As will be seen, several more subscriptions were added to the Champlain monument fund today. The mayor was unable to accompany Hamilton MacCarthy, the sculptor, this morning, but Mr. MacCarthy called on a number of citizens with the result that the fund was augmented by a number of new subscribers. Mr. MacCarthy said that everywhere he called on people were greatly pleased that this artistic and historical monument was likely soon to be an established fact. Lockhart & Ritchie and Bustin & French sent in cheques this morning for ten dollars each and Mr. MacCarthy collected twenty-six dollars. Ald. Vanwart, speaking of the location of the monument, was strongly in favor of Queen square as the site. He claimed that King square now has the Champlain monument, the fountain in the centre and the drinking fountain, while Queen square had nothing except the cannon placed there a short time ago. The Market square, he thought, was altogether unsuited for the erection of a $10,000 monument. The teams standing

INSANITY THE PLEA

Thaw's Lawyers Will Not Rely on Unwritten Law

FOR HIS DEFENCE

They Will Show That He Was Temporarily Insane When He Murdered Stanford White

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The trial of Harry K. Thaw, for the killing of Stanford White, was resumed today before Judge Fitzgerald in the criminal branch of the supreme court. It will probably be at least two days before five jurors still needed will be obtained. By Wednesday or Thursday, at the latest, the district attorney should be able to make his opening to the jury, and begin his direct examination of witnesses. The line of defense for Thaw was finally decided upon yesterday in an important conference held in the apartments of Delphin M. Delmas, senior counsel for Thaw. Those present at this conference besides Mr. Delmas were Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, Clifford W. Harbridge, Thaw's closest friend and legal adviser; John W. Delaney, Charles V. McKillop, O'Reilly and A. Russell Peabody, all counsel for the defense. Thaw's counsel issued the following authoritative statement last night: "Harry K. Thaw will be freed on the strict application of the laws on the statute books of the state of New York. There will be no intervention of any unwritten or higher law, as has been surmised. We do not go beyond statute books to convince the jury that he should be acquitted. "It will be shown to the jury that at the time Stanford White was shot and killed in Madison Square Roof Garden, Thaw was laboring under a spell of temporary insanity, did not appreciate the difference between right and wrong and is, therefore, irresponsible for his action. A preponderance of evidence to establish this fact will be adduced. "The defense is convinced that should the district attorney call Evelyn Nesbit Thaw to the witness stand to prove the mere fact of the slaying of Stanford White, when that could be easily proven by other witnesses to the shooting, he would not only commit an act that would be prejudicial to his own case, but would appear before the jury as a cruel man. "The prosecution cannot hope to prove the fact of the shooting, and that nobody denies the first phase of the second phase it can be proven by any number of witnesses. The district attorney cannot exact any conversation from the witness stand to prove the husband and wife if by object. That is as sacred as any privilege communication between lawyer and client or physician and patient. "Stanford White's character will not be assailed in this case by the defense. The defense proposes to conduct its case along clean, respectable and absolutely legal lines. It remains for the district attorney to inject into this trial anything that would cause introduction of testimony that would tend to blacken the character of individuals and degrade the community.

BABY DIED LAST NIGHT

The deserted baby boy who on the night of Monday last was found in an alley off Waterloo street by John J. Morrey and William F. Higgins, died at the Salvation Army Rescue Home, St. James street, at midnight last night. Up to last week the little one seemed to be doing nicely and there was little or no reason to believe he had suffered to any extent from the exposure to which he had been subjected. The matron of the rescue home says that on Friday last the little foundling was not well and on Saturday became worse. His condition was so unfavorable that Dr. Magaret Parks was consulted and everything possible done to alleviate his sufferings; but medical aid proved unavailing and the baby grew gradually weaker till on Sunday at midnight it passed away. The matron when asked as to the cause of death said she could not tell definitely, but that exposure might have had something to do with it. Dr. Parks, when communicated with would say nothing as to the cause of death. Coroner Berryman says that the Alma House commissioners will probably be responsible for the burial of the child, and he is busy looking after the necessary papers. He adds that there will be no inquest.

The last will of the late Young Swanton was today admitted to probate and testamentary granted to his son, Samuel Swanton and Dr. D. E. Berryman, the executors named in the will. The estate values at $2,500 real and $5,000 personal property. E. P. Raymond, proctor.

OTTAWA ARISES THAT C.P.R. IS AS YET A TASK

Hon. H. R. Emmerson Says Whole Question is Still in the Air -- He Will Protect the I. C. R. and See That St. John is Fairly Treated -- C. P. R. Must Pay More for Use of St. John Station.

