

FORDNEY BILL PASSES HOUSE BY HUGE LEAD

By Vote of 289 to 127 Tariff Measure is Accepted Amidst Terrific Applause.

EXPECTED TO RAISE $500,000,000 CASH

Chairman Fordney Got Great Cheer from the Galleries as Measure is Adopted.

Washington, July 21.—The Republican protective tariff bill, estimated by Chairman Fordney to raise a round five hundred million dollars in revenues annually was passed tonight by the House by a vote of 289 to 127—precisely the vote by which a Democratic motion for elimination of its United States valuation provision was defeated. Seven Republicans voted against the measure, while the same number of Democrats supported it.

On Free Lists.

Oils, hides, cotton and asphalt stood up against a determined fight to tax them and remained on the free list. The Longworth dye embargo, first of the five contested schedules to go before the House proper for a separate vote, and backed by most of the Republican members of the ways and means committee was thrown out, 269 to 184.

There was not much chance of imposing a duty on hides and cotton after the House, in committee of the whole, had defeated amendments carrying compensatory rates on their manufactured products. When the oil amendment was reached there was such a shout of "noes" that a roll call was not demanded.

Terrific Din in House.

A moment later, Chairman Fordney, trying to make himself heard, above the din which prevailed during the three hours of voting announced that sentiment in the committee of the whole against taxing asphalt had been so overwhelming that it was not worth while to go through the form of calling the roll.

More than 200 committee amendments rushed through during the last few days, were put up to be voted on in a block. Some were merely corrections in spelling in the bill, some shifted commas and some changed the rates, but the Democrats, still holding their forces in line, compelled a record vote.

Divided the Parties.

Just before the roll call to pass the bill, Representative Garner, of Texas, ranking Democrat on the ways and means committee, stepped to the front with the expected motion to send the bill back to its framers with instructions to strike out the United States valuation and reciprocal provisions. This was where the Republicans and Democrats divided squarely on the whole tariff issue, although they had split widely on some of the earlier votes.

It probably was the first time since war days that the house found itself with such a quorum on the eve of a vote. Closing the long wrangle over the bill, Chairman Fordney brought Republican members to their feet by declaring it would bring greater prosperity to the country than it now enjoyed. The veteran tariff maker, thrilled by the demonstration smiled and bowed and then wheeled about to wave to the galleries.

Declares It Has as Good a Right as Holland to Seat at Table.

Paris, July 21.—The Belgian government has instructed Baron De Cartier de Marchienne, Belgian ambassador to the United States, to present strongly the reasons why Belgium should participate in the conference on disarmament in Washington, according to Brüssel of the Echo de Paris today.

M. Puttmans declared that the Belgian sensibilities have been somewhat hurt by President Harding's phrase in his call for the conference, the "principal allied and associated powers" which the Belgians consider reduce Belgium to a lower rank than that which the correspondent says Belgium feels it has attained by its part in the war.

Interests in East.

The Belgian interests in the Far East are described as being of real importance, notably the Kai-Ping mines in the northeast of Tien Tsin, the railways in China and also numerous national bank enterprises.

The Belgian government considers its national dignity engaged, M. Puttmans asserts, especially if Holland is invited to attend the conference. The Belgians consider also that the question of disarmament vitally concerns them as they now are part of the bloc of western powers.

No Charge Against Prisoner Yet But One May be Laid After Examination.

Ottawa, July 21.—Amos Moorehouse, uncle of Miss Gertrude Wills, who was living with the Wills family when young Thomas Eugene Farrell was murdered on a lonely road at Farrington, Sunday night last, was taken into custody today at 1.30 by Quebec Provincial Detective St. Germain of Montreal and High Constable Joseph Chretien, of Hull, and is being brought to Hull by automobile.

The arrest of Moorehouse followed a lengthy interview which the two officers had with him today, concerning his movements on the day of the murder and as a result of certain information which has been gleaned by the authorities which they are not at present prepared to divulge.

Charge not Decided

Sheriff Wright stated that Moorehouse had been arrested on the suspicion that he had committed the murder of Farrell but could not state what charge, if any, would be laid against him, until he had been subjected to an examination at Hull.

Amos Moorehouse, who is about forty years of age, has been residing with his brother-in-law, Mr. Wills for some years, since his return from British Columbia, where he had been engaged in the lumber industry.

On the night of the murder of Farrell he was at the Wills home, and according to his story, owing to the hot weather, slept in a barn or machine shop at the rear of the home.

Candy Made For Own Trade Free

Maker Need Not Pay Taxes Imposed Upon Manufacturers Court Has Decided.

Ottawa, July 21.—Judgment in the action of the attorney general against Peter Korson, a candy merchant, has been handed down. This was an action taken by the inland revenue department for the purpose of recovering ten per cent. tax on candies made by Korson, and two per cent. sales tax. The department took the position that although the candies made by Korson were used entirely in connection with his retail business, he was nevertheless a manufacturer, and so liable for the taxes.

This position was opposed by Korson, and Judge Gunn by the judgment just delivered dismissed the action governing the ten per cent. manufacturers' tax by its wording limited to goods imported or, at all events, goods which have a "duty paid value," and that as the defendant's goods did not come under this heading, no manufacturers' tax was payable.

FARMERS PICK ALBERTA HEAD NEXT TUESDAY

H. W. Wood, President of the U. F. A., Likely to be Choice of Party.

POLICY OF SILENCE UNTIL THE MEETING

Late Charles Baker Who Died Day Following Election Had Strong Support.

Calgary, July 21.—Alberta's political situation, which became complicated as a result of Farmers' party defeating the Liberals last Monday night, probably be straightened out next Tuesday when the Farmer members elect will meet in Calgary for the purpose of formulating a plan of action. The first matter that must be disposed of will be the leadership. It is understood that H. W. Wood, the president of the United Farmers of Alberta, will have the refusal of this position; but he has refused privately to discuss the question before the meeting takes place.

Other Choices

In the event that Mr. Wood is not selected, the next in line seems to be Herbert Greenfield, of Westlock, who has been prominent in U. F. A. affairs for years and who is chairman of the Alberta Union of Municipalities. The late Charles Baker, of Ponoka, who died the day after he was elected member, would have been likely timber had he lived.

LLOYD GEORGE MAY ANNOUNCE TERMS TO-DAY

Expected He Will Tell the Commons What He Proposes to Give to Ireland.

TRUCE TO CONTINUE WITHOUT A BREAK

De Valera to Return to Dublin at Once to Lay Proposals Before Dail Eireann.

London, July 21.—The parliamentary correspondent of the London Times understands that Premier Lloyd George will announce the terms of the Government's offer to Mr. De Valera in a speech in the House of Commons tomorrow.

The proposals of the British Government, which it is hoped may form a basis of an Irish settlement, are in the hands of Eamonn De Valera, the Irish Republican leader. Mr. De Valera will return to Dublin and submit them to the other leaders of opinion in Southern Ireland, including the members of the Dail Eireann, the Irish Republican Parliament.

Reviewed Terms Again

The British Prime Minister and Mr. De Valera went over the ground again today, but as Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, had returned to Belfast, and there was no possibility for the present of a conference between the representatives of the three parties concerned, it was hardly expected that any definite decision would be taken by Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. De Valera today. A joint official communique issued shortly after the conference declared that "the basis for a further conference has not yet been found."

At the same time it was announced that Mr. De Valera on his return to Ireland, would communicate with the Prime Minister after further discussion with his colleagues.

Truce to Continue

It is authoritatively announced that the truce in Ireland will continue indefinitely, this clearly proving that there is no idea on either side of a rupture of the negotiations. It will be a pause in the discussion while Dublin and Belfast ponder the Government offer. This, according to the Dublin correspondent of the Associated Press, is on the whole, a pause of a nature intended to prove attractive to Ulster. Complete secrecy as to the details of the terms is maintained, but such hints as are allowed to escape describe them as generous and affording no excuse for terminating the conversations.

Still Are Hopeful

In the lobbies of Parliament tonight the feeling remained hopeful and there was a general impression that an autumn session could not be avoided, the impression being based on the belief that it would be necessary in order to introduce new Irish legislation.

On the eve of returning to Ireland Mr. De Valera requested the press to acknowledge his great appreciation of the courtesy and kindness with which he himself and his colleagues had been received and treated during their stay in London, not only by the members of the Government, but by the general public.

Curzon is Hopeful.

London, July 21.—A hopeful view of the Irish peace negotiations was taken by Lord Curzon, the secretary for foreign affairs, in the House of Lords this evening, when he incidentally touched upon the situation. It was the government's intention to have an autumn session of parliament Lord Curzon said in answering a question, but if the Irish negotiations proved successful—and so far, he was glad to say, they seemed charged with hope—it was conceivable that the assembling of parliament in the autumn might be necessary.

FOUR YEARS EACH GIVEN GERMAN U-BOAT OFFICERS

Found Guilty of Manslaughter—Instead of Murder in Llandoverly Castle Crime.

HARD LABOR WAS NOT IMPOSED

Leipzig Court Says Bold and Dittmar Fired on Lifeboats on Impulse.

Leipzig, July 21.—Lieutenant Dittmar and Lieutenant Bold, charged with murder in the first degree for firing on lifeboats after the Canadian hospital ship Llandoverly Castle had been torpedoed in the summer of 1918, were each sentenced today to four years' imprisonment.

The sentence did not, however, carry hard labor with it, as demanded by the public prosecutor. The case of Dittmar and Bold differed from the case of the two lieutenants who were brought to trial by the German public prosecutor, Great Britain had demanded the trial of only Commander Patzig, of the submarine which torpedoed the Llandoverly Castle, who fled the country. The public prosecutor, however, after an examination of the evidence, ordered that Dittmar and Bold be placed on trial.

Acted on Impulse.

In addition to his prison sentence, Lieut. Dittmar's dismissal from the Reichsmarine was ordered. Lieut. Bold, who a short time ago retired from the navy, was ordered deprived of his civil rights.

The men were sentenced for manslaughter, not murder, on the ground that the "officers acted on the impulse of the moment."

An excited crowd filled the courtroom today. Many women and mercenary friends of the prisoners were present. The accused officers looked more cheerful than at any time since their trial began, but their appearances changed when the sentences were announced.

Dr. Schmidt, president of the Supreme Court, which is trying German accused of violations of civilized warfare, in reviewing the case against the two lieutenants, declared the Llandoverly Castle was torpedoed against the law of nations.

Judge's Address.

