FORAKER FOLLOWING MAKES FIRST STROKE AT CLEVELAND, OHIO

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 11.—The first stroke by the Foraker following here was made today when, in a mass meeting a committee was selected to employ the "regular" Republican county executive committee.

The question of legality of the committee selected as against the "regular" committee, said by the Forakerites to be a Taft organization, will now be submitted to the county board of elections. The claims of the so-called Roosevelt committee, a third element of the local situation, also rests with the same board. It will be the duty of the board to determine which committee is lawful and has authority to set for the party in this county. To place the issue squarely before the board each committee has issued a call for a convention on the same date, February 11.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS CURE ANAEMIA

Pale Faces, Dizzy Spells, Palpitations, Headache and Shortness of Breath Are Symptoms of Anaemia

Watery blood is an open invitation to disease to take possession of your system. Watery blood is responsible for nearly all the headaches and backaches and aches and pains which afflict mankind. Watery blood is responsible for the dull eyes, sallow cheeks and the listless dragged out feeling that is found in so many growing girls. Good blood means good health, and good blood actually comes through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Weak, ailing, despondent women who use this medicine are made active and strong; listless pale-faced girls are given new health, rosy cheeks, bright eyes and a new sense of happiness and security. Mrs. E. S. Nightingale, Chesley, Ont., says: "My daughter was ill for a long time with anaemia and would often be confined to bed for three or four days at a time, and we feared she was going into a decline. A lady friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a half dozen boxes. By the time these were used there was a marked improvement, and I got a further supply for her. The change these pills have wrought in her condition is so great that you would not think that she was the same girl who will always have a kindly feeling for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50c a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MORE VICTIMS OF LEVEL CROSSING

TORONTO, Jan. 12.—Their democrat train struck a train running forty miles an hour, and Samuel Crouch, David Toie and Crouch's twenty-five-year-old daughter were hurled about a hundred feet. The young woman's neck was broken. Crouch was scalded and killed, and Toie is likely to die. The men were old and respected farmers from near Blenheim, Ont., and the accident occurred at Cedar Springs Saturday night, at the crossing of the Pere Marquette railway.

OLD WOMAN STICKS TO WOODEN HUT SHE BUILT HERSELF

LONDON, Jan. 10.—An old woman named Mrs. Richards, a great-grand-niece of the celebrated painter, Sir Joshua Reynolds, is giving the local authorities of Grays, Essex, a good deal of trouble. Three years ago, Mrs. Richards, who is 70 years old, but as hale and hearty as a woman of twenty years younger, built a hut in a vacant lot near the town. With the material at her disposal—the hut is constructed of wood—Mrs. Richards did not succeed in erecting an imposing edifice, though it is in a measure comfortable, and quite up to her needs which are exceedingly few.

From the standpoint of sanitation and of the picturesque, the local authorities objected to her structure. They ordered that while it is, to a large extent, an eyesore in a rather dilapidated locality, it is also unsafe and that, in fact Mrs. Richards runs a big risk in living there.

SEABOARD EX-CHIEF, BLAMING RYAN, WILL AID REORGANIZATION

Judge Skelton Williams, Who Was Squeezed Out, Declares for Unity

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Appointment of receivers for the Seaboard Air Line Railroad system appears to have brought together the conflicting interests in the ownership and management. John Skelton Williams of Richmond, by whose genius the system was built up, but who was forced out of control four years ago by Thomas F. Ryan of New York, telegraphs to The North American an interesting statement. He says he is ready to "put personal grievances aside" and work with the Ryan interests for reorganization. He also points out that he long ago predicted that the methods used by those who ousted him would bring disaster.

Following is Mr. Williams' telegram: BY JOHN SKELTON WILLIAMS.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 2. "In no spirit of boasting, but as evidence for those who are interested in Seaboard securities that my opinions on the affairs of that system are well founded, I ask attention to the fact that my predictions of the course of the property and the results of its financial and operating management in recent years have been fulfilled exactly. The passing of the Seaboard Air Line system from control of Messrs. Ryan, Blair and Collidge into the hands of officers of the court is not an event which should cause stockholders alarm or discouragement. This is not a case where the unexpected has happened, but the present situation is the logical result of forces which have been at work during the last four years. It is hoped that all interests may now unite on some plan and platform which may look to the speedy rehabilitation of the system and the carrying out of some scheme which will produce the most satisfactory results to all security holders."

