NEARLY 500 ENTRIES FOR ROCKLIFF

Will be Largest Gathering of Workmen in History of Canada—England and Australia Represented

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—The largest gathering of workmen in the history of Canada will be at the Rockliffe range next week, competing for prizes amounting to ten thousand dollars and with cups, shields, medals and other trophies thrown in for good measure. Already there are more entries than last year and more are still to come. At the last D. R. A. meet, 466 riflesmen competed. The entry list tonight shows 460 names, and Major Winter, the secretary, expects the total entries will reach 500. There will be more strangers competing than ever before in the prize money race.

The report that the government is going to buy Senator Edwards' property at the entrance to Rideau Hall and turn it into an official residence for Canadian premiers is not believed at Ottawa. The prime minister is so comfortably located in his house on Laurier avenue that it is thought he would oppose a change. Hon. R. B. Borden has a handsome place overlooking the Rideau, so the government is relieved from the task of planning for his future residence.

READVILLE, Mass., Aug. 23.—Arabelle, Ed. Geer's noted pacing mare, was defeated today for the second time in her long and successful racing career and Argot Boy was the one to lower her colors today, as she did a year ago.

In the first heat Arabelle broke at the distance, but in the two following Argot Boy was clearly the better when it came to the final test in the home stretch.

In the 2:05 trot, George G. held the field cheap, having only to jog at the finish of each heat. A large delegation was present from New York, headed by W. E. Burke, Jr., owner of the gelding. The race marked the initial defeat of the season of the Cleveland mare, Lillian R.

A series of very close finishes resulted in the 2:16 trot, Henry S., Jr., barely gaining the verdict in each heat, Prince Travellers and Prince C. In turn succeeded in nipping a second in the scurry to the wire.

Byron Kay had no trouble in the 2:14 pace. Genry's Star trailing him in the first two heats, and Arrol in the final heat.

WILL ARRANGE PROGRAMME FOR BRITISH JOURNALISTS TODAY

Mayor Sears Has Called a Special Meeting of the Common Council to Consider the Matter—Suggested that Local Press Entertain Them in the Morning and Council in the Afternoon—Who They Are.

Mayor Sears yesterday afternoon called a meeting of the Common Council for eleven o'clock this morning to see what action the city should take in giving the members of the British Press Association, who will arrive here at 6.25 on Thursday morning next an opportunity to see the winter port.

At a meeting of St. John newspapermen yesterday afternoon, it was suggested that the entertainment of this second party of visiting British journalists should be left with them for the morning, the visitors to be driven around to see the sights of the city, then to have luncheon. Then in the afternoon the visitors' entertainment might be left to the council, who could show them the harbor and take them up river. The visitors will leave the same evening to connect with the boat at Lewis. This proposition will be placed before the council this morning.

Who They Are

David L. Crompton, the Dundee Advertiser and People's Journal representative, has been associated with these well known Scottish newspapers since leaving school. He is editor of the People's Journal, a paper that requires no introduction to the Scotsman of Canada. On his visit to the West he hopes to make the acquaintance of many brother Scots.

Barclay McConkey represents a series of Daily and weekly newspapers. Chief among these are the Belfast Evening Telegraph, the Irish Daily Telegraph, Belfast Weekly Telegraph, and Larne Times and Ballymena Weekly Telegraph. Four years ago he crossed the continent on a similar grand and wrote a series of columns, which additional interest was given by illustrations made from his own photographs. He retains a keen recollection of his previous trip and hopes on the present occasion to renew old acquaintances and make many new ones. He was unanimously chosen chairman of the party immediately on leaving Liverpool. Mr. McConkey is chief secretary of the United Kingdom district of the Institute of Journalists.

A. H. Powell, who represents the Birmingham Evening Dispatch, is particularly interested in the range and development of Canadian manufactures.

Charles W. Starmer represents the Northern Echo (daily) and the Yorkshire Gazette and South Durham and North Yorkshire Times. He is an experienced newspaper editor and is a member of the Darlington Town Council and a Justice of the Peace for the county of Durham. He is the youngest member of the party. Mr. Starmer is a member of the party, but is not a recognized authority on all matters of national importance.

