Gain Made on a Thousand Yard Front—Fire of Big Guns Wonderfully Accurate as the Shells Dropped Just Ahead of the Advancing Line

With the British Army in France, Aug. 22.—Via London, Aug. 23.—4.30 a.m.—The artillery commander drew his patent curtain of fire and never in all the seven weeks of the Somme battle has the correspondent witnessed anything equal to the "show" as the officers call every action, in the taking of one of the spurs of Thiepval ridge yesterday afternoon.

Ever since July 1 when the British failed in their effort to storm it, Thiepval ridge has glared at the British, who had kept hammering it with gun fire. The Germans need to set the same store by it as they did by the heights of Ginchy and Guillemont, on their other flank.

Shelled Out the Enemy. In front of the position conquered yesterday the British infantry had been decimated by machine gun fire on July 1. The trenches were just as strong, then, with deep dugouts, the result of two years building. Prisoners taken early in the offensive said the British never could obtain a foothold on the ridge. Those taken yesterday who had been at Verdun, said they suffered nothing there at all equivalent to the spilling of British shells and that it was impossible for human beings to endure such torpedoes.

Gains on Wide Front. On a thousand yard front, both the first German line and the support trench were taken. One pair of eyes could not see more detail than the correspondent saw yesterday. The British and Germans engaged were outlined as clearly as a play around the second base could be seen from a grand stand. A home company of the National Guard, a "Tommy" drill in camp, could not be more distinct when seen from the side lines. It was the very finess of war.

With the clear air of a bright afternoon sun over his shoulder, one looked across the tiny valley toward a slope. There the bare ground was cut with the slash of a new British trench and beyond that, across an area of dead grass and wayward trees, was the old first German trench. Some Ran Away. A Niagara rush of whishing streams from capsules of concentrated hell tore through the trench, which burst in a flash. Their flashes hugged it in an infernal ecstasy, sweeping it with myriads of bullets and fragments, shooting forked tongues of death into its icy pellets. To show a head and escape being hit and hit more than once was hopeless as to stand up in a thick hail storm without being hit by an icy pellet. Some Germans who had trusted in flight rather than sticking to a dug-out, when the first dash of projectiles came, were seen running toward the open away from this swath of destruction.

The Charge. Now, out of the British trench appeared a row of khaki tinted mushrooms the steel helmets the British soldiers wear, then their heads and shoulders and full forms as the charge went over the parapet. Every man in full equipment with all his details visible, every figure uniform with all others to the last item, as they moved across the field of dead grass, briskly and steady. No

BRITISH AND RUSSIANS BEAT OFF ALL COUNTER-ATTACKS; ITALIANS DRIVING IN NORTH

Newly Won Positions South of Thiepval Vainly Sought After by Enemy—Russians on Hungarian Front Captured Two More Heights

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, Aug. 23, 3.02 p.m.—Two heavy assaults on the positions newly won by the British, south of Thiepval, on the Somme front were made last night by the Germans. They gained a footing in the British trenches, but were driven out again, the War Office announced today. The announcement follows: "The enemy made two determined counter-attacks last night on our new trenches, south of Thiepval. By the first attack he gained a temporary footing in our trenches, but was driven out immediately. The second attack was repulsed completely. The enemy's losses in these two attempts were heavy. "Last night there was rather more hostile artillery fire, especially in the regions of High Wood and Bassett-la-Petite. "Opposite Lens we carried out a small raid successfully. On the other parts of the British front there was the usual trench warfare.

and Cosora Pastorie, on the Inlago plateau, was checked by our fire. "In the Tofna area yesterday afternoon effective artillery preparation, detachments of our Alpine troops and infantry carried strong enemy positions on the western slopes of Tofna III, and in the Travenanzes valley. The enemy suffered heavy loss and left about 40 prisoners in our hands. "In the Gorizia area artillery fighting is in progress. An enemy detachment which attempted to approach Vertobizza stream yesterday afternoon was repulsed by our fire and left numerous dead on the ground. "Captured Heights. Petrograd, Aug. 23.—Via London, 2.45 p.m.—The Germans resumed the offensive yesterday south of Brody, where the Russians are attempting to approach Lemberg from the northeast. The war office statement of today says the Germans were repulsed. The Russians captured two heights on the Hungarian front. The announcement follows: "In the region south of Krevo (southeast of Vilna) the enemy on Tuesday night launched a gas attack which was repulsed with heavy losses. "More than 100 bombs were dropped by enemy aeroplanes on the railway at Manevichi. "Austrian positions in the Tofna area, in the Dolomites and in the Travenanzes valley. "In the Astico valley, on the night of August 22, the enemy shelled our positions at the bottom of the valley with great intensity, but did not develop any infantry attack. On the same night an attempt of the enemy to advance between Casera Zingarella Driving in North. Rome, Aug. 23, via London.—The Italians are making a strong and successful thrust at the Austrian lines in the Alpine region on the extreme northern front, according to today's war office announcement. Italian troops have carried strong Austrian positions in the Tofna area, in the Dolomites and in the Travenanzes valley. "In the Astico valley, on the night of August 22, the enemy shelled our positions at the bottom of the valley with great intensity, but did not develop any infantry attack. Bulgarians are Not Eager to Fight the Muscovites

Interesting Despatch from Saloniki Tells How Drive is Held Until Czar's Troops Arrive—It is Estimated Their Numbers Will Be 80,000.

