M'CURDY ON THE STAND

Extravagant Claim of Counsel James M. Beck Disproved.

Witness Centre of Violent Demonstrations of Disapprobation—Would Have Been Committed If Information Refused Could Not Have Been Got Elsewhere—Buys Agitation in Favor of Policyholders Off.

New York, Oct. 18.—Testimony in the insurance investigation which was resumed yesterday after a week's adjournment of the Legislative Committee, taken before the death last week of S. Fred Nixon, Speaker of the Assembly, was most exciting throughout the entire day, and only the repeated threats of Senator Armstrong, chairman of the committee, to clear the room, prevented violent demonstrations of disapprobation of the witness, who was Richard A. McCurdy, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. As it was, however, there were leers at several periods of the day's testimony that temporarily interrupted the testimony. These came when Mr. Hughes, the counsel for the committee, asked questions that Mr. McCurdy was reluctant to answer, or evaded.

Before the witness was called James McKeen, associate counsel to the committee, put in evidence for the records, a statement of the assets of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. and of the Bank of England, France and Germany. Mr. McCurdy, counsel for the Mutual Life Insurance Co., claimed last Tuesday before the committee that the assets of the Mutual Life exceeded the combined assets of the Banks of England, France and Germany. By cable Mr. McCurdy said he had ascertained the combined assets of those institutions where $2,225,574,725, while those of the Mutual Life were $440,978,371. Further, said Mr. McCurdy, he had found the assets of the Bank of Germany to be $30,000 per annum, and that of the chief governor of the Bank of England to be $10,000. Mr. McCurdy received $150,000 a year. He had been unable to ascertain the salary of the president of the Bank of France.

Getting at the Press. In Mr. McCurdy's testimony yesterday it was disclosed that the Mutual Life employed a literary bureau to send out to the press of the country notices that were of benefit to the company. It came out when a voucher for the payment of $2,500 to Joseph Howard, Jr., in 1904, was produced, McCurdy explained that Howard was a newspaper correspondent and that his professional services consisted in syndicating news stories. He paid Howard about $2,500 a year for these services.

Witness Didn't Know. An attempt was made to obtain from McCurdy the reason for reducing the dividends on policies as the business increased and the assets piled up. To all the questions on this matter, the witness said he was not fortified with the information required. When the information himself, Mr. Hughes started on another line of inquiry. Later in the day, Chairman Armstrong explained that since the information desired could be obtained by another source, it was agreeable to the committee to let McCurdy remain silent. Had he, however, been directed to answer and knowing the information refused, steps would have been taken to indict him for a misdemeanor.

The Legal Expenses. The legal expenses were again recurred to and vouchers for the payment of various sums were read. It was brought out that Wm. Barnes, Sr., of Albany, had appeared before the committee in Albany last winter and had received $1,000 from the New York Life. Later it appeared from a letter to McCurdy from Barnes, Jr., that Barnes, Sr., received an annual retainer to the Mutual Life.

Agitation Bought Off. A voucher in 1902 for $10,000, payable to T. H. Bowles, was explained by McCurdy as partial settlement of a suit, Bowles, formerly general agent in Milwaukee, had brought against the company. When it came Bowles' turn to have his business taken over by the company, under the policy of the company to assume all general agencies, Bowles wrote a letter to the president, which he termed "insubordination," and dismissed the writer. Later Bowles agitated a policyholders' crusade against the company, and McCurdy said the suit was settled to end the agitation.

Protection in Wisconsin. Concerning a payment of $5,000 to Wm. A. Fricke, a former insurance commissioner of Wisconsin, McCurdy testified that this payment was made after the receipt of a letter from Charlton T. Lewis, saying that Fricke would accept a retainer "to see that the interests of the Mutual Life should come to no harm" in that state. McCurdy authorized the payment.

Mr. McCurdy will be a witness again to-day.

Italian Trackman Killed. Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 18.—An Italian trackman, whose name is said to be Martin, met a horrible death on the street railway yesterday morning. A heavy construction car was backing rapidly along Portage road, with a gang of trackmen on board. Some horseplay was going on among the men, and in some way Martin tripped and fell off, right in front of the car. He was run over and badly mangled.

ACCIDENT MAY PROVE FATAL

Herbert Russell Struck by Michigan Central Train at Charing Cross

Was Driving With His Sister When Horse Ran Away—He Now Lies in St. Joseph's Hospital in a Critical Condition

What may prove to be a fatal accident occurred yesterday afternoon at 3:30, at the Michigan Central crossing, Charing Cross, when Herbert Russell, a 14-year-old lad, was struck by a fast passenger train. His left leg was broken and he received such internal injuries that he now lies in St. Joseph's Hospital in a very critical condition.

The boy, who is the son of Henry Russell, third concession, Raleigh, was driving out from town, accompanied by his sister, who is some years his senior. On nearing the railway crossing of the Michigan Central on the Gravel road, the horse became frightened and both the occupants of the buggy jumped. Both caught the horse, but the young lady was unable to hold on. The animal dragged the boy on to the track, when it turned down the track away from the rapidly approaching train. As the horse, with the boy clinging to the front of the train, struck them, wedging them between the cars and the guard fence. The boy was thrown some distance, with the result above mentioned. The buggy was totally demolished, but the horse escaped injury.

It should be a strange thing that the boy should be so badly, perhaps fatally, injured, the buggy wrecked, while the horse escaped without injury. Dr. J. W. Rathford was summoned. He found the boy's injuries of such a nature that he ordered his being brought to the hospital. The unfortunate young fellow's condition this morning is very critical.

BIG FAIR

Second Day at Ridgetown—Races a Feature—Jockey Hurt

Ridgetown, Oct. 17. The second day of the big Ridgetown Fair brought out about four thousand spectators. The exhibits in every department were splendid, and the displays of agricultural implements were away ahead of previous years.

The races were keenly contested, and were won as follows: Mile run—King Crane, 1; Tholan 2; Dutch Frigate, 3; Glendago, Burley Bob, Hindo Prince and Kingsford also ran.

240 trot or pace—David K., 1; Peter Miller, 2; Dan H., 3. In the running event Hindo Prince, who was leading in the second heat, bolted on the last corner, throwing Jockey Turner over a top buggy tied to the side of the grounds. The rider was unconscious for some time, but recovered and was able to walk about the grounds to-night.

SUDDEN DEATH

Miss Mary Ellen Doyle—A Popular Young Chatham Girl was Ill Only Three Days

A very sad and untimely death occurred at seven o'clock last evening when Mary Ellen, daughter of Thos. Doyle, 7th concession, Raleigh, passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital after only three days' illness.

The deceased young lady was for over two years bookkeeper in the hardware store of Peter Cunningham and worked until Saturday noon. Sunday morning she was removed to the hospital with a severe attack of typhoid fever, from which death resulted last night. She was in her nineteenth year.

Before entering the employ of Mr. Cunningham she was for some time a student at the Canada Business College where, by her zeal and untiring efforts, she was singularly successful and her sudden demise has come as a shock not only to her parents and relatives, but to her many friends in the city.

Besides her parents she leaves two brothers, George, of Delray, Mich., and Arthur, stenographer at the College, and two younger sisters at home to mourn her sad death.

The funeral will be held Friday morning at 8:30 from the family residence to St. Joseph's church and thence to St. Anthony's cemetery.

$ 2,000,000

Mr. Joseph Murphy, who plays here at the Grand on Monday next with a very large company in "Kerry Gow," is worth over two million dollars. The most of this money was made out of his two famous productions of "Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rhue" since 1875, when Mr. Murphy first produced these plays in San Francisco. After this season Mr. Murphy will likely retire, but the play will go on. Mr. Leo Doone, who will play Raymond Drew in "Kerry Gow" here Monday, will take Mr. Murphy's place after 1905.

STEEL AND IRON DUTIES

Secret Movement Begun by Railways For Modification.

United States Steel Rail Manufacturers Said to Be Encouraging the Effort of the Canadian Railways in Hopes of Waxing Fat on Big Contracts to Be Let for New Construction Work—Rail Contracts Worth $34,000,000.

New York, Oct. 18.—American steel manufacturers say that the leading Canadian railroads have begun a secret movement to have the Canadian tariff on steel and iron modified at the forthcoming session of the Canadian Parliament.

The increasing demand for iron and steel in Canada, due chiefly to the proposed tremendous development through extensions and new construction by the principal Canadian railroad systems is far beyond the productive capacity of the blast furnaces and steel mills of the Dominion.

The roads want a free hand in the purchase of steel rails, track material, bridges and structural steel and other small sections, hence their interest in the matter.

Naturally the leading steel interests in this country are encouraging the efforts of the Canadian roads. If a liberal modification could be secured the United States Steel Corporation and its associate steel makers would have a chance to secure the major portion of the contracts for materials for the new construction estimated at not less than $100,000,000, and equipment contracts figured at $25,000,000.

The rail contracts will be worth, gross, about $34,000,000.

GOOD-BYE TO SIR WILLIAM.

Employees in Postoffice Department Bid Him Farewell.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon Sir William Mulock said farewell to the employees of the Postoffice Department, the mail service, and the Labor Department.

Sir William, leaving over his old desk, which he shared with the Premier, replied to the farewell addresses which were presented to him. The address from the Postoffice Department referred to the postal reforms which Sir William accomplished, as well as placing the Department on a self-sustaining basis.

"In our dealings with you," said the address, "we found you kindly and considerate. You have worked constantly for the betterment of the corner which he shared with the Premier, and the Postoffice Department, but of the service at large."

CANADA'S ALIEN LAW.

