ELEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Inspector of Penitentiaries

OF THE

DOMINION OF CANADA

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30TH JUNE, 1886.

Honorable J. S. D. THOMPSON, Minister of Justice.

SIR,—I have the honor, according to law, to submit my Annual Report, upon the Penitentiaries of the Dominion, for the year ending 30th June, 1886; also the reports of the several Wardens, Chaplains, Surgeons, School-masters, and of the General Accountant of Penitentiaries, along with the various statistical tables which are prescribed to be furnished by each Penitentiary.

The movement of convicts, during the financial year 1885-86 throughout Canada, was as follows:—

The total convict population of Canada on the 30th June, 1886, was 1,200 as against 1,112 on the 30th June, 1885, showing an increase, in the past year, of 88.

The increase in the convict roll of each Penitentiary was as follows:—

Kingston.....	41
St. Vincent de Paul.....	17
Dorchester.....	3
Manitoba.....	18
British Columbia.....	9
Total.....	88

However much any addition to the number of convicts of the preceding year is to be regretted, there is some solace and encouragement in the fact that the increase noted is not out of proportion to the growth of the general population.

One more female convict has been added to the register, the number on 30th June being 42. These, with the exception of one at Dorchester, are confined in Kingston Penitentiary and include all the female prisoners who have been sentenced to penal servitude from Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. It is a rather remarkable circumstance that no female has been yet convicted of a Penitentiary offence in Manitoba or British Columbia. May the day be far distant when this shall happen!

In the series of Annual Reports which I have prepared during the last fourteen years, all the suggestions and recommendations which I considered would conduce to the better administration of Penitentiaries and to the reformation of their unfortunate inmates have been set forth.

In this general portion of the report, I shall confine my recommendations to two which have been already made. First, that the indeterminate sentence which has been tested with so much advantage, in parts of Europe, and which is being introduced in the United States, receive your consideration.

Secondly, that the wardens be placed in a position to visit and examine into the regime of a few, at least, of the best conducted prisons of the United States. Circumstanced as they have been these officers are cut off from every opportunity of enlarging their experience or increasing their knowledge of penology and of the manner in which the duties of their position are elsewhere performed. The Warden of the Central Prison, Toronto, has been enabled, not once but often, to go through all the prisons of note in the surrounding States. He has been also authorized to attend the meetings of the National Prison Congress, a privilege not enjoyed by any warden of our penitentiaries, but which is extended to men holding the like positions all over the adjoining Republic. The advantages to be derived from such opportunities are too obvious to require proof. The withholding of them is misplaced economy as contrasted with what is done in other countries.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY.

It affords me pleasure to be able to state, for your information, that, the administration of this Penitentiary continues to be very ably and satisfactorily carried on. Dr. Lavell still realizes the expectations which were formed of him at the time of his appointment. In the discharge of his varied and important duties he exercises a good share of judgment, discretion and firmness. Under his management, the discipline has improved; the conduct and industry of the prisoners are as good as can be expected, where the habitual and hardened criminals and the well disposed are indiscriminately mixed up together.

The matron, Mrs. Leahy, after twenty-five years' service, resigned, through ill-health, last March, and has been succeeded by Miss Fahey, who, thus far, has proved herself efficient and very well qualified for the position.

The Warden notices, again, in his report, this year, the number of convicts who are unfit for hard labour from physical and mental causes. He also refers to the comparatively few mechanics and the small number of those who are capable of learning trades. The percentage, here, of imbeciles and of a class laboring under mental disease of one phase or other, as noted in my two last reports, is large. Their presence in a prison like this is injurious to discipline and causes a great deal of extra trouble. The general opinion of the officers, from the Warden down, including the Surgeon, is that the large majority of such persons are more suited to an asylum for lunatics or idiots than for a Penitentiary. The most of them are not responsible for their acts; to punish them for violation of rules were cruel and unjust; and to allow them, carte blanche, to do as they see fit, is an encouragement for the vicious and ill-disposed to follow their example. They are not crazy enough to confine them in the criminal lunatic asylum; but they are sufficiently far gone to render their treatment in a penal establishment extremely difficult and embarrassing. Dr. Mitchell, the Surgeon at Dorchester Penitentiary, also calls attention to convicts there, who are similarly afflicted. He describes their mental condition to be of "such a deplorably low order, that it is difficult to know what to do with them; inoffensive fools who become a local nuisance in the parishes where they reside, and are sent to the Penitentiary for long terms." I regard Dr. Mitchell's suggestion an excellent one, namely, that "there should be a certificate of the mental as well as the physical condition of every convict sent to the Penitentiary." Can any remedy be had for this great moral or legal evil? In December, 1884, consideration was given in England to the question of the maintaining in prison of inmates who were, and who were always likely to be, hospital patients and not fit subjects for penal discipline. The Secretary of State laid down "that a prison is a place for penal discipline and it is not, under ordinary circumstances, the proper scene for a death bed, and ought not be converted into a hospital for incurables." REPORT OF DIRECTORS OF CONVICT PRISONS FOR 1884-85.

It was decided that, as a general rule, no good object could be served by retaining in prison those who came under that description, and were in such condition that it was highly improbable they could again enter upon a criminal career. This decision led to the conditional release of several prisoners who had been a long time inmates of Woking prison.

Our surgeons and wardens could easily pick out a goodly number of unfortunate beings who are turning our penitentiaries into "hospitals for incurables."

The Warden refers to the disadvantage of not having trade instructors, as at St. Vincent de Paul and Dorchester Penitentiaries. Under the existing arrangement, here—except in the tailor shop—the double duties of trade instructor and keeper are done by one officer, and this, too, for a lower salary than is paid to the trade instructor in the prisons just mentioned. For two reasons this plan of economising is objectionable. First, because the work and the discipline suffer. No one man can properly look to the safe-keeping of his gang and give mechanical instructions. The experience of several years has established this fact beyond yea or nay. Secondly, the exceptionally lower salaries paid to the officers who act in the dual capacity mentioned, in this penitentiary, compared with the rate of payment to the trade instructors in the other institutions, cause some jealousy and discontent. I recommend that the requisite number of trade instructors, distinct from keepers, be appointed. The benefit which would accrue to the convicts learning trades, to discipline and the improved condition of the industries, as to quality and output, would more than compensate for the additional salaries on the pay list.

The various works of the institution absorb the labor of all who are able to work; still the warden could undertake to execute any orders that might be given him from the various Departments at Ottawa that have been heretofore accustomed to get work done at this penitentiary. It is a generally admitted principle that a Government can utilize convict labor upon every description of work required for the public service, and which convicts can perform, without being amenable to outside opinion, no matter where or by whom expressed. The Imperial Government acts upon this principle, as the Annual Reports of the Directors of Penal Prisons amply testify. It may be interesting as well as instructive to the opponents of productive labor in prisons, as well as to those who consider it a crying evil, nay, a crime, to allow convicts to learn or work at a trade, to know what is done in the English convict prisons. I quote from the director's report for 1884-85 as follows:—

The earnings at Borstal Prison from War Dept. were..	£10,499	8	11 $\frac{3}{4}$
do Chatham Prison do ...	6,414	16	5 $\frac{1}{4}$
do do do Admiralty were..	23,897	3	4 $\frac{1}{2}$

Among the convicts employed for these departments were carpenters, painters, shoemakers, tailors, sawyers, blacksmiths, masons, platelayers, engine-drivers, laborers, bricklayers. &c.

At Dartmoor Prison articles to the value of £4,195 10s. 4l. were manufactured, to wit:—For Metropolitan Police, 450 great coats, 200 tunics, 2,536 pairs of boots; for H. M. dockyards, 6,250 seamen's bags, 5,667 hammocks and 700 coal sacks.

At Pentonville a revenue of £17,494 0s. 9d. was derived from tailoring, shoemaking, weaving, book-binding, mat-making, bag-making and tinman's work.

Portland Prison netted from the Admiralty £11,967 16s. 4½d. and from the War Department £16,166 10s. 9½d. from the labor of prisoners employed as blacksmiths, carpenters, riggers, stonecutters and painters.

At Woking hammocks and seamen's bags for the R. Navy, and boots, tunics and great coats for the Metropolitan Police were manufactured.

At Wormwood Scrubs the sum of £3,068 8s. 3d. was earned at sixteen different trades and industries.

Yet, with these industries, requiring mechanical skill, so extensively carried on, not only in the Government penal institutions, but in the county gaols, all over England—the revenue of Wakefield gaol for mat-making, alone, being over £50,000 a year—there is no clamor raised in or out of Parliament by the friends or pretended friends of the working classes or by the working classes, on their own behalf, against prison as opposed to free labor. And why? Because as already intimated, the right is universally conceded to the Government to employ convict labor on public works, industries and manufactures, which are under its own control, and destined for the public service. We pride ourselves, in Canada, upon following English precedents. Is not the sensible and profitable system of employing prison labor in England, worthy of imitation? Fortunately we are not yet called upon to meet and solve the much vexed but sadly misrepresented and misunderstood question of prison as against free labor. The building and equipping of our penitentiaries along with the ordinary prison work afford employment to the convicts, for the time being; but, the day is not distant when other work must be provided and it were wise and well to be warned, in good time, by the trouble which has overtaken some of the best administered prisons, in the United States, on this very point, and decide how the emergency is to be met. In view of this, I would beg to suggest that severe labor, such as that which is necessary in constructing the prison buildings, is most beneficial in teaching criminals habits of industry, and training them to such employments as digging, road-making, quarrying, stone dressing, building, brickmaking and farming. It is found that employment of this nature is most easily obtained by convicts, on their release, since men are taken on for rough work without the strict inquiries as to previous character which are made in other cases.

No doubt, even if it were not advantageous in a pecuniary point of view to employ convicts on works of this nature, it would still be most desirable that such employment should be found for them as an essential part of penal discipline; but it is far more satisfactory that their labor should, if possible, be profitably employed. Though the actual revenue from convict labor, in all the penitentiaries is comparatively small, yet, the calculations of their earnings at the various employments, in the interest of the Government, which appear in the annual reports, can be relied on as a real measure of the value to the country of the work done. The works which have been executed by convict labor testify to the skill with which associated labor has been directed and are substantial proofs that convicts can be made to repay to the public a considerable part of the cost of their maintenance. The judicious utilization of the labor of men who, whether usefully or uselessly employed, have, in either case, to be maintained at the public expense, cannot be too strongly emphasized. In this connection it may be appropriately noted that the Protestant Chaplain, Rev. C. E. Cartwright, recommends that convicts be employed at skilled labor, as a means of reform and upon Government work.

Among the works in progress, at the close of the year, are a piggery so long required, and a gas house. The former is a capacious and substantial stone building, well suited for its purpose. It will be finished in the course of next summer. The gas works have been since completed; but are found to be defective in a few essential particulars which can be readily supplied. The prison has been lighted with gas, since the beginning of the winter. Though it is not quite up to the standard an immense improvement over the old system of lighting, with coal oil lamps, evident.

The contract for convict labor, at lock making, with Mr. L. B. Spencer, expired on the 30th June. He has been permitted to employ about ninety convicts, on the piece price plan, in order to finish the work which had been incomplete on the expiry of the contract.

The enlargement of the prison cells, which I have recommended for some years back, is a work which is very necessary, but it is found to be impracticable, at present, because the Warden has not a sufficient number of convicts at his disposal to warrant him in undertaking a labor of such magnitude. For a year to come, at least, all the prisoners available will be engaged in pointing the surrounding wall, the prison buildings, the wall surrounding the Warden's residence, all which are showing signs of dilapidation; also in levelling the ground around the exhausted quarries, quarrying, stone-cutting and the ordinary prison work. I hope that, in the spring of 1888 the enlargement of the cells will be commenced.

The school is well attended, the convicts going there are attentive, earnest in their efforts to learn, well conducted, and very many of them reap much advantage from the instruction they receive. The teachers are zealous and faithful, on their part, in trying to advance their pupils.

The library is of great benefit and contributes largely to the mental and moral improvement of the prisoners, to their recreation and amusement and to good order and discipline.

The Surgeon reports the health to have been remarkably good, and no epidemic. In the course of the summer, diarrhoea prevailed, but it was speedily checked by means of proper change of diet and remedies. He states that there are a number of old and infirm convicts who are unable to work.

There are twenty-five insane convicts, the majority being hopelessly mad. The Surgeon calls attention to the fact that convicts are sent from other Penitentiaries as insane who should be kept where they come from. He says, as a general rule, these prisoners are put to work, here, and that this could be done elsewhere.

I regret being obliged to report that, after some years of trial, the building used as a criminal insane asylum is not suited for its purpose. The mill is in the edifice and the noise and vibration greatly disturb the patients. Moreover the unfortunate inmates are confined all the year round within doors, having no yard or ground available for air and exercise so much needed by those suffering from mental diseases.

The female prison, too, on account of its contiguity to the male department and there being no space for recreation and exercise, is unsuitable. I beg to propose that the east side of the boundary wall be extended so as to take in the field adjoining the tram road, and belonging to the penitentiary. Here, a proper female prison and lunatic asylum with grounds sufficient for both, could be built. In view of enlarging the wings the female prison will be wanted to afford sufficient accommodation for the male convicts. The present insane asylum, also, will be necessary for the purpose of isolating bad and hardened criminals from the better disposed and thus make a beginning of that much approved and most necessary measure of reform.

The Warden adverts to the disadvantage at which he is placed by not being allowed the opportunity of visiting other prisons and comparing opinions with men of practical prison experience. I have already given my views on this point.

The female department, as I have noted, is managed with the same success as formerly, by the new matron, who reports the conduct and industry of the prisoners as satisfactory.

Four escapes occurred during the year, in connection with which the Warden could not attach blame to any officer.

The officers comprising the staff of the several Penitentiaries are, as a rule, a deserving, reliable and intelligent class of men. Their duties are very responsible, continuous and monotonous. After twenty or more years spent in this service, they are unfitted for any other pursuit. I beg leave, therefore, to recommend to your favorable attention their claims to more liberal compensation for their services. I may mention, for your information, that, in the State prisons of the neighboring Republic, which correspond with our Penitentiaries, the rate of salaries is higher, from the Warden to the lowest subordinate officer. I do not wish to cause any blushes or remorse of conscience by comparing the salary paid to the Inspector of Penitentiaries for the Dominion, with what the officers of similar rank connected with various State prisons receive. Suffice to say, the contrast is marked and—on this side of the line—humiliating.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY.

The most noteworthy event in connection with the Penitentiary, in the course of the year, was the deplorable outbreak of a large number of convicts which took place, last Easter Saturday, 24th April. The acting Warden, in his report, gives the details of the occurrence; hence it is needless for me, here, to repeat the particulars. As you have taken into your own hands any inquiry, you may deem necessary, relative to the causes which led to the unfortunate revolt, I forbear expressing, in this report, an opinion or giving any of the information which I possess on the matter. I shall be prepared to do both, whenever necessary.

It gives me great pleasure to inform you that I noticed, in my late visits, that an improvement has taken place in the administration of the affairs of this Penitentiary, more especially as regards the discipline. The Deputy Warden, in the absence of the disabled Warden, took charge. He has been ably assisted by the Chief Keeper, whose long experience and familiarity with prison management, at Kingston and in this place, rendered his aid as valuable as it was opportune.

I have to express my deep regret for the injuries sustained by the Warden at the hands of men who were treated by him with so much leniency. They were guilty of the basest ingratitude. For eight months he has been suffering from the effect of the wounds which he received.

The sad accident which befell the Surgeon, Dr. Pomerville, while in the performance of his duty, has caused me much pain. Ever since the Penitentiary was opened, I have always found him most assiduous, attentive and kind hearted in the treatment of his patients. I fear his injury is of a permanent character and will seriously interfere with the future practice of his profession—a fact which it is to be hoped the Government will take into favorable account.

The sanitary state of the institution has been all that could be wished ; there was no epidemic or contagious disease, although they had been so near. The precaution taken by the Surgeon to have the convicts and officers vaccinated and visitors excluded, during the prevalence of the disease, were salutary and efficacious in preventing its inroad.

The Protestant Chaplain pays a marked tribute to the success of the present administration.

The Catholic Chaplain notes that forty-five recidivists were received during 1885-86, viz., 30 for the 2nd, 8 for the 3rd, 6 for the 4th and 1 for the fifth time. This is a strong argument in favor of the plan of indeterminate sentence. He also refers to the newspaper reports of the revolt as “inspired by political intrigues, or by personal enemies of the officers or of the Penitentiary, or, perhaps, urged on by the desire of putting in print wonderful things, sensational news, &c., have allowed themselves to publish reports altogether erroneous and fantastic and to set forth accusations of a nature very grave but yet gratuitous.”

The purchase of the Germain farm will enable the Department of Public Works to enlarge the prison yard, now so much crowded. The sooner this is done the better in order that a proper hospital—so long and so greatly needed—and a laundry be provided.

The Acting Warden reports the staff efficient “with few exceptions.” It is his duty to report to the Department the names of any officers who are incompetent on the score of age, ill-health, want of intelligence or any other cause. In the past, the status and reputation of this Penitentiary has suffered sadly from the unfitness and misconduct of employés, who should never have been taken into the service. It would be a fatal error to countenance or connive at this in the future.

I hope that the convicts, who rendered actual service at the time of the outbreak, and in whose favor a report has been made by the Acting Deputy Warden and submitted for your information, will be favorably considered. I invariably find that the recognition of such meritorious conduct has a good effect.

DORCHESTER PENITENTIARY.

Although this prison has been over-crowded, all through the year, nothing unusual or unpleasant has happened to mar or interrupt the even course of its management. I have much satisfaction in giving the Warden credit for his tact and good judgment in steering clear of difficulties. This desirable state of things is due, in great measure, to the general good feeling which prevails among the staff and to the cheerful and ready co-operation given to the chief officer in directing the establishment.

The new wing, which should have been finished two years ago, is still in the hands of the contractor. This has caused inconvenience and disappointment. To have, from twenty-five to forty convicts, outside of cells, at night, sleeping along the galleries of the centre hall, involves no small share of risk and responsibility.

In view of building the boundary wall, I recommend again, this year, that tests be made for stone and that an item of at least $1,000—the same amount as was granted by Hon. A. Mackenzie, but which was allowed to lapse—be placed in the Estimates of the Department of Public Works, for this purpose. There is stone enough in sight to make a beginning with; the sinking of the foundations is the first work, and this can be undertaken when the frost shall have been out of the ground. The number of convicts to be employed at building the wall can be easily determined upon consultation with the Clerk of Works.

The Warden reports the conduct and industry of the convicts, with very few exceptions to have been praiseworthy.

The services in the chapel have been held every Sunday; the Chaplains have faithfully attended to their duties; and the convicts have been attentive and well-behaved during the religious exercises.

More than the average number of imbecile and half-crazy prisoners have been received of late who give a great deal of trouble, especially to the Surgeon, whose remarks respecting them are given in another part of this report.

I agree with the Warden as to the advantage of buying the forty acres of woodland offered for sale by Mr. Turner, adjoining the Penitentiary property. I hope provision will be made in the Estimates for the purchase.

The sanitary condition of the prison is excellent; there has been no contagious disease. The Surgeon reports that, there are twelve convicts "whose mental condition is of a deplorably low order." It is worthy of remark that in the States prisons of the United States there are no insane patients. When a convict loses his reason he is removed to a regular lunatic asylum, where he is properly treated and cared. The Surgeon is very punctual and attentive in looking after those who require his professional services.

The school has a good average attendance, and the convicts who take advantage of the opportunity afforded them of making up for neglect or misspent time in their youth, here as in the other penitentiaries, apply themselves with diligence to learn. I have found the teacher painstaking and eager to improve the men committed to his charge.

I regret that no less than seven youths, under sixteen, have been sentenced to the penitentiary within the past year. The old penitentiary at St. John is well suited for a juvenile reformatory. What a loss to these poor boys, who are sentenced to herd with hardened criminals, that their lot had not been cast where their age and future welfare would meet with more consideration!

MANITOBA PENITENTIARY.

I made my annual visit to this prison in October, 1885.

All the available members of the staff were paraded before me. The men appeared to be active, fit and in good training; they were so reported by the Warden. I addressed a few words to them, commending their zeal and extra vigilance during the absence of the Warden, at the seat of war.

Scrupulous cleanliness and good order meet the eye in every part of the prison; the discipline is excellent. In fact, a violation of rule never came under my notice during any of my numerous visits, though having the best opportunities of seeing the convicts at their various posts of duty. I found them always industrious, attentive to instructions and observing the rule of silence far more strictly than in the other penitentiaries.

As there is no hospital, the stone building containing the punishment cells, and, later on, some of the attic rooms were used for the sick. For many years back, I have pointed out, in my annual report, the great drawback experienced by the Warden and surgeon through the want of a hospital. Plans, as noticed in my last report, were made by the Department of Public Works, and approved of by this Department, and nothing has been yet done.

The new chapels are being built. They are very badly required as the Protestant Chapel is divided off, on week days, into workshops for the tailors and shoemakers.

At the time of my visit fifty-seven convicts were unprovided with cells, and were distributed through the prison corridors, the attic rooms and passages and wherever a bed could be placed. It is about six years since I recommended the building of a new prison wing. Since October of 1885, forty-seven cells have been added, the Warden having vacated his quarters, at great inconvenience, to meet the requirement of the Department of Public Works. The pardoning of many of the Indians who had taken part in the rebellion has reduced the number of prisoners within the capacity of the prison. Nevertheless, as the population is increasing steadily, and as it is likely the criminal class will also increase, in some proportion,

I strongly recommend that another wing be added to the one now in use. It were better to have the prison awaiting the prisoners than the contrary, as at present.

The boundary wall has been frequently asked for; the necessity for it is manifest to every one who visits the Penitentiary. Its construction cannot be well put off without great risk, and the consequence may be unpleasant unless this great defect be remedied. The stone could be quarried and the lime burned during the winter.

The Warden places as many as possible of the Indian prisoners in the workshops, in order that they may learn such trades as will be useful to them on discharge, and especially those for which they show a taste and preference.

A change has been made, in the bath room, for the better. Six new tubs, made by convicts, have been placed in suitable position, so that the prisoners have proper facilities and space for taking the baths prescribed by the rules.

The school is carried on with advantage.

The Chaplains are reported to me, by the Warden, to have done their duties regularly during the year.

The general health of the convicts has been very good.

A change has been made in the office of the Accountant, Mr. P. McGowan, formerly Hospital Overseer at Dorchester Penitentiary, has succeeded Mr. A. C. Crookshank.

Mr. D. D. Bourke has been appointed Hospital Overseer and Schoolmaster.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PENITENTIARY.

In my report of last year, as the result of my inspection of this Penitentiary, I described the improvements made, since its opening, in 1878, and I made such recommendations respecting the requirements of the place as I considered necessary. Some of these have been carried into effect while many of them are still awaiting the action of the Department of Public Works.

The Warden reports that the water supply is undergoing improvement. This is highly important, having been so limited it would have been of little avail in case of fire. The water is of excellent quality.

Quarters have been provided for the unmarried officers and a few houses for the men having families, but not the number asked for by this Department. Application has been made to the Department of Public Works to supply the deficiency.

The workshops are found to be of great benefit ; all the clothing both for the officers and convicts, including boots and shoes, is now made by the prisoners.

Farm buildings, such as barns, stables, waggon sheds, cow house, tool house, &c., are indispensably necessary. The old buildings occupied by the Sappers, many years ago, which were falling into ruin, were brought together, patched up and used in lieu of more suitable structures in connection with the farm. They will not last much longer.

