Germans Start Big Counter Offensive

Launch Attacks Against French Positions But With Practically No Success—The Fight on the Ancre—Roumanians Forced Back

Paris, Nov. 15.—An important German counter-offensive began at six o'clock this morning against French positions south of the Somme between Abbeville and Chaufines Wood, after three days of intense bombardment.

British Report London, Nov. 15.—The British troops north of the Ancre were engaged last night in consolidating the ground won in the new offensive movement, and no further important operations were undertaken.

Petrograd, Nov. 15.—In the Tigris-July Alt and Jul valleys on the Transylvanian front, the Roumanians have been forced back by the Austrians and Germans, who have brought up reinforcements.

Petrograd, Nov. 15.—Russian troops on the River Naraykva in Galicia, yesterday assumed the offensive and forced the Austro-German troops from the positions which they had occupied on both sides of the road leading to the village of Slavc.

Berlin, Nov. 15.—Withdrawal of Bulgarian troops on the Macedonian front to avoid a flank attack is announced by army headquarters.

REMARKABLE GERMAN WORKS ARE CAPTURED

(Copyright 1916 by the Associated Press.) With the British armies in France, via London, Nov. 15.—The British advance along both sides of the Ancre, which continued yesterday, resulted in the capture of the village of Beaumont, is considered by the British commanders as one of the most important successes in the four months of the offensive.

More than 5,000 prisoners have been collected in the extensive subterranean galleries and chambers which were sunk on both sides of the valley and in miles in extent. Five hundred Germans surrendered in a tunnel near St. Pierre Division, which was a mile and a half long.

The British success south of the Ancre was increased owing to the fact that the Germans in this section were on the point of being relieved by fresh troops, when the attack was launched. The result was that twice the normal strength of the garrison was struck by the barrage fire.

Two-thirds of the British casualties south of the Ancre were walking cases. The total losses were lighter in proportion than in any previous operation of the past four months.

The British attack was pressed continuously last night. All ground as far as Beaumont has been well consolidated and the troops are pushing beyond it. The Germans so far have not attempted any counter-attack.

HUNGARIAN BID FOR PEACE

Count Apponyi Chosen to Put Out Feeler

A FALSE ASSUMPTION

Professes to See Roumania Crushed and Allies' Last Card Played—Tries to Put Peace Words Into Mouth of Lord Grey

Berlin, Nov. 15.—(Via London, Nov. 15, delayed)—The opening of peace negotiations may, perhaps, be expected with fair prospects of success in the course of the coming winter, according to Count Albert Apponyi, veteran Hungarian leader and former Hungarian premier. Count Apponyi, who is visiting Germany to deliver two addresses on Hungarian history, expressed his views in an interview given to a correspondent of the Associated Press, in which he discussed the general European situation.

"We cannot expect," he said, "to see peace negotiations opened within the next few weeks while the Roumanian campaign is still undecided. However, I regard our chances for success there as excellent, and once Roumania is crushed, I think both sides will be willing to consider the question of peace. Roumania was the Entente's last card, and is proving a losing one. We are massing a big army against the Roumanians, and I think that the end will come soon. Of course our progress on the Transylvanian front is a bit slow, owing to the great difficulties of the country and particularly to the deficiency in rearward communications. These communications are far poorer than in the west or even in Galicia and Russia. However, the entry of Roumanians into the war has in many respects been really advantageous to us."

To illustrate what he regards as the improving chances for peace negotiations, Count Apponyi referred to recent speeches of statesmen in the opposing camps.

"Not Lloyd George, of course," he pointed out, "but such men as Lord Grey and Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg, for example." He suggested a comparison between the utterances of these leaders a year ago and at present.

"Then," he said, "their respective standpoints were as far apart as the poles, but now, although there are still wide differences between them, they have most appreciably narrowed."

"The references to crushing Germany have been eliminated from the British pronouncements and the agitation for annexation is dwindling in Germany."

"Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg," he went on, "has pointed out in his latest speech that he has never demanded the annexation of Belgium. Such instances as these show, in my opinion, that there are now no really insuperable obstacles to the opening of peace negotiations. Of course, the Kingdom of Poland must stand, but I believe Russia can be brought to reconcile herself to this situation."

DIVORCE COURT IN SESSION HERE

At the adjourned sitting of the divorce court held in Chambers here this morning, Judge Crockett gave judgment in the case of Pickle vs. Pickle. In this case he gave a decree annulling the marriage. Those interested belong to Hampton.

Evidence was taken in the case of Lillian Carr vs. William Carr. Those in this case formerly resided in York county; the petitioner is now residing in the city. Evidence was given by the petitioner and by the mother of the defendant. Adjournment was made until December 12 in Fredericton, when His Honor will give judgment.

Francis Kerr appeared for the petitioners in both cases.

POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning several prisoners were fined 88 or two months in jail for drunkenness. The court ordered the name of Joseph Dickson placed on the interdict list.

Fred Southern was fined 88 for intoxication. The captain of the Manchester Merchant steamer, that the prisoner belonged, stated that he did not want to take the man back, as he was a source of trouble. Southern said that it was all attributed to drink, he had a good captain and wanted to go with him. The magistrate let him return to the ship on a suspended sentence of eight weeks in jail.

Hattie Jefferson was reported for driving a car on the wrong side of the street. The car and the royal mail team collided. The evidence was confusing. Guy McIntyre, driver of the mail team, and Arthur Jefferson, who was operating the car, gave evidence. The case was finally dismissed. E. S. Ritchie appeared for the defendant.

AUSTRALIAN POLITICAL SITUATION SERIOUS

Premier Hughes Obligated to Reconstruct Cabinet

Effort Made to Overthrow Him But He Hopes to Carry on With Liberals' Assistance—Labor Difficulties Increasing

London, Nov. 15.—A Reuter despatch from Melbourne, Australia, says that the attempt of the militant section of the labor party to overthrow Premier Hughes has caused a serious split in the party and as a consequence the premier has been obliged to reconstruct the ministry from his remaining followers, so that he can carry on the government with the assistance of the Liberals until a general election is held.

The new ministry includes Mr. Hughes as premier and attorney general; G. F. Pearce, minister of national defense; J. A. Jensen, minister of marine, and Mr. Poynton as treasurer.

The labor secessionists include nineteen senators and twenty-four members of the house of representatives. Among those are M. O'Malley and H. Mahon, who resigned from the Hughes' ministry and formed a new labor party with Charles McDonald, speaker of the house of representatives as acting leader. There are three parties now in the house of representatives, none of them able to govern alone.

Labor difficulties are increasing, 80,000 men being idle as a result of the coal strike and 100 steamers have been laid up. The wool sales have been suspended owing to the impossibility of getting freight.

BYE-LAW MATTERS

Several citizens were in the police court this morning on reports that they infringed various city by-laws.

William Howe, of West St. John, was reported for violating the fire law by heating a pot in a wooden building owned by William Rowley and by so doing setting fire to the building. The defendant, through Kenneth J. MacKae, pleaded guilty. A fine of $20 was struck. James R. McDonald was fined $2 for not having the staging of a building he is remodeling at the corner of Union and Windward streets, West St. John, properly lighted.

Hattie Jefferson was reported for driving a car on the wrong side of the street. The car and the royal mail team collided. The evidence was confusing. Guy McIntyre, driver of the mail team, and Arthur Jefferson, who was operating the car, gave evidence. The case was finally dismissed. E. S. Ritchie appeared for the defendant.

GERMAN PROPAGANDA IN RUSSIA A FAILURE

Trying to Stir up Country for Separate Peace

American Writer Says Czar's People Are Looking for Another Year of War and Steadily Preparing—Situation in Roumania

London, Nov. 15.—German propagandists are making every effort possible all over Russia to stir up dissent among the allies and influence Russia to consider a separate peace, but there are no signs of success.

This was the statement made yesterday by Arthur Ruhl, an American writer, who has just returned here after a trip through Russia and Roumania. Mr. Ruhl added that in Russia there was no expectation of the end of the war for another year at least.

The recent references to peace by statesmen of the belligerent nations have aroused in the Scandinavian people the belief that it is not far off. However, according to the impression gained by Mr. Ruhl, the Russians were looking forward to the spring campaign, expecting to accumulate vast quantities of guns and ammunition during the winter.

Though their losses have been exceptionally high this year, the supply of soldiers seems inexhaustible.

The prices in Petrograd, Mr. Ruhl found extremely high, but southern Russia was faring better, though transportation was continuing a difficult problem.

Speaking of the Roumanian trip, Mr. Ruhl said that until recently Bucharest has been bombarded every few hours by German aeroplanes or Zeppelins, the city being poorly supplied with anti-aircraft defenses. Many casualties were caused and serious damage was inflicted in the capital until the defenses were strengthened. During the first raids many of the Roumanians left the city.

The Roumanian mobilization had moved slowly, Mr. Ruhl said, until the tide of battle turned definitely in favor of the Entente.

Then the Roumanian machine speeded up. "Though Bucharest is a volatile city," said Mr. Ruhl, "it has now settled down to hard fighting, confident, unafraid, but with full appreciation of the power of the waves beating against the country on all sides."

