FRENCH CAPITAL HAS A RAGAMUFFEN TRUST

Steinheil Trial Disclosed Odd Custom of World of Paris.

Paris, Nov. 24.—Max Nordau says: You have read enough of the Steinheil trial and it has no interest for me from a sociological view, but there was an attending incident—or rather series of incidents, which appealed to me most strongly and which I have not seen commented upon.
It offered one of the most convincing proofs of the organizing forces of humanity—those forces that have worked out man's civilization—that has come under my notice.

Gathering of the Vagabonds.
According to the French law, court proceedings at a criminal trial are public. Therefore the first comer, the man in the street, must be admitted so long as there is room in the hall. As a matter of fact, admittance is only allowed by written orders issued by the presiding judge. However, to satisfy the law, there is at the back of the hall, behind barriers, a reserved place where from 100 to 120 persons can stand. To this place people are admitted without entrance tickets.

Poor devils, unemployed workmen, homeless vagabonds, make use of this fact to stand before the law courts and wait till the door is opened—not because they wish to be present at the proceedings, but to sell their places.

This is in Paris a regular business. It is carried on before all the theatres when popular pieces are played; before all the banks at public subscriptions, to which the people come in crowds.
Even on the evening before the first day's proceedings they came pouring in before the law courts and held out steadfastly till the following noon, eighteen hours on the wet pavement, under the rain and in a cutting November wind.

The first hours were horrible—the poor devils pushed and kicked; they fought for the places nearest to the entrance; they shouted and abused one another; anyone who for one moment allowed his energy or attention to slacken was ruthlessly pushed aside—it was a continual uproar.

Then there arose in the seum of the population of the great city the superior man who resolutely took the common interest in hand—the civilizer, the law-giver. He taught the rioting ragamuffins order and discipline. He gave directions and all obeyed because they understood immediately that it was for their good.
He tore a piece of paper into little scraps, wrote on each a number and gave one to every place-keeper present. All agreed to respect the numbers. Now the pushing was superfluous. His place was assured to everyone. The numbers stood under the collective guarantee. It was no longer necessary to continually be ready to defend their rights with their fists. They could sit down on the pavement, seek a resting place on the street benches nearby. Co-operation had taken the place of murderous competition. It was the triumph of an organizer in soles shoes and a brimless hat.

When, the following noon, the purchasers appeared, the first numbers offered their wares peacefully, and so on until the last customer was satisfied.

Authorities Recognize Trust.
The disciplined vagabonds in front of the law courts became exclusive on the second night. They felt themselves as being a close association. They had a privilege to defend. They let no outsider in. They constituted themselves in a trust. And when a night bird who had not been present at the founding wished to shuffle into the row of the numbered they all turned in a body against him and thrust him back.

The law of the reformer in rags received official sanction. The police sided with the syndicate. In their eyes the syndicate represented acquired right and the police regarded it as their right to defend this, always and everywhere against attack. Thus within a few hours there grew out of a free calling an inaccessible trade and the open space in the judgment hall a ground of exploitation for the few.

There you have the whole universal history on a small scale. The same human fundamental qualities that made out of the shirtless riffraff of starvelings an orderly but also an intolerant guild have out of hordes of nations, have built states, created all the institutions of civilization.

7,500,000 pairs of CATSPAW RUBBER HEELS will be sold and worn this year. That's some heels. All dealers.

KILLED AT LEVEL CROSSING.
Toronto, Nov. 25.—Wm. Spurgeon, of Scarborough, who was struck by an eastbound G. T. R. train at Scarborough last night near midnight, died at St. Michael's Hospital at 2 o'clock this morning. Spurgeon, who was a farmer, had also acted as mail carrier, was an Englishman, and so far as known had no relatives in this country.

WANT REFERENDUMS.
Ottawa, Nov. 25.—With a big batch of petitions presented to the House, asking for amendments to the criminal code in respect to racetrack gambling, were three asking for a referendum to the people on the Canadian navy question. The petitions were presented by Messrs. Nesbitt, Smyth and Middleboro, the first of those emanating from the Dominion Grange.

AN AUTO FATALITY.
Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Orrin W. Watson, 31 years old, of Hawkinsville, Ga., was instantly killed here today in an automobile accident. Driving his car about 50 miles an hour, he lost control of it, and the machine crashed against a telegraph pole. Watson's skull was smashed. His companion, Louis Boore, of this city, was severely injured.

THE SEAL CONFERENCE.
London, Nov. 25.—The invitation from the United States for Great Britain to participate in an international conference with a view to regulate the killing of seals in the international waters of North America has been referred, through the colonial office, to Canada, as it considered that the Dominion is more interested in this question than is the mother country.

MADAME'S WARD

BY PAULINE BEVERLY.

"Yes, I know, until a few months ago, it is that saucy little puss of a girl who is to blame for it at bottom, I verily believe. It seems that he can't rest without keeping her within sight. We can see Wide's shanty from here, you know, and I never go out or come in without stumbling over her, either on the common or under the hedge, sinking about somewhere. Last night, for instance, I was called out to the rectory—Mrs. Deeping had some new fad on—and it was late when I got back—past twelve—and there, at the gate, I stumbled over the man again. Brought my heart into my mouth! I wondered who it was."

"What! Lying down outside the gate at that time of night?" I ejaculated. "Crouching down, at any rate."

"Wonder what on earth for?" "Goodness knows, unless he is cracked!" Dizarde said, moving away from the window. "All I know is that there he was. Queer—"

"Queer?" I echoed. "Why, he must be going off his head!" "If he is, I hope he'll choose some other place than outside my garden gate," said the doctor, dismissing the subject of Phil Flood and his eccentricities coolly enough. "What brings you here, Ned? Nothing wrong at Chavasse, I hope?"

"No," I told him; but I had strolled over hoping to see York. Dizarde opened his little grey eyes at me.

"York? Why, he's not here, my good fellow!" He was off by the first train this morning. "Off!" I echoed, astonished. "Off where?"

"Why, to Paris! Didn't he tell you last night that he was going?" "Not a syllable," I returned, feeling dazed. "Paris? What has he gone there for?"

"Faith, that's more than I can tell you," said Dizarde, with a laugh; "for he didn't tell me. Sometime ago, I do with his sister, I believe. At any rate, he came in upon me this morning before I was out of bed, and that he would be back in a week. Confound it, I was just now, with so much sickness about, and without notice, off he went, the boy, of course. Wonder he didn't tell you! I'm going to have a bit of lunch before I start; will you stay?"

But I declined the lunch, and, bidding Dizarde good-morning, turned out of the Redpots gates a good deal more puzzled than when I had turned in at them. That this sudden flight of Roger to Paris had something to do with mademoiselle, I did not doubt for an instant; the question was, what?

And the question remained unanswered, for, although I brooded uneasily over the whole affair until Nat declared laughingly that I was in love, and suggested the lady Idonia Clyde, the Earl of Roxborough's elderly and freckled daughter, as the probable object of my young affections, I could come to no satisfactory conclusion; nor did the course of events at Chavasse help me. Mademoiselle had not only won Mademoiselle's good will, but was clever enough to keep it, and, in fact, had ingratiated herself with almost everybody in Whitteford. In whose way she came, it is true that I did not like her, and that Miss Nat was in a state of more or less open rebellion against her. Alice Deeping refused altogether to give in to the suave grace of the governess; but I think that we were the only exceptions to the general rule. Madame declared that she had been keeping it up at a fine pace since the necessity at Chavasse. She admitted that mademoiselle somehow made her learn without any trouble at all. In fact, mademoiselle soon became a necessity at Chavasse. She helped Madame with the accounts, she gave an eye to the housekeeping— to the indignation of poor old Batterin—she chaperoned Nat whenever it was necessary, she played for us in the evening, she wrote some of Madame's letters, and she never by any chance made the slightest reference to Roger York.

He had come back from his visit to Paris looking fagged, worried, and out of sorts, and old Dizarde had declared, with many a sly chuckle, that he must believe that Roger had done or left there. Whatever he had done or left undone there, it is certain that he uttered not a word about it, good, bad, or indifferent. And somehow I had never found exactly the right time to speak to him of the interview in the Lady's Walk. In fact, I was trying to forget it, and to argue myself into the belief that after all it was no business of mine. To me, and to all so far as I could see, he was much the same as ever; but there was a gloom and an uneasiness about him at times altogether new in his demeanour. These grew less marked as the weeks went by.

Old Dizarde had a nasty touch of gout as the weather grew colder, and was forced to lie up; and this was one reason why York came less often to Chavasse just at this time. And, although I often saw them meet, I never caught a second passing glance from his blue eyes at the little dusky face of Natalie Orme, and began to tell myself that I had made a mistake in putting Roger York down as a victim to the fascinations of the little lady.

The weather had grown very cold. November was half over, and the trees in the park were almost bare, when a bit of news ruffled the serenity of Whitteford—the engagement of Alice Deeping to Major Constable. The rectory came in one day to luncheon and Roger to Paris had something to do with mademoiselle, I did not doubt for an instant; the question was, what?

And the question remained unanswered, for, although I brooded uneasily over the whole affair until Nat declared laughingly that I was in love, and suggested the lady Idonia Clyde, the Earl of Roxborough's elderly and freckled daughter, as the probable object of my young affections, I could come to no satisfactory conclusion; nor did the course of events at Chavasse help me. Mademoiselle had not only won Mademoiselle's good will, but was clever enough to keep it, and, in fact, had ingratiated herself with almost everybody in Whitteford. In whose way she came, it is true that I did not like her, and that Miss Nat was in a state of more or less open rebellion against her. Alice Deeping refused altogether to give in to the suave grace of the governess; but I think that we were the only exceptions to the general rule. Madame declared that she had been keeping it up at a fine pace since the necessity at Chavasse. She admitted that mademoiselle somehow made her learn without any trouble at all. In fact, mademoiselle soon became a necessity at Chavasse. She helped Madame with the accounts, she gave an eye to the housekeeping— to the indignation of poor old Batterin—she chaperoned Nat whenever it was necessary, she played for us in the evening, she wrote some of Madame's letters, and she never by any chance made the slightest reference to Roger York.

"Yes, I am very pleased," he said, in reply to Madame's congratulations. "Very pleased. It is a good match for Alice, very good. The major is well-born and well off, and a great favorite of mine. He is a man to whom any father might be glad to give his daughter."

"Indeed I am sure of it," Madame answered, in her most cordial tones, "and I congratulate you and Mrs. Deeping most heartily. Major Constable is a great favorite of mine also. You must give Alice my best love, and tell her we shall expect her to-morrow to be congratulated in due form."

That was said as the rector shook hands before leaving. I followed him into the hall, to help him on with his coat. Whether I looked solemn or not, I do not know; but he asked me what I was looking so glum about, and if I was jealous.

"Yes, awfully," I returned, laughing at the notion. "Tell Alice she has broken my heart. I say, though—I'll tell you what I was thinking, sir. Major Constable is a jolly nice fellow, and I like him very much; but it is awkward about his arm."

"Ah, so it is!" said the rector, his jolly round face clouding a little. "The very thing I said."

"What does Alice say?" "Ally?" he laughed. "Oh, she said that she had always found her two hands rather prone to get into mischief, and that, when they had the work of three to do, they might contrive to keep out of pickle! She's very fond of him, bless her! Good-bye, Ned. I'll give her your message."

the young woman's temper was slightly heated. I averted my eyes, and stared indifferently at nothing until her own were dried and her handkerchief was restored to her pocket. Then I ventured to say, with a becoming amount of meek interrogation—

"Well, Ned?" "I am very glad, Ned," she said, softly.

"Oh, is that what you cried for?" "Pooh, you goose! Are you going up to the rectory this afternoon?" "I hadn't thought of it. I will, if you will come, too."

"I can't. I must practice that song that Madame wants me to sing tomorrow evening"—there was to be a dinner-party, rather a special affair—"but I wish you would go. Say everything nice from me to Alice, won't you?"

