Rival Armies Race to See Which Gets to Mukden First Kuropatkin's Rear-Guard Annihilated, Main Army in Danger of Being Surrounded

St. Petersburg, Sept. 6.—It is reported at an early hour this morning that Gen. Kuropatkin's rear guard has been almost annihilated, and that the main Russian army is in imminent danger of being surrounded. The Russian losses during the fighting at Liaoyang are placed at 16,000. Kuropatkin in his flight was forced to abandon 200 guns. The race to Mukden goes

Whole Campaign With Southern Manchurla and the Further Retrest to the Fortress at Harbin, But the Japs May Cut Kuropatkin

The forces of Kuropatkin and Oyams are racing for Mukden. This much stands out in the news of Monday and it is indicated in a report for varded by Kuropatkin, who says in perfect order, the the Japanese on Sunday repeatedly attacked his rear and continued the attack until Monday. The result of the race is Monday. The result of the race is in doubt. The united Russian forces are now north of Yentai, a station on the railway about ten miles northeast of Liaoyang. They are pushing on to Mukden, to which the bulk of the Japanese forces is marching direct, after naving swarmed across the Taitse River. A strong Japanese flanking column is about thirty miles northeast of Liaoyang, and is trying to get between the Russian forces and Muk-Mukden, saying that preparations Mukden, saying that preparations for the evacuation of that place are for the evacuation of that place are proceedings. This report, if well founded, as pointed out in the Associated Press St. Petersburg destated Press St. Petersburg despatches, would mean the abandonment of the whole of southern Manment of Mukden must quickly ensue. No serious English critic supposes that Kuropatkin's world dream of making such another fatal attempt to stem the Japanese advance, as he did at Liaoyang. If the Russians can reach Harbin they will, according to English opinion, be lucky. Before that becomes a question rearguard had been amin Russian lated, and that the main Russian rarmy was in danger of being surrounded. Kuropatkin, in his report. Tounded. Kuropatkin, and the Japanese are expected to risk even heavier casualties than they sustained at Liaoyang in the final endeavor to annihilate Gen. Kuropatkin, either on the way to Mukden or in the neighborhood of Mukden itself. The fate of Gen. Kuropatkin's force depends, say the English observers, upon the Russian general's ability to confine these efforts to rear-guard actions.

The Daily Telegraph believes that the critical moment of the retreat is likely to be reached when Gen. Kuropatkin arrives at the Hun River, south of Mukden.

Once across this serious obstacle, the Russian forces will be in sufficient to server that the critical moment of the retreat is likely to be reached when Gen. Kuropatkin arrives at the Hun River, south of Mukden.

Kuroki for Mukden enthralls the British press and public. The best opinion inclines to the belief that Kuropatkin will got thru with a respectable remnant of his great army, thus robbing hant of his great army, thus robbing the Japanese of the complete fruits of their victory, but it is realized that the Russians will not be out of the woods for several days. The latest report is that Gen. in the direction of their advance. A Chinese official, who arrived from Mukden Sunday, says that the Russian troops are leaving for the north, that there are 18,000 men to the east of the city, that the officers and men have become dispirited and that much sickness prevails.

The war situation to date is:

The whole Russian army, or at least the main portion of it, is already above Yentai station, and is pushing on toward Mukden.

The whole of Field Marshal Oyama's army had crossed the Taitse River, and part of it is hanging on to Kuropatkin's flank.

A strong flanking column on the east is pushing rapidly north, in the effort to head off the Russian's.

Against this column Kuropatkin has sent out a strong cavalry division to the northeast, which, it is believed, is already in position to check the Japanese flankers, while to the westward Kuropatkin is moving a division to twards Sinminitin, 30 miles west of Mukden, to meet any interference that may be attempted from the direction of Yinkow or Newchwang.

Oyama's advance is reported to be engaging the Russian rear, but it is not expected to develop anything more resistant than a series of rear guard.

AS IN GUELPH.

