"SUMMER PORTER" BANNED

URP Script Rejected At Twelfth Hour

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 19, 1952, Mr. Malcom Neill, general manager of radio station, CFNB, in a telephone conversation to the President said that he did not consider the U.R.P. play Summer Porter by Frank Milligan, a fit programme to be broadcast over his station.

Summer Porter was due to go on the air at 8 p.m. on Wed. Feb. 20, so U.R.P. received about 24 hours notice of the cancellation, in spite of the fact that U.R.P. maintains the script of the play had been handed in to CFNB on Jan. 30,—three weeks before the scheduled broadcast. Mr. Neill's delayed decision thus caused a great deal of unnecessary work to those taking part in the play.

On Wednesday morning, Feb. 20, a delegation consisting of U.R.P. chairman, David Galloway, and committee members Frank Milligan and Robert MacGowan visited Mr. Neill in the studios of CFNB and asked him for his reasons in banning the script. Mr. Neill's reasons were:

- (1) that the script contained profane language
- (2) that it would encourage racial prejudice, and was therefore
- (3) inappropriate to the ideals of Brotherhood Week and
- (4) that it contained unnecessary violence.

When the U.R.P. delegation offered to cut out the so-called profane language, and to broadcast the play when Brotherhood Week was over, Mr. Neill still insisted on banning the play.

The delegation asked Mr. Neill to ensure that the radio announcement of the cancellation of Summer Porter contained the words 'owing to circumstances beyond the control of University Radio Productions'. The actual announcement at 8 p.m. that evening merely stated that the programme would not be heard; there was no suggestion that the circumstances were beyond the control of U.R.P. and U.R.P. considered that this omission was a breach of faith on Mr. Neill's part.

The U.R.P. committee met on Wed. evening Feb. 20, and unanimously decided that Mr. Neill's reasons for banning the script were not valid by any standards that they could possibly recognize, and that if anything, Summer Porter would help rather than hinder race relationships. The committee decided also that the other students and faculty of the university should have an opportunity of hearing the play for themselves, so it is proposed to reproduce the play on our own recorder in the Art Centre on Monday March 10, at 8 p.m. All members of the university and their guests will be welcome.

The committee decided to continue the present series of radio programmes until the end of the season unless of course Mr. Neill decides to ban another programme, in which case the whole matter will have to be reconsidered. It felt one of the main purposes of U.R.P. is to represent the aims and achievements of the university to the listener and if Mr. Neill's censorship is going to extend to future programmes it is obvious that such a purpose cannot be carried out.

U.R.P. wishes to stress, nevertheless, that in the past it has received a great deal of co-operation from the staff of CFNB, and that it wishes to maintain good relations with them. It appreciates also Mr. Neill's having made a weekly half-hour on the air available to the university, and it wishes to fit in with his policy provided that it does not interfere with principles which it considers fundamental.

In an interview with the Brunswickan, Mr. Neill explained his reason for the stand he has taken and prepared a statement for publication, as follows:

"I have been given to understand that some criticism has developed in U.N.B. circles because of CFNB's cancellation of the proposed radio presentation of the U.R.P.'s radio play "Summer Porter". In my opinion this is unfortunate and I would like therefore to offer an explanation of the circumstances which caused this action.

First of all may I explain that U.R.P. developed as a result of a suggestion from CFNB. It was our feeling several years ago that an annual series of radio presentations by the students and faculty of U.N.B. would be beneficial both from the point of view of public Relations for the University and as a medium of expression for the students, and as a consequence CFNB offered the University, free of charge, one half hour per week, of evening time plus the assistance of CFNB technical and production staff, were required, for a series of programs during the fall and winter months. The offer was accepted, and the arrangement proved so successful it has continued until the present time. Under an arrangement of this kind, as is the case with all broadcasting, it is understood that the station maintains the right to accept or reject program material in accordance with the Government Broadcasting regulations and station policy, and I am sure that when arrangements were made with U.N.B. for the use of our facilities it was thoroughly understood that all program material would have to meet the standards set by the station management. Surely no one could dispute the station's right when supplying time free to see to it that the broadcasting regulations and station policy are adhered to.

Although in the past U.R.P. has supplied CFNB's production manager with scripts for plays intended for future presentations well in advance, the script for "Summer Porter" was not provided until

Debaters Lose to Acadia

U.N.B. debaters lost their first contest in this year's Maritime Intercollegiate competition last Thursday at Acadia University, Wolfville.

Acadia debaters, Herman Hirtle and Pat Nolan, successfully defended the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, that the recent Government action banning resale price maintenance was in the best interests of the Canadian public." Tom Drummie and Don McPhail represented U.N.B. with the negative side of this question.

The judges' decision was unanimous in their award of the match to Acadia although their ballots indicated a closely contested debate. At the conclusion of the debate, the U.N.B. debaters were guests at an informal gathering tendered by the Acadia Debating Society in the new Student Union Building at Acadia.

As a result of this loss, U.N.B. was set back a step in their quest for the Maritime Intercollegiate Debating crown. The present standing of the eleven Universities and Colleges in the competition is unknown. Several debates were held last week-end and the results of these were unknown at press time. In the event that no team wins all three of its debates, a playoff may be necessary to decide who shall represent the Maritimes in the Canadian University Debating Association finals to be held in Ottawa in March 7 and 8.

