

HOW J. P. MORGAN SAVED THE DAY

Vivid Pen Picture of Dramatic Incident in Height of Wall Street Panic.

New York, Oct. 27.—The New York Journal gives the following vivid picture of how Morgan saved the day on Wall street:

All through the morning, despite the millions that were being poured into the market, prices continued to drop steadily on the exchange. The price of money arose in proportion. Union Pacific fell from 110 1/2 to par, Great Northern from 7 1/2 to 7, Reading 9, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul 7 1/2, Southern Pacific 6 1/2, American Smelting 5, and so on down the list, while the price of money on call loans from 25 to 50, then to 75, and finally to 100.

Two o'clock arrived amid tremendous excitement. A loan of $100,000 was snapped up at 130. The floor of the exchange was a perfect bedlam. White-faced brokers dashed about in a frenzy of fear. They begged the money sharks for loans at any price.

Stocks continued to tumble. Scores of men faced absolute ruin. The supply of money apparently was exhausted. From his place in the room, President Ransom H. Thomas took in the situation at a glance. Jamming his hat down over his ears, he leaped to the floor, fought his way through the mob of frenzied financiers and dashed out of the door.

A thin, white-faced, careworn man seen running at top speed across Broad street, and through Wall to the office of the National City Bank. Ignoring the attendants at the door, he leaped up the stairway, springs into the waiting-room, which he crossed with a bound, and flings open the door of President James Stillman's private room.

"The bottom is dropping out of the market," he cries. "Money is advancing to 150. We must have $25,000,000 instantly to break the grip of the sharks or the end is at hand!"

A hurried consultation follows between the two leaders.

"It is impossible for us to advance it all," cries Stillman. "We'll go halves at 6 per cent. See Morgan for the balance."

With a bound, Thomas is out of the room once more, down in the street, and flying diagonally across the street, threading his way through the crowds to No. 23, the office of J. Pierpont Morgan.

The conversation with Stillman is hurriedly repeated to Morgan.

While Mr. Thomas waited Mr. Morgan got in communication with representatives of the National City, Hanover, Chase, First National and other banks, and a pool was formed to furnish the needed relief.

The hands of the clock point to 2:12. A minute later Morgan announces the decision.

"Push back to the exchange," is his message; "the money is at your command."

Once more Thomas wings his flight. Through the crowd he leaps, up the steps of the exchange, from the portals of which the shrieks and roars of the maddened brokers are belching. A foot inside the doors, he hurls his message from No. 23.

"Money's coming boys! Morgan will supply it—$25,000,000 at ten per cent. Up, up go the stocks; down, down goes the price of money. U. P. swings back to 110 1/2, Great Northern to 115 1/2, Reading to 7 1/2, Southern Pacific to 6 1/2. Trading is resumed with a vengeance. Prices leap back to their former level, and even begin to mount above it. The situation is saved.

The gong sounds, the gavel falls, and trading for the day is done. Simultaneously a hundred throats shout out a cry more strident, fiercer, and exultant than any heard when the panic raged its fiercest:

"What's the matter with Morgan?" "He's all right!"

Mr. Richard Withers, of Great Roll-right, Oxfordshire, who is just 102, on Monday received a letter of congratulation from Major F. Ponsonby on behalf of the King.

An anonymous gift of £10,000 has just been made to the building fund of Liverpool Cathedral. The donor in forwarding this handsome gift gave no indication of his identity.

Mr. Paul Taylor suggested at Marylebone Police Court that the inland Revenue authorities ought to proceed against persons in a good position in life who toured in wine orders among their friends.

Five years of the ten years' penal servitude passed on John Brinkley for the attempted murder of Mary Parminston at Ashton-under-Lyne in November, 1903, has been remitted by the home secretary.

Sir J. West Ridgway, who presided at the meeting of the Company of Ceylon Pearl Fisheries, recommended dividends of 21 per cent on the ordinary, and 75 per cent on the deferred shares.

The appointment of Lord Coleridge as an additional King's bench judge is fully justified by the fact that 2,333 cases are awaiting trial at the Michaelmas sittings of the high court. This is eighty-seven less than last year.

Northeast Australia develops very slowly. Farmers grow maize, the old-fashioned way. The maize crop in Queensland this year is a record one. Canning pineapples is becoming an important industry in Queensland. Coal mining is growing steadily.

Economy is a strong point with Hood's Sarsaparilla. A bottle lasts longer and does more good than any other. It is the only medicine of which can truly be said 100 DOSES ONE DOLLAR

Chelsea Green Will Not Be Annexed People Well Satisfied as They Are

A Lively Meeting Held Saturday Night at Which Annexation Was Killed.

Chelsea Green will not come into the city. That was decided almost unanimously at a meeting of the board of control and the citizens on Saturday night.

It was thought that the meeting would be a somewhat stormy one, but those in favor of annexation did not turn up. Mr. W. E. Mitchell, who has been leading the agitation, did not go to the meeting. He claims that he was not officially notified that it was to be held.

There was a large crowd of property-owners and others interested in the matter present, and it did not take them long to dispose of the annexation movement.

This settles the annexation sentiment for some time at least.

No Need of It.

Mr. Walter Gibbling, chairman of the board of control, entered the first protest against annexation. He could see no need of it. He declared there was no use for such a step. The Green had waterworks, electric lights and a bridge. What more did they want?

Of course, there were no policemen in the Green, and as far as the Green itself was concerned, there was no need for one. There was some rowdiness.

But that was further up the Thompson road, and had no connection with Chelsea Green. So far as fire protection was concerned, the people of Chelsea Green would be no further ahead with city protection, as the whole Green could be burned down before the fire brigade could reach it from either the central or East London stations.

Mr. Mitchell Criticized.

Mr. Frank Welch criticised the action of Mr. Mitchell. He declared that he had no right to speak on behalf of the residents of Chelsea Green, as he was not even a resident of the place. He could not act as spokesman for them. The residents had everything that the city could give them now without annexation.

It was pointed out that there was a splendid sewer system there, something that some of the residents of the city could not obtain, as was shown by the experience of the White Company. The Green could put up new lights, something the city could not do for a couple of years. Factories would come to Chelsea Green, because there were many excellent sites, a splendid sewerage system, and good water, advantages which the city itself did not possess.

The board of control decided to install a new light at the corner of F. W. Coates' store, and another at the church corner on Adelaide street.

The matter of buying a snowplow was left over for a subsequent meeting.

Where to Vote in Tuesday's Election

Deputies Have All Been Named

List of Polling Places Given Out by Returning Officer C. H. Ivey.

The following is a list of the polling places and deputy returning officers for the by-election, tomorrow:

For No. 1 Ward.

Subdivision No. 1—At city hall, John M. J. Ivey.

Subdivision No. 2—At Mrs. Reeves' house, 254 King street. George Fraser.

Subdivision No. 3—At S. Yelland's store, 334 Ridout street. E. C. Bratt.

Subdivision No. 4—At Mr. Pollock's house, 359 Clarence street. Fred W. Magee.

Subdivision No. 5—At M. C. Rose's house, 125 Bathurst street. George Carter.

Subdivision No. 6—At D. O'Hearn's house, corner Richmond and Horton streets. Benjamin Tripp.

Subdivision No. 7—At L. Lefebvre's house, 172 Grey street. Frank Gibson.

Subdivision No. 8—At Mrs. Walton's house, 89 High street. Duke Palmer.

Subdivision No. 9—At Alfred Place. James Shaw.

Subdivision No. 10—At Mrs. Clark's house, 26 Euclid avenue. R. H. Smith.

Subdivision No. 11—At Trebilcock's Hall, corner Wortley road and Bruce street. Frank Millson.

Subdivision No. 12—At W. Brazier's house, corner Cathcart and Briscoe streets. Ferguson R. Lloyd.

Subdivision No. 13—At Joseph F. Porter's store, 71 Wharncliffe road. John W. Cawson.

For No. 2 Ward.

Subdivision No. 1—At Porter's Auction Rooms, 77 Carling street. H. Leonard Smith.

Subdivision No. 2—At Thomas Rich's store, 235 Queen's avenue. Geo. H. Dobie.

Subdivision No. 3—At 501 Richmond street. John A. Hunter.

Subdivision No. 4—At Morikin's house, 577 Richmond street. Robert S. Lashbrook.

Subdivision No. 5—At Frank Smyth's store, 621 Richmond street. James D. Tylor.

Subdivision No. 6—At 731 Richmond street. John Dalton.

Subdivision No. 7—At Mrs. Eberle's house, corner Grosvenor and Alma streets. E. W. Scutcher.

Subdivision No. 8—At B. Lawton's shop, corner Oxford and Wharncliffe road. William Moore.

Subdivision No. 9—At Mrs. Craund's house, 82 Dundas street west. William Bell.

FOR HALLOWE'EEN

Grafton & Company Will Give Away False Faces on Tuesday.

Grafton & Co., clothing manufacturers, will give away false faces to the school children of London, tomorrow afternoon after 4 o'clock.

The false faces embrace every expression, and all of them are ridiculously funny. Every boy should have one, and Grafton & Co. have one for every boy.

An invitation is extended to all to be on hand, and secure a false face for the Halloween party.

WHAT CARP ARE GOOD FOR.

Orlando F. Thomas, a New York banker, who owns a stock farm in this vicinity, has settled the mooted question as to what carp are good for. The late Gov. Roswell P. Flower ejected Wayne County farmers into raising this kind of fish. Banker William S. Gavitt stocked Wayne County streams with carp, and ever since has been exonerated in public and private. Carp gradually took possession of the streams to the exclusion of game fish.

Last spring the high water in Clyde River left tons of carp on the flats. Banker Thomas had his men gather up and plow under all the carp he could get, and sowed sugar beets on the field. That sugar beet field is the finest in all Wayne County this year, and will raise between forty and fifty tons of beets to the acre.

This summer the continued drought dried up all the little streams and swamps,

A MODERN FAUST SOLD SALVATION

A Jew Who Had Made Bargain Refused to Give Up Deed for Less Than $200.

Vienna, Oct. 27.—A remarkable case, in which the effects of medieval superstition and suggestion are curiously mingled, has come under the notice of the doctors of the Rudolf's Hospital, in Vienna.

A Hungarian tradesman named Weiss was recently admitted to the hospital suffering from an illusion which caused him continually to lament the loss of his salvation. It appears that some weeks before Weiss was sitting with friends in a coffee house in Pressburg, when the conversation turned on religion and a future life.

Weiss declared that there was no such thing as a future life or salvation, and added: "I would sell my chance of salvation for $250."

A Jew named Krauss accepted the offer on condition that the transaction was put in writing. A regular deed of sale, conveying Weiss' salvation in the next world to Krauss was thereupon drawn up, executed by Weiss and duly witnessed. Krauss took the deed, and handed over the $250 to Weiss, who boasted that it had been easily earned.

A fortnight later Weiss lost his wife, who was killed in a carriage accident. He regarded this accident as a sign of the divine anger with his impious bargain, and the idea so preyed on his mind that his reason gave way, and he was taken to the hospital.

Professor Obermeyer, who had charge of the case, on hearing this story from the man's relatives, decided to try the effects of counter-suggestion and advised Weiss' relatives to recover the deed of sale.

Krauss, however, declared that since he had bought the other man's salvation, his own business had prospered exceedingly, and he refused to give it up under $200. Weiss was unable to pay this, but finally the chief rabbi of Pressburg, to whom the matter had been reported, induced Krauss to hand the deed back to the Jew, man on receipt of $100.

The effect was most marked. Weiss, reassured as to the fate of his soul, immediately improved. A new deed was drawn up, in which Krauss solemnly conveyed the other man's salvation to him. This was witnessed by two doctors, and Weiss has now been discharged, cured.

The German Emperor has issued orders that all of the numerous imperial automobiles are to be driven slower hereafter than has been the case in the past. This action is said to be due to the large number of accidents caused by speeding automobiles.

Dr. Paul Prager, an army surgeon of Vienna, suggests that molds of the mouths of prisoners would be much better than finger prints for identification purposes, as the palate remains absolutely unchanged throughout life.

According to a German publication, the automobile factories of that country during the past five years produced cars valued as follows: In 1902, $2,615,000; 1903, $3,808,000; 1904, $9,520,000; 1905, $16,669,000; and 1906, $29,800,000.

BEER* IS A FOOD

LAGER is a mild appetizing product of malt and hops, with few alcohol, which can be taken at any time, and is especially suited to women as a dinner drink.

ALES as brewed in Ontario are so rich in the food elements of malt that they rank above milk as an item of diet, and are far purer than milk in when city-dwellers get it.

PORTER differs from ale in that it is malted (B. coffee) in the brewing process, and this makes porters nourishing. It is a real specific for anemic and run-down people.

STOUT is the richest and most strengthening of malt-beers; it contains nearly as much nourishment as eggs, and digests easier. This people will find it builds healthy flesh.

and particularly a deep carp breeding pond in a swamp on the Thomas stock farm. Banker Thomas had his employees gather up all the bullheads, perch, sunfish, bass and other food fish, and carried them in milk cans on stone boats to Clyde River, where they were dumped in.