Appeal From Judge Anglin's Decision Before Privy Council.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, solicitor general for England to represent the Dominion Government before the Privy Council. The cases in which Mr. Lemieux will act are the appeal from Judge Anglin's decision on the alien labor law and the appeal of leading railway companies from the Federal act of last session, providing that railway employees cannot covenant themselves out of the right to recover compensation for injuries sustained in their occupation.

Makes Northern Passage.

New Bedford, Mass., Oct. 18.—The whaling schooner Era arrived in port Monday from Hudson Bay. She reports that the Norwegian Arctic exploring expedition was successful in making the northwest passage. Capt. Comer had received a letter he had from Commander Amundsen of the ship Gjoa, who was at that time (April 22) in King William's Land. The natives reported that the Norwegians had made the passage, and the commander of the Gjoa would work her way out to Behring Strait during the summer.

Not Sold to Yankee Trust.

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—Rumors were current on the market yesterday that J. Y. Griffin & Co., the big local packer firm, had been bought out by Swift & Co. of Chicago. Mr. Griffin, however, denies the accuracy of the report, but admitted that his firm had recently sold a large block of stock to an American firm, though not to the Swifts. This statement will allay the anxiety of local men who feared that the American beef trust had gained control of western Canada prices.

Woman Burnt to Death.

Alvinston, Oct. 18.—A sad accident occurred last evening, causing the death of Mrs. Burford, wife of Mark Burford, a farmer living about three miles west of Alvinston. Mrs. Burford was lighting a fire with coal oil when her clothing took fire, and she had rushed out into the yard, where shortly after her husband found her lying in the yard, her clothes burning and life extinct. Mrs. Burford leaves a husband, a son and two daughters.

French Visitors See King.

London, Oct. 18.—Sixty members of the Paris Municipal Council who are now guests of the London Municipal Councilors, were received in audience by King Edward in the throne-room, Buckingham Palace, yesterday. Foreign Secretary Lansdowne and Ambassador Cambon were present. The King shook hands with each visitor and exchanged a few words of greeting.

ARE PREPARING RECEPTION

School Board are Using Every Means to Make Dr. Pyne's Visit a Memorable One

The Hon. Minister Will Visit Schools—Open Central School Fair and Present Planet Junior Medals

A special meeting of the Public School Board was held last evening to make arrangements for the reception to be tendered Hon. Dr. Pyne, Ontario's Minister of Education, who comes to Chatham to open the Central School Fair, and present the Planet Junior medals which were won by the successful writers in the recent essay competition. The Minister's visit is being made a special event in Chatham and every preparation is being made to give him a royal reception.

There were present at the meeting of the Board last evening Chairman Morley and Messrs. Heyward, Paxton, Lenfestey, Robertson, McArthur and J. W. Plewes.

The following gentlemen were appointed a route committee to see that complete arrangements are made to have the Minister visit every one of Chatham's educational institutions: Mr. Heyward (chairman), Dr. McKeough, Mr. Robertson and Mr. Plewes. The following route was decided upon:

The Minister will arrive in the city at one o'clock and an hour's adjournment will be made to allow him time to have lunch. At half past two he will visit at the different schools, opening at the Central, then the Separate school, the Collegiate Institute, McKeough school and the Ursuline Academy.

The reception committee appointed consisted of the following gentlemen: W. J. Twolvey, Inspector of Parks, the Public School Board, J. W. Plewes, J. E. Stevens, chairman of the Separate School Board, W. G. Richards, chairman of the High School Board, S. Stephenson, Dr. J. L. Bray, H. Clements, M. P., P. H. Dwyer, M. P., P., and A. B. McCoig, M. P., P.

Several enquiries concerning the Central School Fair have been received from different outside points. Some of these letters, including one from Mr. Jarvis, manager of the Merchants' Bank at Galt, were read at the meeting. Mr. Jarvis will be invited to attend the Fair. Other places where enquiries have been made from include Barrie, St. Catharines, Peterborough and St. Thomas. There is no doubt that the Central School Fair will be one of the biggest events held in Chatham for some time, and those in charge are doing all in their power to make it a success in every way.

GOT THE MONEY

A Stranger in Chatham Visits His Brother and Incidentally Collects Outstanding Accounts for Him

A very interesting and amusing incident happened yesterday which put a local merchant in rather a peculiar and ridiculous position. A man, who is a total stranger to Chatham, arrived in the city to pay a social call to his brother, who is the manager of one of Chatham's well-known and prosperous industries. There is a very strong resemblance between the two brothers, in fact, one could easily be mistaken for the other, and when the stranger walked down King St. alone yesterday morning he was surprised to meet so many people who evidently knew him and spoke to him.

He desired to make a small purchase and ordered a King St. store with this end in view. He had no sooner got past the door than the merchant, who mistook the man for his brother—whom he owed an amount of money—approached him in the most apologetic manner, and the following conversation ensued:

Merchant—Good morning, Mr. —. I am awfully sorry, but I haven't got all of the amount of that bill I owe you, but I can give you a check for part of it.

Merchant—(obligingly)—Oh that's all right. Just pay me what you can. The merchant drew out the check, thanked what he thought was his benighted creditor, and smilingly bowed him out of the store.

The stranger walked to his brother's office, explained his joke, and produced the check as proof, and, of course, the merchant was allowed in so that he could laugh, too.

The explanation of the merchant is better expressed in the words of Ed. Sandys—the stranger was "more like his brother than his brother was."

M'CURDY ON THE STAND

Extravagant Claim of Counsel James M. Beck Disproved.

Witness Centre of Violent Demonstrations of Disapprobation—Would Have Been Committed If Information Refused Could Not Have Been Got Elsewhere—Buys Agitation in Favor of Policyholders Off.

New York, Oct. 18.—Testimony in the insurance investigation which was resumed yesterday after a week's adjournment of the Legislative Committee, taken because of the death last week of S. Fred Nixon, speaker of the Assembly, was most exciting throughout the entire day, and only the repeated threats of Senator Armstrong, chairman of the committee, to clear the room, prevented violent demonstrations of disapprobation of the witness, who was Richard A. McCurdy, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. As it was, however, there were jeers at several periods of the day's testimony that temporarily interrupted his money. These came when Mr. Hughes, the counsel for the committee, asked questions that Mr. McCurdy was reluctant to answer, or evaded.

A Comparison.
Before the witness was called James McKee, associate counsel to the committee, put in evidence for the records, a statement of the assets of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. and of the Banks of England, France and Germany. James M. Beck, counsel for the Mutual Life Insurance Co., claimed last Tuesday before the committee that the assets of the Mutual Life exceeded the combined assets of the Banks of England, France and Germany. By cable Mr. McKee said he had ascertained the combined assets of those institutions were $2,225,574,725, while those of the Mutual Life were $440,978,371. Further, said Mr. McKee, he had found the salary of the president of the Bank of Germany to be $100,000 per annum, and that of the chief governor of the Bank of England to be $10,000. Mr. McCurdy received $150,000 a year. He had been unable to ascertain the salary of the president of the Bank of France.

Getting at the Press.
In Mr. McCurdy's testimony yesterday it was disclosed that the Mutual Life employed a literary bureau to send out to the press of the country notices that were of benefit to the company. It came out when a voucher for the payment of $2,500 to Joseph Howard, Jr., in 1904, was produced, McCurdy explained that Howard was a newspaper correspondent, and that his professional services consisted in syndicate news stories. He paid Howard about $2,500 a year for these services.

Witness Didn't Know.
An attempt was made to obtain from McCurdy the reason for reducing the dividends on policies as the business increased and the assets piled up. To all the questions on this matter, the witness said he was not fortified with the information required. When McCurdy would not offer the information on another line of inquiry. Later in the day, Chairman Armstrong explained that since the information desired could be obtained by another source, it was agreeable to the committee to let McCurdy remain silent. Had he, however, been directed to answer and knowing the information refused, steps would have been taken to indict him for a misdemeanor.

The Legal Expenses.
The legal expenses were again recurred to and vouchers for the payment of various sums were read. It was brought out that Wm. Barnes, Sr., of Albany, had appeared before the committee in Albany last winter and had received $1,000 from the New York Life. Later it appeared from a letter to McCurdy from Barnes, Jr., that Barnes, Sr., received an annual retainer to the Mutual Life.

Agitation Bought Off.
A voucher in 1902 for $10,000, payable to T. H. Bowles, was explained by McCurdy as partial settlement of a suit, Bowles, formerly general agent in Milwaukee, had brought against the company. When it came Bowles' turn to have his business taken over by the company, under the policy of the company to assume all general agencies, Bowles wrote a letter to the president, which he termed "insubordination," and dismissed the writer. Later Bowles agitated a policyholders' crusade against the company, and McCurdy said the suit was settled to end the agitation.

Protection in Wisconsin.
Concerning a payment of $5,000 to Wm. A. Fricke, a former insurance commissioner of Wisconsin, McCurdy testified that this payment was made after the receipt of a letter from Charles T. Lewis, saying that Fricke would accept a retainer "to see that the interests of the Mutual Life should come to go harm" in that state. McCurdy authorized the payment.

Mr. McCurdy will be a witness again to-day.

What may prove to be a fatal accident occurred yesterday afternoon at 3.30, at the Michigan Central crossing, Charing Cross, when Herbert Russell, a 14-year-old lad, was struck by a fast eastbound train. Both caught the horse, but the young lady was unable to hold on. The animal dragged the boy on to the track, when it turned down the track away from the rapidly approaching train. As the horse, with the boy clinging to the bridle, got onto the cattle guard the train struck them, weighing them between the cars and the guard fence. The boy was thrown some distance, with the result above mentioned. The buggy was totally demolished, but the horse escaped unhurt.

It is feared that the thing that the boy should be so badly, perhaps fatally, injured, the buggy wrecked, while the horse escaped without injury.

