The war, Mr. Webb added, was equivalent to a species of economic earthquake, which was upsetting everything and presenting everything in a new light. Nobody could predict to what degree of good or evil the world would be changed by the war, the speaker said, but the change undoubtedly would be colossal.

SECOND DEFENCE LINE?

Invaders' Withdrawal From Aisne in Prospect—Belgians Resist Stoutly.

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, Oct. 8, 10 p.m.—While the immense armies of the belligerent powers of Europe are engaged in death struggles along lines hundreds of miles in extent, in battles which for the numbers engaged, fierceness and stubbornness, have no precedent in history, the intrepid little army of Belgium is making a last stand behind the forts of Antwerp, one of the strongest fortified positions in the world.

The bombardment of Antwerp has been so violent that the houses at Rosendael, a Netherlands town more than 20 miles distant, have been visibly shaken, according to a telegram from that town to the Central News by way of Amsterdam.

Some wounded civilians have arrived at Rosendael, and the Dutch Government has ordered all trains to proceed to that place, to be held in readiness to transport the refugees and injured. Thousands of refugees have already arrived.

ANTWERP IS DOOMED

Great Battle Between Germans and Allies Has Entered a New Phase of Far-Reaching Importance and "Tomorrow the Battle May Be in Belgium"—New Battle Line Touches Sea Near Ostend—Surrender of Antwerp Demanded and Refused Before Bombs Were Dropped and Bombardment Continued—Britain Will Strain Every Resource to Save the City—Fall of Tsingtau Now is Only a Matter of Time.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—It is impossible, in view of the latest official statements, to resist the conclusion that the great battle between the Germans and the allies has entered a new phase of far-reaching importance. The steady extension of operations on the allies' left is having the effect of transforming into a fresh battle front the long line having its southernmost point in the neighborhood of Roye and its northernmost extremity close to the Belgian frontier, on a line which, prolonged, would reach the sea near Ostend.

The importance of this change is enhanced by the allies' recovery of the German lost ground in the region of Roye. While it would be premature to say that this success has detached the operations on the former front from those wherein the chief interest now lies, the tendency is undoubtedly in that direction.

GERMANS' PRECARIOUS POSITION

French military experts regard the presence of such considerable forces of the enemy in the north as a mystery. None of the hypotheses yet advanced regarding them are satisfactory. It is possible that they are supplementary troops that have been drawn from the forces around Antwerp. Such a move would point directly to the Germans' recognition of their precarious position in France.

On the other hand, a further movement of troops from the centre may have taken place; but this, seeing that the centre already has been weakened to strengthen the forces of General Von Kluk, would expose the troops on the new front to fresh risks.

If the German troops in the north are largely new formations, as has been suggested, their resistance to the allies is unlikely to be serious. The general impression is one of continued and increased confidence.

One writer says: "Tomorrow the battle will be in Belgium." However, this is not an exaggeration. The view taken by optimists is that the position of the right wing certainly remains satisfactory.

Interesting details concerning the slow but steady advance in Lorraine makes it clear that this movement has produced valuable results by clearing the Nancy district of the enemy.

SITUATION IS UNCHANGED

The official communication issued by the French War Office tonight says: "On the whole, the situation is stationary, the positions occupied remaining the same, notwithstanding several violent engagements, notably in the region of Roye."

ALL EYES ON ANTWERP

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The eyes of a world at war today turned toward Antwerp, where the German ring is remorselessly encompassing the splendid city of the Belgians, besieged often, and a few times captured in the wars of by-gone ages. But it seems that fate has again decreed its fall. The German forces are safely over the River Nethe after furious fighting, in which they lost heavily. At least one 42 centimetre and a large number of 26 centimetre guns have been moved close to the outer line of fortifications, and the city proper is under a constant rain of shrapnel and heavy shells. In the vicinity of Termonde a desperate conflict is in progress, with the Belgians securely entrenched on their side of the River Scheldt. At daybreak this morning the Kaiser's legions pushed forward between Gremlingen and Schoonaerde. Under cover of a fusillade from their artillery, the troops were driven up to the bridges still standing, and to other points selected for a crossing. The Belgians met them with a tremendous machine gun and rifle fire, before which the advance wilted. Nothing human could have lived before it.

and continues in active command of his brave little army, which has retired for the most part from the open field, after many weary hours on the fighting lines.

