PLEADED GUILTY ON 3 CHARGES OF GRAFT

Milton T. Buchanan, ex-Mayor of Ingersoll, Throws Up the Sponge—Released on Suspended Sentence—Restitution Made—McCarty Indictment Thrown Out.

ST. THOMAS, April 19.—(Special.) Milton T. Buchanan, ex-Mayor of Ingersoll and former warden of Oxford County, spent something less than a week in the prisoners' dock at the Elgin assizes before Mr. Justice Middleton this afternoon. During that brief period he pleaded "guilty" on three charges of "grafting" while occupying a municipal office, and at the end of the time was released on suspended sentence. Eater the jury returned "no bill" on the conspiracy indictment against B. E. McCarty of Thamesford.

At 4:15 o'clock the grand jury, which had been considering the indictments yesterday afternoon the ten indictments against Buchanan, returned five true bills as follows:

1. Conspiracy to defraud.
2. Breach of trust.
3. Breach of trust.
4. Conspiracy and breach of trust.
5. Conspiracy to defraud.

Buchanan here entered the box for arraignment and Crown Attorney McCammon read indictment No. 6, concerning a deal with the Sawyer-Massey Company of Hamilton.

"How do you plead?" the clerk asked the prisoner.

"Guilty," was the unexpected reply. "Guilty?" queried the clerk, not sure that he had understood.

But Buchanan repeated "Guilty." Indictments No. 4 and No. 1 were then read in full, and the plea in each case was "Guilty."

Merger Announced

MONTREAL, April 19.—(Special.) The state conciliatory announced this evening that the Furness-syndicate has purchased both the Northern and Inland Navigation Companies, also buying a large block of Richelleu stock, giving the Furness people a considerable representation on the R. & O. board.

All Churches On Equality

Portuguese Decree Separating Church and State To Be Promulgated Friday or Saturday.

LISBON, April 19.—The cabinet has concluded the finishing touches on the decree of separation regarding the church and state. This will be promulgated on Friday or Saturday. The main points of the decree are as follows: The state recognizes the liberty of all creeds, the Catholic creed ceasing to be the state religion from the date of the promulgation. Henceforth all churches will be maintained by the faithful. The benefited clergy will continue to receive their stipends until July 1, after which they will be paid on a parity with other professions.

All the Portuguese and foreign clergy engaged in religious work will continue as hitherto, but all others must obtain authorization. All the religious property which is proved to belong to private individuals, either Portuguese or foreign, will be respected. British and other foreign seminaries will be allowed to remain, but those connected with the seminaries will not be allowed in the streets in clerical garb.

As the Catholic will no longer be the state religion, priests may marry, so far as Portuguese law is concerned. In case of death, pension will revert to the parents, widow or children.

The separation of church and state was announced in a decree issued by the provincial government last October. The details of the separation were left for the consideration of the cabinet. The announcement by Foreign Minister Machado last January that the decree would be promulgated within a month, led to the assurance of a pastoral letter signed by the patriarch of Lisbon to the archbishops and bishops of Portugal.

DR. HUME ZEALOUS FOR SIMPLIFIED SPELLING

Will Help to Make English Language of Commerce—Commends The World.

Dr. J. G. Hume, president of the Society for the Improvement of Spelling, in English as a world language, before the special reform section of the Ontario Educational Association, yesterday afternoon.

"The increase of volapuk and esperanto prove the need of a universal mode of communication. It is practical to make English such a universal medium."

"In its favor there is the enormous advantage of the world-wide commerce and the greatest trading nations of the world."

Liberal Speaker Gives Away Government Case Regarding Reciprocity—Millers Would Be Able Under Agreement to Buy Cheaper Grain in Chicago.

OTTAWA, April 19.—(Special.) J. A. Robb, Liberal member for Huntingdon, Que., completely spoiled the case of the government to-day as regards the reciprocity agreement. He is a miller. He admitted that the Ontario farmers got better prices for their wheat than they will get under the agreement. He said the farmers to-day refused to sell their grain at the world's market prices. Now, said Mr. Robb, under the reciprocity agreement the millers would be able to go to Chicago and buy grain cheaper. In other words, the Canadian farmers could stay in their own jobs.

The government representatives have been industriously announcing that after the Easter recess they would call off their speakers on the reciprocity agreement and leave the religious orators to continue it until they were tired. The government had assumed the case for reciprocity had been sufficiently well made out. The visit of the members to their constituencies, however, has been disappointing, and the plan has been abandoned.

Many Members Absent. There was a very small attendance of members when the houses assembled for parliament this morning. conspicuous amongst the absentees were the western Conservatives. The opposition leader was not in his place.

Col. Hughes called attention to the fact that the city officials were also in the City of Ottawa, as a result of the smallpox epidemic. He pointed out that the city officials, who had been removed to Porters Island last Sunday, and the colonel asked if it was true that the man in the parliament buildings had been occupied until a month ago.

Mr. Cuthbert asked what action the government would take as regards the other, if one of the members of parliament were sent to the pest house. There was no reply to this.

American Gunboats on Lakes. Hon. George E. Foster asked if the report that the government had given permission to another American gunboat to proceed thru the canals to the great lakes.

Mr. Foster then brought up the matter of the regrettable fatality which overtook the mounted police squad between Fort MacPherson and Dawson. He said he really did not know why that expedition was sent out of Fort MacPherson at that time of the year, and it would be to the benefit of the house and the country that there should be an explanation.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, after giving the official details of the loss of Inspector Fitzgerald and the three men, said it had been the policy of the mounted police for ten years to have that northern part of the country, as well as the Hudson Bay, patrolled constantly summer and winter.

Martin Burrell asked if the government had received a copy of the commercial treaty between Great Britain, U. S. and Japan. Mr. Fielding was non-committal. Mr. Burrell remarked that he had a copy.

MISS WILFRID: Why, bless me! most of the stones are under water.

CANADA AGAINST THE AGREEMENT

This is the Consensus of Opinion of Conservative Members Who Have Visited Constituencies.

