

DEALERS REQUIRED TO SQUARE THEMSELVES WITH COMBINE

Before They Could Be Supplied With Coal.

LOCK-OUT LIST OF CONSUMERS

Evidence Brought Out at Brantford Re Alleged Operations of Ontario Association.

Brantford, Jan. 30.—The case against President Thomas Elliott, of the Ontario Coal Association, who is charged with conspiring to lessen the competition in the purchase and sale of coal, was examined at the police court yesterday morning before Police Magistrate Woodruff. There was a very large attendance and the greatest interest is manifested in the case.

The first witness was William Frank, a coal dealer of Port Dover, and a member of the Ontario Coal Association. He testified that there was a local difficulty existing among coal dealers in Port Dover last April, and President Elliott visited the place and adjusted matters. A letter was produced from a Buffalo firm to the witness, in which the statement was made that no more coal should be furnished him unless he made arrangements with the Ontario Coal Association. He had already given the firm an order for $1,250, and after seeing Mr. Elliott this was filed.

William Stewart, a non-association dealer at Scotland, testified that since the strike he had purchased anthracite coal for $5.50 per gross ton, and retailed it at $6.50 and $7.

Fred Mann, of the Brantford Coal Company, testified that during the last three months coal has been retailed in Brantford at a cost of $9 per ton. The high price was the result of the strike and the consequent limited supply. He had never attempted to prevent non-association dealers from bringing in coal and never laid or threatened to lay information against such parties. Regarding the cost of the great bulk of coal laid down here during the last three months, witness said that it would average $7.70 per gross ton, the lowest price being $6.70. Frequently a high price as $11 was demanded by Buffalo wholesalers. So far as he knew there had been no conspiracy on the part of the Ontario Association to prevent competition in either sale or purchase. The Brantford Coal Company fixed its own prices, regardless of other companies.

"LOCK-OUT LIST." Mrs. Hattie Matthews swore that she attempted to buy coal from L. Walsh, but, although her order was accepted, it was not filled, presumably because her husband had procured a half ton of coal from the Watrous Engine Company, a firm which is on the "lock-out list."

William B. Wood, secretary of the Mechanics Coal Company, related his experiences in endeavoring to buy coal at Buffalo, claiming that his company was on the "lock-out list" and no dealers would fill their orders. In Hamilton he was also boycotted by Myles & Sons, who were going to sell him coal but refused on learning what company he represented.

At 1 o'clock court adjourned until Wednesday.

THE READING COMPANY'S CASE

Before the United States Coal Strike Commission.
Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—The Philadelphia...

delphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company opened its case yesterday before the coal strike commission. Simon P. Wolverson, the company's leading counsel, presented in book form all the communications that have passed between the mine workers, their organization and the coal operators.

John Veith, of Pottsville, general mining superintendent of the company, gave a brief history of his experience as a miner. He has been in his present position for 25 years. There are under him four division superintendents and ten district superintendents. Owing to the steep pitches of the veins in the Reading mines most of the coal mined by the men is paid for by the yard. The company has 37 collieries, and employs about 25,000 or 26,000 men. Of these 5,000 to 6,000 are miners. He gave a technical description of the varying condition of the mines and the difficulties in the way of paying the miners under one system. Under the company's rule the miners may work in any other colliery of the company. If a miner, he said, cannot earn living wages, it is the rule of the company to adjust matters. The Reading does not maintain company stores nor employ company doctors, nor has it a docking system. The miners' health, compared with the health of men in other parts of the world, was good. Improvements in the mines were always going on which made them healthier for the men. Speaking of discipline, he said that the employees were not so obedient now as prior to the advent of the union.

The St. Clair Coal Company, near Pottsville, presented its case. This is the last of the independent operators to be heard. W. H. Taylor, president, read a statement in answer to the mine workers' union. It was agreed at the afternoon session Attorney Wolverson, for the Reading Company, announced that at a conference held Tuesday noon recesses were taken. The general manager, superintendent of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, and George W. Kartell, secretary of district No. 9, had been in conference with the union, and the weighing of coal in the ninth district, which takes in all of the southern coal fields, is impracticable because of the pitching value. This settles, so far as the lower fields are concerned, one of the principal issues in dispute in the other two regions.

BREAK IN PRICES PREDICTED. Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 29.—The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company had all but one of its active collieries in operation yesterday, and today the full quota of 32 collieries is being worked. The output averages from 1,200 to 1,400 cars daily.

General Manager Henderson, of the coal company, is beginning to take an optimistic view of the situation, and predicts that a break in the present high prices asked by the independent operators is BOUND TO COME VERY SOON.

It is stated on good authority that the railroads are acting in their power to accomplish that object. They are said to be determined to break up the speculative feature of the anthracite business. The increased output of the big mining companies and the mild weather is beginning to have an effect upon high prices.

Agitation in Newfoundland.

St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 30.—The agitation in favor of a retaliatory policy against the United States, should the Bond-Hay treaty be defeated, is growing in force. The Free Press, an independent opposition journal, declares that if the treaty is rejected the Government owes it to the dignity of the British colony to act promptly and declisely. It is thought the retaliatory legislation will probably be adopted without meeting with opposition in either branch of the Legislature.

THE ALASKAN BOUNDARY

Must Be Settled Before Uncle Sam Will Handle Minor Matters.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Senator Foster, of Washington, recently presented to Secretary Hay the request of some of his constituents for the establishment of a fish hatchery on the Fraser River, in British Columbia, which has called forth a general statement from the secretary showing it to be the policy of the state department to take no action upon any minor questions affecting the relations between the United States and Canada so long as the dispute over the boundary between British America and Alaska remains undetermined.

In a letter to Senator Foster the secretary says the recommendations of the joint high commission, so far as they touched the subjects upon which concurrent opinions were reached, are still in abeyance, the drift of sentiment on both sides being that while an agreement upon the subjects brought before the commission appeared to be desirable and for the most part obtainable, it seemed appropriate to dispose of them as a whole subject to the adjustment of the main question of the Alaskan boundary. The indisposition of the Canadian Government to assent to the settlement of the subordinate questions pending the disposal of the boundary question makes it unlikely that a particular detail of the general plan would be favorably considered by the British Government at this time. However, the legal questions as to the jurisdiction of authority of the Federal Government to deal with the matter is still unsettled. The secretary's opinion, however, being that it should properly be settled by treaty rather than by concurrent legislation or local understandings.

A TALK WITH MR. ROBLIN

Manitoba's Premier Says School Question Is Closed.

