SPORT WRITERS WEIGH CHANCES OF EACH TO CARRY OFF LAURELS

Some Say It Will Be Ding-dong Struggle From Start to Finish—None, However, Hazard Guess as to the Final Result.

By W. H. GOLDING Special Representative of the Saint John Amateur Skating Association

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—On eve of battle, interest is at high pitch in the match between Clas Thunberg, champion of the world, who comes from Finland to defend his title at Saint John, N. B., Charles Gorman, Canadian ace, and Joe Moore, allowed to be the fastest indoor skater in America.

In last evening's editions, sport writers devote columns to the prospects of the outcome with lavish layouts of action pictures of the speedy trio.

Thunberg spurns the American style or system of speed skating. It is the custom of skaters here to loaf through the greater part of the journey and to crowd all efforts in wild sprint last two or three laps. This sort of competition is not for best interests of the game, Thunberg thinks. He can't understand why the officials permit such skating to be carried on.

LOOKS LIKE STRUGGLE. "By this it can be gathered that Thunberg intends to crash into a sprint at the first break of the gun, and to maintain his pace until the finish. If he does Thunberg is apt to skate rings around his opponents.

But many skeptics are inclined to believe that the Finnish performer will be sorely beaten if he attempts to sprint the entire distance. They tend that both Moore and Gorman are experienced enough to ride the Finn into complete exhaustion if the latter tries to sprint his way to victory."

The Telegram says: "Skating fans are showing intense interest in Thunberg's debut. The Finnish skater, who is 35 years old, has completed a wonderful record which includes two first places, a second and a third won during the Olympic skating championships held at Chamoni, France.

STYLES DIFFER. "According to Hugo Quist, acting interpreter, Finnish skaters have competed in 150 events and won all but five. There is vast difference between skating over the European outdoor ice surfaces and America's indoor skates. Thunberg is used to competition on large circuits, usually 500 meters in circumference and in the European championships only two contestants are allowed on the ice at the same time, and the winner is decided on a best time basis. In addition Thunberg always has competed on blades 10-7-8 inches in length.

"Despite the above handicaps Thunberg will have many backers. Since his arrival here he has trained faithfully."

The Post says: "Is Moore or Gorman equal to the task of getting a lead on the Finn that the latter will be able to make up? Only tomorrow night will tell this. Much has been made of the fact that Thunberg, through his friends, has announced that he will seek to establish new records at each quarter mile from two to three miles. Some think it would be better if he concentrated on winning the race."

GORMAN LAUDED. The World accompanies a four column picture to Gorman with this comment: "The wearer of the Maple Leaf is in the fettle for the impending test of speed, stamina, pace judging ability and courage, as his latest feat, New Year's was winning the Middle Atlantic skating championship at Newburgh, where he won the 220 yard, 440 yard, half mile and placed second in the mile.

"Gorman is the fastest skater Canada has produced. Firmly in the lead since his notice in 1921 at Lake Placid, Gorman gained his greatest fame in 1923 when he annexed the American National and International outdoor event came as a surprise. Gorman had not been figured as a dangerous rival in longer sprints. His specialty has always been sprints, with the 440 yard event best distance. In February, 1924, following his victory in the international classic, Gorman was quoted as saying that he was ready to retire, content to rest on his laurels as international champion. But Gorman went to the Olympics as a Canadian standard bearer."

THUNBERG CONFIDENT. The Telegraph discussing Thunberg's chances offers the following suggestions: "Another obstacle is seen in the fact that he will be required to skate on blades 10-7-8 inches in length. Hereafter Thunberg has always competed on blades 10-7-8 inches in length. "Despite handicaps, however, Thunberg is confident that he will register victory over his adversaries. He points out that his superior stride and speed will serve to offset any disadvantages which he may encounter as a result of the sharp turns. Thunberg's stride is 15 feet, six more than Moore's and eight more than Gorman's."

False Reports of Industrial Activity in Ontario Capital is Blamed

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—An influx of unemployed to this city from Western Canada, is taking place, according to officials of the local unemployment bureau, who state that in one day alone, this week, 71 men from the west registered at the bureau. False reports of industrial activity here, are said to be responsible for the large number of men coming east. Those who have been interviewed at the bureau have stated that they came to Toronto because they were told in the west that there was plenty of work here. More than 2,500 local married men registered for snow shovelling jobs, but so far few of these have been given work.

Prince Starts Ukelele Fad In Mayfair

Canadian Press. LONDON, Jan. 14.—Association of the Prince of Wales for the banjoists, a kind of ukelele, has spread to other members of the Royal family. The Duchess of York and Princess Maud, now Lady Carnegie, have become adept performers on the instrument.

The Prince interested the Duchess in the banjo and gave her a few lessons. These she has used to such advantage that she can now play for her friends.

Playing the banjo, now that it is under Royal patronage, has become the fad of Mayfair among young and old.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 13.—While the parliamentary situation, like railway time-tables, is subject to change without notice, the best available information this morning is that the vote will be taken some time tonight.

While there has been rumors floating until Monday, no one in the two principal groups who is competent to speak will entertain such stories. Present prospects are that the Liberals will be sustained by a narrow majority.

The majority could not be otherwise, and even if the Conservatives were to win out, it would only be by a majority of one or two.

The tariff deal between Mr. Meighen and some wavering Progressives has been a considerable blow to the Conservatives, and has brought criticism from Toronto and Montreal.

The Montreal Star made this very clear in a front page editorial last night, when Albert R. Carman, its editor, who is here in the press gallery, wrote that the Conservative election program would be a disaster to the country.

The government's tariff legislation was even half through. It is a notice that Toronto and Montreal will not tolerate such a tariff bargain as Mr. Meighen is credibly reported to have made.

Special to The Times-Star. LONDON, Jan. 14.—The establishment of a tourist department as part of the provincial administration is being urged upon the Provincial Government by the Federation Board of Trade. This action was decided at the annual meeting of the board, held last night, when the annual report of President Alex. Murray was under consideration.

The report touched upon the necessity of encouraging tourist travel. Comments were to the effect that a government department should be organized in other provinces and in many of the states of the Union.

Mr. Hodge mentioned particularly the fact that the gasoline tax, which is expected to be imposed in this province, would be paid to a considerable extent by visiting motorists, and for that reason it would be good business on the part of the province to encourage them to visit.

Mr. Jennings commented upon the increase which had taken place in motor tourist business already, and upon the fact that a much larger sum of money than that expended in a grant to the New Brunswick Game, Tourist and Resources Association, with office in Saint John, should be available to make known the advantages which New Brunswick had to offer.

Special to The Times-Star. FREDERICTON, Jan. 14.—His Honor the Lieut.-Governor was last night elected honorary president of the Fredericton Chamber of Commerce, an office which was made vacant by the death of the late Dr. L. W. Bailey of this city. Lieut.-Governor Todd, who has been a frequent contributor to all possible sessions of the club, accepted the honor with thanks.

Special to The Times-Star. TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 14.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover spoke of the campaign aimed at the British rubber monopoly, in an address at the annual banquet of the Engineers' Club of Trenton last night.

The artificial famine caused by the monopoly threatens international goodwill, he stated and was contrary to the United States idea of competitive industry.

RUPERT HUGHES RAISES STORM IN U. S. CAPITAL

Calls Geo. Washington Profane, Irreligious, Gambler

GUESTS ANGERED

Dinner to Memory of Edmund Burke Thrown Into Chaos by Author

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The New York Herald Tribune says, under a Washington date line: Rupert Hughes, author, playwright, and soldier, aroused a storm here last night, at a dinner commemorating the 177th birthday anniversary of Edmund Burke, when in an address he pictured George Washington as a "profane, irreligious and pleasure-loving" man.

Mr. Hughes' remarks angered many guests at the dinner and prompted Albion K. Parris, past president of the District of Columbia Society of the Sons of the Revolution, whose guest he was, to rebuke him and to challenge suspensions cast upon the memory of the principal founding father.

Mr. Hughes and when later he offered an apology to Mr. Parris, the other declined to accept it.

After patriotic addresses on Edmund Burke by Senator Simon D. Pess, of Ohio, and Representative R. Watson Moore, of Virginia, Mr. Hughes hurled his bombshell. He prefaced his remarks by declaring that the school marks by declaring that he taught children of America should be taught the historical truth and that in none of the many text books and histories could this be found. He declared he had made an exhaustive study and found Washington never favored or meant to fight for independence, and that the revolution was only "a civil war."

Then he proceeded to sum up his indictments of the "spottish saint of Washington tradition."

"Washington was a great card player, a distiller of whiskey and a champion cuss," said Mr. Hughes, "and he danced for three hours without stopping with the wife of his principal general."

As for religious tendencies, said the author, "Washington never prayed and consistently avoided participating in communion."

Mr. Hughes also declared that the truth about Valley Forge was that the profiteers caused the majority of the suffering, and not the ice and cold.

D. S. C. R. Report Indicates More Spent on Unemployment Relief in Year

RELIEF COST MORE.