Should U.N.B. still be in the running after last week's competition, several debates will be held on the campus during the next two weeks to pick a team for the Maritime playoffs. This team would also go to Ottawa for the Canadian trials, if successful in winning the Maritime title.

Beaverbrook Winners Named

Dr. Trueman has announced the winners of seven Beaverbrook Overseas Scholarships. These scholarships, provided by our Chancellor, are held at the University of London for one year, but can be extended under certain conditions. The seven to whom these scholarships have been awarded are:

Jacqueline Haines, class of '51, who has been doing post-graduate work in psychology here this year;

Ruth Nicholson, class of '51, who holds the Jessie Jones Scholarship here for work in post-graduate history;

James Chapman, class of '50, who has been lecturing here in History while doing post-graduate work in that subject;

Stirling Edwards, class of '50, who took his M.Sc. at Queen's University and has been doing Nuclear Physics Research there;

Stig Harvor, who will graduate this year with a bachelor's degree in Civil Engineering; Robert Lawrence, class of '46 who received his M.A. in '47 and has since become an Assistant Professor of English at this university.

Hugh Whalen, class of '49, who received his Master of Political Science degree at the University of Alberta in '51 and is at present on the faculty at that University.

SENATE APPROVES "CENTRE" PLAN

The alumni-alumnae proposal to build a new Memorial Student Centre on the campus was furthered by action of the UNB Senate this week. The university governing body agreed to appoint a committee to meet with the graduates and draw up a procedure for initiating the project.

Originally the alumni planned to convert the Memorial Hall, built in 1925, into a student centre, and raised approximately $170,000.00 for the job in 1947-48-49. But the university chemistry and physics departments have been unable to vacate the Memorial Hall and the alumni now feel a new building would serve better.

The joint committee now being set up will study "the factors affecting a change in the War Memorial plans and the construction of a new building." These will include: facilities to be provided in a student centre at UNB, a site for a new building, and the legal aspects of releasing the monies which were raised for the original purpose.

Debating & Political Clubs Unite

At a joint meeting of the two executives, it was decided to merge the U.N.B. Political Club with the Debating Society. It was felt that the membership of the two organizations overlapped and the purposes of both could be served by amalgamation. In the future, the debating society will sponsor the Mock Parliaments. The executive members at the meeting suggested that the individual political parties reorganize groups to take part in the Mock Parliaments. If there were sufficient interest a campus election to determine membership in the Parliament might be attempted. The general feeling was that the holding of a Model Parliament would stimulate interest in the Debating Society and attract a larger number of students than a formal debate. It is expected that the policy of the Political Club to invite provincial political leaders to be guest speakers will be continued.

Faculty Promotions Announced

A number of promotions of the faculty have been announced by Dr. Trueman. The UNB Senate has approved the following promotions: the president said:

In the history department, Associate Professor W. S. MacNutt to the rank of full professor; in civil engineering, Assistant Professors I. M. Beattie, formerly of Nash Creek, Restigouche Co., H. W. McFarlane, formerly of West Saint John, and R. H. B. McLaughlin, formerly of Perth, all to the rank of associate professor; in English, Assistant Professors D. R. Galloway and Alec Lucas both to the rank of associate professor; in mathematics, Assistant Professor R. A. Staal to the rank of associate professor; and in modern languages, Lecturer A. J. Shaw to the rank of assistant professor.

Femmes Have Field Night

Co-ed's and their dates slunk into the Beaverbrook ballroom Friday night in their best Apache attire to bring the week to a climax. Hotel guests stared unbelievably as they saw one tam and jersey after another float by, while rumbas and sambas drifted from the open door. The cafe scene was complete with whiskey bottles, as candle sticks of course, and one disappointed onlooker commented that with empty bottles it was a shame only the candles could be lit.

Between the murals of Paris street scenes and the cozy little tables a true atmosphere was provided. Although the gun pulling and knife throwing was absent magicians, Wetmore and van der Meyden provided a floor show. They proceeded to make bottles, hats and cigarettes disappear before the very eyes of the crowd, (oh-yeah). "See I have nothing up my sleeve (but don't look under the table).

The music of Dick Ballance and his orchestra lent a great deal to the atmosphere of the "Cafe en haut" making it one of the best dances of the year. You can put away your French accents till another year girls, when L'amour comes to town in the form of Danse L'Apache.

B. ED'S TO MEET ON MARCH 4

By no means the least active of Campus organizations, is the Education Association — (hope this doesn't sound too much like an association for the education of the Educated in Education!) At the "organization" meeting in October, the group committed its fate to the following officers: President, Bob Hanson; vice-president, Isobel Adams; secretary-treasurer, Colin McCabe. For our first meeting we were fortunate in having as our speaker Dr. F. E. MacDermid, Chief Superintendent of Education, who discussed with us the general field of Education in New Brunswick. At our next meeting Bob Hanson spoke to the group about his last summer's trip to Europe. Besides discussing teaching, and Education, we have attempted to experience the practical side of the matter. Our "field-trip" took the form of a visit to the Minto Regional High School, where we were able to observe first-hand the operation of one of the bigger and more modern schools in the province. Mr. Day, principal of the school, conducted us on a tour of the school. After our observation in the classrooms, the afternoon came to a most "satisfying" conclusion, with an excellent lunch of choice goodies served to us by the staff. Just before Christmas we finished the term with a much enjoyed "square-dance" social.