"Everything aboard was in perfect order," he said, "and furthermore, the sinking was against all regulations of the German Admiralty, as the ship was in waters where torpedoing was forbidden.

"At least three lifeboats got clear. There was no reason why all could not have been picked up. All three must have been abandoned when the submarine began firing, and two of them must have been hit.

"The court finds these boats were fired on intentionally, with the object of removing witnesses who could testify to the manner by which the submarine was commanded.

Share Commander's Responsibility.

"The court finds that both of the accused took part in the firing and in the effort to cover up the deed. Therefore, both share Commander Patzig's responsibility. Furthermore, the court finds the officers acted on the impulse of the moment, that the deed was not premeditated, consequently they were not guilty of murder. They would have done their duty if they had refused to obey Commander Patzig's orders to fire on the lifeboats, which would have been justified in refusing to comply with the commander's demand to maintain secrecy.

"This terrible case casts a shadow over the German navy and the whole submarine war."

There was some commotion in the courtroom after the sentence was pronounced, but the police locked the doors and prevented demonstrations by the crowds which had gathered outside.

Plans 3,000 Mile Trip in Small Boat

Will Sail for South Sea Island in 34 Foot Yawl—Three Months for Trip.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 21.—Harry Pidgeon, who single handed sailed a thirty-four foot yawl from Los Angeles harbor to Honolulu and back last summer, is preparing his craft for a voyage to the South Sea Islands, 3,000 miles southwest of here. He plans to set sail for the Marquesas within the next month or so.

Pidgeon is an amateur mariner. Without previous experience he built his boat himself. He got his plan from the twenty-five foot yawl Sea Bird in which Thomas Fleming Day made a trip across the Atlantic twenty years ago, but made his own boat nine feet longer.

When he had finished his shipbuilding last summer he obtained a sextant and picked up a little navigation. Then he set sail alone and made Honolulu in twenty-six days after a fairly rough trip. He also sailed the boat home but took a shipmate along to give him a better opportunity to sleep.

Pidgeon plans to take supplies and water sufficient for two or three months to carry him through the doldrums in the South Pacific. A sea anchor will furnish a valuable part of his equipment for use in heavy weather or when he sleeps.

Old Roman Fort Being Unearthed

Excavations on Site of Segontium, at Carnarvon, Wales.

London, July 21.—The excavations on the site of Segontium, the Roman fort and town at Carnarvon, were resumed last week under the direction of Dr. R. H. Mortimer Wheeler, of the National Museum of Wales, on behalf of the Segontium Excavation Committee. The excavations, which were begun last year outside the northwestern ramparts of the fort, are being continued this year within the fort, between the Beddgelert Road and the Mawr Farm.

The north-western gateway of the fort has already been laid bare and is seen to have consisted of a single entrance, flanked on each side by a square tower or guard-room. One of these guard-rooms is still preserved to a height of 3 ft., and is partially constructed of enormous blocks of masonry. It has not yet been ascertained when this was built, but it was certainly occupied in the 4th century of our era. A coin of Constantine the Great (who is said by a Welsh tradition to have been buried at Segontium) has been found beneath the uppermost floor of the guard-room. The whole floor was littered with burnt branches, bones, and shell fish—the refuse, apparently, of the meals of many a Roman guard. Within the fort, other buildings, probably barrack rooms and storerooms, are now being uncovered.

TEAR GAS WAS EFFECTIVE AS MOB DISPELLER

200 Stalwart Philadelphia Policemen Thrice Driven Into Hasty Retreat.

SEVERAL USES TO WHICH IT MAY BE PUT

Would Protect Bank Vaults—Stains Left on Clothing Aid Identification.

Philadelphia, July 21.—The effectiveness of tear gas as a mob dispeller or received the emphatic endorsement of 200 stalwart Philadelphia policemen today after it thrice sent them into hasty and fearful retreat during an official test here.

Superintendent of Police Mills took a battalion of his heartiest men into a roped off enclosure with instructions to capture six men who were armed with 150 tear gas bombs. Three times they charged, but each time were driven back, weeping violently, as they came within range of the charged vapor. Major Stephen de la Noe, of the chemical warfare division, United States army, inventor of the gas, assured the mob before they entered the mimic battle that the substance was "absolutely not dangerous."

It is merely a tear producing, choking, sneezing gas, but be careful; you don't swallow too much," he said.

Proved Its Value.

Police officials declared the test had undoubtedly proved the value of tear gas in police work. Not only is it immediately effective in dispersing a mob, but it may be used to drive a fugitive from a barricaded building, they said. A container of the substance placed in a bank vault in such a position that it would be released if the doors were opened outside of banking hours, would also thwart burglaries, the authorities said.

In addition the gas leaves reddish brown stains on clothing which would aid in identifying those taking part in riots or criminal ventures.

Readers Victims Helpless.

Victims who inhale the fumes are rendered helpless for a short time, but not endangered. Officials asserted it was likely the gas would displace older instruments used to subdue mobs and criminals.

During the second attack a small dog joined the policemen with enthusiasm. The first time, he got good swaller of the gas, the canine's attitude changed to one of surprise. With his tongue hanging out, he turned and fled to a nearby pound and immersed himself.

The only accident occurred when a rotund policeman, suspecting an intentionally set down on a loaded grenade that had slipped into the side lines. His weight exploded the missile and the result sent him flying after the dog for a drink of water.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT THE SALMON

Some Things Not Generally Known About This King of Fish.

SALT WATER PLACE TO TAKE FOR FOOD

Spring Fish Are Superior to Fall Both for Food and Sport.

Salmon are sea fish and when mature feed only in the sea. Salmon enter fresh water at various times of the year, but only spawn in November.

A salmon only spawns two or three times in its eight or nine year life. Salmon eggs are large as fish eggs go—nine hundred for each one pound of weight of fish.

Large salmon have larger eggs than small salmon, and are the best breeding stock.

Spawners must be deposited in cool, running fresh water, among gravel. Before hatching, spawn lies in the gravel from three to five months (3-11 April).

"Avelins" take seven weeks to become "fry"—one inch long—(1. e., in May).

"Fry" become "parr" and are 3-12 inches long when one year old.

"Parr" means five inches long and two years' old become "smolts."

"Smolts" then descend to the sea any time from May to September, weighing 3 ozs. to 6 ozs.

In salt water smolts grow rapidly into "grilse" 2 lbs. to 4 lbs.

All mature fish try to return to the water in which they were reared.

Some grilse become mature after six months to one year at sea and ascend to spawn.

Others become salmon at sea and return to spawn after from one and one-half to four years at sea.

These are the best stock and run in Spring, weighing 8 lbs. to 30 lbs., according to age.

When a river is mismanaged, this stock is the first to disappear.

All grilse and salmon after spawning try to return to the sea as smolts. Short period fish stay at sea six months; long period fish stay at sea 18 months or more.

Smolts are unfit for food and should not be gutted or roughly handled.

Female salmon 7 years old and much over 30 lbs. in weight do not return from sea.

Male salmon return up to 60 lbs. and perhaps nine years old.

The life story of a salmon can be read by the lines on the scales.

Salmon for food should be killed in salt water.

In fresh water salmon rapidly lose both weight and flavor.

Spring fish are superior to autumn fish as food, for sport, and for breeding stock.

The man who kills a salmon on the spawning bed gets a few pounds of inferior food. He robs the community of something worth between $100 and $1,000.

Waiting For The Premier To Decide

Election or No Election Will Be Decided on Soon as Mr. Meighan Returns.

Montreal, July 21.—A Gazette special from Ottawa says:—Premier Meighan must make an important decision immediately on his return here. Members of his government will place the political situation before him and he must decide whether to continue in office or dissolve parliament. Three courses will be outlined and one of these will be adopted at once. Immediate dissolution will be considered, and an alternative, a September session with a tariff revision and redistribution measure, or a further test of sentiment by by-elections. The first course would give an October election, the second one elections in December or January. The third proposal would either give the government a year's more power or force an early dissolution. To continue in power the government must carry seven of the ten proposed by-elections, and considering the government's success in recent contests, it would appear that this is improbable and that an election before Christmas is very probable.

$65,000 Gems Missing From Chicago Hotel

Chicago, July 21.—Theft of $65,000 in jewelry from a locked room in the Hotel Sherman was reported today by Harry Preston of Preston Bros. Jewelers, New York. The jewels consisted of wrist watches set in diamonds and pearls, and of cut gems. Preston said there were 1,122 articles in the lot.

Preston arrived at the hotel at noon today. He went to a room and made an engagement at once by telephone to see John Zuckerman, Chicago representative of his firm. He went to a barber shop in the hotel basement, returned within an hour and immediately reported that the jewels were lost.

The floor clerk, stationed within five yards of the door of Preston's room, reported that the door had remained locked during his absence. Zuckerman came to seek Preston, while he was gone, but left without entering the room, he said. The jewels are insured by Lloyd's of London.

Montreal, July 21.—That on March 4, 1919, the whole of the common stock of La Presse Publishing Co., Ltd., consisting of 7,500 shares, was sold by the president and general manager, Arthur Berthiaume, to his brother, Eugene and Edmond, and to Edmond Montet, the latter of whom had once transferred back to Arthur this proportion of the sale, 2,500 shares, was brought out in evidence today before the superior court during the hearing of the family quarrel which turns on the ownership of this, the most important French-Canadian newspaper in Canada.

"KIDNAPPED" MAN ARRESTED

Sharon, Pa., July 21.—Thomas D. Randolph, a business man of Sharon, who was believed to have been kidnapped last Monday night and held for $50,000 ransom, but who returned to his home last night and was arrested, late today pleaded not guilty to four charges and waived the hearings. When bail aggregating $7,000 was not produced, he was committed to a cell in the city lockup, but will be removed shortly to the county jail.

GERMAN SHIP SUNK

On Board the Destroyer Leary, Enroute to Norfolk, Va., July 21.—The ability of the airplane to destroy the capital ship was demonstrated today off the Virginia Capes. United States Army bombers, launching projectiles weighing one ton, sank the former German battleship Ostrisland, a 23,000-ton heavily armored ship, in exactly twenty-five minutes after they spotted their attack at 12:15 p. m. from an altitude of approximately 1,700 feet. Two bombs which landed overhead within a few yards of the port quarter gave the ship her death blow.

SHIPYARDS' ANNUAL MEETING

Montreal, July 21.—The annual meeting of the Halifax Shipyards' Limited was opened today at the headquarters of the company, 9 Victoria Square, but was adjourned until a future date. The fiscal year of the company closed on June 30 and it is understood that time had been insufficient for the final auditing of accounts. The stocks of this organization is so closely held as to make it virtually a private company.