"Business," he writes, "makes strange bedfellows. Probably I shall be required to work for the restoration of the Seaboard with men of whom I have said very harsh things publicly, and who have injured me deeply. The interests of my fellow-stockholders of the Seaboard property, and of the southern country in which it is such a vitally important factor, outweigh with me any personal grievances I may have."

TO PUT GRIEVANCES ASIDE. "I expect to put these grievances aside, at least until this work is done. So long as the Ryan-Blair interests may give evidence of honest purpose to build up the property and protect and promote the interests of the stockholders, they will have from me hearty cooperation. I can work with these men to a good end and for a good cause quite as hard as I fought them while I believed they were doing wrong following unwise policies."

"My confidence in the possibilities of the system, under proper management, is unshaken. For the calendar year 1907 the Seaboard Air Line Railway and its affiliated lines earned approximately $18,000,000. On this basis of more than $600 per mile, the system ought to be operated at an expense ratio of approximately 70 per cent. less. On this basis, net earnings of the last year would have been $5,700,000 or nearly $2,000,000 in excess of fixed charges. "With the return of normal business conditions and the tremendous development which has been going on vigorously for the last ten years in the entire territory traversed by the Seaboard Air Line system, the arrest of which development can only be temporary, I believe that results, still more favorable than those expected, are in store. I hope and believe it will be the policy of the receivers to make the Seaboard

MUTILATED BODY OF POLE FOUND

And Three Brothers are Arrested by the Police at Peabody, Mass.

PEABODY, Mass., Jan. 11.—Following the discovery today of the mutilated body of Ludwyck Kubals, Russian Pole, the police tonight took into custody three brothers, John, Joseph and Karl Gerry, all Poles, and Laura Lemandobski, who is described as a German Pole. Although none of the four were detained could speak English with any degree of fluency, the police said the information they had been able to gain through interpreters justified them in holding the quartette on suspicion.

The body of Kubals was discovered in an open field at the rear of the Blaney farm, near Washington street. Two small boys who were on their way across the field to a skating pond, the medical examiner who was called found that the man had been killed by blows on the head, and that afterward the body had been mutilated atrociously. There were many gashes about the abdomen. The body was frozen and its general condition indicated to the medical examiner that he was then dead at least two days.

Kubals was last seen alive on Thursday evening. The theory of the police is that jealousy or a desire for revenge prompted the crime. It is believed that on account of Kubals' relations with a woman he was lured to the lonely field on Thursday night and struck down. There were no signs of a struggle about the spot, where the body lay. Nearby was a heavy hemlock tree, 21 inches in length and two inches in diameter, one end of which was covered with blood and bits of hair. It is supposed that Kubals, going unsuspectingly to carry out an assignment with a woman in the field, was suddenly struck from behind with this weapon and was killed, or at least rendered unconscious, without having an opportunity to offer any resistance.

That the murderous hatred of the assailants was not satisfied with the blow that killed him was evidenced by the autopsy late today. This showed three compound fractures of the skull, any one of which might have caused death, while there were evincences also that many other blows were showered on his head and body. The trunk was disfigured with knife-gashes. One of the fractures of the skull was at the bridge of the nose, another was over the right eye and a third at the back of the head.

"The man had been robbed of his gold watch and his money, which is said to have amounted to $134. The police, however, did not regard the robbery as having furnished the motive for the crime, and they went to work upon the theory that a woman was connected with the case. After many of the Polish residents had been interviewed through interpreters, the police took the Gerry brothers and Laura Lemandobski into custody on suspicion. They all lived at 23 Mason street, where Karl Gerry and his wife, who is

JAPS AGREE TO LIMIT PASSPORTS

Govt. Pleased With Lemieux's Report Matter Will Come Up in the House in a Few Days

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—The government Saturday discussed the Japanese immigration situation with Hon. R. Lemieux, who has just returned from Tokyo, where he has been conducting negotiations. Mr. Lemieux's colleagues were well satisfied with the report he made on his negotiations. It is understood Mr. Lemieux induced the Japanese government to agree that only a limited number of passports should be issued annually to enable Japanese immigration to leave for Canada. The Japanese government, has suggested that no objections should be raised by Canada to Japanese arriving in British Columbia for the purpose of working as agriculturists. This suggestion is not agreeable to western members, who believe that such an agreement might be made an excuse for a large number of Japanese who would come as agriculturists, but who might enter into any sort of occupation afterwards.

