Miramichi Advance

Dec 17, 1896. The Miramichi Election Petition.

All fair-minded people, regardless of party leaning, will be glad to learn that the Supreme Court has disposed of the Miramichi election petition in favor of the respondent Mr. McCallister.

It is quite evident that the ADVANCE is not quite alone among the Liberal forces of the County—and, indeed, the country at large—in having the loyalty and courage to pursue the path of duty, rather than follow old leaders upon dangerous ground.

The lesson of those stubborn facts is obvious. It ought to teach the editors of the Liberal party which persist in pursuing shadows and relying upon unobtainable and obsolete waterworks, that the men who are to control the destinies of Canada, are they who have a grasp of the present conditions and interests, rather than those who waste time and energy in bewailing the course of our past, and have to this day in our letters and in our public capabilities as to advise us, in the first quarter-century of our existence, to persist in that a national failure by allowing ourselves to be led by the hand and power of another people.

It is gratifying to know that so many of the party have broken away from the old lines at this important time in the history of Canada, and we are quite satisfied upon the fact that the ADVANCE is in the thick of the fight, beside a splendid contingent of independent Liberals, whose clear view of the political ground and loyal representation of the great issues involved led them to recognize as friends, only those who opposed the suicidal and impossible policy of the followers of Messrs. Laurier and Cartwright.

The Herald could not, of course, state the truth in any matter concerning the ADVANCE, and for obvious reasons, it is assumed that the foregoing was from this paper of March 12th, 1896, whereas it was published in 1891—five years previously—before Messrs. Laurier and Cartwright had abandoned the policy of Unrestricted Reciprocity which was the "dangerous ground" upon which the ADVANCE plainly stated that it declined to follow them.

If the Liberal leaders of to-day were to return to their policy of 1891, the ADVANCE would take precisely the same course it then took, especially if that blundering at headquarters were added the foisting upon the constituency of the candidacy of Peter Mitchell, through a hole-and-corner concave secretly called by his relatives and other personal followers usurping the functions and ignoring the rules governing the Liberal Association of the County. Herald writes who about the Senator, the Commons representative of the County and the editor of the ADVANCE after the fashion of the Herald, will have to learn that the more they rave, the more they and their so-called leaders will be laughed at.

It is the Liberal leaders who are controlled by the logic of experience to rely upon level-headed and independent friends who have the brains and courage to think and act for themselves. They cannot be expected to embark their interests upon the mere bulk of a party, rudderless and strained by incompetent handling, and from which almost every officer has been driven through the mutinous plottings of a few "forecastle lawyers" who were shipped for a special voyage. We all know what is troubling the Herald writers, and regret that they are doing much harm to the real Liberals of the County by their ill-considered efforts to get control of a few appointments to offices, forgetting, meantime, some other duty which they owe to the party generally.

Instead of the Liberals of the County knowing why they are banded together as a party, and being made to feel that they have common interests with their political brethren at large, they are divided into factions and made to quarrel with and envy one another, so that their bickering has become a by-word and their self-appointed leaders as helpless as children. How absurd it is, therefore, for them to expect serious recognition while they are thus conducting themselves, and still worse, having done much in an underhand way, to discount their leaders from the province. The Herald writers have not only their faculties somewhat in this manner, but their conversion from the error of their ways is too recent to invite comments just at present. They and their "ables" must keep "marking time" on this wobbly.

The Great Cuban General Killed. Doctor Maximilian Zetochka, formerly Antonio Masco's physician, who succeeded to General Toral at San Felipe, has been interviewed by a reporter for La Libertad, one of the leading newspapers of Havana. Dr. Zetochka says Masco intended to attempt to cross the Straits Dec 3, but was prevented by sickness from doing so. Next day it was announced he would not "match" across the Straits with his men, but would go by water around the end of the Straits and meet the insurgent forces on the Havana side of the line. Two boats were prepared, they being painted black to prevent being seen and were muffled so they could not be heard while playing in rocks. At night Masco and 25 men embarked in the Masco divided his men into two wings, his intention being to surround the Spanish column. He remained alone with his staff for a moment watching the fighting and exclaimed: "This goes well." Shortly afterwards he was hit by two bullets, one striking him on the chin, breaking his jaw, passing out at the junction of the neck and shoulder, the other hitting him in the abdomen. Either wound would have caused death. The rebel leader expired in a short time. The rebels, who were fighting desperately against the circles in this city of the death of Antonio Masco. News came to hand to-day from private sources which acknowledged that no further doubt of Masco's death existed. This information comes directly from Cuban agents on the island and is intended to finish uncertainty in the minds of Cuban residents here. It was characterized as being absolutely authentic and as making an end of any possibility of such a cause. The remarks of Signor Lubriani were received with prolonged applause.

