RUSSIAN TRADE EMBASSIES IN SECLUSION

Cannot Talk Even to British Business Men Some Protest Against Lloyd George Going to Conference With Them—Sir George E. Foster on Canada's Position.

London, May 31—Gregory Krassin, Russian Soviet minister of trade and commerce, and his fellow commissaries, now in London, have remained men of mystery thus far during their visit here.

These newspapers are making a great deal of a prediction recently made by Rev. F. W. North, chaplain of the Embassy in London, who on his return from Russia declared that the Soviet government would fall within six months.

Canada's Position (Canadian Press) Ottawa, May 31—Whether or not trade relations will be re-established between Canada and Russia will probably depend to a great extent on the result of the conference between the Bolshevik commercial commission and representatives of the supreme economic council in London, news of which was received recently.

When asked with regard to the attitude of the Canadian government on the matter, Sir George E. Foster said last night that Canada still retained a trade commissioner in Southwest Russia.

It is questionable, however, whether trade between Canada and Russia could develop to any degree, unless the Soviet government is willing to give the undertakings demanded by the British government and the supreme council of Allies.

RED CROSS TAKE UP MATTER OF ST. QUENTIN RELIEF

An emergency meeting of the Provincial Red Cross, with the president, R. E. Hayes, in the chair, was held this morning at the office of the secretary, C. B. Allen, to co-operate with Premier Foster in rendering assistance to the fire sufferers in St. Quentin. It was announced by the premier that a committee had already been formed in Campbellton and on behalf of the government he had wired $20,000 to be used to relieve the conditions in the village where, it was said, 1,000 people were made homeless by the forest fire which ravaged the community. It was agreed on motion by the secretary, C. B. Allen, that the president, the vice-president and the secretary, be a committee to take the matter in hand and sent at once blankets and other such supplies which are in the Red Cross stores with a further assurance of financial assistance pending the report of the premier on the situation. Colonel E. T. Sturdee suggested that where tents were sufficient the military authorities be asked to provide these. It was suggested by Mrs. G. A. Kubring that Dr. Desmond, district medical health officer for the southern district, be wired at once for information regarding special needs of any who might be ill or in need of hospital assistance. This was decided on. It was also decided that on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week the Red Cross would receive any clothing for men, women and children at local headquarters, Hazen avenue, donated for the sufferers. It was agreed on motion that full powers be given the committee to act in conjunction with the premier. Those present were R. T. Hayes, president, C. B. Allen, secretary, Colonel E. T. Sturdee, Mrs. H. Lawrence and Mrs. Kubring.

Amendments were passed that regulate municipal chapters be members of the provincial executive. Most of the delegates left for home following the close of the convention.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

"GRUMPY" WILL BE A MIDSUMMER ATTRACTION

Famous English Comedy Coming Here in June — Eminent English Players in the Cast — Canadian Tour Starts in Maritime Provinces. Cyril Maude's famous play "Grumpy" which comes to the Imperial Theatre for a two days' engagement beginning Monday, June 14, with a matinee on Tuesday, derives its title from an old criminal lawyer nicknamed "Grumpy" by his adoring and adored granddaughter because of his egotism and quarrelsomeness. He is retired from practice and when under his roof his grand-nephew is robbed of a valuable diamond sent home in his keeping by the South African mines. He serves. The old man's sleuthhound instincts are awakened and he does not rest until he has discovered the thief and compelled restitution of the diamond. This is slight material for a big play but the joint authors, Horace Hodges and Wilsey Percival, are said to have built up a comedy that is evidently capable when played by Edward Levers, Frank Compton and others of not only gripping an audience, but of holding their attention unflinchingly from the opening to the final fall of the curtain. The whole plot hinges on a very trifling incident, nothing more than a girl's hair wound around the stem of a flower. But slyer things than this have betrayed criminals before now, and there is nothing illogical in the development of the plot, nor is there anything improbable in the story, which is based upon an incident that many people in the old country will remember having been a cause celebre some years ago. The "Grumpy" company, which consists of twelve eminent London players, will open their trans-Canada tour in the maritime provinces. Stewart Lithgow, well known New York dramatic manager, is in town at present completing arrangements.

WEEK-END BILL AT OPERA HOUSE

Will Be Brought to a Close Tonight — Great Magical Act, Lots of Comedy, Good Dancing and Singing. The popular week-end bill at the Opera House will be brought to a close this evening and should be greeted by large audiences. The programme is highly entertaining and has one of the best magical acts ever appearing on a local stage. In addition to being a clever performer, the magician has his act combined with comedy and this is largely instrumental in making it such a popular hit. Hill and Quinell also have a really amusing and scientific act, which is one of the most popular of the bill. The female member is a clever acrobatic and eccentric dancer and her partner a good comedian and cycle rider. From a musical standpoint France and Varvara star in a classic vocal and piano offering. There are two other good acts and an episode of "Lightning Boyes". The new bill for tomorrow will be as follows: Mable Nanyon and her tropical birds. She has a collection of twenty-four of the most wonderful birds ever appearing in vaudeville. In addition white cockatoos, boomerangs, parrots etc. and all are well trained. They offer a startling display of clever feats. This act is considered to be the best trained bird show in vaudeville. The Smittles will appear in a sensational aerial act replete with thrills and dares; Nevins and Mack will give a great farce comedy blackface skit; Manning and Hall "Kleevy Komedy" will have an amusing skit; while Ben Smith will entertain with his popular comedy songs etc. There will also be an episode of the popular motion picture "Daredevil Jack," featuring Jack Dempsey champion heavyweight of the world.

THE FITZGERALD PEACH

More than forty years ago a peach stone was planted in the garden of Captain Maurice Fitzgerald at Oakville, A. C. This seedling was produced, which, without grafting, grew up into a fine tree, bearing fruit that was the envy of the neighborhood. The captain, who was a sailor and not a fruit grower, decided to show the peaches from this particular tree at the local fair. During the next year, in those days, he was gradually and honorably awarded the highest honors in the community. "Soon afterwards," said the captain, when interviewed, "a man of considerable means, offering a large sum of money for the tree, which I had a very valuable tree in my garden, and when I began to make inquiries I was able to prove the truth of this man's statements." Nurserymen from both Canada and the United States were attracted by the new peach, and offers of considerable sums began pouring into the home of the skipper. One of these bids was finally accepted, the tree was gradually removed in the form of scions to the Niagara district. A few seasons later this variety, named after Fitzgerald, was put on the market. This peach was much harder, due to its northern origin, than the common varieties in those days. Its flavor, however, was particularly good—in fact, the Fitzgerald became so popular that during the first few years it was sold ready by nurserymen at a dollar and a half when other varieties were retailing at a quarter. Today this particular peach, which owes its origin to a pure accident, has become a standard variety, and makes an important addition to the acreage of Canadian and northern United States plantations.

