My Neighbor's Plants.

My neighbor across the street had a handsome bay window added to the sunny side of her house last fall, and was immediately seized with a desire to have that window filled with plants and flowers during the winter. She had little experience with plants, in fact, she had always thought them "too much trouble to bother with." But the bay window fired her with a new ambition, and she went to work with great zeal and energy collecting her plants.

I was away for several weeks, and soon after I came home my neighbor came over to my house and said: "I wish you would come over and see my plants. They're not doing a bit well, and I don't see what is the matter with them; I work and fuss over them all the time, but I don't seem to do any good."

I had noticed that the plants seemed in a decline. Some of them had, in fact, quite given up the ghost, and all seemed struggling with a destroyer of some sort.

"Plants would never grow for me," my neighbor continued. "Some folks have a sort of a—knack with plants, and they grow for them without the least trouble."

"I don't think so," I said, "plants won't grow for any one without proper care."

I went over to see her plants. A more enfeebled, dejected and hopeless looking lot of once promising plants I never saw.

"They need water," I said.

"Think so?" she asked. "Well I used to water them two or three times a day, because I read in a paper that plants needed lots of water. Then I read that they ought not to be watered often than once or twice a week, so I stopped watering them."

"Different plants need different quantities of water," I said.

"Do they?" she said, innocently. "I supposed they all needed it alike."

"The soil needs enriching in some of the pots."

"Now do you really think so?" Well, I thought so, too, at first, and I put coffee grounds, and soot water, and fertilizer, and bone dust, and liquid manure, and everything I could think of on them, but I didn't do any good."

"Did you try them all at once?"

"Oh, no; one day I tried one, and the next day another, and so on. I read somewhere that soap suds was good, and I doused them good with that, but I didn't think it helped them any. I washed them well with ammonia and water last week, and I am afraid the ammonia was too strong for some of them."

Some one of her dozen or two of fertilizers had evidently been too much for several of the plants, for they were done with this life.

Grand Manan.

The Isles of the Sea comprising the Parish of Grand Manan are twenty in number, and are situated at the entrance of the Bay of Fundy quite near Uclue Sam's territory. Of these, fourteen are inhabited, while the remainder are merely rocky islets.

The largest island is Grand Manan, which is twenty miles long and eight miles broad and has a population of over three thousand souls. It is the most westerly of the group and along its eastern shores are many fine harbors by the side of which dwell the people.

The chief industry is fishing, and everybody is more or less interested in it. The fish are taken in weirs, and smoked and packed in boxes for export. A few of the smaller ones are sent to Eastport for sardines, but Deer Island and Campobello principally supply that market.

The business centre of the parish is North Head. This village boasts of a couple of good hotels and regular steam communication with St. John, Eastport and St. Stephen, by means of steamer Flushing. Many tourists visit here every summer.

The schools of Grand Manan are noted as being among the finest in the province. The buildings are nearly new and care is taken to employ none but efficient teachers. The "superior school" is at North Head. It usually maintains four departments but only three are in operation this term. The teachers are Mr. Helmes, Miss Clark and Miss Fuller.

From the same district the following are employed here at the present. The schools at Seal Cove and Seal Cove are enjoying a long vacation and will not begin until October. The weather for the past month has been wet and cold. Hay has progressed but slowly, and the crop was secured in anything but good condition.

Wild fruits have been in abundance, particularly gooseberries, fig apples and blueberries. The heavy frosts of last week however destroyed the latter, and left the marks upon the potato field as well.

WHOLE NO. 956.

GENERAL NEWS.

—The World's Fair recently held at Halifax for the Art School funds, netted $5,200.

—India, Central Asia and China produce about one-sixth of the 800,000 tons of the world's annual wool clip.

—A French electrician claims that he will soon be able to produce a thunder-storm wherever or whenever it is desired.

—There are about 50 million sheep in the United States against 200 million in Europe. Australia and New Zealand have 75 million sheep.

—The discontent among the poor unemployed of London, England, is likely to be increased to a dangerous extent if the price of bread is raised in consequence of the shortage in breadstuffs.

—Prof. Sanborn thinks the facts are sufficient to justify any farmer in ignoring the practice of food cooking, or any compromise process, such as scalding, fermenting, souring, etc.

—At Chicago, Thursday night, Frank McFerrin, who had previously beaten the world's best time for fast work on the typewriter, broke his own record, surpassing it by about eight words a minute. He wrote 583 words in five minutes.

—The favorite domestic remedy "camphorated oil," is the Linimentum Camphorae of the pharmacopoeia, and contains 20 per cent. of camphor and 80 per cent. of cotton seed oil.

—The latter being less expensive than pure olive oil and as useful for the purpose.

—Mr. Henry Smith, father of Miss Gertrude Smith, of Halifax, who distinguished herself by eloping with the Baptist minister, Hutchinson, has gone back to England.

—Mrs. Hutchinson is living with her son at Economy, Colchester Co., N. S.

—Here is the Arab test of a good horse, which every farmer should know. It is simply to observe your horse when he is drinking out of a brook. If, bringing down his head, he remains square without bending his limbs, he possesses sterling qualities, and all parts of his body are built symmetrically.