W. L. Lonsdale, the representative of the Newcastle Chronicle, a paper which circulates extensively in the north of England, has interests in coal mines, shipbuilders, and iron and steel manufactures, largely predicated on his knowledge of the various industries connected with numerous other industries, are also among his readers. As a man with five and twenty years' experience of the British parliament, Mr. Longstaff may be expected to give some attention to political and social matters connected with the Dominion.

The Institute of Journalists, part proprietor of the Somerset County Gazette, Bridgewater, and the Devota and Somerset Weekly News, has been editor of the Bridgewater Mercury for the past forty years, and is one of the oldest working journalists throughout the west of England.

Rowley Elliston, B. A., LL.B., is a fellow and lecturer with the Dominion Daily Times, published in Ipswich, the country town of Suffolk. Mr. Elliston is also a member of the Ipswich emigration committee, which has already sent out many Suffolk men to Canada.

W. Redwood is managing reporter of the Western Daily Press, the first daily newspaper published in Bristol, and with which are allied the Bristol Evening News and the Bristol Observer, papers which circulate extensively in Bristol, Gloucestershire, Somersetshire, Wiltshire and other western counties. Mr. Redwood has been connected with the Western Daily Press since 1876. He was for three years one of the vice-presidents of the Institute of Journalists, has served on the council of the institute, and is honorary secretary of the Bristol and West of England Newspaper Press fund.

Joseph Cooke, managing director of the Sheffield Daily Independent, and chief reporter of the Doncaster Gazette and the London Guardian (England) is an alderman of Boston and was twice elected mayor of the Lincolnshire town, which gave its name to Boston, Massachusetts. He has been an active working journalist (as well as a newspaper proprietor) since 1875, and has had a close connection with many eastern English newspapers.

On a previous occasion the Institute of Journalists has represented by Mr. John Derry, the editor who wrote an extensive series of articles on the Dominion during the next few years.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WILL REOPEN MONDAY

Manual Training and Domestic Science Will be on Curriculum for the First Time—Changes in Teaching Staff

The public schools will reopen for the fall term on Monday next. About 700 new pupils have so far been issued, there will be quite a number of others. Naturally a very large number will be taken out today.

There will be quite a few changes in the teaching staff as the result of the number of resignations. The staff of the various buildings however, will not be definitely known before opening day. All pupils who have passed the High School entrance examinations from St. Joseph's and St. Peter's girls' schools will assemble in St. Vincent's Cliff street. Pupils of the other schools will assemble in the High School building.

Special interest attaches to this reopening of the schools as this term for the first time in the history of the local public schools, manual training and domestic science is upon the curriculum. Preparations have been going on for the opening of the manual training department during the last few days and the students will begin other Monday or Tuesday under the direction of Mr. Hayes, who has been promoted from the Alexandra school to this work. A few days later, the domestic science room will also be opened in charge of Miss Kate Bartlett, formerly of the High School staff and later of the Presbyterian Ladies' College, Halifax. The two other rooms in the new Waterloo street building will not be used this year, as the money appropriation will not allow it.

ARGUMENTS FOR AND AGAINST ADMISSION OF THE JAPANESE

The Labor Question in British Columbia—Shall Orientals be Admitted—Both Sides of the Difficult Problem Clearly Discussed.

Whether or not British Columbia shall have Oriental labor to assist in the building up of the province is a pressing problem to the people of the western provinces and of interest to the whole of Canada.

THE ARGUMENT AGAINST.

Mr. R. G. Macpherson, M. P., of Vancouver, who has been most active in his efforts to prevent Oriental immigration to Canada, writes the Monetary Times as follows:— "The Pacific Ocean province of Canada is the port of entry for the Orient, has a climate in many respects the equal to Japan, China and India, and is exceedingly rich in natural resources. Its fisheries are most abundant, its timber wealth enormous, its mineral wealth of an El Dorado, its area of 247,000 square miles. It has valleys are fertile and comprise an estimated population of 250,000, which is less than 3-4 of a person to every square mile. Japan lies within two weeks' journey with a population of 40,000,000, or 40 persons to every square mile, with a natural increase yearly of over half a million. The Japanese are urged to seek other fields for their surplus energy and population. The average man says, "Well, that is just what we need in Canada."