Premier Ross to Reorganize His Own Department—N. Grey Nomination.

Montreal, Jan. 30.—Premier Roblin of Manitoba is in the city at present and in the course of an interview he was asked: "Did you notice the Archbishop Bruchesi, on his return from Manitoba, said he believed from his audience with the Pope that the Manitoba school question was not closed?" "As far as the Manitoba Government is concerned," replied the Premier, "the question is closed, and nothing at the present nor at any future date will reopen it."

"Then, as a matter of fact, the question is not any longer to be decided by the Manitoba Government?" "It was settled by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and he acted on behalf of the French-Canadian Catholics. If further action were taken, it would have to be through Premier Laurier."

Owen Sound, Ont., Jan. 30.—At an enthusiastic convention of North Grey Liberals held here yesterday afternoon, the Rev. J. M. Kennedy, of the House of Commons, Matthew Kennedy, of the Wm. Kennedy & Sons, Limited, Owen Sound, was chosen on the first ballot.

The other candidates were B. Allen, W. H. Wright and F. W. Harrison. Toronto, Jan. 30.—Premier Ross stated yesterday that he intended to reorganize his own department, that of the treasury, on somewhat the same lines as the civil service system. Whether the reforms would be introduced in all departments was a matter for future consideration. It was not his intention to take up the question as a whole for the present, but to inaugurate civil service examination in Ontario.

The method in vogue at Ottawa is that of grading the clerical staff, second and third classes, with a minimum and maximum salary for each grade, and regular increase each year. Montreal, Jan. 29.—E. D. Mount, Conservative leader of the Province of Quebec, was the guest of honor tonight at a banquet tendered by the Conservatives of Montreal at the Hotel St. Jean Baptiste Hall. A feature of the evening was the presentation of an oil portrait of Mr. Monk to the Conservative leader. Mr. Bordet, a deputation from Newmarket and other points of North York, has been in the city to tender the prohibition nomination to an independent candidate. They have asked Mr. W. Munns, whose name was mentioned in this connection at the time of the general elections, to enter the field, and he has promised an early reply.

The Graceland Victims.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 29.—Engineer Jas. H. Davis, of the Reading Railroad express, who ran into the local express near Graceland Tuesday night, died in the Mueselberg hospital today. The other victims of the wreck, who are in the hospital, are reported to be doing as well as could be expected, although it is feared that several of them may not recover.

Impetus to Wireless Telegraphy.

Montreal, Jan. 29.—Signor Marconi has arrived in the city on business connected with the affairs of the Canadian Marconi Wireless Telegraphy Company, which has just been launched here, and was dining at St. James' Club tonight by a number of prominent citizens. He states that he has received official information that the Italian Government has decided to establish wireless connection with South America, and has appropriated $200,000 as a start. This will, Marconi considers, give a great impetus to the use of the wireless service all over the world.

Late Judge McDougall's Funeral.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—The late Judge McDougall's funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon. Judge McDougall is survived by a widow, formerly Miss Beattie, of Cobourg; two sons, Gordon, in New York, and John, in London; and four daughters, one married to Dr. Bell, of Peterboro, and three at home.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock yesterday out of respect for the late Judge McDougall, with whom the colonial had sat as a police commissioner for 25 years. Col. Denison, Crown Attorney Currie and T. C. Robinson all paid tribute to the memory of the late judge. Judge McDougall was appointed junior judge of York in 1883, and senior judge in 1885. He was 85 years of age. William McDougall, and was born in 1846.

TO TUNNEL ST. LAWRENCE

Railway Scheme to Join Longueuil and Montreal Center.

Locating the Grand Trunk Pacific—Plan to Control Maritime Roads.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 30.—President H. A. Widge, of the Quebec Southern Railway, announced yesterday that the entire capital for the Quebec Southern Tunnel Company has been subscribed and that work on the line would be started as soon as the plans that have been forwarded to Ottawa have been accepted.

The project, which was started some time ago, is to join the south shore with Montreal by means of double tunnel, starting at Longueuil and reaching to the center of the city of Montreal. The capital of the company is $1,000,000, and has been subscribed chiefly in Montreal and Boston.

LOCATION OF G. T. PACIFIC.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 30.—Premier Roblin, of Manitoba, who is in the city, in the course of an interview, was asked about the proposition to locate the Grand Trunk Pacific north of Lake Winnipeg, with a branch into Winnipeg, and said he disapproved of the plan. He added: "Of course, they need more railways in the territory, but then it would be much easier for the existing railway to build branches into the various districts than for another company to commence and build a new line. Personally, I think that the needs of the country would be amply attended to when the present railways are able to secure better equipment."

Toronto, Jan. 30.—It is stated on good authority here that the McKenzie & Mann interests are seeking control of the Nova Scotia Railway from Halifax to Yarmouth and the Dominion Atlantic, to combine them with their Inverness line in Nova Scotia. New Brunswick would be their next field for operations. Then, working with the Intercolonial and the Canada Atlantic, they would secure direct connection to the Soo, and so, with the Canadian Northern line and its projected extension, across the continent.

Bonded Warehouse Changes.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—A deputation of Montreal business men interviewed the Minister of Customs yesterday, and protested against a proposed change in the system of charges for maintaining bonded warehouses. At present any merchant may have a bonded warehouse by paying $40 per year, which covers the cost of the attendance of a customs official when required. By this system all merchants are charged alike, whether the office is occupied in the warehouse for an hour per week or for an hour or two every day. The Minister of Customs decided that a change should be made whereby the service would be paid for according to its cost to the department, so that the self-sustaining warehouse system would be self-sustaining.

Alex. Gordon, one of the earliest settlers of Kincardine, died on Wednesday evening, in his 81st year. Mr. Gordon was born in Ireland, and when a young man was a member of the Irish Constabulary. He came to Canada in 1851, first settling in Hamilton, then he came to Kincardine. He for a number of years was engaged in the fishing industry, in which he was quite successful. During the active period of life he took an interest in municipal affairs and at various times he held different municipal offices.

Mr. John Elliott, contractor and builder, died at St. Mary's on Monday, Jan. 28. Although he had been a sufferer from heart trouble for the past year, and of late had been confined to his home, the news of his death came as a surprise to many. He was born in Sheffield, Beverley Township, and at the time of his death was in his 50th year. He was married to Margaret, daughter of Mr. Hiram Smith, of West Nisour, in 1874. He had resided in St. Mary's since his marriage to the time of his death. He leaves, besides his widow, one daughter, Miss May, who lives at home. Mr. Elliott was a contractor for the town hall, the English Catholic Church, the waterworks, tower and buildings, also many residences and bridges in St. Mary's and district.