The following despatch was written two weeks before the Russians reached the Balkan front, the news of their arrival on July 31 was passed by the Entente censors for the first time yesterday: "By Special Wire to the Courier. Saloniki, July 19.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The offensive of the Entente Allies in Macedonia is being delayed until Russian forces arrive here. The Bulgarians, who constitute the majority of the troops of the Central Powers on the Greco-Serbian frontier, and the French and British are looking forward to the coming of the Russians. The Entente troops await the Bulgarians as brothers in arms, and the Bulgarian common soldier is a racial and religious brother to the Russian soldier. Some 80,000 Russian troops are expected. At least a division will come from France, and the remainder will probably come from the Persian Gulf. The latter having effected a junction with the British troops in Mesopotamia, are now marching towards the Persian Gulf, where they will embark on British and French transports and will come to Saloniki by way of the Red Sea and the Suez canal. It is not thought any very large number of additional troops is required for the Saloniki offensive, the Russian military authorities here say, but the Russian uniform and the Russian flag in the trenches around Saloniki, is expected to have a moral effect upon the Bulgarians. Deserters from the Bulgarian army, a few of whom trickle into the allied lines in Macedonia every day or so, ask first: "Where are the Russians?" When they learn that the expected Russian troops have not yet arrived, they appear to be relieved. Some of the deserters say that the Bulgarian common soldier is by no means anxious to meet his "little brother" of the north on the field of battle. Entente allied aviators, flying over the Bulgarian lines have recently dropped hundreds of thousands of hand bills detailing the successes of the Russian troops in Gallia and Bukovina, as well as the Russian occupation of Erzerum and Trebizond, of which Bulgarian deserters say, the mass of Bulgarian troops are ignorant.

BALKAN AFFAIRS IN THE PUBLIC EYE

COMING DRIVE IS IMPORTANT. Will Cut Off Turkey from the West, and Cause It to Surrender.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, Aug. 23.—Developments in the Balkans take first place in both news and editorial columns of the newspapers this morning. The papers display keen interest, not only in the landing of the Italian and Roumanian governments and in the new Russian offensive which is developing in Bukovina. According to official despatches, the Russians are pushing ahead with the greatest energy in Bukovina, close to the Roumanian frontier, already have gained "a very brilliant success." The Daily News, in an editorial, sums up the Balkan situation as follows: "The imminent general offensive against Bulgaria is of great importance. One of the first results of a successful offensive by General Sarail would be a complete rupture of Germany's communications with the east and the isolation and capitulation of Turkey. This is a plain geographical fact. "There are also other issues upon which it is wiser to reflect than to enlarge. These affect the fortunes of the two neutrals, Greece and Roumania, as well as the dozen belligerents. "The situation in Greece where Greek troops already actually are engaged in hard fighting with their traditional enemies, the Bulgars is rich in possibilities. As to the intention of Roumania, we may be content to draw upon the German press which is authority for the statement that Roumania definitely has joined hands with the Entente, and is preparing to give Russian troops passage through her territory. It is difficult to conceive what motive the Germans could have for circulating such a statement other than the belief that it is true."

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM PARIS

George T. Atkins and Caroline Martin Have Passed Away

(From our own correspondent)
Paris, Aug. 21.—Mr. Kingsley N. Tréhand, who for the past year, has so ably filled the position as organist and choirmaster of the Methodist Church here, was suitably remembered by his friends in the church, by an address and a gold watch and chain. This remembrance was in appreciation of his valuable services in connection with his duties while here. Mr. Tréhand, while in town, made a great many friends, and was a general favorite with all, and carries with him their best wishes for every success in his new home at Pictou, where he has accepted a position as organist in the First Methodist Church.

The death took place this morning at "Gilstone" Paris, the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. R. E. Crombie, of an old and highly esteemed resident, in the person of Mr. Geo. T. Atkins, in his 73rd year. The funeral will take place on Wednesday at 2.30 o'clock p.m. to St. James Church, and thence to St. James Cemetery.

A very pretty wedding took place this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reynolds, King St., when their only daughter, Margaret, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Whitbread, nephew of Mr. A. C. Whitbread of the Customs department, Paris. Promptly at 2.30 p.m., the bride entered the parlor with her father, who gave her away, and looked sweet and girlish in her wedding gown of white silk, with trimmings of lace and satin, with a veil caught up with rose-buds, and carrying a bouquet of white roses. Miss Eva Kill, who acted as bridesmaid, was becomingly gowned in green silk with touches of pink and carried pink roses, while Mr. Raymond Brian of Guelph, ably supported the groom. Miss Jean Randall played Lohengrin's wedding march, and sang "Love's Coronation" during the signing of the register. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Light of Brantford. A dainty repast was served, the table decorations being pink and green. Later the bride changed her wedding gown for her travelling suit of green, with white hat, and left with her husband for a trip to Gordon Bay, Muskoka. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Whitbread will reside in Paris. Many beautiful gifts were received, showing the high esteem in which they were held by their friends.

The death took place early Sunday morning at her late residence, Arnold street, of Caroline Martin, widow of the late Gideon Scott. The deceased was born in Falkland, 37 years ago and for the past 16 years has resided in Paris. Mrs. Scott was a member of the Methodist Church and always took an interest in the church work when able, but for the past few years she had been in declining health. Mr. Scott predeceased her 32 years ago. A family of three sons and two daughters are left to mourn the loss of a loving mother, namely, Mr. Ed. Litten, of Woodstock, Miss Grace at home, Clarence of Hamilton, Frank of Waterford and John of Paris. The funeral took place this afternoon to the Paris cemetery.

On Saturday evening the Rev. D. A. Armstrong united in marriage

AUSTRIAN OFFICIAL

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Berlin, Aug. 23.—(By wireless to Sayville)—The Russians are continuing efforts to force their way across the Carpathians through the pass south of Kolomena, near the Bukovina border, but are meeting with effective resistance from the Teutonic troops there, according to the Austro-Hungarian statement of Aug. 21.

The situation in Galicia north of the Dniester River is reported quiet, while the Russians are declared to have failed in their attempts to gain ground on the west bank of the Stokhod in Volhynia. The statement follows:

"Front of Archduke Charles Francis."
"West of the Moldava, Bukovina, on the heights south and southwest of Zabie, where during our occupation two officers, 188 men and five machine guns were brought in, the enemy made vain attempts to regain lost ground. On both sides of Tarnopol the fighting is continuing with the situation unchanged."