G.M.A. DEMAND A DUTY ON PULPWOOD

Government Will Appoint Commission to Look Into Whole Forestry Matter

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—Hon. J. D. Roland, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, saw Sir Wilfrid and other members of the government on Saturday and laid before them the demand of the Canadian manufacturers for an export duty on pulp wood, and also that the government take measures for the preservation of forests and water powers in Canada. It is understood that the manufacturers' association intends to make an active campaign looking towards the preservation of the forests, upon which the continuance of water supply for power chiefly depends.

The government will probably not be able at the present session to introduce legislation on this matter, but will appoint a commission to look into the whole case of forest preservation and the securing of the water supply. The water supply so proper legislation can be enacted later.

The board of railway commissioners has met an order to the railroads directing that every car which is used for the purpose of conveyance of passengers shall be provided with at least two fire extinguishers. The railroads are given until January next to complete their compliance with the order.

JACK LONDON AND HIS "SNARK" OVERDUE

Has Not Reached Marquesas Islands Yet—Wife on Board

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Friends of Jack London, the author, are beginning to feel alarmed over his failure to arrive at the Marquesas Islands, which he was expected to reach early in December. London left Hilo, Hawaii, October 7 last in his boat, the "Snark," for Marquesas, and is about a month overdue. It is supposed that the "Snark" which is equipped with a gasoline engine, is drifting about as the result of injury to her machinery. Mrs. London, two friends and a small crew are on the vessel. The steamer Mariposa is due here January 25 from La Hilo, Tahiti, and it is hoped that she will bring news of the party.

VANCOUVER, V. I. C. R. BRAKEMAN FELL TO DEATH

Between Cars of Moving Train Mates Did Not Miss Him and He Bled to Death

MONCTON, N. B., Jan. 12.—While walking over the cars on Conductor Delaney's east-bound special near Red Pine early this morning, Brakeman, Mark Gallant, aged about twenty-five years, fell to his death. As the train was passing Red Pine Gallant was going over the cars on his way to the engine and it is supposed missed his footing, falling between a box and a coal car, about eight cars passing over him. The train men did not miss their comrade until the train reached Newgate and only received tidings of his death when the train arrived at Coal Branch.

Delaney's special freight passed Red Pine about five o'clock this morning, and about half-past seven trainmen found Gallant dying near the water tank at Red Pine. Life was not yet extinct, but the unfortunate's trunk only lived a few minutes after being picked up. One leg was severed, but other bruises on the body were of slight character, showing that death was due to shock and loss of blood. Mr. Gallant been found immediately after the mishap, it is possible his life might have been saved. He was so far gone when found that he was unable to give an account of the accident.

The train was moving slowly at the time it passed Red Pine, but as the cars were covered with light snow, it is thought Gallant slipped or made a misstep in the dark.

After the body was examined by Coroner Meahan of Bathurst, it was sent to deceased's home at Coal Branch for burial. Deceased was a son of I. C. R. Section Foreman Gallant of Coal Branch.

Death Came Early Sunday Morning After Long Suffering From Heart Disease—An Honorable Public Career Terminated—Funeral Will Be Held Tuesday.

George V. McInerney passed away at 7.30 o'clock Sunday morning. After a fight for life which astonished the attending physicians and the members of his family, the end came with the break of day.

Saturday afternoon Mr. McInerney, who for the last few days had been somewhat brighter and more buoyant, began to grow weaker, and he suffered a great deal during the night.

Mr. McInerney was a member of the former president of the C. M. B. A., and at the time of his death was a grand trustee of the association. He was past president of the Irish Literary and Benevolent Society of St. John.

A PRIEST WHO BOXES—FATHER FREEDY IN RING AT ASHOWDOWN CLUB

LONDON, Jan. 16.—A parson who puts on the gloves and boxes in a club-room is a novelty anywhere, but especially in London. Such a parson is Father Freedy, who has charge of a mission in Islington, and who has probably done as good work for Christ as any clergyman in England.

He has had the other night devoted to boxing and wrestling, and nearly every night puts on the gloves at the club which he has established. A couple of nights ago, when there was an amount of "bait" present that might well turn the National Sporting Club green with envy.

DAVID GETS FIVE YEARS FOR KILLING HIS WIFE

Sentence Imposed This Morning by Judge McLeod—The Last Act in the Emmer-son-Crockett Libel Suit.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Jan. 15.—At 9 p. m. last night the jury in The Crown v. David returned to the court after being out an hour and a half and their verdict was that he had murdered his wife.

The Crown's case was supported by the testimony of the jury, which was that David had murdered his wife. The judge sentenced him to five years in the penitentiary.

The solicitor general said that it was his duty to sum up the testimony and suggest any opinion as to the prisoner's counsel's remarks. In the first place the jury should not consider the woman killed.