Mr. W. G. Simmie, of Claverham, has secured the contract for supplying the G. T. R. with all the wood needed for 1903-4 on the Watford division, the northern division and the main line west of Stratford.

"That Charles Chubb came to his death by a freight train, through the carelessness of the Grand Trunk Railway, by not living up to the statute of the railway act of Canada, we have reference particularly to section 20, chapter 2, of the Victoria," was the verdict brought in by the jury last night at the inquest into the death of Charles Chubb, killed in the Grand Trunk yards at Windsor, while cleaning snow from the tracks. The jury acquitted the trainmen of all blame.

The hotelkeepers of Watford have unanimously agreed to close their bars on Saturday night to Monday morning. Very little selling has been done after hours there at any time, says the Canadian Township, and the time of his death was in his 50th year. He was married to Margaret, daughter of Mr. Hiram Smith, of West Nisour, in 1874. He had resided in St. Mary's since his marriage to the time of his death. Molders Have Narrow Escape.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—Several molders and laborers employed in the Esplanade foundry had a narrow escape from violent death yesterday. While moving an eight-ton mold, the big steel traveling crane, stretching from wall to wall of the building, bent beneath its tremendous weight, one end being dragged from the supporting rail and dropping it to the ground. Fortunately it gave a warning creak, enabling most of the men who were working underneath it to step out of the way. The huge falling girder brushed the clothing of some of the workmen, but a few bruises were the worst results. John Barcher, of 83 Sherbourne street, who was riding on the crane, was pulled out from underneath the debris, but a few bruises were found to be the extent of his injuries. William Toblas, another workman, who was riding on the crane, escaped injury by springing up and clinging to a beam, while the ironwork gave way beneath him.

Valuable Advice to Mothers.

If your child comes in from play coughing or showing evidences of an approaching attack of croup, get out your bottle of Nervine. Rub the chest and neck of any kind, and give internal doses of ten drops of Nervine in sweetened water every two hours. This will relieve the most distressing symptoms of croup or whooping cough. No liniment or pain reliever equals Polson's Nervine, which is a necessity in every household. Large bottles cost only 25c.

Representative of Grand Jury Calls Attention to Accommodation for Insane.

As mentioned in The Advertiser last evening, yesterday afternoon the council of the County of Middlesex listened to Mr. A. E. Welch in support of a request for the lease of a portion of courthouse square for a station, and to a deputation from the city council in reference to the passage of the wide tire bylaw, this latter feature of the session being perhaps the most decisive.

In accordance with the routine, the communications were read. There were few in number. There was one from Nancy Fisher, who wished to be maintained in the Aged People's Home, she being 75 years of age.

The request from the Southwestern Traction Company was as follows:

"We beg to once again ask your honorable body to consider the matter of granting to this company sufficient land for a station on the extreme south corner of your county buildings square."

"The city council granted us permission to use the plot 15 by 30 feet off the land leased from you, and as this is ridiculous, we have had to come back to you and throw ourselves upon your kindness."

"As we have stated before, we believe this move would be in the interests of the citizens of the County of Middlesex, and we shall endeavor to merit your generosity by conserving your interests in the matter and by looking after the property carefully after you have granted it to us."

In addressing the council upon this matter, Mr. A. E. Welch, manager of the company, explained to the council the benefits to be derived by the people of the county from the proposed road. He had spoken to a number of county people, and he had heard no objection to the proposal to place a station on the courthouse square. He had also heard of the benefits to be derived by the county people to get to town.

On motion of Councilors Neely and Jackson, the request was referred to a committee composed of Councilors Neely, Leod, Jackson, Gray, Elson and the warden, to report upon at this session of the council.

WIDE TIRES NOT THE BEST.

The deputation from the city council was No. 2 committee, consisting of Ald. Wright, Cooper and Gerry.

Chairman Wright was the first to address the council. He explained that the city council had given a bylaw regulating the width of tires two readings, and he believed that the third reading it had been deemed advisable to consult with the county council.

The city's interests and the farmers' were identical, and the city could not do much in this regard unless the county passed it by a large majority. He thought himself that the wide tires would mean a great saving on the roads. Whether it was an advisable bylaw or not, it was for the county councilors to say.

The clerk was then asked to read the bylaw, which provided that with loads of 2,000 pounds, from 2,000 to 4,000 pounds, 3 inches, and with loads over 4,000 pounds, a tire not smaller than 4 inches.

Ald. Cooper was a strong advocate of the bylaw. He thought it should be drawn easier on a wide tire than on a narrow one. He also advised the county council to grant the request of the traction company for a station site.

Mayor Beck was noticed at the back of the chamber, and was invited to the platform. He said he had only come to hear the views of the county council. Ald. Gerry seconded the statements of the other members of the committee.

Councilor Gray expressed his pleasure that the city deputation had come to consult with them before passing the bylaw. Wide tires, he said, were not looked upon favorably. He explained the superior advantages of the narrow tire. Councilor Robotham was of a like opinion, adding that it was the gravel teamsters who damaged the city streets and not the farmers.

Councilors Elson and Neely also spoke against the wide tire bylaw, the former moving the following resolution: That a deputation from the city council be sent to the county council to request the repeal of the wide tire bylaw.

One of Them Killed.
Two Brooklyn Men Quarrel Over the Conviction of Col. Lynch.

New York, Jan. 30. — Thos. Lynch, of Brooklyn, stabbed James Golden to death yesterday in front of a Brooklyn police station, where the two men quarreled over the conviction of Col. Lynch, on the charge of high treason.

Thomas Lynch, who is not related to the former member of Parliament, declared that the conviction of his namesake was an outrage, and that it would have been better to kill fifty Englishmen than to carry out the sentence of death on a British subject.

Golden resented this and a fight followed, in which Golden was killed. Lynch was arrested. He is 55 years old, but was a British subject.

SUICIDE IN A BARBER SHOP.
Paul Fuchs, 31 years old, committed suicide in a barber shop on Wednesday. Fuchs, who had left Bellevue Hospital only a short time before, where he had been under treatment in the alcoholic ward, nearly severed his head with two razors. Corner Scholar, after he learned the facts, censured the officials of Bellevue Hospital for discharging the man as cured. It is asserted, on the other hand, that Fuchs was not discharged, and that, although his name appeared on the list of patients to be transferred to the City Hospital, he did not respond when his name was called before the patient's embarkment for Blackwell's Island.

