Fenced Gates at Dublin Where Football Match Was in Progress With 15,000 Present.

FIRED ON MOB IN THE FIELDS

Body of Kidnapped Priest Found in Shallow Grave Four Miles from Galway.

Dublin, Nov. 21.—Thirty persons are reported to have been killed and many injured in a panic when "Black and Tans" invaded a football match today and fired on the crowd.

While the Tipperary team was playing the Dublin team in Croker Park in the presence of 15,000 spectators, "Black and Tans" entered in force by the two gates, and, after a scene of wild confusion, fired on the people.

Priests Body Found
Galway, Ireland, Nov. 21.—The body of Father Griffin, the priest who disappeared several days ago, was found yesterday in a shallow grave about four miles from Galway. There was a bullet wound in his temple.

The body was brought to Galway this morning. Intense excitement prevailed.

The body of Father Griffin, who was the curate of Bushy Park, was found in a bog by the roadside near Darna, four miles from Galway. Voluntary had been searching for the missing curate since he was kidnapped by three unknown persons last Sunday.

A party of country lads made the tragic discovery. The lads observed in the bog what appeared to have been a recent upheaval.

Sent For Priests
They began probing into the mound with sticks, and finally uncovered the shroud and the overcoat of the priest. Without proceeding further they sent for priests in Galway, and the search was carried on under their direction by moonlight, unearthing the body of the missing curate. The wound in the head of the priest was evidently the cause of his death.

When the body of Father Griffin was brought into Galway today it was placed in the high altar of the parish church. Huge crowds gathered, reciting the rosary. The first intimation the townfolk had of the tragedy was an announcement made by the priests at the morning masses.

Earned Martyr's Crown
At St. Joseph's church, where Father Griffin presided, pathetic scenes of grief were witnessed. The priest omitted the usual sermon and confined himself to relating incidents of the life of Father Griffin, and paying tribute to him. They declared that the priest had earned a martyr's crown and begged the congregation to pray for the repose of his soul, but not to forget also to pray for his murderers.

Premier Scores Action of Opposition as Only Intended to Befog the Questions.

TARIFF IS BIGGEST ISSUE BEFORE NATION

Hon. Mr. Meighen Recalls All That Canada Has Done to Help Returned Soldiers.

Aylmer, Nov. 21.—Speaking to a packed audience in the town hall last evening the Hon. Mr. Meighen, Premier of Canada, confined his attention mainly to the question of the tariff, declaring that a review of the numerous speeches made by the Liberal and Farmer candidates showed that this was considered the great issue of the day, but he also dealt with the sugar and returned soldier question.

In connection with the sugar order, he declared that this has been made the facts were not known but for the purpose of arousing sympathy for the opposition and the bogging of the issue.

The Soldier Question
In regard to the returned soldiers' problem, the Premier declared that the government had given this matter the greatest and most serious action. He pointed out that sixty three per cent of the soldiers placed on the land had paid to the government within fifteen days of the date set, the money due under the contract made with them. He doubted whether any loan company on the continent could show such a record in business dealings.

Dealing with the claims of the farmers' organizations of the graded income tax as a plank in their platform, Mr. Meighen showed by figures that the present income tax, imposed by the government, is a graded one, bearing much more heavily on the rich man than the man less able to bear the burden.

POLICE FIND LIQUOR STILL HID IN CHURCH

Owners Recently Refused Offer for Unused Building to be Turned Into Dance Hall

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 21.—After combing hills and valleys over a wide area in the district north of Roseburn for six months provincial police and imported sleuths came upon the object of their search, an illicit liquor still, in the basement of the Ranchvale Methodist church, a building which has not been used for some months.

Provincial police passed the church dozens of times in their search raids north of town. They did not search the church until they discovered suspicious tracks in the snow.

The police have been unable to locate the owners of the still.

The Methodists recently refused to sell the building that it might be used for a community dance and concert hall.

TORONTO BEAT MCGILL UNIVERSITY

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 21.—University of Toronto are intercollegiate rugby champions for 1920. Before five thousand spectators here Saturday afternoon the Toronto men outplayed the McGill University team for three periods out of four, running up a score of fourteen to six.

Throughout the game the Varsity team played brilliant football, being superior to Shanganessy's squad in every department of the game. In the fourth quarter McGill showed their best form of the day and their try was earned by solid play.

BRITISH FEAR BIG REVENGE CAMPAIGN DUE

Every Precaution Taken to Prevent Reprisals by Military But They May Occur.

OFFICERS SHOT DOWN BEFORE THEIR WIVES

Sinn Feiners Said to Have Opened Fire First at the Fatal Football Game.

Dublin, Nov. 21.—Shooting began in the streets just before midnight, and a number of people are reported killed. There is much military activity. The casualties in Croker Park is semi-officially given as ten killed, sixty five injured, eleven seriously.

Sunday's Outbreak
Dublin became the scene today of far-spread murder and reprisals. Not since the first outbreak of the vicious civil war has there been shedding blood in Ireland have the assassins been so swift and pronounced. Not less than fourteen men are dead in the attacks arranged simultaneously all over the city this morning. The method was the same in each case and all the men assassinated were of officers or ex-officers, or otherwise in the service of the government.

Few Men Involved
Small bodies of men, numbering from six to eight, presented themselves at various houses, called their victims out or entered and shot their victims in bed, while dressing, or at breakfast. The districts in which the murders were committed were in some instances close together; others were separated by miles, but all the assassinations took place during the same hour, nine o'clock in the morning.

At the Football Grounds
In the afternoon, while a football match was in progress at Croker Park, sixteen lorries filled with auxiliary police moved swiftly up and surrounded the place. Accounts differ as to what happened when, after mounting machine guns on heights above, the police broke swiftly up and surrounded the spectators. The police were hoisted, and, according to eye-witnesses, first fired in the air and then into the crowd. It is declared from another source that the Sinn Fein men fired from on the government forces when they were seen approaching, and that the fire was returned.