Five German army corps are declared to be engaged in the effort to reduce the city, and their losses are said to have been enormous. Twenty thousand men were lost in the passage of the Nethe alone.

It was stated unofficially at the British War Office that England will strain every resource to save Antwerp. Men and guns are declared to have been rushed forward to its support today.

NEW LINE OF DEFENCE

In spite of the gravity attached to the situation at Antwerp, military authorities assert that the vigor of the German attack indicates an inherent weakness of the German position in the west as a whole.

Operations on the German right and the allies' left are becoming more crucial every moment, and, just as Antwerp's fall seems inevitable, the turning operation against Von Kluk is trembling on the point of fruition.

Both armies are engaged in a break-neck race in the French departments of the Nord and Pas de Calais, with the cavalry screen thrown almost to the North Sea.

Several Industries to Resume Operations in Near Future.

By a Staff Reporter. HAMILTON, Friday Morning, Oct. 9.—Mayor Allan announced at a special meeting of the council last night that the city officials had no desire to block the building of the permanent concrete highway between Toronto and Hamilton.

It is proposed to appoint a committee of competent business men to raise funds for the erection of the bridge and to keep roadway and bridge schemes entirely separate.

Wentworth County will be asked to share the cost of the bridge, as roads other than the proposed Toronto-Hamilton highway will lead over it.

George H. Gooderham of Toronto, chairman of the government roads commission, said that this road would probably be continued on to Niagara Falls and Windsor, and would eventually connect with Montreal.

Want Money for Schools. The board of education last night passed a resolution asking the city council to issue debentures amounting to $200,000 for erecting and furnishing of two new schools and for the placing of a new lighting and heating system in Ryerson school.

Tenders have been received and will be opened as early as possible so that employment will be supplied for many.

Stewart, M.P., William Childs, secretary, and Mayor Allan yesterday afternoon made a tour of the city with the Mayor of Niagara Falls and a dozen officials of the Niagara Falls Hydro Electric Commission for the purpose of demonstrating Hamilton's splendid lighting system.

Several other plants are again starting up on a small scale, but expect to have work for all their employees in a short time in the near future, so that conditions here are gradually picking up.

west of the city, made their main attack from the east succeeded some days ago by the aid of their big 16-inch guns in breaking thru the first line of forts, between the first and second belt of forts.

According to their own accounts they defeated the Belgian army and captured a number of guns.

Last night shells began to fall in the city itself, and from reports coming thru, Holland the railway stations, the palace of justice and several oil tanks have been damaged.

At the same time six Zeppelin dirigibles flew over the city, dropping bombs, but it has been impossible as yet to ascertain the damage they have done.

All Called to Arms. King Albert has called on all men of military age to assist in the defence of the city. Thousands of others, women, children and old men, have hurriedly left Antwerp among the few non-belligerents remaining are the American consul General Henry W. Detrich and his staff.

The towns of Holland are already crowded with refugees. The mayor of Rotterdam has sent out a warning that there is no more room there for the harassed Belgians and the steamers for England are crowded with people flying from the German shells.

More than 3,000 arrived at Folkestone today and were taken in charge by committees appointed to care for them. Many of them are penniless and have all their belongings in the small parcels they carry.

Hope for Relief. Five German army corps are taking part in the siege of Antwerp, which is defended by the Belgian army. The outer forts, like those of other fortresses which have fallen since the war began have not been able to withstand the fire of the big German guns, but the Belgians are still hopeful that with the inner forts a flooded area and a mobile field army they may be able to save the city until assistance may come by the defeat of the Germans in France.

Operations Near North Sea. The cavalry are fighting even farther north than this, and, in fact, says the French communication, operations have developed almost to the North Sea.

Around Roye, where the Germans captured important heights from the French last week, the French have regained some of the positions which they were obliged to abandon.

It was rumoured yesterday that Controller Cooper would not be a candidate for the mayoralty for 1915, as was supposed by practically everyone.

First the Franco-German situation, which ended in 1870 with victory for the Germans, leaving France weakened and robbed of two provinces—a proud country conquered and a proud and somewhat arrogant conqueror.

The next factor was the German and British situation, arising out of a feeling of strong and keen rivalry. From the Franco-German situation Germany had emerged a strong military force with ambitions for a strong and better place. Her industrial and commercial development had brought her into competition with the greatest in the world, and ended in the strengthening of her armaments by land and sea.