Guelph, Sept. 5.-The labor organizations of the city held a grand de-monstration here to-day, commencing in the morning with a trades procession of all the different trades of the city and businesses, and was at least half a mile long, and was headed by the Berlin musical band, and the Guelph band and ended up with the Hespeler-Weiner Band. In the morning games were held in the park. In the evening a grand concert was given by the Berlin and the Guelph bands. by the Berlin and the Guelph bands. 5000 IN MONTREAL.

Montreal, Sept. 5.—(Special.)—The annual Labor Day parade took place to-day. Five thousand took part in the procession, and it must be said that it would be difficult to find a better dressed and more prosperous looking body of workingmen than that which marched thru the streets. The Union Jack predominated, while a delegation from Burlington, Vermont, car-ried the Stars and Stripes. There were

Addresses were delivered by Mayor Mundy and Sam Landers of Hamilton. The mayor upheld unionism, and advised his hearers to exert their in# fluence thru the ballot.

The sixteenth annual grand international log show was thrown open at the exhibition bright and early Monday morning. and from early morning until late at night there was a decided rush and crush to see and hear the dogs. THE DAY AT LONDON.

London, Sept. 5.—(Special.)—The holiday was a brilliant one in this city, despite the fact that large numbers of citizens are out of town. The demonstration by the different labor organizations of the city was the largest ever held here, and was witnessed by thousands of citizens at Oueen's Park.

John G. Kent, chairman of the dos snow committee.

The bulk of the judging was scheduled for Monday, but the judges were a little late getting to work. A great deal, however, was accomplished and very little remains to be done to-day.

The judges are noted experts and come many of them from a distance. They are: Desmond O'Connell, London, Eng.; Arthur Maxwell, Eastbourne, Eng.; L. Farewell, Toronto; T. Ford, M.D., Kingstin, Ont. Pr. H. Day Glover, New York; C. H. Mason, New York; H. W. Laey, Boston. The awards:

A Thoughtless Druggist.

ONLY a thoughtless druggist would offer a preparation without the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher when Castoria is called for; the "delicate, faint and flickering light" that joins baby's life to its devoted parents being too sacred, to the self-respecting druggist, to be trifled with.

For over thirty years Mr. Fletcher has given, and still gives, his personal attention to the preparation of Castoria, It has won the confidence of mothers and physicians everywhere-never harmed the tiniest babe. This cannot be said of Imitations, Counterfeits and the "Just-as-good" rot.

The thoughtless druggist only offers the counterfeit because of a few pennies more profit. Any new preparation can be but an experiment, and they are experiments-mere guess work-irrespective of what their sponsors may say for them. It is experience of over thirty years, against wild and injudicious experiment.

OYAMA, FIGHTER BY FATE, NOT CHOICE

TUESDAY MORNING

Spartan Training of Japanese General Who Has Inscribed His at once by your dentist and the vented by the use of Name on the World's Roll of Fame.

Name on the World's Roll of Fame.

Iwawo Oyama was born in 1841, a samurai or noble of the Kagoshima clan. From his earliest infancy he was brought up as a soldier. At four years of age he was separated from his mother and began to learn the lessons of hardihood. He was never allowed to wince for pain or complain of hunger. He was compelled to go barefoot in the snow in the winter to toughen him. In wintry winds he wore but the thiar nest clofthes to keep his skin from being tender. His days were spent in the practice of arms and physical exercise; his nights in studying he bushido, or old Japanese code of honor, which taught the samurai that life was nothing as compared with the glory of his daimio or leader. Little Oyama was of sturdy stuff and could stand the training which kill many who are devoted to it.

At the age of 10 he had killed a bear unaided, and the same year took part in his firs? battle with the pretainers.

At the age of 10 he had killed a bear unaided, and the same year took part in his first battle with the retainers of a rival daimio. Young Oyama at this time was passionately devoted to his cousin, the great Saigo, the head of the Satsuma clan.

After the period of the civil war in the '60's, when the new regime was firmly established, the young Oyama was sent to France as military attache to study the organization of modern armies, and had the opportunity of observing modern warfare during the Franco-German conflict of 1870.

He remained abroad three years, and on his return home was appointed a general in the imperial army.

