"There is a kind of physiognomy in the titles of Books, no less than in the faces of men, by which a skillful observer will as well know what to expect from the one as the other."—BUTLER.

NOTES OF THE SEASON.

The present season has been unusually prolific of Fine Books. Illustrated by all processes—steel, copper plate, and wood engraving, in photography, chromo-lithography and in gold and colours. All have been busy and have been emulous of producing, in the most elegant dress and in the finest taste, the books of the season. Type-founders, printers, paper-makers, binders and engravers, no less than authors, editors, and publishers have been eager to present most worthily the subjects that have engaged their skill and workmanship.

Certainly it is one of the most promising features of the age—superior book-making—both as to the matter of a book and the manner of its execution; and the bibliographer and collector of our day, tho' they may be wearied with the multiplicity of the productions of the press, yet they must be satisfied with the scholarship, the research and the ingenuity of their authors, and charmed with the artistic designing and typographical taste of the producers of them. But what a pity it is that we, in the Colonies, are so poor and that so few of our lovers of rare and fine books are unable to indulge in the luxuries of art and book-making that are currently being produced. We will not hint that there is a want of appreciation, on the part of our wealthier book-patrons, of these choicer books, but we fear there is a lack of that generous feeling towards literature generally that characterizes the English connoisseur of books and the frequenter of the shops of the book men in the old world. We regret that there is so little encouragement to the book men to import the better class of books. How would the intelligent and appreciative importer of books, of whom there are many now rising up in the Province, be delighted to receive orders for a few of the books we note below, and we hold that the effect of having these books here and there in our midst would be most beneficial and desirable in educating the taste and elevating the culture of the mass of our population.

But we proceed to summarize briefly the more important of the works in the various departments which have appeared at the beginning of the present season. Among these, in Illustrated Works, the chief are "Kellerhoven's Reproduction of the Great Masters," produced by a Paris house in colours, with a background of gold, in a manner so faithful and exquisite that they resemble closely the rich magnificence of the original paintings.

The wedding at Windsor, a memorial by Dr. Russell, illustrated in a series of chromo-lithographic drawings by Day & Son claims the next place in importance. The work is a most sumptuous one; illustrating in thirteen folio pictures of the most gorgeous character, the incidents in the alliance of their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales. We enumerate a few of the subjects chosen for illustration "Portraits of the illustrious personages," "the movements of the Royal squadron, and the arrival of the Princess Alexandra." Eight representations are given of the reception in London, "the arrival in the Rubens' room, Windsor Castle," then follow exquisite pictures of "the eight bridesmaids," "the marriage scene," "the signing of the attestation deed," together with fac similes of the signatures attached, magnificent representations of the presents in gold and silver, jewels, lace, &c. The cost of this royal volume is five guineas.

A new and less costly edition of the New Testament published by the Longmans has appeared, with engravings on wood from the designs of Fra Angelico, Perugino, Titian, Raphael, Ferrari and others. We referred to this great work, at some length, in our number for last Christmas. It is one of supreme excellence and the illustrations are of the highest artistic order. A host of elaborate volumes appear in Longfellow's prose romance "Hyperion," illustrated by twenty-four photographs of the Rhine, Switzerland and the Tyrol; in "Home Thoughts and Home Scenes" original poems by Jean Ingelow and others, with pictures by A. R. Houghton, engraved by Dalziel Brothers. "The Cornhill Gallery" illustrated by the artists of that Magazine and the "Pictures of English Life" published by Messrs. Low & Son are most charming volumes. Then, an isle delight us of popular editions of favourite authors, beautifully illustrated, from the presses of Messrs Cassell, Ward & Lock and others, embracing Shakespeare, Bunyan, Goldsmith, Robinson Crusoe, Gulliver's Travels, Arabian Nights, Don Quixote, &c. We have in the yearly volumes of "Good Words" "Sundays at Home," and the "Leisure Hour" annual, unlike those of former years, of permanent value and interest.

