WHAT WE ARE FINDING OUT

The Character of a Class of People Too Mean to Pay Their Honest Bills.

No one could believe, until they find out, the character of a class of people who reside in Annapolis County and elsewhere who are too mean to pay their honest bills and who are almost continually scheming to get something for nothing, or in other words endeavoring to steal without being punished. There is a law, however, to get after such people and place them where they will be no further bother to anyone except an expense to honest ratepayers.

We refer to a list of delinquent subscribers to the MONITOR and we presume they are also delinquent subscribers to other newspapers as well, and probably some of them have their names on our merchants' books, but we believe the majority of our business men would not allow them to continue to do business with them three or four years without, at least, a payment on account.

We are sending out a lot of subscription bills and making drafts through one of the local banks on all those accounts are more than $5.00.

Some of the letters we are receiving should be published in full to protect the general public from dealing with a class of men and women who are far too mean to be honest.

One woman residing in Pictou County read the paper for two years and refused the delivery of it as soon as she got a bill for $4.00, declining to pay for it.

Another, after reading the paper for a long time, says the person to whom the draft was sent is dead and asks to have the paper discontinued. No, we cannot get this account accepted. No asbestos paper on which to print the drafts, even if a bank junior could get a return ticket.

Another remembers that he did not subscribe for the paper, and thinks that, although he has enjoyed it for several years, the bill is too high, and it should be reduced.

A lady (?) residing in Halifax read the MONITOR for seven years, then moved to the United States and writes us to discontinue her paper. She does not remit and uses every precaution to prevent us from obtaining her present address. We only know her future address.

We could go on in this way and fill columns on the character of people of whom the public would be shocked if we mentioned names and told all we knew.

Surely, after reading this, no one else will have the nerve to put up a "kick". They will accept their draft and when it comes due pay the amount in full, or remit direct to us and we will attend to their draft in the Bank.

We are determined to have our delinquents cash up and if it becomes necessary will add additional legal costs to their bills. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THE COLONEL'S WORD WILL STAND

During my military service in India, in those stirring times of mutiny and murder, I had in my regiment a little bugler who was too weak and feeble to play the bugle he had to lead; I designate for the life he had to lead; he was born in the regiment, his father had been killed in action, and then his mother dropped and died. After his mother died his life was made miserable by the scolding steers and ribald jokes of the men, whose butt he was.

When little Willie Holt was four-teen years old, the regiment was bivouacking some miles from camp for rifle practice. I had intended leaving the lad behind, but my sergeant-major begged hard to "take him along." "There is mischief in the air," Colonel," he said; "and, if you are not here to lead the lad, his rough as they treat the lad, his pluck and his patience tells on 'em; for the boy is a saint, sir; he is, indeed."

I had a rough lot of recruits just then. Before we had been out a fortnight several acts of insubordination had been brought to my notice, and I had pledged to make an example of the very next offense by having the culprit flogged.

One night targets were thrown down and otherwise mutilated. On investigation the act was traced to occupants of the very tent where Willie Holt was camped.

In vain I appealed to them to produce the man, and as I said: "If any one of you who slept in number four tent last night will come forward and take his punishment like a man, the rest will get off free; but if not, there remains no alternative but to punish you all, each in turn to receive ten strokes of the cat."

For the space of a couple of minutes, dead silence followed; then, from the midst of the prisoners, where his slight form had been completely hidden, Willie Holt came forward.

"Colonel," said he, "you have passed your word that if any one of those who slept in number four tent last night comes forward to take his punishment, the rest shall get off free. I am ready, sir; please, may I take it now?"

For a moment I was speechless, so utterly was I taken by surprise; then, in a fury of anger and disgust, I turned upon the prisoners: "Is there no man among you worthy of the name? Are you all cowards enough to let this lad suffer for your sins? For that he is guilty, you know as well as I." But sullen and silent they stood, with never a word.

Then I turned to the boy, whose pleading eyes were fixed on me, and never in all my life have I found myself so painfully situated. I knew my word must stand, and the lad knew it, too, as he repeated, "I am ready, sir."

Sick at heart, I gave the order, and he was led away for punishment. Bravely he stood with bared back, as one, two, three strokes descended. At the fourth a faint moan escaped his white lips; but ere the fifth fell a hoarse cry burst from the crowd of prisoners, who had been forced to witness the scene, and with one bound, Jim Sykes—the black sheep of the regiment—seized the cat, as with choking utterance he shouted: "Stop it, Colonel, stop it, and let me up instead! He never did it, but I did; and with convulsed and anguished face he flung his arms around the boy.

Fainting, and almost speechless, Willie lifted his eyes to the man's face and smiled—such a smile! "No, Jim," he whispered, "you are safe now, the Colonel's word will stand." Then his head fell forward—he had fainted.

The next day I visited the hospital tent where the boy lay, dying. The shock had been too much for his feeble strength. He lay propped up on the pillows; and at his side, half kneeling, half crouching, was Jim Sykes. I saw the drops of sweat standing on his brow as he muttered brokenly: "Why did ye do it lad? Why did ye do it?"