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—The report of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Relief for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1925, tabled today in the Senate, shows that 3,822 patients were undergoing treatment, as against 3,834 one year previously. The clinic treatments show an average of 11,920 per week and the pension examinations 641 per week.

The amount expended on unemployment relief was some $80,000 greater than the previous year, the total amount of relief orders being $406,327, hovering individual applications numbering 40,704.

The staff of the Department shows a further reduction, the number at March 31, 1925, being 2,448, as against 2,922 a year previously; 94.5 per cent. of the male staff are returned soldiers.

A terrific explosion wrecked the lower levels of the mine yesterday shortly after 101 white and negro miners descended the shaft to start their daily toil. Of these only eight negroes were brought out alive.

Responsibility for the disaster was placed squarely upon the mine operators by Edward Boyle, state mine inspector, after an investigation.

Boyle declared that in his opinion, the explosion was due to the employment of incompetent miners. He said that he believed the explosion was from gas collected in one or more passages in the mine, and that competent inspectors could have found evidence of the gas before the five score men went to work Wednesday morning.

SAYS MINE INSPECTED. A report from Superintendent W. H. Powers of the mine, stated that six bosses had inspected the mine at six o'clock in the morning, two hours before the miners went to work.

A Federal Court injunction issued last October, prevented union miners from joining in the rescue efforts. A restraining order forbids union miners refusing to work under the 1917 wage agreement from coming on company property. Old time miners, virtually the ones here thoroughly acquainted with rescue work and experienced in handling disasters, were kept from lending assistance.

STRIKERS APPEAL. A group of striking miners met the night train that brought Edward Boyle, state mine inspector, to Wolf- burton. With tears in his eyes Jeff

IS COMPETENCE CHARGED BY STATE OFFICIAL

Thurston, a veteran miner out on strike, appealed to Boyle: "Ed, they are not getting anywhere. If the men in that mine had any chance to live, the chance was lost because no old heads are on the ground to take charge of the rescue work."

The Wilton fire department proved inadequate in coping with the flames 1,900 feet under the ground as the McAlister fire department has started for here with 2,500 feet of hose. The Harshorn department has arrived with an additional 1,000 feet of hose. The McAlister fire department will be closed for a period of 90 days, firemen said.

MINE DESTROYED

The interior of the mine is a scene of destruction, rescue workers said, although they declared there was little cave-in and burned timbers. A string of coal cars in the main passageway was found partially burned, with the driver dead in the seat, evidently killed by concussion.

REPORTED ASHORE

Local Agent Does Not Think Schooner is the M. J. Taylor

The New York Journal of Commerce of yesterday under the heading "Marine Disasters" had a despatch from Boston announcing that word had been received from Mohagan by radio that the schooner was ashore at Dyer's Island and that the vessel was probably the schooner M. J. Taylor.

F. P. Elkin, of R. C. Elkin Ltd., local agent for this vessel, said this morning that he had not received any word of mishap to the M. J. Taylor. He considered it probable that the vessel would have received word by this time if it had been this vessel so he thought it must be some other. He said that the M. J. Taylor was en route to New York from Burlington, N. S., and the last report from her had been at Gloucester on Jan. 5.

The M. J. Taylor is a three masted schooner and is owned by J. Willard Smith, Ltd. here. She is commanded by Captain J. R. Pettis and her crew are from Parrsboro. The vessel is well known in this port as she has been coming here for many years. She is 377 tons net register.

COMING SHOW BIG HIT IN WINNIPEG

The Winnipeg Free Press dramatic columnist offers this praise of "Three Little Maids," to be seen here in a fortnight: "Old Country patrons of the Walker theatre last night found something something funny than the original of the English musical-comedy 'Three Little Maids.' They heard some of the old songs and some new; and they saw, also, G. F. Huntley, famous English comedian. A little more rotund he was, than the Huntley of many years ago, putting over a constant barrage of his merry stage funnies that kept the spectators so long on the litter that they were some of them glad when he left the stage, so they could rest a little, to prepare for the return story, should appear strongly to golf fans, for it is a golf story with a thin plot on which is founded a delightful musical comedy. Captain M. W. Plunkett, who supervised the production, was by the flattering unctious to his soul that he has given the stage an artistic show, that he has in his cast singers with excellent voices, girls with charming features and stage presence, dancers who know well how to step, an ensemble that will hold its own in comparison with any show of this kind that has made the trans-Canada tour. There was no weak spot in the whole presentation, all the characters being in keeping, in point of ability, with the principals."

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JANUARY 14, 1926.

A WIDER MANDATE.

Publication of the text of the order-in-council of January 6, directing the Railway Commission to inquire into the causes of the diversion of grain and other traffic to American ports, shows that the commission is expected to deal effectively with the matter.

So when the Government took this matter under consideration again on January 6 it instructed the Railway Commission "especially to inquire into the causes of Canadian grain and other products being routed or diverted to other than Canadian ports, and to TAKE SUCH EFFECTIVE ACTION under the Railway Act, 1919, as the Board of Railway Commission MAY DEEM NECESSARY TO ENSURE, as far as possible, the routing of Canadian grain and other products through Canadian ports."

The United Farmers of Manitoba are asking that trial shipments of grain and cattle be made over the Transcontinental from Winnipeg to Saint John and Halifax to ascertain if it is possible to use the railway for the purpose for which it was built.

This whole issue is being brought before Parliament and it will be examined there from every angle. In the course of the discussion it will not doubt be made clear that if Parliament does not at this time introduce statutory orders to control the traffic, it will only be because the mandate to the Railway Commission has rendered such a course unnecessary.

THE PERILS OF HOSPITALITY.

One might think offhand that a dinner given in Washington commemorating the birthday anniversary of Edmund Burke would be a peaceful and pleasant function, but it seems that you never can tell about these things, and that hospitality has its dangers, particularly if some of those invited are disposed to forget what is due to their hosts.

Mr. Hughes, it appears, was a guest of Mr. Albion Parris, past president of the District of Columbia Society of the Sons of the Revolution, and an account of the proceedings indicates that Mr. Parris will not invite Mr. Hughes to any more dinners.

The United States may like France's tariff, but it likes Britain's way of paying its debts—Dr. Michael Clark.

Mr. Hughes wished to make the point, apparently, that the school children in the United States should be taught the truth in their text books, and he said that in those books they were being deceived as to the character of Washington. He declared that Washington never favored or meant to fight for independence, that the Revolution was only a civil war, and that "the spottish saint of the school books' tradition" in no way resembled the picture which the children have been given.

The outraged Mr. Parris proceeded to rebuke his guest, and even declined to accept an apology which Mr. Hughes offered. All that Mr. Hughes said on this occasion has been said before, but if he had no hope of establishing a reputation for originality, perhaps he desired to show courage. If he did so, it was at the expense of good taste and the laws of hospitality.

The patriotic Mr. Parris, who appears to have in no way suspected the explosive possibilities of the guest he invited, finds all of his friendly instincts heavily frosted to-day. He will either ask no more people to dinner, or will subject his prospective guests to cross-examination as to the character of the sentiments they have concealed about them, before committing himself. Hospitality, he discovers, has certain perils. Mr. Hughes is still alive, but his speech is less than twenty-four hours old. Whether an outraged people will allow him to see another sunrise remains to be seen.

The speeches of the Progressives are not telling the country what it most desires to know, which is how they propose to vote on the non-confidence resolution. Anxiety to avoid another general election is evident among the Progressives, but is by no means confined to them. Ottawa expects a division to-night, and it should clear the air.

Odds and Ends

The Editor

Ed.: "Delightful! How I enjoy perusing the efforts of amateur writers. And I haven't a thing to do this morning. No, there is no letter for you to take. You may go to a cinema if you wish. Sweet child!" he murmurs, smiling benignantly at her as she trips gracefully out the door. Opens envelope and reads content carefully. "Haw haw haw! Really, this is a masterpiece. So original! So delightful! I must show it to the rest of the boys and let them laugh, too. Exit smiling.

Ed.: "Wasn't that?" Ed.: "Man's scrips!" Ed.: "Wolniclybringeminerer?" Ed.: "I ain't no man's scrip. Take 'em across the hall!" Dumb sock!" he murmurs, glaring malignantly at her as she trips gracefully over the water-cooler. "Zif I ain't got 'nough grief 'bout reading man's scrips!" Exit cursing.

Dinner Stories

THE STORY is told of two salesmen who sought to avoid the Sunday dullness of a small town by hiring a horse and buggy and going fishing.

When they were ready to go home, a difficulty at once presented itself, inasmuch as neither of them knew how to harness the horse. Every effort in this direction met with dire failure, and the worst problem was properly to adjust the bit. The horse himself seemed to resent the idea of going into harness again.

Still keeping his eye upon the scene across the street, he called the gentleman up. In a few moments he saw him start violently and take down the receiver.