I would, not displeased with the task, for I had nothing to do as it happened. Besides, I wanted to procure some gut for fishing at Bover's, too, and so took myself off to the rectory willingly, without a touch of curiosity as to how Roger would take the news, and wondering if there had been any truth in the suspicion of Whitteford that he was really in love with Alice Deeping. I hoped not.

To Be Continued.

CHAPTER XII.
It was growing dark when I reached the rectory, and the gates were open. The garden had just passed through a severe frost, and the leaves of the hedges and other bushes were a crisp-looking brown in a few places. I had a purple-sleeved waistcoat, and he had the latest temper in Whitteford. But I rather liked old Gossett, and stopped to speak to him.

"Halloo, Gossett, how are you? Plenty to do—enough?"

Gossett growled, and informed me in one grunt that there was "more 'n a plenty" to do, that no was there was "cruel and cold," that he had the rheumatism bitter bad, and finally that this was the fifth time that he had filed "this blasted letter" with "they botherome leaves," and having delivered himself of so much in a manner by no means gracious, he took up his "barrel" and went off grumbling with it.

I laughed, and went on to the house. Striking into the path leading up to the hall door, I came upon a rather pretty little picture—Miss Alice and her major saying good-bye to each other in a lover-like fashion. The hall door was open, and the flood of yellow light which came streaming out threw their two figures into strong relief—the major's broad shoulders and handsome head, and Alice's pretty figure in its clinging dress of crimson cashmere, her fluffy hair adorned by a coquettish little lace cap, and the light showed, too, a very softened and gentle look upon her saucy, piquant face, a look which made me involuntarily think of the rectory's work; and I too, came to the conclusion that Miss Alice was indeed "very fond" of her soldier-lover. She wanted to come down to the gown to him, it appeared, a suggestion which he had battled on account of the cold—which, to be sure, was sharp enough. But Alice, her own way, of course, and in a minute or two they passed down the path, not seeing me, for I had drawn back into the shade of a group of laurels which grew there. In a little while Alice came running lightly back. I put out my hand and touched her arm as she passed me, and she started back with a slight scream.

"My goodness, Ned; how you startled me! You horrid boy! What did you do it for?"

"Oh, no, although you have nearly frightened me out of my shoes! How long have you been here?" "Only a minute or two."

"Why didn't you come in then, instead of lurking about under the bushes like a burglar?" (To Be Continued.)

NUMBER OF NAILS TO A HORSE-SHOE.
Centuries ago there lived a farrier, Walter le Brun by name, whose dexterity at the anvil on the occasion of a great tilting meeting on the banks of the Thames was noticed by the then reigning monarch, Edward III., who rewarded the blacksmith by granting him his sufficient land adjoining the tilting green for the erection thereon of a forge. As quit rent he had to present annually to the King six horseshoes and 661 horseshoe nails.

To the modern mind the number of nails would appear to be superfluous; but when it is remembered that the horseshoes of that period required ten nails apiece it will be seen that the calculations of Edward III. were altogether sound in case of accident. Furthermore, the shoes were all to be for the horse's forefeet, from which fact some historians draw the inference that that riding in the knights' tournaments were encouraged to injure each other with their front hoofs.—London Daily News.

COMMITTEE HAVE MAN FOR MAYOR

Made Report Last Night That Candidates for Utility Board Are Also Available.

TROUBLE OVER MAYOR

Ex-Mayor Dr. John D. Wilson is Standing Out for a Man Other Than the One Decided Upon For Chief Magistrate.

At the meeting of the joint committee of the Board of Trade and Real Estate Owners' last night, the chairman, ex-Ald. John Forristal, of the interviewing committee, reported that so far the committee have secured the consent of candidates for the mayoralty and the utility commission, and were prepared if the rest of the committee thus far have been so far, to go ahead and pick out a slate of aldermen.

There was a very warm discussion, led by ex-Mayor Dr. John D. Wilson, regarding the selection of the mayoralty and hospital candidates, and it was finally decided to adopt the slate prepared by the interviewing committee thus far, to leave the selection of a hospital trustee over for a future meeting.

For Aldermen. Balloting then proceeded on the list of names for aldermen. Forty-five names were submitted, and the twenty-one receiving the highest number of votes will be called on by the interviewing committee and urged to stand.

Both the Board of Trade and Real Estate Owners decided to report progress at the regular meetings of their organizations to be held this evening.

Dr. Wilson Objects. At the commencement of the meeting, when the name of the mayoralty candidate who had consented was mentioned, and it was proposed to accept him, Dr. John D. Wilson took very strong exception to the move.

"I rise to a point of order," he said. "As the motion originally stood it was that five candidates be interviewed. I understand that one of them was not spoken of at all. I object to the matter being further considered as it is out of order."

A Good Man Secured. Several of the members of the interviewing committee spoke, and all agreed that they had been instructed to call on the proposed candidates in the order in which they had been voted on, the highest first and so on down. This they said they had done until they came to the one who would allow his name to go before the electors. They contended that it would be simply ridiculous to go to another man when they already had one of the best.

"I don't think the choice should fall on any one man because he says he will accept," said Dr. Wilson.

Old Council Barred. One of the members said he thought it was understood that no one at present a member of the city council would be considered.

The question of appointing a candidate for hospital trustee came up next, and caused an exceedingly warm discussion. The name of a resident of No. 2 Ward was proposed, and Dr. Wilson thought it would be better not to make any change in this matter, and moved, seconded by ex-Ald. Forristal, that the committee take no action in recommending a hospital trustee.

It was moved in amendment by Mr. John M. Parsons, seconded by Mr. Henry Macdonald, that there be a candidate and that he be named.

A Tie. Shortly before this Mr. W. D. I. Wright, the secretary, had to leave, and when the vote was taken, it was found that the committee stood 5 to 5 in the matter, and so the tie was no possibility of breaking the deadlock it was decided to leave the hospital trustee matter over until the next meeting and secure the tie with the selection of an aldermanic slate.

This was done, and twenty-one names were selected from whom a slate will be chosen.

Don't Boil Clothes

It isn't necessary—it's expensive and it means doubling your work. You don't have to boil clothes when you use Taylor's Borax Soap, for it dissolves and removes the dirt in a jiffy—yet it never harms the daintiest textures, nor shrinks woollens.

It leaves everything whiter, sweeter and cleaner than you ever dreamed possible. Try it and see.

TUB TALK No. 2

To wash colored muslins, linens or lawns, first make a strong suds with Taylor's Borax Soap and luke warm water. Wet but one piece at a time. Unless the article is very much soiled, do not run the soap directly on the article. Rub gently with the hands until perfectly clean. Wring out the clothes, and rinse thoroughly in water of the same temperature as that previously used. Never boil colored clothes. A very little Taylor's Borax Soap added to boiled starch will prevent it from sticking, and makes the clothes iron smoother and easier.

Boils and Pimples. Whenever your complexion is unnatural, your skin in an unhealthy condition, your face covered with blotches and pimples, when boils and festering sores about then your blood is bad. You can best cleanse it with that purely vegetable compound, Burdock Blood Bitters, which bloodily and promptly renovates the blood and invigorates the entire system.

Mr. C. A. Mussen, Bawlf, Alta., writes: "I recommend Burdock Blood Bitters as being the best blood purifier there is. About three years ago I was greatly troubled with boils and pimples, and after taking two bottles I have not had a boil or even a pimple."

Mr. J. Morehouse, Zealand Station, N.B., writes: "My face and neck were covered with pimples, and I tried all kinds of remedies, but they did me no good. I went to many doctors, but they could not cure me. I then tried Burdock Blood Bitters and I must say it is a wonderful remedy for the cure of pimples."

LOT OF WORK DONE SAYS MAYOR STEVELY

His Worship Returned From a Meeting in Toronto—Mr. Grant Well Thought Of.

Mayor Stevely returned last evening from Toronto where he has been attending the meeting of the executive of the Ontario Municipalities Union in Toronto relative to the proposed amendments to the assessment act.

"There was a lot of work done," said his worship. "We went over every proposed amendment, and then we interviewed the Premier. It was a matter of considerable pride to me that our assessment commissioner, Mr. Grant, was so highly thought of in Toronto. On many occasions he was consulted by the chairman of the legislative committee on certain matters, and they all appeared to give him opinions of considerable value. He was one of the big figures at the revision."

LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS COST OVER $81,000

City Engineer Graydon Has Prepared a Table Which Is of Interest to the Citizens.

City Engineer Graydon has prepared a table of the work done in his department during the past year. The total expenditure in local improvements is much less than in 1908.

During the summer 17 miles of work has been done. This includes pavements, sewers, sidewalks, and curbs and gutters. The total cost was $81,444.97.

During the year the city laid 12 lateral sewers, 1.86 miles in length, and they also laid for private citizens .43 miles of sewer, a total of 2.29 miles. The laterals cost $14,240.57, and the private drains cost $1,199.19, a total of $15,439.76.

A total of 5.59 miles of cement walk was laid, at a cost of $12,359.48, during 1909.

There was a large amount of curb and gutter laid, 10.17 miles of it, costing $17,566.28.

Five short asphalt and one asphalt block pavements were laid, a distance of .81 miles, costing $37,941.55.

The cost was distributed as follows:

Sewers—Cost of work, $12,628.96; inspection, $2,609.61; supplies, $2,113.20; total, $17,351.77.

Sidewalks—Cost of work, $12,061.15; inspection, $2,271.77; supplies, $2,299.66; total, $16,632.58.

Curbs and gutters—Cost of work, $15,700.20; inspection, $4,455.50; supplies, $1,031.93; total, $21,187.63.

Pavements—Cost of work, $25,011.69; inspection, $3,225.25; supplies, $5,099.61; total, $33,336.55.

The total cost of work was $74,145.00; cost of inspection, $2,495.02; cost of supplies, $1,927.95; and the total cost was $81,444.97.

A Comparison.

Last year there were 5.10 miles of sewers laid, compared with 2.29 this year. There were 5.55 miles of walks laid as compared with 5.59 miles in 1908. There were 8.01 miles of curb and gutter laid in 1908, as compared with 10.17 miles this year. There was a mile and one-third of pavement laid in 1908, as compared with 8.1 miles laid this year.

The total cost this year was $81,444.97, as compared with $77,042.95 in 1908.

SUBPOENAS SERVED IN ARSON CASE

The Case Will Be Heard at the December Sessions.

The subpoenas have been served in the case of the King against Edward Mary McGilivray Township, who is charged with arson in connection with the burning of a barn belonging to one of his neighbors. It will be heard at the December sessions.

The case of William Tink of Westminster Township, also charged with arson, which was to have come on Tuesday next, will be postponed owing to the illness of some material witnesses. It is probable, however, that as early a date as possible will be set for the trial, otherwise it would have to be tried at the December sessions, and the accused, as is his right, seems inclined to have his case disposed of by a judge without a jury. So far no subpoenas have been issued in the case.

Charged With Assault.

Thomas Murray, of London Township, was arrested last night charged with beating drunk and disorderly and assaulting his wife. Murray is an old offender. He has several times been arrested for being drunk and disorderly, and about a year ago he served a sentence of six months for a very serious crime. The information was laid before Justice S. F. Glass, of Pottersburg, and he remanded him to jail for a week for trial.

For several months past workers in a clay pit at Halberstadt have been turning up bones of prehistoric animals, which, as a result of examination are shown to be the remains of Dinosaurs. They are the first to be discovered in Germany.

Reclaying the Tracks.

A meeting of the grounds and buildings committee of the Western Fair was held last evening in the offices, when the question of reclaying the track at Queen's Park was discussed. The track is not in the best condition, but the committee, after much argument, decided that the work could not be done satisfactorily this year, and the question was laid over.

ALL THE ALDERMEN WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION

City Daddies Do Not Appear To Be Frightened by New Slates.

Practically every member of the present city council will again seek office. Ald. Ferguson and Ald. Beattie declare they are in the fight to the finish for the mayoralty.

Mayor Stevely and Ald. Stewart practically admitted today that they will be aspirants for the utilities commission.