In Travels we have an interesting companion volume to that of the late Captain Speke, by his fellow traveller Captain Grant, entitled "Walk Across Africa, or Domestic Scenes from my Journal." From the pen of Dr Pierotti we have a work of great research and of interest to a large class of readers on the "Customs and Traditions of Palestine, illustrating the manners of the ancient Hebrews." From Dr. Alford, the Dean of Canterbury, "Letters from Abroad in 1854" most of which appeared in "Good Words." From Alexander Smith, "A Summer in Skye, a hand book for Fireside Travellers." Captain Hall's Arctic Researches and life among the Esquimaux, published by the Harpurs, adds another volume to the narratives of these fruitless expeditions in search of Sir John Franklin. The period covered by Captain Hall's narrative is 1860-62. "Orusoo's Island, a ramble in the footsteps of Alexander Selkirk" by J. Ross Browne meets us. Mr. Murray announces a new work by Dr. David Livingstone, entitled "Narrative of an Expedition to the Zambesi and its Tributaries, and of the Discovery of the Lakes Shirwa and Nyassa between the years 1858 and 1864. We look for this new work with considerable interest and curiosity.

In History we have much in prospect, but little has actually appeared of late. We have the publication of a number of continuations of works in this class of which are Rawlinson's Five Great Monarchies of the Ancient Eastern World, Vol. 2, Froude's History of England, from the death of Elizabeth, Vols. 1 and 8. Smith's History of the World, Vol. 2. Dyer's History of Modern Europe, from the fall of Constantinople in 1453 to close of the Crimean War, Vols 3 and 4. Alison's History of Europe, from 1815 to 1852, Vol. 5, of cheap edition. Macaulay's History of England, Vol. 4, of people's edition. Pollock's War in America, Vol. 3. Tytler's History of Scotland, to the Union, Vol. 3, of new edition. Of the recent works in this department we find Vol. 2 of J. W. Kaye's History of the Sepoy War in India, 1857-8 and Dr. Russell's review of the Russian account of the defence of Sebastopol; from the pen of General Todleben, two works of special interest to all Englishmen, as well as to those who make history a study. Thompson's Victoria History of England, from C. 64 to A. D. 1868, we judge, will be considered of considerable educational value, besides being a most attractive and popular volume. Of interest to Canadian readers will be found Thomas D'Arcy McGee's Popular History of Ireland and a people's edition of Garneau's History of Canada, translated by Bell, and published by Mr. Lovell of Montreal. We regret to find that the publisher of the former of these works has shut his book out of the proper channels of sale,—the legitimate trade. This is unwise and unlike the generous interest in the trade manifested by the latter publisher, Mr. Lovell, who has thrown the whole of his edition into the hands of our booksellers. We are promised, shortly, by Mr. Lovell, a new History of Canada, the production of Mr. J. G. Hodgins, an educationist of the highest standing in the Province. Of the forthcoming books in this department, we note among the chief,—Europe beyond the Sea; or, the Exodus of the Western Nations, by the Right Hon. Viscount Bury. The History of Greece to the close of the Peloponnesian War, by Dr. Curtius. The History of the present American War to the conclusion of the campaign of 1863, with numerous plans of Battles, by Lieut. Col. Fletcher, Scots Fusilier Guards. The great Governing Families of England, by J. L. Sandford and M. Townsend. The story of Cawnpore, by G. U. Trevelyan. Our British Ancestors, who and what were they? The traditional history of the Early Britons, by the Rev. S. Lysons, M.A.

Important Bibliographical Work. Mr. Edwards' "Libraries and Founders of Libraries" is about to be given to the world. The work is of immense interest, and we predict for it an extensive sale. The scope of the book will be seen from the following enumeration of some of the chapters. The Ancient, Medieval and Modern Libraries; the Monastic libraries at home and abroad, also of those of some famous authors of various periods and countries; concerning the Libraries of some celebrated Monarchs and Royal Personages; History of the State Paper Office, of the Public Records of the Realm, of some private Libraries, &c. The cost of this work will be $5.

Moxon's Miniature Poets. Mr. Moxon, the poet's publisher, has commenced the issue in elegant form, of a new series of the poets, under the above title. The initiatory volume is "Selections from the works of Alfred Tennyson, D.C.L." and containing hitherto unpublished Sonnets, Songs and Pieces, &c., with portrait of the author, from a photograph.

The Fatherhood of God, being the first of the Cunningham Lectures by the Rev. Dr. R. Candlish of Edinburgh, is announced by Messrs. A. & C. Black.

Sunday School Books. R. & A. propose opening shortly a department specially appropriated to a stock of the above books, from the publishing houses of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, the General Prot. Epis. Sunday School Union, &c., which, they doubt not, will be of advantage to parties selecting Reward Books and additions to Sunday School Libraries.

The Bampton Lectures. The subject of the volume for 1861 in this series is "The Progress of Doctrine in the New Testament," by the Rev. T. D. Bernard, M.A., of Exeter College, Oxford.