Who's Who IN THE DAYS NEWS. LEON TROTZKY. AFTER spending a year in comparative obscurity, Leon Trotsky, once war commissar of Soviet Russia, is again in power as a member of the central committee and the political bureau, the highest directing body in Russia. Revenge is doubly sweet for Trotsky, for he not only regained his place on the central committee, but also saw the defeat of Kameneff who voted for his expulsion as war commissar a year ago. It is understood that in the future he will follow party policies closely and expound the doctrines of strictly orthodox communism. Kameneff managed to become an alternate member of the bureau, but a young man, Klementy Voroshiloff, the new war commissar, replaced him as senior member. Trotsky, the son of a Jewish farmer of the Ukraine, is still under 50. He has been prominent in Russian political circles for more than a score of years and has served prison terms for radical utterances amounting in all to 10 years. It was while in prison that he finally became converted to the Marxist theory. In 1903 Trotsky became a member of the Bolshevik party which was an offshoot of the Socialist party. Later he broke with both Mensheviks and Bolsheviks. After Bloody Sunday, Jan. 9, 1905, he became an ardent Bolshevik and worked for the revolution. At the outbreak of the war he fled to Germany and was imprisoned by the Kaiser for writing a seditious pamphlet. He subsequently escaped to France, was expelled and in January, 1917, he went to the U. S. and lived for several months in Manhattan. Later in the same year he returned to Russia and took part in the Bolshevik revolution.

LIBERALS PLAN
NO-CONFIDENCE
VOTE REFUSAL

Would Claim Meighen Motion Decides Only Constitutional Question

FORKE GROUP STILL SILENT ON STAND

Government Forces Again Confident of Victory on Decision Tonight

Canadian Press. OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—Debate on non confidence amendment continued in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. There was no session last night. Interesting developments are promised for today, at the end of which the vote is expected. It will be pointed out to the House by the Government through one of its ministers first, that the vote on Mr. Meighen's amendment will not be regarded by the Liberals as a vote of confidence, but a vote deciding the constitutional question involved in that amendment, namely, that of the existence or non-existence of a government because of the absence of its Prime Minister.

ANOTHER CONTENTION.

Another contention to be made today by Government speakers is that should the Meighen amendment carry it would mean the immediate termination of this session because by approving an amendment which strikes out all the words after "that" the House declares that it will not consider the Speech from the Throne. That is equivalent to ending the session. If such an amendment were adopted by the House Premier King would go to the Governor-General and inform him that Parliament had refused to consider the throne speech.

WOULD CONSULT MEIGHEN.

His Excellency would also be advised, to consult with Mr. Meighen. In view of the refusal of parliament to entertain the throne speech and the consequent termination of the session two alternatives would be presented to Mr. Meighen by His Excellency. One would be to ask for the summing up of another session, and the other would be to ask for dissolution.

LIBERAL HOPES.

It is hoped by the Liberals that some of the few Progressives who favor Mr. Meighen's alleged tariff offer would be quite ready to vote with the Liberals tomorrow night, were the vote to be considered, not as a confidence vote but as a decision on the question involved in the last and principal paragraph of Mr. Meighen's amendment. They would then be in a position to consider on its merits the various proposals contained in the Speech from the Throne, debate on which would succeed after the Thursday night division.

Yesterday eight Progressives were counted on to help Mr. Meighen into power. They were said to be Miss MacPhail, L. P. Beaubien of Manitoba, John Evans, A. M. Carmichael, M. N. Campbell and R. Fansher, of Saskatchewan, and W. T. Lucas and A. M. Boutillier, of Alberta. Stories in circulation last night have considerably lessened that number, so much so that it is freely predicted by the Liberals that the Government will be sustained in this evening's crucial division. That change has come as the result of another Progressive caucus yesterday morning and of subsequent conferences.

BROWN SPEAKS.

J. L. Brown, Progressive, Lisgar, declared that Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and his Conservative followers had made contradictory statements in the House in respect to the reason for the introduction of the amendment calling for a vote of non-confidence in the Government.

"He said the statement of Hon. Hugh Sutherland that Mr. Meighen if his amendment were successful, would endeavor to carry on from session to session without dissolution, was "a bid for support."

Text of Order-In-Council On Grain Diversion Inquiry

THE following is the full text of the Dominion Government's Order-in-Council instructing the Railway Commission to inquire into the causes of the diversion of grain and other traffic to other than Canadian ports, received here yesterday:

"The Committee of the Privy Council has had before them a report, dated 6th January, 1926, from the Minister of Railways and Canals, representing that the Committee of the Privy Council has had under consideration the advisability of encouraging to the fullest extent the movement of Canadian grain and other products through Canadian ports.

"The Minister states that by Order in Council (P. C. 886) dated 5th June, 1925, the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada was directed to make a thorough investigation, already underway, of the rates structures of railways and railway companies subject to the jurisdiction of Parliament with a view to the establishment of a fair and reasonable rate structure which will, under substantially similar circumstances and conditions, be equal in its application to all persons and localities, so as to permit of the freest possible interchange of commodities between the various provinces and territories of the Dominion and the expansion of its trade, both foreign and domestic, having due regard to the needs of its agricultural and other basic industries, and in particular to:

(a) The claim asserted on behalf of the Maritime Provinces that they are entitled to the restoration of the rate basis which they enjoyed prior to 1919;

(b) The encouragement of the movement of traffic through Canadian ports;

(c) The increased traffic westward and eastward through Pacific Coast ports owing to the expansion of trade with the Orient and to the transportation of products through the Panama Canal.

"The Committee of the Privy Council therefore recommends that the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada be directed, as a part of the general rate investigation above referred to, especially to enquire into the causes of Canadian grain and other products being routed or diverted to other than Canadian ports, and to take such effective action under the Railway Act, 1919, as the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada may deem necessary to ensure, as far as possible, the routing of Canadian grain and other products through Canadian ports.

"The Committee submit the foregoing for Your Excellency's approval.

(Sgd.) E. J. LEMAITRE, "Clerk of the Privy Council."

Mrs. J. Graham, secretary, gave the diocesan board report and Mrs. Charles Hill, the treasurer, reported a balance on hand. The meeting voted a small sum of money towards the memorial fund for Mrs. George P. Smith. Mrs. Collo Gilchrist, for the baby branch, reported a new member enrolled and Mrs. Thomas Pile reported 26 subscribers for the Living Message. Mrs. Hannah Maguire, Dorcas secretary, reported work had been begun on the sale for an Indian boy. Interesting reports were also given by Mrs. Thomas Mitchell, E. C. D. treasurer, and Mrs. Gerhard DeGeer, Junior superintendent. A social half hour was enjoyed after the meeting and refreshments were served.

ST. JUDE'S W. A.

The W. A. of St. Jude's church at its largely attended meeting yesterday afternoon heard gratifying reports. Mrs. W. I. Fenton, president, was in the chair and Mrs. J. A. Linton led the devotions. Mrs. Harvey Ring, secretary, read the diocesan board report and the grateful acknowledgement of the Christmas boxes. Mrs. T. Nichols, Dorcas secretary, told of much sewing accomplished and much more still to do. Mrs. F. S. Tilton's financial statement as treasurer was encouraging.

Deaths

Mrs. O. M. Freeman Many friends will greatly regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Olivia M. Freeman which occurred yesterday at the residence of her son, Rev. Charles B. Freeman, D. D., the Charlotte street Baptist parsonage, West Saint John, in the 87th year of her age.

Mrs. Freeman was a woman of sterling qualities, strong character and very kindly disposition and she held the warm regard and high esteem of all who knew her. She was a daughter of the late Charles and Amereze Runsey, of Clarence, Annapolis county, N. S. She married Joseph N. Freeman of Milton, N. S., and early in her married life united with the Milton Baptist church. In that town and in fellowship with the same church she and her husband spent the first 40 years of their married life. Her husband died about 20 years ago. Dr. Freeman is the only surviving near relative.

Mrs. Freeman will take place this evening in the Charlotte street Baptist church and the body will be taken to Milton, N. S., where interment will be made on Saturday afternoon.

Amanda S. Wyman. Relatives in Saint John yesterday received word of the death of Mrs. Amanda Stavelly Wyman at 8 o'clock that morning in Baltimore after an illness of four weeks. Mrs. Wyman was formerly Miss Millen, a daughter of the late John and Margaret Millen, of Saint John, and was born in this city and lived here during her younger days. Her husband, L. B. Wyman, of Yarmouth, died three years ago.

Mrs. Wyman had lived in Yarmouth, N. S., until about two years ago, when she went to Baltimore to reside. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. G. C. Saunders and Mrs. Edward Moore, of Baltimore, one son, Roy, of Yarmouth, and three brothers and two sisters. The brothers are Robert, of Boston; Robinson, of Brooklyn, and George, of Los Angeles. The sisters are Mrs. E. L. Rising, of this city, and Mrs. Parker, of Yarmouth, who is now in Saint John, visiting Mrs. Rising.

The funeral will take place on Friday in Baltimore.

Mrs. L. A. Morgan. Mrs. L. A. Morgan, formerly of Brown's Flats, but now of Dorchester, Mass., passed away at the home of her son, A. R. Morgan, on Saturday, January 10. She is survived by 3 sons, Emory D., George E., and Alfred R., all of Boston. They will accompany the body to Brown's Flats for burial, after the arrival of the Valley train, today.