Prairie Schooner Days

"Back to the Prairie Schooner Days," threatens to be the slogan for home seekers this summer. From different parts of the country there are reports that canvas houses, painted in light delivery chassis, are helping to solve the housing problem. J. E. Tarr of Pocatello, Idaho, accompanied by his wife, is touring all over the west in a canvas-topped prairie schooner type of house mounted on a truck chassis equipped with pneumatic tires, "beating the slow moving team or mule trains to smithereens," as he puts it. "The man that built the first prairie schooner and arched his back to the hard work of his penning house had the right idea," says Mr. Tarr.

PROTEST FROM WEST END MADE AT CITY HALL

At a committee meeting of the common council this morning, a delegation consisting of W. E. Scully, G. S. Hayes and E. R. W. Ingraham, waited on the council to protest against the St. John Street Railway being granted permission to place tracks along Rodney street, and also regarding sewerage conditions on the West Side. Mr. Scully said that as president of the West Side Improvement League, he strongly opposed tearing up Rodney street to place street car tracks there. He said that it was the only well paved street in West St. John. He maintained that Winslow street could be used. With regard to the mill pond, he said there were eight or ten public sewers emptying into it and he advocated that they be connected with one trunk sewer and carried out to the harbor under the pond. Mr. Ingraham also spoke against such a move and spoke about unsatisfactory street car service and the ferry boat. He thought a better car service meeting the ferry would tend to increase patronage. In answer to a question he said the West End cars to the city did not connect with the ferry boat. Commissioner Frink spoke regarding sewerage conditions in West St. John and said he thought the delegation was very much in his demands. The other commissioners also spoke briefly, after which the delegation was assured that before any action was taken regarding the railway company any privileges the delegation would be notified and could be present to go over the plans and specifications.

MONTREAL MARKET. Montreal, May 31.—The local market put in an extremely active first hour this morning. Outside of Brazilian, the paper stocks were practically the only issues touched. In the strength, no doubt of the merger talk, opened strong at 107, seven points above last week's high. After heavy trading, however, it dropped to 100, recovering a point to 101. Abitibi was steady around 70 and Laurentide at 100. Edmonton, which was very active this morning, hung around 115. Spanish River weakened fractionally to 95. Wayagamack, which was also on the active list, stood around 109.

NOT GUILTY In the county court before His Honor Judge Armstrong this morning a case against Charles Doyle charged on an indictment of theft from C. P. R. cars in Fairville was concluded. The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty." Another indictment in connection with the theft of two cases of bonds will be taken up this afternoon. C. H. Ferguson conducted the prosecution and J. A. Barry the defence. The case was delayed for an hour in opening owing to the absence of one of the jurors W. O. Bagnell who, when he arrived, gave as his excuse that he was going on "old time" "daylight time." T. A. McDonald, secretary of the Frederickton Y. M. C. A., was in the city over the week end.

UNUSUALLY LOW PRICES ON STRAW HATS

Oak Hall Offer Pre-Season Sale of Great Interest.

It is rather unusual to have new stocks of merchandise offered at a distinctive reduction just when the season's selling is about to commence, but this is exactly what Oak Hall are doing with men's straw hats. They have received a large stock of straws that would regularly sell at $3.50, but in order to boost their volume of business they are offering this entire lot, for three days, for $2.95. This is an opportunity that every man should take advantage of if he really desires to economize.

OAK HALL MADE DRASTIC REDUCTIONS ON WOMEN'S SUITS.

The women's shop, Oak Hall, are now offering their entire stock of women's suits at prices so low, by comparison, that they are simply irresistible. These suits represent the most advanced styles of the season and are of the same high qualities that have been so much admired all through the season.

Oak Hall have divided their suits into five convenient groups. The first group is offered at $38.95, this takes in suits as high as $2.60. The second group at $41.95 includes suits up to $69.50. The other groups are priced at $65.95, $65.95 and $75.95.

Oak Hall's women's suits are priced as low as they possibly can be in the first place so that any reductions from these original prices, no matter how small, represents a distinct saving to the purchaser, and reductions such as are now quoted mean savings to those women who require suits for now or next fall that should receive one's most serious consideration.

INTERESTING SALE OF TAILORED HATS AT OAK HALL

The women's shop, Oak Hall, are now offering their entire stock of women's exclusive tailored hats at prices that truly bring them within the range of the most thrifty shoppers. Beautiful New York hats that have been priced at $21 are now quoted at $14 and those formerly quoted at $15.75 are now offered at $10. This is an opportunity that women should quickly take advantage of as these hats are always stylish, are serviceable for several years and at these prices represent true bargains.

A DANGER SIGNAL—TENDER AND BLEEDING GUMS

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhoea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhoea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills.

Pyorrhoea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them.

Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection. And keep Pyorrhoea away by using Forhan's For The Gums.

Forhan's For The Gums will prevent Pyorrhoea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentificers cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

SOLDIERS AND POLITICS.

Sydney, May 30—Glouce Bay war veterans in session this afternoon declared strongly in favor of entering the political arena both federal and provincial. The veterans of the biggest town even went so far as to appoint a committee whose duty it will be to secure a fusion of the labor-soldier interests in Cape Breton county and place a combined ticket in the field for the next provincial elections which rumors assert are to come within two months.

Paris, May 30—The attending physicians pronounced President Deschamps entirely recovered from the direct injuries which he received in his fall from a train recently, but emphasize that rest is necessary. ### RECENT DEATHS

At the age of 102 years, J. Best died at his home at River Glade on Friday. He was one of the veteran members of the Royal Orange Association.

The death of Cyril N. Ormond, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ormond of Amherst, occurred last evening. The young man was only twenty-four years of age and his death was caused by acute rheumatism followed by pneumonia. Prior to his death Mr. Ormond was employed in this city and before that he was engaged in the drug business at Halifax. He is survived by his parents, five brothers and two sisters.

