GERMAN OCCUPATION HAS MADE RADICAL CHANGE IN OSTEND

Invaders Have Made Heavy Requisitions — No One Out of Doors After 7 p. m.

Ostend, Belgium, Nov. 21.—(By mail.)—Life of this usually lively city has been radically changed by the German military occupation. Inhabitants are forbidden to leave their houses between seven in the evening and seven in the morning and no lights may be shown during that time. No one may leave town without passports from the German authorities.

The usual market gatherings are almost suspended. Villagers from outside Ostend can come in only when attended by their Burgomasters, and the market hours are limited to Monday and Thursday mornings. All horses have been taken by the military authorities, so only dog carts can be used to bring food into the town. Butter, eggs, meat and vegetables are cheap, but Ostend is without fish because all fishermen have fled to England. Fishing would be impossible because civilians are forbidden to approach the coast, and the inhabitants of houses along the seashore have been expelled.

The railways and electric trams have been stopped for everything except military purposes, and are being used night and day for sending provisions to the front and bringing back wounded.

Little is left of what formerly was Westende, Dixmude, Schoore, Ramscapelle, St. Pieters, Capelle and Mennekensvere, and more than 150 farms in the neighbourhood have been destroyed.

Hundreds of wounded Belgians and French are brought to Ostend, and those who can stand the journey are sent along to Germany. A dozen or more Germans, dead from their wounds, are buried here every day. The wounded allies are well cared for by the Germans.

Ostend is without newspapers, soap, oil, candles and coffee. The Germans have made heavy requisitions, not only of foodstuffs in large quantities, but of cigars and wine, and all available mattresses and covers, as well as clothing, linen and bicycles. For the property taken the Germans have given requisition notes amounting to one million dollars. The hotels are occupied by German officers who live on the best of everything. German bands play in the parks every day, but have only the Germans as auditors because the inhabitants who are left boycott them.

A CONSERVATIVE VIEW.

Commenting on the attitude of Lieut. Gov. Wood in the matter of Premier Flemming's Chatham World (Conservative) says—

"His Honor does not appear to be a man of action. He is like the thoughtful physician who let his patients die while he was considering what remedy to prescribe. It is not only the good name of the province but the reputation of Governor Wood as a public man that is at stake. His Honor evidently lacks the force of character to exercise his constitutional authority."

"Mr. Clarke and his colleagues, who must know that their continuance in office in Mr. Flemming's government makes them responsible for the conduct of which he has been found guilty, are evidently afraid to tender their resignations for fear that Mr. Flemming may fill their places. But who would accept the portfolios and go to the people for re-election as sponsors for the Flemming corruption fund and the additional million-dollar gift to the Gould gang?"

Note how quickly the acid is neutralized and how soon you forget that you have such a thing as a stomach.

INSURING GOOD DIGESTION

Importance of Preventing Food Fermentation in Stomach.

Good digestion usually means good health. So long as the stomach does its work properly disease can find no lodgment in the human system; the liver, kidneys and intestines will perform their work perfectly and remain in perfect health; but permit anything to interfere with the proper digestion of food, an unending train of troubles is set in motion. About the only thing that will upset the stomach and interfere with digestion is an excess of acid, usually caused by food fermentation. Food fermentation is due to chemical action in the food itself. This fermentation causes the formation of gas, or wind, as well as acid, resulting in the unnatural fermentation of the stomach and the burning by the acid of the delicate lining of the stomach.

Medicine and tonics cannot relieve this condition—they usually make it worse. The fermentation and acid are to blame and these must be overcome and prevented by taking after meals a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia in a little hot or cold water. Physicians recommend bisulphate of magnesia especially because it stops and prevents fermentation of food and neutralizes the acid instantly, making it bland and harmless, without irritating the stomach in any way. Get a little bisulphate of magnesia from your druggist and try it the next time your food ferments and upsets your stomach. Note how quickly the acid is neutralized and how soon you forget that you have such a thing as a stomach.

GERMAN TREACHERY.

How a Liege Fort Was Taken; White Flag Violated.

The Paris Matin gives an account of the taking of Fort Loncin. The fort at Liege was admirably concealed, and the enemy could not succeed in locating it exactly. As their fire was ineffectual, the Germans made use of a ruse to discover the exact position of the cupola, the only vulnerable point. At daybreak they sent an officer to parley with the garrison, carrying an immense white flag. General Lemay, who was in command of the fort, gave an order to allow him to advance. When the pretended parlementaire came to a point where he could see the cupola clearly he stopped, and made signals by waving the flag. He was immediately shot down but the bombardment was at once resumed, and shells from the German guns fell full on the cupola. The staff killed, 120 terribly burned, and only five were unhurt.

LAOE AND VELVET.

One yard of velvet is sufficient for the quaint overbodice.

The satin foundation is made by first forming a box-pleat in right front, turning under front edge at notches and taking up a tuck on slot perforations. Stitch pleat and turn under front edge of left front 1/4 inch and then turn under 1 inch for hem. Close under-arm seam as usual, close shoulder seam. Gather lower edge of front and back between double "TT" perforations. Join flare collar sections as directed by new to back edge as notches.

