AN IMPOSING CEREMONY

Cork, Oct. 31.—In the presence of surpliced church dignitaries, scores of his former comrade volunteers, and thousands of his countrymen, the body of Terence MacSwiney, late lord mayor of Cork, was lowered to its resting place in the "Republican plot" in St. Finbar's cemetery, just outside Cork, this afternoon.

day morning at Convocation Hall in the university sermon preached by Dr. James Endicott. The speaker took as his text the passage from a Convocation Hall in Manitoba, Mr. King will proceed east in time to address two or three meetings in East Elgin primary to the election on November 22. John declares: "I write to you, young men, because you are strong, and because in you is faith, and you have conquered the evil one." He expounded this passage as voicing the reliance which the church of today must place upon its young.

It was peculiar, he pointed out, that St. John should have remarked the strength to which he referred in young men and not the older and young men and not the older and more tested. Age, however, he declared carried with it a fundamental weakness, that of looking back to previous failures in conflict and thus

Young Man's Gospel.

Dr. Endicott dwelt upon the fact of the New Testament's being essentially the New Testament's being essentially the gospel of a young man, its central figure, indeed, being Christ Himself, of whose impelling youth the whole volume breathed. Such a spirit of youth, he declared, was a doctrine to which young men could live up to in all professions, and which, if studiously obeyed, would bring about the Kingdom of God not in the fragmentary dom of God not in the fragmentary detail which the home and foreign missionary sought, but in the completeness which was implied ir the outlook of Christ Himself.

"You will look for short cuts and

You will see evils in drowned in a small stream of water the world and want to end them; about a mile west of Combernere. straightway," he warned his audience adding that in the capacity of helmsadding that in the capacity of helmsmen the veteran servers of the church must continue to render service in guiding the tremendous motive power which an influx of youth into religious endeavor would bring. They would act even as safety valves, althowhat the church at present required was not safety valves but steam, he concluded.

Company Threatens to Stop

Blenheim, Oct. 31.—Tomorrow morning will see the crisis in an interesting and dramatic situation in regard to the supply of natural gas to a number of municipalities in western Ontario. Following a vote on Thursday in the town of Tilbury, in which the citizens voted almost unanimously against granting the double and treble rate increase asked, the Union Natural Gas Company yesterday served notice on Tilbury, Blenheim, Ridgetown and other places that the supply would be shut off Monday morning, and that the company would defy the order of the Ontario department of mines forbidding it to do so.

Protest to Government.

So far as Blenheim is concerned, a wire was sent to the minister informing him of the warning of the gas company and yesterday afternoon officials of the company in Chatham were served with notice from the government that the gas must not be shut off.

The natural gas act of 1918 gaves the government power to issue such an order and it must be obeyed under heavy penalty. Whether the Union Gas Company will dispute the order and the power of the government tomorrow is the question of supreme interest to this part of western Ontario, in which territory natural gas is used by most householders for cooking and by many for heating as well.

HAVE STRONG LEADER

"Intellectuals" Are Thrown Into Discard.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 11.—(By Mail) -Probably no other European country offers a more striking example of the rule of the peasants or farmers than Bulgaria. Politically and industrially they are today the most powerful factors in the life of the nation. They enjoy a majority representation in the government, and the whole future ern Canada. Self-Determination League for Westthe government, and the whole ruture of the country may be said to rest in their hands. Of the present cabinet of seven members, six are peasants, including M. Stambuliwsky, the prime including M. Stambuliwsky, the prime in various parts of the province.

In the Bulgarian parliament there are 110 deputies who are "men of the soil." They call themselves the Agrarian party. The next strongest political group comprises less than 40 members. Not only do the peasants control the group control the group and the group control the government, but the whole inch diameter, with a burned fuse, control the government, but the whole economic structure of the country has its basis in their toil. For Bulgaria is an agricultural country. There is little manufacturing, mining or shipping. While the peasants are in power there is little danger of the ascendency of bolshevism, for each inhabitant owns his own land and is content with what he has.