Gerry, who, it was said, would retire, is going to run again. Last evening he announced his candidature to some friends and in view of the agitation he will seek re-election.

Ald. Saunders, Rose, Cooper, Garratt, Fitzgerald, Moorhead and Stevenson announced some time ago that they would run, and so far as has been learned they will remain in the field until the last.

The only possible absentee is Ald. Parsons, and he has declared on many occasions that he will not run again. However, it would cause no surprise if he again sought the suffrages of the people.

That would make the slate complete.

PAY TEACHERS BY CHECK

New System Will Get Into Operation on Tuesday Next.

The new method of paying teachers will be in vogue on Tuesday next. For some years it has been customary to pay the teachers direct at the city hall. Sometimes orders were given to the janitors, but it has not always resulted satisfactorily.

Henceforth all the teachers will be paid directly by check. The janitors will distribute them to the teachers, and they will be able to cash them where they desire.

The monthly salary sheet amounts to $17,000 for ten months in the year. The public school teachers are paid $15,000, and the Collegiate Institute teachers are paid $4,000.

This would make a salary list of $19,000. In addition there is about $1,000 more added to the secretary's and janitor's salaries for two months extra, as they are paid on the basis of twelve months in the year.

THE DIVISION COURT

The Sitting a Short One, and Only One Case Was Heard.

There was a session of the first division court this morning, at which Judge Elliott presided. The court was only a short one, the only case of interest being that of J. Reid vs. Messrs. White & Co. of this city.

The plaintiff was an agent for the defendant company, and he had made a sale of a threshing machine to a farmer in this vicinity. Some time after the buyer cancelled the sale, as the contract permitted him to do, if the action was taken within eight months. Some time later the general agent of the company visited the man and induced him, by changing the terms of the agreement to once again agree to take the machine. Reid thereupon made a claim for a commission on the sale. The company, on the other hand, claim that he had sold to any commission, though through a mistake, they had at first acknowledged such a right. Judgment on the case was reserved to permit the reference to authorities on the matter.

Policeman to Speak.

The fact that John Brown, the policeman of New York city, is to be in the Auditorium and address the men's mass meeting on Sunday afternoon, will draw a big audience of men. John Brown was a well-known policeman of New York city, during Tammany's reign there, and for some years his experience as a speaker at Coney Island has gained him quite an enviable reputation. He comes to the city under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association and will speak in several of the shops during the week.

Toronto Excursion Saturday.

On Saturday, Nov. 27, the Canadian Pacific will sell tickets London to Toronto and return, at rate of $2.25. Train leaves London at 7:45 a.m., and will carry parlor car, in which seats can be secured at rating of one cent each. All tickets good for return up to and including Monday, Nov. 29. The great football game between Ottawa and Toronto University will be played in Toronto on Saturday, November 27.

House Sale of Work.

The Children's Aid Society is much gratified at the enthusiastic manner in which the house sale of work has been undertaken by Miss Gibbons and the ladies associated with her. The sale is to be held at the home of Mr. George C. Gibbons, K. C., on Wednesday, Dec. 8. Several committees of ladies have been organized throughout the city to prepare material for the material has been prepared, and the Children's Aid Society hope to see their devoted funds materially expanded as a result.

Sunday Appointments.

Huron College appointments for Sunday are as follows: St. John the Evangelist, evening, Rev. Principal Waller; Wingham, Professor C. E. Jenkins; Burford, C. C. Brett; Newbury and Wardsville, W. H. Roberts; St. Thomas, assisting, Archdeacon Hill, Neville Ward; St. John's and St. Luke's, London Township, A. L. G. Clarke; Lambeth and Chelsea Green, St. Macdonald; Lucknow, J. Why Stanfield's Use Nova Scotia Wool

THE chief reason is because the Stanfields have never found any other wool that makes Underwear so peculiarly suited to Canadians.

The salty, ocean breezes and healthful climate, coupled with the rich grazing, give Nova Scotia wool a quality which is not found anywhere else.

Nova Scotia wool is perfectly blended.

It is soft and smooth, yet staunch and strong. It can be spun like silk and wears almost like steel. Garments, knitted of this fine wool, give the desired warmth and are not heavy or bulky.

It is no exaggeration to say that the Stanfields get the pick of the Nova Scotia wool. The founder of these mills did much to develop the sheep-raising industry throughout the Maritime Provinces. The farmers saved their best wool for him, and continue to send their high grade wool to the Stanfield mills.

Then, too, this wool reaches the mills in the best possible condition. There are no long railroad hauls—no lengthy journeys in the holds of tramp steamers. The wool is shipped direct to Truro as soon as sheared. Experts sort, clean and make it ready at once for its trip of transformation into Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear.

Stanfield's Underwear is made by the only process which takes the shrink out of the wool before the garments are knitted.

The value of this discovery—made by the founder of the Stanfield Mills—is shown by the growth of this business, which is now capitalized at $750,000.00 and employs over 300 operatives.

Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear is made in 3 standard weights, Light (Red Label), Medium (Blue Label) and Heavy (Black Label) and in 17 other weights and qualities to suit the requirements of every man and woman.

The best dealers everywhere handle Stanfield's Underwear. Catalogue showing styles, and samples of fabric, sent free for your address.

SIDE LIGHTS ON
MANY SPORTSCHAMPION FRANK GOTCH LOSES DECISION TO POLISH WRESTLER

Unbeaten Iowa Farmer Could Not Put Zbyszko's Shoulders to the Mat in Sixty Minute Match at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Nov. 25.—Frank Gotch tonight failed to gain a single fall from Zbyszko, the giant Pole, in an hour, and thereby lost the match, the conditions of which required Gotch to win two falls within the hour.

The Pole displayed tremendous physical strength, and excellent knowledge of the game. With Zbyszko on the defensive, Gotch used up 20 minutes in working for his famous hold. When he secured it, the foreigner easily broke it. Gotch gave up this effort, and with the Pole lunging the mat, most of the remaining time, tried hard for a hammerlock.

SCHOOL SOCCERITES
AGAIN PLAY TO TIE

Victoria and Princess Avenue Seem Unable to Decide the City Championship.

EACH ELEVEN SCORED

In Yesterday's Game at Queen's Park, Result Being One to One—Another Match.

Victoria and Princess avenue schools appear due to play soccer games for the public school championship of the city all winter.

The teams, which had already met twice and played the games, lined up again at Queen's Park yesterday afternoon, the score standing one to one at the finish.

The eleven are as evenly matched as possible, and while Victoria is lighter and considerably faster in the following up, they do not come out with much weight and accuracy of kicking.

Goalmen Are Stars.

The goalmen, Ellwood, of Victoria, and Brown, of Princess, are very capable, and their work alone prevented much scoring on each side in the three games played thus far. Their kicking and catching featured yesterday's contest.

In both halves Victoria was kept on the defensive, the greater part of the time, the ball being worked back into Princess' territory on but one occasion in the first, the south-enders taking advantage of the opportunity by scoring in the second period, and Harold Aikens kicked the piskin between the posts, and was loudly cheered.

Teams Kept Moving.

Dr. Downing, of the Collegiate Institute, who refereed the game, kept the teams working every instant during the second period, and although Victoria roared, advised their team to kill time whenever possible, the men did little or no loitering.

Victoria played a wonderful defensive game, but the aggressive work of Princess was effective. Ross, who played full, and Simpson, at half, kicked splendidly, and returned, the ball with lightning speed. The former, who was brought up when his team commenced to crowd the goal, put the ball through to tie the score.

Edmunds Helped a Lot.

Little Edmunds, one of the Princess forwards, was indirectly responsible for the police, his great kick carried the ball three-quarters of the length of the field immediately before it was put through.

The points were scored in each case a minute before time, and further play was impossible owing to darkness.

The rival rosters kept up a continual din, and when the score was tied the cheers of Princess avenue youngsters could be heard for blocks.

Will Ask for Early Close.

It is understood that the school board will be asked to allow the teachers to dismiss the classes at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the next game, the date of which has not as yet been decided, in order that the full time may be played with perfect light, as there is little satisfaction working in the dusk.

The Teams.

Victoria—Ellwood, goal; Aikens and Smith, full; Arthur, Oram and Gregory, halves; Seitzer, Murray, Robinson, Hamilton and Aikens, forwards.

Princess Avenue—Brown, goal; Ross and Davies, full; Mason, Austin and Simpson, halves; Clarke, Spry, Johnston, Edmunds and Patterson, forwards.

Referee—Dr. Downing.

Emilio Lunghi, Famous Runner, Will Return Home and Enlist in the Army.

New York, Nov. 25.—Emilio Lunghi, the Italian runner who broke three time-honored world records since his arrival in this country, will return to Italy next week to serve three years in the Italian army. He expects to return to his athletic activities in this country. Lunghi established a new mark in the 700-yard race, breaking a record which stood for twenty-seven years. He also established a new half-mile mark and broke the record in a two-thirds of a mile.

FINE HORSES GO ABOARD

Foreigners Pay Big Prices at the Old Glory Sale.

New York, Nov. 25.—The cream of the Old Glory sale of harness horses at Madison Square Garden yesterday went to foreign buyers. The highest bid was for a horse named "The Old Glory," which was bought by J. Schlessinger, of Vienna, Austria. The same bidder secured several other high-class animals.

MARATHON POSTPONED

Physicians Declared It Would Be Suicide to Race Yesterday at New York.

New York, Nov. 25.—Acting on the advice of physicians who declared that a 24-mile run over open roads would be suicidal for the contestants, the officials of the annual "Thanksgiving Day" marathon race, after a long consultation with the Y. M. C. A. board, decided to postpone the event until Saturday.

JACK MCCARTHY MANAGER

Speaker Cannon, of United States House, Selects Former Cub Star.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Joseph P. Cannon, speaker of the House and stockholder in the newly organized Danville Club of the "Three P" League, has today named Jack McCarthy, the old-time club star, Jack signed articles following the election of Al Toney as president of the club. McCarthy's contract was for one year, and he is expected to leave for San Francisco in about a month, where he will winter.

SUTOR UNDER KNIFE

White Sox Pitcher Is Operated On for Appendicitis.

Sedalia, Mo., Nov. 25.—Harry Sutor, a member of the Chicago American League team pitching staff, was operated on for appendicitis here today. He is resting well tonight. Sutor expects to leave for San Francisco in about a month, where he will winter.

HERE'S ANOTHER

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Bearing a certified check for $25,000, to be applied in a bid for the Jeffries-Johnson championship fight, the newly organized Danville Club of the "Three P" League, has today named Jack McCarthy, the old-time club star, Jack signed articles following the election of Al Toney as president of the club. McCarthy's contract was for one year, and he is expected to leave for San Francisco in about a month, where he will winter.

U. S. NAVY PRIZE FIGHTS.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 25.—In a fight at the Norfolk navy yards last night, witnessed by a thousand men, mostly naval officers and enlisted jacks, Jimmy Phillips, welterweight champion of the United States navy, defeated Dick Phillips, welterweight champion. The fight was to have been for ten rounds, but the tearful and exhausted Phillips was unable to come to an end in the ninth round. An electrician on the battleship USS Pennsylvania, who was also an electrician at the navy yards, was the referee. The fight was a draw.

CHESS PLAY TO BE RESUMED.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 25.—Marshall and Showalter rested yesterday. The twelfth game in the national chess championship match will be played today. Marshall played simultaneous games with twenty men at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

CHICAGOAN WINS AGAIN.

New York, Nov. 25.—Calvin Demarest, of Chicago, today defeated Henry Cline, of Philadelphia, by a score of 4 to 3 in 20 innings in the 18.5-inch ball-bat championship tournament at Madison Square Garden.

AL KAUFMAN STILL WANTS JEFFRIES GO

Says He Will Box Big Fellow for Charity If Given Long Bout.

NEW YORK LOSES TORREY

Pitcher Has Been Declared Contract Jumper—Tinker in Vaudeville.

