MARKET REPORTS

indicate that there is no surplus of Anthracite Coal in the U.S. The shortage caused by the strike of Anthracite Miners last year has not been made up, and American hard coal will, in all probability, be hard to get and high priced. Coke is an excellent substitute for hard coal, and we have on hand a stock of same that will soon be disposed of, because a shortage of hard coal invariably creates an increased demand for our product.

We advise our customers to book their requirements as soon as possible.

Mrs. J. W. Sampson Tells How Cuticura Healed Her Scalp

"I was troubled for years with a dry scalp and dandruff. There were small scales on my scalp and it itched and burned a great deal. My hair was very dry and lifeless, and fell out when I combed it. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after a few applications could see an improvement. I continued using them and in three months was healed." (Signed) Mrs. J. W. Sampson, 4705-32nd Ave. S., Seattle, Wash.

Keep your skin clear by using Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for every-day toilet purposes. Touch pimples and itching, if any, with Cuticura Ointment; wash with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Dry and dust lightly with Cuticura Talcum, a powder of fascinating fragrance. It keeps the skin clear and smooth. Cuticura Soap shaves without soap.

An Indispensable Favorite Wealth and Beauty at Stake!

CHAPTER XVI.

"Your nurse is quite too devoted, my dear Maria!" Mrs. Murray says, in whose shrill, labored tones, and with that excessive politeness and pleasantness of manner which betokened wrath at the very highest pressure possible without an explosion. "She won't allow friend or relative to see your face if she can help it! Oh—and she looks rather taken aback on perceiving Yolande—you were allowed in, Mrs. Glynn! Really, I congratulate you!"

"You see that friends and relatives can see my face, Aunt Murray!" Lady Maria breaks in, impatiently. "I told mademoiselle to say I should like to see you at tea this afternoon."

"Quite right; and I am coming in at tea-time, dear," Mrs. Murray rejoins, almost recovering her usual amiability of manner, but not able at once to banish the red stain of anger that disfigures her smooth, soft, false face, or recover the suave placidity of her voice. "But I wanted to see you this morning to have some private talk with you, if it were possible—with a tightening of the lips and a lowering of the eyelids—on family matters. I won't intrude on you now, of course, dear, and only came in to say good-morning. I hope you feel better, Maria, love?"

"No, I don't!" "Maria love" responds, tartly. "Isabelle, my champagne has grown flat. Some more, if you please. Will you have some, Aunt Murray?"

"No, thank you, dear—no, thanks," this very curtly and frigidly, waving away the tempting glass of sparkling liquid, "beaded at the brim," which mademoiselle is offering her, meekly.

"Well, I must go now," Mrs. Murray continues, smoothly, with a regretful smile as if concluding a long and welcome visit. "I have such a number of things to attend to. You have heard of the earl, of course, this morning, Maria?"

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D. C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to have for a very bad case of female trouble. My system was all run down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of your wonderful medicine and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I now do all my housework, also washing and ironing, and do not know what real trouble is. My health is fine, and I weigh 140 pounds. When I started taking it I weighed 97 pounds. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any one who is suffering from female trouble or is run down. You may use this testimonial for I am only too glad to let suffering women know what the Vegetable Compound did for me."—Mrs. I. A. Hewitt, 1625 Penna. Ave. S. E., Washington, D. C.

Such letters from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Of course," the viscountess says, coldly. "Glynn either visits me about nine o'clock every morning, or I send Isabelle to him for news. He is not suffering, poor old man—slipping away painlessly, I suppose. It is well he is free from actual suffering."

"Excuse me, dear, you have not heard," Mrs. Murray says, with venomous politeness. "The earl has passed a very restless night, and Sir Gregory Parker was telegraphed for half an hour ago. I have sent the young people off for a good long mountain walk; perhaps they will lunch at the farm at Penmar. I told them not to hurry back to luncheon; it were just as well they were out of the house, perhaps," she adds, with a grave face and a serious expression. "I always spare young people sorrow when I can," and the lady sighs heavily again, then continues; "his son and you and I are here; the poor, dear earl will not care to see many," and she puts her dainty, embroidered handkerchief hurriedly to her eyes.

"You don't mean, aunt," Lady Maria exclaims, starting up, hurriedly, a tall, gaunt strange figure in a long, semi-fitting, clinging garment of dark-red silk of stocking web material, "that the earl is dying, Isabelle! Where is Isabelle? Isabelle!" she calls, angrily.

"Isabelle has disappeared for the time being, I suppose," Mrs. Murray sneers, "knowing you would not be quite pleased at her having kept the truth from you. I don't say he is actually dying, Maria, dear. I only say we are very, very anxious from hour to hour. If you will allow me to see you," she adds, compressing her lips, "I myself will bring you the earliest news of any change in the dear earl's condition."

"It is not necessary to trouble you so much, aunt," Lady Maria says, shortly. "I shall come down to the drawing-room after lunch. At whatever hour to myself, I must be in my proper place at a time like this."

Mrs. Murray winces at this piece of information; and, as her cold, pale-blue eyes rest on Yolande, they brighten with a malicious glimmer.

"Certainly, dear, if you are sure you are equal to it," she says, suavely, to Lady Maria. "You are a naughty little woman, Mrs. Glynn," turning to Yolande. "Your poor husband searched for you high and low, but, of course, could not find you, and nobody could tell him where you were; so I had to send him off in my daughter's guardship, looking most displeasurably poor fellow! He and Joyce and Lizzy Powsy, and her brother from Lianfair, are all the party. I hope they will have a pleasant excursion!"

Yolande's eyes light up with sudden wrath or pain or jealousy—Mrs. Murray is not sure which. It is enough, however, for her that she has annoyed and distressed this new interloper and aspirant for Lady Maria's friendship.

"Captain Glynn knew where I was, Mrs. Murray," poor Yolande responds, in a forcedly calm voice. "He asked me if I would go, and I partly declined, as I was going to visit Lady Maria, as I told him. If he wanted to find me, he could have done so easily," she adds, with an irrepressible touch of bitterness.

"With mademoiselle standing on guard—a veritable dragon door-keeper!" Mrs. Murray exclaims, with a silvery little insolent laugh. "Or is it Captain Glynn who is a naughty man and has left his poor little wife at home while he has gone off with the unmarried girls? Fie! I believed better things of Dallas! Au revoir, Maria, dear!" and she trips off gaily, having paid off both Lady Maria and Yolande in the coin of such reprisals as she knows so well how to make.

Mademoiselle glides out of Lady Maria's rooms with a subdued air, and drooping, downcast head, as Mrs. Murray observes with satisfaction. She glides out slowly and softly, meekly and humbly, and passes through the thick-carpeted corridor and the swing balsa-covered door and heavy cloth portiere that shut off Lady Maria's rooms from the rest of the house; and then the young lady—

"Faster of foot than the fleet-foot kid" runs down the back-staircase, and along another long corridor, until she is at the other side of the house. Here she pauses at a narrow, oaken door—a mere panel which any one might mistake for the door of a narrow press

GROWING UP TO THINGS.
In days of old when I needed clothes They'd take me to the store, And they'd fit me out with a garment stout. To do for a year or more.

They did not buy, in those olden days With a mind to the latest style, And they cared not a bit for the thing called fit. They bought for a good long while.

They did not ask, "Do you fancy this?" In the purchase I'd no voice, And I was glad as a little lad To bow to my mother's choice.

Though the sleeves were long and the coat was wide And the pants too wide round here, They whispered low: "The boy will grow, And they'll fit in another year."

My boyhood days were free from style, And now my memory brings A picture glad of an awkward lad Who was growing up to things.

But times have changed, and the boys to-day In the latest style are dressed, And they'd make a fuss were they asked like us, To grow to a coat and vest.

Demonstration in Creffield Quelled by Armed Force—Coolidge May be a Candidate in Presidential Election.

PANAMA, Aug. 11.—It is feared that the U.S. Tanker "Swift Star," bound from San Pedro de Macoris, to Fall River, Mass., has been lost at sea with her crew of 30 men. Debris wreckage with the name was found off San Antonio Island, while fishing boats from the island report that the damaged vessel was seen drifting off the coast on July 22nd. An ice chest containing "Swift Star," containing the body of a man was also picked up.

last tribute of respect to the late President Harding, at the funeral services at Marion. The streets were lined up throughout the route to the cemetery with crowds waiting a last chance to gaze again on the face of the dead before the casket finally closed.

LONDON THOUSANDS MOURN FOR HARDING.

LONDON, Aug. 10. Several thousand citizens of Great Britain and the United States gathered at Westminster Abbey at noon to-day and mourned the death of President Harding. Hundreds could not gain access to the building and lined the streets outside during the service.

THOS. EDISON SPEAKS OF THE SPIRIT.

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 10. Thomas A. Edison, who is here to attend the funeral of Warren Harding, talking to the Associated Press to-day, said he "was seeking after truth and had made much progress" in regard to the Great Beyond and life after death. "The soul after death takes a flight, but in what form and manner is unknown," said Mr. Edison. Regarding spiritualism as it is commonly known, Mr. Edison said he did not believe that the spirit returned to earth and communed with those living, but he added "We know that the soul does exist after death. I have not found it possible to demonstrate the existence of life beyond the grave and I cannot say that men, including our beloved President Harding, live after death. There is a great directing hand of things and people. A supreme being who looks after the destinies of the world. I have faith in a supreme being and all my thoughts are regarding the life after death; where soul goes, what form it takes and its relation to those now living. I am convinced that the body is made up of intelligence of these entities that brings consciousness. You know there are living cells in the body so tiny that the microscope cannot show them at all. The entity that gives life and motion to the human body is finer still and lies infinitely beyond the reach of our finest scientific instruments. When this entity deserts the body, the body is like a ship without a rudder, deserted, motionless and dead; it is mere clay as

PRESIDENT'S FUNERAL A SIMPLE CEREMONY.

