THAT INJUNCTION.

Judge Fraser Refuses its Dissolution.

Judge Fraser delivered a very elaborate and lengthy judgment on Saturday, in the everal cases of O'Malley v. the Saint John Valley and Riviere du Loup railways and Alexander A. Note-The above Diagram illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Bakin Powder knows by practical experience, that, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair minded person of these facts.

* While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any value. All clum powders, no matter how high their strength are to be avoided as dangerous.

First-Class in Design;

First-Class in Workmanship: First-Class in Operation. THE ORIGINAL is the ONLY FIRST-CLASS WOOD COOK that has an individuality of its own, distinguishing it from the every day construction offered in First-Class Stoves.

The ORIGINAL fulfils every pledge that is made for it, and stands to-day unequalled as a marvel of beauty and practical utility.

Modern ideas and new improvements, make it the most economical and convenient stove ever placed on the market. It has the largest High Oven, largest top, largest reservoir, largest fire box and flues. Its value is apparent at sight, and builds its own reputation.

The lower oven door drots and forms a substantial flush oven shelf, while the upper one relains the heat that is wasted from every swinging oven door Cook Stove.

I also keep the NOVEL STANDARD, the latest and most modern COAL COOK in the market. The points of construction are similar to the Original Cook, and a sister stove for burning coal.

QUITE AN ADVENTURE.

A good many years have passed since, one bitterly cold night-the last night in the old year-I was taking the seven o'clock P. M., express from York to Newcastle. The train stood ready to start; but either there were few passengers or they did not like leaving the cheerful ladies?" warmth of waiting and refreshment rooms until the last moment, for I raced the platform in gloomy solitude, trying to decide the then momentous question. whether to travel third class, and please the governor, or first, and please myself My father was a large shareholder, and took an active interest in the working of the line. He was not satisfied with getting good interest for his money, but wanted to the very full amount all the principal was capable of making. One of his maxims was "Make the third class carriages as comfortable as you can, and then far greater numbers will travel."

"It is not the solitary firsts and seconds Bob, my lad," said he, addressing me, "that will make the affair pay, but the hundreds and thousands of mill hands and mechanics. When you travel on our line never lose an opportunity of going third class, and then you will be able to suggest improvements."

And so I usually followed his advice: but on this night I felt sorely tempted to science, that I was bound to please the old gentleman just now if possible. He that in a few days I should be obliged waiting. again to appeal to his generosity to free me from my liabilities; and so with the air of a martyr, I walked up to the front of the nearest carriage.

"Are these corner seats all taken?" asked of two ladies who were the sole occupants of the carriage. "All but that," said the elder one,

I threw in a small satchel and some "You are not going third on a night like this, Mr. Lawson?" said the guard note of the sacrifice I had made. " I will get you a foot-warmer; you will need it to night," said the guard, as he Was hurrying away.

"Thanks! Bring one for these ladies as well," returned I. "Have you any luggage, sir?" the man inquired a few moments later, as, having I ufilled his commission, he stood waiting to give the signal for our departure. "In the van," I replied.

"And your friends?" asked he I turned to the ladies. The elder one nodded, and I answered, "Yes." "All right!" the guard shouted, and blew a shrill whistle; and in a few seconds we were on our way to Newcastle. But travelling was heavy work, as the rails were encumbered with snow. My companions were not talkative. The old lady indeed listened to what I had to say, and now and again ventured a remark on her own account; but the young one merely gave monosyllable replies to any observations addressed to her. 1 thought, however, that she had the most musical voice I had ever heard, and felt Shetland veil, which made it impossible to

At length I gave up all efforts at conversation, and sat wondering who my fellow-passengers were, and devising a We wo scheme that would make the young lady | was not until the evening of the next day throw back her veil, As I lay back with that we arrived in Newcastle. they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and infiamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians. By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "cold in the head." Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache.

Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony from Catarrh." Prof. W. HAUSNER, the famous mesmerist, of lthaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent." "Constantly Hawking and Spitting.

Thomas J. Rushing, Esq., 2003 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckiy, I was advised to try Dr. Sago's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

ELI ROBEINS, Runjan P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and soon saw that it helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eighteen years old and sound and hearty."