Tons of carp of all sizes, ranging from fingerlings to big fish weighing 40 pounds and over, were left in the ponds in the swamp. These were pitchforked up into carts and drawn out on the oars stubble, spread into furrows, and plowed under. This field will be sowed to sugar beets next spring. The pond hole that dried up covered over ten acres of ground and had never dried up before. Sufficient carp were obtained to fertilize a ten-acre sugar beet lot.

"Banker Thomas figures that carp are the cheapest fertilizer he can get, and are better than the commercial fertilizer, or ordinary manure.—Lyons correspondence New York Sun.

His honor, Judge Addison, had once to deal with the problem, "When does an egg become stale?" The plaintiff suggested that in summer eggs became stale "about a week after they came to market," but the judge declared that the real test of an egg's staleness was the moment it became fit for use at a contested election.

PILES Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and guaranteed cure for all forms of itching, bleeding and protruding piles. See testimonials in the press and ask your neighbor about it. You can use it and get your money back if not satisfied. 50c. at all dealers or EDMANSON, EATON & CO., Toronto.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

A JEW WHO HAD MADE BARGAIN Refused to Give Up Deed for Less Than $200.

Vienna, Oct. 27.—A remarkable case, in which the effects of medieval superstition and suggestion are curiously mingled, has come under the notice of the doctors of the Rudolf's Hospital, in Vienna.

A Hungarian tradesman named Weiss was recently admitted to the hospital suffering from an illusion which caused him continually to lament the loss of his salvation. It appears that some weeks before Weiss was sitting with friends in a coffee house in Pressburg, when the conversation turned on religion and a future life.

Weiss declared that there was no such thing as a future life or salvation, and added: "I would sell my chance of salvation for $250."

A Jew named Krauss accepted the offer on condition that the transaction was put in writing. A regular deed of sale, conveying Weiss' salvation in the next world to Krauss was thereupon drawn up, executed by Weiss and duly witnessed. Krauss took the deed, and handed over the $250 to Weiss, who boasted that it had been easily earned.

A fortnight later Weiss lost his wife, who was killed in a carriage accident. He regarded this accident as a sign of the divine anger with his impious bargain, and the idea so preyed on his mind that his reason gave way, and he was taken to the hospital.

Professor Obermeyer, who had charge of the case, on hearing this story from the man's relatives, decided to try the effects of counter-suggestion and advised Weiss' relatives to recover the deed of sale.

Krauss, however, declared that since he had bought the other man's salvation, his own business had prospered exceedingly, and he refused to give it up under $200. Weiss was unable to pay this, but finally the chief rabbi of Pressburg, to whom the matter had been reported, induced Krauss to hand the deed back to the Jew, man on receipt of $100.

The effect was most marked. Weiss, reassured as to the fate of his soul, immediately improved. A new deed was drawn up, in which Krauss solemnly conveyed the other man's salvation to him. This was witnessed by two doctors, and Weiss has now been discharged, cured.

The German Emperor has issued orders that all of the numerous imperial automobiles are to be driven slower hereafter than has been the case in the past. This action is said to be due to the large number of accidents caused by speeding automobiles.

Dr. Paul Prager, an army surgeon of Vienna, suggests that molds of the mouths of prisoners would be much better than finger prints for identification purposes, as the palate remains absolutely unchanged throughout life.

According to a German publication, the automobile factories of that country during the past five years produced cars valued as follows: In 1902, $2,615,000; 1903, $3,808,000; 1904, $9,520,000; 1905, $16,669,000; and 1906, $29,800,000.

BEER* IS A FOOD

LAGER is a mild appetizing product of malt and hops, with few alcohol, which can be taken at any time, and is especially suited to women as a dinner drink.

ALES as brewed in Ontario are so rich in the food elements of malt that they rank above milk as an item of diet, and are far purer than milk in when city-dwellers get it.

PORTER differs from ale in that it is malted (B. coffee) in the brewing process, and this makes porters nourishing. It is a real specific for anemic and run-down people.

STOUT is the richest and most strengthening of malt-beers; it contains nearly as much nourishment as eggs, and digests easier. This people will find it builds healthy flesh.

and particularly a deep carp breeding pond in a swamp on the Thomas stock farm. Banker Thomas had his employees gather up all the bullheads, perch, sunfish, bass and other food fish, and carried them in milk cans on stone boats to Clyde River, where they were dumped in.

Tons of carp of all sizes, ranging from fingerlings to big fish weighing 40 pounds and over, were left in the ponds in the swamp. These were pitchforked up into carts and drawn out on the oars stubble, spread into furrows, and plowed under. This field will be sowed to sugar beets next spring. The pond hole that dried up covered over ten acres of ground and had never dried up before. Sufficient carp were obtained to fertilize a ten-acre sugar beet lot.

"Banker Thomas figures that carp are the cheapest fertilizer he can get, and are better than the commercial fertilizer, or ordinary manure.—Lyons correspondence New York Sun.

His honor, Judge Addison, had once to deal with the problem, "When does an egg become stale?" The plaintiff suggested that in summer eggs became stale "about a week after they came to market," but the judge declared that the real test of an egg's staleness was the moment it became fit for use at a contested election.

PILES Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and guaranteed cure for all forms of itching, bleeding and protruding piles. See testimonials in the press and ask your neighbor about it. You can use it and get your money back if not satisfied. 50c. at all dealers or EDMANSON, EATON & CO., Toronto.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Weather
Probs:
Fair

Smallman & Ingram
THE SATISFACTORY STORE—PHONE 655

Monday,
Oct. 28

STORE NEWS TODAY.

THANKSGIVING OFFERINGS

This week we have planned to do six days' business in five, and our programme will be announced from day to day in this space. Keep in close touch, as there are many offerings that will not come again this season. We are pleased to make these announcements at this time, particularly so as the SPECIAL RATES ON THE RAILROADS (good from Wednesday until the following Monday), will be taken advantage of by many of OUR OUTSIDE CUSTOMERS.

These Thanksgiving Offerings have commenced by a big consignment of Irish Linen Tablecloths (seconds), announced in Saturday's paper, now on sale at about one-third off regular value.

Ladies' Velvet and Boxcloth Suits

Direct From New York

We have just received a few Ready-to-Wear Suits from New York. Velvet suits in brown and tan; boxcloth suits in brown, navy and plum. These are handsome, perfect beauties of the braid-bound variety. We invite you to see them. They are not all described here.

Broadcloth Suit, $25.00

Ladies' Tailored Broadcloth Suit, in navy and brown; coat tight-fitting, 28 inches long, satin lined, four rows of military braid inlaid in back and front; skirt pleated and braid trimmed. Suit.....$25.00

Tweed Suit, $23.00

A pretty gray tweed mixture, Gibson shoulder, stole collar, trimmed with braid and buttons, double-breasted, good merzerized lining; skirt, inverted and box pleats. Suit.....$23.00

One of Our Smart
Tailored Suits.

Second Floor—Take Elevator.

Neckwear Novelties

Stop at our notion counter, in center aisle, and examine these neckwear novelties in Irish crochet, guipure and baby Irish lace.

Guipure Collars, 39c and 69c
A splendid lot in White and Ecru Guipure Lace Collars, for ladies' dresses and children's coats. Each, 39c and 69c

Baby Irish Yokes, 75c to $2.50
A beautiful assortment of these in white ecru guipure and baby Irish, suitable for any style waist. At, each, from.....75c to $2.50
Handsome Real Duchess Lace Berthas. Each, $9 to $20
Irish Crochet Yokes, beautiful designs. Each, $2 to $8.75
Irish Crochet Collar and Cuff Sets. At, per set, $3 to $6

Smallman & Ingram 147 to 153
THE SATISFACTORY STORE—PHONE 655 Dundas St.

THE ORIGINAL.

The little village could not boast of very many entertainments, and consequently a concert was anticipated with great delight by the inhabitants. It so happened on one occasion that a singer of renown came down to spend a few days with the squire, and smilingly acquiesced in the request of the vicar that he should sing at the village concert.

His song, which was delivered with deep feeling, for which he was famous, was the old favorite, "The Village Blacksmith."

In response to a volleys of encore he was about to give one of his operatic successes, when the chairman tugged hard at his coat tail.

"Better sing 'Towd 'n' over again, mister," he said. "I 'pen to be the chap you've been singing about—the village blacksmith—and I reckon it ud only be fair to me if you was to sing it all over again, and pop in another verse saying as 'ow I let out bicycles."—Punch.

OUR OWN MAKE

MINCE MEAT

It is GOOD. When we say it is Good we mean it. Our Mince Meat is made of the finest fruits, peels, spices, suet, etc., in the cleanest possible manner. Every season we sell more and more. It is one of our best trade winners. Good, rich, clean, home-made Mince Meat. All ready for Thanksgiving Day pies. Per pound,10c

Fine Flavored Home-made Mustard Pickles, per quart, 25c
Choice Cape Cod Cranberries, per quart,15c

New Juicy Layer Figs, per pound,12 1/2c
Shelled Almonds and Walnuts per pound,40c

St. Lawrence Yellow Sugar, Best flavored for taffy and candy making; per pound, 5c
Diprose Pure Coffee, most delicious, per pound,40c

John Diprose

Two Popular Cash Stores
Dundas and Ridout streets
Phone 326

Dundas and Wellington Sts.
Phones 2261 and 2262.

WOODS' FAIR

Rock-Bottom Prices on Enamelware and Tinware

London Advertiser.

FOUNDED IN 1863.

TWO EDITIONS DAILY - WEEKLY.

TELEPHONE CALLS.

Business Office 107

Job Department 175

Editorial Departments 134 and 136

The London Advertiser Company,

Limited, 191-193 Dundas street, London, Ont.

TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Readers of the Advertiser are requested to favor the management by reporting any irregularities in delivery. Communicate with the Circulation Department or 'phone 107.

LONDON, MONDAY, OCT. 28.

MR. HUGH GRAHAM'S LETTER.

Mr. Hugh Graham, proprietor of the Montreal Star, has sent to The Advertiser and other Canadian daily newspapers a letter dealing with his contributions to the Conservative election fund of 1904, and other matters with which his name has been connected in recent public discussions. The letter is a lengthy one, and is largely made up of an explanation of the policy of the journal the writer controls.

The most interesting feature of the letter is Mr. Graham's frank admission of the charge of having contributed to the Conservative campaign fund of 1904, and his claim that "the ridiculous smallness of the total amount will be a reply to those who see anything suspicious in the affair." He says that he subscribed $4,000 for a contract for literature, $1,331 for expenses during the year in the city of Quebec, $250 for each rural constituency for preliminary expenses, and $4,000 for each of the Quebec city constituencies. To a man of Mr. Graham's means the total may seem both ridiculous and small, but it is easy to see that it would not require very many such liberal contributors as he to raise a fund sufficient to flood the entire province.

His reason for such generosity on his part was that the Liberals intended to destroy the National Policy, which his paper had assisted so much in bringing into being. Seven years after the Star first agitated for protection to Canadian industries, he says "Sir John Macdonald came out for a National Policy. In the campaigns of 1878, 1882, and 1891, this question was to the fore, and the Star supported the party of protection in its columns and by generous contributions to its funds." In 1896 the paper was inclined to think it was time for a change, but fears for protection kept it with the Conservatives. But when the Liberals came into power, says Mr. Graham, they did not tear down the N. P., which "now appears to have disappeared from politics as a live issue." Moreover, "faith in the perspicacity of the Liberals is now growing, and few now think they will venture to abandon protection."

Today the Star is in accord with neither party, both being written down as "unworthy of their best traditions and insufficient for the needs of the country." Mr. Graham does nothing to settle the question of veracity that has arisen between himself and Mr. Borden. It will be recalled that in giving evidence in court at Quebec on May 23, 1905, Mr. Graham swore that he had received a letter from Mr. Borden telling him that "moneys must not be handled by men in the party in public life," or words to that effect, and that it was better to have in each province persons appointed who were in every way acceptable to the party locally. In his speech at Montreal on Sept. 3, Mr. Borden referred to this statement, and declared that "during the campaign of 1904 no such letter was ever written by me, nor at any other time." In the letter under review Mr. Graham returns to the charge and speaks of "when Mr. Borden wrote me that funds should be distributed only through committees acceptable to the local party friends." It is a pretty little quarrel, and can only be settled by Mr. Graham producing the letter, a copy of which he says he sent "to all the different provinces where I was giving my assistance."

Mr. Graham tells of the part the Star has taken in Provincial and municipal politics, taking up the cudgels first against Conservatives, and then against Liberals, who were equally guilty, and if his liberal subscriptions "to the funds for carrying on this work," and declares that "so long as I have a dollar to spare I will consider myself free to aid whichever party has, in my opinion, the policy best adapted to the needs of the country." The purchase of La Presse is described by Mr. Graham as "a business transaction on a commercial basis, with which Mr. Borden had no connection whatever." Finally, Mr. Graham denies any knowledge of an attempt to purchase Liberal candidates, to bribe them to desert their party, or anything of that nature; claims to have proof that "Mr. Borden had no connection whatever with the Blair resignation," and expresses a willingness, if any charge of conspiracy is made, to appear before any impartial tribunal and give evidence.