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth M., wife of Miles A. Thorne, occurred yesterday. Although she had suffered from heart trouble, Mrs. Thorne had been in fairly good health until she was stricken with acute indigestion. The suddenness of her death added to the shock occasioned by her loss. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Bertha, and one brother, H. Patterson, also of this city. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from her late residence, 178 Britain street.

Mrs. Catherine Carey, widow of Peter Carey, died on Saturday at her residence, Lancaster Heights, after a lengthy illness. Mrs. Carey was in her ninety-first year and until the last she retained the complete use of all her faculties and was remarkably bright and alert. For more than fifty years she made her home in Lancaster and she was highly regarded by a large circle of friends. She leaves to mourn five sons, William and Frances of Boston; Mark, of this city, and Samuel and John at home; one daughter, Mrs. L. Beckwith, and one sister, Mrs. Rose Haggerty, of Fairville. The funeral will take place from her late residence on Monday afternoon.

Charles A. Walsh passed away at his home in East Boston on May 29, aged seventy-one years. He is survived by four sons, Charles A., Harry W., W. Frederick and Archie K., all of Boston; and two daughters, Miss J. R. Alberta, at home, and Mrs. Jennie Armstrong, of this city. The funeral will be held from the residence of his son-in-law, W. D. Armstrong, 203 Victoria street, on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, daylight time. He was a former resident of St. John.

Frederickton, N. B., May 30—John W. Eddy, a well known resident of MacNaquae died Friday at his home, aged seventy-four years. He was a native of that locality. One daughter, Mrs. Clowes Currie survives. The funeral took place Saturday at MacNaquae.

Frederickton, N. B., May 30—Ludlow Smith, a prominent and well-known resident of Lincoln, died Friday evening after a short illness. He was in his seventy-second year. On daughter, Mrs. A. C. Young survives, living at home. She also is survived by one brother George Smith and by three sisters, Mrs. W. J. Noble of Nasonworth, Miss Annie M. Smith and Mrs. M. E. Edgerton of Fall River (Mass.). The funeral took place Sunday afternoon.

Frederickton, N. B., May 30—John Sinden of Russiagornish died Friday in the Victoria Public Hospital, aged sixty-eight years. He had been ill with pneumonia for a short time. Three daughters survive also one sister and two brothers. The daughters are Mrs. Phillips of Lincoln, Mrs. Allen Glazier and Miss Charlotte Sinden of Boston. The sister is Mrs. Timothy Deattee. The brothers are Stafford of Russiagornish and Judson of Sackatchewan. The funeral took place Sunday.

FUNERALS YESTERDAY.
The funeral of Miss Sarah Smith took place yesterday afternoon from her late residence, 282 Princess street. The service was conducted by Rev. H. A. Goodwin and interment was made in Fernhill cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary M. Colwell took place on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 from her late residence, 18 Chapel street. Rev. Neil MacLaughlin conducted the services and interment was made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

ANGLING FOR THE IRISH VOTE.
(New York Times.)
The Irish question in Ireland is critical. But the Irish question in the United States is scandalous. Here it has been made the sport of intriguing politicians. They do not care a straw for Ireland, subjugated or independent, happy or miserable; but they do care mightily for Irish-American votes. To angle for them both parties have in the past stopped at nothing. Especially in a presidential year is there an ignoble competition to see who can go furthest in affronting England, trampling upon the good understanding which was one of the most hopeful results of the war, and bringing American diplomacy into contempt.

The latest instance of this recklessness occurs in connection with a resolution now under consideration by the house foreign affairs committee to "recognize" the Irish republic and to send an American minister to be "near" its government. No one can prevent such fool resolutions from being introduced; but it is supposed to be the business of a responsible committee to throw them in to the receptacles conveniently provided for rubbish.

Chairman Foster of the foreign affairs committee, however, in order that he might do, or seem to be doing, something in the affair, wrote to the department of state to ask him to appoint a committee to investigate the subject of such a resolution. In reply Secretary Colby was polite but curt. He would not undertake to "direct" your committee from any action which is dictated by good judgment and which it may feel conscientiously impelled to take.

In all this the partisan maneuvering is not hidden. The Republicans evidently hoped that a Democratic administration would sternly frown upon their proposed folly. Then they could turn to the Irish and say: "You see, we can do nothing against Wilson with his implacable hatred of Ireland." But now the Republicans are left free to go ahead and recognize Irish independence if they dare. It is, of course, almost inconceivable that they should do it. The senate would block the move if the house were mad enough to make it. In the last resort the president would be bound to disregard it. He could not congress know, as President Cleveland did when it was a question of a congressional recognition of the Cuban republic, that the opinions of senators and representatives on that subject were eminently interesting, but could have no effect upon the sworn duty of the executive himself to receive and appoint ministers and ambassadors.

One would think that not even the most glib of Irish-Americans could be deceived by all this partisan by-play. Its insincerity is transparent. But this does not make the entire procedure less humiliating. What shall it profit a party to gain a few Irish votes and lose the remnants of its own self-respect?

How a Woman Writer Won Success By Sheer Pluck

Want of Health, Want of Money, Handicapped Ida Clyde Clarke for Years, But She Leads in Her Special Field.

(By Rosalind Scott Dunkin.)

Ida Clyde Clarke, today the leading woman writer of the seal-editorial type of article, is a slender little woman of dominant personality and 100 per cent wit.

She might be described accurately as self-made, though she would modify the statement, insisting that a large part of her victory over adverse circumstances was due to her sister Beverly. One cannot get an exact picture of Mrs. Clarke without showing her in relation to her home life, which so influenced her career, but if every woman professes the compatibility of coupling the duties of home maker and fame builder, that woman is Ida Clyde Clarke.

An ardent advocate of the doctrine of work, Mrs. Clarke has not been afraid to put her own ideals to the test.

"I am not like the writer who talks of the little things which come singing to her in the night," she says. "Nothing ever sings to me and what I get I work mightily hard for. I do not believe that we any of us get anywhere or do anything worth while without work. I think that writing in particular has been halloed with an alluring, gaudy of romance. Of course it's fascinating. I personally love it, but it's not easy. No important step in life is gained so easily."

When she considers the literary background (Charles Hanson Towne is her first cousin and James Lane Allen a relation on her father's side) and the host of friends surrounding her it seems as if Mrs. Clarke would have been almost ungrateful not to succeed as a writer. The truth is that she has made her way not only alone but fighting against odds that would have discouraged many a less determined personality.