IS AS YET A TASK

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—(Special)—Hon. H. R. Emmerson said this morning that the matter between the C. P. R. and the Intercolonial regarding running rights would not be settled for some time, perhaps not before the summer timetable goes into effect. In the meantime, it is perhaps significant, that Mr. Emmerson has noticed the Canadian Pacific that new arrangements must be made regarding the use of the St. John station. It has been decided that the C. P. R. cannot use it any longer on the present terms which are merely nominal. The minister feels that the Intercolonial in doing all the work and not getting a fair share of the returns. Concerning the running rights your correspondent, after investigating the matter here, finds that the mail contract started the present question, when the government decided that the C. P. R. stations must dock at Halifax, the same as the Allan lines.

CURLERS ARE HOME TODAY

Victorious Thistles Met at the Depot by Friends and Given Rousing Reception.

The Montreal train today brought home the Thistle club's curlers, who have made themselves famous by winning the double rink grand championship of Eastern America at the Montreal Bonspiel. The reception accorded them by the local curlers was one that will long be remembered. As the train rolled into the depot Gibson and Hayter played Scotch music, and were driven about the city, while they landed a hearty cheer from the large number present, resounded throughout the city. The old reliable, "Jimmy" Mitchell, carried a smoker which was taken from the party then got into two large sleighs and were driven about the city, while they waved the beautiful cup that had been won and cheered their representatives, who had won it. Each sleigh had a piper, who played several Scotch selections. By special request the sleighs stopped at the house of James Shaw, who has been ill, but who was desirous of seeing the happy curlers. When the curlers returned from Quebec they were met by Shaw with two large sleighs meet them. Tomorrow night will see festivities given in the Thistles' hall in honor of the victory at Montreal. Messrs. Shaw and Malcolm speak in the highest terms of the treatment they received while in Montreal, and say that they never enjoyed a trip more thoroughly.

BOY CRUSHED TO DEATH

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 28.—(Special)—Harry Hallist, about 15 years of age, was instantly killed on Saturday afternoon while driving down St. Paul street with his father on a wagon loaded with heavy cases. Near the canal office the wagon turned over and one of the cases fell on the boy, who was killed instantly. The father's leg was broken and he sustained several severe bruises.

GEORGE McLEAN'S SUCCESS

St. John friends of George McLean, formerly of the Daily Telegraph staff, will be glad to learn that he is meeting with further success in journalism in Boston, having just been appointed assistant managing editor of the Boston Herald. Mr. McLean has been city editor of the Boston Herald for two years.

INTERESTING DISPUTE.

The mayor's clerk and the city engineer had a serious dispute this morning over the location of the exact spot where Champlain landed when his vessel put into St. John harbor in 1604. Both of these officials were here at the time, but their memory of the incident is not the same. The city engineer holds that Champlain landed on this side of the harbor and immediately applied to him for plans of the neighborhood, which he executed, and which are now preserved in the French archives. The mayor's clerk, on the other hand, asserts that he was on the west side of

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT

SAARBRUCK, Prussia, Jan. 28.—Two hundred and fifty coal miners were employed early this morning at the Roden shaft by an explosion of five damp. Ten corpses and many injured miners have been taken out.

LATER

SAARBRUCK, Jan. 28.—As this despatch is filed 125 bodies have been recovered from the Roden mine and 300 miners are still missing, showing that there were more men in the mine at the time of the explosion than at first reported. SAARBRUCK, Jan. 28.—130 p.m.—One hundred and sixty four bodies and seventeen dangerously injured miners have now been taken from the mine.

Clark & Adams agree to stand by their tender to do the work for $149,000, which is about $20,000 less than the tender submitted by D. C. Clark.

MONTREAL STOCKS

MONTREAL, Jan. 28.—(Special)—The Montreal market today was a quiet one, the market for the purpose of ascertaining to what extent the weak accounts might be hanging over the market. Although the tendency continued on the weak side there has not as yet developed any striking liquidation in any particular section, being fractional. The most active issues were Dominion Iron, 21 3/4, Nova Scotia Steel, 70 3/4 to 12, De-France United, 70 1/4, Can Pacific, 121 1/2, Montreal Power, 91, Toledo 27 3/4. The Bank of Hochelaga announces a new issue of $500,000 stock at $135 per share, one-fourth to holders on February 15.

SENATOR DOBSON DEAD

LINDSAY, Ont., Jan. 28.—Senator John Dobson, of Lindsay, died at his residence here yesterday afternoon at two o'clock after a long illness. The Pembroke schooner Laura C. Small, Capt. Rockwell, arrived in port last Saturday afternoon from New London, Conn., with a cargo of oak lumber for Rhodes, Curry & Co., of Amherst. The schooner on the passage lost her foremast off Cape Ann on the 9th inst.