NUMEROUS SMALLPOX CASES

St. Thomas Has Ten—New Cases in Various Parts of the Province.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—The secretary of the board of health has received reports of a number of new cases of smallpox in the province. A belated report from Jocelyn, on Manitoulin Island, states that there have been ten cases and two deaths in that district, but that the epidemic is over. There is a new case at Sault Ste. Marie, another at Amherstburg, three more in Tay Township, a new case in Mendon Township, of Hinchbrook, in Eastern Ontario, which are traced to an arrival from North Dakota.

The medical health officer of St. Thomas has issued a bulletin that there are in that city ten cases of smallpox and 42 persons under quarantine. A new isolation hospital is being built there.

Dr. Hodgetts, of Toronto, provincial medical inspector, on Wednesday had a conference with Dr. Lutton, chairman of the St. Thomas Board of Health; Dr. Van Buskirk, medical health officer, and W. J. Shaw, sanitary inspector. The officer expressed himself as satisfied with the precautions taken by the local board of health. All had been done that could possibly be expected to safeguard the public's interest, with the exception of compulsory vaccination. This must be enforced, he said, as vaccination and an efficient quarantine are the chief means of prevention. The latter is now in force, and the former will be without delay.

Dying by Slow Degrees.
Although not always aware of it, yet thousands die by slow degrees of catarrh. It first attacks the nose or throat, then the lungs, and finally spreads all through the system. Catarrh is the only remedy that will immediately prevent the spread of this awful disease. Every breath from this awful disease, thousands of germs, clear the throat and nose, and expectoration and relief comes across the eyes. Catarrh eradicates every vestige of catarrh from the system, and is highly recommended also for bronchitis, asthma, catarrh and lung trouble. Price, 3c; trial size, 5c; all druggists. A High-Handed Course.

The Mayor says there is no intention of submitting to the people the bylaws to raise $50,000 for fire department and hospital expenditures.

If the City Council is of this mind, the sooner the taxpayers know it the better. Application has been made to the Legislature by the city for power to issue debentures to the amount indicated, but as there is no plea of urgency, the Legislature should refuse to grant the petition, unless a reference to the ratepayers is provided for. It is only an emergency that could justify the council in such a course, but there is no pretense that any such condition exists at present. The council will have no right to saddle the city with an extra indebtedness of $50,000 without consulting the people. The latter will look to the Legislature to protect them in this matter.

The Wonder of the Age.

A Chicago scientist claims to have discovered that electricity is the basis of life and says he is following up the clue to the mystery which has baffled the human mind since time began. Dr. Parkhurst, the noted New York divine, is also a scientific sensationalist. He says that wireless telegraphy will be superseded by mental telepathy and that by and by "we shall probably be able to think across the water without going to the trouble and expense of setting up apparatus at even the shore ends of the route." In these days it is hardly safe to laugh at any prediction. Two hundred years ago Marconi would have been burned alive as a wizard and only a few years ago the idea of telegraphing across the ocean without wires would have been deemed as fanciful as Dr. Parkhurst's vision of a telepathic future. This recalls an eloquent paragraph written by the late Nicholas Flood Davin to The Advertiser six years ago. He was asked by this journal what he considered to be the most remarkable development in the nineteenth century, and replied as follows:

"The one thing that strikes me most in glancing over the last 90 years is the application of electricity to the needs of man. Electricity has removed the most formidable barrier to the unity and permanency of an empire scattered over every zone and every sea. The electric car has not yet ceased to fill me with admiration. Life is conscious electricity; genius a dynamo of more than common power. Electricity will be found a solution of every problem. What is called the oratorical temperament is the power of making a circuit with your audience, and attractiveness in man or woman is a higher degree of electricity. Electricity is the invisible embodiment of Prospero's Ariel."

Lo, the Poor Pedestrian.

The sidewalks of London yesterday were a danger to limb and life. Loose snow allows the pedestrian some foothold, but becomes slippery when packed down, and a thaw completes the treacherous combination. Yesterday people were wading ankle-deep in slush on a coat of ice. Many women were prevented from going down town to do their shopping and every citizen was seriously inconvenienced. The state of the sidewalks in the winter season has always been a reproach to the city, and will continue to be until some better system of snow removal is devised. If other cities solve the problem, why not London? It would be a great hardship if the army of working people, including women and girls, had to tramp through a foot of snow early in the morning to reach the shop or factory. The snow plows spare them this hardship, but they do not do enough. In some cities every householder is required to clear his sidewalk within 24 hours after a snowfall. This might be an annoyance to a busy man, but it is easier than trudging daily over slushy or slippery sidewalks, and losing time to boot. The householder who would not feel equal to the shovel exercise, could have it done at a nominal sum, as the inevitable snow-brood is always on the look-out to earn a dime. This regulation works well in Toronto and other cities where there have no such public nuisance as the sidewalks of this city now present.

A Prosperous Politician.

The Essex County World, a staunch Conservative paper, published at Windsor, says editorially:

"Mr. John Harmon is back from the campaign in the recent by-elections. On Thursday last we were treating everyone he met to 10-cent cigars, and just what they wanted to drink. At one hotel he is reported to have spent $50. Mr. Harmon was exhibiting a large roll of bills, the outside one being a $20; there were some tens, and many of the other denominations. He is talking in his characteristic fashion about his proceedings, and those of others of a like kind to himself."

"If John Harmon is a sample of the average Conservative worker, Mr. Whitney places his reliance on, then he will never grace the seat in the Ontario Legislature now occupied by Mr. Ross. The editor would not believe John Harmon's story that he had been out elbowing until the 'wad' and treating incidents were disclosed, then the World was convinced that our old friend John had frustrated once more the proverb: Poles and their money are soon parted."

This is merely another proof that the Conservative party's new brand of purity consists in denouncing the other party for corruption. It verifies the suspicion that the Opposition spent a great deal of money in the recent bye-elections. The revelations of the election courts also gave the Liberals plenty of opportunity to urge the tu quoque argument, but it may be doubted if it serves any good purpose. More will be accomplished by each party trying to drive corruption out of its own ranks, than by attacking it only when it appears in the other party.

Premier Ross: "We are seven."

Walking in London just now is a gymnastic exercise.

Messrs. Beck, Carrothers and Skinner are still outside waiting for reinforcements.

The W. C. T. U. has started a crusade against the cigarette. Legislation that will keep the small boy and the cigarette apart may be safely passed without a referendum.