John Chipman. A Windsor paper, referring to the death of John Chipman, before announced says:

"There passed to rest at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, January 8, one of Windsor's most respected citizens, in the person of John Chipman, aged 74 years. For some months Mr. Chipman had been in failing health, but it was not until the day before Christmas that he became ill enough to remain in bed. He had a complication of diseases, but was not a great sufferer and his death came unexpectedly, as it was thought that he might live for some time. For the first time in years he was unable to take Christmas dinner with his niece, Mrs. F. E. Harriott, of this town, the only surviving relative of the deceased in Windsor, who cared for him in his last illness.

"Mrs. Chipman, formerly Miss Janet Wood, who predeceased her husband three years, was a native of New Brunswick, and there were no children left to mourn. The only surviving relatives are the niece and nephews, children of the deceased's sister, the late Mrs. Robert Pidgeon, of Vancouver, formerly of Windsor, N. S. These are Mrs. Harriott, Windsor; Katie, Mrs. William Smith, Saint John; Harry Pidgeon, in Montreal; Lena, Mrs. C. A. Munroe; Pearl, Mrs. Russell York; Nina, Mrs. Harold Brothel; Claude Pidgeon, Nellie, Mrs. William Oake and Miss Minnie Pidgeon, all in Vancouver.

"Mr. Chipman was a native of Windsor, passing away in the old home-stead where he was born. During his younger years he resided in Saint John, N. B., where he conducted a general grocery business, and came to the old home to end his days. Since his wife died he continued to remain in the old home, where he had the attention of his niece, Mrs. Harriott, and others residing with him, so that his last days were as comfortable as possible.

"The remains were on Sunday evening taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harriott. On Wednesday the body was taken to St. John's R. C. church, where the service was held at 2.30 p. m. Rev. Father Fleming officiating. The remains were interred in the R. C. cemetery."

Thomas Hallam Drysdale. WOODSTOCK, Jan. 13.—The sudden death of Thomas Hallam Drysdale, son of the late William Drysdale, formerly customs officer at Woodstock, occurred at his home here this evening aged 35 years.

Death was due to heart disease. An accountant by profession, for the last few years, because of ill-health, he had not followed his occupation. Mrs. William Drysdale, his mother, survives. The funeral takes place Friday afternoon under Masonic auspices. Interment will be made in the Methodist cemetery, Rev. J. T. Cavers officiating.

William Southard. ST. GEORGE, Jan. 13.—William Southard died on Friday, last, after a year's illness of tuberculosis. He followed the granite business and for over 20 years worked at this trade, working for different firms in town. Of a mechanical mind, he was recognized as one of the best cutters in the business and was a carrier of rare ability. Possessing a mild and genial disposition, he was a general favorite and made many friends, who will deeply regret his death.

He was the son of the late James and Cary Southard, and, besides a widow, a daughter, Beatie, and two sons, William and Vernon, leaves a widowed mother, two brothers, James and Sylvester, two sisters, Mrs. Martin Burns, of New Hampshire, and Mrs. George Murray, and a nephew, Ralph, residing here.

GIRLS' BRANCH W. A. HAS ENJOYABLE TEA

The members of the girls' branch W. A. of St. Paul's church held a very successful tea and sale yesterday afternoon in the church hall, that had been brightly decorated in green and red colors. There were many patrons and the tea was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. James Magee and Mrs. A. H. Crofoot presided at the tea table which had red roses for centre decoration. The candy and home cooking table was in charge of Miss Florence Young. The replenishers were Miss Winnie Woodley and Miss Ida Lyons.

Those who served were Miss Beatie Wetmore, Miss Georgie Allen, Miss Mildred Allen and Miss Hilda Woods. The tickets were taken by Miss Kathleen Woodley. A very satisfactory sum was realized for the funds of the branch.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

Advice to Office Workers to Spend More on Steamship Tickets and Less on Doctors' Bills—The Folly of Writing Letters to an Unknown Man—Girl Who is So Beautiful She is Unpopular.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am an unmarried woman of 35. I have been working and supporting myself and my parents since I was 16. Now they are dead, and after a long struggle I have reached about the top of my profession, which is bookkeeping, and can hardly expect any further advances.

Mentally and physically I am tired, and I am trying to take stock of myself and decide what is the best course to pursue. Take it and go abroad or to some distant place in this country where the climate, the mode of life, the scenery, the food, the people, will all be different from what you are accustomed to.

ANSWER:

There is no other such medicine for both body and mind as change. Somehow, getting a new viewpoint works a miracle in us. It rests our tired nerves, it gives a flip that perks up our drooping spirits. It puts new pep and zest in life.

If we could spend more money on railroad and steamship tickets we would have to spend less on doctors and hospitals, and we would do twice as good work and get twice as much pay and be so much more agreeable as companions.

Just now you are feeling so sick and tired of your job that you have to scourge yourself to it every morning. The mere sight of a ledger gives you an acute attack of nausea and you feel that you would rather lie down and die right now than to have to go on adding up figures the balance of your life.

But after you have been away from your work for a while you will begin to feel it beckon to you again. You will begin to think kindly of the office, which its pleasant routine and life six months have given you will be as eager to get back at your books as an addict is to tackle a crossword puzzle.

Doubtless your employer will hold your job open for you if he knows you have gone in search of health, for that will mean just that much more efficiency when you return. But whether he does or not, go. A good office woman can always find a place. So go, and go before you break down completely, a month's vacation in time saves nine months in a sanatorium many a time.

As for the wisdom of changing your occupation, that depends altogether on whether you have some special talent or some strong natural bent in another direction. If you like to sell things better than you do to eat chocolate creams, get a job as a saleswoman. If you feel a cosmic urge to make hats, by all means turn milliner.

But unless you are very sure that you are in the wrong profession don't change. You spent many years acquiring skill in one profession. Don't throw that hard-earned knowledge away. Whatever you undertook you would have to begin at the bottom and work up, and every occupation has its drawbacks.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—What do you think about young girls writing to young men that they have never met? I know of a club in which young people correspond with each other in the hope that some time they may become acquainted. These persons are generally very long and want some one as a friend and companion. Is it right to answer a letter from a man who is advertising for a correspondent?

ANSWER: It is a very dangerous thing to do, I should say. The man whose letter you answer may be the most degraded creature imaginable. How would you like to have a dirty hobo or a drunken bootlegger or a jailbird showing about your letters in some filthy dive to his companions? Yet that is very likely to happen if you write to a man of whom you know nothing, because gentlemen do not get their correspondents by advertising for them.

You know very well, Jane, that when a girl sits down to pen and paper she nearly always slopes over. Somehow she goes on an ink jag, and before she knows it she has written down things that she blushes ever after to remember. Just because it sounds poetical and romantic she tells a man how she loves him and how she will die without him and how she yearns for his kisses when, likely as not, she really doesn't care for him at all.

So I think that a girl is very wise and saves herself from a lot of folly if she doesn't correspond with the men she knows. A great first one said, "No matter what I have said to men, I have never put it down on paper, and, thank God, there isn't a scrap of my handwriting in the length and breadth of England." So take my advice, Jane, and don't join any correspondence club. Writing to any man is a dangerous business, writing to strange men is foolhardy.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am considered a great beauty, but I wish I was not. I know girls who are not pretty but popular, but I am very unpopular in spite of my beauty. I have met a young man that I have fallen in love with, but he prefers my chum to me, although she isn't even pretty. I don't see why he doesn't pay me attention when I am so much better looking than she is.

ANSWER: Nothing makes a woman so arrogant as beauty.

She may have brains, talent, breeding, wealth, any or all of the other good things of life, and still be able to preserve a proper humility and not to feel that she has a divine right to the best of everything. But let a woman have a peaches-and-cream complexion, naturally wavy hair, a classic profile and a willowy figure, and she feels that the warmest place in the sun belongs to her by rights.

Evidently that is what is the matter with you, Nell. Because you are beautiful you feel that you can be selfish and inconsiderate of others, and that you do not have to make any effort to make having no good looks, has had to cultivate charm.

It is a noted fact that great beauties seldom make fine marriages. Men admire them and flatter them and like to be seen with them, but they do not marry them. They take the chromes rather than the living pictures to hang upon their walls. They marry women who are not so much obsessed admiring themselves that they cannot admire anybody else.

But beauty need not be a fatal gift if you will forget how pretty you are outside and try to make yourself beautiful within. Adorn your mind and your heart, as well as your body, and then your good looks will be a blessing to you instead of a curse.

Captain Benjamin Jordan, his wife, his dog, and his home.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Drifting placidly, Captain Benjamin Jordan has spent his life on the blunt-nosed barges, and in the evening of his days he retains a contented mind and a comfortable cabin to rest in.

Tied up snugly for the winter at a Hudson River slip, the boatman's life offers philosophic contrast to the imposing business towers which shadow his water.

