SIGNALER McLENNAN DIES IN ENGLAND

Death Received Here This Morning.

The sad news was received here this morning that Signaller Harry A. McLennan, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McLennan had died in England. Signaller McLennan went overseas with the 55th Battalion. At the battle of Corrolette he was gassed and buried by the explosion of a shell, and returned to England. Shortly after this he was taken ill with pneumonia and has not been in good health since, although about three months ago in a letter from him stated that he was pronounced fit for service again and that he expected to be sent to France at any time, however he was again laid up with a heavy cold.

THE HARRY A. McLENNAN

which developed into bronchitis and died on Wednesday, Feb. 20th, at Moore Barracks, Shorncliffe. Deceased was a favorite with everyone and all will regret to learn of his death. His parents, brothers and sisters have the sympathy of all in their bereavement. He was nineteen years of age.

CAMPBELLTON HOLDS ARCHER TROPHY

Play Close Game Tuesday Evening.

The Campbellton curling rink witnessed an interesting match Tuesday evening, when two rinks of Bathurst curlers played Campbellton for the Archer trophy. While one rink was badly beaten by Campbellton the other Bathurst rink won out and for a time the total score was close. At the end of the thirteenth end Campbellton had only two points to the good, but ended the fifteenth with six to none. The score was as follows:—
"Bathurst" Campbellton
Dr. Duncan 17 J. T. Mowat 17
E. Branch 12 W. R. Witzmaurice 9
The visitors were entertained after the games by the ladies of the Soldiers Comfort Association.

COUNTY BOARD OF HEALTH USELESS

Inspector Gives Scathing Report of Local Body—Steps Should Be Taken.

RESTIGOUCHE.
Dr. Doucet, Chairman.
The following report of Mr. John Hall, re the County Board of Health is certainly interesting and at the present time is a most serious matter. Population—13,000, including Campbellton.
Spent Last Year—$100.
Vital Statistics—Births 1915, 690. Deaths: 1915, 231; 1916, 267.
All reports are sent by clergymen. Records are neatly kept but they are badly mixed and there are no indexes since 1911. They are probably fairly complete, as a large proportion of the population is Catholic. Causes of death generally given. Tuberculosis and infant diarrhoea are prominent. In 1915, twenty deaths under one year from the latter cause are recorded for one month.
Communicable Diseases.—No reports ever received from physicians except in case of an unusual epidemic. Scarlet fever more prevalent than diphtheria. Nothing is done by the Board of Health along any line as far as could be discovered. The chairman is apparently ignorant and certainly inefficient.
Sanitary Engineering.—Only public water supplies are at Campbellton and Dalhousie. Campbellton has only sewer system. See page 48, and special report on Dalhousie water supply, Appendix B.
Food Supervision.—None.
Hospitals.—Hotel Dieu at Campbellton, conducted by Catholic Sisters, takes general cases. No surgical or laboratory facilities. About forty beds. Clean and apparently well conducted and is good work as far as facilities allow.
County Board of Health is useless and should be reorganized without delay.

HEALTH MATTERS IN CAMPBELLTON

Inspector Appointed By Government Makes Interesting Report re Town.

CAMPBELLTON.
Dr. L. G. Pinault, Chairman.
Population—4,500.
Spent Last Year—$125. Sanitary Inspector, $75; Secretary, $50.
Vital Statistics.—(See Restigouche County.)
Communicable Diseases.—Control poor. Physicians report cases to Secretary of the Board of Health who keeps no records. About eighteen cases of diphtheria in last year. Few of typhoid and measles. No tuberculosis or scarlet fever reported. No investigations made, all facts secured from physicians. Quarantine kept until physician says case is well, then house is fumigated. No fixed period of quarantine. Diphtheria cases out in five days sometimes. No hospital facilities except for smallpox and typhoid.
Sanitary Engineering.—Water supply from springs and lakes in the hills three miles from town. The town owns 200 acres of land on the watershed and it was said there is no opportunity for pollution. Gravity supply to town. No treatment. Water has not been analysed for seven years. About ninety per cent of the population uses the town water. Five per cent could connect but have private wells. The remainder are beyond reach of the pipes.
Sewerage system covers nearly whole of town and is quite generally used. Board of Health is compelling those who can to connect. Outfall pipes at several places into deep water in the river and no nuisance or apparent danger is caused.
No system of removal of garbage and rubbish.
Food Supervision.—Good milk ordinance put into effect in 1916. Two inspections of dairies have been made. Veterinary now employed as milk inspector but has done no work yet. Dealers used to be licensed but are not now. No inspection of places where milk is bottled, and only one examination of a sample was made last year. Milk was suspected of causing a typhoid outbreak but no careful investigation was made and the source remained undetermined. Slaughter houses are kept from becoming a nuisance, but no inspections are made of meat or stores.
Hospitals.—(See Restigouche County.)
Laboratories.—None.
Sanitary Inspections.—An old man at $75 per year makes inspections for general nuisances, posts placards on quarantined houses, etc.
Education.—Some newspaper publicity is given to health on special occasions, such as epidemics.
Recommendations.
Better supervision and control of diseases. Provincial quarantine law should be enforced.
Enforce milk regulations and inspect stores and other foods.
Have one man, paid an adequate salary, do work now poorly done by three men.

C'TON OFFICERS RETURN HOME

Campbellton during the past week has had the pleasure of welcoming home two most popular officers who have been serving at the front. Capt. Fred O'Leary who has been ill for some time has arrived home. He is able to be about, and is being warmly greeted. Major N. C. McKay of the 132nd, who has been in France for some months, and who has suffered from a very serious attack of rheumatism for over two months arrived home Monday evening and was welcomed by many friends. Major McKay is suffering severely from rheumatism and is not able to be up. Many friends hope that he may rapidly improve and be able to get around as usual.

SNOW SLIDE AT MATAPEDIA QU

Horse and Sleigh Buried and Horse Killed—Occupants Had Narrow Escape.

Two young men, Melville Duncan and Austin McNeil, while driving at Matapedia last Friday had a narrow escape from instant death from a snow slide. Young Duncan was driving Austin McNeil towards his home, when a slide came suddenly off the mountain, burying the horse and sleigh completely but the young men managed to get out of the snow. When they went to look for the horse they found it buried, and after some strenuous digging located its head but life was extinct. The horse belonged to W. D. Duncan, Esq., of this town. The young men were indeed fortunate in escaping with their lives.

ADICT FOR HON. JOHN HALL KELLY

Star Concluded—Verdict for $5,000.

The readers of the Graphic will remember a few months ago, the Montreal Star published a letter which simply bore the signature "X", and which connected the name of the Hon. John Hall Kelly, of New Carlisle with the activities of the German Agent, Von Gell and Ambassador Bernstoff. The Graphic got in touch with the Hon. John Hall Kelly at the time, and he denied having any knowledge of anything whatsoever contained in said letter. Immediately the following week, he used the Montreal Daily Star for libel, claiming that he knew absolutely nothing about the contents of the said letter, that it was false and untrue, and constituted a libel against him. The Montreal Star retained the services of the firm of Messrs. Brown, Montgomery and MacMichael, of Montreal, and the case was heard and disposed of by Honorable Judge Lemieux, Judge of the Superior Court, in the city of Quebec, last week. The judgment states that all add every thing that was contained in the said letter as regards Mr. Kelly is false, and moreover that the Star should not have published such a communication, and it therefore condemns the Montreal Daily Star to pay to Mr. Kelly for damages suffered, the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) with interest and costs. If, however, the Star is willing to publish the full text of the judgment, in a conspicuous place in its newspaper, under the heading "APOLOGY FOR LIBEL AGAINST HONORABLE JOHN HALL KELLY", then in that event the amount will be reduced to $500, with all costs against the Star. The Graphic, as soon as judgment was rendered, got in touch with Mr. Kelly over the phone, and he stated that he was informed that the Star would publish the judgment and apologize. Asked as to what he thought about the judgment, he replied that he was naturally satisfied. He moreover added that he never made it a custom to sue anybody or any newspaper that said anything against him, but in this case he made an exception on account of the libellous nature of the article in question. The full text of the judgment rendered will appear in our next issue.