Panic at Game
Within the park the great assembly of 15,000 became panic-stricken and the streets were filled with fugitives. The estimates range from ten to thirty, or more. Several are reported to have been transported to death.

The streets of Dublin on Sunday are deserted in the morning hours. Those who had planned the murder of the officers and government employees moved systematically their way through the city, committing the assassinations without disguise and all made their escape.

Murdered at Hotel
Gresham Hotel was the scene, perhaps, of the greatest daring and the raid was carried out by about twenty men with the utmost cruelty. The Gresham is in Sackville street, and is one of the best hotels in Dublin. In this place two former officers were done to death.

Following fast upon the murders there was great military and police activity in various houses. All motor traffic was ordered stopped, and all train services in and out of Dublin were suspended. Except for the over to terrified apprehension, as armoured cars and lorries filled with "Black and Tans" raced through the streets.

What is At Hand?
London, Nov. 21.—The government authorities are apprehensive about the possibilities tonight and all precautions have been taken to prevent reprisals by the police and military. The police barracks in Dublin have been picketed to prevent the men from leaving their quarters. There are large detached forces near Dublin, however, which are harder to control. Everything has been done, nevertheless, to forestall retaliatory measures.

The murder raids were carried out in broad daylight by parties about twenty in number. Except for the two victims in Gresham Hotel, in the heart of the city, the men were killed in their own homes. One of the most brutal cases was that of Captain Newbury, who was murdered in the presence of his wife.

VAGRANT MAKES FREQUENT CALLS

John Kossayus, Austrian "gentleman" of hotels, spent the weekend at the police station. The usual vagrancy charge was changed to one of not giving a satisfactory account of himself. John started the week in the police station and ended it there. He was let out a few times, but managed to make his week-end visit, the fourth in seven days.

His frequent visits to the lockup have made him quite familiar with the place, and a confidante in the matter of cells. If left to himself he can pick out the softest mattress and best room in the basement, and as for his table in bars, it might even be carried by a liquor inspector.

FOR WOMEN

AMUSEMENTS

Simplicity Is Most Expensive

One Must Pay to Get Good Lines in Unadorned Dresses at Present.

By Lydia Kingdon Community (Staff Correspondent Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service, Inc.)

London, Nov. 21—Here men always headless that the women's dress simplicity spells elegance. Nothing could be further from the facts. It seems rather hard lines, but it is these that beautiful simplicity in clothes is so expensive that it is within the reach of a very few. Everyone has not been educated to realize that the art of looking simple is generally the prerogative of the frock bearing a broad street label or the plain little hat that came straight from Paris.

"I do love those plain little dresses you wear," says the man; "only you could look so pretty in such simple clothes." The girl smiles, but laughs inwardly, knowing how many sentences that very cost of simplicity has cost her in tons and millions.

"Just Right" Lines This does not mean dowdy simplicity, of course—the badly hung skirt and the ill-fitting blouse—but the simple, unadorned dress, the plain silk blouse, with lines that seem "just right," the simple black satin evening frock, all art and no trimming.

The reason of the high cost of simplicity was explained to me the other day by a famous Paris dress designer. To the question, "Could not the manufacturers turn out inexpensive suits made on excellently simple lines, even in cheap materials?" he replied, "Impossible! Yes, I do not know how hard it is to get what the Greeks called 'the golden mean,' that line of beauty that needs no adornment to enhance it. It takes time, thought, and work to turn out such garments and to develop taste in the people who buy them. It also requires costly materials to give a true look of perfect simplicity to the clothes."

Continues of Plain Touches Underclothes probably show their coarseness by their utter simplicity more than any other form of wearing apparel.

Wander down the well-known shopping streets and look at the lingerie displayed in the windows of the large shops, and you will see that most of the garments are pretty flimsy, adorned with masses of lace, ribbons and tucks.

Then turn aside to the tiny exclusive shops, and you will see the simplicity of pure linen, a little very fine, hand-embroidered, a scrap of real lace or none at all, scarcely any ribbon, but perfect workmanship and perfect lines.

Although this very costly simplicity is not for all of us, the English woman of all classes is learning to achieve the smart simplicity which is within her reach.

She is sticking to a few colors, and learning which are smart and which are not. She now knows that it is simpler, and therefore smarter, to wear a black suit, a white blouse and white washing gloves, black hat and dark shoes and stockings, than a powder-blue coat, a mauve scarf, and a hat of some other light shade.

APPLE CARAMEL Pare and core the required number of apples, add one teaspoon sugar to each apple, a sprinkling of cinnamon, put in baking dish. Fill half way up with water around the apples, put in oven. When almost done cover the apples with a fair sprinkling of bread or cracker crumbs, dash of cinnamon, several small pieces of butter, and over all a layer of brown sugar.

If the oven is very hot care must be taken that the sugar does not burn, but that it just reaches the caramel point.

Fashions At English Weddings

Plain Gold Bands Are Preferred by British Brides—Red Blooms Church Decorations

(Copyright, 1920, by Cross Atlantic.)

London, Nov. 21—The autumn wedding season is now in full swing and reflects changes in the fashion in weddings as marked as the lines of a skirt. A Bond Street florist has discovered that brides demand a new flower; they are tired of the hazy, hazy, hazy. Water lilies recently proved admirably picturesque. Bridesmaids' choices have given place to the "Vivian" bunch of multi-colored flowers, all in one shade, a tendency to revive the former bouquet beloved of Queen Alexandra.

To the bridegroom is given the privilege of providing bouquets for his bride's attendants, as well as the flowers she will carry. In a wedding ring has not found the favor here—that it did in America. The plain gold band, narrow and rounded takes first place.