OTTAWA, April 19.—(Special.)—A careful canvass to-day of the members of parliament who have returned from a visit to their constituencies, shows a unanimous opinion amongst the Conservatives that the reciprocity agreement is a disaster to the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The Ontario Conservatives say most emphatically that that province will never accept the reciprocity agreement. They are divided, generally speaking, on party lines on the question, but that the towns, especially the border towns, were sold against it.

May Lose Maritime Provinces. The voice of Ontario was, of course, expected to be very certain against the agreement, and it was the maritime provinces that most eyes were cast. A large number of meetings were held, and the province was also gone over quietly and thoroughly by its members.

Metropolitan's New Line. The Toronto and York Radial Railway Co. (Metropolitan division) has applied to the Ontario Railway Board for approval of plan and profile of proposed extension of the south end of its Metropolitan division westerly of Yonge-street, from the C.P.R. tracks northward to within a few feet of Balmoral-avenue.

The Why and the Wherefore. Katie-Diddle-Why, when, and where, will be fully explained at the Princess Theatre next Monday evening, when the new musical comedy interpreted by 100 people, will be presented. It is said to be a dream of lovely women set to music and vented, Twins and Mme. Sherry of Three company.

NEED MORE HOTELS, MORE RESTAURANTS

Toronto is Growing So Rapidly That All Are Overcrowded.

Toronto is in need of more hotels, more restaurants and more eating houses, and all of a better class. During the holiday time like Easter or the fair, or the score other periods in the year when there is a rush of travellers and visitors, there is great lack of accommodation. People at these times block the way in most of the hotels in the city. Many times in the year is impossible to get rooms or tables in the leading hotels, or in the restaurants, and people are turned away.

What makes this situation even more pronounced is that the city is growing so rapidly. More people are coming to Toronto on business visits, and therefore what is now a crowded condition will be a congested state in a few months.

The King Edward Hotel realized the situation by stating some time ago that they intended to put on two more stories, to be devoted mainly to moderate priced rooms of this hotel. The lower part of their higher-priced rooms are nearly always vacant. They propose therefore with them is probably where they to change one of the flats of two more stories. But they say they stopped the building proposition.

In a conversation an experienced hotelier in Toronto the other day said: "There is a room in Toronto for a down town hotel with six hundred rooms, every room of which has a private bathroom, and the rate for which ought not to exceed a dollar a night."

There is a good reason for believing that the Canadian Pacific has bought a site on upper Yonge-street at the corner of Price-street for a big up town hotel. Their new offices down town at the corner of King and Yonge are planned for a seven-story building, and The World will not be surprised to hear any day of the Canadian Pacific building a twelve or fifteen-story hotel up town near its old-fashioned restaurant building, Yonge-street station. There is also some talk of a big hotel to be erected on the hill at Avenue-road.

As to the hotels, it is certain that there is room for another high class down town, charging the best prices and giving the best accommodation. And as for country hotels, they could all be doubled in number, and yet do a fair business. The World does not know of a single hotel in Toronto that is not making money.

SCHOOL SYSTEM ON WRONG LINES

Prof. Needler Says So-Called Specialization Leads to Speciality.

Prof. Needler, Toronto University, created a sensation at the modern language section of the Ontario Educational Association yesterday, by his arraignment of the Ontario school methods.

"The teaching," he said, "of French and German in the schools is lamentable. Our system seems worst when compared with that of Germany. We cannot import our system from Germany with success, but we can get benefit from comparison."

"In Germany the public school system is a unit. There is no university matriculation, no examination in the university. But there is absolute freedom up to the point of submitting work for a degree."

"Children in Germany from 7 to 14, are under compulsion to attend the public schools. Technical education is assisted by manufacturers being compelled to set apart of each working day for education."

"The pupil who graduates from a German secondary school knows as much in the special subjects as third and fourth year honor men in Canadian universities."

Ontario high schools showed a tremendous lack of proportion in the balance of the programs. Too much time was given to English and mathematics. English was just marking time.

FOREIGN POLICY SUBJECT FOR CONFERENCE

Representatives of Overseas Dominions to Be Consulted on Matters of Defence—Suggestion for Imperial Minister From Each of the Dominions.

LONDON, April 19.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—In the house of commons to-day Hon. Walter Guinness moved that "The house is of opinion that the discussion of the international situation should be added to the program of the imperial conference." He urged the appointment of a responsible minister to travel thru the dominions overseas and suggested that each of the dominions should have an imperial minister.

The foreign minister had been in closer touch with the dominions they might have been brought into previous consultation on the declaration of London. The colonies were now finding themselves in touch at many points with foreign nations. Some were providing in the future there would be an inclination to stand more on their own feet, and unless consulted freely on matters of foreign policy, serious differences of opinion might arise.

Instruction in Empire Policy. Hon. S. F. Omsby-Gore, who seconded the motion, urged the necessity of knitting close the imperial minister for the purpose of defence, said that what was suggested was that before the conference discussed the motion of Australia for co-operation of the British navy and the dominion navies, the dominion premiers should be instructed by the foreign secretary on the foreign policy of the mother country and its relation to naval policy.

Crawley Williams argued for a consultative commission, in which there could be closer co-operation for the carrying on of the empire. McKinnon Wood explained that there would be several opportunities for consideration of international matters by members of the conference. Private discussion with the foreign secretary would be supervised by discussions at the conference regarding matters of defence, involving international relations, and by consultations with the committee of the foreign secretary.

Mr. Harcourt said it had always been their intention to take them into consultation, and they would withhold no information they desire.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

USE OF PARK AS HOSPITAL SITE WOULD CAUSE RIOT

Mountain Now Looked On as Best Location For New Hamilton Institution.

HAMILTON, April 19.—(Special.)—Dr. Mullen, representing the doctors of the city, to-night endeavored to get the parks board to commit themselves to Victoria Park as a hospital site.

The committee interviewed J. J. Scott in regard to a piece of land which the board desires to buy from him, and reported that Mr. Scott is not yet ready to set a price on his property.

The board recommended that a by-law for the purchase of 60 acres of the Stewart property at the bench, at a price to be agreed on, be submitted to the people, along with other park propositions.