Mr. Wilfrid Crandlemire, vice-principal of the N.B.T.A., addressed the first meeting of 1952, and after this address and discussion, we all adjourned to Prof. Love's home, where he and Mrs. Love gave us a most enjoyable evening. Our next meeting is to be on Tuesday, March 4 when we are privileged to have as our speaker, Mr. DeGrace, of Teachers' College. Don't forget, friends — our meetings close with a social half-hour and lots of good refreshments. Let's see you there!

As Seen From The Bleachers . . .

By THE SPECTATOR
A Successful Week

During the past seven days four of our varsity squads saw action and when the final whistle had sounded they had accumulated a record of four wins as against a single loss. This in itself makes the week worthy of mention but when three of these consequents were gained at the expense of the "Swamplanders" from Mt. A. it swings it into the light of successful with a capital "S". Under such conditions errors, blunders, poor and spotty performances can all be over looked, as theoretically any win over the Garnet and Gold is viewed as a grand performance.

The hockey team came out of the week as the big winner as they polished off the boys from the Marsh in a home encounter and practically wrapped up the N.B.-P.E.I. crown by blanking the St. Dunstons aggregation on the Island. Their narrow victory over the Mounties, while for the most part taking on the form of shinny, did have its brighter moments sprinkled with fleeting glimpses of good hockey while the closeness of the score added a film of exciting spirit. All the U.N.B. tallies were the results of excellent efforts by the participants but the play which stole the show was the initial marker whipped home by Tim Bliss. The speedy varsity winger picked up a lost puck just short of center ice, wheeled in to split the defense, and with three defenders hanging on his back caught the crowd as well as the Mt. A. goalie off balance with a neat backhand flip into the upper left hand corner. This brilliant effort turned the tide as the Red and Black roared home for two more quick markers and the Mounties were out of the running. The closeness of the score was hardly an indication of the play as the Hillmen had quite an edge, all but for the missing of several great opportunities in the final stanza the score might easily have reached a lopsided level.

Next in line to receive laurels for the week's play is the girls basketball team, which, defying tradition all the way overcame a four point deficit with a very convincing win over the Garnet and Gold to earn the right to represent N. B. in Maritime play. Having witnessed only the last few minutes of the contest we will refrain from any direct comment but from all reports the girls were at their fighting best and deserved every inch of their victory. This title comes as a pleasing blow to our campus, for, lacking the abundance of femininity of other Maritime Universities, and the girls themselves being sadly restricted in the sporting field, it is nice to see them win out in the sole branch of strictly feminine competition. By their achievement they have strengthened the belief that quality means more than quantity and it is hoped from this corner that they have initiated a reign which will continue uninterrupted for a period surpassing that of the previous famine.

The final winner of the week was the boys basketball squad which redeemed themselves slightly by taking the Mounties into camp and leaving their N.B.-P.E.I. League record at three wins and one loss. They needed a final half spurt to come out on top and while the loss of Glass and Brannen and their inconsistency at the foul line hampered them from making it an impressive showing they did gain a step in the climb towards the league title. Throwing the ball away and lack of control were their big draw backs, the result of which was not nearly convincing enough to erase the fact that the return engagement at the Swamp will tell the tale of this season's hoop success.

The badminton team was the fourth squad to see action and while not arising as winners they never the less held their own and failed as well as any before them. By finishing in a second place they duplicated the highest position ever held by the Red and Black in history, and when Strickland and Meritt copped the mens' doubles event they brought back U. N. B.'s customary trophy.

Yes, with everything taken into consideration, this has been a successful week in the world of sport on our campus. Let's hope that the future will be equally successful from the stand point of both the participant and the spectator.

Propwash Letters to the Editor

By AL HUGILL

It seems that some of the terms used previously in this column are not completely understood, therefore an attempt at defining same will follow.

"Ailerons" for example are the thingamabobs that are hinged to the trailing edge of each wing towards the wing tip, for the purpose of lateral control. These are the first control surfaces to lose effect when the air speed approaches the "stall". A stall in this case not meaning that short interval in which a smart comeback is thought up, but the point an aircraft reaches when its speed through the air is no longer sufficient to maintain flight. When such point is encountered the controls lose their grip on the air, the plane becomes uncontrollable and will fall until it gains said necessary speed. This stalling speed varies with the type of aircraft as well as the load being carried. Also the stalling speed is increased in turns . . . the steeper the turn the higher the stalling speed. When the aircraft stalls the controls feel sloppy. How does the pilot feel? Utterly helpless.

It is interesting to note the interest being taken in the condition of the spark plugs these days before take-off. Maybe Bob should have a few more forced landings on the beautiful Saint John just to keep the rest of us on our toes. Flying is one business in which the more "old womanish" you are the better your chances are to fly again. This recalls to mind a story oft told us by our genial instructor Myles Currie. It seems that a student pilot asked the instructor why a certain old-time pilot, well known because of his antiquity, always taxied to the farthest end of the runway when he could take off in half the distance. The instructor's answer was, "That's why he's so old."

Yessir, it's a darn dangerous business—if they don't pay us more we're apt to starve to death.

The Editor, the Brunswickan
One of the burning questions in the minds of a number of students on the campus deals with radio station CFNB's refusal to broadcast the University Radio Production presentation "Summer Porter" on the evening of Wednesday, February 20 during the regular 8:00-8:30 period.