HALF MILLION FIRE IN TORONTO

Furniture of Thousands and Families Burned

Firemen Had Narrow Escape from Death—Fifty Pianos Destroyed

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—The household furniture of about a thousand families was nearly destroyed this morning in a big fire in one of the storehouses of M. Rawlinson, St. Joseph street, near Yonge street. It is impossible to say how much the total loss will amount to, but it will probably be about five or a million dollars. The fire occurred in "A" warehouse, which was built in 1907. It is a three-story building, and it is divided into six sections, with fireproof brick walls between each. One hundred and fifty pianos were stored in one section that was flooded, and the loss on them is estimated at fifty thousand. Fireman Andy Ferguson of Rose Ave. was near the top of a long ladder against the east side of the building when he was suddenly overcome with smoke and fainted. He would have fallen had not a man immediately below seized him and held him until a rope was fastened to him and he was lowered to the ground. He was taken home in the ambulance.

EVERY SUFFERER FROM PILES SHOULD READ THIS CAREFULLY

Knowing the frequency with which people suffer from this ailment, Dr. Hamilton made an exhaustive study into the cause of piles. He found that the greater part of the trouble is like a network of blood vessels, and if subjected to persistent pressure a section will bulge out and form what is commonly known as a pile. The only effective mode of curing this trouble is the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which can be taken before retiring. Next day will bring wonderful relief. "I suffered up to about the limit of human endurance with piles," writes Miss Louisa from Cornwall, Ont. "I was employed in a factory here, but for a while had to give up work till I got better of this trouble. I read in the Montreal Herald about Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and after using them for two weeks was cured. I can recommend

SEVERE PAINS IN THE GROIN

Trying Experience of a Well-Known Citizen of St. John, N. B.

The case of Mr. Chas. F. Olive, for years foreman in the "Gazette" of St. John, N. B., is striking evidence of the power of Ferrerozine.

"For several years," writes Mr. Olive, "I have had kidney trouble and until recently I suffered from it. A few months ago my condition assumed a very serious form. I consulted several city doctors, used different pills, but without the slightest benefit. I suffered from an intense pain in the groin, and the increasing seriousness of my trouble prompted me to try Ferrerozine. It gave me quick relief, and a half-dozen boxes cured. Ferrerozine I can recommend as a specific for disordered kidneys."

PRINCESS, MANY TIMES ENGAGED, TO WED AT LAST

The Crown Princess of Roumania. Princess Beatrice of Saxe-Coburg.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—For the first time in the history of England since Charles I. wedded Henrietta-Maria, daughter of Henri Quatre, there is to be an intermarriage between the English royal family and a royal, or ex-royal, family of France. Princess Beatrice, youngest daughter of the late Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha (formerly Duke of Edinburgh), and, therefore, a niece of King Edward, is betrothed to King Alfonso of Bourbon-Orleans. The betrothal is also noteworthy because it will mean an alliance between Protestant and Catholic royal families, but most remarkable of all, the betrothal will probably wind up the most romantic series of engagements, real and rumored, that ever fell to the lot of a princess. Beatrice of Saxe-Coburg is only twenty-three years of age, but in July, 1900, it was announced that she was to be a bride and that her selected was the eldest son of the Kaiser.

Dr. D. B. Jones is very seriously ill. Rev. C. H. Orser, Caribou, preaches in the Baptist church tomorrow (Sunday) morning and evening.

WANT PLACE ON FIRE INSURANCE BOARD

F'ton Not Satisfied With Present Plan

Whole Thing Done by St. John Agents—May Ask Legislature to Adjust Matters

FREDERICTON, Jan. 13.—The annual meeting of the Fredericton Board of Trade was held this afternoon at the City Hotel. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, G. S. Y. Diblee; vice-president, J. W. McCready; secretary, J. F. Winslow; treasurer, M. Tennant; council, the Hon. N. J. D. Phinney, C. F. Chestnut, F. B. Edgecombe, J. J. Weddall, J. H. Barry, G. W. Hodges, H. F. Randolph, J. T. Jenney, W. E. Farrel, John Palmer, A. S. McFarlane; tourist committee, C. F. Chestnut, J. S. Nell, F. B. Edgecombe, J. W. McCready, R. P. Allen.