NOTED DIVINE DEAD

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—The Rev. Dr. Gilchrist, secretary of the Home Mission Board of the United Presbyterian denomination, and one of the most prominent men of that church, died at West Lebanon, N. Y., in 1888. Mr. Gilchrist was born at West Lebanon, N. Y., in 1828. TANGIER, Jan. 28.—Operations for the pursuit of Raisuli will be begun again today with a bombardment of Zolal's fort, in which Raisuli is surrounded. Large quantities of artillery ammunition have been forwarded to the front and a number of the friendly tribes will participate in the attack. SENATOR DOBSON DEAD LINDSAY, Ont., Jan. 28.—Senator John Dobson, of Lindsay, died at his residence here yesterday afternoon at two o'clock after a long illness. The Pembroke schooner Laura C. Small, Capt. Rockwell, arrived in port last Saturday afternoon from New London, Conn., with a cargo of oak lumber for Rhodes, Curry & Co., of Amherst. The schooner on the passage lost her foremast off Cape Ann on the 9th inst. The mayor has received a letter from Charles Burrill, Canadian Immigration agent for the New England states, with offers at 114 Dudley street, Roxbury, Mass., asking for information in regard to vacant farms in this section, their location and probable cost. Also as to any natural advantages surrounding St. John, such as water power for manufacturers, etc., and also as to the granting of franchises, etc. William Gordon Haslam, of the west side, received his appointment as tide waiter in the customs house last Saturday.

SENSATION IN FREDERICTON

Prominent Official of N. B. Telephone Company Will Begin In

REPORTED SHORTAGE

Stated That This Was What Brought Hon. A. G. Blair In Haste to Fredericton—Employer Has Given His Property to Cover Shortage.

A sensation has been produced in Fredericton by a reported shortage of $26,000 in the accounts of an official of the New Brunswick Telephone Company. It is stated that this was what brought Hon. Mr. Blair in haste to Fredericton, and that he was much grieved over the situation. The shortage is said to have been discovered by Alfred Seely, who notified Mr. Barry, and the latter called Mr. Blair in consultation over the affair. It is further stated that the official has decided his real estate to the company, and given also a bill of sale of his personal property. The same official is connected with the diocesan synod, and while there is no reason to assume that there is anything wrong in that direction, it is stated that W. E. Vroom is in Fredericton today going over the accounts. The story has caused a profound sensation at the capital.

HE WILL LEAVE DOWIE AND HIS CREDITORS TO FIGHT OUT QUESTION OF SUPREMACY.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Zion City is to be deserted by Wilbur Voliva, and all those over whom he holds sway. A new Zion City is to be founded on the Pacific coast, and his creditors will be left to fight out the question of supremacy here. Last summer Overseer John G. Speicher was sent to Los Angeles to present charge of the various colonies of the Pacific coast. It was said Speicher was to select the site for the new colony in that place. "Not political but Christian socialism" has been the text of many of Voliva's sermons. He believes such a colony founded in such a warm climate where fruit raising, truck gardening and agriculture can be indulged in, will prove a success.

BACK FROM KINGSTON

Capt. Utne, of the Steamer Vinland, Talks of the Great Earthquake.

The Norwegian steamship Vinland in command of Captain Utne, arrived in port this morning from Kingston, Jamaica and other ports on that island. Captain Utne was visited this morning on board his vessel which is discharging her fruit cargo into the government wharf, by a Times reporter, to whom he related the following particulars about the recent earthquake that caused such damage and loss of life on the island of Jamaica. The captain says his vessel left Kingston on the 12th of January on the 12th, arrived at Montego Bay, about 60 miles from Kingston. On the afternoon of that day about 3:41 o'clock he felt a peculiar motion of his vessel and thought that his engineer had started the engine at full speed. He at once went out on deck and was told that a terrible earthquake had taken place. Looking on shore he saw a large brick building split in two and a general panic among the inhabitants. Next day, the 15th, he went to Savannah la Mar with his ship. The people there did not know about the disaster in Kingston, although they had felt a severe shock of the earthquake. Savannah la Mar is about 70 miles from Kingston and telegraphic communication was cut off. Many buildings were wrecked at Savannah la Mar. From Savannah la Mar Captain Utne took his vessel to Black River which is about 40 miles from Kingston, and there learned from a captain of a coasting steamer, of the great catastrophe which had taken place at Kingston. The captain told him that his little steamer got her fire engine and hose to work on the burning warehouses along the harbor front. The cries of the wounded and swoon of the burning bodies was awful. Captain Utne says there is not a single brick building left in Kingston. All the fine buildings that he had visited a few days before are in ruins, not one of the employees in the telegraph buildings escaped with their lives. The first message sent to the outside world was sent from Holland Bay, the cable station on the island of Jamaica, located about 40 miles from Jamaica.

BLOWN TO ATOMS

Reported That Nineteen Foreign Laborers Were Killed by Dynamite on Saturday.