A dressmaker as to whether a bride should go to the altar wearing her engagement ring recalls the experience of a pretty maid recently. She lagged to vain to free the appon's third finger, until, in desperation at keeping the clergyman waiting, she decided to leave the gold band placed above her betrothal ring.

Next to the gowns come the church decorations, having chosen the church, study the architecture and lighting before basing into scenes of floral decoration. Tall palms in a tall church devoid of pillars will not be half as attractive as dumpy little bay trees, dressed up with ripe oranges all tied on to order. Dim light struggles through stained glass windows and spell all the effect of blue and white, but would make all-white flowers wonderfully mysterious. There is a new passion just now for red blooms in church decoration, often because the bride is dark and elects to carry a red rose.

HARDY CHRYSANTHEMUMS. When roses are but memories And phlox and golden glow Stand blackened wreaths of flowers sweet,

A few short weeks ago— A bed of gay chrysanthemums Completes my garden show. In lovely colors, yellow, white, Deep pink and rusky-red, Surrounded by the skeletons Of comrades sere and dead, These hardy blossoms bloom the more Since Jack Frost visited!

And through November's gray days Must cold and colder grow— Already the wild geese have flown, Their flight of coming snow— Distant, undisturbed and bright, They flung them in a row. It is as if the garden god, Knowing the end is near, Reserves his bravest soldiers To speed the closing year— These little, gay chrysanthemums Whose farewell note brings cheer! —Mazie V. Caruthers.

It Looks Formidable. (Hamilton Herald.) Formal notice has been served upon the British government by the Amalgamated Irish Societies of America that, on and after Nov. 14, a campaign of assassination against British subjects in the United States will be started if the killing of Irishmen by the police and military goes on.

For every Irishman killed in Ireland, the notice says, the lives of three Britons in the United States will be taken.

This is not a matter for consideration or action by the British government; it is a matter for consideration and action by the government at Washington. A government which tolerates within its jurisdiction the existence of an organization which publicly announces that murder is among its activities cannot fairly claim to be civilized among civilized governments.

But perhaps there is no such organization as the Amalgamated Irish Societies of America.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL

By HELEN ROWLAND (Copyright, 1920, by The Wausley Studio, Inc.)

The course of true love, like a golf course, would be awfully deadly and uninteresting, if it were "ran smooth."

A man spends his youth turning on the electric light of sentiment and basking in its radiance—and then is shocked and astounded when he touches the "live wire" of love. What every man wants is not a wife but a miracle—a woman who knows a lot about men—but still has all her illusions; who "understands" him—but will still idealize him; who respects him—but will still "babble" him; who adores him—but will let him alone!

Nowadays, every sincere bachelor has to be a skilled acrobat, in order to embrace a pretty woman with one arm and cling to his freedom with the other.

When a woman cries at a wedding, her emotions are so mixed, that she never quite knows whether she is weeping with sympathy, envy, joy, regret, or foreboding.

A burnt child dreads the fire; but when he grows up, he becomes foolish again and rushes recklessly from "flame" to "flame."

What disheartens a woman so, is not her husband's disinclination to listen to her "small talk," but that "Go on! I am ready to bear without" expression, which he does it.

Of course the bridegroom is of no importance at a modern wedding, but it is a charming old custom to have one there, and he doesn't actually detract from the effect.

An idealist is usually one who goes about trying to raise humanity to a higher level, while his wife is out trying to raise the rent-money.

A woman who can't forgive should never have more than a formal speaking acquaintance with the brave but fallible sex.

Proceeds In Aid of Memorial Home Delivered Second In Series of Sermons

The Rev. Dr. Hutchinson, of the Main street Baptist church, speaking before a large congregation last evening, delivered the second of a series of sermons on the Second Coming of Christ.

He took as his subject, "The Manner and Purpose of Christ's Second Coming." His text was the Acts 1: 11, "The same Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven shall come like manner as ye have seen Him go into heaven."

The doctor first considered the manner of Christ's coming. He said that the Scriptures were emphatic in their teaching of the suddenness of His coming. He was not natural to ask how would He come.

Would He come by representation, or spiritual manifestation, or in person. Some answered the enquiry by stating that He comes spiritually to each Christian at death.

That Jesus is with the Christian in the solemn hour of death to comfort and support him was gladly admitted. It is true that "Jesus can make the wing bed feel soft as downy pillows are, but death is certainly not the second coming of Christ."

Wesley when dying testified of God's presence by saying, "The best of all, God is with us." But while Jesus is undoubtedly with the Christian at the hour of death, He is there in sense of the fulfillment of the promise which He made to His disciples, that He would come again.

Christians are taught to pray and work for the coming of Christ, but one dream of working or praying for death. The coming of the Lord is something to love and to look forward to with delight. None love death and none look forward to it with pleasure.

In the Scriptures death is said to be an enemy. The last enemy that shall be destroyed was death, but Jesus is not an enemy. He is the truest and best friend man has. His first coming did not mean death to the Jews, neither does His second coming mean death to the Christian.

How He Would Come. Referring as to how He would come, the speaker said that Christ's second coming would be truly as personal as His first. It was He who first came to seek and to save, to suffer and to die in atonement to God for sin. In His second coming He will come glorified. "This same Jesus who is gone into heaven will so come as ye have seen Him go." He will return personally and will return personally.

As to the purpose of His coming—the purpose of His first coming was to reveal God to man and to suffer and die in atonement to God for sin. If there was a great purpose to be gained by His first coming, so then there is a great purpose to be realized by His second coming. What is it?

Some there are who think it is not to bring the world to an end, but to bring the present Christian age to an end. Just as His first coming brought the Jewish age and dispensation to an end, His second coming will bring this age to an end, and as the Church age succeeded the Jewish, so will the Church's age be succeeded by the Kingdom age.