The building of the hospital has been delayed, on account of the plan prepared by the Department of Public Works having been objected to by the Warden and Surgeon. The additional wing asked for, four years ago, and strongly pressed for in the report for 1884-85 is yet among the possibilities. To say that it is very much required would be only to repeat what has been so often represented.

I beg, once more, to recommend that a residence be provided for the Warden, on the site of the old Government House.

A laundry and bakery have been applied for to the Department of Public Works ; but the Warden's report shows that nothing has been done to supply these wants.

The Warden mentions, with approbation, the services of the Deputy Warden, Mr. Fitzsimons, in regard to the improvement of the land, &c., apart from his prescribed duties. I had pleasure in bearing testimony to this, in my last report.

I agree with the Warden in recommending that the heating be done by artificial means, steam or hot water would be, perhaps, the best appliance.

It would be very desirable, also, that gas be used instead of coal oil. Coal, for these purposes, is, I believe, cheap.

The Protestant Chaplain reports that his labors have been well bestowed and with good results. He speaks well of the good accomplished in the school, and of the teacher's zeal and efforts. He—as well as the Warden—refers to the advantage of the Inspector's visits. Indeed, I think they are useful and necessary, and should be made annually.

The Catholic chaplain calls attention to the insufficient room in the Catholic chapel. The chapels are the same size as those in Manitoba Penitentiary, where new ones are drawing towards completion. The prison population, at New Westminster, is larger than at Stony Mountain ; consequently, there is even more necessity for new chapels for the former prison.

The Surgeon reports that, although the Penitentiary has been largely overcrowded, there has been no disease of an epidemic nature.

The teacher states that the progress in the school has been favorable.

It remains for me to make my acknowledgments to you, Sir, and to the Deputy Minister of Justice, for amenities towards me, officially and personally, and for the facilities and assistance given me in the discharge of my duties.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your faithful and obedient servant,

JAS. G. MOYLAN,

Inspector of Penitentiaries for Canada.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY.

REPORT OF THE WARDEN FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDED
30TH JUNE, 1886.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY, 30th June, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to present the annual report of this penitentiary for the year ended 30th June, 1886.

There remained in the penitentiary at midnight of the 30th June, 1885, 496 males and 41 females; total, 537. Received since, 207 males and 8 females; total, 215.

Discharged since 30th June, 1885 :—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
By expiration of sentence	122	8	130
By pardon.....	26	0	26
By death.	4	0	4
Sent to lunatic asylum.....	7	0	7
By escape.....	4	0	4
Removed by order of court.....	2	0	2
Sent to Manitoba Penitentiary.....	1	0	1
	166	8	174

Remaining in the penitentiary at this date, 537 males and 41 females; total, 578.

The prisoners are distributed as follows, viz. :—

Carpenter shop.....	39
Blacksmiths.....	23
Stonecutters.....	42
Mason gangs.....	33
Tailor and shoe shop.....	63
Farm and garden.....	31
Hospital patients.....	8
Wings.....	21
Contract shops.....	92
Quarry.....	22
Females.....	41

Laboring gang.....	9
Railroad do	2
Dining hall and kitchen.....	17
Wash house.....	6
Bakery.....	6
Orderlies, &c.....	12
Asylum patients.....	27
Dry room.....	25
Stone pile and bucket ground	41
Engineers.....	18

It must not be supposed that all these prisoners are physically fit for hard labor; for, apart from the actually sick and insane, many from various physical and mental causes are useless for labor of any kind or practically so. The number of mechanics, or of men familiar with skilled labor, is small, the greater number is of a class difficult to train in the use of tools, and hence in the works of this penitentiary progress is slow and often imperfect.

This institution labors under the disadvantage of not having trade instructors, there being but one in the place. Our keepers and guards do this double duty, from necessity, to the detriment of discipline and work. A man in charge of a gang of men is placed at a disadvantage when he has at the same time to instruct and guard them.

On the whole the convicts work reasonably well, particularly when learning or doing mechanical labor and to this extent is discipline subserved. Men employed at intelligent labor are better behaved and give less trouble than others not so employed, their minds are directed and being interested in what they are learning are less disposed to indulge in evil-doing.

At present our various works command the labor of all our available men. By the increase of our guards I will be able to place more men at outside work than I could otherwise do, and thereby will contribute to improvements in the penitentiary property very much required.

The conduct of the prisoners is good, and while the table of punishments shows an increase over the previous year, it does not follow that the prisoners are any worse than in former years, it is more the outcome of more vigilant supervision by the officers, who are instructed to let no violations of discipline escape them without reporting. If there is laxity in supervision by officers the benefit accruing from remission of sentence will be impaired and the equity of treatment challenged.

The gas house which has been in process of construction for some time is about completed and is a substantial building, well adapted for the purposed designed.

A piggery for the farm, long needed, has been commenced and will be ready for occupation before the winter sets in. Improvements on the farm are also being made, which with repairs and additions in various departments employ our available men.

The contract system in the prison expires to-day. In the absence of anything definite as to the employment of the convicts at present engaged in that way, I will be a little perplexed in finding work for them, this I must do to keep them from idleness. I am aware the question as to how convict labor should be employed is now occupying attention. I hope a solution of this vexed matter may soon be satisfactorily reached.

I am glad to note the increased efficiency of the staff of the institution. I find a pleasant acquiescence in carrying out all measures designed for its government.

While it will be my aim continually to adopt the most humanizing methods in the treatment of the unfortunate class under my charge, and to inculcate all my officers with the same sentiment, I will, at the same time, demand a kindly firmness and justice—impressing all under their charge that fairness will be meted out to every man. Acting on such principles I am not without hope that these fallen people will, at least to some extent, appreciate efforts in the direction of their good.

I strive as much as possible to come personally in contact with every prisoner and secure his confidence; by this means I enlist his sympathies towards obedience and industry, tending to satisfactory results.

The school, library, light and remission are strong incentives to good conduct, these are restraints far in advance of any punishment. I have known the lowest to be reached in this way. I would that all of us in charge of prisoners had with other qualifications that of common sense and knowledge of human nature.

The health of the prison is excellent and every care taken to maintain it.

I regret that during the year we had four escapes; the circumstances attending them were reported at the time and subsequently investigated by you.

The following statement shows the daily cost per capita without reference to revenue, and when it has been deducted, also the revenue and expenditure for the year just closed:—

Vote for 1885-86.....	$98,570 17
Less expenditure.....	97,520 28
	<hr/>
	$1,409 28
	<hr/> <hr/>
Revenue for 1885-86.....	$12,675 44
	<hr/> <hr/>

The daily average being a fraction over 554, the revenue would be per capita $22.88.

Cost per capita, daily average being 554:—

Staff.....	$81 58
Rations.....	32 09
Uniform clothing.....	12 54
Maintenance of buildings.....	5 39 $\frac{3}{4}$
Heating.....	15 32
Discharge clothing and travelling allowance	7 33
Light.....	3 74 $\frac{3}{4}$
Bedding.....	1 49 $\frac{1}{2}$
Prison furnishings.....	0 92
	<hr/>
	$160 40
	<hr/> <hr/>

The total daily cost is \$160.42, the cost per capita would be therefore 43 $\frac{14}{100}$ c, or deducting the revenue, 37 $\frac{1}{2}$ c.

In administering the affairs of this penitentiary, I have to rely upon the observation and experience obtained here. I have lacked the opportunity which in my opinion would undoubtedly accrue from personal visitation of other penal institutions and contact with men of experience in the management of prisons. I venture to hope the period is not remote when the privilege occasionally may be afforded of gathering valuable information which can only be obtained in this practical way.

Permit me to express my obligation to you for personal and official counsel extended to me in a manner which I shall always appreciate.

I have to the best of my ability discharged the trust committed to me, and while there may be noticed errors of judgment, I claim a conscientious endeavor to achieve the best results.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

M. LAVELL,

Warden.

REPORT OF THE PROTESTANT CHAPLAIN.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY, 30th June, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to present my annual report for the year 1885-86. The duties have been regularly discharged and very little has occurred worthy of special remark.

I regret the closing of the contract shops, not so much on account of that special industry as because work in which men can interest themselves is I believe of great moral advantage to the convicts themselves; both because it occupies their minds wholesomely in the present, and because it gives them a better hope of redeeming their lost opportunities in the future. Most men who come here, after the first feeling of anger or despair has passed over, have a short period in which they determine to do better. If a chance of learning a trade likely to be of value to them in the future be then presented to them, they will often apply themselves to master it. Feeling themselves usefully employed they are content and retain their good intentions. But where the man takes no interest in his work, looks on it merely as a punishment, and consequently does it in a careless fashion he soon becomes bitter and says: "Some one has got to pay for this," and listens greedily to the instructions of older thieves in order to learn how to prey safely upon the public.

I think outside labor has a right to complain when the work of convicts, housed, fed and clothed at the public expense, is used to place goods on the market at a rate below the fair cost of production. But I do not think there would be any just ground of complaint if the labor of the convicts were applied for Government purposes. There is no reason why convict labor should not be utilized for the manufacture of the militia uniforms, boots, tents, &c., as well as for the Mounted Police, or to make furniture for public buildings as they did some time ago for the Military College. There are no doubt a certain number of men here who are unfit for the simplest forms of skilled labor, but there are many whose reformation would be, I believe, greatly helped by having skilled labor to perform, and utterly spoiled by being forced to work at tasks they hated and despised.

The library is well patronized, keeping the men quiet in their cells. The school also is a help to those who are inclined to remedy the neglect of early education.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

C. E. CARTWRIGHT,

Chaplain.

J. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries.

REPORT OF THE SURGEON.

PORTSMOUTH, ONT., 1st July, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to present my report for the year ended 30th June, 1886.

I have great satisfaction in being able to state that the health of the convicts in this institution has on the whole been remarkably good, much better than could have been expected, considering the class of men received here.

During the summer months a number of those confined within these walls were attacked with diarrhoea, but by making a change in their diet, and employing the usual remedies for such cases, the disease was subdued in a short time, and I am happy to state that at present we are free from epidemics of any kind.

There are now only eleven patients in the hospital, and during the year 193 were admitted, an increase of two over last year, and although a number of those were attacked with severe symptoms, we have lost by death only two of the ordinary patients, one an old man 69 years of age, who was taken into hospital on the 15th March, 1886, being in a very weak state and lived only five days after his admission; the other was attacked with typhoid fever, whose symptoms from the first were very aggravated, and who, though improvement took place giving one hopes that he would recover, a relapse having occurred, died on the 21st May, five weeks from the time of his entering the hospital.

Not many accidents have occurred, and among those that have taken place few only have been of a serious nature. One poor lad, however, lost the sight of his right eye from an injury received while working in the lock-shop. (See statement of accidents.)

There are a number of old and infirm convicts who are unable to work. Some of these are sent to the dry-room, a place set apart for such; others spend most of their time in the hospital. One in particular, aged 74, I was obliged to take in there last fall upon his entering the prison in consequence of his being afflicted with chronic bronchitis. He remained in all winter and most of the spring, and is now in the dry-room. He was sentenced for ten years, the half of which time in my opinion he will not survive.

As usual every day each convict complaining of being ill is permitted to see me at my daily visit to the penitentiary, whose case being inquired into, is either taken into hospital and there treated, or prescribed for and sent to work. In this way disease being attacked as soon as symptoms present themselves many cases are prevented from becoming serious.

Everything is still being done to make the penitentiary second to none in the Dominion, in a hygienic point of view, great attention being paid by the authorities to drainage, food, water supply, ventilation, closets, &c.

I have requested Mr. Adams, the chief trade instructor, the Warden's sanction having first been obtained, to place at the mouth of the main drain a flap, in order that the wind may be prevented from blowing violently up the sewer and forcing the impure gas into the different buildings, should there be any defect in the pipes, traps or plumbing in connection with the pipes entering said sewer, and to place gratings over the closed man holes outside the prison walls for ventilation. I have also called attention to the necessity there exists, more especially in stormy winter weather, when the windows are obliged to be closed, of a large air shaft or cupola being placed over the main boiler house.

At my suggestion, important alterations are taking place in the water closets, &c., in connection with the hospital.

Two new closets, with ventilating shafts, are being constructed, which, when completed, will be a great improvement on the old ones, which were fitted up some years ago without these much-needed vents, the bowls of which, instead of being of glazed earthenware, were of cast iron, and their surfaces being very rough required great watchfulness on the part of the hospital overseer, to keep them free from accumulation of filth. Baths are also being furnished, one for each flat, well supplied with hot and cold water, so that patients can obtain a bath without leaving the ward. By some this might be thought only a luxury, but which I consider an absolute necessity in connection with every well equipped hospital. These closets and baths will shortly be finished, and I have to express my thanks to the Minister of Public Works for the prompt manner in which he has complied with my request in having these improvements, so greatly needed, made. Other very important ones I hope will be completed before the expiration of next year.

INSANE WARD.

The number of persons in the asylum is twenty five.

In reference to those confined here I beg to state that the majority are hopelessly insane, and nothing, therefore, can be done to relieve their mental derangement, although everything is that can be to alleviate their sad condition. Within the last month a convict aged eighty was sent to this penitentiary, I believe, for assault, who, owing to his demented condition, had to be placed here. En passant I would remark that a number of criminals are sent from other prisons to this one, as insane, who might have remained in the institution from which they came, as they are employed here at work and might have been there, and although occasionally some slight symptoms of insanity present themselves, are not so mentally affected as to require to be treated in the asylum, in fact, are not, in this respect, in a worse condition than numbers outside these walls.

There have been discharged from this ward in the past year, as cured, nine; improved sufficiently to resume work, seven; transferred to the provincial asylum on expiration of sentence, eight. In the same period two have died.

FEMALE DEPARTMENT.

This spring, Mrs. Leahy, who has been matron of this department for the last twenty-five years, resigned, and Miss Fahey was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by Mrs. Leahy's resignation. The new matron has endeavored to carry out my directions in reference to the sick to the strict letter; and from all appearances will prove a worthy successor of the late one. One child was born here this year.

I have great pleasure in being able to state that although we have had a number in the hospital, not a death has occurred.

This ward, as well as the asylum, as you will have observed when on your tour of inspection last fall, obtains its supply of heat directly from the same source as that from which the wing, where the male prisoners' cells are situated, is furnished—a great improvement upon the old system of heating. By this means labor is saved, the dirt arising from the coal-dust prevented, a more equable temperature obtained, and, which is of the greatest moment, the air not polluted by the escape of coal-gas. In former years it was almost impossible, especially in wet weather, to keep the stone flooring dry. Now, by means of the present system all dampness is prevented.

Another great improvement, when completed, will be the lighting of the entire prison by means of gas manufactured at the works erected for that purpose, in connection with this prison.

Very few of the keepers or guards have been ailing during the past year, and those who have been indisposed have only required to absent themselves from duty for a few days at a time. The only exception to this was Mr. Halliday, my very efficient and attentive hospital overseer, than whom no better could be found for the position, who for three months was confined to his house. He is now, and has been for some time, I am happy to state, enabled to attend to his duties.

The tables appended show the number treated in the hospital and the nature of their diseases.

Daily prescriptions, independent of those for hospital patients, amounted to 2,728.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

SCHOOLMASTER'S REPORT.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY, 24th August, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit my twelfth annual report concerning the state and management of the school, for fiscal year ended 30th June, 1886.

The daily attendance shows a slight decrease when compared with the previous year. The total number upon school register is to-day 121; this, however, has been subject to fluctuation. Owing to dismissals and the addition of new scholars, making an average daily attendance of 92, the progress made in the elementary branches taught is highly satisfactory, and all who attend appear to fully appreciate the privilege extended to them. As soon as an attendant has received instructions, sufficient for the ordinary duties of life he is dismissed, not, however, without being provided with the proper books, &c., to enable him to continue a series of self instruction during the evenings in his cell. This latter method has a marked tendency upon the discipline of the prison. Before concluding, I desire to extend my sincere thanks to our worthy Warden, Dr. Lavell, for his generous personal treatment and encouragement, extended by his frequent visits to our school room. Many thanks are due my assistants for their zeal. Wishing the school every success,

I have the honor to be,
Your obedient servant,

J. B. P. MATHEWSON,
Schoolmaster.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY.

No. 1.

REPORT OF THE WARDEN, FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30TH JUNE, 1886.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY, 1st July, 1886.

SIR,—In accordance with your instructions I have the honor to submit the following report regarding the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, and the usual returns for the fiscal year ended the 30th June, 1886.

It is over two months since the dreadful revolt of the convicts of this penitentiary occurred, in which the warden, Mr. Laviolette, was incapacitated from duty, by being dangerously wounded, at the hands, I believe, of infuriated convicts; consequently, my taking charge as acting warden, dates from that time, the afternoon of the 24th April last.

The revolt, of which telegraphic and written accounts were promptly forwarded to you at the time, began in the stone cutting department, where a gang of forty convicts, under two officers, were employed, and where convicts Joseph Corriveau, Louis Viau, Edward Peters, Paul Levesque, Napoléon Martel, Joseph Brouillette and Alphonse Desjardins were at work, who with Napoléon Cadieux, of the excavation gang, were the ring-leaders in the shop. They seized, disarmed and bound with cords at this point, officers Therrien, Couvrette, Mellilwaine, A. Plouffe, and teamster Leblanc, and later on the warden and steward, Mazurette. In the meantime operations had been commenced by the convicts of the tailor and shoe shop gangs, where convicts Thomas Norman, J. B. Durocher, J. E. Bassière, Alphonse Dagenais, John Fox, Joseph Hogue, Daniel Ardill, Alphonse Portelance and Arthur Paiement were the leaders. They here seized officers Bostock, Beauparlant, Leduc and Mazurette, disarmed and bound them, as was done with those of the stone shed. While this was being enacted, the convicts of the stone shed sawed two beams of the building and constructed a temporary ladder, which they rushed out with, through the end door of the shop, towards the south-eastern side of the prison boundary, and when in rear of the blacksmith's shop, placed it against the stone wall and began ascending; but before scaling it were fired upon by the tower guards and by the farmer, Mr. Kenny, and guard Ferdinand Chartrand who had some convicts working in the garden outside. Some of the convicts, with revolvers in their hands, reached the top of the wall and fired at the officers, one of the shots taking effect and wounding guard Chartrand in the leg. I happened to be at this point outside, at the time, and other officers—who had been sent by the chief keeper—appearing with rifles and firing them, the mutineers were forced to retire from the wall and abandon the ladder. The worst of the revolt would probably have been then over had not the convicts, on the way to the shops, met the steward and warden, whom they seized, disarmed, partially tied, and placed before them as shields, and proceeded in a body to the other, the north-western side of the prison, and made an attack on the wooden fence, with crow bars and other tools, and endeavored to break their way through, but were fired upon by the tower guards at this end, and, when the bars were piercing through the fence, by officers Lynch, Gadbois, Lemay and others, who had been posted outside by the chief keeper. The convict Corriveau, who had a crow bar in his hands, breaking the fence at the time, was shot dead. The warden and steward were struggling to free themselves, the convicts were shouting desperately and firing the revolvers, and here the most regrettable occurrence of the whole affair took place, the warden getting wounded in three places, which, with the killing of the convict, had the effect of deterring the desperadoes from any further attempt at escape in this direction. The warden was then taken by the convicts—some of whom were friendly—and carried to the front building, and an effort made by them to carry him through; but the chief keeper, who was then at the door of the keepers' hall, but who had no means of knowing, at the time that the warden was there, fired three rifle shots, upwards, in an oblique direction through the "peep hole" (an opening in the door) which had the effect of making the convicts scatter, and when the chief keeper learned that the warden was there wounded, he gave instructions to have him removed to the hospital, and sent for the prison physician. The officers from the outside of the prison were shortly afterwards, ordered in and placed with loaded rifles in advantageous positions in the yard; the muster hall was sounded, the convicts marched in gangs to the dormitories, and counted, when it was found not one had escaped. A thorough search was immediately made of their persons and of the cells, but nothing of consequence found, although it was known six of the officers' revolvers were missing.

The conduct of the prisoners after being locked up was extremely bad, and a regular pandemonium existed in the prison during the night, and for a couple of days afterwards, and but little in the way of controlling them, more than keeping them securely in their cells, could be done without resorting to unadvisable measures. I knew many had made themselves liable to be indicted and tried at the court for crimes committed during the mutiny, consequently I instructed the officers who had been engaged in it, and could testify against any of the convicts, to give me a statement in writing of what they had seen and done, and among others I received one from the chief keeper, which, as being the most important and helping to describe the revolt, I insert. He writes:—

"I was leaving the deputy warden's office, where I had been attending to the 'duty rosters' for the next day, and was going to my own, shortly after four o'clock, on the afternoon of the 24th April, when I first heard of the revolt by convict—— telling me: 'The convicts have McMillwaine and guards of the stone shed tied up, and are going over the walls; I can't find the warden.' I asked: 'Are you sure?' He said: 'Yes, I saw them.' I thanked him, told him to keep quiet, and ran to the warden's office, but did not find him there. I met guard Lesage, told him and said: 'Slip quietly around on the inside and tell the tower guards.' Told guard O'Shea, who was posted at the front door, and said: 'Lock the iron door of the chapel and let no one pass.' Told keeper Charbonneau, who was at the gates, to lock both, and let no one pass either way. I had the warden's clerk, Mr. Papineau, to attend to the ammunition and to keep with it. Sent accountant Malepart around the walls on the outside to give the alarm and to notify the tower guards of what was taking place inside. Gave messenger Lefebvre a rifle and said: 'The convicts are about breaking over the wall at No. 2 tower, take this, go through the deputy's garden, and drive them back.' Returned into the prison and ordered the convicts, whom I saw scattered about, to go into the dormitories; a number went, others would not. Sent guards Labelle, Lesage and G. Chartrand outside with rifles. I then proceeded to the tailor shop, found the door locked, looked through the 'peep hole,' saw instructor Leduc tied up on the platform, had a revolver placed towards my head that was in the hands of convict Norman, who said: 'McCarthy, clear out of there, or you will be a dead man, by God, I'll shoot you!' I said: 'No, you won't do that.' He and convict Portelance, who was with him, said: 'Yes,' and swore they would. I said: 'You are acting foolishly, you will get the worst of this.' I then went and ordered guard Carty to take his gang into the wings, which he did. I tried to get the mason gang to go also, but some of them gave me excuses and did not go. I then went to the centre of the prison where the excavation gang was at work; told keeper Blaine, who was in charge, and ordered his men to go into the wings; told the wing guards, Boyer and Catellier, and ordered them to lock the doors on all the convicts who would go in but to let none out. Met the warden on the gallery of the wings, told him of what was taking place. He did not give me any orders, so I still continued ordering the convicts to go into the dormitories. Saw the warden starting in the direction of the stone shed; I called after him and said: 'Don't go there, it is dangerous.' Continued trying to drive the convicts into the wings when convict Norman approached while I was on the platform; he was dressed in civilian clothes, and was leading a party of about a dozen convicts, and stopped within thirty feet of me; he had a revolver in his hand and pointing it at me, said: 'Give up or I'll shoot you.' I said: 'You can't do it,' and drew my revolver upon him, when he and the others dodged behind the wall jamb of the west wing, and Norman said: 'McCarthy, I don't want to kill you.' I again went to the armory and distributed rifles and ammunition; saw the Catholic chaplain, Mr. Godin, and asked him to telegraph to the Montreal police for assistance and to put my name to the telegram. I went outside and was told by guard Paré, who was posted on No. 6 tower, that the convicts had the warden prisoner and were coming to break through the wooden fence. I went to the place. Keeper Lynch, Gadbois, Demers, guard Lemay, farmer Kenny, teamster Clouthier and others were about. Keeper Lynch was immediately in front of where the attack was made; he said: 'Mr. McCarthy, they are breaking out here, the iron bars are piercing through.' I said: 'Don't let them; shoot the first one that puts his head through.' I asked Paré, of No. 6 tower, if he had plenty ammunition; he said: 'Yes.' I asked: 'Why don't you fire then?' He said he had, but was afraid of shooting the warden, and that the convicts were firing at him. I ran for a rifle and returned immediately, and was told by Paré that one of the convicts was killed; that he thought the convicts had wounded the warden; that they were leaving the place and going to the front building. I went to the front again, and guard O'Shea, who was posted at the door, told me that thirty or forty of the convicts were trying to break into the keepers' hall. I said: 'They shall not do that; let me in and lock the door after me.' I went to the inner door and fired my rifle three times upwards, in an oblique direction, through the opening or 'peep hole' in the door. The convicts scattered immediately and I learned the warden was there wounded. I refused to open the door, and told Mr. Manning, the hospital overseer, to have the warden carried to the hospital, to attend to him and that I would send for the doctor, which I did. I went outside again and met the deputy warden, who had been ill for some days. I spoke to him about the matter and said: 'The convicts are driven from every point; I think we have them all safe now.' He suggested bringing in some officers and going into the yard. I went to the keepers' hall, looked through the windows and saw no signs of disturbance. I came out again and spoke to the officers at the fence and on the tower, who told me the convicts had dispersed; that all seemed pretty still in the yard. I then ordered the officers to come in with their rifles, the deputy warden and myself leading them. I took some of them up to the hospital with me. I saw the warden there wounded, convict Corriveau dead and Munday slightly wounded. I sent the convicts who were not needed there to their cells. We then went in the yard, placed the guards about, had the muster bell sounded and marched the convicts—who by this time were pretty well in their places—to their cells, and found when they were counted that not one had escaped."