"Because I wanted to take it for you, Jim," Willie's weak voice answered tenderly. "I thought it might help you to understand why Christ died for you."

"Christ died for me?" the man repeated.

"Yes, He died for you because He loved you. I love you, Jim, but Christ loves you much more. I only suffered for one sin, but Christ took the punishment for all the sins you have ever committed. The penalty was death, Jim, and Christ died for you."

"Christ has naught to do with such as me, lad, I'm one of the bad 'uns; you ought to know."

"But He died to save bad ones," answered Willie. "After you have sinned against Him He loves you so much that He came all the way from Heaven, and suffered and died in your place, and now He is calling you. He wants to cleanse you from every stain of sin and make you fit for His presence. He wants you to live with Him in glory. He was wounded for your transgressions. He died to purchase for you an inheritance, the chastisement of your peace was upon Him. How can you resist such love as that?"

"He says: 'He that heareth My Word and believeth on Him that sent Me hath everlasting life, and shall not come into judgment, but is passed from death unto life.' Won't you receive Him now?"

The lad's voice failed him, but he laid his hand gently on the man's bowed head.

After a little while we saw a strange light in his dying eyes, and with a happy cry he flung out his hands as if in welcome. Then gradually the weak arms dropped; the light faded from his shining eyes; and his spirit passed over from earth to heaven.

A MEMORIAL AT CLEMENTSPORT

(By Rev. A. W. L. Smith)

The memorial service in the Old St. Edward's Church, Clementsport, took place at 3 p.m. Thursday. A more perfect setting than that which greeted those present both in weather and situation can hardly be imagined. Long before the appointed hour crowds assembled on foot and by motor.

Graves were decorated and many old relations linked up by those who had not seen each other for years. The interior of the church was that of 1857, the old organ was in place and was used for the service. On the altar was the old communion plate. Beside the altar rails were His Grace the Archbishop of Nova Scotia, the Venerable Archdeacon of Nova Scotia, Canon V. E. Harris, Canon W. S. H. Morris, Rev. John Lockwood and the rector, Rev. A. W. L. Smith.

To the right were seated representatives of the Annapolis deanery, the ministers of the various churches of Annapolis, Bear River and Digby, representatives of the Nova Scotia Historical Society, New Brunswick Historical Society and the Annapolis Historical Society, and Dr. Charles Morse, representing the Canadian Landmarks Association.

To the left, near the pulpit, were His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor Grant and Mrs. Grant, Chief Justice Harris and Mrs. Harris, Hon. A. L. Davidson was unable to be present and Hon. Attorney-General Daniels was represented by Mrs. Daniels.

The town of Annapolis Royal was represented by Mayor Hardwick, Town Clerk Harris and Councillor Adams, Digby, Mayor Warner and Councillors T. E. G. Lynch, and S. A. Keene and Bridgetown by Mayor W. A. Warren. The pews for the descendants of the Empire Loyalists were crowded to overflowing. A goodly number of the delegates to the Annapolis Royal celebration were present. The general public took up the remaining seats and the gallery, while many stood for the service. The clergy marched through the south door, up the aisle, while the ancient frame re-echoed to the strains of "O God, Our Help in Ages Past."

Reverent and interested marked the whole of the service. The large choir of Anglican, Baptist and Methodist Churches, of Clementsport, assisted by representatives of the Anglican churches of East Brook and Bear River completely filled the little building.

The organist was Mrs. H. Brown, of Clementsport, while Major S. J. Porter conducted the combined choir. Canon Morris read the service, Rev. J. Lockwood the first lesson, Canon Harris the second lesson, Archdeacon Vroom preached an excellent sermon, taking as his text from Psalms 45 verse 17, "Instead of Thy Father Thou Shalt Have Children;" "Who Thou Mayst Make Princes in all Lands."

He drew attention to the valued heritage possessed by the people of the countryside, of the historic interest, and of the duty of all to preserve and to treasure the ancient landmark. Reference was made to lives of the ones gone by, and how all should emulate their ancient fervor and reverence. The rector referred to the wide-spread interest shown, thanking all for the help and support.

He then read a telegram of congratulations from Dean Lloyd, showing what an opportunity the Nova Scotia Historical Society had to offer to take a table on the door. The Archbishop expressed his sincere appreciation of being present and with the interest shown by the Governor and the Chief Justice in the proceedings congratulating the rector and people on what has been done.

The collection amounted to $102.83, will go to the restoration fund of the old church. After registration, which numbered over 200, all proceeded to the rectory grounds, which was gaily decorated with flags and lanterns, where the ladies of the congregation provided refreshments.

This was staged the most historical event in the history of Clementsport, the queen of the Basin.

LABOR DAY AT BRIDGETOWN

This Third Annual Event Proved The Most Successful in the History of the Town

Bridgetown's big Labor Day celebration, which took place Monday was certainly the most successful in the history of the town. Crowds began to arrive early in the morning. Private residences and places of business were attractively decorated with flags and bunting. The crowd, which was extremely large, was a good natured one and gave very little trouble to Chief of Police Goldsmith and his efficient staff of special police.