A letter from the board of health, asking the parks board to abolish unsanitary drinking fountains in the city parks, was read, and action was taken to comply with the request.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a purely vegetable medicine, realizing quick, permanent relief without any after ill effects.

OPPOSITION TO PACT IN AMERICAN HOUSE

Debate Continues To-day—Reciprocity Insufficient, Reports Ways and Means Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Former Speaker Cannon, Representative Hanna of North Dakota, Nelson of Wisconsin and Charles of Nebraska, attended the Canadian reciprocity agreement in the debate on the reciprocity bill in the house to-day.

The majority report of the ways and means committee on the so-called "free list bill," submitted to the house to-day by Chairman Underwood, is a merger of Democratic political argument and an analysis of the proposed duty exemptions.

The reciprocity agreement, the committee asserts, cannot afford the American people needed relief from high priced articles of the agreement.

The report takes up in detail the classified list of articles included in the free list bill. Regarding agricultural implements, it says their manufacture is controlled by the trust and combinations that have sold in foreign countries at lower prices than at home.

The lumber monopoly. In discussing the bill, the report maintains that the ownership of the land on which the timber is practically a monopoly, and has passed for the most part into the hands of great corporations and interests which are speculating on the increasing scarcity of timber.

IN THE SPRINGTIME OF LIFE

There comes that critical period when restorative assistance is of incalculable value to the human system.

"Oh, to be free from school life and school worries during the sunshiny spring days," is the wish of thousands of schoolgirls to whom nothing could be of more benefit than outdoor exercise and an opportunity to drink in the fresh air and sunshine.

Just at the springtime, when the human system is sure to be more or less debilitated, and often at the most critical time in a girl's life, there comes also the anxiety, eye-strain, and mental over-exertion consequent on the approach of examinations.

To many this extra demand on the system proves the last straw, and the results are made known by headaches, sleeplessness, irritability, loss of appetite, tired, worn-out feelings, and inability to concentrate the mind on the work at hand, whether it be mental or physical.

The only means of averting trouble is by the use of external assistance in order to increase the supply of pure blood, and for this purpose there is no treatment comparable to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Nerves Exhausted by Over-Study. Mrs. T. Daisell, 21 Charles St., Kingston, Ont., states: "One of my children suffered very much with headache, caused no doubt, by overstudy and a run down condition of the nervous system."

HOW A YOUNG WESTERN CITY MOVES AHEAD

Surprising Activities of Calgary, the Flourishing Metropolis of Sunny Southern Alberta.

CALGARY, April 19.—(Special.)—An illustration of the business life of this city of 80,000—its ever-increasing activities—the spirit and vim of the constant "movement" in every feature of its rapid, substantial growth—there are incidents of one sort and another daily cropping up.

For example, the census shows that 2000 passed over 12th-street east in a few minutes, which leads an old-timer to remember that a very few years ago, not more than 2000 would pass that road in a few months, and that about 1999 of them would be fat stocors.

The number of horse-drawn vehicles and scurrying autos in commission in Calgary has become so large that a new police regulation was to-day put in force, under which an officer is stationed at the junction of Eighth-ave. and First-street west, and also at Second-street east, to direct traffic and prevent congestion and disorders!

Between 2000 and 3000 workmen are employed building extensions of public utilities to the suburbs of Calgary. Public improvements of this character cost the city $1,750,000 in 1910. This year such expenditure will total $2,000,000. Included in it is extension of

FATAL RAZOR OWNED BY RUSSELLO'S ROOM-MATE

Man Accused of Veci's Murder Had Access to Trunk—Remanded on Murder Charge.

Frank Russello, 40 Agnes-street, was charged in police court yesterday morning with the murder of Giacchino Veci at that address, in the Italian alley of Good Friday night. Donato Pansino was charged with wounding Andy Mele, who was almost scalped with a large butcher knife. Both pleaded not guilty thru their counsel, T. C. Robbette, K.C., and were remanded a week.

The six Italians arrested in the case of the murder of Veci were remanded to headquarters for the jail and Vincenzo Accioli, who was charged in the case found there Saturday morning by Detective McKinney, a street house, identified the razor found in the yard Sunday as his. He said that it had been in his trunk and before the case found there Saturday morning by Detective McKinney, a street house, identified the razor found in the yard Sunday as his.

When asked by Inspector Duncan if he had been to the trunk, Russello said, "Didn't you find it locked?" Russello denied any knowledge of the razor when it was shown to him. He did not even want to look at it, and was generally disinclined to talk. The police now think that Russello cut his own hand when he slashed the dead man, Veci. In support of this is the statement of the doctor who dressed the wound at the hospital immediately after the fight, who says that the wound was inflicted by some very sharp instrument, more probably a razor than the only knife in evidence, which is the one which Russello says he was trying to wrest from Pansino when his hand was cut.

Many Would-Be Inspectors. The office of the medical health officer was filled with applicants yesterday morning for vacancies on the force of inspectors who are to supervise the city's first annual spring house-cleaning. They were of all ages, and most of them were of the type that is a source of help of this class owing to the good times which prevail.

COST $1,500,000 BEFORE A VOLUME WAS PRINTED

Advent of New Britannica Encyclopaedia Outstanding Event in the World of Letters.

The announcement of the publication of a new and the eleventh edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, marks an event in the world of letters worth more than a passing notice. It is twenty-eight years since there has been an entirely new edition of the Encyclopaedia. The so-called tenth edition, published by The Times some nine years ago, consisted in reality of a supplement to the ninth edition, which was begun in 1875 and completed in 1888. The first edition dates back to 1788, and consists of only three volumes, but so important was the service rendered by this and succeeding editions, and so well was the work done, that it is doubtful if there is any other publication in the world which enjoys so high a reputation. In this connection it is interesting to note that of the more notable encyclopaedias published in various countries since the first issue of the Britannica some never attained to a second edition, and only one can claim a continued existence of more than fifty years.