ROANOKE, Va., Jan. 28.—A Richmond despatch says nineteen foreigners were blown to pieces by a dynamite explosion Saturday on the Tide Water Railroad near Pearisburg, Va. The laborers were at dinner and a quantity of explosive which was being thawed in front of a fire blew up. A $1,000,000 FIRE SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 28.—The plant of the Phelps' Publishing Co., here, was destroyed by fire early this morning. The loss is estimated to approach $1,000,000. The company published Good Housekeeping, a month magazine; The Monthly American Agriculturist, Orange Judd Farmer, New England Homestead and Farm and Home. Arrangements are being made for the publication of these journals in other cities. Messrs. Stockton and Price (Dr. A. A. Stockton, K. C., and J. Milton Price) have moved from 94 Prince William street and taken offices in the Canada Life building. Attorney General Pugsley arrived here from Montreal today.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

There does not seem to be any means of settling this dispute to the satisfaction of either party. Even if the engineer's plans were forced among the treasures of the French archives it would not settle the question as to which side of the harbor Champlain honored with his initial footprint on New Brunswick soil, nor to decide which ferryboat was on the route in June, 1604. The Millicote and Micmac braves who were present with the mayor's clerk at the pow-wow in question have long since gone to the happy hunting grounds, and have left no record. The matter may be referred to the old canon committee of the Historical Society for further investigation.

between customers, the temptation and opportunity for this is greatly lessened when manufacturers dispose of their products on fair terms to the wholesale houses which are devoted to the business of distribution to retailers. THE WALL STREET MARKETS REVIEWED BY J. S. BACHE & CO.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Fear of the American market appears to be the keynote of the financial operations, writes a leading journal, in its news notes; and another quotes bankers in a position to speak authoritatively on the subject, as pointing out that the impression that is being created abroad, that all business in this country is being conducted dishonestly, threatens to cause a practical withdrawal of European support for undertakings in America.

INTERESTING COMMENT ON NEW YORK MARKET

(New York Herald, Saturday.) Under a marked expansion in the volume of trading yesterday, stocks developed a reactionary tendency and closed weak. Although the pronounced heaviness in certain quarters of the list gave the impression that liquidation had resumed in the market, close observation held the market for a turn. But the market, after its first recovery, turned dead. No buying of public character developed and adverse news accumulated. In consequence, according to reports, the operators had become disgusted, sold out their long stock and put out fresh short lines. However, with this operation some long stock did appear to be coming out yesterday.

NEWS AND MARKET FACTORS.

News developments of the day were of an adverse character and the rumors which were generally borne upon phases of increasing anti-corporation sentiment in the federal quarters, and this attitude is again getting upon the nerves of Wall street precisely as it did last spring when the federal action to disrupt the Standard Oil Company was first rumored. Reports from the hold of the steamer Arizonian would shortly again direct its energies in that quarter were circulated yesterday, and all the Standard Oil lines weakened in consequence. Probably because sentiment was depressed the preliminary findings of the Commerce Commission in the coal industry, which it has been reported Wall street the more, and this was further accentuated by the attack upon the charter of the Great Northern Railway Company by the state authorities of Minnesota. Money hardened somewhat following the announcement that Secretary Shaw would recall public opinion on the subject of the Panama Canal, which is generally intended after Feb. 1. In the category of rumors was a false report of the serious illness of Mr. Harriman, which was corrected in London, which international bankers assert is utterly without foundation.

SPECULATIVE SENTIMENT.

Speculative sentiment was much depressed today. It is held by many that otherwise in consequence of the news developments and the character of rumors most favorable to the market, there was no reason to expect any advance. The excellent traffic reports from some sections of the country, was entirely overshadowed by the unfavorable developments. The professional traders said that it seemed impossible to buy anything and that speculative commission houses said that not only was there no public business but also that they could not consistently urge a customer to buy if it could not be done on a basis of profit. The absence of buying power in the market rendered declines easy. Bonds which had shown a marked improvement on the day turned dull and heavy again yesterday. Brokers making a specialty of short term notes said that demand had also fallen off there and that practically all the new issues were offered at slight concessions in price.

MONEY MARKET RUMORS.

Perhaps the most persistent rumor circulating during the day was the one bearing upon Mr. Harriman's illness. This rumor was considerably suggested by the heaviness of the Harriman stocks. Close friends and business associates denied the report emphatically, and made it clear that nothing of the kind was in the mind of Mr. Harriman at his home in the city and that there was not the slightest foundation for the report. A report from the Pacific office in London stated that Mr. Harriman was attending to business on the telephone. Later in the day, when the market was again in a state of confusion, rumors were in circulation again. Clearing house committee members and bankers stated definitely that they were unable to locate any local office in London which London heard that there was "trouble" in the New York and New York heard that the mode of conducting business will be large open firms. International bankers who made inquiries abroad received reassuring replies, and they stated that the rumors were in connection with either of the two London firms mentioned.