When rich men put their hands in their pockets and produce thousands of dollars for election purposes, they usually have a selfish object. Mr. Graham could not be surprised if his motives were discussed when it became known that he had opened his purse so generously to promote the fortunes of the Conservative party. He affirms that he did so from purely patriotic considerations, because he believed the policy of the Conservative party was essential to the welfare of the country, and it is only fair that his explanation should be given the fullest publicity.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION IN THE UNITED STATES.

There is no cause for the slightest alarm in Canada on account of the depression in financial circles in Wall Street. The period was when good times in the United States meant good times in Canada, and bad times there foreshadowed bad times here. In the last twenty years this tendency has disappeared. The United States has passed through more than one period of depression during that time, but Canada came through unscathed, and on one occasion at least, in addition, rendered very valuable assistance to its neighbor.

Perhaps on this occasion Canada owes much to the caution of its bankers. A few months ago they shut down on all business of a speculative nature in this country. So far as Canada was concerned or any Canadian business the lid was on tight long before there was any reason apparent to the ordinary observer. They may have foreseen the trouble on the other side, but their action was taken to avert a flurry in Canada, and in view of the conditions in the United States it is well they did so.

It is not necessary to point out the difference between the American and Canadian banking systems. The Canadian is acknowledged to be superior. Our trust companies, too, are entirely different. They do not, in Canada, take deposits, although the manner in which the trust companies of New York paid millions over the counter in a day is a strong argument why they should be allowed to do so. As they have not this power at present there is no parallel between the two. As for our loan companies, there is no safer class of financial institution in the world. Their record of only one failure in fifty years could not be equaled by any other, and in that one instance no creditor lost a dollar. Canada is to be congratulated upon its sound condition and with the public works in sight and the steadily increasing population may look forward to many more years of unexampled prosperity.

ELECTRIFICATION OF RAILWAYS.

The substitution of electricity for steam on railroads is making more progress in the United States than many people suppose, and there appears reason to hope that by this means the smoke nuisance of which all great cities have long and loudly complained will eventually, to a considerable extent, be overcome. In a number of instances the railway companies have taken the initiative, while in others the hand of the corporation is being forced by the municipality. Chicago is an instance of the latter. There, as a result of popular agitation, a committee of the city council has drafted a railroad electrification bill, which the Legislature will be asked to pass into law. The measure is regarded as in line with industrial and sanitary and aesthetic development in other parts of the country, and as reflecting the scientific and civic progress of the age. It provides that within three years' time every railroad entering the city must use, instead of steam, a motive power that produces neither soot nor smoke.

The experiments with electrification which have thus far been made by progressive railroads are said to be proving eminently satisfactory. The change of motive power has been put to this test on the New York Central and the New Haven and Hartford lines, with excellent results, and electricity is being used on some of the Pacific Coast lines and terminals. Only recently the announcement was made that the electrification of the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad had been decided on. Already sixty miles between Camden and Atlantic City, in New Jersey, are in successful operation as an electric line.

Electrification is also receiving attention in European countries. After making some experiments the Government of Prussia is so satisfied that such a change would be to the public benefit that it has begun the work of electrifying Berlin's entire railway system, and a similar work is in progress in connection with the suburban system of Hamburg. Steam is also to be abandoned on the road between two important industrial centers of Germany, Cologne and Trier, the owners being convinced that greater economy and efficiency are to be obtained from electric traction. In Italy, which has the distinction of being first to electrify a long-distance main line, electric traction is being adopted on several mountain roads, while in Switzerland the question of electrification is under consideration of the Government, which owns and operates the electric system, and has decided, in principle, to do away with steam power.

TOMMY'S CURIOSITY.

[The Tattler.]

Tommy (to friend of father)—Will you drink this glass of water, Mrs. Jones? Friend—No, thank you, dear. Tommy—Yes, do drink it. Friend—But why, dear? Tommy—Because father says you drink like a fish, and I should like to see you do it.

ROUGH ON JAMES.

[Illustrated Bits.]

Small Boy—Can I have a ride on a donkey, ma? Ma—No, dear; your pa says you are not to have one. Small Boy—Why can't I have a ride on a donkey? Ma (to her husband)—Oh, for goodness' sake, James, give him a ride on your back, and see if it'll keep him quiet!

HIS KICK.

[Denver Recorder.]

A traveler putting up at a small hotel out in California brought the porter up to his room with his angry storming. "Want your room changed, sir?" What is the matter? "The room's all right," fumed the guest. "It's the dose I object to, that's all." "Mrs. Hawkins" shouted the porter, in an uninterested sort of voice, "the gent in No. 7 is satisfied with his room, but he wants the dose changed."

POOR CHILD!

[Megendorfer Blatter.]

Young Mother—The doctor thinks the baby looks like me. Visitor—Yes, I wanted to say so, but feared you might be offended.

HIS QUEEN.

[Baltimore American.]

She—You told me when we were married I should be absolute queen of your heart and home. He—Yes, but when I promised you should reign I didn't expect that you would storm.

ONLY IN THEORY.

[Chicago News.]

"Silence is golden," remarked the party with the quotation habit. "Perhaps it is," rejoined the contrary man; "but a dentist has never yet been able to fill teeth with it."

PAT'S ERROR.

[Exchange.]

A busy-looking laborer was working at a window and had thrown his hat on the ground. A cleverman stood for a few moments watching the process of raising the huge buckets of clay from the well, and ventured the remark: "Are you afraid of the sun affecting your brain, Pat?" Taking the caddy out of his mouth, Pat turned on him a withering look and said: "Dye think I'd be working at a job like this if I had any brains?"

AN IMPLACABLE DEBATER.

[New York Sun.]

Knicker—Would your wife admit you were right for the sake of argument? Bocker—No, she would have the argument anyway.

DEFINED.

[New York Sun.]

Knicker—What is a statesman? Bocker—A man who is bound to save the country, even if he has to manufacture the danger.

AN INDEX.

[New York Sun.]

Knicker—What is their social standing? Bocker—Does they call it a barn, stable or garage?

TOO MUCH FOR HIM TO PROMISE.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]

"But," she said, "I am afraid you will not be able to support me in the style to which I have been accustomed." With a groan of despair the honest, hardworking young man removed his arms from about her waist and turned away, realizing that what she said was only too true, for had she not been getting $10 a week from one of the best families, with Thursday afternoons and Sundays off, and the privilege of entering by the front door?

PRETTY SERIOUS.

[Exchange.]

Patient—Nothing serious, I hope, doctor? Doctor (absent-mindedly)—Ten dollars.

ENCOURAGED.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]

"I am afraid," said Mr. Henpeck, "that I made a fool of myself today." "Don't worry about it," his wife replied; "it isn't likely that anybody noticed anything unusual about the way you spoke or acted."

CONTENTMENT.

[Sam Kiser.]

More blest than he who has traveled far. And is cheered by thousands who think him great. And luckier than the anointed are With their jeweled crowns and their robes of state. And richer than those who would govern by the might of millions they coldly claim. Is he who has never been lifted high. Nor ever been weary pursuing fame. Who comes and goes in a world that is small. A world that is free from pretense and care. Who in his nook has the love of all. And through the years is contented there.

THE ONE THAT COUNTS.

[Judge.]

Rollis—Mr. Almonney is all smiles. Molly—Yes. He has captured a gridiron heroine. Rollis—A gridiron heroine? Molly—Yes; a college girl who really knows how to broil a beefsteak.

EXALTATION OF MARY ANN.

[Lurana W. Sheldon.]

When our friendship first began Her name was simply Mary Ann. In childish flights we used to soar Beyond each homely farmhouse door. But that, you know, was long before Her dad grew rich.

When our courtship first began She was still plain Mary Ann. Then our youthful fancies flew Far from all our childhood knew. This before her daddy grew Still richer.

When our silence first began She became Miss Marie Anne. Now no more our visions blend— All my hopes are at an end— I am a forgotten friend— Pa's made his pile.

BRITISH PLUCK.

[Punch.]

A busy-looking laborer was working at Crystal Palace last week on the occasion of the brass band contest. This does not look as if we are becoming a nation of cowards, as is sometimes alleged.

HOW HE FIGURED.

[Chicago News.]

Stern Parent—What! Give you the hand of my daughter in marriage? Way, your salary isn't sufficient to pay rent. Young Man—True; but I am figuring on pa-rental assistance.

NERVE.

[Milwaukee Sentinel.]

"Tompkins has got more nerve than any man I ever met." "What now?" "He came over to my place yesterday to borrow my gun, saying he wanted to kill a dog that kept him awake nights." "Well, what of it?" "It was my dog he killed."

TOO FULL.

[Toronto Star.]

Pump in the white man, says Rudyard Kipling. And by the same token some of the white men that are being pumped in would be better citizens if they were pumped out.

JUST A STARTER.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]

The shades of night were falling fast. As o'er a western village passed A big balloon in rapid flight, Whose pilot yelled with all his might: "WHAT TOWN IS THIS?"

NATURE'S FOOLISHNESS.

[Sam Kiser.]

Dame Nature is a queer old jade. She has no shame at all; See how without a blush she strips Her clothes off in the fall.

In judgment she is lacking, too. For when the days are warm, She puts on every leaf she has. To decorate her foe.

And when the wintry breezes blow, And when the skies are gray, She waits around with nothing on, To keep the cold away.

TOO MUCH.

[Louisville Courier-Journal.]

"So you will not attend the races this fall?" "No. Why should I subsidize on ham sandwiches all winter merely to help improve the breed of horses?"

STAYS PUT.

[Youth's Companion.]

Edith is one of the children in a household where Sabbath observances are of the old-school type. "I shall always stay here," she declared at the end of the second day of the beach, "because they don't put the sea away on Sundays."

IRREPRESSIBLE.

[Harper's Weekly.]

"Now, Johnny," asked the gentleman who had kindly consented to teach the class, "what does this fascinating story of Jonah and the whale teach us?" Bocker—No, it teaches us that, whose father reads practical articles on practical people, "that you cannot keep a good man down."

TIGERS DEFEAT MONTREAL TEAM

Continued From Page Seven.

returned to Stinson on Montreal's 30. Roberts slightly hurt. From 30 yards out Southern dropped his second goal from the field. Tigers 9, Montreal 7. Molson to Lyon, who returned to Craig, who was downed on Montreal's 45. Hamilton secured ball on offense. Stinson went around end for 15 yards.

Stinson hurt in tackle and forced to retire, replaced by Burton. Ballard, Southern and Moore combine for 25-yard run. Ball on Montreal's 10. Pegg had leg injured and retired, and Gilmore, a McGill student, replaced him. Hamilton lost ball on fumble. Tope fumbled. Stinson kicked in midfield. Montreal's ball. Stinson kicked to Tope, who was downed on Tigers' 25. Marriott bucked for five. Southern kicked to Stinson, returned to Isbester, in middle. Southern kicked to Stinson, who ran back 15 to Montreal's 25, downed by Marriott. Southern gaining 20 yards on punts. Reynolds got away for 25 yards, but was called back ball being dead. Hamilton given ten yards for off-side. Tigers lost ball in downs, Montreal try bucking, but could not make any impression on Tigers' line. Hamilton ball on downs. Stinson kicked to Moore, who muffed in Montreal's 25. Quarter time, with ball in Montreal territory, Hamilton 9, Montreal 7.

Last Quarter.

Barron kicked off to Hamilton, who returned to Burton, who was downed on Hamilton's 25. Montreal ball on offense. Stinson kicked into touch at Tigers' 20, and a dribble sent ball into touch ten yards out. Southern returned into touch 25 yards. Southern fumbled. Stinson punts on Hamilton five yards. Stinson ran back. Stinson kicked to Tope, who made mark, but was put off for punishing Murphy. A fumble behind Marriott brought down Craig for loss. Tigers' ball ten out on offense. Southern kicked to Stinson, who returned into touch 15 out. Isbester bucked for 20 yards.

Tigers buck again. Southern kicked to Stinson, who was tackled on Montreal 40. Tope on again. Stinson kicked to Tope, who passed to Moore, who was tackled on Hamilton's 40. Ballard bucked for yards. Roberts and Craig off for scrapping. Burton made a nice run back of Russell's kick to Hamilton's 35. Montreal ball for offense work.

Southern kicked. Stinson returned to Southern, who made a neat pass, when tackled, to Tope, the latter running back to middle of field. Montreal secured the ball on downs. Lyon passed back by Craig to Stinson, latter downed in midfield. Stinson kicked to Tope, who ran back to Hamilton's 35. Southern's kick was blocked. Montreal's ball. Craig ran round for five yards. Stinson kicked to Moore, who was downed five yards out. Craig fumbled. Stinson offside. Hamilton given ten yards. Final score: Hamilton 9, Montreal 7.