The eleventh edition is a completely new work, founded upon a fresh survey of the world in every department of knowledge. Edward Gibbon, author of what time has declared to be the greatest historical work the world has ever seen, in his autobiography naively observed: "My name may hereafter be placed amongst the thousand articles of a Biographia Britannica." Gibbon, with his estimate of a thousand articles, would be rounded at the present portion of the present work. Instead of a thousand articles there are forty thousand, occupying 27,000 pages of text and requiring the use of 60,000,000 words. This production represents the labors of 1500 specialists and cost $1,500,000 before a single volume was printed. It has occupied for eight years a permanent editorial staff of sixty-four members. Illustrations include 450 full-page plates, 417 maps and 7000 illustrations in the text. The index volume contains 500,000 references. Toronto Professors in It. There are a number of points in connection with the new production worthy of mention. First, the publishers of this edition are the University of Cambridge, a publishing house which seems likely to be permanent. Some of the foremost publishers in Britain, including the Clarendon Press, Constable and Bell, have had their names associated with previous editions. Also the Cambridge University Press is now the publisher, other universities, including our own University of Toronto, are liberally drawn upon for contributions and information.

Another new point is that the whole edition of twenty-eight volumes has been published simultaneously. Previous editions have been put out volume by volume, the issue sometimes extending over fourteen years. One is reminded, too, of the galloping pace at which the world is moving. At the time of the publication of the last new edition, telegraphy was as yet the only province in which the usefulness of electricity had been practically established. Of Africa scarcely any knowledge existed save in respect of Cape Colony, Natal, Egypt and Algeria; the Satsuna revolution represented the mor-clad ships of the German navy consisting of "7 frigates, 3 corvettes, 7 floating batteries."

A Revolutionary Feature. The new, almost revolutionary, feature of the present edition is furnished by the use, optional with subscribers, of having the edition printed on India paper. In this way the bulk and weight of the volumes are reduced to one-third of their previous size. In previous editions the size of the volumes has been recognized as a serious drawback—quarto volumes weighing close upon seven pounds and measuring 2 1/2 inches thick. On India paper each volume of the new edition, although it contains 25 per cent. more matter, measures less than one inch in thickness. Formerly two hands were needed to lift a volume of the Encyclopaedia from the shelves; in the new edition a volume may easily be held in one hand and read with all the comfort of an ordinary sized book.

In connection with the introduction of India paper it is related that in 1841 a graduate of Oxford, returning from the far east, presented to the Clarendon Press a small quantity of paper of unusual thickness, capacity and toughness. That paper was used for the printing of 24 copies of the smallest Bible then known. Subsequent attempts to trace the source of the paper were fruitless, but in 1874 experiments led to the invention of India paper as now known. The high standing of the contributors of the Encyclopaedia Britannica need not be dilated upon in every department of learning. Canadians will be interested to note that among the authors who deal with Canada and its history are Dr. Parkin, Prof. A. P. Coleman, Prof. W. L. Grant, Mr. E. H. Godfrey, Prof. G. M. Wrong and Prof. C. W. Colby.

Previous editions with the number of volumes and the mean date of publication are as follows: First edition, 3 volumes, 1770. Second edition, 10 volumes, 1788. Third edition, 18 volumes, 1788. Supplement, 2 volumes. Fourth edition, 30 volumes, 1805. Fifth edition, 30 volumes, 1915. Supplement, 6 volumes, 1915. Sixth edition, 20 volumes, 1824. Seventh edition, 21 volumes, 1835. Eighth edition, 22 volumes, 1837. Ninth edition, 25 volumes, 1837. Supplement, 11 volumes. Tenth edition, 29 volumes, December, 1910.

Troubles of Editors. The commercial history of the Encyclopaedia is not without its vicissitudes. The first edition was published in Edinburgh by Colin Macfarquhar, with whom was associated Andrew Bell, then the principal engraver in Edinburgh. Macfarquhar died during the preparation of the third edition, "worn out by fatigue and anxiety of mind," whereupon Bell became the sole proprietor. In the interval the seller of the third edition failed. Bell died in 1809, when followed years of mismanagement, until the copyright was purchased by Scott's publisher (Constable), under whose management the books gained enormously in reputation. Scott himself laid aside the composition of "Waverley" to contribute to the supplement of the fifth edition, and the support of many other distinguished men was enlisted. Constable's house stopped payment in 1828. Thereupon the copyright was purchased by Adam Black, and his firm, in publishing successively the seventh, eighth and ninth editions (1830-35) saw the work achieve its supreme reputation.

Leafs Look the Best Sure to Land High

If Dick Rudolph Comes Back the Pennant is Ours—Toronto the Drawing Card.

If Joe Kelley succeeds in getting Dick Rudolph of the New York Giants back into the fold, Toronto will have the best chance since the last time of landing the pennant. All over the circuit they talk of Toronto upsetting Rochester and the other possibilities. Also no team on the circuit will prove such a drawing card as the Leafs, with their many big players, while the ability of the team, which once wedged into playing inside ball, should develop into one of the greatest minor league machines in the country. The team has had all that could be desired, so far as playing conditions are concerned, on their spring trip and when they face the opening day at Baltimore they will be in the very pink.

The Kellyites are very much superior to the last year's aggregation, especially in the matter of brains, and one is safe in saying that with such men as Joe Kelley, Willie Keeler, Tim Jordan, Bill Bradley, Ed Phelps and Jimmy Mullen, it is the brainiest team on the circuit. The most of these players are come-backs, but they have not outlived their usefulness as a minor league star.

Manager Joe Kelley is fortified with pitchers, in McGinley, Mueller, Killian, Lush, Backman and probably Rudolph.

Summing it up, the Leafs look better than any other Eastern League team and are sure to land high.

JERSEY CITY, NEW CLUB, HOLDS FORTH PROMISE.

JERSEY CITY.—The team this season will hardly be recognized by the friends of the game along the Eastern circuit, so great has been the change wrought in its makeup by Manager Jack Collins, who has picked up the old stars on the salary roll, not a single pensioner having been left from the old team.

The change in ownership of the club has effected a big change in conditions surrounding the game and Manager Ryan has been given absolute control. President James J. Ellis, who controls the stock, has explicit confidence in Manager Ryan and relies upon the former Buffaloes to place the Skeeters once more in the race for the flag. Manager Ryan has infused lots of new blood into the team, and the new players are maintained and expectation are realized. Jersey City will indeed bear watching from the time the bats ring.