A Long, Long Uphill Fight.

Left a widow with two small children and a bank balance of one hundred and one nickel, she realized the necessity of persevering work. Then illness, one big obstacle which has continually beset her path, set her back for a year, where though flat on her back she wrote stories enough to meet expenses.

For two years previous to her husband's death she had been earning $18 a week and supporting herself and her family on it. She had found it necessary to work almost all of her married life because, as she expresses it, "My husband was one of the splendid types, ever the devoted companion, a dreamer of exquisite fancies but impractical. He couldn't see the financial side of life, but I never minded that. We were so happy."

When she came out of the hospital Mrs. Clarke went to New Orleans to rest. The doctors told her that she couldn't live. She wrote to her son Beverly, then fifteen years old, and sending him $25 told him to go to Nashville, where he could easily get a job on a newspaper, as he would have to look out for himself. She had reached the limit of her strength and could do no more.

Beverly Clarke, while possessing his father's great faith and vision, has also his mother's courage. Instead of going to Nashville he went to New Orleans and announced to his mother that he was going to take care of her. He was also most emphatic in declaring that she was going to get well. Knowing she had always wanted to come to New York he brought her here on the proceeds of a story she had just sold.

Four years ago Mrs. Clarke and her elder son arrived in New York with $400. The other son, then eleven, was left with friends in the South until they could send for him. Today Beverly is finishing his junior year in college, having earned the money to put himself through and the younger boy is ready to enter Princeton next year.

Her Son's Faith Justified.

"It was just Beverly's faith which kept me alive then," Mrs. Clarke explained. "He took care of me until I was able to pull myself together and write. Mr. Vance of Pictorial Review asked me to do a back-of-the-book story for him, and the first article I sent was put in the front ever since. Of course I had had excellent training, having covered political conventions for five years, and I was thoroughly familiar with all the big public problems and movements."

"I love conventions of all kinds and they are my greatest source of ideas for articles. Wherever I hear of a convention I go to it, whether it's about shoes or styles or the undertaking business, and I always come back with a list of new story suggestions."

"My other main source of ideas is the newspapers. I subscribe to six in different sections of the country, and I read them all in odd moments, even to the advertisements, and I find they give me a broad and comprehensive view of what people are interested in and thinking about."

"When I sit down to write an article I have all my notes on and I have read over everything I could get hold of on that subject. The actual writing takes little time and I rarely have to change a word. I write all my own headlines and sub-heads and prepare the copy myself, but when the article leaves my hands I lose interest in it immediately and am eager to get into the next one. Her Golden Rule is Work."

"I think the best possible training for any writer is to be on a newspaper in a small city, for in that way a person becomes thoroughly familiar with every job on the sheet. The staff has to be

BASUTO CHIEF AMAZED.
Lerothodi, a great Basuto chief, who recently returned home after a visit to England, when asked by a representative of the Natal Witness what amazed him most on his trip, replied:

"The great works of the ship and the cleverness of the white people in sailing the vessel through such a vast sea day and night."
London made a tremendous impression on the Basuto. They saw more lights and people than they could remember. The people, motor cars, motorcycles, bicycles and numberless vehicles somewhat stupefied them.

What struck the chief more than anything was the London policeman. The chief grew quite enthusiastic, and went through the signs of the policeman in directing the traffic, and he remarked with astonishment: "When a day is finished and darkness sets in, I thought some one would be killed, but there are no accidents."

IRON, STEEL, METAL AND MACHINERY MARKETS

In its summary of the iron, steel, metal and machinery markets for the week ended May 27, Canadian Machinery and Manufacturing News, Toronto, makes the following comment: The way in which traffic has been held up from United States points for weeks past may mean that some Canadian buyers will have the war tax on shipments of material, such as various lines of steel and machinery. Dealers will be only too ready to pass on anything that looks like a measure of relief to the trade, but there is a certain amount of stock in the warehouses, and on this subject of the reduction. There is such a scarcity of material now that 7 1/2 per cent, does not make much difference, when compared to the big program of getting the shipments through at any price. LEVINSKY IS READY

Carpenter Must Train to Win From American Fighter. New York, May 31—Georges Carpentier will have no easy hour with Battling Levinsky. If he expects to flit through his match with the American weight heavyweight champion as he steps through a practice bout he is apt to be capsized after the fashion of a canoe in the trough of the sea. The Frenchman will have to be fit—as fit as he possibly can be to get away with the honors. Levinsky may be on the down-grade. He may be betraying signs of decay, but he is a rugged citizen nevertheless; able to exchange a tit for a tat in any company. Much will be at stake for Levinsky. If, indeed, the match is to be absolutely on the up and up. Victory over Carpentier would lift the American higher than he has been in years. Defeat would plunge him to the pits. But it behooves Carpentier to train diligently for several weeks. Life amid the froth and tinsel of the studios is not conducive to good fighting. It has a softening effect, to which pugilists never fall prey. Carpentier had better observe his step.

ing more and more congested, and promises nothing better. Canners are facing a serious time of the year, with the preserving season not far off and their supply of tin plate not moving. It is estimated that right now it would require 8,500 box cars to move the tin plate necessary for the canning season, and the movement has not started yet. Inquiries are not particularly numerous just now. Large projects in several instances are held up, waiting to see if there will be any decrease in the building prices, as the price of plants for housing new equipment is a serious problem. Most of the large buyers of iron and steel scrap are out of the market for the present, and their continued absence is having the effect of making trade dull. Little exporting business is being done in either copper, brass or steel scrap.

ST. JOHN OARSMEN WILL COMPETE

(Woodstock Press.) The program is arranged for races on July 12 and 13, for purses aggregating $8,000, is attracting the attention of the prominent horsemen all over the country and the events scheduled will be full of interest and excitement for all who attend. At a meeting held Monday evening it was decided to enlarge the scope of the plans with the addition of many new features. Holding a carnival on the same dates, along the lines of a similar event held some years ago, seemed to meet with the approval of those present. It was decided to call a citizens' meeting on the 26th inst., when the whole matter would be discussed and action taken. A prominent proposed feature will be a program of water sports, in which St. John oarsmen will compete. There will be a procession of all the organizations of the town and neighboring firemen will also be asked to participate in the parade. The town will be handsomely decorated and it is expected that a number of distinguished visitors will be here. If the proposed program is carried out many visitors will be present. Excursion.