"JUST AS I AM."

A correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph gives the following story of the origin of the beautiful hymn, "Just As I Am."

"A young girl was going to the

Chapman's

Thanksgiving Sale Prices for Tuesday

A Great Selling Event—Second Day of Remarkable Value-Giving in the Goods you need, at the Time You Need Them.

Tomorrow we start the second day of this great selling event, presenting to you an ADDITIONAL LIST of BARGAINS that is unique in the matter of price reductions—that is greatest in volume and variety, in quality and value-giving. Many thousands of dollars' worth of stylish, seasonable fall and winter merchandise on sale far below regular worth, at savings that you would deem almost impossible in these days of higher prices and increased cost of production. Come tomorrow and share in the bargain opportunities that abound in every department.

Thanksgiving Sale in Linen Section

Great Saving Opportunities. Don't Miss Them.

Bleached Table Linen, 60 inches, 3 pieces only, in three different patterns. Regular 50c value. For Thanksgiving sale.....44c
66-inch Fine Bleached Table Linen, in two patterns. Regular 75c value. For Thanksgiving sale.....65c
72-inch Bleached Table Linen: fine double Damask, dot, fleur de lis, roses, shamrock and tulip patterns. Regular $1.15. Thanksgiving special.....98c

Three Specials in Tablecloths

20 only! Fine, Pure Linen Tablecloths; perfect goods; size 2x2½ yards; $2.25 value. For Tuesday and Wednesday, Thanksgiving sale, choice.....$2.50
15 only! Pure Linen Tablecloths, 2x3 yards; bordered and patterned; $3.50 value; for Tuesday and Wednesday; Thanksgiving sale.....$3.00
The above are perfect goods, no flaws, missed thread, and no blemish in any way.
8 only! (seconds) Tablecloths, 2x3½ yards; pure linen; bordered all round; worth $6.00. Thanksgiving sale.....$3.50

Thanksgiving Sale in Underwear Dept.

Flannelette Nightgowns, warm and cozy to snuggle up in; made of fleecy flannelette; pink, blue and cream; embroidered frills. Regular $1.00, for.....85c
Striped Flannelette Nightgowns, lace on neck and sleeves.....50c
Combination Suits, heavy ribbed union suits, in all sizes; natural color; full-shaped; 85c value for.....75c
Ladies' Golf Jackets, in cardinal, blue and cream; roll collar; full sleeves; belted in and bloused at waist; worth $2.25, for.....$1.95

Thanksgiving Gloves

Real French Kid Gloves in tans, white, black, brown and light shades; filled and guaranteed, at per pair.....$1.25

MILITARY NIGHT AT BENNETT'S

Miss Love Will Wear the Colors of Wolsey Barlocks Officers.

The officers of Wolsey Barlocks and the Seventh Regiment will attend Bennett's Vaudeville Theater in a body tonight. Several boxes, and four rows of seats have been arranged for Miss Irene Love, who will make her London debut tonight, will wear the colors of Wolsey Barlocks. One of Miss Love's numbers will be a pretty military song.

A special programme of military music has been arranged by Prof. Stevens' orchestra, one of the numbers being, "A-Hunting We Will Go." At the rise of the curtain the officers will arise and sing, "God Save the King." At the conclusion of the performance the officers will dine at a local cafe.

The vaudeville offerings this week at Bennett's are probably the best ever placed before a London audience. Leon Morrie Society Circus is undoubtedly the finest of the kind in the world. It is in a class by itself, and will be sure to prove a great drawing card at Bennett's all this week.

All the other acts are excellent. Manager Elms is enthusiastic over the splendid acts booked, and the big demand for seats shows that the people of London appreciate the class of the attractions, and intend patronizing the show in large numbers.

Thanksgiving Sale in Garment Section

Additional list of bargains for Tuesday and Wednesday.

Prices reduced on fine costumes. The time has come for us to reduce stock on our Ladies' Fall Costumes. That is the reason you can now get splendidly made costumes at from third to half reduction from their regular value. Your choice of ten only, Ladies' Fall Costumes, in black, cheviot and broadcloth; Eton and fitting styles, silk lined coats, pleated skirts, tailor-made, sizes 36, 38 and 40 only. Ranging in price regularly $16.50 to $25.00. Thanksgiving sale price.....$10.50
Six only, Fancy Tweed Costumes, fitting coat styles, 34, 36 and 38, saten lined coat, pleated skirts. Regular $12.50, and $15.00, for.....$7.95

Wonderful Thanksgiving specials in

SKIRTS

Seven-gored Tweed Skirts, medium and dark colors, bound seams, double inverted pleated back, perfect fitting. Regular $4.50 and $5.00, for.....$2.69

Thanksgiving sale in our Carpet and Linoleum Sections

Superb value-giving, after the extraordinary Linoleum sale last week, we are induced to offer you the following Thanksgiving special:

Linoleum.—1,250 yards, every roll perfectly new goods, handsome floral patterns, and true copies of carpet designs, in dark and light grounds of blue, red, green, brown and cream, 2 and 4 yards wide. Regular 50c per square yard. Thanksgiving sale price.....35c
All-Wool Carpet.—750 yards, in green, fawn and red colorings, one yard wide. Regular 80c and 85c yard, for.....68c

IN FALL WEATHER YOU REQUIRE A NATURAL FOOD SUCH AS

SHREDDED WHEAT

TRY BISCUIT FOR BREAKFAST, TRICUIT FOR LUNCH. ALL GROCERS—13c A CARTON, 2 FOR 25c.

DR. RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

Radway's Ready Relief cures the worst pains in from one to twenty minutes. For Headache, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Toothache, Neuritis, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Weakness in the Back, Spine or Kidneys, Pains around the Liver, Pleurisy, Swelling of the joints and Pains of all kinds, the application of Radway's Ready Relief cures immediate ease, and its continued use for a few days effect a permanent cure.

Instantly Relieved Pleurisy.

DR. RADWAY & CO., New York.

Two weeks ago I was laid up in bed with Pleurisy. I could hardly take a breath, the pain was so bad. I tried all sorts of things, that were recommended to me and got no better. A person named Elliott, who was well put upon the floor, for all the good it did me. Some one told my wife to try Radway's Ready Relief. She got it at once, and I could breathe without pain. The next morning I was well and went down to my work and have been well ever since. It is the greatest remedy that ever happened. Any one who doubts this story can call on me and get it direct from me.

FRANCIS MCCARTHY, County Court House, City Hall, N.Y. Sold by druggists. RADWAY & CO., Montreal, Can.

NEWFOUNDLAND WHALERS GO SOUTH

A Fleet of Steamships Invade Territory of the New Bedford Hunters.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 27.—Whale hunters of New Bedford will soon be confronted with the greatest competition in their history.

As a result of changing conditions in the whaling industry around Newfoundland and the Grand Banks, the whale fishermen of this section have decided to invade the field of the New Bedford hunters.

They are preparing to send into southern waters half a dozen steamships and a big steamship of 3,000 tons, which will be a floating factory to extract from the whales all the products that can be turned to any account.

It is expected that these steam craft will have a big advantage over the sailing vessels of the Yankees, who have to rely on chasing the whales in rowboats after sighting them.

The Newfoundland whalers use 12-knot steamers, and they kill the whale they capture by launching a harpoon with an explosive head from a mortar-like gun in the bow of the boat.

The moment the whale is killed the carcass is towed to the floating factory and there it is cut up and the different products stored away.

The chief factor in this move is the rapid extinction of the porpoise whale along the shores of Newfoundland and the Grand Banks. The search for these whales being no longer profitable, the Newfoundlanders have decided to take their craft into southern waters.

They are equipped with a steam engine, a boiler, and a big steamship of 3,000 tons, which will be a monopoly of the business unless New Bedford men change their methods and abandon sailing vessels for steam craft.

The American whaler escapes the cost of coal and equipment for a steamer, but loses the advantages that a steamer possesses and the increased facilities for obtaining made products from the carcass that a floating factory will enjoy.

The hunt for Arctic whales is now virtually abandoned on the Atlantic coast. A small fleet from San Francisco pursues the business, entering Beaufort Sea by Bering Strait, skirting round the north coast of Alaska.

New Bedford has no longer any Arctic interests, and is now devoting her energies to sperm whaling in equatorial waters, with a fair measure of success. She will not, therefore, welcome any competition from Newfoundland in this business, backed as it will be, by steam whalers and floating factories.

The usual habitat of the cachalot, or sperm whale, does not extend as far north as Newfoundland, but some specimens of the tribe do make their way there at times, and several have been killed at intervals by the floating steamers.

One cachalot is as valuable as four orquas, because of the greater price of the spermaceti it yields as contrasted with their baleen, or whalebone, which is sold at a low price.

The whalers and the floating factory will cruise in company, and the latter will carry supplies of coal, provisions and equipment for the whalers, as well as for herself. She is being remodeled for this new service, and a part of her deck is being contrived so that the carcasses of whales that may be killed can be hoisted aboard and divided into their baleen, spermaceti, blubber and meat, as they are at factories on the Newfoundland coast.

In Norway floating factories are employed to some extent, operating outside the three mile limit along parts of the coast where whaling inshore is not permitted, but the experiment of operating an area as extensive as is contemplated for this Newfoundland venture is unique.

THE JAPANESE CLAIMS

Mackenzie King Finds That Many Have No Case With Government.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 27.—There is an excellent chance that not more than $1,000 of the $1,500 asked by Vancouver Japanese as riot damages will be allowed by the Dominion Government.

Commissioner Mackenzie King was startled yesterday to find that the Japanese were merely tenants and not owners of the buildings damaged.

The commissioner declared the landowners, and not tenants, were the people who should bear the brunt of making repairs. The landlords could not collect from the Dominion Government, but their suits, if any, would be against the city.

Japanese rights for damages, he said, are under treaty, and not by any rights they have in the civil courts of the land.

The commissioner added as his ruling: "The Government will pay the

Why Women Have Coarse, Rough, Sal-low Skin

Because Poor Digestion and Improper Elimination Have Clogged the Stomach.

Womanly beauty is largely the outward expression of health.

Every woman with pale cheeks and poor complexion needs medicine—needs a potent tonic to regulate her system.

To tone up the stomach—to insure good digestion—to give new life and vitality to the whole system—where there is a remedy like Dr. Hamilton's Pills?

Dr. Hamilton's Pills enable you to eat what you like—their correct constipation—make nourishing blood—in still force and vim into a rundown system.

If nervous and can't sleep your remedy is Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they search out the cause of your condition and you rise in the morning refreshed, strong, vigorous, ready for the day's work.

Dr. Hamilton asks every weak and debilitated person to use his Mandrake and Butternut Pills. They make old folks feel young, and weak folks feel strong. Their effects upon insomnia and languor are marvelous.

Hundreds declare they soothe the quiet nerves so that a good night's rest always follows their use.

To look well, to feel well, to keep well, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are mild, cleansing, strengthening—good for the young or old. Sold by all dealers in 25c boxes.

WILL HANG U. S. MARINE

Adsett's Convicted of Murdering Woman in Hong Kong Hotel.

Hong Kong, Oct. 27.—W. H. Adsett was sentenced to death at the criminal sessions today for the murder of Gertrude Dayton at the Hong Kong Hotel on Aug. 4.

Adsett belonged to the United States Marine Corps and was at one time a sergeant in the American Legation Guard at Peking.

Afterward he was a professional pugilist. The body of the murdered woman, who apparently had been killed by strangulation, was found in a trunk on board a mail steamship, and on Aug. 13 Adsett was arrested at Chefoo and charged with the murder.

Silver toilet articles marked with Miss Dayton's name were found in his possession.

Miss Dayton is said by her relatives, who reside in Denver, Col., to have been traveling in the Orient as a singer with Mrs. J. C. Whitford, of New York.

Dayton was a blonde, her family name being McKelvey. Her brother, J. F. McKelvey, is manager of the Star Electric Theater in Denver.

ROYAL TRAVELER RETURNS

Crown Prince of Portugal Back From Touring Colonies.

Lisbon, Oct. 27.—The steamer Africa, conveying the crown prince, returning from his visit to the Portuguese African colonies, put into Cascaes Bay, the official reception being held at the Arsenal, where, accompanied by the Minister of Marine, who has been with him throughout the tour, his royal highness disembarked.

He was met by the King and Queen, the Queen Dowager, Duke de Porto and suite, the Premier and the cabinet ministers, the diplomatic corps and a large gathering of members of society.

The royal traveler, wearing a smart lancer uniform, was conveyed ashore during a torrential downpour of rain and a heavy sea in one of the picture-galaxy barges, manned by eight rowers in quaint scarlet tunics.

He looked remarkably well as he stepped ashore from the slippery board placed as a gangway. The members of the royal party intended to proceed to Cascaes in the royal yacht, but in consequence of the bad weather altered the plan and were conveyed thither by special train, where, in spite of the depressing weather, a cordial reception was accorded them.

Between the leaves of an old copy of Burns' Poems, bought for 3d. at Newcastle-on-Tyne, Mr. W. Biggs, of Carlisle, has found a £5 note.