ROME, Dec. 12. A sensation was created in Chamber of Deputies yesterday when Signor Lubriani, leader of the socialist party in the chamber, said in the name of the Italian radicals he sent the Cubans a salute to the noble memory of Gen. Antonio Masco, who had died for his country. "Rebellion," he declared, "is not only right, but it is the duty of the oppressed, and glory comes to those who die in such a cause." The remarks of Signor Lubriani were received with prolonged applause.

accompanied by Mrs. Fraser, Miss Frances Fisher, Provincial Secretary Tweedie, Col. Gordon, E. Byron Winslow, His Lordship the Bishop and Mrs. Kingdon, and Major Henry Montgomery Campbell. The Bishop and Mrs. Kingdon had gone to Vancouver that morning and met Mrs. Fraser there, and Major Campbell was at Fredericton Junction to meet her upon arrival of the train there.

Upon her arrival at Fredericton Railway Station Mrs. Fraser was met by Lieut. Governor McClellan, Judge Barker, Barker, Premier Mitchell, Provincial Secretary Tweedie, Chief Commissioner Emerson, Col. Gordon and the Mayor and aldermen of Fredericton.

The depot on the arrival of the train was crowded with citizens of all classes and York street was thronged as the funeral procession passed along.

The following telegraphic report of the late Lieutenant-Governor's obsequies and other matters connected therewith is from the editor of the ADVANCE, who was

When the Spanish forces appeared Spanish attack, were panic stricken when they heard of the death of their chief. They fled in disorder, not making any attempt then to take Masco's body with them. The Spaniards then returned to Punta Brava with their dead and wounded. When the field was clear some of the rebels returned and carried Masco's body off with them. Dr. Zetochka says he does not know where the remains were buried. Near and far search made by the Spaniards has proved fruitless. PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12. Very little doubt remains in Cuban

Gen. Weyler arrived here last evening. He was given a popular ovation from the time he reached the city limits until he arrived at the palace. The General made an address, from the tower of which it would be supposed the suppression of the rebellion was an accomplished fact. He said among other things that everything that had been done had been accomplished by the army, which had been entrusted with the "protection of the island and the maintenance of Spain's sovereignty."

The funeral pageant and observances at Fredericton, Tuesday, expressed in every form, which such a function could assume, the respect of the province over the death of His Honor Lieut-Governor Fraser and the desire of representative men, of all classes and sections, to honour his memory. Long before the hour appointed for the gathering of the procession, Queen and other streets were thronged with people and as the hour approached both the centre and side of the streets became crowded, but was suspended from two until five o'clock. The procession formed on Queen Street at 2.30 under chief Marshall Roster, whose aides were Messrs. F. B. Edgewood and George Y. Dibble. Many organizations and orders including the University faculty and students and numerous societies were in line. One of the notable features being the French Village, St. Mary's and Croomeo Indian under Chief Nowell, Tomas and Jack Solomon. The St. John and Fredericton City Councils and Boards of Trade, the County Council of several municipalities, the Ancient order of Hibernians, Sons of England, St. George, St. Andrew and other societies, the Military School, the City and Maritime bands were in different parts of the procession.

A barouche high containing basket floral tributes made a splendid display. A three palm leafed floral mound of orchids, made in New York by Provincial Secretary Tweedie's order, on behalf of the Government, a large wreath of amaranth and mistletoe fern with the word "Province," a beautiful wreath of calistoga leaves and English violets, and roses sent by Hon. Samuel Adams of New York; an ivy and rose wreath from Charles C. D. Miller, agent general of the Province in England; a scroll of white roses from Lieut-Governor McClellan's cross from Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Campbell; with floral tributes from Mrs. Alice Council, Woodstock, Mr. and Mrs. E. Byron Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Winslow and many others formed this beautiful display.