If that is not heard, I see, without the aid of prophecy, a day of reckoning for Canada, which will not be averted by academic discussion. The subject cannot be disposed of in a short newspaper article, but I am glad of the opportunity of putting some of my views before my Eastern friends through the columns of your excellent publication.

FOR ORIENTAL LABOR.

On the other hand, there are men who say, "Develop the province, be it by white labor or yellow." Here are the views of a prominent Vancouver banker manager given last week to the Monetary Times:— "In my opinion the development of this province is dependent to a great extent by the absence of sufficient labor of any kind, and the interests of the white laborer retarded to an enormous extent thereby. The head tax, viz., $500, on Chinamen, has resulted in a large advance in the wages of these men, and it is almost impossible to secure competent Chinamen for domestic servants under $10 a month, and all found. Our industries, particularly agriculture, are suffering by the absence of sufficient numbers of that kind of labor. Last week 1,200 Japs arrived at this port from Honolulu, and they were found to be strong, intelligent men, and I believe most of them have already obtained employment. These men have had considerable experience as laborers on the sugar plantations in the Sandwich Islands, and as far as I can ascertain are a very desirable class. The labor agitators and politicians who pander to the labor element to obtain votes and influence have made a great outcry, but the great majority of people are in favor of increasing the number, and also removing the head tax on Chinamen. Our forests are undeveloped, and will continue in that condition; our fisheries suffer in the same way, and our forests are not developed to any extent. The United States has had a sufficient supply of cheap labor. The skilled white man receives good wages and will continue to do so, but the majority of them have a large family, and he will work to much greater advantage by having the assistance of the Orientals. The men are now in receipt of such wages, and will continue in that condition, that they can afford to have a family of men to assist in their household duties provided the wages were lower, but as it is they and their families suffer from lack of sufficient domestic help. White servants are difficult to get and frequently difficult to please. There is no doubt that the future of British Columbia depends upon the influx of large numbers of men who are capable of hard work as menial laborers, such work as a white man would as rule not undertake and if he does it is only transitory. As far as I have seen, I would prefer the Japanese and the Chinaman to a number of the immigrants who come from the southern parts of Europe. I am credibly informed that last year hundreds of acres of excellent fruit in this province were left on the ground to rot, owing to lack of labor to pick it up at a modest profit; such fruit that could not be excelled in the same quality elsewhere in any part of the Dominion. The Chinamen, of all adapt themselves more readily to our labor conditions, and if 20,000 were admitted free we would have such development that would astonish and profit, not only the owner of land, but the skilled laborer. Our resources are so enormous, our population so small, that without the assistance of cheap labor untrammeled by the restrictions of labor organizations and beyond the control of the politician—Orientals would be free from any such local control—the Pacific Coast of the Dominion will undoubtedly be up in a few years in its natural development. This is what the manager of a British Columbia timber company, says:— "Labor is so urgently required in British Columbia, that when employers are unable to obtain it of the most preferable kind, they must necessarily get what is available, if the development of the industry is not to be retarded. A committee of the Victoria Board of Trade recently recommended that the provincial and federal laws be immediately suspended, that the provincial government immediately appoint one or more competent agents, to act under the supervision of the Agent General, to travel through the industrial centres of Great Britain and give information as to the labor requirements and conditions in British Columbia, and that some plan of assisted immigration be extended to farm laborers, unskilled workmen and domestics. "We believe," they said, "that employers of these classes would readily undertake to reimburse the provincial government for any outlay on this account." "We cannot close this report without reference to the opinion of many employers who were interviewed that a