Dr. J. W. Rutherford was summoned. He found the boy's injuries of such a nature that he ordered his being brought to the hospital.

The unfortunate young fellow's condition this morning is very critical.

Besides her parents she leaves two brothers, George, of Delray, Mich., and Arthur, stenographer at the College, and two younger sisters at home to mourn her sad death.

The funeral will be held Friday morning at 8.30 from the family residence to St. Joseph's church and thence to St. Anthony's cemetery.

$ 2,000,000

Mr. Joseph Murphy, who plays here at the Grand on Monday next with a very large company in "Kerry Gow," is worth over two million dollars. The most of this money was made out of his two famous productions of "Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rhue" since 1875, when Mr. Murphy first produced these plays in San Francisco. After this season Mr. Murphy will likely retire, but the plays will go on. Mr. Allen Doone, who will play Raymond Drew in "Kerry Gow" here Monday, will take Mr. Murphy's place after 1905.

Secret Movement Begun by Railways For Modification.

United States Steel Rail Manufacturers Said to Be Encouraging the Effort of the Canadian Railways in Hopes of Waxing Fat on Big Contracts to Be Let for New Construction Work—Rail Contracts Worth $34,000,000.

New York, Oct. 18.—American steel manufacturers are taking the leading Canadian railroads have begun a secret movement to have the Canadian tariff on steel and iron modified at the forthcoming session of the Canadian Parliament.

The increasing demand for iron and steel in Canada, due chiefly to the proposed tremendous development through extensions and new construction by the principal Canadian railroad systems is far beyond the productive capacity of the blast furnaces and steel mills of the Dominion.

The roads want a free hand in the purchase of steel rails, track material, bridges and structural steel and steel for small sections, hence their interest in the matter.

Naturally the leading steel interests in this country are encouraging the efforts of the Canadian roads. If a liberal modification could be secured the United States Steel Corporation and its associate steel makers would have a chance to secure the major portion of the contracts for materials for the new construction estimated at not less than $100,000,000, and equipment contracts figured at $75,000,000.

The rail contracts will be worth, gross, about $34,000,000.

GOOD-BYE TO SIR WILLIAM.

Employees in Postoffice Department Bid Him Farewell.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon Sir William Mulock said farewell to the employees of the Postoffice Department, the mail service, and the Labor Department.

Sir William, leaning over his old desk, which he shared with the Premier, replied to the farewell addresses which were presented to him. The address from the Postoffice Department referred to the postal reforms which Sir William accomplished, as well as placing the Department on a self-sustaining basis.

"In our dealings with you," said the address, "we found you kindly and considerate. You have worked constantly for the betterment of the condition of the employees, not only of the Postoffice Department, but of the service at large."

CANADA'S ALIEN LAW.

Appeal From Judge Anglin's Decision Before Privy Council.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, solicitor general for England to represent the Dominion Government before the Privy Council. The cases in which Mr. Lemieux will act are the appeal from Judge Anglin's decision on the alien labor law and the appeal of leading railway companies from the Postal act of last session, providing that railway employees cannot covenant themselves out of the right to recover compensation for injuries sustained in their occupation.

Makes Northern Passage.

New Bedford, Mass., Oct. 18.—The whaling schooner Era arrived in port Monday from Hudson Bay. She reports that the Norwegian Arctic exploring expedition was successful in making the northwest passage. Capt. Corner has his statement on a letter he had from Commander Amundson of the sloop Gjoa, who was at that time (April 22) in King William's Land. The natives reported that the Norwegians had made the passage, and the commander, himself later sent word that the Gjoa would work her way out to Behring Strait during the summer.

Not Sold to Yankee Trust.

Winnipeg, Oct. 18.—Rumors were current on the market yesterday that J. Y. Griffin & Co., the big local packing firm, had been bought out by Swift & Co. of Chicago. Mr. Griffin, however, denies the accuracy of the report, but admitted that his firm had recently sold a large block of stock to an American firm, though not to the Swifts. This statement will allay the anxiety of local men who feared that the American beef trust had gobbled up the Griffin firm with a view to controlling western Canada prices.

Woman Burnt to Death.

Alvinston, Oct. 18.—A sad accident occurred last evening, causing the death of Mrs. Burford, wife of Mark Burford, a farmer living about three miles west of Alvinston. Mrs. Burford was lighting a fire with coal oil when her clothing took fire, and she had rushed out into the yard, where shortly after her husband found her lying in the yard, her clothes burning and life extinct. Mrs. Burford leaves a husband, a son and two daughters.

French Visitors See King.

London, Oct. 18.—Sixty members of the Paris Municipal Council who are now guests of the London Municipal Councilors, were received in audience by King Edward in the throne-room, Buckingham Palace, yesterday. Foreign Secretary Lansdowne and Ambassador Cambon were present. The King shook hands with each visitor and exchanged a few words of greeting.

ARE PREPARING RECEPTION

School Board are Using Every Means to Make Dr. Pyne's Visit a Memorable One

The Hon. Minister Will Visit Schools—Open Central School Fair and Present Planets Junior Medals

A special meeting of the Public School Board was held last evening to make arrangements for the reception to be tendered Hon. Dr. Pyne, Ontario's Minister of Education, who comes to Chatham to open the Central School Fair, and present the Planets Junior medals which were won by the successful writers in the recent essay competition. The Minister's visit is being made a special event in Chatham and every preparation is being made to give him a royal reception.

There were present at the meeting of the Board last evening Chairman Morley and Messrs. Heyward, Paxton, Lenfestey, Robertson, McArthur and J. W. Plewes.

The following gentlemen were appointed a route committee to see that complete arrangements are made to have the Minister visit every one of Chatham's educational institutions: Mr. Heyward (chairman), Dr. McKeough, Mr. Robertson and Mr. Plewes. The following route was decided upon:

The Minister will arrive in the city at one o'clock and an hour's adjournment will be made to allow him time to have lunch. At half past two he will visit at the different schools, opening at the Central, then the Separate school, the Collegiate Institute, McKeough school and the Ursuline Academy.

The reception committee appointed consisted of the following gentlemen: W. J. Twelvey, Inspector of Park Public School Board, J. W. Plewes, J. E. Stevens, chairman of the Separate School Board, W. G. Richards, chairman of the High School Board, S. Stephenson, Dr. J. L. Bray, H. S. Clements, Mr. H. B. Boyer, P. P. P., and A. B. McKeigh, M. P. P.

Several enquiries concerning the Central School Fair have been received from different outside points. Some of these letters, including one from Mr. Jarvis, manager of the Merchants' Bank at Galt, were read at the meeting. Mr. Jarvis will be invited to attend the Fair. Other places where enquiries have been made from include Barrie, St. Catharines, Petrolia and St. Thomas. There is no doubt that the Central School Fair will be one of the biggest events held in Chatham for some time, and those in charge are doing all in their power to make it a success in every way.

GOT THE MONEY

A Stranger in Chatham Visits His Brother and Incidentally Collects Outstanding Accounts for Him

A very interesting and amusing incident happened yesterday which put a local merchant in rather a peculiar and ridiculous position. A stranger here, arrived in the city to pay a social call to his brother, who is the manager of one of Chatham's well-known and prosperous industries. There is a very strong resemblance between the two brothers, in fact, one could be mistaken for the other, and when the stranger walked down King St. alone yesterday morning he was surprised to meet so many people who evidently knew him and spoke to him.

He desired to make a small purchase and entered a King St. store with this end in view. He had no sooner got past the door than the merchant, who mistook the man for his brother—whom he owed a large amount of money—proached him in the most apologetic manner, and the following conversation ensued:—

Merchant—Good morning, Mr. —. I am awfully sorry, but I haven't got all of the amount of that bill I owe you, but I can give you a check for part of it.

Masquerader (obligingly)—Oh that's all right. Just pay me what you can.

The merchant drew out the check, thanked what he thought was his long-lost brother, and smilingly bowed him out of the store.

The stranger walked to his brother's office, explained his joke, and produced the check as proof, and of course, the merchant was allowed in so that he could laugh, too.

The explanation of the merchant is better expressed in the words of Ed. Sandys—the stranger was "more like his brother than his brother was."

ABOUT APPEALS.

In New York a controversy has been raging over the important question whether angels should be represented in art as of the male or female gender. This controversy arose over the objections raised to a pair of angel figures which had been wrought by a sculptor for the new Episcopalian cathedral.

The controversy has extended to this country. We observe with regret that our friend Mr. Smiff, of the Bobaycon Independent, takes it for granted that nothing can be said in favor of the masculinity of angels.

Who ever heard of a male angel? A New York sculptor being employed to cut a couple of angels for a cathedral, as a matter of course made them feminine.

But why should Mr. Smiff and so many others assume that it must be artistic to represent an angel as a male? Let an appeal be taken from one class of artist to another.

The complete emptiness of the stomach during sleep adds greatly to the amount of emaciation, sleeplessness and general weakness so often met with. There is a perpetual change of tissues in the body, sleeping or waking, and the supply of nourishment ought to be somewhat continuous and food taken just before retiring, adds more tissue than is destroyed, and increased weight and vigor is the result.

PRINCE CHARLIE TO BE KING.

May Decline if Republican Sentiment in Norway is Too Strong. Christiania, Oct. 17.—King Oscar's official refusal of the offer of the Norwegian throne for a Prince of the house of Bernadotte is expected to-day.

The Republicans are making desperate efforts to secure a plebiscite. Last night they published a manifesto protesting against the election of a King and favoring a Republican form of Government.

In Government circles, however, it is declared that the question will be settled before the end of the present week.

TURNERVILLE.