INDICT GOVERNOR FOR "CON" GAMES

But Illinois Head Claims Attack is Result of Political Conspiracy.

Springfield, Ill., July 20.—Indictments charging Governor Small, Lieutenant Governor F. E. Sterling and Vernon Curtis with embezzlement, conspiracy and operation of a confidence game, were returned by the Sangamon County grand jury this afternoon. On the first indictment the Governor, Lieut.-Governor and Curtis were charged with embezzlement of $700,000. The indictment for conspiracy and confidence games charges that the three obtained divers drafts, warrants, vouchers and documents to the amount of two million dollars.

Clauses Charges Political

Governor Lea Small, tonight issued a statement "to the people of Illinois," declaring his innocence of every charge made and asserting the charges were the result of a conspiracy to accomplish his "political assassination." The Governor said that in his efforts to cut state expenses he had vetoed appropriations of $900,000 for the office of Attorney-General Brundage, whom he accused of heading the movement against him.

OTTAWA LIQUOR SENSATION

Ottawa, July 21.—A mild sensation was caused in Hull this evening when it became noised broad that the Quebec liquor commission, through its attorney, J. Noel Beauchamp, had taken out summonses against nine, more or less prominent citizens of the city, charging them with infractions of the new Quebec Liquor License Law. The prosecutions arise out of the spiriting away from the premises of the Ontario Export Company, in Ottawa, on the night of June 21, of $45,000 worth of liquor, which was transported to Hull, and according to the authorities, some of it was stored in the cellars of residents.

MacMillan Hopes To Winter Far North

Intends to Reach Fury and Heckla Straits Before Ice
Closes in Party.

Halifax, N. S., July 20.—"We hope to winter in Fury and Heckla Straits, seventy degrees north latitude, where no ship has been for one hundred years," said Prof. Donald B. MacMillan in an interview today on board his exploration ship "Bowdoin," which arrived at Halifax last night from Wiscasset, Maine, enroute to the Far North, to explore one thousand miles of unknown coast line on the western shores of Baffin Land.

Prof. MacMillan said that he was in no hurry to get away but was waiting for better ice conditions north. He will remain in Halifax until a thick fog which has been prevailing all day, lifts.

The Bowdoin, stated Prof. MacMillan, is one of the smallest ships that ever travelled north. The last expedition made to the present exploration party's objective was made by Captain Parry, a British naval officer, who was in search of a northwest passage, his men went down with scurvy and his two ships, the Fury and Hecla, whose names have been given the straits they discovered, were forced to return to England.

Compulsory Travel for Statesmen.
Every reader of "Overseas" will cordially endorse this statement of Commissioner D. C. Lamb of the Salvation Army, made at the conclusion of General Booth's recent 14,000 mile tour throughout Canada and the United States: "If I were running this Empire I would get people travelling. I would not let a man be a Cabinet Minister until he had been round the world, and no man ought to take his seat in a Colonial Cabinet until he has been to London."—Overseas, London.

AS A WOMAN THINKETH

By HELEN ROWLAND
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)
What Every Wife Wishes

Betty, dear—
Thank you for your sweet invitation—
And, of course, I'm longing to see you again!
I had tempting visions of your lovely, cool guest-room, with its four-poster bed and its green silk curtains, and its enchanting view!

BUT—
If it's like MOST guest-rooms,
I suspect that it contains the "hardest mattresses," which nobody in the family will sleep on.

And the chiffonier with the drawers that stick in damp weather,
And the uncomfortable little rocker that tilts the wrong way,
And the frowsy family portraits that you dared not discard—
And all that!

And besides,
I'm going away to ESCAPE!
To escape from all the sweet and cloying "comforts" of home!
I'm going, Betty, going—
To a NICE, BIG, EXPENSIVE HOTEL!

I'm going where I can totter to the telephone in the morning, and order up my berries and cream and honey and hot waffles,
And send them BACK again (if they are NOT hot),
Without the fear that the cook will leave;

Where I'll have a huge snowy bath-room, with seven towels a day, and no thought of the laundry bills,
And where I can escape the before-breakfast struggle for the cold shower and the hot water and the family tooth-paste,
And may never know the sweet renunciation of brushing my teeth under the kitchen faucet!

Where women and milkmen and butchers and bakers will never break into my morning dreams or awaken me from my beauty-sleep,
Where I'll never get up in a cold perspiration of doubt and fear, as to whether the cook will show up or not,
And whether I can have the morning newspaper FIRST—and all to myself.

Instead of having it doled out to me in dribdrabs, or read aloud to me in expurgated snatches!

Where I can curl my hair AFTER breakfast, and appear "all set" in a fluffy white frock, at eleven o'clock.

Where the sound of the telephone won't mean a thing in the world to me,
And I won't care whether the curtains are fresh, or the windows need washing, or the cat has been fed,
Or the ferns need water, or the moths are getting into the rugs—
OR NOT!
In short—
Where my SOUL will be at peace, for six long weeks!

And—oh, of course, I love my home, and the sweet home life, and my husband—and all that!

But, I MUST escape from them, and come up for air every now and then.

For Heaven, itself, would get on a woman's nerves,
If she were compelled to keep playing the celestial harp and polishing the golden stairs, and dusting the stars, and scouring the golden streets, and shining the family halo,
Every minute of the day, forever and ever!

And, it's all very well for a man to say that "his home is his Heaven";
But, there are times when every married woman hopes, dreams, and suspects
That Paradise will be a lot more like a HOTEL!

It Was Potent.
"How about the booting goods in this town?" asked the stranger.
"In what particular?" asked the old inhabitant.
"Is it potent?"
"Potent is the word. A gentleman of my acquaintance stepped out of a theatre one night during an intermission and purchased a few drinks in a nearby alley. Then he returned to the theatre."
"Well, what is so remarkable about that?"
"He didn't know, until the door-keeper kindly told him that it was the next night."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Newfoundland To Help Her Railways

Guarantees Loss in Operation for One Year to the Amount of $1,500,000.

St. John's, Nfld., July 21.—After three days of debate the Legislature today passed a measure providing for the operation of the Colonial railroad system for one year ending next June by the Reid Newfoundland Company. The colony guarantees loss in operation up to $1,500,000 under the provisions of the bill but the company must meet losses above that figure. The bill was passed by a vote of 18 to 4. Officials of the railroad recently threatened to suspend operations unless legislative aid was extended, saying it could not meet operating costs.

Brothers Drown Reaching For Hat

Playing on Raft When Accident Happened—Brave Attempt Made to Save Them.

Clementsport, N. S., July 21.—Two small sons of Fletcher Sproul, eleven and nine years of age, were drowned here today. They were playing on a raft anchored near the shore with their younger sister when one of the boys dropped his hat into the water. Reaching for it he fell in and his brother attempting to rescue him also fell from the raft. J. D. Barnum rushed to their assistance, but was too late to save them. The boys were the eldest of seven children.

CONSCIENCE MONEY.

Ottawa, July 21.—The department of marine and fisheries recently received a cheque for $20 conscience money. The writer, who signed himself "An Officer," states that he charged for more time than he actually put in. The envelope bears the post mark "Tracadie, N. B. July 5."

MILD EPIDEMIC GOING ROUND

It is due to impurities in the water, causes cramps, diarrhoea, headache. Those who take twenty drops of Nerwine in sweetened water usually get quick relief. It is really wonderful how good old Nerwine fixes up a sour upset stomach, how it stops hicoughs, how quickly it puts a stop to those nasty attacks of gas. Every home should keep a bottle or two of trusty old Nerwine on hand, 35 cents everywhere.

May Lift Tracks On Brussels Street

Com. Frink Suggests Taking
This Course of Action to Speed up Paving.

Commissioner Frink announced yesterday at the committee meeting of the common council that he was seriously considering the lifting of the street railway steel on Brussels street in order to make more progress with the paving on that street. He said the concrete foundation had been completed on the western side of the street and the railway tracks had been brought up to grade from City Road to Waterloo street and were now waiting for the bonding to be done. Since the strike practically no work had been done by the street railway company and he proposed to go ahead under the Act of 1887 and take up the rail on the western side of the street and proceed with the foundation.

In answer to a question he said men were working at the tracks but on account of the jeering and interference of sympathizers of the striking employees very slow progress was being made.

He also reported that of the 53 names on the petition for the grading of Murray street 13 were property owners and the other 40 were tenants and that it would be necessary to make reports to the north side of the approach to the Pokok bridge.

Japan Speeds Up Naval Contracts

In Hurry to Have Programme Begun Before Disarmament Conference.
 London, July 21.—According to an important Japanese source in London, naval disarmament, whether proposed by the United States or any other Power which tended to interfere with the execution of Japan's "double eight" building programme adopted last year, would certainly be resisted to the utmost by a large and probably overwhelming majority in Japan.
 Whether or not it is a coincidence, it is a fact that since the first rumors of the calling of a disarmament conference by President Harding Japan has displayed remarkable activity in getting that "double eight" programme actually under contract. Building facilities were not available for the entire programme, but now nearly all the ships are contracted for or will be before the conference convenes, even though the shipways for the entire fleet are not available. It is urged in defence of the haste to complete this programme that it constitutes the absolute minimum of naval preparedness required for the safety of the island empire. Four of the battleships on the programme already have been completed or are building the fifth and sixth, named Owarai and Kii, were contracted for in May. The seventh and eighth are now reported under contract, although some time may elapse before the bargains are available for their construction.

 Of the eight battle cruisers the Amagi and Akagi were begun in December, the Atago and Takao are to be laid down in March next, and the remaining four as soon as the shipways are vacant. More than half of the small auxiliary craft provided in this programme already are being constructed and contracts for the balance have been promised the various shipyards.
 Little ? For Today.
 Do men feel as funny as they look in bathing suits?

YUKON PLANNING HIGHWAYS.
 Dawson City, Y. T., July 21.—A network of highways which will put the development of the North Country to the broad jump is being planned by Yukon and federal authorities.
 The junction at an early date of the road system of the Yukon with that of Alaska is almost certain, following a conference last week between Col. Stoeser, head of the Alaskan road commission and Commissioner G. P. McKenzie, chief executive of the Yukon.
FIRST OFFENDER IN ONTARIO.
 Ottawa, July 21.—Luke Lynch, giving Quebec city as his address, is probably the first victim of the laws which made Ontario bone dry as from July 19. He was placed under arrest at 1230 this morning on the Soo train by Provincial Officer Young and had a small bottle of brandy in his possession. He will appear in police court this morning.
 Of Little Use Now.
 "I see that hostile manufacturer has failed."
 "Yes, you see he made silk stockings that were silk only half way up."