Thirdly the Eastern situation, born of race rivalry between the Teuton and the Slav. In 1908, at a time when Russia was somewhat weakened by the Japanese war, Austria-Hungary, together with the Slav states, was willing to go to war, but Russia was not in a position to resent the injury. She retired but she remembered.

Lastly as a salient force in bringing about the present embroilment, was what is known as the balance of power, a theory aimed at preventing the absorption of small powers by greater ones. As far back as 1839 the five great powers of Europe had agreed to make Belgium neutral and had guaranteed its independence.

Highways of the Ocean. Having brought his listeners to this point, Mr. George declared that the British Empire was in many respects unique with regard to its distribution, development and ideals of government. Some of the olden days had great roads on its highways, but the British Empire had it for its highways the great lines of the ocean, Britain's macadamized roads were the waves of the sea. These are absolutely necessary for the preservation of the empire. If England should lose these the time of her dissolution would come rapidly into view.

"For the last fifty, or even a hundred years," he declared, "the British Empire has wanted no war. England to preserve and develop the territory we have. On this position we stand unshakable before the world. If the fault of the war lies anywhere it is not with us. The White Book proves with what titanic action and devotion the British Government set itself to prevent this terrible conflagration."

Bound in No Way. "England made no promise either to Russia or to France. At the last moment she was free and so she gave Germany to understand. Not until Germany had violated the neutrality of Belgium did she take action to prevent the weak against the strong. Then she checked herself to preserve the inviolability of her honor and the independence of neutrality."

"It might be said, too," he continued, "that the empire should see post of the vortex of European strife, but if a nation wishes to have friends she must make them and stand by them. If England had remained out, France would have been annihilated by the German army with its hordes of men, artillery and munitions. England would thus have eliminated an ally of great force in the future. The pay-off moment for her was on Belgium soil. Germany had planned to dominate the world. Britain would have had to fight a lone hand for empire and life."

DRIVE BACK ENEMY AT CERTAIN POINTS

French Soldiers Yield Ground at No Place on Left Wing.

Canadian Press Despatch. PARIS, Oct. 8.—The following official announcement was made in Paris this afternoon:

"First—On our left wing, in the region of the Department of Nord, the enemy has made progress at no point. At certain points he has moved back, particularly in the north of Arras, where the fighting is developing under conditions favorable for us. The operations of the opposing forces of cavalry are developing at the present time almost as far as the sea coast on the north."

"Second—On the centre, between Rheims and the Meuse, there is nothing to report. On the heights of the Meuse, between Verdun and St. Mihiel, the enemy has drawn back to the north of Hattonchatel. He still holds St. Mihiel and some positions to the north of St. Mihiel on the right bank of the Meuse.

"In the Woivre district the violent attacks delivered by the enemy to the west of Apremont have failed."

"On the right wing, Lorraine and the Vosges, there has been no change. In Russia, along the front of East Prussia, the Russian offensive continues. Very spirited fighting is taking place on the frontier to the west of Suwalki."

"Are we down-hearted? NO-o-o-o!" But we have to show it by our deeds.

We are mixed up in the biggest fight that humanity ever got worked up into. Some ten or twenty millions—nobody knows just how many, millions, and a million or two more or less does not seem to count—are spilling each other's blood with all the dexterity and science that what we call civilization has made available.

Some of us have been sanguine, and hoped that the war would be over in weeks, or months at the most. The military experts never had any delusions on this score. It was a decision of heavyweights and was not to be settled in a ten-round mill. It is to be a fight to the finish, and a brutal, bloody fight at that.

We had better get rid of the idea that it is a gentleman's fight, or that it could be a gentleman's fight with the Kaiser as the director of operations. The things that have been done and are being done in Belgium would make the most rabbit-hearted see red.

The Germans do not understand decent methods. One German officer, who was trying to torture information out of a captured enemy told him, when the latter protested that he was a prisoner of war, that he might know the theory, but he did not know the practice of war.

The Germans have been guilty of all the acts that we have been taught to reprobate since we were children. We can hardly bring ourselves to believe that cultured, as they boasted, Christian, as they professed, Germans could do as they have done in the way of massacre of civilians, mutilation of children, destruction of ancient cities and works of art, priceless to the race and irreplaceable.