We are glad to report that Thos. Buckingham, who has been very sick, is able to be around again. Luce Turner is all smiles these days. It's a son this time. The Lindsay Road choir will conduct the song service in the Shilo church, 11th concession, Chatham Township, next Sunday. The potato crop is very small this year. Thos. Buckingham lost one of his drivers last week. The other day, so they say, a little boy came to Robert Shaw's on Sunday. The Dawn Mills choir is expected to conduct the song services in the Lindsay Road church next Sunday night. Mrs. E. Paling, of Sombra Township, was visiting friends here on Sunday. Word has been received from the Northwest that J. D. Moir likes the West very much. Geo. Broton, of the Town Line, Chatham and Camden, found a fine silver watch in his melon patch. He says the owner can have the watch by calling for it and he will give a few melons with the watch. Hank Morgan has a large contract for hitching in the 4th concession, Chatham Township. James Stuart is fixing up his house. It looks as though James meant business. He says he won't batch it this winter if he can get a housekeeper. T. J. Shaw, our general merchant, is doing a rushing business these days.

HIGHGATE.

Quite a number from here took in Rodney Fair on Saturday last. The Epworth League social was a treat success. Proceeds nearly $50.

WEDDING STATIONERY Stationery and Cake Boxes can be had at the PLANET Office.

Mrs. Wrightman and children, of Windsor, are visiting at the Methodist parsonage here. Mr. and Mrs. Jenner, of Charing Cross, were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Anderson Fenton, over Sunday. John Simpson, John Tape, James Wise and Fred Bureheli, who have been out West for the past several months, returned home on Friday last. Station Agent Martin, of the P. M. R., here, visited last week in Springfield, O. Mr. and Mrs. Snowblin, of Blenheim, spent Saturday and Sunday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Reycraft. The Sunday School anniversary in connection with the Methodist church will be held next Sunday. The services are to be conducted by C. B. Keenleyside, of London. Mr. Garner, of Welland, spent a few days of last week with his niece, Mrs. J. W. McGregor, of this place. Lee Bros. won 22 firsts, 8 seconds, 3 diplomas and one silver medal on Short-horn cattle at the Wallacestown and Essex Fairs. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beaton spent Sunday at Zone. Mr. Eastman, of Sarnia, is spending a few days with his aunt, Mrs. Geo. A. Gosnell. Ed. Bury has purchased the old Huber property and is busy building. Too many people want to mount upward without getting down to work.

THIRTEEN AT TABLE.

The Sequel to a Dinner Party at the Home of Millais.

By some persons of nearly all nationalities the number 13 is regarded with superstitious fear. At Brighton, England, the town council has just granted permission to a household to change the number of her dwelling place from 13 to 12A, so many and diverse have been the his which the lady traces to the fatal number. Paris will not give the number for any of its houses. Parisians so hate the "thirteen party" for dinner that there is a class of professional diners called "quatorziennes," whose function it is to make the fourteenth of these symposia. The Turks so dislike it that the word is practically expunged from their language. The Italians will not even employ it in their varieties. The Italian gambler's horror of the number proceeds apparently from the fact that a thirteenth card in one of his packs bears the figure of death.

In England the superstition that one of a company of thirteen must die within the year is traced to the old calculation of the insurance offices that out of thirteen persons taken indiscriminately one will die within twelve months. Others trace the awe in which the figures are held to the last supper at which thirteen were present. Lord Lytton dealt with this aspect, remarking, "Some have carried it to the extent of disliking that number at all times, but the commoner form limits it to Friday." But the antipathy is older than Christianity. In the old Norse mythology the thirteen party was deemed unlucky because, at a banquet in Valhalla, Loki once appeared, making thirteen, and Balder was slain by the blind god Hoder at the instigation of the intruder.

In fostering this superstition the credulous find themselves in good company. The question was sprung upon a dinner party at the home of the famous artist Millais, where they suddenly found themselves thirteen strong. One of the company was horrified at the discovery. "The idea is," said Matthew Arnold, "that whoever leaves the table first will die within a year, so, with the permission of the ladies, will cheat the fates at once. I and these two fine, strong young lads will rise together, and I think our united constitutions will be able to withstand the assault of the reaper." They got up, and no more was thought about it.

Six months later Arnold died in the prime of life. One of the two men whom he had called upon to rise from the table with him was found shot dead in his bed in a New York hotel. The third did seem likely to outlive the year. He had gone to Australia for the benefit of his health. But for the homeward journey he took passage by the Quetta. And that ship foundered among the reefs of New Guinea.

He Lasted Well.

They were in the family portrait section of the gallery, and it seemed to Miss Goughly that her English visitor was deeply impressed. "Yes, these are all my ancestors," she said proudly. "Now, this is my great-great-grandfather, when he was a young man, of course. Isn't he handsome? My grandfather used to tell my mother that his grandfather—that's this one—was a splendid looking man as long as he lived and as popular with women as with men because he was such a hero. "Brave? I guess he was! Why, he never fought in a battle that he didn't lose an arm or a leg or something from being right in front of everybody! He was in twenty-three engagements!"

Japanese English.

Clarence Ludlow Brownell in his book, "The Heart of Japan," tells amusingly of some signs he saw in Japan on the shops of merchants who were bidding for English and American trade: "Barber to Shave Beard or to Dress Hair Away," "The Genuinely Pier Buy the Health for Drink," "Of smokes our tobacco is pressure to Our tongue and give the healthiness to Hers and Hees! Also All Peoples by It," "Covment and Pigment and Rammune Souda Sasupre Zinsibiyia Jinsjrael." This last means lemon soda, sarsaparilla, ginger beer and ginger ale.

The Ascent of Tree Sap.

The problem of the ascent of sap in trees, an English botanist points out, is yet unsolved. It appears that in the highest trees the total pressure would be nearly 100 atmospheres, and as we cannot suppose that leaves can exert so intense osmotic suction, the only theory at all probable is that the living cells exert some sort of pumping action in the wood.

Between Those Girls.

Miss Ascum—When Mr. Richley saw my photograph yesterday he said it was very pretty, didn't he? Come, now, honest? Miss Chellus—No; quite the reverse. He said it was a good likeness.

Economy.

Jenks—I've just given a hundred for this diamond ring for the missis. Jenks—It's a beauty! But isn't it rather—er—extravagant? Jenks—Not a bit. Think what it will save in gloves.

Nonsense Reasoning.

"He's a conventional sort of fellow." "Naturally." "Why so?" "He attends all the conventions."

Choose always the way that seems the best, however rough it may be, custom will render it easy and agreeable.

London Sunday Closing Bills. London had its troubles with Sunday closing laws when in 1855 there were riots caused by Lord Robert Grosvenor's bill to put down Sunday trading. A crowd hostile to the measure went to Hyde park "to see how the aristocrats kept the Sabbath," as a newspaper of that time put it. Carriages taking the afternoon drive were greeted with yells of "Go to church!" and with hooting that scared many horses into running away. A week later the police prohibited a meeting that was announced, but tens of thousands of people appeared, and there were vigorous struggles with the police. On the third Sunday pure rowdism supervened, footmen were assaulted, and windows were smashed wholesale through the aristocratic districts. Then the trouble died out, and so did the bill.

The St. Bernard Pass.

The examinations made at the Great St. Bernard show that the pass was not only used by foot passengers, but by horsemen in Roman times. It seems that it was a safer route in the time of Vitellius than until the last few years. Excavations demonstrate that there were two buildings, much farther apart than is the present road. There was a temple there, and some fifty votive tablets have been found. It must always have been a place of refuge, though often subjected to attack. Signs of violence are demonstrated by the fact that votive tablets have been discovered broken and thrown into the swamp below. It was in the eleventh century that St. Bernard of Menthon founded the modern hospice.

Often the wildest colt turns out to be the most valuable horse.

ARISTOCRATIC BLOOD. Is Noble Blood Better than Common Blood? BY DOCTOR VALENTINE.

It is often said that he has aristocratic blood in his veins which lifts him above the common herd and every one is impressed. However, a long line of aristocrats is not worth a pint of good, rich blood. A healthy father and mother, or a long line of healthy ancestors is much better than noble ancestors.

Strenuous blood is the thing, and that means plenty of red blood corpuscles. If the blood must be healthy, constitution, what is the best way to set about putting it into shape? Certainly we should not turn to some blood medicine or tonic which contains a great deal of alcohol, inasmuch as alcohol shrinks up the red blood corpuscles. In order to put the blood in the best condition we must eliminate the bacteria from the body in the best way possible. The kidneys and liver play an important part in this and must be urged to their utmost action to assist in carrying away the poisons in the blood. The only medicine we know of to do this in the best way and at the same time put the stomach in a healthy condition so that the digestive tract will take from the food what is needed to feed the blood, is an old remedy but a good one—it is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, it contains no alcohol and offers a reasonable and scientific method of treating the stomach and blood—and helps to keep the balance of health.

VALUE OF TRIFLES.

Results of Incidents in Careers of Well Known People.

Thorwaldsen, the great Dutch sculptor, after working for more than four months unrecognized in Rome, determined in despair to return home and lay down the sculptor's chisel forever. A chance error by a careless clerk in drawing his passport detained him twenty-four hours. During that interval of waiting Mr. Hope walked into the studio, admired his "Jason" in clay and aroused the despairing Dane's hope by ordering a copy in marble. Thorwaldsen unpacked his tools and never afterward in his long career lacked patronage.