HENRY CLEWS ON THE SECURITY OUTLOOK.

Henry Clews on the Security Outlook. The outlook for the security market was, therefore, briefly described thus: Uncertain rates and excessive demand for money, a large increase in the supply of railroad securities, distrust engendered at home and abroad by present investigations by the government authorities, are all encouraging a lower range of values. On the other hand, we have the fact that stocks are under unusually strong control; that a considerable decline has already taken place; that extensions of short operations are dangerous; that temporarily, at least, the call money market is easy, and that general business, though growing less profitable, is still very active. These are conditions which ought to give us a fairly active market. The bears are sure to become aggressive hereafter on the slightest provocation, but any pronounced declines are almost certain to be followed by good rallies so long as the market remains under control of the present clique.

Bird's Eye View of the Mexican Isthmus Route, Inaugurated by President Diaz.

President Diaz, Senator Linaur, minister of public works, opened the three doors of the railway dock with golden keys, which will be kept by the ushers as souvenirs. Sir Westman Pearson, constructor of the line, made an address, to which the president responded, and amid the thunder of guns and enthusiastic cheers the unloading of the first transcontinental cargo began. Sir Westman Pearson reviewed the work of the isthmus and expressed his confidence in the future. He predicted that within seven years, if not five, the Tehuantepec National Railroad would have a double track. It is now capable of handling a million tons of freight annually and has harbor facilities for eight ocean steamers to dock at the same time.

THE EVENING TIMES, ST. JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, JANUARY 28, 1907.

THE EVENING TIMES.

The St. John Evening Times is published at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE PORT PROBLEM

There will be a sense of relief in this city on reading the statement made by Hon. Mr. Emmerson to the Times correspondent, although the fact that the C. P. R. was prepared to cut out St. John as the terminus of the steamers bringing the mails will come with the shock of a complete surprise, on the part of the company's assurance that St. John was its port. Mr. Emmerson makes it clear that the interests of this port will not be sacrificed to the convenience of the railway company. His statement regarding the use of the I. C. R. depot by the C. P. R. is also significant.

Regarding the general question of trade through the port of St. John it is most important that the citizens keep themselves fully informed, and put forth the most vigorous efforts to have this port so well equipped that it may handle with facility all the ocean business offered, whether it be freight, passengers, mails, or all of these. Doubtless when the delegation from the city and board of trade visit the capital many matters will be cleared up and a better understanding all around will be arrived at. St. John sits nothing that is not her due. So far as this port and the port of Halifax are concerned, whatever the latter gains and the former loses as a result of a fair test must be cheerfully accepted.

Halifax influence would naturally be expected to exert itself to secure the business of the port of St. John, even while Halifax was getting in the entering wedge of an effort to separate this port from some of the business it now rightfully possesses.

The Houston, Texas, Post has a very interesting article on the value of small industries to a city. The article is so generally applicable to all cities that the Times commends it to thoughtful people in St. John.

The universal tribute of regret at the death of Hon. A. G. Blair shows how strongly his personality had impressed itself upon the minds of the people of Canada. There is also a universal note of sorrow that his career should have ended at a time when his great abilities were about to be employed again in a representative political capacity.

The attempt to organize in France a new church, which takes the name of Catholic, but denies the authority and infallibility of the pope, will be watched with interest. Such an effort, made in the United States, some years ago, met with no support.

If the entertainers who provided music and other features at the newspaper men's dinner on Saturday evening were heard in a hall or theatre, they would divide the honors with professionals.

Ambassador Bryce is pleased with Secretary Root's speech in Ottawa. Secretary Root will be delighted with Ambassador Bryce's speech in Manchester.

Money was again favorable to a better market yesterday. Call money now ruled below 3 per cent, and short time loans can be secured at 5 per cent, except largely to the fact that the demand is indifferent at the moment. A report was sent from Washington that Secretary Shaw had decided to resign, and the money market would be better able to withstand the strain, but the report was followed by a denial. Such action would not occasion surprise, as the Treasury does not need the money and the business interests of the country can use continued output of short term notes. Yesterday $1,500,000 of short term notes of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company were put on the market and were stated to have found a fairly ready sale on a 5 1/2 per cent basis, although the rate on the road was not made known. These hot-house methods of financing large corporations are not to be commended, yet companies evidently cannot raise money by normal means. Another good bank statement is looked for on Saturday, and European banks may soon reduce their rates, so that bonds will probably claim more attention in the near future.