CAUGHT IN ICE IN ST. JOHN RIVER

Believed to Have Been Won For Gallant Work in No-Man's Land

Captain John Gilchrist of the river steamer May Queen left Indiantown for Grand Lake this morning, but only got as far as Oak Point when he was forced to return to the city owing to the river being frozen over above Gagetown. He said that the ice had formed as far as the eye could reach and was more than half an inch thick.

The steamer Viking, owned by the Hampstead Steamship Company, which runs on the main river route from Indiantown to Fredericton, is frozen in at Oromocto and two tugs, the Fannie and Eldred, are caught in the ice at Sheffield. Steamship men think the weather will become milder and that they will be able to break through and get back to Indiantown.

The D. Purdy set on her regular trip to Fredericton this morning and a report which reached the city was to the effect that her captain would endeavor to force his way through the ice and reach the capital. This is the first time in years that the river has frozen over at such an early date.

NEW YORK ATTORNEY ADDS THAT BELGIAN WOMEN WERE TREATED WITH UNNECESSARY HARSHNESS—AMERICANS FINALLY ALLOWED TO RETURN TO HOLLAND

Flushing, Nov. 15.—The three Americans who were on board the Dutch mail steamer Konig Regentes, when the steamer was captured and taken into Zebrugge by a German submarine, are now safely back on Dutch soil.

They had an experience which they say they are not anxious to repeat. They are Thomas Smith, an American courier; William Goodbody, a New York attorney, who had been in attendance upon a legal case in the Hague, and Howard Kimbly, Mr. Goodbody gave to the Associated Press an account of his four days' experience, and in conclusion said: "On the whole our treatment by the Germans after we had got off the steamer was decidedly unpleasant. Especially the Belgian women were treated with unnecessary harshness. We were glad to get to Roosendaal and finally to Flushing."

London, Nov. 15.—Reuter's Flushing correspondent quotes the passengers of the Dutch steamship Konig Regentes as saying that the steamer was held up by two submarines thirty miles off Zebrugge. Dutch torpedoes had been used to prevent the hold-up. Nearing Zebrugge, German marines boarded the steamer, which entered the port under Dutch and German flags.

The correspondent adds that on the arrival of the steamer about thirty-five subjects of Entente Allied powers of military age were conveyed inland. The Konig Regentes now flies the German flag.

THEY GAVE UP THEIR LIVES IN THE GREAT WAR

Lieutenant Porter of Chipman, the news of whose death was reported yesterday, was one of the five officers transferred from the 115th Battalion, a few days after reaching England, to the 4th British Columbia battalion. The other four were lieutenants Thompson, Welton, Short and Clarkson. It is presumed their battalion, which belongs to the 4th Division, under Major-General Watson of Quebec, took part in the recent advance on the Ancre, which proved so successful for the British and that during this battle Lieutenant Porter met his death. Lieutenant Porter was a traveler for the Canadian Drug Company and resided in St. John before joining the 115th. He is survived by his mother and two sisters.

HOME FROM THE WEST INDIES

G. Ernest Barbour Found Property There—Some Impression

Among the passengers on the steamer Chaleur which arrived in port this morning was G. Ernest Barbour of this city, who has enjoyed a six weeks trip through the West Indies, going south as far as Trinidad.

One of the chief impressions Mr. Barbour brought back was that of the great prosperity which the island colonies are enjoying at present, due chiefly to the high prices which their products are commanding.

Everywhere he went Mr. Barbour found a feeling of friendliness towards him and admiration for the Canadian flag, the contribution of this country to the empire in men and money to aid in the war having aroused their hearty appreciation.

Regarding closer political union between Canada and the West Indies, so often suggested and discussed, Mr. Barbour thought he had not been able to see that it would be beneficial to either. The closer bond wrought by the war may, however, lead to still closer relations.

The beauty of the islands appealed strongly to Mr. Barbour, and he speaks with enthusiasm of the magnificent scenery, but the lure of the south did not lessen his appreciation of Canada as a place for permanent residence.

The trip had several unusually interesting features. When they arrived at Bermuda, the first stop, they received the news of the sinking of the submarine U-9 and there was some uncertainty whether they would be allowed to proceed. However, there was no delay.

Proceeding fast and south into the tail end of a hurricane and had a lively time for a while, although they did not experience the full strength of the blow.

On their arrival at Antigua they learned of the destruction wrought by the hurricane in some of the islands and the vessel was commandeered for relief purposes. The acting-governor of the Leeward Islands came on board with a doctor and a large stock of supplies and the steamer went 900 miles out of its course to visit Tortola, one of the Virgin Islands, which had been swept by the gale.

Their visit to the island gave them an excellent opportunity to see what a hurricane can do. The island had been secured until it looked as if it had been ploughed, nothing remaining standing but some of the heaviest and strongest buildings and even these were partially wrecked.

Trinidad, with its white population of British and the old families of French descent, the large proportion of negroes and the great number of East Indian coolies, was one of the most interesting places visited. There Mr. Barbour was the guest of T. Geddes Grant, one of the prominent merchants of Port of Spain and a son of the first Canadian missionary to the East Indians in Trinidad.

He had an opportunity to visit the mission schools and meet the missionaries and found the visit most interesting.

Mr. Barbour was impressed by the intense loyalty of the colored people of the islands but found them susceptible to slights which had been put on people of their race in Canada.

As they form an important part of the population, many of them occupying prominent positions in business and public life, Mr. Barbour thought Canadians should exercise considerable discretion in their treatment of them when they visit Canada.

THE ASSESSMENT A meeting this evening in the assembly hall of the High School building should be of great interest to every citizen. The purpose is the presentation, in popular form, of the chief features of the report of the civic assessment commission and the proposed new assessment act.

Dr. W. C. Kierstead of the U. N. B., one of the members of the commission, is to speak and his address is expected to be a valuable and practical contribution. If sufficient interest is displayed by the citizens, other meetings may be arranged for.

DAUGHTER LIVES HERE Mrs. Abigail Killam, widow of a son of her son, I. W. Killam, Killam, Mills. She was eighty-three years of age. She survived by three sons, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Branscombe of Steeves Settlement; Mrs. Myles Taylor of Pittsfield, Mass., and Mrs. James Lewis, of Lewis Mountain.

PEWINGERS-RYAN A wedding of interest was solemnized this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, when Miss Christine Augusta Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ryan of Brookville, was united in marriage to Walter Charles Fawcett, of London, Ont., by Rev. A. J. O'Neill in St. Joseph's church, Silver Falls. The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly attired in a suit of burgundy broadcloth with opium trimmings and had to match. She was unattended.

The groom is a son of the late Ford Motor Company. Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett have a host of friends in this city. They will leave on the Montreal train this evening for London, Ont., where they will spend a short honeymoon. Upon their return they will take up their residence at Mount Pleasant.

TRANSFORMING OLD PAPER INTO NEW Process That Removes The Ink From Newspapers Successfully Tested In Wisconsin

Neenah, Wis., Nov. 15.—The high cost of print paper is largely responsible for bringing into the limelight Dr. Thomas Jasperston, who is confident he has invented a process whereby old newspapers are transformed into pure white stock, to be again used for newspaper printing.

The process has had an actual test, newspapers yellow with age having been converted into rolls of spotless paper and used for several issues of a Neenah newspaper. Dr. Jasperston is being besieged with inquiries from all over the country.

The process removes all ink from the old newspapers, and they are ground up, made into pulp, and run through a paper-making machine, coming out immaculate, whiter than the original paper. Dr. Jasperston worked more than four years on this process, and he has perfected his compound. He completed his work about a year ago. He persuaded a paper manufacturer at Kaukaunoi, Wis., to make a test. A few weeks ago the mill of the Combined Locks Paper Company made one run of the Jasperston paper. It was used in the publication of the Neenah paper, and the result was a paper firm, white and of excellent quality.

In this process the old newspapers are put into the beater, or mixing machine, and a chemical is added. By this the lampblack is extracted and the paper pulp is bleached clear white. The mass is washed several times before it is run through the rolls, from which it comes, woven by heat, in a fine white sheet, and is rolled on a spool for use. No changes in plant are necessary. The same machinery is used. The inventor has received a patent from the United States.

A mill is being equipped at Chicago, where his processes will be used.

THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE

This Will Be a Jewelry Christmas

First, because sentiment which distinguishes between a present and charity prefers jewelry, and the things a jeweler sells, since they are much desired by everyone and free from the implication of gratuitous aid.

Second, because prices have become unreasonably high, as the prices of wearing apparel, fabrics, articles of steel, iron and baser metals, and necessities generally.

Holiday showing of Brooches, Pendants, Rings, Earrings, Bracelets, Fancy Pins, Scarf Pins, Coat Links and other jewelry are on display at Sharpe's. It is an excellent selection of exquisite gift things, reasonably priced.

Selections will be held at the store, if desired, on payment of a small deposit.