At the outbreak of the Satsuma 1c-bellion, headed by his cousin Saigo, and in which his own brother took a leading part, Oyama found himself in a painful dilemma; his loyalty to the central government and to the person of the emperor triumphed, however, and he took the field against his clansmen, and as commander of the "flying brigade" fought bravely and success.

in which his own brother took a leading part, Oyama found himself in a painful dilemma; his loyaity to the central government and to the person of the emperor triumphed, however, and he took the field against his clausemen, and as commander of the "flying brigade" fought bravely and successfully until Salgo's fail.

During the ensuing ten years of reconstruction, which Marquis Yamagata devoted to establishing and perfecting the standing army and to fortifying the whole country, Gen. Oyama was his right hand man. Without him the task could hardly have been accomplished, for, after Salgo's death, Oyama had come to be regarded as the perpresentative of the Satsuma clan and defender of their interests, and he used all his influence to secure the co-operation of the still powerful Satsume element.

To his credit it must be said that he never took advantage of his position to obtain political power. In the army he has been steadilly promoted, and he has, alternately with Yamagata, occurred from 1885-90 and from 1891-'92—he was been minister of war. During the war with China he was ordered to Manchuria as commander-in-chef of the second army. In 1895, at the end of the war, the title of marquis was conferred on him, and in 1898 he was made a marshal and the following year succeeded the late Prince Komatsu as chief of the general staff.

Marshal Oyama is almost the only one left of the oder generals, as Marshal Yamagata's health has not permitted of his taking an active particularly choices well as cabmade a marshal and the following year succeeded the late Prince Komatsu as chief of the general staff.

mitted of his taking an active part in the present campaign.

There is a more terrible story told of Oyama. When he went to fight with the imperial forces against his coust, Saigo, the rebel, he left behind him a beautiful young bride. It was the custom in those days—a custom now modified—for a Japanese woman, and espetially a Japanese more imperative during her nushano's absence. She must not then, except for the gravest reasons, go abroad.

Many stories came to Oyama on the battlefield that his wife was disregardful of the custom of her caste. She was bringing disgrace ng only upon herself, but upon his name. She smirched the bushido. Oyama heard the stories, but did nothing. He was considered a sluggard, a Samural, thus to let, his erring wife go unpunished. At one time a chance of war brought him near their home. It seemed a good opportunity for him to pay it a visit. He could leave camp and be back housed the stories again within twenty-four hours. Many Classes of Thorobreds and Heavy Draughts Disposed of --To-Day's List.

An immense amount of work was got thru in both judging rings at the ex-hibition on Monday, and on time, too. The thorobred horses were on exhibit in the dualf ring, and the display was easily. above the average, both in numbers and in quality. In the large ring, carriage saddle horses made their appearance, and the beautiful displays provoked round after round of applause. J. E .Seagram car-

Japanese advance on Aug. 24, the day of Boer war that a modern battle must necessarily be fought at long range. Both sides repeatedly came to hand-to-hand encounters in bayonet charges, and the men of both sides were often so near each other that they could distinguish features and hear words of command. In one instance, they were separated only by the width of the railroad, and actually threw stones at each other. The mad heroism of the Japanese and the stubborn tenacity of the Russians have seldom been paralleled.

Bayonets Because No Bullets.

Correspondents state that several of the bayonet attacks made by the Japanese thruout the battle have been forced by the depletion of ammunition, of which modern arms entail such extravagant expenditure.

The Japanese came on with empty guns, and with hopes of finishing the attack with cold steel, but it was proved at their own cost that such attacks cannot be driven Brock Co., Limited, were completely destroyed, but notwithstanding, owing to the well-known and appreciative "push" and energy of this firm they have to-day as fine a selected stock in their temporary warehouse, 87 West Front-street (opposite Queen's Hotel), as can be found in any store in the city. Their enterprise and energy has been repaid by large and ever increasing business, purchasers having visited the store during the past week in crowds. As an instance of the enormous amount of business being done their entry rooms on Thursday and Friday of last week were so crowded with goods sold that in order to reach the clerk in charge, E. Roach, who has been with Mr. Brock ever since he started in the business, which is 34 years ago—they had to crawl and climb over bales and piles of goods. Appreciation and surprise have been manifested by their numerous customers from all over Canada at the well thought out meposite Queen's Hotel), as can be found Canada at the well thought out method of display of stock, there being no difficulty experienced whatever by buyers in selecting their requirements, a glance sufficing to indicate all lines of goods in every department. The present pre-mises are not large enough to accome modate all their enormous stock, and they have therefore been obliged to cent flats in other parts of the city for rent flats in other parts of the city for the purposes of storage.

