BRITISH COLUMBIA TRADE

And Its Relation to Other Provinces.

INTER-PROVINCIAL TRAFFIC

To Be Shown by Calculations by the B.C. Bureau of Statistics.

Many Mining Deals Consummated in East Kootenay—George B. Leyson of Medical Lake, Washington State, is Roseland's Real Pioneer—He Went Into the Country First in 1857—New Maps of Mining Limits in British Columbia.

The British Columbia Bureau of Statistics is preparing a statement calculated to approximately show the value of the inter-provincial trade carried on between Eastern Canada and the Pacific province. In view of the proposed construction of the Crow's Nest Railway the discussion regarding transcontinental freight rates, and the increase in inter-provincial traffic likely to result from the development of the Kootenays the estimate when issued should prove a time and valuable statement. In order to compile such a table the bureau has sent out a circular to all the merchants of the provinces requesting them to fill out in confidence the following schedule:

State approximately if you can, the value of goods previously imported into Canada, which duty had been paid by Eastern firms.

State approximately the total expenditures for freight on goods imported from you from all points outside of British Columbia.

State approximately the freight on goods imported from Eastern Canada.

Give your total freight bill.

State value of tobacco and cigars purchased in Eastern Canada upon which excise duty had been previously paid.

State value of liquor, all kinds purchased in Eastern Canada, upon which excise duty had been previously paid.

Value of your exports, the product of British Columbia, to points within Canada, as follows:

Wood and manufactures of.

Fish (preserved or fresh).

Fruit (canned or otherwise).

All other products.

DEALS IN MINES.

Properties Continue to Change Hands in British Columbia These Days.

From Fort Steele, in East Kootenay, comes word that several large mining deals have been consummated during the past week. Many small deals have also been made. Mr. W. J. Rooke, of Victoria, has purchased the Eureka, Big Chief, Little Chief, and Geneva claims for $8000 cash. These claims are situated on the north side of the Big Chief, and have a good showing of mineral. The Big Chief is the extension of the Midnight claim, and Mr. Rooke has also purchased the Vermont group, paying $5000 in cash for the property. These claims lie north of the Eureka group, and north of Mark Creek. Mr. Rooke also bought the Mammoth and Wawa claims for $15,000.

A special from Anacosta, B.C., states that the final payment has been made by the Boundary Mines Company on the Mother Lode. The price of the property was $16,000. It shows 180 feet of ore in the crosscut tunnel. The same dispatch states that the owners of the Gold Drop, who have been represented heretofore by Mr. George Turner of Vancouver, have sold the offer of $200,000 for the claim. It has been prospectively diamond drilled, and shows 122 feet of ore in a crosscut tunnel.

ROSELAND'S REAL PIONEER.

Man Who First Discovered Red Mountain and Made It Famous.

Since Roseland has become famous all over the world, anything relating to its early history should prove of interest. It is known that George B. Leyson, now of Medical Lake, Washington State, was the first to discover and locate a property in British Columbia. His attention was first attracted to the northern country as a possible field for operations by the discovery of the famous Cariboo mine by Fred Jackson in 1857, in what is now known as the Camp Mackenzie district, in British Columbia. It is said that he accompanied him, whither he and a party of friends repaired that spring. After prospecting for some days he discovered the property, which to them were only Dead Creek, which to them were only Dead Creek, for no matter what their search they were unable to find anything. Hence they must be idle, to be utilized by succeeding prospectors and miners, following rather than preceding the white of the steamboat and the locomotive.

From there the party proceeded down Lake Christina, prospecting as they went, and located the Boundary trail to the head of Sheep Creek. It was while plodding along over this trail that one day he happened to see a piece of galena and carbonate ore on the side of the pathway, which assayed 275 ounces in silver. Further investigation satisfied them that they had located the ledge. At last their summer's toil resulted in a reward by the coveted discovery of a new Eldorado, but they must have a fresh supply of provisions, and some tools and powder before they could start it thoroughly enough to satisfy even themselves as well as give it any standing in the mining world. Fort Colville, 80 miles distant, was the nearest trading point, whither they repaired at once for the necessary powder, tools and provisions to test it to their entire satisfaction. They sank a shaft 18 feet deep, which proved unsatisfactory. They then made a tunnel 25 feet, tapping the vein, which was also unsatisfactory.