Kachel, the great tragedienne, was when a child a street singer and as such might have passed into womanhood and old age had not a party of critics dining together chanced to hear her loud, clear voice beneath their window. They observed the child's wonderful face and eyes and in a kindly spirit proposed to her protectors to place her in the conservatory as a pupil. Sir Walter Raleigh would probably have remained out of favor with the court had Elizabeth on her walk to the Tower chanced to take a path less muddy. Every reader of history knows the story of how the gallant Sir Walter spread his cloak beneath the royal feet and was rewarded with his sovereign's smile and speedy restoration to favor. Potemkin, the favorite of Catherine II, and founder of the powerful Russian family which bears his name, would doubtless have remained an obscure soldier had not a trivial incident—a chance, in fact—changed his destiny. After Catherine had deposed her weak husband and herself assumed the scepter she was accustomed to parade the streets of St. Petersburg at the head of her troops. One day Potemkin noticed that her sword bore no knot. He boldly stepped forward, braving the knot for his insubordination, and offered his. The zarina accepted it and, struck by the handsome lieutenant, asked his name and regiment and if he would not like to serve her in the palace.

LOST WORKS OF ART.

Many Gems Destroyed Through Carelessness or Stupidity. The workman stumbled and his branny fist went through a splendid Everett Shinn pastel. "Dart it all!" said the pastel's owner, a millionaire collector. "Stupid people are always destroying works of art." He discharged the workman. Then, a little calmer, he resumed: "On New Bond street in London a Turner worth $60,000 was destroyed by a charwoman. The Turner was a water color drawing, and a painting in oils hung beside it. The owner pointed to the painting and said: "That picture is dusty. Rub a damp cloth over it." "But the charwoman by mistake rubbed her damp cloth over the water color, turning it into a blot, smudge, and thus one of the finest Turners disappeared from the world. "A boy shot a marble from a sling in Paris. The marble went through a window of the Luxembourg gallery and utterly destroyed a Meissonier worth $17,000. "A Macmennies statuette was stolen from a van in Boston, and some ignorant students on Commonwealth avenue stood it up and stoned it. "I brought from Japan on one occasion an ivory tusk that was carved from end to end with monkeys—over a hundred monkeys walking amicably together, holding one another's tails. The piece was fifteen century work, and it was valued easily at $7,000. Well, I dropped it out of a fifth story window one night after a petit souper. The better fragments are in that teak wood cabinet. "Through carelessness or stupidity many valuable works of art are destroyed."

The Chewing Puppy.

What household has not at some time had a puppy, and what woman has not been bothered by its chewing everything within reach? As soon as our puppies begin to want to chew anything we furnish them with a chewing stick, for the same reason that we give a baby a rubber ring. This stick is simply a part of a broom handle about ten inches in length. Every time he chews anything else he is punished and then given the stick, and he soon learns to chew that and nothing else. We had one puppy who would even whine for it if it was away he couldn't get it.

His Pay Was Raised.

Genius that may grow to great things must have been born in the office boy of whom the St. Louis Post-Dispatch tells this story: The "boss" was bending over a table looking at the directory. The new office boy slipped up quietly and put a note in his hand. The boss read: "Honored Sir—Your pants are ripped."

An Easy Method.

"Poor fellow! His doctor tells him the only thing that will cure him is a course of mud baths, and he can't afford to go to the mud springs." "But surely he can go into politics and let the mud come to him."

A Step Further.

Spinks—No, I never get angry. If a man calls me a liar I simply look down on him. Blinks—Well, if he was small enough for me to look down on I think I'd take a poke at him.

Those who have little are not the poor. The really poor are those who want more than they have.—Woman's Life.

Imperial Oxford Range. In the Imperial Oxford we have not only given to the women of Canada the most perfect baking and roasting range but we have also produced the most economical. The oven of the ordinary range is raised to a baking temperature by the direct heat of the fire on the side of the oven. To keep that oven at a sufficiently high temperature to bake or roast by, you must be continually poking the fire and adding fuel to it. As the oven of the Imperial Oxford Range is heated by our patented Diffusive Flue, the temperature of the oven remains steady until the baking is done, without the necessity of touching or adding fuel to the fire. This fact is easily demonstrated. If, when an Imperial Oxford is going, you were to stop the inlet of this flue in the bottom of the range you would find by the thermometer that the oven was getting colder, and that to keep it at a baking temperature you would have to keep poking the fire and adding more coal just as with an ordinary range. If your dealer doesn't handle the Imperial Oxford, write to us for catalogue and information as to where you can get it. The Young People of St. Andrew's church will begin a series of studies of the poets at their meeting Friday evening. Poet readings, life and works, will be the topic of an address by Rev. Dr. Battisby.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Joseph's church this morning when Mr. O'Rourke, of Raleigh, was united in marriage to Miss Wilgen, of Chatham Township. The happy young couple will leave on the 5.08 on a honeymoon trip to Toronto.

The brick work of the new Business College, Molachlan Survey, is being rushed as rapidly as possible and the roof will be on in time to permit of the work being gone on with during the winter so that the building will be ready for occupation in the spring.

The contract for a new hotel for Barney Ballor, of Tilbury, has been awarded to Robert Cucksey, of this city. Mr. Cucksey and Architect Wilson were in Tilbury yesterday and staked out the ground. This will be one of that thriving town's largest buildings and, when completed, will be one of the finest and most modern hotels in Kent County.

Rupture Specialist Coming

J. Y. Egan, the long established and reliable Rupture Specialist, of Toronto, will again visit Chatham at Hotel Garner, Saturday and Sunday, all day and evening, two days only, October 28th and 29th. This gentleman has devoted the past 40 years of his life to the study and treatment of Rupture. He is to-day at the head of the oldest and largest Rupture Institute in Canada, and the only exclusive Rupture Institute in the Dominion that owns and occupies its own building. It is an advantage to know you are dealing with a man who is thoroughly responsible. See large ad.

IN DETROIT

Henry Burrill Who Was Reported as Mysteriously D. appeared in Earning his Living in Detroit.

On Monday a rumor was circulated over the city that Henry Burrill, a South African soldier, who has been working for the Blonde Company, mysteriously disappeared and no clue could be found as to his whereabouts.

The report in so far as Mr. Burrill's departure from Chatham is concerned has proven to be correct. He left the city and went to Detroit, where he is now working for a Detroit lumber concern and boarding at the Hotel Buje, which is owned by F. A. Bourassa, formerly of this city. Mr. Burrill has been seen there by Chathamites who visited Detroit.

Mrs. Burrill is at present ill in St. Joseph's Hospital and it is not known whether Mr. Burrill abandoned her with his intention of going to Detroit or not. Much has been made of the fact that some of Mr. Burrill's friends did not know he was leaving Chatham.

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, and other throat ailments are quickly relieved by Cresolene Tablets, ten cents per box. All druggists.

GRADUATION AT THE PINES

His Lordship Rt. Rev. F. P. McEvay D. D., Bishop of London, Confers the Honors

Large Music Hall Crowded for the Occasion—Many Pupils Receive Diplomas.

The Graduation exercises at the Ursuline Academy yesterday afternoon were conducted with great splendor, and afforded the most perfect enjoyment to the cultured audience which filled the beautifully decked music hall. The guest of honor, His Lordship, Rt. Rev. F. P. McEvay, D. D., Bishop of London, was accompanied by a large number of the reverend fathers of the diocese, and several visiting clergymen.

To the music of a stately march, played on the pianos by Gertrude Carnovsky and Edythe Hall, the students of the Academy assembled on the stage. His Lordship read a beautifully worded salutatory to their gathering of friends, and in particular to His Lordship, whose impending visit to Rome was the occasion for the expression of all good wishes, and for the presentation of a handsome purse from a large number of the reverend fathers of the diocese. The presentation was made by Phyllis Hays and Eileen Malvey, two little cherubs of the main department.

In the exquisite Verdi-Liszt number, Anna L. Carson, A. T. C. M., proved her title to the high honors conferred on her by the Academy. The charming cantata, by Sir J. Benedict, "Legend of St. Cecilia," was produced by the young ladies with a perfection rarely possibly to amateur talent.

The roles in the cantata were taken by Miss Marie Gavin, Miss Pearl White, Miss Magdelene Walsh and Miss Olive Mather.

Rev. Father James, O. F. M., P. P., Chatham, read the honor list, and His Lordship presented the crowns, medals, and diplomas as follows:—

Crown and diploma to Anna L. Carson, associate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, graduate in music.

Crowns and junior leaving teachers' certificates—Elizabeth Doyle, Grace Smith, Edith Peck, Ida Trudell, Albertine Brisson.

Class Medal, presented by Rev. F. Laurandau, P. P., St. Augustine's, awarded to Elizabeth Doyle, Graduates, Commercial Course—Delage, Josephine Gorgelin, Mabel Smith.

Class medal, presented by Matthew Doyle, Esq., St. Thomas, awarded to Rose Delage.

A number of musical exercises were given and various diplomas awarded, the occasion concluding with an address by His Lordship.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS

The electric light plant was running full blast last night and the power was turned on every circuit in the city, so if there were any lights out last night it was not the fault of anyone at the power house. Alk. Edmondson reports that the old Thompson dynamo has been remodelled and fitted up until it is now working better than it ever did. The Property committee have received power from the Council to purchase a new dynamo and as soon as it is installed the committee think there will be no more trouble about street lighting.

PASSED FORGED CHECKS

Not long ago the Police received word to be on the lookout for a forger who was working west from London. It has since been learned that the suspected man was caught in Sarnia where he tried to pass a forged check.

Detective Nichols of London who was in the city yesterday gave a description of the man to Mayor Cowan. The description fitted the man who successfully passed a forged check on the Mayor some time ago. His name is Julius Rose. There was a Paul Rose sent up for six months from Chatham some time ago for stealing.

If the man in question is wearing Cowan's check the Mayor may have something to say in the case.

Cleansing and the Care of the Skin, Scalp, Hair, and Hands.