The president's address was a most creditable one, and Mr. Diblee received the congratulations and unalloyed thanks of all present. Many expressed the opinion that it was the best address ever given to the body. The president in his address congratulated the citizens on the commercial success of the past year. He referred to the money stringency felt both in the United States and Canada, and that the depression was felt in a degree not a business failure had been reported in Fredericton within the past twelve months. Two new sanitary works had been completed—the sewerage and the filtration plant—and these were marked by the almost total absence of fever and kindred diseases, and that the sanitary work upon its health conditions with pride and take its position with any city in Canada.

Another important civic change was consummated during the past year in the introduction of the new assessment act. Its operation had met with little criticism, and the fact that it would call attention to the clause taxing the income of the merchant and manufacturer. He thought it most fortunate that the appointment of a committee to seek legislation to amend the act in this respect. Another event of the year was the holding of the exhibition. The Agricultural Society deserved every congratulation, it surpassed any previous exhibition held in Fredericton. One regretted to note the sale and removal of the Aberdeen and the Woodstock boat, and the Star Line now offering their boats for sale. The board should take some action in having a Woodstock boat placed on the route and assist the St. John-Fredericton service.

It was hoped that later the service would be taken over by the Maritime grant transcontinental companies. The president next referred to the desirability of having a union station and the fact that the Agricultural Society had been interviewed and both promised the most careful consideration. It was to be regretted that so far there was no meeting of the rebuilding committee. Aberdeen mills, and he would recommend the appointment of a committee to meet the mayor and council in order to bring the matter to a successful issue. He would also suggest that some action be taken in respect to concerns and companies having legislative franchises for the operation of public utilities. The chief of the fire department reported that the losses from fire during the past year came to only $74,500. The president said he had reliable information to the effect that the average losses in 25 years was $5,500. That the minimum fire premium paid by the city was not more than $50,000, paying altogether in 25 years at least $1,500,000. Total losses in same period, $127,500, leaving the enormous surplus of $1,372,500. One fire insurance tariff is fixed altogether by St. John agents and while we have good insurance men here who have always done their duty, the city's interest, still there have no voice in fixing the rate. The president said he would recommend that places outside of St. John be given a place on the board, and if this be refused that then legislation be sought compelling this to be done. The report was taken up and passed section by section. Most of the sections were referred to the council to act upon. One and two were referred to special committees.

Henry Chestnut presented a lengthy report from the Local Improvement Association, and outlining certain proposed improvements, and asked the assistance of the board. This was referred to the council with power to act.

The Improvement Association include the extension of the market, building wharves, the building up of the river front opposite the parliament buildings and the widening of the street. The ideas expressed about the two latter were of an interesting character. The proposition is to sell Queen's Park at the back of the city at $100,000 per acre to the railways for a station, realizing therefrom $15,000, the amount to be turned into the city and of this ten thousand, with what the government assistance can be obtained to go towards the building up of the water front. The board expressed approval of the scheme and the council will endeavor to forward the Local Improvement Association presents its annual report, which was passed.

AN ORNAMENT AS WELL AS AN HONOR TO THE PROFESSION

High Tribute Paid to Memory of the Late George V. McInerney, K. C., by Members of Law Society, Which Passed Resolutions of Condolence.

The Law Society of Saint John met yesterday afternoon at four o'clock to pass resolutions of condolence on the death of the late George V. McInerney, K. C.

The chair was taken by C. N. Skinner, as the President. D. Mullin, K. C., was unavoidably prevented from attending by business at the Circuit Court. Mr. Skinner dealt feelingly upon the great loss the profession had sustained in the death of Mr. McInerney. He had known him intimately for many years and regarded him as one of the most honorable members of the Bar of New Brunswick. The chairman further stated that Mr. Powell and Mr. Alward had been appointed by the President to read the resolutions of condolence. Mr. Powell then moved the following resolutions:

"Whereas, the members of this society have learned with deep sorrow of the death of George Valentine McInerney, A. M., LL. B., K. C., in the prime of life and in full possession of his intellectual vigor, and

"Whereas, as a member of the House of Commons of Canada, during two Parliaments, he won the admiration of his fellow countrymen by his force and eloquence as a debater and his unanimous esteem of the purity of his life and the loftiness of his ideals; and

"Whereas, during nearly thirty years of professional life as a member of the Bar of this Province he was highly valued for his genial and courteous demeanor and respected alike for his probity and honor as a practitioner and his success and brilliancy as an advocate;

"Therefore resolved, that the members of this society, in appreciation of his eminent attainments as a parliamentarian, his ability as a lawyer, and his worth as a man, desire to place on record their profound regret for the loss which the country, the legal profession and this society, have sustained;

"And further resolved, that this resolution be entered on the minutes of this society, and that a copy thereof be forwarded by the Secretary to Mrs. McInerney.