For Christians pray "Thy Kingdom come," and when Jesus, the absent King, returns in power and glory, truly a new age will dawn upon the world. Then will be fulfilled the prediction "The kingdom of this world have become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ."

Another purpose of His coming is to bring all His people whether liv-

RACHMANINOFF TO PLAY AT MONTREAL

Sergei Rachmaninoff, the Russian composer and pianist, whose personality and art have made him the most commanding figure in the musical world since the retirement of Paderewski from the concert platform will give a concert of music for the piano in the Windsor Hall, Montreal, Dec. 10th.

Rachmaninoff has been preparing his programmes and working out in the open during the summer on a farm which he rented near Gosselin, N. Y. There in the heart of the Catskills he found the quiet, beautiful, simple life. Rachmaninoff prefers to live his own life. A friend scoured the country for a place where there would be plenty of room and where Russian-like he would find himself close to the soil. Every fine day he is out in his garden or his fields, a workman in overalls, with them in the clouds to meet the Lord, and so we shall be ever with the Lord.

A Third Purpose. A third purpose of His coming will be to separate the righteous from the unrighteous. To humans the task would be impossible, but the One who is to do the work of selecting and separating is incapable of error.

The Lord knoweth them that are His; and His coming will at once reveal who are His true disciples and who are not.

There shall be two in one bed, the one shall be taken and the other left; two women shall be grinding at the mill, the one shall be taken and the other left; two shall be in the field, the one shall be taken and the other left.

All who are prepared for His coming shall at His coming be caught up to meet Him; not one who has prepared for His coming shall be left on earth to pass through the tribulation which shall follow His coming. On the other hand no one who has neglected to make proper preparation will be caught up to meet Him.

In closing Dr. Hutchinson urged his people against the sin of neglecting the great salvation which God wishes all to enjoy.

A DANGEROUS GUIDE.

The course pursued by certain returned men, under the leadership of J. Harry Flynn at Massey Hall, Toronto, on Friday evening, is not calculated to help along their cause to any extent, rather the reverse in fact. As matters are, the sympathy of the vast majority of the Canadian people is strongly with those men who are making all other consideration and joined the colors, prepared to do or die for the sake of the future of civilization and the honor of their country. But much of this sympathy is liable to be alienated, if the tactics advocated by Flynn are to be followed out to any extent, and if he is to be made the mouthpiece and recognized leader of the returned men. Many people are coming to the conclusion that it is time he was relegated to the obscurity from whence he came.

The returned soldiers of Canada would be well advised to have their cause pleaded through the medium of a more diplomatic source rather than such an extremist as Flynn, who should be the last man in Canada to have the audacity to come forward to plead the cause of the returned men in the manner which he has adopted. This self-invited guest left the U. S. when the country was conscripting her army, and when conscription was a foregone conclusion in this country, and at a period when there was but small chance of conscripted men ever reaching the battlefield this brave hero enlisted in the ranks with good Canadians. Why did he not stay and help America to win the war?

Flynn is an agitator, first, last and all the time. When he made his first speech in Ottawa, he practically spread the greatest of all British traditions—"free speech"—by inviting his audience not to listen to the better quality of returned soldiers who desired to express their views. As for the $2,000 gratuity he so strongly advocated on various platforms, as soon as Sir Henry Drayton's budget was presented to the country, all the sane thinking returned soldiers realized that Flynn's $2,000 scheme was more or less a joke and a financial impossibility. Why does he not leave Canada, if he does not like the way Canadian people run their country? One complaint can be paid to the Canadian people by other nations, "there is less unrest in Canada than any other nation in the world." It is men like this soap box orator and agitator who are causing such unrest as does exist in this country today.

THE GLOBE AGAIN.

On Friday afternoon The Globe informed its readers that a convention of the farmer, labor and independent members of the Legislature and of their unsuccessful colleagues has resulted in a decision to pursue an independent course in the Legislature, under the leadership of A. C. Fawcett, member-elect for Westmorland. This course, according to The Globe, "sets all double as to the probable course of the group of farmer and labor members of the Legislature."

On Saturday, The Globe issued a corrected statement of affairs, from which it appears that five out of the ten elected farmer, labor and independent candidates were conspicuous by their absence from this meeting. In fact all those present were farmers, there was not a single labor or independent candidate there at all. The Globe is desperately anxious at all times to publish anything that it thinks may tell against Mr. Baxter and his party, in fact there appears to be no lengths to which it is not prepared to go if only thereby something can be said or done to discredit the opposition or throw obstacles in its way. The Globe, of course, is exceedingly disappointed and so because the Foster Government did not come back from the country with a substantial majority, and it seems to comfort itself with the notion that although the Farmers and Independent could, by combining forces with the opposition, outvote the Government, they won't think of doing any such thing. They may not; but just the same the Government will need to walk very circumspectly at all times, or Nemesis may overtake them at any moment.

RECKLESS MOTOR DRIVING.

It is pretty nearly time something was done to regulate the automobile traffic on the city streets. At present it is not safe for pedestrians to cross at many points. Cars come along from all directions driven as though there was a straight road in front of them and not a creature or anything else in sight. Some of the worst offenders are the C. A. & C. cars, whose drivers apparently think they have the right of way, and act accordingly. The

MR. LLOYD GEORGE

The British reading public has been having a joyous time in absorbing the sarcastic diatribes in Mrs. Asquith's "Antiblography." And now another feast has been spread for those who love close-up views of politicians as seen by a satirist. A great sensation has been sprung in London by the publication of the "Duster" by Downing Street (Mills and Boon, London). The author, for very good reasons hides behind the mask of anonymity. He calls himself "A Gentleman with a Duster." The character sketches in this book are written with consummate skill, and are evidently from the pen of some distinguished Englishman who thinks that it is his duty to give a good dusting to many of his famous contemporaries, including Lord George, Napoleon, Asquith, Balfour, and several of the generals of industry. The literary critics in London are all making guesses as to the identity of the "Gentleman with the Duster." Whoever he is, he has made such a hit that his incisive studies of his contemporaries are being read about as eagerly to day in the London "Daily News."