The New York American says: Al Kaufman dropped in on us last night and had several things to say. First of all he deplored the action of big Jim Jeffries in not accommodating him with a fust in a 24-foot ring. Al said: "Jeff is making the mistake of his life in not taking me on for a little bout, because it would settle all that talk you hear of his being out of the game so long. I am greatly encouraged in my improvement since the ten-round fight with Jack Johnson. Tell my friends for me, please, that I am whip Jack Johnson in any sort of argument over ten. With a fellow like Johnson, agreeing that he is the cleverest big man since Peter Jackson and Jim Corbett, I am just a plain sine. The ten-round fight with Jack brought confidence into my family affairs."

"If any promoter in the country will give me a long fight I will box him for sweet charity's sake. I am only a kid. If there were any new big fellows I wouldn't care, but I would want to have a long and sound one that perhaps I may be the champion after Johnson and Jeffries have finished. "Billy Delaney is still my sponsor, although he may have announced that he was through with the game. Old Billy believes that I will arrive. I will make good if they give me time, and that is where I will win eventually. I went to see Billy Brady today, and he will knock them off their chairs with a proposition in a day or so."

Monte Attell was in a ten-round bout by Danny Webster at Los Angeles on Tuesday night, and the latter is now regarded as a formidable rival of Johnny Coulton, the bat-tamweight champion of America.

Pitcher Torrey, for whom John T. Brush, of the Giants, agreed to pay $4,000 to Kinsella, of the Yankees, to pitch away the club, is probably lost to New York. Torrey is all kinds of a clever twirler, and has been sought in all directions. Cincinnati appears to have the call just at present, President Herrmann, of that club, being also the ruling power in the matter of a transaction.

It appears that Torrey joined the Logan Squares, of Chicago, an independent semi-pro organization, managed by Jimmy Callahan, who is now in the city from California. Then Kinsella appeared with a contract signed by Torrey, but it was not a contract at all, as it was a paper dated a month previously.

Herrmann's verdict is that Torrey is a contract jumper, and that he is a bad case. He will likely be one of the many bones of contention to be threshed out at the annual meeting next month.

Dick Carroll, a Yankee pitching recruit from Akron, Ohio, is in New York for the winter, and he is expected to pitch away the time. Carroll won 27 games for the Akron team that captured the championship in the Ohio League last year. He is a sturdy-looking chap, who appears able to care for himself under all circumstances. Incidentally Carroll has red hair.

Joe Tinker, refreshed by his war hunting experience, is expected to pitch away the time at Craig, Mont., yesterday started the colossal task of memorizing a million lines in the part he is to play in the play. The club shortstop announces something new, original and full of "pop" in the new play, and it is expected that the manager, an eighteen-minute affair, will be under the management of Jack Stenard.

D. L. McKeand, president of the Canadian Rugby Union, says that he had not been officially notified that the Ottawa and Varsity teams had failed to agree on officials, though he understood such was the case. He received such notification, Mr. McKeand said, he would not make any comment on the matter, further than to say that he felt it was his duty to make any statement.

Sam Berger, Jeffries' manager, announces he is after Dick McCoy to train the boiler-maker.

STOP FOOTBALL BY LAW

Hoosier Officials May Ask for Legislation on Sport in Indiana.

La Porte, Ind., Nov. 25.—It is understood that as a result of a recent meeting of the Hoosier superintendents of the state a petition will be presented to the next Legislature, praying for legislation prohibiting the playing of football in Indiana under pre-termed penalties. There is a strong sentiment favorable to elimination of certain features of the game and a determined effort will be made to secure remedial legislation.

VANDERBILT'S RALEIGH RUNS SECOND.

Paris, Nov. 25.—Vanderbilt's Raleigh ran second in the Prix Laduysus Steeple-chase at Saint-Cloud today. The race was won by Prince Duhaup Singh's Olivier, with Lieux's Mademoiselle Marguerite third. There were ten starters. The jockeys on the placed horses were Hardy, Carter and Depey.

SHRUBB BEATS LONGBOAT.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 25.—Alfie Shrubbs won the sixteen-mile race from Tom Longboat in all but three laps, in 1 hour, 34 minutes 50 seconds. The race was rather like a procession, Shrubbs early established a good lead, which he gradually increased, lapping the Indian in the fourth, again in the seventh, and in the third time in the twelfth mile, when the Indian spurred and gained a few rods, passing Shrubbs once.

CATSPAW RUBBER HEELS ARE NECESSARY TO YOUR SAFETY AND COMFORT AS YOUR HEAVY COAT WILL BE A PAIR AS A TRIAL WILL PROVE IT. YOUR SHOE DEALER OR REPAIRER CAN SUPPLY YOU.

OHIO COMES TO BAT

Sandusky, Ohio, Nov. 24.—In order to be in the swim some Sandusky would-be promoters are out with an offer of $100,000 for the Jeffries-Johnson fight. It is proposed to hold the fight on an island in Lake Erie.

MEDICALS AND VICTORIA WILL CLASH TOMORROW

To Play Return Match With Last Saturday's Conquerors—The Team.

Western University Rugby team leave for Toronto at 9 a.m. tomorrow to win back the laurels lost to Victoria College at Tecumseh Park last Saturday.

The boys feel confident that they can, on a half-decent field, at least bring back victory to Western, if not reverse the score of the last game.

Nearly all the students are going to see the Canada championship game between Ottawa and Toronto Varsity on account of the cheap rates.

Following will be the team: Scrimmage, Strickland, Morand, O'Brien or McGuffin; wings, McDonald, Grish; Collins, Washburn, Riley and Wilson; full-backs, Wagner, Watson, Whiting; full back, Yates; quarter, Mooney.

POSTPONE SAGINAW FIGHT.

Saginaw, Mich., Nov. 25.—The twelve-round fight between Clarence Forbes and John McQuillan today and asked that some action be taken against such fake exhibitions as that offered by Schreck.

DOPE ON THE VARSITY TEAM

A Hamilton paper says: We have been asked the question several times, "Do all the Varsity players come from Toronto?" and in order to answer this, we are publishing the names of the players and the places they hail from, as follows:

Position and Home Town	Age	Weight
Jack Newton, centre half, Sarnia	22	161
Smirle Lawson, right half, Sarnia	22	161
Hugh Gall, left half, Toronto	22	167
"Reddy" Dixon, full back, Hamilton	22	167
Billy Foulds, quarter, Toronto	22	152
Hugh Ritchie, quarter, Toronto	22	152
Jimmy Bell, scrummage, Chelmsford	25	200
Charles Gage, scrummage, Hamilton	22	219
"Whisper" Hume, wing, comes from State of Wisconsin	24	187
George Kingston, wing, Belleville	24	185
Frank Park, wing, Toronto	22	167
Murray Thompson, wing, hails from the western provinces	21	167
Jack Lajoie, wing, Cobourg	25	200
Art Muir, wing, Winnipeg	25	200
Jack McDonald, wing, Lindsay	20	201
Gordon Jones, wing, Brantford	24	178
Brook Henderson, half-back, Toronto	25	165
Dug Cruickshank, half-back, Hamilton	22	176

Some More Particulars.

Average weight back line, 166 pounds.
Average weight wing line, 180 pounds.
Average weight scrummage, 182 pounds.
Of the thirteen players who constitute the senior squad, five are Toronto boys, and three Hamilton boys, Gage, Dixon and Cruickshank, the Hamilton boys, all learned the game in this city, but outside of Dixon, who played on the seniors, none of them have worn the Tiger uniform.

Total weight, 2,452½ pounds. Average age, 22. Average height, 5 feet 8 inches.

The following eleven will be back next year: Gall, Thomson, Bell, Park, Muir, Foulds, Gage, Dixon, Cruickshank and Henderson.

Eight will finish this year: Lawson, Newton, Kingston, Ritchie, Hume, Macdonald, Pearson and Jones.

The Varsity team, as constituted, is practically an all-Ontario team. Its class should be self-evident.

The team is considered as the strongest that the college has had on the field since the days of Casey Baldwin's famous champion fourteen.

Trained to the minute, in perfect shape, and with a great abundance of trick plays, possessing wonderful speed, the Varsity team is a doubtful proposition for Ottawa, and Saturday's battle should be the greatest struggle witnessed on the gridiron in some years.

FIRST GAMES WON BY GRAHAMS AND YOUNGS

Commercial Basketball Season Opened at Y. M. C. A. Last Night.

Grahams and Youngs were the winners in the opening games of the Y. M. C. A. Commercial Basketball League at the association building last evening, the former defeating Cook's, and the latter Gurd's.

The games were very fast, and were witnessed by a fair number. The game between Gurd & Co. and W. G. Young & Co., resulted in a win for the jewellers by 28 to 15.

The final score of the second match was 29 to 21.

The teams:
Gurd & Co.—Crosbie and Maudsley, forwards; Marsh, centre; Smith and Munro, defence.

W. G. Young & Co.—Morris and Jones, forwards; McCormick, centre; Hamilton and Short, defence.

Graham Bros.—Logan and Gough, forwards; George, centre; Alfred and McQueen, defence.

J. P. Cook & Co.—Wood and Braetson, forwards; Eckert, centre; Martin and Davidson, defence.

Referee—C. Wickert.
Umpire—Mr. Sovereign.

Where is Newy Edwards going to play? He's signed with Nationals, slated for Toronto, going to play with Cornwall, and may go to Galt.

PITTSBURG TURNS ON JEFFRIES' COMBINE

Our Own James J. Is Being Treated Most Shamefully in Smoke Town.

FEELING AGAINST CHAMP.

Since His "Six-Round Bout" With Sam Berger There—Squaring Things Up.

Pittsburg, Nov. 25.—The directors of the Pittsburg Exposition have declined to permit James J. Jeffries to hire Exposition Hall for the show to be given by himself and an aggregation of boxers and wrestlers, who are coming to Pittsburg arrangements, pay all expenses connected with the battle, and they are to take the money, about four miles from the downtown district.

Feeling Against Jeff.

A bitter feeling that cropped out when Jeff visited Pittsburg some time since to do "six rounds" with his sparring partner, Sam Berger, has grown and this bout was the real cause of Jeffries being turned down at this time. Jeff and Berger agreed to box "six rounds" before the people of Pittsburg, but they cut the time to one minute for each round. Some of the directors of the exposition society had paid $5 each to see when they came to see the Jeffries application.

May Stop Boxing.

"We had William Jennings Bryan in this hall, and we also had Sadore Duncan with his bare-knuckled skirt dance, and I don't see how Jeffries can do it any more harm," shouted one director who was in favor of renting the hall to Jeff.

The fiasco indulged in by Mike Schreck here may result in boxing being stopped in Pittsburg. Scores visited Chief of Police McQuillan today and asked that some action be taken against such fake exhibitions as that offered by Schreck.

PROMOTER TOM M'GAREY WILL GAMBLE HIGH FOR BIG FIGHT

Veteran Will Offer Purse of $75,000 Or the Entire Gate Receipts and Take Chances on Making Fortune With Picture Privileges.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 26.—Tom McGarey, the Los Angeles fight promoter, was in Kansas City a few hours today, on his way east. Among other things he said: "I am still ready to stand by my first proposition, which is that I will give Johnson and Jeffries a guaranteed purse of $75,000 for the entire gate receipts, just as they please to elect. I am to furnish everything, take care of all the arrangements, pay all expenses connected with the battle, and they are to take every dollar that comes into the gate. Some will say that I must be losing my mind. I may be, at that, for my interest in the battle is somewhat of a gamble."

Wants Only Pictures.

"I will take for my end only the picture privilege. Now then, if the fight is over in a round or so the pictures will be no good and I will be a heavy loser. If it should rain you can see where I will land. If the fight is one of those runaway affairs, with no action, the pictures would not be worth a postage stamp. After these statements I guess Johnson and Jeffries are not asking too much."

"If I get the fight I am going to in-line on Johnson meeting no man until he faces Jeffries. I do this for my own protection. Not that I think any man can defeat him, but that Langford chap is around, and to be candid he has got an outside chance to turn the trick, and if he did it would knock the big fight sky high. Jeffries, of course, will fight no other colored man outside of Johnson. There is not much danger of his defeat, as no other colored man has got the slightest chance to beat him."