"We go just like gipsies on the barges," muses the white-moustached captain, puffing a meditative cob pipe in the stern of the F. G. McKelvy, while his wife sits crocheting over in the corner.

NO WORRIES.

"We tie fast and let the tug do all the worrying. It is the free and easy life. In winter I put out a truckload of cement now and then. In summer life is just going up and down the river."

All around are similar barges, hundreds of them, swaying with the rippling tide and bumping gently against one another. Children home from the city schools play on neighboring decks, dogs and chickens stir up a barnyard clutter and clean clothes flap on dozens of lines.

Boating has changed as Captain Jordan has drifted down the current. More than 55 years ago he began a barefooted style of 8 prodding a mule along the Erie canal tow path.

Sometimes mule and rider would slide into the water with a frightful splash.

At night they would tie the tiny jockey into the saddle so he wouldn't fall off if he went to sleep.

One of the big commodities then was ice, and millions of tons, harvested in winter, were floated down to the city about the time the ice factory came in the towpath.

Captain Jordan went to work for a corporation. Now he is the skipper and engineer for the hotting crane. Mrs. Jordan is cook, and Jack, the dog, is watch on deck.

ADVENTURE, TWO

Adventure comes to the quiet barges sometimes. Up the river at Cohoes one time a tub of a barge with a family aboard went plunging over a dam nearly 20 feet high. But no one was hurt.

And during the winter squall here a barge crane unstruck and was swept out through Hell Gate and couldn't be found.

DAILY MOVIE SERVICE

They Like Comedy-Folk In Earth's Far Corners

By JACK JUNGMEYER. THE status, influence and problems of movies in remote corners of the earth are high-lighted by Joe Fisher, representative of the powerful I. V. T. picture syndicate of Africa and Asia, who is just in from Singapore.

Fragments, these, of his comment on the oriental picture situation: "The best movie comedies do indeed speak a universal language. I recently watched a band of barbarous Dyaks double themselves into knots of laughter over Chaplin's 'The Kid'."

for two days. Then it was away out Long Island Sound.

Last spring, going to New Haven, there was rough weather and the barge washed right next to the F. G. McKelvy began to leak. To make matters worse, the wife of the captain of the other barge was ill.

Well sir, Captain Jordan tells you, the waves smashed through the cabin window and soaked the cat. And the next wave picked up the scratching, dejected cat and swept him and a torrent of cold sea water right on top of the sick woman in bed.

But they managed to get safe into New Haven.

Captain Jordan, drifting down life's current, has seen most of the old-timers go down ahead of him until he is almost the senior boatman on the stream.

"You don't have any worries when you're out on the river," says Captain Jordan. "You let the other fellows do all the worrying, while you sit back and watch the water slip past."

"And you've no idea how much better the radio is when you're out there away from all these steel buildings."

Japan has found it necessary to enact a law preventing exhibitors from showing more than 14 reels at a performance. The patrons used to sit in the movie houses all day long for one admission price, and it was found to be ruinous to their eyes.

"In the Dutch East Indies pictures designed for adults may not be shown to minors under sixteen. Censorship in the east is very strict, especially as to elements which might incite the vast native population. No indignity upon a white woman may be shown, for example, and nothing which might arouse class hatred.

"Norma Talmadge is probably the most popular American star in the orient. Douglas Fairbanks is also very well liked. Westerners and comedies are the most popular fare."

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont. Sophisticated smartness is the keynote of the very slender evening gown which is shown here developed in copper-colored velvet.

The model is made with a moulded bodice and a skirt which clings because it is cut on the bias of the material. The skirt also adds length in its irregular hemline, which dips at the sides.

Bronze metal cloth, very supple in texture and with a veined line through it suggesting the veins in Autumn leaves, makes the shaped giraffe of Egyptian inspiration.

- Breakfast. Fruit. Oatmeal with Top Milk. Hot Bran Rolls. Sausage. Coffee. Luncheon. Cream of Tartar Soup, Crackers. Baked Potato. Butter. Raisin Roll. Milk. Dinner. Macaroni and Cheese. Spinach. Fruit Salad. Cream Cheese and Walnut Balls. Coffee or Tea.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Raisin Roll—Three eggs, one cup fine granulated sugar, one cup flour. Beat the egg whites until stiff, then the yolks, add sugar to the yolks, then the rest of the flour. Bake in a well-greased, long, shallow tin. When done turn out on a damp towel on a bread board, cover top with the raisin mixture and roll while warm.

Raisin Filling—Make a filling by cooking until thick one cup of chopped raisins, three-quarter cup of sugar, two tablespoons flour, one cup of water, and a pinch of salt. Spread on the cake in place of jelly and roll as usual. Macaroni and Cheese—Have a large kettle of water boiling briskly, put in a teaspoon of salt and drop in the macaroni slowly so the boiling does not cease. Boil until the macaroni is tender, about 20 minutes. Blend one tablespoon of butter and two of flour, add two cups of hot milk or one cup of evaporated milk and one of hot water. Let it heat through, and then add one pound of finely shaved American cheese. Get a "tangy" variety. Flavor with a teaspoon of salt, pepper, and paprika to taste. Drain the macaroni, blend with the cheese mixture, put in a buttered baking pan and put into a hot oven for 15 minutes, or until the top is well browned. You can reduce the quantity of cheese if you do not like it quite so rich.

Fruit Salad—Use combination of pineapple, grapefruit, orange, winter pear, apple, banana and a cherry. Two slices of pineapple, one grapefruit, two oranges, one pear, two diced apples and one banana make a big bowl. It can be served with dressing, or with French dressing or mayonnaise, or a mixture of whipped cream and mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce leaves.

Cream Cheese and Walnut Balls—A half cup of coarsely broken walnut

THE NIB NOB OF NOBODY'S LAND is high and there is a feeling of snow in the air, but if we hurry we can get to Ub Glub's house before cock-crow."

"Now they are talking!" hissed Ganz to Ole. "You certainly said something," hissed Ole to Ganz. "Weren't they the slangy old geezer, though?"

Inch o' Pie threw open the door and drove the two-wise birds out into the woods; then the Twins sat down on the backs of the birds, Inch o' Pie jumped to his place at their heads, and away they all went through the air, to Ub Glub's place in Nobody's Land.

Ub Glub's place is hard to get to when you're walking, but by flying you reach it in the space of time it takes to sneeze.

"They stopped at a sign post which said 'Nobody's Land'—and there was nothing there, either. But suddenly a house began to rise out of the ground almost at their very feet. On the front door it said 'Ub Glub's House, NIB NOB of Nobody's Land.'"

"The house settled itself finally and all the shutters flew open with a bang. 'Come in,' said Inch o' Pie. 'We'll visit my wise friend the Nib Nob at once. He'll certainly tell us how to catch Twee-knees. But don't be astonished at anything you may see or hear.'"

Women's Lives

are relieved of a great hygienic handicap in this way. Positive protection—discards like tissue

THERE is now a new way in woman's hygiene. A way scientific and exquisite that ends the uncertainty of old-time "sanitary pads."

You wear sheer frocks and gowns without a second thought, any time, anywhere. You meet every day, every business or social demand unhandicapped.

NO LAUNDRY. Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads, it banishes danger of mishaps. Deodorizes, too. And thus ends ALL fear of offending.

You obtain it at drug or department stores simply by saying "KOTEX." Women thus ask for it without hesitancy. Costs only a few cents for a package of 12.

KOTEX No laundry—discard like tissue

Social Notes of Interest

Mrs. Hugh Reynolds was hostess at a very delightful supper and bridge of six tables at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Estabrook, Mount Pleasant, last evening.

The family, and many friends of Miss Maud Magee, 26 Peters street, have, up to the present time, found no route to explain her sudden disappearance some three months ago, while en route to Boston from New York.

The following clipping from the London Advertiser is of interest to many friends of the bride in Saint John: "The marriage took place at Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal, on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 9, the Very Rev. Dean Carlisle officiating, of Miss Alice Leonard, eldest daughter of Mrs. F. E. Leonard, 'Oakwood' London, Ont., to Dr. William Huntley Cronyn, younger son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Verachoye Cronyn, also of London.

Only the immediate family were present. The bride was given away by her brother, Col. Ibbotson Leonard, D. S. O., and wore her traveling costume, an imported gown of rust color crepe net, with champagne embroidery, close fitting French hat of the same shade and coat to match. Her only attendant was her niece, Miss Marjorie Louise Schield, who wore a primrose smock, carrying an old-fashioned nosegay of roses and violets.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom left immediately for Europe. The bride has frequently visited in Saint John and has many friends, who will extend best wishes for her future happiness.

Mrs. H. D. Fritz has issued invitations for a children's party in honor of her little daughter, Miss Evelyn, on Saturday afternoon from 4 until 8 o'clock.

WOULD SELL TAGS FOR WORLD MEET

Women's Council Names Mrs. Wilson Convener, Mrs. Peck Assistant

Action at City Hall Endorsed—Financial and Other Matters Are Taken up

The Women's Council yesterday afternoon at a special meeting decided to undertake the sale of tags for the world's skating championship meet if a satisfactory arrangement could be made with the committee in charge of the meet.