Sebastopol in 1854-5. The Substance of the Russian account of the Defence of Sebastopol, from the pen of General Todleben, has been given us by Dr. Russell of the 'Times,' in the shape of a Review. Dr. Russell does not attempt to criticise the work, or reconcile the various statements with those of the English and French account by Kinglake and De Bazancourt.

The Globe Edition of Shakespeare. This marvel of publishing enterprise has met with universal favour. The first edition of 20,000 was at once bought up, and this, too, so recently after the extensive sales of the Tercentenary editions. But we are not surprised at this, for the 'Globe Edition' is a most tempting and desirable one; it is edited from the best texts, by the editors of the new Cambridge Shakespeare, printed in elegant and readable type, very portable in size, handsome in binding, and at a price that will place it within the reach of all.

Notas. In the year 1864 there were published in London 3563 works and new editions, including pamphlets; of these there were of Religious, 715; Biography and History, 232; Geography, Topography and Travel, 151; Fiction or Juvenile Works, 642; Poetry and general Literature, 505; Annuals and new serials, 166; Law and Parliamentary, 79; Medical and Surgical, 124; European and Classical Philology, including translations, 132; English Philology and Education, 177; Naval, Military and Engineering, 52; Politics and Questions of the Day, 56; Agriculture, Horticulture and Field

Sports, 46; Art, Architecture, &c., 52; Commercial, 41; Science and Natural History, 122. It is curious to note the extent of sale reached by the more important works of the day at Mr. Murray's annual trade dinner, last month. Lord Derby's Translation of Homer reached 990; Dean Stanley's 2nd series Jewish Lectures, 3,200; Grote's Plato and Companions of Socrates, 750; Robinson's Geography of the Holy Land, 500; Vambory's Central Asia, 1,600; Smiles' Life of Brindley, 4,200; Smiles' George and Robert Stevenson, 2,900; Lyell's Elements of Geology, 1,500; Smith's Dictionary of the Bible, 3 vols., 1,200; Millman's Latin Christianity, 9 vols., 400; Smith's Student's Manuals, 10,500; Byron's Works, 1 vol., 1,100; Markham's Histories, 10,000; Smith's Latin Dictionaries, 4,300; Do. Classical Dictionaries, 3,000; Smiles' Self Help, 1,200; Stanley's Sinai, 600; Stanley's Jewish Church, 700; Hallam's Historical Works, 1,000; Blunt's Coincidences, 600.

A second series of Max Muller's Lectures on the Science of Language has just issued from the press. These valuable and interesting Lectures were delivered at the Royal Institution of Great Britain.

Now Work by M. Guizot. Meditations on the Essence of Christianity and on the Religious Questions of the Day. 1 vol. 12mo. $1.00. Translated from the French under the superintendence of the author. "This work is every way worthy its distinguished author and the age. Of all the replies we have seen to modern infidelity, in its various developments, this is the best. Its argument is simple common sense, and level with the capacity of ordinary readers, and yet it is powerful and convincing. It should be sent broadcast through the country wherever the sentiments of Renan, Parker, Colenso & Co. have found utterance."

Third American Edition of "The most Comprehensive and Important Biblical work of the age." Lange's Commentary, (Vol. 1, Matthew.) 8vo, cloth; price $3.

A Commentary on the Holy Scriptures, Critical, Doctrinal and Homiletical, by John P. Lange, D.D., in connection with a number of eminent European divines, translated from the German, and edited, with additions original and selected, by Philip Schaff, D.D., in connection with American Divines of various Evangelical denominations. Vol. 1. contains a general introduction to the Gospel by Matthew.

NOTE.

Designed as this Catalogue has been for general gratuitous distribution, and as a handy medium of communication between the subscribers and their correspondents, it was impossible to give any fullness to the titles of the works on the various subjects, while embracing so wide a range of literature. The desire has been only to indicate the more important authors, on each subject, with the editions extant, and their prices. Appended is a list of the recent publications in miscellaneous literature, to which additions are currently being made. From the constant influx and reflux of stock many of the books in the following pages are not at all times to be found on the subscribers' shelves; but as they avail themselves of daily communication with the publishing houses of the States, and of weekly with those of Great Britain, they can speedily, to order, replace them. The subscribers are confident that this Catalogue, Reprint of our best authors, will be acceptable to the reading public, and that it will, so far as it goes, serve as a useful guide to book-buyers, and those purchasing for Public Libraries.