VICTORIA CROSS FOR GALLANT CANADIAN.

Lieut. Mackenzie, of Quebec, Killed in Action, Posthumously Awarded the Cross.

London, Feb. 14 (via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—The award of twelve Victoria Crosses are announced in today's London Gazette:

Lieut. Hugh Mackenzie, late of the Canadian Machine Guns, who was killed in October, and who originally enlisted in Ottawa, with the Princess Patricia's in August, 1914, as a private, is posthumously awarded the Cross, "for most conspicuous bravery and leadership," when in charge of a section of four machine guns accompanying the infantry in attack. Seeing that all the officers and most of the non-commissioned officers of the infantry company had become casualty, and that the men were hesitating before a nest of enemy machine guns, he hurried over the command of his gun to a non-commissioned officer, rallied the infantry, organized an attack and captured a strong position swept by machine gun fire from the pill box which dominated all the ground over which the troops were advancing.

Lieut. Mackenzie made a reconnaissance and detailed frontal and flank parties which captured the pill box he himself being killed while leading the frontal attack. By his valor and leadership this gallant officer ensured the capture of these strong points and so saved the lives of so many of his comrades and enabled the objectives to be obtained.

The late Lieut. Mackenzie was a native of Inverness, Scotland. His mother lives in Quebec.

Toronto Globe: Seven million pounds of cheese and bacon were sent to the bottom by German submarines in one week in December. It is a reminder that not all the food that leaves this side of the Atlantic for the other reaches there. America is not only feeding Europeans, but feeding the fishes.

Save Food

In a time needing food economy many people are not getting all the nourishment they might from their food.

It is not how much you eat, but how much you assimilate, that does you good. The addition of a small teaspoonful of Revril to the diet as a peptogenic before meals leads to more thorough digestion and assimilation and thus saves food, for you need less.

ONE OF WAR'S MINOR DEMANDS

(New York Times)
There are it is said millions of us who have "cut out" bacon that the soldier shall have their rations, and in many households other things than wheat are off the bill of fare. Wheat now have a smaller place on it. With a little planning wheat may be practically eliminated. What we are asked is one of the minor demands of the war. Shall we fail our allies?

BITTER SATIRE FLAYS KAISER AS SATAN'S AID

Louis Syberkrop of Creston, Iowa, has acquired much fame in recent weeks as author of a satire on Kaiser Wilhelm. Requests have come to him from Tammily, Secretary Daniels and Roosevelt, and people in every State of the Union and in Canada for copies of his article. It follows:

"Ottawa, Iowa,
"The Internal Region,
"June 2nd, 1917.

"To Wilhelm von Hohenzollern, King of Prussia, Emperor of all Germany and Envoy Extraordinary of Almighty God:

"My dear Wilhelm: I can call you that familiar name, for I have always been very close to you; much closer than you could ever know.

"From the time that you were yet an undeveloped being in your mother's womb I have shaped your destiny for my own purposes.

Makes Her Blush.

"In the days of Rome I created a rough-neck known in history as Nero. He was a vulgar person and suited my purpose at that particular time. In these modern days a classic demon and efficient super-criminal was needed, and as I know the Hohenzollern blood, I picked you as my special instrument to place on earth an anarchy to hell.

"I gave you abnormal ambition, likewise an oversupply of egotism that you might not discover your own failings. I twisted your mind to that of a madman, with certain normal tendencies to carry you by—a most dangerous character placed in power I gave you the power of a hypnotist and a certain magnetic force that you might sway your people.

"I am responsible for the detestable arm that hangs helpless on your left for your crippled condition embitters your life and destroys all noble impulses that might otherwise cause anxiety; but your strong arm is driven by your ambition that swarms all sentiment and pity. I placed in your soul a deep hatred for all things English, for of all nations on earth I hate England most. Wherever England plants her flag she brings order out of chaos, and the hated Cross follows the Union Jack. Under her rule wild tribes become tillers of the soil and in due time practical citizens. She is the great civilizer of the globe and I HATE HER. I planted in your soul a cruel hatred for your mother, because SHE was English, and left my good friend, Bismarck, to fan the flame I had kindled. Recent history proves how well our work was done. It broke your royal mother's heart, but I gained my purpose.

"The inherited disease of the Hohenzollerns killed your father, just as it will kill you, and you became the ruler of Germany and a tool of mine sooner than I expected.

Three Evil Spirits.

"To assist you and further hasten my work I sent you three evil spirits: Nietzsche, Treitschke and later Bernhardi—whose teachings inflamed the youths of Germany, who in good time would be willing and loyal subjects and eager to spill their blood and pull your chest-uts, yours and mine. The spell has been perfect—you cast your ambitious eyes towards the Mediterranean, Egypt, India and the Danubian, and you began your great railway to Baghdad, but the ambitious archduke and his more ambitious wife stood in your way. It was then that I sowed the seed in your heart that blossomed into the assassination of the Duke and his wife and all hell smiled when it saw how cleverly you saddled the crime on to Serbia. I saw you set sail for the fjords of Norway and I knew you would prove an alibi.

How Like Grandfather.

"How cleverly done; so much like your noble grandfather who also secured an assassin to remove old King Frederick of Denmark, and later robed that country of two provinces that gave Germany an opportunity to become a naval power. Murder is dirty work, but it takes a Hohenzollern to make away a—get by.

Improved on Hades.

"Your opportunity was at hand; you set the world on fire and bells of hell were ringing; your rape on Belgium caused much joy—it was the beginning, the foundation of a perfect hell on earth, the destruction of noble cathedrals and other infinite works of art was hailed with joy in the infernal regions. You made war on friend and foe alike, and one murder of civilians showed my teachings had borne fruit. Your treachery towards neutral nations hastened a universal upheaval—the thing I most desired. Your undersea warfare is a—stroke; from the smallest backstabber to the great Lusitania you show no favorites. A war lord you stand supreme, for you have no mercy; you have no consideration for the baby, clinging to its mother's breast as they both go down into the deep together, only to be torn apart and leisurely devoured by sharks down among the corals.

In Battle's Train.

"I have straggled over the battlefields of Belgium and France. I have seen your handiwork of destruction everywhere; it's all your work, superfluous that I made you. I have seen the fields of Poland, now a wilderness, fit for prowling beasts only; no merry children in Poland now; they all succumbed to frost and starvation. I drifted down into Galicia, where formerly Jews and Gentiles lived happily together; I found but ruins and ashes. I felt a curious pride in my pupil, for it is all above my expectations. I saw in Belgium when you drove the peaceful population before you like cattle into slavery; you separated husband and wife and forced them to hard labor or in trenches. I have seen the most fiendish rape committed on young women, and those who were forced to maternity were cursing the father of their offspring, and I began to doubt if my own inferno was really up to date.

New War Code.

"You have taken millions of dollars from innocent victims and called it insanity; you have lived fat on the land you usurped and sent the owners away to starvation. You have strayed away from all legalized war methods and introduced a code of your own. You have killed and robbed the people of friendly nations and destroyed their property. You are a liar, a hypocrite and a bluffer of the highest magnitude. You are a part of mine and yet you post as a personal friend of God. Ah, Wilhelm, you are a wonder. You wantonly destroy all things in your path and leave nothing for coming generations.

"I was amazed when I saw you form a partnership with the impossible Turk, the chronic killer of Christians, and you a devout worshiper in the Lutheran church. I confess, Wilhelm, you are a puzzle at times. A Mohammedan army, commanded by German officers, assisting one another in massacring Christians is a new line of warfare.

Even Satan Revolts.