A young seal, captured off the north coast of Cornwall, and fed by means of a baby's bottle, has died from pneumonia in the Plymouth Aquarium.

George Eddlestone, a young farmer, was attacked at Pleasanton, near Blackburn, on Monday, by a mare which had been separated from her foal, and was killed.

The accounts of the Liverpool Historical Pageant show a cash balance in hand of £266, the receipts having totalled £13,274. The share of the profits from the tug to their Channel Fleet was £719.

In the Bradford Police court on Wednesday Edward Charles Cryer, assistant clerk to the Hanwell District Council, fell in a dead faint on being remanded without bail on a charge of embezzling £16 18s. 7d.

The Rev. James McCann, Catholic curate at Ely, was drowned on Monday while bathing. Father Eardly and a young man named Daniel Lamont rendered all possible assistance, but the body was washed away.

For a false entry in a cashbook, Harold Williams, formerly clerk to the Marquis of Anglesey, was sentenced on Tuesday to six months' imprisonment in the second division. He was stated to have misappropriated £895.

The Croydon Borough Council on Monday discussed the question of Socialistic teaching in Sunday schools. By a majority of thirty-six to fourteen it was decided to refuse to allow the use of any of the council schools for this purpose.

John Smith, an old man of 73, who was sentenced to nine months' hard labor at Hunts Quarter Sessions on Tuesday for stealing a shirt from outside the shop of a local outfitter, was said to have spent thirty-five years of his life in prison.

For being in the possession of house-breaking implements at Kensington Park road, George Smith, 69, who has spent more than half his life in prison, was sentenced to five years' penal servitude at Newington Sessions on Wednesday.

When watching the departure of a train at Mellis station, on the Great Eastern Railway, a young girl named Duddington, of Botesdale, was decapitated by the Cromer express. It is thought that the current of air drew her in towards the train.

Appealing to the Worcester Guardians for an allowance of tobacco, a woman inmate of the workhouse, aged 85, said she had smoked a pipe for seventy years and for want of it she had not been able to digest her food. The request was granted.

At Staple, near Dover, on Wednesday, a baby's mail cart was upset in front of a farmer's cart, the wheel of which passed over the child's arm and foot. A woman riding in the cart jumped down to the child's assistance, but, falling heavily, broke her leg in two places.

From Gurnsey on Thursday came the report of a death from sea-sickness. A traveler for a firm of London woolen manufacturers, named Thomas North, who was returning from Jersey on a Great Western steamer, died from heart failure brought on by violent vomiting.

ENGLISH ARTISTS SADLY BUNCOED

Victims of Ancient Law That Seems to Legalize Stealing.

London, Oct. 27.—Does English law sanction theft? That is a seemingly absurd question, but if the United Arts Club, which is a protégé of J. Pierpont Morgan, loses its suit against Robinson & Fisher, it will be cause the law justifies what the plain man calls stealing.

The club was holding its exhibition in rooms above Williams' restaurant, in King street, London. The proprietors of the restaurant were the landlords of the club, and in turn tenants for the whole building to Robinson & Fisher.

The club had paid its rent promptly and up to the end of this year to the restaurant, but the restaurant people were sadly in arrears to the superior landlords. They were ejected. To reimburse themselves for what the restaurant owed them, Robinson & Fisher were what the English law terms "trespassers" in the rooms occupied by the artists and seized the pictures. According to all common sense ethics they had no more right to them than had a pickpocket to the money he fishes from another man's clothes. The artists did not owe them a penny, and had had no previous dealings with them. But Robinson & Fisher were what the English law terms their "superior landlords," and in this land superior landlords enjoy extraordinary privileges.

There were 200 artists exhibiting, and they had 231 pictures on exhibition, which they valued at $20,000.

The artists applied for an order to compel the superior landlords to return the pictures. Judge Neville declined to grant it. "Monstrous though I hold the law to be," he said, "I have to deal with the law as it is, and he found that the law defends this kind of stealing.

Some indignant members of the House of Commons questioned the Attorney-General, the highest law officer of the Government, on the subject. His view was substantially the same as Judge Neville's. He said he certainly could not defend the law as it is, but he could do nothing to rectify it.

The artists are determined to fight the case up to the highest court in the land—that of the House of Lords. It was interesting to see what view the peers will take of it. For it is the hereditary peers—the great landlords—who are chiefly responsible for the retention of the law on the statute books. The laws that relate to property have been made by landlords for the benefit of landlords—and especially for the benefit of superior landlords.

The United Arts Club is one of the latest ventures of J. Pierpont Morgan, an establishment where all kinds of artists and art patrons can meet on common ground, where artists can sell their pictures without the intermediation of agents.

WANTS MRS. THAW'S PHOTOS

Miniature Painter Asked Pointed Questions and Wouldn't Return Them.

New York, Oct. 27.—Mme. De Nauze, of 245 West 127th street, yesterday was in the West Side court yesterday on a summons obtained by Daniel O'Reilly, one of Harry K. Thaw's lawyers, who sought to get back a lot of photographs of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw which had been in the possession of Marie Van Valtheim, a miniature painter.

Mr. O'Reilly said that the artist had agreed to paint portraits of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and of Mrs. O'Reilly, but that while at work on the picture of Mrs. Thaw, the painter asked so many questions about the trial of Harry Thaw for the murder of Stanford White that it was decided to discontinue the sittings. The artist, however, was anxious to finish the picture and got the photographs to aid her in her work. Since then all efforts on the part of Mrs. Thaw to recover the photographs had proved futile.

Counsel for Mme. De Nauze, to whom the pictures had been entrusted, held that the case was a civil one. It was finally agreed that the pictures would be returned if O'Reilly would accept service in a suit for $250 for breach of contract.

The self-loading or automatic musket is now being seriously considered as the infantry arm of the future. The equipment of the great armies of the world with an improved rifle is hardly completed when the mechanics begin work on a new weapon.

At the recent examination of the German War Academy the automatic rifle was one of the themes for discussion. The piece now on trial has a magazine holding 10 cartridges; the recoil is utilized to load and cock. Consequently the soldier can remain quietly in position, never removing his eye from the target and fire his 10 shots.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

CURE SICK HEAD

Headache, and relieve all the troubles that a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, etc. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also regulate the bowels. Even if they only cure

Headache, they are almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately they cure Constipation, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will be glad to keep a box of them. But do not fail to get them.

At Staple, near Dover, on Wednesday, a baby's mail cart was upset in front of a farmer's cart, the wheel of which passed over the child's arm and foot. A woman riding in the cart jumped down to the child's assistance, but, falling heavily, broke her leg in two places.

From Gurnsey on Thursday came the report of a death from sea-sickness. A traveler for a firm of London woolen manufacturers, named Thomas North, who was returning from Jersey on a Great Western steamer, died from heart failure brought on by violent vomiting.

THE SHARES OF HIGHLAND MARY

GOLD MINES, LIMITED, OF LARDER LAKE WILL ADVANCE FROM 10 CENTS TO ONE DOLLAR

PER SHARE ON OCTOBER 29

Owing to the continued extraordinary results obtained at Larder Lake, especially on the properties of the Highland Mary, together with the fact that a strong English syndicate has secured option on all treasury shares remaining unsold after Oct. 29 at One Dollar per share, we will not be able to fill orders after that date at less than One Dollar per share. All applications for Highland Mary at 10 cents per share bearing date not later than Oct. 29 will be accepted and allotted, provided the total allotment offered has not been fully subscribed, in which event the amount remitted will be returned.

Telegraph or Telephone Orders at our expense. Telephone Main 2708.

LAW & CO., Limited Traders Bank Building, TORONTO.

A new metal which last week attracted considerable attention in Germany, and which gives promise of many branches of industry, has received the name of "alzin," the name being a compounding of the first letters of aluminum and zinc, of which it is composed. It is claimed that it equals cast iron in strength, but that it is much more elastic, and that it has a great superiority over iron in that it does not rust easily and takes a very high polish.

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused It to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert mind and a true story of how the Vegetable Compound had its birth and how the "Panic of '73" caused it to be offered for public sale in drug stores.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkhams sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until today Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but still she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of women's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With womanly assistance, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound: made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

The three sons and the daughter, with

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured it and became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkhams sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until today Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but still she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of women's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With womanly assistance, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound: made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

The three sons and the daughter, with

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured it and became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with

Not Egotistical

But WE PRIDE OURSELVES on being businessmen's printers, for when we can satisfy—which we are doing, the up-to-date businessmen of the twentieth century we can satisfy most anyone else.

Printing is an art, and no one knows its value better than the shrewd man of business.

Our printing will please you and pay you.

Test us with an order.

The Advertiser Job Phone 175

ALLAN ROYAL MAIL LINE

Montreal to Liverpool.

Reduced fares, first and second cabin now in effect.

Tunisian sails Friday, Nov. 1, 9 a.m. Victorian sails Thursday, Nov. 7, 10 a.m. Corsican sails Friday, Nov. 15, 9 a.m. Virginian sails Thursday, Nov. 21, 10 a.m.

Montreal to Glasgow

Ionian sails Thursday, Oct. 24 Corinthian sails Thursday, Oct. 31

Gramplan (new) sails Thursday, Nov. 7 Scillonian sails Thursday, Nov. 21.

For rates of passage, sailing fares, etc. apply to E. DE LA HOOKE, G. T. B. R. FULTON, C. P. R., or F. B. CLARKE, 416 Richmond street.

THANKSGIVING DAY EXCURSIONS

For particulars consult Agent, 418 RICHMOND ST.

MICHIGAN CENTRAL

SOUTHWESTERN TRACTION CO.

RELIABLE HOURLY ELECTRIC SERVICE BETWEEN LONDON, ST. THOMAS AND UNION

HANDSOME, NEW, CLEAN, COMFORTABLE CARS leave the Horton street station, London, every hour from 7 a.m. until 11 p.m., and leave the waiting-room opposite the city hall in St. Thomas at the same hours. Last car waits for the theater.

Special attention and rates to parties chartering cars.

PERE MARQUETTE

THANKSGIVING DAY OCTOBER 21

Will sell tickets between all stations in Canada at SINGLE FARE for round trip, good going Oct. 30 and 31. Return until Nov. 4, 1907.

J. W. KEARNS, T. P. A., London, Ont. H. F. MOELLER, G. P. A., Detroit, Mich.

OCEAN STEAMSHIP TICKETS

WHITE STAR LINE New York-Quebec-Liverpool

NEW YORK-PLYMOUTH-CHEROUBURG-SOUTHAMPTON

NEW YORK-BOSTON-MEDITERRANEAN

LYLELAND LINE

NEW YORK-PLYMOUTH-CHEROUBURG-SOUTHAMPTON

ATLANTIC TRANSPORT LINE

DOMINION LINE

RED STAR LINE

FEATHER BEDS, PILLOWS AND MATTRESSES

Renovated and sterilized; also manufacture of Mattresses, Feather Pillows, Cushions and Spring Beds, Brass and Iron Beds, Stoves, Furniture, Camp Beds, at the Feather Bed, Pillow and Mattress Cleaning Factory, J. F. HUNT & SONS, 393 Richmond street. Phone 997.

TRAVELERS' GUIDE.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY. SARNIA TUNNEL TO

Latest News From Far and Near

London Team Defeated at Toronto Argos Win by Score of 26 to 8

Better Team Victorious—Spry Makes Run of Forty Yards.

(By Our Own Writer, on the Spot.)

Bumped again—Argos II, 26; London, 8.

When the local Rugby team climbed aboard the C. P. R. train for Toronto on Saturday morning it was with the full expectation of returning to old London town with the Argos' scalp. For a long time previous to the game reports were issued daily from somewhere, presumably from Toronto, to the effect that the second Argos' team were the crudest things that ever got inside of football tights. As a consequence the London boys expected to slam the Toronto Rugbites all over the field.

The illusion lasted for seven minutes after Referee Billy Morrison had blown the whistle for the starting of hostilities on the Varsity campus in Toronto.

Then something broke loose, and that something was not London.

It is perhaps hardly fair to lay the blame for the defeat of the team on one man, but if any one player was to blame more than any other that one was Bobby Hague. There is some excuse for Bobby, however. He has been out of town on business for some time and as a consequence has been unable to practice with the team or learn the signals.

Even had Hague been right, though, it is very doubtful if the locals would have won, although the score would have been very much lower.

The Argos proved their superiority at almost every point of the game and it was the consensus of opinion even among the London players that Toronto had the better team.

The London backs showed lack of combination, and they fumbled frequently.

Duff Wood displayed some good work at tackling, while Bole was the mainstay of the back division. Jackson did fairly well while he lasted, but was soon retired with a slightly injured knee. Wilson, a Collegiate athlete took his place.

On passing Spry was off color, and the ball generally went too high or too low, with the result that the Argos were able to take the time.

It was also made quite evident that the Londoners have never had an overdose of schooling in the art of falling on the ball.

Half-time score—Argos, 13; London, 2.