In Center Bruce the Opposition candidate testified to the receipt of $600 from the party's central campaign fund. He spent $100 on the election and put the rest in his private pocket. Defeat should have no sting under such circumstances.

The Toronto Star, the Hamilton Herald and the Winnipeg Tribune call for the extension of the Intercolonial westward. When The Advertiser suggested the same thing months ago, a local contemporary accused it of trying to promote a dark scheme of Mr. Blair's. The Intercolonial should be carried to the Georgian Bay and the most practicable method is to purchase the Canada Atlantic, if the latter will sell out at a reasonable figure.

Mr. C. H. Waterous, the big Brantford manufacturer, says the Niagara power question is of the greatest importance to Western Ontario. He favors a trunk line from the Falls for the transmission of electricity to such municipalities as can be reached. "We must prevent every town from securing power cheaper than we do," Mr. Waterous adds. "It is a big question, and the Government should be careful to grasp the situation thoroughly. I think a private company could be allowed to transmit and sell the power as long as no injustice was done." This is the case in a nutshell. "We must prevent every town from securing power cheaper than we do." The city of London should say that as well as the city of Brantford. The Woodstock Sentinel-Review says that if Toronto had got what she asked at the last session of the Legislature, she would have been able to make "an industrial Sahara desert of a great many cities and towns throughout Ontario." All the more reason why the cities and towns of Western Ontario should get together and prevent discriminations in favor of any municipalities. London is only 40 miles further from the Falls than Toronto, and the cost of transmitting to this city should not be appreciably greater.

Had Seen Him Before.

[Exchange.]

Bishop Potter was waiting for a train in Minnesota on one occasion when he noticed a stranger eyeing him with great curiosity. "Excuse me, mister," he was eventually asked, "but I think I've seen your picture in the papers." "Probably," admitted the bishop. "Kin I ask," continued the fellow-traveler, edging nearer, "what you was cured of?"

Patrie, of Montreal. A couple of years ago the same Spectator described the same Mr. Tarte as a traitor to Britain and an enemy to Canada, and advised the electors of Hamilton to give Tarte a lesson by voting for Barker and Bruce. Tarte will not admit that he has changed in the interval. How about the Spectator?

Progress in South Africa.

[Washington Star.]

Joseph Chamberlain and Gen. Delarey in friendly combat in South Africa make a picture of note. Each in his own field did his utmost for his own side while the war continued, and earned thereby the respect of the other. The war is over, and now the two strong men join hands for the purpose of building up the country under the British flag. Success for their labor is reasonably well assured. The one represents the dominant British feeling respecting the Boers, the other the dominant Boer sincerity as to accepting in the utmost good faith the results of the memorable struggle for supremacy. Not everything will go smoothly, but everything will go along, propelled by so much force of character and ripe experience in conducting large enterprises. And the general result will be for the good of all.

Favored the Clarinet.

[Washington Star.]

"So ye're goin' to make yer by a musician," said Mr. Rafferty. "I am," answered Mr. Dolan. "I'm goin' to have 'im learnt to play the clarinet." "Why don't ye learn 'im th' violin?" "Because I want 'im to have every advantage. A violin makes fine music, but a clarinet is a heap more to be depended on in a scrimmage."

The Elasticity of English.

[New York Times.]

M. Le Compte Robert De Montequi-Fezensac, here to lecture on French literature, met with a surprise the other day at a reception. He was talking to a dainty little lady, who spoke very good French. She was telling of the vast possibilities in the English language, and neglectful of the fact that he imperfectly understood the language, she gave him the following:

"A flock of girls is called a bevy, a bevy of wolves is called a pack, a pack of thieves is called a gang, a gang of angels is called a host, a host of fish is called a shoal, a shoal of cattle is called a herd, a herd of children is called a troop, a troop of partridges is called a covey, a covey of beauties is called a galaxy, a galaxy of ruffians is called a horde, a horde of coal is called a heap, a heap of oxen is called a drove, a drove of blackguards is called a congregation, a congregation of engineers is called a band, a band of locusts is called a swarm, and a swarm of people is called a crowd."

M. le Comte asked the fair one to please write it out for him as he wished to use a lexicon for purposes of translation. He tried it later and gave up in despair.

Chancellor of Exchequer Hints at Reduction of British Army.

London, Jan. 29.—Right Hon. Charles J. Ritchie, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in a speech yesterday, hinted at a possible reduction in the strength of the standing army, and also a possible reduction in the taxes of the next budget. He said the war and its after-effects were enormous, and also was England's hope of free trade.

At a meeting of the shareholders of the Eastern Telegraph Company yesterday, Sir John Wolfe-Barrie, the chairman, declared that the wireless system of communication had been a great success. He said the reason given for sending by registered cable the message to President Roosevelt's message on the opening of the Cape Cod wireless station had not satisfied the public.

In circles intimately concerned with the Atlantic trade, it writes a correspondent of the Westminster Gazette, "the movements of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company are being watched with much expectation." Referring to the freight and mail services, the correspondent says the former cannot hope for a subsidy, and the latter cannot be run without substantial aid from the governments concerned.

KIDNEY TROUBLE QUICKLY CURED

For Four Weeks, Mr. T. J. Coe, of Toronto, Was Confined to His Bed in a Paralyzed Condition, Unable to Move.

Drug Preparations Did Him No Good, But Powley's Liquefied Ozone Soon Destroyed the Disease Germs.

The Second Dose—Spoonful Gave Him Marked Relief—In Two Days He Was on His Feet, and in Less Than a Week at Work at His Office.

After the miraculous cure Ozone performed on myself I feel it my duty to you and to suffering humanity to give you my testimonial regarding your most wonderful remedy.

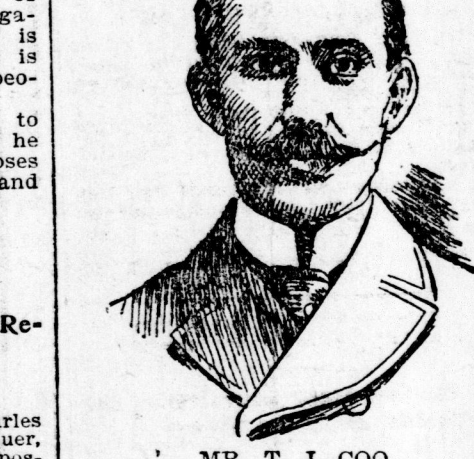

I lay on my back for four weeks with a most acute attack of kidney trouble. I was so ill that I was unable to move in my bed. I was in a paralyzed condition in the region of the Lumbar Vertebra. I employed, whom I consider, one of Toronto's best physicians, but after four weeks' treatment I was still (if any) better.