The play's producer, Al Tunis, and author, Frank Milligan, were informed on Tuesday afternoon that due to certain "controversial and indecent portions" CFNB would not permit the student-faculty effort to go on the air more especially since last week was Brotherhood Week in Canada.

The play deals with the experiences of a coloured porter working for the Canadian Pacific Railways on a Trans-Canada run. During the course of the trip a particularly offensive drunkard gives the porter a rugged time, insulting him as often as it was possible to do so. Finally, the porter washed out and the drunk received a well deserved broken jaw. The play ended with the conductor smoothing the situation over, merely calling the whole thing an accident in which the drunk was caught off balance as the train started up and fell hard against something in the vestibule of the car. After all, it couldn't be said that this was the first time a man became too beligerent while under the influence of alcohol and had to be sobered up "accidentally."

Somewhere within that plot the officials at CFNB found material which they considered "controversial"! As to the charge of "indecent" or what might more correctly be termed "profanity", this amounts to two or three references to hell and damnation. To an audience which Dr. Pacey describes as "men and women of culture and vision" living in what is probably the most congenial university setting in the whole of Canada, and which is far more broadminded in most respects than any other city in Eastern Canada, this programme would merely have provided food for thought rather than something to be ashamed of.

What then was CFNB's motive? Does it not find birth in the fact that certain dawdling old society ladies of Fredericton, having suffered inroads on their petty "back fence gossip session" nurtured theories dealing with solutions to the colour prejudice problem, might have admonished the directors of CFNB for their initiative in treating the programme as they would any other? Remember a lot of the bad feeling that now exists arises mostly from the fact that the Negro is considered an individual as different from ourselves as black is from white.

Due to a misrepresentation of facts URP has been saddled with the responsibility arising from the cancellation of the broadcast. Telephone inquiries to CFNB as to why the programme hadn't been heard as usual were answered by station officials, in one instance, so as to intimate that a member of the cast had been out of town forcing the cancellation and, in another, that rehearsals for "Summer Porter" had

THE EDITOR, THE BRUNSWICKAN. DEAR MADAM,

It was with great interest that I read Dick Ballance's comment on my statement that the year book should be self-supporting. I was pleased to read that both he and I agree on the method to obtain this idyllic situation—more advertising.

I had no idea that my innocent and constructive remarks that, "also, the year book should be self supporting. I am sure that more advertising could be found," would produce such an unbalanced acidulous reaction.

With the hope that the letter will not precipitate further caustic comments I apologise to you my dear Mr. Junior Ballance and wish you every success.

Yours Sincerely, W. G. Reddin

fallen behind schedule and therefore it was thought best to put the programme off.

To these charges I can only counter that on Tuesday, February 19 the entire cast was in readiness in Fredericton expecting to go on the air the next evening. No one had any intentions of leaving the city and furthermore rehearsals had been completed.

Returning to the danger involved in the use of profanity in "Summer Porter" it surely can't be as serious as it is made out to be, when one considers that "CBC Wednesday Night" resorts rather frequently to language of a far stronger nature. It may be that the directors of CFNB don't wish to have the minds of Fredericton's younger generation polluted. A suggestion then—perhaps the New Brunswick Film Censorship Board could do an awful lot more towards prevention of the degeneration of the minds of the citizens of tomorrow than was accomplished by CFNB's cancellation of a student effort!

All this person asks is that REASON BE GIVEN TO EXPLAIN action of radio station CFNB on this matter.

COLIN HARROWING.

Ed's Note:—I hope that Mr. Neill's statement which appears in this issue will clear up some of these questions. When I brought up the question of profanity on CBC presentations during the interview, Mr. Neill pointed out that CBC made the rules governing radio stations in such matters. The fact that CBC itself breaks those rules does not entitle him to do likewise.

A drunk, obviously in no condition to take the wheel was getting into his automobile when a sheriff's deputy halted him and asked: "You're not going to drive that car are you?" "Certainly I'm going to drive," the man replied. "I'm in no condition to walk."

One chorus girl to another: "She was so dumb that even the other blonds noticed it."

It is said that the Canada Goose always alights and rises against the wind . . . a fact to remember when setting up a blind.

ELECTIONS ON FRIDAY

FOUR CONTEST PRESIDENCY

Renewed interest, caused by the extension of the nomination deadline, has resulted in a great deal of changes in last week's nomination results. An additional candidate, Bob Spurway, has been added to the list running for S.R.C. President, bringing in to a total of four. The greatest changes, however have been in the nominations for class executives and reps. Where formerly, almost all these positions were filled by acclamation or left vacant, there promises to be an election for each class.

DAVID R. VINE

Junior Arts; Varsity Track, URP Production Committee, C.O.T.C., Publicity Director for Drama Society.

My platform for the coming presidential election is developed under a three point heading:

AWARENESS. This might seem a trifle strange at first but it deals with my plan to help this failing college spirit. There are at U.N.B. over 65 teams, clubs and organizations. One of the big cries is for support . . . one of the main reasons for lack of support is lack of awareness or knowledge. We do not know that a function is going on till it is over. I propose that the co-ordinator of the S.R.C. put out if necessary daily bulletins on campus activities and their outcome.

CO-ORDINATION. Most of the clubs and organizations have duplicate functions . . . e.g. travel, printing, buying, etc. that could be handled much more simply and cheaply through a central office like that of the S.R.C. The S.R.C. is supposed to be the students REPRESENTATIVE council and as much should act for as well as provide for the student body.