—C. J. T. Hart, of the St. John Rifles, at the Olympic matches last week, won the Governor's prize of $250 and secured second place on the Wimbledon team for 1888. The only other New Brunswicker in the first twenty was William H. P. Barnes, of the 62nd, St. John.

—Cold in the head is not only annoying, but likely to develop into catarrh. One tea-spoonful of mustard dissolved in a tumbler of cold water, and used as a gargle three times a day, will often effect a speedy cure. In more obstinate cases equal parts of leaf sugar and pulverized alum used as a snuff will give instant relief.

—Nearly one-half the population are more or less afflicted with neuralgic pains. Instead of sending for a doctor, who will probably prescribe a plaster and a dose of medicine, we advise the sufferer to heat a flannel, put a double fold of flannel on the painful part, then move the iron to and fro on the flannel. The pain will cease almost immediately.

—Writing of the crops of England this year the Agricultural Gazette says that in estimating the yield something like the attitude of mind assumed by the man who declared that his pig did not weigh as much as he expected, and that he never thought it would, may be roomed. The price of potatoes in one of the large producing districts, 60 tons from London, is now 15s. a ton! Was such a price ever before known so early in the season?

From the same district the following are employed here at the present. The schools at Seal Cove and Seal Cove are enjoying a long vacation and will not begin until October. The weather for the past month has been wet and cold. Hay has progressed but slowly, and the crop was secured in anything but good condition.

WOMEN'S COLUMN.

Conducted by Members of Sackville W. C. T. U.

Maritime W. C. T. U. Convention.

This convention, held in Halifax, Sept. 5th, 6th, and 7th, was one of the most interesting ever convened by this society. Nine officers, and forty delegates from different Unions in N. B. and N. S. were present during the sessions. All Unions sent reports by their delegates, and these reports showed that much patient work had been done, and in many instances encouraging results were noted. The Superintendents of departments of work also presented interesting reports, and furnished valuable suggestions for future work. The report of the work among sailors was very encouraging. The Supt. had known of fifty sailors who had signed the pledge through the year, and all had kept it but three. Several new departments of work were added.

There are now fourteen departments, with an superintendent for each:—Gospel Party—Mrs. Turnbull, St. John; Juvenile Work—Mrs. Atkinson, Moncton; Evangelistic—Mrs. Sampson, Fredericton; Temperance Literature—Mrs. Stoddard, Fredericton; Sailors—Mrs. Trenholm, Hantsport, N. S.; Parlor Meetings—Mrs. Stoddard, Halifax; Jail and Prison work—Mrs. March, St. John; Influencing Pairs—Mrs. Wood, Sackville; Railway Men—Mrs. Wilbur, Moncton; Industrial School—Mrs. Steeves, Moncton; Suppression of Impure Literature—Mrs. Todd, St. Stephen; Narcotics—Mrs. Allison, Halifax; Dress Dept. Miss Seldon, Halifax; Press Hygiene for Women—Lady Tilley. Near the close of convention the following resolutions were passed:—

Resolved, That the M. W. C. T. U. and that all previous temperance legislation has proved ineffectual, through the poverty of machinery and technicalities of the law, and believe that the time has come to act, by the hands of law makers, prohibition, pure and simple; for the purpose that this society is heartily in sympathy with them in any wise or proper way that will most speedily bring about the emancipation of our beloved Dominion.

Resolved, That whereas, we learn with sorrow that a bar room is kept in the house of one of our members, at Sackville, and that all previous temperance legislation has proved ineffectual, through the poverty of machinery and technicalities of the law, and believe that the time has come to act, by the hands of law makers, prohibition, pure and simple; for the purpose that this society is heartily in sympathy with them in any wise or proper way that will most speedily bring about the emancipation of our beloved Dominion.

Resolved, That the members of the M. W. C. T. U. desire most cordially to express their thanks to the members of Halifax and Dartmouth Unions for the warm reception with which they were greeted, the princely manner in which they were entertained, and the very great profit and enjoyment experienced in visiting this beautiful city, with its far famed attractions, of nature and art, and its noble humane institutions, which are justly the glory of its people.

THE LILACS.

(From Longman's Magazine.)

PART I.

No lilacs ever seemed half so beautiful as those which hung over the wall that enclosed the patch of garden ground belonging to Sutherland Villa, where the Falklands lived. The trees were old, gnarled, crippled, broken, and split, and no year passed without Margaret Falkland saying, "This must be the last year of our lilacs! It is impossible that they can go on flowering any longer. And yet when next year comes the trees seem more vigorous than ever, and tossed their plumed blossoms and flung their fragrance about in still more generous profusion."

They flourished to the injury of every other plant in the garden, for they overshadowed the borders, but for the one week in which they were in perfection it was such a perfect picture of loveliness that they were never covered by all the flower-loving passers-by. Every nervous person in the neighborhood had his eye on them, and not unfrequently his fingers. Tradesmen's boys with barrows drew them up on the pavement beneath the garden wall to form a basis of operations, and Mr. Brown waited for his fish and Mr. Smith for his fowls, while his purveyor's juvenile assistant stood on the barrow which was conveying them, plucked great handfuls of lilacs for himself and friends, tore down branches, and strewed the pavement with ruined fragments. Girls clambered on the wall at four in the morning and leisurely culled the choicest clusters for their market-baskets later on, and besides this, the Falkland household might have supplied itself with firewood for weeks by simply picking up the bits of lilac which the wind blew down by the roadside.