France To Send More Troops Into Silesia
 Not Satisfied With Developments and Intend to Reinforce Army Now There.
 Paris, July 21.—France, it was declared in official circles this morning, will send reinforcements to Upper Silesia whether Great Britain joins or not in the reinforcement movement suggested by France.
 The French move will be made, it was declared, to insure the safety of the ten thousand French soldiers already on the ground there.
 Premier Briand sent a note yesterday in reply to the British note on the Silesian issue, expressing lack of conviction that the supreme council could serve any useful purpose by convening before measures are taken to assure order and provide for the security of the Allied troops now in Upper Silesia, according to the interpretation official circles place upon the French communication.
 News Not Reassuring.
 News received here today from Oppeln was far from reassuring. The attitude of the German press, as interpreted by the French despatches, was increasingly provocative.
 France, it is declared, recognizes that danger threatens from the side of the Poles as well as from the German side, making it doubly necessary in the French view, to reinforce the Allied troops.
 Precautions first, decisions afterward, probably will remain the French view, it is indicated, unless there are unforeseen developments.

Summer Vests And Waistcoats
 The woman who is really looking about for an economical and dainty bit of summer costumery can do no better than to make full use of the waistcoats and vests with which the shops abound. They are, in the first place, extremely practical, for they can be easily laundered and, therefore, a frock or suit of which they are a part can be kept clean and fresh at a minimum of laundry work. One can wear a washable silk slip bodice under a dark silk frock, and then a vest or waistcoat of easily laundered fabric, and so be really fresh in feeling and dainty in appearance.
 So, too, with the street suit, the waistcoat saves the shirt waist or blouse. It is far more easily laundered, consisting only of a front—and the worst part of a blouse to launder, as everybody will admit who has had any experience, is the sleeves. These, of course, are lacking. Yet the waistcoat, worn with a little silk slip under a dark suit, makes just as good an appearance and is just as clean and gives the wearer just as fastidious a feeling. And the silk slip, although it is made with short sleeves, can be very quickly ironed. Indeed, as far as cleanliness and daintiness are concerned, it can be worn rouged-ried.
 Thin white China silk is the best fabric for this slip. It might be made of cotton crepe, but cotton crepe is better than a thin silk fabric. Crepe de chine in a thin, cheap, white quality might be found cool, and this could be worn without ironing.
 Now the new waistcoats are so numerous that it is difficult to pick out any individual ones to talk about. They are attractive. So you can choose those that are most becoming or most suitable and those that are, as well, easily laundered.
 It is quite a fad among smartly dressed women, you know, to wear these waistcoats and vests with street suits, and not to wear blouses under their jackets. They leave their jackets on, be it remarked, when they are out of their own house, and they change into a house dress as soon as they go into their own home. Hence, they find the waistcoats a great convenience. So if you follow this style—for economy—you will only be following a fashion that the very well-dressed women have set.

THE POWERFUL KATRINKA
 STABBED HER TOE ON THE MAN'S HOLE COVER.

WHERE WOMEN RULE.
 In Iceland the guardianship of children is entrusted to the mother.
 In Caylon property descends from mother to daughter, rather than from father to son.
 In Sweden the wife has the right to bear her own family name in addition to that of her husband.
 In Persia the mother-in-law is held in especial veneration by the husband as the guardian and protector of his wife.
 In Islam the woman is the legal head of the household, and no transaction of the husband is valid without her signature.
 In East Greenland the Eskimo wife has the privilege of eloping from her husband with any other man that she may prefer.
 In the Northern New Hebrides a bride who is unhappy embraces the earliest opportunity to run away from her husband and seek a new home with some other man of her choice. If her parents cannot induce her to return, they usually send the injured husband a pig to soothe his wounded feelings.

Aroostook Potato Crop 20,000,000 Bus.
 Most of the Farmers Expect to Raise About 75 Per Cent. Normal Yield.
 Fredericton, N. B., July 21.—The Aroostook County potato crop this year will reach twenty million bushels, according to Jerry Smith, of Carleton Place, one of the leading growers and dealers in Maine's potatoes, who is here this week watching his horses in the races.
 While serious adverse reports have been sent out in some cases as to the crop prospects, Mr. Smith believes that the out put will run from 70 to 75 per cent. of a full crop, although there are some districts in the lower end of the county between Houlton and Presque Isle where there have been many heavy misses and some of the farmers there will be lucky if they get 50 per cent. of an average crop because of the recent drought. In some portions conditions have not been unfavorable and the outlook is better.
 Last year Aroostook county's potato crop was between 25 and 34 million bushels, but large quantities never reached the markets. Allowing for shrinkage, local consumption, etc., Mr. Smith estimates that Aroostook county will have for export in 1921 about 14,000,000 bushels, which is about the same amount as actually shipped last year. Aroostook county has in the past had a crop of as much as 25,000,000 bushels.

CHARGES FRAUDS IN BOTTLING OF SCOTCH WHISKEY

Brand Said It Was Pure Scotch Distilled and Bottled in Scotland.

CROWN CLAIMS IT IS OTTAWA WORK

Crown Counsel Severe on Certificate Declaring Witness Victim of Nerve Trouble.

Ottawa, July 21—Some lively tiffs between counsel were heard in police court here today when the charge against the W. G. McIntyre Company, liquor dealers, Ottawa, of bottling bottles of liquor as produced in Scotland which really was bottled in Canada.

W. L. Scott, of the firm of Ewart, Scott, Kelley and Kelley, appeared for the company, and George F. Henderson, K. C. represented the Crown. Mr. Scott asked for adjournment of the case to September so that Mr. McIntyre might be able to do full justice to his case.

Mr. McIntyre, said Mr. Scott, was very ill, a nervous wreck, away taking a rest and the defence had a certificate from J. A. Thomas, Montreal, to the effect that Mr. McIntyre must take an absolute rest for two months. "Tush and rubbish," retorted Mr. Henderson. "Anyone can get a doctor's certificate for nervous breakdown these days. I am a nervous wreck myself, and so are lots of other business men today. Any business man until he takes a holiday is a nervous wreck. A doctor's certificate for nervous prostration isn't worth a row of pins."

Attacks Attorney General

As a matter of fact the attorney general was so chagrined at the loss of so much liquor to the province that he decided to press other important charges against his enemies.

"Wild statements did my learned friend say?" retorted the Crown counsel, now thoroughly aroused. "Well here is the label (holding it up before the public eye). It says 'this whiskey is distilled pure Scotch Highland whiskey, distilled by the D. A. and J. McCallum Company, Edinburgh, bottled in Scotland.'"

"Now, as a matter of fact we know that this whiskey labelled bottled in Scotland was bottled on Queen street, Ottawa. It is nothing less than rot gut and poison. It is the attention of the Crown of Ontario to put a stop to the bottling of rot gut an imposition."

The magistrate ordered a remand for a week upon the Crown's willingness to let the case lag that much longer.

CHOLERA INFANTUM THE FATAL DISEASE OF CHILDREN.

Mothers should look well after their young ones during the hot summer months as this is the time of year when this summer complaint is most prevalent. It begins with a profuse diarrhoea, the stomach becomes irritated, vomiting and purging set in, and the matter ejected from the stomach has a bilious appearance; the child rapidly loses flesh and is soon reduced to languor and prostration which in a great many cases terminates fatally.

To quickly offset the vomiting, purging and diarrhoea.

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY

should be administered.

Mrs. Charles Kneelov, Widesview, Sask., writes: "I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaint. I think it saved my little girl's life one time as she was so bad I thought she was going to die. A friend advised me about 'Dr. Fowler's' so I got a bottle and it helped her right away."

Don't endanger your child's health by accepting a substitute, but get the genuine "Dr. Fowler's," price 50c. a bottle; put up only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ABANDON FIRST NAVAL HOLIDAY TALK AT LONDON

London, July 20—It is believed that the idea of holding a preliminary disarmament and Pacific conference in London will be abandoned. Such a conference was originally proposed by William Morris Hughes, Premier of Australia and William Ferguson Massey, Premier of New Zealand, who will be unable to go to the United States during the autumn owing to the convening of their respective parliaments. A London conference is supposed also to have been strongly favored by Japan.

Instead of the proposed preliminary conference, there will be held here a conference between the British cabinet ministers and the Dominion cabinet ministers.

For this purpose Premier Meighen of Canada has postponed indefinitely his idea of sailing for home. This conference will be devoted, first to a discussion of the policy and representations of the British Empire at the Washington conference, and second, to the advisability of asking the Washington Government to postpone the disarmament and Pacific conference to some later date than November 11.

Such a postponement would not only be agreeable to the Dominion Premier, who will be unable to be in Washington in November, but it would be convenient to the British Government because, in the event of the Irish negotiations proving successful, it might become necessary to hold an autumn session of parliament to legislate for a new Irish settlement.

Soda Water Strike Scores In Boston

Some Dealers Cut Price and Notify Head of State Committee.

Boston Mass. July 20—Several dealers in ice cream and soft drinks have notified Eugene C. Hultman, chairman of the state committee on the necessities of life, that they have reduced the prices of the hot-weather delicacies, and as a result, Chairman Hultman has advised the public to patronize these soda fountains.

In those places where the dealers have refused to cut the prices of ice cream, sodas or cold drinks, the public is advised to ask: "Why haven't you reduced your prices?"

Commissioner Hultman said yesterday.

Crocodiles Drove Soldier From Lake

Paris, July 21.—Private Dumessil, of the Fifty-eighth Heavy Artillery, stationed in Versailles, yesterday came dashing out of the lake where the soldiers swim and neglected to salute an officer he passed in the course of his flight. The officer stopped him and gave him a "call down," but all the private could do was to pant:

"Crocodiles."

The officer replied, "Sunstroke," and ordered him to the observation ward.

He then decided to take a swim himself. He left the water much faster than he entered. There were, in fact, eight nice, big, hungry crocodiles ensconced in the lake.

Hasty inquiry revealed that a motion-picture company had put them there for a picture and that when the picture was made had been unable to induce the saurians to come out and be good boys. Crocodile experts were summoned from the zoo at the Jardin d'Acclimation. They intrigued seven of the reptiles from their cool haunts with the aid of raw meat. There still is one there who says he isn't hungry.