CONSOLIDATION. One of the main difficulties of S.R.C. organization is just that . . . organization . . . we are presently running under an old and outdated constitution which needs revising. If elected I will try to bring it up to date to cover the needs of today and tomorrow as it has covered yesterday.

There is one other important question in the voters minds . . . that of sports. I am not in favour of cutting any sport or activity for which there is student support. Cutting is a poor way of making money for other activities. I believe that if we watched expenditures in the future and budgeted for the whole year the problem of sports would be solved. The A. A. A. is elected to look after sports . . . that is their job, and they have the advice of experts. If they were allotted so much money for the year's sports activities most of the worries would be left to them, the people who are elected to worry about sports.

R. H. SPURWAY

Fourth year Forester, Veteran, married, former sec-treas. and currently Vice-Pres. of the Forestry Association, President of the Intermediate Class, Member of the Soccer team for four years.

It is customary for those seeking election as President of the Students' Council to announce some form of platform. If this were party politics there would be some reason for it, but I think it is out of place here. Your class representatives are the power in the Council; they determine the policy to be adopted within the limits of the Constitution; they govern expenditure of your money; but, the manner in which the Council's business is conducted depends largely on the ability of the President, also his attitude towards his responsibilities. I believe that in choosing a student for the office of President, one should steer clear of election promises and policies, and instead, try to determine the qualities of the various candidates.

I cannot claim to have any particularly outstanding qualities, but I do submit that if chosen, the experience gained from four years in the Fleet Air Arm and a post-war business venture will stand me in good stead.

SLABS & EDGINGS

In view of the coming stampede westward, tonight's forestry association meeting should prove of interest to all foresters. Following the regular business meeting, Dr. J. M. "Hoot" Gibson will speak on some aspects of working in British Columbia.

Warning: High Fire Danger index forecast for a certain part of the campus where the water table is now on floor (25') lower than at this time last year! It has now been suggested a Wajax be used to fill our now dry spring.

It is claimed that a bull moose is more than a match for a single wolf. A pack of wolves may down one but usually only at the expense of one of themselves.

Recipe for Plank Porcupine: Porkies are valuable not only for the bounty but also for their epicurean delight. Next time you're fortunate enough to come across one of the tasty morsels, try the following method of preparation as recommended by many woods-wise men all over the country.

Dress the carcass and nail it to inch pine plank. Submerge in a pot of water and boil for three days. In the meantime find a bee tree and take sufficient honey to cover the entire mess. Remove Porky and plank from the pot and cover completely with honey. Set it front of fire to boil. After 12 hours apply more honey, ketchup or mustard, and salt. Throw away Porky and eat the plank. It's delicious!

Ed' Note: Apparently U.N.B. is not unique in having aqua difficulties. The following comment appeared in a column in the paper from MacDonald College:

"I take back those nasty cracks about the dining hall. Things aren't so bad. Take the soup, for instance. It's a darn sight better water than you can get from the taps in the residences."

Varsity Hockey Teams Win 5 - 0 in First Game Of N.B. - P.E.I. Intercollegiate Finals

By BUCK BUCHANAN
UNB took a strong hold on the NB-PEI Intercollegiate Hockey Title on Saturday by defeating SDU 5-0 in the first game of a home and home, total goal series. Though the passing of the two teams was off in the early stages, play improved and the last two UNB goals came on fine passing plays. Play was fast throughout and both teams checked closely.

The line of Lorimer, Kenny and Bliss paced the UNB attack, accounting for 3 of the 5 goals. John Wilson scored on a beautiful solo effort as he stole the puck near the St. Dunstan's blueline and went in all alone to draw Harrigan out and slip the puck into the net.

UNB scored single goals in each of the first two periods, both by Tim Kenny, and added 3 more in the third period.

Jack Pinder played a steady game in the nets for UNB, kicking out 21 shots. It was his first shutout in the intercollegiate play. Bruce Harrigan, a former UNB goalie, tended for the Saints and had 20 saves.

Line-up:
UNB: Goal: Pinder.
Defense: Watt, Hallet, Sample, Lalor.
Forwards: Lorimer, T. Bliss, Kenny, Kennedy, Donkin, J. Wilson, Smith, Lyon, Zaremsky.
SDU: Goal: Harrigan.
Defense: Wedge, Waite, McRae, Juneau.
Forwards: Deighan, Dalton, Jay, Michaud, Flynn, Murphy, Coyle, Gaudet, MacIsaac.

Transits Lead Candlepin League

In the single game played last Monday night in the Men's Candlepin League, the Senior Foresters topped the Residence three strings for a sweep of four points. Lloyd and Hanusiak of the Foresters shared high single honors with 127, while Hanusiak copped the high three with 332.

The following evening the Transits' undefeated string record was halted as they dropped their last ten boxes to the Rockets. However, they were in their usual form the first strings and emerged from the game with three points. Top bowler for the night was Johnny Rice of the Transits with a high single of 127 and a high three of 339.

There are only two more nights of league play scheduled for the spring term. Following this, the first four teams will play off for the spring championship.

"Is this the Woman's Exchange?" asked Reuben.
"Of course. What did you want to see?"
"Well, if you're the woman, I guess I'll keep Sarah."

Foresters won over Sea Dogs by default.