ST. QUENTIN IS DESTROYED BY GREAT FIRE

Town on International Railway Wiped Out — Many Narrow Escapes — Help Being Sent Sufferers — Other Fires.

A forest fire completely destroyed the new town of St. Quentin, formerly the village of Anderson, on the International division of the C. N. R. in Restigouche county, about 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon. The only buildings spared were the Roman Catholic church and presbytery. The loss is roughly estimated at from $400,000 to $500,000. The insurance is comparatively light because of the great fire hazard in that region. Fortunately no lives were lost in the conflagration, but had it not been for the presence of a train at the town at the time it began to burn the lives of many women and children would undoubtedly have been lost as people were confused and almost helpless in the intense pall of smoke and firebrands. Many saved only the clothes they wore, and there is great need of help for the stricken sufferers.

Hon. W. E. Foster heard yesterday of the disaster at St. Quentin with great regret. He authorized Arthur T. LeBlanc, M. P. P., of Campbellton, to procure all necessary supplies up to a reasonable amount and forward them to the fire sufferers. The provincial government will provide all the aid in its power, and Mr. LeBlanc is working energetically to rush such needed food and other things to the unfortunate people of the burned town.

St. Quentin was the largest place along the one hundred and eleven miles of railway between Campbellton and St. Leonard's, on the St. John River. It was originally a small settlement built on provincial government land, set apart during the regime of Premier Haasen and was called Anderson. The town was about nine years old and had been growing rapidly until the residents, nearly one thousand in number, decided to apply for incorporation as a town. The town was about to have a mayor and council and had planned extensive improvements. It was re-named St. Quentin during the war in honor of the victory of the Canadian boys, at the French town of that name, where Restigouche soldiers fought. St. Quentin was located forty-two miles east of St. Leonard's and seventy miles from Campbellton by rail. The nearest villages are Five Fingers, a mile to the eastward, and Haasen, two miles and a quarter to the westward. Many of the homeless inhabitants of St. Quentin found refuge in Haasen, Five Fingers and other settlements along the International railway line.

Among the buildings burned in St. Quentin were the following: Canada House, Lavoie's Hotel, J. E. Michaud's mills, store, warehouse and dwelling; Roy's window sash and door factory; Banque du Provincial de Canada, Michaud & Chouinard's bakery, Theatre in course of erection, C.N.R. railway station, Post-office, school house, tinware shop, skating rink, town lock-up, Gauthier's bowling alley, Lynch's lumber mill, Lynch & Fournier's store, Chouinard's store, Yesebe & Co's store, Michaud's store, Seneschal & Co's store, Savoie's store, Leveque & Co's store, Cagnon's store, Nadeau and Lynch store.

Dozen Cars on Sidings Burned. In addition the flames licked up seven cars loaded with pulp wood and five cars of logs on the sidings.

Mr. Levesque, who arrived in Campbellton yesterday, said that of all the large stock of goods in his store he saved only a sweater he wore. The other merchants lost much of their stock, the majority all of it.

Many of the fifty or sixty dwellings burned were comparatively new and well fitted up. Women and children fled in terror from their burning homes, some taking what they could, but the majority lost everything but what they stood in. A train was standing at the station at the time, and the railroad hands worked heroically to calm the population. They helped the women and children aboard the cars and made them as comfortable as possible. The train then pulled out of the danger belt.

Parish Church Saved. The men of the town were able to save the St. Quentin parish church and the residence of the pastor, Rev. Father E. Martin. These buildings stood on a higher ground than the rest of the town, and remain standing as monuments to what was a thriving and prosperous community. Father Martin was injured while working on the roof of the presbytery and did grand work to aid the stricken population. There were many instances of heroism in face of terrible danger, and although many of the people feel the loss of their fine town keenly yet they are not discouraged, and hope to rebuild. Some, however, have lost all, and these consider that they were fortunate to escape without serious injury.

Victoria County. In Victoria county seven buildings have been destroyed by woods fires. In addition to the recent fire at Pleasant Rock, where the Baptist church and three other buildings were burned, James Burgess & Sons' lumber mill at The Camp and 120 cords of pulp wood have been destroyed. In the Blue Bell district two buildings have been burned and also five hundred cords of pulp wood.

Yesterday two other fires got under considerable headway, one in the vicinity of Fairfield and another along the upper Quaco road. A. F. Bentley, councillor for St. Martin's parish, and others went to the scene of the fires in automobiles. Both of these fires are still in the woods and have not reached any buildings. Smoke from them could be seen from the city yesterday afternoon. St. George, May 30.—On Saturday afternoon fire starting in the bush and fanned by a high wind swept over the property owned by J. Sutton Clark at L'Etiang, and when the smoke cleared away the wharf, sardine factory, hotel, three houses and two barns were in ashes. A new motor boat, owned by F. Hatt, was burned with the wharf, and weir twine and seines worth thousands of dollars went up with the smoke. The loss will total between $40,000 and $50,000. Only one of the buildings, that occupied by F. Hatt who saved his furniture, was tenanted. The village is some distance from the settlement at L'Etiang and most of the men were away at their work.

The factory was owned by Lee & O'Leary and was equipped with valuable machinery. The loss also includes ploughs, wagons and sleds and equipment for farming stored in the barns. Nova Scotia Fire. Truro, N. S., May 30.—Forty-seven buildings, including four churches and a school, were totally destroyed at Londonderry, twenty-three miles north of here, in a destructive fire which broke out at 8.30 o'clock this morning and, fanned by a strong north wind, raged with terrific intensity for two and a half hours, coming to a stop only when its available fuel was exhausted. The property loss is more than $100,000 and may reach $200,000. More than twenty families are homeless, and in all cases they have lost some, if not all, of their household furniture. Scattered about the burned area are small heaps of household goods, in some cases pitifully few, but all that was saved from the fire brand. The whole flat-iron shaped district between the Great Village river and a small brook to the east with the exception of two small buildings, was laid in ashes and is a scene of utter desolation, here and there an ember burning. The churches destroyed are the Baptist, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic and Anglican, which were all close together in the devastated area. The only church building remaining is the Methodist, which is located in another part of the village. The school building was a six-room structure of three departments. Other buildings destroyed include St. Bridges hall, owned by the Roman Catholic church, the Giebe House of the Roman Catholic church occupied by the priest in charge, Rev. L. L. Graham; the rectory of St. Paul Anglican church, occupied by Logan McSweeney; the old Scurrah Hotel, owned by the London-derry Iron & Mining Company, but not occupied, and The Lindens, a beautiful property formerly used as the residence of the General manager of the Iron and Mining Company and since occupied by Mrs. Barker.