Sleeve—Gather between double "TT" perforations. Close seam as notched. Bring single "TT" to small "o" perforation, fasten with hooks and eyes. Turn under lower edge of upper cuff section on slot perforations, lap on lower section to small "o" perforations, notches even and stitch. Turn lower part of lower cuff section back on double "o" perforations and tack. Sew cuff to sleeve as notched. Adjust sleeve, stitching along line of small "o" perforations in underbody front and back, bringing single large "o" and double small "o" perforations together, making in any fulness.

New, taking up the velvet overbodice, first pleat lower edge and front at front section, placing "TT" on corresponding small "o" perforation at lower edge (forward pleats) to double "o" perforation near under-arm edge and tack. Adjust a buckle over pleats in right front as illustrated. Center-front indicated by single large "o" perforations at upper and lower edges. Close under-arm seam as notched, close shoulder seam. Gather lower edge of front and back between double "TT" perforations. Arrange on underbody, under-arm seams even, bringing back edge of outer back to small "o" perforations in underbody back; stitch lower edge together. Bring large "o" perforation at shoulder to corresponding perforation in underbody front. Sew stay to lower edge of waist, centers even (large "o" perforation indicates center-front), small "o" perforations at under-arm ends. Adjust belt over stay, center-back even. Sew standing collar to shield as notched, adjust to position, centers even.

It is not necessary to line the velvet.

CANADA IN THE WAR

F. W. Sumner of Moncton has offered to the militia department his personal services, the services of two chauffeurs and two automobiles.

The war office announces that German-Canadians will be taken with volunteers from the dominion, but that no Germans from the states will be accepted.

Thirty-eight aliens are being sent back from England, where they went with the first Canadian contingent, because of being native Germans or Austrians. Many of them were living in the states at the time the war broke out, and crossed into Canada to volunteer.

W. Preston, of Minto, N. B., has written to the local press a letter of regret at the death of Lord Roberts. He was with "Bobs" in his march to Kandahar with the 66th Berks regiment and "learned to love the fine old soldier who has just been called to his reward."

MANITOBA TO "OWN" THE "DAWSON TRAIL"

Ottawa, Dec. 1.—The famous Dawson Trail, the earliest road into western Canada, has been transferred by order-in-council from the dominion government to the government of Manitoba. The Dawson Trail was built from the head of the lakes through the Lake of the Woods district to Winnipeg, then Fort Barry, before confederation. It was the route of the early traders and settlers and it was over the Dawson Trail that the soldiers tramped to quell the rebellion of 1870.

The trail, or a portion of it in Manitoba, is being transferred to the provincial government under a provision with the Manitoba government, by which it was agreed that any particular traveled thoroughfares or trails existing in 1870, which the province desired to have transferred at any time to the province should be so transferred. The Dawson Trail was never transferred. Just why the Manitoba Government desires control of the road at the present time is not made clear in the order-in-council.

A BETTER REMEDY THAN NASTY SALTS

Few people like to take physic, especially salts, because they are so disagreeable to take and because of the griping and pains they cause. Rexall Orderlies enable you to take less physic, and all without griping, purging or excessive looseness. Salts and harsh physics usually give only temporary relief and often leave the bowels worse off than before.

Rexall Orderlies move the bowels promptly, and soothe, tone and strengthen the intestinal muscles, leaving them healthy and regular in action. They taste like candy, and the movement they cause is as easy and natural as though your bowels were in perfect health and you never had to take any physic at all. We have so much faith in Rexall Orderlies that we urge you to try them with the understanding that, if they do not satisfy you in every way, all you have to do to get your money back is to tell us. We honestly believe them to be the best bowel remedy made. In vest pocket tin boxes; 10c, 25c, 50c.

You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at the Rexall Stores, and in this town only at The Rexall Stores, 100 King St., 473 Main St., and 899 Main St.

SOME CANADIANS ARE INTERNED BECAUSE OF FOREIGN NAMES

Precautionary Measure May Prevent Them From Getting to the Front

(By Joan A. MacLaren, one of The Toronto World's Staff Reporters with the Canadian Expeditionary Force.)

Salisbury, Nov. 11.—It is impossible to ascertain how many Canadian troops have been arrested here as suspects, but it is known that several were taken from each battalion and placed under guard, searched and, by the time this is published, will likely be interned in one of the large detention camps with the many aliens who have been corralled by the military and civil police in all parts of Great Britain. It is understood that no evidence of espionage was found on any of the unfortunates. In fact, nothing of this sort was expected. The measure which brought about the arrest of these men came from the war office and was purely precautionary.

Blow Unexpected

It was entirely unexpected, and both officers and men feel keenly sorry for those who have been dealt with so severely. It is understood that one morning recently divisional headquarters ordered every commanding officer to produce the battalion rolls. These were gone over with a blue pencil and a cross was placed beside the name of every man who was to be placed under guard and searched. The names which were spotted were German or Austrian. The unfortunate may have been born in Canada nevertheless their parents or ancestors were aliens. For instance one man who served Great Britain in South Africa was named Ludwig—and although he entreated his sergeant-major not to place him under guard, he was classed as an alien. This man probably enlisted to fight against his ancestors and was quite sincere in the matter, nevertheless he was taken with the others on the principle that it was better to be sure than sorry.