The players have been in harness ever since the last week in March, and have been working away showing excellent form in spite of the unfavorable weather conditions. Several games have been played with the big league clubs and when the season begins the Skeeters will go to the post in form for the work they will have to do for them.

Of last year's team the only players who will be in the club this year are George Wheeler, in right field; Otto Delinger, in left; Bill Abstein at first; Jack Butler, behind the bat; and Pitchers Charlie Kissinger, Phil and Bertley. The other places are occupied by new men.

ROYALS LOOK TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT STRONGER.

MONTREAL.—Montreal's prospects at the present stage seem to depend a great deal on the ability of Manager McGuffey to strengthen the club on paper. Otherwise the club on paper looks 25 per cent stronger than the Royals who came close to the first division after a very bad start last season. Ed Barron, in right field, is the nucleus of a first division team, and the new manager, who was McGuffey's own choice, as his successor, will have the opportunity of a lifetime to break into the managerial field, especially as he has liberal owners and besides is one of the best sports who ever stood behind a ball club.

With Roth, Curtis and Hardy, the team is well equipped for backstop, and who was bought from Cincinnati, is expected to do the bulk of the work. Gandil, French, Holly and Yenger appear to be a classy infield. The two former were regulars with the Chicago Athletics last season. Yenger will be utility man.

The pitching staff consists at present of Barberich, Glazo, Carroll and Leclaire. Barberich, Glazo, Carroll and Leclaire, Dornier, Carroll, Burke and Leclaire.

Besides the club is in the market for a couple of pitchers from major league teams. Owner Lichtenstein is expected to carry all season three catchers, seven pitchers, an extra infielder and an extra outfielder.

ORIOLES LOOK TO BE VERY STRONG.

BALTIMORE.—Baseball fever has not been at such a high pitch in this city for years as it is this season, and there is every prospect of attendance figures surpassing those of past years. Manager Duggan of the Orioles has got together a strong aggregation of players, and the fans here realize this, and they intend to give him their support. The exhibition games have been splendidly attended, the same between the Athletics and the Orioles on April 11 drawing a crowd of 7000 persons. In the outfield Dunn has strengthened it wonderfully by the addition of Seymour and Hettmiller as regulars. Duggan's season will hardly be missed. Hettmiller, while not as bitter as Goode was, will come mighty near filling the gap. The weakest position at present is third base. Dunn has two youngsters trying for this place, but it is not likely that either will get it, as the manager is now after either Wild Conroy of Washington, or Neal Ball, formerly of Cleveland. Dunn wants an experienced man at this corner, and he intends to get him. Probably the first of the season is Maisei, a local youngster, who is playing a shoo-in. He has been slugging the ball hard, and his fitness cannot be surpassed. The other infield positions are covered by Rath and Schmidt, as last year. Russell's place in the box will be capably filled by Dygert, formerly of the Athletics, and also taking from the same club. Dygert has been showing excellent class, and is considered just as good as Lefty Russell. Altogether, the team looks to be better than last year.

PROVIDENCE VIEW OF PESSIMISTIC CHARACTER.

PROVIDENCE.—The prospects in Providence are far from bright, and it is very doubtful if the team finishes better than seventh. If that, it stands now, it looks like the weakest in the league, and the pitching staff is far from good.

The fans have been grumbling ever since the start of last season, yet the owners have not shown a disposition to strengthen the team by the acquisition of star players, although they have secured two-score bush leaguers, most of whom will never amount to anything. Semi-pros and schoolboys are here in droves. The team lacks a few real stars.

The coaching department is good. Peterson and Fitzgerald of last year's team are here, and Kondeau, secured from the Boston Braves, is a first class man. The pitching staff is a joke. Two local hot bats, but no real stars. Secured from the New York Yankees are any good. Bill Sullivan, an Eastern League calibre, and Reiger, Clarke, Maroon, and a few other bushers will never do.

Tarleton, the recruit on first, looks promising. The last hitting Jacky Tate will play second again. Back and Rock will play all kinds of class at short. Either Mc Dermott or Gabel will hold down third in place of Manager Collins, who will probably manage from the bench. In the outfield will be Elician and Elician, who played there last season, and probably Anderson, who is in form.

ROCHESTER STILL HAS HIGH HOPES.

ROCHESTER.—Running beneath the surface of optimism is an undercurrent of uneasiness prior to the Eastern League race, over the performance to date of Rochester's pitching staff, which has not been any too high class. Draft and purchase made big inroads in Rochester's pitching staff, and some of the recruits has shown the power in the possession by Pat Ragon or Ed LaFitte.

There are the usual fans who cannot before the Huskies' other championship five critics think that unless the pitchers are better, the more so, the more the club to walk into a comfortable lead, the champions are going to have a hard job to do. Just at present it looks as if George McConnell and Ducky Holmes may lead the way. The cold weather of the season has prevented the others from let.

Ganzel, with the wealth of material, probably will not fix upon the opening day lineup at Jersey City until the before the curtain-raiser. He has Spencer and Simmons to pick from at first, McMillan and Eddie Foster at short, Ward at third, and Alperman at second, are fixtures, so are Moran, Oebora and Mueller in the outfield, so this leaves four positions yet to be accounted for.

From the point of view of the race looks to be a three-cornered one, with Rochester, Buffalo and Toronto as the contenders. On paper Rochester should repeat, but championships are hardly won on paper, and Ganzel's team must fight.

NEWARK READY TO ACCEPT ITS FATE.

NEWARK.—The Newark has been the runner up in the Eastern League race for the last two years and Manager McGinley repeatedly asserts that the Tigers will be there or thereabouts again this season. The native and not exactly tickled to death with the prospect of bringing the pennant to this burg in 1911.

As usual, McGinley is banking on the eleventh hour to get reinforcements from the major league ranks, and consequently it is impossible at this time to get a reliable line on the team. In their present form, however, the Tigers do not seem to be formidable contenders when compared with some of the other clubs, such as Rochester, Toronto, Buffalo and even Montreal.