Fourteen military officers, among whom were Majors T. G. Loggie of Fredericton and R. L. Malby, of Newcastle escorted the cortège. The pallbearers were Chief Justice Tuck and the Judges of the Supreme Court, Messrs. E. B. T. B. and F. E. Winslow were among the chief mourners. Judge Wilkinson was amongst the County Court Judges. James Robinson and Gilbert Ganong M. P.'s represented the House of Commons. All the members of the provincial government with several ex-members, Speaker J. P. Borchlin, John O'Brien, M. P. P. J. Vanoni, M. P. P. A. Davidson, M. P. E., Hon. Allan Ritchie, L. G. C., D. G. Smith, J. L. Stewart, Ald. Watt, Major J. J. Stuart, C. A. C. Bruce and many other North Shore men were in attendance.

The great procession moved up Queen and Regent and down Brunswick street to the Cathedral, where it was met by the Bishop and clergy, among whom were Revs. Dan Forsyth, and P. G. Shaw. Mrs. Fraser leaning on the arm of E. Byron Winslow, followed up the aisle immediately after the casket. A number of other ladies including Mrs. Kingston, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. L. J. Tweedie, and Mrs. T. B. Winslow, were in the front pews and choir seats. The service was largely eulogical and very impressive. At the conclusion, the procession proceeded to the grave of Lieut-Governor Fraser, accompanied by Mrs. Fraser, taking her place in the coach next to the casket. The interment was in Forest Hill Cemetery where the funeral services were conducted at the grave by the Bishop and assisting clergy.

Our new Lieut-Governor. FREDERICTON, Dec. 11.—Abner Reid McClellan was sworn in as Lieut-Governor of New Brunswick this afternoon at 3.30 in the supreme court room in the legislative building. John J. McGee, clerk of the privy council, arrived at one o'clock with the commission, and with Judge Barker and Governor McClellan, were guests of Premier Mitchell and members of the government at the Queen Hotel. When the party arrived at the legislative building the court rooms were filled with representative citizens including many old personal friends of Governor McClellan, awaiting to tender their congratulations. His Honor was escorted by Premier Mitchell, Hon. Messrs. Emerson and Dan, Judge Barker, Judge Vanwart, Judge Steadman, Senator Temple, John J. McGee and T. C. Allan, clerk of the supreme court, with Judge Stratton, clerk of the executive council, H. B. Rutherford, clerk of the house of assembly, and Sergeant-at-Arms Rutter.

The commission was read by T. C. Allan, after which the oath of office were administered by Judge Barker and signed by Governor McClellan. This done the great seal of the province with a book of instructions were handed by Mr. McGee to his honor, who in turn passed the seal to Premier Mitchell for safe keeping until he called for it, and retained the red covered volume from the privy council for private use.

His Honor was heartily congratulated by those present, who included Sheriff Sheiling, Auditor General Beas, Senator Ward, D. J. Ryan, Q. C., J. W. McGee, H. V. Bridges, J. H. Barry, O. S. Crockett, R. Crookbank, Jas. T. Sharkey, Andrew Inches, Col. Marsh, Wm. Lemont, Geo. W. Black, Dr. J. W. Bridges, Hon. P. G. Ryan, Major Vanwart, J. F. Richards, F. B. Edgewood, Dr. Lech, Z. R. Everett, Martin Lemont, F. D. Clements, Dan Patterson, Hon. A. F. Randolph, F. B. Smith, G. H. Hunt, Wm. Barker, W. G. Clarke, Mark Neville, R. S. Barker, R. L. W. Tibbets, R. B. McClellan, Rev. J. Freeman, J. A. Tilton, S. John.

N. B. Supreme Court. On Saturday last the following decisions of the Supreme Court, sitting at Fredericton, were made known: A GLOUCESTER CO. CASE. Queen vs. Stewart.—The court decided that the real estate of the defendant's bondsmen is liable from date of execution of bond and that their personal property is liable from the issue of the writ of writ, subject to mortgages and execution orders.