IRISH FAMILIES IN WAR

Seven Sons From One, Eight Sons And Two Sons-in-Law From Another

Some remarkable figures have just come to light regarding the number of members of the same families serving in the army. A County Tyrone family named Carrigan has seven brothers serving in seven different Scotch regiments. This was thought to be a record, but now comes the report of a Banagher (Kings County) family named White, which even surpasses this magnificent response to Lord Kitchener's call.

Mr. White, himself an army man, who has served twenty years with the colors, has eight sons and two sons-in-law with the uniforms at the moment. Four of the sons and two of the sons-in-law are in the thick of the fighting, while the other six are serving elsewhere at home or in the colonies. It is obvious that Banagher holds the palm. There is an old saying in Ireland that Banagher is not to be beaten!

When the minutes crowd you in.

So much to do—but so little time to do it in! That's the ever-present problem of the active man.

It's met and solved only through careful attention to eating, sleeping and exercise.

One of the finest foods for business men—or any one for that matter—is Tilson's Oats.

A single portion will furnish enough energy for the whole morning's work. For oatmeal is the one common food which is almost perfectly balanced.

The flavor is delightful. And the cooking is accomplished in only 15 minutes' time. That is because every flake is rolled extra-thin.

REAL FRENCH TOYS THE LATEST FEATURE AT MARR'S SHOWROOMS

A holiday feature that will doubtless prove popular with this year's gift-seekers takes the form of an exceptionally attractive exhibit of the latest novelties in real French Toys, at the Marr Millinery Company's showrooms in Charlotte Street.

The fine display, which offers many a "Santa Claus hint," embraces a wide variety of beautifully made dolls, including the famous "Hug-bug" kiddies, nicely clad in well made clothing and strong little shoes, and can be readily understood. Country boys, country girls, Dutch boy and girl dolls are also prominently in evidence, as well as an extensive range of unbreakable and celluloid dolls, the latter including sleeping and jointed dolls, many with real hair.

Among other attractions are animals and birds of almost every description. Prices range gradually from a few cents upwards, but, as novelties of this kind will be picked up rapidly, Christmas shoppers will find it to their advantage to pay an early visit to Marr's.

The distinguished feature of this Drill is its strength, convenience and rapidity of operation. By means of automatic and friction feeds, the operator has the free use of one hand to hold work. The friction feed is adjusted to work quickly in moving drill to and from work.

BREAKING INTO SOCIETY IS FULL OF FUN

Catchy Musical Numbers and Good Dancing Also Features at Opera House

A bumper crowd greeted the Thompson Musical Company in the Opera House, in their third week's opening of the comedy "Breaking into Society."

The plot of the comedy is very light, as is generally the case in such productions, it having to deal with the marriage of George O'Brien to Annie Moore, a compact that was entered in by their fathers many years before.

Thomas Bullock, as O'Brien, father of George, was good in the character, while Charles Hillman as Allen Carter, and Albert Letell as a good account of themselves.

The ladies of the cast, Ida Parks, as Annie Moore, Signa Janier, as Julia Jennings, and Josephine West, as Mary Ellen O'Brien, filled their parts creditably.

There was some rich dialogue in the play, and the songs were well rendered and received. "When We Were Twenty One," by Mr. Bullock and the company, received several encores.

The Gem orchestra had a programme of particularly pleasing variety. There was much fun taken from the Essanay comedy "Countess Sweddie" in which the comedienne who plays the leading role in this as well as in others of the "Sweddie" series again makes many laughs in

HAVE ENGLAND, FRANCE AND RUSSIA

Bought Up The Literary Digest?

One would think so to read the letters which the publishers have received from German readers, extracts from which are printed below. And yet in the face of these letters rebuking the editors for their pro-Allies attitude certain Canadian newspapers assert that this well-known weekly scintillatingly favors the German cause. Verily there are many perils besetting the path of the publication which is strictly neutral and impartial in printing all the facts of this titanic war.

For obvious considerations we have no right to publish the names of these correspondents, but the original letters are on file in our office.

"There is no room in my house for a paper which, like yours, shows such partiality against Germany, as is plain to see in the way you are taking your selections from the different papers. There is no doubt that you have joined the ranks of the yellow narrow-minded Cossack Press of this country, which tries, although on your part in a more gentle way, to arouse prejudice against Germany."

"You are well aware of the fact that most of the war news reaches us via London, Paris, Petrograd and other lying factories: the more reason why you should honor the ruler, and not the lie. Your paper belongs to the greater majority of the English papers of this country that have been influenced or bought from that perfidious Albion who has to prove yet that he is a true friend of the United States. Cancel my name from your subscription list. We want American papers in America, no British satires or 'horrid' news."

"Since also The Literary Digest has become infected by a rather serious kind of Teutophobia I must, for the sake of peace within myself, ask you to stop the paper. I am by no means a German, but I can not be blind to the fact that civilization is at stake and Christianity is in danger if the intrigue and mad Englishmen win in the present war."

"Your position in regard to the present European War is altogether too one-sided, too partial, too English, and far from being fair to Germany, too unjust and limited to deserve to be called cosmopolitan."