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 11. Harding of Ohio is home to-night, sleeping time away near the mother at whom knee his first childish dream of greatness was prattled. Before his tomb as the choir sang "Nearer My God to Thee", another tender brave woman stood with aching heart looking at the sky. She stepped a moment into the vault, then turned away, brave to the last. She did not wait to see the iron gates close upon her dead. Aside from the multitude that walked the long way from his father's home to the vault, and those close packed to make a living setting for the funeral rites, there was not much to mark the ceremony as the burial of one who had held the highest power in his grasp. There were the men of his guard from sister services of nation-admirals and generals who formed his escort, the friend and comrade who now is President in his stead, and colleagues of his Cabinet. Otherwise the funeral service was that of the simple much loved citizen of Ohio. Throgs whose number will never be known passed beside his casket and looked their last upon the dead face.

SILENCE OF FIVE MINUTES IN WASHINGTON AND NEW YORK.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. There was a silence throughout Washington to-day for five minutes as the funeral service for Warren G. Harding was held in Marion. On the steps of the Capitol a bugler sounded taps and the call was picked up and echoed by trumpeters in other sections of the city. Street cars stopped, the telephone service was suspended, electric power was shut off for five minutes, and practically all activity was at a halt and men, women and children on street stood with heads bowed.

New York hushed with severest stillness unparalleled in her history as at the Metropolitan New York City paid a sorrowful tribute to the memory of Warren Harding. Her great banks, her brokerages, her stores, her harbor deserted, the city turned to her myriad churches, where the sad ceremonies at Marion, Ohio, were being echoed. It was almost as if there were a funeral in every home. Broad thoroughfares were deserted, subway and elevated trains running on reduced schedule were sparsely occupied.

Vigornia.

RESIDENCE OF THE LATE HON. JOHN BROWNING.

That handsome residence called Vigornia, built by the late Hon. John Browning, situated on King's Bridge Road, is about to be sold. Standing in its beautiful grounds, with tall spreading trees, its natural stage surrounded by lilacs, its masses of perennial flowering plants, its lawns, tennis lawn and large vegetable garden, it approaches most nearly to one of the stately homes of England.

Then the house with its spacious rooms and broad hall, its handsome staircase of mahogany with carved balustrades, its large bedrooms, its conservatories make it one of the most desirable homes in Newfoundland. It is two-storied, has every modern convenience and is planned in such a way as to make it one of the easiest homes for the housewife to manage.

Its surroundings cannot be spoiled for at the back it adjoins Government House grounds, on one side has a large field given to the Church of England on which to build a Bishop's residence, and on the other side in its own grounds stands the house built by the late Hon. H. J. E. Woods.

Being Imperial property, a ground rent of four hundred and sixty dollars ($460) a year is exacted, but an arrangement can be made for it to be sold as freehold property.

We must not forget to mention the out-buildings, a garage capable of holding several vehicles with large barn above, a toll house and long fowl run, a potting house, stable and harness-room.

Everything is new and in perfect order and such an opportunity for a beautiful home will seldom offer. If not sold privately in the meantime, it will be put up to auction at the end of October.

Campaign Started in London

TO FOSTER TECHNICAL TRAINING
London, August 8. (A.P.)—Two-thirds of the boys reared in London enter casual trades, as unskilled labor and shopmen, and only 18 per cent of them enter the skilled trades.

These figures, which have been prepared in the interests of a campaign to furnish greater technical education for London's youth, are said to be higher in unskilled and lower in skilled trades than any other large city in western Europe or America. This is the result of insufficient technical training centres, and the poverty among the lower classes, which forces the boys to work at very early ages.

The campaign which is being backed by many welfare organizations will attempt to arouse interest in the establishing of training centres throughout England.

Re-opening of Westminster Hall.

(Written for the Canadian Press.)
London, July 28 (By Mail).—The re-opening of Westminster Hall on Tuesday last, was a most impressive ceremony. For eight years this masterpiece of British architecture has been closed during which time the anxious and delicate work of repairing the roof has been undertaken. Put up in 1347, the mysterious and sinister "death watch" beetle through centuries of activity has undermined the support and but for the skill of Sir Frank Baines, the Director of Works, this link with the Middle Ages must have been destroyed. King George was accompanied by Queen Mary and the gathering included a number of peers and commoners. Mrs. Asquith, in a striking costume of black velvet cut in a medieval fashion with a tudor hat, was prominent among the members of the Opposition. Mrs. Stanley Baldwin was also present and Labor was represented by Ramsay MacDonald and Arthur Henderson. Among the crowd was recognized the figure of Dr. Hanting, the famous surgeon from Toronto. This young discoverer of the insulin treatment for diabetes has aroused great interest in London. Everybody is asking him to dinner and if he cared he could be the most prominent figure in society.

The Truth About Beaver Board.

Beaver Board may be had in widths of 32 inches or 48 inches, and in lengths of 7, 8, 9, 10 and 12 feet. You can buy one board or several boards, just the right size for your purpose and so avoid all waste.

Beaver Board is sized back and front and is therefore damp proof and rot proof, besides you are spared the expense of having it sized by your painter. The expense thus avoided may amount to more than $5.00 per thousand feet. Remember this when you are computing cost of Beaver Board.

Beaver Board will not crack like plaster, costs less, and looks better. In addition, Beaver Board costs less for repairs or alterations than plaster. Less than $10.00 worth of Beaver Board will ceil any room in your house.

The back of every genuine Beaver Board is branded

Look for  on the back of the board you buy.

Beaver Board does not show ugly seams like V jointed or pitch pine ceilings, is not wasteful, takes paint better, is more easily cleaned, is much more artistic and is in many other ways superior to V jointed or pitch pine ceiling.

Beaver Board has shown its superiority to inferior wall boards; its merit has been proven. We can show you two panels on the OUTSIDE of our store which have been exposed to the rain, sun and snow, since 1912, and are still in good condition. Beaver Board costs slightly more than inferior wall board but once your house is done with Beaver Board you won't have to replace the boards in 10 or even 20 years time, in fact Beaver Board will last as long as your house and is therefore really cheaper than inferior wall board.

The price of Beaver Board is now 5 1/2 cents per square foot retail.

The Empire Unites With America in Her Grief

Many a time have congregations assembled within the venerable walls of St. Thomas' Church to mark with religious ceremony events which have gone to make history.

The Dead Rise Up and Condemn Us

The years which followed the introduction of representative government were anything but halcyon days. Political conflicts arose, and were carried on with much virulence for many years.

To these elements of discord were now unhappily added animosities arising from religious and sectarian diversions which ushered in a dark and troubled period in the history of this Colony.

Of a later date he records that the memory of those unhappy events had gradually faded away, and a nobler and more patriotic spirit animated political action, which was now directed towards the development of the best interests of the community at large.

To-day we have the worst features of history repeating themselves to our shame and discredit. Our elections are chosen as fitting occasions to arouse the people of the colony into a state of frenzy; topics are introduced which are irrelevant and are deliberately intended to cloak the main issue.

We are naturally and from choice law abiding, and anxious to live at peace with our neighbours. From the very nature of the fisherman's calling that is imperative.

We state clearly and without reservation that the tares of sectarian dissension have been sown by the politician for his own ends, and without regard to the effects of the storm he is raising.

We appeal to all and sundry in the best interests of our Island Home to rise up in their might and show their determination to kill this foul monster that betrays on the life blood of our citizens.

In Passing

Can a man be tried for his life three times? This question is now receiving the attention of the ablest minds of Great Britain at the present time.

It is raised by the fact that the second jury has disagreed at the Old Bailey in the case which one Henry Griffin is charged with the murder of a young married woman.

Will Griffin be put in the dock for the third time to answer the charge? The case will cause some searching for legal precedents before the next sessions of the court renders a verdict.

It is a problem the solving of which will be awaited with interest as it is, the case remains in a most interesting position.

As pointed out in this column yesterday the failure of the Prime Minister to secure a Commission to investigate the alleged scandals which compelled Sir Richard Squires to resign is certainly a serious reflection upon our public spirited citizens.

For reasons unknown to us we have no doubt but that Messrs. Fenelon, Blackwood and Knight, three well known and highly respected members of an honoured profession, must have some good specific reasons for refusing the responsibility of acting on this Commission, and he it to these credit.

Had these legal men accepted the appointments there is no hesitation in remarking they would have enjoyed the confidence of the public in their unpleasant undertaking, and it is indeed a pity that such men who in every respect possess the qualifications desired in this particular instance could not thus lend their services to clean up what is said to be the greatest scandals perpetrated since Responsible Government was favoured to Newfoundland.

It is more than likely that the Government will be compelled to seek a tribunal outside of the Colony, as it will be noted that very few of our prominent citizens who are capable of acting on the Commission are more or less directly or indirectly interested in the country's political life and politicians generally.

That the Prime Minister is sincere in his announcement in the House of Assembly yesterday when he stated "It was now the duty of the Government to look about and take other steps in this matter" no one will dispute, and all will regret his failure so far in securing a desirable Commission to proceed immediately with the enquiry as set forth shortly after the departure of the late Minister of Agriculture and Mines and the resignation of the late Prime Minister.

Should the Government be forced to seek a Commission elsewhere, it is generally hoped that he will do so in England, where they are many excellent servants of good standing and repute who would in every sense of the word be qualified. Many of those referred to would, by their official knowledge, legal and otherwise, be of much benefit to the Colony and help materially in its future workings by the recommendations which would naturally be contained in their report.

According to information to hand another crisis has arisen in Government circles brought about by the appointment of Mr. A. Mews, late editor of the Advocate, to the position of Deputy Auditor General, which position was voted to Mr. Mews by the Executive Council under the Squire administration.

A meeting of the Cabinet was held last night and a meeting of the Government party took place this forenoon, when the appointment was considered.

Prohibition as we have it at present is a matter which should receive the attention of the Legislature before the House prorogues. Day after day we see the many faults of the present system increasing and general discontent prevails. Under existing regulations the encouragement of hypocrites is an outstanding feature well known to all concerned in the traffic. Seven years of abuse of the present law should be sufficient to warrant the Government taking notice of the question in a proper spirit, giving due thought and attention to the pros and cons of the question.

At a later date a return will be made to this subject when some suggestions will be offered for the impartial consideration of our readers.