In kicking the Argos had the Londoners dizzy, and when there was an exchange of kicks the Toronto boys generally gained anywhere from ten to twenty yards.

At blocking kicks the Argos proved themselves adept, while London stopped but two kicks from their opponents.

THE GAME IN DETAIL.

First Quarter.

London wins the toss and kicks with the wind, gaining ten yards on the return. Jackson kicks for twenty-five yards on the second down from Toronto's 50-yard line. Argos mark and elect a scrimmage. London's backs on a fumble. Jackson is sent through the center for ten yards. Bole went around the end for fifteen yards. Argos ball on a fumble. Hewitt attempts to go around the end and is shoved over his own line for a safety-touch. London, 2; Toronto, 0.

At this point it looked like a London victory, for the locals seemed to have the Argos at their mercy.

Argos kick out with a slight return. Argos ball on their thirty-yard line. Meredith, Toronto's center half-back, kicks on the last down, and Hague fumbles, the Argos getting the ball.

The Argos are held for downs, and Jackson kicks on London's second down. Then follows an exchange of kicks in which the locals hold their own for a moment, but which finally gives Toronto an advantage of thirty yards. By exchanging kicks and getting around the ends for fair gains the Argos eventually work the pikepin up to London's five-yard line, where London secures the ball. Jackson tries to save the day by kicking, but punts almost straight up in the air. London secures the ball again, however, when it drops, and Rowlands is sent around the end for a gain of twenty yards. Jackson then kicks for forty yards without a return. The London wings do some great following up work at this point, and prevent a return.

Toronto kicks from near the center of the field and regains the ball on London's 35-yard line when Hague fumbles. Argos, kick again, and Bobby drops the oval once more. Argos' ball on London's 10-yard line.

Argos buck the line and are forced to kick. Bole returns the kick. Argos attempt to send Hewitt through the center, but fumble. Hewitt falls on the ball. Argos penalized for off-side. London is shoved back for a loss of five yards on the first down, and attempts to kick the next time away, but the kick is blocked. Argos work the ball up to London's 10-yard line by kicking and going around the ends. Thompson is shoved over for a touch-down on the second down. English, left half-back, fails to convert.

Score—Argos, 5; London, 2.

Second Quarter.

Toronto kicks for a gain of twenty yards. An exchange of kicks follows and the ball is returned to the center of the field.

Argos go around for ten. Wood brings the runner down after three other London players fall. London regains the ball on their own 35-yard mark, but lose it on an off-side play. Meredith tries a drop kick for a field goal, but failed by several feet. Hague, however, is brought down for a rouge. Score, 6-2.

Argos flexes on the kick-out, and Meredith kicked over the line for a rouge. Hague being brought down by Jardine, Toronto outside wing. Score, 7-2.

Argos return Jackson's kick and hold London on the 15-yard line. Spry passed high and Jardine falls on the pikepin as it rolls over the London goal line. Meredith converts.

Half-time score—Argos, 13; London, 2.

Third Quarter.

Shortly after play is resumed Jackson's knees are injured and he retires in favor of Wilson, the London Collegiate player, who is switched to left half and Bole put in as center half-back.

London gains ten yards on the kick-out, and a moment later Bole kicks for about forty yards without a return. Argos' ball 20-yard run by Meredith, and a 15-yard gain by Hewitt, however, brings the pikepin back to within five yards of the Toronto goal.

Argos' ball on a fumble. London's backs on a fumble. Jackson is sent through the center for ten yards. Bole went around the end for fifteen yards. Argos ball on a fumble. Hewitt attempts to go around the end and is shoved over his own line for a safety-touch. London, 2; Toronto, 0.

At this point it looked like a London victory, for the locals seemed to have the Argos at their mercy.

Argos kick out with a slight return. Argos ball on their thirty-yard line. Meredith, Toronto's center half-back, kicks on the last down, and Hague fumbles, the Argos getting the ball.

The Argos are held for downs, and Jackson kicks on London's second down. Then follows an exchange of kicks in which the locals hold their own for a moment, but which finally gives Toronto an advantage of thirty yards. By exchanging kicks and getting around the ends for fair gains the Argos eventually work the pikepin up to London's five-yard line, where London secures the ball. Jackson tries to save the day by kicking, but punts almost straight up in the air. London secures the ball again, however, when it drops, and Rowlands is sent around the end for a gain of twenty yards. Jackson then kicks for forty yards without a return. The London wings do some great following up work at this point, and prevent a return.

Toronto kicks from near the center of the field and regains the ball on London's 35-yard line when Hague fumbles. Argos, kick again, and Bobby drops the oval once more. Argos' ball on London's 10-yard line.

Argos buck the line and are forced to kick. Bole returns the kick. Argos attempt to send Hewitt through the center, but fumble. Hewitt falls on the ball. Argos penalized for off-side. London is shoved back for a loss of five yards on the first down, and attempts to kick the next time away, but the kick is blocked. Argos work the ball up to London's 10-yard line by kicking and going around the ends. Thompson is shoved over for a touch-down on the second down. English, left half-back, fails to convert.

Score—Argos, 5; London, 2.

Fourth Quarter.

Toronto kicks for a gain of twenty yards. An exchange of kicks follows and the ball is returned to the center of the field.

Argos go around for ten. Wood brings the runner down after three other London players fall. London regains the ball on their own 35-yard mark, but lose it on an off-side play. Meredith tries a drop kick for a field goal, but failed by several feet. Hague, however, is brought down for a rouge. Score, 6-2.

Argos flexes on the kick-out, and Meredith kicked over the line for a rouge. Hague being brought down by Jardine, Toronto outside wing. Score, 7-2.

Argos return Jackson's kick and hold London on the 15-yard line. Spry passed high and Jardine falls on the pikepin as it rolls over the London goal line. Meredith converts.

Half-time score—Argos, 13; London, 2.

Notes from the Side-Lines

The ever-popular Billy Morrison and Dr. Crawford gave entire satisfaction in their work as referee and umpire.

Somewhere once made the remark that they didn't think that Morrison could follow the play as fast as some other referee. That same party has changed his mind since Saturday's game. Billy not only followed the play, but he kept everybody playing football right from the first whistle. It was also noticeable that nobody got away with any slugging. The London boys hope to see both Morrison and Crawford here next Thursday when the return game with the Argos will be played.

Toronto had only five seniors on the team against London. Not half had for an intermediate (?) organization.

A supporter of the Argos, who stood watching the game remarked that Sage, in his opinion, was one of the best intermediate wing men in Canada.

"Babe" Hewitt, captain and quarter of the Argos, is rather small in stature, but he is no spring chicken. "Babe" is strongly suspected of being a senior.

When "Dutch" Rau got a hold of an opponent he came down with a bump.

Spry's great run has seldom been equaled on the Toronto Varsity campus.

Baker and Wood are clever tacklers.

Pete Moore never lost his smile, no matter what came off.

they were so much tissue paper. With the ball on Toronto's 15-yard line, Spry is sent around the end for a touch-down. Bole converts.

Score, 13-2.

An exchange of kicks follows the kick-out. Bole makes a 20-yard run from the center of the field, and passes the entire Toronto team with the exception of Hewitt. Spry attempted to pass to Moore, but it goes wild. After the Argos return to the center of the field again, however, London blocks a kick and regains possession. London fumbles after making five yards on the first down, and Meredith kicks for a gain of 35 yards. Argos' ball on a fumble. Toronto kicks and Hague is brought down on the 10-yard line in attempting to make a return. London attempts to kick and is blocked. Argos' ball. Meredith goes over for a touch-down and converts on the try. Score, 19-3.

Toronto makes a kick on the London 30-yard line, and Meredith tries for a field goal, which fails. Hague was brought down for a rouge on the kick. Score, 20-3.

By dint of excellent kicking and some clever plays around the end, the Argos soon have the ball up to London's 20-yard line. London hold them at that point for a down, but loses the ball themselves on a fumbled punt.

A very peculiar accident occurred at this juncture.

Parsons and Thompson, outside wing and scrimmage respectively, came together full force, and both sustain gashes over their left eyes, necessitating eight stitches. Dr. Crawford, who umpired the game, attends to the injured men, who retire. Hague and Watson drop from the London side to even up.

London holds their opponents on the 10-yard line, and kick on their own second down for a gain of 20 yards. Argos return to Bole, who punts back, for an even break, the ball resting in the Argos' possession on the 40-yard line. London loses ten yards on off-side. Argos exchange kicks and work the ball up to London's 10-yard mark. London returns and the pikepin is finally halted near the center of the field. Argos kick for 25, and on the return kick over the line. London fizzes on a return punt, and Wright, Toronto half-back, falls on the ball for a touch-down. Score, 21-8.

Last Quarter.

London works desperately in this quarter and shows up better than at any time of the game, but cannot prevent the Argos from scoring another touch-down.

Instead of kicking out Toronto punts over to Hewitt, who got away for 15 yards, and then kicks for another gain of 30 yards, while being tackled. London attempts to return, but kicks poorly, and Wright dribbled over the line. Kent follows fast and falls on the pikepin for a touch-down. The Argos forfeit their right for a try when two of their players touch the ball after it had been placed.

Neither side has any advantage after this, although London works the ball to the Argos' 10-yard line on at least two occasions. Play ended with the ball in London's possession in the center of the field.

Final score: Toronto, 26; London, 8.

The teams lined up as follows: London—Hague, fullback; Bole, Jackson, Wood and Wilson (sub), backs; Spry, quarter; Rau, Brown and McEwen, Rowland, Moore, Baker, wings; Wilson, Gilmour, substitutes.

Argonauts—Chalice, fullback; Meredith, English, Wright, halfbacks; Hewitt, quarter; Thompson, Reid, Kent, scrimmage; Taylor, Ross, Jardine, Riddy, Parsons, Murray, wings; Hague, substitute.

Referee—Wm. Morrison, Toronto. Umpire—Dr. Crawford.

ALL SATURDAY'S RUGBY SCORES

At Montreal—Hamilton, 9; Montreal, 7.

At Ottawa—Ottawa, 17; Argos, 1.

Intermediate.

At Toronto—Argos, 26; London, 8.

At Hamilton—Hamilton, 15; Dundas, 9.

O. R. F. U. (Senior).

At Toronto—Victoria, 23; Peterboro, 18.

Inter-Collegiate (Senior).

At Toronto—Varsity, 19; McGill, 16.

At Kingston—Queen's, 16; Ottawa, 15.

Intermediate.

At Toronto—McMaster, 21; Varsity, 6.

At Kingston—McGill, 21; Queen's, 1.

American Rugby.

Illinois, 15; Wisconsin, 4.

Michigan, 22; Ohio State, 0.

Beloit, 13; Oshkosh Normal, 6.

Monmouth, 20; Knox, 0.

Ames, 17; Cornell, 0.

Nebraska, 22; Colorado, 8.

Utah, 17; Colorado School of Mines, 11.

Grinnell, 10; Coe, 0.

East.

Cornell, 6; Princeton, 5.

Indiana, 26; Pennsylvania, 6.

Harvard, 9; Springfield, 5.

Yale, 45; Villa Nova, 0.

Army, 30; Rochester, 0.

Western University of Pennsylvania, 12; Bucknell, 0.

Lehigh, 6; Dickinson, 6.

Haverford, 6; Ursinus, 0.

Trinity, 5; Wittenberg, 0.

Dartmouth, 15; Amherst, 10.

Vermont, 6; Holy Cross, 0.

Maine, 4; Tufts, 0.

Bowdoin, 15; Colby, 0.

Brown, 24; Williams, 0.

Rutgers, 33; Delaware, 0.

THE TURF.

WINNERS SATURDAY.

At Jamaica—Momentum 1 to 5.

Green Seal 5 to 2, Arasee 5 to 2.

Master Robert 2 to 1, Lane Allen even, Ida D. 7 to 5.

"STUNG AGAIN!"

TIMELY SPORTING GOSSIP By Southpaw

While in Toronto attending the London game Saturday, the writer met J. B. Hay, secretary of the O. R. F. U.

When questioned as to the probable outcome of the present football mix-up, Mr. Hay stated emphatically that there was nothing to it but a victory in the end for the O. R. F. U., which has identified itself with the C. A. A. U.

In so far as the local team was concerned, the only complaint he had to offer was that in the early part of the season the locals had stated positively that they would not play intermediate, and that afterward they had flopped over to the Interprovincial Union intermediate ranks.

Mr. Hay expressed the opinion that Ballard, former president of the O. R. F. U., had acted in an unbecomingly manner toward the O. R. F. U. in organizing the new union at a time when he was supposed to be away working for the older body.

In another column can be found an account of what took place at a meeting of the O. R. F. U. executive Saturday.

The London Rugby Club needs several things before it can ever hope to compete successfully with outside teams like Toronto, Hamilton and Dundas, but, perhaps, the most potent need at present is a strong team to practice against. A team can never fully realize its weak points until it is faced by a team of equal strength. Where to get the needed second team is another question, but it shouldn't be such a hard problem to solve. There is plenty of material in town if it could be routed out. The only trouble seems to be that those who ought to get out and help the boys would rather lay back and howl, "I told you so," when the news of another defeat is flashed over the wires.

