Tanlac and the way it was helping people, that I bought a couple of bottles. It sure is a great medicine and it did the work for me. I soon got so that I could eat like a hungry wolf without suffering any bad after effects in the way of cramping pains or indigestion. Before I had finished those two bottles I had gained twelve pounds in weight and was feeling as well and strong as ever. I shall always have a good word to say for Tanlac and am glad of this chance to let folks know what a grand medicine it is.

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors; by Reg. Sullivan, Pouch Cove; Sound Island Store, Sound Island; Dennis Flynn, Avondale; J. O'Brien, Cape Broyle.—adv.

would be enamel on a plain silver band, and a space might be left for the initials of either the giver or the wearer. The most important thing, however, is to have a ring that is easily recognized as a token of friendship only.

The idea is worth considering, for an "engagement" with no love in it would put friendship between men and women on a definite level of its own, like an engagement, making it far easier and pleasanter than it has ever been before.

An Appreciation.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—I have read the series of articles from the pen of Mr. I. C. Morris giving a description of his trip to New York, and if I am permitted to exist, intend to continue reading them with interest to the finish. Our genial friend is not of the selfish make up who content themselves with seeing pleasing sights and keeping all the pleasure to themselves. And for that we thank him and express the wish that as years roll on he may continue to pay annual visits to even more distant cities and reveal to us the secrets of unknown lands. Apart from the information and pleasure that Mr. Morris's trip give us, we look forward to even greater benefits being bestowed upon us as a result of the lessons to be learned from such visits by a gentleman of such keen perception. And foremost among them is the cleaning up of our own little city. No man can return from such a trip without realizing that we are a century behind in beauty and cleanliness. Surely he has found out a practical way to keep down the dust that blinds the pedestrian, giving us sore eyes, putting us in bad humour, and spoiling our high priced clothing. Surely he has realized that in order to keep our streets any way near a clean condition it is necessary that they be swept once a week at least, and that such sweeping should be done at early morning before citizens start out to work. Surely he has learned that the boulders popping up on the sidewalks of New Gower and Duckworth Streets should be dislodged and nice sand or clay placed thereon and then rolled down nice and level. Of course he must realize that the dust nuisance in this city has become intolerable. We do not anticipate any wonder work from the visit of Councillor Morris, but when he finishes his articles we expect that he will roll up his sleeves and try to inaugurate a general shaking up of those who have charge of our thoroughfares. To me it seems that the Council and Council employees are gone asleep. Rouse them, oh Councillor, from their slumbers, get them as a starter to clean up the drains to improve the sidewalks, to sweep the streets. This will not cost the city very much and we will sing your praises for evermore. Do not let it go as it is going, for if you do we will all die of poisoning when the warm weather arrives. Again thanking Councillor Morris for his interesting information and once again suggesting that he put the lessons learned abroad into practice in our home town.

I am,
Yours sincerely,
MAY 29, 1920.

Petitions Presented.

Some 300 petitions have been presented to the House of Assembly for Modification of the Prohibition Law. Outside of St. John's the leading districts are Twillingate and Trinity. The number of signatures received by the Modification Committee totals about 30% of the vote cast at the last general election. In many places the petition was not circulated by those to whom it was sent and in some cases the clergy successfully forbade its circulation. On the other hand many of the petitions are signed by clergymen of the larger denominations.

It is When the Nerves Are Tired That You Cannot Sleep

It isn't the body that craves rest, but the mind. When you are bodily tired you can usually fall to sleep at the first opportunity. But when the nerves are irritated by anxiety and worry rest and sleep seem to be impossible. The mind seems to be most alert, and you are thinking, thinking, thinking—first of one thing and then of another—often matters of little or no importance. But you simply cannot sleep. Sleeplessness is the most common and often the first indication of a breaking down of the nervous system. The object of sleep is to allow the body to rebuild tissue and the nerves to recover tone. Sleep is the ideal condition for this process. If you cannot sleep you worry, and worry breaks down nerve cells at a tremendous rate, so that instead of laying up nerve force for the demands of the day you are using up the reserve. The nerve centres are sometimes likened to storage batteries. If you continue to consume the nervous energy in reserve, without paying back, these centres become sooner or later depleted, and you find yourself a nervous wreck. After a sleepless night you get up feeling tired and lacking in mental energy. Your day's work seems more than you can face, and you become down-hearted and discouraged. The future is not bright, for you must realize that the natural result is exhausted nerves, paralysis, locomotor ataxia or some form of helplessness. In Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is found the most natural and the most rational treatment for the nerves imaginable, because this food cure contains the vital substances which go to the building up of the blood and the depleted nerve cells. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does not induce sleep, but it does restore the nervous system, and after you have been using it for a few days you will begin to find yourself resting and sleeping naturally. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmansson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

New Church for St. Michael's Parish.
St. Michael's Parish recently purchased a portion of Buckmaster's Field at the corner of LeMarchant Road and Golf Avenue. On this land it is intended to build a new stone church. The present building, a wooden one, is not accommodating enough, and the need for a new church has been felt for some years. Nevertheless, the new church building will not be begun this summer.

TRADING ON MARGIN.

We have several good stocks that we can recommend to marginal traders on a deposit as low as $20 and up to $100 that we believe will net the investor about double his money during the coming four months.

Representing a big New York firm, we can handle your buying or selling orders in any stock or bond traded in New York, but there are certain few stocks that we can suggest to clients as likely winners on a big scale.

Come in with $20 to $50 and ask us to suggest a good "buy" for you.

We don't make money unless you make it.