ABOLITION OF DEATH PENALTY RESULTS IN INCREASE OF CRIME IN FRANCE

Recent Murder Case, of a Most Revolting Nature, Was Attended by Crowds of Society Women ---Papers are Glamoring for Murderer's Head.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—All France is wondering whether the guillotine has been banished forever. Since the assassin of the Duke of Solheim for the peculiarly atrocious murder of a little girl the question whether or not he is to be executed has become a burning one. The verdict of the jury being guilty, without the benefit of extenuating circumstances, obviously the condemned man the ordinary course of things would be guillotined. But, though parliament has not voted the abolition of capital punishment, the death sentence pronounced on the prisoner must apparently remain ad idem, since the public executioner has been appointed, and the guillotine has been stowed away in some disused house. By the non-voting of the law abolishing capital punishment, while at the same time suppressing the post of public executioner and obligating "La Veuve," as the guillotine is called in criminal slang, to an outcast, a distinctly abnormal condition of things has been established. For instance, within the last six months, in Paris and the provinces, the death sentence has been passed on numbers of convicted murderers, and the sentence being of necessity commuted by the president of the republic, since what is capital punishment can no longer be said to exist. In the presence of the exceptionally atrocious crime which brought Solheim to the assist cure, many leading organs of the press are now clamoring for "sa tele" with almost unseemly violence, and on the first page of certain journals the criminal's severed head, with the guillotine blade it carried, is shown in a gruesome pictorial attraction for the morbidly inclined. It should be said that the head of the murderer has been what is termed "written up" in what appears a distinctly objectionable manner. Since Solheim's imprisonment, he has not only been repeatedly interviewed by enterprising reporters, but she has been persuaded to write her memoirs in the most elaborate and delicate intimate subjects connected with her married life with the convicted murderer. The interest of the public in the case has been such that it is not surprising that she should be the subject of a "cause celebre." One inevitable result was that during the two days the trial lasted the streets were packed with the curious, who were crammed by society ladies, actresses, and demi-mondaines, many of whom came back from the country on the seaside to be present. And, as a male spectator remarked, with no little spectator with no little disgust, he was struck by the attitude and manner of these smartly-dressed, pearl-powdered, perfumed women, was deplorably out of keeping with the solemnity of the surroundings. They laughed, chattered and applauded or the contrary, as though they were at some theatrical dress rehearsal, rather than in a court of justice, unmoved apparently either by the presence in the witness-box of this hapless victim's parents or the exhibition of the bloodstained garments worn by the child on the day she was slaughtered. With regard, however, to the important question as to the abolition or maintenance of capital punishment in France, thoughtful commentators on the subject rightly remark that opinions concerning that question ought not to be affected merely because a sensational crime has been committed, and street hawkers are selling pictorial illustrations in which "La Veuve" is figured awaiting her lawful prey. Some months ago when "Le Deuill" (the public headman) was mentioned and it was tacitly understood that he would have no successor, the campaign in favor of the abolition of the death sentence met with distinct public approval. It was argued that in countries such as Switzerland or Belgium, where capital punishment does not exist, murders were not so frequent as in countries where it does exist. Certain magistrates, high public officials and jail chaplains, however, guided by their long experience and contact with the criminal classes, maintained that fear of "La Veuve" was a useful as a deterrent against murder, and in default of this, reduction of the head tax on Chinese would afford immediate relief to farmers, fruit-growers and families requiring domestics. Your committee prefer to see this "white man's" country in the event of refusal or delay in carrying out the above recommendations your committee are of opinion that the only alternative is to strongly recommend that the head tax on Chinese be reduced. The expansion of farming and fruit-growing is already checked and the demand for cheap labor in the construction of railways is a problem which must be seriously considered.

MAN IN FIERCE FIGHT WITH PACK OF JACKALS Instead of Allowing Them to Pass He Becomes Aggressor and Invites Attack. CAPE TOWN, Aug. 24.—While he was on a shooting trip about fourteen miles from his home at Beaufort West, Cape Colony, this week, A. E. Clarke, a British settler, had a terrific fight with jackals. What he took to be a herd of buck approaching him turned out to be a pack of "Panne" jackals, the variety so much dreaded by farmers and herdsmen. Instead of allowing the pack to pass unharmed, he fired and killed the leader. The others advanced on him, and before they surrounded him, he killed three more and wounded two. Then a grim fight against overwhelming odds began for he was alone in the bush. Using his rifle as a club, Mr. Kirk, the pack's leader, was finally driven away by the man who had saved his life. Just before he sank to the ground unconscious a large jackal sprang on his neck and he remembered nothing more. When he recovered his senses he was in a sheep pen with four friends who had saved his life. He came on the scene as he was falling and as the infuriated beasts were rushing on him to tear him to pieces a few shots and a combined rush scattered the animals in all directions. After taking him home Mr. Kirk's rescuers returned and found twelve one dead jackals, which they skinned. They sent him half a dozen of the skins as mementos of the incident.