Practical.

"I don't want any rubbish—no fine sentimentality—if you please," said the widow who was asked what kind of an epitaph she desired for her late husband. "Let it be short and simple; something like this:

"William Johnson, aged 79 years, the good, big fellow."

MAY CALL PRES. WOOD

Edmonton, Alta., July 20—"The present indications are that the coming conference of newly elected farm members of the Alberta Legislature will decide to call on President H. W. Wood of the United Farmers of Alberta to take over the leadership of the provincial government and accept the premiership," says the Edmonton Bulletin in discussing the new farmers' government in this province.

FELL TO HIS DEATH.

Montreal, July 19.—Henry Lacroix, 63 years, caretaker of the Convent of the Sisters of the Congregation of Notre Dame, was almost instantly killed yesterday when he fell from a third story window of the convent.

He suffered a fractured skull and died in a few minutes. He had been cleaning the window and lost his balance.

Motion Picture Takers Had Put Lot in Water to Get a Fine Film.

"THE THUNDERER" AND ITS POLICIES

The London Times, under the control of Lord Northcliffe, is still a great newspaper, but it is no longer the editorial power it once was.

Lord Northcliffe has had his moments when it suited him to praise Mr. Lloyd George highly, and other moments when he has only bitter words for the Premier.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Liked by Americans. Lord Northcliffe thinks that Lloyd George is disquieted by his temperament to discuss disarmament questions at Washington.

Evidence of Decline. Rev. John Roach Straton, a New York reformer, after attending the Dempsey-Carpenter fight, said that the United States was in much the same position as Rome just before the fall.

Building Stagnation. Investors will put up with inconvenience and resort to makeshifts, and there will be stagnation and unemployment until building costs fall to a more reasonable level.

Mellon's Great Speech. One of the greatest speeches ever made in this country on disarmament was delivered the other day by Secretary Mellon of the Treasury.

Compulsory Travel for Statesmen. Every reader of "Overseas" will cordially endorse this statement of Commissioner D. C. Lamb of the Salvation Army, made at the conclusion of General Booth's recent 16,000 mile tour throughout Canada and the United States.

FOUR BURNED TO DEATH.

Cleveland, July 21.—Two women and two children were burned and suffocated to death in a boarding house fire before noon today.

The women were Mrs. Eliza Mosman, 70, and her daughter, Tillie, 37, proprietors of the boarding house.

The children were Helen Stankovich, 3, and Felix Stankovich, 2, said to have been left at the boarding house recently by their father.

All four were found dead in bed, the children in the arms of the women.

TO EXTEND LEARNING.

Pairs July 21.—The companions of Intelligence, an organization of prominent literary, scientific and public men and women, formed to further the interchange of art and learning among nations, has formed a subsidiary branch called "Group for Action Abroad," to work actively along this line. It is a movement for the development of world-advancement.

Dinners and lectures are given at which leaders in almost all branches of learning from abroad are brought into contact with those sharing their interests. An information bureau is maintained where men of learning, engineers or other specialists may be put in touch with their fellow-workers or aided in research.

Marine Forests Are Let Go To Waste

Vast Quantities of Seaweeds Flank the North Pacific Coast Line.

Utsaladdy, Wash., July 21.—Much is said these days about the utilization of waste products, but until very recently no account was taken of the vast marine forests of the north Pacific coast. The whole coastline is flanked by immense groves of seaweeds, the tallest plants in existence, and which serve to break the force of the mighty tides of the Pacific. Seaweed is useful as a fertilizer. Often it is used, when dried, for stuffing mattresses and automobile seats, and in Japan for food as we use asparagus. Lodi is made from kelp, as are algins and cellulose.

Off the Alaskan coast and among many islands in Puget Sound, the kelp is found. It floats on the surface of the water, a barrel-shaped vessel six or seven feet long, from which a mass of foliage of forty or fifty fronds each, forty to fifty feet long, are hung. The whole floating mass is anchored by a slender cord like stalk, 300 feet long, to rocks far below. A reticulate plant sometimes exceeds 1500 feet in length, anchoring a floating growth of vegetation hundreds of square yards in area. There is also the giant seaweed. After a storm the tide casts hundreds upon the beach. The air vessels are round, eight to ten inches in diameter, and are fastened to an immense mass of foliage or kelp.

All these seaweeds are rich in fertilizer properties, and are used locally by simply dropping the green fronds between hills of vegetables. Vast quantities of kelp are now wasted. Seaweed is capable of adding millions to the wealth of the nation and of establishing an industry employing thousands.

President Sends Irish Greetings

Appreciates Part They Played in War Services He Tells the Hibernians.

Detroit, July 21.—Greetings from President Harding with an expression of appreciation for services rendered by men of the Irish race in war time featured the opening session here today of the fifty second annual convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. The opening session was given over to formally organizing the convention which has brought 1,000 delegates representing a membership of 200,000 in Canada and the United States to Detroit. The real business of the convention will not be taken up until Wednesday. Mary McSwiney, sister of the late Lord Mayor of Cork, will address the convention tomorrow.

MORE WORKING TIME.

Winnipeg, July 21.—An increase from 24 to 36 hours a week affecting nearly 6,000 men employed in car, locomotive and repair shops in Western Canada by the Canadian National Railway, is announced here. The new hours go into effect immediately. The reduced hours have been in force during the last six months.

The Canadian Pacific Railway shops are now working a straight five days a week with the expectation that they will go on full time next month.

Vests of kelp are now wasted. Seaweed is capable of adding millions to the wealth of the nation and of establishing an industry employing thousands.

HUGE TREASURE TROVE FOUND ON PACIFIC ISLAND

Sailors Steal Millions in Peru and Carry Them Away to Pinaki.

BURIED THE LOOT IN A LAGOON

Secret Imparted to Man Who Helps Out Aged Beggar With Few Shillings.

Papeete, Tahiti, July 21.—Romance is not yet dead. Tales of buccaneering murder on the high seas, buried gold on lonely, uninhabited islands and charts and cryptograms of hidden treasure trove are not all inventions of imaginative minds or legends of a day which is long past.

Such a tale is the story of the treasure of the island of Pinaki, whose hiding place, after a patient search of over seven years, has at last been discovered. And now a schooner from Tahiti has been despatched to bring away the gold.

A half century ago, four sailors, deserters from a catwain vessel, joined revolutionists in Peru and learned of a vast treasure of jewels, plate and ingots, the property of the church, which had been hidden in Peru to prevent it from falling into the hands of one of the warring factions. Secretly the sailors searched for the treasure, found it concealed in a church building and moved it to another hiding place on the coast.

Stole Schooner.

Going to Panama, the seafarers, at night, boarded a small schooner, murdered the crew and, after putting the treasure aboard, set sail across the Pacific, intending to make some European port later to dispose of their wealth. Recalling that they had no clearance papers and probably could not enter a European port safely, they decided to hide the gold on some uninhabited island, and then get it later in a vessel they would charter at Sydney, N. S. W., for trading purposes.

Across their path lay the island of Pinaki, in the Pamotu Archipelago of the South Seas, and at this uninhabited spot they stopped and hid their loot. One native, who observed them from a neighboring island and rowed across to see what the men from the strange schooner were doing, was killed and his tribal brothers, who crossed later, found only his empty canoe and strange markings on the trees.

Sail For Australia.

Sailing on to Australia, the four scuttled their vessel when a few miles from shore and, rowing to land, told of a storm at sea which opened the seams of their ship. Not a word of them, for some residents had seen the ship approaching and had witnessed its mysterious sinking. There were no police, however, and they were permitted to strike out overland for Sydney unmolested.

Stranger Gets Secret.

Years later, in about 1914, a Mr. Howe was accosted on a Sydney street by an aged beggar. When Howe gave the man a few shillings he was surprised to hear the beggar ask his name and address. Some time later Howe received an urgent summons to go to a Sydney hospital. There he found the beggar, who told him he and three others had buried their treasure, had sailed on to Australia and had set out overland for Sydney. On their way back they attacked him and killed two of the sailors. The beggar and his surviving companion, Brown, tried for years to get a ship to go for the treasure, but never obtained money enough. Brown finally disappeared and he, Killrain, had fallen into misfortune, and knew his end was near. Therefore he gave Howe the map of the island, begged him to believe the story true and to search for the treasure. The following day the beggar died.

Since then Howe has been searching for the treasure and lately announced that he had found it in a shallow lagoon on Pinaki. Lately, he chartered a schooner at Papeete to go to lift the gold, after making a contract with the Colonial Government as to his rights in the matter. It is said the treasure is worth several million dollars.

Kick Is Promised By Melon Growers

Colorado Men Will Plug Cantaloupes With Yeast to Develop "Hootch" in Fruit.

Burlington, Col., July 21.—"Come on, boys, have another melon on (hic) me. Whee!" This is the kind of conversation that will be heard around the hooch melon bars this winter if plans of the Burlington Melon Growers Company for producing an intoxicating cantaloupe materialize.

The melon growers of these parts have a scheme for making cantaloupes highly alcoholic by inserting a dose of yeast into each one while it is still on the vine. They fall to see how the Volstead law applies to fruit with a kick, and visualize an area wherein the melon will be the food of the night before instead of the morning, after, and husbands, stumbling up the stairs will exclaim to wives: "I can't see, m' dear, how just two honeydews could 'teem me thish way."

Melons Doing Well.

The growers report that their crop of hooch melons is doing unusually well. The weather has been very favorable and they expect to be able to begin plugging the melons and inserting the yeast the first week in August.

Here's how the kick will be placed in the fruit: Instead of making the old-fashioned

Home For Incurables In Prosperous Shape

Meeting of Directors Held Yesterday When Satisfactory Reports Were Read.

The annual meeting of the Home for Incurables was held yesterday afternoon at the Home and the reports submitted were of a most encouraging nature and prospects for the next year are bright. The treasurer was able to report a satisfactory balance on the year's operations, and the Ladies' Aid reported much good work accomplished.

The board of directors of the Home for Incurables herewith presents its report for the year ending July 1st, 1921.

Your board to the best of their ability have endeavored to minister to the wants of the suffering ones under their care, and trust that the efforts put forth have not been without success.

At the beginning of the year there were in the Home twenty-eight patients, sixteen males and twelve females. During the year ten patients died, seven males and three females; twelve patients were admitted, six males and six females, and there are now in the Home twenty-nine patients, fourteen males and fifteen females. There were fifteen applications considered by the board, six males and nine females. One male patient left the institution. Twelve regular meetings were held by the board.