KINGDOM OF ARABIA HAS BEEN FORMED

Washington, Nov. 15—Formation of the new Kingdom of Arabia, with Grand Sherif Hussein Ben Ali as monarch, and Mecca as the capital, is reported to the state department in an undated telegram from Mecca, signed by Sherif Abdullah, minister of affairs. The Arabic nation, Abdullah would henceforth be an active member of the Society of Nations, and confidently looked forward to recognition by the United States. The new kingdom resulted, he said, from an unanimous meeting of the notables and citizens of the country, who definitely threw off the yoke of the Committee of Union and Progress at Constantinople.

The request for recognition is expected to be met in much the same way as other governmental changes during the war.

MARCONI PROMISES NEW WIRELESS IMPROVEMENTS

Rome, Nov. 15.—Marconi, in an address before a gathering which included the Duke of Genoa and the elite of scientific, literary and aristocratic circles, roused the enthusiasm of his hearers when he said that wireless telegraphy had rendered magnificent services to Italy and her allies in the war. He regretted that it was impossible for obvious reasons to explain as fully as he would have liked to do, the progress made during the last two years in radio-telegraphy, but he described problems that are still unsolved, such as the origin, nature and means of dominating those natural disturbing waves known as "intruders," which he has been studying and experimenting with. He expressed the conviction that he would soon be able to announce means of communication more practical and economically useful to mankind.

U. S. PLANS WAR WORK FOR MOTOR CRAFT

Newport, R. I., Nov. 15.—The naval board which has been looking into the matter of motor boat patrols for the various naval districts has decided that the boats will be divided into four classes, and will be employed to patrol harbors and mine fields for mines, drag for mines, do dispatch duty and search for and attack submarines and air craft.

Type A slow boats must be not less than forty feet long, seaworthy in all weather up to a moderate gale, with a speed of not less than seven knots, self-sustaining for four men for four days and carrying a one-pounder and one machine gun. Type A fast boats must be not less than twenty feet long, self-sustaining for five days with a crew of eight men, with one anti-aircraft gun fitted for horizontal fire, and equipped with radio and searchlights.

Type B fast calls for a boat at least sixty feet long, able to keep the sea in a moderate gale, with a minimum speed of sixteen knots, self-sustaining for five days with a crew of eight men.

Officers and men are to have a provisional rank or rating in accordance with the approved complement of the type of boat on which they are serving, and may be confined to such rank or rating if found qualified after three months' active service.

In time of peace the owners may serve on their own boats if they so desire, but not necessarily when called into service in time of war or emergency, and the boats are to be distributed at the discretion of the commandant of the naval district.

HOW ARE YOUR NERVES?

A Great Nerve Tonic

The daily grind of life burns up man's vitality faster than he renews it. He gets shaky, starts at trifles, tosses in his sleep, is ready to fly off the handle any minute.

The nervous man is nervous because his blood is so thin his nerves are starved to death.

He needs Ferronze.

Its first action is upon digestion. It stimulates secretion of gastric juices, ensures perfect digestion, prepares the food so that it can be at once assimilated.

Hence the blood is nourished, is fortified, made richer, richer, stronger.

To the whole organism is imparted a vim, endurance and reserve of vigor that the nervous man never knew before.

The restorative power of Ferronze is marvellous. In a month it will make you feel like new, just as it did Mr. Karl E. Newsome, of Robesey, who writes: "I owe a debt of gratitude to Ferronze which saved my life after a severe stage of nervous prostration. About a year ago my health gave out. I was in such a weak, irritable condition I could not work, and found that three doctors had pronounced me dead. My doctor recommended Ferronze as the best preparation for nervous troubles so I commenced with one tablet at meals. Every box of Ferronze that I took did me more good than the previous one, and it wasn't very long before I was strong enough to move around again. In three months I was completely cured. Ferronze braced up my nerves, gave me a strong, healthy constitution, and is certainly a marvellous restorer and tonic." This crooked-sold everywhere by druggists in 50c boxes.

CARLETON'S

STEADY BARGAIN WHIRL

To see the magnificent display of chic winter millinery at Marr's great 20th anniversary sale is to pass judgment on the products of the world's most famous fashion designers and makers of feminine headwear.

To create a record in rapid selling, prices have been forced below the cost of making, most striking features including highest grade plush hats in all favorite shapes, worth up to $6, while they last, $2.98; velvet hats, 98c. and $1.98; velour hats, $2.98. The buyer will have the unheard of advantage of over 500 dozen hats, in newest styles, to choose from during this great 20th anniversary bargain event at Marr's. Among other features are millinery ornaments, as shown in New York today, at 50c. Intending purchasers should be early visitors at the House Panned for Millinery.

Rayworth occurred in St. John on Saturday morning. He was a graduate of Acadia, of the class of 1908, and after studying at Yale became professor of mathematics at Washington University, St. Louis. This untimely end of a promising life will be regretted by many, and especially by those who were his fellow-students at Acadia, where his sterling Christian character and eminent ability won for him the respect of all.

News of the death of Lieut. Walter H. Gordon has been received. He was killed in action during the recent heavy fighting. He was the youngest son of Dr. J. A. Gordon, so well-loved in these provinces. A brother, J. P. Gordon, of Charlottetown, is a leader among our laymen on "the Island." Lieut. Gordon was only twenty-nine years of age when he laid down his life for his country and for the cause of liberty and justice. To Dr. Gordon, and the four brothers who survive, we extend Christian sympathy.

Mrs. M. F. Churchill, our revered missionary, has arrived safely in India. The news was conveyed in a cablegram from Visagapatnam to her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Stillwell, Toronto, which was received on November 4.

The annual report of the Prison Commissioners for England and Wales shows that serious crime was never so infrequent as at present. In 1914-15 there were 114,983 prisoners under sentence, and in 1915-16 the number fell to 64,160. It is presumed that a large portion of the criminal population has joined the army.

THE BAPTIST MINISTERS

(Maritime Baptist.)

Rev. C. Sterling, who recently resigned the pastorate of the church at Milltown, Me., has become pastor of the church at West Rockport.

The work of the Amherst church continues to thrive under the wise and forceful leadership of Pastor C. W. Rose, assisted by Rev. A. H. Whitman.

Many of our readers will learn with deep regret that Mrs. L. E. Wallace, whose health has been unsatisfactory for some time, has been compelled to go to Boston for hospital treatment. She left Annapolis Royal on last Friday. She and Pastor Wallace will have the sympathy of all in this trial.

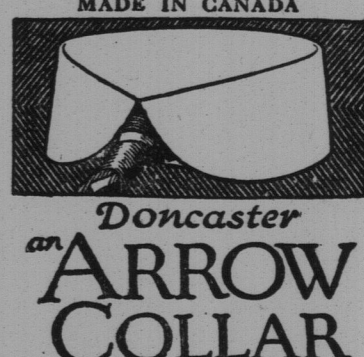

Rev. C. F. Wilson, Home Mission Evangelist for New Brunswick, has been engaged in special services with Pastor MacKenzie at Penobscot. He writes that a glorious refreshing has come to the churches there. Eight have offered themselves for baptism. Twenty made decision to live the Christian life, and many others have been strongly influenced by the meetings.

Rev. Selden R. McCurdy, Acadia '95, is now pastor of the Cranston street Baptist church, Providence, R. I.

Dr. H. P. Whidden of Brandon College, has been enjoying a visit in these provinces since the close of the convention. More especially he has been re-establishing old friendships in the home town of Antigonish.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 15, 1916

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co. Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE WAR NEWS

The military correspondent of the London Times estimates that Germany still has 4,500,000 men in the field and at least 2,000,000 more on lines of communication and as guards and reserves.

"In asserting that the necessary effort can be made, the Times correspondent says there are still between three and four millions of men available in the United Kingdom, and our gallant dominions have still greater reserves of man power."

This last remark should set Canadians thinking. We have reserves of man power, but we are not getting them into the ranks, although we should place in the field next year every man the country can produce."

Last night's cables brought news that though the British have gained more ground in the west the enemy is driving hard in the southeast and forcing the Roumanians to yield ground.

SIR SAM STRIKES BACK

Sir Robert Borden's letter to Sir Sam Hughes, calling for his resignation, is an interesting document, but not nearly so interesting as that of Sir Sam Hughes in reply.

"It took up four months in the midst of this great war to fight through the principles of purchasing for the second division, trucks at the lowest wholesale prices instead of allowing large commissions to local agents who would have nothing whatever to do with securing the order."

And again: "Sir Robert, I have known and experienced, for a long time, the meddling and intrigue which has been going on."

And again: "Recently, I heard on excellent authority, that you had it in contemplation for some time to retire to the supreme court of Canada by arrangement with the present incumbent of the chief justiceship and hand over the prime ministership to another, under whom it is well known I would not serve."

In view of these and many other statements made by Sir Sam Hughes it is quite safe to say that his retirement from the cabinet will be by no means and the troubles of the prime minister. If Sir Sam has as many friends as more than two years of passionate eulogy would seem to suggest, the controversy is not ended but has only begun.

KING ALBERT

Throughout the British Empire and the Allied nations today the thoughts of people turn to Belgium, whose king observes his birthday. In the critical hour when the German hordes were seeking a swift route to the heart of France, King Albert preferred war with all its horrors to national dishonor.

For us, he said, "there can be no other answer," and that answer saved France though it gave to the Hun all but a fringe of Belgium and brought untold horrors upon the Belgian people.