"Your paper has been printing all kinds of anti-German cartoons, and it appears to me that this is not in accordance with the principles of your publication."

"I have been an admirer of your magazine for a number of years, but I begin to count it among my fallen idols. If I want English papers I'll get them direct from London. Your aim is supposed to be to present all sides impartially but in the selection of your stuff you are evidently leaning very strongly to the Anglo-Afro English-French Japanese-Russian-Servian-assassins-cut-throat combination."

"Keep your paper in the future. I am a German and would not have a paper in my house that only insinuates that the Germans are to blame for the destruction of ancient monuments in the European war. When the Allies will begin to bombard their enemy with confetti and you illustrate that in your paper, you may send it to me again. If an American paper states results it should state the cause, if it is out to boost the one side, sell your paper to that side."

"I sincerely pity you, that according to the judgment of your Canadian friends, you are still not enough Anglicized. I hope, however, that you will continue to give us a fair selection of all opinions on both sides and especially that you will not always cite a minority of opinions and at the tail end in favor of Germany and her ally."

"You claim to be non-partisan but you are not from any point of view. In the European war you do not give Germany any reasonable chance whatever and for that reason I can not take The Literary Digest any longer."

"I have come to the conclusion that I don't care for such a magazine which so plainly favors the cause of the Allies against the Germans. May the failure open your eyes to the real conditions and facts of the present war."

"The Literary Digest, printed in New York, lacks independence or originality. To use a simile, it would seem as if John Bull were the school-master and the editors of The Literary Digest the scholars. Invariably they write what John Bull dictates without giving due comment."

"The American or New York newspapers you extract from are anti-German, and I don't care to read so much foolish stuff."

"It seems that you folks are surely trying to show up only the one side of the European War, and so I desire to ask that you discontinue sending me your papers promptly. I have delayed doing this until my subscription expired as I did not wish to influence you in any way from your own ideas, but what I want is a magazine that gives both sides impartially. I might request your words in your magazine of a short time ago where you state 'that if this is treason why the Germans can make the best of it' so if this is treason to desire to change to another magazine why it might be well for you to make the best of it."

"Looking through The Literary Digest I was amazed, astounded, shocked beyond description to see that your people, on page 840, had printed a caricature of Emperor Wilhelm II, taken from that dirty, anarchistic inclined paper, Vorwarts (New York) comparing Kaiser Wilhelm with that blood-thirsty, thieving usurper Napoleon."

"I again ask you to take my name off your subscriber's list at the end of time paid for. You are not giving Germany a square deal in the hour of her trial. I will refuse to accept any further numbers you may send."

And yet we are accused in Canada of favoring the Germans!

BETTER VALUE IN MADE IN CANADA.

There are still a few people in this country who imagine an article is necessarily better because it's imported. In spite of a billion and a half dollars invested in modern Canadian factories, a percentage of consumers have got into the habit of looking for the foreign

Is The Literary Digest in the Pay of the German Kaiser?

A few Canadian newspapers, with more of a desire to be reckless than to be right or truthful, have, we feel, with malicious intent, published calumnies of the basest description, reflection upon THE LITERARY DIGEST.

These newspapers have asserted that this well-known weekly has been "subsidized by German gold," that it has gone "into the service of the German Kaiser," that it is "under German control," and that "German bribe money has made it an organ for the spread of German culture." Then, assuming that Canadians are so soft-headed that reading THE LITERARY DIGEST will straightway destroy them mentally, they warn the Government against its admission to the Dominion.

The publishers of THE LITERARY DIGEST unqualifiedly and unreservedly brand as absolutely false in every detail each and every one of these charges, or any others that have been made or may be made of a similar nature. There is not one scintilla of truth in them.

The business direction and the editorial policy of the magazine are precisely the same today as they have been for the past twenty-five years. It is published by Funk & Wagnalls, Americans for generations, who have a worldwide reputation as publishers of the New Standard Dictionary of the English Language, and other famous English reference works which are in the libraries of every intelligent family in Canada.

THE LITERARY DIGEST circulates as widely and freely in England and France today as it did before the war commenced, not a single protest having been heard. It has remained for an insignificant coterie of the Canadian press to attempt to exercise paternal guardianship over the Canadian people by decreeing what they shall and what they shall not read about the war. We are very much mistaken if broad-minded Canadians will relish, let alone countenance, such a relationship, once they know all the facts.

The Kaiser Is Not Paying Our Bills

One of these journals plumbs the depths of the ridiculous when it sneeringly asks why we are making such a lavish expenditure of money in advertising in Canadian newspapers, unless this money has been furnished by the Kaiser!

While such a statement scarcely deserves answering, we shall not overlook it.

Why This Advertising Campaign Now?

Every intelligent man knows that advertising is the life-blood of any business, and with all modesty, we admit that legitimate and judicious advertising has always been our custom, and has been, in fact a potent factor in achieving any commercial success which we may now enjoy.