"On the railroad south of Wielec a hostile detachment was repulsed."

"On the BystrzycaHow-overska (south of Stanislau, Galicia, and north of Dniester the situation is quiet.)"

"Front of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg."
"Near Smolary (in the Stokhod region, near the Kovel-Sarny railroad) and south of Stobychiva, we conducted minor successful enterprises. Near Ruska-Yzervisocoe all Russian attempts to enlarge their positions on the west bank of the Stokhod broke down under heavy losses."

A METHODOLOGICAL WORK IS TAKING ENEMY LINES

Officer Tells Graphic Story of Capture of Longueval and Delville.

TERRIFIC FIRE FROM BIG GUNS.
Then the Rush, and Systematic Clearing of Hun Dug-Outs.

London, Aug. 23.—Lieut. W. H. Scott, Black Watch, who was wounded in the course of the British offensive in July, gives the following account of the capture of Longueval and Delville Wood, which was captured by the British on July 18, 1916.

"At home people read that announcement and probably thought that this attack was one of a series and very much the same as the attacks that preceded this, since July 1. But the fight for Longueval and Delville Wood was an entirely different affair. Part of Troues Wood was still in the hands of the enemy, while the German second line was 1,000 yards distant from our newly captured position at Bernafay Wood."

"The general scheme and detail for the attack was perfect and went through without a hitch. The attacking battalions were of the Black Watch and the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders. At 3 a.m. these battalions had taken up position, having marched up as if on parade while the Germans swept their ranks with heavy shells, and the flanks annoyed by rifle fire from Waterlot Farm and Troues Wood."

"However at 3.05 a.m. all the men were drawn up in a series of waves two to three deep. I went on and the first wave being only 120 yards from the German trenches, while a Boche listening post lay much nearer. Hardly a sound was made or heard, for the men were ordered to discard any surplus kit and anything that would hamper them in the attack. As the men took up position they lay down on the grass, making themselves as small as possible."

"Pumping Steel into Enemy."
"Not a movement was heard except the groan of a man here and there, who had been struck by shrapnel or bullet, until 3.25 a.m., when our artillery and the French guns opened upon the German lines. Every gun for miles around blazed and pumped iron and steel on the German trenches and the village. It was a terrifying spectacle. Huge pieces of our own heavy shell blew back over our heads, while the crash and rending of houses and ammunition stores in the German lines was fearful. It was the most complete and successful bombardment of the whole war, in fact our general staff had warned us not to get too close as the artillery work would be noisy and the noise would be heard. At 3.30 a.m. the artillery ceased and the German troops fled in the village, while our infantry steadily wave by wave leaped to its feet, and, not at a run, but in ordinary quick time, marched on the German trenches."

"Into the German Trench."
"The first Germans encountered were a German listening post and a German artillery officer who had been caught observing. These were promptly bayoneted, while the waves carried on sweeping everything before them, not a single German being left standing alive. The first German wire entanglements were uncut, but we had splendid

These I took prisoners, twenty-six men in all, and one officer. They were a scared-looking lot, trembling and crying for mercy. They belonged to the 6th and 20th Bavarian Regiments, the same as faced the Canadians at Langemarck. Derailing two of my meagre party to march them to the rear, I went on and soon found another huge dugout, in which I got only fourteen prisoners. The preliminary bombs having done several of the occupants, while many others were wounded and could not be moved.

"One man went away with these, while I went on and got a further while in cellars until I found yet another palatial dugout which had been used as a field dressing station. In this my captives included one doctor, three German Red Cross men and twelve wounded Germans."

of these dugouts many Germans lay dead and dying, quite a ghastly sight.

"Catching Them on the Run."
"In one house I saw two German officers in a bed, who I thought were alive, but when I went to the beds I found both had been killed, probably by a shell that entered the room."

"In the street and at the doors of the houses we caught many Germans running and screaming for life and mercy. Many were shot while others got away to open fire on us from another house. When caught these fellows were promptly bayoneted. At this point the German artillery, which had been rushed away, opened on the village with incendiary shells, which set fire to the houses. This made my work much easier, for I did not trouble to look into the cellars of houses that were on fire, and further I had got a slight reinforcement of four men, with whom I concluded my search for stragglers and homeless Germans."

"Then I examined the dugouts and found that despite the food famine in Germany, the German soldiers were well supplied with food. Many tins of beef, loaves of brown bread,

FURTHER MEASURES TO OBTAIN SECURITIES

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Aug. 23.—Further measures are contemplated by the Government to bring about the mobilization of such Canadian and neutral securities as have not been turned over to the Government. In the House of Commons to-day the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Reginald McKenna, said it was the intention of his department to apply to Parliament for the power to impose a further income tax of two shillings on the returns from all such securities, which have not been deposited with the Treasury. He added that he trusted everyone would realize it was a public duty to deposit securities without delay.

THE SITUATION

Once more the chief interest of the war centers in the Balkans. In connection with this field of action there is the unusual spectacle of five allied nations having their forces right side by side, a still further evidence of the bond which exists for the downing of the foe. That the offensive which has been launched there is fraught with highly important and far-reaching consequences is generally recognized. It is pointed out in a special despatch over the Courier's leased wire, that success against the Bulgar-German troops would involve a complete rupture of Germany's communications with the East, and the isolation and capitulation of Turkey. Added to this there would be the effect upon Greece and hesitating Roumania. Meanwhile in one attack the Allied forces have proved victorious in the central portion of the assault, while the enemy succeeded in bending back the extreme wings.

In the Somme fighting, the British have carried German positions for another half mile, and thus secured ground of great tactical importance. Speaking in the British House last night, Lloyd George said with regard to this offensive:

"The Germans, having two alternatives, chose the alternative of bringing troops and guns from Verdun to prevent the British from breaking through."