As the peasants have come into control, the professional politicans have passed out. The so-called intellectual classes have had their way, and the population is content now to give the peasants a chance. They are doing well. They have taken hold of the country at the most critical, economic and financial period in its history and are making penderful strides toward are making wonderful strides toward bringing the kingdom back to normal. Cid-time politicians and statesmen are viewing the scene with amazement,

Peasants Wisely Led. Led by their powerful leader, M. Stambuliwsky, who is a man of great wisdom and practical common sense the peasants are introducing many reforms and numerous innovations in the government. Perhaps the most scheme they have is the socalled labor army, whose ranks in-clude every able-bodied inhabitant of the country. The underlying principle of it is that every man above 20 and every woman above 18 shall contribute his or her proportionate share of labor to the reconstruction, development and improvement of the country. One group of workers, for example, give a certain part of their time to the building of railways, bridges and roads, another to the drainage of lowlands, or the development of irrigation, a third to im-TYPHOID MENACE and there seems to be little prospect of conditions improving in the very near future.

Fort Erie this year is dependent on Bridgeburg, being unable to draw from Buffalo as in former years, for the Americans are watching closely their own supply of coal, and jealously regard any wagons bringing coal over the ferry into Canada. Buffalo is on even shorter coal rations than is Bridgeburg.

The Grand Trunk Railway apparently does not intend to allow previous conditions that have resulted in embargoes in former years to exist this year, as six brand new engines, estimated to cost $50,000 apiece, have been sent here by the railroad company to handle the coal file between Bridgeburg and the interior during the coming winter.

motive of suicide is absent, any more than one is guilty of murder without the intent to kill. The law governing life entails a double precept: One is negative and prohibits the killing of one's self with a prohibition that has no reneal; the other is positive and negative and prohibits the killing of one's self with a prohibition that has no repeal; the other is positive and commands the preservation of life. This latter precept can be dispensed with for adequate reasons, as when there is a great principle at stake, such as the good of a nation. Let me illustrate the two precepts. A boy is reprimanded by his parents; he pouts and shoots himself; this is suicide. A boy with a weak heart and suffering from bronchits is warned by a specialist to keep indoors during the winter nights, else he will contract bronchial pneumonia. Yielding to the high spirits of youth, he disregards the doctor's instructions, goes out at night, contracts the disease and dies. He failed to preserve his life, but is no suicide."

Rex v. McEwen.—J. P. Ebbs (Ottawa) for accused; F. P. Brennan for magistrate. Motion to quash conviction under Section 51, O.T.A. Judgment: Notice to quash was not served within thirty days from conviction. I am precluded from hearing the motion. Under the circumstances I trust this matter may be allowed to end, and that this conviction may not be used as the basis for an attack on Dr. McEwen's professional status. Had I been hearing the case in the first instance I should not have convicted on the evidence, and should have given the accused the benefit of the doubt. He was reckless in prescribing as he did, but he may well have acted in good faith. As the result of hearing many motions against convictions under this act, I incline to believe that there is an impression among magistrates that the act has done much more than it purports to do. Section 88 shifts the onus on proof that the accused had liquor in this possession concerning which he is being prosecuted, but the act does not about the right of the accused to the benefit of the doubt. Any unduly harsh administration of the act is to be regretted, as it tends to create an unnecessary and unjustifiable antagonism to the wishes of the legislature, as emitodied in the action. The grass, which proved exceedingly thin and brittle, shivered into countless fragments within and without, and the inner sheet of transparent paper was so dry and tense that it shriveled instantly when exposed to the air. Indeed, Armathwaite, despite his rage, was aware of a peculiar sensation. It seemed as the had struck at something impelpable as air. His hand was not cut. It appeared to have touched nothing. He thrust straight and hard, and the only evidence of his destroying zeal was a quantity of powdered glass on the landing, some curled wisps of paper adhering to the leaden frame, and an oval of blue sky shining thru the visor. As he deaped to the floor again, Mrs. Jackson reached the centre of the hall. She screeched frantically, thinking that the Black Prince himself was springing from the window. UNVEIL MEMORIAL TABLET FOR HEROES

Gift of Red Cross Society and Pastor of the Eglinton Presby Church Young People's Association.