"When a Prussian officer can witness a nude woman being disemboweled by a swarthy Turk, committing a double murder with one cut of his sabre, and calmly stand by and see a house full of innocent Armenians locked up, the house saturated with oil and fired, then my teachings did not stop with you, but have been extended to the whole German nation. I confess my Satanic soul grew sick, and then and there I knew the pupil had become the matter. I am a back number, and my dear Wilhelm, I abdicate in your favor. The great key of hell will be turned over to you. The gravel that has struck the doom of damned souls since time began is yours. I am satisfied with what I have done; that my abidance in your favor is for the very best interests of hell. In the future I am at your majesty's service. Affectionately and sincerely,
"LUCIFER H. SATAN."

Breaking the News Gently.

Little Marie stood in the doorway, one hand on the door-knob. For a moment she gazed at her mother, who was preparing to go out.

"Mother," she said, "do you know what I am going to give you for your birthday when it comes?"

"No, dear," answered the mother.

"Please tell me."

"O nice hairpin-tray with gold flowers on it all around," said the little girl.

"But, my dear," exclaimed the mother, "I have a nice one like that already."

"No, you haven't, mother," Marie answered, "I have just dropped it on the floor."

LISTEN TO THIS! SAYS CORNS LIFT RIGHT OUT NOW

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called frezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the fingers. It is a sticky ether compound which dries the moment it is applied and simply shrivels the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of frezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus. You are further warned that cutting at a corn is a suicidal habit.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

In another column we publish the report of Mr. John Hall, who was appointed by the government to make a sanitary survey of the entire province.

Our readers should remember that Mr. Hall is an American, eminently qualified to report on such matters and that being an entire stranger his report must be free from all political bias.

His report in reference to Dalhousie clears up a matter which has long been discussed, and surely now that celebrated two thousand dollar well will be allowed to go into disrepair.

With regard to the County Board of Health the report goes further and gives advice which should be acted upon.

That the county Board of Health or its chairman, has been negligent in the performance of duty is common talk ever since the present smallpox epidemic made itself manifest. In this regard we think the Provincial Board of Health should hold an investigation.

During the session of the Municipal council a county councillor frequently made the statement that smallpox, or the prevalent rash as he called it, had been in existence since early November.

He cited a case where a lumber camp boss was taken ill, had been visited by two doctors, one the chairman of the Board of Health, who pronounced the case smallpox, but took no steps to quarantine the said patient, other than to order him to stay in his bed.

The patient was not sick, and as his work was being neglected, he left his room and visited a number of camps. Another young man in the same building took ill and neither was quarantined.

But the doctor attending these two cases rendered an account to the County Board of Health for attending these patients. The bill was duly certified by the county Board of Health and came before the Municipal council for payment. It was then the above statements were made. We publish the facts just as given, and they are correct an investigation should certainly be held.

WE APOLOGIZE.

We regret exceedingly that the esteemed editor of our contemporary should take to himself our remarks "any fool can criticize but it takes a clever man to be wise". We assure him nobody but himself, in his extreme modesty, would for a minute think we meant him. As everyone knows from his coming here thirteen years ago to the present time he has on every occasion done all in his power both by examples and through the columns of his paper to improve conditions in Campbellton.

We assure him he has taken us up wrongly.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Now that the daylight saving scheme is on the eve of adoption by the Congress of the United States, it is not time that Canada began seriously to consider it? Until our neighbors decided to give the scheme a trial, it was not practicable for us to do so alone but there is now no reason why the two countries, side by side should not adopt it simultaneously.

The advantages of the plan need scarcely be recapitulated. Following the estimates prepared for the consideration of Congress, it appears that it would save us in Canada over 100,000 tons of coal a year, and over three millions a year in gas and electricity bill.

It would stimulate the increase of food production by the extra hour of daylight for work. It will decrease the number of street and highway accidents. It will speed up freight movements on the railways. It will give more time for both work and play, and we need more of both.

On every ground, the change proposed is a wise one. If made nationwide there would be no confusion. The Star believes the Government would be making a wise and popular move if it put daylight saving plan into operation this coming summer.—Star.

Upsalquitch, Feb. 18th., 1918
Dear Mr. Editor:
Jessie James has been allowed to go on suspended sentence and two poor men have been fined $150.00 each for hunting a little wild meat. Surely our county is coming to a pretty pass.

Here a man terrorises the countryside, killing cattle in the field and scaling beef and produce from the farmers, but he is allowed his liberty at the poor man who shot a moose has to go to jail for three months and the other has to give three months pay to escape going to jail. I ask is this justice.

Yours truly,
HUNTER.

DALHOUSIE.

Dalhousie, Feb. 20.—The Board of Health has been successful in grappling with the smallpox epidemic and on Sunday last the citizens were cheering when they heard the church bells ringing announcing services in our three churches.

Our popular Harbour Master, Mr. Wallace, after a narrow escape from losing his general store by fire lately, the fire brigade responded quickly to the alarm, and prevented a serious loss, the fire having already burnt a large space on the roof of the building.

Mayor James E. Stewart, Town Clerk A. J. LeBlanc, and Town Solicitor E. Rene Richard appeared before the Executive Council, at Fredericton, last week to ask the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council of the Town of Dalhousie, granting a free mill site etc., to the P. Q. Lumber Co.

No work has yet been received from the capital. In the meantime the P. Q. Lumber Co., have a large crew of men rushing the work at their new plant. The size of the main building will be 70-170'. They intend opening an office at the upper end of the town.

The report that the Star theatre here has fallen into the hands of a new company has aroused the curiosity of those who generally attend the moving picture shows. The loss of our temperance hall, which was built at great sacrifice, is keenly felt here, and yet people are hopeful that the Star theatre will not only be enlarged, but that it will be improved in many ways; to be a comfort to those who patronize the shows.

The advertisement which appears in the papers offering the passenger tug boat, Str. R. R. Call for sale should receive the attention of our local members and our town council. Is it the intention of Capt. Frank J. Allard to secure another vessel to continue the ferry service between Dalhousie and Quebec points? It is an important question that should be looked into at once.

Miss M. P. Martin and Miss A. Martin, of Fredericton, P. Q., were recent visitors to Dalhousie. They were the guests of their friends the Misses Samson at the Queen. The Misses Martin who have made several visits to Dalhousie, in the past have made many friends and they are always assured of a hearty welcome. They are splendid musicians.

Mr. John P. Cullen, son of the late Ernest Cullen, who is visiting his grandfather Mr. John Cullen, of Carleton, P. Q., was in town last week. He came from St. Angelo, P. Q. where he is learning the trade of butter making. He is only 16 years of age and next fall he expects to be able to take charge of one of Quebec's most modern creameries. One of our sisters is teaching in one of the public schools of St. Angelo. His mother who teaches music in the parish is the organist in the large R. C. Church at St. Angelo.

Mr. George McNeil, of the Royal Bank staff, Bathurst spent Sunday with his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. H. McNeil.

Mr. Brenty McKay, of the Royal Bank staff Newcastle, was home recently visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McKay.

Principal R. G. Mowatt of our Superior School, who went to his home in Harvey, N. B., on account of the Board of Health having ordered the closing of the public schools on account of smallpox is expected back here this week to resume his work on Monday.

Miss A. McInerney and Miss L. Wright will return from their homes in Rexton also to take charge of their departments.

A letter received from Montreal conveys the news that at a meeting of the Acadians held recently here, Charles Marcell, delivered an eloquent address. Several people formerly from Bonaventure and Restigouche, Cos. were present and occupied seats on the platform.

Mrs. S. L. T. Clifford has gone to Calgary to visit her parents. She took her little daughter Marion with her.