There can be no doubt that the German policy is to destroy and exterminate as far as it is possible for them to do. They wish to make Belgium a German desert, and the bombardment of Antwerp is on this line of policy. It is not particularly good military strategy to waste energy on a point which can have no special bearing on the final result and the immediate necessity of the defence of the German frontier.

There can be no doubt that the German policy is to destroy and exterminate as far as it is possible for them to do. They wish to make Belgium a German desert, and the bombardment of Antwerp is on this line of policy.

In a prize fight, after the first few rounds, it is usually possible to say who is getting the best of it on points. But half the battle may be spent before this is apparent. The rest of the fight is taken up in licking the loser.

The English authorities have been speaking of two or three years. If it be over in two years we should be satisfied. Everything under two years will be in the nature of a rebate. Of course there may be the accidents of battle and we may score a knock-out. But so also might Germany, except that we would refuse to be knocked out. We would get up and go at it again, and we would keep on getting up and going at it again. This is where we believe we have the advantage of the Germans.

These reflections are natural to anyone who reads the accounts of the war as they appear daily. For those who have not done so they will rise up in the mind of anyone who reads the able summary of the situation by Colonel the Hon. James Mason, which we printed yesterday. Summing up the whole situation he comes to the conclusion that we in Canada have a big responsibility to shoulder, and that we must take a full share of the burden of muzzling the yellow wardogs of Prussia. Talk about the white man's burden! No white man ever expected to have this pack unloaded upon him.

Canada's share of Kitchener's million is said to be 175,000 men. We are not asked for so many. We are not asked for any, indeed. But we know that our existence depends on the triumph of the empire in the struggle. We sit at peace when the Junkers' navy is reduced to junk. Our whole energy as a military force should be bent on getting away the next contingent, and after that another, and another, up to 100,000. Colonel Hayes of the United States army says that England will not really begin to fight until next spring. Canada must be on the job when the real fighting begins.

It seems like mockery to speak of real fighting in the face of the titanic contest going on in France and Belgium today. But the German yellow dogs have not got back to their own dog-steps yet, and they will be fiercer than ever in the defence of their own hearthstones. They have had no compassion for others, and it will be a pitiless creditor they will find next spring.

We revert to our suggestion of some weeks ago that men of experience and reputation among the retired military forces of the country should be called into council in the organization of future expeditions. There should be no question of military etiquette in such a matter. No such thing is thought about in England. Lord Roberts is as freely consulted as members of the general staff. And he is eighty-two. Kitchener himself is 65. French is 62. Joffre is older and Pau is 67. The Germans commanding are generally over the age limit. Experience is always useful in council, and need not be offensive.

Men like General Otter and General Lessard could help in many ways, and there should be opportunities to utilize them. Colonel Septimus Denison, we are glad to see, has been employed. Hon. Colonel Mason and others have a full measure of the spirit which makes for victory in their hearts, and it should not be wasted. They can inspire others to battle when they are unable to go forth themselves. And they are doing work at home which makes the grim service of the field front possible.

No man, nor woman either, who has anything to offer to Canada and the empire in this crisis should be discouraged from contributing his share. One flag, one crown, one king; yes, and one heart, one mind, one will. And all for the good old cause.

Sir George and the Dragon

Sir George is not the first statesman to inveigh against the tyranny of Dame Fashion. The Puritans in England and New England alike rebelled against her, but they found it easier to chop off the head of a king than to get from under her despotic sway. Statesmen have endeavored to exclude by custom duties and to restrain her by sumptuary regulations of every kind, but she has laughed them to scorn in England and America, as no doubt she did in Nineveh and Tyre.

Sir George himself has never been a devotee at her shrine. He has been a liking for old customs, while Dame Fashion is by nature fickle and is always a seeker after new things. He retained his beard in a beardless age and wore his hat in the house of commons long after the custom had become almost obsolete. With sturdy patriotism he sees no reason why the ladies of Canada cannot set their own fashions instead of looking for daily hints from Paris, London and New York.

We see none either and probably for the same reason that Sir George sees none. We have no doubt that the husbands and fathers who have to pay the millinery bills, heartily concurred with the suggestion so artfully put forward by the silver-tongued minister of trade and commerce at the board of trade luncheon. The ordinary man finds it hard to understand why a woman cannot buy a standardized hat for two or three dollars like he does, instead of yearning for Paris "creations," from twenty-five dollars up. There are a lot of things we cannot understand.