"THOS. McCARTHY."

As to the escape of Vian, which followed so closely on the above revolt you were on an official visit at the time, and had an opportunity of seeing the energy displayed by the officers in his recapture—which took place the day after—and also to thoroughly inquire into the particulars of the escape.

The conduct of most of the officers during the trying ordeal of the revolt was praiseworthy in the extreme; they did their duty manfully, and by intelligent and courageous management succeeded in keeping within the prison enclosure so many desperately inclined convicts, some of whom, as already stated, were possessed of firearms, and did not hesitate to use them, in their most determined attempt to escape; and, while on this subject, I do not think it invidious to make special mention of the case of guard Ferdinand Chartrand, who is still confined to bed from the wound he received, and should he, as the result, be maimed for life, it would be but fair, when his case is being dealt with, that his faithfulness and bravery on the occasion be considered, particularly as he did not rush into danger, but met it; when, I repeat, he did his duty bravely, even firing from his knees after being wounded.

Some convicts also rendered good service, notably, the one who gave the chief keeper such timely intimation, and whose name, for obvious reasons, I do not mention here. A report of the services rendered by this convict, and others, was duly forwarded to you, as was also one relating to recalcitrant officers.

An inquest was held on the body of the convict Joseph Corriveau, killed during the revolt, to ascertain how the deceased met his death, and, by the verdict, no blame whatever was attached by the coroner or jury to any of the officers.

You were pleased to suggest and authorize the purchase of twelve of the Leinger patent shackles, and I have found them useful and safe, and very suitable when taking the convicts to court.

You were also pleased to authorize in May last the appointment, temporarily, of four more guards, owing to reasons represented to you at the time, and I find their services useful and necessary for the industry, safety and discipline of the prison; but I beg to say, that in the selection I experienced some difficulty in finding suitable persons, as a man must possess particular, wholesome and important qualifications to make a successful officer even in the humblest position in a penitentiary.

Owing to the difficulty of obtaining sufficient evidence against the convicts engaged in the revolt, but sixteen were indicted and tried at the June term of the Court of Queen's Bench, Montreal. Of these four were acquitted, four were sentenced to serve an additional year, two to two years, five to three years, and one to twenty five years—the last concurrent with former sentence—all to lose any remission of sentence they may have earned to date of trial; and one, a life convict, escaped punishment by the court, as it was thought useless to indict him. However, he is at present undergoing the punishment of wearing a ball and chain, and shall be obliged to for some time to come. Before leaving this subject, permit me to express a hope that when the new rules and regulations for the government of penitentiaries are issued, it will be found that more cases, such as escapes, attempts to escape, and minor assaults upon officers, are added to the list of "prison offences," so that in ordinary cases they could be dealt with here; as having frequent excursions of the convicts from the penitentiary and their exhibition in the courts has, in my opinion, a demoralizing effect on the convicts, the officers and the public in general.

Of the six revolvers taken from the officers, five were found the week after the revolt in different places in the yard and shops where they had been thrown away or hidden by the convicts, and the last was recovered on the 28th ult., three days ago, most cunningly concealed upon the person of a convict who was not engaged in the mutiny, and now as they are in our possession again the fact is very reassuring to the officers in general, and I am able to state that some of the cartridges were found to have been discharged by the convicts from all the revolvers except the warden's.

The purchase of the Germain farm, by the Public Works Department, is a great boon, as it adjoins the penitentiary, and will allow the enlargement of the prison yard, the building of suitable and permanent walls, and other advantages of construction, as also giving more scope and facilities for the employment and surveillance of convicts, many of whom are engaged on the now large farm, the work on which—although delayed somewhat by the revolt—has been pushed with such vigor that present appearances indicate very remunerative returns.

The various works of construction of the prison at which many of the convicts are engaged, under the able superintendence of officers of the Public Works Department, progress satisfactorily, and every facility is cheerfully given for the employment of the convicts and advancement of the work, consistent with due surveillance and discipline; and it is hoped the necessary work to make of the penitentiary a place of safekeeping for its troublesome inmates, will be pressed with great vigor, as until the prison approaches much nearer completion than it is at present, with for instance temporary wooden walls, there shall always be difficulty in preventing the escape of convicts, and more in preventing their attempts at escape.

In regard to the discipline, it has greatly improved since the revolt. I have been essaying to change it, gradually, for the better, and I think I have been, to a great extent, successful, without having to resort to the extreme measure of applying the "lash," or of engendering the intense hatred of the convicts against the administration, of the officers or myself; and in so doing, I simply gave the convicts and officers to understand that the prison rules were for their guidance as well as mine; that I would obey my part; and—to all those capable of understanding them, and few are not—that I would insist on their obedience also; this has been done successfully up to a marked degree, and with a staff of reliable officers, properly sustained, I do not hesitate to say this state of the discipline cannot only be continued but materially improved. No false idea of kindness shall obstruct my administration; the rules and regulations and your instructions have already established, in a most humane manner, all necessary kindness, and every advantage consistent with their most liberal interpretation shall be allowed these unfortunate men whom I must, as it is my duty, control; but outside of this, I consider I would fail in the proper discharge of my functions were I not to insist upon good order and discipline being maintained, even at the risk of being called severe, which I may be, although encouraging the well inclined, and endeavoring to chastise and subdue the refractory by the most humane means within my restricted power.

Of the officers, as a body, I can speak in commendable terms; some there are, of course, not very efficient, and it is but charitable to say not of their own fault, and some of whom have been recommended for gratuities; yet on the whole, I may say, they are an efficient body. They, with few exceptions, acted well during the revolt, and many, nearly all, have most willingly assisted and sustained me in the discharge of my duties since, and I now take pleasure in recording my sincere thanks for all the kind services they have rendered the institution and myself.

Of the chaplains, I must speak in grateful terms for their kindness and encouragement, and the aid they rendered in smoothing many difficulties, and can bear tribute of praise to their devotedness to the spiritual welfare of the convicts, and to the fact of their exerting themselves to the utmost in their calling of doing good.

The efficient and long tried physician of the penitentiary, Dr. Pominville, met with a very serious accident on the night of the 5th May, when going on a professional visit to the wounded warden, by falling on the stone steps near the door of Mr. Laviolette's residence, and thereby breaking his leg, which painful affliction he bears with the most commendable fortitude, and it is hoped he may soon fully recover and again ornament the position he held in the community. During his illness his duties have been most satisfactorily discharged by Dr. Brien.

The warden, although yet unable to leave his house, has been doing better than it was anticipated in consequence of the gravity of his wounds. Hopes are entertained that the strength of his constitution will ultimately cause him to completely recover from the terrible injury he has received while in the conscientious fulfilment of his official duties.

In conclusion I take pleasure in acknowledging the valuable aid and advice you have given me during my short, yet eventful administration, and I consider the most agreeable thanks I can tender for your kindness, courtesy and instruction, is to say that if I have managed the affairs of the penitentiary successfully so far, it has been owing, in a great measure, to my prompt attention to your suggestions.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

TÉLESPHORE OUIMET,

Acting Warden.

REPORT OF THE CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY, 1st July, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to present you my report for the year 1885-86.

The number of Catholic convicts sent us during the course of the year has been 111, whilst the number discharged has been 94. Of the latter number 3 have obtained a remission of a part of their sentences; 2 have died in the institution—one of those two succumbed to phthisis, (pulmonary) or consumption, while the other came to his end during the revolt which took place on the 24th April last, and of which he is said to be one of the leaders.

It pains me exceedingly to be obliged to state that the recidivists for this year have been more numerous than for the preceding two years. During the year 1884-85 22 recidivists were received whilst during the year 1885-86 46 have entered. Of these unfortunate recidivists 30 have been imprisoned for the second time, 8 for the third, 6 for the fourth, and 1 for the fifth time. Furthermore, 11 other convicts have been received into the institution, who have been already in the reformatory.

On the 22nd November, 1885, the inauguration of the organ took place. I am of opinion that I may safely state that Mr. Auguste Desrosiers has built us an organ of the first quality. Such is the opinion of Mr. George Lamarche, organist of the Parish Church of St. Vincent de Paul; of many other organists and of an organ builder. I am happy to be able to testify anew our gratitude to the Honorable the Minister of Public Works and to all those who have aided in obtaining us so good an instrument.

I am not charged to give you any information about the riot which took place last April. The warden or his representative has, I presume, done this ere now. However, it may be allowed me to make a few remarks:—A certain journal has taken the trouble to publish an extract from my report for the year 1884-85 wherein I stated: "I am happy, Mr. Inspector, to be able to state that most of the convicts behave well in chapel, and are attentive to the instructions given them on Sundays and holidays." These words have, perhaps, surprised many readers, who have seen in the journal in question the account of the revolt of the 24th April.

The surprise, however, ought to cease, if it be borne in mind, that in the space of one year, more than a hundred convicts have entered to take the place of a hundred others, who have obtained their liberty on the expiration of their sentence—that the influence of those newly arrived could considerably modify the spirit that heretofore reigned among the prisoners. The astonishment ought to cease, I say again, if one is inclined to believe that those who organize a plot, are generally prudent enough to conceal their game, so as not to leave themselves open to the slightest suspicion. Such has been the case with regard to the ostensible chief of the revolt of the 24th April. He has not, as far as I know, merited to be reprimanded for his conduct in Chapel up to the day of the execution of the plot. To-day I can repeat what I have stated in my report of the preceding year: "I am happy, Mr. Inspector, to be able to state once again that most of the convicts behave well in chapel, and are attentive to the instructions given them on Sundays and holidays." Many of the people who have the permission to assist at the offices held in the chapel on Sundays, &c., have declared to me that the convicts appeared to them attentive and quiet.

It is not my place either to point out the cause that led to the revolt. The officers charged with the administration and discipline will do this at the proper time. However, owing to the great number of recidivists this year, one may be inclined to suppose that amongst them subjects of a more determined character may be found to undertake any means that would tend to the obtaining of their liberty. Moreover, here, as well as in every other assembly of men subject to constraint, it often suffices that a bold and daring leader will put himself at the head of a movement, to lead with him many of those who had been heretofore quiet, but all at once become as daring as the chief himself—and who cannot be controlled in any other way except by force. This daring leader has been found.

We have seen, with regret, that many journals, inspired, if I may so speak, by political intrigues, or by the personal enemies of the officers or of the penitentiary, or perhaps urged on by the desire of putting in print wonderful things, sensational news, &c., have allowed themselves to publish reports altogether erroneous and fantastic, and to set forth accusations of a nature very grave, but yet gratuitous.

The revolt of the 24th April has been an unfortunate affair without doubt—a poor convict came to his end almost instantaneously the warden of the institution had received wounds which brought him close to death's door, wounds which heal very slowly. Another officer received a wound of so grave a nature that he suffers from its effects at the present time. No matter how well arranged the plot was, no matter how exasperated the rebels, and no matter how great had been the number of prisoners employed outside the walls, in the garden or on the farm or elsewhere, not one succeeded in making his escape. Such a result seems to me to be a good note in favor of the officers.

Another misfortune, which very much affected us, was the accident which befell Mr. J. T. Pominville, surgeon of the penitentiary. He got his hip-bone broken on a very dark night while on his way to visit Mr. Warden Laviolette. Mr. Pominville suffers also from the effects of the revolt of the 24th. He has been the victim of his zeal in endeavoring to faithfully discharge his duty.

Should it be permitted me to express a desire in terminating this, my report, it would be the following:—May not the Honorable the Minister of Justice act towards those three wounded officers in such a manner as that their families may suffer nothing more by the misfortune that has befallen the parents! That torture may not be added to the moral sorrow which has been already too great!

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your very humble servant,

J. O. GODIN, Priest,
Catholic Chaplain.

Since Sunday, 21st February, when thirteen out of fifty-four then on the books went out of the Chapel just after the sermon was commenced, through sympathy for one of their comrades who was being taken out for insubordination, the warden, the deputy warden or chief keeper was present during divine service until Saturday 24th April, when the first named was incapacitated during the progress of the revolt; and since the last named date the acting warden or acting deputy has with very few exceptions been present, in consequence of which the behavior of the convicts has been almost faultless.

During the year the hospital has had its full share of Protestant patients, of whom two must have died had they not been pardoned. The room used as such is most deficient as regards ventilation. The physician and deputy have done their utmost in the cure of maladies or the alleviation of suffering.

It cannot be otherwise than matter of deep regret that the warden has been so great a sufferer through wounds inflicted during the revolt; and also that through professional attendance upon that gentleman Dr. Pominville was disabled from active usefulness.

I have much pleasure in being able to report my continued appreciation of the Schoolmaster's discharge of his duties.

Through the masterly administration of the acting warden and acting deputy warden since the revolt, insubordination seems to have been not merely checked, but altogether at an end, as the convicts are both industrious and orderly.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

JOHN ALLAN,
Protestant Chaplain.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY, 1st July, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit you my annual report for the year ending 30th June last.

The sanitary state of this penitentiary has been very good during the course of the year just now finished. With the exception of four or five cases of a serious nature all the others yielded without much difficulty to the treatment usually prescribed.

I am happy to be able to inform you that the institution has not been visited by any epidemic or by any contagious disease; although the city of Montreal and its suburbs had been grievously tried by small-pox during the greater part of the year. This hideous disease paid a visit to this parish where it also made many victims.

As soon as I was convinced that the small-pox had assumed the form of an epidemic in the city of Montreal I, at once, recommended that every possible precaution be taken to preserve the institution from this terrible pest. All the convicts who had not the usual mark of vaccination were accordingly vaccinated. The staff of the institution underwent a similar operation. Moreover an order had been issued to admit no visitor to the penitentiary so long as the epidemic continued to exist in Montreal.

The number of patients admitted to hospital, as well as the number of accidents has been less numerous this year than the preceding years, as the annexed table will show.

There have been during this year two imbeciles among the convicts. One of them has been transferred to the Criminal Asylum, at Kingston, as from time to time he was guilty of acts so repugnant to human nature that one was almost convinced that during such moments he was not conscious of his doings. As to the other, he is still in the institution. He appears to be quiet for some time past, works well and gives little or no trouble.

The number of deaths for the year has been two. The one died of consumption (phthisis pulmonaris); the second came to his end by a rifle wound; in his case death was instantaneous. The convict thus wounded was one of the leaders in the revolt of the 24th April last, in which Mr. Laviolette and another officer and a convict had been all seriously wounded. Three other convicts had been wounded at the same time, but only slightly.

On the 5th of May last, about 8 o'clock in the evening, I fractured my thigh when on my way to visit Mr. Laviolette, who was suffering more intense pain that day than he had suffered the preceding days. Since the above date, I have not been able to discharge my ordinary duties at the penitentiary.

Before terminating this report I consider it my duty to state that the hospital overseer (Mr. Manning) continues to discharge the duties pertaining to his position to my entire satisfaction.

I have to return my sincere thanks to all the superior officers for the great regard manifested toward me during my sickness.

I have also, Mr. Inspector, to thank you exceedingly for the great marks of sympathy which you have at all times shown me, and particularly on each occasion that you visited me when on my bed of suffering. I must also thank you for your goodness in recommending Mr. Brien dit Durocher, whom I had chosen to take my place during my illness.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. T. POMINVILLE, M. D.,

Surgeon.

SCHOOLMASTER'S REPORT.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY, 1st July, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit to you my fourth annual report of the school under my charge for the fiscal year ending 30th June last, and I am happy to state that there has been a remarkable change, both in the attendance and conduct of the scholars committed to my care. The progress made has been satisfactory,

This result is due, in a great measure, to the sound advice given to convicts by the reverend chaplains, and especially to the energy displayed by the chief officer of the institution to keep away from school that class of men whose conduct is an obstacle to the good discipline in the school.

Total number of men who have attended school during the past year.....	150
Number of those discharged by expiration of sentence.....	20
Average daily attendance.....	45

The library has been furnished with new books and is highly appreciated.

I have the honor to remain, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Schoolmaster.

DORCHESTER PENITENTIARY.

REPORT OF THE WARDEN FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30TH JUNE, 1886.

DORCHESTER PENITENTIARY, 1st July, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit my sixth annual report, with the usual returns, of the Dorchester Penitentiary, for the year ended 30th June, 1886.

You will see by the surgeon's report that we have had four deaths during the year, still I am able to state that the sanitary condition of the prison has been good. Our hospital is a very insecure building, and requires much more the time of guards than is usually given in other penitentiary hospitals. I hope, ere long, to see this difficulty remedied.

I am sorry to say that the number of minor convicts admitted during the year has not decreased, nor has that class who are weak minded, easily excited and bordering on insanity, become in any degree lessened.

The various duties and services of the chaplains in connection with the prison have been regularly and faithfully performed, and I am again glad to report that the conduct and attention of the convicts during the services have been remarkably good.

The number of prisoners who attend the school has not diminished, and this department is conducted in the usual good order and with satisfactory results.

Our workshops are now in full operation, and these, together with the various other industries of the prison and the manufacturing of the iron work for the new wing, enable us to find full occupation for all the convicts.

The returns from the farm, taking into consideration the difficulty we have in procuring fertilizers, are very good.

Our new wing still continues unfinished, but I am in hopes to have the use of it in a few months at most.

I am very glad to be able to report that our expenditure for the year is some $1,000 less than our estimate, and if the season had been more favorable for procuring a supply of firewood from our own woods, we would have had a still better showing.

I find the effects of the extra remission so very beneficial in governing the conduct of the prisoners, that I would, if I had the power, still increase it to some extent.

The motive, whatever it is, that induces a convict to obey the rules of the prison and to make him industrious and respectful, should always be adopted as far as advantageous, and from my experience in prison life, I have no hesitation in saying that the liberal facilities now given to convicts by our Government, and intended for their reformation, would have a much better effect if the small percentage (not over 3 per cent.) of incorrigible convicts were cared for at a central prison.

I am pleased again to be able to report that the friendly feeling heretofore existing among our staff still continues, and if anything improves.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

BLAIR BOTSFORD,

Warden.

PROTESTANT CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

DORCHESTER PENITENTIARY, 1st July, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit my third annual report, as Protestant chaplain to the Dorchester Penitentiary, for the year ended 30th June, 1886; at the close of which there were ninety-one male convicts and one female convict, under my charge.

The daily round of ever recurring similar duties makes up the tale. The newly convicted suitably admonished; those seeking counsel duly advised; and those going out warned or encouraged, as the case may suggest or require.

And the year has not been wanting in evidences that those several efforts have not been altogether in vain, so that amidst much that causes one to fear the worst, there is also something compelling one to hope the best. We have had several voluntary admissions that the prison discipline has been a real blessing, particularly in cases where convicts, when committed, were without education and a lawful calling, but who, when going out, found themselves possessed of a sufficient amount of both to fit them for good citizenship.

Two of those under my charge died during the year, and in each case there was a becoming sense of the situation, that is to say, an absence of disgusting cant, and at the same time an humble hope of Divine pardon through the intercession of a most merciful Saviour and Redeemer.

The chapel services have been conducted without remission during the year, and the faultless obedience of the convicts to enforce discipline was at least equalled by their voluntarily accorded interest and attention.

In my judgment, Mr. Short continues to discharge the duties of his office well.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. ROY CAMPBELL,

Protestant Chaplain.

CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

DORCHESTER PENITENTIARY, 29th July, 1886.

SIR,—In submitting my annual report for the past year, I experience great pleasure in testifying again to the good conduct and docility of the prisoners committed to my spiritual charge. In all my dealings with them, either individually or publicly, I have been treated with uniform respect, and I must add that the spirit of faith and the reverence shown by them during the time of religious service have been for me a source of very great consolation.

It is also a peculiar pleasure for me to refer to the unvarying kindness and remarkable good will of the different officers of the institution who have greatly facilitated the duties of my charge.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

ED. E. LABBÉ, Priest.

SURGEON'S REPORT.

DORCHESTER PENITENTIARY, 1st August, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit my annual report for the year ended 30th June, 1886.

The sanitary condition of the prison for the last year has been all that could be desired, and the general health of the convicts good. There has not been any contagious disease visited us, nor have we had any accident of a serious nature. The new wing is not yet finished, and, as in previous years, this involves the necessity of a considerable number of convicts sleeping on the landings surrounding the dining hall, a most undesirable state of things both as regards health and discipline.

The physical condition of the men admitted this year has been, with few exceptions, good. There has only been one man over sixty years of age in the fifty-eight admissions, and out of nineteen minors, there are seven below sixteen. This is a larger percentage of lads than we have had since 1882-83.

The mental condition of the prisoners received, in some cases, is of such a deplorable and low order that it is difficult to know what to do with them when they are sent here. Of this class of convicts we have at least twelve in the prison. Two of this number are now completely—and I believe permanently—insane. Five of them are almost entirely idiotic; one is epileptic; one has suffered ever since his admission from chorea of a most violent description. There are three men who show mental aberration by the most ungovernable fits of passion, and this state of excitement is frequently exhibited without the slightest reason, or from the most trifling causes.

This class of convicts is somewhat difficult to manage, and some of them are so deficient in their appreciation of right and wrong, that when they do transgress, it is not always that they can be conscientiously punished.

There is also a small number of convicts sent to this prison that I cannot better designate by any term than "inoffensive fools," who from a combination of circumstances, become a local nuisance in the parishes in which they reside, and are frequently sent here for long terms of imprisonment for crimes that in other cases of equal or greater enormity are not so severely punished. It is noticeable of these men that they are generally of feeble constitution and require to be treated as liberally in regard to food, work and good care, as the rules of the institution will admit of.