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE.

Sir Henry Drayton grows in the public esteem. His appointment to the position of Finance Minister, second in importance in the Cabinet to that of Premier, was somewhat of a surprise, for, while he had won reputation and place locally in Toronto in youth, and subsequently had become known as chairman of the Railway Commission, he had not sat in Parliament, and was not suspected to possess the qualifications essential to success in the political field. But, as the Montreal Gazette points out, Sir Henry has surprised the doubters and delighted his friends since he took over his present office, and if the reason is sought it will probably be found to consist of his urbanity. He has the savoir-vie of a sensible temper, a logical mind which insists upon knowing the why and wherefore of things, an imperturbable good humor and a generous outlook on life. No one comes in contact with Sir Henry Drayton without quickly discerning his frank and friendly nature, and his humanities are apt to be more potent in swaying a popular audience, as well as in convincing the elect in the Commons, than oratorical gifts or the cultivated arts of a platform speaker.

The Finance Minister has conducted the Tariff enquiry admirably. As is his duty, he listens intently and patiently to the petitions presented him, and does not hesitate to query and interject to expose off-hand the fallacy of an argument or to develop it to a logical conclusion. He wants to know. There is a famous epiphany of a scholar that he "died learning," and it may be said of Sir Henry Drayton that he lived enquiring. Whatever may be the outcome of the tariff investigation this much seems certain: that the Finance Minister will acquire an intimate knowledge of the subject, and from that knowledge may be expected to evolve a fiscal policy well balanced in respect of conflicting interests, and conceived with intent to conserve the greatest good for the greatest number.

Lovers of good music who have been looking forward to the Anna Casselet will very naturally regret to learn that that accomplished artist is too seriously indisposed to make the journey here. However, in so far as such regret can be confined to the non-appearance of an accomplished singer, it will be considerably mollified by the fact that another equally talented singer has been secured to take Miss Casselet's place, in the person of the celebrated Spanish tenor, Lazaro. Not a little trouble was experienced by the promoters of the recital in securing a substitute for Miss Casselet, and their efforts in this direction are deserving of hearty recognition by the music-loving citizens of St. John. Really good music and singing are more the exception than the rule in these days; "ragtime" and the unmelodious "jam" having unfortunately captivated the popular ear to a very large extent. However, there are still people who like the old-fashioned kind of music and song and it is to this class that the forthcoming recital will appeal, and they should show their appreciation of it, a trouble which has been taken to provide them with an opportunity of hearing a really first-class artist by attending the recital in large numbers.

The situation in Ireland is such as to warrant grave apprehension as to the immediate future. In plain language, it could not be very much worse, and it is impossible to forecast the outcome. Life appears to be held about as cheaply as it was in Belgium when the German hordes overran it, and it seems to be as needlessly sacrificed. The wholesale slaughter which has taken place during the last forty-eight hours will shock all who have the least sympathy with Ireland's troubles, for they will realize that such circumstances can have no other effect than to further aggravate the difficulties now existing.

SMALL KIDNEY DISEASE

It is all very well to call Mr. Lloyd George "a man of straw," but how could a man of straw have accomplished what the British premier's bitter enemies are forced to admit that he has done in the way of oratorical inspiration and executive ability during the greatest crisis in the history of the world? The Dusterman is amazingly inconsistent in his fustian about the ultimate value and worth of the "Man of straw" gibe with this paragraph that appears, remember, in this very article—"His intemper, a logical mind which insists upon knowing the why and wherefore of things, an imperturbable good humor and a generous outlook on life. No one comes in contact with Sir Henry Drayton without quickly discerning his frank and friendly nature, and his humanities are apt to be more potent in swaying a popular audience, as well as in convincing the elect in the Commons, than oratorical gifts or the cultivated arts of a platform speaker."

OBITUARY.

Walter Scott Butler.
Newcastle Creek, Nov. 21.—A gloom
cast over this place yesterday afternoon when it became known that Walter Scott Butler, a life-long resident of this place, had died after a short illness of pneumonia, which developed only five days previous. He was the son of the late Walter S.
Butler, one time member of the Provincial Parliament, and Janet Powers.
He was 63 years of age and unmarried. He leaves to mourn two brothers, Leslie, of Sypher Cove, Queens County, and Herbert V. St. John, Service, Quatons House, St. John, N. B.
Mrs. Joseph F. Hector

Mrs. Fannie Hector, wife of Joseph F. Hector, died Saturday morning at her residence, 116 Sheffield street. Besides her husband she is survived by an adopted son, Walter. The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon

3 o'clock from her late residence.
James F. Brittain

Friends in the city will regret to hear of the death of James F. Brittain, formerly of this city, which occurred
on Monday, November 16, at Boston, Mass. He was a son of the late Mr.
and Mrs. Robert T. Brittain and leaves his wife and three children in Boston.
George E. Finley

Friends of George E. Finley will learn with regret of his death which occurred yesterday morning at his residence 174 Carriarthen street. He leaves to mourn his wife, two sons, R.
P. and H. C. Finley, and two daughters, Miss Katherine E. Finley and Mrs. Thomas Murray, all of this city.
The deceased had been ailing for some time past. He was a well known sea-captain, 68 years of age, and sailed out of this port nearly all his time of going to sea and for a very long period was a well known resident of the North End. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity as well as the Temple of Honor. The funeral will be held from the late residence Tuesday afternoon, service at 2.30 o'clock.