FIRST STRIKE BENEFITS PAID Operators Received Enough to Last Them for a Week. NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 22.—The first strike benefits were paid tonight. The total amount paid out was not made public, but it was said that it was sufficient to insure the comfort of all the operators on strike for a week to come. It was also stated at strike headquarters that there was enough money on hand to finance the strike for two weeks longer, and enough more pledged to carry on the fight for ninety days. The strikers announced tonight that the telegraphers in the employ of the Canadian Pacific railroad at Montreal had refused to work Postal wires to New York, which were manned at this end by non-union men.

THOUSANDS OF PILGRIMS IN IRELAND SIG PLEDGE

Great Numbers Gathered at Summit of Holy Mountain—The Excessive Cost of the Dublin Police Force.

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—The third of the modern pilgrimages to St. Patrick's Oratory on the top of Cragh Patrick this year culminated in predecessors in the size of the attendance, in the devotion shown by the pilgrims, and in the splendid weather which was associated with the celebration. Three years ago the Most Rev. Dr. Healy, Archbishop of Tuam, revived this pilgrimage, which, as recently discovered documents show, was of importance in 142, when Pope Eugene IV. granted an indulgence to the visitors to the holy mountain, and fixed the date for the visit on the last Sunday of July. The Very Rev. M. McDonald, the administrator of Westport, has ably seconded his archbishop in his exertions to revive this religious and historic devotion. A concrete oratory now shelters the priest who says mass on the wind-swept summit of the rock 2,500 feet high, and the enormous assembly fully established this pilgrimage as an annual national event. Many persons camped on the mountain all night. Special trains from Dublin, Athlone, Achill, Clonsilla, and Ballina poured thousands of visitors into the town of Westport and on arrival they hoped to originate with the limited capital at their disposal would be availed immediately by the monster institutions abroad, who could afford to dump their surplus products here for the mere pleasure of killing them, unless they got protection. But with agriculture the case is different. In that we have a living industry—in which the people have been engaged for generations, which is adapted to their natural tastes and habits, and for which the local conditions of climate and soil are most favorable. Ireland cannot be a manufacturing country, she can easily be an agricultural country, just like Denmark. The better industry will go on getting worse from year to year unless we pull ourselves together and set ourselves with determination to make the most of what we have, to educate ourselves, and improve our methods of agriculture until we are able to hold our own against all comers. It is strongly urged that one industry which Ireland can revive with advantage is the manufacture of cider. More than a century ago the south of Ireland was famous for its cider.

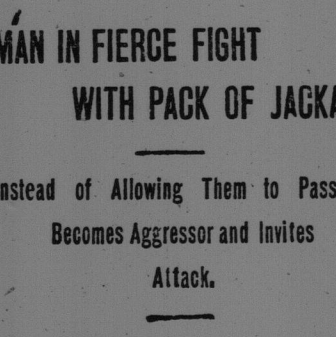

HOW HE CATCHES THEM. "How does it happen that you are so rich on so many divorce cases?" "Well," replied the lawyer, "seeing that you are not in my line, I'll tell you. I look over the marriage licenses every morning and send my card around to the contracting parties."—Judge.

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—The Kaiser has his own peculiar taste in art, as in everything else, and his statue of youth, which has just been awarded a gold medal at the Berlin Art Exhibition, is a striking example of the style of his taste in sculpture. By artists it is considered a little more robust than beautiful.

THE ST. JOHN STAR

SOME OF THE EARLY BLOUSES FOR AUTUMN

NOT long ago an English fashion magazine announced: "Happily that funny style of dressing, the separate blouse and skirt, is a thing of the past." Yet that very same magazine a few pages beyond was filled with the latest wrinkles in tailored and fancy waists.

The waists made up in chiffon, soft taffeta or crepe de chine will match the skirts in color even more than they did last season. This gives the effect of an entire costume and does not remove the opprobrium of the detached blouse.

The tiny cravat of black satin is very much fancied by the French, and is to be noticed on many of the handsomest lace blouses. Equally good, whether developed in soft batiste or soft taffeta, is the next waist, designed for afternoon wear.