It was in the month of May, when the lilacs were in full bloom, that Miss Margaret one afternoon, broken so, it is a shame to let them so splendidly. I will go and work in the garden, and then I can protect them."

She went into the garden, and of course, soon found plenty of work to do, and when the rustling of the hedges warned her of the presence of an assailant, she never succeeded in getting any of them at all.

"It is too bad!" exclaimed pretty Miss Margaret one afternoon, broken so, it is a shame to let them so splendidly. I will go and work in the garden, and then I can protect them."

CHIGNETO POST AND BORDERER.

SACKVILLE, N. B., SEPT. 20, 1888.

—To-morrow will be nomination day in Albert County.

—The Nile is rising and the report that Egypt was threatened with a famine is officially declared untrue.

—Mr. Goldwin Smith writes of President Cleveland's retaliation measure that "the event must be considered as most untoward by the friends of Commercial Union."

—Mr. Eugene M. Camp, who has collected the statistics for America on the cost of getting news, says the entire cost of all news used in the papers in the United States, is $22,655,000 per year.

—A public meeting including a large number of prominent citizens was held at Fredericton on Tuesday evening to welcome home his lordship the Metropolitan. An address of welcome was read by Chief Justice Allen, and a feeling reply was made by his lordship, who said he returned refreshed and invigorated.

—The Globe draws attention to a law in Colorado forbidding non-resident aliens to hold land in that state, and says a number of Canadians are being entrapped by vendors who conceal the provisions of the law. The Globe is kinder than Mr. Blake, who, when praising the United States at the expense of the Canadian Northwest, said never a word about this serious fact.

—The last number of the Canada Gazette gives notice that a charter has been applied for by leading lumbermen of Ontario and British Columbia for an extensive lumbering organization, under the name of the Ross-MacLaren Lumber Company, limited, with a capital of $500,000. It is said that the operations of the company will be on Fraser River, where it controls extensive and valuable timber lands.

—The Leader, heretofore published at Spring Hill, has been removed to Parrboro, where it will be published under the name of the Cumberland Leader, by the Cumberland Publishing Co. Mr. James Hannay, the Historian, will occupy the editorial chair, and Dr. A. S. Towsehead is acting director. The first number under the new management is bright and new, and there is every reason to believe that change in this instance means permanent improvement.

—On some points, two candidates for the U. S. Presidency are agreed. They are both opposed to the modern trusts, which Mr. Cleveland points out as an old conspiracy with a new face and name, and they both oppose to unrestricted immigration. "Under various names," says President Cleveland, "they [the trusts] have been punished by the common law for hundreds of years, and they have lost none of their hateful features because they have assumed the name of trusts instead of conspiracies."

—Hon. Edgar Dewdney, the new Minister of the Interior, elected last week by acclamation for East Assiniboia. Some Grit newspapers, particularly in the eastern part of the Dominion, have labored hard to show that Mr. Dewdney is a very bad man and that the North West rebellion was due to his maladministration, but the fact that there was not even the form of an opposition to his election seems to be a pretty fair refutation of the charges against him. As the people of the North West have not discovered what an unscrupulous man Mr. Dewdney was, it is evident they do not read the eastern Grit newspapers.

—Only four members of the House of Representatives voted against the passage of President Cleveland's retaliation bill in Congress. The closing day's debate was a significant one. It showed how little reciprocity there is in the United States for the feeling of brotherhood towards "America's" some papers and some politicians in England are continually thrusting forward. It seemed to be a matter of rivalry between these two parties which was due farthest in appealing to elements hostile to everything British; and this, as much apparently as any regard for United interests, was the cause of the almost unanimous passage of a bill that, if enforced, will, by American calculations, annually take many millions from American trade, besides inflicting injury on a friendly country for doing what the President of the United States has formally declared to be clearly within her treaty rights.

—In his remarkable contribution to the third issue of Le Canada Français, entitled "Notre Avenir," Mr. A. D. Desclaux points out that, while in the United States centralization is the order of the day, in Canada provincial liberties are so broad and full as to be, in some directions, a danger. "The peril for us," he writes, "is the loss in the too heavy expenditures of the provincial Governments. It is to be feared that the people, alarmed at the increase of the provincial budgets, may seek to simplify our system of government, and, perhaps, look for that simplification in legislative union. He then goes on to compare the State governments of the United States and our provincial governments and concludes that the prestige, authority, and freedom from interference enjoyed under our system far exceeds the privileges of the States in the face of the authorities at Washington. Supposing, he says, in referring to the fact that the local railway development which Quebec has received from Ottawa, that annexation had taken place instead of confederation in 1867, where would we be now? It is evident, unless we are greatly mistaken, that the country would be far less prosperous than it is to-day.

Investigation Required.