Elizabeth L. Short

The many friends of Elizabeth L.
Short, wife of Harry J. Short, will learn with deepest regret of her sudden death which occurred about 9.30 o'clock yesterday morning. Although she was a very patient sufferer for many years her death came as a great shock to her family. Besides her husband she leaves three daughters, Misses Mabel, Gladys and Constance to mourn, also

Lack of Reverence
In The World

Rev. Canon Kuhring Referred to Naming Dances After John and Charles Wesley.

In the course of a sermon preached at St. John's (Stone) Church yesterday morning on "The Need of the World," Rev. Canon Kuhring referred to the lack of reverence in the world and instances the fact that dance masters have shown great irreverence in naming questionable dances after such worthy men as John and Charles Wesley.
Canon Kuhring went on to speak of the darkness and immorality in the world, and the cry for bread which, in spite of our bountiful harvest, is heard today in Europe and China. He said the remedy for famine is for men to put themselves and their possessions into the hands of Jesus as the five loaves and two fishes were given in New Testament times, trusting to the Lord to make the gift adequate to the need. The address was a powerful one and was earnestly delivered.

W. O. Chamberlain and Mrs. Chamberlain, of Bathurst, spent Sunday in the city as guests of the Dufferin.

Anniversary of
St. David's Church

First of Rebuilding of Edifice,
and 72nd of Founding — Special Services Yesterday.

Thankfulness for the past and hope for the future were earnestly expressed yesterday at St. David's anniversary services. The first anniversary of the rebuilding of the church
after its destruction by fire, and the seventy-second anniversary of the founding of St. David's, with Dr. John Thompson as its first minister, were celebrated by addresses by Rev. Mr.
T. Stewart, largely attended services, special music and a liberal offering in aid of the building funds.

Rev. J. A. MacKeigan, at the evening service, referred to the occasion, saying the church was founded on the principles of religious freedom,
and through the years has increased in strength and usefulness. It has been severely tested, twice the building has been destroyed, but the church has come through trials with honor.
Rev. Dr. Stewart, of Finlayhill, Halifax, in his sermon, said that service is the highest task for which man was put into the world. There are two classes of men who do not serve others, anchorites, who only care about their salvation or are intent upon knowledge for their own gain, and demigods who use other people's treasures for their own benefit. Lasting fame is secured not by men like Napoleon and Alexander, but by characters such as Whiteford, Lord Rod-dick and General Boscawen. A prominent man has said that the solution of all labor problems will be when both sides honestly believe every person in the world to serve others. Paul, in this incidental description of David,
the soldier, sovereign and psalmist,
teaches this view of his service, the brotherhood of man and Fatherhood of God. Service to men and obedience to God rounds out a life. The best preparation for death, which is not a dread, but a rest, is to live rightly. Obedience to God will teach men how to live, and thus death need not be dreadful, for it comes like sleep
to a tired child.
In the morning Dr. Stewart spoke
upon the Resurrection.
Special music, which was very fine,
included: "The King of Love" (Shelley); quartette, Miss Blenda Thompson, Miss Ermie Climo, Messrs. J. W. Roddick
and E. C. Girvan; anthem, "From Heavenly Heights" (Woolen).
Evening service: "Praise Ye" (Yerby); Miss Climo, Messrs. Girvan
and Roddick; "Love Not the World" (Sullivan), solo, Miss Blenda Thompson; anthem, "Send Out Thy Light" (Gounod). Bayard Curry is organist, and Miss Thompson is choir director.
At the after-church song service
Robert Roddick also spoke, and given by Ronald Shaw and Miss Annie Aird. Miss Phyllis McEwan acted as accompanist.

Mentioned As Chief Inspector

It has been persistently rumored about the city the past few days that Sheriff Hawthorne, of York County, was slated for Chief Liquor Inspector in succession to Rev. W. D. Wilson.
The rumor was dispelled last night when Sheriff Hawthorne informed the Standard
he had no official notice of any such proposed appointment, although he had been sounded as to whether such an appointment would be agreeable to him.
He further stated he would not resign
his present office of sheriff to accept the inspectorship. In other words, if the Government wants Sheriff Hawthorne as Chief Inspector they must permit him also to continue as sheriff.
Only on that condition would he act.
No appointment to the office of inspector would meet with more popular approval than that of Sheriff Hawthorne. For many years an official in the enforcement of law, he is thoroughly conversant with the wily ways of law breakers and if given a free hand would make it uncomfortable for the most daring of them. Such at least, is the comment made by his friends in this city.

Tax Dodgers Will
Be In Court Today

In connection with the administration of the Dominion Income Tax repeated warnings have been given to those who have failed to furnish the New Brunswick representative with the proper returns. A number of persons throughout the Province are still backward and as a result of failure of some to comply with the requirements of the law officers representing the Finance Department have been in New Brunswick during the past few days, in Moncton on Friday after the hearing of a complaint against Mr. A. E. Trites for failing to make return for 1918 after repeated requests, a fine of $300 was imposed and paid. This is the first instance of the kind in New Brunswick, but a hearing will be held in St. John tomorrow before Magistrate Ritchie when charges will be preferred against a number of residents of this city who have also failed to make the proper returns.

WEDDINGS.

Teakles-Cook.
A wedding of much interest was sol-
emized at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Burpee Cook, South Branch, at 4 o'clock on Wednesday, Nov. 17th, when their eldest daughter, Dicie Annie, was united in marriage to Joseph J. Teakles, of Penobscus. Rev. A. Perry performed the ceremony beneath an evergreen arch banked at the base with potted plants. The bride was becomingly dressed in blue silk. After the ceremony a dainty wedding supper was served in the dining-room. Many beautiful gifts of silverware, cut glass, linen and substantial cheques were received by the bride, showing the esteem in which she was held. Among them was a cheque from the parents of the bride of one hundred dollars.
The groom's gift to the bride was a set of black fox furs. Mr. and Mrs.
Teakles will reside in Penobscus where Mr. Teakles is engaged in farming.