But Sir George is right in saying that fashion is kaiserism of the most intolerant kind. Of course it is and it ought to be overthrown. A long line of lords, spiritual and temporal, have essayed the task without any marked success, but we are willing to back our Canadian knight.

Saint George in quest of the old-time dragon faced no such perilous adventure as that which confronts our own Sir George when he seeks to slay the modern dragon of fashion.

DRIED APPLES FOR BELGIANS.

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—When an appeal to Western Ontario thru a unit of the Red Cross to buy dried apples for the starving people there, the apples are to be forwarded to Bel- frudhomme of Montreal, who has charge of their shipment abroad.

The Brass Band at the Front.

If it were not for the music of the brass band at the front, the courage of many a soldier would ebb. Music is the sparkling plug of the warrior's physical and mental motor, and puts into him the energy and unselfishness displayed by all our men at the front. "It's a Long, Long Way to Tipperary," "Boys of the Old Brigade," "The Deathless Army" and "The British Cavalry March" are two double-sided Victrola records which we cannot too highly recommend to all those who had to remain at home, and whose duty it is to do team-work for the upkeep of courage and good cheer. The spirit of optimism is in those records, and we invite you to come to our store and hear them. Mason & Risch, Limited, 230 Yonge street.

BARN STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

PORT ELGIN, Ont., Oct. 8.—The barn and contents of Ross McLennan of Bruce Township were entirely destroyed by fire, caused by lightning. The building was filled with the season's crop, which burned so rapidly that all efforts to put it out were of no avail. The farm implements were also destroyed. The loss is heavy, with small insurance.

GERMANS CUTTING PRICES FOR CANADIAN TRADE.

The Council of the Montreal Board of Trade has received from two prominent shipping and forwarding firms in London letters calling attention to the fact that German shipping and forwarding houses are prosecuting a very energetic campaign in Canada and other British dominions with a view to securing business between Great Britain and overseas dominions. The representations made show that German houses, who have their head offices in Berlin and branch offices at different ports in Great Britain, are, through their agents in Canada, circulating business houses in Canada offering to attend to the shipments which they make from Great Britain at a charge for shipping, and looking after the consignments very much below what are reasonable and fair figures for such services. These German houses are offering to make contracts for a year or more with Canadian houses on these low rates. The council, while believing that Canadians generally are patriots enough to refrain from giving their custom to German houses, fears that the circumstance that the parties soliciting this business represent Germany is not always made known and hence it is desirable that enquiry should be made by all Canadian firms as to the nationality of those represented by parties soliciting their shipping and forwarding business.

SPY SYSTEM IN ENGLAND BROKEN

Serious Question of German Espionage Has Been Dealt With.

SCORES ARE ARRESTED

Whole Organization Now Believed to Have Been Broken Up.

Special to The Toronto World. LONDON, Oct. 8.—It is officially stated that steps are being taken to deal with the serious question of German espionage. It was clearly ascertained five or six years ago that the Germans were making great efforts to establish a system of espionage in this country. In order to trace and thwart these efforts a special intelligence department was established by the admiralty war office, and has acted in close co-operation with the Metropolitan police department. They were able, in the period of 1911 to 1914, to discover the ramifications of the German secret service in England. Despite the enemy's enormous efforts and lavish expenditure to this end, little valuable information reached them.

All the agents known to be engaged in this traffic have been marked and are kept under strict observation. Many Were Arrested.

On Aug. 24 twenty spies were arrested under the instructions of the home secretary. In addition two hundred suspects have been under surveillance, and the majority of these were interned soon after the war began. It is believed that this action succeeded in breaking up the spy organization established before the war and which apparently has not been re-established. A rigorous search was made of the houses and clubs of Germans and Austrians, but no effective store of arms, bombs or other instruments of destruction was found. All the Germans and Austrians deemed likely to be dangerous have been placed under arrest. Nine thousand Germans and Austrians of military age are now 'prisoners of war.'

Athletics Are 2 to 1 Favorites Entering the Big Series

OUR OWN DICK RUDOLPH PITTED AGAINST CHIEF BENDER

Likely Pitchers in Opening Battle — Stallings and Mack Squabble and It Will Be a Bitterly Fought Series.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Unless all signs fall the world's series of 1914 will be modeled along the lines of the great European war. This spirit of brotherly love, for which the Quaker is noted, appears to have been crowded into the background. The struggle for the premier baseball honors of the universe opened with a campaign of threats that read like bulletins from the foreign war zone.