SAM LANGFORD POSTS
FORFEIT AT PITTSBURG

Puts Up the Required $10,000 for Fight With Johnson—No Strings Attached.

Pittsburg, Nov. 25.—Joe Woodman, manager for Sam Langford, the Boston black, has posted a forfeit of $10,000 in support of a direct challenge of the part of Langford, to Jack Johnson, the present holder of the world's title.

Woodman said when he deposited the coin that it was put up for a fight of any duration from twenty to forty-five rounds, and that the middleweight champion, who is to fight, will be a purse worth training for. He says there are no strings or impossible conditions to the offer.

DECLARE WARD
HAS IT CINCHED

Chicago, St. Louis, Brooklyn and New York For Him—Phillies To Join.

New York, Nov. 26.—At the annual meeting of the National Baseball League in this city next month, John M. Ward, the famous baseball player, will be a strong candidate for the presidency. It is said that four clubs are now pledged to Ward. These are Chicago, St. Louis, Brooklyn and New York.

Charles W. Murphy, of the Chicago Club, said to him agreed with John T. Brush, of the New Yorks, and C. H. Ebbetts of the Brooklyn, to support Ward. Murphy's candidate, James A. Hart, having refused to be considered.

It is understood that the Philadelphia Club is expected to join this combination and this will leave Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and Boston for John A. Heydler to succeed himself.

Ward retired from baseball in 1894, after turning out the famous New York Giants, and was a member of the Baltimore pennant winners. Since then he has been practicing law, but has been active in baseball matters.

Honorary President—R. J. McCormick, M. P. P.

Honorary Vice-Presidents—E. D. Swift, T. B. Taylor, George Chambers.

President—Alex. Elliot.

Vice-President—D. Roche.

Manager—D. Wilson.

Secretary—George E. Hicks.

It is the intention of the club this season to endeavor to form part of a county league, comprising the best teams of the county. This, it is hoped, will make a very interesting season for the club. Address all communications to the secretary, G. E. Hicks.

WATFORD TEAM MAY
ENTER COUNTY LEAGUE

Watford, Nov. 26.—At a meeting of the local hockey club held Wednesday evening the sentiment was in favor of entering a team in the O. H. A. intermediate series, providing Petrolia, Sarnia, Strathroy and Watford could be arranged to form a compact group where the expenses would be reduced to a minimum. Possibly a double schedule of games could be arranged and by using referees with a easy access, the cost would be comparatively small, and the prestige of being associated with the O. H. A. would have a tendency to increase the interest and add to the gate receipts. Negotiations are under way to make this a go.

Organization Meeting Held and Officers Elected For Year.

Watford Guide-Advocate: A very enthusiastic meeting was held in the Watford Bank chambers for the re-organization of the Watford Hockey Club. A goodly number of the boys were present, with Mr. Hudgin occupying the chair.

The following officers were elected for the season of 1939-1940:

Honorary President—R. J. McCormick, M. P. P.

Honorary Vice-Presidents—E. D. Swift, T. B. Taylor, George Chambers.

President—Alex. Elliot.

Vice-President—D. Roche.

ENGINEER OFFERS TO BET A MILLION

That the Langarth Street Sewer Is Not Connected With the Cathcart Street Sewer.

SOUTH LONDON ROW

Ben Blackstock's Troubles Aired Last Night, But Matter Was Left to City Engineer to Straighten Out.

The Langarth street sewer caused a debate at the meeting of the board of works last evening, and the question as to whether or not the sewer is connected with the Cathcart street sewer remains unanswered.

Mr. W. M. Gray, of Langarth street, appeared before the board and asked why the sewers had been connected before the signatures of the residents upon the street had been secured, as was the agreement when the matter was before the council.

"The sewers have not been connected," said City Engineer Graydon. "We are awaiting the signatures of the residents of the street. Mr. Judd said he would get them, but he had to go away."

"But I saw the sewers connected," answered Mr. Gray. "I stood and watched them connect them."

Aquilla a Plunger.

Mr. Gray described how the work had been done, but it did not convince Mr. Graydon.

"I'll bet a million dollars that the sewers are not connected," continued Mr. Graydon.

"I wouldn't mind taking a small bet like that," retorted Mr. Gray. "I think I know what I saw."

Mr. Graydon explained that he had not visited the sewer, but he had given instructions to the contractor and the inspector not to connect until ordered to do so.

He was confident the men would not do so until they received instructions.

Will Investigate.

Mr. Gray insisted that it had been done, and the city engineer will investigate today.

"I am not complaining, but I want the board to be certain that we have the proper fall in the sewer, so that it will not back up," said Mr. Gray.

"We will see to it that the fall is there," said Mr. Graydon.

Mr. Gray called attention to the condition of the street, and the engineer will investigate.

The Blackstock Case.

Mr. Ben Blackstock, who was driver on the water cart, appeared before the committee to protest against his dismissal.

"I have not been fairly dealt with," said Mr. Blackstock. "This position has been mine for four years, and I was always given work until Christmas at least. This year I have been cut off for some reason unknown to me. I have a petition from 75 ratepayers to keep me on the street as a water cart driver."

City Engineer Graydon reported that as street watering was finished, there was no work for him. He had not put a man in his place, nor was it his intention to do so.

The matter was referred to the city engineer to adjust.

An application from a King street hotel-keeper to retain a street door that opens inward was granted on the recommendation of Mr. Graydon.

Those present were: Ald. Gerry, chairman; Ald. Saunders, Ald. Rose, City Engineer Graydon and Secretary Wright.

A BOY HERO.

Cornwall, Nov. 25.—Robert Yates, the 16-year-old Cornwall boy who saved four young companions from a watery grave in the St. Lawrence on Aug. 28, 1909, has been awarded a medal by the Royal Humane Society.

Yates' heroic action took place in the Little River, a branch of the Long Sault Rapids. Four boys, aged from 8 to 13 years, upset from a boat into the current, and were carried down stream. Yates, who had only recently learned to swim, was fully dressed, but he pluckily saved the four little fellows, and brought them to the bank in which their mothers were following.

PLANS OF C. N. R.

Hamilton, Nov. 25.—City Engineer McCallum gave out the information today that the C. N. R. will run a line into Hamilton by next spring. His informant was the railroad's engineer he met in Ottawa during his trip down to the capital with the Welland Canal deputation. The road's surveys are already at work in this vicinity.

LUCKY BALDWIN'S MILLIONS.

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—The complete appraisal of the estate of the late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, which was estimated at the time of his death at twenty million dollars, shows that it totals a little less than ten millions.

DURING SLEEP

Nature Repairs the Human Engine.

The activities of the day cause more or less waste of tissue in the human engine, which is repaired at night during sleep.

The man or woman who can sleep well at night, is sure of the necessary repairs, other things being right, to make each day a time of usefulness and living a real joy.

But let insomnia get hold of you, and the struggle begins, of trying to work with a machine out of repair. A Nebraska woman's experience with coffee as a producer of insomnia is interesting. She says:

"I used to be a coffee drinker, and was so nervous I could not sleep at night before 12 o'clock, unless I would take some medicine. I was under the doctor's care for about five years, and my weight got down to 82 pounds."

"The doctor said I would have to quit drinking coffee. Then my father got me to try Postum, which said here done wonders for him. I am past 43, and before I quit drinking coffee, my heart would jump and flutter at times, miss a beat, then beat so fast I could hardly breathe in enough air, and I would get smothered."

"My tongue would get so stiff I could not talk, and I could not hold a glass to drink from. Since I have been drinking Postum in place of coffee, I can sleep sound any time I lie down, and I feel I owe everything to Postum. I now weigh 120 pounds and am well."

Read "The Road to Wellville," in Packages.

"There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

GREAT ORE DEPOSITS IN OTTAWA VALLEY

Development Would Be Easy Because of Extensive Water Power.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—The iron ores of the valleys of the Ottawa and Gatineau Rivers have been the subject of an investigation by Mr. Fritz Cirkel, M. E., for the mines branch of the department of mines, and his report has just been published.

The publication of this report comes at a very opportune time, owing to the development lately assumed by the smelting of iron ores by electricity; for the region in question possesses great water powers, a part of which could very aptly be applied to the establishment of an iron and steel industry.

After describing in detail various iron ore deposits in the townships of Hull, Templeton, Wakefield, Bristol, Grenville and others, Mr. Cirkel concludes that many of these would yield ores which could in all probability be treated profitably in the electric furnace. It is stated in the report that this method of reducing the iron ores can compete with the blast furnace for the production of pig iron, when electrical energy can be developed at a low cost.

All engineers and metallurgists interested in the iron and steel industry will read the report with interest, more especially the general conclusions, which are given from page 100 to page 107.

An appendix to the report gives a synopsis of the water powers, both developed and undeveloped, in the region under consideration. These data have been compiled from the latest authoritative sources available. The following table shows the estimated quantities of power: Panguitch Falls, Cascades, Chelsea Rapids, Great Falls, Coulonge River, Roche Fenelle, Cascade Falls, Chert Falls.

The report is well illustrated by five plates, fifteen drawings and two maps, and the whole forms a volume of 147 pages, which constitutes a valuable addition to the series of bulletins on the mineral resources of Canada issued under the direction of Dr. Eugene Haezel by the mines branch of the department of mines.

SYNOD OF HURON IS INTERESTED

In Case of the Estate of William Sprague Argued at Toronto.

At the court of appeal in Toronto on Monday the case regarding the estate of William Sprague came up before Chief Justice Moss, Mr. J. E. Betts appeared in the interests of the Synod of Huron; J. H. Moss, K. C., and F. Aylesworth for the Synod of Toronto; H. S. Slater, K. C., and J. E. Betts for the appellants. An application was made by the executors of the late William Sprague, late of the township of Nepean, in the direction of the Synod of Huron, and the court as to the proper distribution to be made by the executors of a fund of $28,000 in their hands received by them from the estate of the late Joseph Bitterman Sprague, being the proceeds of the sale of certain lands in the township of Blehneim. On the application, Meredith, C. J., held that the Synod of Huron was entitled to the said fund of $28,000. From that judgment C. E. Sprague, son of William Sprague; E. E. Sprague, widow of Arthur G. M. Sprague, another son of William Sprague; and F. E. Sprague, daughter of A. G. M. Sprague, now appeal in the court of appeal. R. C. H. Cassels and J. W. O'Brien appear for the trustees of the William Sprague estate. Judgment was reserved.

TALE OF MURDER OVER THE WIRES

Police Through Phone Hear Woman's Screams for Help.

Minneapolis, Nov. 25.—The buzzer in the police signal room at headquarters rang at 10:20 o'clock this morning. A woman's voice, excited, but low, came over the wires: "He'll kill me. Send help, please." Then the police officer, Bill Martin, who heard the call heard a scream and a crash as the instrument fell. The receiver remained off, and the operator heard the sound of a struggle, oaths, and then voices of women screaming. Finally the transmitter was picked up, for another voice, also that of a woman, came over the wire.

"He's killed her. He cut her throat. She is bleeding to death. Send a doctor. He went out the back way. Send the police down. She's dying. Hurry."

Martin interrupted long enough to find out that the call was from 1023 Second street south. A patrol wagon full of officers and an ambulance with two doctors was at the scene in a few minutes. The detectives found Grace Livingston lying unconscious on the floor. Her face had been slashed twice with a razor, and another deep wound had been inflicted under her chin.

The police learned that the woman was married last year to N. D. D. to Earl B. McGill, a railroad conductor. He is alleged to have been in the house last night and quarrelled with her. The woman, it is thought, anticipated trouble, and went to another room to telephone the police. She was in the act of summoning assistance, when she was attacked from behind. McGill has not been found. The woman is in a critical condition.