It is to be hoped for the credit of Nova Scotia, as well as for the sake of humanity, that the horrible story now going the rounds of the press, to the effect that the death of a woman was recently caused by dental operations performed against her will, may prove to be without foundation. It seems impossible that such a tale can be true or that men could be found in a Christian country who would act with such fiendish cruelty, and yet the story with all its sickening details is being sent broadcast over the country without a word of contradiction. The Government of Nova Scotia should cause a thorough investigation of the matter to be made at once, for such a course is necessary in order to clear their Province of the stigma, if the story be false, or to secure the punishment of the offenders if it should unfortunately prove true.

Opposed to Retaliation.

Senator John Sherman delivered a speech in the Senate on Tuesday in which he opposed the granting of the retaliatory powers asked for by President Cleveland. He said that the time had come when the people of the United States and Canada should take a broader view of their relations to each other than has hitherto been practicable, and he argued that the true policy of the United States was to tender Canada freedom of trade and intercourse, and to make the tender in such a way that it should be an overture to the Canadian people to become part of the American Government. The union could only be accomplished with the hearty assent of both peoples. It could not be promoted by controversies or retaliation. Senator Sherman is undoubtedly right in assuming that Canada cannot be coerced or frightened. The Union, and there is little prospect that jealousy will prove more successful. The Monroe doctrine does not commend itself to the people of Canada, but it must be admitted that the speech of Senator Sherman contained more reason than is usually found in the utterances of American politicians.

—Wednesday's session of the Methodist mission board at Winnipeg was entirely occupied in discussing the basis of the appropriation for missionaries in Manitoba and the Northwest. It was decided, after some opposition, to leave it at it was—$900 to the married and $750 to the single men. A strong effort was made to increase the Newfoundland appropriation to $850, but it was left over to see how the funds stood when the division was made. No changes were made in any of the conferences. The following scale was finally agreed upon: First, married ministers in towns and cities, $900; second, Manitoba, $900; third, New Brunswick, $800; fourth, British Columbia and the Pacific coast, $1,000; fifth, other missions, $750.

—Much interest is being centered at the Toronto industrial exhibition in the Toronto industrial exhibition, the first ever introduced into Canada. Erasmus Wiman delivered four speeches into the instrument before it left New York, which were heard on Wednesday by large numbers of Toronto visitors to the fair. Mr. Wiman's voice, his exact tones and his exact words are reproduced and, as showing the great possibilities of the phonograph, Mr. Wiman had coughed twice while making one of his speeches, and the coughing was reproduced just as naturally as if he, himself, was in the phonograph. The speeches were on reciprocal trade, the power of commerce, and telephone, and the phonograph.

—There has recently been published an account of the straits to which the Southern States were reduced during the Civil War through their having left to the Yankees the job of manufacturing for them, so that when compelled to depend upon themselves they were in want of their common necessities. This is a lesson for us to become, as far as possible, self-reliant and self-contained. We could not be like the Southerners, in want of shoes, cloth, and even buttons, should the Russians, say, attack us, for we have wisely set up manufacturing for ourselves, to the great disgust of the peddling and powerless Grits. We should preserve in the same wise and prudent course.—Empire.

—The Yellow Fever scourge is increasing at Jacksonville, last Tuesday was a terrible day in the history of the city, for there were 156 new cases and twenty deaths. Hot sun, cases following prolonged wet weather, which has thoroughly soaked the ground, makes a condition of things very favorable to the spread of the disease, and a large increase in the number of cases is expected during the present week.

—The facts that some chiefs of the Oneidas have made over a hundred entries at the Western Fair, and that the Manitowaning Indians will also exhibit largely, seems to imply that the Liberal speakers in the House of Commons were mistaken in their very low estimate of our Indian population, who can scarcely be such very degraded and objectionable beings as they were declared to be by those who were assailing them and the Government of Canada.—Empire.

Joggins Railway.

Formally Opened for Passenger Traffic.—A Pleasant Excursion and a Bounteous Feast.—Address to Premier Fielding.—After-Dinner Speeches.—The Railway and its Surroundings.

The Joggins Railway has been open for the carriage of coal and other freight since the first of last January, but the formal opening for passenger traffic did not take place till last Thursday. The car which was attached to the St. John express at Moncton for the use of invited guests brought but a small contingent from that town, but received many accessions along the line, and was filled to overflowing when the train left Amherst. Arrived at Macan Station the car was transferred to the Joggins train, which, after a number of additions had been made to the band of excursionists, was soon whirling across the Macan River bridge and over a well ballasted road, through farms and woods and past coal mines, in charge of Conductor Webb and Driver Lamb. The run of nine miles to River Hebert was quickly made, and the train waited long enough to allow the excursionists to examine the bridge at that place, which is a single span of 125 feet, with crib-work approaches, and appears to be a thoroughly solid structure. All aboard again, with further additions to the list of excursionists, and the train proceeded through three miles of wooded country to Joggins mines, the

PRESENT TERMINUS OF THE LINE.