However, they made a claim upon their workings and called it the Alpha, and it was duly recorded at Rock Creek. They also made a claim upon two other claims, called the Tom Payne and the Regina. Not keeping up their assessment, they were abandoned to them at the end of the year, and the Alpha, or discovery claim, was relocated under the name of the Lily May by a Frenchman named Bordenau, who sold it to Hollis and Raymond of Oregon. Roy Keweenaw, of British Columbia, W. J. Harris, Frank Kizer and Alexander Roy Keweenaw, of British Columbia, incorporated it and it is now known as the Lily May. A new feature called the Lily May was discovered, and it is now known as the Lily May. A new feature called the Lily May was discovered, and it is now known as the Lily May.

For some time past the information that has reached Toronto regarding the great Lily May discovery, has been very meagre, and consequently the World has been in receipt of frequent communications of inquiry about this property. A number of shares in the Lily May were held in Toronto, and the information was made known to the public in the same way, recognizing that the future of the country will be largely determined by the success or failure of this mine. Mr. George Ross of Rat Portage, President of the Empire Mining Co., reached Toronto yesterday. When seen at the Queen's last evening by the World man, Mr. Ross, like other interested parties, was exceedingly well pleased with the prospect of the Lily May. According to what he says the Empire Mining Co. has a great prospect of proving a valuable property. The indications so far are very good, and under the competent management which may be expected the mine should become a famous mining property with results advantageous both to the enterprising promoters and to investors.

HERE TO-DAY AND AWAY TO-MORROW. 81 YONCE STREET. THIS IS THE LAST DAY AT THE OLD CORNER.

HERE TO-DAY AND AWAY TO-MORROW. 81 YONCE STREET. TO-MORROW WE'LL BE IN OUR NEW HOUSE.

81 YONCE ST. TO-MORROW WE'LL BE IN OUR NEW HOUSE.

We say good-bye to the old house to-night. We heartily thank the many who have during the past almost quarter of a century been patrons at the old stand, the many who have patronized us because of the real worth of goods we sell, and because of the dependence and reliability in every transaction. We've tried to deserve all we've received at the hands of the people. So far success has been with us and we mean to keep right along giving the people the most quality for the least money in hats and furs.

That you'll follow us across the street stands to reason; it would be discounting your intelligence to suggest anything else. You know where you best get what you want in our lines.

A hundred and odd cases of new style Hats will be on view to-morrow for the first time—they include all the leading makes of the leading makers—including Dunlap, Heath, Christy, Lincoln & Bennett, Tress and Dineens' special Blocks, made on Dunlap, Miller, Youmans, Knox and other famous blocks. We never had so many hats in the house at once; we never bought hats to so good advantage as we have for this season. We bought for cash, and we'll sell lower for cash than we ever did. We mean to inaugurate a low-price-for-cash-down, high-quality system that will save us and you money. Come to the old house to-day—go to the new to-morrow.

TO-MORROW FRIDAY and SATURDAY WE SHOW THE NEW SPRING STYLES IN THE NEW STORE. Fur Show Rooms on Second Floor. NEW ADDRESS 81 YONCE STREET NEW ADDRESS. Fine Furs Selling All Year.

They were in a mineralized country, but of too low a grade to be worked to a profit. The party at this time consisted of D. Leyson and his son, George D. Leyson, and George Y. Bowyerman, who then returned to Fort Colville and sent word to Ben and George Thraasher and W. B. Moore, who were at Rock Creek.

LAST YEAR'S WEATHER. Six Years—Less Rain and More Snow. The Meteorological Department has issued their register for 1896. The mean average temperature was 45.30, being 1.16 warmer than the average of 55 years. The warmest month, relatively, was May, with an average of 57.20 deg. above zero; the coldest was January (22 deg. below zero), with an average of 19.10 deg. below zero. The average temperature of the warmest day was 84.20 deg. and the coldest of the coldest day was 10.20 deg. below zero. The average temperature of the warmest day was 84.20 deg. and the coldest of the coldest day was 10.20 deg. below zero.

THE PROVINCE'S MAPS. The Province Publishing Company of Victoria, B.C., have issued a series of maps of the Province of British Columbia. These maps are of good size, clear and accurate, and the particular one in question throws some light on the southern section of West Kootenay.

COMPANIES. From Canadian Miner, 27th March. The Ethel Group Gold Mining Co. has made a bold attempt to push very far into the district. The company embraces amongst its directors and trustees several of the best known and trustworthy business and professional men in Toronto. They seem to have complete confidence in their claims, and, judging by the situation of these claims and the development already done, the group promises well. The charter gives very large and varied powers, which in the hands of several of the gentlemen associated with the company should prove advantageous to the shareholders.

