Washington.

IN looking over a collection of vignettes of George Washington, which were copied from paintings and busts taken from life, an idea struck me that the artists or sculptors of the profiles, etc., of "The Father of his Country" are, by name, not known to many stamp collectors, although all know the face of the first American president. To all it will be interesting to know who were the famous delineators or chisellers of portraits which adorn so many varieties of the stamps of the United States.

The collection of vignettes that lie before me are twenty-eight in number, and fully one-half of them have been reproduced on the postage or revenue stamps of the great republic

The two cent denomination of the current issue postage is taken from a bust moulded by Hondau in 1785, who came to America for that express purpose from France. This bust has on other occasions been brought into use as model for the engraver, but maybe we had better commence at the foot of the stamp list, which bears a portrait of our subject; and by so doing, can cover space more rapidly. The three cent stamp of 1851-56 was also taken from the model of Hondau, and to all appearances the same denomination of the issue 1861-68 is from the same bust, but it is by some (who are supposed to know) thought to have been copied from a painting made in 1795 by Jas. Peale.

The three-quarter face bust as shown on the ten and twelve cents stamps of both 1851-56 and 1861-68, are from a painting by Gilbert Stuart in 1796. This Stuart was the most prominent American painter of that time, and so far as vignettes of Washington are concerned, is to the present day, since this picture has been re-produced several hundred times on bank notes, stamps, coins, medals and various other illustrated articles.

The medallion on the twenty-four cent stamp of the two series 1851 and 1861, show the same portrait, but taken from the opposite side, which change gives pleasing variety to portraits of him who could not tell a lie.

The ninety-cent denomination of the 1851-6 series is a very handsome stamp, bearing a full bust reproduction of a painting made in 1793 by Wertmuller, a noted Swedish painter, who came to America (Philadelphia) in 1876. At this period Washington was 61 years of age. Look at the stamp of same value for next series (1861-68). In viewing the features of the face closely, you are led to think that it is taken from a later design, but such is not the case—in fact it is the reverse. This portrait is taken from a painting by Edward Savage, made from life, in 1785.

The profile on the three-cent stamp of 1870-88, is from a bust modelled in 1791

by Ceraechi, an Italian sculptor of some note, who came to America in 1790 with the idea of erecting a monument to the American revolution.

The two-cent denomination of 1883-7 are from the best by Hondan, of which the current issue of the same value is.

The profile on the stamped envelopes that bear the head of Washington were, up to 1870, reproduced from the moulding by Hondan. Even the series of 1870 (Reay) were only slightly changed from the previous issues.

One of the most beautiful of the many embossed stamps of Washington is that known as die B of the issue of 1874. It is a fine re-production of a bas-relief in gypsum, made about 1798. The clearness of the die is very fine. The sculptor or moulder of this bas-relief was George Miller, of Philadelphia.

Another fine profile is seen on the three cent stamp, same issue, known as die C. This painting, by Mdlle de Brechan, was painted in 1789. This portrait looks many years younger, of course, but it is not only that which changes the appearance of the face—the posture of the head is different, the arrangement of the hair is different, but at the same time, unless you look very closely, you will, perhaps, not notice that it varies so much from former dies A and B.

In die D of this issue we have another profile which is a poor reproduction of a painting by James Peale in 1793.

The portraits on the document stamps of the four different issues are from paintings by Stuart made in 1795.

The profile on the stamps of 1878 for proprietary goods is reproduced from the painting by Mdlle de Brechan. Many other busts and portraits of Washington are to be found on stamps, such as the match and medicine series.

ONCE a collector obtains a fair-sized collection, he notices that during past years different countries have, in turn, been eagerly sought for, that at an earlier time were neglected. Knowing this, the wise collector in many cases uses his own judgment, and collects only such countries as may appear to him likely to be difficult to complete at a later date.

What next? applies just as well now as to the future.

Canada has lately been receiving more than the usual attention, and the Jubilee issue of both Canada and Newfoundland will be the means of many new collectors entering the field of stamps.

A branch in Canada that has come in considerable demand is that of revenue collecting. Some of the difficulties which most collectors have had to surmount in this branch is in possessing a catalogue giving the denominations and market value of the stamps. The lack of an album built after the design of the famous International has hindered not a few from collecting these stamps.

The catalogue field is well covered by Adams' and Ketcheson's catalogues, the latter also covering the postal issues of Canada and Provinces.

As to an album, the best way is to mount stamps in a blank album, whereby a much better effect can be obtained by displaying the stamps in odd combinations. This is the manner in which most all the collections of these stamps that I know of are arranged, and their owners are quite proud of their possessions.

The most popular stamps are those of the smaller sizes, such as Bill and Quebec Registration stamps.