The heating capacity of one of the boilers having become diminished, a new one was installed, which has proved satisfactory.

The financial condition of the Home will be fully explained in the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Meyer and her capable nurses have, we believe, faithfully carried out their duties. This year has been a specially hard one owing to the number of serious cases under their care. To the medical staff we desire to

My darling! I'll be true to you
As through the world we go,
And take the bitter with the sweet,

FROM HERE AND THERE.

A musical novelty for the concert stage has recently been built in Leipzig—a twin grand piano, said to be the first of its kind, ever made. The instrument is like two grand pianos placed end to end and included in one frame, but with a single sound board. The keyboards are at opposite ends and the players face each other.

Why Hair Nets Are Dear.
The hair net business of Chefoo, China is in a state of chaos owing to complications caused by buyers from Shanghai going directly to the makers in the region of Chingchow, and thus competing with the firms with which these had contracts. Consequently the price has increased about 300 per cent.

Late census figures show that there are 2,090,132 less women than men in the United States.

Scientific Side of Music Set Forth

Principle of Sound Reproduction Explained by Head of Berliner Gramophone Co.

The scientific side of music, which you desire me to deal with, is a large enough subject to fill a good-sized book, rather than a single newspaper column.

Music is rhythmic sound, air pulses occurring at regular intervals and at a rate of not less than sixteen vibrations per second and not more than about sixteen thousand vibrations per second, which in a fair way, represents the limits within which an average musical ear can differentiate between tones having different rates of vibrations of different pitch.

When several musical tones of different pitch sound together, their vibrations or waves overlap, and form compound waves, so that at one instant a fraction of one set of waves predominates in the next instant a fraction of another set. As these different fractions follow one another at a very rapid rate, between sixteen and, say, 16,000 per second, we receive the sensation of a chord, or a harmony or dissonance.

This is similar to the manner in which the eye receives a motion picture, by the rapid projection of several progressive photographs of a moving object. Even we listen to a whole orchestra, with or without the addition of singing, the ear at one instant takes notice of that fraction of the performance which happens at that moment to predominate.

The Phonograph.

To prove that this is the case we can let sound waves travel down by means of the phonograph, invented by the Frenchman, Leon Scott, about 1858.

One of these instruments is in the United States National Museum. It consists of a large cylinder, covered with paper, the surface of which is covered with soot from a smoky flame. A sound horn, having a diaphragm and a receiving horn, is provided with a slender bristle stylus, fastened to the centre of the diaphragm, and which is so adjusted that the stylus just touches the surface of the cylinder sideways. When the cylinder is rotated and passes the stylus in a groove of the sound that becomes the diaphragm to vibrate.

If now sound is emitted into the horn the spiral line becomes wavy and each wave represents a fraction of the sound that causes the diaphragm to vibrate.

It will then be found that the higher pitched the sound is the more rapidly do these waves follow one another, and as the pitch is lower the fewer are the waves in a given time. In the case of an orchestra playing, the wave line because most complicated, yet there is discernible a certain regularity, as sets of waves repeat themselves when a more or less sustained chord is recorded.

Jazz instruments will record themselves in waves of striking or irregular forms and so will all mere noises which in themselves are not considered musical.

If we should try to analyze the wave lines of articulate speech by means of a phonograph we shall discern sets of complicated waves which represent the vowel sounds, but most consonants are merely short, irregular and very shallow wave lines preceding or following the vowel waves and difficult to analyze, except the consonants r, s, sh, c, and z, which are very minute waves repeating themselves rapidly.

All the treasures of musical science have during the past twenty years been made more accessible to the great public by the talking machines, phonograph, gramophone and gramophone. In these instruments the record is not merely a wave line drawn on paper, but is a groove of sound waves indented, engraved or etched into solid material. The sound waves are either represented by the varying depths of a straight groove as in the phonograph and gramophone or by a groove looking like the old phonograph record, of even depth, and showing the sound waves as an undulating groove writing. The latter system is that of the Gramophone or Victrola and is the more perfected of the two, so that the great singers and performers prefer that their art be recorded by that system.

Sound is reproduced in talking machines because the sound grooves make the stylus connected with the centre of the diaphragm and the latter is vibrated by the sound waves caused by the original sound waves.

MAUD'S TRIP FROM BORNEO

WILD EVENT

Orang-utang Gave the Dittmars the Worry of Their Lives.

BABY ORANG VERY NEARLY KICKED OUT

Pair Land in Zoo After All But Disrupting Train Service.

New York, July 21.—Three months ago Maud, a twenty-pound orang-utang, was swinging from the trees in the Bronx Zoo, the liveliest animal that ever took up residence in the House of Primate. After a trip across the continent under the care of Raymond L. Dittmars, assistant director and curator of reptiles, during which she caused more trouble and raised more difficulties than a carload of widows, she crawled back into her cage last night, pulled a big brown army blanket over her head and went to sleep.

With her came a baby orang, which would have died in San Francisco if pneumonia had not been for the care and nursing it received at the hands of Mrs. Dittmars, who sat up in the Hotel St. Francis night after night in an effort to keep the animal alive.

Maud began to cut up just as soon as she came in to San Francisco on the ship Singapore. She was caged in a specially constructed tank, a few feet from her place. To one side of her first exploit, after boarding the Overland Limited at San Francisco, was to reach out a long hairy arm from her place in the baggage car and send the conductor sprawling on his face.

At Ogden, Utah, a newboy with a baggage car, came aboard the train. He passed Maud in the baggage car, and the long arm shot out like Carpenter's right and scattered the newboy's wardrobe on the car.

Moves Her Own Cage.
She had not been placed long in the baggage car before she discovered that by grasping the bars with her hands and feet and shaking herself vigorously she was able to move the cage about the car. To one or two of the baggagemen she took a violent dislike, and whenever they entered to attempt any work, Maud shot out her furry arm, tore the leadwood door from their cage and flung it at one of the baggagemen on the limited.

The baby orang stayed on. "I had to be cared for just as tenderly as baby," said Mr. Dittmars last night. "My wife held it in her arms and fed it milk and rice and gave it medicine. She sat up night after night until it was able to hold its head up again."

Along with the two orangs Mr. Dittmars brought two of the largest pythons ever carried into the United States. One measures twenty-five feet and the other is seventeen. They were caught on a tiger hunt in the Malay Peninsula. When the boxes were opened in the reptile house last night Head Keeper Toomey said they were the finest snakes he had ever seen. The pythons will move into the cage now occupied by the box tortois.

Just before Mr. Dittmars arrived Head Keeper Toomey received a telephonic message from two men who doctored on the steamship Saturnus.

SIX FAMILIES LOSE HOUSES

Deluge of Rain at Quebec Bridge Helped to Extinguish Threatening Outbreak.

Quebec, July 17.—The village of Quebec Bridge was threatened with destruction by fire tonight when four houses were burned and six families were deprived of shelter.

The deluge which grew up with the construction of the Quebec bridge and took its name from that gigantic span, is situated just off St. Louis Road, about eight miles from the city. Caused by the explosion of an oil stove in one of the houses, the fire spread rapidly and communicated with adjoining houses.

Water Supply Poor.
As the water supply was limited little could be done to combat the flames and assistance was immediately sought from the city fire department. The fire broke out about 9 o'clock and a detachment of the fire department was rushed to the scene under deputy chief McManus.

Rain broke out as the fire started and there was a steady downpour which helped a great deal to prevent the fire from extending.

FASHION NOTES.

Big enveloping capes of plaids and checks continue in good style for country wear. Those with a white ground and a line of green, red or yellow are particularly good. Striped silk jackets reminiscent of the blouses of 25 or 30 years ago are worn for sports.

Hems on some of the pretty mid-summer frocks of crepe de chene are missing. That is to say, the lower edge is finished with a neat stitch, and so the heaviness necessary to a hem is avoided. The result is effective.

One of the smart ways fortifying a sash is on the hip, with two ends and one loop. The loop stands out stiffly, and so, too, do the ends.

Golf suits consisting of baggy bloomers and a loose, belted coat and made of colored wool, are worn with some smart hats that cause a sufficient shade for comfort over the eyes.

Organdie hats of color are ornamented with flowing black velvet ribbon streamers.

"Straw handbags are an imported notion, and though they will not probably become popular, they are a good notion for summer use. They come in soft dyed colors and are mounted in composition frames of color or of black, white or gray.

White organdie flowers, conversely appear on black felt hats.

Gingham slips to wear with blouses of white are in good style in spite of their popularity. They are sleeveless, finished around the deep-cut armhole with a cord covered with gingham, and sometimes made with a shallow yoke. A loose belt is worn through loops of the gingham below the normal waistline.

A taffeta petticoat is stitched into big checks, in contrasting color. The result is decidedly effective, and the means is easy and inexpensive, and might well be tried by the home sewer.

Rogers Strengthens Tiger Track Squad

Has Been Training for Three Weeks and is Now in Good Shape for Meet.

Princeton, N. J., July 21.—Bill F. Rogers, Princeton's star distance runner, joined the Tiger track squad here today. Rogers, the Princeton country captain and the holder of a two-mile record in the Yale-Princeton dual meet, is in good shape as he has been training at Magnolia, Mass., three weeks.

Princeton has three runners in training for the three-mile run against MIT and from present indications it is a toss up as to who will be selected. Foreman, the former Intercollegiate champion who started on the freshman team, is shown to have won the race.

The big hammer thrower and foot player has been working near Princeton this week to decide his own fate. Baker is another athlete who was unannouncedly added to the squad.

Brilliant Stunts By Fielders Is Feature

President Heydler of the National Says Outfielding Best He Has Ever Seen.

Brooklyn, July 21.—"I wonder if fans appreciate the wonderful fielding they have seen this year," remarked President A. Heydler of the National League in conversation on general baseball matters.

"Never before have I seen such wonderful outfielding feats as I have seen this year all over the country," stated the president. "I attend many games in Brooklyn, and the stunts pulled by Wheat, Myers and Griffith and those pulled by Strayhorn and Fielders are remarkable. Every day is claiming that the ball is more in the air than ever before, and my opinion that is undoubtedly true because of the extra hitting."

"I do not hear any from the fans," writers tell us that the lively Brooklyn crowd has been so wild that the infielders cannot hold their end or live up to their reputation of previous years. There is a great deal of talk about the outfielding, which is thrilling the extreme.