ABOUT THE EMPRESS. Great Excitement Reported From the Jack Fish Mining District. For some time past the information that has reached Toronto regarding the great Lily May discovery, has been very meagre, and consequently the World has been in receipt of frequent communications of inquiry about this property. A number of shares in the Lily May were held in Toronto, and the information was made known to the public in the same way, recognizing that the future of the country will be largely determined by the success or failure of this mine.

THE COMING PLEBISCITE. Dominion Alliance Delegates Propose to Allow the Favored Plan to be Carried Out. Ottawa, March 30.—(Special.)—The Parliamentary Committee of the Dominion Alliance held a meeting here this morning. Senator Vidal occupied the chair and among those present were Ald. Spence, Toronto, secretary; Dr. J. J. MacLaren, Toronto; Messrs. Craig, Broder, Richardson, McMillan, Flint, Stuber, Russell, Taylor, Macdonald (Huron), Charlton Henderson, Christie, Yeo, Davin, Wilson, Mills, Temple, Macdonald (P.E.I.) and Brown, M.P.s; and Rev. J. B. Saunders, Ottawa. The general opinion was that the Alliance should be satisfied with the taking of a vote without expecting any further action at this session. Nothing was to be gained by intruding a resolution, and as the Government was in for a plebiscite it was the duty of the Alliance to do all it could for that measure.

JUMPED FROM THE TRAIN. A Prisoner From Goderich Blinded His Eye and Got Away. Brighton, March 30.—Last night, while Bailiff Gundry was taking a prisoner named Farrell from Goderich to the Kingston Penitentiary for three years for raising rates, Farrell leaped from the midnight express one mile west of this place. The express was running at the speed of 40 miles an hour. One of the guards leaped after the prisoner in the darkness, but he could not find him. The train backed up and they found Farrell's coat and vest. He was shackled when he jumped. The prisoner was very badly bruised. The country around is being thoroughly searched, but up to this date this morning Farrell has not been recaptured.

IRISH INFLUENCE IN CATHOLIC LITERATURE. The series of lectures, or Lenten talks, delivered under the auspices of the Catholic Truth Society of the cathedral, which brought to a close last evening in St. Vincent's Hall, the lecturer was Rev. James O'Connell, who took for his subject "Irish Influence in Catholic Literature." The subject was very well treated, and the audience were quite up to the high standard set by the previous entertainments of the course, being under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Bonner. Voluntary contributions were made to the fund, and the House would in some degree reflect public opinion as expressed in the plebiscite. But he was opposed to postponement. The question of a vote for a straight, simple form and not hampered by too many conditions.

ONLY ONE MAN ESCAPED. Jacksonville, March 30.—A special to the Times-Union from Pensacola, Fla., says that the family of John Constantine, consisting of himself, wife and three children, together with Mrs. Stephens and daughter, and a sailor, were drowned yesterday by the swamping of their boat in the outer channel. The vessel sank and only one man, John Mouton, escaped. He floated ashore on a hatchway.

CHARGE OF HIGHWAY ROBBERY. Fred Breckel of 115 York-street is only 10 years of age, but he knows a few things. He was locked up in No. 1 Station last night charged with highway robbery. It is claimed he held up a young fellow named Burns and tried to take some money from him.

DIED OF INTERNAL REMORSE. Coroner Lynd last night held an inquest on the body of Mrs. Ann Cassidy of 267 St. Charles-avenue. The jury brought in a verdict of death from internal remorse, in accordance with the result of the post-mortem. The deceased was taken suddenly ill Monday afternoon, and died early Tuesday morning.

CONVICTED BY A WOMAN. Chicago, March 30.—Mrs. H. A. Shafter, cashier of the Great Northern Hotel, and a member of a Board of Trade operator, published in the grill room of the hotel, the chief clerk, the great North-western Hotel. The parties are well known.

THEY WILL STAY BY THE SEA. London, March 29.—A despatch received here from Halifax in reporting the capture of General Ruis Rivers, the insurgent leader, and his chief of staff, states that both the prisoners will be formally deported to the city of New York the tomb of Gen. Grant, erected by voluntary subscriptions, at Rockside Park. It will be striking to this Government if this courteous invitation could be accepted.