Everybody appeared pleased with the programme of sports and the successful manner in which they were pulled off.

The street parade in the morning, which consisted of beautifully decorated floats and automobiles, extended along South street, reaching nearly the entire distance from Carlton's Corner to the railway crossing. The route of parade was from the railway crossing along Queen street, Granville street West and East, Church street, Rink street, disbanding opposite the ball grounds. It was said to be by all who viewed it, one of the best ever seen in the province.

The following is the list as near complete as could be obtained:

Decorated floats: Mrs. E. L. Fisher, E. B. Tracey, C. B. Longmire, J. E. Lloyd, J. H. Longmire & Sons, Buckler & Daniels, A. J. Burns, Colonial Motor Co., B. N. Messenger, Wm. Gesner, Magee & Charlton, J. H. Hicks & Sons, G. O. Thies, Annapolis Valley Cider Co., M. W. Graves & Co., McKenzie, Crowe & Co., Alf Fertilizer Co., County Farm, Alf Pheasant, Wilfred Wagner, John McLaughlin, Clowns.

The procession was led by O. P. Covert as John Bull and R. V. Arnold as Uncle Sam.

The trades procession is a feature among Bridgetown's business men, for which they are becoming famous. The grounds in front of the Grand Stand were lighted for the evening. As the procession moved along the street one of the committee was presented with a $100 bill from Mr. F. H. Dodge, of Dodge's Garage, Windsor, who requested to have it applied as other prizes, as he remarked that the judges would certainly have difficulty in awarding first prizes only, either for the floats or the decorated autos. Prizes for this parade were awarded as follows:

Best decorated float: Mrs. E. L. Fisher, second, E. B. Tracey, general farming and poultry display. Best decorated auto: Autumn Leaf, Rest-lah Lodge, I.O.O.F.; second, Mrs. Frances Graves, buttermilk. The judges were: F. W. Harris Esq., Barrister, Annapolis; Mr. Kenneth Brooks, merchant, Paradise; Mrs. Gilbert Langtry, Yarmouth.

More than a thousand people enjoyed dinner and supper at the big tent on the B.A.A.A. grounds.

The first ball game in the afternoon was between the Bridgetown Juniors and Yarmouth Juniors which resulted in a score of 10-7 in favor of the home team:

HE COULDN'T WAIT FOREVER.

A young fellow who was the crack runner of his town—somewhere in the south—was unfortunate enough to have a very dilatory landress. One evening when out for a practice run in his rather airy and abbreviated track costume he chanced to dash past the dusty lady who at the time was a couple of weeks in arrears with his washing. He had scarcely reached home again when the bell rang furiously and an excited voice was wafted in from the porch:

"Foh de Lawd's sake, won't you all tell Marse Bob please not to go out no mo' till I kin git his clothes round to him!"

HE WAS ALARMED ABOUT HIS WIFE

Says She Was Only A Shadow of Her Former Self Before She Began Taking Tanlac

"My wife and I will praise Tanlac as long as we live, for it is nothing less than wonderful the way it has restored her to good health again," said A. J. Johnson, of 49 Cornwallis street, Halifax, N. S.

"For about a year before she started taking Tanlac she was in such a run-down condition that she could hardly drag around. She had no appetite and in fact she was afraid to eat very much because of what she suffered afterwards. Whatever she ate would sour and ferment and bloat her up something awful. She was also troubled with terrible headaches and dizzy spells. Her nerves were in such a bad state, she lost weight and became so weak she couldn't remain up long each day. I was very worried about her, for although she had tried just about everything in the way of medicines, none of them seemed to do her any good."

"We heard of so many people's being helped by Tanlac that my wife decided to give it a trial. The first bottle did her so much good that she kept on with it until now she is well as she ever was in her life. She has a fine appetite and can eat anything without having the least trouble afterwards. She has gained ten pounds in weight and is stronger in every way. She is never bothered with headaches or dizzy spells now and her nerves are so steady she sleeps all night and gets up in the morning feeling fine and able to do the day's work."

CATTLE MEN CAN BORROW

Ottawa, September 1st—Canadian cattle raisers will be carried over the period of abnormally low prices by advances from the banks, secured by their stock. This announcement was made by Hon. S. P. Toimie, minister of agriculture, to-day. By arrangement between the government and the Canadian Bankers' Association, any cattle raiser who asks for a loan and has security in cattle will be given an advance to obtain fodder. Cattle raisers will thus be enabled to carry their stock instead of getting rid of it at sacrifice prices.

FORGET ITS LOW PRICE WHEN YOU COMPARE

Forget the low price of the AMBEROLA when you compare it with higher-priced "talking-machines" and ordinary phonographs.

Buy it because the music is clear and pure. Buy it because the genuine Diamond Point Reproducer eliminates buying and changing needles. Buy it because Amberol Records are almost unbreakable and last a lifetime.