"I do not know whether the ball is more in the air than ever before, but I am sure that I have seen more sensational catches by outfielders this year than I ever saw in any two previous years. The outfield catches are a big factor in baseball and carry a strong appeal. They are always the element which makes the lasting impression on the foreigner seeing his first game of baseball between high-class professionals. He may discount the hit because he does not realize how difficult it is to connect with major league pitching, and he may lose the points of inflection, but when Wheat or Griffith runs a mile, makes a one-hand, back-hand catch, the stranger is aware he has seen something extraordinary."

Frederickton, N. B., July 20.—W. Snowball, of Chatham, and Matt B. Edwards, of St. John, have been elected as members of the New Brunswick Fire Prevention Board by Provincial Government under the provisions of the fire protection act passed at the last session of the legislature.

The board is to consist of five members and the board of fire underwriters, who on behalf of the fire insurance companies promoted the passage of the act, have named R. S. Rife and J. F. G. Knowlton, both of St. John, as their representatives on the board. The fifth member will be named by the Union of Municipalities at their convention next month in John.

The New Brunswick fire prevention act is similar to that which has been in force in Nova Scotia for several years, and the active administration of the act will be in charge of the new board and it is said there are a number of applicants for the position.

Rogers Strengthens Tiger Track Squad

Has Been Training for Three Weeks and is Now in Good Shape for Meet.

Princeton, N. J., July 21.—Bill Rogers, Princeton's star distance runner, joined the Tiger track squad here today. Rogers, the Princeton cross-country captain and the holder of the two-mile record in the Yale-Princeton dual meet, is in good shape as he has been training at Magnolia, Mass., for three weeks.

Princeton has three runners in training for the three-mile run against the Harvard team from present indications it is a toss up as to who will be selected. Foreman, the former interscholastic champion who started on the freshman team, and were guests from that may win him the place. Keene Fitzpatrick will hold a trial date this week to decide his entry.

Baker is another athlete who was permanently added to the team. The big hammer thrower and football player has been working near New York city and commencing to Princeton several times during the week to work out under Fitzpatrick's direction, and his throws indicate that he will be the man selected to oppose Nokes. As a result he has given up his position temporarily and will stay with the squad until the meet is over.

Spears and the freshman hammer man, Emory, are not out of the running as yet, but will have to improve to beat out the big blonde giant.

The four English athletes who spent the week-end at Princeton, left for Swampscott on Sunday morning and will train with their teammates during the remainder of the week. The best of friendship was in evidence while the visitors were in Princeton, where they lived at the Princeton quarters and were guests at the training table. Fitzpatrick spent Saturday afternoon coaching the English runners, who got his advice as to the best training schedule on which to prepare for the coming meet.

Charles Halsey is the only member of the Princeton team who has not arrived here as yet. Halsey started from the coast on Saturday, where he won the junior national shotput championship. He is expected to join the team today.

Expecting Burglar, Writes Him A Note

New York, July 20.—When a woman finds a burglar in her room she may be counted on to do one of two things—scream at the top of her voice, or bury her head in the pillow. Sometimes she does both.

Mrs. Juliana Bugbee, an attractive, blonde young woman, did neither of these things when her bedroom was invaded in the middle of the night.

She had a note ready for Mr. Burgess, and the note was tucked inside a handbag, which she showed beneath her pillow, and she closed her eyes very tight and let him slip the handbag from his hiding place and escape with it through an air shaft.

It happened that when the young woman, whose husband is in the south, returned to her apartment after dinner Thursday night with a friend, she exclaimed, upon entering the room, and before the light was switched, "There's been a burglar in here."

Every room had been ransacked, but all the burglar took was a watch, a bowl of copper coins and a box of cigarettes.

"I know he's coming back; I feel perfectly sure he's somewhere in this apartment house," Mrs. Bugbee told into the toe of one of the shoes she had just taken off, put $1.50 in a handbag and wrote the following note to go with the money:

"I don't carry large sums of money with me, but I hope this small amount will take you over your present difficulties."

She tucked the note into the handbag with the $1.50 and laid the bag under her pillow so that it cornered, and finally fell asleep. Two hours later the burglar appeared, took the handbag and departed.

Barnes Led The Field of Golfers

Washington, June 21.—James Barnes, the athletic, top professional from the Pelham, N. Y. Country Club, led an exceptionally high class field of golfers with a score of 144 strokes at the opening of the first day's twenty-sixth National open golf championship over the course of the Columbia Country Club.

Barnes' score for the full thirty-six holes totaled an average of one stroke over par for each nine holes, or a total of four over par for the day's play. His 144 was also three under the score of the first day's card turned in by Ted Ray, of England, winner of the 1920 championship. The difference was partly due to the shorter yardage of the local course as compared with the Inverness course at Toledo.

Four strokes back of Barnes came Charles R. Murray of the Royal Golf Club of Montreal and Fred McLeod, the local club professional, who tied with a score of 148. Fourth place was held by Robert T. Jones, Jr., of Atlanta. The youthful Southern amateur with his 149 led four contestants in the 150 class, after which the field aligned itself in groups, ranging in numerical order from 151 made by Charles Evans, of the Edgewater Club of Chicago, national amateur champion to Jim Donachie, with a total of 181.

Long Jim Barnes, as he is generally known among the golfers of the old and new world, is playing his way to what is generally considered a commanding position in the struggle for the national open championship and today showed a broad of almost perfect golf.

Charles R. Murray and Fred McLeod, who are rivaling Barnes, are two dangerous opponents. Murray with 74-73-148 and McLeod with 74-74-148, are within striking distance of Barnes should he show the slightest let-down in his present form.

Although Luncheon, the English pro, will be placed, his partner, Abe Mitchell noted for his remarkable long driving, picked up his ball this afternoon and dropped out of the tournament. He gave as his reason the fact that he was, as he expressed it, fed up with the hot weather and that, just as he realized he was below his usual standard.

Nova Scotia To Have Poorer Crop

Halifax, July 20.—The Nova Scotia crop for this year is estimated to be 75 per cent as compared with that of 1920, the cereal crops at 90 per cent, potatoes at 96 per cent; other roots at 85 per cent; pastures at 75 per cent, and fruits at almost 100 per cent. In the mid-summer report of the department of agriculture, just issued.

The report states, however, that farming conditions will be serious unless rains are frequent. "With frequent rains from now until the end of the season, a fair, though not by any means abundant, crop may yet be harvested," it concluded.

Blame High Prices For Trade Decline

Premier Drury Consults Labor and Capital in Effort to Prepare for Next Winter.

Toronto, July 20.—A committee, representative of industry and labor in the province will be appointed by the Ontario Government to report on the question of unemployment and if possible map out a programme to meet the serious situation likely to develop here next winter. Premier Drury decided to day at a four hour conference with his cabinet and representatives of many groups of industries in the unemployment problem.

High Prices Blamed

Views were freely exchanged and the consensus of opinion seemed to be that the revival of trade was being delayed by high prices. The attitude of the labor representatives was that lower wages would be accepted in order to promote a revival of industry providing a cut did not entail a reduction in the standard of living. In other words they would take lower pay as the cost of living came down.

Problem's Driver Heavily Fined

"Bud" Tingley of Houlton Adjudged Guilty of Holding His Horse in Race at Capital.

Fredericktown, N. B., July 21.—W. J. Utton, driver for the Roaring Brook Farm stable of Barton, Vt., piloted his two mares from New Bedford, Mass. Malee and Nora Hill, to straight heat wins in the 2.14 trot and 2.27 pace, respectively, at the Maine and New Brunswick circuit races here today. Malee trotting to her record of 2:13 1/4 in the first and third heats, and Nora Hill taking a pacing win race record of 2:12 1/4, equal to her trotting record.

Each heat in the 2.27 pace was in 2:12 and a fraction, and announcement was made that it was the fastest time ever made in the Maritime Provinces in a race for slow class pacers.

The 2.17 trot was strung out to six heats. After the judges read the riot act to the drivers following a 2:24 opening heat, they speeded up until one heat in 2:13 1/4 was won by Zelma Strong, although Bingen worthy finally won the race.

The judges announced that "Bud" Tingley had been fined $75 for failing to drive The Problem to win in the fifth heat of the 2.12 class on Tuesday, and told the drivers that any further penalties in such cases would be suspensions for the season, without option of fines.

Mayence, July 21.—Mohammed Ben Ahmed, a Moroccan machine gunner of the French forces on the Rhine, who was convicted by a French court martial of killing and robbing a German merchant, was executed by a firing squad here yesterday. He calmly smoked a cigarette until the bullets struck him.

The execution was carried out in the presence of many witnesses and all the Moroccan members of the garrison were marched past the body. The firing squad was composed of six French soldiers and six Moroccans.

General Schmidt, the French military governor of Mayence, addressing the correspondents after the execution said: "We have just witnessed an example of the French sense of justice."

Conspiracy Worked Up By Ball Players

Starting Evidence Given in Hearing of 1919 World Series Scandals.

Chicago, July 21.—Chicago White Sox players accused of conspiring to throw the 1919 world series were not approached on the deal by gamblers or corrupted by a gambling clique, but formulated the conspiracy themselves and went to New York and former baseball players for financial backing, Bill Burns, admitted accomplice and state's witness testified today in the trial of seven of the players and four others who are under indictment in the case. Eddie Cicotte, of Detroit, former White Sox pitcher, once rated as the best in the American League, made the sell-out proposition to Burns and Gandil, and Cicotte then volunteered the information that they could have the series thrown for $100,000, Burns testified.

Burns' testimony to this effect was admitted late today after Judge Friend three times had barred Cicotte temporarily from the courtroom. He was temporarily excluded from the courtroom until the witness' testimony, and it was de-

The championships will be held under the auspices of the Halifax Dinghy Association, in cooperation with the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron. It was decided at a meeting in tonight of the former organization, signed to do away with the belief that the players were corrupted by millionaire gamblers and to show that the alleged conspiracy had its inception in New York.

COAT OF TAR AND FEATHERS FOR MINISTER

Southern "Gentlemen" Whip Him for Preaching Race Equality.

THREAT TO LYNCH HIM MADE BY GANG

Ordered to Leave City Within Forty-Eight Hours or He Would be Killed.

Miami, Fla., July 20.—Eight masked men waylaid Rev. Philip S. Irwin, white, archdeacon of the English Episcopal Church, and head of the work of that church among south Florida negroes, at the close of his evening service here last night, carried him into the woods and whipped him and then applied a coat of tar and feathers to his body.