HOLD UP KEEPER AND ESCAPE FROM ERIE COUNTY JAIL

(Canadian Press Despatch) Buffalo, May 30.—William Marweg, alleged murderer and Joseph Brady, charged with larceny, escaped from the Erie county jail this morning after holding up a keeper at the point of a revolver and taking away his keys. Marweg was convicted of first degree murder several months ago, but the conviction was reversed and he was brought here to await a second trial. Brady was charged with violating the federal law against interstate transportation of stolen automobiles. He is said to be wanted in Newark for alleged theft of $10,000 worth of gold leaf and also as a witness in a police investigation there.

SOLDIER BONUS BILL DOOMED TO LONG SLEEP

(Canadian Press Despatch) Washington, May 30.—The soldier bonus bill passed yesterday by the house 289 to 92 will be received tomorrow by the senate. The measure will follow the regular course and be referred to a committee. Inasmuch as a recess and possibly adjournment, will be taken by congress Saturday until after the political convention, the bonus bill seems doomed to a long sleep in the senate committee. If a recess is taken leaders do not contemplate convening until about September 1. Some senators are quite frank in saying that the bill will never get any further and that tomorrow's references to a committee will in fact be interim.

GREEK TROOPS ARE OCCUPYING TURKISH THRACE

(Canadian Press Despatch) Constantinople, May 30.—Greek troops began the occupation of Turkish Thrace on Friday and the first trainload has arrived at a point opposite Adrianople. M. Canelopoulos, the Greek high commissioner at Constantinople, says the occupation so far has been without incident. He added that Bulgarians had made representations to the French that they suffered indignities at the hands of the Greeks, but that the French commandant declared the complaints were unfounded. M. Canelopoulos said that he did not know whether a complete occupation of Turkish Thrace would be carried out. Surprise was expressed by Turkish officials that the occupation had begun prior to formal action on the treaty with Turkey.

North End Baseball League. Editor of the Times:— In reply to the criticism of the Times in Saturday's Times, would say that they were not barred from entering the league. There were five teams entered and as four teams were sufficient (as we can not get players on Friday evenings, as the stores are open), we had to drop one team. It was left in our hands to pick four teams, and in the draw the Thistles lost. True, the Enterprise Club had no representatives at the meeting, as they were delayed, but they had assured us they would enter the league.

This league was founded in 1918 and is not confined to the North End, but is open to any team in the city, and is not connected with the North End Improvement League in any way.

ACQUATIC. Harvard and Hesley. Boston, May 31.—Harvard University will not defend its regatta of 1918, but a Harvard crew rowing under the colors of the Union Boat Club of this city is training for an attempt to keep the trophy in this country. All indications now are that this crew will be America's only representatives at the classic English aquatic meeting to be held July 1-3 except for possible entries in individual and doubles events. Financing of the trip is assured, it is understood, and an upset in form at the last moment would prevent the participation of the Americans.

Hagen to England. New York, May 29.—Walter C. Hagen, of Rochester, N. Y., the national open champion golfer, who has gone to England to take part in the British open championship competition which will begin at Deal, England on June 28. The Kentish course is laid out over the sand dunes bordering the North Sea and the pick of the best British professional talent and half a score of first-class amateurs will make up the field of contestants whom the small team of American professionals headed by Hagen, will have to compete.

In Hagen the United States has a real home bred professional golfer, who has learned everything he knows about the game on this side of the Atlantic Ocean. Born at Rochester, N. Y., 28 years ago, Hagen was first attracted to the ancient game when as a schoolboy he spent his evenings on the local club's course working as a hand-caddy. Although from his earliest efforts to master the intricacies of the links game Hagen gave promise of unusual proficiency it was until the fall of 1913 that he jumped into public notice. That was the year in which Francis Ouimet tied with and subsequently defeated the British expert, Vardon and Hay, in the national open championship tournament at the Country Club, Brookline, Mass. This famous trio had scores of 804 each while there was a quadruple tie for fourth place by Hagen, Jim Barnes, Macdonald Smith and Louis Feller, a French professional, with scores of 807 each.

In August of the following year, 1914, Hagen won the open title from a great field of players at the Midlothian Country Club, Blue Island, Ill. with a score of 290, just one stroke under the famous amateur Charles ("Chick") Evans, of Chicago, who took second honors while Ouimet finished in a triple tie with the professionals M. J. Brady and James A. Donaldson, for fifth place with scores of 298 each.

After finishing in seventeenth and seventh places for the open championship in 1915 and 1916, Hagen won the title again last year after a win with M. J. Brady at Boston. Each had a score of 301 and in the 18 hole play off Hagen won with 77 to Brady's 78.

A short time ago at New Orleans Hagen gave a very fine exhibition of his prowess, when he defeated Jim Barnes in a sensational match over the Country Club's links there. He is possessed of wonderful nerve and gameness and when in a close race he can be depended upon to do the right thing at the right time always being enough in reserve for a supreme effort.

After his arrival in England, Hagen will have about three weeks in which to get into shape for the big event. On June 21 and 22 the entrants for the open will have a test over the St. George's Hill course near Weymouth, Surrey when it is hoped Hagen will be one of the professional players who will qualify for the championship in this two day's play.

ATHLETIC. New World's Record. E. J. Thomson, a student at Dartmouth University, who is to compete as a member of the Canadian Olympic team, established a new world's record Saturday at Philadelphia when he ran the 120 yards hurdles in 14.2 seconds.

WRESTLING. Zyzysko Defeats Casasu. Stanislaus Zyzysko defeated Raymond Casasu in Montreal Saturday, taking two falls in fifty minutes. Salvadore Casasu defeated Hanson in straight falls in thirty-eight minutes.

THE RING. Dundee Gets Decision. Johnny Dundee of New York was given a decision over Jack Lawlor of Omaha City in a boxing bout in Lawrence, Mass. Saturday night.

A bout between Paul Moore of New Orleans and Mel Coogan of Brooklyn, N. Y., was called off.