DECORATIONS FOR GOWNS

RUFFLES edged with tiny ball drops are attractive. Braid and fringe of all descriptions are much seen. Bands of open work are used on many skirts.

Sleeves are also longer, the tailored ones quite to the wrist, and even many of the lingerie effects have long cuffs, while all are well below the elbow.

FASHION'S FANCIES

THE tunic skirt, without any pronounced vogue of its own, has been steadily advancing in favor for some time, and the outlook shows a strong possibility of its increase in fashionable costumes for coming fall and winter.

much of a preference as ever for this style of trimming. Smocking is gradually returning to favor, although it is not very practical for washable materials, but for such fabrics as may be dry cleaned satisfactorily it is always pretty.

MOURNING MILLINERY

MOURNING millinery requires such careful workmanship that it is not worth while to make it up in inferior goods. Folds, tucks, pleats and all rest, exact and compact effects are properly employed in mourning and the workmanship must be of the very best.

Little Things That Count

TUZZLE bows are shown in light blue and pink and gray, waist length, heavily trimmed with rose petals of the same shades. The smart traveling bags, in the popular club shape, are of genuine black walrus with nickel mountings.

Colored Embroideries

ROUMANIAN, Bretonne and Moldavian embroideries are the newest trimming for tussor and rajah gowns, and even on the simple voile frock this brilliant trimming will be worn.

Buckles and Beltings

THE girl who has some buckles need feel no necessity of expending more money for buckles. All that she needs to do is to take her buckles to a fashionable shop and the clerks will match them in beltings and make the belts to fit her in a few moments.

RELIGIOUS REVIVAL IN PRUSSIA DEVELOPS INTO AN ACUTE FORM OF MANIA.

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—Thousands of persons in the Central Prussian provinces have been suddenly seized with an acute form of religious mania. Telegrams from Cassel state that the outbreak, which is manifesting itself in all kinds of astonishing forms, was started by two fanatics, who proclaimed themselves Divine emissaries, specially sent by Heaven to lead the inhabitants of the adjoining province to salvation. Their principal lieutenants are two Swedish women, whose oratory exercises a strange fascination over the populace. Extraordinary scenes take place at meetings held nightly in Cassel and many surrounding villages. The participants at these meetings emit inarticulate shrieks, throw themselves on the floor, fling their arms and legs wildly about, beat their heads against the wooden benches, and amazing confessions of sin then pour from their lips. After this they declare they see visions of heaven, hell, and other worlds.

Sometimes all those present at a meeting prostrate themselves simultaneously on the floor and groan in unison, with wild gestures. Suddenly the man springs up and graphically describes some strange vision which he sees before his eyes. Loud shouts of "Hallelujah!" greet the speaker, and when the vision has been described men and women arise from the ground, embrace one another with ecstatic fervor, and dance, with many amazing grimaces and erratic movements, all through the night.

A speaker at one of these meetings stated that there were over 200 persons present. All of them seemed absolutely intoxicated with religious ecstasy. He says: "I heard wild cries, loud confessions of sin, uneasy shrieks, groans, and other unearthly noises. I saw distorted faces, men and women gesticulating like lunatics. I saw them sink to the ground and kick out in all directions. Suddenly a young man sprang up and uttered sounds which the chairman described as being the result of a Divine vision. No sooner had the chairman uttered these words than a great shout of triumph rose from the assembly. They all looked as if hypnotized."

At another meeting after a hymn had been sung, a young man sprang to the platform, threw himself about with extraordinary vigor, and then shouted incoherently. One of the founders of the movement informed the congregation that the youth was Divinely inspired, and that his antics and noise were a Divine revelation. The worshippers clapped their hands, knelt down, gesticulated, shrieked, groaned, and groveled in the dust. Several worshippers shouted, "We see the blood of our Saviour!" Women embraced one another, saying, "We have seen our Saviour Himself!"

The preacher then offered up the following prayer: "O Lord, let every one here kneel down. Who ever refuses to kneel, let him be thrown from our midst." One man remained standing, whereupon there were wild cries of "out with him!" Out with him! Out with him! The devil has left the hall the worshippers shouted. "The devil has now gone. The evil one has left our midst."