King Albert of Belgium and his devoted queen will forever stand among the great figures of this war. There is no more striking picture than that of the King of the Belgians holding with his small but dauntless army that small portion of their territory which still remains to them, suffering and enduring to the end.

YOUTHFUL DELINQUENTS

On the heels of the report of the Children's Aid Society concerning bad social conditions comes the arrest of a group of delinquent boys and the news that the police are on the trail of others. When will the community show some practical interest in the boys who are drifting into evil habits, and whose parents do not care what becomes of them? Of course, there are cases where the parents are handicapped, or wake up too late; but the whole community suffers when the boys and girls become criminal or vicious, and in the great majority of cases that could be prevented. Each day makes more urgent the need of a commissioner to administer the Children's Protection Act, and get at the root of some of the trouble that is causing by far too large a percentage of the young in St. John to grow up without proper care and education.

The New York Times claims that President Wilson is stronger than his party, and advises the Democrats to follow his lead for the next four years, and not venture into radicalism lest they lose the support he has won.

"The historian of political changes and developments in the United States, indifferent to the petty incidents and minor details of the Presidential election of 1916, which received quite too much attention in contemporary analysis and interpretation, will with clear vision and a sure pen trace the history of the many attempts to organize and put in power a party of the people; will tell of repeated failure under leaders unfit or undeserving until, in this electoral campaign, the people saw before them the opportunity they had long desired and a leader worthy of their confidence.

"More than 1,000,000 voters of other affiliations have joined the Democrats to extend for four years Mr. Wilson's service as President. If the Democrats will consent to be guided by the President, if they show themselves to be safe and sane, in short, if they do not make fools of themselves, complete assimilation will take place, they will be the people's party and they will continue in power during good behavior. In our electoral balance of power is always mobilized. Unsteadiness and foolish ventures into radicalism on the part of the Democrats will drive the new recruits by hundreds of thousands to the other party, and put it again in the majority."

Will the battalions known as "Sir Sam's Own" change their name? The facts about the nicknaming of the Borden cabinet are beginning to come out. No doubt it would be a very interesting story if all were told, but a very humiliating one.

Old Boreas evidently grew tired of reading those items about November roses and sweet peas and marigolds. His artist painted frost flowers last night on the window panes, following the snowstorm of yesterday.

The Times, with all due humility, once more desires to nominate Mr. Blondin, as Sir Robert Borden's minister of militia and defence. Great crises call for great men. There is a crisis in recruiting in Quebec. Surely Mr. Blondin is the man of the hour.

In order to encourage Liberals to join in a vigorous recruiting campaign and sink all political differences, the Halifax Herald recently referred to "the talking of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, treacherous to patriotic Liberals, treacherous to the Empire, refusing to lift his hand and do his part for Canadian national service." How many recruits will this bring to the colors?

If the Society of Marine Engineers desire the use of room in a school building for educational purposes there should be no difficulty in complying with their request. The widest possible use should be made of the school buildings of the city, not only for educational purposes but for community welfare work, including supervised recreation. Especially should there be an extension of evening classes, and encouragement given to those of limited education to attend them.

At a bi-monthly meeting of the Sunday School Teachers' Association, St. John's Denmore, held last evening in St. Jude's church schoolroom, West St. John, Rev. A. L. Fleming gave an address on the "Eskimeaux as a People."

Thirty-five boys of the Bible classes of the employed boys and high school boys gathered at the Y. M. C. A. building last evening for the supper and class meeting. After the meal they divided into classes.

In one of his early sermons the new army chaplain lamented the fact that many men spent their evenings at the club. "The club," he said, "is a place for bachelors. It is not right for a married man to pass the evening away from home while his poor wife sadly rocks the cradle with one foot and wipes away the tears with the other."

"Isn't it a good thing the government is stopping the imports of luxuries?" said one lady at the Red Cross meeting.
"Well, I'm married," replied another worker, "and my husband is over military age; but if they are going to cut down his tobacco and newspapers I sincerely hope he'll go to war."—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

JOKE ON ELDER SOTHERN
Audience Had Been Warned Not to Applaud the Great Actor
An old friend of my father, one Dr. Simpson, induced him to go on the stage to play one machine performance of Dunderdy. My father, feeling that he was conferring a favor on the small community, went with his company. This Simpson was a great joker, and went about telling the rustic auditors that this man Sothern, being an eminent London actor, they must be careful about their demeanor in the theatre.

"This is no cheap kind of play," said he. "You must not let this man think we have no manners. Don't applaud, don't laugh; it isn't done; people of taste don't do it. Laugh when you get home, but remember the loud laugh denotes the vacant mind!" If you like this man's acting, say so quietly when you meet him at the reception after the play. Never was there such a night. The house was crowded to the doors and not a sound of welcome, not a sound of laughter at this most comic of characters. For two acts my distracted father endured torture, the fiendish Simpson running around to him every now and again, hitting him on the back and whispering vehemently, "Isn't it great? I never such such enthusiasm! They're simply mad about it!"

Rubber Supply Is Steady While Leather Gets Scarcer

This Explains Low Price of Rubber Footwear in Spite of Increasing Cost of Fabrics, Chemicals and Labor
The war is using up enormous quantities both of leather and rubber. At the same time it is seriously restricting the output of the former, much of which came from Russia—while rubber production keeps now reaching maturity in Britain's tropical Dominions will come this year 150,000 tons of raw rubber—75 per cent of the world's production, and an increase of over 40,000 tons from last year.

Thus, thanks to the British Government's foresight in encouraging these plantations, the Allied armies have been abundantly supplied with all the rubber products they need—Germany and her allies have been cut off—and the price to the world at large has actually been reduced. Meanwhile, leather has been getting scarcer and more expensive—80 per cent higher than in 1914—and the end is not yet.

At normal prices a pair of good shoes cost about four times as much as a pair of standard quality rubbers, and would last nearly twice as long if the rubbers were worn to protect them in bad weather. So even before the war rubbers were a mighty good investment, to say nothing of their prevention of wet feet, colds and doctors' bills.

Now, when shoes cost seven or eight times as much as the rubbers, the saving from wearing the latter is so outstanding that no one who believes in thrift will think of going without them. Nor will those who are anxious to help win the war, for by wearing rubbers and overshoes we conserve the leather so scarce yet so absolutely necessary for the soldiers.

SCENE ON THE CLYDE
Alfred Noyes Writes of Activities in Building of Navy and Merchant Vessels
In an article on the navy, Alfred Noyes said:
Today I heard the unending rattle and roar of the machine guns that are defeating Germany; but there were no bullets apparent, and no casualties. It was the sound of the pneumatic riveting hammers, ringing upon a hundred ships in the forest-like yards of the Clyde. The scene from the deck of our launch, as we glided from dock to dock, and from reach to gleaming reach of the smoke-wreathed river, was one of epic grandeur.

Here, like the ribs of an unimaginably huge Leviathan lay the shipway in which the Louisiana was born; and all around it were the stark Spartan cradles of her avengers. Mile after mile they stretched, like a skeleton forest. Men moved like ants among their naked boughs. Dark bulks, embryo battleships, grew and took shape below them. Among those gigantic wooden ribs, the hammers rattled and roared in a deafening crescendo that drowned all speech. They rang and palpitated and boomed together, through all the smoky day, from dawn to sunset and through all the furnace night from sunset to dawn.

Where the Hun is Answered
Here, at last, I heard the answer of the British Empire to Germany in that unceasing sound of rapid-firing guns. Here were hammers engaged in something too mighty to be anything less than conclusive. There was an impersonal planetary movement behind the process which meant simply the thing—the defeat of Germany.
I saw, nearby, eight destroyers in the Jutland battle. I saw a shipyard whence, in that same week, they had launched fifteen new destroyers. And, what is more, I saw brood after brood of ships, in yard after yard, ready to follow. No sooner was one ship launched than another was laid down.

I saw, nearing completion in this one cradle of ships, a fleet of destroyers, a fleet of submarines, a fleet of battle cruisers, that in themselves would have constituted a formidable navy for any country. Here, too, were certain "mystery ships," ships of a new type, round which special screens had been built to guard them from too inquisitive eyes. And if mere size be a quality of the "colossal," I saw several submarines, larger than any hitherto built, and battle cruisers that would outstrip any ship in the world, and were considerably larger than any battleships in existence. They already carried their armament, and I know not which were the more impressive—the great muzzles of the gigantic guns, that looked as if they could shatter a world, or the giant chimney shafts in the background, that looked like cannon, up-mouthed to the skies, curling about their black lips, while two sentinel aeroplanes slowly circled above.

Workers Refute a Libel
The newspapers have talked much of the labor troubles on the Clyde; for the simple reason that one man in a city who throws his chair through a restaurant window will be more widely advertised by the press than the three millions who merely use their chairs in the ordinary way. But I happened to visit the Clyde at the time of the brief annual holiday which the workers had been asked to forego, and I saw for myself how

Lieut. E. Porter of 115th Killed
—Melvin Harrison of Gondola Point Dies in Hospital—Son of L. A. Dugal M. P. P. Seriously Wounded

His mother received the sad news yesterday that Lieutenant Everett Porter, of Chippman, who left here with the 115th Battalion and was one of that battalion's smartest officers, had been killed in action. Lieutenant Porter was a man who commanded the esteem of a wide circle of friends and his death will cause regret, but mingled with a touch of pride at the sacrifice he made for the empire.

