We confess that we would much rather see the city disfranchised than that we should have an annual recurrence of these atrocities, with the quadsennial general " mill" that attends a general election. Either the respe izens must petition for the disfranchisement, or they must make up their inds to go to the Polls in large bodies armed with revolvers, and fight their way through the gangs of rowdies.

HE COURTER

The Court of the Co (FROM QUE OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

Roman Catholic Canna Laws phice might be placed in companion with the periodicine of power of the Majory's Court of Caronic Roman Theory of indisponantly requirities is to complice with before the Proposant people of Rogsand will be enfolded or statepailined. It is no querwill be salested or thanquintely of temporal au-tion of religion, but one purely of temporal authing that could be desired; the Bill, as he described it, is imperfect. But it was evident, on Monday evening, that the Attorney-Gentral was instructed to supply one material deficiency in it the statement of the Premier; and Sir John Romilly hinted that the Bill would interfere with Synolical action; adding that it was lead to effect that " in the most quiet manner." No wander is that " in the most quiet manner." No wonder honorable members laughed in his face—all this honorable members laughed in his face—all this ridicules the Bill as grashing the shedow whilst it ridicules the shedow whilst it rid thee of all the world, and we must supe it out in the presence of the world. If Synodical action be not directly struck at, we shall have a Roman Catholic Synod at Westminster, bearding and defying our Queen where she holds her Parliament. The state of public feeling and of parties, may be accurately described, since it has plainly developed itself in the House of Commons and the country. With the exception of Mr. Roebuck and a section of the Manchester party, headed by Mr. Bright and Mr. Cobden, and backed by that Mr. Bright and Mr. Gobden, and backed by that miserable tool of the Priesthood, Mr. John O'Comell, and some of the Catholic body, all agree that the principles so well enunciated by Lord John Essaell ought to be effectually carried out. No one draumt of curtailing the political rights, or interfering with the religious faith of the Roman Catholics; but when intelligent people hear from Lord John Russell that the insult and accessed in filesced for the Comen's indusendence. aggression offered to the Queen's independence would not have been tolerated in any Roman Catholic country in Europe, not even in Portugal, and yet that the English Government will do nothing to resent such conduct or prevent its recurrence; that the threat of resisting Papal en-croachment will be met by the whole weight of croachment will be met by the water the doubt it seems quite evident that Lotd John Russell has missed a great occasion, and fining away an opportunity which his political opponents will not be alow to avail themselves of. The House of Lords is not likely to rest satisfied with the Ministerie measure, whatever the Commons may do, and I ear that the noble Lord at the head of the Govern ment will eventually find himself in the position that he is not strong enough for the place." On Tuesday, Mr. D'lamelt introduced his pr mised motion, declaring that the distress of the a majority of 13 to 2, to reject the measure, owners and occupiers of land, lamented in the Queen's Speech, rendered it necessity for her Ministers to bring forward, without delay, such neasures as might be most effectual for the relief hereof. The Hon, gentlemen introduced this lotion with an able speech in a very full house. on, whilst the very farm upon which the War retary rested his statement, is a losing concern, the rent greatly reduced. Lord Lar Sir C. Wood, and Mr. Wilson, came in for their Sir C. Wood; and Mr. Wilson; came in for their share of ridicule, the latter being superally laughed at for the talent and ingensity lie lies athibited in preving, "that that which has happened ought never to have occurred." The House up a very merry at this hit at political economy. The Hon, gentleman contended that freight was no arrangement which, as Members of Parliament, as Statesmen, or as Ministers, we may think would, upon a balance of circumstances, make what is called the best bargain for the community." The Hon. gentleman was loadly cheered by the opposition at the conclusion of his speech. Sir Charles Wood replied in a very claborate statement, contending that wages in relation to prices were higher than during the war, and recapitalisting all the statistics of the great increase of our foreign trade, be, . Of course, he saked the House to reject the motion. Several members followed, amongst whom was fir. The papers announce the death of Lord Bexby better known as Mr. Vansittart, who in former times held, high Government offices,—an Lord Liverpool.