Delegates from the newly affiliated society, the University Women's Club, were welcomed at the meeting. Mrs. E. A. Young presided in the absence of Mrs. A. W. Estey.

REGRET MAYOR'S DEATH

The general meeting passed resolutions of deep regret in the death of Mayor Potts, warm endorsement of the action of the City Council in providing for the widow and children of Policeman Stephen McCavour and a resolution of deepest sympathy to Mrs. A.

W. Estey, the president, in the death of her mother, Mrs. H. S. Crisp. Mrs. F. H. Carter, treasurer, reported a balance of $21,24 in the general fund and $182.30, proceeds of Rosebud Tag Day, for the Children's Aid, for which the aid's treasurer sent grateful thanks. The balance of the free milk fund was $748.00.

Mrs. Carter also read letters from the secretaries of three classes of St. Luke's Sunday school which had accompanied gifts of $28.50.

APPRECIATE GIFTS.

Warm appreciation was expressed of the contributions which had come to the free milk fund. It was hoped that the voluntary contribution might be so general as to keep the fund supplied at all times.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Owing to the recent bereavement of the president it was decided to hold the annual meeting on Jan. 29 in the Board of Trade rooms instead of at the Admiral Beatty Hotel.

Holds Evolution Doesn't Kill Faith

SACKVILLE, Jan. 13.—The second lecture in the series on "Evolution" arranged by the Lord Sackville Chapter, I.O.D.E., was given Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Josiah Wood, Professor Roy Fraser, of Mount Allison University, dealing with the biological evidence of evolution. A large number of members was present.

The student of science did not lose his faith in God by a belief in evolution. Rather should it strengthen that faith, so wonderful was the plan, devised the speaker, "Some call it evolution, but others call it God."

"Cat" Burglars Again Are Active in London

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The epidemic of "cat" burglaries which London suffered last winter has every appearance of being recommenced this year. The first great daring work by them was the robbery of jewels and gems worth $150,000 from the home of Lord Inverforth in Arnos Grove.

The burglars entered by means of a 20-foot sappling carried from the orchard. Placing the sappling against the balcony they were enabled to enter by the first floor and so make their way into the bedroom. The family was at dinner at the time and the burglars were able to do the work undisturbed.

All Heinz from start to finish

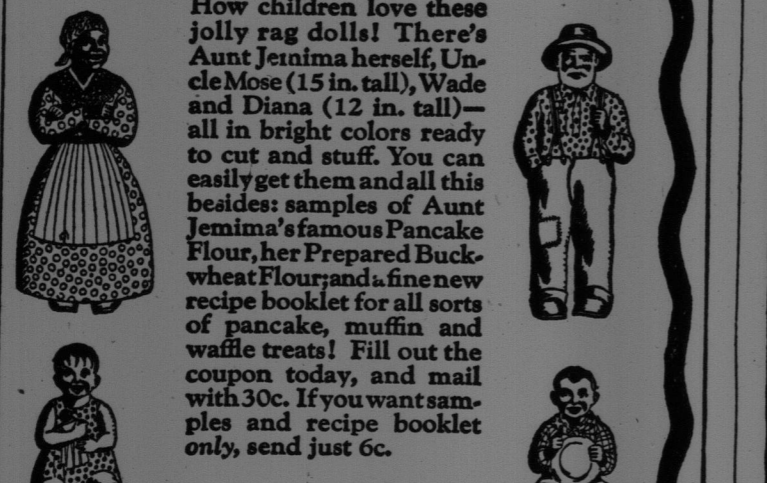

One moment in the garden, the next in the bottle. That's the secret of Heinz Tomato Ketchup. The flavor and color are captured and kept.

And such tomatoes! Heinz experts developed the seed, growing bigger, better, and riper tomatoes. Heinz inspectors supervised the crops. Heinz buyers selected the spices. Heinz cooks boiled the water out and left the goodness in. Every step a Heinz step.

SO SAYS MRS. A. DEMERS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

She Had Suffered From Lumbago and Indigestion and Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 13 - (Special) - "Twenty years ago I was very sick with indigestion and lumbago," states Mrs. A. Demers, who lives at 829 Clarence street. "I had seen many doctors and nothing seemed to relieve me. I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills. After three months I noticed a great change and at the end of the year had no pains at all. Since that time, if I feel a pain or even a tiredness in my back I take Dodd's Kidney Pills and get better. I highly recommend your pills, which should be taken continually until relieved."

Dodd's Kidney Pills make healthy kidneys. Healthy kidneys strain all the impurities, all the poison, out of the blood. They are the greatest of all tonics. Give them a trial at once. They can be obtained from all druggists.

The fire had gained considerable headway when observed by Frederick Walker, who gave the alarm. The flames had eaten through into the portion of the building occupied by Bass and Blakney. There was much damage from fire and water to the building and stock before the blaze was brought under control.

Scientists Prove Father John's Medicine is Five Times More Nourishing Than Many Common Foods We Eat

When you are weak and run down you need a food tonic which will supply the nourishment which you are not obtaining from your food. Careful tests by expert chemists have shown that exactly the elements needed for this purpose are contained in Father John's Medicine in a form which is easily taken up by the system. The great food value of Father John's Medicine as established by scientific tests proves that this emulsion of cod liver oil is the ideal body-building tonic for all the family.

That Father John's Medicine contains a vast store of food value in strength-building, energy-producing elements is established by recent scientific tests as made by Harvey A. Sell, Ph. D., a well-known analytical and research chemist in New York. Mr. Sell in his report of the contents of Father John's Medicine emphasizes the very heavy proportion of cod liver oil which is blended with other valuable ingredients by means of specially designed apparatus, making it more easily taken up by the system than the common foods we eat and with many times greater food value.

A scientist, in stating the food value of any product, does so in terms of "calories" which he defines as the amount of heat used to raise the temperature of one gram of water one degree. A teaspoonful of Father John's Medicine contains 23,715.76 calories while a piece of steak of the same size would contain only 10,714 calories.

The food energy which Father John's Medicine contains is exactly the kind of energy which is most easily taken up by the system and by the processes of nature turned into tissue or flesh. Because it does not contain any alcohol or dangerous drugs in any form Father John's Medicine is the safe medicine for all the family.

THUNBERG, GORMAN AND MOORE IN FINE FETTLE FOR BIG RACE

CAN FINN TAKE CORNERS AS THE TRAM QUESTION

One Hundred and Forty Four Turns For Course

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Clas Thunberg, 38-year-old skating marvel from Finland, will face two of the American continent's greatest skaters, Joe Moore, of New York, and Charles Gorman of Saint John, N. B., in a three-mile special race at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Moreover, the Finn will use blades 15-8 inches long, shorter by 1/4 inches than those to which he is accustomed. If conditions at the hockey games are in vogue tonight, Thunberg will find that he has warm ice to skate on.

On New Year's Day at Newburgh in an exhibition against time, Thunberg gave the skating fans an idea of what might be expected of him when he skated the mile and a half within one second of the world's record. The Finn skated this exhibition without pace and with practically no training since his arrival.

Moore and Gorman will give the Finn plenty of competition in the three-mile special, both being strong skaters. Moore is the holder of the international indoor title, which he has won five years in succession. He also is a former international champion and now holds the New York state championship for outdoors and the metropolitan outdoor champion. Joe was a member of the United States Olympic team at Chamonix in 1924.

The Canadian representative, Gorman, won the Middle Atlantic championship at Newburgh on January 1. He wore the Canadian colors in the last Olympics and won the international championship in 1923. Gorman is considered by the experts the best man in Canada in the last 20 years.

A strong supporting program will be run off in conjunction with the international special. The metropolitan championship indoors will bring together the best men in the East, among them Leslie Boye, international 220-yard dash titleholder; Eddie Meyers, Middle Atlantic champion; Lew Morris, winner of the Donoghue three-mile memorial race, and a host of other stars.

Figure skating will be demonstrated by the team of Nona Bayne and Gladys Lamb, which is at the Garden nightly during a five weeks' engagement; also by Miss Beatrix Loughran, United States representative who finished second in the Olympics, and members of the New York Skating Club.

The Garden management, under the supervision of Colonel John S. Hammond, has arranged for a twelve-lap track for the championships. This will be the largest indoor track in the world.

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN A. DUNLOP

NEARLY EVERYBODY here will be very much surprised if Charlie Gorman wins over Clas Thunberg and Joe Moore in Madison Square Garden tonight over the gruelling three-mile course. Mr. Gorman, as has been stated at great expense in this column on several occasions, does not profess to be a long distance skater and if this is not believed, all you have to do is to look at his record. The only time he ever won a three-mile race was when he led the field—that being in 1924 when the international title hung in the balance. And then he came within two seconds of the world's record. In brief, when everything was at stake, the Saint John lad came through. There is nothing very particular at stake at Madison Square Garden tonight. A win for Gorman would be in the nature of a sensation here and in New York where they bank on the crafty Joe Moore. And it seems to us that Mr. Moore has a better chance than Gorman to spill the Finnish comet. He was born and reared in a cradle on indoor ice and his first birthday present was a pair of 15-inch skates. He caters them up on 12-lap tracks with sharp turns and if Mr. Thunberg plans on breaking records, as he is reported to be considering, he should not overlook the New York boy in his mad haste. One false slip at the turns is all Mr. Moore needs and if he ever gets in the lead, Mr. Thunberg will have to sprout wings to catch him. On the other hand, Thunberg may be just as case on the smaller surface as Gorman and Moore. Any man who can win 145 out of 150 races is no fool whether he skates in Europe or America. The stuff is there and when you have the stuff, you don't have to worry very much about the rest. It looks like Mr. Thunberg's race tonight.

