The climax followed the introduction of evidence of a deposition from the men who sold the blank upon Canada, who resides in Ottawa, three which the Wood-Platt alleged certificate was written. The deposition declared that the blank form was not lithographed until three months after the marriage of Miss Wood to Platt is said to have occurred. The senator's son, Frank H. Prominent Brooklyn Merchant a Victim of Hydrophobia.

New York, May 21 .- Dr. Ira Van Glesen, expert on hydrophobia for the New York Board of Health, was inoculated with hydrophobia today while making an autopsy on the body of William H. Marsh, the British manufacturer, who died of that disease yesterday.

Dr. VanGiesen scratched his arm with one of the bones from Mr. Marsh's body. Dr. VanGiesen said he had been inoculated before and he expressed only annoyance at the accident. He went to the laboratory of the board of health for treatment and will go to the Pasteur Institute

The autopsy showed that Marsh died of hydrophobia. There was no sign of poisoning by drugs.

MRS. THAW'S NEW MOVE

May Ask To Be Appointed to Take Charge of Husband's Estate.

New York, May 21.-Unless she is induced by members of Thaw's family to change her mind, Evelyn Nesbli Thaw next Tuesday will withdraw her suit for annulment of her marriage to Harry Thaw. Following withdraw-WE INSTRUCT PREPARING PAT- al of her annulment action Evelyn, if is said, will ask to be appointed committee of her husband's person erate. If the court decides Thaw is insane and sends him back to Matteawan, Mrs. Thaw will ask for charge of his property to administer it for his benefit and for her own.

The appointment of Evelyn as committee of her husband's person and estate would result in conditions not to Thaw's liking. She has been dependent on his whims for money. Members of the Thaw family promised to make satisfactory settlement on her in return for her beginning annulent proceedings, but it is hinted they have not "made good."

To these statements of fact, Mr. Beck replies that the city's liability to the hydro-electric commission, which would be $60,444 per annum, as set forth in items 1 and 2 in the above table, is included in the price of the power sold to the municipality by the commission. Consequently, he argues, the municipality will pay the commission with the money collected from users of power, and the ratepayers will not be required to put up a

The corporation of the city of London would have an active and strongly-entrenched competitor in the London Electric Company, whose wires cover every portion of the city. The municipal plant, for which the citizens recently voted $235,000, is only a partial one, covering a limited area. The great majority of the users of electric light would not be reached by It at the outset. It would be extended gradually, if it could undersell the London Electric, but it would probably have to fight for every inch of the way, as the private concern would strain every resource before being driven from the field. There is no means of estimating even approximately the revenue of the city from such an enterprise. Mr. Beck professes to be certain of its feasibility and financial success. His faith is not shared by the Government to such an extent that it will guarantee the municipalities against loss or assume any responsibility whatever.

PYNE'S LAME APOLOGIST.

Mr. Whitney's organ, the Toronto News, makes a labored effort to place Dr. Pyne's school bungling on Mr. MacKay's shoulders. One part of its wretchedness, the News says, was suggested by Mr. MacKay, and it holds him equally guilty for the other part because he allowed it to pass.

In the same column of special pleading, the News asserts that Dr. Pyne found the schools in a very "emasculated and anaemic condition." Many of the teachers were holders of "merecouncil into ratifying an agreement ly temporary certificates." In the last report to hand, issued by Dr. Pyne Mrs. Lionard Greatly Pleased and when even the city solicitor is himself, the number of such certifinot clear as to the meaning of one cates is given at 1,700, the largest by far ever reported in the Province of They should not refuse to publish Ontario. ONE "HIRELING" FEWER.

Mr. Whitney's abusive tongue and reckless use of language, which are habitual, led him to do a great injustice to a number of public-spirited citizens in his opening speech at Hamdon's distributing station 9,400 liton. He tried to discount the attacks of the Toronto Globe by stigmatizing its president and editor as "hirelings" 23,500 ray, the president, has been a member of the Niagara parks commission for many years, a post which carries no emoluments. Both of these men have given freely of their time and services to the Province, and their reward is the epithet "hireling." Members of both political parties, who serve on the Niagara Parks tnd the University boards, share in the Premier's abuse.