A good collection can be gathered quickly at a moderate outlay of "cold cash," but some of the varieties cost no trifling sum.

The handsomest stamps of the whole series are the Supreme Court, and next to these come the three issues of Bill stamps and New Brunswick Law series. If you have not yet started collecting these stamps, think over the matter.

Collectors use their own judgment more now than ever before, and while one individual may find nothing in U.S. and Canada revenues, dozens express the great pleasure they find in collecting these stamps. One great advantage is the lack of minor varieties, which are the bane of many collectors. In revenues, all this is done away with—one stamp, as a rule, representing every variety.

Canada Jubilee Issue.

MUCH ill-feeling and trouble has been brought amongst collectors by the manner in which this issue has been placed on sale to the public.

In the first place dealers both in the Dominion and the United States presumed that the old method of selling each one what they wanted, would prevail, and advertised sets from ½c to 10c, ½c to 50c, and ½c to $1, at exceedingly low rates—barely 10% over face value—but they were not trying to benefit themselves, but collectors.

It is a positive fact that no dealer in Toronto sent out any ½ or 6c after the first week, simply because they could not buy at a reasonable price, and orders out of town were coming in to buy at .75c each. People in U.S. and Canada sending payment for Jubilees received all the values except these, and some consider themselves as having been "done," while the majority thank their stars they ever got a glimpse of a Jubilee issue, and are exceedingly happy and content with what they received.

So far as we know all dealers willingly refunded to anyone not satisfied, but collectors should bear in mind that it is not the fault of dealers that these missing varieties could not be obtained, but the fault of the post office department in not selling them to the public. Collectors should also remember that most all these values will at any time bring more than than was paid for them, and in the fall season, when business becomes active, they will more clearly see this point. Meantime, any collector who wants the  $\frac{1}{2}$ , 6 or 8c, should buy same at any fair figure.

Since penning the foregoing reliable information has come to hand that a few thousand sets from  $\frac{1}{2}$  to 50c, and from  $\frac{1}{2}$  to \$1 will go on sale in order that collectors may get a chance to buy what they want. Every collector should place his order with a reliable dealer at once, in order to have same filled at an early date. The stamps go on sale week of August 9th, and will not last long owing to the fact that they are distributed all over Canada.

The American Bank Note Co. have to turn in to the Government a lot of stamps (made from NEW plates) at end of August being the first installment of their contract which came into force July 1st. At present no one knows whether the new stamps are the old issue of 1872-90 re-engraved, or an entirely new set of stamps. In either case the Jubilee set does not conflict with the new issue.

About all complete sets have already been sold.

J. B. SIMPSON.

Provisional Stamps.

In a short article we shall endeavor to show you the causes which led to the surcharging of stamps and which made them provisional, that is, brought into use on and for special occasions, during the last twelve years, 1886-97 inclusive.

There is, perhaps, no branch of philately more interesting than the study of stamp history, which relates in many ways to the political history of the world. Provisional stamps may be divided into classes but to be more to the point, we will mention seven classes, which will practically cover the ground.

These are—(1) stamps issued, surcharged, during a temporary failure of supplies generally used; (2) stamps issued during a change in the rates of postage; (3) stamps issued in time of war—very fortunately there have been very few wars among stamp-issuing countries, but a few stamps are known that come under this heading; (4) stamps issued by a provisional government; (5) stamps temporarily issued on the introduction of a new or independent postal system; (6) those issued on the absolute transfer of the ownership of a country. Within the last twelve years very few countries have changed hands where both parties used postage stamps. (7) stamps issued owing to a previously current series having been forged. Of these there are less than any of the preceding. There may be added a ninth class—stamps issued at the time of changing from one specie of money to another, as note the Ceylon stamps of 1884-90, but the seventh branch will epitomize everything required.

In this class it is almost safe to say that more than the majority is filled by the colonies of Britain, but to start in proper order, we shall start with the  $\frac{1}{4}$ c on 12 Argentine Republic. This issue was caused by supplies not coming to hand when expected. Barbadoes of 1892  $\frac{1}{2}$ d on 4d brown was due to this fact.

9 Adelaide Street East, TORONTO, CAN.

REGARDING the Canadian Jubilee issue, we have pleasure in quoting the opinion of John W. Scott:—"Stamp papers throughout the world have been anathematizing the Jubilee issue of Canada, and yet, this same series has done more to popularize and revive stamp collecting in that country than all the stamp papers ever published put together."