McGinley's injury, which will keep him from the game for a few days, is another month or two, the failures of some of the regulars to report, including Kelly, and the fact that the team is in a quandary as to whether to trade for a pitcher, or to let the squad encountered north pole weather this season, are all factors which have all retarded the team's progress.

Swayne, drafted from the Tri-State League, while he has hit 201 last season, looks as though he will be able to fill Gettman's shoes, but neither Preker nor Hall, the third baseman plucked from Baltimore, seem to fill the gap left vacant by the departure of Zimmerman.

Report has it that if Duggan reports, the Newark Club will send Outfielder Browne to the St. Louis Nationals in exchange for two pitchers. Until the final personnel of the team is known the dopesters can only guess at Newark's chances.

BUFFALO'S FATE RESTS WITH STALLINGS.

BUFFALO.—So far as Buffalo is concerned, it may be said in perfect truth that the hope of the baseball fans never ran higher. The return of George T. Stallings to the management of the club has inspired the loyal fan with every confidence. Stallings has wielded the ax with a high hand since he took hold of the club, and but a small body of players remained from the club of last year to serve as the nucleus for the pennant attack this summer. But, gradually, the oldtimers have been proving the wisdom of the decision which retained them for the club, and, gradually, the newcomers have been snared and wedded to the machine, with such gratifying results that the newspaper correspondents who have closely scanned the work of the boys down south, hasten to assure the public that Buffalo is bound to be in the first rank from the jump-off of the race. That other clubs and other managers are awake to this situation is apparent in the fact that those who have started to scoff have turned to praise for such quick results.

So far as local interest is concerned, there is every reason to believe that Buffalo holds as great an enthusiasm as ever, not necessarily for a winning team, but for the club which will not let a day pass without showing its class. Fast, clever and persistent at tack does not necessarily mean rowdy in the ball park, and Buffalo, it is believed, and never will be, but games in losers as well as in winners has to be the rule. Buffalo is bound to be the local patron of the national game.

The Buffalo fans rest with Stallings. It has strengthened the belief that the team we have had no complaint to make. So now do the club and the city stand prepared for the battle, confident that they will have nothing in baseball to be ashamed of when the idea of September approaches.

Too Many Pigeons

There is a story told of a man who opposed the introduction of the telegraph into Great Britain, because he was possessed of a large number of trained pigeons, by which messages were sent in those days. Very natural on his part, but we got the telegraph all the same.

If when you ask for a

your dealer recommends something "as good," it may be he has too many pigeons on hand.

The "PERFECTION" Cigar is a smoke without a peer. There is more skill, money and experience embodied in the production of "PERFECTION" than in any other 10c cigar on the market.

Your dealer makes less profit per thousand on "PERFECTION" than on any brand he carries, but he sells more thousands, and makes his profit all the same.

THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 20, 1911

CITY CAR LINES.

The Globe assails that jewel of governmental institutions, the city council, in the most unaccountable manner considering the admission it has procured for this particular body. "Inexcusable waste of time," "state of paralysis," "too exhausted to take the first step," "inherent weakness," "incurable ineptitude," "incompetency," "inexplicable and inexcusable dilatoriness," are the stripes laid across the back of the council by The Globe, its former glorifier and defender.

The Globe is quite right, but will it be consistent? Will it adopt the reasonable businesslike plan of government which we have commended for so long? St. John, N. B., has just adopted a form of government by commission.

The occasion of The Globe's indignation is fully justified. The city council resolved months ago to build city street car lines in the outlying districts meeting them. Since that resolution was taken the council has been chloroformed.

We have been told that the question of gauge has to be settled. We are told that storage cars have to be decided upon or rejected. But most of all, we are told that a report is needed as to whether the city will run its own street cars or the Toronto Street Railway run the city.

This is the real question, and we trust the mayor will not be his many protests, but will stand firm by municipal control, and refuse to be led into the agreement with the street railway company, which rumor once credited him with being eager to support. Every month brings us appreciably nearer a tube system, and the city surface system and the tube system must go together.

The street railway company does not want a tube system to compete with it or to lessen the value of its franchise. The street railway company does not want a city car system competing with its own monopoly. What ever may be contemplated, the people are quite clear about what they want. They will endorse no agreement handing over the city car lines to the company.

PUBLIC SERVICE AND OTHER COMPANIES.

Why should public service companies be run on different lines from those of manufacturing or trading companies? This question may reasonably be asked, and the answer cannot be doubtful. The latter companies have got to maintain themselves and cannot unload errors of management on the public. If they are over-capitalized, or not up-to-date in their equipment, the shareholders suffer the consequent loss and shoulder the responsibility of placing their undertaking on a sound basis. But according to the arguments offered on behalf of public service corporations, their financial extravagances and administrative faults must be borne by the public, who first of all are exploited and wronged, and then are called on to bear the expense of remedying the evils of which they have good reason to complain.

In a recent article prompted by the adverse decision of the United States Interstate Commerce Commission in the matter of increased railroad rates, The American Machinist contends that if the railroad business was conducted like that of the manufacturers, there would be no need for such applications or for canceling orders for new material. New equipment, says The Machinist, for either a shop or a railroad is only ordered when it is supposed to be necessary and able to do the work more economically than can be done with the old equipment. An increase of freight rates cannot add to the amount of freight to be hauled. As the decision, it proceeds, does not reduce rates or the earnings of the railroads which have paid good dividends during the not over-prosperous years of 1909 and 1910, it is very evident that the only adverse effect is on the speculative value of the stock, as it may prevent any "melon-cutting" in the near future.

Public service companies have been and are being run on an entirely wrong basis. They have made many millions, simply because those in control have held themselves at liberty to commit any enormities in management sure that the resultant difficulties will ultimately be relieved by further levies on the public. Opposition to this easy process of relieving the inevitable result of high financial methods has been countered by visits over the "widows and orphans" whose interests, when it suited them, the high financiers have been the first to disregard. An American Machinist remarks, a manufacturer who finds he requires new machinery pays for it from his own earnings and does not issue stock or bonds every time he needs a new building or a new machine. The system which makes improvements, paid for in the first place out of profits, the ground for increasing capital, levies double toll on the public, and, as if that were not enough, makes it the reason for still higher demands.