"That suited our purpose," the War Secretary continued. "It relieved the pressure on Verdun, and prevented the enemy from pouring his forces into the Russian theatre to support the Austrians against Gen. Brusilov's thrust."

The Russians are now so close to Lemburg that the Austrian authorities have prepared the people for the inevitable by declaring that it is not desirable "for military reasons" to defend the place.

SOME GALL ON THE PART OF THE LOCAL GRIT ORGAN.

The Expositor seeks to deny that the result in the Toronto bye-election was due to temperance legislation and ads.

Its (Government) weak-kneed and shuffling action relative to nickel, and its attempts to convert the Hydro-Electric system into a piece of political machinery, thereby injuring the municipalities, have had much to do with stirring up popular indignation. There certainly is no doubt that in yesterday's contest the Beck forces were behind Dewart rather than behind the government.

The nickel talk has from the first been one more Grit dodge to twist political capital out of the war. It was a Liberal Government under whose auspices the nickel deposits passed into alien hands, with refining, in the States, and to stop the export, when war started, would have hit Great Britain as hard as any other country. However, steps were taken (satisfactory to the British Government) to prevent Canadian nickel from reaching the enemy, and the necessary measures have been inaugurated to have the refining done in Canada. Talk about Cochran, Hearst and the rest proving traitors in allowing Canadian nickel to help kill Canadian sons, can best be judged by the fact that these men, and others named, have sons of their own on the firing line. With regard to this false and utterly harmless charge, the Hamilton Herald (Independent) remarks: "The silly insincere denunciation of the government because it has not introduced a sensational nickel policy had little effect on the result."

The charge with regard to the Government attempting to turn Hydro Electric into a piece of political machinery is equally false. This great scheme for the people was inaugurated by a Conservative Government, and without any Liberal help whatsoever. The enterprise has been kept absolutely free from politics, and now that it has proved such an abundant success, Grit speakers and papers are seeking to champion it on the absolutely false ground that partyism has been introduced and is hampering Sir Adam Beck. The Farmers' Sun cannot certainly be accused of political bias and in discussing the matter it says:—

 "We know of no reason for believing that the Government is not loyal to the scheme of publicly distributing electricity."
 To which may be added, as before pointed out in these columns, that the Expositor should be the very last to pose as a Hydro champion. That paper fought tooth and nail to keep Hydro Electric out of Brantford, and to have private monopoly prices for light and power riveted on the people of this Municipality.

SOME NEWSPAPER VIEWS ON THE TORONTO BYE-ELECTION.

Hamilton Spectator (Conservative): As in North Perth so in Southwest Toronto, Bacchus triumphs. The liquor interest threw its whole weight on the Liberal side. Moderate drinkers did likewise. Of course, on the eve of war-time prohibition, and in the absence of Mr. Hearst, the Government is not likely to change its course. Moreover, neither North Perth nor Southwest Toronto is a fair sample of the whole of Ontario. They furnished especially favorable opportunities for the chief object of the liquor interest just now; to discredit the existing Administration and drive Mr. Hearst from power.

Stratford Herald (Conservative): The election of Mr. H. H. Dewart, K.C., in S.W. Toronto on Monday constitutes a disquieting fact to both political parties in Ontario. The Liberal party, under Mr. Rowell has sought to make prohibition the chief plank; Mr. Dewart dissents from this, and no Toronto candidate espoused the orthodox doctrine of Mr. Rowell. With a small following in the Legislature, any defection, or the introduction of an element challenging the Rowell policy, necessarily produces more disturbance of equilibrium than the same factor would in the Conservative party with an enormous majority. The entrance of Mr. Dewart into the Legislature menaces the Rowell leadership, for Mr. Dewart is adroit and able, and will hardly be a cipher under Mr. Rowell. The Liberals of North Perth must now see the prospective effect of the forces they set in motion when they allied themselves with the liquor party to elect Mr. Hay.

Woodstock Sentinel-Review (Liberal): The despatches announcing the election of H. H. Dewart in Southwest Toronto, point out that for the first time in twenty-seven years a Liberal has been elected by a Toronto constituency. This is part of the truth, but only part of it. Mr. Dewart is a Liberal, and was nominated by Liberals; but he was not the candidate of the Liberal party of the Province of Ontario. The fact is that the Liberal party of Ontario, led by N. W. Rowell, had no candidate in Southwest Toronto. The party leaders realized that the only chance a Liberal would have in such a constituency would be as an opponent of the Hearst Government's prohibition policy, and as the party in the Legislature was not only committed to a prohibition policy but had endorsed the prohibition act of the Hearst Government, it could not consistently seek the election of a candidate by an appeal to the anti-prohibition vote. Mr. Dewart was the candidate of the individual Liberals who nominated and supported him. He did not receive the support of the Toronto Liberal papers. The Toronto Star, for instance, threw the whole weight of its influence against Dewart and in favor of Connor, the workingman's candidate, who was the only one in the four-cornered contest who really advocated prohibition.

Hamilton Herald (Independent): Mr. Connor, the prohibitionist candidate in Southwest Toronto, polled 445 votes. The anti-prohibitionist and the two candidates who wobbled on the question polled about 5000 votes. There must be thousands of prohibitionists in the constituency. Their desertion of their candidate throws doubt upon their sincerity.

Toronto News (Con.): "There is nothing in North Perth or Southwest Toronto to suggest that Ontario is ready for a general measure of prohibition. As the emotion over the war subsides the feeling for prohibition will be still less active. As we said again and again, the opponents of prohibition will unite against any government which enacts prohibitory legislation. If prohibitionists do not also unite in some reasonable degree neither the Government nor the legislation can survive."