Saturday's games saw only one change in league standings.
The Engineers, by their 17-3 defeat of the Consmen move from last to fifth place, handing over the wooden spoon to their vanquished opponents, who have an inferior goal average. Scores—Engineers, Cass 10, Owen 4, Whitely 2, Vander Meyden 1. Consmen, Spriggs 2, Snow 1.

At the other end of the table Residence I and the Foresters strengthened their positions.
Residence I had little mercy on their stablemates, Residence II, whom they trounced 9-0. The game, however, was not so one-sided as the score would suggest. Residence II played a strong, rugged game but were unusually weak in their shooting. Scores—Residence I, Fowler 3, Snow 3, Boucher 2, Morris 1.

In the third game the Foresters acquired four easy points. They won by default when their opponents, the Sea Dogs, failed to field a full team.

HOCKEYISTS ADVANCE TO NB-PEI FINALS WITH 3-2 WIN OVER MT. A.

By FRANK WALTON
The U.N.B. Senior Varsity last Thursday night defeated the Mount Allison University squad 3-2 to advance to the finals of the N.B.-P.E.I. Intercollegiate hockey playdowns against St. Dunstan's University of Charlottetown. U.N.B. won the first game in Sackville on February 9, 2-1, thus taking the two-game, total goal series 5-3.

Played before a large crowd of U.N.B. supporters at the York Arena, the game was ragged, although it did produce an occasional burst of speed. The Varsity forwards skated hard but their lack of polish around the net prevented them from piling up a larger score. The Red and Black outshot Mt. A., 35-22.

The teams battled through a scoreless first period. In the second, Fred Henderson put the Mounties ahead 1-0 when he scored from a faceoff on a pass from M. Matheson. Varsity forward Art Lorimer was serving a minor penalty at the time.

U.N.B. tied it up when Tim Bliss fired a beautiful backhand shot past Mt. A. goaltender MacGowan on a seemingly impossible angle. George Kennedy put Varsity ahead 2-1 when he blasted the puck into the upper right hand corner of the net, after taking passes from Jack Thompson and Ralph Donkin. Vic Smith put the game away when he scored on a breakaway late in the period. The Mounties scored their final goal early in the final period, with Normie Eastman converting a U.N.B. defence lapse into a breakaway goal.

Referees Bishop and Bedard called nine penalties, six against the Red and Black. Varsity forward Wally Zaremsky was given a match misconduct with six seconds remaining in the game.

Lineups:

Men's Varsity Takes 56 - 41 Win Over Marshmen in Intercollegiate Play

By DENNIS HAMMOND
The U.N.B. men's varsity gained their third win against one defeat in M.I.A.U. basketball play-offs by downing Mt. A. 56-41. The game, played at the Lady Beaverbrook gymnasium, was witnessed by a large crowd and was the first clash of this season between these traditional rivals.

The game, played at a fast and furious pace, provided many fine plays and kept the crowd on edge throughout. The first half, which ended with Mt. A. in front 25-24, was played almost too fast for any advantage to be taken by either team. Because of this excess drive many passes were bobbled and many more shots were missed. Outstanding in the first half was Stewart of Mt. A. who had 17 points. The score at quarter time was 13-12 with Mt. A. on top.

In the second half, once again U.N.B. produced their extra drive, and at three-quarter time were out in front 36-32. Despite a determined effort by Mt. A. at the beginning of the last quarter, U.N.B. began to roll and increased their lead by 11 points to end the game on the long end of a 56-41 count. Near the end of the game Dick King of Mt. A. suffered a badly sprained ankle.

Outstanding for Mt. A. were Stewart, with 23 points, and Baxter, who played a standout defensive game. Little, with 15 points once again led the way for U.N.B. Stairs, with 10, and Brannen, who also played a strong defensive game, with 8, were next in the scoring column.

The referees had their hands full trying to control the fast play of the game, and thus a total of 46 fouls were called, 22 to each team. Mills and Stewart of Mt. A. and Brannen and Glass of U.N.B. exceeded the foul limit. Each team had only 50 per cent in their foul-shooting, U.N.B. getting 16 of 32 shots, while Mt. A. made 13 of 26 shots.

Mt. A. were without the services of Bob Goss, their first-string center, out with a broken ankle, while U.N.B. welcomed back Eric Garland, who had sustained an injury early in January, at Aroostook State Normal School.

Lineups:
U.N.B.—Nakash 6, Glass 2, Stairs 10, Abernethy, Whalen, Brannen 8, Miller 7, Little 15, Patterson 6, Garland 2, Crockett.
Mt. A.—Mills 6, Stothart 3, Baxter 2, Stevens 1, Stewart 23, King, Trafford 3, Parker, Nickolson 3.
Referees: Sypher and Gardiner.

Co-eds, Faculty Battle to Draw

The outstanding athletic contest of the year took place at York Arena last Thursday when the co-eds and the faculty battled, almost to the finish, for the hockey championship of Co-ed week. The two goalies, Peter Burroughs and Dot Monteith were carried off the ice at the end of the game, both of them exhausted from fending off a shower of shots. The score was somewhat indeterminate but it was felt to have been a smashing victory for either the faculty or the co-eds. I will put myself out on a limb by suggesting the score was about 20-1 for the faculty but the person sitting next to me claims it was vice versa. A return match for next year has been set to settle the controversy.