Buck-Keith.
Sussex, N. B., Nov. 21. — A pretty home wedding was solemnized at high noon on Saturday last, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Keith, Church avenue,
Sussex, when their eldest daughter,
Marion, was united in marriage to Frank Martin Buck, of Dorchester, N. B.
Rev. D. J. McPherson performed the ceremony in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. The happy couple stood under an arch of evergreen, from which hung suspended
a floral belt. They were unattended.
The bride wore a taupe suit with black and white trimmings and a tailored
hat. Rev. D. J. McPherson performed

AUTO COLLISION
ON POND STREET

Two automobiles came together with tremendous force on Pond street yesterday afternoon, which resulted disastrously to the machines and fortunately for the occupants of the cars
no one being injured.
A seven passenger Oldsmobile was coming in Pond street while a Dodge five passenger was going out. At the point where the two cars met, the front of Swell street, a turn that is rather a blind one, the two machines met.
The rare presence of mud on the driver of the Oldsmobile, who quickly turned his car to the sidewalk, saved a head on collision, which would have,
without doubt, resulted seriously to the occupant of the lighter car. As it was the heavier car that took the blow of the lighter one on its right side, knocking it three-quarters way about, sending it skidding sideways along the sidewalk into a junk pile.
The mud guards and running board
on the right side of the Oldsmobile were broken and split, and the two rear wheels collapsed under the shud-ders of the Dodge car, which was smashing. The front lights and mud and the front axle sprang.
Those who viewed the scene of the accident and saw the dust kicked up by the Dodge car, which was smashing it as miraculously that it did not turn turtle with injury to its occupants.

BAND AND PARADE THROUGH PLACE

Great Ovation When Premier and Wife Appear on Balcony of the Hotel.

Ashton, Ont., Nov. 21.—Great crowds of Canadians delighted in honoring their public men when they were here yesterday afternoon, when, despite the feelings created by the most strenuous political campaign ever conducted in this part of the Dominion, a vast crowd of East Elgin's electors of all shades of political thought packed the centre of the town in an enthusiastic and unimpeachable way to welcome the Prime Minister, Hon. Arthur Meighan, and his wife, who arrived here shortly after 8.30 p. m.

The streets had been gaily decorated with flags, and a very large contingent of the citizens, with the town band in attendance, met the Premier's party at the western boundary of the town, and, forming a procession, escorted them through the principal streets to the Brown House, where a large address of welcome was presented to the Premier by Mayor F. L. Wagner.

Non-Party Greeting. The appearance of Mr. and Mrs. Meighan on the hotel balcony, where the address of welcome was presented, was the occasion of a great ovation, and the Premier, in his address, shared equally in the welcome with the large Conservative contingent.

More Grace In Heels Than In Their Heads. Rev. Canon Armstrong Referred to Number of Dance Halls Opening in the City.

Some people are getting more grace in their heels than in their heads," said Rev. Canon Armstrong, in an eloquent sermon preached in Trinity Church last evening in which he referred to the number of dance halls opening in this city.

To Alleviate Boredom. (London Daily Express.) A process of overhauling is a commendable and necessary procedure with things mechanical or human.

WAS SUFFERING FROM INDIGESTION No Fear of Pains Now.

Indigestion is one of the worst forms of stomach trouble, and many people suffer terribly after every meal they eat. The rising and souring of the food, pains in the stomach, heart-burn, water brash, belching of wind, vomiting shortly after eating, etc., are some of the symptoms.

There is no need for any person to be troubled with indigestion, dyspepsia or any other stomach trouble if they would only take Burdock Blood Bitters, which contains a combination of nature's roots, herbs, berries and berries; a combination that cannot help but put the stomach right.

Mr. Justice Riddell Declares North America is in Peril from Red Activities.

New York, Nov. 21.—The whole American continent is menaced by Bolshevism, and all the people should work together to repulse these assaults, Judge Wm. Fenwick Riddell, of the Ontario Supreme Court, said here last night in an address at an annual dinner of the Canadian Society.

Justice Riddell said the real working Bolshevism is to be feared, because of his insidious propaganda and activities, and that the people of both the great nations of the American continent should band themselves together.

14 OFFICERS SHOT DOWN IN DUBLIN CITY

At Nine O'clock Sunday Morning Sinn Feiners Murdered Heads of Military Courts.

(Continued from page 1) At a house in Baginbun street, Captain Newbury was shot by five men. He was in the front parlor of the house.

The members of the attacking party who invaded homes in various parts of Dublin, the statement asserts, also searched the premises of their victims as though seeking to secure evidence of the guilt of the men slain or wounded in the enforcement of the law.

The List of Casualties. The official list of those killed in the murder raid follows:—Major Dowling, Captain D. L. MacLean, Newbury, Captain P. McCormick and Messrs. Bennett, Aimes, Mahon, T. H. Smith and L. A. Wilde.

The wounded are:—Colonels Woodcock and Montgomery, Captain Kinnealy and Messrs. Murray and Caldwell and one other. Caldwell was first reported killed. Captain MacLean and Messrs. Smith and Caldwell were attacked by a band of twelve men in a house in Northampton road. They were taken from their bedrooms to the top story of the house, where they were shot.

Most of the civilian victims were former service men, who held positions in administrative departments closely connected with the administration of justice. The officers in some cases were marked men, because of their prominence in court-martial proceedings.

Raw Sugar Market Continued Unsettled With Fine Grained from $9 to $9.50.

New York, Nov. 21.—Saturday's brief session of stock market began with fresh liquidation, due to renewed liquidation and professional pressure among leaders of the steel industry and all groups.