Peterboro' Review (Conservative): "After having been routed horse and foot in one of their strongholds, will the Hearst Administration change their attitude on the temperance question at the next session of the Legislature? If the sentiment of North Perth and Southwest Toronto is to be taken as that of the majority of the voters in Ontario, the reason is not far to seek. The people object-to the Government's course in enforcing the prohibitory law, even for the duration of the war, without taking a referendum, especially when the popular verdict of 1914 was before them for their guidance."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Right now August is commencing to put on the degree in proper style.

Conundrum. How long will Rowell stay on the job as leader with Dewart landed on his shoulders?

Hal Donly, editor of the Simcoe Reformer (Liberal), after a recent visit to the place has returned with the verdict, "Camp Borden is a great camp."

Kastoria has been occupied by the Bulgars. The small boy who has had Castoria occupy him will have a sincere feeling of sympathy with the inhabitants.

The Globe has an editorial on "Treachery to Premier Hearst." What about the treachery to Rowell when Dewart failed to endorse his leader's "Abolish the bar" policy?

The date has not yet been announced when Dewart is going to hand Palestine over to the Toronto Jews. No doubt, in the interim he is trying to arrange for cheap excursion tickets there.

The Toronto Star says that the Toronto election outcome shows a feeling of general dissatisfaction with the Hearst Government. As the candidate supported by the Star only polled 425 votes that means that there is a feeling of general dissatisfaction with regard to the Star?

BILLION DOLLAR CROP EXPECTED
 After a thorough canvass of various points throughout Western Canada, Dr. McGill of the Dominion Grain Commission, is quoted in Calgary as saying that Alberta would have a crop as good as last year. That the Dominion would have a billion dollar grain crop and that the grain crop of the three Prairie provinces would be little, if any, behind that of last year.
 "The country as a whole never looked better than it does at present," said Dr. McGill. "The weather was made to order, as you might say and I am of the opinion that this year's harvest will be another wonderful one."

 Those who contemplate going West will do well to remember that the most fertile districts in Western Canada are served by the lines of the C.N.R. and that this season they can travel from their home districts to destination Canadian Northern all the way.
 Arrangements have been made whereby passengers may travel in comfort. Colonist and lunch counter cars being a feature.
 The first of these excursions will be run in August, the date will be announced later.

 For further information apply to nearest Canadian Northern Agent, or write to R. E. Fulbairn, General Passenger Agent, 68 King St. E., Toronto.

Application for refund of the license fee has been made, but he (Mr. Dunn) has no power to grant the same.

215TH ENVY OF NIAGARA CAMP Capt. McKegney, Chaplain Battalion Tells of Life Down There.

MEN ARE IN FINE CONDITION. Presentation of Colors on Saturday Next Will Be Big Event.

"The 215th battalion," said Capt. McKegney this morning, "is the envy of the entire camp, because of the thorough organization which exists in every department of service to the men; particularly in the manner in which provision is made for the social side of the battalion's life. Our big canteen, for example, is almost nightly gatherings, when moving pictures are shown and impromptu concerts staged. The men take part, and occasionally ladies of the Brothers of St. Andrew join in the entertainments.

Sunday Services "On Sunday communion service for the battalion is conducted at 7.45 a.m. in the lines of the 215th. At 9 a.m. the regular camp service is held, conducted usually by the camp chaplain, Major Drummond. In the evening, service for the 215th is again conducted in the canteen tent. Last Sunday evening it was crowded, every seat taken, and many men standing throughout the service. Those present were Lt.-Col. Harry Cocksbutt, Major Snider and other officers. The hymns sung were flashed upon the screen by means of a projecting lantern, and all joined with a will in singing. As the battalion captain, I delivered a sermon, and at the conclusion of the service the entire gathering, standing and with arms and hands united in prayer for their country, the soldiers and sailors, the ill and wounded, and those at home.

Camp Life Enjoyable "The weather during the past two weeks has, of course, been hot, but a fresh breeze from the lake is a constant feature, and the open life also adds to the comfort of the men, who do not feel the heat nearly so much as they would do in the city. Everyone is in good health, and the kitchen, though it is considered a soldier's privilege to grouse—are so far and few between as to be almost non-existent.

The Presentation of Colors The ceremony on Saturday morning next, when the battalion will be presented with colors, will be a most impressive one, and should be seen by all. The presentation will be made by the Misses Margaret and Isabel Cocksbutt, the daughters of the C. and the dedication by the Grace Bishop Williams, of Huron. The ceremony will take place in the afternoon off, in order to enter into the camp at the opening of the city for the occasion. As special trains are being run, leaving Brantford at 7 in the morning, it is an opportunity which should be taken advantage of by all. The tickets are good until Monday, so that all will be enabled to remain over for a big concert being held Saturday night in the canteen tent. His Grace Bishop Williams of Huron, will probably address the gathering at the camp service on Sunday morning, and it is expected that he will speak at the evening service of the 215th.

Promotions Expected "It is expected that there will be a number of promotions in the Battalion before long, though nothing definite is known as to this. A call has been issued from military headquarters, asking for volunteers from the 215th, with the rank of lieutenants, to go immediately overseas. This is in view of the recent heavy casualties, and the need of replenishing battalions now at the front with junior officers.

Visitors Looked for Saturday "That is about all the news from Niagara. Capt. Ferguson has obtained a new tent for the quartermaster's stores, and everything is in first class shape. We are looking for a large number of visitors on Saturday. Saturday is always the best time for visitors to come to the camp as the men always have the afternoon off, and are able to show them around. Other days the men are busy at their drills all day, and of course cannot be excused from duty because they chance to have friends visiting the camp. All, however, who come next Saturday, or any Sunday, indeed, will be assured of a hearty welcome and a fine time at the camp."