In support of my view of Lord John Russell's anti-Papal measure, I omitted to state the judg-ment of the daily Press thereon—a pretty sure index of public opinion. The Morning Chronicle short, by far, of the wishes of the country. You may generally judge of the state of public opinion by the writters in the Tines, who try to take the lead whenever they know the right way te go. On Saturday, after a review of the debates of the preceding night, they wound up with saying, adequate to what the emergency requires and the opinion of England demands. On Monday they had a new light, and said, after a long discurtive article, in which they avoided the mein points at issue, "Lord John Russell proposes a measure which exactly meets the attack, and no more, reserving to himself, as he said, the power of meeting fresh aggressions by fresh counterac-tion." The following day a further light was opened to them, and, whilst they hovered be-tween approval and disapproval, they said,— We cannot but think it would have been no un easonable deference to feelings so just and deepseated to have pushibited the assemblings of Synods, by whose decisions it is intended to keep up the chronic irritation of the public mind." So much for heating about the bush until it is seen what it is the people of England will have. As to the Times leading public opinion, it is all moonshine. My own opinion is, that Lord Stanley and Lord Lyndhurst will lay their heads toge-ther, consider well what ought to be done, frame a measure secondaryly, and the two parties will hid for popularity, and we shall see which will win the game,

The Dotation Bill, brought in by the "transition" Ministry of Louis Napoleon, has provoked another coalition between the left and a section of the right, and, united, they resolved to thro out the Bill. In the Bureaux, it was resolved, by not only was this course determined on, but M. Piscatory, the Reporter, was directed to make an expose des motifie which led to this Resolution, which he did in a very able decument measures as might be most effectual for the relief thereof. The Hon, gentleman introduced this motion with an able speech in a very full house. He ridiculed, in his usual happy style of irony, all the fallacies put forth by the Peelites and Whigh about the temporary causes of agricultural distances, greasing very hard on Mr. Fox Maule for his boasting that the Seotch did not fear competition, which he did in a very able decument, touched, however, is language not at all flattering to the President. He was reminded that the President. He was reminded that the President. He was reminded that the first citizen. He is not the head of the State; the is the head o the majority is eirong, and has made up its mind, long speeches are not colerated. Ministers said but little, but M. De Montalembert, with his usual chivelry, affected to throw his segue over the resident, and possing over his dueds and misdeeds, tried to persuade the Chamber to grant the vote. But it would not listen, the "cloture" was limitly called for, and, upon a division, the Bill was rejected by 396 to 294. This is in proving, "that that which has an appeared ought never to have occurred." The Home was very merry at this hit at political economy. The Hon. gentleman contended that freight was no protection to the English farmer, and went into a dissertation upon the whole finance of the country, demanding that a juster relation should exist between the laws of banking, the state of the finances, and the condition of the agricultarist. He did not sak for a reversal of the Free Trade policy, but spoke very strongly for a fixed duty on Corn, not as an equivalent, but as a compro-

Blockwood's Edinburgh Megizias, (Tory.)

Although these Works are distinguished by the political shadon shore indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their size-rory character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confensedly far above all other journals of their class. Blockwood, still under the massierly guidance of Christopher North, maintins its ancient celebrity, and is, at this time, untuality attractive, from the serval Works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that Magazine, and first appearing in its columns hot in Great Britain and in the United States. Such works as "The Cartons" and "My New Novel," (both by Blaiwer,) "My Pentasuur Medell," "The Green Hand," and other seerinis, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in thit country, have so be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been taned by Blester. Round him rush the people crying. Tell us all, oh, tell us true!

Where are they who went to battle, Randolph, Murray, sworn to you?

Where are they, our brethers, children! Have they met the English foe!

Why art thou alone, unfollowed! Is it west, or is it word!

Like a corpse the grisly warrior looks from out his helm of stee!;

But no word he speaks in answer, only with his armed hee!

Chides his weary steed, and ouward up the city streets they ride;

Patters, sisters, mothers, children, shrieking, praying by his side.

By the God that made thee, Randolph! tell us what mischance hath come?

Then he lifts his riven banner, and the naker's voice is dumb."

TO PATHERS OF AMILLES.

Bile and foul state of the stomach occasions more sickness and detain in families than all other causes of visease put together. In the latter part of Summer and Autona, when the atmosphere everywhere is poleoned from missina, arising from shanant pools and decayed vegetation, whole families are isk n down by Malanant Fevers, F. v. r and Ague and over dangerous disorders, all proceeding from a bilious and foul state of the stomach. No perent can be so ignorent as not to know the great danger existing from biliousness—no parent would be guilty of causing the

DEATH OF THEIR OWN CHILDREN

Yet the sands of children and adults deesvery year through neglect of parents to attend to the arly symptoms of ble and foul stomach.

Superfleity of bile may always be known by some unfavorable symptom which it produces, such as sick stomach, headache, loss of appetite, bitter laste in the mouth, yellow tint of the skin, languidness, costiveness, or other symptoms of a similar nature. Almost every person at this season of the year is billious, the neglect of which is sure to bring on some dangerous disorder, frequently terminating in death. A single 25 cent box of Dr. Halsey's Gum-coult of Forest Pills are sufficient to keep a whole family from bilious attacks and secures from six