However, they are large enough to show all the lines they carry and prospective buyers will have no difficulty in being able to get what they require. A splendid testimony up to this firm has been that they have not been found wanting in any single line of goods, they being able to supply all the wants of their customers. When was brought up into position the survivors protested with tears at being removed, begging to be allowed to die beside their own guns.

Non-Combatants Also Suffer.

The work of the Red Cross, which, thruout the war, has been most devoted on both sides, has proved almost as dangerous to nurses and assistants as has the work of the combatants. Many bearers and their assistants hve been killed or wounded in attending to those injured under fire. A Sister of Mercy was killed and a surgeon wounded in the final assaults on Liaoyang.

Telegraph operators and correspondents also have suffered severely. Two correspondents of the Associated Press have been shot, and one has been decorated for brashet, and their was shown over by W. R. Smallpeice, a most genial and energetic member of the W. R. Brock Co. On entering the premises one was immediately impressed by the amount of business being done. Customers in numbers were continually arriving and were immediately taken charge of by the many courteous members of the staff. Bees Make Panie in Church.

Anna, O., Sept. 5.—While the congregation of the Sacred Heart Church of McCartyville, a village four miles west of here, were assembled in church, Henry Flaute's bees became angry, and, alighting on the horses in swarms, caused great panic among them. The men came to the relief of the horses, but before they could be freed many broke loose and ran away. One fine animal, owned by C. H. Kelley, was so severely stung that it died instantly. Clothes Worth Fit-Reform Clothes improve on acquaintance. The more you wear them, the more you appreciate them. Every Fit-Reform Suit you buy clinches the argument of quality and value. It's not style alone, or good looks-not masterful tailoring or perfect fitting garments alone-that bring men to Fit-Reform.

It is because Fit-Reform blends all these essentials into a harmonious whole, that they are clothes worth knowing and buying.

Auxerre, France, Sept. 5 .- Premie Combes, in a speech here to-day, in retracing the policy of the govern ment during the last two years, claim ed that the municipal and departmental elections had given full evidence tal elections had given full evidence that it was approved by the country. Regarding the future, the premier said that he would continue to carry out his policy for national sovereignty and the complete laicization of society. The religious power had openly torn up the concordat and it was not his intention to try to mend it. The risk of France losing her position as the protector of eastern Catholics, the premier said, was a wholly insufficient motive for foregoing the separation of church and state, which circumstances had obliged me taxes and workmen's per

CASE OF COLORS AND bushels, is put at 50,000,000 dushers, leaving the reamining surplus-growers of the world to provide 50,250,000 quarters. The only sources which can be looked to are Russia, Canada, Argentina, Australia and India. Last year Canada, contributed 3,750,000 quarters out of her total production of 9,750,000 quarters. There has been no great extension of the area under wheat in the Dominion this year, and thus no startling addition to her harvest can be counted on. Unfortunately, too, there are persistent statements that the wheat in the Canadian Northwest has become infected with rust—the trouble which, with early flood losses in Kanasa, is at the root of the shortage of the United States yield. Prior to these disconcerting reports for the European market, which would bring down the requirements from other sources than North America to 54,250,000 quarters. Of the Argentine crop it is yet too early to form definite conclusions. A considerably larger area than before is under wheat, not only thru the breaking up of new land but also thru the sowing of wheat in substitution for other crops in some regions. Argentina exported 9,500,000 quarters additional this year the result will be creditable to the republic, tho not sufficient to relieve the world from the apprehension of that deficiency in wheat supply which was treated so lightly when Sir William Crookes predicted it in his presidential address to the British Association six years ago.

paid out of the capital stock for fraudulent and illegal purposes.