There, under the guidance of the courteous manager, Mr. P. W. McNaughton, the visitors inspected the operation of hoisting and screening coal, and then many of them experienced a new sensation by being forwarded to the beach in the company's coal cars, over a road that proved safer than it looked, and at a speed that was somewhat trying to weak nerves. After witnessing the manner of shipping coal, and making numerous collections of fossils, the visitors were drawn back to the mine by an endless wire cable, operated by steam power, being the only propelling power on the downward trip. Then the visitors once more boarded the train and were taken back to River Hebert, where on being conducted to the public hall they found a bounteous repast awaiting them. The guests with appetites sharpened by the breezes from the bay were soon seated at the long rows of tables, which were loaded with the delicacies of the season and beautifully adorned with cut flowers and house plants, while their wants were deftly attended to by the fair maidens of River Hebert. When the banquet was ended a feast of reason was in order, and the chairman, Mr. George Hubbard, Vice President of the Province, after thanking the guests for their attendance, called upon the Secretary, Mr. W. C. Milner, to read an ADDRESS TO MR. FIELDING.

The address, which was signed by the Vice President and 300 other residents of the district, was in the following terms: To the Hon. Mr. W. F. Fielding, M. P. P.: We, the undersigned inhabitants of Cumberland, representing all classes and parties, beg to express our pleasure in meeting you on this your first official visit to this part of the Province, as Leader of her Majesty's Government of Nova Scotia, a position which you filled in the past by the aid of the highest and ablest of Nova Scotia's sons, and in a unworthy successor. It is particularly appropriate that you should have fallen to us to open the Joggins railway for traffic, as one of the first and most important measures which engaged your attention, was a general railway subsidy bill, under which the Joggins railway is the first to be constructed. We feel therefore that this action of yours is a great measure, owing to you the commencement and consummation of a work of the very first consequence, in promoting the industrial development of our district.

Hon. Mr. Fielding responded in a very pleasing and eloquent speech, in which he thanked the signers of the address for their tribute of respect to the constituted authorities, and referred to the gratification he felt at being present and seeing the railway brought to such a state of completion. He was glad to know that the road was to be of such benefit in promoting the industrial development of the district and he trusted that as in the case of the grant to the Spring Hill Railway, the development of the mining industry would result in the return to the Government, in the shape of increased royalties, of a part of the money that had been given in subsidies. Railways had become one of the essential elements of our civilization, and although the policy of granting subsidies out of the limited revenues of the Province had been questioned in some quarters, yet he believed that policy commended itself to the bulk of the people. Sir John Macdonald had once said that was one of the undoubted rights of the people of Canada to ruin themselves if they saw fit, and if the people of Nova Scotia thought the best way to expend the revenue was by subsidizing railways no one had the right to object. He doubt the people of Shelburne, Queens and Lunenburg would think themselves fortunate if they were as near a railway as the people of this district were before the Joggins road was built, but this would not prevent the people of Cumberland, who had experienced the benefits of railways, from seeking to develop their railway system still further. He had reason to believe that the work done by the Joggins Railway Company had been well and substantially done and he congratulated the Company and the people on the completion of such an important undertaking. There was much to be proud of in Nova Scotia, but no Country had more reason than Cumberland to be proud of her natural resources and the enterprise of her people.

A BRANCH LINE

runs to the ballast pits 1½ miles from the main line, and it is proposed to extend this branch 2½ miles further to Young's mills. For extension of the line to the east, the Joggins and Reilly's mills, which with Young's mills have an annual output of twelve million feet of deals, and this product is capable of enlargement as the lumber is still abundant.

ANOTHER BRANCH

half a mile in length about a mile from the Joggins Mines connects the main line with the Prospect Mines, which have not been worked for some years for want of transportation facilities but are now shortly to be reopened and operated. The line also gives other coal mines, at the following distances from Macan: viz. Lawson Mine, one mile; Amherst Mine, three miles; Milner Mine, six miles; Lawrence Mine, seven miles; and Minnie Mine, seven miles. There is an excellent prospect for the development of local traffic in another direction, for down the river lies the fertile districts of Minnie and Baronsfield, and with their broad marshes, and Lower Cove with its extensive griststone quarries. Deposits of gypsum are also found in this district. In short the possibilities of development are practically unlimited, and it requires no prophetic vision to foresee that wonderful changes will be wrought in this district in the course of a few years. That the Joggins Railway will be a most important factor in the work of development is merely a matter of course. The road is thoroughly built and well ballasted, comparing favorably in this respect with any branch line in the country. An engine house has been erected at Macan and comfortable station buildings are provided at River Hebert and Joggins Mines. The line is well equipped with rolling stock, and more will be promptly added when required by the circumstances of the Joggins Railway.

The Traffic Prospects of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road have decreased so much that no dividend will be paid on the common stock for the half year.

MR. T. R. BLACK, M. P. P.

was the next speaker. He said that he had stated in the House that the Joggins road would run over one continuous coal bed and across two rivers whose shores abounded in agricultural wealth. He was convinced that the road would be of vast importance to the people of this district and he hoped that the day was not far distant when the shore would be extended down the shore so that the people of the western part of the County could do business with each other without having to travel the present circuitous route.

MR. JOSHUA WOOD, M. P. P., thought that the obligation was all on the part of the guests and that their thanks were due to the Company for providing such a pleasant excursion. He congratulated the Government, the Company and the people on the success of this important enterprise, which promised to be of benefit to them all. He had had a good many surprises during the day, and had found that his preconceived ideas with regard to this section of the County were far from correct, but was glad to have his erroneous impressions removed.