The Regular Quarterly Meeting of the St. John's Mechanics' Society will be held in their Hall on Monday at 8.30 p.m. JAMES J. LEAHEY, Sec.—aug.11.23

IN MEMORIAM.

Congregation at St. Thomas's Pay Last Tribute to the Late President.

At 3 p.m. yesterday the hour when the funeral of the late President of the United States, Hon. Warren G. Harding took place at Marion, Ohio an impressive Memorial Service was held at St. Thomas' Church.

Included in the programme of the service were His Excellency the Governor and Lady Allard, Major Wilberforce-Bell and Capt. Goodfellow, A.D.C., Sir William Horwood, Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Johnson, Prime Minister Warren, Mayor Cook, Dr. Joseph Outerbridge, Sir W. F. Lloyd, Sir M. G. Winter, Sir F. T. McGrath, members of the Legislative Council, House of Assembly and City Council, clerks of the several denominations, foreign consuls and representative citizens of Newfoundland and America.

The Vice Regal party on entering the church were officially received by American Consul Benedict and Vice Consul Harriott. The service conducted by Rev. Canon Bolt, M.A., D.C.L., Episcopal Commissary, opened with the Hymn "O God our help in ages past." This was followed by reading the special lesson from Ecclesiasticus XLIV: 1-15; the order for the burial of the dead and Psalms Domine, Refugium, Dominus regit me. Rev. Canon Jeeves, M.A., sub-Dean of the Cathedral and Rev. Canon Field repeated the Hymn "Let Saints on Earth in Concert Sing."

The address given by Rev. Canon Bolt is as follows: "We are assembled here to-day for the purpose of joining in spirit, with the citizens of the Great Republic, in paying a last tribute of respect to the memory of the President, who has been so suddenly taken from their midst.

Following the example of our King who, the more to mark his sympathy with a great nation sprung from the same stock as our own, has ordained a period of mourning throughout his Dominions we in this the oldest Colony of the Empire, not unmindful of the fact that many of our Countrymen have found a home in the United States, where they happily and contentedly dwell, desire to associate ourselves with all those who, at this time, in all lands are offering their sympathy to a people plunged in mourning by the unexpected passing of their Chief Executive.

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin," and when as now we are reminded of the frailty of all things human, our better nature asserts itself; we forget, for a space at least, our party allegiance, our rival policies, our national problems, our international disputes and standing beside the bier of a fellow travelling comrade in our own hearts go out to the bereaved ones left behind, and our one desire is to offer them such consolation as we may.

"We therefore wish to pay our tribute of respect to him who is to-day being laid in his last resting place by his sorrowing fellow-countrymen; and in the first place to do so to the man rather than to the ruler.

"When on his fifty-fifth birthday in 1872, Warren Harding was elected to his high office, outside of his own country, and to some extent within it, he was an unknown man. His nomination, we learn, was a surprise to himself; no less than to the world. Kindly and unaffected, with simple tastes, we can believe that he would feel the burden of the cares of State. He entered upon his office at a time when the world was in a state of rivalry; the legacy of war, he stated, the most experienced found it difficult to act. It would be expecting a great deal of an untried man, that entering in such circumstances upon a most responsible office for the first time, he would give universal satisfaction either to his own countrymen or to others, in the policy which he considered it his duty to carry out. It would be idle to pretend that he did. There are many that wish that he could have seen his way to enter the League of Nations, and give a lead to his country in taking her share in the pacification of the world. His support of an International Code gives ground for the hope that had his life been spared he would have striven with increasing weight, to promote peace among all peoples, to be when as it may, and whatever may be the verdict of history of the latest President of the United States it redeems to his credit as a man that he was unopposed by office, and that his decisions, even when not acceptable to many, caused little resentment, because they were rendered in a kindly spirit, with a desire to do substantial justice, and though there were those who disagreed with the present in the line he pursued as it were the case, yet we are told there are few who had not kind words and good wishes for Harding the man.

Surely it is no little tribute to a man's character when amid all the turmoil of political life he is judged by his fellows, not by the mistakes he has made, or the hopes he has disappointed, but by his kindness of heart, by his desire to give pleasure to others, by doing what he could to make those about him happy, not because he thought it would pay to do so, but because of his fellow feeling with others.

"But it is not only as a man, genuinely kindhearted, that we desire to pay our tribute to the late President. We honour him also because of the sentiments which he expressed towards our Empire, on what proved to be his last official tour. Included in the programme of the journey which he took to Alaska in order to see for himself conditions on the spot, was a visit to Canada, the first ever paid to that country by a President of the United States.

The speech delivered by President Harding at Vancouver, which, we venture to think, he will long remember and often quote, containing as it did sentiments which must appeal to dwellers on both sides of the border.

Speaking to that vast concourse of Canadians he declared that public will rather than public force is the key to enduring international peace, and in proof of his assertion he reminded his hearers of the fact that they as two peoples have lived amicably side by side for more than a century, under different flags, and yet, along that thin boundary line there are no forts, no weapons of warfare, but a simple understanding between the nations who desire to dwell together in unity. It was in keeping with the spirit of such an understanding that the President deprecated any thought of annexation on either side, advising rather that each country should go its own way along parallel roads, each helping the other, allowing their respective people to change their place of abode from one side of the border to the other, without let or hindrance as opportunity offered, welcoming one another as at present, with no limit as to quota, which exists in regard to other people entering the United States.

To quote words which deserve to be remembered: "Our protection is in our fraternity; our armour is in our faith; the tie that binds more closely year by year is ever-increasing acquaintance and comradeship through interchange of citizens, and the compact is not of perishable parchment but of fair and honorable dealing, which God grant shall continue for all time."

CHALLENGE. On behalf of the St. Bon's Intermediate Crew, I hereby challenge Mr. Hussey and the St. Mary's Intermediate crew to row again on Monday evening with the same crews, strokes, coxswains, and boats. I am informed by the Committee that room will be found on the programme provided we agree to row at 6 o'clock. There would be no objection on our part to the two other crews entering if they so desire.

JACK DUNPHY. (St. Bon's Stroke). FOOTBALL TO-NIGHT. It seems so long since there has been a football game that one almost forgets how it's played, but fans are guaranteed an exciting match to-night when teams representing East and West will meet. The teams are made up of the best players of the regular league and the proceeds will go towards defraying the costs of the proposed trip to Grand Falls, when a city eleven goes out to play in the Inter-town series. The line-ups will be as follows: WEST—Goal, Gushue; backs, E. Kavanagh, M. Maddigan; halves, W. Halfyard, W. Drover, Elton; forwards, E. Phelan, J. Young, E. Ewing, MacElin, Flynn.

EAST—Goal, Noseworthy; backs, Thistle, J. Brown; halves, Martin, Constantine, L. Kavanagh; forwards, R. Halley, Donnelly, E. Jerrett, Winsor, Sawyers.

A SUCCESSFUL REGATTA. Ideal weather conditions made it possible to run off the scheduled portion last night of the twice postponed St. Joseph's Regatta. There was a large attendance and the events were interesting and exciting. Unfortunately the strains of the familiar 'Banks of Newfoundland,' were absent through the Mount Cashel's Band Concert in Bannerman Park on behalf of Child Welfare.

AMATEUR RACE. Only two boats competed as, owing to the absence of one of the Guard's crew and the Boat Club's inability to secure a substitute, she was left on the "bank." The Nellie R.'s six were comprised of half of Chick Dunder's, and the remainder of Grand Falls, St. Bon's (who won in the Mary on Regatta Day) rowed the Cadet. The latter had the advantage all the way and won by five lengths in 10.35 3-5.

CABMEN'S RACE. Three crews had entered. East, West and Central. Unfortunately the West Enders did not turn up for the Guard. The Eastern men were in the Cadet and the Central in the Nellie R. When both left the boathouses for the stakes it was at once seen that they were "Amateurs" in the strictest sense of the word, as "twas 'You pull to-day Paddy, I'll pull to-morrow," and "crabs" and splashes was the order of the evening. It plainly demonstrated to the bank the necessity of hard and constant practice for an annual Derby Day in order to have perfect rowing. Much amusement was caused by their efforts to get down the pond, but the Committee were frankly anxious as to their successful rounding the buoys. This they did, however, in regular "pro" style. It was a good race to the Cadet boathouse when, in answer to their supporters, the East End crew splashed and won by about two lengths. Our old friend from Grand Falls, and a veteran of bygone but happy years, Mr. Chas. Hayward, was in the stern, and he showed that he had lost none of his skill and cunning in handling the tiller ropes. The inexperience of the oarsmen made it of necessity a contest in generalship between the coxswains and Charles got the honors in 11.20.5. His crew was: Cadet—P. Roche (stroke), W. Clooney, Leo Brown, H. Martin, T. Cantwell, H. Sheppard.

INTERMEDIATE. Four crews were in as follows: St. Bon's in the Cadet, Southside in the Guard, Mount Cashel in the Nellie R., and the East End in the Mary. As the Collegians had won on Regatta Day they were naturally the favorites with the Mount Cashel crew runners-up. The four boats went to the home stretch the St. Mary's boys in the Guard soaked it aboard of the others, and they romped home in good style in 10.47. The St. Bon's were relegated to second place. Mount Cashel in the Nellie R. got third, while the East End crew brought up the rear. The changing of the stroke oar in the Guard apparently made a wonderful difference and they rowed splendidly. Guard—(St. Mary's)—J. Hussey, (cox), H. Rodgers (stroke), A. Harvey, T. Cook, P. Whitten, G. Cook, R. Porter. It will be noted that the St. Bon's have issued a challenge that the race be re-trowed on Monday.

AMATEUR RACE. Only two boats competed as, owing to the absence of one of the Guard's crew and the Boat Club's inability to secure a substitute, she was left on the "bank." The Nellie R.'s six were comprised of half of Chick Dunder's, and the remainder of Grand Falls, St. Bon's (who won in the Mary on Regatta Day) rowed the Cadet. The latter had the advantage all the way and won by five lengths in 10.35 3-5.