TO KEEP FISH FRESH.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—Trade Commissioner Beyer, reporting from St. John's, states that Newfoundland is greatly interested in a patent process for keeping fish. It consists in wrapping each fish in a special prepared paper, and the fish remain fresh for 24 days. If the system is adopted the value of the fisheries will be much augmented and the exports greatly increased. The agent also reports that United States capitalists have bought a pulp limit of 305 square miles in the vicinity of the Robinson River, and are establishing an industry with a capital of $4,000,000.

FILED STATED CASE.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—The stated case upon the conviction of P. Sleight, of the murder of another Macedonian named Simoff, last April, and upon the conviction of F. E. Karn, the drug-gist, on a charge of using his premises for improper purposes, have been filed in the court of appeal. Argument will probably be heard next week in both cases.

MORE CASES ENTERED

County and Assize Courts Will Be Kept Busy Shortly.

Several new cases have been added to the list for hearing at the county court and the assizes which open next month. Writs have been issued against Dora Harris, the wife of Jacob Harris, of this city, whereby the Pennsylvania Railway, the Baltimore and Ohio, the New York Central and the Central Railway of New Jersey, are taking action to recover certain brasses alleged to have been stolen from them which were located in Harris' warehouse. They do not claim any misdemour on the part of Mrs. Harris, who bought the brass in good faith.

William Fitzpatrick brings action against the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company to recover the value of a horse which was claimed to be in good condition when rented to the defendants, but died while in their charge.

The London Electric Company has entered action against George A. Andrews, proprietor of the Star Theatre, claiming that he failed to perform his part of the contract entered into with the company for lighting.

John A. Collier brings suit against London Township for damages received through a drain belonging to the defendant township, which he claims was defective.

Robert Murphy is asking damages from H. S. Eyre, a storekeeper of East Nissouri, for the death of a cow which it is claimed died from the effects of a medicine sold by the defendant.

James O. Weldon brings action for the recovery of certain property now in the hands of Ernest Fitzallen, which the plaintiff claims belongs to him.

The case of Joseph Mierco against Dominio Cusillo, a contractor on the C. P. R., claiming wrongful dismissal, will, it is expected, be settled out of court.

An appeal has been entered against the judgment for $500 damages given to Miss Ethel Earl, in a case against Mr. W. J. Reid and Messrs. Kernohan & Wilson, for injuries received in the Crystal Hall disaster, which was heard at the last assizes. The appeal has been lodged by Mr. Geo. C. Gibbons on behalf of Mr. Reid, and will be heard at Ossington Hall next month.

TILLSONBURG HAPPENINGS

Second Victim of the M. C. R. Crossing Accident Cannot Recover.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Tillsonburg, Nov. 25.—The report, so unfortunately circulated in some of yesterday's papers, regarding the cause of the accident at the M. C. R. crossing, was a mistake. As Mr. Reid, who owns place at the M. C. R. station, and no amount of haste would have altered that. Pierce & Sons have their position at the depot here, and it remains unchanged, no matter which line arrives first. A jury met and viewed the remains of the late Milton Brown at Taylor's undertaking rooms. The inquest was adjourned until Friday afternoon. Rounds, the second victim of the unfortunate occurrence, is still racked with convulsions from his terrible injuries, and physicians say his recovery is impossible.

Mr. Hugh Johnson, of Tilbury, is the guest of his cousin, Mr. S. E. Barrett, this week.

Ed Crawford, of London, was a Tillsonburg visitor on Wednesday.

Charles Swazey, of Niagara Falls, is the guest of relatives in this town.

Mr. Edgar Flayser, who has spent the past few months at Calgary, Alta., returned to his home here on Tuesday.

A. W. Pierce, of Aylmer, spent Wednesday here on business.

Norman Harrison, of Bracebridge, is the guest of relatives here.

J. M. Taylor has installed a Bayham and Malahide phone in his office.

UNIT FOR AUSTRALIA.

Melbourne, Nov. 24.—In the Commonwealth House of Representatives the Minister of Defence moved that this House approve of the proposal, and that immediate steps be taken to provide an Australian unit. The resolution carried by 30 to 9. The minority was composed of irreconcilable Laborites, Mr. Fisher and other Labor leaders voting with the majority.

OPPOSITION CONVENTION.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—A sub-committee of the Conservative caucus has been appointed to consider the time and place of the party convention, Ottawa, Toronto and Winnipeg each has its advocates. The gathering will not likely be held before next summer, the idea of one in January not meeting with much favor.

A PHONE CONFERENCE.

St. Louis, Nov. 25.—A conference of representatives of the National Independent Telephone Association regarding legal proceedings to be instituted against a reported attempt to dissolve the voting trust of the independent companies will be held in Chicago Saturday.

Attorney Jeffries representing minority interests, has declared he will apply to the circuit court here tomorrow for an order on the New York courts, requesting the appointment of a commissioner to take the testimony of George W. Perkins, junior member of the banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co.; Charles Vall, president of the American Telegraph and Telephone Company, and representatives of Harry Pisk & Sons, R. L. Day & Co., New York concerns.

THE LION OF LUCERNE.

The Lion of Lucerne, that inspiring monument to heroism, is in grave danger of destruction from the action of the elements. Already disintegration has begun in what was supposed to be a wall of everlasting rock, and it is learned from information given by a correspondent of the London Times that the effect of the dying lion "is in a condition that leaves little hope of its preservation."

Masses of stone have been falling from the rock, and the rock is being undermined by the action of the elements. The approach of ruin have thus far been unavailing.

The Lion monument was executed by the Swiss sculptor Ahorn, after the design by Thorvaldsen, in the year 1831. It is an object of national pride with all "Swissers," and it has been a source of inspiring interest to the people of all countries. It commemorates the heroism of the Swiss Guards who were killed while defending the French royal family during the attack on the Tuileries in 1792.

In the defense of Louis XVI, Marie Antoinette and the Dauphin, 28 Swiss officers and several hundreds of soldiers were killed. The names of the killed are carved on the face of the rock, which bears the main commemorative figure. The effigy of the lion is 28 feet in length and 18 feet in height. It is impressive in its simple majesty so thoroughly in harmony with Thorvaldsen's genius. Mortally wounded by a spear planted in his side, he stretches out his paws at the last gasp to protect from injury the escutcheon with the royal fleur-de-lis.

The Swiss are taking increased precautions to save the Lion of Lucerne. It is a noble memorial to the gallantry of a fellow-countryman. Its loss will be a world's loss.—Chicago Evening Post.

WONDERFUL CURE.

A wonderful cure through the agency of radium is reported as having been performed in the Flower Hospital, New York. A patient was taken there with a malignant tumor, the size of a child's head, in his abdomen. An ordinary operation offered not the slightest chance of a cure. Therefore, under the charge of Drs. William Diefenbach and William Todd Helmut, the patient submitted to what is claimed to be an entirely new method of treatment. This consisted of the injection of gelatin, impregnated with radium, into the tumor itself, which was reached by opening the abdominal cavity. At first it seemed likely that the patient would die, but in a few days he gained strength, and at the end of five weeks he was greatly improved.—Leslie Weekly.

ANIMALS ARE POOR SAILORS.

The polar bear is the only wild animal that likes a trip on the water, according to a French scientist who has studied its behavior at sea. He is quite jolly when aboard ship, but all other animals violently resent such a voyage, and vociferously give vent to their feelings until seasickness brings silence.

The tiger suffers most of all. He whines pitifully, his eyes water continually, and he rubs his stomach with

MONTREAL COLLECTOR HAS DISAPPEARED

Is Said To Be Short in His Accounts and Charitable Institutions Suffer.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—E. H. Snedeker, probably the best collector here, has left the city under circumstances which made it appear as though he had absconded.

He left Montreal over a week ago, announcing that he had left to undergo an operation at New York. After he had gone it was found that his accounts were in a mixed condition with several of the institutions he had been collecting for.

Snedeker did business on a large scale, getting subscriptions for the Tuberculosis League, the Western Hospital, the Citizens' League and other institutions, handling very large sums of money. When examination of accounts showed discrepancies, his office was visited, when it was found that the accounts in his ledgers had in several instances been torn out. It was also found that several of the city banks wanted him for fairly large sums, and that his automobile and office effects had been seized on a check he had cashed without funds to cover.

EVELYN SEES THAW

Amidst White's Murderer by Calling on Him at Asylum.

Matthew, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, accompanied by her brother, Howard T. Nesbitt, came to Fishkill Landing this morning. Arriving at the hospital, Mrs. Evelyn Thaw sent Harry Thaw her card. He was so astonished that he could only ejaculate, "You here, Evelyn?" Her only answer was, "Yes, I'm here, Harry."

The two conversed for some time, and in the midst of their talk, Mrs. Mary C. Thaw and her maid arrived, laden with their bundles of good things for Harry. The elder Mrs. Thaw was naturally as much astonished as her son to see Evelyn at the asylum. The three engaged in an earnest talk for about half an hour. Its result was apparently very unsatisfactory to Evelyn, for at its conclusion she arose from her chair in anger, and said: "I shall never come to see you again."

She left immediately, and went to New York.

Evelyn's purpose in bringing her brother is not known, although it is suspected that it was with a purpose to secure evidence for the divorce proceedings which she threatens to institute.

During her stay in town Evelyn visited a certain hotel and inquired of its proprietress, "Have I ever committed any improper action in your hotel?" The answer was in the negative.

PERSIA'S BOY SHAH BUT A TIRED CHILD

He Still Wants His "Papa" and Doesn't Like New
"Toy."

Tehran, Nov. 25.—The boy shah of Persia, summoned to the throne at the age of 12 by the deposition of his father, is at present being "educated" in the indulgent and indulgent manner common to eastern courts.

No change or reform has been made in the daily routine of the palace. The same sluggish courtiers and red-coated eunuchs linger about the palace and the same attendants, male and female, in the Anderouni (the women's apartments).

In the morning the young shah's teachers of Persian, Arabic, history and handwriting instruct him for an hour. But even during the lessons some of the innumerable chamberlains are always present and distract the monarch's mind from his duties. The rest of his day is spent in playing with some young slaves.

Undoubtedly this is not what was expected from the national reformers. But the sudden change in Ahmed Shah's position is partly responsible. In the space of a few hours this boy passed from the freedom of a spoiled child to the position of ruling monarch.

He looked upon the throne and crown as nothing more than new toys to play with. He soon tired of them. Without the care and advice of either parent, he was left to the indulgent and indulgent hands of the chamberlains. All the pomp soon seemed to him to be nothing but an unmerited punishment.

His affection for his father, the former shah, was great, and he was utterly unable to understand why they must part. "I want to go back to papa," he said. "I don't want to be shah. Let me go."

All that remained to the boy monarch was the presence of a few familiar faces. It was thought too cruel to add to this child's grief by surrounding him with better but strange attendants. As it is, he is practically a stranger in his own palace. So the reformers closed their eyes to abuses for the time being, and allowed his majesty to lead his former life as far as possible.

Later on, though, radical changes will take place in the palace. The Anderouni will be closed. Teachers of oriental languages, history and handwriting will be chosen from the very best of Persian scholars. For foreign languages tutors will be brought from Europe. The number of courtiers and chamberlains will be reduced and the young shah's playmates chosen from among suitable noble children to replace the slaves.

These changes cannot take place before the session of the new Parliament, owing to lack of funds. At present the elections are not completed, and all branches of the administration are at a standstill. The new Parliament will probably meet at the end of the month.

FOUND MURDERED.

Bedford, Ind., Nov. 25.—The dead body of George Moss, whose skull had been crushed with some blunt instrument, was found today at his half-way house, between this city and Galt. His grocery store had been robbed by the murderers. Moss lived alone. There is no clue to the murderers.

KILLED IN ROADHOUSE.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 25.—A special from Munising, Mich., says that Harry Ethell, 25 years old, was killed last night in a roadhouse 12 miles east of here. Her head was crushed. Frank Fitzpatrick stated that some one outside the house shot through the window and killed the woman.

NORTH PERTH CONS. AGAINST NAVY PLAN

Annual Convention Passes Resolution Denouncing Government's Naval Scheme.