Irwin told me, he added, "that unless I left Miami within 48 hours they would lynch me. They tied me to a tree or a log after stripping me and applied a strap to my naked body about forty times. The men then poured tar over me and applied feathers to the tar."

Irwin told the police he was driving into his yard when two automobiles drove up in front of his home and one of them, a Buick, was driven up to his door.

When he carried the wrench to one of the machines he said four masked men stepped out of each car, seized him and affixed a pair of handcuffs to his wrists.

A mask was placed over his face, and the two cars drove to the woods, where the whipping was administered, followed by the tar and feathers application.

None of Irwin's assailants had been apprehended at a late hour last night.

Ordered to leave the Harbor Commission Act.

E. A. SCHOFFIELD, Mayor.

CALAIS TEAM COMING

Manager Frank White of the Commercial club is causing considerable speculation around the city, announcing as it does the sale of a portion of the foreshore of Courtenay Bay on July 17 by public auction. The sale is made on the application of Allan G. McAvity and the area to be sold comprises 238 acres lying partly in the city and partly in the Parish of Simonds. Mr. McAvity is at the present time absent from the city and no definite idea of what the land was to be used for could be obtained.

HARBOR COMMISSION ACT ASSAILED BY H. R. McLELLAN

Shows Up Its Inconveniences, Picturing the Losses to the City and the Burden It Must Still Carry if City Gives Its Harbor to Government.

Speaking in a clear and vigorous manner before an audience that completely filled the auditorium of the Pythian Castle, on Union street, last night, H. R. McLellan voiced his opposition to the acceptance of the proposed Harbor Commission Act.

At the conclusion of Mr. McLellan's address, which bespoke much thought and study, R. E. Armstrong, secretary of the Board of Trade, arose to reply to several queries put by Mr. McLellan, and at the same time cited his reasons for favoring the act. Mr. McLellan replied briefly, and the meeting then adjourned, after singing the National Anthem.

On the opening of the meeting, Geo. Day was elected to the chair, and Mr. McLellan then proceeded to address the gathering. He said in part: Mr. McLellan impressed upon all the importance of the question upon which they were to vote August 1st. He said the question was not "Are you in favor of Harbor Commission," but "are you in favor of the harbor being placed in commission under the present act?" He questioned whether citizens of St. John had realized such results in its dealings with the government that it could afford to rely solely upon the good faith of the Canadian people in respect to the Act by which they assume ownership of our harbor.

Referring to the section regarding the appointment of commissioners, he said: "The commissioners may not be local men; there is no guarantee of that. It is absolutely certain that the engineer in charge will not be local, and he will be the main official."

The commission will not be a commission of trustees, but simply one of management.

Dealing With Transfer

The section dealing with the transfer of the harbor and the consideration paid is a most important one and very easily misinterpreted.

"The sum of $1,342,717.55, representing the bonded indebtedness of the city in connection with harbor development, shall be assumed and taken over by the corporation, and the corporation shall pay the interest on the said bonds and the value of the same as they mature; and for the balance, that is to say, the sum of $657,282.45, the corporation shall issue to the city its debentures payable at the end of 25 years from the day of issue and bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly, which debentures the corporation is hereby authorized to issue, in the sum of $1,342,717.55."

So far as your taxes are concerned for the sinking fund and interest of the $1,342,717.55 you will be taxed for the present amount of same, which is $77,602.55, and also for the loss of fisheries, $7,000, making a total of $84,602.55. You transfer a revenue which is at present paying the interest and sinking fund, and also your fishery revenue of $7,000, and return you an extra 5 per cent. on $657,282.45, or $32,864.12.

Still Be Taxed

So far as your taxes are concerned for the sinking fund and interest of the $1,342,717.55 you will be taxed for the present amount of same, which is $77,602.55, and also for the loss of fisheries, $7,000, making a total of $84,602.55. You transfer a revenue which is at present paying the interest and sinking fund, and also your fishery revenue of $7,000, and return you an extra 5 per cent. on $657,282.45, or $32,864.12.

Suburban Crashes Into Auto Party

Automobile and Occupants Hurlled Fifty Feet—Miraculous Escape.

A most miraculous escape from a serious if not fatal accident occurred yesterday afternoon when the C. F. R. suburban train, his an automobile at Mill Crossing, Hilldale, in which were City Engineer Geo. Hare and a friend who were returning to the city from a visit to Westfield Beach. The automobile and its occupants were hurled a distance of fifty feet by the impact of the collision, the machine being destroyed and the occupants escaping with painful but not serious injuries.

There are two grade crossings between Westfield and Hilldale with in 300 feet of each other. The driver of the car had stopped at the crossing nearest the Westfield station for the Valley train to pass. After it had gone by, with a following of a train he crossed over the crossing and continued on. He says he never warned over to the crossing for a moment thought another train would appear. Following the crossing he was on the crossing with the train upon him. He regards it as nothing short of a miracle that the occupants of the automobile, a Ford car, were not killed and takes it upon himself the blame for not stopping and looking when he approached the Mill Crossing.

Formal Opening of Nurses' Home

Public Invited to Inspect New Building on Wednesday—Hospital Aid Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Hospital Aid Society was held yesterday afternoon in the Board of Trade rooms. Mrs. E. A. Smith was unable to be present at the meeting and sent regrets; Mrs. T. H. Carter presided.

J. King Kelley, of the Board of Commissioners of the General Public Hospital, spoke on the formal opening of the new building, Nurses' Home, which will be held Wednesday afternoon when the building will formally be opened. The opening will take place from 2 o'clock to 5 p. m. and with these hours a chance to inspect the home will be given to all, and a dance will be held in the evening by the Alumnae of Nurses in the building.

The programme for the opening day is as follows: Lieut. Governor Pugsley will declare the Nurses' Home formally opened. Mrs. A. A. Smith will formally give the furniture to the Home for the Woman's Hospital Aid Society. M. E. Azar, chairman of the Board of Hospital Commissioners, will formally accept the building and the furniture on behalf of the Board of Hospital Commissioners. Dr. Walker and Senator Daniels will speak.

The brass tablet, in memory of Miss Anna Stammers, nurse, who lost her life on the hospital ship "Llandovery Castle" will be unveiled.

Reports Read

The reports were next read and approved. Mrs. R. D. Sun, treasurer, read her report as follows: General account . . . $5,794.35 Expenditures . . . 9.00 Balance . . . $5,785.35 Flower Fund . . . 1.11 Furnishing Fund . . . 13,447.31 This report was gone into and adopted.

Mrs. A. C. Skelton was appointed convener for the month.

The report of the convener of the visiting committee, Mrs. A. W. Estey, was read. The patients were happy and contented in the warm weather and flowers had been taken to them every week excepting last week. Magazines, fruit, ice cream and candy had been supplied. One little girl was given a doll and the smaller children paper dolls. One follow-up case was reported to the Anglican vice-president, Mrs. Lester Mowry, and one to the Methodist vice-president.

The report of the magazine committee was read. The Anglicans had charge of it this month and the Roman Catholics will have it for next month. The committee reported a contribution of children's books by Dr. Mabel Hanington.

Other Reports

The furnishing committee reported that the entire home would be in readiness on Monday night.

The Baptist committee reported three new members from the Tabernacle church. The Anglicans reported one member from St. Luke's. The Methodists reported three members. Mrs. Green, of the Hebrew denomination reported two new members.

The reports of the cook book committee were read and said that the sale of the books at the present time was rather small and the efforts would be made for better results.

The very kind offer of Mr. Keirstead of Hampton, to supply flowers was accepted and gratitude expressed for the offer. Duncan Smith was made convener for the Home on the opening day with six assistants on each floor.

A communication was received from Colonel E. T. Sturdee donating two pictures to the Home, for which the society is very grateful.

The wish of the society that everyone attend the opening and inspect the building, that is one of the most modern and up-to-date edifices in the provinces, the Hospital Aid will be at the opening to show the visitors around.

Wants Police To Protect Workers

Manager Thomson of Power Co. Thinks Officials Have Something to Consider.

Aside from the announcement by General Manager Thomson of the N. B. Power Company that it would inaugurate a five cent reduction in the rate of full and complete street car service, there were no new developments Thursday in the war being waged by the company and its former employees. Manager Thomson also announced yesterday that it would be the policy of the company to place new and modern cars in service and maintain better track.

Commissioner Frink's declaration that the work of his department had been retarded on Brussels street by the ditatory tactics of the Power Company, and his threat to tear up the tracks and proceed with the street work there, didn't excite Manager Thomson to any extent. The manager said he was prepared to carry out the company's plans on Brussels street whenever the city provided police protection for the men employed on the work. He said he had no intention to place a body of men at work in that section and let them remain there the targets for rocks thrown by the mob, and recouping that locality, whose chief work is to intimidate the men in the employ of the company. Manager Thomson says he is prepared to do the work, and it is only the city authorities who, by their indifference to existing conditions, are not providing the police able and willing to cope with the situation on Brussels street.

The men of the department of the society. Addresses were made by Mr. Geo. Matthew, Mr. Burditt, T. H. Estabrook and several others.

The party left Natural History building at 3 o'clock yesterday and proceeded to the lake by automobile. About forty members attended the field day, and greatly enjoyed the outing. Mrs. W. H. Shaw, the president of the Ladies' Association of the Natural History Society, presided at the outing and great credit is due for her efforts in the entertainment of the party.

A very dainty luncheon was served and the party returned to the city in the evening, voting the day a success.

Dr. Matthew examined the rocky hills surrounding the lake, and said that they were of the Laurentian period, a space of time before the Glacial period, and are the oldest formation of rock that geologists have knowledge of.

Natural History Society Outing

Members Listen to An Instructive Address from Dr. Matthews.

At the field day of the Natural History Society, which was held yesterday afternoon at Ashburn Lake, the speaker of the occasion was Dr. William D. Matthews, F.R.S., and Curator of Vertebrate Paleontology of the American Museum of Natural History, New York. Dr. Matthews gave a résumé of his several months' travel in Europe, and the thirty world famous museums that he was through while there. He specialized particularly in the Dinosaurs, of which he gave a very interesting account on its habitations and mode of living. Dr. Matthews started in the museums in Sweden, working through the continent and finishing in Great Britain. His talk was the chief one of the day, and was very much enjoyed by a large audience, composed of members of the Natural History Society.

The president of the society, R. E. Emerson, made an address, and Dr. Baxter, in a most felicitous speech, moved a vote of thanks, which was seconded by A. H. Wetmore, the con-