Come—hear the Amberola at our store. If you can't call, write or phone today. In any case, ask about our offer of Three Days of Good Music, Free!

WHY THE FARMER SHOULD HAVE A BANK ACCOUNT

1. Because the farmer creates wealth from the soil and the bank conserves and safeguards wealth and multiplies its use.
2. Because the farmer, in addition to his capital—the soil, his tools, teams and his own physical strength—often keeps his capital at work, and the bank creates and sells the credit he requires.
3. Because the farmer, of all men, should be independent; but in many cases he is not, and must depend on others for supplies and assistance until harvest; and there are but three helpers to which he may go—his landlord, the Supply Merchant or the Bank. If when he has had money he has kept it in the bank, he has a legitimate claim on its consideration when he needs to borrow to make his crop, or for other purposes, at a fair and legal rate of interest.
4. Because money kept at home is unsafe and draws no interest; the farmer's money in the bank is safe and adds to the sum total of each reserve, creating increasing credit facilities in the community.
5. Because a small amount of money in possession of each citizen has little power, but where the money of the many is deposited in one reservoir—the Bank—its power for good is increased many times, and will work for the best interest of all.
6. Because the best and safest partnership is that which exists between the farmer and his banker.
7. Because when the farmer has a deposit in the bank, all of its facilities and advice are for the asking.

ANNAPOLIS COUNTY CLINIC

The Annapolis County Clinic is doing good work, and many are being benefited by its ministrations. The benefit would be more widely spread if a deeper interest were taken and the clinic more generally attended. The information vouchsafed is of great importance. Miss Chute, the Health Nurse, will gladly welcome parents, children, and all who visit the rooms. On Friday, September 9th, a T.B. or Tuberculosis specialist, sent out by Dr. Hattie, Prov. Health Officer, will visit the Clinic rooms (Town Hall) Bridgetown, from 1 to 5 p.m. A number of our local medical men will be present, and a thorough examination of the patients will be made. Literature on Mental Hygiene, T.B., Child Welfare, Pre-Natal, and Contagious Diseases, will be distributed.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentery and colic are most prevalent. Any one of these troubles may prove deadly if not properly treated. During the summer the mother's best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FERRY BOAT LAUNCHED AT SHELBURNE YARDS

Shelburne, August 30—The Colonel Ralston slipped from the ways in the yard of the Joseph McGill Shipbuilding and Transportation Co. at six o'clock this evening. The new craft is to be used as a ferry boat in the Barrington-Cape Island service, and is as graceful as a duck in the water. She was admired by hundreds this evening as she was slipping on the harbor. She is 90 feet in length and 15 feet wide and planked in oak. Her cabin and pilot house are finished in Douglas fir. Her engine is Aulic make, 40 H.P., and she shows a speed of nine knots.

TORONTO PRINTERS PRAY FOR SUCCESS

Toronto, August 30—Printers of local 92, International Typographical Union, who have been on strike nearly three months for the 44-hour week to-day offered up prayers in the Labor Temple for the success of their fight, according to the Toronto Globe, which adds:

"The suggestion was made by a member that by prayer the union might obtain the result, which it has so far failed to secure, and following the meeting in the assembly hall, a number of the strikers proceeded to one of the smaller rooms in the building for a prayer meeting. It was the first time a trade union turned to prayer in its fight with employers and it is doubtful if such a scene was ever witnessed in the Labor Temple."

GOOD HEALTH CAN BE YOURS

If Your Blood Supply is Kept Rich and Red

It is a waste of time and money to fight merely the signs of disease; in the long run you are probably worse off than when you started. What is far more important is that you should intelligently examine the various symptoms and trace the cause. When you remove the cause, health will be yours. For example, anaemic people often endure months of suffering while treating its symptoms, such as indigestion, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and exhaustion after any small effort.

The apparent stomach and heart troubles are generally nothing more than the result of an insufficient supply of pure blood. This anaemic state may have followed some previous illness, or an attack of influenza; or it may have arisen from overwork, worry or too little fresh air. To obtain good health the simple and proper course is to build up the blood, but to do this you must select a reliable remedy with a reputation such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills enrich the blood which carries nourishment to all the organs of the body and enables them to do the work nature expects of them. Thousands of men and women have proved this for themselves. One of these is Mrs. T. Flynn, R.R. No. 1, Erinville, Ont., who says: "Last spring I got into a badly run down condition. I had no energy; work left me exhausted, and the least exertion would make my heart palpitate violently. I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and decided to give them a trial and got a half dozen boxes. I had not been taking the pills long when I felt a decided improvement in my condition and by the time I had used the six boxes I could do my housework with ease. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all weak people."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail post-paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EVAPORATING FACTORIES WILL OPEN

The Berwick Register learns on good authority that the Graham evaporating and canning factories, which were idle all last season, are to resume operations within a few weeks. This will be good news to the people of Berwick, where we have one of the largest combined evaporating and canning factories in the Valley, affording employment to a large number of people as well as providing a market for the products of our orchards.