PURCHASE MAY HAVE RUN HIS LAST RACE. Old Ankle Lameness Returns to Keep Him Out of the Metropolitan Handicap.

New York, May 29.—In withdrawing purchase from the Metropolitan Handicap at Belmont Park, Sam C. Hildreth announced that it was quite possible the great son of Orsande and Cherylis would never be seen under colors again. Purchase broke down in training and his owner is doubtful if the colt will ever be able to stand a campaign of training which will fit him for the race.

While being trained at Laurel last October Purchase was lame with a bad ankle and was put aside for the season. This year Hildreth put him into training again, the lameness having entirely disappeared. Purchase was remarkably well as he was nearing top form he showed all the speed which made him a topnotcher as a three-year-old. Saturday he was given a severe test in preparation for the Metropolitan and when he returned to the barn he had a slight limp. Hildreth discovered that the ankle which had gone wrong in Maryland had again been injured and he at once took the horse out of training.

KILBANE TO SUE FOR HIS MONEY. Fulfills Terms of Contract—Fleming in Toronto, But the Bout Is Off.

(Toronto Globe). There was no bout between Johnny Kilbane, world's featherweight champion, and Frankie Fleming, former Canadian champion of that division, at Exhibition Park last night, when Fleming arrived in town yesterday, but was not prepared to make the weight agreed upon in the contract with the promoters of the Grand Army-United Veteran Carnival. Kilbane insisted that he was willing to go on with Fleming at catchweights, but the Canadian boxer, although willing to lose his forfeit, wanted the promoters to pay him the amount guaranteed him. No agreement could be reached in the matter, and the bout was definitely cancelled late yesterday afternoon.

The end, however, is not yet. Kilbane fulfilled all the terms of his contract with the promoters, and will take legal steps to get the money that he considers is due him. Kilbane even went to the length of bringing Walter C. Kelly, the veteran Buffalo sporting writer and referee, to Toronto, to appear in the ring with him at Exhibition Park last night.

The world's champion told the crowd that he had done everything possible to bring about the match with Fleming. He said that he came because he understood that the bout was to be for the benefit of the returned soldiers, and further stated that he would be glad to come back at any time if his services were desired by the veterans. Johnny is all business, as somebody will ascertain before he is through.

FIGHTER DEAD. Toronto, May 30.—Robert Day, a well known boxer in his day, was found dead in a room in the Broadview Hotel here, on Saturday with an empty bottle, which had contained carbolic acid, beside him. "Bob" Day was at one time heavy-weight champion of Canada. He was about forty-five years of age.

MUST STOP RUSH TO CITY FROM FARMS
That the migration of farmers, farm workers and country residents in general to the cities and towns must be stopped without delay if Canada is to escape an economic crisis is the opinion emphatically expressed by the Hon. J. E. Caron, minister of agriculture for the province of Quebec. "I am no prophet," Mr. Caron said, "for already the situation has reached a stage where production is being affected. The lack of farm hands, and to the disad in which the soil is being treated. The short hours guaranteed and the high wages in Ontario and other sections of the dominion the crop will be greatly affected. The province of Quebec will be less affected, but its production will suffer from the movement to a certain extent. "The cities of Montreal, Quebec and Three Rivers have seen population increasing enormously in the last decade, but no explanation of this growth can be given unless it is owing to the constant rural rush to the cities. Complaints have been made that farmers were responsible for the high cost of living, that they were overcharging. I think this is an error. When farmers have cleared two or three thousand dollars' profit in a year I think they are called wealthy, although they have been working without restricted hours. I may be asked how the problem is to be solved, and told there is no possible means of bringing back a farmer's son, who has been in the city, to the soil, but steps must be taken to attract those who are still on the land to remain here. The equilibrium must be re-established by the re-operation of every one. The farmer's life has been greatly improved in recent years as far as conditions of means, and this can only be done with the co-operation of every one. The people on the soil, if farms are not to become fields without any culture, and unless this is done within the next two years, (without being a pessimist), I

Sound of Child Crying at Night Has Made Many a Burglar Go Back Home.
Some years ago three men had decided to break into the office of a large factory in the North, and make an attempt on the safe. They had learnt that a large sum of money was kept in that safe for a day or two, and they resolved to divert this money from going into its proper channel, and turn the stream towards themselves, says Spare Moment. They had nearly reached the factory, when a cat started from a corner and ran across their path, and by the light of the moon, which peeped forth at that very moment, they saw that it was black. Immediately they halted. After some discussion, one of them refused to proceed, and went back, while the others, although they were nervous at the thought of ill-luck, went on. They were caught in the act of drilling a hole in the safe door and sentenced to long terms of penal servitude.

warded off by some lucky omen; but, as the lucky omens are not reached so numerous as they are, it usually follows that the thief remains idle, to the benefit of the community.
Spare the Blind.
It is rarely that a pickpocket will steal, given a blind man. We can hardly imagine that the man's affliction and helplessness appeal to the finer feelings of one who would not hesitate to steal the last penny from the pocket of a poor woman; it is because he is convinced that a long run of bad luck will dog his steps as a punishment for having taken advantage of the man's infirmity.
Recently a convict admitted that if he walked over a line chalked on the pavement—as children in the suburban thoroughfares make when playing at certain games—he would not attempt a robbery for twenty-four hours, as he believed that bad luck would attend him in his undertaking; and he solemnly asserted his belief that his capture was due to his having disregarded this little omen.

GEN. CURRIE EXPLAINS CAMP CANCELLATION

Incomplete Re-organization Is the Principal Reason

Is Strongly for Continuation of Permanent Adjutant Scheme — Speaks Highly of 26th and Other Fighting Units From This Province.

"I am not in a position to say definitely that the camps are off or not," General Sir Arthur Currie said this morning in an interview with a Times reporter. There is one feature of the camp which enters into consideration at the present time," he continued. "Every militia officer before the war will tell you that our militia would be much more efficient if they had a permanent adjutant to look after the interior economy and correspondence and handle the training of non-commissioned officers in each district. Last year the government decided to acknowledge this fact and for the purposes of re-organization had allowed each city corps to have a permanent adjutant, a sergeant-major and, if they chose, an orderly room clerk. This privilege was extended to machine gun units and great pressure was brought to bear on the government to extend it to artillery brigades and rural regiments, cavalry units, etc.