WHAT CUTICURA
DOES FOR WOMEN

Too much stress cannot be placed on the great value of Cuticura Soap,
Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Hills in the antiseptic cleansing of the mucous surfaces, and of the blood and circulating fluids, thus affording pure, sweet, and economical local and constitutional treatment for weakening ulcerations, inflammations, itch-ings, irritations, relaxations, displacements, pains and irregularities peculiar to females. Hence the Cuticura remedies have a wonderful influence in restoring health, strength, and beauty to weary women, who have been prematurely aged and invalidated by these distressing ailments, as well as such sympathetic afflictions as anæmia, chlorosis,
hysteria, and nervousness.

Women from the very first have fully appreciated the purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, certainty of speedy
and permanent cure, absolute safety,
and the great economy which have made Cuticura the standard humour remedy of the civilized world.

TORTURING HUMOUR
Cured by Cuticura, Relief from the First Application.

"I suffered five years with a terrible itching eczema, my body and face being covered with sores. Never in my life did I experience such awful suffering, and I longed for death, which I felt was near. I had tried doctors, and medicines without success, but my mother insisted that I try Cuticura. I felt better after the first application of Cuticura Ointment, and was soon entirely well."
Mrs. A. HETSON, Bellevue, Mich.

Whistler and the Amateur.

When James MacNeill Whistler went to Venice to make those fourteen famous sketches of his he became so intoxicated with its beauty that he made seventy pastels first, leaving his etch-ings till the last few days. These pastels made a tremendous sensation. All the art world of Venice was carried away with enthusiasm, excepting a Russian painter, who declared them tricks, betting a basket of champagne
he could paint six not to be distinguished from them. Mr. Whistler ambly gave some of his paper and six pastels, which were finally mixed up with those by the Russian and submitted to a jury who had seen none of them. Mr. Whistler's pastels were unmistakable, and the Russian lost the wine. A few days later the two met on the Rialto, and Mr. Whistler laughed a little about the wine and the bet.
The Russian was furious. "You forget, sir," he said, "that I'm a Russian,
and if you scratch one you find a Tartar underneath." "Oh, no, you have it wrong," said Mr. Whistler, "you have it wrong. I scratched an artist and found an amateur."

He Will Cure You First
Then You Pay Him

The physician, who has not sufficient confidence in his own ability to cure his patient first receives his pay afterwards, is not the man to inspire confidence in his patient. The man who receives his pay before he has cured his patient, who is in search of a cure, because he never receives his pay until he has cured his patient, is the man who is satisfied to receive the money for his cure. He has given the patient, to prove his worth, and show positive and satisfactory results before he asks for the fee. So,
should he fail to cure the case, the patient loses nothing, while the doctor who has taken his money, has given him what is worth much more than money—he has given him his health back.
Dr. Goldberg is the first specialist in the United States or Canada, who has had sufficient confidence in his ability to say to the afflicted that not a dollar need be paid until cured.

There is no guesswork, no experiment about his method. He is a known expert in his chosen specialty, and offers you the best, and only the best treatment. When your life or your health is at stake, inferior treatment (which leaves
after-effects worse than the disease itself) is dear
at any price.

Dr. Goldberg has 14 diplomas and certificates from the various colleges and state boards of medical examiners, which should be sufficient guarantee as to his standing and ability. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you,
it will be your advantage to get the doctor's opinion of your case free of charge. He wants to hear from patients who have been unable to cure their chronic, nervous, blood and skin diseases, which he accepts for treatment. He not only cures the common ailments, but likewise all the complications, such as rheumatism, bladder or kidney troubles, blood poisoning, physical and nervous debility, lack of vitality, stomach trouble, etc. All medicines for patients are prepared in his own laboratory to meet the requirements of each individual case. He will send a booklet on the subject, which contains the diplomas and certificates, entirely free. All medical cases for Canadian patients sent from Windward, Ont., duty and transportation prepaid. Address him simply, Dr. S. Goldberg, 206 Woodward Ave., Suite 511 Detroit, Michigan.

Hunted Down

By C. B. LEWIS
Copyright, 1905, by R. B. McClure

When the men sent out by the Big Four Cattle company in search of new pasture reached the Wind river valley almost the first thing their eyes rested on was a drove of wild horses numbering thirty. The drove was led by a stallion whose grace and beauty elicited unbounded admiration. Some of the drove had escaped from boundaries to roam the plains free from the restraints of man, but the leader had surely been foaled in some quiet cove
among the foothills, and his mother had kept guard over him while the timber wolves circled around and gashed their teeth in hunger.

He had been born as free as the air about him, and when his muscles had hardened he had galloped with a herd
up and down the valley for 200 miles north and south. He had braved the fierce winters, the cunning of the wolves, the spring of the mountain lion, the greed and cruelty of the red man. There he stood at the head of his drove, five or six years old, black as midnight, with the exception of the white star on his forehead, and there was a beauty and a defiance about him that appealed to the little band—
all but one.

"See me put a bullet inside that star!" he said as he pointed his rifle.
"If you do, I will put one through your head!" replied the leader, and he was backed up by his two companions.
For five minutes every horse in the drove stood there with head and tail
up and nostrils quivering and flanks heaving, and then at a signal from their leader they were away like the wind.
It was through these men that the Big Four outfit heard of the black horse. The coming of men and cattle drove him and his fellows down to the south end of the valley, a hundred miles away, but now and then they seemed to have a longing to revisit the old pastures, and they came sweeping back. They never came during the day, but always on a moonlight night,
and the first any one knew of their presence was the sound of their thud-ding hoofs. Three times in the course of a year they stampeded the cattle, and then the foreman ordered their destruction. The next time they came sweeping up the valley they were to be made targets of.

There was grumbling among the men.
A drove of wild horses is always a peril to a herd of steers, but it went against the grain of the men born in freedom themselves to shoot down
one of God's creatures. The wolf, the coyote, the lion—yes, they were man's enemies, but the wild horses were his friends. If they were not under his hand and obedient to him they were still his friends. Ever since men and horses were, a bond of friendship has existed between them. When the horses came again a few shots were fired, one or two wounded, perhaps,
and the herd escaped material damage.
The foreman saw how it was with his cowboys. It was so with his own conscience, and he did not blame them.
But the drove must go. There were men over at San Bias who would do anything for money, even to the taking of human life. For a certain price per head they undertook to exterminate
the drove. There were four of them, and they rode away secretly and swore
the foreman to secrecy. They had to.

The cowboys would have called it murder and demanded revenge. The few settlers along the foot of the mountains were rough and hardy men who were dealing with nature in the rough, but they would not have tolerated the slaughter.

The quartet found the drove and began the work. Sometimes the men killed from the saddle and sometimes they stalked and sneaked on foot and approached their game as the panther does. It was from no feeling of sentimentality that they spared the black horse.
It had been agreed from the first to spare him till the last and then seek to capture him alive. It took weeks to finish the rest of the drove. When the horses found death on their trail they left the broad pastures and sought the green coves, making far into the mountains. They spread out so as to leave no trail and ceased to whinny. By day they hid themselves among the pines and cedars and came out only at night to feed.

The mountain lions aided the hunters. They ambushed horse after horse and pulled them down, and the fierce timber wolves kept the living in a state of terror. To the north were the cattlemen, to the south advancing civilization. The poor horses were hemmed between.

By and by the hunters gleefully reported that only one horse was left—the black leader. He could not have escaped bullets had they been minded to shoot him, but he had outwitted the wolves and the lions, and when his last companion went down he uttered
a shrill neigh of defiance and vanished in the distance. Word was sent up and down the valley that he was to be hunted to his capture. The cowboys would have nothing to do with it,
but there were a score of others who entered into the chase gleefully and greedily. The man who captured the black horse could put his own price on him.

The plan of campaign was for men to station themselves up and down the valley at intervals and to keep the black horse moving until he fell from exhaustion. It would seem almost as if the summer breeze whispered the plans of men in his ears. He disappeared as if the earth had swallowed him up, and he was not found for a month. Then one day a man penetrated a wild, dark gorge leading into the mountain, and when he had followed

it for a quarter of a mile it debouched into a cove ten acres in extent. Water and grass were plentiful, and the black horse had lived in safety. On the grass-lay the decaying bodies of four timber wolves that had met death while trying to pull him down. He had courage
as well as beauty.

The presence of the man drove the horse out into the valley, and then the chase was taken up. It began one morning at daylight.
The chase was cruel and later on led to quarrels wherein men lost their lives. For five miles each hunter pursued the black horse at top speed and then he rested. Confident of his speed and strength, the lone horse moved off with a defiant air. There was not a moment's rest for him all day long.
Three or four times he buried his muzzle in the ice cold waters of the creek, and then he would start up and try to pull him down. He had courage
as well as beauty.

For seventy miles the black horse held his course up the valley. The men turned and retraced their steps. Again he went up the valley, but when he had covered fifty miles he stopped and stood at bay. He had done all that a horse could do, and more. He had covered 160 miles of distance almost without breaking his gait. When he stopped, signals were given for the men above and below to close in, and by and by there were a dozen in a circle around him. Lassoos were made ready, but the men quarrelled among themselves as to who had the best right. While the war of words was going on the black horse could have wheeled and broken through, but he realized that his race was run. It was bright moonlight, and he stood blowing the steam from his nostrils,
and his head was never held higher.
His limbs trembled, but with weakness instead of fright. His eyes had lost their fire, but the race had not yet to be talked about for twenty years to come.

Suddenly three or four men began to whirl their lassos and others prepared to shoot, and it was then that the black horse uttered a sobbing neigh, tossed his proud head high and sank down with a sigh and was dead
before any man had laid hand on his forelock. Captivity was not for him.

A Story of Horace Greeley.

One of the stories told of Horace Greeley in Wilder's "The Sunny Side of the Street" is a curious rendering into vernacular experience of the ancient Horace's theater going gentleman of Argos, with his retort, "Cui sine extorta voluptas et demptis per vim
menis gratissimus error?"