Manager George Stallings of the Boston Nationals threatened to punish Connie Mack of the world's champion Athletics on the nose; Director Porter of the department of public safety threatens to investigate ticket fraud scandals; the National Commission received an alleged shortage of pasteboards, and to cap the climax, the weatherman threatens rain for the day upon which the American and National League pennant winners are scheduled to open the series at Shibe Park in this city.

Great Interest. Not since the memorable struggle between the Philadelphia Americans and New York Nationals in 1911 has this city been so stirred by baseball conflict. Both the players and their thousands of followers appear to take a morbid interest with unusual seriousness, and it is certain that every game of the series will be fought out to a finish with a grim earnestness that includes no quarter for the foe.

Every hotel was crowded with baseball players and spectators gathering for the final and most important clash of the season, but the congestion was a negligible quantity compared with that which prevailed in the offices when seats for the series were being handled. The demand for admission coupons to Shibe Park surpasses anything of a similar character ever encountered in past world's series in which the Athletics have been participants, and thousands have been unable to purchase tickets thru the ordinary channels.

Local fandom has been augmented by special delegations from Boston, New York and Washington, and hotel proprietors and baseball magnates are at their wits' end to accommodate the gathering clans. Statements and details issued from the camps of the rival clubs help to keep interest keyed up to an unusual pitch, and especially true of the controversy between the two club managers regarding the use of Shibe Park for practice.

Stallings is Riled. Manager Stallings of the Boston Nationals accused Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Americans of unbecomingly conduct, and during a telephone conversation this afternoon threatened to punch the world's champion's nose at the first opportunity. The trouble arose over Stallings' request for the use of Shibe Park for practice. He made the request to Mack in person and the Athletics' manager assured him he was welcome to use the park any hour except between 2 and 3 o'clock this afternoon, when the local club was scheduled to practice.

According to Connie Mack the Boston manager was satisfied, but when Mack asked Stallings today if he had accused the Philadelphia club of refusing to permit the National League champions to use the park the argument soon became both bitter and personal and the hard feeling spread rapidly among the players, managers and partisans of the two leagues.

Officials of the Boston players confined their practice to the National League grounds. The Braves spent more than an hour in batting and fielding, while the Athletics were having a similar workout at their own park. Both managers reported that their players were on edge for the opening game, but neither would state the exact order of batting or the pitchers for the initial contest. The general opinion is that Rudolph will be Stallings' choice, because of his extended experience, while Bender will be Mack's selection, since he is known as a sure-money pitcher and the regular opener for the Athletics in a world's series.

SERIES MYSTERY "STUFFY" McINNIS

Athletics' players say he will be in the game today, but the fans doubt it. He has been out of harness for 10 days with a bruised hand.

ed early in the week regarding the ability of McInnis to play first, owing to a bruised hand, but the stock initial sacker reported in perfect condition for practice this afternoon and said he was as fit for the series as any of his team mates.

So far as the general wagering is concerned the local club is a top-heavy favorite. Few big bets have been recorded, but in the small wagering the Athletics have been quoted at odds ranging from 2 to 1 to 10 to 7.

The Caledonian F.C. held a very successful smoking concert last night, when a very enjoyable program was given by the following artists: The Burke midgets (boxers), Mr. Len Halley, Mr. Geo. Calver, Mr. R. Beveridge, Mr. Sam Hill and Mr. Percy Bishop, pianist.

PREPARING FOR THANKSGIVING. Right about Thanksgiving Day, when parried families reunite under the old roof of trees, the thoughts of young men naturally turn to making good with the old folks at home. Nothing helps so much as a really good, smart and attractive outfit, such as only a thoroughly alive and up-to-date store can provide. The store you want for that purpose is Hickey's.

On Saturday (tomorrow) Hickey's, 37 Yonge street, is sure to be the popular resort. It will have on exhibition many new models in suits and overcoats, as well as all the other requisites that make a holiday agreeable and enjoyable. Hickey's will remain open till late in order that no patron will be disappointed, but all the same, those who are wise will arrange for an early visit.