Milverton, Nov. 25.—North Perth Conservatives met in annual convention here today.

James Torrance, the member for North Perth, addressed the gathering, and was followed by Benjamin Rothwell and H. B. Morphy, K.C., of Lis-towel, and Mayor Dingman of Stratford.

The election of officers resulted: President—D. A. Dempsey, Ellie, Mornington. Vice-President—J. H. Hamilton, Stratford.

Second Vice-President—Charles Fry-togel, North Easthope. Secretary-Treasurer—Geo. Westman, Stratford.

For the coming rally on Jan. 11, the following men will represent the constituency:

Provincial interests—Benjamin Rothwell, J. Coughlin, Hugh B. Kerr, Charles Moore.

Alternates—Dr. J. D. Monteth, S. E. Smith, George Roe.

Dominion interests—H. B. Morphy, W. S. Dugan, R. Hazen, Chas. Fry-togel, W. J. McCully.

Alternates—Capt. G. L. Money, Geo. Elgoetz, D. A. Dempsey.

The annual convention came to a close with resolutions of confidence in Premier Whitney, R. L. Borden and James Torrance, M. L. A.

The annual convention was a denunciation of the Dominion Government's naval policy as inadequate.

A COMPROMISE BASIS
FOR INCOME TAX

Exemption Raised From $1,000
to $1,200 for the Married Men.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—The railways were on the gridiron at the closing session of the legislative assessment committee today.

Mr. John McEwing (Wellington) launched the discussion. He moved that the right of way be assessed at its land value, and that all structures, rails, shops, etc., be assessed at valuation of $10,000 per mile, single track, and $2,000 per mile for each additional track.

Mr. McEwing pressed for an expression of opinion by the committee. "Don't you think we have made good progress to date?" argued Mr. Hanna. "Suppose we say we will give it serious consideration."

The clause providing for a quinquennial assessment of railways also stood, though Allan Studholme, Hamilton, pressed to have it changed to read yearly.

To Assess All Land.

The committee decided to repeal clause 49 of the existing act. By this decision all lands in cities will be assessed in future without regard to whether they are vacant or in demand for building purposes.

The question of exemption on income tax was decided on a compromise basis. The exemption was raised from $1,000 to $1,200 for married men and from $500 to $900 for single men. A proposal to raise the exemption on widows from $200 to $300 was rejected.

The powers of the court of revision, county judge and court of appeal were revised, giving them power to determine not only the amount of assessment, but all questions as to exemption under the act. The question of the liability of the non-resident stock-owner was left in abeyance.

The proposal to give holders of ten-year leases the right to sign local improvement petitions was rejected, and a clause added to section 14 of the act to provide that the dividends derived by shareholders from all shares in telephone or telegraph companies will be assessable.

The proposal to eliminate the separate assessment of farm lands and buildings as at present followed, and a clause added to section 14 of the act to provide that the dividends derived by shareholders from all shares in telephone or telegraph companies will be assessable.

Women

Cannot be Strong and Healthy Unless the Kidneys are Well.

Weak, lame or aching backs are the first sign of Kidney Trouble. Under ordinary conditions they ought to be strong and ready to bear the burdens of life.

It is hard to do housework with a weak aching back. Backaches come from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause.

But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand it is not to be wondered that they get out of order. Weak back is simply a warning from the kidneys and should be attended to immediately so as to avoid years of terrible suffering from kidney troubles.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you in the same way as they have cured thousands of others.

Miss Alberta B. Clarke, Stoney Creek, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with kidney trouble for several years; my back was weak, I had such terrible headaches, and was so restless I could not sleep at night and tried everything without any benefit. Meantime a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got four boxes and they completely cured me. I now feel as well as I ever did and would advise everyone suffering from Kidney Disease to try them."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

In ordering specify "Doan's."

The Miners Cease Attempt at Rescue

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 25.—Not since the recovery of the first bodies from the depth of the fire-wrecked St. Paul mine here have such scenes been witnessed as the heartrending picture at the scene of the disaster today. Hundreds of grief-stricken women, with worn faces and fatherless children clinging in fear to their dresses, gathered in groups about the shaft of the mine, sobbing and moaning. Their sacred dead are lost forever. The realization of the horrible end of the great disaster has aroused a frantic grief. Women fell on their knees, dragging their children with them, sobbing out their cries of despair.

Many men in Cherry still cling to the belief that with the sealing of the mine, living men among the nearly 200 still missing, have been doomed to death.

Mine experts scout the idea, and state that such is an impossibility. "Nothing can be done until the fire has died out, and the extreme danger of entering the shaft is eliminated," declared W. W. Taylor, superintendent of the mine.

The dissatisfaction of the miners at the step taken by the mine officials was apparent.

GRANGE OPPOSES NAVY

Wants the Two Million Used for the Deepening of Canals.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—The Dominion Grange this morning accepted the report of the Legislation committee on the proposed Canadian navy in a modified form. It will be remembered that the report presented yesterday was sent back, many members not agreeing with the strength of its protest against a navy. As adopted this morning the reports read that the committee "deems with grave misgivings the proposal" fearing that they might provoke war instead of peace, and urges the Dominion Government to take a referendum vote of the people before going further with the proposal. An amendment was attached suggesting that the Government devote the $2,000,000 it proposes to spend on war vessels to deepening the Welland canal and otherwise improve the waterways of Canada. The Grange put itself on record as approving of the proposal, and to establish the Canadian national council of agriculture.

GREAT STORM 'WAY DOWN EAST

Halifax, Nov. 25.—Switched northward by a driving south-east wind, a heavy rainfall deluged this province today, and at a late hour tonight there was no sign of it abating.

Shipping along the coast is at a standstill, and vessels are seeking shelter in all available ports. This harbor is filled with craft of all descriptions.

The telegraph lines along the shore are deranged, and the extent of the damage is not known.

The steamer Halifax, which should have arrived from Boston last night, did not reach port till three this afternoon, 17 hours overdue. The weekly mail steamer Empress of Britain arrived off Halifax early this morning, but owing to the wind Capt. Murray decided to lay to, and it was 3 o'clock before the liner reached her dock. The Empress landed passengers and mails, and was ready to sail for St. John, but, owing to the storm, she could not risk to face the dangerous Bay of Fundy, and will remain in port over night.

JOSEPHINE CARR DIES IN NORTHWEST

Girl Who Caused Death of Baby She Abducted From Eaton's Is Dead.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 25.—The death of Josephine Carr, of Toronto, in the Northwest is announced.

Some years ago, it will be remembered, this girl took part in a dreadful occurrence in Toronto by which an infant wheeled away in a go-cart from an archway in Eaton's departmental store was done to death. Josephine, as a result, was incarcerated in the penitentiary here, and was later pardoned and sent to the Northwest to begin life anew.

She is reported as having done excellently until illness set in and death ensued.

WRONGFULLY EJECTED

Hamilton Man Wins Case From Steamship Company.

Hamilton, Nov. 25.—George F. Armstrong, a teacher at the Collegiate Institute, sued the Turbine Steamship Company, in the division court this morning before a jury for damages for wrongful ejection from the steamship Turbine. Armstrong was given a verdict for $80, the full amount of his claim. He bought a ten-trip book, which he used on the Turbine, and was ejected from the ship on the morning of Nov. 19, 1909, on the ground that he was a "tramp." The jury found in his favor, and awarded him the full amount of his claim.

STRANGLED TO DEATH.

Detroit, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Bertha Story, 80 years old, was found strangled to death in her room, 422 Batterout street, this city, today. Investigation indicates that the place had been robbed of about 80 cents. No arrests have been made.

HE HAD "HOOKWORM."

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—Judge Graham has directed from David R. Coover, "The Hookworm," the cause. "My husband was dull, stupid, lazy, languid, slow," said Mrs. Coover. "He must have been a victim of the hookworm," said the court. Mrs. Coover expressed some doubt as to this diagnosis, but Judge Graham stuck to his opinion and granted the decree.

SENT FOR TRIAL

A.—Yes, he told me of a drive to Epsom.

Q.—In daytime? A.—No, after dark.

Q.—Do you know if they met? A.—Yes, they used to meet on the street I used to go home.

Q.—Were you ever with him when he met her? A.—Yes, I was going home with him one day when we passed her, and he colored up and tipped his hat.

Q.—Did he tell you anything then? A.—Yes, that they used to meet him.

Q.—What do you mean by they? A.—Miss Nix and Miss Charters.

Q.—What kind of a girl did he describe this Miss Nix as? A.—That she was a nice girl to talk to.

Q.—You understood he would go away with her if she would go? A.—I understood she would go away with him when he mentioned the trip to California.

Q.—Go away with him? A.—Yes.

Q.—Is that the only lady he had in? A.—As far as I know.

Q.—A sweet little lass out in the country? A.—He did not tell me anything about her.

Called Her His Fair One.

Miss Ruth Lott, an employee at Alexander & McPhail's store, where the prisoner was employed, stated that she noticed some familiarity between McLachlan and one of the other ladies employed there.

Q.—Who was it? A.—Miss Nix.

Q.—Did he have any terms of endearment for her? A.—I heard him call her his fair one.

Q.—Did you see any letters from her to him? A.—Yes, he showed me one.

Q.—Did she sign her name? A.—Yes, it was signed.

Q.—Miss Nix says she never signed any of her letters? A.—Well, she signed this one.

Q.—Well as what was in it? A.—I can't remember.

Q.—Did she tell him to keep away from her? A.—No, I don't think so.

Q.—Did she scold him or was it a friendly letter? A.—It was a friendly letter.

Q.—Now, tell us what was in it? A.—I can't say now; it was quite a while ago.

Q.—Where did it come from? A.—I don't know if it even came through the postoffice.

Several Pages Long.

Q.—How long was it, fifteen pages? A.—No, three or four or five pages.

Q.—Are you aware the lady says she never wrote him more than a page and a half? A.—This letter was more than that.

Q.—Have you ever seen them walking together? A.—No, I don't think I have.

Q.—Where did you see them most together? A.—In the store.

Q.—Did you ever hear him say anything as to his intentions towards the lady? A.—I don't think I did.

Q.—Did that letter cause you to make any remarks to him? A.—Yes, I asked him if it were possible she had written it, and he said, "Can't you read?"

Once at Her House.

Q.—Did he ever tell you he was present at her house any time? A.—Yes, one night he was there, he said.

Q.—Did he tell you what had happened? A.—He said Mr. Dennis went up the front stairs and he went up the back stairs and sat there.

Q.—Did he say what kind of a time they had? A.—Yes, he said they had a good time.

Q.—What did he do to help things along? A.—He said he sent Mr. Dennis out for a couple of bottles of champagne.

Q.—Did he ever show you any other letters? A.—He showed me some he said were from her, but I don't know whether they were or not.

Q.—Did he ever tell about meeting her outside of Unbridge? A.—He said he had her out for a couple of hours driving at Sunderland.

Received Many Letters.

Frank W. Hurd, mail carrier, stated that a week before the fire McLachlan gave him a letter addressed to Miss Nix at Sunderland.

"Every Friday night for quite a while he used to be putting letters on the train," said Mr. Hurd. "He put them on the train himself, so I don't know."

Other brief witnesses were Thomas Palmer and Mrs. Mary Horne, who testified similarly as to the inquiry.

This concluded the case and Mr. Cook announced that he would not call any witnesses in reply. "I submit there is absolutely nothing in the evidence to connect the prisoner with the death of his wife or setting fire to the house. Therefore he ought to be released, and the investigation terminated here and now."

"I regret I cannot agree with the counsel for the defendant," said the magistrate. "I am not acting as a judge, and I have no doubt in my mind that the evidence demands that the prisoner be committed for trial at the next assizes."

No Trial Till Spring.

McLachlan was then asked to stand up, and the charge was read to him. He was asked if he had anything to say, and his counsel replied, "No."

McLachlan then had a final talk with his counsel, and afterwards taken to the Bascom House, where a few belongings were packed up. Later on in the afternoon he was taken to Whiteby jail, where he will remain till the spring assizes, when the final trial will take place.