Under the laws of New Jersey, directors of a company are not only liable for forced dividend payments, but the shareholders as well can be made to return such funds. In discussing the Electric Vehicle case, one corporation lawyer made these points this week: "Directors of a New Jersey corporation are liable if they in any way pay to stockholders in dividends any part of the corporate capital stock. Moreover, the directors are liable for the full amount-jointly and severally, for six years after such unlawful dividends have been paid. Stockholders are also liable in receiving unlawful dividends. In equity by contrast to law a stockholder is liable to repay money which has been paid to him out of capital stock, on the theory that stock is a trust fund for all the debts of the corporation. Dividends must be paid from the assets over and above the liabilities."—New York Post.

so the election of new officers for the year and other business had to be given up.

About one hundred veterans registered at the tent yesterday. There are now about 300 names in all, from all over Canada and the United States.

At the directors' luncheon, President McNaught regretted the absence of the representatives of organized labor, whom they would have been pleased to hear. In Canada, however, he said there should be no discrimination, for the laborer of yesterday was the capitalist of to-day, and all Canadians were laboring men.

In the Dairy Building.

J. Crow. Dundas; C. R. Cumberland, R. H. Dana, New York.
Sir Lloyd Wise said he had found Canada a very vastful country, having been sent here two years ago for a prolonged visit. It was so extensive, however, that it was necessary to bustle about in order to see it all. He had come out with the intention of urging some improvement in the patent law and would appear before the Manufacturers' Association in regard to it.

Touching on the trade question, he said: "I do not believe in free trade, and I strongly believe in the strengthening of the empire, as I hope you all do. There are some who think that our Joe over the way goes too far. but the upshot will be that a more satisfactory state of affairs will prevail than exists at present.

Canada and Art.

F. M. Bell-Smith thanked the association for the interest that had been shown in art. He referred to the opinion that Canadian artists were not equal to those from abroad, and said that when Canadians could go to England and beat the best shots and oarsmen in the world, he would deny that the possibilities of Canadian art were limited. He suggested that when oictures were bought in future, the money should not be frittered away on small paintings, but it should be spent in important, well-considered works of art.

R. F. Gagen said the art building was too small by half. They did not wish to make a larger exhibition.

Hon. Dr. Montagne made a thoroly imperialistic speech. He said that Canada was a protectionist country and believed in Chamberlain's schemes for the advancement of trade. Sir Lloyd Wise had doubts that Canada could supply England with food products, but after seeing the Northwest he would doubt no further.

He considered that the time had come when Canada should have a permanent exhibition of manufactures, open to visitors all the year round, and the government should make a special grant for it. The country should also have a system of technical education.

Mr. Morgan was accompanied on his rounds by several officials, and viewed the art exhibit with much deliberation. He also took a great interest in was the best show that he had ever seen, without exception. He endeavored to show President McNaught some points on cattle, but was beaten. The judges had disagreed on the awarding of the premium fer the best short horn buil. The official party came in at this junctive, and Mr. Morgan picked a Canadian-bred buil shown by a United States exhibitor as the winner, while Mr. McNaught selected one from Sir William Van Horne's herd as his choice. The referee, R. B. Miller of Stouffville, who was called in to make the decision, awarded the red ribbon to the Van Horne animal.

The company also manufactures every sort of kitchen fitting. There is on exhibition a handsome steam carving table, fitted with big enamel ware steamers, and heated by water pipes encased in a copper box beneath the dishes. Broiling stoves are to be seen and steam ranges of the newest type. The exhibit is well worth a visit, and will prove of immense interest to everyone interested in the culinary science.

booth, that stands for so many of them as a monument to their best loved article of diet—Shredded Wheat Biscuit, A staff of young ladies spend their whole day demonstrating the number-less ways in which the tempting product may be served up for use. The most popular method seems to be that of making it serve as the base, so to speak, for fruit, meat, fish or eggs. In this way it forms the greatest part of almost any sort of dish. The biscuit itself possesses in a degree the flavor of pastry, but with a piquancy that white flour products can never have. In addition to this there is the matter of health. —Made from the choicest wheat, shredded and prepared in such a way that none of its food values are a way that none of its food values are lost, it is naturally short and porous

Wilson's Scales.