PRIVATE MELVIN C. HARRISON of Gondola Point, who recently died in hospital at Boulogne.

PRIVATE L. A. DUGAL, of Edmondston, who has been severely wounded and is now seriously ill.

official telegram stated that Private Harrison died of enteric fever and was laid to rest in the little cemetery at Boulogne which looks across the sea towards his native land.

Melvin Harrison was born at Beech Hill, Gondola Point, in 1886, and was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison. There also survive Ralph and Allen, brothers, of that place; Sergeant Roy, of the 1st C. M. R., France; Dudd, of Parr (Alta.), and a sister, Daisy, of the University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon.

A French Brigade.
Lieutenant-Colonel Mignault, a brother-in-law of the Mignaults of the 140th Battalion, who spent last winter in this city, has returned from the front and proposes to raise a French-Canadian brigade in the province of Quebec. A new feature of the scheme is to have headquarters in London, England, and as soon as the men are recruited he would send them to England in batches of 200 and 800 until the full complement of the brigade is realized.

140th Draft Away.
Mrs. E. Scovil, wife of Sergeant George Scovil, of the 140th Battalion, has received a letter from her husband saying that 200 of the men have been drafted to the 26th Battalion, and had left for the front. The N. C. O's had not, at the time of writing, been drafted, but expected soon to cross also.

Dust Enough
"I've called, Mrs. Jones, to learn why Tommy has not attended his class lately," began the sweet young Sunday school teacher. "Well, Miss Goodleigh, answered Mrs. Jones, "the reason why I've kept Tommy away from Sunday school is because the knowledge he received there was making him a wicked boy." "A wicked boy?" gasped the amazed teacher. "Really, Mrs. Jones, I cannot imagine to what you refer." "You see, it's this way, Miss Goodleigh, explained Mrs. Jones determinedly. "The last time Tommy went to Sunday school you taught him that people were made of dust. Well, when he came home he nearly frightened me to death by trying to draw his little baby sister into the vacuum cleaner!"

MANY WELL KNOWN SPORTSMEN IN CASUALTY LIST

London, Nov. 12.—The lull in the advance on the western front has caused an appreciable falling off in the number of casualties, but as the result of sniping and night raids by bombing parties, the names of several well known athletes are added to the already long list of British sportsmen who have been killed and wounded in action.

A. E. Sutherland, killed, was one of the best known Scottish athletes. He was runner-up to W. R. Sutherland, the Scottish athlete and Rugby International, in the 1911-12 Scottish Border one hundred yards championship and occupied a like position in the two hundred and twenty yards championship in the latter year, when he was only overtaken at the post, and he was chosen as Edinburgh University's second string in the two hundred and twenty yards for the Scottish inter-university cricket. A well-known county cricketer has also made the big sacrifice in E. B. Myers,

10,000,000 Tons New Ships Destructions continue and the improvement in the number of vessels launched has been comparatively slight. Therefore, if the war came to a sudden conclusion within a few months, shipbuilding yards would face the problem of constructing 10,000,000 tons of new ships with a capacity of about 8,500,000 tons, in addition to the ships under construction and on order in the current year, while the number of ships to be replaced increases daily.

Huge Profits

The net profits of the International Milling Company of Calgary, Moose Jaw and various American points, for the year to August 31, 1916, are reported on excellent authority to be $615,400, of which $70,337 is required for preferred dividends, leaving $545,063 on the one million dollar issue of common stock, this being after bond interest and full provision for depreciation and maintenance. These profits compare with $307,198 in 1915 (when $400,000 was distributed to common shareholders, being $240,000 cash and $160,000 stock); $472,985 in 1914 (when $388,076 was distributed in cash and stock), and $465,407 in 1913. It will be seen that the company is well able to make another 50 p.c. distribution similar to those of the last two years, if so desired.

TRADE PREPAREDNESS

American Opinion That Measures Must be Early Applied and That Britain Will Move Slowly

(The First National Bank of Boston letter.) "In the midst of unexampled prosperity in the United States, headed by enormous favorable balances of trade, and with the workshops operating at their utmost capacity under amazing profit-making conditions, it is highly important that the best thought of the country be directed toward a consideration of the transition—whenever it may come—from war economics to peace economics. Recognizing the present distorted state of trade and granting a possible period of business life after the war, due partly to acquired momentum, drastic commercial readjustment is inevitable. "An outstanding feature of the past month has been the activity displayed by various countries along the line of industrial preparedness. Conferences of the allied nations designed to secure mutual, post-war trade protection, shipping combinations to provide effective competition on the sea; widespread discussion of tariffs and preferential duties, all point to preparation for a grim commercial contest when the war ceases. "Of special interest is the announcement of the German government's specifications—characteristically thorough—establishing a Commission to consider means and means for conducting her domestic and foreign trade after the war. The United States lacks the experience now being accumulated by the belligerent countries in rearing their industrial machinery and resources. This handicap, coupled with the fact that we have much to lose, makes more urgent the need for an active and thorough-going program to meet world-wide commercial competition when hostilities come to an end. "The September figures of England's trade showed that for the twelve months ending at that time, her trade with her leading markets was about one-third less than in 1914, although showing some gain over last year. With but 20 per cent of her equipment employed, and with conscription steadily taking away her chief needed in spinning, dyeing, and finishing departments—not readily replaced with women—there is doubt of her early ability to compete with American goods in the way to cause of essential export shipments, or to materially increase shipments to the United States.

LUMBER TRADE

Ottawa—The department of trade and commerce calls for a conference of Canadian lumbermen to concert measures for taking advantage of the great market for lumber in European countries during the reconstruction demands after war. The department has in course of completion a report on trade openings for Canadian lumber in Europe as investigated by H. R. Macmillan, chief forester of British Columbia. It is pointed out that every one of the belligerent nations will require immense supplies of lumber as soon as rebuilding starts. In Belgium forests have been entirely destroyed. In northern France thousands of new homes will have to be built, and railway rebuilding will require an immense quantity of railway ties. In England and Scotland forests have been denuded, the supply of lumber already exhausted, and imported lumber is in urgent demand. In Italy the same condition applies. Russia still has great supplies of standing timber, but it is said to be unsuited for rebuilding operations owing to its lower quality. In the United States lumbermen have already under way several export associations with foreign sales agencies to secure and distribute orders for American lumber. Sir George Foster wants a similar organization of Canadian lumbermen to be set up to secure European business for Canada.

War Supplies Trade

25 Per Cent. of Total

New York, Nov. 15.—Export of war supplies for the nine months ended September 31, amounted to $697,370,000, or more than 25 per cent. of the country's total export trade for the period, according to figures published here today by the Journal of Commerce. The value of explosives sent to belligerents was more than half a billion dollars, and automobiles, horses and mules, metal-working machinery and wire ranked next in that order. According to a table published covering war supplies exports since the movement began in January, 1915' their value for the twenty-one months was $1,617,445,600, or about 22 per cent. of the country's total exports. More war supplies were sent abroad during the first nine months of this year than throughout 1915.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—The following is the letter written to the prime minister by General Hughes on November 1, which prompted the premier to call for the resignation of his minister of militia.

His letter of resignation, delivered to the premier yesterday follows:
Ottawa, Nov. 11.

Dear Sir Robert,—Your letter of Nov. 9 is at hand and it affords me much satisfaction to now tender you my resignation; indeed, my letter of Nov. 9 rendered it impossible for me to remain your colleague unless you concurred in its correctness.

For a long time I have retained the portfolio of militia only that I might the better help the soldiers in their training and at the front to do the best I could towards winning the war, which is all that mattered. I have closed my eyes to the petty intrigues and ambitions about me. It is my intention still to devote my energies to the interests of those who have done so much to maintain the great cause of human liberty.

It is not necessary to analyze in detail all disappointing matters in my association with you. You state in the second paragraph of your letter of Nov. 9, "I have done my utmost to support you in the administration of your department."

THIS IS PLEASING NEWS TO ME, BUT I LEARN IT NOW FOR THE FIRST TIME.

Your statement that I had a "strong tendency to assume powers which you do not possess and which can only be exercised by the governor-in-council," is also news to me. True, from the opening of Valcartier camp such things were done with your full knowledge and authority. Upon my representations to you that the formation of the force would be seriously delayed were every petty detail to be brought before your council, you acquiesced in my recommendation that we should proceed without orders-in-council in matters of urgency and that they should be passed afterwards. This was done and has never been deviated from. War cannot be successfully waged, although urgently needed for much more important duties have been very frequently employed in removing difficulties thus unnecessarily created" is also news to me. Why was I not informed of it?

IF YOU MEAN THAT YOUR TIME WAS GIVEN UP TO LISTENING TO THE COMPLAINTS OF DISAPPOINTED OR OVERSTRUNG PEOPLE—I CAN UNDERSTAND IT. In war time in all countries, criticism of all measures abounds. In the eyes of some, everything done is "wrong." I, too, had more than my fair share of uninformed criticism, even from well meaning friends.