Mr. Powell, K. C., said: "I rise for the purpose of moving a resolution respecting a late member of the Bar of this Province whose death we all regret, and whose memory the members of the society have been conversant with from an early age. An expression of his conviction of his strong moral and intellectual powers, Mr. McInerney was known to me as a boy. We were together in the distance of each other in the county of Kent, and our strong friendship, begun in boyhood, continued unbroken until his death.

"In early youth Mr. McInerney gave promise of those many qualities for which he has been conspicuous in the history of his country. His father, the father of the man. His most striking characteristics were: First, a winning geniality that made him beloved by all. Second, the ability to draw from sources of history and literature for adornment, he combined to a degree that is seldom experienced by other men. His mind was a storehouse of facts, and his rhetorical temperament.

"Fourthly, a large and generous nature which made every allowance for the opinions and the prejudices of those from whom he differed, and enabled him to consider questions of race and creed free from bigotry and passion, and lastly, a purity of life which built up a reputation which no man ever attempted to blemish. He had many opportunities for self-aggrandizement and was subjected to great temptations, but no opponent, however he might asperse the actions and the motives of other men, ever charged our deceased friend with prostituting his position, or degrading his manhood. He left political life as he has left literature, apparently as pure as he entered it, and if he has not bequeathed to his children material wealth, he has given them a better inheritance, a consciousness of being the offspring of a father whose reputation was as unassailable as his ability was great.

"I sat with him in parliament during two terms, and among the many men assembled there on whose accents the galleries had hung with delight and whose sentiments evoked the plaudits of the members none excelled in acrobatic statement of fact, in charm of illustration, in vigor of argument, or in lucidity and elegance of language the friend of whose companionship and counsel I must ever sorely be deprived.

"Of qualities that less command public attention, but are no less essential to the rounding out of a true manhood, Mr. McInerney was possessed to a remarkable degree. He was characterized by those deeds which Wordsworth says:

"Make the best portions of a good man's life.

"Those little unremembered acts of kindness and of love.

"This feature of his character gave him such a hold upon his political supporters in the county of Kent that their allegiance was procured against every species of attack.

"Divided worship, or what might be called an ill-advised attempt to serve two masters, law and politics, prevented him from attaining that eminence at the bar to which his great natural powers entitled him, but no lawyer ever came in contact with him without admiring his aptness, his acumen and his powers of address.

"I regret that my being obliged to attend the Hampton circuit will prevent me paying the last sad tribute of

SCORES OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH IN THEATRE

Dead Number Between 100 and 150 Fire and Panic at Sunday School Benefit Concert.

Scores More Injured, Many Fatally — Whole Families Wiped Out—Fire Apparatus Was Disabled and Building Was Destroyed—Bodies of Victims Cremated—A Terrible Scene.

BOYERTOWN, Pa., Jan. 13.—Between fifty and seventy-five persons were burned to death tonight in a fire which completely destroyed Rhoades' Opera House in this place.

The opera house was crowded with members of St. John's Lutheran Sunday school, who were attending a benefit given for that church. While the show was in progress a tank exploded. The actors endeavored to quiet the audience, but in their anxiety to make themselves heard and to avoid the awful stampede of the women and children, the coal oil lamps which were used as the footlights were overturned, setting the place on fire. The flames, fed by the oil, shot almost to the ceiling, and there was a wild rush of the 700 persons to escape from the burning building. Scores of women and children were trampled on and several who escaped being burned to death died after being dragged from the opera house. In many cases, it is said, entire families have been wiped out. The scene which followed the explosion is indescribable. Scores of persons who were in the balcony at the time the explosion occurred jumped from the windows and sustained fractured limbs and skulls.

To add to the terrible disaster the fire apparatus became disabled and the windows were left entirely to the mercy of the setting flames. It is almost certain that a vestige of the bodies of the unfortunate who were overcome by the smoke and perished ever will be found. Assistance was asked from Pottstown, but before the fire apparatus from that city reached this place the entire centre of the structure was a roaring furnace.

Had the women and children heeded the warning of the cooler heads in the audience, the horrible loss of life might have been averted, but there was no time to shake the entire building. Immediately there was a wild rush for the exits. The people on the stage attempted to escape, but the flames seemed to have lost control of themselves. Flames first consumed the scenery and swept toward the center of the stage. The ceiling, the smoke dropping men and women and children in its path. The flames did not rest. Once the crowd began to fight its way toward the exits, no power on earth could have saved them all, but I believe that if the men had not lost control of themselves the loss of life would have been very small. The fire was not brought under control until early this morning, after assistance had arrived from Reading and Pottstown. The bodies of the victims were removed to a place with a population of about 2,500 and is located about midway between Pottstown and Reading.