Crestline Steel extended Friday's heavy loss of almost five points to the year's low of 45, and Baldwin Locomotive and American Petroleum joined the long list of minimum quotations for the past twelve months.

Sundry specialties continued to ease on what seemed like belated selling of gold holdings.

These adverse factors were balanced by the firmness of railroads, shipping, and buying of those stocks was mainly for short covering to close contracts over the week-end. Sales aggregated 76,000 shares.

Bright Days Coming

Adverse and general developments pertaining to the market were more encouraging. A leading commercial authority reported "more life in several branches of trade" and remittances to London and Paris strengthened.

Bonds were dull and uncertain as to trend, although several of the Liberty issues and the Victory notes closed at moderate advances. Total sales (par value) amounted to $7,176,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call for the week.

The Clearing House statement disclosed a surprisingly moderate decrease of actual loans and discounts, considering the week's drastic liquidation of stocks. Reserves of members at the Federal Bank decreased about $24,400,000 and excess reserves fell to slightly less than $12,000,000 against the previous week's total of $22,900,000.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Nov. 21.—During Saturday night the pressure over the Ontario and Quebec increased considerably with falling temperature while a low area developed near Lake Michigan and has since remained almost stationary. Rain and sleet have fallen in Southern Ontario and snow in parts of Eastern Ontario, elsewhere the weather has been fair.

AROUND THE CITY

EXCHANGE PULPITS—Rev. P. McKim exchanged with Rev. Canon Kurling last evening and preached a Gospel sermon at St. John's (Stone) Church before a large congregation.

Restaurant Faces Soaring Skywards

Up go restaurant prices in St. John. All over the continent the prices of food have been increasing since August.

Expensive Chicken

Alas for the lover of the chicken. Never did they fly upwards faster. A quarter of a little bird, nicely fried, sets one back 70 cents now, where before he escaped a dime lower.

Message From President C. P. R.

The mere fact that eleven million fatherless children in Europe are in danger of death from starvation and disease is surely sufficient to justify this appeal on their behalf to the charitable people of Canada, even though there may be many other calls of local interest.

Beaten and Robbed Of Forty Dollars

Grenville McDonald Victim Of Cowardly Assault on Brussels St. Saturday Night

Grenville McDonald, an employee of the construction company at the East St. John terminal works, was the victim of a vicious and cowardly assault at 11.30 Saturday night at the hands of four men, as yet unknown.

Was Attacked

Mr. McDonald had been to the bank and delivering a pay envelope to a fellow employee who was ill and at the time of the assault was proceeding to his boarding house at East St. John.

Price of Flour Has Taken Drop

The wholesale price of a barrel of flour by the car-load lot has decreased forty cents in other words, instead of paying $13.05 per barrel, the baker will pay only $12.65. This recession becomes effective today and will, no doubt, be received gladly by householders who hope that further reductions will lead to the obtaining of cheaper bread.

Senator Daniel On Hospital Matters

Senator Daniel, in a speech before the House of Commons, stated that it is almost impossible to prevent vermin in buildings brought in by patients.

Prices Has Fluctuated

The price of flour has fluctuated and decreased considerably since August last. Since that time freight prices have advanced, so that flour actually has gone down still more here than at places where it is manufactured.

Constantly Cleaning

As well as the usual thorough cleaning, men are employed to paint and clean rooms and wards constantly. One room which has been thought to be a centre of the trouble has had the plaster torn from the walls, the room has been scrubbed, repainted and everything done to make it habitable.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY

St. Andrew's Society will attend service at St. David's Church next Sunday, being the Sunday before St. Andrew's Day.

Proposal To Unite Lancaster and City

Mayor Schofield Thinks This Will Come Some Day—Councillor O'Brien Don't Want It

There is more or less discussion going on over the proposal of Lancaster uniting with the City of St. John. The proposal has its champions as well as its opponents.

Mayor Schofield

In commenting on the proposal last night, Mayor Schofield said: "The city is in a very bad way, and it will have to be thrashed out. It will be a good many moons, I fear, before such can take place, but I believe it eventually will be done."

Councillor O'Brien

Councillor O'Brien can't see where Lancaster is going to be a winner by such union. He said he had heard of such a proposal, but was unable to find any property holder there who was crazy over the idea.

Great Possibilities

I can see great possibilities ahead for Lancaster, especially with the coming of cheaper power, which has been promised us by the Government.

Bugs For Forty Years

Dr. Daniel who is chairman of the Board of Hospital Commissioners further stated that as far as his experience went there had been bed bugs in the institution for forty years.

Prices Prevailing In City Market

Farmerette Tells Reporter What "Stall Fed" Chicken is and Asks 60c. a Pound.

"Run along, kid, and sell your papers. Who ever heard of farmerettes in Fredericton?" Such was the hand-out given The Standard man, Saturday forenoon, when he took a swing through the market and ventured the information that farmerettes at Fredericton were selling their butter at 55 cents, ten cents cheaper than the farmers occupying berths in the City Market.

Asked Good Prices

The farmers and farmerettes surely did have a good display of farm produce at Saturday's market. Yes, they had good prices, too. There was a particularly good line of chickens, and not a few old hens.

Eggs were not plentiful, Saturday.

The Standard man, Saturday forenoon, was lucky he could secure them at 12 1/2 cents a pair. They looked good and set The Standard fellow fighting over a good old-fashioned cider egg would cost with eggs still hanging close to the sky line.

An Article Worth Reading

Extract from The Literary Digest, November 13th.

"We welcome every $10 check to care for one child, and every hard-earned dollar given by those who can give no more. That little girl, the 'widow's mite,' and we earnestly hope that not a single man, or woman, or child will withhold the small gift, because it cannot be as large as the loving heart that prompts it.