CABMEN'S RACE. Three crews had entered. East, West and Central. Unfortunately the West Enders did not turn up for the Guard. The Eastern men were in the Cadet and the Central in the Nellie R. When both left the boathouses for the stakes it was at once seen that they were "Amateurs" in the strictest sense of the word, as "twas 'You pull to-day Paddy, I'll pull to-morrow," and "crabs" and splashes was the order of the evening. It plainly demonstrated to the bank the necessity of hard and constant practice for an annual Derby Day in order to have perfect rowing. Much amusement was caused by their efforts to get down the pond, but the Committee were frankly anxious as to their successful rounding the buoys. This they did, however, in regular "pro" style. It was a good race to the Cadet boathouse when, in answer to their supporters, the East End crew splashed and won by about two lengths. Our old friend from Grand Falls, and a veteran of bygone but happy years, Mr. Chas. Hayward, was in the stern, and he showed that he had lost none of his skill and cunning in handling the tiller ropes. The inexperience of the oarsmen made it of necessity a contest in generalship between the coxswains and Charles got the honors in 11.20.5. His crew was: Cadet—P. Roche (stroke), W. Clooney, Leo Brown, H. Martin, T. Cantwell, H. Sheppard.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

TURKEY WELCOMES PEACE ENVOY. CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 11. Jamal Pasha was acclaimed by the populace on his return from Lamsane yesterday. The city was elaborately decorated and belaguered last night there were special illuminations in his honor.

STRIKES RESULT IN CLOSURE OF GERMAN SHIPYARDS AND FACTORIES. BERLIN, Aug. 11. The strike movement threatens to become exceedingly serious. However, the strike at the St. Eriming Works ended by an agreement yesterday and the presses are again turning out billions of paper marks. Nearly all Hamburg's shipyards are closed because the managers are unable to accede to the workers' demands for immediate increases in wages. Among workers generally there is a disposition to take recourse to strikes unless wages are substantially increased. Workmen in the Vulkan yards at Stetion have adopted passive resistance and workers at the big chemical factory have struck at Danzig. Work has ceased in virtually all factories. The workers are demanding pre-war wages on a gold basis. Similar difficulties are reported from Ruhr, where strikes are spreading and violent incidents are more numerous with a general demand for big wage increases. Thyssen works at Hamm have closed and miners at Wanne are refusing to enter pits.

CIRCULATION OF PAMPHLETS PROHIBITED. BERLIN, Aug. 11. A proclamation issued by President Ebert last evening prohibits the circulation of pamphlets demanding overthrow of the Constitutional Government or incitement to acts of violence, or acts that are likely to endanger public order. The penalty mentioned in the proclamation is three months' imprisonment and a fine not exceeding five hundred million marks.

MARY G. DUFF ASHORE. HALIFAX, AUG. 11. The three master schooner, Mary G. Duff, loaded with lumber from Sheet Harbor for New York is ashore on bar at Sheet Harbor with twelve feet of water in one hold. It is thought she can be pumped out and refloated. She is owned by William Duff, M.P., Lunenburg.

INTER ALLIED COMMISSION DECIDE ON VIGOROUS MEASURES. COBLENZ, Aug. 11. Inter Allied High Commission has ordered the seizure of mines in occupied territory owing to failure of the Germans to deliver fuel as reparations in accordance with the treaty. The Commission of Control has been appointed to exploit mines and sell output. All expenses or exploitation and transport are to be charged to Germany. Disobedience or interference with working or seized properties will be punished with imprisonment and fines while punishment for sabotage will be twenty years in prison, or, if fatalities are involved, death.

DUSSELDORF MINERS RECEIVE INCREASE OF WAGES. DUSSELDORF, Aug. 11. The wages of miners in Ruhr pits are to be increased two hundred and forty-five per cent, retroactive to August 6th.

RETIREMENT OF CUNO MINISTRY IMMINENT. BERLIN, Aug. 11. Early retirement of Chancellor Cuno and ministry seems foreshadowed in consequence of the decision of United Socialists to support no confidence motion introduced by Communists which will come up for vote in Reichstag Monday. Although United Socialists originally concluded they would abstain from voting, the internal situation now is fast drifting to a point where Socialists face the necessity of saving their political prestige with workers in order to prevent workers from deserting to Communists. Socialist leaders are conferring with Chancellor Cuno in the effort to induce him to resign. In the event of his acquiescing, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, leader of German People's Party would be asked by President Ebert to reconstruct government on the basis of a big coalition which would include United Socialists.

SIX DEAD FROM SCALDS. NYACK, N.Y., Aug. 11. Six women and girls have died so far from burns received last night when a bus carrying sixty employees of the Christian Herald released a stream of scalding water and steam which poured over the women.

EQUAL RIGHTS. A man seeking a separation from his wife in New York declared that when she ate she made a noise like a horse eating oats. Perhaps it was her false teeth. Even so, men are to be the only ones to make a noise at meals? Is a woman to be entitled to secure a separation because her husband makes a noise like water gurgling out of the bath when he suzzles his soup. Equal rights for both sexes!

S. A. Maternity Home.

TWO ROOMS WILL BE FURNISHED BY THE RED CROSS BOATS. Commandant H. A. Hurd, the campaign organizer for the furnishing of the new Maternity Hospital, waited upon Captain Mitchell of the S. S. Silvia and Captain James of the S. S. Rosalind and asked them if it was not possible for them to furnish a room for the new Maternity Hospital by taking up a collection among the officers and passengers of the ship, and both captains thought they could. So Captain Mitchell with his officers arranged a concert last trip and got $34.27, and this got $51.00. I have no doubt but that Captains Mitchell and James will raise the $200 to furnish a room.

This is a splendid chance for any one who wants to help the most useful thing of our Island Home. We shall have great pleasure in placing a brass plate on the door to show rooms have been furnished by you. It's a good investment.

Three little girls held a Garden Party this week among their little friends. Their names were Miss Vienna Stowe, Lorena Tizard and Rita Rose. They took in $3.37. Now they did not know what to do with this money, so after a little thought they decided to give it to the new Maternity Hospital to help the Children's Ward. They sent for Commandant Hurd and passed over the money for this purpose. This is a splendid spirit and I trust that many more will follow the same.

A few little girls' names were overlooked in connection with giving out the Tag Day results: Miss Beryl Warren $2.03, Margaret Dunn 2.91, Annie Escott 1.80. This brings Mrs. Pedigrew's total up to $243.22.

The date has been fixed for the opening of the Hospital for Sept. 19th. It is hoped by that date that Commandant Hurd will have obtained sufficient funds to furnish the building.

Commandant Hurd will be pleased to call and see any one who can help in any way this great need. Adjutant Geo. French has donated $100.00 to furnish a Children's Room in memory of his wife. We trust others will follow.

A Case of Dress Up or Get Out. Down in York State there is a very brave man by the name of Stevens. He is president of the Westchester Title and Trust Company, and as such is the employer of a large number of bright young women. One day recently, he sat looking them over. Stevens took stock, so to speak, and came to the conclusion that his eighty beauties didn't have enough on. So it was that he picked out what looked like the worse case, or was it the best. In the event he told the girl to go right home to her mother, garner some clothes and put them on. This was the beginning of dress reform in the office of the Title and Trust Company at White Plains, N.Y.

Little girls and big ones, blondes and brunettes, tried to explain to the boss that nearly all the frocks and sweaters are sleeveless this year, but he did not heed. Mr. Stevens, heart-hearted man that he is, said that such attire, no sleeves and low necks, might be all right for ball rooms, but he was not, as it happened, running a hall, but rather a business office. It was intimated to each and every one of the eighty that if they expected to continue their employment with the Title and Trust Company, they must "dress in a manner becoming a business office." And up to date they have obeyed the mandate.

A Practical Suggestion.

FOR THE MINISTER OF POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

The following letter together with the extract from a Canadian Trade Journal contains an excellent suggestion, both from the revenue producing point of view and also of facilitating business transactions:

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Appended will be found an extract from the August issue of the Canadian Trade Journal, and I would like to urge upon the P.M.G. and the Government the advisability of permitting parcels to be sent C.O.D. in Newfoundland. It certainly would be a great convenience to many people in our outports, as well as to merchants in this city. As things are to-day, a young man or woman in the outports writes to one of the city stores for some small article, the price of which is not known to them and states that a remittance will be sent on arrival of the goods. The customer may not be known to the firm to whom he writes, and is not likely to be listed at any of the commercial agencies. It is then necessary to write back to the customer and state that the cost of the article is so much, and that it will be sent upon receipt of the amount stated, which of course means considerable loss of time and inconvenience. If it were possible to send the package per mail C.O.D. what a great convenience it would be to all concerned, and from the Canadian experience it would appear to be a money making proposition for the post office. Of course I know that packages may be sent C.O.D. per express but this is only to some 70 or 80 places, whereas the post office is in touch with many hundred of settlements. It certainly would be a step in the right direction if our Government could see its way to adopt such a system, and I ask the consideration of the P.M.G. to the scheme.

Yours very truly,
A.W.S.M.
St. John's, Aug. 10, 1923.

GETS $78,000 FROM C.O.D. PARCEL POST.

Ottawa.—Canada's post office business is increasing with real rapidity, and if the present growth continues the showing at the end of the current year will be highly satisfactory both to Hon. Chas. Murphy, the Post Master General, and to Hon. W. S. Fielding, who will have less money to "find" to balance the Dominion's books. In one branch especially, considerable progress has been made. From Oct. 1st last year to July 1st the revenue fees for C.O.D. parcels mailed was $38,500. Added to this was $50,000 in postage, which was all new business found, making a total revenue from C.O.D. parcels for the nine months of $78,500. The cost of doing this business was said to be small.

Our Dumb Animals.

REPORT CHIEF AGENT S.P.A. FOR WEEK ENDING AUG. 10TH, 1923.