HON. D. C. FRASER, M. P. P., delivered an address that was both witty and eloquent. He referred to the mineral resources of the County and said that while the people were sleeping the tide was bringing the wealth of the sea to their doors. He concluded his speech by an earnest appeal to the young men of Cumberland to stay at home and develop the resources of their noble County.

MR. J. L. BLACK, M. P. P.

claimed the sympathy of the audience as a Cumberland boy and said that although he left the County thirty-five years ago he did not go very far from home. He believed that if a comparison could be made between the fortune and condition of those who had left this County for other lands during the last thirty-five years and those who remained at home, the result in almost every case would be in favor of those who had done what they could to increase the prosperity of their County. Mr. J. L. Black, M. P. P., was the last speaker and in the course of his address he stated that although he was in the Opposition, he had voted with the Government in favor of subsidizing the Joggins Road, and said that all the Government measures for the development of the County should receive his support. Mr. Black's speech abounded with humorous allusions which kept the audience in a roar, and when it was over, the guests were waiting them. The guests with appetites sharpened by the breezes from the bay were soon seated at the long rows of tables, which were loaded with the delicacies of the season and beautifully adorned with cut flowers and house plants, while their wants were deftly attended to by the fair maidens of River Hebert. When the banquet was ended a feast of reason was in order, and the chairman, Mr. George Hubbard, Vice President of the Province, after thanking the guests for their attendance, called upon the Secretary, Mr. W. PERSONAL.

—Either Emperor Francis Joseph or the Crown Prince of Austria is expected to visit the Pope shortly.

—Pitcher, the Providence bank teller, was found guilty at Montreal Thursday of bringing stolen money into Canada.

—The London Evening Star says W. H. Smith will be raised to the peerage as Viscount Henley, and Mr. Goschen will become leader in the Commons.

—John Dillon has been unconditionally released from jail by the Marquis of Londonderry, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, on account of a medical report on the state of Dillon's health.

—Prof. Richard A. Proctor, the celebrated astronomer, died at New York last week. He was en route from his home in Florida to England where he had made arrangements for a course of lectures.

—A Shirley Benn, who was arrested at Montreal on a spy, at the instance of Hon. Peter Mitchell, is contesting the claim. He denies that he owes the money, which he says, was advanced by Hon. Peter Mitchell for the purpose of election fund to assist Colonel Donville.

Ship Railway News.

—Mr. Ketchum is not expected from London till October 1st.

—Messrs. Symmes and Usher, two of the contractors, were expected at Amherst this morning.

—Mr. Dawson, of Dawson, Symmes & Usher, visited Wood Point and Rockport on Tuesday and found that all the contractors to complete the work, as well as the work, yesterday, he and Mr. O. H. Morse, a sub-contractor, were examining quarries on the Straits side.

—Tools and machinery by the car load are beginning to arrive at Amherst, sufficient to commence the most important work there is more than "election blow" in the Ship Railway.

—The price of land is booming in both Port Lawrence and Tignish. In Amherst, houses are hard to get. The staff of the contractors-in-chief, as well as a shoal of sub-contractors, are beginning to arrive.

—The talk is there will be plenty of employment this winter.

—A number of sub-contractors have been let on a large contract on the east end in progress.

—As in the past, the Post will furnish the earliest, fullest and most reliable information as to this great national undertaking.

—The contractors have already asked the London Directors to consent to a slight deviation on the east side, which will save it said $100,000 worth of rock cutting.

—The value of land in England has fallen 3 per cent in ten years, but this is nothing compared with the decline in some parts of New England. An exchange reports the sale of a Vermont farm with buildings for fifty two dollars, the farm cutting fifteen tons of hay per year. The N. P. is not responsible for the decline in England, although it is charged with the depreciation of real estate in Canada. It seems that commercial union and unrestricted reciprocity with the United States have not been able to prevent a terrible fall in the value of farm property in New England.

AROUND TOWN.

—Don't miss the performance in Music Hall this evening.

—Mr. H. A. Powell started last night on a trip to Toronto. He will be gone eight or ten days.

—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dixon started last Tuesday night on a visit to friends on the Pacific slope.

—Mr. G. A. Thompson left on Monday to take his vacation. His place will be filled during his absence by Inspector Allen, of Truro.

—Mr. R. Alder Treman has been ill nearly a week of typhoid fever. Fortunately the attack is not very severe, and a speedy recovery is anticipated.

—The excursion to the Joggins on Tuesday was not a success in regard to numbers, but all who were were delighted with the trip and will want to go again. The Joggins is destined to become a popular resort for excursionists.

—A very large audience assembled in Music Hall last night to witness the opening performance of Signor Giovanni Novelli. Conductor, and judging by the roars of laughter and the frequent bursts of applause they were well pleased with the entertainment provided for them. The wonderful feats in magic and the clever ventriloquism performed by the celebrated Zera Semon were excellent, the musical glasses and the trained canaries were very interesting and the Imperial Marionettes were irresistibly mirth provoking, while the dissolving views were greatly admired.

—The entertainment was continued by the price of admission, but in addition, the management gave away a large number of presents, the leading prizes being a china tea set, and a handsome bedroom set. The company will perform here to-night and to-morrow evening.