While conditions in other parts of the province may be more or less depressing at the present time, particularly in urban centres where the unemployment situation is acute, the Annapolis Valley, with its abundant crop of apples now fast maturing, is already developing an atmosphere of activity prognostic of what will manifest a little later on. With our fruit growers getting ready to gather one of the best crops on record; with our packing houses and warehouses opening up, our cooperative establishments running full capacity, and the evaporating and canning factories preparing to open for a full season's run, business prospects for the Valley, for the next six months at least, look favorable indeed—with absolutely no opportunity for an "unemployment problem" developing, the person who wants work can get it.

HOVE UP MOTOR CAR ON THE ANCHOR

Sydney, N.S., August 30—Walter Beers, of this city, rubbed his eyes this morning and wondered if he was awake when he saw a schooner coming up the harbor with his own lost automobile perched on deck. About a week ago Beers was drinking his car on the deck of a scow ferry crossing a Bras D'Or Lake. He had left the machine in gear and it promptly backed off the end of the scow. Three ladies in it were rescued but the car went down a forty feet of water. Yesterday the schooner's anchor caught in one of the wheels and it was hoisted in and brought here not very badly damaged.

BEFORE THEY WERE ROLLED STOCKINGS

The London Daily Mail has found that the average women's dress in hot weather weighs 9½ ounces, without the shoes, which would hardly make up the pound. Men's clothes weigh nearly 5 pounds. Its conclusion is that man should wear tropical clothing in hot weather as well as the ladies.—Why not?

"LOOSEN UP" AND GAIN IN TRAVEL

(George H. Clark in Boston Sunday Herald)

The Land of Evangeline, immortalized by an American poet, is under the particular care of that very important transportation company known as the Dominion Atlantic Railway.

The Dominion Atlantic, of which George E. Graham is General Manager, is you know, the foster-child of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the big parent organization which operates from New Brunswick to Vancouver and from Vancouver to the ends of the earth and back again.

The Dominion Atlantic Railway is improving the system all the time, improving the hotels en route, picking up a "has been" now and then and transforming it into an up-to-date, honest-to-goodness, real hotel with all the fixings. The Dominion Atlantic Railway officials know of the resources and attractions of Nova Scotia and are doing all in their power to capitalize them, but receive little or no support or co-operation from the hotels, chambers of commerce or communities along the line. The hotels, instead of catering to a few hundred American tourists each season, could, if they would loosen up and indulge in some real publicity of a co-operative nature, broad enough in its scope to cover the entire province, attract hundreds of thousands of tourists to its hospitable shores. The average American knows nothing of Nova Scotia. A few New Englanders do, but if the truth were generally known and the public informed of what Nova Scotia has to offer in climate, scenery, fishing, bathing, hunting and fishing and a hundred other attractions, the methods of transportation would have to multiply and the Dominion Atlantic Railway would have to run twice as many trains as it does to-day.

BRIDGE THE GAP

(Farm and Home)

The bottom has dropped out of the cattle market. Choice steers are selling at 5c on the Calgary market with commons at 3c—figures almost unbelievable when it is remembered that the city consumer has received no proportionate benefit. It's the old story over again. The producer and the consumer are too far apart. In times of depression they become even more widely separated. Some months ago the Stock breeders and the United Farmers considered a joint policy in the establishment of a Farmers' stockyard. This is a project which should be given ample consideration and, if feasible, carried out. With proper accord and the provision of the necessary capital, a further step should be taken. Stock breeders should never permit themselves to get back into the old doldrums or be put in a position where they are helpless and have no choice except to take what is offered and be thankful for it.

THE HANTSPOORT RECORDER HAS CEASED TO EXIST

The Kennedy Printing Company of Hantsport, N. S., in which office was published the Weekly Recorder, has ceased to exist. The proprietor, before departing, announced by placard on his office door, that he was on his vacation, but the sheriff informed us a few days ago that the office was unlikely to re-open.

When the rumor of less than a year ago reached us that a paper was to be published at Hantsport, we knew that its proprietor would at least profit by his experience, but our prediction was that it would at least reach its second birthday.—Windsor Journal.

A NECESSITY OF BUSINESS

The absolute necessity for large department stores to the big space in the papers is one of the important factors in the newspaper market. For a time some of the larger stores had thought they could reduce expenses by cutting down their regular daily space. When they did they found that sales also had a knack of falling off and without exception they were forced back to the big space policy. These days the house wife is looking for bargains and is doing her shopping where she finds sales well advertised.—Financial Times.

PRICES LOW IN GERMANY

An American banker who was recently in Berlin, Germany, found, says an exchange, that he could get a first-class room in one of the leading hotels for less than $1 per day, a meal for 35 cents and a hair cut for six cents. In Cologne his room cost him 5c, a day and the charge for breakfast, for which he would have been assessed $1.50 in New York, was but 23 cents. He also found that everybody in Germany appeared to be busy.