Gigantic Task of British Navy

WHEN Lord Salisbury traded the island of Heligoland to Germany, it may be at the suggestion of Queen Victoria, he made the present war possible. If this rock had remained in our possession Germany would never have run the risk of fighting Great Britain. The island is some 30 miles from the German naval base, and in British hands would command them. Possibly, if the island had remained British, Germany would have chosen some other port than Wilhelmshaven as her chief naval base, but this would have entailed grave disadvantages. Today this tiny island, about one square mile in area and rising to a height of 200 feet above sea level, is priceless to Germany, for it is not only powerfully fortified, but, it and an adjoining island have been made into a harbor and shelter for submarines, destroyers, light cruisers, and aeroplanes. The nearby waters are shallow enough to be effectively mined to the coast and make it absolutely impossible for enemy vessels to pass except at considerable loss. Undoubtedly one of the terms of peace will be that Germany shall lose possession of Heligoland.

This island and others along the coast give Germany a great advantage in the war game against Great Britain. Writing in the New York Tribune, Mr. Gherardi Davis says that the guns on Heligoland would be exceedingly difficult for hostile ships to deal with. On the other hand, there are no such flanking guns on the British coast which are exposed to German attack, and the configuration of long stretches of the English coast makes it impossible to be successfully protected by mines. Thus, if German cruisers choose to take the risk of encountering British fighting ships they need not fear mines in a dash to bombard certain English coast towns, especially those that are not adjacent to military ports. It is true that there are thousands, perhaps millions, of mines laid by the British in the North Sea, but they are in certain zones, and not turned loose promiscuously. If these particular safe channels are known to Swedish and Dutch sea captains, there is not the slightest reason to suppose they are equally well known to German naval chiefs.

Why the Germans have not done more bombarding of the undefended English towns is not clear to Mr. Davis, unless, of course, they fear losses in the Jutland fight seriously reduced her supply of vessels suitable for the attack. He says that the tremendously difficult work that has fallen upon the British navy compared with the duties of a land army. The latter are comprised almost exclusively in the words "fight and win." The chief business of the German navy is to keep the British navy in the North Sea clear. English mine-sweeping patrol vessels, destroyers, and light cruisers are constantly on duty well off shore toward Germany and even the battleships are at sea. They are not protecting British coasts by hugging the shore, but by keeping the German navy at bay. Only on one occasion was the German fleet sent out and then fought the Jutland battle, about which controversy continues to rage, the North Sea press, for example, considering the result as unsatisfactory to Britain.

Mr. Davis does not pass judgment on this fight, but remarks that "on every occasion where the Germans have met the British in a naval battle, the Germans have never fought it out." There seems to be no doubt about this. The average British naval commander is that of a bull-headed fighter whose sole ambition is to get next a German ship and throw it into the sea. They hope that this blind fighting spirit will lure British ships overboard and that their destruction will follow. There is in England a certain school of patriots who insist that it is the business of the British navy to assume the offensive, to "dig their own graves," as Winston Churchill said. They regard the matter much as though it were a question of a territorial dispute, where the situation is as though the territory were obliged to crawl for a hundred yards or so before the battle before he met the danger.

Mr. Davis points out that while the British have had on which the sea since the beginning of the war, the entry of the American navy not make the German navy any safer yet it has been warmly welcomed by the British. The British navy has kept a sleepless vigil in the North Sea for more than three years. The material strain has been great. Many of the British destroyers must have become pretty well worn out in the past three years. Undoubtedly the British navy will have an easier job now that Admiral Sims is there. The strain will be relaxed. As far as the German navy is concerned, Mr. Davis believes the mental pressure must be increasing. The submarine campaign, and the secrecy surrounding it, has sent many a German sailor mad. The long inaction of Germany's major ships must have seriously undermined the morale of the crews and will tend to make them nervous and to "dig their own graves," as Winston Churchill said. The one of the larger ships ventures into the open sea. Should ever there come a "dash" by the German fleet steamers forth it will be named by crews whose morale has been enervated by inaction that must by this time have become an established habit.

Scandal Ruined Brilliant Career

FEW men have entered British politics with brighter prospects of eminence in public life than did Charles W. Dilke. He was endowed with talents of a high order, including literary gifts of rare quality and rare personal charm. His future in early middle life to continue in the course that had opened so auspiciously, while due to perfectly natural causes, was a bitter disappointment to his many and influential friends.

Descended direct line from three ancestors of the same name as his own, Charles Wentworth Dilke was a highly favored youth. Educated at Cambridge, he began, as early as the age of twenty-three, to attract attention. In that year (1866) he wrote a book called "Greater Britain," which was the fruit of a tour of the world. In Boston he met Emerson, Agassiz, Holmes, Lowell, Asa Gray, and others of eminence. In his book he wrote of these men as "undoubtedly the most distinguished spirits collected in any city in the world." The young man's idea of a future "Greater Britain" is expressed as "a conception, however imperfect, of the grandeur of our race, already gridding the earth, which it seemed perhaps eventually to overpread." But political ambitions were soon to absorb the young man's thoughts. At the age of twenty-four he entered the lists for election to Parliament and spoke vigorously and persistently in his own behalf.

As a radical he was elected by a close vote, less than two hundred votes over the next highest candidate in a total of four contestants. His parliamentary service was not conspicuous. He disregarded party allegiance in many notable instances. His campaign was bold, and even threatened by riots. Laborers were led to burn the young man of his political beliefs. He suffered social isolation but gained the renewed friendship of a young woman, Miss Katherine Shell, whom he married in 1872. The marriage was unfortunate. And his diary expresses substantial agreement with the judgment of a mutual friend, a Miss Courtenay, that "though neither of them was in love with the other, they would not do so in any other way. Lady Dilke's health was poor, and after giving birth to a son, she died in 1874.

Like many other public men of his time, Dilke was a persistent and proud of the country at a time when every pound of food-stuffs in the market was a matter of life and death. Maple sugar makers are sure of a market for every pound of pure maple and syrup they produce.

"In God's name, what are eggs, and as compared with final victory?"

BOYS AND GIRLS CAN HELP. Seventy-one thousand boys and girls of school age last year increased the agricultural output of Ontario to the value of $126,000. Every farm boy and girl this year should be encouraged to rear a pig, a calf, a batch of chickens or to grow a plot of potatoes, beans, corn or vegetables.

GET OUT YOUR SAP BUCKETS. Farmers and others who have maple sugar outfits, even if they have not been in use for years should put them in use for this year. There is a sugar shortage, and Canadian maple trees should be made to produce to the maximum. So even if you haven't the most up-to-date equipment, tap all the trees you can and make the most of the facilities you have on hand. There'll be a good market for all the maple sugar and syrup produced.

THE PROVINCIAL SEED FAIR. The Annual Provincial Seed Fair will be held at Fredericton on March 13th., in conjunction with the Farmers' Convention.

The exhibitors from the North have always been able to hold their own against all comers; but the trouble has been that there are not enough exhibitors from the three northern counties. Northumberland has fairly well, but Gloucester and Westmorland have some excellent seed, which unfortunately have not been exhibited in years gone by. But it is never too late to do good, clean up a bushel of wheat, oats, beans, buckwheat, or barley, the very best way possible and send it to the fair. What about potatoes? There is no place under the sun, that can grow a better quality of potato, than can Restigouche, Gloucester or Northumberland.

The District Representatives for these counties, will be at the show, and will give all exhibitors from their districts the very best of attention.

A regiment of colonials was offered by a small and unpopular second lieutenant. He had a violent temper and every man loved to refuse it.

One day he was particularly peevish, and, stepping up to a massive man, one of the finest fighters in the regiment, began to abuse him. The massive one interposed with a tired smile on his face, which so infuriated the little officer that he grew almost incoherent.

At last the big man thought it time to interfere. He turned to the colonel and said sweetly: "Say, Bill, go and fetch a step-ladder. I believe he wants to box my ears."