Lightning Blades Lucas sparked the Faculty team to its possible victory while Maxine Rankin and Gloria Groat starred for the co-eds. The co-eds definitely had the edge in play as far as ice-dusting was concerned as even Prof. Burroughs couldn't match the combined efforts of Jane Burns and Freda McKinney. Many distinguished professors were conspicuous by their absence but those who upheld the honour of the faculty against such overwhelming odds were:

Professors: Pacey, Lucas, Baird, Tillotson, Stewart and Burroughs.
Co-ed: Maxine MacDonald, Joan Lawrence, Sue Snow, Gloria Groat, Lucy Connell, Maxine Rankin, Jane Burns, Jane Bennett, Dot Monteith, Barb Fleet, Freda McKinney.

SOPHOMORES WIN SWIM MEET

By COLIN HARROWING
It was the Sophomores all the way Thursday in the University of New Brunswick Inter-Class Swim Meet held in the Residence Pool as they took first place in six of the 12 events. The runners up were the Freshmen while the Juniors and Seniors placed third and fourth, respectively. The Intermediates had no entries.

The Sophomore triumphs were accounted for by Vic Stewart, Don Fowler and Malcolm Babin in the 60 yard medley relay, John Patterson in the 20 yard free style with Babin coming back to take the 20 and 40 yard back stroke while Fowler captured the 40 yard fullter board competition.

The Juniors came through for two first places as Bill Spriggs won the 20 yard breast stroke while team mate Louis Shvite was cleaning up in the 100 yard free style division.

The Senior's lone first place was racked up by Bob Coke as he took the diving competition with Sophomore Charles Edgecome and Freshman "Paddy" Gregg placing in that order.

Besides their first place victories the Sophomores had four second placings in the 40 and 100 yard free styles, the 160 yard free style relay and the diving competition. They rounded off their night with two third places in the 20 yard breast stroke and the 80 yard free style relay.

Points were awarded on the basis of five for a first place, three for a second and one for a third. For the relay races point awards were doubled—ten, six, and two respectively.

The team captains were Wendell Halsall for the Sophomores, Jim Evans for the Freshmen, Dave Rogers for the Juniors and Bob Coke for the Seniors.

ALUMNI, FORESTERS ARE SECTIONAL LEADERS IN I.B.L.

The individual league titles seem to be pretty well sewed up with the two sectional leaders unbeaten. The "B" Section Foresters have an eight game winning streak, while the Alumni are "A" Section leaders on the strength of a five game unbeaten string.

Last Wednesday, the first game saw the Alumni take a rather close and low scoring game from the Chemistry Society, 28-21. The game proved to be a scramble at times but was cleanly played. Ben Baldwin topped the winners with eight points, while Burt Simpson and Reg Staples potted six each for the losers. Fifteen personal fouls were called.

An aggressive Engineers team edged the lowly Mooseheads who could do no right, 33-29. Jack Dawson led the winners with 13 points and Jerry Boulton the Mooseheads with 10.

In "B" Section, the Foresters ran over the hapless Residence "B" squad, 60-24. The losers had much trouble with their shooting. George Elliott and Bob Clouston led the winners, making 17 and 15 points respectively. High scorer for the losers was Don Fowler with 10.

The Froshomores, putting on a show of power, outscored the Soph. Foresters 62-10. The game was cleanly played with only a few fouls being called. Dave Gammon, the Intramural scoring leader, topped the Froshomores, scoring 26 points.

The final game of the night proved to be the highest scoring one of the evening, with the Residence "A" team defeating the Frosh Bullets, 60-45. The game was very fast and rough in spots. Jack Cassidy was the outstanding player in the game, scoring 32 points. Teammate Stu Vaudry made 13. Top scorers for the losers were Jim Robinson and John Peers, each with 12.

Intercollegiate Women's Basketball championship by defeating Mount Allison University 28-17 at a game played in the Lady Beaverbrook Gymnasium. The Red and Black had lost the first game in sackville on February 8, 21-17, thus winning the two game, total point series, 45-38.

Jackie Vey opened the scoring in the first quarter, and went on to score eight points in the quarter, which ended with U.N.B. leading 15-6. The second quarter saw each team sink two baskets. The half-time score was 19-10.

Varsity opened up a wider lead in the third quarter, despite the fact that the forwards had a good deal of trouble with their shooting. However, they managed to score six points against Mt. A's one.

In the final quarter, Barker led a determined effort on the part of the Garnet and Gold, scoring five of her team's six points. Betty Brown and Jackie Vey were U.N.B.'s high scorers, with 11 and 10 points respectively. J. Barker led the Marshwomen with 10. two days before the play was scheduled for broadcast and of course this accounts for the fact that the station did not give earlier notice that the play would not be acceptable for air presentation. In making this statement I should also mention that a copy of the script was furnished to our technical department some time ago for the purpose of handling technical arrangements during rehearsals, but as this involved purely technical operations the script did not at this time come to the attention of either our production manager, Mr. Fenety or myself.

Both Mr. Fenety and I reviewed and studied the script very carefully on both Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning knowing that in its present form it would not be acceptable for air presentation, but hoping that some way could be found to revise it so as to meet broadcasting standards. Unfortunately, however, this could not be accomplished without completely ruining the story and I, therefore, reluctantly advised U.R.P. that the broadcast could not take place.