AQUEDUCT 300 FEET BELOW NEW YORK CITY

Must Be Bored for Twenty Miles Through Solid Rock.

New York, Nov. 25.—Proposals for one of the most remarkable pieces of engineering work ever undertaken were placed before the New York board of estimates today. The plans involved the expenditure of nearly $3,000,000 for the building of a subterranean aqueduct 300 feet below the streets of the city for the purpose of distributing the water supply which in a few years will be available from the great Catskill reservoir.

The aqueduct as proposed will be 15 feet in diameter for the greater part of its 20-mile stretch, and will be bored through solid rock. It will run from the city's northern limits southward under Central Park and beneath the great business districts of lower Manhattan, then under the East River, to Brooklyn, Williamsburg, Queens and Staten Island. The present local systems of water mains will be connected with the new aqueduct.

JOHN M'KENZIE ALLOWED TO GO

Magistrate Tries Once Again to Reform a Drunkard.

Magistrate Love made a bargain this morning with John McKenzie, a young man who has been appearing very often for drunkenness, to the effect that if he appears in court again inside of a month, that he is to go to the central jail for a long term. McKenzie has for some time shown a decided tendency to join the Sons of Rest, and to spend his time around saloons.

"Do you think you can go to work?" asked the court.

"Yes," said McKenzie.

"I don't want you to say that unless you mean it," said the magistrate. "If you come up again this winter I am going to send you to the Central. It is up to you now whether you will continue the slave of drink or be as decent a man as you might be."

McKenzie was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

M. C. R. EMPLOYEES UNDER ARREST

Charged With Stealing From Cars at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 25.—Homer Woodley, Ernest Finlayson, R. S. Gurney, John Kerr and Chester Lawson, all employees of the M. C. R., were arrested here today on their charge. They were arraigned before the magistrate and committed to the 30th in $2,000 bail each.

They are accused of stealing from cars in the yard.

ERUPTIONS AT TENERIFFE.

Santa Cruz, Teneriffe, Nov. 24.—The volcanic eruptions continued with increasing violence today. The great stream of lava flowing toward Santa Cruz is moving more rapidly. It threatened great damage throughout the valley of Santa Cruz, where many people have already suffered by the destruction of their homes and the laying waste of their land. Two streams of lava from neighboring craters united at the base of the volcano, and the stream is proceeding at the rate of 2,500 feet 24 hours.

AGED KEMPTVILLE LADY BURNED TO DEATH

Kemptonville, Nov. 25.—Miss Louise Shaver, an aged resident, was burned to death here this afternoon. Miss Shaver resided with her niece, Miss Rutland, and while left alone in the house, in some unaccountable manner, the aged lady's clothes caught fire. Her cries alarmed a neighbor, who entered the house and called to Mrs. Joshua Purcell. Mr. Purcell found the woman in flames. He smothered the fire, but it was too late. Miss Shaver, dying an hour later.

COMMISSION APPEASES PITCHFORK BRIGADES

Toronto, Nov. 25.—The pitchfork brigades in the Niagara peninsula have thrown away their traditions, signed a treaty of peace, and scattered to their homes.

The peace arbitration of the hydro electric commission has done its work, and even Mr. Eli Laue, who was the hero of an onslaught with barnyard weapons, has agreed to allow the towers to cross his farm, and within a week, it is expected, the work will be completed in that district.

THE FIRST DIVISION IN THE COMMONS

Measure to Restrict Appeals to the Supreme Court Defeated in House.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—Mr. Lancaster's bill to amend the railway act came up for second reading today. The first of these proposals to make clear that the railway commission and it alone shall have the right to adjudicate as to the kind of contract to be made between railways and shippers.

To illustrate his meaning he specified the case of a man who had shipped a consignment of horses valued at $16,- 000. The railway refused to accept them unless the value of only $1,200.
The shipper had to accept this. The horses were destroyed in transit and the shipper could only collect damages on the $1,200. He sued for the larger amount, but the Ontario court of appeal held that the form of contract was sufficiently like the authorized contract to be legal. The point involved is the practice of parties contracting out of damages in return for a lower rate. Mr. Lancaster seeks to obtain for the shipper power to choose whether he can pay the higher rate and have full recourse for damages in case of loss, or the lower rate for partial liability. The member for Lincoln wants the railway commission to be the only court which can pass on such matters. Hon. Mr. Graham consented to the second reading.

The second bill is intended to reduce the number of appeals from the railway commission to the supreme court. It would restrict the time within which appeals can be taken to one month,
and also confine appeals to doubtful
questions of law.

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth was unavailable to the bill, and entered into a discussion upon the general question of appeals. He did not think that the judgment of lawyers would support anything approaching the abolition of the supreme court. He admitted that appeals gave a great advantage to the wealthy, but he was not sure that that advantage should be taken away. The bill was sent to the railway committee.

Mr. Lancaster's third bill was thrown out after a vote had been taken.—The first of the session. The Government mustered 57, and the Opposition 55, giving a majority of 24. This bill sought to free municipalities from paying any level crossings unless there was an agreement between the company and the corporation approved of by the railway board.

Mr. Graham's chief argument against the bill was that the present act, which was passed last year, should be given a chance to work out.

—What a Commercial Traveller Knows About Intemperance" will be Evangelist Belcher's subject Sunday night at the York Street Mission. Mr.

meeting of the present season.

Consecration Next Sunday.
The consecration of the Rev. Wm. C.
White, B. D., bishop-elect of the diocese of Hong Kong, is to take place in St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, on St. Andrew's Day, Tuesday, Nov. 30, at 11 a.m. The following bishops will take part in the consecration: Archbishop Matheson, primate of all Canada, the Bishops of Niagara, Ontario, Huron, Toronto and Montreal.

Lower Four Won.
The second competition of the Latin series given by the Latin master, Mr.
Mooney, was held in one of the lower assembly rooms of the Collegiate, between ten boys from Lower IV, and ten from Lower III. Lower IV secured the highest percentage, 81, while Lower III, took 65 per cent. Out of the 45 dictated sentences, James Slater, Lower IV, had 44 correct. Wallace Shoshen-berg and L. Shoshenbottom, both of Lower IV, had 43 correct.

A Plumbing Inspector.
A recent issue of the Plumber and Steamfitter of Toronto contains the information that Hamilton may appoint a plumbing inspector. It will be remembered that some time ago that journal declared that the plumbing in Hamilton and London was extremely bad, and advocated that an inspector be appointed, and a bylaw governing the matter of plumbing. Nothing was done here, but it is quite likely that some action will be taken here next year.

Condition Critical.

The condition of Mr. William Wil-recently in an accident, is still very critical at Victoria Hospital, and shows little change. Miss Mary Ralph,

MOORE-WHITE

Interesting Event at Home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. White, Dutton.

One of the smartest weddings ever seen in Dutton was solemnized by Rev.
James Malcolm at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edward White, when their only daughter, Nina May, was married to Mr. Arthur James Moore, of Hamilton, on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 24.
The drawing-room was decorated with a profusion of chrysanthemums, ferns and pansies for the occasion, and at 4 o'clock the bride entered with her father, preceded by little Helen. Price and Miss Muriel Drake. Miss Hattie Drake presided at the piano, and the bride appeared in a more handsome than ever in rich white duchess satin, the corsage having a square of white muslin and baby Irish lace with draperies of rose point lace falling down the skirt from the bodice. A small wreath of orange blossoms was arranged with an exquisite veil of delicate tulle, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and lily of the valley. She also wore a handsome pearl necklace, the gift of her groom.

The maid of honor, Miss Muriel Drake, wore a beautiful gown of old rose satin,
with new draped effect, lace yoke, embroided in gold. She also carried pink roses. The little flower girl was Miss Helen Price, in frock of dainty white, embroidered mull, and she carried a basket of sweet peas and maiden hair-floss.

The groom's gift to the maid of honor was a pearl and amethyst pendant, and to the flower girl, a gold bracelet.

The best man was Mr. Fred. Moore, brother of the groom.

Mrs. White wore dress of pale blue messaline satin with garniture of jet. Mrs. Moore, mother of the bride, looked well in a gown of wistaria silk velv.

Dejeuner was served and later Mr. and Mrs. Moore left for the west. The bride's going-away dress was of tulle, broad cloth and becoming beaver hat to match.
The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly gifts.

PARKS COMMISSIONER STRONGLY RECOMMENDED

City Engineer Graydon Believes a Man Should be Appointed to Trim Trees on Streets.

City Engineer Graydon, at the meeting of the board of works last evening, recommended the appointment of a parks commissioner to take charge of the trimming of trees for fur-hydro-electric wires. He pointed out that it would take a commissioner two months to trim the trees for the city line and also the London Electric.
The expense, of course, should be charged up to the hydro-electric and the London Electric Company.

"I thought that at the last meeting of the committee we moved that you name a man," said Ald. Saunders.
"No, you did not," answered Mr.
Graydon. "I want to do was to report, and I have done so."
"We had better send the communication to the council," said Ald. Rose.
"We must care to act on it tonight."
He moved to that effect, and it was carried.

Mr. Graydon's Letter.

Mr. Graydon's report was as follows:
Nov. 25, 1909.

Chairman and Members of No. 2 Committee:
Dear Sirs,—In reference to the trimming of trees on the city streets by the erection of the hydroelectric poles, I would recommend that you appoint a thoroughly capable man, well skilled in such work to take charge of it.

The hydro-electric poles on some streets are on the same line as the London Electric poles, and on other streets are on a different but parallel line. The first named poles are about 10 feet shorter than the latter, and therefore, the trees will have to be trimmed both below and above for both lines; and on such streets that the hydro-electric poles are close to the other poles, the line of the trees near the street will all have to be cut back for the hydro-electric wires and cut on top for the London
Electric wires.

I foresee that when this work is commenced you will have grave protests, and, doubtless, much litigation from the property owners throughout nearly the entire city, as it appears to me that a vast number of the trees will be ruined in appearance at least,
if not altogether, when they are trimmed to give clearance to all these wires, and it is for this reason, you should select a man well versed in forestry and possessing tact and diplomacy to take charge of the work, as he might be able to save many trees and trim to the greatest advantage and least possible injury to the trees and detract to their appearance.

This work will involve a large expenditure which must be borne by the hydro-electric department, as No. 2 committee have no money for such work. It will require, at least a superintendent, two men and a team steadily for some three or four months to get over the city. The London Electric Company should pay for any trimming done in connection with their wires.

I believe that the appointment of a parks, competent man such as the late Mr. Pearce, would be in the best interests of the city, as there is lot of work for him all the year around.
The work the late Mr. Pearce performed during his short tenure of office did much to improve in many respects. I am, very obedient servant,
C. W. Graydon.

GREAT INCREASE IN NATURALIZED ALIENS

Number in the Northwest More Than Doubles Previous Year.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—The report of the secretary of state for the last fiscal year was tabled in the House of Commons today. It says that the number of charters issued under the companies act during 1908 and 1909 was 298. The total capitalization of new companies for 1908 was $1,232,937, and the capitalization of existing companies was increased by $72,293,- 000, which is more than double that of the largest previous year and within some eleven millions of the total additional capitalization of old companies in the last nine years from 1900, which amounted to $181,617,875,
which is only exceeded by that of the year 1906.

The report states that the number of naturalized aliens mostly in the farming section of the country was more than double that of the previous year, whilst the record of cases re-admission to British nationality indicates a fresh activity in the field of re-naturalization.

During the year 1908, 25,731 persons were naturalized. Of these 715 were readmitted to British nationality. Of those naturalized last year 9,999 were from the United States, 2,962 from Austria, 2,046 from Russia, 1,852 from Italy, 1,083 from Galicia, 805 from Sweden, 520 from France, 550 from Hungary, 585 from Germany, 444 from Norway, 439 from Japan, 375 from China, 328 from Finland, 318 from Belgium, and 187 from Iceland. This makes a grand total of 114,135 persons registered as naturalized British subjects in Canada.