The Food Controller Says:-

SHORTAGE OF FEED. According to a recent statement made by Mr. R. E. Prothero, President of the Board of Agriculture, there were only enough oats available in Britain to feed working horses on reduced rations after making allowances for milking stocks. There was no concentrated food for cattle feeding and this shortage would continue for at least a year, he declared. He was afraid that all carriage horses which had not been sent out to grass would have to be killed, while hunters would have to be sent to grass and kept there.

MAPLE SUGAR WANTED. Every pound of maple sugar produced in this spring adds to the food stock of the country at a time when every pound of food-stuffs in the market was a matter of life and death. Maple sugar makers are sure of a market for every pound of pure maple and syrup they produce.

Those Wonderful Pathe Records

OWE their rich, full, natural tone to two things—a unique and secret method of recording, and their reproduction by means of a round, polished sapphire ball.

It should be evident to all that a ball of sapphire, jeweled under the microscope, and fitting perfectly into the half-circle of the sound groove, along which it smoothly, beautifully glides, is bound to produce a TONE of pure quality than that produced by a steel needle that becomes a jagged chisel before the record has revolved three times.

Hear these late Pathe Records. Remark their quality—compare them with the same selection of other makes—and bear in mind that every Pathe record, with the sapphire ball is guaranteed to play at least ONE THOUSAND TIMES. Can you afford to buy any other RECORD?

Feb. 18th, 1918.
Editor of Graphic,
Campbellton N. B.

Dear Sir:
In your issue of the 14th inst., I notice an article headed "Mastmoot Pine," in which it stated that said pine cut near Petticoat, for Lockhart and Barne would scale over 1800 feet and wanted to know who could beat it. I accept the challenge.
We cut a pine up here on Grog Brook (a branch of the Upsalquit) for E. A. Mowat, Campbellton which gave five log lengths (smallest 14 feet) perfectly sound and straight, fourth cut being 20 inches in diameter at the top. According to the N. B. Government log scale, the whole tree would scale 1600 superficial feet. We cut larger tree, but it was not sound.

Very truly yours,

The Surrey Cricket Club, whose famous ground was shortly before destroyed by the military authorities, had its origin in an association of cricketers whose early matches were played on Kensington Common, where their playing-ground was shared occasionally by pugilists and itinerant preachers and orators. Thence they moved to the Oval, which was part of the grounds attached to Kensington Manor House, a Royal lodge, built on the site of a pre-existing Royal palace at Kensington Cross. Its last Royal resident was Charles the First when Prince of Wales, but it had previously been an occasional residence of the King of England prior to the Conquest. It was tenanted by the Black Prince; John of Gaunt took refuge there from the infuriated mob; Henry the Seventh and his Consort resided there; and James the First settled the manor on his eldest son, Henry, Prince of Wales, and ever since it has been part of the inheritance of the Prince of Wales.
The Oval closely adjoined the grounds of Durham House, the London home of the Bishop of Durham, part of which subsequently became Vauxhall Gardens. The Surrey Cricket Club have been leaseholders of the Oval during practically the whole of their existence.

A Critic's Blunder.
Ian Hay, the famous author of "The First Hundred Thousand," tells an amusing story against himself. It seems that after his great war-book had brought him popularity his publishers received some of his earlier stories and republished them. They were well received, although the author regarded them rather as amateur efforts. But a critic in New York waded enthusiastically over them and congratulated him on his improvement as a writer since the production of his popular book.

"Bankrupt."
Few words have so remarkable a history as "bankrupt." The money-changers of Italy had benches or stalls in the bourse or exchange in former times. At these they conducted their ordinary business. When any of them fell back in the world and became insolvent his bench was broken, and the name of "broken bench," or banca rotta, was given to him. When the word was first adopted into English it was nearer the Italian than it now is, being "bankerout" instead of "bankrupt."

An actress is studying to be a plumber. Shows good, sound sense. Fine paying business. Plumbers are scarce now, so many of them having become actors.

Every man has a right to keep his opinions to himself.

END STOMACH TROUBLE,
GASES OR DYSPEPSIA
"Pape's Diaprepain" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.
If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, indigested food, or have a feeling of distress, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-head-aches, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diaprepain from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

MATAPEDIA.

We notice another returnee boy from the front, Pte. Robert Pratt, son of Mrs. Agnes Pratt and brother of the late Pte. Burns Pratt, who was killed in action at the battle of Vimy Ridge. Many friends are extending a hearty welcome to Pte. Pratt. Friends are glad to see Miss Eva Irvine out again after being confined to the house for a short time. Mrs. B. Irvine entertained a number of friends very pleasantly at her home on Tuesday evening last.

VAL D'AUDOUR.

Last Sunday Rev. Fr. Allard our parish priest urged parishioners very strongly to buy seed grain from the government in order to sow more than ever this spring. The land in this locality although hilly is still quite cultivable. In many districts the soil is very fertile. Every farmer should endeavor to do the best farming he can and every inch of land should be cultivated. Fr. Allard says he is greatly interested in agriculture and wants this parish to rank amongst the best of Restigouche. The lumber business is good to a certain extent, but we must not forget our farms. Agriculture must go ahead by all means. We have already neglected our farms too much, now we have an opportunity for a good start. Our success depends upon energy and perseverance.

NEW CARLISLE.

Herbert Acteson of Gascons was in town for the Red Cross Concert. Miss Whitley of Port Daniel was the guest of Miss Mary Hamilton for the week end. Claud Caldwell, Lieut. of Quebec was in town a few days lately. Mrs. Wm. Maguire came home last week after spending the past six weeks with her brother in Gaspe. Fred Whitley spent the week end with his parents in Port Daniel. Rev. E. J. Rattée spent a day in New Carlisle on his way to Port Daniel, where he intended to conduct the Sunday services in the Presbyterian church. Rev. G. Anderson exchanged pulpits with Rev. E. J. Rattée of New Carlisle on Sunday last. The skating rink seems to be well patronized this winter, the ice is always good, lights first class and dressing rooms comfortable. The boys have not played an outside team yet, but the fault rests with the weather only, as they have arranged a game with New Richmond. We hope it will soon come off. Mr. Currie of Campbellton while passing through town on business, took in the social evening following the regular meeting of the Girls' Khaki Club. The N. C. Girls' Khaki Club held their regular meetings on Jan. 14th and 20th, and Feb. 4th and 18th. Up to date fifteen membership fees have been paid for 1918. The receipts from these meetings were as follows: Membership fees $3.75. Donations:—Mrs. Arnold, 1.00. Gladys Kempffer, .75. Handsome Old Maid, 1.00. Miss Marcotte, 1.00. Miss Smollett, .75. Geo. Kerr, .50. Cadet Eric Metcalfe, 1.00. Pines, 4.15. Tea and Cake, 5.60. $19.50. The Club has been receiving letters from soldiers in the trenches lately who have received the Xmas parcels sent them in November. All these letters are very interesting and encourage the members of the Club to work harder. The Club is grateful for donations, and wish at this time to thank one and all for same, some gave money, others gave knitting, and others wool for the meetings, etc. The New Carlisle Branch of the Red Cross Society gave a very successful concert on February 12th, in the Parish Hall. The programme was as follows:—Soloists:—M. Sutherland, Flowers and Caldwell; Messrs. Milne and Bedard. Chorus:—Soprano:—Mrs. Blanchet, Misses Flowers, Sutherland, S. Boudard, O. Caldwell, L. Kempffer, Dow and Cooke.

SMALLPOX REPORT.

INCREASING ON NORTH SHORE.

Many Places in Gloucester County Now Have Disease.

Whatever hopes the people of this county had that the outbreak of small-pox would be prevented from getting a hold here have been utterly shattered by the developments of the past two weeks. While other counties were grappling with many cases of the disease, Gloucester looked on and congratulated itself that it was not affected, but now the contagion has been brought in and the disease is showing itself in all sections. Petit Rocher and Green Point now have 45 cases, three of which are of a very serious type; Bathurst has 12 cases; Grand Anse; Burnsville 12; Misonette 75; Lower Gasques 40; and Inkerman, 99. Northern Light, Bathurst.