While in this condition I read an advertisement about a cure of kidney trouble by Ozone and decided to try a bottle. After the second dose, spoonful I felt a marked relief. After using Ozone for two days I was able to stand on my feet for the first time in four and a half weeks, and the fourth day I was strong enough to walk around. On the sixth day I came to my room and have been attending to my business ever since.

I feel that I cannot find words with which to express what Ozone has done for me, and I will be most pleased to give any person or persons you may wish to send to me in regard to the above.

I have the honor to be, yours very truly

(Signed) T. J. COE, Mechanical Superintendent Creelman Bros, Typewriters.

MR. T. J. COE.

Kidney Troubles Cannot Exist Where Ozone Is Used. Here Is More Home Proof:

Besides being a most prevalent trouble, kidney disease is a most dangerous one. Hundreds of people are suffering from kidney disease today and do not know what ails them. They know they are in a languid, half-sick condition, but do not know the exact cause of it. Kidney trouble, besides being dangerous in itself, leads to many other complications, and if neglected the entire system soon becomes disarranged. The most perfect safeguard against kidney trouble and the most certain cure is Powley's Liquefied Ozone. As in the case of Mr. Coe, it immediately destroys the germs causing the disease, with the natural result that a speedy and permanent cure is effected. Here are a few of the many Canadians who have been cured of kidney trouble by this great drugless preparation:

DOMINION OIL CO., Ltd.

Operating Raleigh Oil Fields, Chatham.

The first development of oil in Ontario was at Bothwell, in 1862; the next at Oil Springs, in 1863; and the next at Petrolia, in 1865. All three of these fields, 37 TO 40 YEARS OLD, have been steadily yielding oil ever since, and are today, demonstrating the permanency of the Raleigh district. None of these fields is farther than 40 miles from the Raleigh district. Oil Springs, with only half the area of the Raleigh, has produced over 3,000,000 barrels of Petrolia, with but slightly larger area than Raleigh, has produced over 30,000,000 barrels.

With such precedents, it is not entirely reasonable to anticipate for the Raleigh Oil District corresponding life and output?

The Associated Press dispatch which appeared in the leading Canadian papers of the 12th contained the following statements: "The Gurd Gusher was the first strike, and ITS LARGE YIELD KEEPS IT TODAY THE BIGGEST OF THE FIELD. Yesterday, however, a good strike was made, which would be considered a wonderful find if it had not to be compared with the Gusher. The well was 'shot' in the afternoon, and after the operation produced a flow that will yield 25 barrels an hour. This is but one-half the capacity of the Gurd Gusher, but is greatly in advance of the other wells."

The most satisfactory feature of the Raleigh oil is its quality. The gravity is 24 degrees, which is 2 degrees higher than any other Canadian oil. As an illuminant it can scarcely be excelled. As to permanency, it is believed that these wells will compare favorably with any others in the world.

The usual reckoning in oil fields is one well to an acre. The property through which the Dominion Oil Company, Limited, offers an opportunity to secure an interest in this new and rich field, consists of the 1,530 acre tract which comprises THE CREAM OF THE DISTRICT, and includes the famous Gurd Gusher. The Standard Oil Company is now paying $1.00 per barrel at the well for this oil, and the Independent Refinery of Detroit offers $2.00 per barrel as soon as its connection with the field is completed.

Let the Raleigh district prove as long-lived as the other Ontario fields and the earnings of this company will prove phenomenal, to say nothing of the enormous profits accruing from the rise in value of its stock.

The DOMINION OIL COMPANY, LIMITED, offers an opportunity to all stockholders one per cent dividend the 1ST of each month, to all stockholders of the 26TH of the preceding month, commencing FEBRUARY 1ST, 1903. This means 12 PER CENT per annum on the par value of the stock ($1.00 per share, full paid and non-assessable). Dividend issue of the treasury stock is now offered at the exceptionally low price of this being the OPENING and the LOWEST price at which a share of the stock has ever been offered; and at this price an investor who goes in NOW receives almost 3 PER CENT PER MONTH on his investment.

This issue is for the purpose of immediately sinking additional wells and building tankage, thus more rapidly getting the property to its full PRODUCING POWER.

No investor can afford not to investigate this opportunity to the fullest extent. Call or write for prospectus.

Make all checks, drafts, etc., payable to the order of the Fiscal Agents.

FOR LOVE OF A LADY

ALICE MAUD MEADOWS

Author of "One Life Between," "The Cry of the Soul," etc.

"Nor I," she answered, "but I am glad—glad with all my heart and soul, that they called me. Can't you understand why, dearest? Because I can say, 'This is the man who is to be my husband, the man whom with all my heart and soul I love and trust, and believe in.' Would you not wish to be by my side if this trouble had fallen upon me, or one like it?"

"Yes," it is different for a woman, though."

"Why? Our hearts are tender and loving. I know, but no more so than yours. We feel it when our dear ones are in trouble, so do you. I don't think a woman's feelings are more acute than a man's, and if I suffer anxiety now I shall be well repaid—when the clouds roll by."

He caught her hand in his as it hung at her side and held it closely.

"But suppose it does not roll by? Suppose they arrest me?"

"Even then I can love you and be faithful to you, can I not? And when you are free I can marry you. Oh, Philip, dearest, I am in a hurry to marry you now. Such a thing as this—she colored a little—could not have come upon you had I been your wife. I should have known all your comings and goings. I could have stood up and said, 'It is impossible this man can have done this thing; he was always with me, always—always.'"

His fingers clasped upon hers, but she did not let him take her hand, that involuntary grasp was a pleasure.

"Heaven bless you, dearest," he said, "and please heaven, for your sake, as well as my own, this trouble passes harmlessly by."

CHAPTER XIII.

There was a stir in court. Some officials had been standing about; now the coroner and jury entered. A few preliminaries were gone through, then Philip was called.

He told the truth, absolutely, of his acquaintance with, and affection for, the dead woman; of the hope at the time of their friendship that she would be his wife; of her having tired of him, and their parting.

"That is three years ago," he concluded, "and I have never seen her since."

The coroner leaned forward. He was a red-faced man with piercing eyes and a bulldog mouth.

"You did not see her when she came to your rooms?"

"No."

"The door to your chambers was locked?"

"Yes."

"How, then, do you suggest that she got in?"