The fire is not yet under control, but it is not thought that it will be communicated to other property, as the opera house is on a plot of ground by itself.

Hundreds of persons surround the burning structure, apparently unconscious of the pending danger from falling bricks. Many parents who had children in the opera house are pacing to and fro, almost maddened by the awful sight.

The night was one of anguish. The shrieking of mothers who rushed to the scene as soon as they learned of the fire was pitiful. As the night wore on the crowds surrounding the building grew to such proportions that it was almost impossible for the police force, which had been augmented by a score of men from Pottstown and Reading, to keep the people back. One woman, who said she had lost her entire family in the theatre, was with difficulty restrained from throwing herself into the roaring flames.

At one o'clock a special train from Reading, bearing physicians and nurses, reached here, but there was little for them to do, for the injured who had dashed themselves to the pavement had been cared for by the physicians assisted by the Pottstown relief force. A few minutes after midnight the rear wall collapsed. The flames broke out anew and those who had vainly hoped to be able to find the remains of some of their loved ones turned in despair from the scene of the catastrophe.

It is estimated that at least seventy-five persons were injured by being trampled upon either on the stairway or by jumping from the windows of the burning structure. At least a score were fatally injured, at least a dozen succumbed to their injuries after being hurried to one of the temporary hospitals.

Three children ranging in age from eight to twelve years and one woman, who was dragged from the building by persons who had rushed to the rescue, had been trampled almost to a pulp, the skull of one of the unfortunate children having been crushed as though an egg shell.

King of Italy, who had "an unpleasant fifteen minutes' wait" hungry, idle workmen.

for the stage. It fell with a crash into the auditorium and exploded. In an instant the stage front was ablaze and the frightened people surged toward the rear again. The youthful actors escaped in their stage garments. The crowd in front of the auditorium fled to the rear as the flames from the stage edged toward them and they were met by a surge from the burning moving picture machine the mob became panic stricken and strong men beat down women and children. Frank Cullen, a blacksmith, seized his four year old son and made his way to a window. When he attempted to return to get his wife she was in a struggling mass of humanity and it was impossible for him to reach her. The flames spread rapidly and many of the audience were overcome before they could reach the fire escapes.

The frenzied people fought with each other to reach the front entrance, the principal means of exit from the building. The flames were at least thirty boys and girls on the stage while many more were behind the scenes. Without warning there was a crash. The ceiling seemed to shake the entire building. Immediately there was a wild rush for the exits. The people on the stage attempted to escape, but the flames seemed to have lost control of themselves. Flames first consumed the scenery and swept toward the center of the stage. The ceiling, the smoke dropping men and women and children in its path. The flames did not rest. Once the crowd began to fight its way toward the exits, no power on earth could have saved them all, but I believe that if the men had not lost control of themselves the loss of life would have been very small. The fire was not brought under control until early this morning, after assistance had arrived from Reading and Pottstown. The bodies of the victims were removed to a place with a population of about 2,500 and is located about midway between Pottstown and Reading.

$25.00 FOR A LETTER CAN YOU WRITE ONE?

Eight Prizes to be Awarded in a Letter Writing Contest Open to Everyone in the Maritime Provinces.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have been used in the Maritime Provinces for a generation. Hundreds of remarkable cures have been reported during that time and there is scarcely a family in which the remedy has not been tried with beneficial results. This furnishes the material for the letter to be written in this contest. There is no demand upon the imagination; every letter must deal with facts and facts only.

THE PRIZES.
The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont., will award a prize of $25.00 for the best letter received on or before the 1st day of February, 1908, from the Maritime Provinces on the subject, "Why I recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." A prize of $10.00 will be awarded for the second best letter received, a prize of $5.00 for the third best letter; and five prizes of $2.00 each for the next best five letters.

THE CONDITIONS.
The cure or benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills described in the letter may be in the writer's own case, or one that has come under his or her personal observation.

More than one cure may be described in the letter, but every statement must be literally and absolutely true.

The letter should be no longer than the basis of a newspaper article, and should be obtained from the remedy in the case described.

Every letter must give the full name and correct address of the person sending it. If it describes the cure of some person other than the writer of the letter, it must be signed by that person whose cure is described as a guarantee of the truth of the statements made.