NEW YORK INVITES THE NAVY. Washington, March 29.—Secretary Sherman has sent the following telegram to nations possessing navies: "The United States Government has requested the President to invite the maritime nations to send warships to participate in the ceremonies on April 27 next, when the Grant Monument will be formally dedicated to the city of New York the tomb of Gen. Grant, erected by voluntary subscriptions, at Rockside Park. It will be striking to this Government if this courteous invitation could be accepted."

CANADIAN CLUB IN NEW YORK. New York, March 30.—The Canadian Society was formed in New York last night by Rev. Dr. Kraus serving the chair. The stated objects of the society were: "The fostering of cordial social relations between Canadians in New York and the keeping up of the memory of the brave men who drank to the Queen, the President of the United States, and addresses were made by Rev. Dr. Kraus, Rev. Dr. McMillan, Dr. Wolfe, Nelson and Ovide Brilland; on Canadian Art and Literature, Prof. Charles Roberts, Hiles Garman and P. McArthur on "Canadian Sports in New York," by Rev. William Hamilton, Dr. Meek, Edward D. Miller, P. J. Gibson and W. J. Evans.

TO STRIKE CANADIAN ROADS. Republican Congressmen Want to Direct Traffic to the United States. Washington, March 30.—Among the leading Republican Congressmen there is a general tendency to favor the enactment of a law which will legalize traffic arrangements subject to the approval of the Inter-State Commerce Commission. It is pointed out that the three objects most to be desired both by the railroads and the customers are the abolition of all preferences between shippers, the stability of rates, and the prevention of exorbitant rates. It is suggested that steps may also be taken to divert to roads within the United States much of the traffic between the East and West, which now goes over Canadian lines. The volume of this traffic is so great that it is contended that if it could all be handled by roads within the country it would convert bad times for the railroads into good times, and would enable the roads to make substantial reductions in their charges.

COMING OF AGE. Quite a List of Young Noblemen Will be Able to Vote Before the Year. The Marquis de Fonthroy writes: Quite a large number of peers and British noblemen attained their majority this year, and become eligible to vote in the House of Lords. The list of names is as follows: Lord Lytton, grandson of the novelist, and son of the Marquis of Epsom; Lord Lytton, eldest son of the Marquis of Epsom; Lord Lytton, eldest son of the Marquis of Epsom; Lord Lytton, eldest son of the Marquis of Epsom.

J. B. Saunders, Ottawa. The general opinion was that the Alliance should be satisfied with the taking of a vote without expecting any further action at this session. Nothing was to be gained by intruding a resolution, and as the Government was in for a plebiscite it was the duty of the Alliance to do all it could for that measure.

JUMPED FROM THE TRAIN. A Prisoner From Goderich Blinded His Eye and Got Away. Brighton, March 30.—Last night, while Bailiff Gundry was taking a prisoner named Farrell from Goderich to the Kingston Penitentiary for three years for raising rates, Farrell leaped from the midnight express one mile west of this place. The express was running at the speed of 40 miles an hour. One of the guards leaped after the prisoner in the darkness, but he could not find him. The train backed up and they found Farrell's coat and vest. He was shackled when he jumped. The prisoner was very badly bruised. The country around is being thoroughly searched, but up to this date this morning Farrell has not been recaptured.

IRISH INFLUENCE IN CATHOLIC LITERATURE. The series of lectures, or Lenten talks, delivered under the auspices of the Catholic Truth Society of the cathedral, which brought to a close last evening in St. Vincent's Hall, the lecturer was Rev. James O'Connell, who took for his subject "Irish Influence in Catholic Literature." The subject was very well treated, and the audience were quite up to the high standard set by the previous entertainments of the course, being under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Bonner. Voluntary contributions were made to the fund, and the House would in some degree reflect public opinion as expressed in the plebiscite. But he was opposed to postponement. The question of a vote for a straight, simple form and not hampered by too many conditions.

TO STRIKE CANADIAN ROADS. Republican Congressmen Want to Direct Traffic to the United States. Washington, March 30.—Among the leading Republican Congressmen there is a general tendency to favor the enactment of a law which will legalize traffic arrangements subject to the approval of the Inter-State Commerce Commission. It is pointed out that the three objects most to be desired both by the railroads and the customers are the abolition of all preferences between shippers, the stability of rates, and the prevention of exorbitant rates. It is suggested that steps may also be taken to divert to roads within the United States much of the traffic between the East and West, which now goes over Canadian lines. The volume of this traffic is so great that it is contended that if it could all be handled by roads within the country it would convert bad times for the railroads into good times, and would enable the roads to make substantial reductions in their charges.