The advertising that we are doing in Canada is merely an extension of a campaign which was inaugurated in the United States before the war began and which has been extended to Canada, because in these times such an impartial journal as THE LITERARY DIGEST should be in greatest demand by the great masses of Canadians, vitally concerned as they are in the fearful struggle, and eager as they naturally are for reliable news from all sides of it. Therefore, every dictate of common "horse-sense" and good business logic prompts us to remind the Canadian people of this fact. That is our reason for this advertising and our only reason—and we are paying the bill cheerfully out of our own pocket.

Why We Have Not Yet Resorted to Legal Process

Knowing the utter falsity of these newspaper imputations, and the construction that may be placed upon them by some of our friends throughout Canada, it has not been an easy matter to rest quietly under them. We realize, however, the high tension under which all the people of the Dominion, including newspaper editors, are laboring at the present time: we realize that nearly 50,000 of Canada's young men are in Europe or on their way prepared to fight shoulder to shoulder to uphold the principles of loyalty and love of the mother country which every real Canadian feels. We do not forget the anxiety for these loved ones that shadows many homes from Halifax to Vancouver. Were it not for these considerations and the fact that these absurd, yet annoying charges, would inflict their injury upon us long before they could be checked by legal process, we should rest our case with the Canadian courts to bring these detractors to justice. However, we are pursuing a "watchful waiting" attitude before advancing towards this means of redress. In the meantime

Under the simple condition that any or all of the newspapers which have so recklessly slandered us will come forward with evidence that will prove to the satisfaction of the Canadian Newspaper Press Association:

That the editors or publishers of THE LITERARY DIGEST have ever received directly or indirectly, a German mark, a British shilling, a French franc, or a Russian gold, or other money of any kind or in any amount for the purpose of influencing anything that has been said or left unsaid in the columns of THE LITERARY DIGEST.

Now is the time for these newspapers to convince their readers that their charges have been based on evidence or have been uttered simply to poison the mind of the Canadian public against THE LITERARY DIGEST. By making good their assertions they can also add a material contribution to the cause for which they are presumed to have such a zealous regard:

Ringing Words From a Canadian Editor

The big, fair-minded Canadians who have been reading THE LITERARY DIGEST for many years will doubtless agree with the editor of the Saskatoon "Phoenix" who says, "The outcry against THE LITERARY DIGEST is evidence of sheer bigotry and stupidity. As a collector and condenser of universal opinion, it is one of the most valuable magazines published on the Continent. It is of inestimable value to the eager but busy reader, to the student of world-politics, to the man whose business it is, or who makes it his business to know the trend of opinion and events throughout the world. Those who profess to find pro-German and anti-British sympathies in THE LITERARY DIGEST are gifted with a preternatural instinct for discovering what their prejudices desire."

stamp on goods with the idea that they were getting a better quality—even if they have to pay a higher price than they do for the Canadian article. There is no doubt—in most cases at least—about the price. The consumer of foreign goods has to pay freight charges and a duty. The consumer of Canadian goods pays railway charges and no duty. But the notion that some people never can get hammered out of their heads is that if an article only comes in over a tariff wall it is necessarily a better article than the home-made. If somebody with a foreign name made it; if it came in a ship that sailed from some foreign port; if it was originally paid for in pennings or marks or francs, so much the better. But the goods made in Canada by plain Canadian workmen—put side by side with the imported article—are just as good; in some cases better and they usually cost less. The goods made in Canada are the goods that are produced under conditions with which all Canadians are familiar. With the price lower because of the duty, and the quality as good if not better because there is nothing in foreign manufacture to make it any better—it is time Canadians made a wholesale fashion of buying made in Canada goods not only because they are made in Canada but because they are equal or better value for the money. The Right Stuff "One of the bravest acts I witnessed during the whole war," said an officer of the army of Northern Virginia, "was that of a young soldier, who was probably not more than sixteen. We had thought of him as only a boy, although he went with the regiment on all of its marches, and lived with it in all its encampments. "One day there was a fierce engagement. In the midst of it a bullet struck this boy in the breast and he fell. Our colonel ordered his men to dismount, and as he himself sprang from his horse, the boy called out in a weak voice, 'I will hold your horse, colonel!' "Stopping in the midst of the storm of bullets to gaze in pity on the white, boy's face, the colonel said, 'But you can't do that, lad—you are dying.' "I know I am, colonel," the gallant boy replied. "But I can hold the reins when I am dead." "The colonel placed the bridle in the trembling hands and went forward. When the fight was over, he hurried back and found the boy lying dead, the bridle reins still wrapped lightly round his limp right hand."

A NEGLECTED COLD WILL VERY OFTEN TURN TO CONSUMPTION.

Never neglect what at first seems to be only a slight cold. Perhaps you start to cough, a little irritation in the throat comes, then it gets lower down, settles on the lungs and bronchitis sets in, and you start to raise phlegm of a greenish, yellowish color, and you cough persistently. If you let the simple cold run it will surely develop into something very serious, and perhaps consumption.

New Napoleon of Football Never Played With Regular Team--Zuppke Couldn't Be a Star, So He Became Best Coach In West

(By Hugh S. Fullerton)

This is a story of a boy who was kicked out because he was too small to play the game, and by proving that, even in football, brains beat brawn, became the Napoleon of the gridiron. It is the story of Bob Zuppke, coach of the famous University of Illinois team, which stands now in the limelight as the most remarkable team of the year.