—The Cumberland Leader has been before the public a week, and is favorably spoken of on all sides. It fills a long felt want and should be well patronized.

—Three ships in West Bay and barges at Messrs. B. Young & Son's wharf loading for South America ports constitute the deal ships at present loading at Parrsboro.

—A few of our local sportsmen were out shooting yesterday, and by mistake one of them shot a rabbit. When he brought it home however the Game Warden requested him to hand over a V. Whether he has done so or not as yet is untried.

—Two tough looking chaps who put in an appearance here Saturday and began offering watches very cheap, aroused the suspicion of many, consequently they were arrested on suspicion of being the parties who robbed Meigs & Corbett's store at Five Islands. When they were examined they had seventeen watches in it but none corresponding to the ones lost at Five Islands. They were up for trial on Monday, but as no evidence was brought against them, they were allowed to go. It seems a mystery where they got the watches, as they were offering them for almost any price.

In Cholera Coming?

When symptoms of cholera appear, prompt remedies should be resorted to. Miss Mary E. Davis, of Luskville, Ont., says: "My brother was bad with cholera morbus and after using one bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, it cured him entirely."

LOCAL MATTERS.

THE TEA-MEETING and concert at Joggins Mines last Thursday proved very successful. The first class cars with only some 60 or 70 people to fill them. No doubt the largeness of the season and the unsettled state of the weather was the cause.

At the recent fair at Lewistown Maine, a colt belonging to Samuel Blois, of Fort Lawrence took first prize. There were a great many entries. The colt was one year old and a Percheron. This speaks well for the Percheron stock.

Messrs. Moran and Bent moved this week from the shop in the Bank building to their new and handsome store in "Moffatt Block". Messrs. J. A. N. Moffatt are now moving into same block and will be open up for business in a few days. Both stores are well furnished and lighted with electric light.

On Tuesday evening many of our folks took advantage of a partially moonlight night to drive over to the promenade Concert at Point de Bute. There was a large number in attendance and everything passed off successfully. The Amherst Cornet Band furnished music during the evening.

It is on the carpet here now to erect a new Academy, many of our people having become ashamed of our present educational building which looks more like a barn than an Academy. At the last annual school meeting a committee was appointed to examine sites and look into the question generally. They will report at the school meeting next Monday.

Mr. McPhail, agent for the Cumberland stock raising and improvement Co., has returned home from the Bangor and Lewiston fairs. He speaks highly of the treatment received from the "Yankee" neighbors, notwithstanding the retaliation bill, and is in high glee over the success of his horses, they, with the Percheron colts, having captured about twelve prizes in the different classes in which they were entered.

Every one who had the pleasure of being present at the opening of the Maccan and Joggins Railway speaks in the highest terms of the thoroughness of the work. Much credit is given to Mr. W. C. Milner, the efficient Secretary of the Company, for his kindness and attention, and there is only one opinion that the pleasures of the opening day were largely due to his geniality and kindness. All success to the road and its promoters.

A prospect worth having. A few days ago, A. Moffat, Esq., presented his son James with a deed of gift of the handsome brick store about to be occupied by J. & A. N. Moffat, which is one of the finest shops in town; and to his son Arthur, Mr. Moffat gave a deed of gift of the same shop, now occupied respectively by Boot & Shoe Co. as a retail store and McKinnon & Co. as a grocery and vegetable shop. These stores are all in the new brick block. After such a deed as this, who would have a father—especially if he were a rich one.

Dorchester.

—J. W. Edgett of J. W. Parker & Co., New York Ship Brokers, was in town last week.

It is rumored that the old Palmer ship yard is again to be the scene of ship building activity.

D. Holmes of the Merchants' Bank of Halifax, Sackville, is representing Mr. Hawkins, who is on his vacation.

H. R. Emmerson, Esq., has gone to Albert to canvass the County. Many Dorchester people are talking of going over on Friday, which is tomorrow day.

Geo. F. Wallace, W. D. Wilbur, G. N. C. Hawkins, Chas. Hickman and W. E. Lawrence, have gone to Albert Co., for a few days duck shooting at Germantown Lake.

The "Busy Bee," a branch of Trinity Church Guild, are to hold a sale of fancy and useful articles and a tea meeting in Robb's Hall this (Thursday) evening. Funds to go towards improving and painting the outside of the Sunday School house.

Miss Sterling, the benevolent Scotch lady, who has devoted her life and fortune to bringing poor Scotch children to this country and finding good homes for them here, was in Dorchester on Wednesday of last week.

Miss Sterling has a child, dress' home at Aylesford, in Nova Scotia, in which she is at present caring for a large number of children and from which they will be removed as suitable homes are found for them.

Several Westmorland Co. Equity suits have lately been settled. As vs. Black, a Sackville case; LeBlanc vs. LeBlanc, et al, a Moncton case, in which the property in dispute valued between two and three thousand dollars; Smith and Kay vs. for plaintiff, Ed. Groulx, solr. for Mrs. Mary Turner, vs. D. L. Hanington, et al, a case of two years standing. In this suit, arrangements have been made by which Mr. Hanington acquires all the property in dispute. Emmerson and Chandler solrs. for plaintiff, Hanington, Teed and Hewson, solr. for defendant.