SAINT JOHN must beat Moncton tomorrow night at the Arena or it's pretty near all over but the shouting. Can they do it?

A SCOTCHMAN living in Aberdeen now takes a hand in the fuss over Mickey Walker's big toe. This gentleman's name is David Smith and he has put up a purse of $87,000 for the Walker-Milligan bout. Just why they did not make that an even $88,000 is hard to understand. Still, every $100 counts, even though you live in Aberdeen, one of the finest cities in Scotland. Having passed through there once, we know what we are talking about. Getting back to Mr. Walker and his toe, it is said that Mickey produced a sheaf of medical certificates announcing to all and sundry that his toe was in good shape and that he handed them over to the Commission dukes, who scanned them with the official spectacles and then handed them back, remarking blandly, "Mr. Walker, your toe is in bad shape." When the Commission says a man's toe is not O. K., not even a Nobel prize winner in medicine could convince them otherwise. The laws of the Medes and Persians look like the Volstead Act alongside the decrees of the Commission, especially in the matter of toes. It must feel great to defy the doctors in this way. The toe belongs to Mr. Walker and he says it is alright and is ready to risk his title on the strength of it but the Commission, which does not own the toe and is not going to gamble with any title, says it is not alright. The Commission means well in this matter and everyone knows it is trying to punish Jack Kearns and his meat taker for their actions in regard to the Christmas fust bouts but their reason for prohibiting the bout makes them somewhat ridiculous. As for Mr. Smith, he won't get far with his bout as both Walker and Kearns know that if the bout is staged in New York, they'll get $88,000 and more as their share alone without having to split it with Mr. Milligan.

Gorman, Thunberg, Moore All Set For Friendly Race

By WALTER H. GOLDING. NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—After a new workout today with Joe Moore at Madison Square Garden, Gorman expressed pleasure with the course, which will be slightly under 12 laps tomorrow night. Moore is going strong. Thunberg returned today from Bear Mountain where he was training for the opening event. Tonight's newspapers published a quarter page with pictures of Gorman, also cartoons on coming race. Every writer states it will be a test of speed from start to finish.

For the next ten minutes blocking hot shots. Roach made some nice saves. John Friars and Harold Radcliffe made two nice tries which McPhee handled. Hainsey went through the Sussex defence and shot but missed the net.

SAINT JOHN TALLIES. Harold Radcliffe was sent to the pen for tripping. While he was doing time Saint John scored. Short landing the puck behind Roach on a pass from Lane. With two minutes to go both teams worked hard but no further scores were made and the period ended in a tie, 1 to 1.

ONLY FOUR ON ICE. This score was made while Saint John had only four men on the ice. Hallisey had been sent to the pen for tripping and Fraser came on to replace another player. The game proceeded but the man Fraser was supposed to relieve did not leave the ice, this leaving Saint John playing seven men, six on the ice and one in the penalty box. When this was discovered the game was stopped and Fraser was sent to the penalty box for three minutes. There was no further scoring and the period ended Sussex 3, Saint John 1.

In the third period Sussex did not score, the only tally being made by Riley on a pass from Lane after ten minutes of play. The game ended Sussex 3, Saint John 2.

The Maritime Champions have not lost a game this year and are in excellent shape right now for their coming tests for the title. A. has not only helped these teams to mold fact-working combinations but it has aided greatly in keeping the Trojan Seniors in shape for their bid for high honors. The league here will end in a few weeks and the play offs for the Maritime championship are scheduled to start in February.

Y-NOTS WON.

The game that was played between the Y-Nots and Harriers was sure a thriller for those that witnessed the game. The game started off with a rush and the Y-Nots scored the first basket. The Harriers did not overcome this lead but they kept pressing the Y-Nots for all they were worth. The game ended at half with a score of 15 to 4 in favor of the Y-Nots. The second half was the best half for the Harriers. Without their Captain, Bill Sargeant, this team pressed the Y-Nots to the utmost but were unable to overcome the lead. The game ended in the favor of the Y-Nots with a score of 19 to 17. The score was announced by the referee and therefore by rules this is the official score owing to an error of the score keeper. FREDERICTON WON AGAINST THISTLES

Visitors Lose Out to Carleton, Scores Being Close in Each Match

Five rinks of Fredericton curlers arrived in the city yesterday and broke even with the Thistles and Carleton, winning from the former club by a total score of 56 to 55, and losing to Carleton by a total score of 73 to 69.

The clubs curled against each other after tea and night, and the majority made by each club showed that the matches were very interesting. Three rinks aside curled on the Thistle ice in the afternoon with Fredericton winning by a score of 36 to 24, but in the night play, two rinks aside, Thistles gained and finished 31 to 20, and the match was not won until the last end when the capital skip W. H. Fowler took three points from Thistle skip W. A. Shaw.

Carleton vs. Fredericton

With a small majority of four points in favor of Carleton, the five rink match was as exciting as that between the visitors and Thistles. Two rinks aside curled on the Carleton ice in the afternoon with Carleton leading by a score of 32 to 20. Three rinks aside curled at night with Fredericton gaining with a score of 44 to 41, but not enough to win the match and they lost by four points.

FRENCHMEN NOW ENTRENCHED IN THIRD POSITION

New York and Pittsburg Were Losers Last Night

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—Canadiens, winning their second game in two nights, by defeating New York last night, are now well established in third place in the N. H. L. and are ready to bid against Montreal Maroons for second position. The recent double victory of the Canadiens has added a fillip to the battle they are to stage Saturday night at the Forum. Montreal is again with hockey chatter. A pinnacle has been reached in the interest in pro games. For Saturday's third intra-city clash of the season, it is likely the Maroons will have Bill Phillips in harness. The Soo amateur is expected to complete contract arrangements with the Maroon management today. Canadiens may have another local amateur in harness. It is well known that the club is seeking Mondou, the hefty defence player of the Banque Canadienne Nationale team.

ANOTHER FOR CANUCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The Canadiens of Montreal won their second game in two nights, when they beat the New York Americans 2-1 in a rugged struggle last night. Morons and Pete Lepine were the stars of the night. The two unravelled the flashiest skating that has been seen on the Garden pond. They were all speed and the marvelous manner in which they handled their sticks kept them in possession of the puck at critical times. It was Morons and Lepine who shot both of the Frenchmen's scores. The two Greens, Langlois, Campbell and McKinnon worked hard and ceaselessly to possess the rubber home, but work by Rheunne spoiled all their fine efforts. The defeat dropped New York deeper in fourth place in the league. The Americans were badly battered by Captain Burch who hit over the eye with a stick and he had to leave the game and go to a hospital to have the wound fixed up, several stitches were necessary. Shorty Green was knocked out cold, but he was game from the tip of his head to the end of his toes, and continued to play. New York did not get into the scoring until the last period when McKinnon gave the locals their lone tally two minutes after the start. Pete Lepine netted the puck in the period also from a pass from Jolla, but it was ruled offside.

OTTAWA WON

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—The Pirates won here last night, 1 to 0, the only goal being a penalty win. The game, which was expected to be one of the greatest hockey attractions of the season, was a disappointment. The brand of hockey displayed varied from the mediocre to high class brainy speedy play, as the Pirates launched a third period rally in a desperate effort to tie the score. The Ottawa team was plainly leg-weary and showed the effects of their hard week, which they have just left behind them. Pittsburgh used three separate forward lines in an effort to break through for a goal, but could not succeed. Spring and Smith made a very sound defence in front of Worters, while Cotton, Milks, Darragh and McCurry were the pick of the attack. Boucher, Clancy and Denny were in the limelight for the winners with Nighbor playing a star game on the defensive end. The game was remarkably clean, only three minor penalties being inflicted, all of which were waved out to Ottawa players.

It was a tough break on the Pirate team, and on Worters in particular, as the little fellow turned in a high class exhibition, one that was well on a par with the flawless display given at the other end by Connell.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Georges Carpentier, here on business for the Spanish heavyweight, Paolino, admits that he brought his fighting togs and would consider a bout with a leading heavyweight, Stribling, Berenbach and Delaney being among those mentioned.

RINGER GROUP OF LABORITES TASTE DEFEAT

Subject for Congratulation to Ramsay MacDonald Seen in Vote.

NEW BATTLESHIP HAS LATEST IDEAS

Walking Helps to Long Life - News Matters in London Letter.