The memorial tablet to perpetuate the memory of the 281 soldiers and one nursing sister from St. Clements' Anglican Church, corner of East Danforth and Jones avenues, who enlisted for service overseas, was solemnly unveiled at the morning service yesterday. Rev. W. L. Baynes-Reed, D.S.O., performed the ceremony. The following is a list of those who paid the supreme sacrifice: George Chandler, Francis A. Cookson, George Cues, Ernest Darby, Walter Dicker, Thornas Gillet, Robert McC. Fair, William F. Frost, Alian Falkner, John Giffillan, Charles Greenbury, William N. Gregory, John Hale, William T. years' growth, and steadily becoming worse owing to the ever-increasing population.

The only solution, Mr. Smith said, was the laying of a new 20-inch main along Logan avenue from the holder at Booth avenue, there being sufficient gas in the holder but the present small mains are unable to supply the gas required. The same mains laid nearly twenty years ago are still being used to serve the districts north of Gerrard, Danforth and Todmorden. The present service is robbing the people, Mr. Smith claimed, pointing out that the customers are paying for air in large quantities.

Other questions to be brought before the general meeting are the laying of the water mains on Logan avenue, delivered over one year ago; the high level bridge on East Gerrard street and the proposed taking them on a prospecting trip to find, not the richest gold fields nor the tallest, timber, but the finest man, He discussed the principles upon which people select their ideal of manhood, beginning with the lowest which, he declared, was the size of a hero's fist. He recalled seeing a bowery crowd showing its admiration for John L. Sullivan, the puglist, then told a pathetic story of big Mike Regan, once police chief of Buffalo, helping out a poor little girl who had broken her milk gitcher, to show how physical bigness could combine with tenderness of heart.

"Self-sacrifice," Dr. Stauffer said, "is one of the qualities which make up heroism. The triumph of self-forgetfulness enters into our very souls. With it must be personal purity. And purity must come, not from lack of desire or opportunity to be impure, but from deliberate choosing of the high in the presence of the lower.

"If only all the qualities I have mentioned could be bound as a sheaf in one personality. The trouble with us all is that our characters are so unevenly developed. Only a few can even approach a full-orbed life, and I wish you could all fall in love with Jesus."

that our characters are so unevenly developed. Only a few can even approach theast winds; cloudy and cold, with a full-orbed life, and I wish you could all fall in love with Jesus."

DETECTIVE GUTHRIE IS GREAT AUCTIONEER

The police sale of baggage taken from prisoners was held in the police court on Saturday afternoon, with inspector Detective Guthrie acting as chief auctioneer. He was assisted by Inspector Wallace, Sergeant Murray and Detectives Stewart and Mulholunder the hammer and brought good prices.

The opening of bundles, the contents of which were not divulged by the auctioneer, provided considerable mirth, altho it was not infrequent that the laugh was on the auctioneer, as these bundles sometimes contained articles worth considerably more money han had been paid for them. However, there were numerous cases where the purchaser found out he was stung, but they returned to the bidding stronger than ever and even more stung, but they returned to the bid-ding stronger than ever and even more determined to get a good buy.

SPECIAL SERVICES FOR ANNIVERSARY

terian Church Has Served Thirteen Years.

Special services were held yesterday in the Eglinton Presbyterian Church to mark the 13th anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. W. G. Back. The church was prettily decorated with a profusion of flowers and ferns, and in the morning the Rev. Prof. John W. MacMillan preached. He spoke on the supremacy of Jesus as tested by history. In the evening, the sermon was preached by H. K. Caskey, the foreign missionary secretary of the national council of the Y.M.C.A. Special music was rendered at both services and solos were given by Ernest Caldwell. The church was crowded at both the morning and evening services.