At a meeting of Gross Almerode a young man divested himself of his collar and cuffs, declaring he desired to be free and happy. Young women tore

METEOR NARROWLY MISSES STEAMER

Flery Mass of Huge Proportions Plunges Into Sea 50 Yards from the Cambrian

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 23.—A narrow escape from destruction by an immense meteor was reported by officers of the steamer Cambrian, which arrived from London. The huge fiery mass struck the water within 50 yards of the Cambrian's starboard bow last Friday evening when the ship's position was longitude 61.10 west, latitude 42.05 north, several hundred miles south of Cape Race.

On the bridge of the ship at the time were Second Officer Thomas Hughes and Third Officer Daniel Vittery, both of whom are now firmly of the opinion that meteors may have sunk vessels that have never reached port and whose fate had been problematical. Mr. Vittery said:

"A great many stars seemed to be travelling from horizon to horizon in a direction northeast to southwest. Mr. Hughes remarked there was something out of the ordinary doing up aloft. 'Suddenly out of the sea away off toward the northeast there flared up something that looked like a rocket, and as we went up when in need of assistance. But it was within a few feet of the ship's bow that followed the glowing head trailed away like a horse's tail. Bits of stars fell away from it like a shower of spray, with now and then a larger one that dropped toward the sea with greater speed. 'The air was filled with a deafening din such as a thousand railroad trains in a tunnel might create. The hiss of dropping fragments gave me the fiercest impression of the ship's boiler leaking in every plate. 'With a crash that shook the ship the monster struck the sea not fifty yards away and the upheaval was terrific. Not a rope nor a spar was scathed when the meteor, big as a railroad house went square over us and struck the sea.'"

Great excitement prevailed on Monday morning when it became known that J. L. White's store on Broadway had been burglarized and about $700 worth of jewelry taken. The thieves got in the cellar window which they broke. All the ring boxes cards and marks by which the goods could be identified were left behind. No trace of them has been discovered, but it is supposed to have been the same gang which broke into the C. P. R. station on Friday evening. A package of money which came that day had fortunately been taken to his house that night by Mr. Hollett. The thieves found only 25 cents in the till. These two affairs have naturally caused much excitement and all feel that a night watch in the town has become a necessity.—Victoria Co. News.

He always had a chat with the "trams," as they are called here, and by means of the democratic "underground" in the latter case moreover, he patronized the third-class compartments, just as his humble parishioners did, instead of "going first," and more often than not carried his rug and fancies to the station.

EGBERT W. THOMPSON

ST. JOHN'S BOY PREACHER
Who is Reported to be Doing Excellent Work on the Gibson Circuit is Only Seventeen Years Old.

During the past summer the Methodists living in the Gibson circuit in York County have had among them Egbert W. Thompson, who is now known as the wonderful boy preacher. Whenever he speaks in public he is listened to by large crowds, and he is considered one of the most fluent and convincing speakers in the province.

Mr. Thompson, the boy preacher as he is called, is seventeen years old and belongs to this city. He is the son of the late Fred. Thompson and resides with his mother at 131 Duke street.

Mr. Berrie says in a letter to Rev. H. D. Marr that Mr. Thompson's preaching is a surprise to his auditors, and his extreme modesty makes him very popular.

A brilliant future in the ecclesiastical world is predicted for Mr. Thompson.

WILL SHORTLY RETURN TO HER WESTERN HOME

Mrs. Charles Nichols, formerly Mrs. Price, of North End, who has been visiting friends and relatives here for several weeks, will start on her return to her home in Oakland, California, next Tuesday. Mrs. Herbert Price, who accompanied Mrs. Nichols east, will visit in Fredericton all winter.

Mrs. Nichols' husband, who is a contractor in Oakland, has large crews of men at work in the rebuilding of devastated San Francisco, as well as the outstanding sections of Oakland, across the ferry. Oakland's population actually doubled after the terrible catastrophe in the big city across the bay from it, and building operations are consequently going by gigantic strides.

Both Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Price like their new home very much, and would be sorry indeed to forfeit the healthful influences of the climate by taking up their abode again in the east.