Your statement further that "You seemed actuated by a desire and even an intention to administer your department as if it were a distinct and separate government in itself" is also news to me. It is true that I did not always attend council to see my recommendations through; I was engaged in other work, but if you will permit me to make a comparison I was yet to learn where, once, the finance minister of Canada brought before council any proposed loan for the dominion of Canada, or any single important act concerning the administration of his department. The same observations apply to the minister of trade and commerce.

MOREOVER, IT IS DIFFICULT FOR ME TO RECALL WHERE YOU HAVE ACTIVELY SUPPORTED ME IN THE PASSAGE OF ANY ORDER-IN-COUNCIL, CONCERNING THE UPBUILDING OF THE MILITIA, WHEN OPPOSED BY TWO MEMBERS OF THE CABINET USUALLY ANTAGONISTIC TO ANYTHING PROPOSED BY ME. AS YOU ARE AWARE, IT TOOK UP FOUR MONTHS IN THE MIDST OF THIS GREAT WAR TO FIGHT THROUGH THE PRINCIPLES OF PURCHASING FOR THE SECOND DIVISION, TRUCKS AT THE LOWEST WHOLESALE PRICES INSTEAD OF ALLOWING LARGE COMMISSIONS TO LOCAL AGENTS WHO WOULD HAVE NOTHING WHATEVER TO DO WITH SECURING THE ORDER. Your next paragraph is that "On many occasions, but without much result, I have cautioned you against this course, which has frequently led to well founded protests from your colleagues."

You will pardon me, but I can recall but one instance, namely, secret service. I DO REMEMBER YOU ASKING ME, ON ONE OCCASION, TO SUBMIT ORDERS-IN-COUNCIL, WHERE POSSIBLE, BEFORE INCURRING LARGE EXPENDITURES, BUT THE REASON YOU ASSIGNED WAS NOT PROTESTS FROM MY COLLEAGUES, OVER MY ACTION, BUT THAT IT WAS TO SET AN EXAMPLE SO AS TO ASSIST YOU TO CONTROL OTHERS, YOU INSTANCED THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT AND THE PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT, WHERE PROJECTS HAD BEEN UNDERTAKEN WITHOUT AUTHORITY BY ORDER-IN-COUNCIL AND, I REMEMBER DISTINCTLY, YOU STATED THAT SOME BOATS HAD BEEN PURCHASED, AND OTHER LARGE EXPENDITURES INCURRED WITHOUT YOUR KNOWING ANYTHING ABOUT IT, AND WITHOUT ANY ORDER-IN-COUNCIL.

Your next instance is concerning the proposed sub-militia council in England. On November 1 I wrote you in reply to your letter of October 31, giving a full statement.

SIR ROBERT, I HAVE KNOWN AND EXPERIENCED, FOR A LONG TIME, THE MEDDLING AND INTRIGUE WHICH HAS BEEN GOING ON.

More than a year ago I understand, you had it in contemplation to get Sir George Perley in control in England. I was assured in April last that the plans which you have now carried out, were under contemplation. I was further assured, the first week of August of this year, that the plans were practically completed.

However, as you had not spoken to me about it as in honor bound, I did not credit the stories. True to your suggestion and to our understanding regarding the formation of the proposed sub-militia council, and wishing to make it as perfect as possible, I pursued the course outlined in my letter of November 1. The organization had to be put into shape and tested out. That had not been completed when I left England. Therefore your position on this is untenable.

I HAD OBSERVED YOUR EVERY WISH. FURTHER, YOU WERE NOTIFIED AND EVERYONE CONNECTED WITH THE PROPOSED SUB-MILITIA COUNCIL WAS DEFINITELY NOTIFIED, NOT ONCE BUT REPEATEDLY THAT THE WHOLE PROPOSITION WAS TENTATIVE AND CERTAINLY WOULD BE CHANGED AS CIRCUMSTANCES DEVELOPED. This will be borne out by every one associated with the proposed sub-militia council. I am free to admit, however, that the question of a separate minister of militia in England never once presented itself to my imagination. There is no more need for a separate minister for the forces in England than there is for those at Camp Borden, Camp Hughes or any other large camp in the country.

You state "I conveyed to you on the 31st July a clear intimation that upon so important a proposal involving considerations of the gravest moment, the cabinet must be consulted before action was taken. All the members of the government have full and direct responsibility in respect to the very important matters which the proposed council would advise upon and direct. The intimation which was given to you in my telegram of July 31 should not have been necessary. As soon as it was received you proceeded to disregard it."

The first sentences of this quotation are absolutely true, and IT IS MY BELIEF THAT HAD YOU BEEN ACTUATED BY THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE FORCE, INSTEAD OF FAVORITISM, THAT CABLEGRAM WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN DESPATCHED.

Your second statement is that "As soon as it was received you proceeded to disregard it."

I think you must now be convinced this is a grave error on your part. You were notified the very first instant any temporary conclusion was arrived at. I am not aware that "the principle of joint responsibility upon which constitutional government is based" requires that anyone should be privileged, even unintentionally, to misrepresent facts concerning another. Therefore, my letter of November 1, may, while absolutely true, seem, in this regard, emphatic.

You take exception to the general character and tone of that letter. WELL, SIR ROBERT, EACH ONE'S MANNER IS HIS OWN. IT MIGHT BE WELL IF WE COULD ALL POSSESS YOUR SOFT MANNERISM, BUT I AM VERY MUCH AFRAID, JUDGING BY ALL PERIODS OF HISTORY, THAT HUMAN LIBERTY AND HUMAN PROGRESS WOULD NOT MAKE MUCH ADVANCE, AS THEY NEVER HAVE MADE MUCH ADVANCE, UNDER SUCH DIPLOMATIC FORMS AND UTTERANCES.

I have perused my letter of November 1 very carefully and I have also perused yours of October 31. Your actions and manner to me at any period in the past, excepting when you would be in trouble in the opposition days and since, while, as a rule, courteous, have never been apparently frank or loyal.

Even in the early opposition days when a very few of us repeatedly stood by you and overthrew the agitators against you, we were rewarded loyally by seeing you prefer those who had been untrue to us.

As I said in the early part of this letter, I have, for a long time remained minister of militia as scores of my intimate friends know, upon their urgent request, to remain in office in order to better help to uphold and to protect the interests of our soldiers overseas. As you know my great desire has been to see that Canadian soldiers enjoyed a status as such.

In conclusion, Sir Robert, let me say I have always been frank and honorable with you. When rumors would reach me of your supposed plans of re-creating the office of the chief justice and handing over the prime ministership to another, under whom it is well known I would not serve. Surely you could not be a party to any such manipulation, but would face the electors and stand or fall by the result.

I therefore most unhesitatingly tender you my resignation to take effect as soon as I can remove my belongings from the department, of which I shall give you prompt notice. For the future, permit me to say, that it shall afford me pleasure to support every act, every proposition, coming from where it may, which will tend towards the successful protection and welfare of the soldiers who are so manfully sacrificing themselves in the great cause of human liberty.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) SAM HUGHES.

This is the way people feel about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It arouses the enthusiasm of those who use it because of its remarkable restorative and up-building influence.

It lifts them out of the tired, nervous and helpless condition resulting from exhausted nerves, restores health and vigor and makes life worth living.

Sleeplessness, irritability, nervous headache, indigestion, and all the warning symptoms of nervous collapse disappear when this great food cure is used to nourish the nerve cells back to health.

Nervous Collapse

Mr. Victor Higgs, Wingham Hill, Cumberland Co., N.B., writes:

"My case was a peculiar one. It was one of those strange nervous diseases which are so difficult to describe. The doctor said that my nervous system was all run down. I experienced that uncertainty in walking which indicates the approach of paralysis and locomotor ataxia, and I now realize that I am greatly indebted to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for the great good it has done me.

"I could not work, read or write, or do anything requiring energy or the concentration of mind. Before using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I could not get an hour's sleep all night. My brain and nerves seemed to be all unsettled. I sleep well now, and believe that my nervous system has been fully built up by this splendid medicine."

Sciatic Rheumatism

Mr. W. J. Talbot, Edenwold, Sask., writes:

"It is a great pleasure for me to recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a cure for sciatic rheumatism. The pain I have suffered from sciatica has been well nigh unbearable. It would start in the hip and run down the legs to the toes, gradually getting worse. The nerves contract until one is practically useless. My doctor tried many different treatments, but could only afford relief for a time.

"For about five years I was subjected to this trouble, with severe attacks which would last about two months. The last attack I had was shortened to two weeks by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills used in conjunction with it. This treatment was continued until I was satisfied that the cure was lasting."

This statement is endorsed by Mr. H. R. Woolley, J.P.