I made application to the warden some months ago to have a portion of one of the wards in the hospital divided by means of an iron grating, for the purpose of being in a better position to treat some of this class of convicts with safety and more satisfaction than I can do in their cells, where they have now to be treated, as it is not safe to have some of them, when complaining, along with other patients in the general ward, on account of their being so easily excited. This much needed improvement we have not as yet been able to secure, but I hope to see it completed in the near future.

The prison cells are in as good condition, as regards cleanliness and ventilation, as it is possible for them to be kept, and the greatest care is shown in the desire of the officers to promote the health and comfort of the convicts.

As regards the rations issued to our men, I consider them sufficient and all that is necessary for the support of any man in health in our prison, with the amount of work they are called upon to perform.

The selection and allotment of convicts admitted for the first time to the different gangs of workmen in an institution of this kind is a matter of very considerable importance both as regards health and discipline of the prison, and in this relation, I may say that our officer in charge displays admirable judgment, and in any case of supposed inability to perform the prescribed work, always consults the surgeon.

There have been four deaths during the year; one from peritonitis following an operation for strangulated hernia, complicated with undescended testicle; two from disease of the heart and one from disease of the liver. Taking into consideration the whole number of men complaining of any serious disease, I find the tendency to pulmonary complications largely in the ascendant, and during this year, although none have died of disease of the lung, quite a large number who have been at work almost every day require to take such remedies as are found most beneficial in supporting the strength and arresting the development of pulmonary tuberculosis. To the treatment of this class of convicts is to be imputed in a large measure the amounts chargeable for drugs, &c., to the medical department of the institution.

There was one insane convict sent to Kingston Asylum.

The number of applications for advice and treatment was 1,799, a larger number than we have had in any previous year. Out of this number a considerable portion require no treatment and some only the simplest remedies. The actual number of prescriptions given to men for all complaints outside of the hospital was 1,490.

The number of men sent to hospital was 29. The number of days in hospital was 1,196.

The tables annexed will show the number and nature of diseases treated both in cells and hospital during the year.

In reference to the imbecile convicts spoken of in a former part of this report, it seems to me that the time has arrived when more care should be exercised in consigning these unfortunates to a penal institution instead of to an insane asylum; and it is just possible that a certificate of their mental condition would be quite as appropriate as the one now required by law of their physical state.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

ROBERT MITCHELL,
Surgeon.

 SCHOOLMASTER'S REPORT.

DORCHESTER PENITENTIARY, 1st July, 1886.

SIR,—In presenting this, my annual report, I have to say that everything in connection with the school is satisfactory. There has been an increase of fourteen over the daily attendance of last year, which increases the number to fifty-six, and the place in which the school is held is so small the men are too close for comfort and convenience—in fact, so much so, I referred the matter to the warden, who decided to suspend those that were well advanced.

The warden and chaplains are, as usual, satisfied with the progress made.

The general library—a large number more of the books have been re-bound, thus making a total of 540 good ones for distribution.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

THOMAS SHORT,
Schoolmaster.

MANITOBA PENITENTIARY.

REPORT OF THE WARDEN FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30TH JUNE, 1886.

STONY MOUNTAIN, 2nd December, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit herewith my annual report for the year ended 30th June, 1886.

The prison alterations which were commenced on the 2nd June, 1885, were completed and the cells occupied on the 28th November of that year. This gave us in all 106 cells, with a prison population of 140. It, therefore, became necessary to place good conduct convicts in two wards in the attic of the building and others were distributed in the various passage ways in the front part of the institution. This, of course, entailed extra vigilance and longer hours on the part of the staff, besides a great change in the routine that before existed.

A relief from this state of affairs was obtained by the pardon of thirty-six of the rebellion prisoners.

One convict was transferred to the asylum at Kingston, and six died during the year, as will be seen from the surgeon's report.

The conduct of the convicts during the year has been good; 254 offences have been reported against prisoners for infringement of the rules during the year.

Changes took place in the offices of accountant, and storekeeper, Mr. McGowan having been appointed from Dorchester Penitentiary, and Rev. Mr. Goulding was appointed Protestant chaplain, vice Mr. Greene resigned.

A tenement cottage for the accommodation of six officers was built under the direction of the Department of Public Works. We require another of the same dimension to afford proper accommodation for the staff of the institution.

The Department of Public Works should construct as soon as possible a hospital, laundry and bath-house. These additions to the penitentiary have been reported upon already and their early construction is very necessary.

Convicts have been employed largely during the year on works in connection with the Public Works Department, as will be seen from the returns herewith.

In view of obtaining a revenue from convict labor it was my intention to introduce broom making during the year, and I had obtained the necessary information of prices, &c., for the purpose of reporting upon and starting this industry, understanding that no such manufactory existed in the North-West; but I was waited upon by a representative of a labor organization who assured me that the establishment of this industry at the penitentiary would affect the interests of a similar business already in operation in Winnipeg. I immediately abandoned my original intention, as I have always held that convict labor should not be allowed to compete with that of the honest man in the open markets, and, therefore, I did not wish to encourage this competition. I believe the legitimate employment of convicts should be, as far as possible, the maintenance of themselves by agricultural work, also making all articles of clothing used by them, and the construction and repairs of the buildings they occupy. The question of prison labor has already been discussed by all prison conferences of late, and as you are aware is at the present moment agitating the minds of the United States prison officials. A brief reference to this subject will I trust not be considered inappropriate.

On the 17th September, His Excellency the Governor General and staff honored the prison with a visit.

Owing to the non-completion of the warden's residence it was found necessary for my family to reside in Winnipeg entailing great inconvenience and extra expense, and during the over-crowded state of the prison I was compelled to occupy a tent until about the 20th of December with the thermometer often as low as 30° below zero.

The discipline of the prison during the year and the conduct of the officers has been all that I could desire. The extra zeal displayed during the over-crowded state of the prison being most commendable.

I beg to recommend that the surgeon be made a resident officer of the Penitentiary, and that his pay be increased to that of the surgeon of Dochester Penitentiary. At present a great inconvenience exists on account of his residence in Winnipeg, the means of speedy communication being at all times uncertain.

I beg to enclose herewith the usual annual returns.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

S. L. BEDSON,
Warden.

PROTESTANT CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

MANITOBA PENITENTIARY,

STONY MOUNTAIN, 7th September, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit for your information this, my first annual report, as Protestant chaplain of the Manitoba Penitentiary, for the year ended 30th June, 1886.

I received notification of my appointment to the above chaplaincy in March last. The appointment thus conferred on me, having been occasioned by the resignation of the Rev. Canon Matheson, who has held, at different intervals, the responsible position—in all—about five years.

The well known devotedness, and the indescribable zeal with which my worthy predecessor discharged his duties during that period, will not soon be forgotten. His removal as chaplain has been very much regretted indeed, being admitted by all that he was "the right man in the right place." And I would feign hope that a share of the success which has attended his efforts may follow mine, humble though they be.

Since my arrival, services have been held regularly every Sunday, and during these services the utmost order and decorum prevailed. The bishop paid the penitentiary a visit Sunday, 23rd May, and expressed himself as more than delighted with the heartiness of the services, as well as with the well known discipline which pervades the whole institution.

Convicts, whether during sickness or confined to their cells, or in hospital, have been daily visited by me, and I have never heard so much as a single murmur in regard to their treatment in any way whatever. In all these visits, without any exception, I have always met with a hearty welcome.

The school I have visited at different times, and find it progressing very favorably under the management of the steward, Mr. Mustard, and the assistance of monitors.

It is very gratifying to see the work of the new chapels progressing so rapidly, as they have been a long-felt want. The present one being used during the week as workshop for the tailoring and shoe making department, besides being inadequate, I regret to say, from the continued additions which we are receiving from time to time.

In speaking of the chapels, might I be permitted to ask the Department to give in their next estimates a grant for the purchase of an organ for the use of the chapel. At present the one instrument has to do service for both chapels. It has suffered considerably in the necessary transit from one chapel to another.

There is a fair library, which is eagerly sought after by the men, and affords them a very great pleasure. I trust an allowance will also be made for the purpose of enlarging it.

In terminating this report I would thank all the officers of the institution for the aid which they have given me in accomplishing my several duties. I have to return my sincere thanks to the warden, Mr. Badson, for the marked kindness he has always manifested towards me in my relations with him, and the assistance he has always rendered me at all times in the discharge of my duties.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

ARTHUR W. GOULDING, B.D.,

Protestant Chaplain.

J. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries.

 CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

 MANITOBA PENITENTIARY,
 STONY MOUNTAIN, 5th July, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit my annual report for the year ended 30th June last.

The number of Catholic convicts brought in during the year was very large, if compared with the preceding year. A good many were released during the same period.

Many important events have occurred in the course of this year. The greatest was the arrival of a large number of prisoners from the west. Their arrival has doubled the number of those who were under my care. The number came to ninety.

Many of the latter were nearly discouraged and down-hearted. Under such circumstances, I thought it my duty to ask the warden leave to have the prisoners every Sunday and to celebrate for them. My request was granted, and I have to thank the warden for having done so.

A large number of Indians were incarcerated about the same time. They were infidels. Those that were confided to my charge I instructed, and on the 18th of February twenty-nine of them became christians by reception of baptism.

During the past year a good many Indians and other convicts were visited by sickness. Five times I celebrated the funeral services for some unfortunate departed. I visited them often during their illness, and it is my sincere conviction that they received all the cares possible. All what they asked for was allowed to them.

A good many were released on account of bad health.

I feel it my duty to state that a good many books were bought for the library. I have always been in good terms with the officers of the institution, and I hope the present good relations to last as long as I shall be chaplain at the Manitoba Penitentiary.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
 Yours truly,

G. CLOUTIER, Priest,
Catholic Chaplain.

J. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
 Inspector of Penitentiaries.

SURGEON'S REPORT.

STONY MOUNTAIN, 21st December, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit the annual report of my department for the year ended 30th June, 1886.

The work of the department shows the year to have been one of considerable importance both in regard to the large amount of work done, and also as to the class of diseases with which we have met, those amongst Indians, to which they are peculiarly susceptible, being largely increased and of an aggravated form.

The increased amount of hospital work means, of course, increased expenditure, and I desire to give the reasons for what might otherwise appear to be an excessive increase.

As you are aware, we had, during the latter months of the year, a large and very rapid increase in our population. This, of course, meant more hospital work. To meet this, I at once provided a large stock of drugs, a portion of which was used, but a large amount was carried over into the present year, which our stock ledger shows to be $214.

Again, the annexed table of hospital returns shows an enormous increase in the number of admissions, the total amounting to about two-thirds of the whole population of the prison. Nor does this by any means represent the amount of dispensing done by the hospital keeper. We have a large number of Indians who are constantly applying for medicines for minor ailments, and the hospital keeper supplies these without finding it necessary to have a formal prescription. It is a well established fact, in the six years' experience which I have had in the penitentiary, that an Indian apparently in perfect health will ask for medicine, day after day, if he sees the slightest chance of getting it.

The whole number of prescriptions was eight hundred and twenty-two (822), but as I have explained, this is the regular prescription, which may be repeated, and does not include the medicines which leave the dispensary in the manner I have just explained.

We also have a number of Indians and half-breeds suffering from scrofula and allied chest troubles, who, although not sufficiently ill to be off the labor detail and in hospital, are, nevertheless, daily receiving quantities of stimulating and supporting remedies, which, if withheld, would at once reduce them to that low physical condition which unfits them for work and rapidly tends to aggravate the disease already lurking in the system. This class absorbs a large portion of our estimate.

We had also during the year an epidemic of dysentery which gave us a good deal of trouble, and in the suppression of which we had to make use of a large quantity of medicine. The reason why I refer to this fact is, that in comparing the expenditure of this year with previous years it must be remembered that in the last five years we have had no epidemic disease, and having had the epidemic this year to which I refer, it should be taken into consideration in accounting for our increased expenditure.

I must refer to the fact that the warden has especially called my attention to expenditure for drugs, and frequently refused to sign my requisitions until I had satisfied him that the medicines asked for were absolutely necessary to the well-being of hospital patients.

Again I must say, further, that I have never purchased anything but of the very best quality, going on the principle that if I desire to get the best results I must make use of the best drugs which the market affords.

I desire to call attention to the necessity of providing, as soon as possible, a building specially constructed for laundry purposes, so that we may have the laundry removed from the basement of the prison, where it is a great source of annoyance and danger.

I am pleased to think that something will be done soon to provide me with an hospital properly equipped. I look forward anxiously to the time when this shall be done.

I cannot close this report without referring to the very close interest which the warden takes at all times in the hospital. I must thank him and the other officers of the prison for the kind assistance to me, which they give so cheerfully.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

W. R. D. SUTHERLAND, M. D.,
Surgeon.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PENITENTIARY.

REPORT OF THE WARDEN FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDED 30TH
JUNE, 1886.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., 2nd July, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit my annual report on the management of this penitentiary, with the usual returns, for the fiscal year ended 30th June, 1886.

On the 30th of June, 1885, there remained here ninety-six convicts; received since thirty-three; total 129. Discharged during the year by expiration of sentence twenty-one; by pardon two; by having sentence reduced from five to three years, one; which left remaining at midnight on the 30th of June, 1886, 105 convicts. The insane convicts mentioned in my last year's report, I am happy to say, are about about to be removed to Kingston Penitentiary where they can be properly cared for.

With few exceptions the conduct of the convicts has been good. Your long looked for visit to the penitentiary helped greatly to encourage many amongst them, who are well disposed; a visit from the inspector had been so long expected that some were growing doubtful of your coming at all; however, in future I hope you will come regularly, it is much better for all concerned that visits from the inspector should be looked forward to at least once a year.

With regard to enlarging the accommodation in the chapels, nothing has yet been done, both are very much over-crowded.

I am pleased to be able to report to you that the water supply of the penitentiary will soon be brought in, the work of laying pipes and making other preparations for the purpose is now going on; also, I am happy to say that houses for married guards are being built, only three are going up, more are needed, the building for single men's quarters is greatly required, as well as a house for the accountant.

The fencing that you obtained for the rough land is now being erected and will enclose about thirty acres, furnishing work for a good many of the convicts for the next three or four years; I must call your attention to the wretched apology for farm buildings, that we have been patching and mending in every way that is possible, in order to make them hold together, since we have had the necessity for such accommodations. You inspected them when you were here, and will remember that the stable, cart house and other buildings, are composed of the remains of old houses left on the ground by the Royal Engineers more than twenty years ago. They cannot serve the purpose much longer, therefore I hope you will strongly represent the necessity of having new farm buildings granted.

The workshops are proving very beneficial, all the clothing for officers and convicts are now made in the tailor's shop, and all boots and shoes required in the shoe shop. The blacksmith and carpenter shops are fitted up, the former will be of good service and will save a great deal of expense and inconvenience when a blacksmith instructor is appointed. Several discharged convicts from here who had been employed in the tailor and shoe shops gained a knowledge of the different trades, sufficient to enable them to gain an honest living should they be so inclined.

I fully expected that another wing to this penitentiary would have been commenced before now, the necessity for more room is becoming serious; every year for the last four or five at least, I have drawn your attention to the fact that we have no hospital accommodation. During the year now passed some critical cases have come under the surgeon's care, one especially where a leg had to be amputated; you can imagine how difficult it must be to treat a case of this kind without the proper surroundings. Also, the surgery is too small.

There is another matter to which I must again call your attention, that is the location and size of the laundry; the room is decidedly too small for the purpose, and is not in the proper place. The washing of bedding and wearing apparel for such a large number of people should not be done in the building; I hope this will soon be remedied.

The wing is still heated by stoves, which are not safe; neither are they satisfactory with regard to comfort or cleanliness.

The new bedsteads are an improvement on the old ones, but on account of the heating being so imperfect I do not think the use of mattresses can be dispensed with during the winter months.

A bakery should be built; all the bread used by the convicts is supplied by contract. I certainly think the bread could be made in the institution at less expense.

The school still continues to be well attended by those convicts who desire to improve, and I must say that they make rapid progress under the efficient management of Mr. Keary, the teacher, who has not relapsed in his endeavors to improve them. Many who came here not able to read or write, are now able to do so. The school is still held in the wing, where the accommodation is too small as well as not being suitable for that purpose; it would be well to make provision for a school room in the new wing when it is built.

I cannot refrain from mentioning the deputy warden, Mr. Fitzsimmons, his faithful attention to details about the land and buildings belonging to the penitentiary is indeed of great value to the Government. I hope his services will be more substantially recognized before long.

On the 14th of October last the institution was honored by a visit from His Excellency the Governor General, while on his visit to British Columbia.

Before closing this report I beg to thank you for many favours and much kindly assistance received during the year now passed, and also sincerely hope to see you in British Columbia before the end of the present fiscal year. I cannot feel that this penitentiary is fairly on equality with the other penitentiaries throughout the Dominion, until the institution receives its due share of personal attention from the inspector.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

ARTHUR H. McBRIDE,
Warden.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PENITENTIARY,

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., 1st July, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor, in making my annual report, to state that the health of the convicts has been carefully looked after by all concerned, and that no disease of an epidemic character has occurred; and as no provision for a separate hospital has yet been made, we have to be very thankful that such is the case.

Only two cases require to be specially noted. 1st. I had to perform amputation of the thigh for a case of popliteal aneurism. By the kindness of the warden I was able to use a small room in the building as an operating room in this case, and I am pleased to state that the convict—an Indian—is doing very well now, and is learning the shoemaking trade. 2nd. The other case was an attempt by a Chinaman to commit suicide, by cutting his throat. The noticeable feature in this case was the constant thwarting by the convict of everything done or tried to be done to relieve him and to cure his self-inflicted wound; he is still in hospital and shows strong symptoms of weak mind.

The water supply, ventilation and general state of the building are as efficient as the present state and condition of the buildings and other arrangements will permit. I am glad to learn that there is a probability of something being done shortly to improve them.

The building has been, and still is, and seems likely to continue to be largely overcrowded.

Among the convicts at the beginning of the year were four insane. I am glad to say that one of them has improved in a very marked degree. The other three will as soon as railway facilities are provided be removed to Kingston.

Two other convicts showed very strong symptoms of a tendency to insanity; one of them being the Chinaman above alluded to; both, however, now are in better health.

As usual I have to thank the warden and the other officers for valuable assistance throughout the year.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

C. NEWLAND TREW, M.D.,
Surgeon.

PROTESTANT CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PENITENTIARY, 1st July, 1886.

SIR,—In submitting my annual report I have the honor to state that my duties have been discharged regularly and punctually, and I am led to believe that not a few of those under my care have received benefit. All of them, I trust, are more or less being prepared to lead better lives in the future. Occasionally I am greatly cheered with evidence that the glorious gospel of the blessed God is not preached in vain—that is the power of God unto salvation. Some, whose terms of imprisonment expired during the year, and some who are still with us, have expressed their thankfulness that they were checked in time in their foolish career, and brought under restrictive and wholesome influences.

The order and earnest and respectful attention at all our services have been very satisfactory.

With the exception of the Chinese and Indians, nearly all, if not all, the other prisoners owe their degradation and imprisonment, directly or indirectly, to our country's greatest curse, namely, intoxicating liquors. It is a matter of amazement and humiliation that the cause of so much crime and misery should be so patent, and that so little should be done by those in authority to "stay the plague."

I have great pleasure in reporting that Mr. Keary has faithfully and successfully attended to his duties as schoolmaster. Many of the prisoners of all nationalities have received very great benefit from his zealous labors among them. On every visit I make to the school the improvement is very manifest.

As your strong recommendation for increased accommodation in the chapel, and an increased grant for the library, have, so far, failed to bear fruit, it is useless for me to repeat or enlarge on the necessity for both these objects being attended to.

The facilities for travelling in this direction being now so greatly increased, I trust that your visits to us will be more frequent—annual at least—not septennial as hitherto. Your last visit was highly appreciated, and greatly assisted and encouraged all the officers in their arduous and responsible duties. As the Government has been so very fortunate as to secure the services of such a superior staff of officials for such scanty remuneration, they ought to give them the assistance and encouragement which frequent visits from you as inspector are well calculated to give.

As usual I am under great obligations to the warden and all the officers for unflinching courtesy and attention.

There are at present under my care :—

CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PENITENTIARY, 1st July, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to present my annual report, which will be very short this year.

During the fiscal year of 1885 and 1886 nothing of any serious consequence has occurred.

As far as the convicts are concerned, we have had peace during the year.

The health of the institution, notwithstanding the overcrowding of the prison, has been as good as might be expected under the circumstances.

Nothing has yet been done to enlarge the Catholic chapel, which is now very much required. The number of convicts is increasing every year, and the accommodation is very deficient.

SCHOOLMASTER'S REPORT.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PENITENTIARY, 13th August, 1886.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit my third annual report of the school under my charge for the fiscal year ended 30th June, last, and have much pleasure in stating that those attending school are truly making favorable progress. The average daily attendance is 41. We are very much crowded for room, having to use the hall of the wing for school purposes, which is not at all convenient, there being no room set apart for school, as in some of the other penitentiaries. The nationalities of the convicts attending school are: Whites, 9; Chinese, 16; Indians, 16. Subjects taught, reading, spelling, writing, grammar, geography. The libraries have been well patronized during the year by the convicts, who appeared to appreciate to the fullest extent this incalculable means of information and amusement.

I have to tender my sincere thanks to the chief officer of this institution for his constant support, assisting me greatly in making the school a success.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

W. H. KEARY,
Schoolmaster.

OF THE

SECRETARY OF STATE

YEAR ENDED 31st DECEMBER,

REPORT
OF THE

YEAR ENDED 31ST DECEMBER, 1886.

To His Excellency the Most Honourable the Marquis of Lansdowne, G. C. M. G., Governor General of Canada, &c., &c., &c.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY:—

I have the honour most respectfully to submit for Your Excellency's information, and in order that the same may be laid before Parliament, the Report of the Secretary of State of Canada for the year 1886.

Accompanying the report are the following appendices, viz:—

- A. Report of the Deputy Registrar-General of Canada.
- B. Report of the Queen's Printer for Canada up to 30th June, 1886.
- C. Report of the Chief Clerk in charge of the Stationery Branch of the Department up to the same date.
- D. Schedules of Returns to Addresses passed in the Senate and House of Commons of Canada during the Session of 1886 and which have been received and prepared by the Department and presented through the Secretary of State.
- E. Synopsis of Returns to Addresses, &c., passed by the Senate and House of Commons during the Session of 1886, received and prepared by the Department and presented through the Secretary of State.
- F. Key to the above Synopsis.
- G. Addresses and Orders of previous Sessions, Returns to which were received and prepared by the Department and presented through the Secretary of State during the Session of 1886.
- H. Statement showing the number of Counties and Cities in the several Provinces of the Dominion in which Elections have been held under "The Canada Temperance Act, 1878," during the year 1886, giving the total number of duly qualified electors, and the number of votes polled for and against the Act in each County and City.

I. A list of the Officers, Clerks and Servants of the Department on the 31st December, 1886, with the date of appointment, rank and salary, in each case.

The Report of the proceedings of the Board of Civil Service Examiners for the year 1886, required by sec. 58 of "The Canada Civil Service Act, 1885," has been prepared and will be presented as a separate report.

From the appendices above enumerated may be obtained a knowledge of the work of the Department and of its several branches, during the past year.

The total number of letters, petitions, and other documents received by the Department during the year was 52,530, and the total number of letters sent during that period was 22,181—an increase over the previous year of 21,517, and 9,835 respectively.

I submit, herewith, a copy of a letter from the Under Secretary of State setting forth the additional labour imposed upon the Department during the past year in carrying out the provisions of "The Electoral Franchise Act." The letter speaks for itself. I am glad to be able to state that the work has been performed, not only to my entire satisfaction, but also with very little additional expense to the Department.