HIGHER STANDARDS IN EDUCATION.

There is constant evidence of the coming of age and the cutting of wisdom teeth which betoken maturity in our social institutions. The jubilee meeting of the Ontario Educational Association is a case in point, and marks a distinct stage of development. The banquet held to celebrate the occasion was unusually successful, and the speech-making especially appropriate and felicitous.

Both at the banquet and at the sessions during the day, the necessity of higher standards was dwelt upon. Higher standards in health, in education, in morals, were regarded as essential. These necessitate higher standards in the teaching forces themselves, and to secure that the country must recognize the means by which such improvement is attained, and offer the inducements that are required to secure it.

Everyone, including the Lieutenant-Governor, recognized the liberality of the Ontario Government towards education, during the speech-making on Tuesday evening. But neither were there any exceptions in the recognition of the big things ahead.

There is but one solution to the problem. Everything depends upon a better class of men and women being enlisted in the teaching profession. So long as it is not regarded as a life-work with honorable rewards for those who abide by it worthily, the best kind of service cannot be expected in the schools. Much has been said of the increases made in the wages of Ontario teachers in recent years, but while their minimum salaries remain on a level which day laborers would despise, we cannot feel very proud of our educational enterprise.

One solution of the difficulty has met with much success in the United States. This is the concentration of the schools in a township in one first-class building. The scholars are gathered in from the district around by motor cars or buses, and the teachers can be given a much better standing under such conditions. A wide-awake minister of education would not allow these things to escape consideration.

MOVING PICTURES.

Provision of proper moving pictures shows is the best method of combating the constant inclination to cater to the lower rather than the higher taste. A movement for that object is now on foot within the province of the churches, some of which have adopted an attitude towards theatrical and kindred performances and entertainments calculated to hinder rather than assist their elevation. When it is realized that the stage and the moving picture show are of continuing appeal and cannot be eliminated, the advisability, indeed necessity, of meeting the public demand for amusement of this kind in a rational way must be considered. The picture show lends itself easily to educational and instructional purposes, and it would be matter for regret if its capabilities in this respect failed of accomplishment.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

In another column of this issue will be found a statement concerning the affairs of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. of New York, the largest institution of the class in the world. During the last few months there has been an exhaustive investigation at the hands of the examiners acting under the supervision of the superintendent of insurance of New York. In his recent report the superintendent said that it is thought no company of this character is under the supervision of any insurance department has ever been so thoroughly examined. He expresses his conviction that industrial insurance, as conducted by the Metropolitan, has had the welfare of the policyholders only in mind, and that its officers have bent every effort to cheapen the cost of such insurance, to reduce lapses and in general to safeguard the interests of its upward of seven millions of policyholders.

Last year the Metropolitan wrote practically $150,000,000 of ordinary insurance, the maximum permitted by New York law. This is in addition to its position as the leading company in industrial insurance. To-day the Metropolitan has over $700,000,000 ordinary insurance in force, and including industrial insurance, over $2,215,000,000. These are certainly remarkable figures and testify to the hold this company has on public confidence. Reasons for this are not difficult to find, since Mr. Hotchkiss shows that insurance for fire marries is given approximately at cost, while the by-laws of the company to $140,000, were insignificant receipts of $700,000. Again, if the total claims presented for payment, only one-quarter of one per cent, is reflected. In 1910 the company will voluntarily return to policyholders over $7,700,000 in cash bonuses, making a total of $23,000,000 thus returned without any obligation on the part of the company to do so.

minion with no let-up. I am glad to say I have just moved into Canada from the States. Here I am able to breathe a pure atmosphere, untroubled by political graft, and in due time will become a British subject. You are quite right in your attacks on the Washington Government, and I admire you for it, even though not one of the kind that will be fooled by the Yankees. All they want is to extend their trusts, fight the railroads for graft and generally to make a fortune through the resources of dear Canada. It is an open secret that the United States Government contracts cannot be accepted unless the contractor's big sums are given to the inspectors; and no important bills can go through the Senate or House without being distributed. And now as they have raked in about all the spoils they can see at present in land grants to railroads, they want to jump on Canada for more graft, they knowing this to be a glorious big country to open up. So, dear World, keep your blood hot against the trusts of the Canadians and loyalty to her mother country, and you will never go astray. Hamilton, Ont., April 19.

A NEW INVENTION.

Letters patent for the Dominion of Canada have been granted to Mr. Geo. Blackhall, for fire alarms. The device is very simple, using the thermo-electric principle, and the complete article only taking up space of about five inches square. The working of this ingenious device is as follows: The device itself is placed in any high position in each room (any number may be used), and is attached to the ordinary bell wire and electric wires, and in case of a room being overheated, the indicator, located usually in the kitchen for the house bell, will ring, and the alarm will indicate the room wherein the heat is dangerous.

This gives the exact location of a possible fire, and is placed in each room, and consequently any person can get to the room and extinguish any fire that may be there. The rooms can be regulated by means of a small screw, to any temperature, also the device can be used for regulation of the temperature of rooms for invalids.

One of the great features of this device is that it can be installed for as little as $2 for each room. The invention is in the hands of the International Patent Bureau, who are to give demonstrations at 307 St. Paul Street, Toronto, and the company will commence to manufacture as soon as a few more flattering offers have been made for the control of this device.

Anyone wishing to see this device in operation will be gladly shown same. Mr. Blackhall has worked 23 years in the fire alarm business, and is the outcome of experience by a practical man.

MARY GARDEN THE INTERPRETER OF "SALOME."

Great interest is being taken in the coming appearance of Mary Garden, who will be the great star of the day, Monday, April 26. Mary Garden is the only operatic star who has given a correct interpretation of "Salome." This may also be said of the character of "Thais" and "Louise," in all of which she has won the highest praise of critics and audiences. Her program for April 25 all the other numbers are included, and those who have had the opportunity of hearing her in any of these operas will be particularly present at this, the grand musical event of the season in Toronto. From 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. the grand opera house is every inch a theatre, and there is every reason to believe that the plan is now open.

DRUGGISTS CONVENE.