It rests entirely with you as to whether you benefit by these experiences of others. If you could talk with persons who have used this treatment and note their enthusiasm you would not be long in putting it to the test in your own case.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know someone who is troubled with head noises, or Catarrhal Deafness, cut out this formula, and hand it to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. Recent experiments have proved conclusively that Catarrhal Deafness, head noises, etc., were the direct cause of constitutional disease, and that salves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money has been spent of late by a noted specialist in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The effective prescription which was eventually formulated, and which has aroused the belief that deafness will soon be extinct, is given below in understandable form, so that any one can treat themselves in their own home at little expense.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Peppermint (Double Strength), about 75c worth. Take this home and add to it 3/4 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dripping in the back of the throat, are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are often entirely overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh; therefore, there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment.

Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial.

WILL YOU TAKE TWO AT OUR RISK?

So many customers who suffer from run down nervous condition with its consequent ills of insomnia, indigestion and general debility are being greatly helped by Zocite—the nerve tonic, that we wish to have every ailing person in this town try this really famous remedy. It is all that a tonic should be and more than any other tonic is. It combines the most precious of health-building substances. Glycerine-Phosphates are the actual element of the human body in most assimilative form. You know the value of Cod Liver Oil and the invigorating effects of tonic wine. In Zocite these are combined into an exceedingly pleasant tonic which in two weeks will work quiet wonders in your health. If at the end of two weeks' honest trial you cannot report real progress toward health we will refund the purchase price. Doesn't this convince you that you should start trying it today? E. PLAYGROUNDS ASSOCIATION

Mrs. W. C. Good is President—Work Reviewed and Plans for Boys' and Girls' Clubs Made

The annual meeting of the Playgrounds Association was held last evening in the Y. M. C. A. with M. E. Agar in the chair. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved as well as the secretary's report reviewing the work of the year now closed. The report stated that six supervised playgrounds had been operated during the summer holidays besides ten separate playgrounds for boys and baseball leagues for boys in the evening. The work of the boys' club, the girls' club and the travelers' aid had been successfully carried on. With the co-operation of the Y. M. C. A., the boys' club will now be conducted more successfully than ever before and the prospects for the girls' club are also much brighter.

FOUR DOCTORS DISAGREED

Pains Disappeared After Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wilmington, Del.—"I was suffering from a terrible backache and pains in my side, with bearing down pains and was very nervous. I was always tired, always drowsy, never could get enough sleep and could not eat. I had four doctors and each told me something different. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. I got good results and I now feel better than I have felt for years and I am gaining in weight. I can gladly recommend it to all women."—Mrs. GEORGE W. SIBBOLD, 1611 West 4th Street, Wilmington, Del.

Backache and bearing down pains are danger signals which every woman should heed. Remove the cause of these aches and pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that good old root and herb medicine. Thousands of women have testified to its virtues. For forty years it has been making women strong, curing backache, nervousness, ulceration and inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularity and periodic pain.

mayor with Hon. J. D. Hazen and Hon. Frank Cochrane was read. It related to the dumping of persons in St. John, including women and children, who are turned back by the American immigration authorities, and have no money enough to take them back to their homes. The girls' club has found it necessary to take care of quite a number of such persons during the last year. Further correspondence with the government will be carried on.

and predicted a successful year's work under her guidance. The secretary supplemented Mr. Agar's remarks by reporting it had come to his knowledge through her pastor, that Mrs. Good had withdrawn from all church activities in order that she might devote herself for the coming year entirely to the girls' club, which was a guarantee that Mr. Agar's prediction would be fulfilled.

The election of twenty-one directors and the reading of the directors' report to the shareholders were the principal items of business transacted at the annual meeting of the exhibitors of the St. John Exhibition Association held yesterday afternoon in the office of the secretary, Horace A. UNION POINT SCHOOL GIVES FINE CONCERT

Last evening the scholars of Union Point school, Fairville, entertained an audience in St. Rose's hall that taxed the capacity of the building, when the children put on the operetta "Cinderella in Flowerland."

The training of the little ones had been in charge of Miss Mary O'Brien, their teacher, and the programme as carried out without a hitch reflected the highest credit on Miss O'Brien's painstaking instruction.

Newton, N.J., Nov. 15.—Four prisoners, after overpowering a trusty, tying a prisoner who refused to join them, escaped from the Sussex county jail here, but their liberty was of short duration, as all four were captured near Swartswood several hours later by Sheriff Wilson and a hotel proprietor. The prisoners, Charles Murray, Arthur Mulholland, John Ladin and Pete Wolchiski, had been arrested on a charge of robbing the home of C. H. Richards, at Lake Grinnac.

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK FEVERISH CHILD

If Little Stomach is Sour, Liver Torpid or Bowels Clogged. Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contentment any other fig syrup.

He was bound and gagged and then tied to his cell. After struggling for an hour Perry and McCormack freed themselves and summoned help.

For All Complexion Ills

If the skin be colorless, sallow, muddy, over-red, blotchy or freckled, nothing will so surely overcome the condition as ordinary mercurized wax. It literally takes off a bad complexion—absorbs the dead and near-dead particles of surface skin, gently, gradually, causing no inconvenience at all. A new complexion is then in evidence—clear, spotless, delicately soft and beautiful. One ounce of this wax, procurable at any druggist, will rejuvenate even the worst complexion. It is used like cold cream.

TALES OF THE DAYS WHEN NICK YOUNG REIGNED

Old Baseball Times Written of By Joe Page

YOUNG A STERLING CHARACTER

The Obstructive Freedman and His Undoing—How Tim Hurst Handled Him and Man-handled Some Scrappy Players

(By Joe Page.)
The late Nick Young, who guided the affairs of the older major league organization (The National League) for eighteen years, was one of the finest and most lovable characters that baseball has ever known. During the later years of his reign as president of the organization, he had had some very trying times, due entirely to one man, the late Andrew Freedman, the then president of the New York National League team who, while connected with the game, easily earned the title of being the most obstructive and destructive magnate ever in baseball right up to the present day. Had it not been for such men as the late John T. Brush and A. G. Spalding, he would have undoubtedly wrecked New York as a baseball city, if not the entire National League and baseball in general.

While Uncle Nick Young had the entire support and good will of the rest of the magnates of the circuit, it was due to the constant tirade and abuse by Freedman that the former finally resigned the offices of president, secretary and treasurer of the league. Freedman could not get at Nick Young except through the umpire staff and in Scrappy Bill Joyce, his manager, he had a very able and willing henchman, and as a consequence President Young, who thoroughly believed and upheld his umpires, was up against it pretty much all the time.

However, while in harness, he stuck to his guns and upheld as thoroughly a reliable staff of umpires as it has been the good fortune of any president to have had control of before or since his time.

But Young stuck to his post long enough for Brush and Spalding to drive Freedman into baseball oblivion. The latter, thoroughly discredited, finally disposed of his holdings to Brush. But many a witty umpire story in which the late Timothy Hurst in the main was participant will live long in the memory of the baseball magnate, writer and enthusiast of those days.

Following are a few with which the writer is familiar, and written by Joe Vila, will interest the many local fans: "I never will forget the banishment of Tim Hurst. Freedman met him at the gate one day and said that he couldn't come in. Hurst laughed and replied that he'd let Nick Young see if he wouldn't let Young in here," yelled Freedman, "so you're done for!"

After a moment had passed Freedman became so dissatisfied with the other umpires that he wired Nick to send Hurst back. Tim then appeared at the Polo Grounds, wearing the usual grin.

"Hurst, I've decided to let you in here!" said the owner of the Giants. "If there's anything coming to me, I want it!"

"All right, Mr. Freedman," replied Tim, "if I see anything coming your way I'll head it off."

"Kind" Treatment From Hurst
But though Hurst went to the bushes, Freedman took a seat in the upper tier to await developments. In the first inning Scrappy Joyce made a rush at the little fishman, roaring like a lion. "Robber!" cried Freedman. "Give it to him, Bill!"

"Mister Joyce, you big four-flusher," exclaimed Hurst, "you're fired fifty bucks! Now beat it off the field before you go out on a pop fly!"

Freedman was furious, of course, but Hurst stood his ground and Joyce way-laid Hurst at the gate.

"What do you mean by such business?" asked Freedman, who was burning up. "I did what Uncle Nick told me!" was the quiet response.

"And what was that?" retorted the late club owner.

"He said to treat you kindly," said Tim with a laugh. "Why, Joyce should have been hung and you should have read the burial service!"

President Young received a red hot wire that night and Hurst was kept away from the Polo Grounds the rest of the season.

Mr. Young, by the way, had the utmost confidence in Hurst. The Pittsburghers were playing in Washington one day and Hurst was the umpire. Uncle Nick sat in his usual grandstand seat. Tim had some words with Pink Hawley, Jake Stenzel and Denny Lyons, who were notorious scrappers.

"I'll meet you guys under the grandstand after the game!" said Hurst, who was a beautiful rough and tumble artist. The moment the game was over Hurst changed his cap, which was his uniform, and planted himself against the Pirates dressing room. Hawley, Lyons and Stenzel appeared together. Hurst punched Hawley in the face, back-kicked Stenzel and kicked Lyons in the shins. Other players interfered at that moment just as Uncle Nick appeared.

"Timothy, what is all the excitement?" asked Mr. Young, innocently, for he hadn't seen the mix-up.