A FREAKS' UNION. NEW YORK, Jan. 28. — Preliminary steps have been taken by some of the best known human prodigies now exhibiting in New York to form what will be in effect a "Freaks' Union." Letters have been sent to prominent exhibitors all over the country soliciting their co-operation. Many favorable replies have, it is said, been received. An elastic skin man who is on exhibition at a Fourteenth street museum, is one of the men interested in the new organization. The main purpose of the union, he said yesterday, is to provide sick benefits and a fund for the burial of unfortunate members. To have your child truthful is full.

Men's Pant Sale

Attracting Many Buyers. When we announced a few days ago that we had just received about 600 pairs of Men's Pants, which we had bought at a great bargain, we expected some lively selling, but the response has been even greater than we looked for. They are new stock, fresh from the factory, made mostly from ends of webs of very superior cloth. Every pair a real snap.

The sale prices are: $1.00, $1.50, $1.98, $2.50 and $2.75.

THE BUSY MAN

Once there was a business-man As busy as a bee; For not a thing but business care The slightest time had he. He had no time to see his wife He had no time to see his child; He had no time to see his friends And they were growing old. He had no time to see his friends And they were growing old. He had no time to see his friends And they were growing old.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

SORRY HE SPOKE. "Say, I came to this dance without an invitation. How did you work it?" "Nobody stopped me. How did you?" "Same way. My wife's giving the dance." —Cleveland News.

A COMMON FELLOW.

"He has none of the finer sensibilities, nothing to distinguish him from the common herd." "No." "No, sir. I've heard him confess, out of his own mouth, that all autos smell alike to him." —Judge.

A HEROIC KISS.

Considering the antiquity of the art of kissing, a new kind of kiss might well be thought an impossibility. It has remained for Beerbohm Tree to invent one. The great discovery was made upon the stage of His Majesty's Theatre at a recent rehearsal of "Antony and Cleopatra." As Antony, he was about to kiss Cleopatra the famous lass farewell. The orchestra gave accompanying music, which jarred upon the actor's susceptibilities. He shuddered audibly, the indignation breath whistled between his teeth, a look of pain crept over his face, he raised a protesting hand. "Ah, not that, not that!" he entreated. "I want—I want—searching his mind for the symbol—a kiss of heroic magnitude!" —London Daily Mail.

THE LABOR QUESTION

NO. III.—THE LIVE YANKEE AND THE MILLMEN'S UNION. Yankee—W-a-a-l boys and so the union's busted, is it? You're a pretty lot of sports, talking 'bout your rights, ain't you? You've bin doin' 'em round the stove. What have ye bin doin' with yer votes? Yer's just about as soft as a soft white pine stick and every way yer not as good as the 'longshoremen.

Tom, Millman—How is that Yankee? We kin hatch a log ahead of enny ship laborer I ever seen. Yankee—That's whar yer rite Dutchy. The workin' men in Germany have the rite laws. That's whar they're all in favor of the government. But that's a good reason for it there. They're not such softies in Germany as you men round these parts.

2nd Millman—If I was livin' in Prussia I'd eat all treated like there. Yankee—That's whar yer rite Dutchy. The workin' men in Germany have the rite laws. That's whar they're all in favor of the government. But that's a good reason for it there. They're not such softies in Germany as you men round these parts.

Yankee—S-onny, ye think ye have struck something hot, don't yer? Why yer eatin' Chicago beef all the time in St. John. You kin get a log better than the gals dam-ages. You see boys when the Frederickian men made that law they sed that a boom-man and a ralsman were not as good as ship laborers. So they left you two workin' men out of the law.

3rd Millman—That's all rite, and yer wages ar better, but ye feed us on Chicago beef. Yankee—S-onny, ye think ye have struck something hot, don't yer? Why yer eatin' Chicago beef all the time in St. John. You kin get a log better than the gals dam-ages. HE FELL TO HIS DEATH

John M. Crosier Killed on Saturday Afternoon --- Had Wife and Son in England. John Matthew Crosier, an Englishman, who has a wife and 12-year-old child in Hartlepool, England, was almost instantly killed Saturday afternoon about 4.30 o'clock, by falling from a ladder between North Wharf and the end of the steamer Bonavatia and the end of the North Wharf at the Dominion Coal Co.'s coal pocket.

It appears that Crosier had been drinking and attempted to go down a ladder to the deck of the steamer Bonavatia. He was warned to stay on the wharf, but he would otherwise, and when half way down the ladder he slipped and fell into the water. As speedily as possible a rope was placed under his arms and he was brought on deck. Work of resuscitation went on, but he died within fifteen minutes after the accident occurred. It is supposed that when falling his head struck the edge of the wharf, as there was a purple bruise on the left temple. The body was removed to the morgue and Dr. Berryman said that he did not think that an inquest would be necessary.

Teach him that riches are not to be despised, but should never be got by doing harm to others; that when acquired should be treated as a trust, not as a hoard. BOVRIL

Will build You up

A run down condition of the system is due to improper nourishment.