The following is a statement of the revenue and expenditure of the Department during the year:—

REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.

The total revenue of the Department for the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1886, was made up as follows:—

Fees on Charters and Supplementary Charters of Incorporation.....	$	2,417	32
do Exemplifications of Patents		56	75
do Commissions		1,065	32
do Copies of Documents.....		165	86
do Registrations		27	50
do Passports.....		80	50
do Certificates of Legalization		40	00
do Searches		10	15
do Naturalization Papers.....		4	00
Receipts sale of Statutes.....		681	97
do from Canada Gazette , viz., for copies, subscriptions and advertising		2,307	52
Stationery supplied.....		114,253	89
Total.....	$	121,110	78

The total expenditure was as follows :—

Salaries.....	$ 47,867 13
Contingencies.....	15,841 09
Stationery.....	114,775 77
Printing Canada Gazette	3,987 73
Departmental printing and binding.....	55,869 16
Confidential printing	2,125 27
Other printing.....	45,301 95
Lithographing	5,802 05
Advertising in newspapers (for six months only, ending 30th June).....	25,101 83
	<hr/>
Total	$316,672 98
	<hr/> <hr/>
Stock of stationery on hand, 30th June, 1886.....	$ 29,688 68
	<hr/> <hr/>

In order to maintain uniformity, the above figures are all for the fiscal year ending 30th June. In former years, however, it has been the practice to give the receipts from fees on charters, and other items of "casual revenue," for the twelve months ending the 31st December; the following statement is therefore added :—

Receipts from fees for year ending 31st December, 1886 :—

Fees on Charters and Supplementary Charters of Incorporation.....	$2,999 25
do Exemplifications of Patents.....	60 50
do Commissions.....	3,003 25
do Copies of Documents.....	173 52
do Registrations.....	31 00
do Passports.....	176 50
do Certificates of Legalization.....	54 00
do Searches.....	12 60
	<hr/>

The above, it will be noticed, does not include the receipts from sale of Statutes and the Canada Gazette, these being now accounted for by the Department of Public Printing and Stationery, created by Parliament at its last Session. Notwithstanding this, however, the receipts have been more than double those from all sources for the year 1885, which amounted to $2,795.31, the actual increase being $3,715.31. The most noteworthy increase occurred in the item of fees on commissions, and is due mainly to the coming into force of the "Act Respecting Commissions to Public Officers," passed last Session. The receipts from this source were $3,003.25, as against $351.50 in 1885, the amount received in the four months commencing 1st September, in which period some 500 commissions were applied for, having been over $2,500. The fees upon charters and supplementary charters of incorporation also show an increase of $1,448.62 for the year. These facts involving, as they have done, a very large amount of correspondence, afford additional evidence of the general increase in the work of the Department.

The whole respectfully submitted.

J. A. CHAPLEAU,

Secretary of State.

DEPARTMENT OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE,
OTTAWA, January, 1887.

THE ELECTORAL FRANCHISE ACT.

48-49 VICTORIA, CHAP. 40.

To the Honourable

J. A. CHAPLEAU,

Secretary of State of Canada.

SIR,—I have the honour to report to you that on the 22nd July, 1885, the Electoral Franchise (48-49 Victoria, chap. 40) providing for a uniform franchise throughout the Dominion became law.

1. By Order in Council of the 23rd December following, the administration of this Act was entrusted to the Secretary of State, and the audit of the accounts connected therewith to the Auditor General, in the same manner as the auditing of accounts under the Election Act of 1874.

2. At this time no organization existed in the Department for carrying out the work which I foresaw would quickly assume large proportions, and be of a very responsible character.

3. My anticipations were realized, as will be perceived from the detailed statistics which will be referred to later on.

4. It therefore affords me much satisfaction to state that with the able and hearty co-operation of my officers a system was established, and the administration of the Act, so far as the voters' lists for the year 1886 are concerned, has been successfully accomplished without any interference with the important daily duties of the Department.

5. Between the 12th and 22nd December, 1885, the commissions (165) having been engrossed and recorded in the office of the Deputy Registrar General of Canada, were transmitted to the following Revising Officers:—

6. In the interests of economy, it was considered advisable to have the form Schedule B, under section 15, printed by the contractors for Public Printing at Ottawa. Large quantities were struck off and furnished to the Revising Officers.

7. This work entailed much labor on the employé's, some of them working late into the night for some time to ensure the prompt despatch of the forms in question.

8. The following suggestions for the guidance of the Revising Officers accompanied each packet of the forms :—

9. As many enquiries have been made by Revising Officers appointed under "The Electoral Franchise Act" as to matters of a preliminary nature, it has been deemed advisable to give, by circular, the following intimations :—

(1.) A commission under the Great Seal to each Revising Officer has been issued by His Excellency the Governor General, and has probably reached its destination before this date.

(2.) Two copies of the Act are herewith enclosed.

(3.) Sheets according to Form "B" in the Schedule of Forms to the Act, are also transmitted for the preparation of your lists, as provided for in section 15 of the Act.

(4.) Full information on the subject of the charges to be defrayed by the Government in connection with printing the Voters' Lists, together with a specimen of the form in which they are to be printed, will be forwarded in a subsequent letter.

(5.) Forms "C," "D" and "G" will be printed as part of Form "B," and attached thereto. Forms "E" and "F" need not be printed.

(6.) Summonses to witnesses, according to Form "J," will be supplied upon requisition.

(7.) As regards the publishing of the notice, required under section 18, it is suggested that two insertions of the same in not more than two newspapers should be sufficient; and the charge to be allowed for such publication should not exceed the ordinary rate payable to such newspapers for similar advertisements, sixty lines being allowed.

(8.) Accounts of printers are to be rendered to the Auditor-General, and, to avoid delay and confusion, should be transmitted to that officer immediately after the work is performed.

(9.) The officers who prepare copies of Assessment Rolls and Lists of Voters, preparatory to the work of revision, should be instructed to omit all such statistical particulars as are not strictly required for the purposes of the revision.

(10.) The fees to be allowed to Clerks and Bailiffs for their services under the Act will not exceed :

For Clerks, Two dollars per diem, while actually employed, and One dollar additional per diem during their absence from home on duty, together with the actual cost of conveyance.

For Bailiffs, One dollar and fifty cents per diem while attending court, and such fees for serving notices and other services of a like kind, as are allowed to such Officers in the Division Courts of Ontario, the Superior Court of Quebec, and the County Courts of the other Provinces.

10. On the 18th January, 1886, suggestions were forwarded to the Revising Officers to secure uniformity in the making of the Voters Lists and to diminish in the public interest the enormous expenditure involved in the printing of such Lists, as follows:

11. I forward to you by mail this day a Specimen or Sample Copy of the List of Voters, in compliance with the Franchise Act, cap. 40, sec. 15 and 16.

This specimen copy contains 3,000 names. The names are, of course, fictitious, and are repeated for the fifteen polling districts supposed to be in a constituency of 3,000 voters. You will perceive the form and the matter are very closely "set up," as it is intended to have a few "turn-over" lines as possible in the several columns, for one "turn-over" line will cause a blank line in the other eleven columns.

The type in the Specimen List is Brevier, though Nonpareil, Minion or Bourgeois would answer as well in avoiding "turn-over" lines; but as it is likely some of the country printers might run short of any of these four fonts, then Long Primer could be used as a makeshift, but no type larger than Long Primer will be sanctioned. If Long Primer be resorted to, then abbreviations may be used in any of the columns except in that of the name of the Voter, to avoid "turn-over" lines.

The paper is common Demy. and, in pasting together the several half-sheets at the back, for the book form, any colored piece of binders' cloth or linen will suit to cover the edges at the back.

PRINTING THE PRELIMINARY LIST OF VOTERS.

It is suggested, to avoid trouble and expenditure in the printing of the Preliminary Voters' Lists (especially in the rural districts where there are no large printing establishments) to print them in polling sub-divisions as in the specimen sent,—and the Revising Officer is requested to prepare his Preliminary Lists in polling divisions subject, of course, to the formal division to be made afterwards so as to comply with sec. 21 of the Act.

In order to save the expense of re setting the type and putting to press at three several times, a sufficient number of copies should be struck off when the Preliminary List of Voters is being printed as will suffice to make up the two next Revised Lists, both for the book form and for the extra sheets required to be distributed and posted up in the several polling sub-divisions, subject to the mode of corrections as herein-after suggested.

The Lists so printed, in polling district series, should be posted up in sheets as the specimen sheet sent, and for distribution should be gathered together in book-form similar to the specimen sent.

The small form of corrections and additions is to be printed at the foot of the second page of the list of each polling sub-division when there is sufficient blank space remaining; otherwise, the small form will have to be printed on separate small sheets, and pasted at the foot of the second page, as indicated in the Sample List herewith forwarded. The same rule should apply to the Final Revision of the Lists.

OBLITERATING OR MARKING OUT THE LINES OF CORRECTIONS, &c.

The overplus sheets or copies "struck off" at the time of printing the Preliminary Lists ought not to be rolled up, but be left flat as they leave the press, so as to facilitate the work of obliterating the lines. The mark of obliteration ought to run clear across the whole page, consisting of a heavy black ink line, as shown in the specimen book copy, bound together for the whole Electoral District, and also shown by the single separate specimen of the sheet which will be required to be posted up at the several polling sub-divisions, places or districts.

In case a name has to be obliterated from the first list because of some error in description or otherwise,—but not with the intention of striking from the voters' list the party intended to be described,—the name, with proper descriptions, may be reprinted in the Supplementary Lists of the polling sub-division in which the person is entitled to vote.

The Revising Officer, in his certificate attached to the Revised and the Final list of Voters respectively, will state the number of names and the numbers attached to each which he has obliterated, in order to avoid the possibility of a fraudulent obliteration of names by any other person.

12. These suggestions were supplemented on the 25th of the same month by others fixing a Tariff or Scale of Prices to be paid the printer for the printing and binding of the lists under chap. 40, as follows:—

13. Attention is particularly directed to the following fixed Tariff or Scale of prices to be paid the printer for the printing (including binding and supply of all material) of the completed List of Voters (as provided for in the Franchise Act of 1885, chapter 40), a sample copy of which form of typographical style was forwarded you on the 18th instant, with a Circular of Instructions to be observed by the printer:

For each and every name of Voter, comprising the whole particulars following such name on the Preliminary List, Twelve Cents.

For Twenty Names (and under) of Voters on the Addendum for the Second or Revised List, Two Dollars and Fifty cents.

For twenty names (and under) of Voters on the Addendum for the Third or Final List, Two Dollars and Fifty cents.

Whenever the Number of Names of Voters on the Addenda for the Second and Third Lists exceeds Twenty names, then the price per Name of Voter will be the same as for the Preliminary List, namely, Twelve Cents for each Voter.

The above tariff of prices has been framed by practical printers, and is liberal for that class of work, which is to be executed as nearly as possible in the typographical style of the sample form sent you; but in case the printer finds it more convenient, he may change the measure of any column.

The printer will naturally make use of several lines in some of the columns, that will bear repeating in the second and following forms to be printed for the whole Electoral District. Besides the two general headings, there are several of the columns which require little or no alteration, so that if the printer, at first sight, imagines the sample copy rather solid, he will find, before completing the whole list, that there is considerable gain.

To enable the Auditor General to examine the printer's account, a specimen of the Final List must be attached, as well as a revise of the Addendum for the Second List.

14. And further instructions were sent on the 12th February and 10th April, to ensure that the necessary precautions should be taken so that a third printing might be unnecessary:—

15. Mention is made in the Circular addressed to you, dated 18th January, 1886, of a Specimen Copy to be supplied of the Second or Revised List of Voters, under the provisions of the Franchise Act of 1885.

I now forward you the specimen referred to, as also a separate specimen of the sheet required to be posted up at the several Polling Sub-divisions. The Specimen copy in book form sent herewith, is put together without any particular reference to the number of sheets, &c., and the names of only one division are obliterated, as indicating how all may be done.

The Printed Notice, with its Supplementary List or Addendum, printed at the foot of the Preliminary List, speaks for itself, and is considered quite sufficient to answer for all the purposes of the Revised or Secondary List of Voters. A similar course, it is expected, will be followed by you for the Third or Final List, as already explained in the Circular alluded to, as no further specimen is considered necessary to be sent.

16. It is requested that you will give such instructions and take the necessary precautions, if you have not already done so, in preparing the Second List, so that a third printing may be unnecessary.

17. The machinery having been put in motion, an enormous correspondence in both languages ensued.

18. Enquiries as to the procedure, as to the construction of various sections of the Act, as to the geographical and topographical peculiarities of districts, as to funds and as to the general instructions, were received by telegram and letter day after day.

19. It is interesting to state in this connection that the registers of the Department disclose that over 10,000 letters and documents were received, and over 3,500 letters were written and sent to the Revising Officers in 1886.

20. Correspondence was also exchanged on the subject of the preparation of an approximate Estimate of the amount required for the preparation and completion of the Voters' Lists outside the printing expenditure in each Electoral District.

21. The estimates were prepared and submitted, with the concurrence of the Auditor General, to Parliament.

22. Early in February last year Mr. McDougall, the Auditor General, brought under my attention that owing to the great pressure of work in his office that he thought, with your approval, that it would be desirable that advances of money to the Revising Officers, on account of their expenses, should be made through this Department.

23. I made arrangements accordingly, a system was organized, and proper books for the accounting of the moneys prepared and kept.

24. The total amount paid out as advances to Revising Officers, on account of their expenses, from the 14th February to the 30th June, was $55,005, by the issue of one hundred and seventy-five cheques.

25. Necessary instructions as to the disbursement of the money were enclosed with each cheque to the Revising Officers.

26. The assumption of the financial transactions with the Revising Officers involved great labour and attention, and it is satisfactory to report that the accounts of the Department have been audited by the proper officer and found correct in every particular.

27. In addition to the general administration of the Act as already set forth, the House of Commons called for a return on the 3rd April, 1886, for copies of statements from the Revising Officers of the arrangements made by them for the printing of the Voters' Lists in their respective Electoral Divisions; and also, for copies of all correspondence which had taken place between the Government and the Revising Officers.

28. The necessary steps were immediately taken to comply with the Order of the House, and the very voluminous Returns ordered were duly laid on the Table of the House of Commons.

29. Every economy has been exercised in conducting the administration of the Act. The salaries of extra clerks employed in this service amount to $2,300, which, with the cost of printing, contingencies, telegrams, &c., would bring the cost of the administration by the Department to about $3,000.

30. I have now laid before you the salient features of the business of the Department under the Electoral Franchise Act, but it is difficult to convey an adequate idea of the almost insuperable obstacles which have been overcome.

31. In concluding my report I desire to place on record my appreciation of the efforts of the Revising Officers in the performance of their duties, surrounded, as they have been, in many instances, with difficulties of an exceptional nature.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

G. POWELL,

Under Secretary of State.

OTTAWA, January, 1887.

APPENDIX C.

STATIONERY OFFICE,
OTTAWA, 31st December, 1886.

To the Honourable J. A. CHAPLEAU,
Secretary of State of Canada, &c., &c.,
Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit for your information the following general statement of the accounts of this Branch of your Department for the year ended 30th June, 1886, viz. :—

To balance of goods brought forward from 1st July, 1885	- $	27,947	51
value do received from 1st July, 1885, to 30th June, 1886	-	114,775	77
Profit on the year's business	-	1,219	29
				$143,942 57
By Goods issued to Departments	-	25,211	99
do to Outside Service	-	34,614	85
do to Queen's Printer on work account	-	52,940	99
Books of Reference for Departments	-	1,000	55
do Outside Service	-	485	51
Value of stock in hand as verified	-	29,688	68
				$143,942 57

As compared with last year this statement shows an increased expenditure of $8,884.95, and an increase in the discharge of goods for the whole service of $10,968.24, and this notwithstanding a slight reduction of prices in most of the goods, which is apparent in the reduced balance.

The increased expenditure is in the demands by the Queen's Printer and in accounts of the Outside Service. The only item showing a decrease is "Books of Reference," which seems to indicate that a greater number of books must have been paid for by the Accountant of Contingencies than in the former year, as it cannot be supposed that the actual demand has decreased by such an amount; an analysis of the account shows :—

Goods for the Department—increase	-	$	2,207	49
do Outside Service do	-	3,647	19
do Queen's Printer, work account, increase	-	7,212	89
				$13,067 57
Books of Reference for Departments—decrease	-	$	1,913	26
do Outside Service do	-	186	07
				$ 2,099 33
Showing net increase to be	-			$10,968 24

Detailed statements of the expenditure for, and issue of goods, and a comparative statement for the two years, are hereto attached.

The demands on the office number 8,817, an increase of 671 over last year, and 4,250 packages were sent by mail and 147 cases by freight to the Outside Service. The whole is respectfully submitted.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES YOUNG.

SIR,—The undersigned, the members constituting the Board of Civil Service Examiners, have the honor, in obedience to the requirements of the Civil Service Act of 1885, section 58, to report, that during the year ended the 31st day of December, 1886, they held and personally superintended the several examinations prescribed by the said Act, at Ottawa and Toronto, and by employing sub-examiners, viz. : Jonathan Parsons, Esquire, Barrister, at Halifax, N.S. ; the Rev. James Bennett, D.D., at St. John, N.B. ; D. Montgomery, Esquire, Superintendent of Public Schools, Prince Edward Island, at Charlottetown ; E. Rouillard, Esquire, at Quebec ; C. A. Dansereau, Esquire, at Montreal ; D. A. Givens, Esquire, Barrister, at Kingston ; R. E. Gallagher, Esquire, Principal of the Commercial College, at Hamilton ; J. B. In conformity with antecedent practice the examinations were begun and finished on the same days and hours at the different places, and were everywhere conducted in precisely the same manner and by means of identical question papers.

The spring (May) examinations were introduced as usual with the Preliminary or Lower Grade exercises, on Tuesday, the 12th day of May, being followed, on Wednesday and Thursday the 13th and 14th, by the Qualifying or Higher Grade, and on Friday and Saturday, the 15th and 16th, by the tests in Optional Subjects.

Second-class men, forty minimum and sixty average.

First-class, fifty minimum and seventy average.

Under these rules, eighty-three clerks of the third-class, twenty-five clerks of the second-class, and ten of the first class, passed a successful examination, and so became eligible for promotion.

SPECIAL PROMOTION EXAMINATION.

In compliance with an Order in Council of 12th April, a special class Excise promotion examination was held at St. John, N.B., on the 20th May, for the positions of District Inspector and of Collector of Inland Revenue, at which two candidates presented themselves. The question papers submitted to the candidates being altogether of a technical character, their work was referred to experts, whose report was transmitted to your Department on the 18th day of June.

GENERAL EXCISE PROMOTION EXAMINATIONS.

Pursuant also to an Order in Council a General Excise Promotion Examination was held at the four under-mentioned places, commencing on Tuesday the 31st of August, and ending on Friday, the 4th of September, viz. :—

At Halifax, N.S., at which five candidates presented themselves, at Montreal at which ten came forward, at Toronto fifteen, and at Windsor, Ont., four, in all thirty-four.

The work being, as in the former case, of a technical nature was entrusted to experts for inspection and valuation, and their report, received on 21st December, was, on the same day, forwarded to your Department. According to the said report five candidates fell below the number of marks required, eight proved themselves qualified for the third class, eleven for the second, and five for the first class, but the decision in respect of the candidates at Halifax has been held in abeyance pending certain inquiries as to the manner of the examination.

The Board being frequently appealed to by members of Parliament and others for information as to the subjects of examination and the modes of procedure, have concluded that it would be useful to reprint the Rules and Regulations, and the more especially as they have been somewhat modified since their first and only publication in the report of their proceedings during the year 1882.

RULES AND REGULATIONS Governing the Examinations for entrance into the Civil Service of Canada.

1. One of the members shall be Chairman, and, when present, shall preside at the meetings of the Board, and one may be Secretary if appointed to that office by the Governor General in Council.

2. In the absence of one of the members of the Board the other two shall be competent to transact business and their decisions shall be as valid as if the three had been present.

3. Regular Entrance examinations shall be held half-yearly at as many of the places named in the Civil Service Act as the Governor General in Council may direct and also at any other places similarly selected and designated to the Board. The examinations shall commence on the second Tuesdays in the months of May and November, and shall be continued until completed. Similar examinations may also be held at other times should the exigencies of the Public Service render them necessary.

4. The Board shall meet prior to the semi-annual examinations in sufficient time to make the preparations necessary for holding the said examinations and shall continue to meet until their work is finished.

5. The members of the Board shall leave Ottawa for the places at which the examinations are to be held by themselves personally, in time to allow for possible delays in travel and to make sure of having everything in readiness on the days appointed for the examinations.

6. The examinations shall be held simultaneously, that is, on the same days and hours in the several places designated by the Council, and shall be conducted at every place precisely in the same manner and by means of the same questions.

7. The answers of the candidates shall be in writing and on paper, prepared and supplied by the Board.

8. In the places where the Examiners cannot personally attend, Sub-examiners shall be appointed to conduct the examinations according to printed Regulations supplied to them by the Board.

9. At the close of the examination it shall be the duty of the Examiners in charge to collect and seal up the written papers of the candidates and to transmit the same, duly attested, to the Secretary of the Board at Ottawa.

10. Every candidate for examination shall be required to satisfy the Board:

(1.) If coming up for the Preliminary examination only, and if intending to serve in the Inside Departmental Division, that he is of the full age of fifteen years and not over thirty-five. If coming up for the Qualifying examination that he is of the full age of eighteen years, and if for the Inside Departmental Division, not over thirty-five years old.

(NOTE.) The proof of AGE shall be by a properly certified extract from the Birth Registration, and should this not be obtainable, then by such other evidence as may satisfy the Board.

(2.) That he is in sound health and free from any physical defect or disease which would be likely to interfere with the proper discharge of his duties.

(NOTE.) The proof of HEALTH shall be by the certificate of a practising physician.

(3.) That his character is such as to qualify him for employment in the Civil Service.

(NOTE.) The proof of character shall be by the certificate of minister of religion, a mayor, a justice of the peace, or other prominent public official.

APPLICATIONS.

11. The applications for admission to the examinations shall be by means of forms which will be supplied to the candidates by the Board and said forms correctly filled up will have to be re addressed to the Secretary, at least one month before the day appointed for commencing the examinations.

12. A fee of two dollars will have to be paid by each candidate and shall be enclosed in the form of application addressed to the Secretary. Should insuperable difficulties preclude the attendance of a candidate at the examination for admission to which he has sent the regular application, certificates and fee, such candidate, on communicating the facts to the Secretary, may be admitted at the next ensuing examination, by simply sending an application, without new certificates or fee, but under no circumstances will the fee be returned to absentees, as the cost of making preparations for the examinations largely exceeds the fees charged.

EXAMINATIONS.

13. The examinations shall be open to all persons who shall have complied with the requirements of the Civil Service Act, as to proof of age, health and character, and in doing their examination work the candidates shall be at liberty to use either the English or French language.

14. Notice of every examination to be held under the Civil Service Act shall be published in the Canada Gazette, in the English and French languages, one month at least before the date fixed for the examinations and shall state when and where it is to be held.

15. The examinations shall be known as the Preliminary or Lower Grade, and the Qualifying or Higher Grade. In conjunction with the latter there will be certain Optional subjects, any or all of which the candidates may take or decline to take as they may be minded.