MAYOR BOWLBY

(Continued from Page 1) sons or Corporation committing any breach of this By-law shall be liable upon conviction thereof before a Magistrate or Justice having jurisdiction in the premises to a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, exclusive of costs, which may be collected by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender, and in case of non-payment of such fine, and there being no distress out of which such costs may be levied, such person or persons shall be liable to imprisonment in the common gaol of the County of Brant, without further delay for any period not exceeding twenty-one days, unless the fine and costs, if any, including the costs of the distress and of the commitment and conveyance of the offender to the said common gaol of the County of Brant, are sooner paid.

The blowing of whistles by factories is a distinct violation of this By-law, subjecting the offenders to the penalties imposed by the By-law and, as Mayor, it is my duty to see this law carried out. If the By-law is improper, it should be amended. Perhaps the largest manufacturing city in Canada, is Montreal. I can not remember hearing a sound of that city in the morning. I cannot see what the blowing of a whistle by the employer in a factory, is supposed to be blown when the men start work. The men are there or not there. At seven a.m. the whistle accomplishes nothing. I would therefore respectfully ask that the factories discontinue the blowing of whistles, and hereafter obey the By-law of the Corporation. J. W. BOWLBY, Mayor.

EMINENT DOCTOR SAYS WAR IS A TONIC FOR RACE

Insanity Has Decreased Since 1914, and Refutes Statement

WOMEN LIVING DIFFERENT LIVES.

The Neurasthenic and the Hypochondriac No Longer Will Exist.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Aug. 22.—An interesting sidelight on President Wilson's remark about the world going mad is given in the annual report of Dr. William Graham of Belfast, one of the most highly reputed Irish alienists. Dr. Graham presents a remarkable picture of the tonic value of war.

He says: "It has become common practice since August 1914, to say the world is growing mad, and there is a widespread popular notion that the distress and agony of a conflict so terrible as the present one must end in a profound disturbance and alienation. Yet the fact is indisputable that insanity has lessened during the period of the war."

Cheerful About the Future
Dr. Graham is equally encouraging. He says: "There are solid grounds for the hope that especially, although not exclusively among women, we shall find a great diminution in those neurasthenic disorders that form a part of the mental abnormality of thousands of men who have gone, or are preparing to go to the front, who have all their life been subject to the bondage of neurasthenic weakness and incapacity or of psychasthenic fears or hypochondriac fancies. They have never known what it is to live, but at the country's call they have flung from off them the spell of the mental abnormality of those established impracticalities and have gone forth to face wounds and death. Only when summoned to possible surrender of life have they learned how wonderful life really is. The physical regime under which these men are compelled to live can have nothing but the best effect on those subject to its discipline."

Illness and Ennui Passing.
"Especially significant is the change coming over the lives of women of the middle classes. These sheltered daughters of the merchant of the professional man, victims of mid-victorian traditions of gentility, are now falling into line with their sisters of the higher and humbler social ranks and are discovering that life is something greater than the latest novel from Mudie's or a game of tennis, or even the tepid gossip of the church sewing meeting. Idleness and ennui have lost their hold. Healthy and unselfish activity is now the prevailing fashion among war-entranced women. It has set them free from the bemumbling conventionalities that threatened to stifle their psychic energy and so far it has contributed to the soundness of mind and nerve among the mighty sociological forces which the present world conflict set in motion."

LONG STRUGGLE YET LIES AHEAD

Former Premier Viviani Under No Illusions as to Short War.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Paris, Aug. 23.—A difficult and prolonged struggle before the war is ended was prophesied by former Premier Viviani, who is minister of justice in the present cabinet. In an address before the general council of the department of Creuse, held at Gueret, he said: "Although victory is certain, it will require hard and prolonged efforts to break Prussian militarism and prevent recurrence of its crimes. There can be no peace before adequate reparation is made and before justice triumphs."

"In an address before the general council of the department of Aube, Bienvenu Martin, former minister of justice, said: "The French will not submit to the peace of the German Emperor, who boasted he would force his adversaries to accept peace on his knees. They will accept only such a peace as assures them legitimate reparations, as well as their independence and security and they will bear patiently all sacrifices in order that, in conjunction with the efforts of their faithful allies, such a peace may be imposed."

ITALIAN AID IS IMPORTANT

No Insignificant Force Has Been Sent to Saloniki.

Paris, Aug. 23.—The Italian contingent of troops landing at Saloniki is of really important proportions, according to information here. In addition the Temps, in its review of the military situation to-day, alludes to the presence of Russian troops along the Vardar River which it confirmed, would make five Allied contingents engaged in the Entente campaign in the Balkans.

The announcement of the landing of Italian troops at Saloniki is regarded here as deeply significant, indicating an important reinforcement of the already large army of the Entente Allies composed mainly of French, British and Serbian troops. The Italian movement also is construed as showing that comprehensive agreements have been arranged in advance, as hitherto it was understood Italy withheld from participation in the Balkan campaign out of consideration for Greek sensitivities over the predominance of their influence in the eastern Mediterranean.

The participation of the Italians in the Balkan campaign also is considered another evidence of the international spirit prevailing among the Allies, and is compared to the sending of the Russian contingents to France. By this movement the Allies are distributing their effective forces far beyond their own borders.

BUSH FIRES AGAIN RAGING

Nine Farms Destroyed Near New Liskeard—Flames Near Latchford, Too.

Cohalt, Aug. 22.—Bush fires are raging in the district around New Liskeard. The court in Hallyburd was adjourned at noon to-day so that the New Liskeard people in attendance could return to protect their homes. Eight farms have been destroyed on the north road—namely Hayes', Walters', Hobbs', King's, Peabie's, Stevens', Mal's, and McFadden's. On the west road Hoover's farm has been burned. The big swamp near the Casey farm is burning fiercely and there is no communication with the mine at the time of writing. Bush fires are also raging between Latchford and Gilles Desnoy. After the continued dry spell the fires assumed serious proportions around Schuster and Timmins, but the heavy rainfall last night put an end to the danger.