What you need is a food, not a tonic.

Beef is the most nourishing food there is and therefore the best for building up a run down condition.

But the difficulty with beef is that many people find it hard to digest.

BOVRIL contains all the nourishing properties of beef in a highly concentrated form, easily assimilated by the most delicate stomach.

The Women's Club. FIVE FEROUX.

THE NEIGHBORS HAVE, TOO. Mrs. Neighbor—Professor Berkley called at our house today, and my daughter played the piano for him. He just raved over the playing.

Miss Dig—How rude! Why couldn't he conceal his feelings the way the rest of us do?

"Is her husband so unendurably stupid?" "Oh! dreadful; the only time he brightens up is when she talks of divorce!"

A DOUBLE MEANING. Mrs. Gospipe—Old Dickson's boy Tom has been arrested "out West" for robbing passengers.

Mrs. Rurible—My gracious! And only one striking eye! He looks like a man he was making money raising palms!

BUDDHISM IN BURMAH

Religion of Anomalies—Chief End of Man Nirvana or Non-Existence.

(New York Tribune.)

Burmah is the home of the purest form of Buddhism, the religion which some one thought originated in a Hindu attempt to copy the Christian religion.

At the same time there are things about this religion that seem odd to the Occidental mind, because of their striking contrast. Ranking next to Christ in point of numbers, it is now known to be older, the supposed date of its foundations being fixed at about the middle of the sixth century B. C.

What might be termed an atheistic religion for it recognizes no God. The founder of the religion, a prince named Siddhartha, son of a petty rajah living on the southern border of the district of Nepal.

He was a person of contemplative ascetic disposition. His father, anxious to prevent him from deserting the high station and taking to a religious life, married him with all splendors of which the mind could conceive.

It was of an oval, Siddhartha continued to think of ways of avoiding them. He had his long hair, the sign of his high caste, cut off as a sign of his severance from all secular ties.

The shortened hair turned up, and therefore his image represent his hair as curly. After much thought upon the subject of old age, misery and death he reached the logical conclusion that if one was not born one would not suffer the ills of life.

He reached the further conclusion that ignorance was the ultimate cause of existence. Therefore, if a man becomes wise he will have fewer and fewer desires as his wisdom grows, and in his repeated reincarnations will approach nearer to the goal of existence, Nirvana, or complete obliteration.

According to the manner of a person's life, birth being only a passage from one form of existence to another. In each form of existence the being had an opportunity to struggle toward perfect wisdom and annihilation. Siddhartha was said to have attained perfect wisdom, his final triumph one night while sitting under a tree about five miles from Gaya, near Patna, India.

It is said that this tree, known as the Bodhi tree, of wisdom, was standing 1,200 years later, or in the seventh century. A young tree now stands in its place. Oddly, while Buddhism originated in India and spread all over Asia, the monastery at Gaya is the only home of the faith in India proper.

"Bodhi," is a title applied to Siddhartha in his state of perfection. It means "enlightened," or "he to whom truth is known." The worship of Buddha, who is supposed to be non-existent.

THE TWO ITALIANS. A middle-aged man near the front of the theatre objected to the change in the name of the organization, but he didn't say why and nobody asked him. He went on: "I have been an infidel for 27 years, but that is as to the past. I admire Ingersoll as a man, a citizen, a father and a brother, but twenty years ago I came to the conclusion that he was not right. I was a drinking man and had spent $25,000 travelling about the world looking for a religion, and now believe that Mr. Wall's programme is the right one."

Both sessions will be open to the public.

During the month of December the Orange Meat Company advertised that they would offer a prize of $100 to the person sending in the largest number of coupons taken from their Orange Meat packages. This prize was in addition to their usual premiums. The contest closed Dec. 31, 1906, and coupons were received from every province in Canada. Mrs. Abram Adams, of Boissevain, Manitoba, secured the prize.

The Queen's Rollway is to hold a carnival on Wednesday evening. As will be seen by reference to our advertising columns the prizes are of generous size, and should cause competition to exist, and give us preparing costumes. The special prize to be awarded at the judge's discretion, may be awarded to any costume that, in their opinion may be worthy of a prize, and yet not in the fancy costume. Regarding the prize to be awarded to the most graceful couple skating (lady and gentleman) this can be competed for by any couple skating, and may be won by any couple, even if they have won one of the fancy costume prizes, as this is to be awarded solely for graceful skating.

USUAL MONDAY MORNING CROWD Nine Prisoners Dealt With in Police Court This Morning.

Nine prisoners occupied the bench at this morning's session of the police court. Hugh McFadden, who was found drunk on the stairs inside the Union Club, was fined $4 on ten days. Patrick Sullivan, a cripple, who was arrested Saturday night for begging from a woman on Mill street, pleaded guilty and was remanded. He was intoxicated at the time of his arrest and had to be taken to central station in a sledge.