16. The Preliminary examination will be in,—

1. Penmanship;
2. Orthography;
3. The first four Rules of Arithmetic;
4. Reading Print and Manuscript.

The maximum marks in each subject will be 60, and in order to pass, the candidate will require to make not less than 30 per cent. on any one subject and an average of 50 per cent. of the value on all the subjects.

17. The Preliminary examination will qualify for the following appointments:—

Messengers in both Inside and Outside Divisions, Porters, Sorters, Packers, Letter Carriers, Mail Transfer Clerks, Box Collectors, Tide Waiters, Assistant Inspectors of Weights and Measures, Temporary Copyists, and such other offices in the Lower Grades as are determined by the Governor General in Council.

18. The Qualifying, or Higher Grade examination shall be held immediately after the Preliminary, and shall be in,—

1. Penmanship;
2. Orthography;
3. Arithmetic, including Interest, Vulgar and Decimal Fractions;
4. Geography, chiefly of the Dominion of Canada;
5. History,—British, French and Canadian—chiefly the latter;
6. Grammar;
7. Composition;
8. Transcription.

The same scale shall govern in this as in the Preliminary examination, viz., a minimum of not less than 30 per cent. on any one subject and an average on the whole eight of 50 per cent. As the subjects are valued at 100 marks each, the average required will be 400.

19. Candidates who fail in one subject only at the Qualifying examination but who make the required average (50 per cent. or 400 marks) will be allowed to come up at the next ensuing examination and then, only, for that one subject, and if they secure the minimum will be held to have passed.

20. Candidates who fail at the Qualifying examination will receive no advantage from the Optional subjects they may have treated successfully, the failure in the Qualifying subjects neutralizing success in Options.

21. Candidates who may desire to be examined in Optional subjects must take them at the time of the Qualifying examination at which they present themselves, and will not be permitted to come up for that purpose at any subsequent half-yearly examination.

22. Candidates who pass in Options will, in the event of appointment to office, be credited with the subjects in which they were successful up to four, but not in excess of four.

23. The Options are :—

1. Composition in French by candidates who have taken the Qualifying examination in English, and in English by those who have taken it in French ;
2. Translation from English into French by English candidates, and French into English by the French Candidates ;
3. Précis-writing ;
4. Book-keeping—by double entry ;
5. Shorthand ;
6. Type-writing ;
7. Telegraphy.

In order to pass in Options the candidates will require to make at least 50 marks on each subject taken.

24. Candidates who intend taking Options will state the fact and specify the subjects in their application forms, where they will find a space for that purpose.

SPECIAL EXAMINATIONS.

25. In the event of special examinations under Section 37 of the Civil Service Act being ordered, the subjects to be treated by the candidates will be indicated to the Board by the Secretary of State, and if any of them should be of a professional or technical character, the examination papers will be prepared by the Department in whose behalf the examination is to be held.

26. Every candidate who passes the Preliminary or Qualifying examination successfully will receive a certificate to that effect, and in the cases of candidates who have gained Options, a certificate, "with honors," specifying the Options passed, will be granted.

TIME TABLES.

27. The Board will prepare Time Tables for the several examinations, showing the order in which the subjects shall be taken up and the time allowed for each, which time shall be strictly observed by the Examiners.

FORMS.

28. The forms necessary for giving effect to the foregoing Rules shall be provided by the Board and forwarded to the candidates and others interested.

REPORT.

29. Not later than the 31st day of January in each year the Board shall make a report to the Secretary of State of the proceedings for the year ended on the preceding 31st day of December, which report will embrace copies of the printed examination question papers, used at the several examinations, the names of the successful candidates, and copies of any rules or regulations adopted during the year.

STATIONERY.

30. The stationery, printing, and other requisites, shall be provided by the Department of the Secretary of State upon requisition to that effect from the Board of Examiners approved by the Head of said Department.

REGULATIONS FOR CONDUCTING THE CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

1. The Board of Examiners shall prepare and cause to be printed (confidentially) the papers (of questions) to be used at the Preliminary, Qualifying (including Options) Special and Promotion examinations, excepting always the Promotion papers on "Duties" and any Technical papers required at special examinations, which papers the Departments interested will supply.

2. The Examiner will begin by calling the Roll and marking, opposite to the names of the candidates in attendance, the word "present," and to these he will communicate the No. by which they are to be severally identified throughout the examinations.

3. Each subject for examination shall be dealt with in a separate paper, and sufficient time will be allowed the candidates to give their work a careful and intelligent treatment.

4. The examinations will commence each day at 9:30 a.m., continuing until noon, when a recess will be taken. They will recommence at 1:30 p.m., and continue day by day till 4 p.m., or to the time specified in the Time Table, till finished.

5. Each candidate shall be designated by a No. which he will place in plain figures at the head of each sheet of paper he may use, and also (together with the name of the subject treated) on the back of the outside sheet, which, at the appointed time, he will hand to the Examiner.

6. The questions will be numbered and the number of marks assigned to each question will be shown in the margin of the printed question paper.

7. The date and hour for the issue of each examination (question) paper, and the time allowed for its treatment, will be plainly stated at the head thereof.

8. The Examiners will have to exercise the greatest possible care, in order to prevent the nature of the examination questions from becoming known before the time fixed for the issue of the papers has arrived.

9. Should the Board have reason at any time to suspect that candidates have copied from each other, or that they have improperly obtained information relative to the subjects under treatment during the examinations, they (the Board) shall hold the results of the examination respecting such candidates in suspense until they have thoroughly investigated the circumstances; and if this should be found to be the case, the papers of such candidates will be cancelled.

10. Should the Sub-examiners have cause to believe that the irregularities referred to in the preceding paragraph or any others have taken place among their men, they will faithfully report them to the Board.

11. The number of examination (question) papers on each subject required at each place of examination, shall be sent to the Examiners, enclosed in a sealed envelope, endorsed with the subject and the number of papers it contains, and said envelopes shall only be opened when the time specified in the Time Table for doing so has arrived, and in the presence of the candidates.

12. The stationery required for the examinations will be supplied by the Board and the paper shall be written on one side only. The margin must also be left blank as it is wanted for noting the valuations.

13. No other persons besides the examiners, their assistants, and the candidates, shall be allowed within the rooms during the examinations.

14. The Examiners shall refrain from communicating to any one the results of the examinations until the same shall have been reported to the Secretary of State.

15. The candidates shall, if possible, be placed five feet apart during the examinations, and any attempt at holding communication with each other must be promptly and effectually checked by the Examiners.

16. No books, notes, maps or diagrams shall be permitted in the examination rooms.

17. The candidates should all be seated five minutes before the commencement of the examinations and no candidate will be allowed to enter the rooms later than 15 minutes after the time fixed for commencing a subject. Nor shall any candidate be allowed to leave the rooms during the treatment of a subject—save in cases of extreme necessity—but so soon as any one has finished his paper he may hand it to the Examiner, after which he will be at liberty to retire, but he will not, however, be allowed to re-enter until the time for the commencement of the next subject is called.

18. Perfect silence shall be observed during the time devoted to the treatment of any subject.

19. Punctually at the expiration of the time allowed for the treatment of a subject the Examiner in charge shall notify the candidates of the fact, and shall collect all the papers whether finished or unfinished.

20. On receiving the papers the Examiner will check them with the list of candidates present, so as to satisfy himself that he has one from each person, and should he find any short, he will at once proceed to enquire for them. If any candidate fails to put in a paper the Examiner will state the fact and the reason for its having been withheld in his report to the Secretary. After receiving and collating the papers he will arrange them in numerical order and enclose them in an envelope endorsed with (1), the place of examination, (2), the subject of the paper, and (3), the number of papers enclosed. He will then seal and sign the cover.

21. At the conclusion of the examinations the Examiners in charge will fill up a form certifying that the Rules and Regulations have been faithfully observed and if anything requiring explanation has occurred they will state the facts to the Secretary of the Board.

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES.

The form used for the purpose of making application to be admitted to the examinations recapitulates in brief the following items of information, and the Board beg to commend them to the parties concerned :—

The Examinations begin on the second Tuesdays in May and November in each year and are usually held at Halifax, N.S., St. John, N.B., Charlottetown, P.E.I., Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Winnipeg, and Victoria, B.C.

The Preliminary Examination (for Lower Grade Offices) occupies one day; the Qualifying (for Higher Grade Offices) two days, and the Options from one to two days, according to the number of subjects chosen by the Candidates.

The "possible" marks in the Preliminary in each subject are 60; in the Qualifying 100. In both Grades 30 per cent. must be made, and any smaller number on any subject will cause the Candidate to fail. Upon the aggregated subjects 50 per cent. is required, and any one therefore falling under 120 marks in the Preliminary or 400 in the Qualifying is ruled out. But no number of aggregated marks will pass a Candidate if he makes less than 30 per cent. on any one subject.

Candidates in the Qualifying failing in one subject only, but making the average (400) may come up at the next examination for that one subject and not afterwards, and the marks made in the other subjects at the previous examination will be counted to them, but Candidates failing in more than one subject or in average must treat all the subjects if they come up again.

The names of the successful Candidates are published in the Canada Gazette as soon after the examination as possible.

Particulars of the marks obtained by either class of Candidates cannot be supplied. Applications sent without fees will not be entertained.

Candidates copying from others, or allowing their work to be copied, will be ruled out, however good their papers may be. Several such candidates have already lost their certificates, and it may as well be understood that this kind of wrong-doing cannot be practiced without detection or with impunity.

Candidates confusing their numbers by transposition of figures, or neglecting to give their numbers, will be liable to fail, as it then becomes very difficult and sometimes impossible to identify the papers. Several such cases have happened.

In Options 50 marks at least must be made on each subject taken. Failure in the Qualifying Examination nullifies any Options which may be gained.

Persons under 18 years of age cannot enter as Candidates for the Higher Grade (Qualifying) Examination, and as persons over 35 are not appointed as Clerks in the Inside Service, all applicants who are over that age will be held to be seeking Outside employment.

The Board cannot advise persons as to vacancies in the Service, or furnish information other than the preceding as to the duties, salaries, or other particulars, nor can specimens of past examination papers be supplied.

The Examination papers and lists of the successful candidates required by the Civil Service Act will be found annexed.

We have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servants,

J. THORBURN, LL.D., Chairman,
A. D. DECELLES,
P. LESUEUR, Secretary,
Civil Service Examiners.

LABOR.—We have seen how from the very earliest ages the demands for food, clothing, fuel and shelter, have induced men to labor in order to procure, by the simplest arts, the necessaries of life; and how when abundance and leisure were secured, the arts which administer to man's intellectual and moral nature, and which are no less necessary to his happiness were also called into existence.

We have observed that men seeking too escape the drudgery of manual labor have relegated toil to the captive and the slave, or else contrived to economize muscular exertion, either by utilizing the natural forces with which they were familiar, or by inventing or applying some sort of machinery.

The former of these two plans has on the whole been a source of degradation to all parties, and of danger to every community that has fostered it. The latter, on the contrary, has been eminently beneficial. A display of ingenuity commonly excites emulation and the successful working of a locomotive or power-loom has often improved a whole neighborhood.

INVINTION AND DISCOVERY.

By an invintion, a new aplication of exisisting knowlege is understood; by a discovery, some adition to knowlege allready possessed. Nessesity, it is comonly sayed, is the "mother of invintion;" it has been sayed too that "evry invintion is the child of its time." Thesee aforisms indikate in a consise from the caracteristicks of an invintion. Invintions are the outcum of a felt wont. They spring from the innadequasy of existing meens to mete groing urgensies; so that the noteable invintions of anny partikler age or condition of sosity leave upon thim the the impress of the cercumstances which gave thim berth. The same tipical character does not appertain to discoveries. They are not, as inventions, the issue of a struggle with an urgency which it is imperative to satisfy. Let us compare too concrete examples. The recognition of the property of polarity possessed by the magnet, would be called a discovery; it was the perception of a before unknown power, a positive addition to the knowledge previously possessed. The mariner's compass, a practical application of this property of polarity to the purposes of navigation would be called an invention; it was the application of existing knowledge to a new purpose. The former might have been made by a scientific investigator, but the latter was limited upon by the necessity to seek for shrewd guidance at sea than already existed.—JOHN YEATS, LL.D.

SUGGESTIONS TO THE PUBLIC BY THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

In the event of a supposed abstraction of money or value from a letter, send the letter and cover to the Inspector of the Division in which is situated the office at which the letter was delivered, stating day and hour on which delivered, name of Postmaster or clerk by whom delivered and persons by whom received. It is very desirable that every case of delay, loss or abstraction should be promptly reported.

Trouble and loss occasionally arise out of the carelessness or dishonesty of parties employed in the Post Office service; yet, instances are not wanting in which it has been shown to the satisfaction of the complainants that the fault, at first attributed to the Post Office, in truth rested in other quarters. Thefts by private hands, although very difficult of proof, have not infrequently been brought to light; and it is greatly to be desired that those who suffer loss should, in the first place, and while the circumstances are fresh, endeavor to ascertain with the utmost precision all particulars respecting the despatch or receipt of the letters or papers forming the subject of inquiry and lose no time in communicating this information to the Postmaster General. Indeed, generally speaking, it is only by careful inquiry into minute details that the offender can be detected, whether he be a servant of the Department or not.

EVIDENCE BY COMMISSION IN INDIA AND THE COLONIES, AND ELSEWHERE IN HER MAJESTY'S DOMINIONS.

Circular.

Colonel Stanley to the Marquess of Lansdowne.

DOWNING STREET,
5th December, 1885.

MY LORD,—

I have the honour to transmit to you, for information and publication in the Colony under your Government, a copy of an Act passed during the late Session of Parliament, entitled "An Act to amend the law relating to taking evidence by commission in India and the Colonies, and elsewhere in Her Majesty's Dominions."

The necessity for this measure was brought by the Indian Government to the notice of Her Majesty's Government; and I transmit to you a copy of a memorandum by Sir Richard Garth, the Chief Justice of the High Court of Calcutta, dated 26th June, 1883, in which he points out the inconveniences which were found to arise from the state of the law as then existing.

The Act which I enclose has accordingly been passed amending the provisions of the Act 22 Vic., chap. 20.

As the Act is an enabling measure, and one which relieves the Judges of Colonial Courts from certain duties imposed by an Act of the Imperial Parliament, my predecessor did not think it necessary to delay the introduction of the Bill into Parliament until the Colonial Government had first been consulted.

I have the honour to be,

My Lord,

Your most obedient humble servant,
FRED. STANLEY.

The Officer Administering the Government of Canada.

CHAPTER 74.

An Act to amend the Law relating to taking Evidence of Commission in India and the Colonies, and elsewhere in Her Majesty's Dominions.

14th August, 1885.

Be it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1. This Act may be cited as the Evidence by Commission Act, 1885.

2. Where in any civil proceeding in any court of competent jurisdiction an order for the examination of any witness or person has been made, and a commission, mandamus, order, or request for the examination of such witness or person is addressed to any court, or to any judge of a court, in India or the Colonies, or elsewhere in Her Majesty's dominions, beyond the jurisdiction of the court ordering the examination, it shall be lawful for such court, or the chief judge thereof, or such judge, to nominate some fit person to take such examination, and any deposition or examination taken before an examiner so nominated shall be admissible in evidence to the same extent as if it had been taken by or before such court or judge.

3. Where in any criminal proceeding a mandamus or order for the examination of any witness or person is addressed to any court, or to any judge of a court, in India or the Colonies, or elsewhere in Her Majesty's dominions, beyond the jurisdiction of the court ordering the examination, it shall be lawful for such court, or the chief judge thereof, or such judge, to nominate any judge of such court, or any judge of an inferior court, or magistrate within the jurisdiction of such first-mentioned court, to take the examination of such witness or person, and any deposition or examination so taken shall be admissible in evidence to the same extent as if it had been taken by or before the court or judge to whom the mandamus or order was addressed.

4. The provisions of the Act passed in the twenty-second year of Her Majesty, chapter twenty, intituled "An Act to provide for taking evidence in suits and proceedings pending before tribunals in Her Majesty's dominions in places out of the jurisdiction of such tribunals" (which may be cited as the Evidence by Commission Act, 1859,) as amended by this Act, shall apply to the proceedings under this Act.

5. The power to make rules conferred by section 6 of the Evidence by Commission Act, 1859, shall be deemed to include a power to make rules with regard to all costs of or incidental to the examination of any witness or person, including the remuneration of the examiner, if any, whether the examination be ordered pursuant to that Act or under this or any other Act for the time being in force relating to the examination of witnesses beyond the jurisdiction of the court ordering the examination.

6. When pursuant to any such commission, mandamus, order, or request as in this Act referred to any witness or person is to be examined in any place beyond the jurisdiction of the court ordering the examination, such witness or person may be examined on oath, affirmation, or otherwise, according to the law in force in the place where the examination is taken, and any deposition or examination so taken shall be as effectual for all purposes as if the witness or person had been examined on oath before a person duly authorized to administer an oath in the court ordering the examination.

Minute by the Hon. the Chief Justice of the High Court of Calcutta, dated 26th June, 1883.

1. I wish to direct the attention of the Governor General in Council to the present state of the law, which enables the Superior Courts at home to issue commissions to the High Courts in India to take evidence in English suits.

2. I have reasons to believe that the provisions of this law, and the inconveniences which result from it, are often very imperfectly understood; and I therefore think it right to explain them to the Government, in order that proper steps may be taken, if His Excellency should think fit, for protecting the High Courts from an unnecessary waste of public time.

3. By the Statute 13 Geo. III, chap. 63, sec. 40, the Court of King's Bench in England was empowered, in all cases of indictments or informations for offences committed in India, to issue a writ of mandamus requiring the Chief Justice and Judges of the Supreme Court of Calcutta, or the Judges of the Mayors' Courts at Madras or Bombay, to hold a court for the examination of witnesses, and the reception of other proofs concerning the matters charged in such indictments and informations, and to institute such proceedings as might be necessary for the purpose of taking such evidence, and transmitting it to the Court of King's Bench.

4. By section 44 of the same statute it was provided that, in all suits brought in any of the Courts at Westminster for any cause arising in India, it should be lawful for such Court to award such writs in the nature of a mandamus or commission to the Chief Justice and Judges of the Supreme Court of Calcutta, or to the Judges of the Mayors' Courts at Madras or Bombay, for the examination of witnesses in such suits.

5. By the Statute 1 Wil. IV, chap 22, sec. 1, the powers thus given to the Courts at Westminster, by the Act of George the 3rd were extended to all colonies, islands, plantations, and places under the dominion of the British Crown in foreign parts, and to the Judges of the several Courts therein, and to all actions depending in any of the Courts at Westminster, wherever the cause of action may have arisen.

6. It thus became the duty of the Judges of the Supreme Court at Calcutta, and afterwards of the Supreme Court at Madras and Bombay, whenever they should be required so to do by the Courts at Westminster, to examine witnesses and take evidence in any case depending in those Courts; and it has always been considered that the present High Courts in India, although constituted in a different way, and exercising powers which are in some respects larger than those of the Supreme Courts, are bound to execute commissions by order of the Courts at Westminster.

7. The Statute 3 and 4 Vic., chap. 105, sec. 69, gives the same powers to Irish Judges as are given to English Judges by the Act of William the 4th, and I believe that there are other Acts which give similar powers to all the other Superior Courts in Great Britain.

8. In former days the duties thus imposed upon the Indian Courts were not very onerous. Their own business was comparatively light, so that they could comply with the requirements of the Courts at home without much, if any, inconvenience.

9. I find, however, that even then, when a commission arrived, it had the effect of stopping for a time the whole business of the Supreme Court. It was considered, rightly or wrongly, that all the Judges were bound to execute the writ; and I have discovered several instances on record where the whole Court (the Chief Justice and two Puisne Judges) were solemnly engaged for several days in sitting to see a commission properly executed.

10. It was probably unnecessary that all the Judges should have attended. It was held by the Queen's Bench in the case of Regina vs. Douglas, 13 Q. B., 42, that a Court to execute the commission might be composed of two out of three Judges; but it would seem from that case that where the writ is directed to the Chief Judge and Judges, it is necessary that two at least should form the Court; and in a case which lately occurred here, it was considered that one Judge could not safely execute a commission, except by consent of the parties.

11. In former days a little waste of time was probably not of much consequence; but circumstances have now materially changed. The business of the High Court of Calcutta has, as His Excellency is well aware, very largely increased. There is at present a very heavy arrear of causes more especially on the Appellate Side; and I need hardly say that it is of the utmost importance to the Indian public that the time of the Judges should not be wasted.

12. Of course if it were really necessary or even desirable, to employ the services of High Court Judges in taking evidence under these commissions, I should hesitate before suggesting any change. But everyone who is at all conversant with the subject knows that in the large majority of cases it is simple waste of power to employ a highly-paid Judge for such a purpose. The duty which he has to perform is ministerial; and any man of business, who understands the way in which such commissions are executed, is quite as capable of acting the part of Commissioner as the best Judge amongst us.

13. It was not long ago that a commission was sent to the High Court of Calcutta to examine witnesses in an English Chancery suit. I was not informed how long the commission would last, and I was unwary enough to appoint the Judge who was then sitting on the Original Side to execute it as soon as it arrived.

14. This commission lasted for upwards of a fortnight. I calculated that it cost this country (in the time of the Judge and the officers of the Court) at least Rs. 2,000; besides delaying, of course, the regular business of the Court and keeping Indian suitors waiting for the trial of their causes. And all this time, as I have said before, the Judge was performing a duty purely ministerial. He was bound to let Counsel put what questions they pleased to the witnesses, subject only to any objections which may be taken. He could not use his own discretion to decide a single point. He had only to see that the questions and answers, with the objections and all else that occurred, were duly taken down by the officer of the Court, and that the technical requirements of the commission were properly observed.

15. And it is worthy of consideration by the Government of India that if any private person had been appointed a Commissioner, the expense of the commission would have fallen, as of course it ought to fall, upon the parties to the suit; whereas, when the commission is directed to the High Court the expense of executing it is thrown upon the Indian public.

16. These considerations naturally suggest the question—Why should these commissions ever be directed to the High Court at all? Why should not other Commissioners do as well? The answer is that any other Commissioner will do as well and better, because any other Commissioner would proceed to execute the commission at once; whereas if it is executed by the Court, the parties would, in the present state of the business, have to wait several months.

17. It is for this reason that commissions, as a rule, are not directed to the High Court. The practice has generally been, and I believe still is, to send out the commission under Section 4 of the Act of William IV, or the 3 and 4 Victoria, directed to some private Commissioner, or more often directed in blank, so that the agents of the parties may appoint whom they will to execute it.

18. In former days, no doubt, where witnesses would not attend voluntarily, there was a difficulty in getting evidence taken before a private Commissioner, because the courts in India had no power to compel the attendance of witnesses, except where the commission was directed to themselves. But now by the Statute 22 Vic, chap. 20, sec. 1, it is provided that, “where—upon an application for this purpose it is made to appear to any court “or judge having authority under this Act that any court of competent “jurisdiction in Her Majesty’s dominions has duly authorized, by com- “mission or other process, the obtaining the testimony in any suit, or “other proceeding pending in or before such court, of any witness or “witnesses out of the jurisdiction of such court, and within the jurisdic- “tion of such first mentioned court, it shall be lawful for such court to “order the examination before the person or persons appointed, and in “manner and form directed by such commission or other process as afore-

“said, of such witness or witnesses accordingly; and it shall be lawful for the said court by the same order or by any subsequent order, to command the attendance of any person to be named in such order for the purpose of being examined, or the production of any writings or other documents to be mentioned in such order; and to give all such directions, as to the time, place, and manner of such examination, and all other matters connected therewith, as may appear reasonable and just, and any such order may be enforced, and any disobedience thereof punished, in like manner as in the case of an order made by such court in a cause depending in such court.” The Supreme Courts in India are amongst those to which these powers are given.