As to objections to the script they were: (1) It contained profanity and blasphemy. (2) It was on a subject not suitable for presentation during Brotherhood Week. (3) The writer dealt with an unsuitable subject in a poor unprofessional manner or to sum up, the subject was ill chosen and poorly handled, the script was just not up to broadcasting standards.

Radio programs, unlike other forms of entertainment, enter the unguarded atmosphere of the home and are heard by old and young alike. This factor places a heavy responsibility on radio station owners and managers. This responsibility will not be ignored. This station as well as others across Canada will always make every effort to see that all programs under our control meet what are generally accepted as the standards of good taste in the area served. If in applying this policy hardship or inconvenience is occasioned, we are sorry as we recognize that there is always more than one point of view. However, as our responsibility is to serve all branches of society at one and the same time the standards of the community as a whole must apply."

When the winter is heavy upon us and the snow is ankle deep and the sky continually threatening, it is pleasant to think of spring. It is pleasant to remember the song of birds, above the quick, fresh gusts of wind, the caressing warmth of the sun, the marble on the sunny side of the streets. I like to think of these things, but I have another more particular memory that never fails to bring a lift to the heart and a high gay excitement.

It is spring in Greenwich Village. Springtime in the Village is the time for flowers to bloom in the pushcarts, defrosted poets to write about violets, and artists to come swarming like armies of warriors to its antique streets. For every spring there is an art show. Every year hundreds of butchers, bakers, soda jerks and an occasional art student have an opportunity of displaying their wares for sale and admiration. The ratio of sales to admiration inclines heavily away from the side of the sales. I remember one of my friends in a state of great excitement one night when I met her for dinner. She had almost made a sale. A man had stopped by and said he was going to buy a picture and he admired one of hers very much, but he had to check with his wife. This had happened early in the morning and he had not come back, but in the spring in the Village it is easy to believe that he will.

Officially the show is held on a street called MacDougal Alley, but as time has gone on the show has become bigger and bigger so that now it is almost impossible to wander down a street anywhere near MacDougal without bumping into an embryo Picasso, Winslow Homer or Augustus Johns. The enthusiasm is wonderful and very infectious. There have been times when, wandering through the crowded streets in the bright sunshine, I believed that I could paint a picture for the show. The conviction has been so strong that I have found myself in an art shop with all the curious and exciting tools of the artist. But always once out of the crowds and the sunshine, sanity has returned and instead of the brilliant pigments and the fine brushes I have bought some postcards: "At the Art show in the Village today; having a wonderful time".

One year MacDougal Alley had an unusual experience, even for a street where the unusual is the rule. An oil man, in town from Texas, found himself in the Village as part of his grand tour. The atmosphere of the Alley with its women in short haircuts and its men in long, with women in slacks and men in smocks, was too much for him. Smitten with art fever, he was overcome with the urge not to paint, but to buy, and he bought. He bought half the wares in the Alley before he decided he had had enough. He hired a van to move all the art to his hotel prior to moving it to Texas to establish an art gallery. That night the Alley could scarcely contain itself, so great was the joy. At last its works were going to be in an art gallery. The byways of the Village were filled with swaggering artists, most of whom had sold their first picture. I heard later that the joy did not last; the next morning on arising the oil man examined his purchases and decided not to honour his native state.

The show started back before the first war when some artists lacked the money to rent a hall to hold an art show. They hung their paintings along the street to be gaped at and perhaps bought. The idea caught on and soon anyone who painted at home or did a little Sunday pastel work was beginning to bring their works down to hang along with the artists. In no time at all the Sunday painters outnumbered the professionals.

Most of the participants are not full time artists at all but rather people who just like to paint for relaxation. It is a fine example of democracy in action. One day I had lunch with two of the artists who were very good friends; one was Mrs. Walters, the wife of a New York banker, who specialized in rugged seascapes and her companion was a garbage collector with an unpronounceable name, who likes to paint rabbits and squirrels.

Regularly as clockwork every year a hidden genius is discovered. For a brief fleeting moment he is shrouded in fame and then he slips back into obscurity.

To add to the general confusion poets have begun to make their appearance. Having no real show of their own some of them erect small stands and sit waiting for the passerby to give them small coins or soft dollar bills to recite some of their wares. I joined this group on one occasion, but no one asked me to recite or even looked at me so I gave it up. I found out too that in spite of their brotherhood in the arts, not a few of the artists condemn these sidewalk pundits. As one dauber remarked to me, "A man comes down to buy a picture. He sees a poet and he gives him some money to recite his poetry and then when he wants to buy a picture he finds he hasn't enough money to pay for it. A bas all poets and a curse of their heads". I felt better then about my failure in the arts.

The vending is done without the benefit of shouting as would be the case if the boys and girls were peddling hot dogs. However, the ethics leave something to be desired. Should a brother artist notice a prospective buyer admiring a painting of a type he has himself he is not remiss about approaching the buyer with the offer of his own work at a lower price.

It has been a long time since I stood on a street corner with my typewritten rhymes tacked on a board, and I have seen many galleries and the paintings of the great, but somehow when I think of art, I think of the enthusiasm and the colour and the strong sense of achievement that one feels in the Alley in the Village in the spring.

For final authority we turn to Webster's Unabridged. Webster's calls an Irish bull "a grotesque blunder in language," and gives us this almost perfect example: "He remarked in all seriousness that it was hereditary in his family to have no children."