Frank Lambert, charged with wandering about Watson street, between 11 and 12 o'clock Saturday night said he had only been in the city a few hours, having come from Partridge Island, where he had been working, and had lost his way. He also informed the court that he had gone to a boarding house, where he paid for his board for Sunday and today, and could not find his way back, nor did he know the name of the landlord.

Nelson Nichols, charged with drunkenness and resisting the police was fined $8 or two months on the first charge and was remanded on the second. George Wilson charged with wandering on the South wharf and being unable to give a satisfactory account of himself to the police, said he was a stranger here, and belonged to the steamer Canada Cape. He had gone to the Salvation Army shelter, where he left his money, some $17, but could not get a bed, as there was no room. He also stated that the police advised him to come to central station. His honor told Wilson he would be liable for two months in jail. He was remanded.

Wm. Page, charged with drunkenness, was fined $4 or ten days in jail. Christopher Cummings, was fined $4 or ten days on a similar charge. Patrick Kelley, Edward Tighe, Andrew O'Brien were fined $8 each also for drunkenness.

His honor observed that he wished the police would try and find out where persons arrested for drunkenness after hours Saturday and during Sunday obtained their liquor.

THE EVERY DAY CLUB In the Every Day Club rooms on Saturday evening an interesting programme was rendered. A. E. McKinley spoke to the members on "Quebec, The Land of the Habitant." Sunday night's temperance meeting was largely attended. The address was delivered by Dr. Melvin, who spoke in a very interesting manner. He took the ground of the greatest means of overcoming temptation of any kind was development of the mind by study and he said that the Every Day Club, by providing recreation and means for improvement of men's minds was doing excellent work.

THEY HAD A GOOD TIME

City News Writers Had Their Annual Sleigh Drive Saturday Night.

Sounds of revelry were quite audible on Saturday evening in the vicinity of Canterbury street, when the city's "gifted" journalists boarded Glyn's "Moonlight" preparatory to driving to "Billy" Newcombe's to "scoop" up and "drink in" the world's pleasures.

Snow flakes fell in rapid succession as the big sleigh with its valuable freight passed beyond the city's limits, and as the blinding storm and piercing wind beat against the refined "pencil-pushers" the blowing of "horns" of various kinds and sizes announced that the seven astute photographers were not agreeable to "the brains of St. John."

"The way was long and the wind was cold," and when the scribes trotted in to "Billy" Bresside, merry hearts laughed as they heard the tinkling of the bells girded about the horses, whose lot it was to go to the barn, there to await the pleasure of the note-worthy party.

And now the fun commenced. Coats having been thrown off, the representatives of the Telegraph, Sun, Globe, Star and Times sat down to a table that would give an appetite, even to a dying elephant. The viands were such as would compare favorably with those partaken of on state occasions by the royal family.

At the head of the table as chairman, and after the bounteous repast had been done justice to, he read several telegrams from some of the world's famed men, who regretted exceedingly their inability to be in attendance on such an auspicious occasion.

The toast of the King was drunk with the true "spirits" of Canadians, and the National Anthem brought forth an excellent blending of an accomplished gathering of "scribes."

Then came the toast of the evening, that to the evening journalists. Replies were forthcoming from P. B. McCafferty, of the Globe; H. V. McKinnon, editor of the Star; J. A. Barry, of the Times; and H. F. Fairley, of the Globe. The high key that these gentlemen struck clearly demonstrated their superiority over their morning brethren.

The toast of "the lower classes" or rather what was incorrectly put down "working classes" was responded to by "working class" in language that must have undoubtedly caused Webster to turn in his grave, delivered a speech filled with good cheer for his brother associates, while he also complimented them on the excellent spirits they displayed during the evening. Harry S. K. Smith, C. W. Clark and Joseph Murphy also spouted out eloquence that rivaled that delivered by Demosthenes in olden days.

The toast to "the absent ones" were toasted and roared. Dr. Lanney, W. B. Farris and B. Gallagher replied. Mr. Farris recited several stanzas of "Nature's product, how I love thee," in a manner that would stir the hearts of even a more sympathetic audience.

The toast to the "Promoter of the trip" was drunk and the singing of "For he's a jolly good fellow" announced that Walter Golding was to speak. An extra table here the waiter for time, while "Goldstein" went through a series of gestures that threatened to wreck several ornate, but the spell soon passed away and Walter told some funny stories.

The toast to the "Absent Ones" was drunk in silence and Lindsay Grove, responded solemnly.

Frank McCafferty told some stories of newspaper men in olden days and then the toast to "Mine Host" was heartily drunk and "Billy" Newcombe made a capital speech in reply.