Bob Zuppke was small. When he was a kid the big boys bumped him around, ran over him and scolded him, telling him to run along with the kids so he wouldn't get hurt. And, when they bumped him extraordinarily hard, he linked back the tears and dived at the legs of fellows who weighed twice as much as he did and brought them to earth.

When he went to the University of Wisconsin he was among the first to respond to the call for volunteers for the varsity team.

But he was too small. However, in colleges like Wisconsin they have men who weigh the spirit and the brain along with the flesh. They realized that Zuppke's spirit outweighed his body. Still there were the traditions of Pat O'Dea and other great gridiron warriors to uphold, and what could a bantamweight do?

As a reward for his loyalty and his courage Zuppke was permitted to play

OTTAWA PHOTOGRAPHER IS AT THE FRONT

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—A letter from Colonel Skillington, of the Army Medical Corps with the Canadian expeditionary force, states that he and his unit of the Army Medical Corps arrived in Boulogne on November 9. They have already had about 1,000 wounded on their hands. All his men are in excellent health. Boulogne is filled with British and Indian troops coming and going.

G. R. Lanehead, an Ottawa photographer with the same corps, writes: "I want you to tell the boys at home that they should enlist at once, as without doubt they are wanted, if not to give those who are in the trenches a rest. A man now may be worth five later on. I have been helping to transfer the wounded to the steamers. At present we are about fifty miles from the battle line, and all of us are anxious to get nearer the line of fire. I managed somehow or other to get so far, although I expected to be sent back, but Colonel Skillington and the general at Salisbury had a long talk over it, and consent was given to allow me to go over."

"All the newspaper men were sent back, however, I received a telegram in London while getting my photos ready for the paper, that the camp general requested my return to camp, a polite command which I obeyed at once. The

SAYS MODERN WARFARE ORIGINATED WITH FRANCE

In the warfare in Europe the leaders, schooled in modern methods of making war, have been taught the importance of the decision-compelling spirit. The long-drawn-out struggles which have taken place have perhaps not shown that they were able to act up to this principle.

The origin of this principle which controls in modern warfare is seen by the military authority writing in the Encyclopedia Britannica in the French Revolutionary Wars. France was then at war against the allied forces of England, Holland, Austria, Prussia, Spain, and Sardinia. She had reorganized her armies, and had introduced the division of armies into army corps.

"This subdivision of forces was intimately connected," says the Britannica, "with the general method of making war adopted by the French. What astonished the allies most of all was the number and the velocity of the Republicans. These improvised armies had in fact no supplies for armies of then unaccustomed for want of the enormous number of wagons that would have been required for armies of then unaccustomed size could not be carried in convoys, and the French soon became familiar with 'living on the country'."

"Thus 1798 saw the birth of the modern system of war—rapidity of movement, full development of national strength, bivouacs and requisitions, and force, as against cautious manoeuvring, small professional armies, tents and full rations, and chicanes. The first represented the decision-compelling spirit, the second the spirit of risking little to gain a little. Above all, the decision-compelling spirit was reinforced by the presence of the emissaries of the committee of public safety, the 'representatives of mission' who practically controlled the operations. There were civil officials with the armies of the allies, too, but their chief function was not to induce desperate energy into the military operations, but to see that the troops did not maltreat civilians. Such were the fundamental principles of the 'New French' method of warfare, from which the warfare of today descends in the direct line."

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidney and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells tens of thousands of boxes of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Because of the scarcity of clocks in West Africa events are timed by the regular daily occurrences. For example, a native wrote that she had received news of her sister's sickness "a little while before the guinea fowls talk" that is about five o'clock in the morning.

RED CROSS CRUISER ON MOOSEHEAD LAKE

Y. M. C. A. to Have Craft Fully Equipped to Render First Aid to Injured Woodsmen.

Greenville, Me., Dec. 1.—With the opening of navigation in 1915, under the auspices of the Maine State Y. M. C. A., there will go into commission on Moosehead lake a fully equipped Red Cross cruiser to minister to the wants of woodsmen and settlers in the Moosehead valley from Sebagohead to Greenville. The name Horace Day has been chosen in honor of Horace Day of Auburn, chairman of the state committee, whose unselfish interest and work have largely made it possible to expand the association movement in Maine to the present dimensions.

The patrons of the New Mount Kineo House, through the manager, C. A. Judkins, who is also a member of the industrial state committee, have contributed $817 and have promised as much more. The boat is ready for the unique equipment required. Medical appliances, medicine, cots and everything calculated to facilitate the rapid transfer of serious cases to Greenville Y. M. C. A. hospital, or the administration of first aid in minor cases, will be included when fully fitted out.

As far as is known this is the only Y.

M. C. A. boat to be devoted to this purpose. Doctors and nurses will be available at any point on the lake any hour during navigation. The Horace Day will carry the Red Cross flag inscribed Y. M. C. A., Maine.

Was Troubled With Choking Spells and Shortness of Breath.

When the heart becomes affected, there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, and dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

Many men and women drag along with weary step, and become worn out and haggard, when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first signs of heart or nerve trouble. On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills should be given a fair trial and you will find that they will soon correct both these organs.