What might have been a serious accident happened last night about 6.30, when, as he was cycling south on north Yonge street, near the intersection of Heath and Yonge streets, Percy Goodman, aged 14 years, of 43 Oxford street, was knocked down by a motorist proceeding in the same direction. Fortunately, the boy was not injured, but the back wheel of his machine was completely smashed.

The motorist made off without leaving his name or address, but the boy managed to get the number of the license which was 21340, which the police have now and will make inquiries.

Hallowe'en passed off very quietly in North Toronto, and despite the fact that the children were out in force playing their usual pranks, not a single complaint was lodged at the police station. Large gangs of children dressed in various garbs demanded the usual "shell out," and the tradespeople entered into the fun. A very pretty Hallowe'en masquerade dance was given at the Eglinton Orange Hall by Miss Ruby Collins, 177 Ranelagh avenue, Bedford Park, and about fifity couples were present.

awarded the race as standing best in the summary.

A large crowd attended, and were rewarded for braving the cold by witnessing some of the best horses racing in the province in what may prove their final race of the season. Jimmie McKerron, regarded as the festest new performer of the 1920 season, and surely a canditate for high honors next year, goes into winter quarters at Cooksville, while Our King and Rena Bison may be shipped back west unless a number of ice meets are immediately announced by the racing associations of the province.

Conducting their first race meet since the summer of 1915, the Dufferin Driving Club scored a decided success at hele one-day meet, held at Dufferin park in Saturday afternoon. Sufficient park in New York, Oct. 30 .- Weather nearing

The 2,12 pace scored a notable field, with the race early conceded to be in Jimmic McKerron's favor. This reckoning appeared very accurate when he won the first and second heats, racing for gractically the entire distance in second or third horse position, and showing class over his field. In the third, however, he showed signs of fatigue from the hard racing he was being subjected to, and the wonderful brush of the aged gray mire, Rena Wilson (2.11%). proved too great in the last few yards for the handsome, free-legged son of Jack McKerros (2.07%), to withstand, Rena won r. BEST RACING SEASON.

New York, Oct. 30.—The racing season which closed this afternoon was the best ever held on courses under the jurisdiction of the Jockey Club. There was a total of 144 racing days at the courses and there was distributed the total of $1,689,407.26.

The season was notable for the appearance of the "wonder horse," Man o' War, and his presence on the track did a great deal to put the thorobred or a pinnacle. This colt was so much superior to the others of his own age that he dwarfed what would have been considered fine specimens in other seasons. Outside of half a dozen fairly good colts and fillies, the two-year-old collection was not notable. Incheape looked a good colt, but had no chance to show it in the best company. Tryster was the juvenile which impressed the best of the critics as a sterling youngster, and if he grows during the winter, he will be hard to beat next year. He has the right sort of a disposition for a first-class racer.

Cleopatra was far above all the three-year-old fillies, with the exception of Busy Signal, and both of these mares were far above the ordinary, the first-named being one of the best stayers seen in years. BEST RACING SEASON. 4.30.

FLOUR PRICE DROPS TEN CENTS BARREL

Weakness in Argentine Grain Factor in Depressing Wheat in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 30 .- The wheat market was erretic all day, and the final sinking spell was due to unloading by pit longs, who bought earlier on the corn strength. Last prices were ½c to 1½c lower, with December $2.08½ to $2.09, and March $2.02 to $2.03½. Corn was up ¾c to 1½c. Oats were ¾c to ½c higher, and provisions were generally lower, prices ranging from unchanged to 50c down. Interest in the wheat market was the lightest of the week. Business was mainly of a local character, and the price ranged within an advance of a cent and a loss of a like amount, with the close a fraction lower than yesterday's finish.

There was an absence of seafoard buying to any extent, but there was enough absorption on weak spots to steady the market. The report that the Argentine market was off two cents, and that the price of flour had dropped 10 cents per barrel, were the chief influences. Seaboard reports did not hold out any encouragement for export business for the next few days, and news of the farm strike continued to be conflicting. vas erratic all day, and the final sinking moderate.