The first annual meeting and dinner of the United Drug Company in the King Edward Tuesday, April 18, was a most successful one, over 150 attending. The new colors of the company in promotion of pure food and open formulae were discussed at length, and many practically valuable addresses were given by city visitors. Mayor Geary addressed the dinner.

Garden City Arrived.

Attired in spring dress, the steamer Garden City arrived in port yesterday afternoon. The boat has had two new boilers installed and a coat of buff and gray paint has made her resplendent. The new colors and open formulae were discussed at length, and many practically valuable addresses were given by city visitors. Mayor Geary addressed the dinner.

The steamer Bona Vista was launched this afternoon from the shipyard on the River. Miss Annie Keath, sister-in-law of Mayor Foster, Smith's Falls, christened the vessel.

CHAUFFEURS IGNORE PUBLIC

J. R. Roaf Complains That Some Drive Thru Sidewalks.

J. R. Roaf has written the mayor calling his attention to certain drivers of automobiles who make a practice of pushing their way thru crowds attempting to get on and off the street cars. He says that he has been annoyed on several occasions, and cites an instance where a chauffeur drove thru a crowd at the corner of Bloor and Yonge streets in which there were three lame men and some women attempting to board a car.

It is the opinion of Mr. Roaf that chauffeurs of this sort ought to be reached by the law. As the law at present stands, however, he declares that the police magistrate finds he has no authority to punish them.

The habit of sending local illustrated newspapers to friends abroad has a very pronounced vogue among Canadian people, and the paper that is most favored for that purpose is The Sunday World. Some of the interesting local pictures in this week's issue are: A group view of the Intercollegiate Debating Union Executive for 1910-1911; the very latest and best portrait of our own Margaret Anglin; a group of steel workers on the new ten-story Kent Building; view of the corner-stone laying of Danforth-avenue Baptist Church; a Guelph boy and his pet; the Good Friday matinee at Dufferin Park, showing a race in progress; views of the corner-stone laying of the new General Hospital, showing Rev. Dr. Carman reading a psalm and Mayor Geary addressing the assembly. There are many other views of local and general interest. The Sunday World, including the half-tone Art Section, is for sale by all newsdealers and newsboys.

REPLIES TO FATHER BURKE

Rev. Byron Stauffer Questions Whether Bible is Open to Catholics. "Why my worship is Protestant," was the topic dealt with last evening by Rev. Byron H. Stauffer in the first sermon of a series of five by different speakers, on the foundations of the Protestant faith.

INSISTENT DEMAND FOR VOCATIONAL TRAINING

President Hill of Missouri University Pleads For Studies That Give Insight.

Convocation Hall was the scene of a moderately attended meeting of the Ontario Educational Association last night, about 300 being present. The assembly was representative, however, including President Falconer of Toronto University and Principal Gardner of Knox College.

Dr. F. W. Merchant, in his presidential address, said the problem before the association was how to overcome the inertia of tradition, and to realize our ideals in practice.

He remembered a fourth year man at the university, on seeing his name among those who had passed, exclaiming, "Thank God, my education is completed!" (Laughter).

President Hill spoke on vocational training and culture. The demand for vocational training was heard in the universities as well as in the elementary schools. The call was loud and persistent.

WIRES NOT INSPECTED UNLESS COMPLAINED OF Evidence at Inquest on Joseph Gellinas So Indicated—Coolness Saved Three Lives.

At the inquest last night into the death of Joseph Gellinas, who was electrocuted by a Toronto Electric Light wire at Ontario and Duke-streets on April 4, evidence given indicated that there is no regular inspection of wires at present.

Edward Hayes, a lineman of the Electric Light Company, swore that he had cut the wire which killed Gellinas. He also swore that the company's employes for three years, and had never inspected wires unless a complaint was sent in, nor had he heard of anyone else doing so without complaint being made.

The evidence also brought to light a case of heroism which saved three other men from meeting a like fate on the same wire. This was the heroism of James Allen, 166 Duke-street, a young laundry worker. He was the first to observe the fallen wire, and as he held it aloft at the inquest, mounted guard over it.

"I saw the three men run across the street at the wire," he said. "The end which was blazing was the far end, and they were running directly upon the swinging part, which was impossible. I called to them and the first man jumped the wire. The second man was Gellinas. He stumbled when the first man jumped, and I saw his foot catch in the wire. He tried to get up, but he slipped and fell with his neck back and arm across it."

"There were immediately flames at the point of contact," he testified. "The third man to come around by the post and he did this. As the body lay there, another man approached it to see if it was dead. He was the first to grab the foot when I called to him that the body was charged with electricity, and to keep away. He left it alone."

Thus did this young man save three others from death. "Insulation of Little Use." It was shown by Edward Hayes that the "standard" insulation is of little value to a passer-by in the case of the current continuing on the circuit. "Apparently this insulation is no good at all, remarked Coroner Wilson. Hayes said that it was on a dry day, but when he was alone he would be risk touching it if his feet were on the ground, he backed out."

"Then the insulation acts as a transformer on a dry night and lessens the current," asked Crown Attorney Monahan. "To a certain extent," replied the witness. "Would it on a wet night?" "No."

"Is there any effective insulation that could be used?" asked the coroner. The answer was in the affirmative, as was that to the query as to whether he thought the city used the same insulation. One of the jurymen wanted to know what the strings hanging from the wires all over the city were, and the crown attorney said it was the frayed insulation on the wire. After first saying that it might be kite string, the witness admitted that it was the frayed insulation on the wire.

Wm. Orr didn't know whether the wire on the post to the east of the accident was 10 or 15 feet long and didn't appear to know positively about any string connected with the line. He is the son of the superintendent.

WE COULD have filled this page twice over with bargains, affording great saving to the customer. This Friday is the first Bargain Day since Easter, and every department in the Store was ready with odds and ends, the fragments which remained from our great Easter selling. "Broken lines" does not imply anything secondary or wrong with the article in question, and the prices only have been "smashed up." The innumerable "complete lines" flowing into the store are like good resolutions, often broken, but the sensible housekeeper would be just as utterly lost without the "broken line" as would the average person be without at least some vestige of a good resolution.