"I do not suggest a way. I do not know. A key of the door was found outside the door. She may have used that."

"How could she have obtained it?"

"I do not know."

"When you returned to your rooms, did you enter your sitting-room?"

"No."

"But went there later, during the night?"

"Yes."

"I could not sleep. I went to fetch a book."

"And then discovered the body?"

"Yes."

"And gave information to the police?"

"Yes."

"You will swear that you had not heard from, had had no communication of any sort with the murdered woman for three years?"

"Yes, I swear it."

"You had not written to her nor she to you?"

"No."

"You had not even exchanged any little gifts as mementoes of your past acquaintance?"

"No."

The eyes of the coroner narrowed a little and sparkled like out steel. His firm mouth set still more sternly.

Jasper was called next, but he knew nothing. He had left his chambers early; he had heard nothing; he had never in his life seen the dead woman—yes, he had seen the corpse. He knew that at one time his cousin was attached to a girl who bore the name of Carline, that was all. He did not quite understand why he had been called.

Leslie was the next witness. Interrogated, she proclaimed her engagement to Philip; she had offered to release her, but she had refused to be released. It was quite true that she had just come into a large fortune.

She knew of her lover's past affection for the dead woman, he had told her of it himself; he had told her also that he had not seen the woman for three years. She was sure, quite sure, that he spoke the truth.

The next witness called was the man with the long hair and pale face. He was by profession a photographer. He had seen the dead woman and recognized her. She had sat to him for her photograph less than two years ago—much less.

A photograph was handed to him. He was asked if he had taken it. His name and address were on the card.

He looked at it and answered at once that the picture had been taken by him. He remembered the circumstances perfectly. A young lady, a very beautiful young lady, had come to him little more than a year ago. She had been quite alone. He had taken her photograph. She had been most anxious that it should be a good one, if possible a flattering one; it was to be given away as a present.

He had supplied the rest of the story himself. This was not, strictly speaking, evidence, he knew, but he thought it relevant. In spite of her beauty, she had seemed troubled; there were lines about her face which should not have been on the face of one so young. He thought probably the picture was for a lover who was, perhaps, going to sea. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her. He had taken it, and he had given it to her.

SCOTS WON AGAINST ALL RINKS EXCEPTING LONDON

Winnipeg Lost in First Game for Stanley Cup.

Seventh Regiment Will Play Second Round With Paris.

CURLING.

LONDON CLUBS WON. St. Thomas, Jan. 29.—The curlers played five games at the Metcalfe street rink today. The weather was decidedly inauspicious for curling. It poured rain early this morning, and when play commenced this afternoon the ice was in exceedingly poor condition. This proved their superiority over the Canadian brethren. They seemed to be able to get the stones down through the slush with comparative ease, while the Canucks apparently lacked the steam, or rather strength, as their shots invariably fell short of the objective points.

Only two of the Canadian curlers managed to down the clams. Both of these were from London, and were skipped by Messrs. Backus and Allen. About 200 people gathered together to witness the great Scottish game. Summary: A. The visitors arrived in the city from London on a special train at 2 o'clock, and were escorted to the rink by members of the local club. The building was tastefully decorated, and the atmosphere was of a gay appearance. After a few words of welcome, the curlers were drawn off and got down to hard work. Woodstock, Forest City, London and St. Thomas clubs were reported to have won the programme, but, presumably on account of the unpropitious condition of the water, did not put in an appearance.

This evening the ladies accompanying the visitors were entertained by the fair sex of this city at a reception held at Spencer's restaurant, and the men were taken to the Grand Central Hotel.

The Scotch curlers have abandoned their trip to Windsor and Detroit, and will return to Toronto.

BONSPIEL CALLED OFF. Detroit, Jan. 29.—The bonspiel of the Detroit Curling Club has been called off on account of the unfavorable weather. The curlers who were to be cut at Forest avenue will be decided by the clubs interested on the rink of either one or other of the competing clubs, according to the following first round draws:

Double rink—Pontiac vs. Detroit Racquet and Curling Club; Sarnia vs. Ridgeway; Chatham vs. Glencoe; Windsor vs. Windsor.

Single rink—Sarnia vs. Detroit Racquet and Curling Club; Glencoe vs. Ridgeway; Chatham vs. Windsor; Windsor vs. Windsor.

In case of any club defaulting, the Forest City Curling Club, of London, will take its place.

Single rink—Sarnia vs. Detroit Racquet and Curling Club; Glencoe vs. Ridgeway; Chatham vs. Windsor; Windsor vs. Windsor.

In case of any club defaulting, the Forest City Curling Club, of London, will take its place.

The bonspiel committee desires the clubs to arrange among themselves to play the games, according to above schedule, on Feb. 10 (ice permitting). The second draw and finals to be played in Detroit as soon after Feb. 10 as possible. Kindly report the results of the games to B. W. Yates, 61 West Forest street, Detroit.

ABOUT DR. KERR. Now that Rev. John Kerr and Dr. Milligan have crossed swords over the proper observance of the Sabbath, we recall that the reverend curier when he drank the Lindsay club's health in water, drily remarked that if the club came to Scotland they would enjoy the novelty of having their health drank in whisky. And on the whole it will be concluded that Rev. John is a very comfortable fellow in the pulpit. If he lived in this country he might have some trouble reconciling his congregation to his views, but fortunately he belongs to Scotland, where a good curier can think anything he likes. In this country he is known as a curier, and his work in the roarin' game makes him an authority on the ice, no matter what he may be in the pulpit.

EVERYTHING BUT ICE. Windsor, Jan. 30.—A meeting of the entertainment committee of the Windsor Curling Club was held Thursday evening to consider the coming visit of the Scotch curlers, scheduled to reach Windsor today. "Everything is in readiness here," said the chairman, "and we are prepared to entertain the visiting team at lunch in the Crawford House, when they arrive, shortly after noon, and in the evening we will give a smoker in their honor at the Crawford House."

MR. FITZGERALD ILL. New Orleans, Jan. 27.—The track was heavy and sticky at the fair grounds today, and an ordinary card provided only ordinary sport. The local racing fraternity was somewhat startled this morning when announcement was made that Starter Fitzgerald was ill and that Assistant Starter Murray would fill his place.

Mr. Fitzgerald suffered from a cold yesterday. Last night it developed into an attack of grip. He is not dangerous to remain under treatment for a few days and in the meantime Murray, who gave satisfaction with the flag at the Latonia fall meeting, will do the starting. Murray's work today was quite up to the mark of average starting.