WHAT ONE SAID THE OTHER DENIED

Fine Old Mix-Up in Indian Cases Held at Police Court Yesterday.

WHO SUPPLIED THE HARD STUFF?

Magistrate Has Some Task in Picking a Way Through Maze of Evidence.

The hearing of some twenty odd developing from the manslaughter charge laid against Percy Martin, in connection with the death of James Powless, was resumed at 2 p.m. in the police court yesterday. Two of the cases about which considerable of the interest centered were those wherein Lincoln Powless and Sam Hill were charged by George Loft with having liquor in their possession on the evening of Aug. 6, when the affair took place. Both defendants pleaded not guilty, and long and contradictory evidence was presented in both cases, W. S. Brewster appearing for the plaintiffs, and S. A. Fred Jones for the defendants.

The Misses Mary and Ellen Martin swore that on the evening of the garden party, Lincoln Powless had had a bottle of whiskey in his possession, and had offered them a drink which they refused. This evidence was refuted by the defendant, who swore that he had had no liquor in his possession, but that William Loft had taken him and his brother Arthur Powless into the cellar of the house and there given each of them a drink of whiskey. This was corroborated by Arthur Powless, but denied by William Loft. Acting Magistrate Calbeck reserved his decision in the case, while warning all witnesses against perjuring themselves in giving their evidence.

In the charge against Sam Hill, Abraham Hill swore that he had received from Sam Hill, who had a bottle, one drink, as did also Percy Martin, who confirmed the statement. Sam, it was stated, then intended to sell the liquor at 25 cents per three glasses.

In complete refutation of this was the evidence of Sam Hill, who swore that all the liquor which he received that night had been three drinks furnished him by Percy Martin. Mrs. Hill also testified that her husband had had no liquor in his possession, but the defendant was found guilty and fined $25.

Lincoln Powless pleaded guilty to having liquor in his possession on a previous occasion, two days previous to the garden party, and upon this charge was fined a similar amount to Sam Hill.

The other cases heard during the afternoon were those of disorderly conduct on the part of some ten Indians, the majority of them Hills, who had taken part in the fight. The evidence given was conflicting and vague in many regards, but sufficient was given to convince the magistrate that all save one of those accused had been involved in the scrap. Reg Martin was dismissed, while fines of $3 and $4.40 costs were imposed upon each of Samuel Hill, Levi Hill, Elmer Hill, Gus Hill, Geo. Hill, John Hill, James Hill, Arthur Powless and Lincoln Powless. Magistrate Calbeck gave the defendants a warning against such conduct as they had been guilty of, pointing out what it had resulted in, in the present case, and the illegality of taking the law into one's own hands.

A point of some importance was raised by His Worship, when he inquired of Gus Hill, chief of the Mohawk tribe, whether any feud had been in existence previous to the garden party. The witness expressed confidence that there had been none.

More than once in the course of the taking of evidence, incidents of humor occurred. Chief Hill, in describing an unknown man, whom he had seen taking part in the fight, described him as being about the build of Mr. Brewster.

"Don't try to implicate me," retorted the latter. "I wasn't present on the occasion. It may have been Mr. Buskard."

The police court clerk also made assurance that he could furnish a satisfactory alibi.

The case is arousing more and more interest about the city, as it is becoming better known. On Friday next, Percy Martin will appear in the police court once more, to answer to the charge of manslaughter. It is expected that matters will then be proceeded with without further adjournments.

ALLIES ACCOUNT FOR 32 ZEPPELS

Civilians Were Killed and 50 Military.

London, Aug. 23.—Major Baird, representative of the Aerial Board in the House of Commons, replying in the House last night to criticism of the air defences during the recent Zeppelin raids, announced that since the war began the Entente Allies had accounted for thirty-five Zeppelins.

"There have been thirty-four raids on Britain," said Major Baird, "in ten of which no casualties were suffered, while in the remainder the number of killed was 334 civilians and fifty military men. Nobody can say that these casualties, deplorable as they are, will have any influence on the conduct of the war, provided the honorable members of the House do not give utterance to such ill-chosen statements as have been made in the House of Commons to-night. "Members of the House of Commons ought to be leaders of the people. They should encourage the people—not create panic. Lord French has a very complete system of air defence and it is being improved daily, while the British Flying Corps has a record superior to that of any other nation."

ROUMANIA HAS MOBILIZED HER ARMY FOR WAR?

That Is the Meaning Taken Out of a Despatch from Berlin. Berlin, Aug. 21, via London, Aug. 22, 12.20 p.m.—(Balkans)—The Budapest Azeit, which is usually well informed on the Roumanian situation, to-day prints a despatch from its Bucharest correspondent saying that the agitation for war, which in the last few days has been down, it is stated that possibly the end of the mobilization is responsible for the change, if not the serious words uttered in the Hungarian parliament.

QUEBEC BRIDGE TO BE COMPLETED BY NEXT MONTH

Famous Structure at Last is Fast Approaching Finished State.

CENTRE SPAN 640 FEET LONG.

Will Be Floated to its Appointed Place, Then Raised by Cranes.

The new Transcontinental Railway from Prince Rupert, B.C. to Moncton, N. B., comes to the bank of the St. Lawrence River at a point about seven miles above the City of Quebec. Here the track has to be carried over the great river on a bridge the largest of its kind in the world, which will probably be completed next month.

How gigantic it is can not be realized by seeing it, so confusing is the intricacy and yet the simplicity of the plan.

It will be remembered that the first bridge, when about half erected, collapsed because of defects in the plan. Owing to the increase in width and weight of the new superstructure, the piers of the first bridge had to be removed and new ones constructed.

The main pier on the north bank was carried down 50 feet below the bed of the river and that of the south bank 85 feet.

The main pier on the north bank was carried down 50 feet below the bed of the river and that of the south bank 85 feet.