"The money paid for these officials came from the demobilization vote, which is now exhausted, and some policy is to be decided on for provision for this work in future. I believe it is a very important factor in the efficiency of militia units and the announcement that these adjutants would probably be withdrawn at the end of June raised a protest which extended from Halifax to Vancouver.

"If they are to be continued, as I think they should, the money will probably have to come out of the training vote. Realizing that re-organization is not complete in all units and that, if we did so camp this year it would be at a sacrifice to the personal interests of our officers and men, perhaps it would be just as well if the camp was eliminated for this season.

"In previous years we had to assemble men in camp because we did not have trained instructors to give to all the headquarters where they could not get as good training as in camp. Now in almost every district there are men capable of carrying out the training through the experience which they gained during the war.

"Therefore, this year, I think that it would be better to let the efficiency of the service if we took out of the training vote sufficient money to give to all units some help in the way of a permanent adjutant or, through their managing director, Mr. Morse, and the chief engineer, Mr. Cann, extended him every courtesy, placing their staff at his disposal and a thorough inspection of all their apparatus in their factory and tests rooms was made, a privilege rarely granted to anyone.

Mr. Vaughan also says that he also listened to most of the wireless telegraph stations in the world which were sending wireless telegraph messages and press from such stations as Eiffel Tower, Paris; Naun, Germany; Clifton, Ireland; Bermuda, Arlington, New Brunswick; U. S. A.; Demerara, Barrington and many other of the large wireless telegraph stations located in Europe and America and that with the new valve detectors and amplifiers all the signals were very loud and distinct, a wonderful achievement when one realizes that some of these stations were 4,000 miles away.

Speaking of the recruiting of the active militia, General Currie said that he would like to see many of the old men of the Canadian Corps join. If they were unable to do so he would like them to speak well of the active militia and try to induce their younger friends to join. "I hope that the local regiments will be overfilled at the end of this season," the general said, "so that the splendid traditions of the gallant 26th Battalion may be upheld."

Although this is his first trip to eastern Canada, Sir Arthur said that he was always very much interested in St. John, and had looked forward with much pleasure to his visit here. "I have read much regarding the activities of the port," he said, "and I know that the future of the city from a commercial point of view is very bright. I was very agreeably impressed both with the city and people I have met since coming here."

"It gives me a great deal of pleasure to renew many of the acquaintances I made overseas. I know that a great many of the men who made up the Canadian artillery came from this section and we also had quite a number of sappers. Then there is your 26th Battalion and a portion of the 12th which contained many splendid men. I also remember that several New Brunswick men came to the 44th Battalion, and they were 'big, strong, husky chaps' who didn't fear anybody or anything."

The general said that he was also favorably impressed with Moncton. "In fact," he said, "I was rather surprised to find it was such a bright, busy little town." He said the scenery between Moncton and St. John, and particularly along the Kennebecasis river, was magnificent.

General Currie, accompanied by Brigadier General Macdonnell, officer commanding this military district, and Major O'Connor, his aide, left at ten o'clock to visit the St. John county hospital and the D. S. C. R. hospital in Lunenburg and at noon went to Rothesay where he and Lady Currie were the guests of Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Pugsley. On their return they were taken for an automobile tour about the city and this evening at 7 o'clock will be the guests of Mayor Schofield at the Union Club. Tonight at nine o'clock the general will address a mass meeting in the Imperial Theatre under the auspices of the Canadian Clubs.

ST. JOHN MAN IN LONG DISTANCE WIRELESS TALK

F. P. Vaughan, Home from Montreal, Gives Interesting Account of Results.

Frank P. Vaughan, well known electrical engineer of The Vaughan Electric Co., Ltd., who has just returned after a trip to Montreal and Ottawa and who took part in the demonstrations and tests of wireless telephony between these cities by the Canadian Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company, says that he was talking to Montreal from Ottawa, a distance of 111 miles, and says that the tests were satisfactory in every way. Conversational, songs and phonograph music were easily transmitted and the voice of the speaker was better than over the telephone line, the voice and music being transmitted without distortion and the speaker's voice easily recognized.

Mr. Vaughan said in a lecture before the Men's Guild of Knox church and at a talk before the Rotary Club in this city about a month ago on this interesting subject: "That the advent of wireless telephony had arrived," due to the war-time development of the valve detectors and amplifiers, and "today wireless telephony was an accomplished commercial success."

The wireless telephone sets that were used, he said, were manufactured by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company and known as Marconi 1/2 kw. wireless telephone and telegraph cabinet sets. The approximate minimum daylight range of this set for telephony is 100 nautical miles and for telegraphy by train (interrupted continuous wave) 150 nautical miles and for telegraphy by uninterrupted continuous waves 300 nautical miles. Considerably greater ranges are obtainable at night under favorable and unfavorable conditions. The receiving apparatus consists of a Marconi type 55 Marconi multiplicative amplifying detectors for continuous wave and spark circuits. The Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company are now installing some of these sets throughout Canada and they are being taken up by the forestry departments for fire protection.

While in Ottawa Mr. Vaughan was present at a lecture delivered by Dr. Eve of McGill University before the Royal Society at the Chateau Laurier, and music, songs and conversation between Montreal and Ottawa were heard by all present, being thrown out into the room by a loud speaking telephone. It might be of local interest to state that Mr. Vaughan was the first to use wireless telephony in Canada, having conducted successful tests in 1908-8 from his laboratory and talked to the Marconi wireless station on Partridge Island, a distance of three or four miles.

While in Ottawa Mr. Vaughan was entertained by Commander Edwards, O. B. E., director of the radio telegraph branch of naval service, and who has been a very close personal friend of his for many years. They were closely associated during the late war. While in Montreal the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company through their managing director, Mr. Morse, and the chief engineer, Mr. Cann, extended him every courtesy, placing their staff at his disposal and a thorough inspection of all their apparatus in their factory and tests rooms was made, a privilege rarely granted to anyone.

ALL WOMEN CAN VOTE

In the Prohibition Referendum in July — Many Details Later.

One of the most important features in connection with the July election, when the electors will be asked whether or not they want prohibition or a return of the open bars, is the fact that all women, by merely taking the trouble to register within two weeks of election day, will have an opportunity to vote and assist in eventually giving New Brunswick real prohibition. Full particulars as to method of registration will appear frequently in these columns, and indicate how all women will have a life time opportunity to serve.