A rather amusing incident occurred in connection with the London-Argo game Saturday. Both teams had decided that Bill Morrison would suit them to a dot as referee, and he was notified that he could have the job if he cared for it. Billy accepted, and met the boys at the Grand Union when they came in from London.

Also at the hotel were two Hamilton men, who had been sent the distance by the London game by President Ballard.

The London boys held out for Morrison, and as he was also the choice of the Argos, the Hamilton men retired.

Morrison also had an offer to referee an O. R. F. U. game at Trinity the same day, but decided in favor of the London game, when he found that the boys wanted him.

Perhaps that Tiger-Montreal game was not a huge surprise. "Put your roll down on Montreal," was the general tip all over Ontario. Even at half time the Montreal team looked like a good bet. After that the Tigers got busy and kicked the easterners to pieces.

Three Toronto and three Hamilton teams won Saturday. We'd be satisfied if we had one winner.

A short time ago Peterboro trimmed the Toronto Victorias up handsomely in a senior game at the former place. Saturday the result was reversed, and the Vics romped home winners by several lengths.

The latest talk in local hockey circles is to the effect that London will have a professional hockey team this winter. No, there won't be any $3,000 salaries floating around. In fact, there won't be any salaries at all, except by way of percentages on gate receipts.

Mr. Joseph Lind, the well-known local rink man, has stated that he will try to get a team together on a gate-receipt basis, and that he hopes to pick out a good team, made up chiefly of local players. Just where the good local professionals come in, Lind does not state. However, unless all guesses fail, he could land a few of the moneyed type right over in little St. Thomas. Just how good they would be when stacked up against some strong outside team is not stated—but they are said to be there.

Wonder if the Hortons are kidding about that O. H. A. business? In the first place, the team, as it stood last winter, would not stand much show if grouped with such teams as Stratford and Paris. In the second place, if as reported, they contemplate going outside the city to strengthen their team they would not be doing the square thing by the local players.

Knowing what kind of a hockey town London has not been for some time, it is doubtful if any good players from outside the city would take up their residence here, anyway. There may be some good outside players here that would come inside the residence rule, but if so they are very modest about allowing the fact to become known.

All of which means that while the Hortons may be in earnest, their movements, the early talk that has been published, has all the earmarks of a huge joke.

It is by no means intended to discourage the Hortons from playing O. H. A. hockey or any other old kind of ice game, but unless they strengthen wonderfully, they will have about as much chance of holding their own in fast company as the London Rugby Club would have of defeating the senior Hamilton Tigers.

ROOKE CAPTURED Y.M.C.A. ROAD RACE

The Annual Event, Seven and Half Miles, Run in 40 Minutes and 40 Seconds.

William Rooke took the Y. M. C. A. annual road race Saturday in the fairly fast time of 40 minutes and 40 seconds. Billy Amos went the distance a year ago in something like 35 minutes. The course is about 7 1/2 miles in length.

There were fifteen starters in the event, and young Rooke's victory stamps him as a comer.

The boys finished as follows: W. Rooke, 40:40; A. Ruddy, 40:05; V. Adams, 44:06; S. Switzer, 44:30; D. Aikens, 45:03; G. Quick, 45:21; W. Brock, 46:24; J. Walton, 47:42; P. Granham, 49:25; B. Adams, 50:28; P. Hooper, 51:43; "Longboat" McCormick, 51:45; Smith, Eastwood and Ferguson also ran.

Timekeeper, S. Brent. Starter, C. H. Wickert.

FAST SOCCER GAMES ON THE HEIGHTS

Fast football characterized the Soccer games on the Heights Saturday afternoon, when the McClarys lost out to the Normal team, and the McClarys defeated the Y. M. C. A. boys.

The scores were 1-0, and 1-0. Both games were well-contested, and looked to be anybody's games up until the last moment of play.

Daniel Worcester, the original "Uncle Tom" of the original "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company, is still living at Roxbury, Vt. He has been retired from the stage for some years, but formerly acted with Laura Keane, Junius Brutus Booth, Edwin Booth and other well-known actors.

The fish population of the Nile is said to present a greater variety than that of any other body of water. An expedition sent from the British Museum not long ago secured 9,000 specimens.

J. G. MERRICK, NEW PRESIDENT OF THE ONTARIO FOOTBALL UNION

The Secretary Claims That Mr. Ballard Gave Rugby the Double Cross.

Toronto, Oct. 26. — At a meeting of the O. R. F. U. executive committee, held at the King Edward Hotel, Mr. J. G. Merrick was the unanimous choice as successor to Mr. Geo. Ballard, who resigned the presidency a couple of weeks ago.

It was also decided to affiliate with the C. A. A. U., and Mr. Merrick was asked to represent the union on the board of the governing body.

Secretary J. B. Hay, in moving the acceptance of the resignation of Mr. Ballard, stated that he wished to make clear the union's position regarding the Interprovincial Union and the O. R. F. U. attitude toward the new body. He informed the delegates present that a conference of the senior clubs, held early in September, had suggested the advisability of acting on a suggestion offered in Ottawa last year of bringing several of the big clubs together in an effort to strengthen the senior series.

Ottawa and Montreal.

The scheme was to bring Ottawa and Montreal into the union, and before the meeting ended it was agreed that arrangements be made for a conference in Ottawa a few days later, when President Ballard expected to be in the capital on business. Mr. Ballard emphatically declared that he would under no conditions have anything to do with the eastern clubs unless they agreed to come in under the O. R. F. U. jurisdiction. Having made himself so plain on this subject, it was a great surprise to all concerned with the facts to hear a few days later that the new Interprovincial Union had been formed, and that the O. R. F. U. had been given the double cross by its president.

Toyed With Both Unions.

"The facts are these, judge for yourself as to whether Mr. Ballard has acted with fairness or not," the speaker went on to say as president of the O. R. F. U., and while there negotiated for the formation of a union that involved the disruption of his own senior series, a union that he assured the secretary at the conference would never be formed with his consent. He would have nothing to do, he said, with the east unless the clubs in Ottawa and Montreal came into the old union, and he promised in every way to safeguard the interests of the O. R. F. U.

A Narrow Spirit.

"Instead he displayed a narrow club spirit in his actions at Ottawa, working solely in the interest of the Tigers, rather than to football in general."

"Not only that, but he was so disloyal to the O. R. F. U., the body that elected him to the office most important in its keeping, that he accepted the presidency of the Interprovincial, holding both offices at the same time, waiting to see which way the cat jumped. Finally, on Oct. 7, after he thought the new union was assured, Mr. Ballard resigned the presidency of the O. R. F. U., a step that should have been taken a month earlier."

Those present at the meeting were: Vice-president, W. J. Sles, A. Hamilton, Victoria; Mr. M. Robinson, Kingston; Mr. Ferguson, Westmount, and Secretary Hay.

THOMAS LONGBOAT WILL RUN FROM HAMILTON TO TORONTO

Indian Will Attempt a Remarkable Feat on Wednesday Afternoon.

T

Wall Paper

In extent and assortment greatly exceeding our previous displays. Every new and up-to-date design in Wall Paper.

O. B. GRAVES, Ltd.
203 DUNDAS STREET.

D. L. & W. SCRANTON COAL

If you haven't tried our Scranton Coal ask your neighbors how they like it. Our customers are advertising our coal. It gives perfect satisfaction. Try a ton and be convinced that our coal is all sizes. Phone 481. Office and Yards, corner Horton and William streets.

W. H. WINNETT'S
ZXV

Highest Grades of
BURNING OIL, LUBRICATING OIL
AND ALL OTHER
PETROLEUM PRODUCTS.
THE QUEEN CITY OIL CO.
LIMITED,
Head Office—Toronto.
London Branch, York St., East.

Just received a large consignment of

PORTABLE LAMPS

Also Secrete and Mantel Lamps, which make acceptable birthday, wedding and Christmas presents.

London Electric CO., LIMITED,

359 Richmond Street,
Telephone 958.

SHORTHAND

A thorough training under experienced and practical teachers will be a lasting benefit. Do not be satisfied with a system that will not take you to the top of the ladder. We give individual instruction and pupils may join our classes at any time.

THE WESTERN BUSINESS COLLEGE

110 Dundas Street.

WM. C. COO, C. S. R., Principal

DAY SCHOOL NIGHT SCHOOL
Clark's Business College

Not the cheapest, but pre-eminent the best. Most broadly educated specialists ever assembled in a Canadian business college. C. H. CLARK, Pres. 208-212 1/2 Dundas St., London, Ont. Phone 703

$2 Buys a Good Shoe

At PAXMAN'S, 290 Dundas St

Your Own Room

Should reflect your own taste and have an individuality about it. We can carry out your ideas or suggest novel treatments in wall papers that are artistic and refined.

COLERICK BROS.

812 DUNDAS STREET.

Classes in Sight-Singing and Choral Work are now being formed at the London Conservatory of Music Ask for Particulars.

STEER THIS WAY

FOR YOUR BEEF, choice and tender. Government inspected.

The Canadian Packing Co.
STORE 125 DUNDAS STREET.
PHONE 909

67 Years of Faithful Service

That is the proud record of the "House of Nordheimer."

Sixty-seven years spent in the creating and improving of an instrument that is recognized by the cultured class as the most satisfying of all Canadian pianos.

The superb tonal quality appeals to the musically attuned ear and the marvelously responsive action inspires the enthusiasm of the expert pianist.

Is your home numbered among the thousands that are now enjoying the cheerful and refining influence of the "Nordheimer?" If not, why not?

Nordheimer's
J. J. Gallagher, Manager

THORO

NEXT TO BENNETT'S
Men's Nightshirts

English made, large roomy sizes, neat striped flannelette.

$1.00

Scranton Coal

Have you ever stopped to realize what it costs you every year for coal? If not do so now and economize by trying a ton of Heaman's coal, as they guarantee a saving of ten per cent. If you try one ton you will buy no other.

HEAMAN & SON

Burwell St. and G. T. R. Phone 312.

SEWER PIPE AND CEMENT.

QUALITY STORE

Phone 1024 for good things to eat for your Thanksgiving Dinner.

The Cleanest. The Brightest. The Best Ventilated Grocery Store in London.

Cresca Brands

French Peas, in glass, per jar, 40c
French Beans, in glass, per jar, 40c
French Mushrooms, in glass, per jar, 45c

SPANISH PIMENTOS, per tin, 15c

FRENCH CHERRIES, in marasquin, per bottle 25c, 35c, 60c, $1

The largest assortment of Olives
in the city to choose from; prices from 10c up to $1.10 per bottle.

CHOICE LAYER FIGS, 7 crown per pound, 20c

CHOICE LAYER FIGS, 15c; 2 pounds for, 25c

CHOICE COOKING FIGS, 10c; 3 pounds for, 25c

HARRY RANAHAN

OPTICAL ABILITY

ABILITY is necessary in fitting glasses, and is only gained by practice and great care in treating difficult cases.

We only recommend the use of glasses where it will considerably help the patient.

DIAMOND HALL

W. G. YOUNG
Two Parlors 214-674 Dundas St.

LONDON AND DISTRICT

—Mr. John B. Nichol, of Glenworth, spent a few days with his friend, Mr. Wm. M. Fleming, at Bentley, Alberta. After visiting Edmonton and Calgary, Mr. Nichol will proceed to the coast.

—The Ideal bowling and billiard parlors have installed automatic pin setters in their alleys. This enables players to make better scores and shortens the length of games. The public is invited to call any time and see how they work.

Secured 33rd Degree.
At the recent annual meeting in Montreal of the 33rd degree Scottish Rite Masons, Ill. Bro. Karn, 22nd degree, of Woodstock, and Dr. Walker, of St. Johns, New Brunswick, received the 33rd and last degree of Scottish Rite Masonry from their brethren, Bro. Karn is a member of Rose Croix and Perfection Lodges of the Scottish Rite, London.

"Life of Christ."
Rev. Dr. A. C. Courtice, of Toronto, who has been unable, through illness, to continue his lectures on "The Life of Christ," has now recovered and will be on hand Tuesday evening.

At Alma College.
Among the guests at Alma College, during the Epworth League Convention, were Revs. J. Livingstone and I. B. Wallwin, Mr. Spettigue and Miss Rice, of this city. Thanksgiving at Alma will include Thursday only. Classes and lessons will go on Friday as usual.

Wedded at Victoria.
The marriage took place in Victoria recently of Miss Maud V. Jeffery, of this city, to Mr. Alistair I. Robertson, of that place.

Charged With Kicking.
The charge against Clayton Sumner, of Pottersburg, of kicking Edward Gunn, was heard before Squire Chittick on Saturday afternoon, and the case was dismissed.

Fire in Car Barns.
Fire in the roof of the car barns caused slight damage on Saturday evening. The blaze was discovered before it had reached serious proportions, and is believed to have been caused by a furnace pipe.