The writer of each letter must state the name and date of the paper in which he or she saw this announcement.

Fine writing will not win the prize unless you have a good case to describe. The strength of the recommendation and not the style of the letter will be the basis of award.

It is understood that the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. shall have the right to publish any letter entered in this contest if they desire to do so.

The contest will close on Feb. 1st, 1908, and the prizes will be awarded as soon as possible thereafter. Do not delay. If you know of a cure write your letter NOW. Observe the above conditions carefully or your letter may be thrown out.

Address all letters as follows:

THE TWO-POWER NAVY BRITAIN'S HARD TASK

Haldane Tells of Difficulties Met With In Order to Maintain Fleet Equal to Those of Both Germany and United States

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Following on Lord Tweedmouth's speech, in which he said that we must maintain the supremacy of the sea and that there must be no cheseparing, Mr. Haldane spoke of the navy in a speech at Hanley recently.

"While we had a great navy, he said, there might come a time when it would not be so easy for us as today to command the two-power standard. Germany has a fleet of nearly sixty million; the United States would before long have one hundred million; it would be very hard for us with forty-four million to maintain a two-power standard against two nations with a combined population of one hundred and sixty million."

"We might not be able in days to come to depend wholly and absolutely upon our navy with the completeness of today, and should the time arrive it would be upon the home defence forces that we should have to rest our trust."

For the defense of certain points of our coast we must have, said Mr. Haldane, a force of six or eight hundred vessels. We could produce three to one in very short notice against an enemy that might manage, despite the navy's vigilance, to make a lodgment on our shores. It was all nonsense to talk about six months intervening between the time war broke out and the time that the fleet was available. It would be available from the first moment, but "six months" would bring it to fruition and perfection. The government ought never to be extravagant, but should be sufficient money."

MODERNISM CAUSES WARM DISCUSSION

Cardinals Hold Up Appointment of San Francisco Coadjutor Bishop

ROME, Jan. 13.—The meeting of the Congregation of the Propaganda today was the most important held in a long time. The main subject was the appointment of Dr. Hanna to the post of coadjutor bishop of San Francisco arousing considerable interest. In addition to the prefect, Cardinal Agliardi, secretary of state, Cardinal Vizzani, Vanuelli, Cardinal Satolli, Segna, Casanovi, Agliardi, Martelli, Gaviochioni, Martelli, and Cardinal Agliardi, who was in- trusted the task of placing the case before the propoganda, submitted a lengthy report, which was read to the appointment of Dr. Hanna. Cardinal Martelli was supported more or less warmly by the prefect, and Cardinal Segna and Vizzani were in favor of the appointment of Dr. Hanna. Cardinal Satolli strongly and eloquently opposed their arguments, quoting passages from the fathers of the church, which he said supported his own view. He said that they had said substantially what was contained in the article "Human knowledge of Christ," which Dr. Hanna had written, which he had seen in the New York review. A number of the other cardinals took sides with Cardinal Agliardi, and Cardinal Agliardi spoke warmly in favor of Dr. Hanna.

The prefect, Cardinal Gottl, pointed out that the original denunciation against Dr. Hanna, which was made by Dr. Herve, professor of dogmatic at St. Bernard's Seminary in Rochester, practically was confirmed by Father Lepicier, general of the Servites, who was in favor of Dr. Hanna. The propoganda had abstracted from Dr. Hanna's writings passages falling under the designation of "Modernism," and had sharply criticized those who disapproved of his position.

He says that he never wrote to the propoganda or to any cardinal concerning Dr. Hanna's orthodoxy. He had been convinced, however, that the candidate expressed loose views on some essential tenets, and he (Breen) expressed his conviction to a friend in Rome, writing in the same vein to Archbishop Riordan.

MRS. J. M. LUEBY.

AMHERST, N. S., Jan. 15.—Children of Amherst were shocked this morning to learn of the death of Mrs. J. M. Lueby, who died at her home at Amherst, N. S., on Tuesday last. She was a devoted wife and mother, and had some friends spending the evening with her. They left her home at that hour. Her husband, who is a blacksmith, had her husband of pain in her heart, and almost immediately became unconscious. Medical aid was at once summoned, but efforts were of no avail and she expired shortly after twelve o'clock. Mrs. Lueby was one of Amherst's most popular ladies. She was an active worker in Christ church and devoted much time to advancing the interests of Highland View Hospital. She abandoned in good works and her death will leave a large blank in the social life of Amherst. She is survived by her husband, two brothers and five sisters. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Sears of Port Hope, died some years ago.