The teacher of the evening school, S. S. Union, of the Deaneary of Shediac, held their semi-annual meeting in the S. S. House on Tuesday. The representatives from other parishes were—Rev. Dr. Bliss, Westmorland; Rev. Mr. Talbot, and Misses Spiller, Pavor, and Cronen, of Moncton; Rev. F. W. Vroom and Miss Wood, of Shediac. The Rev. Rural Dean was chosen chairman. Papers were read on catechizing by Rev. Mr. Vroom, and on teaching infant classes by Mrs. John Palmer, of Dorchester. General discussion on the papers followed. Much business of importance was transacted.

On Tuesday evening last another most successful social entertainment, in aid of Trinity Church, was held at this time at the residence of Mrs. H. A. Palmer. The entertainment consisted of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, &c. The most amusing feature of a pleasant evening was a series of studies from life of well-known Dorchester persons. The sketches were by Wm. J. Gilbert, and were auctioned off, immediately after exhibition, bringing good prices. A collection was taken up, after which refreshments were partaken of by all.

The proceeds of the evening amounted to upwards of forty dollars ($40). After the programme had been finished, many of the younger people, and some more elderly, remained and passed two very pleasant hours in dancing.

Amherst.

—The excursion to the Joggins Mines on Tuesday was a decided success. Eight first class cars with only some 60 or 70 people to fill them. No doubt the largeness of the season and the unsettled state of the weather was the cause.

Moncton.

—The matrimonial wave has struck the city, and hit it hard. Everything is getting married from 15 years of age to 90; from the Torrid to the Frigid. In many cases it must be largely an "idea".

All the wharves are full of shipping. The harbor is decidedly lively. In fact a buoyant feeling pervades the community. Even religiously, a goodly portion of the people have shaken off the idea of a "Brimstone Hell," which makes the future much brighter.

The event of the week has been St. Bernard's R. C. Church bazaar in the roller rink. It is a big success in every way, the average nightly attendance, between 1,000 and 1,200, the receipts being between 1,200 and 1,500. If a man wants to know how long a five-dollar note lasts, let him attend St. Bernard's bazaar.

The sugar refinery have added a hoop-making machine to their barrel works. They have been importing all their hoops. They are also receiving 1,800 tons of raw sugar, now landing at St. John, ex. Mary A. Troop. The vessel was given up as lost, having been six months on the voyage. Her safe arrival is good news to stockholders, as the business in raw sugar, since the purchase, is heavy.

Moncton is nothing, if not sensational. Last week, Mr. Wallace, proprietor of the "Royal," was arrested while attending a play in the Opera House and taken to Dorchester jail, in default of payment of the 30c Act fines. Geo. P. Thomas, barrister, was equal to the occasion and had Wallace released on a writ of Habeas Corpus, granted by Judge Palmer. William is now enjoying the liberties of a freeman, receiving the congratulations of his numerous friends. The law has been vindicated, and the Scott Act hypocrites get all the stimulants their appetites, or systems, demand.

The annual Exhibition at Summerside will be held on the 25th inst. Sch. Agnes H. is expected to sail from Summerside. Any person or persons can have a good time by calling on Capt. Grant and he will take them as cheap as the cheapest.

Ride Match.

The attendance at the Sackville Rifle Club was very large on Saturday was as large as usual, many of the members being busy with their harvest and not able to be present.

For the Wood Medal, shot at 400 & 500 yds., 7 shots, Messrs. R. Oulton, Fred Cook and Albert Wells tied with 53 pts., and on shooting of 3 shots at 500 yds. it was won by R. Oulton, with 14 pts., Cook making 12 and Wells 10 pts.

The next Pottematch will be held on Saturday, Sept. 23rd, at 400 & 500 yds., 7 shots, with four men to a team, and won by Jolliffe, with 246 pts., Sackville second and Coochville third.

The winners of each prize were:

1st, R. Oulton, 53pts, 2nd, Fred Cook, 53 " 3rd, Albert Wells, 53 " 4th, B. Manship, 49 " 5th, Wm. Jones, 47 " 6th, Clarence Hicks, 46 " 7th, John Best, 45 " 8th, C. H. Kinsler, 45 " 9th, C. G. Campbell, 44 " 10th, John Brooks, 35 " 11th, J. T. Carter, 35 " 12th, H. Reel, 25 "

The next Pottematch will be held on Saturday, Oct. 6th, at 10 o'clock, and this is the last for the season it is expected that the member will be present and all the ranges shot over, and bring to a successful close the season's operations.

There are 165 Cities in the world that contain over one hundred thousand inhabitants, and there are a hundred and one little ailments brought on by an over-worked constitution, which might be prevented by the timely use of Putnam's Emulsion. It is in diseases of this origin that it has achieved and is achieving such marvelous results. Rev. R. T. Brine, Pugwash, N. S., says: "Being fully convinced that suffering from nervous weakness and rheumatic attacks will gain speedy relief from the use of Putnam's Emulsion, I feel it a duty to make known to such its remarkable effects on my system." Dr. H. J. Pipot, of St. Peter's, C. B., says: "Judging from the results obtained from Putnam's Emulsion, in the course of my practice, I cordially recommend it to possess all the virtues ascribed to it as a medicine."