AN OVERTIME RALLY WINS FOR GIANTS. Yankees Put Up Brave Fight in First Game for Gotham Championship.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Bachner's triple and Doyle's single in the tenth inning gave the New York Nationals a 6 to 5 victory over the Brooklyn Americans in the opening game for the National League championship here today. Both Mathewson and Keating were hit hard. The Giants gained a lead, only to have the Highlanders tie it up in the ninth. The score: Yankees.....0 1 1 0 0 3 0 1—5 Giants.....0 1 1 0 0 3 0 1—5 Two base hits—Cree, Sweeney. Three base hits—Burch, Mullen. Home runs—Merkle. Sacrifice hits—Mullen. Pitches—Mullen. Stolen bases—Doyle 2, Matsel, Fletcher, Merkle, Keating 2, Mullen. First base on errors—Giants 1, Yankees 4. Struck out—By Mathewson 2, by Keating 1. Bases on balls—Off Keating 6, Wild pitches—Keating 1, Mathewson 1, Mullen 1, Risher and Evans, Hart and Connolly. Attendance 7500.

SELECT RUDOLPH BRAVES BEST BET

New York Writer Feels Cheerful Over Boston's Chances.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The peculiar feature of the Boston Braves is that no one knows just what men can be called stallings' regulars, because he shifts his line-up nearly every day, writes Dame Ranney.

It is very doubtful if Connie Mack could dispense with his regulars in the same free-handed fashion and still go on winning. It is doubtful if Connie Mack could have taken the Braves and won with them.

As baseball strategists, Stallings will undoubtedly compare favorably enough with Mack in a short series, because after all is said and done it simmers down to a matter of judgment and luck in choosing pitchers. It has been said that Stallings' hope must lie in his pitchers—in Rudolph, Tyler and James—but the same is true of Mack. His pitchers must hold the Braves.

Stallings is confident that the Athletics will not hit his hurlers as they hit Toledano and Marquardt and the other Giant pitchers, but that is merely a matter of opinion with him. Certainly there is nothing in the relative good quality such confidence, but then it is said that Stallings believes Connolly will outlast Frank Baker in the series.

As Baker has been a batting demigod in every world's series struggle, and Connolly has yet to see such a series, it would appear that the swarthy chieftain letting his eyes run away from him.

Stallings may be right, of course. It is uncanny the way he has called the turn on a lot of other things in baseball, but as a betting proposition the Baker bet must look best to the casual observer.

Stallings' ball club has come to reflect all the fire and enthusiasm of the hot-blooded champion. He has been hot and impulsive on the bench, hot off the field his temperature normal, and in his mind and manner tinged with sadatehness. He has taught his men to feel that they can win at all times, and they rush about chattering like magpies, and wildly enthusiastic at every turn of the game.

LEXINGTON, Oct. 8.—The 25th renewal of the Transylvania stake was won by Etawah, driven by Geers and owned by F. G. Jones. The record for the stake of 2:04 1/2, made by Penias in 1909, was beaten in each heat, and Etawah's own world's record for a three-heat race made last week at Columbus, Ohio, and Star Winter were the contenders.

Twenty-two players will be taken to Ottawa by the Montreal management. Amongst those to go will be: Flynn, win, Cameron; halves, Tucker, Saunders, Brophy; quarterback, Crankshaw and McGill; scrummers, Hultine, Williamson and Trenholme; outside wings, Baillie and Dawson; inside wings, Baker, Abinowitch or Roberts; middle wings, Ross and Pottinger.

Billy Hay says: Picking one of the three Bostonians, I should say that Hickey is the coolest-headed, seasoned and as game as any man I ever saw. I expect to see him start the series.

Comparing the Athletics and the Braves as club players, the sum total of their performances side by side, the Bostonians get the worst of the figures. Comparing the teams man for man, and the hopes and aspirations are buried in the embers. The Giants had the feeling once, and they were champions; they lost that feeling, and they are no longer champions.

Rudolph, James and Tyler undoubtedly represent Stallings' chief hope in the series. He has been out of harness for 10 days with a bruised hand. Those slashing sluggers of the world's champions, the boys behind them will surely be the mainstay of Bender, Plank, or any of the other Mack hurlers.

MATT GONTERIS READY TO PLAY

Argo Cripples Turn Out for Final Work — Rugby News and Gossip.