Mr. James Leard, Tryon, P.E.I., writes: "Just a few lines to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I had choking spells, and was troubled with weakness of the heart and shortness of breath. I tried three doctors but they all failed. A neighbor recommended me to try your pills, so I got a box and they helped me so much I have taken six boxes. I highly recommend them to all who are troubled with their heart and nerves. I was not able to do any work for over two years; now I can do quite a bit."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MEN AND MORE MEN

(Toronto World.)
Men, and more men, is the motto of the authorities in England charged with the responsibility of maintaining the army at adequate strength, and increasing it to the point of ability to cope with the huge task of invading Germany and securing acceptable terms of peace.

It must not be forgotten that Germany is still the invader on the western battlefield. The Kaiser has laid Belgium waste, and has been ready to proclaim the formal annexation of the kingdom, as he has already practically annexed the occupied territory.

All this has to be regained, and the best military authorities regard it as a stiff piece of work, which will entail severe fighting and the expenditure of much blood and treasure. Not until the invasion of German territory has been carried some distance, and the German people begin to experience some of the horrors which they so lightly cast upon a innocent and friendly nation, will Germany be likely to accede to the demands of the allies.

Germany is now talking about retaining Belgium and a strip of France on the coast as far as Calais. It must not be forgotten that so far as the war has gone, and according to the rules of fighting, if the war were to stop now Germany would be entitled to make these demands. It is necessary, therefore, to continue the campaign until the balance is entirely the other way, and the allies have occupied at least as much of German territory as the Germans have overrun in the country of the allies.

An early close to the war would mean very unsatisfactory conditions of peace, and the allies have pledged themselves to consider nothing which will not be acceptable to each. Germany will not be willing, until she has suffered severely in her own land, to accept the conditions of disarmament, or naval reduction, of the abandonment of militarism, of the elimination of Prussian domination, of the reorganization of central and southeastern Europe, of restoration of territory to France, Denmark, Poland, etc., which are in the hands of the statesmen among the allies in control of affairs, and especially will Germany object to the internationalization of the Kiel canal, under Denmark or otherwise.

No one can imagine that Germany will agree to these terms within any period that might be styled early. It is possible that an international revolution might bring about a speedy close of the conflict with acquiescence in the policy of international control which has been outlined, but as long as the Kaiser continues in power and influence the war must be fought to a finish.

Therefore it is essential that all this should be understood by those who are to be relied upon to fill the vacant ranks of the British Imperial armies, whether in the old country, in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, or elsewhere. Men, and more men, are needed and will be needed for many months to come.

CONSERVATIVES MAY JOIN THE MOVEMENT

(Chatham World.)
Mr. Dugal, M. P., and Mr. Carvell, M. P., will be entertained at a banquet to be given on Friday evening, Dec. 4, in Fredericton, in recognition of their good work in having exposed the crookedness in provincial affairs. On Friday there will be a conference to consider the policy to be pursued in respect to provincial matters of importance. Some Conservatives, disgusted with retention of a convicted corruptionist in the local government, may unite with the Liberals in considering what should be done.

The situation is serious. The lumber lands have been locked up for a long term in the hands of a few big corporations, and the province has become liable for millions of railway debt. Its share of the railway receipts will not pay more than half of the interest on this debt, and the revenues, already insufficient to meet the ordinary demands upon it, will be drawn upon for the other half.

If public men, alive to the critical position of the province, would lay aside party feeling and consider what is to be done, a remedy might be found. But while we are cursed with leaders who are ready to build railways and manipulate the crown lands for the purpose of carrying constituencies and retaining office, we cannot hope for reform but must look forward to still further indebtedness.

With Max Figman and Lolita Robertson

Lieutenant Bob Warburton, a fancy-free spirit, is wounded during an encounter with the Indians and taken to the home of Col. Anselby for medical treatment. Recovering, he finds that his service in the army has expired and he says he is flat broke. However, he is rich in romance and becomes fascinated by the Colonel's daughter, Betty. Betty, not knowing who Bob is, offers him a position as coachman, which he accepts. Becoming implicated in a plot to defraud the government of important plans, he thwarts the attempts of a Russian count.

Betty's father loses his money; then Bob discloses his identity and admits he is the possessor of a large fortune in his own right; however, Betty's and Bob's romance is one of pure love and, after a series of intrigues, plots and counter-plots, all of which "The Man on The Box" tells, the couple are married and live happily ever after.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE

In view of the recent serious outbreak of Foot and Mouth Disease in the United States, with its subsequent serious losses and necessity for stringent measures, Canadian stock owners should acquaint themselves with the particulars of this disease. A seven page pamphlet, prepared by Dr. J. G. Rutherford, formerly veterinary director-general for Canada, outlines the symptoms and appearance of the disease with its treatment and preventive measures.