Correspondence of The Times-Star. LONDON, Dec. 24. - Mr. Wheatley's rejection from the executive of the Parliamentary Labor party and the general defeat of the "left wing" or "ginger" group are not the only surprising features of the Labor poll. It is remarkable that the two first places should have been given to Mr. Snowden and William Graham, who have taken next to no part in the manoeuvres which go on behind the scenes. Moreover, the representatives of the treasury in the late government, they had to incur a good deal of odium in refusing demands for money. I believe that Mr. Snowden had 102 votes and Mr. Graham 98, as compared with the 86 of J. H. Thomas, who was third on the list. Mr. Thomas had many enemies in the trade union world, but he has a happy knack of getting the better of them. Ramsay MacDonald is entitled to congratulate himself on the completeness with which the insubordinators have been squelched, but he may ask himself whether he would not have been safer if he had had one or two more than them within the inner circle as hostages. The rout of the extremists is bound to accentuate their tendency to hive off towards the Communists.

LONDON'S TRAFFIC PROBLEM.

I hear that the London Traffic Control Committee is quite hopeful that, without resort to such drastic expedients as either overhead or underground roads, the ebb and flow of metropolitan business may be speeded up adequately. Much has already been achieved in a comparatively short time by merely tightening up the existing regulations. The white-line experiment is proving a real success, and is already an established institution in the London main thoroughfares. The one-way Strand experiment has justified itself beyond belief. And now the authorities are going to test another expedient. A system of whirlwind traffic is to be tried in Parliament Square. All vehicles entering that busy area will, whatever their destination, have to proceed round it to the left, each branching off into its required exit-road as it reaches it. Though this may entail some vehicles making almost a complete circuit, it is asserted that the results will be a great saving of congestion and time.

THE NEW BATTLESHIP.

Sailors are as superstitious as society butterflies, and the fact that Princess Mary made three attempts, before she managed to christen the Rodney at Birkhead, will not popularize the new battleship with the navy below deck. This great ship embodies all the very latest theories evolved from the war. She has a 38,000-ton displacement, and carries three triple-turrets, each mounting three 18-inch guns. But her novel feature above water is the 100-foot control tower, which gives her almost the look of an American warship, though the Rodney's tower will be solid, and the Yankee battleships have towers of steel trelliswork. Even the most devoted navy men cannot allege that the Rodney's tower is beautiful, and to laymen's eyes the huge central tower looks like a vulnerable target for an enemy's salvo. It is below-deck, and underwater, that the Rodney is peculiar. She will not blow up so easily as some of our old-fashioned ships did.

LORD PENTLAND.

I am interested to find in the list of new scholars at Trinity College, Cambridge, the name of Lord Pentland, who has obtained his award in natural sciences. His father, formerly Captain John Sinclair, M. O., was a favorite of the late Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, who in 1906 appointed him Secretary for Scotland, a post in which he was engaged in many controversies, especially on land questions. Afterwards he was appointed Governor of Madras, where he remained during the difficult war period and made himself highly popular, with the assistance of his charming wife, a daughter of Lord and Lady Aberdeen. Lord Pentland's death, as his father was, but it is not expected that he will follow him into the army.

ADVERTISING ANCIENT ROME.

Brought to the broad light of twentieth century day from the cold oblivion in which it has lain for upwards of 2,000 years the name of T. C. Pacati, a Roman sinker of wells is given to London's history. The old craftsman had carved his name on the inside of a wine cask which he had staved below the bottom of the well he sank 28 feet below the ground on which the Bank of England now stands. It appears that even in the "grander" that was Rome the craft of advertisement was followed as assiduously as it is today. I remember being shown an inscription on a wall at Pompeii—a tragic record of the mutability of mankind's little affairs. This, an advertisement dated the night before Pompeii was overwhelmed by Vesuvian ashes and lava, read: "Positively the last performance of Gladiators."

RENT RESTRICTIONS.

Austria, like other European countries, is faced with the problem of rents. By law rents may not be increased more than 150 per cent. above pre-war level. But as the crown has depreciated within that period some 14,000 points, the average householder practically goes rent free. Similar legislation in Poland created a paradoxical situation, as the price of a pair of boots in 1922 was more than the annual rent of a good-sized flat in Warsaw or Poznan. An attempt is now being made in Austria to modify these rent restrictions, and the idea is to secure gradual increases over a period of six years. The demand for revision has been made by Dr. Seipel, powerful leader of the Christian Social party in Austria, and his challenge, as might have been expected, has been taken up by the Social Democrats, who are threatening an invasion of government offices in Vienna should rents be increased. A curious result of the Austrian rent restrictions act is the virtual disappearance of mortgages on real property, which play so important a part in the credit machinery of all countries.

WALKING AND LONG LIFE.

I listened recently to the views of a really eminent physician on the interesting discussion now going on about the secret of long life. He pointed out that most of the disputants entirely overlooked probably the most crucial factor of all—heredity. But he made one really impressive statement which is of particular concern in these days of universal motor cars and "busses. While some notably active and healthy old people, said this high authority, are tetotalers and non-smokers, others, usually in more or less moderate amount, quite the reverse. They all present, in fact, conflicting factors of successful longevity. But the physician asserted that in a tolerably long and wide experience he had found one exceptional mental and physical fitness at an advanced age. Invariably the fortunate exceptions to the general rule were enthusiastic walkers, and regularly exercised in that manner all their lives.

A WONDERFUL FEAT.

This Harley Street opinion impressed me all the more because it fits in with my own observation, and because within a few hours of hearing it I encountered a notable example. A journalist friend of 72, who still retains his youthful intellectual alertness despite a long career in Fleet street, told me that he regularly walked to his office from his home in Hampstead, walked home again. The single journey is just over six miles. And, more-over, this sturdy veteran, in his youth an athletic walker, and sometimes some good records, told me of a friend also in his youth a great walker, who never did a marvelous feat in celebration of his 70th birthday. This stalwart actually succeeded in walking six miles in an hour. This is an amazing achievement of some men of 30, and only a mile-and-a-half outside the old gentleman's youthful best.

SERVANT PROBLEM.

The insoluble and apparently permanent nature of the domestic servant problem is persuading more and more Londoners to live in the most up-to-date form of flat. This is the service flat, consisting of sitting rooms, bedrooms, and bathroom only, with nothing at all in the shape of a kitchen or scullery. Life in the modern service flat is very convenient, but just a little expensive according to ordinary middle-class standards. I know a man and his wife who live in a big block of service flats in Victoria street. At 8 a.m. a maid, employed by the flats and dedicated to one set of residents on one floor, comes in to clean up the sitting rooms. At 9 she brings breakfast to their bedrooms. At noon she attends to the bedrooms and bathroom. Lunch and dinner are served in the private flat restaurant reached by a lift. Tea can either be had there or at home. Breakfast is 2s. 6d., lunch the same, dinner 4s. 6d. This is quite a modest affair. I know a bachelor who pays 250s. a year for his service flat in Queen Anne's Mansions, even

A GREAT VETERAN.

England loses a great sportsman and Lancashire one of her most famous cricket personalities, by A. N. Hornby's death as the result of an operation in his 74th year. It is significant of the veteran that the operation was necessary in consequence of injury received in a hunting crash. "A. N." G. Cricketers referred to him by his initials. For 31 years he was a power in the cricket field, starting from his Harrow days, when he was a wonderful batting form. He was an all-round sportsman, but his great love was cricket, though he had enthusiasm for football, fox-hunting and shooting. He belonged to one of the best known county families in Lancashire, and was characteristically shrewd, like most Lancastrians, even in his cricket judgments. Fielders of his generation recall him as the most persistent "stealer" of runs that ever vexed a wicket-keeper.

CRICKET'S EVOLUTION.

A veteran sportsman, whose cricket recollections go even further back than the late Mr. Hornby's youthful days, recalls me of a curious fact about the evolution of the great summer game in this country. It presents a direct contrast with almost all other forms of popular sport, in that it has purified itself of what was originally a great betting evil. Nowadays one of the problems of modern professional soccer is getting betting habit associating itself with the pastime, and most people know how the bookmakers have since the war invaded the football field. Cricket is now hardly associated with betting at all. It was very different in the early days of the game's popular progress. Then matches were invariably played for so much a side, frequently a substantial amount running into many hundreds of pounds. About a century ago there was a great match between a team captained by a sporting nobleman and one drawn from a London suburb now destitute of almost a blade of grass. It was extensively advertised and was for £200 a side. I wonder will our descendants a century hence have to be reminded that horseracing was once a betting game.

Angry Hornets Sting Falling Cop To Safety

SNOQUALMIE, Wash., Jan. 13.—Yellow jackets saved P. R. Gates, Seattle policeman, from a serious fall into a canyon on a recent hunting trip. Gates was crossing a steep bank on the edge of a precipice when he lost his hold and began sliding downward. He was dangerously near the slippery wall of the canyon when his foot struck a nest of yellow jackets. The enraged insects began to sting Gates fiercely, and he clambered up the rock wall in super-human style.