The best and most complete display of scales to be seen at the Exhibition is that of the C. Wilson Scale Co. in machinery hall. There is the chemist's scale, sensitive to the weight of a grain, the candy man's scale handsomely finished in nickel plate, the computing scale, the bathroom scale, the doctors' scale, the platform scale, the farmer's stock scale, the lorry scale and thus up to the mammoth railway weighing machine with a capacity of 100 tons. All are made with the finish, accuracy and durability for which this firm is famous. In addition to these the firm are displaying a line of baker's machinery. There is a giant dough mixer with improved mixing arms and a patent axle oil box which absolutely prevents the lubricating oil from leaking into the dough. There is an ingenjous' contrivance which takes the dough and prepares it for the oven, and also a cake mixer on original lines—a machine which promises to be of great value in the baker's art. this firm to crowds of interested visitors. The device which the company are manufacturing and marketing is not a new one, altho it is a novelty for Canadians. Ten years ago it made its debut in Great Britain and France, and during the decade of its presence on the market it has had phenomenal success. A number of the best mechanical experts of those countries put it thru the severest tests before adopting it on the big railroads, and in the manufacturing concerns which they represented and from each trial it issued in triumph. The result is that it is now in use in many of the railroads, electrical roads and mills in the British Isles and on the continent. One of the features of the Wright Taper Roller Bearing, as it is called, is its absolute simplicity. The parts are few and such that the device cannot possibly be adjusted at an incorrect angle. Now that the invention has been marketed in Canada the owners are confident that the success that has attended its use in Britain and France will attend it here. Three-piece suits in genuine Scotch

The celebrated "Jewel" gas range is here shown in twenty-five different styles, Karn Pianos and Organs.

Handsome in the extreme is the showing of pianos at the Karn Piano and Organ Co. pavilion in the manufacturers' building. The firm is an old one with a well established reputation to sustain, and it cannot be denied that they have this year sustained it amply. The display includes pianos and organs both standards of excellence thruout the continent. The pianos they are showing this year are handsome instruments, in mahogany and French burl, massive in build and varying in ornament from the sturdy rich colonial varieties to the art nouveau with its delicate hand carved traceries. Whatever the exterior may be all are finished within with the accuracy of detail and excellence of workmanship that has done so much to stamp the word success on the Karn piano enterprise, and all are the acme of tone and resonance.

Canadian Bearings Co., Limited.
There is a staff of men at the Canadian Bearing Co.'s exhibit, who are appreciating to the full the difficulty of handling a popular exhibit at the To-Toronto Exhibition. From morning unitil night they are busy displaying the features of the bearings exploited by this firm to crowds of interested visitors. A big square erection entirely of cakes or biscuits is the spectacle that awaits the beholder in the midst of the manufacturers' building. This is where the Christie, Brown Co. have their exhibit. There are as many as 500 different varieties of biscuits in the citrious piece of architecture, and columns of tins with glass sides. In particular, there are a number of new wafers, including orange and cigarette wafers, vanilla wafer rolls, marmalade puffs, strawberry wafer rolls, chocolate and lemon wafers. Two new biscuits, Soleil and Strathcona, by name, which were only out a week ago, are included.

Crystal Brown, a young Toronto tenor, who has risen to a top position in musical ranks, is in the city. He route from Erie, Pa., where he is leader of one of the largest city choirs, to St. Louis, where he will fill choirs, to St. Louis, where he will fill a week's engagement, having been selected to appear there as Pennsylvania's representative tenor. Mr. Brown called on Saturday at the exhibit of the Williams Piano Company, Limited, of Oshawa, and after examining the new scale Williams Piano, he expressed his opinion of it in the following words: "I was surprised to find such beautiful quality of tone, so wonderfully powerful and of such rich sustaining quality. It is equal to any piano I have ever tried. I was particularly pleased with its elastic touch.