The Last Wire.
St. Thomas Times: Matt Lonex, of Port Stanley, called at the Times office today, and stated that before he left the suburb down by the lake he witnessed the stretching of the Southwestern Traction Company's last wire, completing the company's connection between London, St. Thomas and Port Stanley.

Slump in Milk.
A few south-end residents went without milk on their tables yesterday through an accident which occurred to J. O'Dell's milk wagon. The wagon was turning out from Victoria Hospital driveway onto Ottawa avenue, when one of the back wheels caught in the street car track, breaking the axle and precipitating milk and milkman onto the road. The horse, frightened by the noise, ran some distance before it was stopped, breaking the harness and rig considerably. The milk lost was about twenty or thirty quarts.

Late Mrs. Smally.
The death occurred yesterday of Mrs. Smally, wife of G. Smally, of the Sixty-third Infantry, England. The late Mrs. Smally was widely known and esteemed, having kept a store on Richmond street for many years. She is survived by one son, Mr. R. C. Smally, of Dawson City. The funeral will be held from D. A. Stewart's undertaking parlors on Tuesday to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Ball.

Anniversary Day.
Sunday was anniversary day at Empress Avenue Church. Rev. J. W. Baird, B.A., of Sarnia, occupied the pulpit morning and evening. Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather large congregations attended each service, and listened most attentively to two masterly and inspiring sermons. The splendid choir of the church was at its best, and rendered some of the finest music it has been our privilege to hear anywhere. Mr. R. G. Bowie and Mrs. Stead, the leader and organist respectively, are to be congratulated on the choir's efforts yesterday. The "Gloria in Excelsis" was splendidly rendered, also "Hark, Hark, My Soul," Miss Greenway and Miss Wade taking the soprano and contralto solos in fine voice. Not the least pleasing number was the quartette, "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me," by the Misses E. Greenway, Greene, Pegler and Wade. The contributions during the day were most liberal.

All kinds vegetables fresh daily. F. E. Smythe, grocer, corner Richmond and Ryman. Phone 129.

Our 40c Coffee

Cannot be excelled. Our 50c Sensation brand is unequalled.

J. BLOOMFIELD
Phone 665. 261 Dundas St.

SMART NECK FURS

A beautiful collection of rich and real furs. Bright and fluffy pieces, that give comfort and style these chilly days.

BELTZ PRACTICAL FURRIERA SPLENDID TONIC

Oriental Rum and Quinine Hair Tonic is a splendid dressing for the hair. Keeps the hair soft and glossy, and prevents splitting at the ends. It gives new life and imparts to the hair a look of vigorous, luxuriant health. In 50c bottles.

Cairncross & Lawrence
Chemists and Druggists
216 Dundas Street London, Ont.

STIRRING SERMONSMARK SABBATH

The City Preachers Discuss Live Questions of the Day—Anniversary Services.

"Perils in the Path of London's Citizens," was the theme of a stirring sermon at Dundas Center Church last night by Rev. E. B. Lancelley.

The speaker declared that at present Londoners were face to face with questions which must be solved now, and the solution, which meant much for the future of the city. If the resolutions adopted by the Rational Sunday League were allowed to come in force, there was an end of the Sabbath for the workman, he declared. Sunday would be followed by Sunday theaters, and in a short time the whole country would be demoralized. Mr. Lancelley also touched upon gambling, saying that there was more of it going on in many of the city clubs than many persons imagined.

Anniversary services were held in St. James' Church, South London, when the pulpit was occupied on both occasions by Rev. Canon Abbott, of Christ Church, Cathedral, Hamilton. Both services were largely attended and the sermons listened to with a great deal of attention. The special musical programme arranged by the choir for the anniversary was rendered in a most excellent manner, and was greatly enjoyed.

Life and conditions as existing among the Doukhobors of the Canadian West was the subject of a most interesting address at the First Congregational Church last night by Dr. J. T. Reid, who for many years worked among these people.

At St. Paul's Cathedral in the morning Canon Dann preached a powerful sermon on "Loyalty to the Faith."

The speaker laid a great deal of emphasis upon the different religious movements which were taking place in modern times, and especially in the last few years. Taking Christian Science as an example, Canon Dann said it was a teaching which was opposed to faith and all the principles of faith. The New Theology was another modern belief which had been started and which was to be feared as it was not built upon a true foundation.

Rev. Dyson Hague preached by request last evening from Proverbs III, 11-14: "My son despise not the chastening of the Lord," prefacing his remarks by referring to the greatness of the times in which we are living, and the value of young life to this age. He reminded his hearers of the fact that this was a text often forgotten, and went on to remark that if he had any influence in the management of the public school system he would work not only for weekly scrubbed classrooms, plenty of air and light all the year round, but also the memorizing by every boy and girl in the day schools of Canada certain passages of Holy Scripture. He then went on to say that the text emphasized two facts that theorists and faddists forget, that the Old Testament teaches the love of God and the fatherhood of God. The value of discipline was strongly impressed by Mr. Hague.

At Wellington Street Methodist Church last night a large audience was present to hear Rev. S. T. Bartlett, assistant general secretary of the Epworth League of Canada. Mr. Bartlett is an old London boy, and his remarks were listened to with a great deal of interest. In the morning Mr. Bartlett spoke at Askin Street Methodist Church.

THROWN FROM HORSE

Mr. G. B. Gerrard Painfully Injured While Hunting Saturday.

Mr. G. B. Gerrard, manager of the Bank of British North America, was painfully injured on Saturday evening by being thrown from his horse. While returning from a run at the London Hunt, Mr. Gerrard failed to notice a barb wire which ran along a fence. Mr. Gerrard's horse, while jumping the fence, was caught on the wire and

LONDON WILL ASK POWER FIGURES

Special Committee Held a Brief Session on Saturday Night.

The hydro-electric power commission will be asked by the council to submit figures for the cost of a distributing plant in this city. Such was the recommendation of the special committee appointed, on motion of Ald. Stevely, to consider this question, at its meeting on Saturday evening.

Hon. Adam Beck was interviewed by members of the committee and he told them that the figures would be forthcoming when wanted.

The other clauses of the motion regarding the purchase of the London Electric Company's plant, were left in abeyance until the figures of the hydro-electric commission are received, and then they will be dealt with.

Those present were Ald. Gillen, chairman, Ald. Stevely, Ald. Gerry and Ald. Booth.

A Huge Estimate.
According to a rumor the distributing plant will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 if the figures of the hydro-electric commission engineers are to be believed. The commission will build the transmission lines, and all other expenses incident to bringing Niagara power to London, and pay for them out of the sale of power.

The estimated cost of the power will be not greater than $23 a horsepower, but it is said that it will reach that figure. Loss of energy in stepping down and other losses will bring the cost to that figure.

fell, throwing its rider heavily to the ground. Mr. Gerrard sustained a badly sprained wrist and numerous bruises and scratches.

LET US FILL YOUR THANKSGIVING ORDER

We will have a complete assortment of nice things for the holiday.

COLUMBIA SOUPS, 3 sizes. The best made.

Pin Money Pickles
Sweet mixed, melon mangoes and cucumber made—25c to 50c hot.

Olives
Stuffed, mammoth Queens, Manzanillas and ripe 10c up

TRYPHOSA TABLE JELLIES, 8 fruit flavors 15c package

Kop's Wines
The newest unfermented wines. Orange, grape, raisin and cherry 50c bottle

IMPORTED TURKISH DELIGHT 25c box

CHOICE LAYER FIGS 15c and 20c lb.

Select oysters, sweet potatoes, Grape fruit, cranberries, spinach, cauliflowers, grapes, snowapples.

South London Phone 969,
Dundas St. Phone 1866 and 317.

T. A. ROWAT & CO.

Amusements

Wm. A. Brady's excellent production of "Way Down East" which comes to the Grand tonight. It is one of the few rural dramas that has the true and indelible stamp of popularity. It attracts the theatergoer and wins the theater hundreds upon hundreds of those who are really seldom seen

Scene from "Way Down East Tonight" within a place of theatrical amusement.

The comedy is of the bright and clean kind that refreshes as well as amuses. The realistic effects, notably the marvelous blizzards, are exceedingly ingenious and effective. The company and production are the same as was seen here last season.

In reminding our readers that "The Shadow Behind the Throne" will be the production at the Grand tomorrow evening, it seems but justice to add that the popular expression of surprise and delighted approval all along the line warrants the anticipation of a play far and away beyond the melodramatic path into which theatergoers have so often been misled by mercenary and loud-mouthed theatrical tramps. That the reputation of its authors, Alice Ramsey and Rudolph De Cordova, is to be banked on, when originality, characterization and sustained strength and sensation are in question, while as a first-class, intelligent and liberal producer—as well as a highly-gifted actor—Mr. Leander De Cordova ranks among the highest, in both professional and popular estimation.

There are many surprising features in "The Wizard of Oz," which will be seen at the Grand Thanksgiving Day, matinee and evening. There is little wonder that it retains its hold on the public. The two chief comedians are wonderfully clever in their impersonations of the "Tin Woodman and the Scarecrow, but there are enough other things intermingled in the play in the way of scenic effects, dances and songs, so that the funny men never become tiresome. There are pretty girls galore in the company, and the principals would be recognized as prize-winners in any beauty contest.

"The Gingerbread Man," the musical fantasy, is as refreshing as a long, cool draught of pure spring water. It takes us back to Santa Claus' Land of our childhood days. Merry laughter and hearty welcome greets the many familiar characters of the play. Little Jack Horner, played by Evelyn Kellogg, Mazie by Margaret Savori, The Gingerbread Man by Fred J. Nice, King Bunn portrayed by Ross Snow, and their splendid song-hits delighted thousands in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia. Nixon and Zimmerman will present their original, brilliant company of 85 players in "The Gingerbread Man" at the Grand Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee.

Buy White House Coffee, 40c pound. It's delicious. In one or two pound tins. F. E. Smythe, grocer. Phone 129.

Comfortable rubber-tired carriages for theater, Hueston's Livery.

INLAID LINOLEUMS

A wide range of fine designs in floral, tile, block and parquet effects, which meet the growing demand for this popular floor covering. Every style and dependable quality of Linoleum is represented and the linoleums are fitted and laid by expert workmen, which is a feature of the greatest importance in the durability of the material.

CLASS A.—Nairn's Inlaid Linoleums, in floral, block and tile patterns, suitable for kitchens, dining-rooms and passages, very handsome colorings and very serviceable. PRICE, 85c YARD, LAID.

CLASS B.—A heavier Linoleum introducing parquet effects for rug surrounds, tile effects, mosaics, etc., for bath-rooms, and store patterns. PRICE, $1.00 YARD, LAID.

CLASS C.—Very fine designs, in parquet and high-class colorings, in tile and floral designs. This quality of Linoleum will give great service and is especially recommended. PRICE, $1.15 YARD, LAID.

CLASS D.—The finest quality of Inlaid Linoleum manufactured, suitable where great durability is necessary, as in public offices, stores, vestibules, etc. PRICE $1.35 YARD, LAID.

A. SCRETON & CO.MARA'S*Today's Best Snaps

SWEATERS for Boys, all-wool, in reds, blue, greens, grays and fancy combinations, fit boys up to 8 and 10 years. Regular 50c and 75c, for, each 35c

LUSTER WAISTS at cost of material. Black Luster Waists, A1 quality, fancy trimmed, part lined, sizes up to 40. Regular $1, for, each 75c

WOOL BLANKETS, (union quality), unshrinkable, extra large size, soft and fluffy. Very special, pair $2.50

COTTON EIDERDOWNS for kimonos and dressing sacks, in blue, pink, red. Special per yd. 19c

ALL-LINEN TOWELING, wide width and red borders. Special, yard 8c

GOLF JACKETS, Norfolk style, all pure wool, shades of browns, white, blues. Regular $3.50, for each $2.79

BLEACHED TABLE LINEN, double damask, wide width. Special, yard 25c

35c Ribbons at 17 1-2c

All Silk Ribbons, heavy stuff, 4 and 5 inches wide, in good variety of shades, cheap enough for fancy work. Regular 35c, for each 17 1/2c

MARA'S, OPPOSITE MARKET LANE

All Operations On Your Teeth

are performed GENTLY and SKILLFULLY in our parlors. Our aim is to cause as little pain as possible and yet do our work well.

Western Dental Office.

S.-W. Corner RICHMOND and DUNDAS. PHONE 16

Postal development in China has made necessary a revision in the spelling of Chinese city names.

Scientists say that a sea anemone has been known to live for 50 years.

COLD WEATHER HARDWARE

This is the time to start thinking. Weather Strips, per foot 2c to 7c

Ash Sifters 15c to $7

Furnace Shovels 60c

Coal Hods 40c to 60c

Fire Shovels 10c, 15c, 20c

Mitts 20c to $3

Horse Blankets $1 to $3

Snow Shovels, etc.

We solicit your inspection before buying.

The Purdom-Gillespie Hardware Company.

R. K. COWAN
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, ETC.
County Bldg., West Court House, London.

Fawkes
1 Stores. Phones 1015 and 1063