NERVOUS, IRRITABLE, AILING WOMEN

Another Triumph for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dimondale, Mich.—"I had inflammation and a displacement and weakness, and it had been neglected so long that it caused great pain, and this affected my mind and nerves so that I was very irritable. I had severe pains every month, so that I was often obliged to lie in bed for two days at a time. I suffered for more than a year before my friends said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' So I purchased one bottle after another until I had taken ten bottles, then Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I received so much benefit from this treatment that I am now able to do my own work."—Mrs. W. D. BRITTEN, R. No. 2, Dimondale, Mich.

Compound has relieved me of these nervous feelings and pains and I am much better in every way. I don't know just how many bottles I have taken, but I took it for nearly a year and it has done me a world of good."—Mrs. JESSIE CRANSEN, R. No. 3, Box 51, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Good health is a woman's greatest asset. With it she may be the inspiration of her husband, a happy mother, and the life of the home. Without it she suffers agonies herself, household duties are a burden, and her family is made miserable by her condition.

Is it any wonder that these women were nervous and irritable after suffering so long from such deranged conditions? Such ailments act directly upon the nerves, and it has been said that a large percentage of nervous prostration, nervous dependency, "the blues," and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement of the female organism.

If women who are in this condition would only profit by the experience of others and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, much suffering and unhappiness would be averted, as everyone knows a nervous, irritable, ailing mother makes the home unhappy and her condition irritates both husband and children.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Affections Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

What Sort of a Town is Bridgetown?

(Written for the MONITOR by a Summer Visitor)

Bridgetown, beautifully situated on the line of the Dominion Atlantic Railway and the Halifax and South Western, has many attractions to a tourist. Its well built streets lined with shaded trees and the pastoral scene outside the town limits stamp it as progressive.

We know, of course, in a general way what the course of life and activity in every country town must be.

The sympathetic sketches of small town life, by which humorists give us an idea, even if we have no other source of information. We know that there is a moving picture show in every town where the rising generation gets an idea of life as it ought to be lived; that there are several churches, each with its own idea of the proper method of religious worship and the proper view on religious subjects; the usual proposition of bachelors, each of whom is partly a joke and partly an object of pity; and the usual procession of stargazing newly weds, who, with the passing of the increasingly number of years, gradually accumulate a family, a photograph, a house and a car. These are inevitable, but as features have nothing distinctive, for they are found in every town. But this statement of the obvious does not carry us very far in answer to the question "What sort of a town is Bridgetown?"

Bridgetown is one of the growing towns in the County of Annapolis, and here is to be seen, one of the Court Houses where every spring the Supreme Court sits, as it has many years ago, for the trial of civil and criminal causes, and whether many of the jurymen journey with grumbling from their farm work, and here too will be found the offices of many of the best lawyers in the province.

And here is to be found the office of the Register of Deeds, with its records of property transfers covering a century or more, and many records of historical value and human interest. Then there are the merchants and automobile men. Bridgetown is not an industrial town. There are but few important enterprises, such as the MacKenzie Larrigan Manufacturing Company, The Hicks & Sons Woodworking and Manufacturing Co., The Graves Cider and Vinegar Works and the Whiteway Cider and Vinegar Plant. These plants annually turn out aerated waters, to supply the thirst of the citizens and also points outside, the sale of which has increased enormously since prohibition went into effect in the province, and as a matter of fact, many other things are manufactured from the apple products. But other than these, there is but little attempt at industrial production. But the town is the centre of a remarkable rich country district. The sprouting power of the farmers and fruit growers of the surrounding country makes it reasonable that it should have many successful business establishments. Besides those mentioned, there are several dry goods stores and drug stores, all of which compare favorably with stores of any town of the same size and population in the province. Then there are ice cream parlors, restaurants, confectionery shops and book stores, one of them with considerable enterprise, conducts a circulating library.

The same factors which determine the success of the mercantile community have caused the rapid growth of garages, service stations and automobile show rooms. There are two Banks in Bridgetown, The Royal Bank of Canada and the Bank of Nova Scotia, a Telegraph and Telephone Station, and the town is brilliantly illuminated with electricity. Bridgetown has also one of the United Fruit Companies of Nova Scotia, in which farmers and fruit growers are interested. It consists of subsidiary companies organized throughout Western Nova Scotia, by farmers and fruit growers on a co-operative basis for the packing and marketing of fruit and the purchase of farm and orchard supplies. Bridgetown is also well known for its proximity to charming summer resorts. Hampton, but a short distance from the town, has many summer residences, where many of the town people go during the warm summer months, to be fanned by the Bay of Fundy breezes.

In the month of June, in apple blossom time, what is more beautiful to see than the whole surrounding country a mass of fragrant bloom, when tourists need hardly to leave the town limits to reach scenes of the most enchanting beauty. There is also athletic grounds, where cricketers and ball players so often meet to try conclusions in friendly rivalry.

The great interest taken for some time past in mayoralty and councilors' elections, indicate the public spirit of the citizens. The town has permanent streets, thanks to the initiative of a former administration, and there has been some building operations going on, making room for an increased population, and when the much needed Post Office is built by the government, Bridgetown will be in a much better way to accommodate the public.