Received word of a horse that was badly used at Manuels, the horse being owned by a man named Curran; the horse being very old and thin, it was lying on the side of a by-road. Some men undertook to put the horse to death for the owner. They dragged it between two and three hundred yards over the road with a rope around its body, and then shot it. People around the place are incensed with their action. The matter is in the hands of the Solicitor. I made a special trip to Manuels to investigate all the circumstances and secure the evidence. Horses and cows should be put to death where they fall and not dragged around the roadsides. I humanely destroyed two domestic animals. The Sabie I. arrived with cattle all in good condition, during the week. I was also asked by a gentleman to humanely put to death a horse suffering from a bad leg, at the fox farm of R. G. Rendell Esq. Two horses owned by truckmen I ordered off the street for a rest, and they are improving. A blind horse owned by a cabman and used for driving in the streets, should be retired from his labour. The Cabbie is fond of the animal and takes good care of it and refuses to sell it to anybody to work it—but would dispose of the horse only of being humanely put to death providing interested parties would put me in sufficient funds to do so. Phone all complaints to No. 653.

Oh, Oh, Toronto!

Magistrate Cohen, of Toronto, says he hopes the time will come when a man will be able to get a bottle of liquor in Ontario without going to a doctor for a prescription—it would do away with bootleggers and perjurers. The Toronto judge is right. Meanwhile the Ontario folks will continue to buy their medicine from the dispensaries at the rate of millions a year. It is a great burden of prohibition they have in Ontario. It does not prohibit at all in practice.

Garden Party To-Morrow at Outer Cove.

The annual Garden Party will take place to-morrow (Sunday) at Outer Cove. If the weather be fine a large gathering of the friends of the parish from St. John's will be present, and will receive, as they always do, a very hearty welcome from pastor and parishioners. The people of St. Francis Parish (Logy Bay, Outer Cove and Middle Cove) have worked so hard, have contributed so generously of their time and of their means that they deserve the generous assistance of their good friends of the city and elsewhere. The consensus of opinion is that they have the finest and most beautiful church in this old colony, and they are pardonably proud of it. The church is out of debt, but much remains to be done—the presbytery to be completed, new school (a very pressing necessity) to be erected. Hence all the assistance they receive is urgently needed, and they are not unmindful of their generous benefactors. In the short space of five years the parishioners, numbering but little more than six hundred souls, have erected their church, almost completed the presbytery, and built an electric light and power line, over four miles long, connecting with the Reid system at Bally Haly. They cut down the logs for the church and presbytery themselves. That is, the pastor was his own contractor, and right nobly and loyally did his flock stand by him and enthusiastically support and assist him. 'Tis said that God helps those who help themselves. Thus the people of St. Francis' parish expect a large attendance at the Garden Party to-morrow; and, if fine, they will not be disappointed, as the city, Freshwater Valley, Cove Road, Nagle's Hill, Torbay, Flatrock, Pouch Cove will flock along as usual in great numbers. This year, as usual, the best of the summer will be served, and the catering will leave nothing to be desired. The new famous Band of Mt. Cashel boys will present a treat in itself. Conveyances will be at Rawlin's Cross from 1.30 to-morrow afternoon.

Thieves Outwitted.

An unusual event occurred at Carbonar on Friday night, August 4th, when two residents of Trinity Bay accompanied by their wives arrived by horse and carriage to spend a few days at the settlement. After putting up at a certain hotel in Carbonar the two men engaged the owner of the wagon to drive them to the railway office where they were to get a box addressed to them from the Controller's Department, St. John's. After having secured the box they returned to the hotel where they acquainted the proprietor of having a box of potatoes which they wanted to be fitted out of the carriage but he, and behold when all three approached the vehicle to their disgust they learned that the much desired box had been stolen. The police were quickly notified of the incident and after a search elicited the information that some people who were on the S.S. Sagona which had about the same time sailed from Carbonar for St. John's, were the culprits. Without further delay Sergeants March and Farley motored to the second city, and in a short space of time located their men who happened to be a native of Yukon. A Canadian and a Newfoundland-lander who were bound for the Stag Bay Goldfields. After a preliminary enquiry and with the consent of the Plaintiffs the boose thieves were allowed to proceed to Stag Bay in the payment of a sufficient sum to meet all the expenses and costs of the transaction. The most amusing part of the story is contained in the fact that the police officers only succeeded in finding the empty box, the contents of which had in the meantime been stolen from those who had previously stolen it from the Trinity Bay residents and the only evidence to support this contention is that quite a few of the passengers were "ill up" long after the search of the police was made.

The Presidents of U.S.A.

Calvin Coolidge is the 30th President of the United States. Warren G. Harding is the seventh President to die in office. Of this seven Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley were shot while in office and died as a result of wounds. Roosevelt was also shot, but died later and years after he had completed his term. President Harding was the first President to visit Canada in his official capacity. The following is a list of the Presidents of the United States with their terms of office:—

George Washington—1789-1797.
John Adams—1797-1801.
Thomas Jefferson—1801-1809.
James Madison—1809-1817.
James Monroe—1817-1825.
John Quincy Adams—1825-1829.
Andrew Jackson—1829-1837.
Martin Van Buren—1837-1841.
Wm. H. Harrison—March to April, 1841.
John Tyler—1841-1845.
James K. Polk—1845-1849.
Zachary Taylor—1849-1850.
Millard Fillmore—1850-1853.
Franklin Pierce—1853-1857.
James Buchanan—1857-1861.
Abraham Lincoln—1861-1865.
Andrew Johnson—1865-1868.
Ulysses S. Grant—1869-1877.
R. B. Hayes—1877-1881.
James A. Garfield—March to Sept. 1881.
Chester A. Arthur—1881-1885.

BOOTLEGGING IN STOLEN AUTOS.

Smuggled and stolen autos to the value of $2,000,000 have been seized at Sherbrooke, Quebec, and the surrounding territory by custom authorities. On account of the gigantic scale upon which the smugglers have worked their midnight crossings across the border line and dumped their cars in Sherbrooke, automobile sellers who have been finding a slow market in the town and who cannot sell any of their own legitimate purchases are up in arms and working in harmony with the officials. The cars are stolen in the States, driven across the border without paying the Custom duties, taken to some under-cover garage, numbers and parts are changed and painted and then sold as bona-fide second hand bargains. The Federal authorities are engaged in a country-wide war upon the thieves and smugglers. Several people in Sherbrooke, who bought cars are in trouble as the authorities seized the property awaiting their rightful owners. In this city, the R.C.M. Police have $1,000,000 worth of smuggled and stolen cars placed away awaiting the owners or a cheap sale. A few of the cars have been identified by owners who live as far away as San Francisco and Los Angeles, Cal.

THEY FOUND AN EASY VICTIM.

Farmers very often are easy victims for confidence men and sharpers. In an unsuspecting manner they fall into the net set for them. When they are set free, it is to bewail the loss of large sums of money. A farmer from St. Eustache was easily caught by sharks a few days ago, and he's now bewailing the loss of $4,000. The same was the afterthought of a well-planned bluff to talk business in connection with the purchase of Venne's farm land, the four prospective buyers, after negotiating for terms, suggesting to Venne that he join them in a game of cards.

Venne told Chief Lorrain, of the Provincial Detective Force, that he was $3,000 ahead, when the last hand was played, and that one of the four took his winnings and his $4,000 that he had drawn from the hand, and walked away with it. When he next saw them they were speeding away from L'Epiphanie in clouds of dust raised by the fast-travelling automobile.

PROMISED THEM A GOOD SHRAP-PING.

When two youths of 16 and 17 years stood before a judge here lately, they were told that they wanted a good dose of the old Canadian strap. "If you ever got a strapping," said the judge, "you'd faint." The two delinquents charged with stealing money from their parents, burst into tears, as the judge reprimanded them. They were ordered to report in September to see how they were conducting themselves, and if they had not changed their conduct the judge says he'll keep his promise and strap them well.

A FEW FACTS ABOUT MONTREAL.

The city of Montreal is thirteen miles long and nine miles wide, it has 753 miles of permanent sidewalks and 580 miles of sewers, while of the 344 miles of streets, within its boundaries, 516 belong to the city, 257 are paved and 128 macadamized. These facts and a lot of others of equal interest have been prepared by E. J. Courval, chief designer of the technical department of the City Hall, in view of the issue of a loan of $10,000,000 soon to be floated.

The superficial area of the city in 1922 was 32,155.45 acres. It contains 72 public parks with a superficial area of 1,394.94 acres. The taxable property is valued at $709,324,469 while the value of property exempt from taxation reaches the total of $250,451,154.

The debt of the city is $125,375,351 while the sinking funds amount to $7,299,818. The revenue of the city for last year was $24,868,555. The valuation of municipal buildings in 1920 was put at $23,835,120 for buildings and $44,298,130 for vacant lots. The gross revenue from the water-works last year was $2,577,137. The property tax was $7.85, the special tax amounting to 37 cents per 100. The school tax for Catholics was 70 cents. Protestants, $1.00 and neutral panel $1.00.

During the year the building permits issued were to the value of $21,132,586. The city pumping station supplied 247,019,787 gallons in the course of the year, or 65,191,717 gallons per head of the population being 130.9 gallons a day.

DRUNKEN CHAUFFEURS TO GO TO JAIL.

No more fines for drunken chauffeurs, found guilty of driving automobiles while under the influence will be imposed by Judge Ferrault, who informed Alfred Simpson that there was no reason in the world why the advent of automobiles should speed up that business, and slacken the pace of the man who travels on foot. Simpson, who was drunk when arrested at the wheel of his car last week was sent down for two months and had his license for year 1923 cancelled.

"Speeding and drunkenness go hand in hand as a menace to life and property. There is no reason why imprisonment and cancellation of license should be separated and I will impose both condemnations."

SEVERAL MIRACLES AT ST. ANNE
DE BEAUPRE.

Notwithstanding the great loss of the famous Basilica at St. Anne de Beaupre, which is now replaced by a large wooden structure, the number of pilgrims on the Feast Day was the largest received since 1897. It is estimated that 37,000 pilgrims and visitors were at the shrine. Several miracles took place. The most remarkable cures were:—

Stevens Motherway, of 17 Plymouth Ave., Springfield, Mass., a veteran of the World War and wounded to the extent that he was compelled to support himself on crutches since his return from active service, is said to have been comparatively restored.