A friend—one of the wise, observant, upsetting kind of friends—called on Greeley one cold winter day and found the great journalist with a favorite book in his hand, a beattific smile on his face and his feet over the register. The visitor had previously been through the building and learned that the furnace had gone wrong and been removed, the cold air flue could not be closed and zero air was coming through all the registers, so he said:
"Mr. Greeley, why do you keep your feet there? There is no heat—only cold air is coming up."

Greeley tumbled out of his chair and in the childish whim that always came to him when he was excited replied:
"Why didn't you let me alone? I was entirely comfortable, but now I'm near you I'm frozen."

Telling His Name.

Lord Rathmore was formerly plain David Plunkett. Shortly after he was raised to the peerage he took a trip to the Riviera. The French railway company reserved a carriage for his private use. At some unknown hour of the night the door of the carriage was suddenly opened. A lantern was flashed upon him, and a voice sharply
cried, "Votre nom?" ("Your name?") Lord Rathmore, wakened out of his sleep, looking up in a partly dazed condition, discovered a railway official on his way round for tickets. Lord Rathmore's name was on the paper affixed to the window, marking the compartment as reserved. The official desired to identify the occupant of the carriage with the person to whose use it was inscribed. "Votre nom?" he sternly repeated, seeing the passenger hesitate. There sprang to Lord Rathmore's lips the familiar "David Plunk-kett." Happily he remembered in time he was no longer David Plunkett, but for the life of him he could not remember what title in the peerage he had selected. It seemed half an hour to him, before he could remember
"Rathmore."

The Man They Wanted.

The great ship labored in the storm.
Ever and anon a giant wave would throw the steel leviathan on her beam ends, and at each shock the heads of the passengers would knock in an anvil chorus against the sides of their berths. At this critical moment, with a roar that rose above the fury of the hurricane, a mob of determined men burst upon the deck.
"Minty!" gasped the mate.
"No, they are cabin passengers," said
the captain. "Now, gentlemen, you must go below. There really is no danger."
"Yes there is—danger for a Jonah who is on this ship," came back the answering chorus.
"Who do you mean, gentlemen?"
asked the captain.
"Show us," they howled—"show us that fellow who was singing 'Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep' only a few hours ago!—Let us at him!"—New York Press.

House Work

Need Not Wear Her Out

The drudgery of house work seems never ending to tired-out, dispirited women who suffer from female complaints or irregularities. Inflammation and ulceration of the womb and ovaries cause fearful bearing down pains which are aggravated by much standing on the feet, and lifting necessary in house work.

But let no woman despair of relief from this torture. That famous tonic reconstructor of diseased or disordered female organism,

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

has cured more than five hundred thousand American Women, and it will cure you. When monthly periods are painful or irregular, when backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will bring back health, strength, and happiness.

It Made Me a Well Woman

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than doctors or medicines. I suffered for four months with suppression of monthly periods. Headaches were a daily occurrence. Pains in my back and limbs made it hard for me to attend to my domestic duties.

The medicines I had taken did not help me, and I was in misery and despair until one day I read an account of your Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and I thank God that I did so, for it not only regulated my monthly periods, but made me a well woman.

Insect That Sits on Eggs

A remarkable case of an insect sitting on its eggs is recorded by F. P. Dodd in the "Transactions of the Entomological Society of London." This strange departure from the normal habits of the insect race is exhibited by a species of bug. The female sits in a brooding attitude over her eggs for a period of three weeks. When the young begin to break through she retires an inch or so from the eggs and remains there for some hours until the last egg is hatched. She then departs, leaving the young ones to take care of themselves. During the whole time of brooding and till all the young are hatched the mother eats nothing. It is thought that this brooding habit may be a means of protection against the attacks of ichneumon flies.—London Globe.

HE OWES A DUTY TO THE PUBLIC

Tells of Benefit Derived from Dodd's Kidney Pills

Cures of Rheumatism and Dropsy by Canada's Great Kidney Remedy.

Yellow Grass, Assa., N. W. T., Oct. 16.—(Special).—"I think I should let the public know the benefit I derived from Dodd's Kidney Pills." The speaker was Mr. John White, well-known here, and he voices the sentiments of many a man on those western prairies who has been relieved of his pains and misery by the great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

"I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for years," Mr. White continued. "I tried doctors and medicines, but never got anything to do me much good till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. What they did for me was wonderful. I also know the Harris family, and I saw their little girl, Edith, who was cured of Dropsy by Dodd's Kidney Pills. I know that to be true. I tell you I feel like recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills even stronger than I talk."

There is no Kidney Disease that Dodd's Kidney Pills cannot cure.

Laughter and Health.

A physician in search of remedies for human ills finds that laughter stands very high in the list of prophylactics. The effect of mere cheerfulness as a health promoter is well known, but an occasional outburst of downright laughter is the heroic remedy. It is a matter of everyday experience, says the authority in question, that one feels the better for a good laugh, an explosion of laughter being in truth a "nervous storm, comparable in its effect to a thunderstorm in nature, doing good by dissipating those oppressive clouds of care which sometimes darken the mental horizon." This authority assures us that the memorable adage, "Laugh and grow fat," rests on a sound philosophical basis. Fortly people are not given to laughter because they are fat. They are fat because they laugh.

HOW TO CURE CORNS AND BUNIONS.

First soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it, then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. For sale by all druggists.

Letters and Language.

Nothing better illustrates the ratio in which the different letters are used in our language than a set of figures on the proportionate number of types that are to be found in the printer's case, which are usually as follows: Z, 2; X and J, 5; Q, 6; K, 8; V, 15; B and G, 20; P, 24; W and Y, 25; M and N, 30; C, 40; U, 45; D and I, 50; H, 60; R, 70; O and S, 80; A and L, 90; T, 100 and E, 140.

A JUDICIOUS INQUIRY.

As well known travelling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if got a child they almost invariably recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by all druggists.

The biggest derriek couldn't raise some pessimists spirits.

DICKENS IN ROME.

The Great Author Was Disappointed in the Italian Capital.

When Charles Dickens arrived in Rome, on Jan. 30, 1845, he was profoundly disappointed. "It was no more my Rome, degraded and fallen asleep in the sun among a heap of ruins, than Lincoln's Inn Fields." A short time before, while he was straining his eyes across the Campagna, a distant view of the town had recalled London. This feeling soon passed away. He thought spring the most delightful season for Italy. He was again in Rome in 1853; saw J. G. Lockhart, "fearfully weak and broken"; smoked and drank punch with David Roberts, who was painting that famous picture of Rome now in the Scottish National gallery. The Pantheon he thought nobler than that of Jore, the other antiquities smaller.

It was in San Lorenzo square, Florence, that Robert Browning picked up the part manuscript and part printed Roman murder trial of 1698 from which he spun his wonderful "Ring and the Book." The church of San Lorenzo, in Lucina, off the Corso, in Rome, was the scene of Coppola's marriage. It was there also that the murdered bodies were laid for the inspection of "Half Rome." There was a weird funeral, attended by Capuchins, when we were in this church. While in Rome the Brownings stayed at 28 Via del Tritone.

COWS IN HOLLAND.

In No Other Place in the World Are They Given Such Care.

In Holland cows are to a certain extent a part of the family, for one member of the family always sleeps in the stable to watch, and often the place is made a sort of family sitting room.

The cow stable is generally a large building, paved with brick, upon which the cows lie, straw being scarce. There is a brick paved passage down the center, at one end of which is a fireplace, and the windows are covered with white curtains as dainty as those used in the house proper.

Sometimes the entire family will gather in the stable in the evenings, enjoying the warmth of the fire and exchanging the talk of the day, while the cattle, always placed with their heads facing the central passage, chew their cud and almost seem to enjoy the human companionship. These cows are seldom brown, most of them being black or white or of the two colors mixed, and because of the fertility of the pasture and the care taken in their keep they are capable of giving large yields of rich milk. In no place in the world are cows made as much of, and from the annual yield of butter it would seem that the care is not taken in vain.

FOOD VALUE OF BANANAS.

They Are Not Like Some Fruits, Good Only For Their Flavors.

Professors of dietetics tell us that the banana is not, as many fruits are, a flavor and nothing more, but a food and a source of real nutriment. It is at once useful and delicious. It not only gratifies the palate, but supplies material for combustion and the maintenance of animal heat, while it also builds up the muscles and repairs the worn and threadbare nerves.

The flour made from it in its dried state is equal in nutritive value to rice. Dried and sprinkled with sugar, a form in which it has been recently introduced in this country, the upstart banana is, weight for weight, as nutritious as the venerable fig.

But it is in the fresh state that the banana chiefly appeals to us. Its creamy succulence and delicate odor are inviting, and its pleasant sapor is a prelude to good digestion. Depend upon it that sapor is in ethereal body, which the coal tar investigators have not yet been able to imitate by chemical essence, it is a subtle stimulus to all subsequent elementary processes. And thus it is that the banana is an eminently digestible food. No sense of oppression or drowsiness follows a meal of it, and a meal of it may be bulky enough.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Modern Entertaining.

A London drawing room in the season resembles nothing so much as the parrot house at the zoo. For this deafening din society has only itself to blame, entertaining being based upon the principle that you must first hire somebody to make a noise and then invite your friends to shout the loudest noise down. The louder the band the more piercing the shrieks of the soprano the more ear splitting the yells of the audience must be if the party is to be a success.—London Field.

Took It Like a Sport.

"Is there a chance for me, Gladys?" "There is, George—one in a million." George was a young man of some experience.

"That's too long a shot," he explained, picking up his hat.

Credit and Debit.