A sensational story was in circulation that Fitzgerald had resigned because of disagreements with the stewards. The relations between the stewards and Starter Fitzgerald have been somewhat strained. Fitzgerald had informed the stewards, reporting his illness and suspensions for misbehavior direct to the secretary's office, with the result that frequently the stewards did not know that a jockey or two had been set down until the next day. The ruling of the stewards that the assistant starters should not hold the post until the post called Fitzgerald. But the resignation story is all bosh. Fitzgerald will resume his position as soon as he recovers from his slight illness.

SEVENTH REGIMENT PLAY PARIS

Secretary Buchanan, of the O. H. A., has written to Mr. C. W. Smith informing the latter that the Seventh Regiment team must meet Paris immediately for the competition of the second round. He ordered that the Seventh Regiment be prepared to meet Paris at the Jubilee Rink next Monday night, and that the return match be played at Paris the following Friday. It was found that the Jubilee Rink had been leased for Monday night, and of this fact Mr. Smith informed the secretary, who replied that because he feared the weather would become mild he would have to rush every game through in as short a time as possible. This will be acceptable to the Paris team, who can make their arrangements under these circumstances. The Paris Greens are a strong team, and the locals feel that it was rather a pity to be made to play a return match upon such short notice. However, they will make their opponents go a two-minute clip before they are defeated.

THE NORTHERN DISTRICT. Barrie, Jan. 30.—The following is the standing of the clubs in the northern district:

Questions Answered.

KINLOSS—Upon the facts in your statement, which is too long, you are entitled to damages from the person who hired you to paint the engine, agreeing to pay you $1 a day for the use of it, excessive time occupied in removal. Having taken it upon those terms his duty was to return it to you as soon as he had no work for it. His keeping it for three months or more is a legal presumption against him that he was working it and must therefore pay for it as agreed. Your claim, therefore, is $1 for each day of the time he has kept it, exclusive of Sundays and a reasonable allowance of days for moving the engine, and less the cost of the repairs which you agreed to pay. If you cannot make a settlement with him you must sue in the division court. The judge will decide between you and him on the facts.

FACTS FOR BUSINESS MEN.

The spring campaign will be here before the merchant has time to fully realize the passing of winter. The weather will change so suddenly that the merchant will find some goods remaining on the shelves which ought to have been moved long ago. The time for moving some things is right now, and the best way to move them is to tell how desirable they will be for someone and at what an attractive price they can be purchased. Take furs, for instance. They were never so much needed as right now. They are in season for selling. The one who wants to buy will not be backward about buying if the matter is made an inducement. The selling of furs, therefore, becomes easy if the merchant makes the right price on those furs. The buying will be a pleasure to someone, and the merchant must make the customer see the advantage. It will be possible to convince more people if the right way is taken to get the message before a large number of people.

SETTLEMENT REACHED.
A settlement has been reached between Albert Griffith, of Port Huron, contractor to furnish all the necessary implements except in such instances where the city implements can be utilized, contractors to be held responsible for any damage done same. Contractors will be under the control of the street inspector, who in turn will have the assistance of six foremen. Ald. Cooper thought one foreman could do the work, and objected to an outlay of from $50 to $60 a week in the employment of one for each section. After some further discussion the engineer was instructed to advertise for tenders for street cleaning, for the sweeping of the city pavements and for brick streets. It was recommended to the council that the city engineer should be authorized to place the necessary equipment on the city property, and that the city engineer should be authorized to place the necessary equipment on the city property, and that the city engineer should be authorized to place the necessary equipment on the city property.

STREETS WILL BE CLEANED BY CONTRACT, NOT DAY LABOR

City Engineer Says Big Savings Will Be Effected—Electric Bells for Dangerous Crossings.

HE board of works met last night. Ald. Wyatt (chairman), Cooper, Abram, Gerry and Secretary Bell attending. The only business of importance brought up was the question of street cleaning and city scavenging. The city engineer was on hand and suggested that the work be done by contract in future. This would mean a saving to the city of from $500 to $1,500, the old method of letting out the work to day laborers having proved unsatisfactory and costly. The engineer's plan is to divide the city into six sections and call for tenders for the cleaning of each section. The specifications call for the

The financial statement of the council proceedings shows the following expenditures during the past year, over $5,000; Debentures redeemed, $24,000; debenture coupons redeemed, $22,347 50; administration of justice, $7,000; Municipal government, $2,767 70; legislative school grant, $5,190; county grants to high schools, $5,688; bridges, $22,798 36. There was paid, among other things, $2,798 36 to Victoria Hospital, and the maintenance of the court house and jail amounted to $4,087 02.

The committees Wednesday met long enough to confirm the conveners as chairmen of the respective committees, which they did, with one exception. The committees have been published in The Advertiser and the chairmen for the year are as follows: Finance, Councillor Neely; board, Councillor Robotham; jail, Councillor Bradley; petitioning, Councillor Jackson; printing, Councillor Bennett; agricultural, Councillor Piper; educational, Councillor McDonald; House of Refuge, Councillor Gray; equalization, Councillor Elson.

Speaking of committees yesterday morning, Councillor Bradley expressed the opinion that the council had too many committees. He would advocate the union of the three committees, printing, petitioning and educational. These three departments could be easily attended to by one committee, and he thought it useless to have the work divided among so many.

COUNCILLOR THINKS THERE ARE TOO MANY COMMITTEES

Financial Statement of County Treasurer McEvoy Shows Several Large Payments.

IN HIS address to the council on the occasion of his election, Warden Grigg made the statement that in ten years the amount that would have to be paid annually on sinking fund would reach $1,800. He wishes to have this corrected; the figures should have been $18,000. One is not elected warden every year, so under the circumstances the warden's mistake was quite excusable.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zimmerman, 9th concession of Brooke Township, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday. Their only daughter, Miss Rhoda, was married to Mr. Albert Hunter, of this city, Rev. M. E. Syble, of Watford, officiating. Miss Olive Zavitz was bridesmaid, and Mr. D. Campbell, groomsmen.

About 30 friends and relatives witnessed the interesting ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will take up their residence in London, after a short honeymoon.

TWO LONDONERS SAFE.
Mrs. Alex. Stewart and son, Mr. Charles Stewart, of 558 Talbot street, were in the Arizona wreck on the Southern Pacific road, but neither was injured. They were on their way to Los Angeles and were traveling in a sleeper. Yesterday Mr. Stewart received a telegram from them which read: "Train wrecked. We are safe. Don't worry."