Another returned soldier, from Winnipeg, left his crutches behind him and feels perfectly cured.

Mrs. Mary Bourke 27 years of Lacadie, N.H., who was an invalid and carried two crutches as the result of an accident a few years ago. She was able to leave her crutches and walk from the church. Miss Anna Keeney, of Chicopee, Mass., who was crippled from infancy and wore a large boot, was able to walk from the church without the boot.

Mrs. Charles Martin, of Pennsylvania, also left two crutches behind her.

Between 4 a.m. and 9 a.m. there were 10,000 persons who received communion.

THEY WERE WEARING BURIAL
SHROUDS.

A despatch from Cleveland, Ohio, says: A woman fainted here yesterday when told that a new silver and gray gown she had been wearing nearly a month was a burial shroud that had been stolen from a freight car.

Two fifteen year old boys were sentenced to a reformatory for the theft of eight shrouds, of which the one was a part.

Another woman also secured one of the "dresses," and had worn it in blissful ignorance.

WHAT SHE GAINED BY PERJURY.

At Quebec in the Court of Sessions, a young girl of 16 confessed that she has perjured herself and had caused her mother to be sentenced to six months imprisonment on her evidence brought a sentence of 3 years in the penitentiary.

Two years ago an elderly woman was arrested by the police following a charge laid by a 14-year-old girl that her mother had enticed her into an immoral life. On the strength of the evidence of the young daughter the court imposed six months imprisonment on the mother. The sentence was served. A few days ago the young girl boasted that she had sent her mother behind the bars and an investigation having been made the girl was arrested and confessed.

THOUGH YOUNG THEY LIKE AD-VENTURE.

A ten-year-old boy ran away from home, and over a week ago he was found on the "train" coming from Montreal, N.B., to Montreal. When asked by the conductor for his fare the child replied that he had deserted when a fine of $1,000 was hurled at him for having the liquor in his possession. If he does not pay the fine he will have three other months to serve. "That's the minimum," said the judge. "It's the best I can do for you." Arthur took the sentence hard and begged for a chance. "I am sorry," said the judge with sympathy for the Toronto man. "It's the law."

Prohibition in Sweden proved to be a failure, according to Lieutenant Lawaki, of the Royal Swedish Board of Waterfalls and Canals who is in Ottawa to inspect the system of harnessing water-power in this country.

"We tried prohibition in Sweden during the war but it proved to be of no use and at the referendum it was defeated," he said.

An Anti-Saloon Leader was indicted in the States a few days ago, charged with failing to account for $25,000 organization money. Another blessing of Prohibition, proving how sincere and honest some of its patrons are.

Toronto "the good" seems to share also in the Prohibition blessings. Hear what a judge said:—
"I have my duty to do, but I hope the time will come when a man will be able to get a bottle of liquor without going to a doctor for a prescription—it would do away with bootleggers, liars and perjurers." Such was Magistrate Cohen's comment in police court when firing Patrick J. Murphy $100 and costs or two months on each of four charges of illegally obtaining and using medical prescriptions.

The American Society for the Control of Cancer

NEW YORK—The American Society for the Control of Cancer, with headquarters in the Pennsylvania Terminal Building, announces that it will begin October 15th next a series of six regional cancer campaigns, which will not only cover the entire United States, but Canada and the Maritime Provinces. The campaign will take the place of National Cancer Week held in 1921 and 1922.

The officers of the Society, which is now directed by Dr. George A. Soper, noted epidemiologist, believe that the work can be more effectively accomplished by the new method, although the success attending National Cancer Weeks was most pronounced. Under the present plan extensive preparatory work will occupy three weeks in each region of the District, and the fourth will be devoted to a Cancer Week, in which information necessary to the public will be thoroughly broadcasted. The work will be carried out by closely knit divisional organizations, composed of physicians, surgeons and laymen, who will be guided by the executives at headquarters.

The campaign in the region comprising Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Vermont, Maine, New Hampshire, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Quebec, will begin April 15th and end May 14th.

Officers and Crew Rewarded

FOR THRILLING RESCUE.

New York, July. (By Can. Press).—Medals and a purse of money awarded by the Life Saving Benevolent Association of New York, have been presented to the captain, 4th and 5th officers and members of the crew of the White Star liner Rescuing, for heroic service in the rescuing of the entire crew of the sinking steamer Monte Grappa at sea, on November 14th last, during a severe storm. The presentation was made aboard the Pittsburgh here. The story of the thrilling rescue of the 45 men of the rapidly sinking freighter; of the extraordinary feat of navigation on the part of Capt. Jones, who previously had two rescues to his credit, in intercepting the erratic course of the doomed vessel over 300 miles of stormy sea at precisely the point calculated, and the splendid manner in which the two boats from the Pittsburgh, commanded by the 4th officer J. Law and 5th officer W. W. Pearson, were handled during the daring and dangerous work of taking off the exhausted crew in the blackness of the night, was a matter of great public interest at the time. Medals and illuminated certificates were awarded to these officers and men by the Mayor of Southampton last January.

THE DIFFERENCE IT MAKES.

"What a difference does it make to anyone if I stop and pick one or two clusters of those roses?" Can you guess who said that—man or woman? We were out for a n afternoon drive and had just passed a deserted house where some wonderful pink ramblers clambering over the old stone wall, made a lovely picture. The suggestion was made by one member of the party that we stop and pick a few roses. It was as promptly negated by another member. Whereupon the first member (whose sex I am sure you have guessed) made the above remark.

And the other member (whose sex and relation to the first you have also guessed) answered:
Multiply By A Thousand.
 "Not so very much perhaps, though it seems to me a cheeky thing to do and of course it is taking what doesn't belong to you; but suppose a thousand other parties do the same thing. What's going to become of the lovely picture those roses make? And do you think it's good for the place to have all those people tramping over it?" "Isn't that just like a man?" said he would-be rose robber. Why have I got to think about what a thousand other autoists do? I don't think there's any harm in my having a few of those roses."

I wonder if that is just like a man. I suspect it is a little more like a man than like a woman. I should prefer to think that women would be as quick to recognize the larger viewpoint and could realize that in such matters the individual must multiply himself by a thousand or ten thousand before he can judge whether his act is justifiable or not.
Ten Thousand Bananas-Skins.
 If one person picknicked by the road and left an empty crackerbox and a piece of oiled paper and a banana skin, it wouldn't make much difference, but multiply that crackerbox and scrap of paper and banana skin by ten thousand and you have an unsightly roadside.
 When a single motorist goes into the woods to bring home Christmas greens it does not matter, but when thousands bring home automobiles loaded with laurel and evergreen and holly the life of these greens is in danger. In one state the registrar of motor vehicles has had to threaten that people who did that sort of thing would lose their licenses. It seems a severe penalty but when fifty or a hundred thousand motorists say: "What difference does it make if I take a few greens," it becomes necessary.

Poetic Instinct!
 An amusing story by the way is told of this man's experience with two young girls who came out of the woods with their automobile piled high with beautiful vines which they were going to use to trim for a fall wedding. "I ought," he said after inspecting their load, "to take away your license but I shan't do it for I think you will be punished enough." And they were. For the beautiful vines were poison ivy.

In the United States there are over ten million automobiles. The only way their owners can keep the world beautiful and comfortable for themselves as well as for the rest of us is to remember their own vast numbers and make it a matter of noblesse oblige not to do as individuals what cannot be done by all.

Ancient Romans Used Modern Heating Apparatus
 London, August 8. (A.P.)—A central heating apparatus used in a Roman villa about seventeen centuries ago, has been unearthed in the course of excavations at Kenyngton cemetery, Somersetshire.
 The villa, which was about 150 feet long, was heated by a hypocaust or heating chamber, the heat passing under the floors of various rooms by means of a series of passages. Some rooms were reached by means of flues instead of the floor passages.

The Fisheries.
 DRIED FISH.

Exporters of dried fish in this province are anxiously waiting for one thing, and that is the cleaning up of old stocks in Newfoundland. Until these are out of the way, so they say, there is not much hope of improvement in the West India markets. As a matter of fact, to-day, some of the West India markets are so glutted with consignments of Newfoundland fish, that it is bound to take some time to clear them up. Porto Rico is one of these markets, and the situation there is reported to be worse now than it has been at any time in the past two years. But the longest day must have an ending, and so, sooner or later, there will be an ending of the carried-over stock of Newfoundland. In the meantime there is not much for local exporters to do but mark time and thank fortune that they have no old fish to sell. We have not heard of any recent purchases of new bank Lunenburg fish; in our last report we said that a few had been made at $8.00, which is of course too high a figure to show any profit on shipments to-day. However, with the last Newfoundland old stock out of the way, there will come a more active demand for new fish, and perhaps it may be that prices will be sufficiently high in the West Indies to assure a small margin to the exporter even at the price he paid for his present supply.

So far as other foreign markets are concerned, they are all very dead, and the competition for business is exceedingly keen. Norway has been offering fish in Brazil at a price equal to about $5.50 per quintal Halifax. This price of course is a ridiculously low price for codfish of a class that is suitable for the Brazilian market. As to the prospect of an improvement in conditions, while we do not wish to be pessimistic, there is no hiding from ourselves the fact that the outlook is decidedly blue. We do not remember to have seen a morsel of fish in the dried fish industry of these provinces.

The news from the Lunenburg fleet now on the Banks, we repeat to say, is not very good. The catch so far has been small, and of course there are fewer vessels than usual engaged in the business. Strange to say, the French trawlers operating on the Grand Banks, or wherever it is they are operating, report that they are doing quite well. Two of these ships which put into Halifax while the coal strike was on in Cape Breton, lost no time in getting back to the fishing grounds, because, as they said, they did not wish to take any chances on missing the good run that was on at that time.

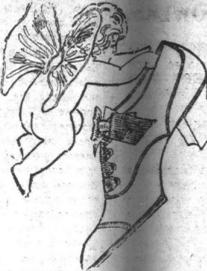

We regret to announce the loss of a Halifax steam trawler, the "Sir John French," which was owned by Mr. H. R. Silver and a group of Halifax people. This trawler went on shore in Newfoundland about ten days ago, and is reported to be a total loss.—Maritime Merchant.