There is a paper published in the town, run on independent lines, The Bridgetown Monitor, published by Mr. G. S. Dunham, who is a wide-awake citizen, and a public spirited man, who does not fail to advocate in its columns what he considers for the good of the community and through its advocacy and the co-operation of the public in general, its progress as a town is assured.

335,000 IDLE IN NEW ENGLAND

Boston, August 31—Unemployment is increasing in New England this week, but numerous mills are expected to resume operations, at least in part, on September 6th. The Valley Queen cotton mills at Riverpoint, R.I., and the Royal mills, both controlled by the B. B. and R. Knight Corporation are closed and many other cotton mills in Rhode Island are running on short time. The Arlington, Pacific, Katama, Monomac, Wood, Washington, Prospect, Everett, Stevens, Davis and Furber mills of Lawrence and North Andover are shut down, as are many other textile and numerous machine and hardware concerns.

The S. D. Warren & Co. paper mills at Cumberland Mills, Me., closed today. About 300,000 persons are idle in Massachusetts; 35,000 in Maine; 15,000 in Vermont; 50,000 in Rhode Island; 35,000 in New Hampshire and 100,000 in Connecticut; total, 535,000.

NOT LEARNING TRADES

(Digby Courier)

Very few boys to-day are learning trades, and the question arises, who will take the place of the carpenters and masons and printers and plumbers and other tradesmen of the present day when, in the course of a few years, they retire from the field? One result will be that the public will have to put up with a great deal of indifferent work. Another will be that the young man who, differing from his fellows, has taken pains to learn a trade will be in great demand and will receive splendid wages. The boy of to-day who sees ahead a few years has a great opportunity of making himself worth while.

CANADA'S APPLE OUTPUT

The commercial production of apples in Canada during 1920 was 3,404,340 barrels, according to a bulletin just issued, subject to final revision by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The value of the 1920 apple crop was $29,849,149, as compared with 3,334,660 barrels valued at $24,396,210 in 1919, an increase of 69,680 barrels in production and $5,452,939 in value. The total value of nursery fruit stock sold in Canada during 1920 amounted to $500,092, as compared with $270,818 in 1919.

A LAND OF PLENTY

E. A. Prevost, of Montreal, who has traveled the Gaspé Coast for the past sixty years, reports the crops as excellent, the best he has seen in years; salmon were plentiful, lots of cod, and the fall herring were now coming in. Farmers and fishermen are living on the fat of the land and the sea. The hotels are all filled with visitors and times in general seem prosperous, a distinct contrast to other sections of the province.—Campbellton Graphic.

PLAYED WITH "BILLIE" BOEMNER

Keene, N.H., August 30—Clinton A. Hyland, former member of the quartette in the late Damman Thompson's Old Homestead company, committed suicide here last night, shooting himself in the head as he lay in bed. Friends said that he had been despondent for some time over failing health. He was fifty-three years old. Hyland was with Thompson for several seasons and left the stage about fourteen years ago.

BUILDING BOOM FOR CANADA

It is predicted that building costs are likely soon to take a drop. When these costs reach a reasonable level, as they are bound to do eventually, there is every probability that a building boom such as Canada has never before experienced will follow. The scarcity of dwelling houses in cities, towns and villages is becoming more and more marked.

SHOE INDUSTRY FACTS

NO. 1—PRICES OF HIDES AND FOOTWEAR

MISINFORMED persons have alleged that the shoe manufacturers are charging excessive prices for footwear, although hides are available at low cost. They contrast retail prices for high-grade shoes, made from fine calf or kid leather, with the prices of "country" cowhides of poor quality, and ignore the following facts:—

1. Manufacturers' prices of boots and shoes have been reduced by 30 to 45 per cent. from the "peak."
2. This reduction represents all the saving that has taken place in the cost of production of leather footwear.
3. Cowhides, when tanned, provide side leather and side leather boots are in relatively small demand. Well-made durable boots of side leather are obtainable in most retail stores at moderate prices.
4. Good quality kid leather still costs the shoe manufacturers from 100 to 200 per cent. more than it did in 1914-15. High-grade calf leather also costs much more than before the war.
5. Manufacturers' prices of boots and shoes to-day are based upon the actual cost of production, from materials valued at present cost. Cost of production is made up of a large number of items and, except as production costs are reduced, it is futile to expect further reduction in manufacturers' prices. Such prices include, in addition to the cost of all leather (sole and upper) entering into the shoes, the following: wages cost (running up to $1.45 or more per pair on fine shoes, according to the pattern and style), machinery cost; counters and toe boxings; findings insoles and fillers; linings; cost of shipping cases, cartons and other supplies; sales tax on all purchases; factory overhead (including the cost of lasts, patterns, dies, etc., and a large number of other items); all selling costs; general office expenses; and manufacturers' profit, if any. Most of these items are beyond the control of the shoe manufacturer and are much higher than before the war. At the present time the prices of some lines of leather, particularly the better grades, are advancing.
6. The prices which the public are required to pay for boots and shoes include: wholesale cost; sales tax; freight or express charges; cartage; all other expenses of retail dealer (including rent, payments of salespeople, store supplies, etc.); and the retailer's profit. Most of these items also are much higher than before the war, due to conditions over which the shoe merchant has no control.
7. If the manufacturers were given all the upper leather used in their shoes free, it is doubtful whether they could make fine shoes under present conditions to sell at pre-war prices.
8. Canadian shoe manufacturers have incurred considerable, and in some cases exceedingly heavy, losses by the decline in the value of stocks of raw materials and merchandise on hand.
9. No large profits are being made in the boot and shoe industry in Canada. Many companies are only barely breaking even and since the end of the war some 25 boot and shoe manufacturing companies—about one out of every seven such companies in Canada—have failed, discontinued manufacturing, or have been forced into financial re-organization. These facts surely do not indicate "profiteering."
10. The keen competition amongst the 170 or more boot and shoe factories in Canada assures to the Canadian people that footwear will continue to be manufactured economically and that the manufacturers' prices represent only an exceedingly narrow margin over the actual production cost.