"Somebody dropped a dollar bill, Uncle Nick," replied the little umpire, "and I said it was mine!"

"Oh, was that all?" said the president of the league. "I thought it was a riot of some kind. Did the dollar really belong to you, Timothy?"

"No, it belonged to Hawley, but Stenzel and Lyons tried to take it away from him and I wouldn't let them. It was just a pink tea!"

"Timothy, you did the right thing and I am proud of you!" Whereupon Uncle Nick patted Tim on the back and they went away together.

Uncle Nick, Freedman, Spalding, Brush and Lyons are dead, but I'll never forget the stormy times in which they lived.

BILL O'HARA

You all remember him? a dozen years or so ago?

The Giants had a felder out in left who was fast between the bases and could field as well as throw. But when it came to hitting wasn't deft.

He was noted as a walter and he led the batting list.

But he couldn't pat the apple with his club.

And so it came to pass one spring his stocky form was missed.

And fans classed Bill O'Hara as a dud.

O'Hara was formerly of the Toronto Leafs as well as the New York Giants.

THE SHIELDING SHADOW AGAIN AT UNIQUE

Seventh Episode "The Awakening" Brings Out Startling Facts—Other Features

The producer of a serial photoplay is ever and anon seeking to present new ideas which would be instrumental in bringing the continued photoplay to a successful and pleasing issue. This fact is clearly demonstrated in the seventh edition of The Shielding Shadow, called The Awakening, now being shown at the Unique Theatre.

One of the most interesting features in connection with this chapter is the regaining of memory by One Lamp Louie, a fact which opens a channel for much thought as to the ultimate ending of the story. The balloon ascension is remarkably well presented, as is also the fire in mid-air when the balloon is set in flames through the medium of a time bomb. There is really a great deal in this episode to commend it; in fact, those who have been following the serial claim it is one of the best yet. Each link of the story seems to be well connected with every succeeding chapter.

The Pathe News, as usual, gave very much pleasure, especially in the exploiting of scenes showing some of the best plays in the world baseball series held in Boston. Some close-up views of the allied armies were also presented.

A farmer, noted for his absent-mindedness, went to town and transacted his business with the utmost precision. He started on his way home, however, with the firm conviction that he had forgotten something, but what it was he could not recall. As he neared home the conviction increased, and three times he stopped his horse and went carefully through his pocket-book in a vain endeavor to discover what he had forgotten. In due course he reached home, and was met by his daughter, who looked at him in surprise, and exclaimed: "Why, father, where have you left mother!"

The schooner Winchester, bound from Woodpoint to New Haven with a cargo of stone, anchored off the island this morning.

MRS. DANIEL MITCHELL

The death of Mrs. Daniel Mitchell occurred early this morning at her residence, 25 Main street. She was a lifelong resident of the North End, and was held in high esteem by all who knew her. Besides her husband she is survived by one son, by a previous marriage, Aman Clark, of Kars, Kings County; two brothers, R. E. Akerly of Washadeemoak, and J. Akerly of Big Cove, Queens county, and two sisters, Mrs. David Smith, of Cambridge, Mass., and Mrs. J. N. Fugard of Springfield, N. Y. The funeral service will be held at her late residence on Friday evening at eight o'clock, and the body will be taken to Washadeemoak for burial.

The Man In The Street

Nice winter weather isn't it? *

The man who can afford to smile at the cold snap is the lucky individual whose coal bins are filled.

But even the man who is not so fortunate at least can be grateful that the snow has settled the dust problem for a while.

And also for the fact that the price of rubbers has not joined the skyward flight of other prices.

The report that the 104th Battalion is to be broken up sounds familiar. Haven't we heard that story before?

Lieutenant-Colonel Mignault, who is returning to Canada to raise a full brigade among the Quebec French at least deserves a reward for his optimism. Will the government help?

Since Lieut.-General Sir Sam Hughes has nothing else to do these days, he might join forces with the gallant Colonel Mignault.

Some of the government organs which now are explaining what an unworthy citizen Sir Sam is, must have seen the light very suddenly.

Their change of heart may lead us to hope that the Standard some day may discover that there were a few flaws in the record of Hon. J. K. Flemming.

The "inference drawn" by the Standard that a brigade of cavalry is to be located in St. John hardly seems warranted by the plans of the military authorities for the erection of stables to accommodate fourteen horses. It would be a tight fit for a brigade.

The German submarine which wants to charge extra rates for the delivery of mail should throw in an insurance policy.

The small boy who begins to count the days to Christmas from the first fall of snow will have a long wait this year.

Helpful hint to housewives—If raisins and candied peel are too expensive for this year's Christmas cake, try prunes.

Sir George E. Foster suggests economy as a solution for the high cost of living. Personally, we would consider a cabinet minister's salary a much better solution.

Too Charitable?

As the pictures showed a desolate battle field strewn with the enemy dead, the orchestra softly rendered a familiar hymn tune, and the voice of a little girl in the audience was raised in inquiry, "Mummy, isn't that Nearer My God to Thee they are playing?"

"Yes, dear."

"And aren't those dead soldiers Germans?"

"Yes, dear."

"Well, Mummy, I never knew that dead Germans could go to Heaven."

CITY CORNET BAND

42 YEARS OLD TODAY

Looks Back Upon Excellent Record—Patriotic Drawing Nearer

In addition to being the birthday of King Albert of Belgium, this is also the anniversary of the founding of the City Cornet Band. The coincidence is the more interesting because of the fact that, when the band was organized forty-two years ago, the colors chosen were black, red and yellow, identical with the Belgian national colors.

During its long history, the band has proved to be one of the most public-spirited of city organizations, and has attained a high place in public esteem on account of willing aid in public affairs as well as on account of ability displayed as a musical organization. The members have given generously of their time and talents to furnish music for the citizens, and today the band is still strong in spite of the losses occasioned by members enlisting.

It also is enjoying the prosperity it deserves, as the result of the fair recently held, the first money raised by the band since their last fair three years ago. In connection with the fair this year, duplicate "Round the World" lottery was conducted in aid of the Patriotic Fund, and the drawing for the prizes will be held on December 11, whether all the tickets are sold by that time or not.

THE BOY TO GET HIS MONEY BACK

Plays Sleuth and Has Man Arrested as He is Boarding Train For Halifax

"Give me back my $20 or I will have you arrested," said a fourteen-year-old boy in the I. C. B. station last evening, when a man, giving his name to the police as Arthur Williams, was about to board the Halifax train, and who was alleged to have stolen this amount of money from the boy.

In the police court this morning the boy received great credit from the court for the manner in which he followed the defendant. The man was charged with the theft of $20 from the young lad. The boy said that he had just received a check for $22.86 from the Valley Railroad Company at Rose's Landing, near Grand Bay. He had the money cashed and gave the defendant two $10 bills for the purpose of securing for him (the boy) some winter clothing. After the defendant had departed for St. John, the witness said he learned that Williams was on his way home to Halifax. The lad informed Magistrate Morrissey, who in turn told the boy to follow the man to this city, with the result that when he arrived he saw the defendant just about to board the Halifax train.

He accosted him and demanded his money. The defendant said he did not have it. The boy then asked him for his watch and the Williams refused to give, it was said, but offered the lad ten cents to keep quiet. The boy then gave the man in charge.

The result of the whole affair is that Williams, following the advice of the magistrate, will pay the boy back, in a manner rather interesting. Williams will have to sell his clothes, as he has promised to join the soldiers, will have to sell his watch, will have to get a refund of the money that he spent on his ticket to Halifax and will be compelled to put some of his own "loose" change to the "fund" in order that the lad will receive the $20 back.

The boy is a smart lad, who has been working on the Valley Railroad. He belongs to this city, the North End.

MISSIONARY INSTITUTE IS OPENED IN FAIRVILLE

Annual Exercises Well Begun Yesterday—Two Visiting Missionaries

The annual missionary institute conducted by the Inter-Church Federation of Fairville was auspiciously opened yesterday when the first sessions were held in the Church of the Good Shepherd. In the afternoon, devotional exercises were held by Rev. P. R. Hayward (Baptist), while a study class was led by Rev. H. H. Fish. At seven o'clock in the evening a study class was in charge of Rev. H. E. Stillwell, while Rev. H. R. Boyer opened a series of talks on Canada's Problems, his topic being Bible Distribution. At 8:30 Rev. Gilbert Earle delivered an illustrated lecture on South America.

The two imported men are Rev. H. E. Stillwell, A. A. of India, and Rev. H. H. Irish, of Poughkeepsie, China. Rev. Mr. Stillwell is a Toronto man who spent fifteen years in India, part of the time as principal in a mission high school at Cocanada. He is at present on a furlough and serving as general treasurer to the Baptist board. Rev. Mr. Irish belongs to Antigonish county, N. S., and has been a missionary to India from the Methodist church for the last eight or nine years. At present he is on furlough and with his wife and children is making his home in Truro. He expects to return to China.

The institute will be continued in the various Fairville churches all week and is attracting extra large congregations. In addition to the clergymen mentioned the staff of the institute includes Rev. W. W. Atkinson, Rev. J. B. Ganong, Rev. W. H. Barraclough and Fairville clergymen.