Argonauts put in their final hard work for the Tiger game last night, and the biggest squad of the season was out. Frank Knight was a spectator, but will be out for the signal practice tonight and will play on Saturday. Babe Burkart and Dr. Lawson took part in the workout and are ready to go the distance. Two more of the hospital squad to work were Zimmerman and Gonter. Both are ready for action. Harry Symons will be out tonight. Manager Dutch Heuter will pick his team from the following: Flying wing; Murphy or Burkart; left half, Lawson or E. Smith; centre half, Bickel or Gonter; right half, Maxwell or Zimmerman; quarter, Symons or Miller; left outside, Mac Murray or Plat; right middle, Knight or Holden; left inside, Clark or Motley; left scrummage, McDonald or R. Smith; centre scrummage, Davidson or Simpson; right scrummage, Patterson or McParlane; right inside, Simpson; right middle, Foster; right outside, G. Murray, Duke or G. Smith.

Alf Shrubbs Has Tough Job Coaching Harvard

Coach Alfred Shrubbs has renewed his contract as cross-country coach at Harvard University. Harvard's chances for a successful season are none too bright. There are no exceptional performers in the men who are expected to report, and interest in the over hill and dale romps is waning, despite the fact that Shrubbs has always put a first-class band of performers into the running. Harry G. MacLure of Newton, Mass., was recently appointed to lead the team. Mr. Cornell will be held in greater part last season by a bad foot. Present plans call for the first race of the season at Ithaca on October 21, when Cornell will be on the track. The Saturday following Yale will run Harvard over the Belmont, Mass., course. The usual set of entries will be made into the intercollegiate, which will be held this year at New Haven the morning of November 21, acting as a curtain-raiser for the Harvard-Yale football contest.

Uleter United Seniors meet St. James on the holiday morning at Lappin avenue in a league game, and the following players are requested to be on hand at 10:30 a.m.: Riddell, Savage, Nelly, Leach, Carver, Adee, Reid, McCulley, Schorfield, Forsythe, Elliott, Rescues, Campbell and Moore.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.
 There was a splendid market yesterday; not so many farmers and market gardeners as on Tuesday, but more citizens, which made business brisk; notwithstanding which fact the produce was offered at such reasonable, and in some instances, low rates, it paid the citizens to be present.
 R. F. Loton, Markham, had a load of veal, lamb and sixteen dressed ducks, which were the best he has seen on the market this season, which he sold at the rate of 18c per lb. and had them weighed by the city weigh scales (certainly a just way to sell). These ducks were a lot of the bargains on the market.
 Ernest Lindsay, Macville, had 14 turkeys (this year's), which he sold at 25c per lb.; 11 geese at 18c per lb.; 15 ducks at 20c per lb. and 60 lbs. of choice butter, which he was offering at 32c and 35c per lb. for small lots, or 30c per lb. for large quantities. This was another of the bargains, as it would be difficult to obtain better butter.
 L. F. Briley, Humber Bay, had a load of choice mixed vegetables.
 S. Crowther, Lambton Mills, also had a load of all vegetables and some fine chickens and turkeys, which he sold at 20c and 15c per lb. respectively, having scales by which to weigh them, the only really fair way to sell fowl.
 P. Gorman of West Hill had five bushels of Hees apples, which he sold at 75c per bushel, and bushels of fall Pippins, which he sold at 50c per bushel.

MONEY STRINGENCY LESS IN EVIDENCE

Rates at New York Ease Further - Foreign Exchange Advanced Abruptly.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. - Further easing of local monetary conditions was indicated today, over-year banks being called at 7 per cent. Interior banks were also buyers of bonds and other investment issues.

Another abrupt advance in foreign exchange was a natural result of the large purchases of bills made by bankers for remittances to London for payment of 90-day loans contracted last July.

Further large shipments of gold to Ottawa, where they will replenish the credits of the Bank of England, were made in connection with the recent sale of the New York City 6 per cent. notes.

Canada First--Buy at Home

Sir George E. Foster, Canada's minister of trade and commerce, congratulated the Toronto Board of Trade for taking advantage of the present opportunity to advance a "Made-in-Canada" campaign recently.

But that is a small item when compared to the immense amount that goes for other goods. What would be the effect on the Canadian trade if this was stopped and kept at home?

If Canadians were to act in concert in this matter the demand tomorrow all over Canada for Canadian-made goods would change, as if by magic, the present depression into immediate prosperity.

A shoe that hurts the foot is never a satisfactory one, no matter how beautiful it may be. Wearers of "Murray" Shoes know--and you will know when you try them--"comfort from the first day's wearing." The materials used in manufacturing "Murray" Shoes are the best that can be obtained. The shoes give perfect satisfaction because of the "quality."