19. And by Section 3 of the same Act it is provided that every person whose attendance shall be so ordered shall be entitled to the like conduct money, and payment for expenses and loss of time, as upon attendance at a trial.

20. There is therefore now no practical difficulty in enforcing the attendance of witnesses before a private Commissioner; and there would therefore seem no reason, unless in some very exceptional cases, for directing commissions to the High Court.

21. In some instances lately commissions have been sent out to “the Chief Justice and judges of the Supreme Court”—a court which has ceased to exist for the last twenty years; and in two or three cases the commission has been directed “to the Chief Justice and judges of the Supreme Court, jointly and severally, or to any person or persons whom they may appoint to execute it.”

22. In these cases the High Court has been asked to appoint some private Commissioner named by the party in charge of the commission; and it has been thought right, out of respect to the English judges who issued the commission, to appoint the Commissioner as requested, but with an intimation that, in the opinion of the court, it had no authority to make the appointment.

23. It may be that there is some legislative provision, or some rule of the High Court of Judicature, which we have not been able to discover; but, so far as I can ascertain, there is no law here or in England which empowers the courts at home to direct the High Court to appoint a private Commissioner.

24. It seems to me, therefore, having regard to the foregoing observations, that the matter is one which deserves the consideration of the Lord Chancellor, and that it might with propriety be suggested to his Lordship that some rule or rules should be passed, or some other steps taken, to prevent commissions being directed to the High Court or Chief Courts in India for the following reasons:—

1stly.—Because it is undesirable that the time of High Court judges should be unnecessarily occupied in ministerial duties;

2ndly.—Because it is unjust that the Indian public should bear the cost of procuring evidence in suits between private persons at home; and 3rdly.—Because it is inconvenient for English suitors to be kept waiting several months before their commissions can be executed.

25. There seems no reason why the execution of these commissions should have precedence over suits which are standing for trial in the High Court; and I consider that such commissions should take their turn with the other cases, which are for the time being on the list for disposal. This would probably, under present circumstances, delay the execution of a commission for at least six or eight months.

26. I would also suggest that some further rule or rules might be usefully framed to guide the courts in India as to the sums which should be allowed to witnesses (under Section 3 of the Act XXII Vic., chap. 20), for conduct money, expenses and loss of time. The sums allowed here to witnesses are different from those allowed at home, and they are regulated, especially as regards travelling expenses, by considerations peculiar to this country.

27. It might be sufficient probably, in framing any such rule or rules, merely to direct that the sums allowed to witnesses shall be regulated according to the English or the Indian scale, and the courts here will act accordingly. But if the High Courts are to use the process to compel the attendance of witnesses, and to punish them for disobedience, it is necessary, of course, that the sums to be allowed to witnesses should be correctly defined.

28. I consider that it would not be proper for me to communicate directly upon this subject with the authorities at home; and I believe I am adopting the right course in asking the Governor General in Council to take the matter into consideration, and, if so advised, to submit it to the Lord Chancellor through the Secretary of State for India.

Journalize, Post and produce a Balance Sheet.

We will assume that the Government had to provide funds to repay on 1st August, 1885, in London, a sum of Five Million of Pounds Sterling, and that anticipating a large expenditure on public works, they determined to ask a new loan of Seven Million Five Hundred Thousand Pounds, which Messrs. Glyn, Mills & Co., undertook to place on the market. The loan was to be for 20 years, and the interest 4 per cent. Tenders were to be asked for sums of not less than £1,000 stg., and no tender under par was to be entertained. The operation may be assumed to have been quite successful, three times the amount required being offered and at prices varying from 1 to 1½ per cent. premium. From the tenders, the following sums, we will say, were accepted:—

£1,875,000	@	£101 15s. 0d.	for £100.
3,300,000	@	101 10s. 0d.	for £100.
2,000,000	@	101 3s. 4d.	for £100.
325,000	@	101 1s. 0d.	for £100.

£7,500,000

A commission of one-half of one per cent. was to be paid to the agents on the new loan, and a commission of one quarter of one per cent. on the old loan of £5,000,000 now to be repaid.

The proceeds of the new loan were of course to be passed to the credit of Canada in the books of Glyn, Mills & Co., and the amount to be paid out for the redemption of the £5,000,000 (together with the two commissions to the debit) as redeemed.

Of the balance remaining in the hands of the bankers the Finance Minister is assumed to have sold on 1st June, at 9½ per cent. (over old par of course) the following amounts, payable at sight, to the banks named, when it was also agreed that the money would remain in their hands, at 4 per cent., undisturbed, to the credit of the Government, until 31st December, when the interest would be computed and added to the principal, after which the same terms might be continued or others agreed upon.

Bank of Montreal	£400,000
Bank of Toronto.....	100,000
Bank of British North America.....	200,000
Molsons Bank.....	100,000
Quebec Bank.....	100,000
Banque Nationale.....	100,000

The Government may also be held to have sold Bills of Exchange at sight on Glyn, Mills & Co., in New York, for £300,000 stg., at \$4.87 (in the Pound Sterling), less $\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. brokerage, and brought the proceeds in gold to Canada, one-half of which was sent to the Deputy Receiver-General at Montreal, and one-half to the Deputy Receiver-General at Toronto.

The Candidates will work the transactions with Glyn, Mills & Co., in sterling, at $9\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

SERIOUS DAMAGE TO THE ORANGE TREES IN FLORIDA BY THE SEVERE FROSTS OF LAST JANUARY.

The heavy frost in Florida this winter is believed to have seriously injured, if it has not killed outright, a large proportion of the orange trees in that State. As yet there are no statistics of the damage, but as the cold was, according to all observers, greater than has been experienced in that region since 1835, and as a temperature below 20° must have inflicted very serious injury upon the orange trees, perhaps excepting the oldest and hardiest, it is a safe assumption that the orange crop of Florida will be greatly reduced for at least a year to come. Add to this the statement that all the oranges left on the trees are ruined, and that the loss of picked oranges will reach half a million boxes, and it will be seen that this killing frost has had a far-reaching and most mischievous effect. If the injury proves as general as now indicated, moreover, that confidence in the equability of the climate which has been the chief support of heavy investments there during the last ten years will be much shaken, if not destroyed.

The "frost line" theory, in fact, has been shown to be untenable by this single storm, because even if such a frost only occurs once in thirty years, the fact that it is liable to occur must affect all investments in orange groves and reduce the value of such property considerably.

Inevitably, also, capital, always cautious and timid, will look elsewhere for a more trustworthy "frost line," and it will find it in Southern California. The proverb that "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good" is illustrated in this case. Florida's disaster is California's opportunity. In the first place, there will be a dearth of oranges for present consumption and the last California crop was abundant. Thus far no California oranges have been marketed here which compare at all favorably with the Indian River fruit, and the poorer grades of California oranges are not equal in juice or sweetness to the common Florida ones. But the California groves are young and improving every year, and since the market for oranges is practically unlimited in the existing circumstances, the Pacific crop may be expected to flow in rapidly to meet the demand. It is, of course, much to be regretted that the Florida groves have suffered so greatly, but it is some satisfaction to know that the loss can be at least partially supplied from another State of the Union.

PANAMA, Jan. 5.—The inhabitants of the quiet little Spanish city of Amatitlan, twenty-four miles south by rail from Guatemala City, about five thousand souls in all, were awakened at 2 o'clock on 18th December, by slight but frequent shocks of earthquake which continued all day until 5.22 p.m., when a heavy shock was felt which so alarmed the people that they began to think of leaving their houses. At 5.36 p.m. the heaviest shock came, throwing down many walls and houses already fissured by the earlier shocks. People were thrown down. The air was filled with dust from the fallen adobe houses. Shock followed upon shock.

One hundred and thirty-one shocks were felt the first day, principally from east to west, 81 of which occurred between 4 and 5.36 p. m. Had the severe shock occurred at night many persons would have been killed, as it was all were on the alert, and the only casualty was a broken leg. The second day was nearly as bad as the first, and the shocks continued for some days subsequently.

The oyster beds along the French coast are reported as giving so large a yield as to lessen annually the necessity for importation. The origin of these beds was stated by the late Prof. Milne Edwards to have been wholly accidental. A schooner with a cargo of oysters from Portugal sailed up the Gironde River to reach Bordeaux and unload. But on reaching port the oysters—those on the surface at least—were found to be dead and putrefying. So the schooner was ordered to return and dump its cargo into the Atlantic. On their way the sailors managed to strike a reef near the mouth of the Gironde, and saved themselves a fifty-miles sail and the job of unloading by dropping the oysters through a hole in the hull. Not very long afterwards the Gascon fishermen were astonished to find rich oyster beds where bare rocks had been before, and under proper care and retransplantation the yield went steadily into market as Arcachon, Concale, and Marenne oysters, 18 to 36 cents a dozen.

CRIME AND DISEASE IN MONTREAL.

Judge Ramsay at the opening of the Queen's Bench said in the course of his address to the Grand Jury: Of a list of the names of twenty-six persons, accompanied by their causes of detention, laid before the court, only five are crimes of violence, while the offences attributed to the other twenty-one are all directed against property, some of them of course such as house breaking and robbery, including violence. In fact, our besetting sin for the moment seems to be not so much drink as the intemperate desire to possess ourselves of our neighbour's property—the vice of a rich and money getting community. During a considerable part of the summer and autumn this city was afflicted by a great calamity. A large number of people were attacked by a dangerous and highly contagious malady, of which many died. If we consider the terror caused by the presence of such a disease in crowded houses, the absence of means to procure proper attendance for the sick, the impossibility of isolating those attacked from those in health,—the necessary separation to avoid greater dangers, of families, separated often not to be again reunited, and not unfrequently the death, under these appalling circumstances, of near and dear relatives, it will be seen how intense the suffering, particularly of the poorer classes, must have been. It is, perhaps, not to be wondered at that such an accumulation of distress and misery should cause some murmurs. Unfortunately this momentary discontent was taken advantage of by mistaken, and not interested persons, to inflame the minds of the people, and to try and induce them to believe that those who were taking measures to arrest the disease were their enemies. Nothing is more dangerous in a community than panics of this kind, and those who set them going do not merit the name of good citizens. Let us hope that now the danger is at end for the present, means, calmly considered and discreetly executed, will be adopted to prevent a recurrence of the pestilence.

DESERTED CABINS IN THE ROCKIES.

Value.

Three years ago I found a small well-built cabin that stood in a deep and thickly wooded ravine by a tiny stream of water. A few old sluice boxes and the denuded bed rock of a small placer mine told the story of a miner, who thought he had struck it rich, building a house and working for one season, and then abandoning the claim. There was no blazed trail leading to this house. This indicated that the owner of this cabin did not hanker for visitors, and made me suspect that the diggings must have prospected well. I tried the gravel. It prospected fairly, but it was so high lying that water in sufficient quantities to work the ground rapidly and thoroughly could not be got on to it. The mine was worthless. I went to the house, and as I passed around one end I saw that the window had been broken inward. That was odd. Why should any one break into a house through a window when the door was fastened by a latch only? Curious about the broken window, I looked through it into the house. On the floor lay two dead mountain lions. I opened the door and examined the dead animals. They, judging from the condition of their skins, had got into the house the previous winter when the snow was deep and the weather intensely cold. The broken window showed how they had got in. Why they sought refuge in the cabin, and what killed them I do not know.

Another cabin stood on the headwaters of a creek by a deep spring of ice water. This cabin was about fifteen miles from my highland house. I found it one day while deer hunting. It had not been occupied for years. There were holes in its roof, and some of the lower wall logs were badly decayed. In a box, pushed far back under a double bunk, were thirty or forty pieces of white china tableware, and a dozen plated forks. There was nothing else in the house. On my return home I told my wife of the china, and she, womanlike, coveted it. I promised to go for it in a few days and did so but it was gone. Another hunter or miner had found the cabin, and, being a prompter man than I, had packed the box on his horse and carried it off.

TRADE WITH THE WEST INDIES, MEXICO AND BRAZIL.

The Confederate Council for Trade, which assembled at Quebec in September, 1855, for the purpose of establishing concerted action amongst the British North American Provinces in reference to the Reciprocity Treaty with the United States and commercial matters generally, resolved:—

“That in the opinion of this Council it would be highly desirable that application be made to Her Majesty's Imperial Government, requesting that steps be taken to enable the British North American Provinces to open communications with the West India Islands, with Spain and her Colonies, and with Brazil and Mexico, for the purpose of ascertaining in

“ what manner the traffic of the Provinces with these countries could be extended and placed on a more advantageous footing.”

This Resolution of the Confederate Council was approved by Her Majesty's Secretary of State for the Colonies,* and was transmitted by His Excellency Sir John Michel, the Administrator of the Government of Canada, to the Governors of the Maritime Provinces, with a request that they would state whether they would unite with Canada in sending Commissioners as indicated in the resolution.

The Governments of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island replied in the affirmative, and appointed commissioners to join those from Canada, for the purpose of carrying the resolution into effect.

The Commission consisted of the following Gentlemen :—

FROM CANADA.

The Hon. WILLIAM McDUGALL, M.P.P., Provincial Secretary of Canada ;

The Hon. THOMAS RYAN, M.L.C.;

J. W. DUNSCOMB, Esquire, Collector of Customs for Quebec ; and Canada, No. 154.

(Copy.)

DOWNING STREET, 28th October, 1865.

SIR,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of Viscount Monck's despatch of the 23rd September, No. 187, forwarding copies of two approved Minutes of the Executive Council of Canada, suggesting that measures should be taken with a view to the extension of the Commerce of Canada in the British and Spanish West Indies, in Mexico, Brazil and other places. I request you will assure the Provincial Government that Her Majesty's Government cordially approve the suggestion they have made and will support it by all the means in their power.

The scheme is of course not applicable to Canada alone, but to the British North American Colonies collectively.

On that understanding I shall request the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to recommend the object in view at the requisite Foreign Courts, and to introduce to the British Ministers abroad those gentlemen who shall be selected for the mission.

I, on my part, shall be happy to instruct the Governors of the British Colonies to afford them every assistance they can. For this purpose, however, it will be necessary that you furnish me with the names of the gentlemen who will undertake this office. I have by this mail sent copies of the correspondence to the Lieutenant Governors of the Maritime Provinces, to Newfoundland, and Prince Edward Island, and have instructed them to communicate to you without delay the names of the gentlemen who shall be willing to represent the respective Colonies.

On the receipt of this information, and after consultation with your Executive Council you will inform me of the result. Her Majesty's Government will then take the further steps which I have indicated.

Having been in communication with the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade upon the subject of this proposed extension of the commercial relations of the British North American Provinces, I have received from their Lordships a letter of which I think it advisable to send you herewith a copy.

I have, &c.,

(Signed),

EDWARD CARDWELL.

The Officer Administering the Government

BOARD OF TRADE,
WHITEHALL, 26th October, 1865.

SIR,—I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of yesterday's date and of your previous communication and enclosures, relative to the proposal of the Confederate Council of the British North American Colonies to despatch deputations to Washington, to the West Indies and to various South American countries, with a view to the improvement and extension of the commercial relations of the British North American possessions with the United States of America and the other countries.

In reply I am directed to request you to state to Mr. Secretary Cardwell that my Lords fully approve of the objects which the Confederate Council appears to contemplate and they are of opinion that Her Majesty's Government should signify its approval of the step about to be taken.

It appears to my Lords beyond the province of this Department to enter upon the question of the advisability, as a matter of general principle, of separate commercial conventions being established between groups of Her Majesty's colonial dependencies and foreign countries. At the same time, my Lords think it right to call attention to the difficulties which may arise with respect to foreign countries having reciprocity treaties with this country, if any colony, or colonies, should make arrangements for giving to one foreign country advantages which are not given to others. This point was so much discussed on the occasion of negotiating the treaty between the United States and British North America that it is unnecessary now to do more than express a hope that it may be found possible to avoid similar difficulties in the present case.

The original papers which accompanied your letter of the 25th instant are herewith returned.

I am, &c.,
(Signed,) J. EMERSON TENNANT.

The Under Secretary of State, Colonial Office.

Mr. Hammond to Under Secretary of State, Colonial Office.

FOREIGN OFFICE, 11th November, 1865.

(Copy)

Sir,—I have laid before the Earl of Clarendon your letter of the 7th instant and its enclosures, relative to the measures proposed by the Government of Canada for the extension of the commercial relations of the British North American Provinces with the British and Spanish West Indies, and with Mexico, Brazil and other countries, and I am to request that you will state to Mr. Secretary Cardwell that His Lordship concludes that as regards foreign countries, the agents who may be sent from the British North American Colonies will not assume any independent character, or attempt to negotiate and conclude arrangements with the Governments of foreign countries, but will only, as proposed by the seventh resolution of the Confederate Council on Commercial Treaties as regards negotiations with the United States, enclosed in Lord Monck's despatch, No. 185, of the 23rd of September, be authorized to confer with the British Minister in each foreign country and to afford him information with respect to the interests of the British North American Provinces.

A similar process has been adopted in various negotiations for commercial treaties; in which Her Majesty's Government have been recently engaged with foreign powers, and Lord Clarendon, on receiving from Mr. Cardwell copies of the instructions given to the colonial delegates, will be ready to authorize Her Majesty's Minister at Madrid as regards the Spanish West Indies, and Her Majesty's Ministers on the continent of America, to communicate with these colonial delegates, and in the first instance to assist them in their enquiries as to what openings there may be for extending the trade of the British Colonies, and afterwards to ascertain how far any overtures for that object would be likely to be well received by the Governments to which those Ministers are accredited.

Having thus obtained grounds for further proceedings, Her Majesty's Government might in the next place consider, in communication with the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade, how far any proposals might be made to foreign countries in behalf of the colonies, consistently with the general treaty engagements of the British Crown; and this point being satisfactorily ascertained, instructions might be framed in this country for Her Majesty's Ministers in the countries in question, and full powers issued to them by Her Majesty, under which they would endeavor to bring into the shape of international engagements such arrangements as might be ultimately considered acceptable, not only to the colonies themselves, but also to the foreign powers with whom they were contracted.

I am, &c.,

The Hon. W. H. POPE, M.P.P., Colonial Secretary of Prince Edward Island.

It was arranged that the Commissioners should proceed to England, and there place themselves in communication with the Right Honorable Edward Cardwell, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies. In accordance with this arrangement all the Members of the Commission, with the exception of Mr. Smith, assembled in London early in December, 1865.

After reporting their arrival to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the Commissioners placed themselves in correspondence with the Governor General of British North America, His Excellency Viscount Monck, then in Ireland, who at once repaired to London. In company with His Excellency, they had several interviews with Mr. Cardwell, at whose instance Lord Clarendon, the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, gave them introductory letters to the British Consuls at all the places they intended visiting in foreign possessions, while Mr. Cardwell himself furnished them with introductions to the Governors of the British Colonies in the West Indies. They were also placed in communication with the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade, by whom they were supplied with valuable statistical information; and the Admiralty gave instructions to Vice-Admiral Sir James Hope, commanding the fleet on the North American and West Indian station, to order a steamer of war to be in readiness to convey them from place to place in the West Indies.

The instructions, which received the approval of the Imperial Government, and under which the Canadian Commissioners acted, are these:—

“ FINANCE DEPARTMENT,

“ Ottawa, 17th November, 1885.

“ GENTLEMEN,—By command of His Excellency the Administrator of the Government, I have the honor to inform you that His Excellency has been pleased to appoint you Commissioners to proceed to the British West Indies and to the foreign West India Islands, Brazil and Mexico, for the purpose of enquiring into the trade of these countries, and of ascertaining how far it may be practicable to extend the commerce now existing between them and British North America.

“ The countries referred to all produce articles which enter very largely into the consumption of the people of Canada and the Maritime Provinces, while at the same time they consume the staples of production here to an immense amount. Naturally, therefore, trade should exist, and be carried on between them under the most favorable conditions. Practically, however, it is found that the commerce is very restricted in amount and of slow development.

“ The causes for this state of things may be found partly, no doubt, in the difficulty which always attends the opening of new markets and the diversion of trade; but principally in the fiscal laws which both on our part and on theirs interfere with the free interchange of our respective commodities. The rapid extension of the productive power of Canada in lumber, cereals and fish, and the early prospect that the great resources of the Maritime Provinces will equally be brought under an uniform commercial policy for all British North America, render it in the opinion of the Government most important that an enquiry should be made into the circumstances and conditions of our trade with the West Indies and South America, and into the best mode by which it can be developed.

"The subject becomes of the utmost importance at a time when our important trade with the United States is threatened with interruption, and will certainly hereafter be continued under different conditions from those which have hitherto existed.

"Knowing then that the countries to which you are about to proceed offer a market for all the surplus products of British North America, and that they can afford us in exchange all the productions of the tropics, it is most desirable that an effort should be made to remove the artificial obstructions which exist to free commercial intercourse.

"The Government have decided to confide this important duty to you, in which it is probable you will be aided by one or more representatives from the Maritime Provinces. It is confidently believed that the views of these gentlemen will coincide with your own on all points, but if unfortunately material divergence of opinion should be found to exist, it will then be your duty to act under the authority now given you, on behalf of Canada alone, reporting the circumstances to His Excellency to enable him to communicate with the Governments of the sister provinces for the purpose of re-establishing joint and united action.

"The instructions under which you will act must necessarily be of a very general character, and their application must be left in a great measure to your own discretion, in which the utmost reliance is placed.

"You will in all cases report the nature and extent of the productions of the respective countries you visit, their trade, tariffs and all other burdens imposed upon commerce, the ordinary prices current, &c. It will also be desirable to note the several customs of trade among merchants, and other points valuable for the information of our commercial community.

"It will then become your duty to consider whether you can offer any suggestions for removing what may appear to you to be obstructions to direct trade with British North America.

"It would be improper for the Government to anticipate the action of the Legislature in reference to taxation; but it is necessary that you should be informed that this Government would be prepared to recommend to Parliament the reduction or even the abolition of any customs duties now levied on the productions of these countries, if corresponding favor were shown to the staples of British North America in their markets.

"Your first attention will probably be directed to the British West Indies, and subsequently to the Spanish, French and other foreign islands, ultimately visiting Demerara and Brazil. If time permit you will visit Mexico, but in the disturbed state of that Empire it is not desired that you should much delay your return for this purpose. It is hoped that your labors will be completed by 1st April next.

"You will proceed to England as soon as possible, reporting yourselves to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, to whom His Excellency will furnish you with letters, and you will, I am sure, receive from him such introduction to the British authorities in the places you intend to visit as will secure every facility for your enquiries.

"You will be pleased to report to me, for the information of His Excellency the Administrator of the Government, from time to time, the progress you make, with advice as to the points at which you may be addressed.

"I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

"Your obedient humble servant,

"(Signed,)

A. T. GALT,

"Minister of Finance of Canada."

The instructions to the Commissioner from New Brunswick were communicated to him by the Governor of that colony, and were as follow :—

“ FREDERICTON, N. B., 15th December, 1865.

“ SIR—Her Majesty having been pleased to authorize the appointment of Commissioners charged with a mission of enquiry into the most available means of extending the commerce of the B.N.A. Provinces, I have nominated you as Commissioner for the Province of New Brunswick on that behalf, having the fullest reliance on the ability and zeal with which you will discharge the duties entrusted to you.