OUR Liberal Government are having everything made new in Ottawa by the American Bank Note Co. Already new one and two dollars Dominion bank bills have appeared, and now comes the important announcement that in two months, or thereabouts, we are to have a new issue of postage stamps. The Jubilee issue has been exhausted some weeks now, and the old 1871 issue is again in use, but the quantity on hand at Ottawa is rapidly decreasing. According to press reports the new design has been approved of by the Postmaster-General. It is a portrait of Her Majesty as she appeared at the coronation. The portrait has been engraved from a photo procured during the Jubilee ceremonies, and bearing the Queen's autograph. The corners of the stamps will be maple leaves.

JOHN R. HOOPER has been transferred to Kingston Penitentiary owing to a riot among the prisoners in the St. Vincent de Paul Prison. He, however, thinks this transference means a speedy release. The present Minister of Justice—Sfr Oliver Mowat—will shortly retire, and as a new Minister will be appointed to fill the vacancy, it is altogether likely that Hooper will again have petitions presented for a pardon.

HENRY GREMMEI, a prominent New York dealer, passed this life a few weeks, aged 35 years. He was born in Bremen, Germany, and as a musician, visited many parts of the world. His stamp business has been bought by a syndicate, while Crawford Capen, the editor of "Post Office," becomes the manager, and will also continue the stamp monthly.

A SHORT time ago Mr. Dodge, who publishes the "Columbian Philatelist" bought R. M. Miller's "American Collector, and now comes the later news that "The Rocky Mountain Stamp" has also been purchased. Mr. Dodge, for the present, will continue the three as separate publications.

COLLECTORS of Canada revenues will be interested to know that an entirely new issue of these stamps are now in process of engraving at Ottawa.

ONE of Toronto's well-known young men, Mr. Charles Bailey, manager of the Collectors' Stamp Co., has become a permanent resident in the vicinity of Chicago.

THE demand for Canada Jubilee stamps is greater than ever, now that the issue is entirely exhausted. Those who talk of the issue as "speculative," show how little they know of actual facts. We know of parcels having seventy dollars in stamps on one parcel alone, so those who cannot afford to buy a full set, can buy the cheaper sets before they rise in value.

THE CANADIAN PHILATELIC MAGAZINE.

L. M. STÄBLER is the manager of the Johnstown Stamp Co. He formerly resided in London.

I. A. Mekeel is now sole proprietor of the "Weekly Stamp News."

In order to largely increase our subscription list, we make several offers to subscribers on another page. These offers will not be continued long.

THE demand at present is Canadian revenues, and some dealers are doing an immense trade in these stamps.

WM. R. ADAMS reports that the first edition of his Canada Revenue Catalogue is about exhausted. This is the best Catalogue on the market, and its extensive sale proves it.

WHAT has become of that "We, Us & Company" concern in Halifax, who was elected president of the Dominion Philatelic Association? Wonders to be done, new blood put into the dying Association (which had far more life a year ago than now), and which have not been started even, prove that the said president is full of wind, which about represents the whole list of officers, who are now fighting each other. This same official was so sure of being defeated for office, that, not knowing he was the only one in the field, and would, therefore, have been elected by acclamation, issued notice of his intention to organize another society.

FRAUDS.

We have received the names of a number of people who have books of stamps, etc., which they have not paid. Heretofore, we have refrained from publishing this kind of "news," but in the future this class of people cannot escape. Anyone reading this notice with a blue mark, will be reminded that they have what does not belong to them, otherwise full information for the benefit of others will appear in the next issue.

A Reminiscence.

It was a unique occurrence that recently befell B—. His advertisements appear constantly in large numbers of papers throughout the country stating his desire to buy all kinds of stamps.

In the course of a year many queer things happen, as, for instance, one paper published his ad. to read "25.00 a hundred paid for Jubilee stamps," with the result that he was in receipt of quantities (in some cases, entire sheets) of 1c stamps unused being sent him, and the parties very eager to know how many more he wanted. Postmasters in small towns offered their stocks—but they had no ½, 6 or 8c—but one postmaster had some 8c ones which he would dispose of at the remarkably low (?) price of $5.00 each! It would have been amusing, but it cost some money to return the stamps to their owners.

But one morning, on opening his mail, a countrified epistle stated in many words that the party writing had a 12 pence black stamp, and how much would it be worth to Mr. Dealer?

Shades of Cæsar! how that dealer rubbed his brow and mused! Visions of prosperity to which the Klondike Gold Fields were nothing, crossed his brain. He would offer ten dollars; no, he would be generous and give the horny-handed son of the farm twenty-five dollars. In his glee he wrote Mr. Farmer to send the stamp for inspection.

A few weeks went by, and in the rush of buying Jubilee stamps the 12 pence was forgotten. But it came, for on opening his mail one morning he found the gem of Canada. There it lay—rudely cut from the printed page of an album.