THE TRUTH SERUM.
 The smooth promoter came to sell some stock in Gusher's Petrol Well. "Here is your greatest chance," he swore, "to bring Dame Fortune to your door. This well is in the richest field, and countless millions it will yield." I interrupted him to say, "I got some wondrous dope to-day; that falsehood is a shame like Washinton, in days gone by, he simply cannot tell a lie. So I will shoot some in your arm; then you may boast your coal oil farm." I overpowered him then with ease, and shot Truth Serum in his knees. He slowly settled in a chair, and said, "My oil well is a snare; it is as dry as 'dobe bricks; it is a trap to catch the Hicks. In all the land for miles around no sign of oil was ever found; there isn't enough down there to grease a bald man's fringe of hair. I feel that serum wearing off, so lead me to the water trough, where I may gently soak my head, and thus recall the things I've said." Oh, wondrous serum that will make the faker diagram his fakes! I always keep a keg in store, and agents who approach my door must take a shot, or I'll refuse to listen to their get-rich news.

Columbia's Fish Industry
 VALUED AT NINETEEN MILLIONS.
 Vancouver, B.C., August 8. (A.P.)—British Columbia's salmon pack totalled 1,290,960 cases in 1922 valued at $10,109,327. This was an increase of 687,303 cases over the 1921 output and a gain in value of $4,176,983, according to a report compiled by the provincial department of mines and fisheries.
 The total value of the output of British Columbia fisheries during the year, including fresh, canned, cured or otherwise prepared, the report shows, was $18,872,833. This was an increase over the previous year of $4,919,163, or 26 per cent.
 An interesting feature of the report was the fact that whaling operations which were suspended in 1921 were resumed in 1922 and produced an output valued at $156,814.

WEEK-END NOTES.

(I. C. MORRIS.)
 THE FINANCIAL CONDITION OF EUROPE.

For more than a thousand centuries Europe has led the world in Art, Science and Religion; and has always been the dominant power in matters of finance. True, it is, that there were earlier civilisations than that of Europe, and that nations long forgotten were in their day foremost in knowledge and invention. But the most of these nations were blighted and steeped in heathen darkness, and therefore they were not at their best; because a nation without Christian standards, cannot attain its best development.

To Europe has fallen the honor of being foremost in these higher things, hence we say that the civilisation of Europe has outlasted the civilisation of all other continents. To those who have travelled through Europe, this statement is very clear; and to those who have read its history the statement is also acceptable. The literature and architecture of Europe speak for themselves, and are a standing testimony to the advanced state of all European nations.

To attain this position there must have been great wealth, or collateral; therefore the finances of these various European states, were in a healthy condition, and the currency must have had a higher face value by far than it has to-day. Conditions at present in Europe are perplexing, and whether viewed from a political, national, or industrial standpoint, they present a complicated situation. For this there must be some cause, and it seems that this cause must be traced directly to the depreciation of Europe currency, and to the indebtedness of the various European States. It would seem that the money of Europe has lost eighty per cent of its face value; hence it is, that the industries of these states are stagnant; and because of this, the great losses entailed by the great war have been intensified and lack of unemployment is annually adding to the poverty brought on by the war. The statesmen of Europe have been endeavoring to solve this great problem; but so far nothing worth while has been accomplished. This is regrettable, but not to be wondered at; because even the best counsels will fail to accomplish much, unless there be finances to back up their recommendations.

Some five years have elapsed since peace was declared, and during that time, councils, conferences and leagues, have assembled, and have discussed the various problems arising out of the war. But these agencies have failed to improve the situation; and it would seem that the danger they sit, the more serious these problems become; and that instead of a solution and an alliance, there is increased disruption and misunderstanding. The world's leaders have failed to consolidate the peace of Europe; nor can they accomplish it under present financial conditions. It is therefore evident that the danger must be traced directly to finance. The depreciation of the currency of Europe is a serious problem, and is endangering the peace of the world, because the present industrial crisis, or rather depression, is due to financial stringency; and it is not within the power of governments, nor within the limits of commerce, to adjust finance, nor to establish it upon a profitable basis. The finances of Europe seem to have absorbed themselves, and therefore there is not sufficient surplus to regain past losses.

What Europe needs is a currency, a new currency, a standard currency. A currency that will be the same in every nation and state of the continent; because at present Europe is impoverished within herself by the rates of exchange, and by the multiplicity of money standards. The adoption of a standard currency amongst the nations of the world would abolish a great deal of the trouble that has resulted, and would have a good effect upon the unity of the world, and would save millions of pounds to the peoples of the world in general.

Every student of national, or domestic, or political economy, must certainly know that the finances of the nations have throttled the people, and have cornered the myriads of the industrial world. Could the League of Nations meet and adopt a universal currency, and establish a universal plan, by which paper would be the standard, they would do more for the peace and welfare of the world, and the consolidation of society and the development of industry, than all the legislatures have hitherto done. At the present moment the world's finances are controlled by a comparatively few people, and by a few combines. As a writer said some years ago, "there is at one end a millionaire, and at the other end a pauper." The depreciation of finance is now so great that the world is literally tied up, and business cannot do that which they feel they are competent of doing and to which they feel themselves called.

Is there not a better way than this? Have not the nations power to establish a standard of money that will be at once valuable, but not so awfully impossible, and that will not permit of such extremes as now exist? Money is but a medium of exchange, but a currency which passes at certain value—the value given it by the State. There have been times in history when lead and even pieces of leather, passed current for the time, and it was only because the State authorized it. Has not the State to-day any power whatever to increase the currency of the world, and in some degree relieve the present tie up of the nations. Upon this matter we have heard men speak of a universal moratorium. We have heard men speak of a universal cancellation. The moratorium may not be the putting off of the evil day. The cancellation may not be accepted by financiers and those interested. But an increase in currency, by which the present stringency could be relieved, and by which the present rates of interest would be reduced, should certainly have some beneficial effect upon the situation by loosening the purse-strings of the nations. It does not require a prophet to see that if the present financial conditions continue, then Europe will be industriously paralyzed, and the outcome must be dissatisfaction and anarchy, and eventually war.

Hints for Your Home.

A few drops of ammonia added to the water prolongs the life of cut flowers.

Flowers with firm stalks can be disposed in bowls with advantage if the stalks are inserted into holes made in a large potato. The moisture of the potato will also keep the flowers fresh.

When knocking nails into a plaster wall remember to hammer them slightly downwards, and they will support weight better if the plaster loosens somewhat.

Borrowed Bridal Car.

DUKE'S WARD GETS A LIFT TO HER WEDDING.

Following our announcement of the marriage of the daughter of a former Governor of Newfoundland, the following incident described below will be of interest.

There was a curious incident yesterday in connection with the wedding of Miss Eileen McCallum, the Duke of Atholl's ward, to Commander H. S. M. Harrison-Wallace, R.N., at St. Martin-in-the-Fields.

For some reason the motor car which was to have taken the bride to the church did not turn up at the Duke of Atholl's house in Eaton-place.

The duke, seeing another car outside a house a few doors away, sent his footman to request the owner, a woman, to lend it to take the bride to church. The woman declined.

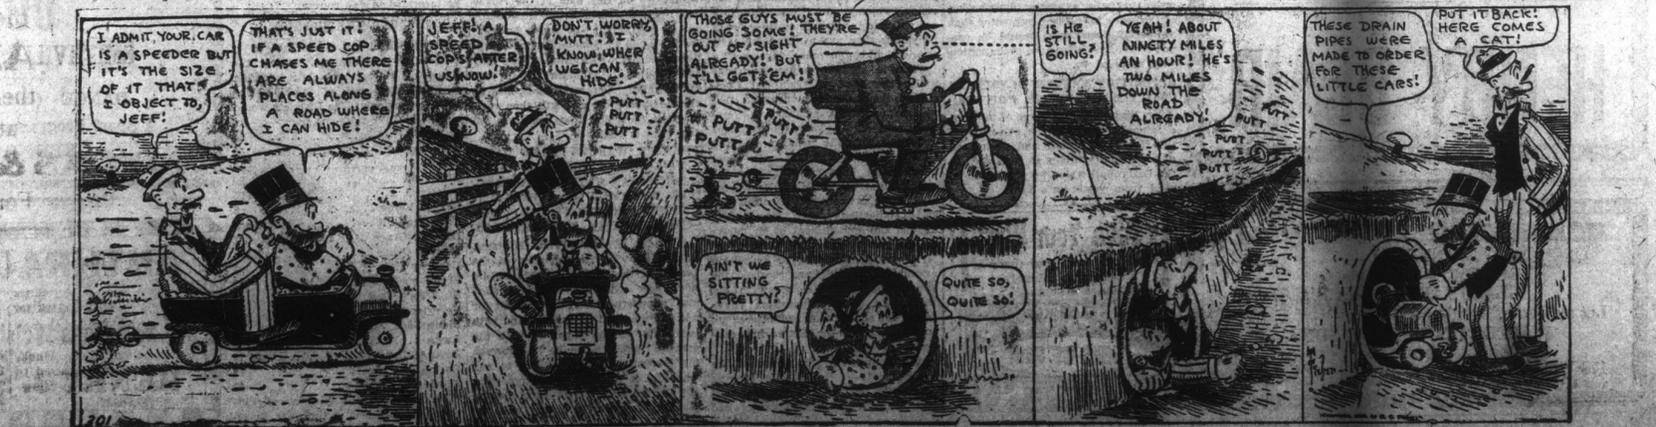

The duke then saw another car in the street, and going up to the driver, said, "Are you an old soldier?" The driver said he was, and the duke responded, "I am an old soldier too. Will you help me by taking my ward to church to get married?"

The bride went to the church in this car—Daily Mail, July 19.