The following lines contain more truth than poetry:

WHY FARM ORGANIZATIONS FAIL

(Experimental Farms Note)

As soon as the breeding season is over the fowl that are not intended to be retained for future breeders should be disposed of. The birds should be either put into a yard or confined to part of the yard, the rest being limed, ploughed or spaded and seeded to green crop such as rape or rye.

All litter should be removed from the house and the ceiling, walls and floor thoroughly swept. Movable fixtures should be taken out and the whole interior given a thorough washing. The best way to do this is to use the hose if you have one, after the hose give the building a good flooding and scrub it down with a stiff brush. If there is no hose, be even more careful about the scrubbing. After the house has been thoroughly cleaned give it a soaking with a good strong disinfectant. One of the coal tar preparations will be found satisfactory for this purpose, this should be applied with a spray pump so that it will be forced into all the cracks and crevices of the building. If there is no spray pump, use a brush, but be sure to get it into these cracks and crevices.

The house should be left standing for a couple of days to dry out, leaving it wide open to allow the sun and air to enter freely. It should then be given a good application of whitewash. The fixtures, nest boxes, roosts and dropping boards which have been removed should be treated in a similar manner.

At the time of this annual house cleaning it is a good plan to note what repairs to the houses, fixtures and fences are needed and have them made as soon as possible. Also clear up and burn any accumulation of rubbish, leaving nothing under which vermin may hide. A clean house free from lice and mites is easy to keep clean. Then see that the pellets are healthy and free from lice, when they are put in, and the problem of winter eggs is more than half solved.

"NUMBER, PLEASE"

Or try to spring that time-worn ancient wheeze, "Hello, there! That you, Central? Give me heaven,"

She calmly asks the question—"Number, please!"

One day while idly waiting for a number, I heard a petulant old man exclaim—

"All well, on second thought, I will not tell you;

But you would gasp if I should write his name.

She quite ignored his courtesy and coarseness,

But instantly she brought him to his knees;

Her courtesy soon pointed out his error.

For all she answered was "Number, please."

And as I pen this short appreciation, I think that "Central" more than earns her pay;

She's always at our beck and call to aid us,

In business through the long and tiresome day,

And when we think of those who do us service,

I'm sure that everybody else agrees, By far the best of all our public servants

Is the little girl who answers "Number, please."

The Real Issue

There is just one thing about Chiropractic that sick people are interested in, and that is "Will it make me well?" My friend, the common, every-day citizen enjoys the same privilege of opinion that I enjoy. I may argue with him from now till eternity on the merit of the premise upon which Chiropractic is founded. These things we may never agree upon; yet if we both see health come to our mutual friend after he has suffered for years, and if we learn that he has been regularly visiting his Chiropractor there can be no argument between us on the fact of what it has done for him. Witness this thing often enough and the matter of the Chiropractic premise is a lost issue. My friend may still believe that surgery, medicine, mental suggestion or diet are excellent things, yet he cannot deny that CHIROPRACTIC IS EFFECTIVE. We find that all our arguments have meant wasted effort and lost time; but the one thing worth while, the only thing that he, as a sick man, is concerned about, is that Chiropractic brings health. Whether the Chiropractor followed one curriculum or another is no longer an issue. My friend visits the Chiropractor for just one reason—to regain his health.

How can my friend satisfy himself that Chiropractic is effective, often where everything else has been tried? Let him investigate our National record and the record of his local Chiropractor. Our National record shows us the leading drugless healing system to-day, while in 1894 we had not been born. Our National record shows that we are legally recognized in over half the United States, because your neighbor and mine demanded Chiropractic service. Why this rapid development? Because millions of sane, straight-thinking, common people found themselves getting well under Chiropractic. Just as sick people everywhere are interested in the one question, "WILL IT GET ME WELL?" So is the Chiropractor interested in the one issue of getting you well. He knows that his greater service to humanity in the future depends on his restoring health to you. You say, "Will Chiropractic make me well?" Our answer is our record of growth is exactly proportionate to the health Chiropractic has brought.