FARMERS CONVENTION.

From March 12th to 15th, inclusive the Farmers' and Dairyman's meeting will be held at Fredericton, and a large attendance is looked for from the North Shore of the province. Remember, this is the Farmers' Parliament, and the more farmers, the stronger the government. The Agriculture Societies have made it a practice to send several delegates to the convention, and very often these are the only persons present from North Shore Districts. But the middle of March is a good time to take a very profitable vacation. Then "all aboard for Fredericton" on the 12th of March, meeting begins in the evening.

$25 FROM ATHOL.

The Athol branch S. C. A. though small in number is doing a good work. On Saturday a cheque for $25. was handed to the C'ton Treasurer. Five dollars of this amount was donated by the Circle, while the other $20. was the result of the "Quarter Day" collection taken at that place. Much credit is due Miss Agnes Hill and Mrs. Klippert who took charge of this work and carried it through so successfully.

NOT A ROUND OF PLEASURE.

Life in a newspaper office is not always one round of pleasure, as some people think. Somebody feels gripped because something gets into the paper, and someone feels gripped if something is left out—especially if it is some form of publicity which ought to be paid for. These people know nothing about the conduct of a newspaper, the value of its space or the demands made upon it, and as a rule denounce it on every occasion even while accepting from it valuable space for nothing, and would never under any consideration turn any business in its direction. Some persons have no hesitancy in demanding from newspapers space worth many dollars, who would never dream of making similar demands on a merchant for a free portion of his stock in trade. This subject has received considerable attention in the press lately and there is a disposition to cut out all free advertising.

New Servant-Girl Story.

The wife of a successful literary man had hired a buxom Dutch girl to do the housework. Several weeks passed and from seeing her master constantly about the house, the girl received a erroneous impression. "Ogucose me, Mrs. Blank," she said to her mistress one day, "but I like to say sompings." "Well, Rena?" The girl blushed, filled with her apron, and then replied, "Vell, you pay me four tollars a week." "Yes, and I really can't pay you any more." "It's not dot," responded the girl; "but I be willing to take three tollars till—till your husband gets work."

Not Hoovering.

"No, Jimmy; nothing more. Why, you're filled up now till you can hardly move." "Oh, no, ma! My meat and potato space is all took up, but there's quite a lot 'o' room left in th edesart part of me."

POOR COPY

Seed Grain 1918

Good seed is scarce. Place your order now with your County Councillor.

The Department of Agriculture has ordered wheat and oats through the Seed Branch, Ottawa. The germination is carefully tested.

The seed is now stored in the elevators at Quebec, thus avoiding transportation difficulties and insuring delivery.

The Department requested the co-operation of the County Councils in the distribution. Seed will be forwarded at their order in car lots, thus avoiding local freight and much handling.

Wheat will cost about $3.00 per bushel in bags laid down.

The Seed Branch is yet unable to fix the price on oats. Definite prices will be stated in this space immediately they are at hand.

New Brunswick is expected to bread herself for the duration of the war. Every farmer should grow some wheat.

Agricultural Societies should arrange orders early.

Send all orders to the County Councillors immediately.

Mr. John Hall was recently appointed by the Provincial government to make sanitary survey of the province. Mr. Hall is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in sanitary engineering and public health. Since his graduation he has been engaged with the sanitary engineering divisions of the public health boards of New Jersey, Massachusetts and Maryland. For the last four years he has been engaged in municipal health work, first in Long Branch and now in East Orange, N. J. He is a member of the American Health Association, the New Jersey Sanitary Association, the New Jersey Health Officers Association and of the American Association for the Study and Prevention of Infant Mortality. His training and experience have given him an excellent equipment for the work he is carrying on here and the fact that he comes recommended by Dr. Biggs is a guarantee of his standing in his profession.

A SPECIAL REPORT OF THE WATER SUPPLY OF THE TOWN OF DALHOUSIE.

The Honorable Wm. F. Roers, St. John, New Brunswick.

Dear Sir:—

At your request I am submitting herewith a report of my investigation of the water supply of Dalhousie.

This supply is received from two sources, a stream at some distance from the town and a well within the town itself. The purchase of this well about two years ago for use as a supplement to the town supply was the occasion for some scandal in which were charges of bad politics, graft and illegalities of various kinds. Of greatest concern to the town was the fact that the well was badly located and might become a danger to health.

In 1915 an investigation was made by Dr. B. M. Mullin, then secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, and his findings are stated in the annual report of his Board. While he condemns the most insubstantial surroundings of the well, his only recommendations are that various privies, pig pens and stables in the vicinity be cleaned and that a Board of Health for Dalhousie be formed. The first of these suggestions was carried out, but beyond that nothing was done. The water from the well was pumped into the mains with the result, it is claimed, that the formerly good supply was changed to a turbid, ill-smelling, and unwholesome one.

There are no records of communication in Dalhousie. The physicians never reported cases to the County Board of Health. It is said that previous to 1916 little, if any, typhoid fever originated in the town. In the summer of that year there appears to have been several cases, and during August and September of this year, a large number. Accounts differ on this point, the chairman of the County Board of Health claiming there were six or eight, the Mayor of the town that there were four or five, and Dr. A. G. Ferguson that over thirty occurred. The last named gentleman states that twenty-five cases in two months have been under his care.

Opinion differs also on the use of the town water. Dr. W. D. Doucet, ex-County Health Board chairman, states that the well was not pumped during the summer and, anyhow, that all the typhoid cases got their water from private wells. The Mayor, Mr. W. S. Montgomery, says that the well water was delivered into the town mains for only two or three days during the summer and then after all the persons had been taken sick. Dr. Ferguson, on the contrary, claims that his personal knowledge of the well was pumped several times in July, August, and September, that the epidemic began about the middle of August and still continues, and that all of his twenty-five patients used water from the town supply. Another evidence of the existence of a typhoid epidemic was secured from the Catholic Hospital at Campbellton, where the sister in charge mentioned the fact that a large number of cases from Dalhousie had recently been treated there. Whether or not the water from the town well caused an epidemic of typhoid fever in Dalhousie is impossible to say. It is easy to understand how that might have been possible, however, and to state with every degree of certainty that the continued use of the well water will endanger the health of the town. The well is located on a gentle slope in slightly marshy ground. Within a radius of 200 feet there are at least one cesspool, five privies, two pig pens, and a cow stable, several of which are above the level of the ground at the well. The near-

GERMANS FEELING PANGS OF HUNGER MORE DAY BY DAY

Dogs Being Eaten and Crows Considered a Delicacy in Parts.

HINDENBURG IS SQUEEZING MASSES.

German Officer Offered Allies Secrets For $20,000 to Buy Food.

Berne, Switzerland, Feb. 16.—Hindenburg is squeezing Germany like an octopus a sponge. Even if there is little complaint in the army over food Germany and Austria are starving.

I just heard a most remarkable story illustrating the case in point, which was reported at both the British and American War Offices.

A German officer, through an intermediary, approached a man with whom he was personally acquainted. A meeting was arranged about 10 miles from Lake Constance. Punctually the acquaintance and the officer kept the appointment.

The German offered to sell Prussian military secrets for $20,000, the Allies to judge their value before paying. The acquaintance closely questioned the officer, who was of high rank, concerning his motives.

The officer broke down and wept like a child, declaring his mother and father were poor, broken in health and unable to get sustaining food. He wanted the money in order to send his parents to a neutral country. After which he would return to the front and try to be killed. If he failed, he would commit suicide.

As America and England had not acted at the expiration of the officers' short leave, the matter was dropped.

Food Situation Gets Worse.

The incident shows the trend of events. The situation was bad six months ago; it is infinitely worse today.