The Best Shops Throughout the World Sell Sunlight Soap

PIN THIS UP TO YOUR KITCHEN WALL
FOLLOW DIRECTIONS AND SAVE MONEY

Use Sunlight Soap in this way which saves time and trouble. Put your linen and cotton clothes to soak in cold water overnight, or for at least two hours. Wringing out in the morning, then rub each article with Sunlight Soap, see that you put Soap on all of each article. Roll each article tightly and place the entire wash in a tub of hot water.

LEAVE SUNLIGHT SOAP ONE HOUR TO DO ITS WORK

Then rub the clothes lightly on the washboard, turn each garment in-side out and rub Sunlight Soap on the seams and soiled places. Next, rinse in lukewarm or tepid water, wring out and hang up to dry.

THE SUNLIGHT WAY IS THE EASIEST WAY

For woollens and flannels first shake each article well to get rid of loose dust. Cut a piece of Sunlight Soap into chips or flakes, put the chips of Sunlight into a pan of boiling water and make a good lather. Wait until the water becomes lukewarm, then wash out each article in this lather without rubbing. Don't use the washboard, let Sunlight Soap do the hard work. Squeeze out the water, don't twist. Rinse well in two relays of lukewarm water. Squeeze out the surplus water, don't twist. Hang up the clothes to dry.

Sunlight Soap Will Save Your Clothes and Consequently Save Your Money

Havers Adds Daily to Reputation

AS BRITISH GOLF KING. London, Aug. 8. (A.P.)—Arthur Havers has been proving himself worthy of his title, open golf champion of Great Britain. Since he took the crown of Walter Hagen's brow at Troon, the young English professional has won several minor tournaments, broken some course records, picked up a pile of pounds and acquired a reputation of being one of the hardest, longest hitters the game has produced.

Following his rise to glory at Troon, Havers went over to the famous Scottish inland course, Glen-espig, and won the 1,990 guineas tournament from a select field. Soon afterwards he was in France, where he finished well in the open championships of that country, won by another Briton, James Ockenden. Since returning home Havers has been hammering away in several tournaments, letting the records fall where they may.

Playing at St. Albans July 10, Havers won a £450 tournament, scoring 67 on his second round for a record over the Verulam course. He did it largely with his drives, 23 shots screaming 300 yards and more down the fairways on nearly all the longer holes. He played so smoothly that almost every hole with his hitting fell under the formula of a drive, a pitch and a putt. He started with 3, 3, 2, four strokes under bogey. His carried the third green, 192 yards, with a mid-iron. At the seventh, 698 yards, his drive hit the face of a bunker guarding the green and he so four. The eighth is a blind drive over a huge gravel pit, 100 to 150 yards measuring 340. Havers' drive stopped just thirty paces from the pin. He was out in 32 and started back by driving beyond the green of the 210-yard tenth, where he got a 2.

The eleventh is 435 yards, yet the champion's tee shot was so monstrous he needed only a light mallet-clubbed pitch on to the green. He kept up this pace to the end, save at the long sixteenth—582 yards—where he topped his tee shot, bungled his brassie, and needed six to sink the ball.

Old Sandy Herd, who was 31 years old when Havers was born, got a 69 the same day over the same course, but nobody paid much attention. For golf may be the old man's game, but it honors go to the young.

C. L. B. Break Camp To-Day.

The Battalion on Thursday spent the day at Bell Island as the guests of J. Co. and C.L.B. Ladies' Auxiliary. After the departure of the Battalion for Bell Island yesterday Lieut. R. G. Ash was appointed Acting Camp Commandant. Just before the sailing of the steamer Lieut. Mott decided to abandon the voyage and demer evidently making him change his mind—so Lieut. Ash promptly appointed him his Adjutant, and thus was able to have his assistance in entertaining the ladies during the afternoon. The officers organized a football match to pass the time and invited the following ladies to take part:—

REDS—Lieut. Mott, Captain; Misses May Chafe, Dorothy MacKenzie; Ptes. Lee and Mercer.

BLUES—Lieut. R. G. Ash, Capt.; Misses J. Chafe, Percy; Ptes. Crobbie and Pepper.

The Reds won by four goals to two. The other lady visitors not being in football costume were prevented from participating. However, everybody were able to accept the officers' invitation for afternoon tea. On arrival of the Battalion from Bell Island, Lieut. Ash handed over his command to Major Tait, M.C., and received mention in the despatches for his services.

It to-day is fine the annual inspection takes place at 11.45 a.m. by his Excellency the Governor, who will be received by Lt.-Col. Walter Rendell, C.B.E., Officer Commanding, and staff.

The lady break camp at 7.30 to-night, and the officers will be grateful to any lady or gentleman owning cars if they could "lend a hand" in assisting to transport the lady back to the city. This is an "E.O.S." call. Members of the Motor Association and Rotary Club are respectfully asked to help in this service. The cars need only to proceed to Toppell and report to Major Tait, M.C., Camp Commandant, by 7.30 p.m. When it is hoped the Regiment will be all ready to entrain for home. It is confidently expected that this appeal will be answered by many kindly interested car owners.

Holyrood Garden Party.

Father Finn's Annual Garden Party takes place at Holyrood to-morrow afternoon, and gives promise of being a greater success than any yet held. By kind permission of the Officer Commanding, the G.C.C. Band will be in attendance. In connection with this garden party, an excursion train will leave St. John's at 2.30 Sunday afternoon, and will go as far as Holyrood, stopping at all intermediate stations. Returning, the train will leave Holyrood at 2.50 p.m. A large number of excursionists will no doubt avail of this train.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR RHEUMATISM

Strong Feature Bill at the Nickel.

"GOLDEN DREAMS" ONE OF ZANE GREY'S BEST.

Zane Grey's powerful story "Golden Dreams," the feature attraction at the Nickel Theatre last night is an excellent melodrama, it carries conviction, is excellently directed, and well acted by an unusually good cast. The leading woman's part is played by the beautiful Claire Adams while the hero's trials and joys fall to Carl Gantvoort, a two-timed fighter and a double-armed lover. Bertram Grassby is a finished young villain, aided and abetted in his crimes by Frank Leigh. They are a hard combination to beat. Mme. Rose Dion, the former protegee of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, plays an important role with unusual distinction and dramatic power.

Miss Eleanor Mews well sustained her high reputation by her vocal renditions last evening. Her numbers were well chosen and were appreciated by the large audience. She will repeat her selections to-night.

WEAK WOMEN

cannot hope ever to become strong and well again unless they have plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revivifies worn-out, exhausted nerves and give you new strength and energy. At all druggists. Beware of substitutes. The genuine has "N.I." stamped on every tablet. Always insist on having the genuine.

PROSPERO RECEIVES EXTENSIVE REPAIRS.

The repairs to S.S. Prospero are fast nearing completion, and it is expected that she will come off the slip within the next ten days. The ship has been practically re-classed from stem to stern. A large number of plates have been replaced, and the ship otherwise put in condition. After the Prospero undocks, the Florida will go on for permanent repairs. The latter ship was damaged by striking the rocks entering Nipper's Harbor, and the work will keep the mechanics and laborers busily engaged for a period of five weeks.

The new rudder, shipped from New Glasgow, N.S., for S.S. Daisy, is now being placed in position.

Hearst Sues Daily Mail.

William Randolph Hearst has had a writ for libel issued in London against the Daily Mail. The charge is said to be based on a statement contained in a New York cablegram to the Daily Mail that Mr. Hearst was the publisher referred to by President Harding in his speech of April 28 before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington, when he declared he would not "give a rap for the conscience of a man" whom he said, was urging him privately to cut excess profits and income, and surtaxes, while his newspapers were clamoring that the "milions of capital" were pressing a tax reduction campaign.

The Missionary's Difficulty.

A missionary home from the Congo has been confessing to some amusing blunders in the translation of popular hymns into the native languages. He was puzzled by the extreme popularity of "Wonderful Words of Life" among all classes of natives until he discovered that the word employed for "life" in the translation also meant "stomach." Equally puzzling was the aversion to singing "Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing," until it appeared that the translator had rendered it, "Lord, kick us out softly."

The Prince of Wales in Canada.

London, Aug. 8.—In connection with the proposed visit of the Prince of Wales to his ranch in Alberta in the early autumn some interesting information about the ranch is given by the Times. As has been announced the Prince's visit to Canada this fall will be entirely unofficial. Traveling under the name of the Duke of Cornwall, his Royal Highness will make the trip as a private citizen of the Empire, and he will not accept engagements, if official, of any kind while in the Dominion. The coming visit of the popular Prince is regarded as a proof of the serious business character of his Canadian enterprise and also of his close personal interest in agricultural affairs generally. The Royal Edward Prince Ranch at Pekisko, Calgary, is situated on the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, and extends to some thousands of acres pasture, with about two hundred acres under cultivation for the production of supplementary winter feed. The ranch is managed by Prof. W. L. Garbyle, who was recently in England, and took back with him consignments of Shorthorn cattle and Hampshire Down sheep to replenish the herd and flock of pure-bred stock already on the ranch, and also three young Clydesdale fillies as a nucleus of a new stud of the Scottish breed of draught horses, the type popular

A Splendid Exhibit.

The display of Richard Hudnut's high class toilet requisites and perfumes now to be seen in Bishop & Sons building, Water Street, is attracting a great deal of favourable attention these days. The beautiful and world renowned THREE FLOWERS toilet preparations show up splendidly in their magnificent and dainty containers. This popular assortment of toilet requisites needs but little comment, for now most people acknowledge that the name THREE FLOWERS when applied to toilet goods is a remark of refinement and good taste. The best people use THREE FLOWERS all over the world. Not only is the quality excellent but the striking and unique appearance of the goods makes them stand out prominently. The beautiful crystalline bottles, the lovely rich looking packages, all denote the excellence and merit of the products. Even the advertising aids which are offered stores selling these goods are of unusual tone and quality, all in keeping with such high class and aristocratic preparations. Such an exhibition is sure to attract many new users and the manufacturers are to be congratulated upon their progressiveness in obtaining such a fine display of their products which they are so justly proud of. Mr. Gerald S. Doyle, who is the local representative for Hudnut's goods, said that there is a splendid demand for these preparations in St. John's and that this demand is now spreading all over the country.