“ I have now to instruct you to proceed to the West Indies—there to join and co-operate with the Commissioners appointed on behalf of the other B.N.A. Provinces.

“ You will, in conjunction with them, endeavor to ascertain how far it may be possible to effect arrangements with any of the British Colonies or foreign possessions in the West Indies, or with the Empires of Mexico or Brazil, by which the trade between these countries and the B.N.A. Colonies would be further developed and extended. You are not authorized to make any engagement or give any pledge on behalf of the Government of New Brunswick, but you are at liberty to make any suggestions which may appear to you to be suitable, and you will discuss the subject of your mission with those appointed to confer with you in the fullest and frankest manner. It will be your duty in these conferences to obtain all possible information as to the mutual commercial concessions and corresponding changes in the respective tariffs of the several colonies and countries referred to, which may seem calculated to facilitate the attainment of the object desired.

“ You will further generally collect such information at the different places visited as may, in your opinion, be of utility to the commercial community of New Brunswick or which may tend to open up new markets for the productions of the Province, and new fields for the employment of its industries.

“ You will from time to time report your proceedings to the Honorable the Provincial Secretary, and on your return to the Province, will make a general report of the information you have obtained.

PRELIMINARY (OR LOWER GRADE) EXAMINATION.

PENMANSHIP.

HOW TO WRITE AT EXAMINATIONS.

Copy the following remarks :—

NOTE.—Read this carefully before you begin ; then copy.

Value.

1. Get seated at least five minutes before the time appointed for commencing work, and do not go at it with a rush when the signal is given. Ample time is allowed for the exercise ; in fact, twice as much as is really needed, and as it is important to you to have steady nerves, don't begin until you have perfect self-control.

2. Then be sure you have the kind of pen you like. There is a great deal in working with good tools, and as you have a right to a good pen, get it, even though you should have to try several before you have one that you like.

3. Write as plain and round a hand as you can ; not too small nor too large, and avoid flourishes and eccentricities, but especially blots and erasures. If you should happen to write a wrong word let it stand, for the paper will not be valued by correctness of transcription but by its neatness, beauty and legibility.

4. One of the best features of good writing is uniformity. Some writers commence well, but having no staying power soon get into a careless, irregular and sprawling style, or perhaps into a cramped and ugly, method. If a writer finds himself passing into any of these defective modes he will do well to stop for a while, and after a few minutes' rest he will probably be able to resume as he commenced.

5. Do not press much upon your pen and do not hold it close to the point. The fingers should hold it at least one inch above the point. Then let not your pen handle be less than 5 inches long, for no one can write a very free or flowing hand with too short a holder.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

Improvements in musical instruments and in the preparation of wire strings and cat-gut, arose simultaneously. Violins were brought to such a degree of perfection in the seventeenth century that no further finish or refinement has since been made. Cremona, Brescia and Inspruck were then, as now, the principal centres of their manufacture. In the preparation of cat-gut the Italians particularly excel, and in its manufacture they make use of the entrails of both sheep and cats. The best specimens are to be obtained from Rome, Naples and France, those of French make being prepared in Paris, Toulouse and Lyons. The lute was, up to the time of Bach, the favorite instrument. It was then superseded by the guitar, which came from Italy towards the close of the last century, but which, in various shapes, may be traced back to the remotest periods of antiquity. The guitar, especially popular in Italy and Spain, differs in appearance but little from the lute, except that it is lighter and more convenient for the performer. The harp of the Middle Ages was improved first by Hochbrucker in 1720, and then by Sebastian Erhard, of Alsace. The pedal harp was invented by Paul Velters, at Nürnberg, in the first half of the eighteenth century.

The subjects and citizens of each of the two Contracting Parties, respectively, shall have liberty freely and securely to come, with their ships and cargoes, to all places, ports and rivers in the dominions and possessions of the other to which other foreigners are, or may be, permitted to come, and shall, throughout the whole extent of the dominions and possessions of the other, enjoy the same rights, privileges, liberties, favours, immunities, and exemptions in matters of commerce and navigation which are or may be enjoyed by native subjects or citizens generally.

ARTICLE V.

ARTICLE VIII.

No duties of tonnage, harbour, pilotage, lighthouse, quarantine, or other similar or corresponding duties of whatever nature, or under whatever denomination, levied in the name or for the profit of Government, public functionaries, private individuals, corporations, or establishments of any kind, shall be imposed in the ports of the dominions and possessions of either country which shall not equally and under the same conditions be imposed in the like cases on the vessels of other nations.

Such equality of treatment shall apply reciprocally to the respective vessels, from whatever port or place they may arrive, and whatever may be their place of destination.

ARTICLE IX.

It being understood that the general liberty of commercial communication conceded by both Contracting Parties to one another by the preceding Articles Nos. V, VI and VII, shall in no way extend to the coasting trade of the two respective nations.

ARTICLE X.

In all that regards the stationing, loading and unloading of vessels in the ports, basins, docks, roadsteads, harbours or rivers of the dominions and possessions of the two countries, the same privileges and immunities shall be conceded which have been conceded to the most-favoured nation.

ARTICLE XVII.

The subjects and citizens of each of the two High Contracting Parties in the dominions and possessions of the other shall be exempted from all compulsory military service whatever, whether in the army, navy, or national guard, or militia. They shall be equally exempted from all judicial and municipal charges and functions whatever, as well as from all contributions, whether pecuniary or in kind, imposed as a compensation for personal service; and, finally, from forced loans and military exactions or requisitions.

They may acquire and dispose of the same, whether by purchase, sale, donation, exchange, marriage, testament, succession, ab intestato, or in any other manner, under the same conditions as are established by the laws of the country for all foreigners. Their heirs and representatives may succeed to and take possession of such property, either in person or by agents acting on their behalf, in the same manner and in the same legal forms as subjects or citizens of the country. In the absence of heirs and representatives the property shall be treated in the same manner as the like property belonging to a subject of the country under similar circumstances.

In none of these respects shall they pay upon the value of such property any other or higher impost, duty, or charge, than is payable by subjects of the country. In every case the subjects and citizens of the Contracting Parties shall be permitted to export their property, or the proceeds thereof if sold, freely, and without being subjected on such exportation to pay any duty as foreigners, or any other or higher duties than those to which subjects of the country are liable under similar circumstances.

If any subject or citizen of either of the two High Contracting Parties shall die without will or testament in any of the territories, dominions, or settlements of the other, the Consul-General or Consul of the nation to which the deceased belong, or the representative of such Consul-General or Consul, in his absence, shall have the right to nominate curators to take charge of the property of deceased, so far as the laws of the country will permit, for the benefit of the lawful heirs and creditors of the deceased, giving proper notice of such nomination to the authorities of the country.

ARTICLE XIX.

The dwellings, manufactories, warehouses, and shops of the subjects and citizens of each of the two High Contracting Parties in the dominions and possessions of the other, and all premises appertaining thereto, destined for purposes of residence or commerce, shall be respected. If there should be occasion to make a search of, or a domiciliary visit to, such dwellings and premises, or to examine or inspect books, papers or accounts, such measure shall be executed only in conformity with the legal warrant or order, in writing, of a Tribunal, or of the competent authority.

The subjects or citizens of each of the two Contracting Parties in the dominions and possessions of the other shall have free access to the Courts of Justice for the prosecution and defence of their rights. They shall enjoy, in this respect, the same rights and privileges as subjects or citizens of the country, and shall, like them, be at liberty to employ, in all causes, their advocates, attorneys, or agents from among the persons admitted to the exercise of those professions, according to the laws of the country.

ARTICLE XX.

Any ship of war or merchant vessel of either of the High Contracting Parties which may be compelled by stress of weather or by accident to take shelter in a port of the other, shall be at liberty to refit therein, to procure all necessary stores, and to put to sea again, without paying any dues other than such as would be payable in a similar case by a national vessel. In case, however, the master of a merchant vessel should be under the necessity of disposing of a part of his merchandise, in order to defray his expenses, he shall be bound to conform to the regulations and tariffs of the place to which he may have come.

If any ship of war or merchant vessel of one of the High Contracting Parties should run aground or be wrecked upon the coasts of the other, such ship or vessel, and all parts thereof, and all furniture and appurtenances belonging thereunto, and all goods and merchandise saved therefrom, including any which may have been cast into the sea, or the proceeds thereof, if sold, as well as all papers found on board such stranded or wrecked ship or vessel, shall be given up to their owners, or their agents, when claimed by them from the officers, British or Equatorian, as the case may be, who are by the laws or Government of their respective countries entrusted with the protection, preservation, and custody of shipwrecked property; and if there are no such owners or agents on the spot, then the same shall be delivered by the above named officers to the British or Equatorian Consul General, Consul, or Vice-Consul, in whose district the wreck or stranding may have taken place, upon being claimed by him within the period fixed by the laws of the country; and such Consuls, owners, or agents, shall pay only the expenses incurred in the preservation of the property, together with the salvage, or other expenses, which would have been payable in the like case of a wreck of a national vessel.

The goods and merchandise saved from the wreck shall be exempt from all duties of customs, unless cleared for consumption, in which case they shall pay the same rate of duty as if they had been imported in a national vessel.

In the case either of a vessel being driven in by stress of weather, run aground, or wrecked, the respective Consuls-General, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents shall, if the owner or master or other agent of the owner, is not present, or is present and requires it, be authorized to interpose, in order to afford the necessary assistance to their fellow countrymen.

ARTICLE XXI.

The Consuls-General, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and Consular Agents of each of the High Contracting Parties residing in the dominions and possessions of the other, shall receive from the local authorities such assistance as can by law be given to them for the recovery of deserters from the merchant vessels of their respective countries.

ARTICLE XXII.

For the better security of commerce between the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty and the citizens of the Republic of the Equator, it is agreed that if at any time any interruption of friendly intercourse or any rupture should unfortunately take place between the two Contracting Parties, the subjects and citizens of either of the two Contracting Parties residing upon the coast shall be allowed six months, and those residing in the interior a year, to wind up their accounts and dispose of their property; and a safe conduct shall be given them to embark at the port which they shall themselves select. All subjects or citizens of either of the two Contracting Parties, who may be established in the dominions or territories of the other, in the exercise of any trade or special employment, shall have the privilege of remaining and continuing such trade or employment therein, without any manner of interruption, in full enjoyment of their liberty and property, as long as they behave peaceably and commit no offence against the laws; and their goods and effects, of whatever description they may be, whether in their own custody, or intrusted to individuals or to the State, shall not be liable to seizure or sequestration, or to any other charges or demands than those which may be made upon the like effects or property belonging to native subjects or citizens. In the same case, debts between individuals, public funds, and the shares of Companies, shall never be confiscated, sequestered, or detained.

ARTICLE XXIII.

The present Treaty of Commerce and Navigation, when ratified, shall be substituted for the Treaty of Friendship, Commerce and Navigation concluded between the High Contracting Parties at Quito on the 3rd day of May, 1851. It shall remain in force for ten years from the date of the exchange of the ratifications, and further, until the expiration of twelve months after either of the High Contracting Parties shall have given notice to the other of its intention to terminate the same, each of the High Contracting Parties reserving to itself the right of giving such notice to the other at the expiration of the first nine years, or at any time afterwards.

ARTICLE XXIV.

The present Treaty shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Quito in eight months from this date, or sooner if possible.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seal of their arms.

Done at Quito, the eighteenth day of October, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty.

BOOK-KEEPING (DOUBLE ENTRY).

Friday, 12th November, 1886, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

NATURE OF THE WORK.

Dombey and Son take a Contract to build a Railway of 250 miles for the Victoria Company at $30,000 per mile, all needful appliances included.

The Company is to pay for every mile $15,000 in cash, $7,500 in bonds and $2,500 in stock, reserving $5,000 per mile as security for the due performance of the work, which reserve is to be paid in cash, after the completion of the line, or, in part, before, if the Company deem it safe to do so.

NOTE.—Without advising the Candidates as to the mode of doing the work, it may not be amiss to say, that while it would be more satisfactory to have an account opened for each head of expenditure, yet that, as a good deal of work may be obviated by grouping the materials under one head, and the labour, including salaries, under another, that mode will be accepted from any one who may pursue it, providing, of course, that correct results are arrived at.

STENOGRAPHY.

This subject may be taken, if there is time, on Friday afternoon, the 12th November, 1886; if not, then on Saturday, the 13th.

The Examiner will read to the Candidates the conditions subjoined, and also the matter to be stenographed, before proceeding to the trial, so that they may have a perfect acquaintance with the whole subject. When all is ready he will read the matter to be stenographed in exactly 5 minutes, which will be at the rate of 70 words a minute, and will be careful to articulate distinctly, so that the Candidates may clearly understand him. If any of them fail to keep up with the reading, they will necessarily drop out.

Half an hour is allowed for the extension of the notes, and the Candidates who produce perfect transcripts of the text will be awarded 100 marks. For every word omitted and for every wrong or surplus word introduced, 5 marks will be deducted from the 100, and no account will be taken of papers short written to the extent of 12 words.

TREATY OF COMMERCE WITH THE REPUBLIC OF THE EQUATOR.

ARTICLE II.

There shall be between all the dominions and possessions of the two High Contracting Parties reciprocal freedom of commerce and navigation. The subjects and citizens of each of the two Contracting Parties, respectively, shall have liberty freely and securely to come, with their ships and cargoes, to all places, ports and rivers in the dominions and possessions of the other, to which other foreigners are or may be permitted to come, and shall, throughout the whole extent of the dominions and possessions of the other enjoy the same rights, privileges, liberties, favours, immunities, and exemptions in matters of commerce and navigation which are or may be enjoyed by native subjects or citizens generally.

ARTICLE III.

No other or higher duties shall be imposed on the importation into the dominions and possessions of Her Britannic Majesty of any article the produce or manufacture of the dominions and possessions of the Republic of the Equator, from whatever place arriving, and no other or higher duties shall be imposed on the importation into the dominions and possessions of the Republic of the Equator of any article the produce or manufacture of Her Britannic Majesty's dominions and possessions, from whatever place arriving, than are or shall be payable on the like article the produce or manufacture of any other foreign country; nor shall any prohibition be imposed on the importation of any article the produce or manufacture of the dominions and possessions of either of the two Contracting Parties into the dominions and possessions of the other, which shall not equally extend to the importation of the like articles, being the produce or manufacture of any other country.

ARTICLE XII.

The High Contracting Parties agree that, in all matters relating to commerce and navigation, any privilege, favour, or immunity whatever, which either Contracting Party has actually granted or may thereafter grant to the subjects or citizens of any other State, shall be extended immediately and unconditionally to the subjects or citizens of the other Contracting Party.

TELEGRAPHY.

Value.	SATURDAY, the 13th November, 1886, or at such time before, as may be arranged, for mutual convenience, between the Examiners, the Candidates and the Telegraph Offices at which the test may be made—the Examiners charging themselves with making the arrangements with competent Operators.
100

The Telegraph Operators who supervise the tests, and to whom copies hereof will be sent by the Examiners, will please note that 50 marks are allowed for "sending," and 50 for "receiving," a message. These marks are full value and mean the highest ability—which can hardly be expected of the candidates—and fewer marks must, therefore, be given if perfect efficiency has not been exhibited.

The operators will inscribe upon the papers of the Candidates their valuations (in figures) of the performances, attesting the same with their signatures, and will please address them, under seal, by mail, "To the Secretary of the Board of Civil Service Examiners together with this slip at Ottawa," and their accounts, $2 being allowed for every candidate tested.

CHAPTER 18.

An Act respecting the Superannuation of persons employed in the Civil Service of Canada. A.D. 1886.

HER Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons of Canada, enacts as follows:—

SHORT TITLE.

1. This Act may be cited as "The Civil Service Superannuation Act." 46 V., c. 8, s. 18. Short title.

APPLICATION OF ACT.

2. The Civil Service, for the purposes of this Act includes and consists of— Who shall be deemed civil servants.

(a.) All officers, clerks and employees in or under the several departments of the Executive Government who are paid a yearly salary, and to whom "The Civil Service Act" applies; Persons under Civil Service Act.

(b.) All such officers, clerks and employees of the second or outside division of the Civil Service, as the Governor in Council, from time to time, designates, and to whom "The Civil Service Act" does not apply, and who are paid a yearly salary and employed in an established capacity; Certain persons in the outside service.

(c.) The permanent officers and servants of the Senate and House of Commons, and the permanent officers and servants employed in the Library of Parliament, who, for the purposes of this Act, shall be deemed to be in the Civil Service, saving all rights and privileges of either House in respect to the appointment or removal of its officers and servants; Officers and servants of Senate and Commons.

(d.) All persons now contributing to the superannuation fund; Present contributors to the fund.

(e.) All persons to whom this Act is by some other Act declared to apply. 46 V., c. 8, s. 1. Certain others.

SUPERANNUATION.

3. The Governor in Council may grant to any person who has served in an established capacity in the Civil Service for ten years or upwards, and who has attained the Conditions of allowance.

age of sixty years, or is incapacitated by bodily infirmity from properly performing his duties, a superannuation allowance calculated on his average yearly salary during the then last three years, and not exceeding the following rates, that is to say :—

Rates of allowance.

(a.) If he has served for ten years, but less than eleven years, an annual allowance of ten fiftieths of such average salary, and if for eleven years and under twelve years, an annual allowance of eleven fiftieths thereof, and in like manner a further addition of one fiftieth of such average salary for each additional year of service up to thirty-five years, when an annual allowance of thirty-five fiftieths may be granted; but no addition shall be made for any service beyond thirty-five years;

Maximum rate for 35 years.

Breaks in service not to be counted

(b.) If the service has not been continuous, the period or periods during which such service has been interrupted shall not be counted, and the Order in Council made in any such case shall be laid before Parliament at its then current or next ensuing session. 46 V., c. 8, s. 2.

Governor in Council may add to service of persons appointed on account of special qualifications.

4. The Governor in Council may, in the case of any person who entered the Civil Service after the age of thirty years, as being possessed of some peculiar professional or other qualifications or attainments required for the office to which he was appointed, and not ordinarily to be acquired in the public service, add to the actual number of years' service of such person, such further number of years not exceeding ten, as is considered equitable, for reasons stated in the Order in Council made in the case; and such additional number of years shall be taken as part of the term of service on which the superannuation allowance of such person shall be computed; and the Order in Council in any such case shall be laid before Parliament at its then current or next ensuing session. 46 V., c. 8, s. 3.

Preliminary inquiry by Treasury Board.

5. The superannuation of every civil servant shall be preceded by an inquiry by the Treasury Board—

(a.) Whether the person it is proposed to superannuate is eligible within the meaning of this Act; and—

(b.) Whether his superannuation will result in benefit to the service, and is therefore in the public interest; or—

(c.) Whether it has become necessary in consequence of his mental or physical infirmity:

Report of Board.

2. No civil servant shall be superannuated unless the Treasury Board reports that he is eligible within the meaning of this Act and that such superannuation will be in the public interest. 46 V., c. 8, s. 4.

Deductions from salaries.

6. A deduction towards making good the superannuation allowances hereinbefore mentioned, shall be made from the salary of every person in the Civil Service to whom this Act applies, at the rate of two per centum per annum on such salary, if it is six hundred dollars or upwards, and of one and a-quarter per centum per annum thereon, if it is less than six hundred dollars, and the sum so deducted shall form part of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Canada; but such deduction shall be made only during the first thirty-five years of service. 46 V., c. 8, s. 5. Proviso.

7. The full superannuation allowance shall only be granted to persons who have been subject to the said deduction during ten years or upwards,—the superannuation allowance of any person who has not paid it, or has paid it for a less period, being subject to a diminution of one per centum for every year less than ten during which he has not paid it; except that the superannuation allowance of any person hereafter retiring, shall not be subject to any such diminution by reason of his not having paid the abatement hereinbefore mentioned, during any year or years after his first thirty-five years of service. 46 V., c. 8, s. 6. Ten years' contribution requisite for full allowance.
Diminution for less period of contribution.
Exception.

8. Retirement shall be compulsory on every person to whom the superannuation allowance hereinbefore mentioned is offered, and such offer shall not be considered as implying any censure upon the person to whom it is made; nor shall any person be considered as having any absolute right to such allowance, but it shall be granted only in consideration of good and faithful service during the time upon which it is calculated: Compulsory retirement.
Allowance conditional on good service.

2. Nothing herein contained shall be understood as impairing or affecting the right of the Governor in Council to dismiss or remove any person from the Civil Service. 46 V., c. 8, s. 7. Right of dismissal not impaired.

9. If the Head of a department reports with respect to any person employed in his department, and about to be superannuated, from any cause other than that of ill-health or age, that the service of such person has not been satisfactory, the Governor in Council may, as to him seems fit, grant such person a superannuation allowance less than that to which he would have otherwise been entitled. 46 V., c. 8, s. 8. Diminution when Head of Department reports unsatisfactory service.

10. If any person to whom this Act applies, is constrained, from any infirmity of mind or body, to quit the Civil Service before the period at which a superannuation allowance might be granted him, the Governor in Council may allow him a gratuity not exceeding one month's pay for each year of his service; and if any such person is so constrained to quit the service before such period, by reason of severe bodily injury, received without his own fault, in the discharge of his public duty, the Governor in Council may allow him a gratuity not exceeding three month's pay for every two years' service, or a superannuation allowance not exceeding Gratuity when yearly allowance not earned.
Gratuity in case of bodily injury on duty.

one-fifth of his average salary during the then last three years. 46 V., c. 8, s. 9.

Provision for abolition of office, reduction of staff, &c.

11. If any person to whom this Act applies is removed from office in consequence of the abolition of his office for the purpose of improving the organization of the department to which he belongs, or is removed, or retired from office to promote efficiency or economy in the Civil Service, the Governor in Council may grant him such gratuity or superannuation allowance as will fairly compensate him for his loss of office, not exceeding such as he would have been entitled to if he had retired in consequence of permanent infirmity of body or mind, after adding ten years to his actual term of service. 46 V., c. 8, s. 10.

Pensioners under sixty liable to serve if required, under penalty of loss of allowance.

12. Every person who receives a superannuation allowance, and is under the age of sixty years, and is not disabled by bodily or mental infirmity, may be called upon to fill, in any part of Canada, any public office or situation for which his previous services render him eligible, and which is not lower in rank or emolument than that from which he retired; and, if he refuses or neglects so to do, he shall forfeit his said allowance. 46 V., c. 8, s. 11.

Service before Confederation to be counted.

13. Service in an established capacity in any of the departments of the Executive Government or offices of the Legislature of any of the Provinces now included in the Dominion of Canada, before such Province became a portion thereof, by any person who has thereafter entered the Civil Service, shall be reckoned in computing his period of service for the purposes of this Act. 46 V., c. 8, s. 12.

Discretionary power of Governor in Council.

14. In any case of doubt the Governor in Council may, by general or special regulations, determine to what persons the provisions of this Act do or do not apply, and the conditions on which, and the manner in which, they shall apply in any case or class of cases. 46 V., c. 8, s. 13.

Payment of allowances.

15. The allowances and gratuities granted under this Act shall be payable out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Canada. 46 V., c. 8, s. 14.

REPORT OF SUPERANNUATIONS.

Annual return to be made to Parliament.

16. The Minister of Finance and Receiver General shall lay before Parliament, within fifteen days after the commencement of each session thereof, a statement of all superannuations and retiring allowances in the Civil Service within the year, giving the name and rank of each person superannuated or retired, his salary, age and length of service, the allowance granted to him on retirement, the cause of his superannuation and whether the vacancy has been subsequently filled, and if so, whether by promotion or by a new appointment, and the salary of the new appointee.