In view of the fact that it is one of the most infectious diseases known, attacking nearly all species of farm animals, and that the many ways in which its germs can be conveyed from place to place render it very difficult to prevent its spread once it has made its appearance in a community, preventive measures are of the utmost importance. In this pamphlet several such measures have been outlined by Doctor Rutherford, a knowledge of which should prove of great value should the disease make its appearance in Canada. Copies of this pamphlet, which is No. 9 of the Health of Animals Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, can be obtained by making application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

In an article regarding the Empress of Ireland disaster and events following it, the Guild Gazette, a shipping journal published in England, pays a tribute to Captain H. G. Kendall, R. N. R., who was in command of the Empress when she went down. The Gazette says: "On returning home from Canada, with but a very few days to recuperate, he was invited to act pro tem, as the company's superintendent at Antwerp, and happened to be there on the outbreak of the war. Two of the steamers were in port at the time, and acting on the urgent instructions of the company, at some twenty-four hours' notice, with neither steamer ready for sailing in any way, he was the means of taking command of one and towing the other as far as London. At the same time he carried some four to five hundred refugees from Antwerp, who one and all expressed their profound gratitude to him for his services. The thing in itself was a wonderful feat of seamanship, and a performance of exceptional credit in view of the terrible experiences which Captain Kendall had so lately undergone."

TUGS FOR ST. JOHN

Halifax Echo:—Two tugs belonging to the Quebec Salvage Company and bound from Quebec for St. John to assist in the docking of the mail steamer at that port this winter, put into Halifax harbor yesterday to procure medical attendance for the captain of one of the boats. The tugs are the Gopher and Musquash. They sailed from Quebec four days ago. Coming down the St. Lawrence the Gopher and Musquash encountered considerable ice and had some difficulty in making good time. The captain of the Musquash having been taken ill the tugs put into Halifax and the captain is now receiving medical attention. The Gopher and Musquash arrived at Quebec last spring and have been engaged there in docking the C. P. R. and Allan liners at that port. They will continue this work at St. John this winter.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS WITH MUCH OF INTEREST

Mrs. E. C. Clark, 13 Prince street west end, has received a letter from her husband, Corporal E. C. Clark, also his picture, which was taken in England. He is with the ammunition column at Salisbury Plain. He tells of having a fine time and is in the best of health. He wishes to be remembered to his many friends in St. John.

Harry Gibson of 139 Duke street, has received a letter from L. W. Crozier, a sergeant. He recently spent three days in London, saw several operas and dramas, saw Westminster Abbey, Buckingham Palace, Parliament Buildings, etc., was in a Salvation Army hall in Whitechapel and strolled on the Strand, Piccadilly and Leicester and Trafalgar squares. He tells of seeing women drinking in the public houses, and adds that the girls are "crazy about the Canadians." The weather at Salisbury Plain had been very wet, but the weather is now frosty at night, though warm in the day. Captain Duval of West St. John, is their company officer, and Doctor MacLaren is in command of the general hospital.

"I suppose you heard," he writes, "about the narrow escape we had by not landing at Southampton, and about the spy trying to poison us on board the transport." He speaks of meeting Louis Sharkey. Sergeant Crozier was formerly in the employ of the I. C. R.

Mrs. Christiansen of this city has received a letter from her son, George Christiansen, formerly of St. John, but who went with the 101st regiment from Edmonton, Alberta, with the first contingent. The letter is dated from Pond Farm Camp, Salisbury Plain, October 29. He tells of the landing at Devonport, after remaining four days on the steamer in the harbor. He refers also to the visit Lord Roberts to the Canadian camp, speaks of the almost continuous rain, and of a projected visit to London. Continuing he writes:—

"We have a large Y. M. C. A. here. It is about one hundred feet long. The chaplain of the regiment seemed to be much interested in some Druid stones. Some of them are about thirty feet high and about fifteen feet wide. They are of solid stone and built like pillars. These are what the Druid priests used in their worship. Things are quite cheap here. There is a bunch from Newfoundland, about five hundred, in our brigade, and a good crowd. We expect to be here until the first of next year. Any curiosities they have here are guarded by a couple of policemen. You pay a couple of pennies to see them. I am writing this at the Y. M. C. A., in which they have a concert every night."

A Moncton soldier writes to a visit to London:—

"I stopped at the Union Jack Club opposite Waterloo Station, and it was very cheap. Twelve cents for a bed and room and twelve cents for a meal. It is a sailors and soldiers' hotel and an awful big place. You can have a bath free and a shave for four cents; get your boots and buttons cleaned for four cents and it has billiard rooms, reading and smoking rooms. It is six stories high and four times as large as the American Hotel in Moncton."

Basket Ball Matches — Bowling Leagues Being Arranged

Yesterday afternoon the Juniors "B" and High School Basketball Leagues played their second game of the season. Jordan winning from Willet by the close score of 11 to 10 in Junior League, while Dummer beat out Nixon 7 to 5 in the High School League.

Both games proved very exciting and the victory of either team was not certain until the last minute of play, as each player played at his best.

To-morrow afternoon Trentowsky and Seely of the Junior League will meet for their fifteen minute halves at four o'clock.

Last night the Business Men and the Board of Directors played off their return match in bowling. Owing to the match starting late there were only two sets played. The first set closed in a tie, while the second set was also hotly contested and at the close it was found that the Directors had won out by the close margin of one pin.

This week the Senior and Business Men's League is being capped up, so that by next week the League will be in full swing. Also the Employed Boys' Bowling League will start next week.