"Yes," said Sloppy, "the suit fits me splendidly. Great piece of work; it's a credit to you."

"Yes," replied the tailor, "and please don't forget that it's a debit to you."

STORM IN NORTH SEA.

Many Vessels Founder—25 Sailors Are Known to Be Lost.

Hamburg, Oct. 17.—A terrific north-west storm, accompanied by rain and hail, has been raging in the North Sea for four days. Many vessels have foundered or been damaged, and 25 sailors are known to be lost.

The harbor of Cuxhaven is filled to overflowing with vessels seeking shelter. The coasting trade has been completely suspended.

Frankfurter.

The little sausage known as "Frankfurter" and "Wiener" was, according to the Wiener Neu Freie Presse, offered for sale for the first time in 1808, Vienna, by the Butchers' Guild. The inventor of the sausage was Johann Lahner, who named it for his birthplace, Frankfurt. The business founded one hundred years ago by a poor introduced in this country, the upstart banana is, weight for weight, as nutritious as the venerable fig.

NO SATISFACTION IN EATING.

Food does you no good. You can't digest—consequently you're afraid to eat; tongue is coated, mouth tastes bad, stomach's bloated. Pretty soon you'll be overcome by weakness and nervous prostration. In connection with your condition is Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. For dyspepsia and indigestion it is doubtful if a better remedy will ever be devised. These pills build up strength and vitality to the stomach and digestive organs; they build up the general health and instill such vim and resisting power into the system that sickness is impossible; try Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Foot Play Suspected.

New Fishery Stations.

Windsor, Oct. 17.—Five new fishery stations will be opened on the Lower Detroit River this week by the Dominion Government, four on Fighting Island and one on Bois Blanc Island. Their chief purpose will be to gather spawn and eggs for the Government fish hatchery at Sandwich.

A Matter of Taste.

The Gap in the Levant Rock.

On the way from Land's End, the extreme western point of England, to the Logan Rock, just in from the cliff, after you have passed Tol-Peden and immediately before the road drops to Porth-gwarra, there is a little valley, a big grassy nook, with one cottage, a rectory and a church. This is the parish church of St. Levan, a fisherman saint, of whom there are many legends. His path is still seen by the track of green grass that leads out to the rocks named after him, where he fished the traditional "chack-cheed" chad. There is his stone, too, in the churchyard, one of those ominous stones which in Cornwall are thought to be the dials of time itself, chroniclers of the hour of the last judgment. The Levant stone is a rock of granite, split in two, with grass and ferns growing in the gap between the two halves. The end of the world will come, says the rhyme, when the gap is wide enough for a pack horse with mangers to pass through. "We do nothing to hasten it," the rector said to me reassuringly.—London Standard.

Land Was Out of Sight.

"Yes," said one of the traveling men who were telling stories in front of the hotel, "I was once out of sight of land on the Atlantic ocean twenty-one days."

"On the Pacific one time I didn't see land for twenty-nine days," said another. "A little, baldheaded man tilted his chair against a post and knocked the ashes from his cigar."

"I started across the Kaw river near Lawrence in a skiff once when I was a kid," he said, "and was out of sight of land before I reached the other side."

"Aw, come off!" came from one of the crowd. "The Kaw isn't more than 300 yards wide anywhere along near Lawrence."

"I didn't say it was," said the little man quietly. "The skiff turned over, and I sank twice."

What He Did to "Hamlet."

A group of actors at the Players' club were once engaged in a discussion as to the ability and impartiality of certain professional critics of the drama, when Maurice Barrymore referred to a certain Denver journalist who was widely known for his dramatic criticisms. "Hayward," said Mr. Barrymore, "was certainly one of the ablest of them. He wrote most learnedly, with the keenest analysis of every phase of the actor's art, and, above all, with no little wit. I am just reminded of what was perhaps the briefest dramatic criticism ever penned. It will probably outlive everything else Hayward did. It ran about as follows: "George M. Wain, the preacher-actor, played "Hamlet" at the Tabor Grand Opera House last night. He played it till 12 o'clock."

The Hen Bird's Duty.

In his subsection on "modifications" of types of birds and animals Sir John Lubbock tells us of a particular crow in New Zealand where the male and female differ widely as to the structure of their bills. The male bird has a bill, stout and strong, adapted to cutting and digging into a tree, but he is deficient in that horny pointed tongue which would permit him to pierce the grub and draw it out. The hen bird has, however, an elongated and straight bill, "and when the cock has dug down to the burrow the hen inserts her long bill and draws out the grub, which they divide between them, a very pretty illustration of the wife as a help-mate to the husband."

An Old Freedom Notice.

On April 26, 1860, a Maine newspaper contained the following notice: "Freedom Notice.—For a valuable consideration I have this day relinquished to my son, Hiram S. Maxim, his time during his minority. I shall claim none of his earnings or pay debts of his contracting after this date. Isaac Maxim, Witness, D. D. Plynt, Abbot, April 13, 1860." The lad who was given his liberty developed into Sir Hiram Maxim of London, England, the inventor of rapid fire guns and airships.

Shibboleth.

Shibboleth is a word frequently used in politics, though it may be doubted whether many politicians know the hissing word really means "an ear of corn" as well as a "river," but its significance for moderns arises from the fact that it was employed as a test to distinguish the Ephraimites from the Gileadites, the former being unable to pronounce the "sh" sound.

Chewing Gum For Nosebleed.

A celebrated physician has claimed in one of his lectures that the "best remedy" for nose bleed is a vigorous motion of the jaws as in the act of chewing. In the case of a child he recommends giving a wad of paper to chew, as the rapid working of the jaws stops the flow of blood. But why not try chewing gum instead of paper?

One Thing At a Time.

Robert Jaggsby's countenance was not at any time remarkable for indications of intellectual brilliance, but now, as he stood before the camera for the purpose of his "selfie" took, his expression was so inane that even the polite photographer was moved to protest.

"You'll excuse me," he remarked, "but do you want this photograph for a beauty competition or an advertisement for a new rat poison? Because if it's for any other purpose you'd better try to look a trifle more pleasant." "That's just the trouble," exclaimed Robert. "You see, I've the misfortune to be a trifle bandy, and I'm trying to hold my knees so that it won't show. When I smile I forget all about my knees, and when I pay attention to my knees I forget to smile."—London Express.

CHARMING FEMINITY

Famous beauties pay particular attention to the purity of their blood, knowing that nutritious blood means soft, delicate skin, bright eyes and enduring nerve. The woman whose blood is so delightful, use Ferrozone, because it's the exact food needed to tone and stimulate the blood. Ferrozone invigorates, braces, feeds, it makes those dainty, vivacious women so pleasant to meet. You'll have the rosy bloom of health, dash and spirit, the satisfaction and joy of true health after using Ferrozone. You should get Ferrozone to-day. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes.

Some people conjure up trouble and then imagine that they are bearing very heavy crosses.

IS YOUR CATARRH ANY BETTER?

Probably getting worse all the time. Why not give up that snuff and stop despoiling your stomach? The one sure treatment is "Catarrh-zone," sure to cure because it goes where the disease really is. Certain to cure in your case because it has restored tens of thousands worse than you are. Catarrh-zone is a thorough cure because it destroys the causes as well as the effects of the disease. Relief is prompt, cure is quick with this powerful remedy, which is guaranteed to cure Catarrh in any part of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes or lungs.

Mercenary considerations bring their own punishment no matter how shrewdly they are handled.

"It is the little rift within the lute which, ever widening, makes the music mute." It is just a little rift in the health of a woman often, which takes the spring from her step, the light from her eyes, the rose from her cheek and the music from her voice. Perhaps the bug-bear which has frightened the woman from the timely help needed at the beginning has been the dreaded question, the obvious examination, the local treatments, of the home physician. There is no need for these. Nor is there need for continued suffering. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be relied on by every woman suffering from what are called "female troubles," to renew the health and cure the disease. Women are astonished at the results of the use of this medicine. It not only makes weak women "robust and rosy checked," but it gives them back the vigor and vitality of youth.

Pinching a Pickpocket.

It happened on a race course in Russia. Among the spectators was a tall, powerfully built man, no longer young, and he was leaning back against a railing when he suddenly felt a hand slipped into his pocket in search, he thought, of a silver snuffbox which he habitually carried. He said not a word, but raising himself on tiptoe for a moment he sat down on top of the rail and on top of the hand in his pocket. The thief struggled in vain to release himself, while his captor showed no sign of knowing that there was anything amiss until at length the pain became too great for endurance, and the pickpocket called out in agony. Then the old gentleman got up and said to the wretched man behind him: "Another time you will keep your fingers from other people's pockets."

BARTONWOODS MURDER

Nothing New Brought Out at the Inquest at Hamilton.

Witnesses Who Differ As to Certain Details—Medical Testimony Was Explicit—White Glove as Well as Handkerchief Crammed into Victim's Mouth—Funeral of Unknown Another Identification Is Made.

Hamilton, Oct. 18.—The inquest on the body of the unknown woman found murdered last Tuesday, was continued last evening by Coroner Griffin. Crown Attorney Washington examined the witnesses, and Detective Greer was present.

Authorities Disappointed. The witnesses contradicted each other in their description of the man and woman who were seen wandering about the mountain, but they agreed in important points.

The Medical Testimony. Doctor O'Reilly and Carter said there was nothing to indicate that the girl had been assaulted. She had never been a mother. Her stomach contained no food.

Identification Evidence. Harry Chappey, Michael Simms and Edward Dods, the youngsters who found the body, were also examined.

Funeral of the Victim. The victim was buried yesterday afternoon from Blackford Sons. A big crowd stood outside the undertaking parlors.

The latest to identify the woman is Mrs. White, 22 Gore avenue. She is positive the dead woman roomed with her last July.