The last cabbage crop was a failure. Next to the potato, the cabbage is the German staple. Like an Egyptian plague, caterpillars destroyed the crop, stalk and all. It is said that a wind blew butterflies from France, producing the devastating army of caterpillars.

The plum crop likewise was a failure, owing to the weather. The Germans boast a plum tree for each man, woman and child. Marmalade is one of the mainstay of the masses. Now there is practically none.

The last grain crop was below normal despite reports to the contrary. It was due to lack of nitrate for fertilizer. Practically all nitrate, now principally manufactured out of the air, is used in explosives.

Bread is therefore shorter than ever. It is not only mixed with potato flour, but with powder made from turnips, carrots, chestnuts, etc., from which the poisonous by-products have been chemically extracted.

The German people have a saying: "The very stars fight against us."

Dogs are eaten to such an extent the breed has practically disappeared in certain districts. Crows are becoming a delicacy. Fats are almost totally lacking. The weekly ration some time ago was sixty-two and a half grams, including lard, butter, etc.

The American child spreads on its after-noon tart more butter than the entire week's ration in Germany.

Ghastly Story Revealed.

I have heard again the story that corpses are reduced for fats. Two nurses claim to have seen the process. Whether it is true or not, the story refuses to down.

The beer famine is growing. This is equally as great a blow to the masses as the bread famine. The Bundra reduced malt allowances for the new brewing year to 13 per cent for Bavaria and 10 per cent for North Germany as against 33 per cent last year.

German Bohemia is suffering intensely. The death rate is appalling.

Poland is famine-swept. Cracow and the vicinity have been drained of every mouthful, which has been sent to other parts of Austria and Germany regardless of the most primary needs of the district.

Women carrying starving babies parade the streets, demanding bread and peace.

Pillaging and wrecking are common while troops from other parts of the empire steadily shoot the demonstrators down.

Hindenburg is squeezing Germany and Austria dry to keep in the army. This army he and Ludendorff propose to feed into the maw of another offensive.

The masses are already asking the "why" of it all. The Hindenburg party replies with promises of an early miraculous peace.

But the handwriting is on the wall. Nothing short of a miracle can prevent disaster to the Kaiser's crown when the duped masses demand a reckoning.

BEGINNING OF MAN

Origin Is Retreating More and More Into the Past.

Topic Still Absorbs Interest of Anthropologists and Other Scientists, Each Discovery Renewing Discussion.

The antiquity of man is still an absorbing topic among anthropologists and other scientists, and fresh discussions arise with each new discovery of ancient human remains. In this connection, it is interesting to note, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger, that Dr. Arthur Keith of Edinburgh, an authority on the subject, believes that the living Australian aborigine is of an older type than any of the fossil remains of modern man found in Europe. The New York Medical Journal says:

"The date of the origin of the human species, by each new discovery of missing chapters in its history, is shifted to a more and more remote time. The Neanderthal skull, which by its prominent supraorbital ridges, its length and flattening from above downward, seemed to link man closely, if loosely, to the higher apes, still had a brain capacity quite equal to that of the average modern man, and on this account pointed to a still more remote beginning of the human being. The brain of the Neanderthal man was not only large but elaborate, and as shown by the remains of his culture, he possessed fire and made flint implements. Though ancient, he was anything but an ape."

"The Heidelberg skull, which resembled the Neanderthal remains but was still more markedly similar in general features, had also a capacious brain case and is believed to have belonged to a creature with comparatively high mental development. The Neanderthal man is placed some 200,000 years back, while the Heidelberg skull is presumed to date a doubly remote time."

"The prehistoric remains found by Doctor Dubois in Java, the bones of Pithecanthropus, as he has been called, were of decidedly earlier geological date, as indicated both by their surroundings and by their own features; the brain case was small and the cranial traits were otherwise more ape-like than those of any other known remains. All the structural characters of Pithecanthropus, so far as we know these, are exactly of the kind we expect to find in the early ancestral types of man. The unearthing of the Java man pushed the date for the origin of the human type backward another period of a few hundred thousand years, or into the Miocene epoch of geological time."

"The chain linking modern man directly with an early type similar to the gorilla or chimpanzee seemed to be growing strong until, in 1912, the bones of an ancient man of another type were discovered in England in the Piltdown cave. This, according to Dr. Arthur Keith, who is as great an authority as can be found, is the oldest specimen of true humanity yet discovered. The brain of this being was, in size, at least, up to the modern standard, but otherwise the bones are 'the most simian recorded.'"

Silver Thimbles in War.

Many English women gave their jewels and much money to the war fund, says the Ladies' Home Journal, but there were thousands of others who wished to give and were unable to do so. That is why they were a wise woman suggested that little trinkets, such as silver thimbles, be collected and melted down for the war effort. It is a plan that has been adopted. The silver thimbles purchased in one year: Seven motor ambulances. One thousand one hundred and ten dollars for hospital supplies. Ten thousand dollars for disabled sailors' agency. Eleven thousand two hundred and fifty dollars for star and garter fund. Fifty thousand dollars for soldiers and sailors.

American women who think they cannot afford to give anything to the various war funds might find those facts interesting.

Serious Casualty List.

In the domestic relations court of New York Mrs. Annette Busby was a witness against her husband, James, who was present to respond to the toast: "Work—done or avoided." Mr. Busby alleged that he is a carpenter, hampered by an obsession of the mind of classical type. "The fact of the matter," he explained, "is that I have sought work rather constantly until lately. I have been disheartened by the fact that I could not get work such as I deserve. I do not like carpentry and I can speak five languages. I want a good situation or none." "Five languages," sneered Mrs. Busby. "What good are they? Four of them are dead and the other wounded."

Dynamite Saves Potatoes.

A resourceful farmer found a new way to use dynamite and saved a nearly matured crop of potatoes in a badly flooded field, says the Scientific American. Usually heavy rains filled all the neighborhood drains and ditches; in his emergency the owner put down a number of holes eight to twelve feet deep with a post auger and exploded a charge of dynamite in the bottom of each. This opened up passages into the sandy sub-soil, through which the surplus water drained rapidly, and the crop was saved, although many nearby crops were ruined by the excess of water standing in the fields.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of forty invited guests, by the Rev. J. E. Rattee. The bride was becomingly gowned in pearl color satin, with veil and orange blossoms, and was attended by Miss Annie Hardley, while Mr. Rait McWhirter brother of the bride was groomsmen. Battalion Period of Training. Battalion Has Had Strenuous Period of Training for Active Service.

(Frederick Gleaser.)

Through the thoughtful kindness of Capt. Godenrath of the Kilties, the Gleaser is able to give herewith an interesting account of some of the doings of the boys "over there."

Seaford, Eng., Jan.—Pte. "Jimmie" Cameron, the bomber, is making good and Major C. D. Mercereau, his company commander, is banking on Jimmie becoming an expert instructor—and he is rapidly heading that way.

The many friends at home will rejoice to hear that the battalion has been kept together as a distinct unit and since its arrival in the Old Land has undergone a strenuous period of training, leading up to that period when every soldier shall have a thorough knowledge of each arm with which the infantryman goes into battle. This includes his rifle and bayonet, bombs, rifle grenades and Lewis machine gun, to which must also be added a thorough training in anti-gas protection, i. e., gas masks and gas helmets. The MacLeans have been frequently visited and inspected by high army authorities and the soldierly qualities and splendid bearing of this last Canadian volunteer unit have not failed to make an impression that augurs well for the immediate future when they will find a place in one of the overseas divisions. Fifteen of the officers have just completed courses in London and Bexhill, the majority having taken the five week's course at the Canadian Trench Warfare School, which is said to be the model school for the Imperial army in teaching the latest man killing devices and giving the finishing touches to the devotees of Mars.