When the span is completely erected and ready to be placed in its position in the centre of the bridge between the two cantilever arms, the pontoons will be placed under the "falsework" when the tide is low.

In building the two caissons, inside of which the two main piers were constructed, eighteen million feet of timber (board measure) were used.

Besides the construction of the two main piers, the masonry work included alterations to the abutments, built for the first bridge, the entirely new construction of one intermediate pier and two anchor piers. This masonry amounts approximately to 1,650,000 cubic yards.

The completed bridge will contain approximately 65,000 tons of steel.

Allowing 30 tons to a car it would require 2,167 railroad cars to move this material. The mainpieces, or members of the bridge, are so large and of such great weight that ordinary bridge cranes could not manufacture them.

Shops and columns and girders of unusual strength were required to carry the heavy cranes, which handled the enormous members. Almost every piece of machinery used had to be of the largest capacity, and in the majority of cases was specially designed for this job.

Great shops costing over a million dollars were especially constructed for the manufacture of the bridge.

Some huge parts of the bridge are 10 feet by 10 feet outside area, and no less than 320 feet high!

The shoes on the main piers, on which these posts rest, are 21 feet wide and 15 feet high. Many a family lives in a house considerably smaller.

The main bottom chord or bottom beam, near the pier is about 19 feet wide and 2 feet high. If it were not for the interior webs and diaphragms six men could walk abreast.

The supervision of the entire work is under the direction of the Board of Engineers appointed by the Government. Mr. C. N. Monsarrat is chairman and chief engineer, with chairman and chief engineer, with whom are associated Mr. R. B. Modjeski, of Chicago, and Mr. H. P. Borden, of Montreal.

inside this chord without crowding or fear of hitting their heads. This chord will weigh about 8,500 lbs. per lineal foot and is erected in sections weighing from 75 to 100 tons each.

The floor system is designed to carry two railway tracks and two sidewalks for pedestrians. No allowance is made for highway traffic.

The general plan of the bridge is this—from each bank of the St. Lawrence two huge cantilever arms reach out over the river, each 1,095 feet in length, and each supported on two piers—one at the shore end and one under the centre of the arm.

Between the outer ends of these two arms, and directly above the centre of the river, is a gap 640 feet in length. This gap has yet to be filled in, and when that has been done the bridge will extend from bank to bank a distance of 3,239 feet.

This centre span, 640 feet in length and weighing over 5,000 tons, has been erected on steel "falsework" or staging in comparatively shallow water near the shore at Sillery Cove. The staging is so arranged as to allow huge pontoons to float between its piers and under the "falsework."

When the span is completely erected and ready to be placed in its position in the centre of the bridge between the two cantilever arms, the pontoons will be placed under the "falsework" when the tide is low.

After the span has been towed to its proper position under the bridge it has yet to be lifted over 130 feet in the air and connected to the ends of the cantilever arms. This is done by means of hangers with slotted holes which can be quickly attached to the four corners by means of pins.

After this has been done at highest tide the pontoons are floated from under, and the span is lifted in place by jacks at each corner of the cantilever arms.

When placed in position the lowermost parts of this centre span will be 150 feet above the surface of the river at high tide, giving a clear way for the passage of the largest ocean steamers.

While the floating in of a bridge span is not an uncommon occurrence in bridge erecting, yet, taking into consideration the length, weight and height of this span, and also the fact that there is a seven or eight mile current and a 20 foot tide at this point, it can be seen that this part of the work is also without precedent.

The supervision of the entire work is under the direction of the Board of Engineers appointed by the Government. Mr. C. N. Monsarrat is chairman and chief engineer, with chairman and chief engineer, with whom are associated Mr. R. B. Modjeski, of Chicago, and Mr. H. P. Borden, of Montreal.

NETS ENCOUNTERED AND CONFISCATED

Government Cutter at Dover Often Finds Traces of American Fishing.

(From our own correspondent) Since, Aug. 21.—At a congregational meeting, held in St. Paul's this evening, W. P. Innes and J. B. Jackson were appointed commissioners to attend Presbytery at St. Catharines, and were instructed to perform Presbytery that while the people of St. Paul's regret that Dr. Day has been compelled, through ill health to ask for permission to withdraw from the work of the ministry, they will offer no objection to the granting of the request.

The Board of Managers was asked to arrange for a retiring honorarium in preference to an annuity. Harry Gordon is lying in gaol on a remand from Squire Earl, with the theft of a pair of boots, five dollars in cash and a tie pin, $12.50 in all, from one Thos. Sparks, of Simcoe.

The men of the 133rd expect their last pass home within a fortnight, and a call overseas early in September.

The Vigilant is in port at Dover and several of the crew were up town to-day. The boys say that they continually run across an occasional lot of American nets. All of these with the catch, are brought in and sold, and the proceeds turned over to the Government.

At Port Ryerse Rev. William Carpenter, of Delhi, has purchased a cottage lot at Port Ryerse and will erect a summer house at once. Every cottage at this place is occupied. It is closest to town and many business men have been running down for the night during the past month.

Rev. H. C. Newcombe's family returned from Ryerse to-day. Miss Mildred Johnson is giving a house party this week at the Edna Hodson cottage. Among the party are Misses Margaret Innes, Clara Filton, Florence and Marjorie Gray, Edna Hodson, Gertrude Brooks, and Miss Houston. Several of the young ladies now at Ryerse are excellent swimmers.

Throughout the town and country, there linger Boughners, and others who have come a long distance to meet formerly familiar faces. The Bell Telephone Company have begun the underground work in order to place the remainder of the wires in the central and business part of the town, out of sight.

Two Winnipeg women left the city the other day to help in the harvesting on a Morden farm. Official reports say that no traces of black rust are to be seen in Saskatchewan or Alberta.

The summer school at the University of Saskatchewan closed July 28.