Oats were sold at the best prices of the week today, and closed at the best of the day. The gain, however, was only fractional, as the trade was light.

There was only a moderate trade in pprovisions, and confined mostly to lard, of which offerings were quite free, but While confusion over the fundamental causes of the commercial reaction has not been lacking, political factors do not explain the steadily yielding prices of commodities, the increasing curtailment of production, and the continued spread of unemployment, and can hardly be singled out as giving promise of any abrupt change from this situation.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

The St. Lawrence Market was a busy place on Saturday morning, heavy receipts of all kinds of farm produce and a good all-round active demand serving to make up a happy combination. The supplies of butter and eggs are not too heavy; indeed, all the way from satisfying the demand.

Butter ranges over a wide price, selling all the way from 60c to 70c, and in some cases a little more money was paid. The day for cheap butter is evidently gone for ever, the heavy demands on the dairy herds for the supply of milk and cream, coupled with the ease with which the milk can be handled over butter production, accounts for the light supplies of butter. Even in the country villages it is not easy to get any quantity.

Eggs are scarce and high selling all the aturday saw the close of a bad ak for domestic stocks. The breakin the Montreal market caused by a extended speculation had its insince on securities which needed no sat price correction. Money strings, which was scorned by the pools a long time, finally made itself felt and unlisted papers.

From the low prices made by the ading speculative stocks some small scoveries were made, but it is thought hat the edge is definitely off the boom and that speculators will seek to get rom under as fast as market opporantes offer themselves.

The Toronto market for the older stocks has a better undertone, and a gradual price improvement is looked for. Those issues which can be classed in-the category of investments are now showing sufficient returns to be attractive and will encourage purchases. FURTHER DECLINES IN COMMODITIES

Trend Has Been Distinctly Downward for Twenty-Five Weeks.

New York, Oct. 31.—For twenty-five weeks, Dun's representative list of wholesale commodity quotations has disclosed a preponderance of recessions, the declines this week numbering 97 and the advances only 15.

In contrast to the trend in most other directions, the grain markets developed some increase of strength, for while corn resisted the rise, because of the assurance of an abundant crop, that cereal as well as wheat, oats, rye and bartey, improved under the influence of a better foreign inquiry and liberal buying against exports.

In live meats, beef was firm, demand and supply about offsetting each other, while lighter offerings were reflected in a rise in sheep. Hogs, however, declind rather sharply, and provisions generally followed the trend of the raw material.

The finer grades of fresh butter gained moderately in price, but medium and low-quality stock was weak. Nearby eggs came in more freely, and quotations receded sharply from last week's high point, but there was not much alteration in ordinary grades.

Indications of a general lowering of iron and steel prices are becoming more pronounced, while the minor metals, as a rule, continue easy.

No improvement is perceptible in the cotton goods markets, weakness and uncertainty still being conspicuous, and similar conditions prevail in hides and leather and footwear. New York, Oct. 31 .- For twenty-five

It was not the man, but the policies they represented that the electorate of the riding had to consider. For himself, he believed that the splendid record and ability of Major Kippen as a soldier was being traduced in the mud of politics, inimical to the best interests of the community at large. That was what the electorate had to consider when they polled their votes.

What did the Liberal party in Ontario represe !? asked Mr. Crockett. It represented H. Hartley Dewart and the Dewart clique. What did this clique represent? It represented the tion interests. It was wellknown that when various progress-ive measures were being considered leading men of the Liberal forces were lobbying the legislature to prevent the passage of legislation which was in the best interests of all working men and women, such as the minimum wage bill for women, amend-ments to the compensation act; and imilar helpful measures. Hydro Radials Problem.

Continuing, the speaker touched upon the problem of the hydro radials. He reiterated his former reference to the auditing expert of the Hydro-Electric Commission that Mr. Clark-son was an employe of that commission, and employed not by the government, but by Sir Adam Beck. It was Mr. Clarkson, he said, who ennission to investigate into. the feasibility of operating and maintaining the proposed Hydro radials, the investigation having regard to the expenditure of $150,000,000.