The battalion was also represented by 24 N. C. O.'s and privates at this school. Others have taken courses at the Lewis Machine Gun School and at the Bombing School in musketry and anti-gas, and besides the battalion has received the benefit of a whole host of competent instruction in physical training, general drill, anti-gas and musketry from the reserve battalions in this area. Though little time has so far been spent on route marching the MacLeans created a record when on a recent Sunday they marched to Eastbourne and returned a distance of some 18 miles, with only three men dropping out. This was the first long hike, and it was undertaken in miserable weather, with a driving rain pelting the marchers, but it put no damper on the cheerfulness of the men, who spent two pleasant hours in one of the most aristocratic resort resorts of the famous Scotch coast region, returning to camp in the late afternoon with large appetites for a splendid hot meal. From Col. Guthrie, who declined to use his horse and walked with his men down to the youngest drummer boy, the hike was a good test of endurance and very creditable, considering it was the first time the unit had been out for more than two hours at a stretch.

Many promotions have been in order recently as a result of all this strenuous training and organization work, and not a few who came across with stripes up have suddenly found themselves broken for not playing the game with that necessary amount of earnestness that characterizes the model N. C. O. in the British service. Competent officers and non-commissioned officers spell success for an overseas battalion and in this respect the unit is also rounding out well, as only those who show a willingness to study the war game hard and put the proper amount of "pep" into that work can hold a job in the MacLeans.

Amidst recent promotions is that of Col. J. P. Allan, well known in Boston and Fredericton, who has now three stripes up. Hugh Gray also well known as a past chief of Clan MacKinlay, has come up very rapidly and is to-day platoon sergeant in "D" Co. Another promotion from private to full sergeant is that of A. Lee Ferguson, now on battalion headquarters staff, and whose wife resides in the Hub. Other promotions of interest to Boston and New England is that of P. C. Rimmer, F. J. Bridge, W. H. Hall, Rexford L. Barron, who are all sergeants, and N. L. Gilpin, A. S. Beckwith and A. Morrison, who have qualified for two stripes.

The arrival of 1,085 Christmas cakes, as a gift to the battalion from the wives of officers and their friends, gave an added touch on the anniversary of Robbie Burns. The MacLean Highlanders were paraded and each man received a cake, as well as one being provided for every absentee on leave, in hospital, denton, etc. Following a brief address by Colonel Guthrie the boys gave three cheers and a "bear" for the good ladies back in Fredericton through whose foresight the gift had been made possible. That evening both officers and sergeants' mess held open house with a night with Burns. Brig. General Hodgins, director of demobilization, and his staff were the guests of the officers, who staged a cabaret show—the first of its kind seen in this area—with talent from the regiment. Speaking of talent, Major Mercereau and Captain W. S. Godfrey, are spending a week-end at Brighton, putting on a show for the benefit of the army huts fund.

INDIA IN THE WAR.

Part Taken in Struggle by Wealthy Empire.

From time to time vague reports have come that Great Britain was training and equipping a great army in India, to be used on the battlefields of Europe. Ruling a country which contains almost one-fifth the total population of the world, it was considered likely that Great Britain would not overlook the opportunity of drawing upon so great a reservoir of man power. That a huge Indian army did not make its appearance either in France or in Turkey was puzzling to those unfamiliar with the difficulties which the British faced in India.

Recently, when the Indian imperial legislative council met at Simla, the extent of Indian participation in the war was announced, and the figures given will serve to set at rest any rumor of a hoard of warriors from India. Since the war began 276,000 combatants and 40,000 non-combatants have been recruited in India, and of the fighting men 155,000 came from the British province of Punjab. When not considered that the population of India is more than 300,000,000, it will be seen that the force is very small.

At the outbreak of the war the 75,000,000 Mohammedans in India were restless at the difficulties which their co-religionists faced in Turkey. Germany, with the purpose of starting a holy war throughout Islam, sent spies and secret agents to foment trouble. These efforts were notably unsuccessful, and generally India was loyal. In the United States German agents, working with discontented Indian natives, undertook to stir the ground-work for an Indian mutiny, and the trials of the offenders are now in progress.

We are accustomed to refer to all natives of India as Hindus, which is due, perhaps, to the fact that the great majority of Indians are Hindus by religion. The term Hindu serves to distinguish natives of India in name from the North American Indians. The Hindus are as distinct from the Mohammedans as the Christians and the Jews are in Europe.

As a fighting man the native of the Indian provinces is not particularly of the Punjab, has no superior in the world. Undoubtedly, if Great Britain had been able to arm several million Sikhs or Hindus whose loyalty could not be questioned, the war would be rolled back and quickly put out of the war. However, judging results so far attained, the difficulties and dangers are insurmountable.

Arming India's millions doubtless would be a desperate undertaking, which will be reserved only for the remotest crisis when it appears that Germany will have its way in ruling the world. The fact that only 276,000 Indian soldiers have been recruited indicates that Great Britain does not wish to invite further trouble when the present war is ended. This is to be the last war, and it is considered unwise to arm and train a great force which later might be directed toward disturbing the world's peace.

Humor in the Trenches.

The laughable truth is out concerning the fur coats which were supplied to the British soldiers two winters ago in France. Ian Hay, in his new book, "All in It," the conclusion of "The First Hundred Thousand," describes these coats and the way in which they were received by the men.

"There has been an issue of so-called fur jackets, in which the Practical Joke Department (officially the Army Ordnance Department) has plainly taken a hand. Most of the garments appear to have been contributed by Indians, and are zoology, or a syndicate thereof. Corporal Muckleman's costume gives special occasion to St. Bernard for his astrakhan forelock. Sergeant Carfrae is attired in what looks like the skin of Nana, the dog-nurse to 'Peter Pan'."

"Private Nigg, the under-sized youth of bashful disposition, creeps slyly about his duties disguised as an imitation leopard. As he passes by facetious persons pull what is left of his tail. Private Toob, on being confronted with his winter trousseau observed bitterly: 'If I jinner let the boys see me in sojer, but I doot they must have pit me doon as a mountain goat!'"

Greatest Hoax of War.

Probably the greatest hoax of the war—one which millions believed for a time at least—was the story that from 100,000 to 200,000 Russian troops had arrived in England from Archangel. These troops, so the early stories ran, were stored by night across the United Kingdom in cars with the shades drawn down, and at any moment were likely to appear on the western front with the troops of Great Britain, France, and Belgium.

The story was first printed in New York. It spread throughout America, and was cabled abroad and doubtless sent by wireless to Berlin. The English censorship offered no official denial or affirmation of the story, but for a time every steamship from New York brought some individual who claimed he had seen the train. Kitchener let the hoax run with out doing anything to stop it. Whether it had any effect on the Germans is hard to tell, but amateur strategists conducting the war from office chairs saw great possibilities in it to stop the great German drive on Paris.

Mr. McInnis was born at Lake Ainsley, Cape Breton, but had resided in Moncton for the past forty-three years. He was a well known tailor and in this capacity was employed as cutter for quite a number of years in the tailoring establishment of Mr. E. C. Cole. Prior to that he was in the employ of McSweeney Brothers for a time, and during the last few years he conducted a merchant tailor business on his own account on Main street.

The deceased was well liked by those who came in contact with him in a business or social way and his death will be learned with sincere regret by many friends.

The late Mr. McInnis was a member of the Masonic Order. He was in the sixty-fifth year of his age and is survived by a widow, three sons and four daughters. The sons are Chas. J., with the Canadian forces in France, John H., of the Reed Co., and Fred, of the C. G. R. offices. The daughters are Mrs. LeBlanc, Campbellton, wife of A. T. LeBlanc, M. L. Is Your Headache Caused by Imperfect Eyes

It is stated on good authority that 90% of all headaches are caused by imperfect eyes, and I have proved this true by my own experience. If this fact was generally known much unnecessary suffering could be avoided, and prevented, and more glasses would be worn.

If you are subject to this distressing affliction you should see me at once, and give me the opportunity of examining your eyes, and fitting you with glasses, that will bring you instant relief.
